Corps' New Launcher Puts Honest John High In Bragg Test

The first successful firing of the "Honest John" rocket from a recently adopted by the Marine Corps, was announced Friday during an Artillery Firing Exercise at Camp Lejeune, N. C. Test firing of the training vehicle was accomplished by elements of the 2d Field Artillery Group (FAG), Force Troops, Camp Lejeune, under the command of Col. F. R. Schlesinger.

While the shot was the first of this nature for the Marine Corps since the launcher's arrival, it was not the first such firing witnessed in the United States. The launcher was formerly adapted to and used sparingly, during training exercises by units of the U. S. Airborne.

Helicopter Transportable
Acceptance of the launcher by the Marine Corps was reported largely due to the fact that it was helicopter transportable and was also light enough to be air-dropped into troubled areas.

Seconds following the explosion of the projectile in a pre-designated target area, 6,800 yards away, Maj. L. K. Wirth, commander of Heavy Artillery Rocket Battery, attached to FAG, stated, "It was a highly successful test. We were on schedule and on target."

Shot Successful

First Lt. G. E. Friend, in charge of the crew firing the rocket, expounded on Major Wirth's comment, explaining, "I believe the shot to be quite an achievement, considering we landed the missile in our area of probability during our first attempt."

Observers at the test site, after witnessing the impressive firing, felt the new launcher's transportable features would greatly enhance the mobilization capabilities of the firing group during actual combat situations.

Fund Contributions Slowly Head For Camp Lejeune Goal

The United Fund Drive in the Camp Lejeune area is still going strong and percentages are climbing as reports are phoned in. This week, the Globe salutes the Motor Transport Schools Co., MCB, for its 100 percent contribution.

Due to the deployment of various units, contributions have been slow in coming in, but they are increasing. Leading the contributions percentage wise is the 2d Marine Division with 30% and Force Troops running a close second with its 27%. In third place is MCB with 21% and MCAF with 15% in fourth place. MAG-26 has the majority of its units deployed to Memphis, Tenn., which has slowed its contributions considerably.

Dollar wise, the 2d Division is ahead with $10,873.09 totaling for the past week $7,247.13. In second position with dollars is MCB with $6,160 and a week's collection total of $5,224.50. Next comes Force Troops with a total of $3,289.87 and a week's count of $818.55. MCAF has a total of $850 and $280.25 for the week.

Within the Division, 2d Anti-Tank Bn. is ahead with 48% of their goal reached, according to Lt. Col. A. J. Voyles, Division Drive Chairman. The 2d A.T. Bn. is under the command of Lt. Col. H. L. Beckington.

Elements of the battalion arrived at Morehead City, N. C., aboard the following ships; USS Cambria, USS York County, USS Shadwell, USS Casa Grande.

The remainder of the battalion will arrive tomorrow at Morehead City, N. C., aboard the USS Oglethorpe and USS Walworth County.

A reception center for dependents of the returning Marines will be opened at Bldg. No. 106 Mess Hall, beginning at 1 p.m. today.

2/6 Home After 5 Month Med Cruise

The 2d Battalion, (Reinforced), 6th Marines returned to Camp Lejeune today after extensive training in the Mediterranean.

Field Meet And World Series Playoffs Keep Spectators Busy With All Scores

Everybody who assembled at the Montford Point athletic field last Wednesday had two things on their minds: the Supply Schools field meet and the outcome of the World Series playoffs.

Team members from the schools within the Supply Schools command were too engaged to listen to the dozens of transistor radios that blared above the din of the rines filled the spectators seats as they turned out to root for their favorite team.

Area commander, Col. Rodney M. Handley, welcomed his men and their families to the meet, then joined in for the first contest, the "egg throw."

The idea of this game is to catch a tossed egg without breaking it. It was a high-ranking group of participants who paced-off five paces from each other and tossed that first egg. This contest was restricted to commanding officers, first sergeants and sergeants major of the Supply Schools command. Each successful toss-and-catch enabled the lines of contestants to step further apart. There were humorous moments as the elusive "cackle berries" were gingerly thrown to victims to an accompanying plop! and crunch! of breaking egg shells.

The Second Division Band played intermittently during the afternoon. Above the music and the clanging of horseshoes and the shouts of the crowd, one could clearly hear the play by play issuing forth from Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

As more off-duty Marines and school children drifted toward the field, they too, sounded like walking transmitters for the World Series broadcast. Tiny radios sounded off in every direction; from pant pockets, skirts, pocketbooks and book bags.

The field meet was progressing favorably, and both crowd and contestants appeared to be enjoying themselves. But this was a case of a definite conflict of interest.

Overheard during a spirited volleyball game between Supply School and Food Service Company:

"What's the score?"

"Eight to four, favor of the Giants!"

After two hours, things slowed down a bit, and many of the spectators watched the horseshoe and volleyball tournaments from their seats. A hot sun burned down, and a steady line moved to and from the refreshment stand. Band members and some tiny spectators dozed in the heat.

A tug-of-war brought a rested crowd to their feet again as they became excited by the action. The pie eating contest that followed drew a capacity audience, and for the first time that afternoon the ball game was forgotten. There was much laughter as these young men ate their way to glory. The spectators were clearly on their side. "I want you to get in there and EAT!" yelled one captain, with a grin.

The pie-eaters were at a disadvantage, for they ate laying on their stomachs with their wrists tied behind them.

A bat-race brought surprising results. This contest required that the contestant run down-field to a baseball bat. He would then hold the bat upright, with one end on the ground and the other end held to his forehead. After circling the bat ten times, the contestant would fling the bat down and return running to his original starting position, to tag the next HAVANA, CUBA — Algerian Premier Ben Bella is expected to present his country's first Medal of Honor to Cuban Premier Castro before leaving Havana. Ben Bella, who wound up a two-day visit to Cuba yesterday, was guest of honor last night at a private banquet given by Castro and President Dorticos. The bearded Cuban told Ben Bella, that his visit to Cuba in the face of Yankee imperialist hostilities was a gesture he would never forget. Ben Bella replied in a speech praising the Castro regime for its extraordinary advances and progress in the face of maneuvers of enemy forces. Ben Bella arrived in Cuba Tuesday just 24 hours after his meeting with President Kennedy.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Before hitting the campaign trail yesterday the President met with West Germany's Gerhard Schroeder. Officials say the meeting gave the two men an opportunity to exchange views of the Berlin situation and discuss what preparations may be necessary to meet any new Soviet pressure. It is believed the meetings will be a benefit to Mr. Kennedy in preparing for talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko. It is also a stepping stone to talks with West German Chancellor Adenauer, who visits Washington, Nov. 7.

WHAT THE WORDS TEACH

They teach you to be proud and unbending in honest failure, but humble and gentle in success; not to substitute words for actions, not to seek the path of comfort, but to face the stress and spur of difficulty and challenge; to learn to stand up in the storm, but to have compassion on those who fall; to master others; to have a heart that is clean, a goal that is high; to learn to laugh, yet never forget how to weep; to reach into the future, yet never neglect the past; to be serious, yet never to take yourself too seriously; to be modest so that you will remember the simplicity of true greatness, the open mind of true wisdom, the meekness of true strength.

They give you a temperate will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions, a freshness of the deep springs of life, a temperamental predominance of courage over timidity, of an appetite for adventure over love of ease. They create in your heart the sense of wonder, the unflinching hope of what next, and the joy and inspiration of life. They teach you in this way to be an officer and a gentleman.

And what sort of soldiers are those you are to lead? Are they reliable? Are they brave? Are they capable of victory?

Their story is known to all of you. It is the story of the American man-at-arms. My estimate of him was formed on the battlefield many, many years ago, and has never changed. I regarded him then, as I regard him now, as one of the world's noblest figures; not only as one of the finest military characters, but also as one of the most stainless.

His name and fame are the birthright of every American citizen. In his youth and strength, his love and loyalty, he gave all that mortality can give. He needs no eulogy from me, or from any other man. He has written his own history and written it in red on his enemy's breast.

But when I think of his patience in adversity, of his courage under fire and of his modesty in victory, I am filled with an emotion of admiration I cannot put into words. He belongs to history as furnishing one of the greatest examples of successful patriotism. He belongs to posterity as the instructor of future generations in the principles of liberty and freedom. He belongs to the present, to us, by his virtues and by his achievements.

AMWORK and effort of Marines from 8th Engineer Bn. bridge Co. to secure two bridge-floats to the 30-ton floating bridge to ferry tanks across French Creek during the annual exercise held by Force Troops Oct. 9-11, 1962, was . . .

Two-Day Field Exercise Successful For Force Troops, Snakes And Mosquitoes

Tanks on floating bridges, silent crawling snakes, combined with perfect weather and a few thousand mosquitoes thrown in for comfort were all the ingredients needed to produce one of the most successful command post exercises ever held by Force Troops.

Duck Creek and French Creek played a major role in the three-day problem as two bridges were constructed at the creek sites.

A floating bridge was constructed at French Creek for the purpose of ferrying tanks across the creek to support the simulated infantry of the MEF. Thirty men worked round the clock to complete the thirty-ton bridge. Due to the adverse conditions, the bridge took twelve hours to construct.

Personnel from the Bridge Company Platoon worked hand in hand with the 8th Engineer Battalion to complete the floating bridge, while other men of the two units joined forces to construct a light expedient vehicle bridge over Duck Creek. The light bridge was constructed in 30 minutes by 15 men. Using pontoons and treadways, they spanned the 120 feet of water to complete the light bridge for the purpose of moving any vehicle under a quarter ton. Each pontoon weighs 103 pounds and each section of treadway weighs 85 pounds. Under combat conditions the bridge can be constructed on the shore and carried or pushed into the water, depending on the amount of personnel available.

Headquarters Company set up a Command Post for the exercise in the Trapp Bay area, and was supported by the other units in the field.

Second AmTracBn. set up operations on the Bay and crossed the river in one of the most successful water marches ever staged by AmTracs. On Tuesday night, Company "B", 2d AmTracBn. moved their command post from one point of the bay to another under fire from the aggressors.

Eighth CommBn. set up all communication nets, and kept communication lines open for the many messages sent during the course of the exercise.

Second Tank Bn. provided tanks for tactical movements against simulated enemy positions, while 8th Motors provided most of the transportation of troops and supplies in the field.

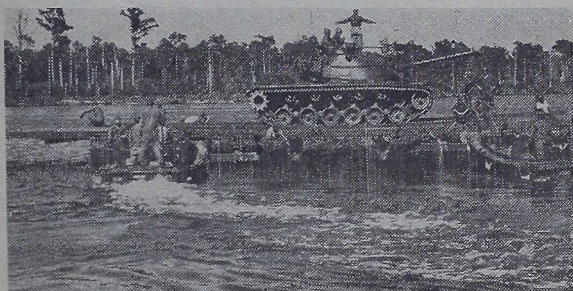

Second Force Recon Company provided the aggressors for the problem, as "aggressors" in the country of Poto."

Second Field Artillery Group provided tactical artillery support, 2d Hospital Company provided a field hospital and other medical support while 4th Dental Company was available for emergency dental treatment in the field.

Marines and Corpsmen of Hospital and Dental Company provided their own security for the three day problem.

Second ANGLICO was set up as an Air Wing Staff for tactical purposes, as this was an Expeditionary Force, which would ordinarily include an Air Wing.

On Wednesday, the Force Commander inspected 8th Engineer Bn., 2d AmTrac Bn. and 2d Tank Bn. in the field, and viewed the ferry site and the bridge constructed by 8th Engineer Bn. and 2d Bridge Company.

FOR THIS—Power and direction for movement of the ferry was supplied by close teamwork between the two 27-foot bridge boats in the foreground.

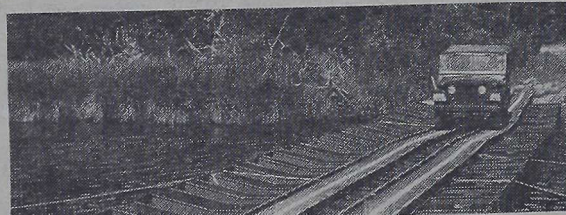

Jets Cross First Time

Marine Corps A4C Skyrares are now en route from Rota, Spain, in the trans-Atlantic deployment of its attack squadron. The single-engine jets are part of Attack Squadron-225, command of Lt. Col. Ed Harper, normally based at Point. They moved to recently in preparation for flight.

Refuelings will be removed the flight across the Atlantic in the vicinity of Azores. Marine Corps aerial tankers will handle refueling operations. The seven hours' flight set for the 2,877-mile Marine pilots will fly back to Cherry Point for a three-day layover in Rota.

Jewish Services

Sabbath Services will be held at 8:30 p.m., Oct. 19 at the Jacksonville Synagogue on Wardola Street. Yizkor Memorial Service and Simchas Torah Service will be announced at the Synagogue at the above services.

Versatile Sergeant

Prior to entering the Corps in October, 1940, Long had served a 17-month tour with the Army in 1933-1935. In 1938 he had been a first sergeant in the Civilian Conservation Corps. He has also spent time as a pro baseball player and a traveling salesman.

During World War II, he was with the 7th Marines at Guadalcanal, New Guinea and Cape Gloucester.

His first tour of duty at Lejeune was as a mess sergeant in 1944 when he returned from the Pacific.

From 1946 until 1951, he was NCOIC of police and forestry at Quantico. During the Korean War he was a recipient of the Korean Presidential Unit Citation after serving in Pusan as Guard commander with the 2d Marine Division.

Embassy duty took him to the Dominican Republic where he again served as Guard commander. For his performance of duties there, he received two letters of commendation from United States Ambassadors.

Sergeant Long is presently serving as NCOIC of the military detachment with the Camp Lejeune Fire Department.

Landing Display

An amphibious beach assault and battalion landing team display will be conducted for the dependents of Camp Lejeune Marines, October 31st at Onslow Beach.

All persons interested in attending will contact their various units. Reservations will be made on a first call-first accepted basis, due to limited observer spaces available, (approx. 380 seats). A daily report for reservations must be submitted by units. Reservations will close Oct. 29, or when quota allocations are filled.

Bus transportation will be furnished and will depart from Goettge Memorial Field House at 0900, Oct. 31. Privately owned vehicles will not be permitted in the display area.

Atlantic Amphibious Unit 'Under Attack' By Subs

SOMEWHERE IN THE ATLANTIC Oct. 18—An Atlantic Fleet amphibious striking force steaming for the Puerto Rican island of Vieques is now "under attack by aggressor submarines."

This was the word received today from ships taking part in PHIBRIGLEX-62 (Amphibious Brigade Landing Exercise 1962), an amphibious training exercise designed to maintain the combat efficiency of amphibious striking forces. U. S. Atlantic Fleet submarines are playing the role of "aggressors."

More than 40 ships and 20,000 sailors and marines are taking part in PHIBRIGLEX-62, which commenced Oct. 15 when Atlantic Fleet ships began departing from their home ports along the East Coast.

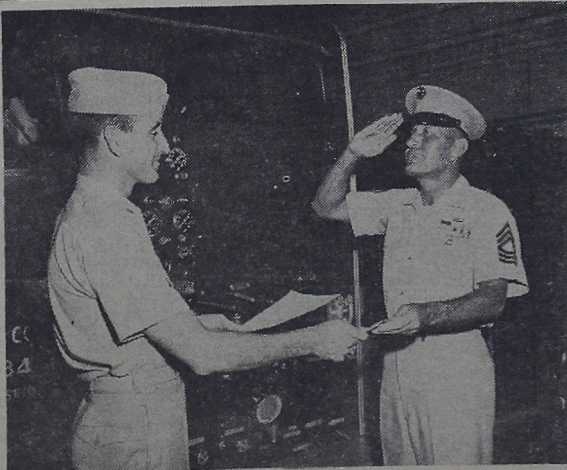

Ships and aircraft from Anti-submarine Warfare Task Group Alfa and Carrier Division Six have formed a protective screen around and above the task force to repel the "aggressor" forces.

Task Force Alfa, which is commanded by Rear Adm. James R. Lee, from his flagship Randolph, is ranging far ahead and around the main task force hunting down and attacking "aggressor" submarines. Destroyers, long-range P2V Neptune aircraft and carrier based twin-engine S2F Trackers working in conjunction with sub-hunting helicopters have provided a surface, sub-surface and air screen against the undersea raiders.

Anti-air aspects of the at-sea operations are being conducted by Rear Adm. Robert J. Stroh, Commander, Carrier Division Six, from his flagship, the super attack carrier Independence, F8U, F4H Phantoms and other supersonic aircraft from the flight deck of the huge carrier have formed an umbrella of protection above the task force. In the event that "aggressor" aircraft get through the protective screen, the destroyers are waiting with their rapid fire guns. As the Task Force gets nearer the Caribbean, elements of the Puerto Rican Air National Guard will assume the role of "aggressor" aircraft to oppose the landings and launch attacks on the naval Task Force.

Units of Task Group Alfa participating in the exercise, in addition to the Randolph and the embarked Carrier Antisubmarine Air Group 58, are the destroyers Bache, Cony, Conway, Eaton, Lowry, Murray and Waller. Anti-air warfare forces besides the Independence include the destroyers Vesole, Dyess, Newman K. Perry, O'Hara, Corry, English and Hank. Submarines participating are the Sea Leopard, Cutlass and Trout.

The exercise will conclude on Oct. 30.

THANK YOU, SON . . . ER, SIR!—MSgt. Gordon H. Long, NCOIC of the military detachment of the Camp Lejeune Fire Department, receives his E-8 Master Sergeant warrant from his son, 2d Lt. Melvin H. Long. Sergeant Long had pinned his son's bars on during his graduation from the Naval Academy. Lieutenant Long was transferred to Lejeune just prior to notice of his father's promotion and was asked to present the warrant. Just for good measure, the lieutenant threw in a new dollar bill for his father's first salute. (Photo by Pfc J. B. McKinley)

New Book On Glenn Tells Whole Story

The first full-length biography of Lt. Col. John H. Glenn, Jr., the first American to orbit the earth, was published Monday.

Entitled John H. Glenn: Astronaut, the book was written by Lt. Col. Philip N. Pierce, USMC (Ret.), a personal friend of Glenn's. The co-author, Karl Schuon, is Managing Editor of Leatherneck Magazine.

Lt. Col. Pierce, a veteran of World War II and Korea, also wrote The Compact History of the U. S. Marine Corps. In addition, he wrote numerous magazine and newspaper articles during his 20 years of Marine Corps service. He was serving at Headquarters Marine Corps prior to his retirement in July.

John H. Glenn: Astronaut covers in detail Colonel Glenn's combat experiences in two wars and his training and work as a test pilot. The latter part of the book describes the selection and training of the Astronauts for Project Mercury. A full chapter is devoted to the Marine officer's orbital flight and his word-for-word transmissions from space.

The book, published by Franklin Watts, Inc., contains a full index and glossary of space terms; and many of its pictures have never before been published. In addition to Marine Corps exchanges and commercial retail book outlets, the biography will be available to Marines through Leatherneck Magazine, and the Marine Corps Gazette bookshops.

During the early months of the Revolutionary war, Marines served on board privateers and on board warships commissioned by the

THE COUNTERFEIT TRAITOR
Filmed on the actual European locations of the story, this true drama relates the adventures of Eric Erickson, American born, naturalized Swede, who became an ace Allied espionage agent during World War II. Stars are William Holden, Lilli Palmer and Hugh Griffith.

THE CENTURIAN
Set in the year 146 A.D., in the Grecian town of Corinth, this is the story of Greeks who seek freedom from Roman domination, the ensuing defeat by the Romans and the sacking of the town. Against this backdrop is woven a story of love, jealousy and intrigue. Stars are John Drew Barrymore, Mitchell Gordon, Jacques Sernas and Genevieve Grad.

TOUCH OF MINK
Light and ultra-frivolous, this comedy of the battle of the sexes gets deluxe treatment with high powered stars, glamorous New York and Bermuda settings, mouth-watering clothes and smart, highly sophisticated lines. Millionaire Cary Grant's Rolls Royce splashes mud on jobless working girl Doris Day. The fun begins with his efforts to make amends for the clumsiness of his right rear tire. To put a further touch of icing on an already well-endowed cake, are Gig Young and Audrey Meadows.

MARCO POLO
Filmed in China, Malaya, Egypt and Italy, this is the story of the 13th century Venetian traveler and his exploits. Stars are Rory Calhoun, Yoko Tani, Alain Delon and Dorothy Dandridge.

THE TRUE STORY OF JESSE JAMES
Jesse James, portrayed here by Robert Wagner, covers more horseback mileage, and maybe more historical area, also, for the junior generation that was too young to witness the desperado's last previous appearance and for whom, presumably, the present picture was produced. This time Jesse's brother, Frank, is enacted by Jeffrey Hunter. Mrs. Jesse by Hope Lange, the James boys' mother by Agnes Moorehead and Cole Younger by Alan Hale and they all do right by their assignments.

MY GEISHA
Shirley MacLaine, who has demonstrated before her fine talent and her veratility, proves her reputation well founded here, especially in the impersonation of a geisha, wherein a practical joke at most turns sour. In fine support are Yves Montand, the clever French actor who draws the feminine element of the patronage; Edward G. Robinson, a most effective "pro" as always; Bob Cummings, toothy and handsome; and Yoko Tani, Japanese-French actress of beauty and skill. The beautiful Puccini music from "Madame Butterfly" is heard as the Montand film is shown to a Tokyo preview audience.

BIG RED
Walt Disney presents a charming boy-dog-nature film, set in a Canadian summer. An orphaned lad (Giles Pym) is hired as a kennel boy by austere sportman Walter Pidgeon to work on his estate. His special charge is Big Red, a fine setter being groomed to win at an important dog show. The picture provides a nice touch of sentiment, quite a bit of humor and some healthy excitement without horror, making it an excellent picture for the whole family.

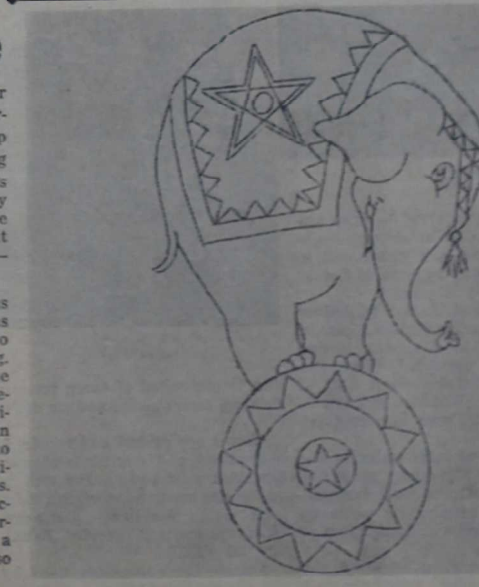

JACKSONVILLE — The movie to be shown Friday and Saturday night at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 1 and 6 p.m. will be "Commander's." The Youngsters' Square Dance Group meets at the USO from 6 to 7 p.m. every Friday and from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays. Free coffee and doughnuts are served on Sunday starting at 10 a.m. Rides are available from the USO to Jacksonville churches and the Synagogue. Facilities at the club include five large pool tables, two hi-fi sets, shuffle boards, ping-pong tables, a snack bar and a nine-hole indoor miniature golf course.

Free Circus Ticket Color Contest Prize

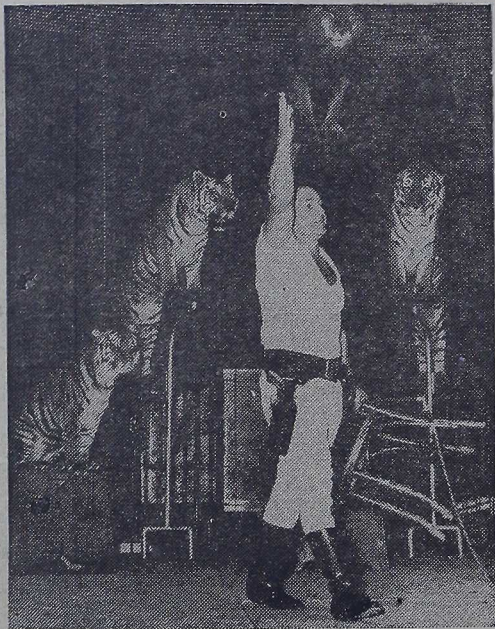

Parents will probably remember "the good ole days" when they carried water, fed and cleaned up after the elephants while the "Big Top" was being set up. Today's generation is offered a slightly different opportunity to earn a free ticket to the circus. Although it still has to do with elephants — all they have to do is color one.

Yes, the Polack Brothers Circus is giving away a free ticket plus an additional gift to the best two colorers of each class participating. All youngsters in grades one through four attending Camp Lejeune Elementary Schools are eligible. The contest will be run through the school from Oct. 22 to Oct. 24. Teachers from the individual classes will be the judges.

Need An Air Drop? ... Call Air Delivery

An air drop is available for the asking... if you are a tactical commander of troops in the field and want to add realism to your training activities.

GOING

All that is required to drop ammunition, food or other supplies to your command is a phone call to the Air Delivery Platoon of the 2d Force Service Regiment.

Equipped and staffed to deliver everything from a 50-pound case of "C" Rations to a six-ton Marine Corps truck, the Air Delivery Platoon is a combat support unit of the 2d Marine Division, and attached to Second Force Service Regiment.

One of three such units in the Marine Corps (the others are in California and Japan) the Lejeune-based aerial supply unit performs practice air drops at a minimum of twice a week.

During the remainder of the week, the aerial quartermasters prepare for the drops. This includes packing chutes, cleaning and servicing equipment used in the drops and making up various sized loads to be delivered. The platoon toon is comprised of three groups: packing, maintenance and air delivery.

Chutes are packed and repaired, if required, at the unit's headquarters. Administratively, the unit is under the supervision of the Shipping and Receiving Company, Headquarters and Service Battalion, 2d FSR.

Among the equipment used by the platoon maintenance crew are three specially constructed sewing machines: a light duty, a "zig-zag" and a heavy duty sewing machine.

The light duty machine, according to Lt. Robert McKenna, Air Delivery Platoon commander, is designed to stitch the nylon parts of the parachutes; the "zig-zag" machine, the parachute suspension lines and other similar materials, and the heavy duty machine, much coarser material.

"It can actually sew through silver," said McKenna, "but for our purposes it is enough that it can sew patterns in 3/4-inch plywood."

"To insure prompt and accurate delivery, each man in the platoon," explains the lieutenant, "must be a qualified Marine Corps parachutist as well as an efficient parachute rigger and maintenance man."

"Most of the men are graduates of the Army Jump School at Fort Benning, Ga. The others are taught by graduates of that school."

"But every member of the platoon must complete the 13-week Parachute and Maintenance course at Fort Lee, Va., following his jump training."

The platoon's essential equipment consists of two cargo carriers, one capable of bearing loads up to 500 pounds and the other for those up to 2200 pounds. To each carrier is attached a special parachute ranging in diameter from 24 to 100 feet.

The cargoes are shoved from the rear of a "Flying Boxcar" at an altitude of 700-1,000 feet, after being picked up from transporting vehicles at the Air Facility.

Safety of the men is of prime importance.

Parachutes must be checked before the flight. The men are required to fasten their stretcher-like seats along the sides of the aircraft during landings, utilizing devices to automobile safety.

Time for the drop is tentative practice turn.

As the drop zone approaches, the men first load. A second belt away goes the cargo, earth with the aid of chute. Additional runs if required, and the platoon.

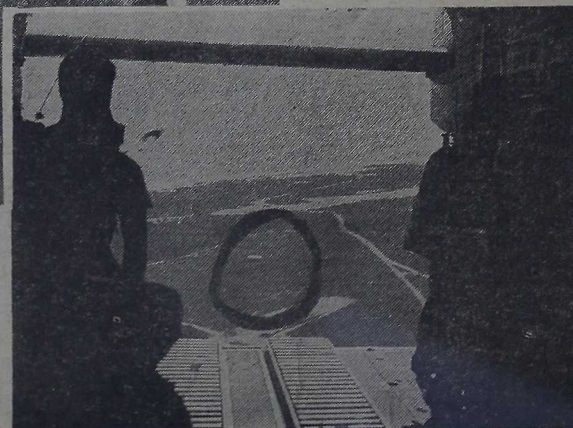

Another piece of available, although it has been permanently accepted by the Marine Corps, is a high go container — resembling a can — that can be dropped from aircraft. A specially nose-cone containing a paper helps cushion the missile striking.

The importance of the remains in the fact that it is used in the event of an aerial opposition, where carriers currently in use only when friendly air is in existence.

Not fully satisfied with live air drop assignments, McKenna and his platoon make their training thing.

"All the practice in says McKenna speaking men, "doesn't mean a the majority of it is combat-like conditions."

"We've got all the equipment and knowledge," McKenna, "to commission for which our unit was designed. We of opportunity to utilize fantry field problems one interested?"

Lejeune Sets Rushing Mark Swat Devens 'Hornets', 35-0

The Camp Lejeune Marines concentrated on their ground attack last Saturday set an all-time ground gaining record of 430 yards as they posted a 35-0 rout over Ft. Devens, Mass., "Hornets" before 5,500 spectators at Liversedge Field. With the Lejeune maintained partial possession of first place in the East Coast Interservice conference, along with Quantico and Eustis. Both Marine teams boast a 2-0 slate while Eustis remains unbeaten in conference play, has one victory.

The victory gave Lejeune a 2-2 record for the season. In their two conference tilts, they remain unbeaten, untied and unscored upon. Starting the scoring early in the first quarter, the Marines tallied their first of five touchdowns, moving the ball 90 yards after the opening kickoff on 13 plays. Eddie Hatchett, Lejeune left halfback, who totaled 72 yards in 12 carries for the day, went over from four yards out for the first score. Chuck Rix made his first of five straight conversions and with 10:20 left in the first quarter, Lejeune led, 7-0.

After the Hornets were halted and forced to punt, Lejeune started their second scoring march of the day, paced by the passing of starting quarterback Tony Harris. The Marines started their drive from their own 15-yard line and ran into trouble at midfield. Harris got them out of the jam and into scoring position by lofting a perfect pass to end Ken Williams who made it to the Devens six-yard line before getting dropped. The pass play covered 50 yards from scrimmage.

On the next play, Art Redden busted over left tackle for the score. Rix's kick was good, pushing the totals to 14-0 with 5:50 still remaining in the quarter.

Remaining on the ground, the Marines posted their third tally halfway through the third quarter. Starting from their own 30, the Marines marched downfield, covering the 70 yards in with former University Carolina halfback Daning the final three yards. Rix pushed the 21-0 with another con-

High Flying 'Pups Face Havelock Hi

Camp Lejeune's high flying Devilpup gridiron squad returns home tomorrow evening putting a six game winning streak on the line as they face neighboring Havelock High at the Base Intramural Field beginning at 8 p.m.

"Havelock will be the best team we have played all season," coach Tom McGhee stated. "I'm not worried about my boys," the head mentor continued, "but from here on out, it is going to be tough."

In racking up their 20th consecutive regular season victory last week, the 'Pups got the surprise of their life at the Pamlico Central Hurricanes took their footballs and went home leaving the stunned Lejeune eleven alone on the playing field with a 44-6 lead and 10 minutes remaining to be played.

Before Pamlico's unexpected exit, Lejeune had scored seven times with co-captain Randy Fridley accounting for a pair on 40 and 62 yard runs.

Quarterback Jim Barrett scored the first tally of the day on a keeper play from 18 yards out. The initial score climaxed a 42 yard drive.

Other touchdowns were accounted for by right end Chuck McKelver who tallied on pass plays from 32 and 14 yards out; John Winn on a pass interception and sophomore Bobby Lytle on a three yard plunge.

HqBn. Nears Sweep In Division 'Murals

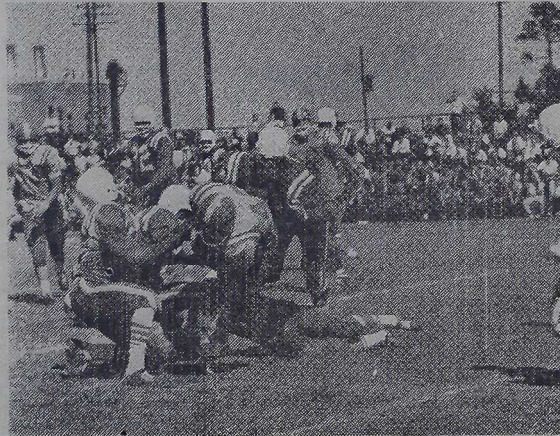

Continuing their winning ways, Headquarters Battalion steamed past 2d Battalion, 8th Marines, last week 33-27, for their third straight win without a loss.

With this victory Hq. Bn. climbed into a tie for first place with idle 1st Bn., 22d Marines in the 2d Division's six-man tackle football standings.

Leading the winners to victory with two touchdowns and a two-point PAT was quarterback Frank Toldo. Halfback Jim Plautz, center Bob Vann, and end Bernard Forbes caught Toldo aeriels for four TDs, which proved enough for the win.

Outstanding on defense were linebacker Bill Dube, defensive ends, Isaac Turpin and Butch Cabral, in addition to James Brandon, their backfield policeman.

In other 2d Division action, 2d Battalion, 8th Marines ran over 2d Battalion, 10th Marines, 53-6; 4th Battalion, 10th Marines edged 3d Battalion, 6th Marines, 18-12, and 1st Battalion, 10th Marines bombed 2d Battalion, 10th Marines, 44-0.

Leathernecks Split Top Slot In Conference

The Camp Lejeune Marines, unbeaten, untied and unscored upon in East Coast Interservice Conference play, remain in a first place tie in the loop with Quantico as the season enters its fifth full week of action.

While Lejeune whipped Ft. Devens, 35-0 Saturday to remain in contention, the Quantico Marines ran roughshod over Fort Dix, 49-7, to keep their hopes alive. Both Marine teams advanced a half game on last year's winner, Fort Eustis, who lost to Fort Campbell, 13-3 in a non-conference tilt. Eustis remains 1-0, while both Lejeune and Quantico have two wins apiece without a setback.

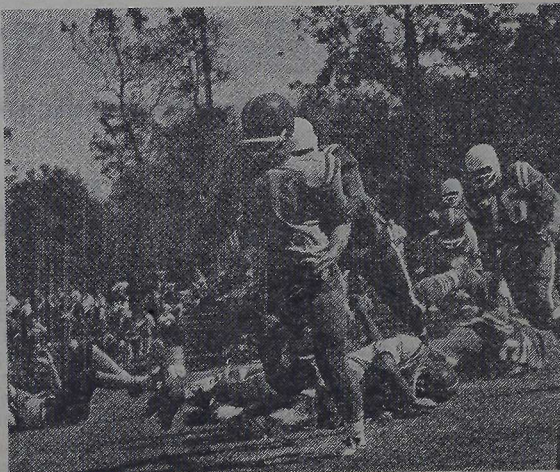

In other action last Sunday involving a conference member, the Fort Benning Doughboys continued their domination over teams in the East Coast as they downed Fort Lee, 33-0.

Two conference contests head the list on this week's program. Leading off the schedule, Fort Eustis will be out to regain a part of first place as they face the Fort Belvoir Engineers tomorrow evening, while Fort Dix will play host to the Fort Lee Travellers.

Non-conference action will see Lejeune playing host to Fort Campbell on Saturday morning; Quantico travels to Georgia to face the power-tested Benning Doughboys on Saturday; and Fort Devens will take on the Quonset Point Naval Air Station also on Saturday.

BREAKING AWAY—Marine fullback Frank Long (30) takes full advantage of a well placed block executed by Jim Beck (40), lying on ground, as he breaks away from one tackle and romps down the field for 13 yards and a first down during some of the action in the first period. Consistently staying on the ground throughout the day, the gridiron Leathernecks ate up 430 yards in rushing during the marathon while they held their opponents to minus 19 yards for the day. This was the second straight game in which Lejeune's defensive wall held their foes to less than nothing.

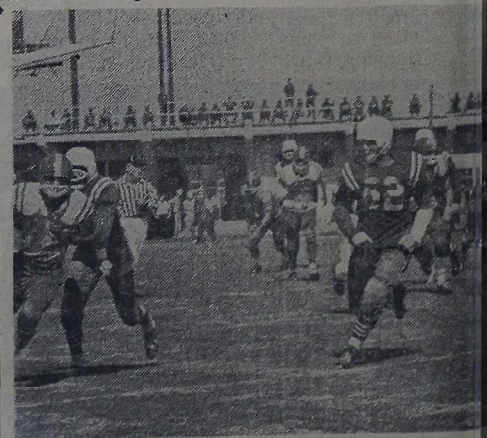

Rod And Gun Club Will Meet Tonight

Maj. R. L. Shuford, president of the Camp Lejeune Rod and Gun Club, has called a special meeting of the club for tonight at 7:30 in the clubhouse, located on French Creek.

The purpose of the meeting is to review final plans and make arrangements for the forthcoming deer hunting season aboard the Base.

In addition to the regular meeting, time will be devoted to an informal shotgun seminar with emphasis being placed on safety in organized hunting parties aboard the Base. The seminar will be conducted by Maj. L. E. Ziegler and 1st Sgt. Paul Blody.

Interested personnel are invited to attend this meeting.

enough points in the first two quarters to salt the game away. Jimmie Plautz and Charlie Bryan contributed touchdowns for the winners, while Bryan and big Ed Craig ran for extra points. Quarterback Bill Leftwich was outstanding in a versatile passing and running performance.

For the 10th Marines' losing artillerymen, Art King, John Reimer and southpaw quarterback Harold Sullivan were strong on offense, while J. J. Jones shone on defense. He crashed through the Headquarters Battalion line time and again, and proved to be Leftwich's greatest harasser.

Following the game, General Wieseman presented the winners with their coveted trophy, and presented 3/10 a runner-up award. The Division commander commended both teams for their fine sportsmanship, keen sense of competition, and cited the excellence of the game as a whole.

With the victory, the Lions maintained their partial hold of first place which they have shared with the Rams since the season's opener five weeks ago.

The Rams held onto their portion of first place by handing the Vikings their fourth consecutive loss of the season, 14-0. The Vikings are winless this season.

Midget League action resumed Sunday with the last place Eagles pulling the upset of the day, handing the Bears their second setback of the season, 18-0, bouncing them out of first place. Paced by half-back Bruce Williams and fullback Butch Trapp, the Eagles scored three times with Williams and Trapp scoring on running plays and Williams passing to Trapp for the remaining tally.

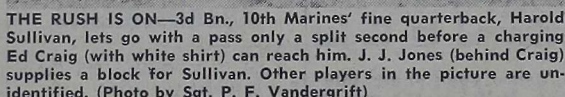

In the final game of the day, the Colts shutout the first place Redskins 13-0, in the hardest fought game of the day.

Scoring on a 45 yard jaunt by fullback Jack Ferris early in the first quarter, and on a 75 yard pass from quarterback Jeff pass-play from quarterback Jeff Clark to end Steve Walton late in the fourth, the Colts moved to within a half game of the league leading 'Skins.

Next week's action will begin with the Tiny-Tots on Saturday when the Lions will face the Vikings and the Browns will meet the Rams. Kickoff time will be 1 p.m., at the Boys League Field, located at the entrance of Tarawa Terrace No. 1.

The Midget League takes over on Sunday at the same location when the Eagles face the Redskins and the Colts take on the Bears. Starting time is 1:15 p.m.

Headquarters Company's 'Devil Clerks,' behind a spectacular passing attack of quarterback Ralph Brown, edged out 2d Tank Bn., 25-12, to capture top honors in the Force Troops Intramural Football Championship last Wednesday afternoon.

Unbeaten in 12 outings on the season, the 'Devil Clerks' finished two games ahead of the Tankers, who ended up 10-2 on the year.

In gaining their right to meet the unbeaten Devil Clerks, the Tankers posted successive wins over 2d ANGLICO, 26-12, and 8th Comm. 36-6, last week.

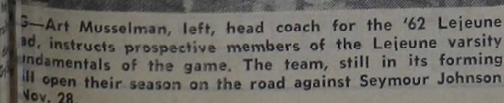

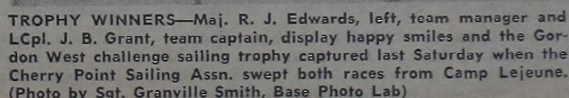

Against 2d ANGLICO, the Tankers, who went into last week's action with a 7-1 record, were held to their second lowest point production of the season although they posted the one sided victory.

Last Friday, the 2d Tank Bn. crew scored every way possible as they posted another lopsided victory 38-6, over 8th Comm Bn. Paced by the fine running of Jack "Rabbit" Inman who returned a second half kickoff through the stunned Communicator team for six points to assure the victory.

Inman duplicated his third quarter feat after the Communicators had scored a touchdown, only to have the penalty nullify the play. Quarterback John Marsh passed to end Bob Blaise for three touchdowns and made it four in a row when he hit Gene Berbaum for the final score of the game.

In other action last week, small but rough 8th Comm Bn. was edged out by 2d AmTracs, 16-15. Playing in the warm sun, the AmTracs seven was sparked by signal caller Clyde Hurley, who threw two scoring passes to end Jack Lee. Quarterback Hurley used the same pass play to score the points after touchdown.

Headquarters Company, unbeaten all season, closed out their regular schedule the easy way, with a forfeit victory over the tough luck AmTracs.

The miles are direct routes from point to point and do not include circuitous routes nor operations at sea.

Leadership Qualities Reviewed In Order

In Marine Corps Order 1610.4 the Commandant re-emphasized the principles of leadership by stating, "personal example is the most effective tool."

Stressing the moral and ethical side of leadership he said, "It is the area of moral courage, truth and honor that the fibers of character are strengthened sufficiently to sustain men under the great stresses and responsibilities facing us today."

He further commented that "Everyone must continuously teach that dedicated duty has its own reward and it is the spirit of selflessness that has carried the Corps to its present heights."

In summarizing the Commandant expressed confidence that all Marines are equal to the task.

Expectant Fathers 'At Ease' In Waiting Room At Hospital

Whereas expectant fathers have a lot in common; and whereas expectant fathers are usually somewhat of a bore to everyone excepting other expectant fathers; and whereas "misery loves company"; Now, therefore, be it Resolved, That an expectant fathers' waiting room has been established on the main floor of Camp Lejeune's Obstetrical Unit, formerly known as the Family Hospital.

Earmarked by overflowing ash trays and several diversions such as a T.V. set and a variety of magazines, the air conditioned room also contains a comfortable sofa for those rugged Marines who unfortunately were not thoroughly indoctrinated as how to prepare themselves for those inevitable words of "You are the lucky father of ..."

"The room was one of the first suggestions on improvement made by Capt. F. T. Norris when he assumed the duties as commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Hospital," explained Lt. Cmdr. Evelyn DeMarco, obstetrical supervisor of the Obstetrical Unit.

"It was designed to provide more comfortable waiting facilities for the fathers with a certain degree of privacy," continued Miss DeMarco. "We keep a bottle of spirits of ammonia at the desk for 'the weaker sex'," she added with a quick grin.

Averaging 200 deliveries a month, the "baby factory" has need of several "union" rules. Expectant mothers are asked to call Hospital No. 440, ext. 44379 for appointments. Once a month for the first seven months they will attend the Pre-Natal Clinic located in Department One of the Out Patient Ward. Here they will be examined having their blood pressure checked, weight watched closely and progress evaluated.

During their eighth month they will make two visits to the clinic and once a week thereafter until delivery. If mothers cannot keep their appointments they are asked to cancel them to save the hospital and the dependents' time and convenience.

"Good pre-natal care has been a deciding factor in reducing pre-natal mortality for both mothers and babies," said Lt. Cmdr. DeMarco.

Pre-natal classes are conducted by the Navy Relief weekly at the hospital. Pre-natal patients are urged to attend and fathers are invited.

UP ... AND WAIT—Utilizing a few of the relaxing comforts provided in the expectant fathers' waiting room at the Obstetrical Unit of the U. S. Naval Hospital are Pfc L. M. Overcash, and SSgt. A. C. Harrell. Included in the room are a TV set and a variety of reading material. (Photo by Pfc E. J. O'Neill)

A Must Game . . .

Local Varsity Faces Tough Test Saturday

Riding the crest of a two game winning streak where they have held their opponents scoreless at home, minus in yards rushing, and have posted 502 yards rushing themselves, Captain Phil Monahan's high scoring Marine eleven take on one of their toughest opponents, Fort Campbell's Screaming Eagles Saturday morning at Liversedge Field.

"They're loaded with talent, and we won't be able to make any mistakes," stated Monahan. "We are riding a two game winning streak," the coach continued, "and we'd like to go to Fort Eustis with this third victory."

Lejeune will go into the contest with an even 2-2 slate, while the visiting Army Airborne eleven boasts a season record of 3-1.

To post their third consecutive victory, the Marines will have to stop big Ernie Wheelwright, a former All-Army selection who is currently leading the Campbell scoring parade. He tallied twice last week against the strong Quantico line.

Another threat, perhaps the biggest to the Lejeune line will be Campbell's passing game. They are paced by Tom Blanda, former West Point signal caller and Jackie Jones. A veritable unknown, Jones has been leading the team at the quarterback slot while Blanda has been fulfilling the duties as place kicker.

With Wheelwright as leading scorer, and "Bolton" Bill Bolton, the leading ground gainer, the Screaming Eagles show a good example of why they were unscathed upon prior to the Quantico clash. Bolton, a halfback, totaled 103 yards by himself three weeks ago against Gordon Military Academy.

After an outstanding half-hour performance, the Marine musicians handed the spotlight over to the

Two Lejeune Men Picked For MARCAD Opportunity

The Marine Corps offers many avenues of opportunity for advancement. One of these is the Marine Aviation Cadet program, established by the Commandant of the Marine Corps for enlisted personnel on active duty. The MARCAD program provides the finest aviation training in the world, and an opportunity to serve as a commissioned officer in the Marine Corps.

Pfc Richard T. Tiani and Pfc Hugh A. Wilson of the First School Company, Courthouse Bay, were recently selected by Headquarters Marine Corps to report to Marine Air Detachment, Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., for approximately 18 months' flight training.

At Pensacola they will learn the fundamentals of navigation, mathematics and other scientific courses.

Basic flight training involves actual flight instruction. Advanced flight training covers flight tactics and instruction in either jets or helicopters.

Pfc Wilson stated that he would prefer to pilot jets. He elaborated, "Ever since I was a young boy I wanted to be a Marine pilot. I'm glad that I've been afforded the opportunity." Pfc Tiani has expressed the desire to pilot jets also. Both men hope to be assigned to fly jets with the Fleet Marine Force . . . either attack or fighter.

Pfc Tiani is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Tiani of Cutler Road, Greenwich, Conn. He joined the Marine Corps on March 5, 1962. Prior to that time, he had attended Fordham University in New York City for a period of two years.

Pfc Wilson is a college man also, having attended Florida State University for the past three years. He joined the Corps March 7, 1962. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Wilson, 304 S. Davidson Street, Lake City, Fla.

Upon graduation from the program, the men will be commissioned second lieutenants, and receive the gold wings of a Marine pilot.

Marine pilots receive a variety of assignments, including jet pilots, helicopter pilots, reconnaissance pilots, avionics officers, and forward controllers.

Marine Air units are aboard Navy carriers with the S. Fleet and with the three Aircraft Wings.
