CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1963

NO. 8

Java Break Could Save Neck Break

Holiday motorists are invited to "take five and stay alive", according to Gunnery Sergeant David Erskson, 2d Marine Division Military Police.

The invitation is offered in the form of three coffee bars which will be operated by the 2d Division from 4:00 p.m. February 24 until 6:00 a.m. February 25.

They will be located on major highways near the cities of Warrenton, Kinston, and Wilmington and will be manned by Marines from the 2d Battalion, 2d Marines; 1st Battalion, 8th Marines; and 2d Motor Transport Battalion.

Each stand will feature hot coffee and light snacks for motorists returning home after a three-day Washington Birthday weekend.

The invitation is extended to civilians as well as Marines and their families as part of a continuing program designed to fight driver fatigue and highway accidents.

Sites of the coffee bars are strategically located in areas of heavy traffic, especially Marine traffic returning to Camp Lejeune.

Reserve Officers Are Scheduled For Extended Training

WASHINGTON, D. C.—An extended supplementary training program for Company Grade officers serving in the organized reserves was announced by Headquarters, Marine Corps last week.

The expanded training is the result of reports submitted by observers of reserve annual field training in 1962 and provides for assignments to active duty with pay and allowances in addition to annual field training. Until recently, extra tours for Class II officers were generally restricted to active duty assignments for formal schooling only.

The new program is aimed at encouraging officers of non-infantry units of the organized reserve to participate in field and firing exercises with comparable regular Fleet Marine Force organizations. Such training is designed to provide officers with professional and technical experience which can be profitably applied to local training exercises. In addition, it is expected that an increase in the frequency of contact with regular units in the field will stimulate imaginative planning of local reserve training.

Try-Outs For Division Matches Begin Mar. 30

Spring is just around the corner and the Camp Lejeune rifle range is open for business again. This will be a busy year for Lejeune's rifle range as it is to play host to the Eastern Division Rifle and Pistol Matches, May 20-25, and the Marine Corps Matches, June 3-8, as well as the annual requalification firing of Camp Lejeune Marines.

Also coming to Lejeune for the matches is the Marine Corps' Marksmanship Training Unit (MTU) from Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va. Arriving here approximately April 15, the MTU will commence marksmanship instructions April 22 for Marines applying for positions in the Eastern Division Matches.

For the benefit of all Marines, the MTU is constantly striving to improve the marksmanship techniques used by the Marine Corps. It is composed mostly of officers and staff noncommissioned officers who have earned this coveted assignment by high marksmanship proficiency in matches across the nation. Besides conducting marksmanship instructions here, members of the training unit will compete in the Marine Corps Matches.

Try-outs for the Eastern Division matches begin March 30. Marines who fired a score of 210 or above as their last qualification score are eligible to apply for a position in the matches. Applications must go through the applicant's unit and should be in the range office by March 30. After attending the one-week school held by the MTU, those Marines selected for the try-outs will be allowed three weeks of firing before the matches actually begin. The third week of the pre-match firing will determine the final selection of a team.

By doing some fine holding and squeezing a Lejeune Marine could find himself as a member of a team firing in the Eastern Division matches and possibly fire himself onto higher ground in the Marine Corps matches.

ON THE LINE—GySgt. Hobert H. Blackett and Sgt. Don R. Bartlett sight in on the bull's eye at the 600-yard line of the Calvin A. Lloyd Rifle Range at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va. Sgt. David A. Luke and GySgt. Michael Pietroforte watch intently ready to warn of sudden changes in wind direction and give their advice. All four men are members of the Marine Corps' Rifle and Pistol Team.

Joint Crusade Gaining Speed

In an effort to exceed the 1962 contributions during the Federal Service Joint Crusade, drive Chairman LtCol. C. R. LaPlant, has announced that drive key-men are now in possession of the membership envelopes and making their moves within the individual units.

Last year's Camp Lejeune FSJC contribution average was the highest total in North and South Carolina and Georgia.

The drive began February 15 and is scheduled to continue until March 31, and includes the National Health and the International Relationship Agencies.

Although no monetary quota or goal has been established for the campaign, a 100 per cent voluntary participation by members of the Armed Forces and Federal employees is desired.

The Globe received information this week establishing proof that contributions received at Camp Lejeune, in the past, have helped in the cure of a local child from Swansboro, N. C., suffering from cancer.

In 1954 a High Point doctor removed the right eye of Teresa Gall Waters because of a malignant tumor. She was fitted with a prosthesis, kept under observation for five years with excellent results, and is now termed cured.

Not only was Teresa's eye cured of cancer but the cornea from her eye was used to perform a corneal transplant on a Winston-Salem television station employee, enabling him to see out of an almost blind eye.

Contributors are reminded that they may give to the agency of their choice. However, if your choice is to give to Cancer, here is how your contribution will be divided within the Cancer Society, LOCAL needs will absorb 40%, CANCER RESEARCH 30%, NATIONAL AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY 10%, and 20% will be provided to the STATE DIVISION OF AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY.

GLOBE To Observe 20th Anniversary February 23

The GLOBE this week celebrates its 20th anniversary as the voice of Camp Lejeune. The first issue of the GLOBE rolled off the press on Feb. 23, 1944. Although that was the christening date for the GLOBE, Camp Lejeune has possessed a weekly newspaper from its beginning.

The forerunner of the Camp Lejeune GLOBE was the New River Pioneer. Yellow and tattered copies on file in the Informational Services Office, date back to Sept. 17, 1942, evidence that the Pioneer actually traced its roots even further—to the small detachment of Marines stationed at Montford Point in the pre-war days of 1941.

The Base Headquarters at Montford Point then boasted a four-page mimeographed sheet which had as its mission, as the editor stated, "To unify the Camp and keep the men informed on local happenings."

An annual Journalism award for Marine Corps publications was established in 1953. This award, the highest in Marine Corps journalism, has gone to the GLOBE on three occasions—in 1955, 1956 and 1959. More than half a dozen Department of Defense newspaper awards have been won by the GLOBE. The Marine Corps award has recently been discontinued.

Today, though published in a modern and streamlined format, the GLOBE still is dedicated to the same purpose which characterized the untiring efforts of the 1941 Marines stationed at Montford Point, "the where, why and how of Camp Lejeune Marines and their dependents."

Bulletin

The Base Provost Marshal's office reminds all Lejeune motorists to register their 1963 automobile state license number as soon as possible. Failure to do so may result in a citation. Motorists may register either by calling extension 7-5240 or by notifying the registration section in person in Bldg. 37.

Top Freedoms Foundation Winners

Washington (AFPS)--Winners in the 1962 Freedoms Foundation Letter Writing Awards Program have been announced with the top award of $1,000 and a George Washington Honor Medal going to Army PFC Gerald I. Silverman, U. S. Army Element, AFN, Bremerhaven, APO 69, New York.

Silverman's entry was "My Freedoms and My Responsibilities," a letter addressed to his son. It read in part: "the most precious thing we possess, dearer even than life itself, is freedom" and "free-

The top 10 winners are scheduled to visit here Feb. 21 and meet the Chief of their respective services. Afterward, they will go to the new Senate Office Building for a meeting and luncheon with the Senators from their respective states.

They will attend presentation ceremonies at Valley Forge, Pa. on George Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22.

Representing Camp Lejeune on the roster of winners were four men from Force Troops. Three of these men, Lt. Col. Edward F. Danowitz, G-3; SSgt. Alfred Rodriguez, Jr., H&S Co., 8th MT Bn.; and Sgt. John S. Lane, "B" Co., 2d AmTracBn., were winners of $50 and George Washington Honor Medal Awards. The fourth of the winners from Camp Lejeune was CWO Earl A. Pike, EOD Plt., 8th Engr. Bn., who won a George Washington Honor Medal Award

Quad-Command Marines Donate To Blood Program

More than 500 Camp Lejeune Marines bared their forearms to Red Cross and local nurses and volunteer assistants at Marston Pavilion this week during the two-day volunteer blood-donation program, February 19-20.

Combat, combat-support and

Marine Corps Base personnel began filing into the Pavilion at 8 a. m., Tuesday to offer their blood for the Regional Red Cross Blood Center at Norfolk, Virginia.

Rifleman, clerks mechanics and technical men alike took turns relaxing on the 15 hospital tables set up in the east room of the Pavilion, while volunteer nurses aides cleansed their arms with antiseptics and Red Cross nurses collected their blood.

At the same time other Marine volunteers were being checked by local volunteer nurses to make sure they met blood donor requirements met blood donor requirements. Units participating in the program were the 2d Marine Division, Force Troops, Marine Corps Base and the Marine Corps Air Facility.

Local volunteer registered nurses assisting in the blood-collection operations here were Mesdames Betsy Adams, Becky Baker, Beverly Dailey, Pat Fang, Marlene Hughes, Rosemary Tomason, Marie Zimninger and Laura Dysart.

Volunteer assistants at the Pavilion were Mesdames Margaret Berkeley, Ann Babashanian, Marge Cummins, Gerry Carter, Virginia Country, Martha Granger, Kitt Henn, Altha Jones Polly Miller, Courtney Norris, Darlene Peters, Ruth Papurka, Nina Platt, W. N. Rakow, Nonie Turnville, Lenoir Sundholm, and Helen Wagner.

ROYAL MARINE VISITOR—Colonel J. L. Carter, British Royal Marines, signs the visitors log at Base Headquarters shortly after arriving for a three day visit to Marine Corps Base and the 2d Marine Division. Col. Carter, a member of the British Defense Staff, is here in connection with an Amphibious Warfare Centre Presentation to be given at Camp Lejeune.

Quick Stepping Cloggers 'Clog' High In Two Years

Marines have found many base and community activities to occupy and enjoy their off-duty hours. One Marine, Sgt. Rex Brooks, Base Chaplains' Office, in the time that he has been at Camp Lejeune, has organized a unique group of boys and girls into one of the area's favorite entertainment groups, the Carolina Cloggers.

The Cloggers, of which more than half are Marine dependents, have been in operation for two years. Sgt. Brooks was a member of a clogging group in his home state of Indiana. When he came to Camp Lejeune he saw a chance to establish a similar group for the entertainment of himself, the area's children and the area's audiences.

The group, with Junior Cloggers (age 5 to 11 years old) and Senior Cloggers (12 to 15 years old), has become a regular feature on Bar-7 Roundup, with numerous appearances on other TV shows and entertainment of many other eastern Carolina social functions, such as USO's and the Base Clubs.

Recently Sgt. Brooks drove his Cloggers up to Nashville, Tennessee, for a guest appearance on the renowned Grand Ole Opry. The boys and girls made such a hit on the program that the Clog-dance Director, Raul Sloan and the entire staff expressed hopes that the group would be able to make many more appearances on the famous country music show.

The Cloggers have many awards to their credit, including three trophies from the Mountain Youth Jubilee, which is the national center of clog-dancing, and a first prize award from the Folk Festival at the North Carolina State Fair. A personal honor bestowed on Sgt. Brooks was a personal letter from the Base Commander, Major General James Berkeley, commending him for his fine work with the boys and girls and furthering good relations between the military and civilians.

In speaking about the Cloggers, Sgt. Brooks said, "Our fine showing is only possible through the large amount of work the boys and girls have put into it, and the fine support we have received from their parents."

OUR AMERICAN HERITAGE

As the boot of the New English settler sank deep into Massachusetts' soil--the first step was completed by a free man in a new and promising land.

A whole new world was beckoning as far as his eyes could see. Here, between heaven and earth, our Pilgrim Fathers found a new life filled with freedom, hope and peace of mind. In these first overwhelming moments of deep gratitude they made a vow "to keep this land as free and as promising" as they had found it and accessible to those who had known terror and persecution. For this idea they fought and worked until the first milestone was set on the road of democracy. With the signing of the "Great Law" a most unique and fortunate history had its beginning. From there on the undivided human freedom was the basis of the diffusion of power in the new land and a very special kind of society was in the making. The road that our forefathers paved with suffering and heroic sacrifice began to widen toward its destination into a highway of success, victory and social welfare.

Where did this leave the rest of the world? The American torch of liberty was burning so bright that its light reached far into the darkest corners. To some people this dazzling evolution was most confusing and their eyes widened in disbelief. Some shook their heads and thought it was too good to last--but the steady progress and prosperity were a most convincing evidence of success. The blessings of the American way of life began to reach far beyond her own borders.

As the wars between and among the nations raved on, more and more people lost homes and hopes. With every passing day of misery their desire to become part of the American way of life grew stronger. Again and again the "giant" opened the golden gates to those who had nothing to lose and everything to gain. They found a country of great beauty as well as riches of soil and minerals. They worked hard knowing that from now on their future and family were secure.

America's strength and capacity to share knew no limits and her fountain of wealth poured strength into other nations and repeatedly saved them from famine and disaster. At times, however, we became a little impatient with our neighbors. Some nations still persist in opposing our government and it is difficult for us to consider their strange preconditions and different way of life. To some nations, drudgery and hardship have become so familiar that they seem almost bearable and justified. Fear, an additional factor, prevents them from replevying their rights.

So, we wait and hope and pray that some day our differences with other nations may cease in graveness and extent. And while part of the world keeps on struggling for individual liberty and social justice,--we Americans feel deep gratitude and humility for a great gift that was handed down to us by our forefathers. We try to strengthen the greatest of our powers, helping it to mushroom into a weapon of peace more powerful than all atomic forces combined.

"May God help us to preserve the power which Gave birth to our American Heritage....."

By Mrs. Ossi Wells.

'Charm School' At Montford Point Adds Polish To Military Instructors

Marine Corps Supply Schools at Montford Point not only conducts Formal Schools in Supply, Disbursing, Motor Transport and Food Service but also has a "Charm School" for instructors only.

The school, part of the Instructor Training Unit, is not designed to make Marines more charming but does make them polished instructors both in the Formal and Unit levels of military instruction.

By agreement between the Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, 2d Division and Force Troops, an Instructor Training Unit was established March 26, 1956 under the command of the Commanding Officer, Marine Corps Supply Schools.

The Training Unit conducts two major courses. Formal Instructor Course lasting four weeks is designed for those Marines assigned duties as instructors at Marine Corps Supply or Engineer Schools. The Unit Instructor Course of two weeks duration trains Marines in the techniques of military instruction as required on a unit level.

Any Marine assigned to Marine Corps Supply Schools for duty as an instructor must complete the course in "Charm School" prior to going on the platform to teach.

To meet the course objective of both the formal and unit schools, graduates must be able to analyze correctly a teaching situation, organize and present material in that situation and have confidence in their ability to do this.

Students must also have a sufficiently broad knowledge of military instruction to encourage even further development of their abilities in this area.

During the course of instruction, the future instructors are taught to express ideas clearly to a group. They research for, organize and prepare material for presentation in an instructional situation, to understand specific methods and techniques of presenting material, and testing and evaluation procedures including critiques.

Seventy percent of the course is devoted to student application which is introduced progressively throughout the period of instruction to reinforce learning and to build the student's confidence in his own abilities.

Each class in the Formal course is broken down into small groups and conducts practice instruction within this group.

Students practice teaching utilizing the lecture method, demonstration method, conference method and also conduct instruction in the field. The instruction is designed in accordance with the occupational specialty of the student instructor and varies from classes on bulldozers to frying eggs.

Individual groups conduct critiques following each presentation, grading each other on manner of speech, presentation of the subject matter, platform mannerisms, use of training aids and following the lesson plan. All such critiques are conducted under the guidance of one or more instructors of the school.

Although the Formal and Unit Instructor Courses are the two basic schools in the Instructor Training Unit, special classes are conducted for a one week period for the benefit of Reserves on Active Duty for training and Seabees undergoing training at Camp Lejeune.

At the end of Fiscal Year 1963, the Training Unit will have completed six 4-week Formal Classes; eight 2-week Unit Classes and six Special one-week courses.

C. Recreation Workshop Scheduled For March 18-19

Recreation chairman throughout North Carolina may gain new insight next month when he will be invited to attend a workshop to entertain everyone from nursery school to senior citizens.

Discussions on these and other recreational problems will be the two-day workshop held at Camp Lejeune's Recreation Pavilion March 18 and 19, 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Day Camp-Community Recreation Programming is the theme of the seminar aimed at interested in group and unit recreation. The workshop is free to the public and they are invited to attend.

Representatives of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, State Police, and other agencies will discuss recreation programs for all ages. Problems and techniques encountered at nurseries, day schools, youth centers, and other recreational facilities for young adults will be discussed. The workshop will include military and civil recreation.

Representatives of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, State Police, and other agencies will discuss recreation programs for all ages. Problems and techniques encountered at nurseries, day schools, youth centers, and other recreational facilities for young adults will be discussed. The workshop will include military and civil recreation.

Recreational skills such as horseback riding, skin diving, pottery making and painting will be demonstrated. The speakers platform will be Dr. Harold D. Meyer, Chairman, Recreation Curriculum, University of North Carolina; Miss Patricia Schmidt, National Recreation Association; Mr. William L. Hammett, North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission, and a host of others.

The Armed Force Division of the North Carolina Recreation Committee sponsors the workshop. The group welcomes representatives from surrounding communities and organizations, including recreation leaders of hospitals, churches, industry, USO Clubs, scouting programs, YMCA-YWCA's, volunteer and part-time recreation workers.

Soft Shoulders

Due to recent rains and repairs, many of the road shoulders around Camp Lejeune are in poor condition for cars to pull onto. The Provost Marshal's office advises motorists to stay off the shoulders except for emergencies only. The Base Provost Marshal has stated that his men have been instructed to be alert for motorists stopping on the shoulders for reasons other than repairs or other emergencies.

ECC Offers Two New Courses

The Extension Center of East Carolina College has announced a schedule of classes beginning March 4 and ending May 8 (10 weeks). The classes will be held in the Brewster Elementary School, Room Annex 1, from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Students desiring to register may apply in the East Carolina College office located in Bldg. 67 between 8 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. on the days indicated below. Registrations will also be accepted on the first night of class, but it is to the student's advantage to register as early as possible.

Registration dates are: February 25, 26, 27, 28 and March 1.

Commencing Monday, March 4, classes in Business Administration 415 (Business Law of Real Estate) will be held weekly on Mondays for 10 weeks.

THIS IS THE WAY!—GySgt. Paul C. Reynolds, a student at Formal Instructors Course, gives other members of the class instruction on the construction of a magenic black board. Upon completion of the "Charm School," Reynolds will instruct Marines at Marine Corps Engineer Schools. (Photo by SSgt. Jerry Minger)

Classes in Education 415 (Techniques of Teaching) will be held on Wednesdays, beginning March 6.

The cost is $8 per quarter hour and each of the courses are three quarter hours. In addition, the cost of the textbooks will be charged. Textbooks will be available for the first class meeting. Military tuition assistance may be used for payment of three-fourths of the tuition costs.

Students wishing to withdraw from the course should notify the instructor and the Director of Extension, Box 307, East Carolina College, Greenville in writing. Lack of proper notification when withdrawing will result in failure for the course.

No withdrawals will be permitted after the fifth class meeting without the penalty of failure (exceptions: illness, military duty, or similar emergency).

A 100 per cent refund will be made to students who withdraw before the first class meeting. Students who withdraw after the first class meeting and before the meeting of the second class will receive a refund of 75 per cent of the tuition paid.

Requirements for admission are as follows: an application must be filed for admission, a copy of all undergraduate transcripts must be on file with the Registrar at least three weeks before the end of the course and the courses above are available for credit to graduate students only but others may enroll as desired.

For further information, write or call East Carolina College, Camp Lejeune branch, phone 7-5864 or the Director of Extension, East Carolina College, Greenville, N. C., phone PI 2-6101, extension 217.

Concert

The Force Troops Drum Bugle Corps, under the direction of Band Officer, Lt. E. H. Walker, IV and Master, SSgt. Eugene R. S. will present a concert at the Camp Theater at 6 p. m. Wednesday, March 6. The selections to be featured are "Black Saddle," "Moray Firth," "The Beguine" and "Merry Pink and Apple Blossom White." The movie will be shown immediately following the concert.

"UNCOMMON VALOR WAS A COMMON VIRTUE"

A great American armada lay off the ash laden beaches of a barren piece of rock in the Western Pacific on February 19, 1945. Attack Transports unloaded their precious cargoes of Marines into landing craft now forming for an assault.

Naval officers scanned the beaches and the imposing heights of Mount Suribachi, searching for any obstacles which might have remained to slow the advance of the 30,000 Marines now making their way to the ugly beaches of Iwo Jima. For 72 consecutive days, sea and air elements of one of the mightiest U. S. Naval task forces in history, bombarded the island. One junior officer remarked; "I can't see how any living thing could have survived that bombardment." Meanwhile, 21,000 Japanese troops waited in bunkers, bombproofs and underground passages, and pledged again their lives in defense of the Japanese homeland, 760 miles to the north.

An unreal silence lay over the battered island as the Marines landed on Iwo and unloaded their heavy weapons. Anxious eyes scanned the terrain of the desolate rock. To the west rose Mount Suribachi, a grim natural fortress. Ahead and to the flanks, rocks and volcanic ash formed a succession of rises, which were found later to be honeycombed with bunkers and sniper's nests.

Slowly, Marines from the 3d, 4th and 5th Divisions, 30,000 of them, began to move slowly forward and met almost instant resistance. Japanese were routed from their bunkers only to return through underground passages to fire at the rear of advancing Marine units. Snipers clung tenaciously to well-fortified positions, and had to be rooted out, one by one.

On February 23rd, Marines fought their way to the precipice of Mount Suribachi, and raised the American flag. Joe Roessenthal's photograph of the dramatic moment was soon to become a source of inspiration to the American people, and a monument to the valor of America's Marines.

The conquest of Suribachi did not mean the end of Japanese resistance on Iwo Jima, however. For twenty-five more bloody days, the battle was to rage.

America could not afford to lose the island because the airstrips there would provide for escorts to protect American bombers from the Mariana missions over the Japanese homeland. The Japanese could afford to lose the island for the same reason.

The fight must be won by mortar, grenade, flame thrower and bayonet until one side or the other was annihilated. The Japanese, with no means of escape, must win or die in the holes defending Iwo.

On March 16, 1945, the Japanese resistance ended and the Island was in complete possession of the Marines. Over 20,000 Japanese, all but 1,083 killed or committed Harakiri. The Marines suffered a total of almost 20,000 casualties, with 6,861 killed. The last gateway to Tokyo had been opened.

A few months later on August 6, 1945, the Enola Gay, one of hundreds of bombers coming from airstrips in the Western Pacific, circled high over Hiroshima. In Tokyo, the Japanese high command was planning to reinforce the coastal defenses of the home islands of Japan. A bombardier pressed a button in the belly of the Enola Gay ending both resistance in Japan and World War II.

The Marines had paid a high price for Iwo, but their sacrifice made possible the early finish of a long and brutal war. On the 16th anniversary of the landing on Iwo Jima, we, the Americans, owe them a debt of thanks and a moment of remembrance.

Chaplain's Corner

Elijah was one of the greatest of the prophets of God. He lived in a time when he worship of idols was beginning to attract his people from the worship of the true God. This bothered Elijah so much that he set out to prove once for all how wrong idol worship was. He arranged a contest on Mt. Carmel to see whether the idol could show as much power as his God. Of course, the idol worshippers lost the contest. They became angry and tried to kill Elijah. He had to flee for his life. He was tired and discouraged. God promised to renew his faith by showing Elijah His power and majesty. A great wind came up and Elijah thought that perhaps God would reveal himself in the wind, but nothing happened. There was an earthquake, and Elijah saw spectacular things, but God was not in them. Then came a great fire, but it neither revealed God to Elijah. Finally, he heard a still, small voice within himself. He knew it was the voice of God. He had thought was far away, but He had been there all the time.

In times of discouragement, we are too much like Elijah. We feel that God has gone away and left us, when actually it is we who have deserted God. He is always closer than we realize, for we are never without His wonderful presence and help.

As busy as our lives are today, it certainly is not hard to lose the sense of God's presence. Whenever this happens to us, we need to take time to listen to that still, small voice within us telling the glad news that God is always with us.

GIRLS! GIRLS! GIRLS! — Once again, Presley comes to the public under the astute production hand of Hal Wallis. Presley is skipper of a chartered fishing boat for a gentle, elderly Greek, with Guy Lee, a young Chinese, as his mate. Stella Stevens, vocalist in a night club, is in love with Presley, who occasionally sings in the club, without pay, but her love is not reciprocated. He meets and falls for pretty Laurel Goodwin, a newcomer in her first role. Matters become very involved but it all wraps up into a right handsome, tuncful entertainment package. Others in the cast include Jeremy Slate, Benson Fong, Ann McCreae, and Frank Puglia.

MIDNIGHT LACE — A beautiful, carefree American heiress, happily married to an Englishman, is driven to near insanity by a series of mysterious fifth-laden telephone calls threatening her life. Subsequent events show that the threats are more than the machinations of a moronic crank. Starring in the cast are Doris Day, Rex Harrison, John Gavin, Myrna Loy, and Roddy McDowall.

Book Shelf

THE IDEAS OF BIOLOGY, by John Tyler Bonner. Perhaps more than any other science, biology is an enormously large collection of facts. The mere accumulation of these facts is a task which leaves little time for seeing what they mean and how they fit together. The main purpose of this book is to explain the larger themes of biology today. It deals with the ideas rather than the facts of biology, although, of course, the facts are basic to the ideas.

LEGION OF THE LAFAYETTE, by Arch Whitehouse is the story of a handful of American volunteers who served and flew for France between 1914 and 1918, many of whom had their baptism of fire in the trenches with the famed Foreign Legion. The author tells the memorable stories of such heroes as Raoul Lufbery, Victor Chapman, Kiffin Rockwell, Bill Thaw, James Norman Hall, Edwin C. Parsons, Norman Prince, James McConnell.

ASTRONAUT GLENN

Astronaut Lieutenant Colonel Glenn became the first Marine to receive "flight pay" from outer space. p.m., February 20, 1962, he

PICK-UP—Teammates paved the way for Colonel Glenn's famous trip. Here Commander Alan B. Shepard is recovered from the ocean by a Marine helicopter following his successful Mercury Project space flight in 1961.

SUPERSONIC SMILE—Almost five years prior to his historic flight, Colonel Glenn, then a Major, was presented the Distinguished Flying Cross by Thomas S. Gates, Jr., former Secretary of the Navy. Glenn was awarded the decoration after he became the first man to span the continent at a speed faster than sound.

At 2:20 a.m. Eastern Standard Time, exactly one year ago, yesterday, Marine Lieutenant Colonel John H. Glenn, Jr., was awakened by his personal physician for breakfast.

An unusual hour for anyone going to work, even for those on the swing shift, but to Colonel Glenn it was only the first of many unusual occurrences he would experience within the next thirteen hours, on February 20, 1962.

While many of us were to be thinking of what we would have for lunch, astronaut Glenn would become the first American launched into orbit and before we were to be seated for the evening meal he would have skillfully demonstrated man's ability to perform numerous tasks in space.

Colonel Glenn and his Friendship 7, Mercury spacecraft were to orbit the earth three times in four hours and 50 minutes; re-enter the earth's atmosphere and land safely in the Atlantic Ocean, six miles from the recovery ship, destroyer USS NOA. A busy and most unusual day, with the results remaining to be seen.

Following a thorough, final examination and clad in his space apparel, the Colonel, reminiscent of Buck Rogers or Flash Gordon, entered his spacecraft at 6 a.m.

At 9:47 a.m., following several delays due to mechanical disturbances during the countdown, the great Atlas missile, which was to hurl "Friendship 7" into space, rose steadily from the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, soared skyward and levelled off in an eastwardly direction over the Atlantic. John H. Glenn, Jr. was well on his way to writing another page in our American Heritage.

Thousands of previously cheering spectators who lined the beaches within view of the Cape and countless millions glued to their radios and TV sets, breathlessly awaited the news they received just 13 minutes later.

"Successful blast-off. Colonel Glenn has become the first American launched into orbit and is circling the earth at a rate of about 17,545 miles an hour and between 100 to 160 miles away."

At 11:24 a.m., 97 minutes after launching, Glenn and Friendship 7 had orbited the earth for the first time. The remainder of the flight is history today.

Back on earth, military and civilian leaders joined people the world over in heralding the successful flight, following confirmation of the initial orbit.

At the White House, after Glenn's recovery, President

ASTRONAUT HONORED—Flanked by the Commandant, Lt. Col. Glenn displays the astronaut commemorative medal awarded him during Marine Corps Birthday celebrations, last year. The medal was designed by Felix de Weldon, famed sculptor of the "Marine Memorial."

BLAST-OFF—The Atlas Boost-er Missile began its ascent.

... YEAR AGO YESTERDAY

... lieutenant Col. Glenn's message back to earth: "Have the first Marine's flight time . . . request flight from outer space." me."

Kennedy stated "I know that I express the great happiness and thanksgiving of all of us that Colonel Glenn has completed his trip and I know that this is particularly felt by Mrs. Glenn and his two children.

Later, after conferring with the astronaut, the President recalled "Some months ago I said that I hoped every American would serve his country. Colonel Glenn served his and we all express our thanks to him."

General David M. Shoup, Commandant of the Marine Corps sent the Colonel the following message: "Accept my congratulations and those of every Marine on the successful completion of your historic mission. You have joined the company of heroes of your country and the Corps."

Three days after the momentous journey into space, Colonel Glenn was presented the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Distinguished Service Medal at Canaveral by the President.

During the same month Colonel Glenn returned to the Nation's Capital where he and his fellow astronauts were feted during a parade and at a joint meeting of Congress.

The space men were again honored by a parade in New York, March 1. It was a ticker-tape affair and termed the largest welcome in the history of the city.

On March 9, Colonel Glenn was presented the Navy Astronaut Wings by Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth and the Marine Corps Astronaut insignia by General Shoup.

Thus began numerous appearances for the astronaut, each an honor for his historical flight.

Midway in 1962 Colonel Glenn was bestowed the title "Man of 1962." Mrs. Glenn later received a similar honor.

Colonel Glenn had traveled 83,000 miles through space and on the big chess board where the "race for space" was being played, he had made a crucial move for the United States.

The space race is serious business, but even so, Americans find time for humor in all situations as was evidenced the day following the miraculous flight in a New York supermarket advertising "Astronaut Steaks."

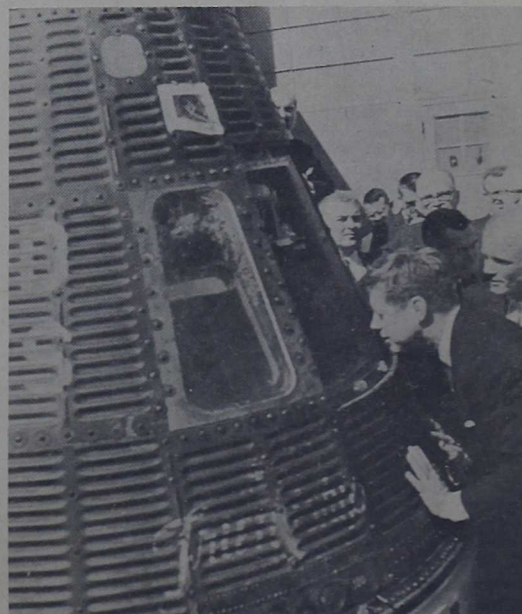

An inquisitive young housewife was informed that the ad meant these steaks were "out of this world," similar to an astronaut. However an experienced shopper had her own version of the ad when she stated "what it probably means dearie is that these cuts are on their third time around, just like John Glenn."

CUNNINGHAM TROPHY—Colonel Glenn receives the Alfred A. Cunningham trophy at Quantico, last year, by the Assistant Commandant Lt. Gen. John C. Munn and Cyril A. Gould, Commander, 1st Marine Aviation Force Veterans Association.

CORPS' SPACE INSIGNIA—The Commandant of the Marine Corps pins the Corps' Astronaut Insignia on Colonel Glenn's uniform during the spaceman's visit to the Nation's Capital after his orbital flight.

PRESIDENTIAL INSPECTION—President Kennedy inspects the "Friendship Seven" spaceship which carried Colonel Glenn into orbit to mark the United State's greatest space effort.

MCS Gets All-Marine Title Shot

Quantico Victorious Over Lejeune; Sweep Marine Coast Area Honors

NOT QUITE ENOUGH—Bob Redd and Jim McGee, right, combined for 30 points during the Lejeune-Quantico battle, Tuesday night. Coupled with 21 points scored by player-coach Art Musselman the effort wasn't quite enough as Quantico downed Lejeune 83-72 for the East Coast Marine Title and a chance to represent the East during the All-Marine Cage Tourney at San Diego, beginning next week.

Quantico, by virtue of a 83-72 victory over Camp Lejeune, Tuesday night in Virginia captured the mythical East Coast Area Marine Championship and will represent the East during the All-Marine Basketball Tournament at San Diego, beginning next Monday.

A surprise to both teams, the special game was ordered by Headquarters Marine Corps and interrupted both team's schedule in the East Coast Inter-service Conference.

According to local sources the play-offs were suggested earlier in the month, but official ruling was not received until Wednesday, February 21.

At Quantico, athletic officials stated the contest came as a complete surprise. "It was thought," they said "that Quantico would travel to the west coast due to their decisive double victory over Lejeune earlier in the season and their season record, 27-7 before the game.

In January the Virginians swept a twin-bill from the locals 91-76 and 107-74. On its home court, Lejeune avenged the earlier losses, downing Quantico 90-86 and 100-91. Its record stood at 15-8.

Quantico will meet Hawaii and San Diego, in a double elimination tourney for the All-Marine title.

During the play off game, over 3,000 fans, saw Brian Sheehan, former Georgetown star lead Quantico to the title win and top the game's scoring department with 12 field goals and 13 points from the free throw line for a total of 37.

Also in double figures for the victors was pivot man Dick Hall with 18 and former Lejeune star, Derek Dickinson with 10.

High scorer for Lejeune was coach-player Art Musselman who tossed in seven from the foul line for 21 points. Musselman was followed by teammates Bob Redd with 18 and Jim McGee with 12.

Trailing by 10 points early in the first period, Lejeune battled back to tie the game and move into a two-point, 43-41 advantage at half-time.

As Lejeune turned cold in the second half, Quantico got hot and outscored the locals 42-29, grabbing a 10-point lead after the first five minutes and holding on until the buzzer, ending the game.

Lejeune tossed in 24 out of 38 from the foul line, while the champions hit the mark for 21 out of 33.

According to Coach Ira Norfolk, Quantico has cancelled the remaining ECIC games on its schedule and departed for San Diego, Wednesday morning.

Intramural Cage Finals Set Tonight

The finals of the single elimination, Marine Corps Base Intramural Basketball Championships are scheduled for tonight at the Goertge Memorial Field House beginning 8:30 p. m.

Third place during the tourney will be decided between the third and fourth place teams at 7 p. m.

In the opening night's action last Monday Marine Corps Supply School jumped into an early tournament lead with a decisive 70-20 victory over Base Medical.

Game scoring honors went to School's Dave Studebaker who tossed in 12 field goals and two free throws for 26 points. Studebaker was followed by teammate John Harris with 18.

After grabbing a first half 44-11 advantage, the Supplymen scored 16 points in the second half, while holding their opponents to only nine.

During the second game of the evening H&S Battalion, 2d FSR overcame an 18-20 half-time deficit to defeat MS&M Battalion, also of 2d FSR, 40-34.

Willis Hill led the victors in the scoring column with six field goals and five from the foul line for 11 points, one point ahead of teammate Bud Anderson with 10.

The second night 1st ITR met ASD Battalion, 2d FSR; MCSS played H&S Battalion, 2d FSR; Base Material Battalion battled H&S Battalion MCB and the Naval Hospital closed out the night against the Engineer Schools. Results were received too late for GLOBE deadline.

Flying Club

All Marines who are licensed pilots or interested in learning to fly are invited to attend a meeting for the purpose of forming a local flying club. The meeting is scheduled to be held in classroom, Building 342 directly behind Headquarters, 8th Engineer Battalion at 7 p.m., February 25.

GLOBE SPORTS

'Pups Whip Richlands; Complete Home Season

The Devilpups of Camp Lejeune High School picked up their fifth win of the season Friday night in their final home game as they made a season-sweep over nearby Richlands, 72-49. The Pups also took the initial contest between the two schools earlier in the year.

Sparked by Dan Paetow, who dumped in 26 points and controlled both boards, Lejeune led 12-10 at the end of the first quarter, 23-19 at halftime and 39-32 at the close of the third period.

In all, four Devilpups hit in the double figures. Jim Barrett followed Paetow's total with 19; Lou Paulson had 13 and Bob Kelly, 12.

In the opening contest of the evening, Camp Lejeune girls stopped Richlands 64-25 with Donna Terry, the county's leading scorer, running up a total of 30 points.

Lejeune was scheduled to close out the season Tuesday against the Bulldogs at Dixon. Results of this game were received too late for GLOBE publication deadline.

Lejeune Diamond Star Makes Pan-Am Squad

By PFC LANCE B. RUTH

Victor E. Johnson, a Marine corporal and mainstay of the Lejeune baseball team has been chosen by a selection board at Springfield College in Massachusetts to pitch for the United States team in the Pan-American Games which are to be held in Brazil.

The Pan-American Games are sponsored by twenty-nine countries of the Western Hemisphere. This year the games will be held during April in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The Pan-American team will report in April to "Tigertown", Lakeland, Fla., spring training camp of the Detroit Tigers. After a week's arduous practice, the team will leave for Brazil.

During the 1962 baseball season Capt. Anderson, then coach of the Lejeune squad submitted Johnson's name and records to coach Archie Allen at Springfield College in Massachusetts. Coach Allen has been named coach of the Pan-American team and was looking for players for the squad representing the United States. Johnson hurled an 8-3 East Coast Interservice Conference record in 1962 and batted a .359 average, in 39 trips to the plate.

In December, Cpl. Johnson received word from Coach Allen stating that he had been selected as a member of the Pan-American Games Team. At that time Coach Allen also wrote, "although the United States has never won during competition in the Games, I feel that with the caliber of players we will have this year, we stand an excellent chance." "I realize that you do not have too much time but hope that you will make every effort possible to report to Tigertown in the best possible condition."

Coach Allen said. This was all the incentive Johnson needed, recalling, "as soon as I read the letter realized this was probably the greatest opportunity I ever had or possibly would ever have in my life.

Vic Johnson
... Bound for Brazil

"I'll not only be able to travel as a representative of my country and the Marine Corps but actively participate in President Kennedy's People to People program."

On his own time Johnson undertook a rigid physical training schedule. He stated, "Spartan living came about as a matter of necessity. Over the winter I gained a few pounds but I believe the roadwork and the seemingly endless pushups and situps are going to pay off. By the time I reach Brazil, I should be in the best shape of my life."

Johnson will return to the United States and rejoin the Camp Lejeune baseball team May 5. He said "I believe I'll gain valuable experience in Brazil. We'll be playing against some of the best amateur players in the western hemisphere."

'Pups In .. Something

North Carolina's State Athletic Association has granted the Camp Lejeune "Devilpups" permission to enter the District II Basketball Play-offs, scheduled to begin March 8 at Kenansville.

The High School earlier this month, was denied permission to enter into the Onslow County Tournament by a unanimous decision of coaches and school principals concerned.

Radiomen Unbeaten In Court Battle

With only one week remaining in the Force Troops Intramural Basketball League and 8th Comm Bn still undefeated in league action, it looks as if they will ease through the season without a loss.

Comm has one game left to play and their record now stands 9-0. Currently in second place with an 8-2 ledger is 8th Engr. Bn. Holding down third place by one game are the Tankers of 2d Tank Bn. Fourth place is now in the hands of 8th Motors, with a 6-3 slate.

The top four teams at the end of league play will play a double-round-robin tourney and the team with the best overall record for the season will be the Force Troops representative during the Camp Lejeune cage tournament next month.

In games played during the week of the 11th, 2d FAG dumped 2d AmTrac Bn., 95-53 and 8th Comm Bn. handed 2d ANGLICO its fourth loss, 80-68. On Wednesday evening, Feb. 13, 2d Tank Bn. surprised second placed 8th Engr. Bn., 61-55 and in the second game 2d ANGLICO eased by 2d Topo Co., 65-57. Friday evening 2d Composite Radio Co. won over 2d Bridge Co. by a forfeit.

Monday, Feb. 18, Headquarters Company closed out its season by losing to fourth place 8th Motors 83-65.

Later, 2d FAG set a league scoring record, keeping their season's slate over .500 at 6-4 by blasting 2d ANGLICO 111-56.

Swimmers

Personnel interested in trying out for the Force Troops swimming team should notify the Force Troops Special Services Officer at telephone number 7-5519 prior to next Thursday.

The swimming team will participate in the Quad-Command and FMFLant swimming meets.

Bulletin

Camp Lejeune scrappers have found it tough going in Camp Pendleton, according to results of the first night's action during the All-Marine Boxing Tourney.

Lejeune's only winner of the night was light-welterweight Bill Verdier, who scored a three round decision over teammate Bob Fisher.

Another local light-welterweight, Ernest Dawson was knocked out in two minutes of the second round by Gerald Henshaw of FMF Pacific.

Welterweight Bill Sudderth of MCAF Santa Ana gained the judges nod over Lejeune's Adrian Carroll and light middleweight Chester Winters of Camp Pendleton TKO'd Lejeune's Ennis Bullrock in 52 seconds of the third round.

Percy Price, Lejeune's hopeful in the heavyweight division, drew a bye and was scheduled to fight Tuesday night.

Memphis Unit Cops Coast Net Title; 2d MAF Wins Fleet Championship

The Marine Aviation Detachment from NAS, Memphis, Tenn., took first place in the East Coast Area Volleyball Tournament, Feb. 9, for the second straight year. MCAS Cherry Point took the runner-up slot.

The Memphis team is representing the East Coast in the All-Marine tournament this week at MCAS El Toro, Calif. Two 2d Wing players were augmented to the Area champions. They are SSgt. W. G. Henderson of H&HS-2 and 2dLt. P. P. Carville of H&MS-26, New River.

In winning the championship, Memphis downed New River, 15-10 and 14-6, and Cherry Point, 15-11 and 15-5, on the first day. The MAD team beat MCSC Albany, Ga., Feb. 9, 15-6 and 15-7.

Cherry Point wrapped two victories around their loss. They defeated Albany, 15-3 and 15-5, on the first day and New River, 15-7 and 15-7, on the second day.

New River handed Albany their other defeat on the second day, 15-3 and 13-7.

FMFLant in two come-from-behind victories defeated Amphibious Force, Feb. 11, 14-12 and 15-9. Earlier on the opening day, the Wing Marines had downed Service Force, 15-5 and 15-3.

PhibLant, runners-up in the tournament, gave FMFLant another bad day, Feb. 12. The Marines had to come from behind again to defeat PhibLant, 15-10 and 15-13.

PhibLant opened the play by defeating Cruiser and Destroyer Force, 15-1 and 15-13. They again defeated CruDesLant on the second day, 15-4 and 15-7.

ServLant was eliminated from the championships on the first day. After losing to PhibLant they were defeated by CruDesLant, 15-5 and 15-7.

ON THE TEAM—All faiths, races and creeds play on the same team in Camp Lejeune recreational activities, not only during National Brotherhood Week, being observed here this week, but throughout the year. Jim "Mudcat" Grant, ace pitcher of the Cleveland Indians helps Camp Lejeune youngsters learn the finer points of baseball at the Little League ball park and brotherhood is automatically, furthered.

Ernie Cates Seeks Fifth All-Mar Win

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C.—The sixth annual All-Marine judo championships are set to open here tomorrow afternoon.

Over 75 Marine judokas from ten stateside commands will compete for the All-Marine individual and team titles and the right to represent the Marine Corps in the National AAU judo championships in Fresno, Calif., March 15-16.

Three-man pool round-robin followed by single elimination matches will be held Friday afternoon and evening in the four weight classes: 150 and under, 176 and under, over 176 and open. Saturday afternoon, February 23, the finals and consolation matches of each division will take place followed by the Biddle Trophy competition between class winners.

The Biddle Trophy, named after the late Marine Colonel Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, who was considered by many to be the nation's master of unarmed combat, goes to the tournament's overall champion each year.

Donated in 1958, the trophy has had but one recipient: Parris Island's Ernie Cates, who this year seeks his fifth straight All-Marine title.

Winners and runners-up in each weight class will form the All-Marine squad for the Fresno matches.

Participating bases are: Marine Corps Base, 29 Palms, Calif.; Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.; Marine Corps Supply Center, Barstow, Calif.; Marine Corps Air Station, Beaufort, S. C.; Marine Air Group 31, MCAS, Beaufort, S. C.; Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Calif.; Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.; Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N. C.; Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N. C.; and Parris Island.

Dependents' Golf Match At Andrews

Sharpen up your iron shots ladies, you're invited to participate in the Second Annual Military Dependents Invitational Golf Tournament, June 6 and 7. Hosted by the Women's Golf Association, the tourney is slated over the par 75, Andrews Air Force Base course, within a chip shot of the nation's capital.

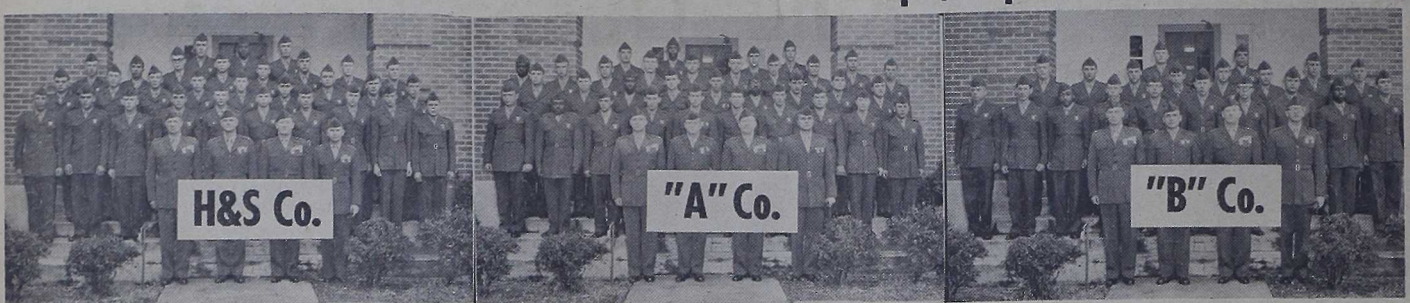

Participants are urged to get their entries in early. Last year's tournament attracted more than were allotted and some were turned down. The number of players is limited to 136.

Tournament chairman Zada Schriever, said that all golfers are welcomed, the high handicappers as well as the par shooters.

It will be 36-hole medal play, with 18 holes played each day. Players will be placed in five flights according to handicaps 0 through 30. The championship flight will be determined by low gross score. There is a $6 entry fee.

While at Andrews, the entrants will be quartered with members of the base's Woman's Golf Association.

Being 'A Marine First' Rates Mast For GySgt.

GySgt. Lee E. Morrow, H&S Co., 2d AmTrac Bn., was recently presented with a citation during a Meritorious Mast held for him by his Company Commander, Capt. H. A. Marting. The citation read, in part: "Since September 19, 1962, Gunnery Sergeant Morrow, although an Amphibian

Tractor Vehicle Repair Technician by MOS, has demonstrated the Marine Corps concept of "A Marine first and a specialist second" by performing the duties of Company Gunnery Sergeant in a manner commendable beyond the normal requirements of his duties. His thorough knowledge and dedicated interest in his duties has been the most contributing factor in maintaining complete liaison between the various sections within "H&S" Company in all matters. During the past three months Gunnery Sergeant Morrow has handled the area guard commitments of the 2d Amphibian Tractor Battalion. In addition to effecting a mutual cooperation among companies within the battalion regarding guard details, he has continually given up his free time to devote to the proper preparation and supervision of the many "H&S" Company commitments. In addition to the above, Gunnery Sergeant Morrow inspires other Marines to a higher standard of neatness and military bearing at all times.

"Only through your high degree of devotion to duty has the foregoing been accomplished and it is with great pleasure that I congratulate you for your outstanding performance."

Seventh Reenlistment Nets Sgt. Maj. 34 Years' Colorful, Eventful Service

Sgt. Maj. Adrien N. Prescott, 2d Field Artillery Group, Force Troops, probably the only Marine who went through boot camp both at Parris Island and San Diego reenlisted on February 1 for his seventh time.

He first enlisted in the Marine Corps at New Orleans in August 1933. This present enlistment will give him a total of 34 years Marine Corps service.

While undergoing boot training at Parris Island, he was sent to Cuba to help quell a revolution. While enroute, he was transferred to LaJolla, California, now Camp Matthews, for rifle requalification, in order to complete boot training.

In the 30's, he served about the aircraft carrier USS SARATOGA, a converted battle cruiser.

Sgt. Maj. Prescott was ordered to Guadalcanal in August 1944 for duty with the 29th Marines, which was the nucleus of the 6th Marine Division.

He was wounded during the fighting on Okinawa while serving with the 3d Battalion, 3d Marines, and was later sent to Guam for regrouping in preparation for the invasion of Japan.

Hiroshima and Nagasaki put a change in plans for the invasion. Instead, they went to Tsingtao, China to accept the surrender of Japanese forces in that area.

He was later ordered to Moscow, Moscow, Idaho, that is, as an instructor with the NROTC unit at the University of Idaho.

In August 1950, he saw combat again while serving with the 1st Marine Brigade in the Pusan perimeter in Korea.

He participated in the Inchon landing and was awarded the Bronze Star in the Chosin Reservoir campaign.

The Sergeant Major left the lines just above Seoul, February 1951, and was ordered to Parris Island, where he was chief instructor at recruiters school. In September 1961, he assumed his present post of Sergeant Major, 2d Field Artillery Group, Force Troops.

Sgt. Maj. Prescott is married, has three children, and is active in local Boy Scout work.

RE-UP NO. SEVEN—Sgt. Maj. Adrien N. Prescott, right, 2d Field Artillery Group, is congratulated by his group commander, Col. F. R. Schlesinger on the occasion of his seventh reenlistment early this month.

King, Queen Valentine Scream For Ice Cream

It was hearts and flowers time last Thursday at the PTA meeting held in the Montford Point Elementary School. First graders, Mike Roberts and Jeanie Jew, were crowned King and Queen Valentine by Mrs. Lou James, newly elected program chairman.

As was promised their royal Majesties' wish was the court's command and their wish was one befitting any six-year-old — $5.00 worth of ice cream!

Candidates from each of the four grades were selected within their class. Winners were chosen by the parents' attendance at the meeting. King Mike and Queen Jeanie are students of Mrs. Helen Chambliss.

Prospective kings and queens were: from Mrs. Estella Hirsch's first grade, Timmy Scheery and Sheri Linn Goff; Mrs. Joan Finks' second grade, Seola Hill and Paula Hall; Mrs. Ann Wilkinson's third grade, Steven Willis and Lillian Thayer; and from Mrs. Lois James' fourth grade, Larry Salefsky and Alida Olmo.

PTA President, Mr. Frank E. Lambert, opened the meeting and the secretary's and treasurer's report followed read by Sgt. Jim Gorst and SSgt. Joseph Luckenbach respectively.

"Old business" consisted of choosing a new secretary, Mrs. John Austin. "New business" called for volunteers to repair the playground equipment on Saturday.

It was mentioned that there would only be three more PTA meetings; the next one being March 14. A fitting climax to the February 17th meeting was the presentation of valentines to the teachers by Mr. Lambert.

Sweetheart, Queen Reign Over Dance

Cupid was very much in evidence at the Pre-teen Valentine Dance held last Saturday night at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center. A huge heart, surrounded by valentines, was pinned to the stage curtain and served as an appropriate background for the Valentine Queen's and Sweetheart's throne.

Voted Valentine Sweetheart was nine-year-old Nancy Randolph. Escorting her was Ricky

Davis. Mrs. Jeanette Streetman was selected to be Queen of Hearts. Her escort was Mr. Tom Aderhold. Sweetheart runner-up, Debbie Aderhold, received a pink diary.

Several dance contests were conducted and the winners presented ball point pens. Polkaing their way to first place were David Aderhold and Karen Frisbie. Debbie Aderhold and Kenneth Streetman cha-chaed into the winner's circle. First place winners doing the Continental were Marty Ortiz, Ann Doty, Diane Trevino and Pat Mooney.

The Pre-teen Club meets every Tuesday and Friday from 5 to 6 p. m. at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center.

Staff Aide Class To Begin Mar. 14

A Staff Aide training class will begin at the U. S. Naval Hospital March 14. Purpose of staff aide service is to provide trained volunteers in the day by day operations of Red Cross Chapters, field directors, offices, hospitals, institutions and agencies.

Well trained staff aides are versatile; they are able to give a wide variety of services and to interpret Red Cross policy. Duties range from assisting a Chapter Chairman with administrative work to giving clerical, typist and receptionist service. At the Naval Hospital staff aides are currently working as receptionists in dependent clinics where they serve under the direct supervision of the senior Navy Nurse in the clinic.

Ladies who are interested in this type of volunteer work should register at the Naval Hospital, Ward 8, on March 5th, 11th or 12th between 9 a. m. and noon. There is a very great need for staff aide volunteers at the present time. Those wishing more information are asked to call the Red Cross Field Director at the Hospital, 4-4332.

Thrift Shop Sale

The Thrift Shop will observe Holiday Routine Feb. 22, according to Mrs. Steven Denhup, Thrift Shop Chairman, and instead of the normal Friday hours, there will be a Washington's Birthday Sale Saturday, Feb. 23, from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.

The Thrift Shop is full of bargains and is looking forward to receiving more items on consignment or donation.

Twirlers Invite All To 'Swing Their Partners'

"Eight roll away with a half sashay. Star by the right in the center. Swat the flea with the corner girl. Box the gnat right across the way..." Sound familiar? It does to the J'ville Twirlers who meet each Thursday night at Marston Pavilion for an evening of square dancing from 8 to 10 p. m.

In addition to their regular meetings the club occasionally accepts invitations to entertain groups such as ambulatory patients at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Teen Club etc. They also visit other clubs in the area and often enjoy dancing with visitors from Goldsboro, Cherry Point and Wilmington.

At present the membership consists mainly of enlisted and officer personnel stationed at Camp Lejeune; however, civilians and dependents are welcome.

Recently elected club officers include: A. E. Bench, president; Stanley Davis, vice-president; Mrs. V. M. Johnson, secretary-treasurer. Dance caller is "Mic" Burin.

Beginning March 14 The Twirlers will meet from 7 to 10 p. m. to allow for an hour and a half of class and an hour and a half routine dancing. Those wishing more information may call Major A. E. Bench at 7-3610 or 6-6737.

Citizenship Class Slated For March

The Base Education Office announces the formation of citizenship classes for alien dependents and alien service personnel commencing March 4.

A formation class will be held at the Brewster Elementary School, Annex 2, on March 4, to determine class assignment of students. It is important that all aliens interested in attending citizenship classes be present at this meeting.

Classes will be divided into two sections. One section will be concerned with instructions covering the knowledge needed to pass the citizenship examinations: i. e., the History of the United States, the United States Constitution, and the Federal Government. The second section will offer special reading, writing, and spoken English instruction for those students with little or no ability to read and write English.

Regular classes will be held at Brewster Elementary School, in Annex 2. Each class will meet one night a week, from 6:30-9:30 p. m., either Monday or Wednesday evening. Classes will be completed on June 5.

EVENSONG

The second in the series of monthly Sunday afternoon musical programs, called EVENSONG, will be presented February 24 at 1600 in the Base Protestant Chapel. The program of choral music will follow the theme, "The Shepherd and the Sheep," and will be sung by the Protestant Chapel Choir, directed by Mr. J. E. MARTIN.

EVENSONG is designed to provide musical enjoyment for military and civilian personnel in the Camp Lejeune area. Programs in either the vocal or instrumental category by leading composers will be presented by the finest musicians of both the military and civilian community. The musicals will range from thirty minutes to one hour in length.

Coin Collectors

Seeking Members

According to Sgt. William Cochran, vice-president of the Jacksonville-Camp Lejeune Coin Club, a numismatic (coin collectors) meeting will be held at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center February 26, at 7:30 p. m.

This will be the first meeting of the club to be held at Tarawa Terrace. Heretofore the meetings were conducted at the Southwest Community Center, Hwy #53, which was some distance from the base, thereby making it difficult, transportation-wise, to attend.

The meetings are conducted like any other club, beginning with the business at hand and progressing to the highlight of the evening, the coin auction. For the young or new collector the 'trading sessions' are vitally important. Here they can trade or swap coins with other collectors without any cash-outlay.

At the present time there are approximately 60 members and with the new location the club is expected to double its membership.

Meetings will be held on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday of each month. Anyone interested in coin collecting who would like to become a member is urged to attend.

Government transportation from Camp Lejeune is available at the bus terminal, building #235.

2d Service Regiment's GMS School Enhances Marine Corps Readiness

"Through this school, you have not only bettered yourselves, but have also improved the combat readiness of the Fleet Marine Force and the Marine Corps."

These were the words of Lt. Col. E. L. Roberts, commanding officer, Headquarters and Service Battalion, 2d Force Service Regiment, as he delivered a commencement speech to 56 graduates of the 2d FSR General Military Subjects School's first graduating class of 1963 last week.

The Colonel continued as the young graduates listened intently: "A sound knowledge of General Military Subjects is the basis of success for today's Marine Corps. The individual Marine must have the knowledge of his job, that of a Marine rifleman, to provide the high standards of proficiency necessary for all Marine assault and support units."

The GMS School, located behind the northeast section of the Industrial Area at mainside, is headed by Major J. D. Baylor. MSgt. H. A. Haynes of H&S Co., H&S Bn. 2d FSR, serves as NCOIC, and GySgt. B. W. Newman of the same organization, is chief instructor for the school.

Each graduating class spends one week billeted in the school area. Before taking their final examinations, the students will receive 84 hours of actual instruction in a wide range of military subjects.

After reporting in on the first school day, students are given an introduction to their curriculum, assigned living quarters, and are administered an inventory examination which indicates to the instructors the subjects which will require the most attention.

The ten school instructors take over on the second day, holding class on first aid, hand to hand combat, code of conduct, combat intelligence, scouting and patrolling. After a brief study period in the evening, taps goes, and the students turn in.

Reveille on the third day is held at 5:30 a. m. and the day begins for the trainees with half an hour of exercises. The rest of the day is filled with classes on history and traditions, the UCMJ, bayonet, defensive tactics and an inspection.

During the fourth day, the rudiments of packs and shelter

Division Unit Will Return This Friday

Concluding a recent routine deployment in the Caribbean area under the command of Capt. R. E. Gibson, Battery "K", 4th Bn., 10th Marines will return to Camp Lejeune tomorrow morning.

The returning battery will disembark from their ship at Morehead City. Friends and dependents of the returning Marines are reminded that they will not be permitted to enter the dock area.

Refreshments will be served at the Area 5 Service Club beginning at noon tomorrow for the members of the battery and their dependents.

Anyone desiring further information concerning the unit's return or reception arrangements should call Camp Lejeune extensions 7-5727 or 7-3186.

halves, combat signals and formations, NBC warfare, and the compass are covered.

On Sunday, those men who desire to attend church services are released from the morning training schedule. Training resumes for all hands in the afternoon, and classes on offensive tactics are conducted.

The training is stepped up slightly on the sixth day, in preparation for the final exam. Five classes are held on mapping, mines, field sanitation and guerrilla warfare.

The final hours of classroom and field instruction are held on the seventh day. Military courtesy, discipline, grenades and mapping fill the last hours, and a critique is held early in the evening. After a brief study period, the final examination is taken, followed by a final night problem.

On the eighth and final day, graduation exercises are held, usually with the students' battalion commanders present. Major Baylor, OIC of the school, introduced Lt. Col. Roberts, who delivered the commencement speech last week for the first graduating class for the calendar year of 1963.

The five top students, in order to their class standings, were Pfc T. E. Day, Electronics Maintenance Co. MS&M Bn. Pfc Beblavy, Shipping and Receiving Co. H&S Bn. Pfc W. E. Field, Electronic Maintenance Co. MS&M Bn. LCpl. H. L. Leveridge, Ordnance Maintenance Co. MS&M Bn. and LCpl. F. B. Hodges, Base Material Bn.

The honor graduate Pfc Day was presented his diploma by Major J. V. Manis, Jr., Executive Officer, MS&M Bn. 2d FSR. Following special congratulations to the five top graduates, Colonel Roberts presented the rest of the class with their diplomas.

Major Baylor, Officer in Charge of 2d FSR General Military Subjects School, stated that the primary mission of the school is "to train the Marines of 2d Force Service Regiment to become better fighting men, enabling them to meet any national emergency."

All of those interviewed about the school program said that it was "widely acclaimed" within the regiment, and praised highly by its graduates.

Reserve Officers —

Class II officers who are expected to benefit most from the active duty training are those joining organized reserve units in occupational specialty billets different than those in which they served while on active duty.

Billets in the combat support specialties of artillery, engineering, communications, reconnaissance, tanks and amphibious tractors will be made available for company grade reserve officers from now until July 1 at Camp Lejeune, N. C. Camp Pendleton, Calif., and Twenty-nine Palms, Calif., field problems and maneuver training.

In addition to the on-the-job training tours, company grade infantry officers may also attend one of the following formal courses of instruction: Special Combat Operations; Mountain Leadership Training; Escape, Evasion and Survival School; Amphibious Reconnaissance Course (Reserve).
