CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1962

NO. 48

Help United Fund Help You—Give!

Where do your dollars go in the Camp Lejeune-Onslow County United Fund Drive? What the result of your donations?

A recent message from Major General F. L. Wleseman 2d Division Commander, reveals that within the first month of the campaign the local chapter of the American Red Cross extended financial aid to Marines and their families at Camp Lejeune in the amount of $4,436.00. This is equal to 15% of the Division goal for the United Fund. The Red Cross is only one of the 14 agencies that will share the proceeds of the UF drive.

Although the vast majority of the funds expended by the Red Cross were in the form of loans that will be repaid, it is still quite clear that the loans could not be made if the funds were not available.

The illustration of the Red Cross is but one of many that could be used to show the value of the United Fund at Camp Lejeune. Nine hundred and 19 families at Camp Lejeune can attest to the benefits they have received from United Fund-supported agencies since October 1. The American Red Cross at Camp Lejeune has done much to assist Marines and their families with financial aid and other difficulties.

During the fiscal year 1962, the ARC has served over 10,000 cases, 919 being handled since Oct. 1. For the year, 2,300 cases regarding emergency leave have been handled, 234 since Oct. The American Red Cross has handled 14,000 communications, including telegrams, phone calls, and letters $41,000 in financial aid and $4,962 worth of family assistance grants.

As of Oct. 31, 265 loans are outstanding, with a value of $18,331.95. The American Red Cross is more of a friend for Lejeune Marines than some are willing to believe. Through your United Fund donations, the Red Cross can be more of a friend in need because it receives its share of support.

Your dollars result in financial assistance, support of youth groups, the support of four rescue squads, emergency relief funds, aid to the less fortunate people, relief agencies and the recreational facilities of the USO.

There are 14 local agencies in the Camp Lejeune-Onslow County United Fund Drive and each receives a fair share of the donations. Through your donations, these agencies are able to provide whatever assistance is needed.

There are the Boy Scout and Girl Scout groups of Camp Lejeune-Onslow County; the Camp Lejeune-Onslow County Emergency Relief Fund; Camp Lejeune-Onslow County Retarded Children's Fund; Carolinas United; the rescue squads of

Jacksonville, Verona, Swansboro, and Holly Ridge; the Onslow County Hospital Auxiliary; the Salvation Army; the local United Services Organization (USO); the United Jewish Appeal (Non-Sectarian Refugee Relief) and the American Red Cross.

Each of these agencies is continually functioning for civilian and military personnel of this area. The rescue squads are frequently called upon to perform their life-saving mission. The USO is continually striving to improve its recreational services for the Marines of Camp Lejeune.

100% Club

The 100 Percent Honor Club now consists of 17 members, and they are: from the 2d Marine Division: Security Platoon Marines; LANDFOR MED 2-62 and LANFOR MED 3-62; 2d Anti-Tank Bn.; 1st Bn. 22d Marines; from Force Troops: 2d AmTrac Bn.; Hq. Co.; 2d ANGLICO; 4th Dental Co.; 2d Separate Surgical Co.; 8th Comm. Bn.; from Marine Corps Base: Motor Transport Schools Co., Field Medical Research Lab, and Marine Corps Supply Schools; from Marine Corps Air Facility, New River: VMO-1 and MCAS-8.

'Q' Checks Stop Dec. 31; Make Future Plans Now

Wives of senior enlisted personnel are reminded that in order to keep that grocery check coming to them, their husbands are required to register a "D" allotment to dependents before the first of the year. The Navy Finance Center will automatically stop all present "Q" allotments of senior enlisted members on Dec. 31, 1962.

The new allotment increase dropped the requirement that men in pay grade E-4 with more than four years service and those in pay grade E-5 and above register family allotments in order to qualify for Basic Allowance for Quarters.

The Navy Department closed the door on those who might want to evade supporting their families under the new allotment system saying, "The Navy will not be a haven or refuge for personnel who disregard or evade their obligations to their families."

According to BuPers Instruction 1820.1C those who fail to take care of financial obligations to their families jeopardize their naval careers, regardless of whether they are enlisted or officers.

Because the minimum amount of support a man must provide his family will no longer be regulated by "Q" allotments, and because support scales are often not clearly defined, even in court orders, the new directive sets guides which BuPers say can be used to gauge adequacy of support.

Physical Fitness Program Planned For Lady Marines

A new physical fitness program for Lady Marines is slated to begin in the near future, Headquarters Marine Corps has announced. Programs intended to keep Women Marines physically fit and trim have been in effect for a number of years. However, this is the first time they will be tested in a Corps-wide prescribed manner. A physical fitness program for male Marines was first instigated in 1908. Women Marines under forty years of age—regardless of rank or assignment will participate in one of three plans within the over-all program outlined in Marine Corps Order 6100.3C.

Activities such as swimming, walking, tennis, badminton, bowling, golf and bicycling are recommended on one-off-duty plan.

A second plan calls for voluntary participation in the newly adopted program. Composed of exercises, the program requires no equipment and very little space. Included are such body building techniques as toe-touching, lateral bending, arm circling and in-place running, all of which are to be done within a prescribed time limit.

Experiments have proven these exercises improve the physical condition of women by increasing muscle tone, strength, flexibility, and the efficiency of the heart.

The third fitness plan outlined mandatory participation in the body building course, under direct supervision. This method will be used by commanding officers when Women Marines fail

Chaplains' Corps Is 187 Years Old

The fall of 1775 was a hard and confused period for the Continental Congress assembled in Philadelphia. The American Revolution was in its infant stage and the harassed lawmakers were caught up in a maelstrom of climactic and historic events. Yet, on Oct. 13, 1775, the Continental Congress, by a margin of one vote, authorized the building of two swift sailing vessels, forerunners of today's United States Navy.

They also appointed a committee to prepare Naval Regulations and on Nov. 28, adopted the second article which read in part: "The Commanders of the ships of the thirteen United Colonies are to take care that divine service be performed twice daily on board and a sermon preached on Sundays unless bad weather or other extraordinary accidents prevent."

Although specific mention was made of a chaplain, the article implies that Congress intended that there should be ordained clergyman on board.

Aug. 30, 1954, with this reference, the Secretary of the Navy officially decreed Nov. 17, 1775, as the anniversary of the Navy Chaplaincy.

The Rev. Benjamin Balch, a Harvard graduate and Congregational minister, is the first chaplain known to have served aboard a vessel of the Continental Navy. Since then, nearly 4,000 clergymen have accompanied fighting men of the Navy and Marine Corps to battle.

It has been a courageous and trying 187 years. Although the early chaplains were underpaid, poorly informed and discriminated against, gradually a feeling of respect emerged for the dedicated men who accompanied our naval forces wherever they went in their globe-encircling duties. The chaplains were there, not only aboard ship, but on foreign shore stations and with Marine units in combat.

Since the summer of 1912 when the Marines landed in Nicaragua, Navy chaplains have accompanied them into battle and ministered to their spiritual and physical needs. Chaplains have been wounded or killed in practically every Marine Corps campaign since Chaplain J. F. Fleming went ashore with the Marine landing party from the USS Call-of Honor to Letters of Commendation. Forty-six received the Purple Heart Medal and 24 were killed in action or died as the result of wounds.

In Korea, 166 chaplains served with the Marines. They won more than 200 decorations and 20 Purple Hearts.

Capt. Francis W. Kelly, USN, currently Senior Chaplain at Camp Lejeune, earned the Legion of Merit and the nickname "Foxhole" Kelly for service with the Marines at Guadalcanal in 1942. Although wounded in action, he worked "tirelessly helping wounded and the dying... always at personal risk" according to his citation.

At Camp Lejeune the Navy chaplains continue the work of helping Marines. All major denominations and faiths are represented and all have places of worship.

Bishop William C. Martin, president of the National Council of Churches, once said, "The chaplain in the Armed Forces stands in the place of the father and friend of every man who enters the service."

A World War I Marine expressed it just a little differently but the same sentiment is just as true today:

"It certainly made us feel good to see you up there with us..."

East Carolina College Announces New 16-Week Program; Registration Dates

East Carolina College announced this week that the branch college here at Camp Lejeune will discontinue its present 16 week schedule and revert to one semester schedule. This major change in programming will be effective at the start of the spring quarter beginning January 28, 1963.

The primary reasons for changing are to allow line company people a better chance to complete courses, to give greater variety of courses, and to allow deployed personnel more opportunity of starting school when returning to their original units.

Under the new system classes will meet twice weekly for three hours a night instead of once weekly as under the present 16 week program.

Registration for the new spring quarter will begin Wednesday, January 23 and run through Saturday, January 26, 1963. Late registration will be held January 28 through February 1. A fee of $1 is charged for late registration. Registration will be held in Building 67 in the East Carolina College office.

"Here comes Santa Claus! Here Comes Santa Claus!" right into Toyland! This year, Ol' Nick will visit "Babes in Toyland" during the following hours: Dec. 1, 8, 22 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Dec. 10 through 14 from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m.; Dec. 15 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Dec. 17 through 21 from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; and Dec. 24 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Shopping hours for "Babes in Toyland" began Monday and will continue through Dec. 24: Mon.-Tues., 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Wed., 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Thurs., 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Fri., 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; and Sat., 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Youngsters' Toys Better Than Ever This Season

Eye-catching products from the dream world of toymakers are again crowding merchant's shelves and counters, making this pre-Yule season difficult as usual for budget-conscious parents.

This year our babes in toyland will be more dazzled than ever. The dolls are more realistic with chic wardrobes, real hair, their own sportscars to drive, and even "skin" that feels like the real thing. Some dolls keep several colored wigs, so necessary for the doll "who has everything." Not content with merely saying "ma-maaa," and closing its eyes, our contemporary doll talks in entire sentences and eats real food. Rumor has it that in Chicago one can buy a Playmate doll that chases a white rabbit.

The puppet show is back! from a colorful selection of hand puppets that fit glove-like over his hand. Familiar childhood characters like Barney Bear, Donald Duck, and Dracula are a few of the more popular with the tots. For the more serious child who desires to stage his own marionette show, there's a special Phantom of the Opera kit, complete with a sparkling chrysalis chandelier that swings back and forth over the tiny stage.

Tiny fans of Ben Casey and Dr. Kildare can meet any home grown emergency if they tote their own "doctor kit" encased in the traditional black bag containing 16 emergency items. Future homemakers may learn to spin flax and wool just like their great-great-great-grandmas did by using a replica of a little red spinning wheel. A Rumpelstiltskin hunchback doll is an optional item with this kit, as are two volumes of "The Geography of Witchcraft" by Montague Summers.

Creative youngsters can paint, draw, make their own jewelry, puppets or dolls in foreign costumes. Mobile-minded boys have trucks that drive, cars that zoom, planes that fly, earth movers and horse vans. Toy guns look like the real thing, with detective specials and shoulder holsters competing with the western hog-laig. There's all this, plus games of chance and skill, costumes for make-believe time, stuffed animals of every description, and much much more. Babes in Toyland, indeed!

Radio Tapes

The Camp Lejeune Informational Service Office desires personnel that will be unable to spend the holidays with their families, to make arrangements for Christmas Tape recordings to send to Fleet Home Town News Center, Great Lakes, and further distribution to local home town radio stations. Arrangements can be made by calling 7-5782.

to maintain a desired level of physical fitness from either of the first two programs.

The Women Marines are scheduled to be administered physical fitness tests prescribed in the Marine Corps Order. Those who cannot pass the initial testing will be retested monthly until they are able to meet the minimum physical fitness standards outlined by commanding officers.

Although Women Marines over the age of forty are exempt from the testing, they are expected to maintain the appropriate physical capacity level prescribed for their age group, according to MCO 6100.3C.

ASTRONAUT HONORED—Marine Lieutenant Colonel John H. Glenn, Jr., was presented a commemorative medal by Mr. Felix de Weldon, famed sculptor of such national monuments as the Marines' War Memorial. The medal honored Glenn as the first American to orbit the earth. Presentation was made at the Birthday Ball held in Washington's Statler-Hilton Hotel where over 1200 Marines and their ladies gathered to observe the Corps' 187th Anniversary.

The special medal was fashioned in gold by de Weldon and measures seven inches in diameter. Mr. de Weldon states he conceived the idea for the medal on Feb. 20, 1962 during Colonel Glenn's orbital flight. A bronze replica has also been presented to the Marine Corps by Mr. de Weldon for permanent display at the Marine Corps Museum at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

Death Takes No Holiday For 113 Lejeune Marines

Since Jan. 1, 1960, personnel offices of Camp Lejeune have processed thousands upon thousands of Marines' Service Record Books. Of all of these books, 113 were processed as "deceased." The cause — motor vehicle accidents. Twelve of these deaths were on the base.

Each day there are thousands of casualties throughout the world and the annual rate of traffic casualties in the U. S. since the 1958 total of 1,250,000 has increased yearly.

The Camp Lejeune fatality figure above, 113, is not alone all of the accidents on or near the base involving Marines, their guests or their families. In 1960, there were 944 accidents at Camp Lejeune, of which 427 involved government vehicles; in 1961, there were 917 accidents, with 399 government vehicles involved; and this year, up to July 31, there have been 549 accidents, of which 225 involved government vehicles. From Aug. 1 of this year, until Nov. 21, although not broken completely down, there have been 221 accidents at Camp Lejeune.

The total number of accidents since Jan. 1, 1960 until Nov. 21 of this year has been 2,631. Damage to government vehicles since Jan. 1, 1960 to Oct. 31, this year, is estimated at $173,845.48. Damage to privately owned vehicles during this same period is estimated at $688,413.06. The Base Safety Office estimates the annual cost damage for the three major commands of Camp Lejeune; Marine Corps Base, 2d Marine Division and Force Troops, at an average of half a million dollars each.

A person can be taught through formal schooling or just drivers' manuals how to operate a vehicle. It is up to the man himself how he drives a vehicle. The fault of most accidents here has been the lack of following the "Rules of the Road" — the lack of common courtesy. Those drivers at Lejeune who follow too close to another car or fail to use their directional signals when changing lanes do not aid in lowering the statistics here. Nor do the drivers that will not or can not be mature or responsible enough to themselves, to their passengers and for their vehicles.

An automobile is a mechanized means of transportation to be driven on roads or streets, within the safe speed limits as posted. An airplane is for flying at greater speeds and for arriving at a destination in the least possible time. The GLOBE appeals to all Marines, their guests and their families at Camp Lejeune to drive more conscientiously and to apply "Road Courtesy." Base traffic regulations are Camp Lejeune's way of helping drivers to stay alive but only the driver himself can give the final aid.

If You Ask Me:

WHAT TRAFFIC REGULATION DO YOU SEE MOST OFTEN VIOLATED ON BASE?

LCPL. H. L. SHAW, Base Photo Lab—There are two regulations I see violated very frequently on base. They are failure to give turn signals and speeding.

Congratulations

It is a great pleasure to extend congratulations to the Navy Chaplain's Corps on its 187th birthday.

The Marine Corps and the Corps of Chaplains have grown together with Navy Chaplains giving strength and comfort to Marines in battle and in peace. Always striving to serve their fellow man in the Naval Service of our country without thought of glorifying themselves or their works, Navy Chaplains have quietly earned a reputation of faith and courage that has become most eloquent spokesman for their Corps.

I am sure that I speak for all Marines and Navy men at Camp Lejeune in expressing a heartfelt thanks for your spiritual aid and best wishes on the 187th birthday of the Navy Chaplain's Corps.

J. P. Berkeley
Commanding, MCB

CPL. ALEX P. MORRISON, TID—The most frequent violation involving accidents is failing to see if intended move could be made in safety. The reason is that people just don't pay attention to what they are doing while they are behind the wheel of a vehicle.

JAMES M. JUSTICE, Dependent—The traffic regulation I most often see violated on the base is speeding. Most often the driver is under the influence of alcohol or the driver doesn't realize what he is doing and is a menace to other safe drivers at Camp Lejeune.

ZOTZ

College professor Tom Poston acquires an ancient coin which gives its owner the power to cause sudden sharp pain or death and to make people and objects move in slow motion by the simple process of pointing a finger at the intended victim and saying, "Zotz!" His preoccupation with his new found power causes concern among his fellow professors and threatens to kill his chances of being named to the post of Dean of Languages. After causing a faculty party to end in mass confusion, Tom decides to peddle his power in Washington where he feels he can aid the U. S. He gets the brush-off as a crackpot, but Communist agents are interested in his mysterious powers and kidnap him. He refuses to divulge his secret to the enemy.

Signs Of The

Running through Man's body is a network of nerves, often referred to as the "telegraph" between the brain and the many parts of the body. "Messages" sent over this "telegraph" are the controlling factors of the movement and function of parts of the human body. They control the amount of force or pressure a hand or foot uses to accomplish something.

The right foot, when a person is driving a car, is used to control the speed of the car, as it receives "messages" from "Central Control" — the brain. According to the Base Provost Marshal's office, there have been far too many drivers not editing these "messages" before they leave "Central Control." In plain words, there have been too many speeding incidents in recent months.

Speeds

Listed below are five basic regulations governing the speeds of a vehicle aboard Camp Lejeune.

- (1) In any parking area; not more than 10 mph.
- (2) In any industrial, residence or housing area, unless otherwise posted; not more than 25 mph.
- (3) On any secondary road (not paved), unless otherwise posted; 25 mph.
- (4) On all other roads, unless posted lower; 55 mph.
- (5) Except as noted above, no motor vehicle shall be operated upon any road on this Base at a speed in excess of the posted speed limit or in excess of 55 mph, whichever is lower.

Right-of-Way

"Who's on first? Who's on second? and Who's on third?" is a little more confusing than yielding the right-of-way to pedestrians or other vehicles aboard the base.

Most junctions aboard Lejeune have either a "YIELD" sign, a "STOP" sign, (which are those red octagonal signs some drivers are forgetting to obey) or else a "TRAFFIC" light. These three items make yielding the right-of-way simple, "as plain as day-light" when they are seen and obeyed properly.

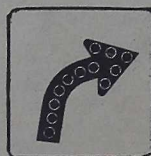

A "YIELD" sign means for a driver to slow when approaching the intersection and to yield to other cars traveling in the right-of-way. Of course a "STOP" sign designates a stop at an intersection. This is to be a full stop of the vehicle before entering the intersection. The traffic light lets the brain know which "message" to send to the feet; whether it be to the left foot to stop the car or to the right foot to add "juice" to the engine.

When a driver approaches any intersection without governing signs or lights, the following rules apply.

The vehicle on the right, if two or more approach the same intersection at the same time but from different directions, will have the right-of-way.

Pedestrians

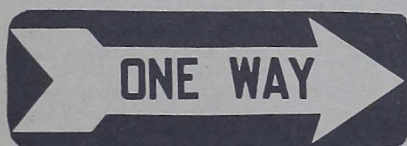

The driver of a vehicle aboard this base will yield the right-of-way to any pedestrian within the clearly marked pedestrian crossings or within the imaginary prolongation of the lateral boundary lines of the ad-adjacent sidewalk at the end of a block, except at intersections where movement of traffic is being controlled by a military policeman or traffic controlling device.

Military formations or marching troops shall have the right-of-way over all traffic except emergency vehicles operating proper warning devices.

Every driver aboard Camp Lejeune will exercise due care to avoid colliding with any pedestrian upon any road, and shall give warning by sounding the horn when necessary. The driver shall also take proper precautions by reducing speed, and if necessary, by coming to a complete stop when observing any child or any confused or incapacitated person upon a road.

School Buses

Any driver shall stop when approaching any school bus, church or Sunday school bus receiving or discharging passengers unless the bus is on the other side of a divided road.

Backing

No one has eyes in the back of his head, although some drivers attempt to back their vehicles in the belief that they do.

Below, are a few rules governing the backing of government vehicles but since government vehicles are not the only ones driven on this base, these rules can apply to all.

Basically, no vehicle shall be backed until the driver has ascertained that the vehicle can be backed safely. This can be done by following the simple steps published here for your safety and convenience.

If the vehicle must be backed from close quarters, and no one is available to assist the driver, the driver himself should frequently get out of the vehicle to check his backing progress. If there is a rider, or other assistance is available, that rider or assistant will act as a guide to back the driver from that position.

Visibility

Periscopes are mainly used in submarines — not on autos. Some drivers aboard the base seem to be pretending they are in a submarine when they clear ice or frost from only a small portion of their windshields.

A sheet of wood or metal could perform the job of a windshield, but not as well as those made for cars. The windshields on cars were made with a dual purpose of protecting the driver and passengers in a vehicle and at the same time allowing them to see what is outside. That is the mission of all the windows of a car or truck.

As printed in the GLOBE in last week's issue, the Base MPs are on the alert for motorists playing "Peek-A-Boo" with the roads and other vehicles. To use the "ounce of prevention" that is worth a "pound of cure," it is suggested that all drivers clear all their car windows of ice or frost before meshing the gears for motion.

Cage Season Nears Start For Quantico

MARINE CORPS SCHOOLS, QUANTICO, VA.,--The Quantico Marines basketball squad is wrapping up its pre-season warm-up slate in preparation for the 1962-63 opener against American University Nov. 30 in the nation's capital.

The Marines, who participate in a series of scrimmages each year with top-flight college competition, exhibited a hard-nosed defense and an effective fast break against North Carolina State and should be in top physical form for their first regular season contest.

Maj. Ira P. Norfolk, Head Coach, was at the helm of Lejeune's cage squad last season. His tentative starting lineup includes Brian Sheehan of Georgetown University and Jim Mullen of Belmont Abbey at the guards; Steve Flynn of Oregon State University and Dick Hall of Marshall University at the Forwards; and Gary Koenig of Rhode Island University at center.

Sheehan, a former Small College All-American, has been the team's leading point maker, while Koenig, formerly All-New England and All-Yankee Conference, has been shaping up as the defensive standout for the Marines.

This year's squad, which has the task of defending the East Coast Interservice and All-Marine crowns won by last year's talented quintet, is lacking in the height department but has enough all-around balance and depth to repeat as conference champions.

New Golf Courses Available In State

Two new golf courses, both in the mild sub-tropical climate of North Carolina's southeastern coast have been added to the roster of more than 150 all-year courses in the Variety Vacationland State.

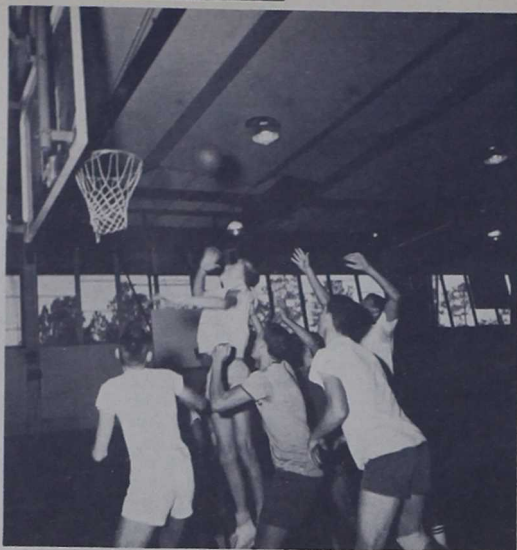

One is within a few yards of the ocean surf at Oak Island Club near Long Beach and Southport.

The other is at Boiling Springs Lake, a new residential and resort community 20 miles south of Wilmington and six miles north of Southport.

Nine holes have been completed at each course and are in play. Additional nines are to be added.

SMOOTH SAILING!—Through gusty winds and intermittent showers 1st Lt. Breck S. Lardner and his crew of Tom Sanberg pulled off some smooth sailing to win the final race and come out on top of the fall sailing series. Lt. Col. H. G. Taft, chairman of the Water Sports Committee, presents Lardner his first place trophy as Capt. L. S. Van Gaatbeek, second place winner, looks on.

Jim Barrett Tops Pups' In Football Statistics

After receiving their first defeat in three seasons to a strong Morehead City team, the Camp Lejeune High Devilpups ended their 1962 football season with a 34-14 victory over their arch rivals from Quantico High.

Running down the seasons statistics finds the Devilpups with a seasons total of 1791 yards gained compared to 653 for their opponents. Over half of the 'pups' yardage was picked up by their three backfield aces Jim Barrett, 532 yards; Rick Lowder, 314 yards; and Al Kyle, 300 yards.

The Camp Lejeune High eleven passed and ran for a total of 119 first downs throughout the season while allowing rival teams 70. Lejeune backs attempted a total of 136 passes, completing 61 for a 45% completion percentage compared to 38% for opposing backs.

Barrett's prime target was end Dan Paetow who snagged 15 Barrett aeriels for a total of 185 yards.

Pup quarterback, Jim Barrett carried the majority of aerial assignments; out of the 122 passes attempted, he completed 58 and by so doing gained 754 yards through the air.

In the total points scored Barrett again took command by collecting a season's total of 64 points, 48 of which were by touchdowns and 16 by extra points. Trailing Barrett was Al Kyle and Rick Lowder with 48 and 19 points respectively.

Camp Lejeune High scored a total of 224 points as to 92 for opposing teams and ran up a total offensive of 453 plays compared to 407.

Xmas Tourney Out Intramural Slated

Due to the deployment of troops, the Fifth Annual Camp Lejeune Christmas Tournament previously scheduled for Dec. 18-20 has been cancelled.

Seven teams had been slated to take part this year, including: Mount Saint Mary College, Emmitsburg, Md; Shippensburg College, Pa.; Elon College, N. C.; East Carolina College, Greenville, N. 'Devilpups Face A Rough Season,' Says Cage Coach

Camp Lejeune Senior-Junior High School "Devilpups" open their 1962-63 basketball season Saturday evening at 7 p. m. as they travel to Morehead City to face the "Eagles" on their home court.

Getting a late start with practice and having only three returning lettermen from last season's squad, the Pups are expecting a tough time getting their season started according to Head Coach Tom McGhee.

"We don't know very much about Morehead City this season, but they were rough last year and we can expect the same now", said Coach McGhee.

Jim Barrett, kingpin of the Pups football squad will be depended upon again on the hardwood to spark the cagers. Coach McGhee plans to build his squad around Barrett as he is the only returning letterman with much experience.

Tentative starting lineup for Lejeune will find Barrett, 6-foot, 185 pound senior and David McAlee, 6-foot 170 pound freshman at the forward slots with Robert Kelly, 6-foot 2 155 pound senior filling the center position.

Al Kyle, 5-foot nine 145 pound senior and Bill Stepp, 5-foot-9, 140 pound senior will round out the quintet at the guard spots.

Playing an independent schedule the Pups are not entered in any conference play. According to McGhee, Beaufort will be their "Big Game" the year other than their rival, Quantico's Devilpups. That game will be at Quantico this season scheduled for Feb. 9.

The Pups will play twice this season, the first test being played at home

Tiny Tot League Climaxed as Lions-Browns Win 12-0

With a ferocity which belied their size, hand-picked squads in the Tiny Tot Division of Camp Lejeune Football League closed their first official season with the All-Star game held Sunday at the Tarawa Race Field.

A composite team of the first six Rams and fourth seeded Lions fell before the aerial onslaught of the Lions (2d place) Browns (3rd place) combination, 12 to 0.

Tight defenses set the initial pace as neither team's offense could penetrate beyond their opponent's 20 yard line in the first quarter. But early in the second period both the pace and the game changed abruptly as Paul Clark of the Red Squad (Lions-Browns) took a pitchout from Mark Burns on his own 28 and sped to speedster Kevin Richards who scampered 63 yards to score several strides ahead of the closest pursuer. The point guard failed but the Lions-Browns eleven were victorious and, 6-0.

Following the kick off from Loy Casey, the Gold All-Stars (Lions-Vikings) tried to launch a counter drive but stalled as Charles Norwood, Harvey Boulton and David Recchia were right behind their scrimmage line by Ricky Molohan, Paul Beck and Dave Diamond.

Forced to punt, the Gold team ended in dismay as Kevin Richards snagged the ball on his own 40 yard marker and, taking advantage of the fine blocking of the fellow all-stars, sprinted and light-armed his way 60 yards for his second TD of the period. The Rams-Vikings hopes of scoring before the half faded as they ended Ricky Williams from the Red squad charged in to tackle Recchia for two successive losses and then recovered fumble on the center field line. Halftime arrived with the Red All-Stars 12-Gold 0.

Ignoring the cold drizzle that had begun during the halftime intermission, the Gold squad obviously fired up and determined to make their own scoring mark as they took the field in the third quarter. David Recchia, Steve Bousquet and Harvey Boulton pressed deep into Red team territory, chalking up two first downs only to lose possession at the 28 yard marker.

Chuck Daigle, Ricky Molohan, Dave Diamond and the rest of the stalwart Red line stymied the scoring intentions of the Rams-Vikings throughout the second half, cementing the win for the Lions-Browns team, 12-0.

The Midget All-Star game will be played Sunday, December 2, at the Tarawa Terrace Field at 1:15 p. m. This game closes the Boys League season, and will be the last chance to see Midget football this year. All fans are invited to attend.

Angler Gets 'Jumbo' Bass Surf Fishing

A surprise catch of a 37-pound striped bass from the surf by Fort Monroe, Va., angler, Capt. John L. Yunker, is the biggest news of the week from Hatteras waters.

He had his hook baited with a hunk of mullet and was casting in the surf for channel bass, when the big fish locally identified as a "jumbo rockfish" hit.

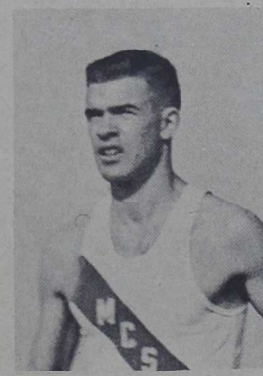

Minutes later he had the fish on the beach, one of less than a dozen of the whopper stripers ever taken with rod and reel from the Outer Banks surf.

When the fish was cleaned a large mullet was found in its stomach which led some piscatorial experts to believe that the mystery of how to lure the jumbo's had been solved. "Use whole mullet, live if possible," is their contention, and you may catch one of the big fish.

Quantic's Best

Quantic's three top cross country men display their winning form at Corsair Field. Olympian Alex Breckenridge (center) won the District of Columbia AAU Cross Country Championship in his last outing establishing a new record for the 10,000 meter course of 31:46.6.

Karate Club Plans Class For Novices

The Camp Lejeune Shorin-Ryu Karate Club under the direction of Sgt. S. D. Pearson is still attempting to re-form their club as they offer new memberships next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings beginning at 5 p. m. in Bldg. 300, Force Troops Gym.

Due to the recent crisis, the club was stripped of almost all its members and a complete rebuilding is necessary.

Applications will be taken from the first 10 prospective students appearing for instruction on either day. This will be the last chance to join the club until February when Pearson hopes to stage another beginner's class.

For further information concerning the club, contact Sgt. Pearson at 7-5387 during working hours or at 347-4938 after normal working hours.

Academy Teams Brace For Army-Navy Classic

Two battered and oft bewildering football teams representing the United States Military Academy and the United States Naval Academy will climax their 1962 seasons Dec. 1, at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium.

This 63d meeting of Cadets and midshipmen has the expert prognosticators groggy. Both teams have played in-and-out football throughout the year. Army has won 6 and lost 3. Navy is 4 and 5 in its nine contests.

Red Cross Safety Hints

According to American Red Cross figures, guns and explosives cause 2,300 accidental deaths every year. These same statistics indicate that over half of these deaths occurred in the home.

With these facts in mind, Alfred W. Cantwell, national director of American Red Cross Safety Services had devised two sets of safety rules. The first deals with the handling of weapons; the second, which he hopes will not be needed, deals with care of the wounded.

1. Treat every gun as if it were loaded.
2. Unload the gun completely before cleaning or adjusting it.
3. Don't expect the safety catch to be on just because you think it is. It may not work properly or someone may have tampered with it.
3. When guns are transported in cars, boats, or planes, they should be unloaded and should be cased, wrapped or taken apart.
5. When a gun is not in use, it should be unloaded and stored out of reach from young members of the family. Ammunition, too, should be locked up if possible.

1. Protect the wound from contamination.
2. Control bleeding.
3. Consider the possibility of internal injury.
4. Most important, summon a physician without delay, if possible without moving the victim.

Penn State, Syracuse and Pittsburgh have been common foes. Army took the measure of Penn State, 9 to 6, and of Syracuse, 9 to 2. Pittsburgh upset the Cadets 7 to 6 in Army's last outing before the Navy struggle.

Navy lost to Penn State, 41 to 6, and to Syracuse, 24 to 6, while soundly thrashing Pittsburgh, 32 to 9.

Army lost games to Oklahoma State, 12 to 7, and Michigan, 17 to 7. The Black Knights won from Wake Forrest, Virginia Tech, George Washington and Boston University.

Navy dropped games to Notre Dame, 20 to 12, Minnesota, 21 to 0 and the University of Southern California, 13 to 6. In the U. S. C. game, Navy's last before Army, the Middles almost pulled off the upset of the 1962 season. Navy scored victories over William & Mary, Cornell and Boston College in addition to the Pitt conquest.

Going into its 63d clash, Army has 30 wins to Navy's 27. Five of the conflicts have ended in stalemates. Army's biggest margin of victory was 38 to 0 in 1949. Navy's largest margin

The Army-Navy football classic may be seen over WNCT-TV, Channel 9, Greenville, N. C., and WEET-TV, Channel 6, Wilmington, N. C.

Pre-game warm-up will start at 1 p.m. with pre-game festivities at 1:15. Kick-off time is slated for 1:30.

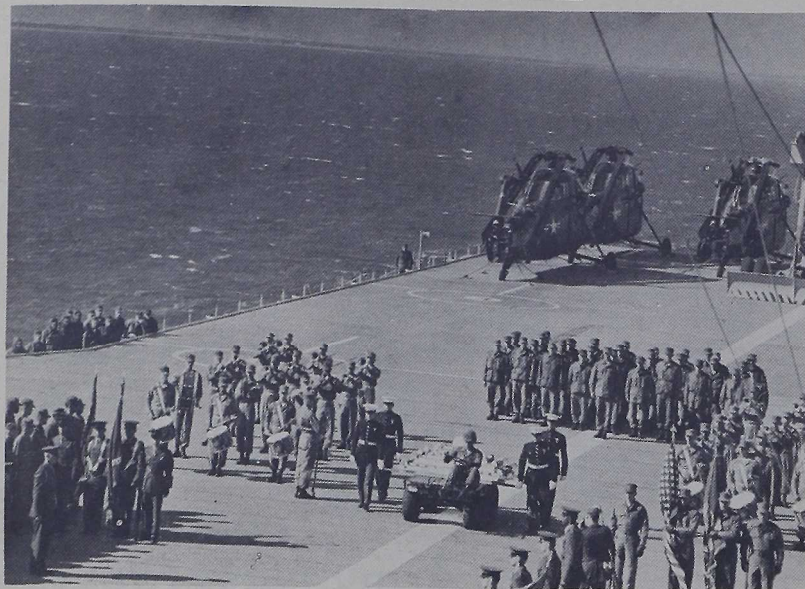

was made in 1951 when the Middles won 42 to 7.

The expected crowd of 100,000 this year are in for some new hi-jinks. Army is introducing a new coach, Paul Dietzel, who in turn will be introducing the Chinese Bandits, as he has named his defensive team. The Cadets in the stands will don coolie hats and chant ancient Chinese victory slogans each time the "Bandits" take the field.

This renewal of the Army-Navy game is best described by the late Grantland Rice who in 1925 wrote "The Army-Navy football game now steps forward as the greatest of all spectacles, the best of all shows, the most vivid and most spectacular ensemble in the world of sports."

HAVE A KNEE—Two members of the Shorin-Ryu Karate Club show a few things learned in class as they "Free Play" during the club's regular get-togethers. Before really fighting as shown here, new students receive two weeks instruction in basic punching, kicking and blocking. Then two weeks is spent teaching students "Kata," a dance like sequence, and methods of attack and self defense.

2d Division Band Adds Color to Birthday Celebration

ABOARD THE USS BOXER 10 NOVEMBER 1962 (DELAY-ED)--Assembled on the flight deck of the USS Boxer, Marines from many many phases of the Corps gathered to commemorate the 187th birthday of the founding of the U. S. Marine Corps. Infantrymen and aviation personnel alike displayed a wide variety of uniforms as they stood anxiously awaiting to observe the traditional cutting of the cake.

The Drum and Bugle Corps of the Second Marine Division sounded attention and all hands on deck snapped to. The ceremony swung in to high gear as the Drum and Bugle Corps trooped the line and took position at the head of the column. Sabres flashed in the sunlight as the escort proceeded forward. The commanding officers of the various units on board strutted proudly and received their salute.

The combined Color Guard from the ships detachment and Blt 3/8 aboard were brought forth, presented arms to the stirring measures of "The Star Spangled Banner," and "Post-Ed." A "mechanical Mule" drove an elegant 500 pound cake trimmed in scarlet red and crimson gold and bearing the Marine Corps emblem to apostition amidships, escorted by four marines in dress blues and accompanied by the strains of "The Marines Hymn."

The birthday message was read by LtCol. McNeil of Marine Detachment, USS Boxer, and Captain James E. Wallace, USN., Commanding officer of USS Boxer cut the cake, presenting the first pieces to the youngest and oldest Marines aboard. Commodore J. A. Marks, USN, Commander Amphibious Squadron Ten read a congratulatory message, stressing the mission of "Boxer" and commented on the performance of the Marine units aboard. The colors were retired, officers and distinguished guests departed, followed by the escort of enlisted personnel to the beat of "Semper Fidelis," official march of the U. S. Marines. The passing of the utility-clad drummers and buglers denoted that the ceremony had come to a close, but not without leaving an air of reminiscence to which all of us pay tribute.

Aviation Retraining Opportunities Are Available To Many Young Marines

Young Marines in E-4 and below who are interested in aviation, have an excellent chance of being picked for retraining into that field, according to figures released by Headquarters here.

So far, more than 1500 of them have been ordered to aviation schools since the stepped-up program to get more aviation technicians through retraining was first announced in March 1961.

The Corps likes to put about 350 men a month into this program. Some 250 to 275 of these are obtained from boot camp graduates. The balance, up to 100 a month, is open for assignment to men in field commands who meet the necessary requirements.

To be eligible, corporals and below must have at least 30 months of active obligated service remaining on their enlistment when they report to the aviation school. They can extend or reenlist for periods which will give them the necessary obligated time.

In addition, they must have a GCT of at least 100, plus a minimum AR and PA total score of 210 if they have not been given the new Area-Aptitude test. Men with Area-Aptitude scores must have a minimum GT of 100 plus a MA score of at least 105 to qualify.

According to records kept at Headquarters, fewer than 20 percent of those applying for the aviation training have been turned down, and most of them because they didn't have the qualifications outlined above.

A headquarters spokesman pointed out that promotion prospects in the aviation MOSs are generally higher than in some of the other fields and that more than two-thirds of the aviation specialties related to OFs 64 through 71 are on the pro-pay critical lists.

Marines selected for retraining into aviation skills are first assigned to screening course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn. Assignment to a specific aviation school is then made based on the Corps needs, the Marine's aptitude and his personal desires.

Camp High School Forms Library Club For Students

"The Camp Lejeune Library Club has been organized to increase the pupil's interest in school library work, in world events and in bettering the community," stated Nonie Turville, president of the newly formed club.

"This club is a part of the North Carolina High School Library Association," she continued. "The Library Club consists of students attending Camp Lejeune High School who have a sincere interest in the library and its books. The majority of the members are participating in the library science program offered by the school but membership is not restricted to these students only."

Purposes of the club are to: give pupils an opportunity to become more adept in the use of books and libraries, give them an opportunity to broaden their personal experiences and help increase and improve library service to the school community.

It is also hoped that the library assistant work will provide the opportunity for students to explore vocational interests.

experience the satisfactions inherent in service to fellow students and teachers, promote cooperative attitudes between the librarian and students, provide additional opportunities for developing and using special abilities and skills and provide additional opportunities for democratic participation.

Officers for the club were elected by secret ballot at the first meeting of the club held early in November. Those elected were: President, Nonie Turville; Vice-President, Phyllis Green; Secretary, Mary Lou Gauchet; Treasurer, Barbara Hodges and Parliamentarian, Ronald Dunkleberger.

Since the first meeting, the club has written and adopted their constitution and has attended the first meeting of North Carolina High School Library Assistants of the Eastern District at the John Brogden High School in Dudley, N. C.

At this meeting they learned from established clubs how a Library Club functions and what it does and became acquainted with other library assistants and their work.

Give Uncle Sam A Break On Money Treat Government Furniture With Care

Furniture at Camp Lejeune is a rather expensive proposition for the United States Government, according to Captain H. E. Van Fossen, Base Property Control Officer.

"It costs the government approximately seven million dollars a year to furnish all the offices, troop and officer billeting areas and dependents' living quarters at Camp Lejeune," says Captain Van Fossen.

About one-seventh of this cost to the government, according to the captain, involves the use of wall lockers in barracks and in other locations aboard the Base.

"When you stop to think that these lockers cost $54.00 apiece, you can see what an expense it is to the government replacing an entire barracks full of them," says Captain Van Fossen.

The remainder of the furniture bill, Captain Van Fossen points out, covers the purchase of bedding, tables, chairs, sofas, desks, fans, wall clocks and other non-combat type equipment necessary to meet Base office and billeting needs.

As property control officer, Captain Van Fossen is Officer in Charge of the Base Property Control Division of the Base Supply Department.

Operating out of seven warehouses in the Camp Lejeune area, the Property Control Division is responsible for the acquisition and disposition of all office and quarters' furniture and equipment aboard the Base.

The Division consists of three branches: Administrative, Accounting and Warehousing branches. The Administrative Branch comprises the officer-in-charge, assistant officer-in-charge, supply chief, and two secretaries.

Three sections make up the Accounting Branch: stock review, auditing, receipts control and procurement. The Warehousing Branch contains two sections: quarters and garrison property.

The stock review section maintains all the mechanized accounting record cards of the Property Control Division and issues all plant accounts. It also keeps a duplicate key file for all the buildings aboard the Base.

Nine vehicles are maintained by the Warehousing Branch. These are five, five-ton trucks, two Metro-type and two pick-up trucks used to shuttle furniture back and forth from Property Division warehouses to the more than 3700 dependents' quarters and the several BOQ's aboard the Base.

All other furniture and equipment needed by FMF or Base units at Camp Lejeune must be picked up and returned to the Property Division warehouses in unit vehicles.

Captain Van Fossen administers a command of three Marine Corps officers, 34 enlisted Marines—nine of whom are women—and 36 civilians.

Material for the Division's operations is acquired from various Marine Corps Supply activities and commercial sources through the stock account offices of Base Material Battalion.

Upon arrival at Camp Lejeune, the supplies are stored in any of the seven Property Control Division warehouses located in the Base Industrial and the Camp Geiger areas.

Control over the Division is maintained by Captain Van Fossen from Bldg. 1101, one of the three Property Division warehouses in the Camp Industrial area. Also located here are the Accounting Branch and the storage area for Paradise Point and Capehart furniture needs.

Captain Van Fossen has been attached to the Marine Corps Supply field during most of his career. A veteran of 14 years service—five as an enlisted Marine—Captain Van Fossen, since receiving his commission in 1953 has served as supply officer with various Marine Corps engineer units on both coasts and in the Pacific Ocean area.

The busiest time of the year, according to Captain Van Fossen, is during the summer months when many Marines re-

Trackless Launching Tests Are Currently Under Way

Piloted tests of a trackless launching system that can hurl Marine Corps jet aircraft into the air at speeds up to 140 knots will be conducted this month at the Navy's test facility, Lakehurst, New Jersey.

Preliminary tests on the airframe of an F6A Skyray (formerly designated the F4D) were successfully completed last month by the E. W. Bliss Company, who developed the launching system with Marine Corps and Navy support.

The slingshot catapult device eliminates the shuttle-track and permits use of narrower runways where the strip is used for launching and arrestments.

In addition to eliminating 122 tons of aluminum matting used for runways, the trackless launching system will also cut installation time of the runways to between 48 and 72 hrs.

A catapulting device and companion arresting gear is currently being used by the Marine Corps in the Small Airfield for Tactical Support program. Demonstrated first in 1942, the SAT system was shelved because of requirements. The program became operational in 1960 and has been in use by Marine Air wings.

The SATS system enables a plane to get airborne within 1,000 feet. Landing in the SATS arresting gear at speeds up to 160 knots, jets can be stopped in 700 feet. In a test the landing aircraft's tail-hook engages a wire-rope pendant stretched across the runway and attached to nylon tape wound on reels which pay out the tape as the aircraft engages it. The reels are coupled to friction boxes which absorb the energy the impact and gradually slow the plane to a stop.

In the trackless launching system, the arrestment procedure is reversed. A nylon tape is attached to the aircraft in a shot arrangement. The tape is wound rapidly on reels powered by a turbo-shaft aircraft engine, pulling the plane forward and catapulting it into the air.

NATO Allies Join Marines For Birthday

The 187 Birthday of the United States Marine Corps was observed by Battalion Landing Team 1/2 (BLT 1/2), currently serving as the 6th Fleet Landing Force in the Mediterranean, with Birthday celebrations in Taranto, Italy and Valletta, Malta.

The traditional Ball was held at the Phoenicia Hotel in Malta with Colonel J. D. Chaisson, senior Marine Officer on the staff of the Commander, Sixth Fleet, as guest of honor. Distinguished British Royal Navy and Marine Officers added an international flavor as did 115 WRENS (British equivalent of Navy WAVES) who generously volunteered to prevent the Enlisted Ball from becoming an all male function.

At Taranto, Lieutenant Colonel Paul G. Graham, Commanding Officer of Landing Force Mediterranean 3-62 (IFM 3-62), headed the receiving line to welcome a host of Italian military guests to the Officer's Ball held at the Italian Naval Officer's Club. The guest of honor, Captain Frederice Guzzi, Chief of Staff to the Commandant of the Adriatic Military Region, returned Colonel Graham's toast to President Sengit with a toast to the President of the United States.
