WAVES Celebrate 10 Years Service
Party at the Hadnot Point NCO Annex Saturday highlighted the 20th anniversary of the WAVES for 6 women stationed at Camp Lejeune.

Women in the Navy got started during WWI with more than 11,000 Yeomanettes over many desk jobs formerly held by men who were needed for sea duty. The program lasted only two years and by 1919 all Yeomanettes had been released from the service.

The all-male Navy again called for the fair sex early in the war to fill vacant shore billets and allow officers and men to man the growing fleet of ships.

House Naval Affairs Committee recommended that the Women's Reserve be organized as part of the Naval Reserve in April 1942.

The Navy expressed a desire for an attractive and professional combination of letch which would form a word representing the full title of Women's Reserve, thus WAVES got their name, meaning "Women Accepted for Volunteer Emergency Service."

WE'LL TAKE 'EM, GENERAL—Says Marine Reserve Pfc Eugene G. Cramer as Brig. Gen. Ronald R. Van Stockum, Director of Marine Corps Reserves, stops to chat with him during a lull in the action of Operation TRIDENT. Cramer is from LaPeer, Mich., and is a rifleman in "D" Co., 1st Bn., 24th Marines, from Flint, Mich. The unit has been engaged in combat with aggressor reserve units fighting the four-day war that ends this afternoon. Cramer is the ward of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Matthews, 1035 Jefferson Street, LaPeer.

Air Reservists

Brooklyn Marines Start Annual Summer Training

Everyone at one time or another goes on vacation. This is no exception for the Marine Reserve Squadron, HMM-768, stationed at NAS Floyd Bennett Field. Every year around this time, the reservists from New York as well as other parts of the East Coast come to the Air Facility for their two weeks of summer training.

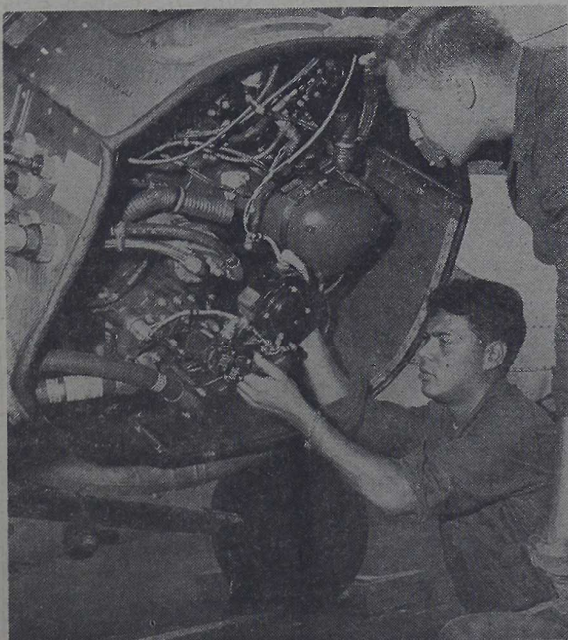

The first of these units to start training this year is HMM-768, commanded by LtCol. Donald G. Clarke.

Arriving over the weekend for summer training was HMM-774 of Brooklyn, N. Y. HMM-767 of New Orleans, La., is scheduled to arrive on Aug. 4 and HMM-765 of Jacksonville, Fla. arriving Aug. 18.

HMM-768 was formed in April 1958 and commissioned in June 1958 at NAS Floyd Bennett Field and was commanded by LtCol. Frank Schrott until Col. Clarke assumed command in October 1960. The squadron's executive officer is LtCol. Oran W. Noble, a consulting and planning engineer in Paterson, N. J. At present there are 63 enlisted men and nine officers in the newly formed squadron.

After their two-week training is completed the men of the squadron will return to their civilian jobs. The jobs vary from high school teachers to personnel managers to attorneys. The second weekend of every month is set aside for Reserve meetings. Here the squadron operates for the entire weekend at their home base at Floyd Bennett Field. For the last eight months, there has been 100 percent attendance of enlisted men and officers at the meetings.

The squadron has four aircraft at their home field, the HSS helicopters, similar to MAG-26's HUS helicopters and 1 SNB, small transport plane. This is the squadron's second training year at New River.

ANOTHER PHASE of the summer training program takes place out on the line. LCpls. Lewis M. Ackereisen and Martin J. Bowe are only two of the men of HMM-768 that keep the planes flying. Whether it be here at New River or home at NAS Floyd Bennett Field, N. Y., they know the pilots depend on their know-how. (Photo by LCpl. J. M. Fabiano.)

Massive Exercise Ends On Mythical Peninsula

The four-day Marine Reserve full scale "war" exercise which began at Camp Lejeune Monday morning came to an end today with the surrender of the aggressor forces on the mythical DAGA Peninsula. Dubbed Operation TRIDENT, the air-ground exercise involved the largest complement of Organized Marine Corps Reservists ever to stage such a training exercise on the East Coast. Citizen Marines from 19 separate Reserve units from 18 eastern U. S. cities teamed up to wage the full scale "war" exercise.

Director Of Reserve Departs Tomorrow

Brig. Gen. Ronald R. Van Stockum, Director, Marine Corps Reserve and his staff arrived at Camp Lejeune last Friday to tour training facilities and observe the more than 3,000 Reservists engaged in Operation "TRIDENT".

During the general's stay, he has toured training facilities of Camp Geiger, Infantry Training Regiment, 2d Amphibian Tractor Bn., Force Troops, Marines Corps Engineer Schools and the Rifle Range.

The general has observed Reservists in action during Operation TRIDENT, and visited Battalion Landing Teams 1/24 and 3/25. BLT 1/24 is comprised of reserve units who formed the nucleus for the newly-formed 1st Bn., 24th Marines and 3/25 consists of units redesignated July 1 to form the 3d Bn., 25th Marines. Both units are part of the newly formed 4th Marine Reserve Division.

Prior to his departure tomorrow, the general will attend a conference with the advance detail of the next increment of reserve units reporting to Camp Lejeune for training and observe a critique climaxing Operation TRIDENT.

Operation TRIDENT brought this year's summer Reserve training program to the midway point, leaving some 3500 Marine Reservists from 21 cities of the eastern area of the United States still remaining to be trained in their new designation as units of the recreated 4th Marine Division, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

Under the overall supervision of Col. Sam W. Smith, CO of the Reserve Liaison Unit at Montford Point, more Marine Corps Reservists train here during the annual summer training program than at any other Marine Corps installation in the United States.

On hand tomorrow to greet advance parties of 10 Marine Reserve units of the fifth increment of reservists upon their arrival at Camp Lejeune will be Marine Corps Reserve Director Brig. Gen. R. Van Stockum.

The new arrivals will include "H&S" Co., and "A" Co., 1st Bn., 25th Marines, Boston, Mass.; "C" Co., 1st Bn., 25th Marines, Springfield, Mass.; 9th Rifle Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.; "D" Co., 1st Bn., 25th Marines, Manchester, N. H.; "B" Co., 1st Bn., 25th Marines, Hartford Conn.; 97th Rifle Co., Newport News, Va.; "M" Btry., 3d Bn., 14th Marines, Reading, Pa.; 6th MT Maintenance, Augusta, Ga.; 1st Radio Relay Co., Indianapolis, Ind.; and "H&S" and "A" Co., 4th Am-Trac Bn., Tampa, Fla.

Marine Detachment Sent To Camp Perry

About 200 Marines of the 2d Division left last week for the 1962 National Rifle Matches to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio — but the chances are they won't be seen.

Under the command of Major J. J. H. Cahill, the Marines will form the rifle range detachment to operate the butts, and prepare the lines.

The unit will be virtually self supporting, according to plans. The Marines will have their own cooks, messmen, administrative personnel, military police — even their own club manager.

Aside from running the butts, the Marine detail will provide 100 scorers, a 10 man ammo detail, 12 telephone operators, and 12 line officers.

Among the responsibilities of the unit will be the operation of a 100-target pistol range, and a 91-target rifle range. The Marines will also support the smallbore rifle matches, junior and tyro school and other national match activities as they are asked.

'Chute Team Water Jumps

Four members of the Force Troops Sport Parachuting Team made another "team first" after they successfully completed an intentional water jump.

Capt. Norman N. Jasper Jr., Sgt. Hubert R. Turpin, Cpl. Ivan L. Tranthan, and LCpl. Dennis McCarthy, all members of Force Troops, jumped from an altitude of 4,000 feet into the White Lake resort area near here.

The Marines were jumping from Cessa 170 aircraft and free-falling about 10 seconds before opening their 'chutes 2500 feet about the lake.

According to Captain Jasper, Team Captain, the jumpers prepared for their water landing on the way down by checking their 'chute canopy immediately after it opened, unhooking the reserve parachute and putting it in a water repellent bag and replacing it in the harness of the opened 'chute.

Just before the Marines splashed into the lake feet-first, the jumpers unhooked the chest traps and leg straps to their 'chute harnesses so they could make a quick exit.

The jumpers had discarded their regular jump suits for the water jump in favor of swim suits, tee-shirts and life preservers so that they might have more freedom of movement for swimming. In accordance with a safety regulation of the Parachute Club of America, of which all four Marines are members, they wore their jump helmets.

As the jumpers impacted with the water, they sank about eight feet and got out of their harnesses while still underwater, surfaced and swam away from their floating 'chutes.

The intentional water jump was made by the Marines to help them meet the requirements of obtaining a "D" license from the PCA (Parachute Club of America).

Planning Leaders Inspect Play Area

Members of the Tri-Command Planning Committee were hosted by 8th Engineer Battalion, Force Troops, at a briefing on the progress and construction of the playing fields at Camp Lejeune High School. The discussion was led by Capt. J. J. Hart, the project officer, and Lt. Col. J. A. Harper, commanding officer of the battalion.

Captain Hart estimated originally that construction would consume approximately 30 construction days, and said that, despite heavy rains which have recently hampered work, the estimate would still hold true.

The Planning Committee, represented by members of Base, Division and Force Troops, members of the school board, youth activities, and of the PTA were shown charts and diagrams of the proposed recreation areas, and a tour of the area as it now stands. So far, the football fields have been totally cleared, all the topsoil has been removed, and work has been started on shaping and installation of drainage. When this is completed, six inches of topsoil will be added. The baseball field has been stumped, and 60 to 70 percent of vegetation has been cleared from the area. At the present rate of construction, the captain estimated construction would be completed by the end of August.

Problems of irrigation were discussed, and several solutions were proposed by Col. Granger's committee and taken under consideration by the construction engineers.

The meeting ended with a report by Capt. George Wuerch, CO of "A" Co., 8th Engineers, which is doing the work, on the man hours and equipment hours expended in the work so far, and an estimate of the final total.

Children Risk Lives Near Railroad Area

Personnel living in the Tarawa Terrace and Knox Trailer Park areas are requested to keep their children from playing around the vicinity of the railroad right-of-way.

According to reports from the railway office, children have turned the area into a regular playground, often resorting to throwing rocks and other obstacles at passing trains.

To date, several caboose windows have been broken and several near accidents have occurred.

SETTING DOWN—The 30,000th helicopter landing is made by Lts. Charles J. Pease and Raymond J. Torrey aboard the USS Boxer during intensive training in the Caribbean as part of PHIBULEX 2-62, a summer amphibious training exercise designed to maintain the proficiency of amphibious assault forces. # Free Enterprise: From Corn Flakes To Telestar

Premier Khrushchev, in a recent speech to the Russian people on farm problems in the Soviet Union, urged the Soviet citizen to diversify his diet by eating more fried potatoes and corn flakes.

Sounding something like a male Betty Crocker, the Premier even went so far as to announce that "baked potatoes are very tasty when thinly sliced, fried and salted." These remarks appeared in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party mouthpiece.

We might point out to Mr. "K" that the corn flakes, as well as many more important achievements were achieved through free enterprise.

America's new Telestar satellite, swirling around the globe in near perfect orbit, is also a product of free enterprise. Thus, an age old dream has become a reality. Now, around-the-world events of international significance will be televised as they happen.

No government direction ordered the manufacture of the corn flake. Nor did any such direction order the television relay satellite into space. Both achievements, one large, one small, are important products of a free society.

A society where the state takes a back seat and lets the citizens do the driving.

Chaplain's Corner

That the power of insects is prodigious has been demonstrated by the experiments of many naturalists and others. It appears that the smallest insects are strongest in proportion to their size. A horse can scarcely bear two-thirds of its own weight, while one small species of June beetle is able to lift 99 times its own weight. Were the strength of man in proportion to that of the beetle, it is pointed out, he could play with weights equal to ten times that of a horse.

But we do not estimate the real power of man in this way. "As a man thinketh, so is he." One may weigh less than a hundred pounds, and yet far surpass tens of thousands of others of average or unusual weight, in all that goes to make up genuine strength of character and influence for good. Heartpower, we may call it, is the real test of a man.

Some 700 years ago there was in northern Germany a firm of merchants by the name of Easterling so upright in all their dealings that the gold and silver which they circulated became the standard for the correct quality and content of metal. Easterling became abbreviated to Sterling, and from that day to this all silver having a content of at least .925 fine silver is marked "sterling".

That was a wonderful reputation for honesty to attain, and great was the honor given them in having their name applied down through the centuries as a standard for fine silver articles. What sterling is to silver, the name Christian should be to character. Pure silver must compare with silver of the firm of Sterling; true character must correspond to the character of Christ, who has given His name to His followers.

The real strength of a man is found in his heart from which flows all his actions and words.

If You Ask Me:

WHAT IMPRESSED YOU MOST ON YOUR TOUR OF CAMP LEJEUNE?

MRS. GRACE PARKER, Girl Scout Leader of Troop 374—My first impression of

Camp Lejeune was the nice way in which we were received and the nice manner in which the tour was lined out for us. Everything we have seen so far on the tour has been very interesting, the tanks, missiles, etc. The personnel at each stop explained the displays and everything very interestingly.

JOYCE HONEYCUTT—I liked the men, jeeps and tanks very much. I especially liked the parachutes because I have never seen one before. I am so very glad that I have seen these people because they will help me to grow up and to be a good American citizen. When I heard the man talk about the weights of the machinery I was very surprised by what he said. This is what impressed me most on our tour.

MRS. CATHERINE B. HARRELL, Girl Scout Leader of Troop 317—My goodness! It would take a lot of time to tell you all that I have enjoyed on our tour of Camp Lejeune. Everything was so interesting and exciting especially the parachute drops. The cooperation of the men, the teamwork and all was most interesting. I am just sorry more of our girls and boys today do not take advantage of such a tour.

KITSY THOMAS—I liked best the parachutes because I would like to be in one and I don't see how the contents didn't break. I also do not understand how it comes down so slowly. I am very glad that someone is working for America and can help to keep it safe. I hope someday that maybe we won't need people to work like you do and that we won't have war.

MRS. JANE ROBBINS, Assistant Brownie Leader—On our tour of Camp Lejeune I have been impressed with the neatness and beauty of the base, and with the courteousness and friendliness of the officers and men. I was glad to learn that the personnel here cater to the Scouts who are some of our better future citizens. I thought the tour conducted for our benefit was excellent in spite of unavoidable delays.

I am proud to be living in a country where you have the freedom to come and go as you please. I have always wondered what the base looked like and have finally gotten a chance to come.

Library News

By LOUISE ROWE

These books are available at the Central Library, Bldg. 63, or through request from area branches at Montford Park, Courthouse Bay, and Rifle Range. Books may be reserved by telephone.

SWISS SCHOOLS AND OURS, by Adm. H. G. Rickover. The outspoken, dedicated admiral, whose theories of American education always produced thought and controversy, takes a hard look at the way children are educated in a democratic country in Europe. This report, Admiral Rickover describes why Swiss schools produce better educated citizens and how our schools could profit by adopting their methods. Sponsored by the Council of Basic Education.

THE CASE FOR COURAGE, by Liam M. Kunstler. Spanning more than years, this book presents ten famous trials in which American lawyers chose to involve themselves with the most explosive cases for their time and place. It describes how these men courageously accepted unpopular cause, knowing all too well in so doing they faced the very real threat of financial loss, social ostracism, political extinction. Dramatically portrayed are such distinguished attorneys as Andrew Hamilton, who defended the impoverished journalist, John Zenger, against an outraged New York governor in 1735; John Adams, destined to become the second President of the United States, who undertook the defense of the nine British soldiers indicted for murder because of their part in the Boston Massacre in 1770; Harold R. Medina, defense of the accused Nazi conspirator, Anthony Cramer, in 1942; and Joseph Welch's courageous decision to participate in the now famous Army-McCarthy hearings in 1954.

THE FIRST BATTLE OF THE MARITIME, by Robert B. Asprey. This is a dramatic narrative of the first great battle of World War I, in which two million men engaged in fierce combat on a line stretching from Paris to the Swiss border. The First World War not only changed history, it changed the methods of warfare. With it, the German dream of quick victory vanished—warfare was, for the time being, impossible; and the stage was set for the slaughter of 1915 and 1916, when scores of thousands of men were sacrificed on the conquest of a hundred yards of blasted ground. Robert B. Asprey is the author of The Panther's Feast, a contributing editor of the Marine Corps Gazette and was recently elected to Institute of Strategic Studies.

TOO LONG IN THE WEST, by Chandrasekhar Rajan. A delightfully humorous book on the life and times of a small village of the present day. The book concerns the predicament of a young woman educated at Columbia University who comes home to a family that is sure of how she will adjust to Indian life or her reaction to the suitors her father has seen fit to assemble. Among the characters subjected to the author's satirical treatment is a American dog-gooder.

THE COWBOY AND HIS INTERESTS, by Douglas Branch. This work presents a true picture of the real American cowboy without the trappings of legend and romance, and in contrast, he is interpreted in the Western story. There is a separate chapter on the motion picture cowboy. Illustrations by well-known artists, Charles M. Russell, Will James, Joe de Young picture the cowboy in action, with ranch hands, saddle and a series.

Camp Lejeune's Humid Forest Res B

"Fire One!"

"Tight Spot"

"Move Out"

The damp forests of Camp Lejeune became the "battle" ground of mock warfare once again this week as the all-reserve air-ground exercise, Operation TRIDENT, got underway Monday morning. A broiling sun, high humidity and sudden downpours, combined with hard hitting aggressor action failed to stop the striking force of some 3,000 "READY" Reservists of Marine Expeditionary Brigade 11 and Provisional Marine Air Group 1 as they pushed inland to establish their main lines Monday afternoon. Operation TRIDENT, a three-day air-ground exercise involving the largest complement of Organized Marine Corps Reservists ever to stage such a training exercise on the East Coast, saw 19 separate Reserve units from 18 eastern U. S. cities team up in the full-scale "war" exercises.

Overall supervision of the exercise was under the direction of Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, and Deputy Exercise Director, Col. J. H. Finch, 6th Staff Group Commander, Atlanta, Ga.

Individual units participating in the giant operation were: 1st Staff Group and Marine Air Reserve Group 1, Brooklyn, N. Y.; H&S, "A" and "D" Companies, 1st Bn., 24th Marines, Detroit, Mich.; H&S and "T" Companies, 3d Battalion, 25th Marines, Cleveland, Ohio; 48th Rifle Company, Binghamton, New York; Company "C", 1st Battalion, 24th Marines, Lansing, Mich.; Company "D" 1st Battalion, 24th Marines, Flint, Mich.; 61st Rifle Company, Lexington, Ky.; "M" Company, 3d Battalion, 25th Marines, Mansfield, Ohio; Company "L", 3d Battalion, 25th Marines, Columbus, Ohio; Company "K", 3d Battalion, 25th Marines, Akron, Ohio; "B" Company, 1st Battalion, 24th Marines, Toledo, Ohio; Headquarters Company "N" and "O", 4th Battalion, 14th Marines, Birmingham, Ala.; Battery "P", 4th Battalion, 14th Marines, Chattanooga, Tenn.; 5th Truck Company, Charlotte, N.C.; 7th Engineer Company, Green Bay, Wis.; 2d Radio Relay Company, Worcester, Mass.; Company "A", 4th Anti-Tank Battalion, Rome, Ga.; and the 6th Staff Group and Marine Air Reserve Group 8, Atlanta, Ga.

Marine Air reserve squadrons from Willow Grove, Penn.; Glenview, Ill. and Floyd Bennett Field in New York provided the close air-ground support for the ground reservists battling during Operation "TRIDENT". Marine Air reserve units providing support are the Marine Reserve Group-25; Marine Fighter Squadrons 511 and 611 two Marine Air Control Squadrons, MACS-26 and 17 with helicopter units of HMM-774, Floyd Bennett Field and a detachment from HMR-264 MAG-26 from the New River Air Facility provided helicopter air-lift of troops and supplies to bivouac areas and heli-lifted troops during vertical envelopment tactics of the exercise.

Provisional Marine Air Group 1, operating from Cherry Point, provided air control by Marine Air Control Squadrons 17 and 26 of Willow Grove, Penn., and Floyd Bennett Field, New York, while Marine Fighter Squadrons 511 of Willow

The Binghamton, York, Mansfield, Lexington, Ky., and other units acted as aggressor forces during the TRIDENT.

Overall coordination planning and arrangement for the conduct of the exercise was effected through the office of Col. J. H. Smith, Officer in Charge, the Reserve Liaison, New York, responsible for the field training of 11,000 reserve units by sending from 74 Organized units at Camp Lejeune this summer.

Overall mission TRIDENT was to seize, occupy and defend the island of RAM, tip of DAGA Peninsula, order to destroy forces thereon. The "help" came from the nation after forces had invaded

Under the might of the advancing Marine reservists the aggressor forces were driven farther and farther into deeply wooded and dense underbrush of the tiny island of "RAMA" until with nothing more to fall back on they were forced to cross the deep murky waters of Wilson Bay to Daga Peninsula, where they hastily constructed defensive positions.

Via helicopters, armored personnel carriers, amphibian tractors, huge cannons such as 105 and 155 Howitzers, mechanical mules bearing 106mm recoilless rifles, tanks, ontos, and by foot the friendly Marine forces dispatched to liberate the citizens of these tiny nations pushed the usurpers of liberty from their most recent acquisitions from a "free people's" state.

Under the sweltering temperature of the North Carolina sun the "Freedom Fighters" who assaulted the invaders of these tiny nations left "no stone unturned" in their advance against the "enemy" forces who had held the "RAMA and DAGA" citizens under prisoner-like conditions.

At the end of the third and fourth days of this huge scale "war" the "enemy" forces who had run roughshod over the citizens of these countries had been pushed to the limits of these liliputan countries.

At the extreme perimeter of these lands the oppressive forces were driven, literally into the sea and surviving members "threw" in the towel Thursday, surrendered their arms and were herded to compounds to be interrogated and returned to their homes.

Once again the Citizen Marines of the Organized Marine Corps Reserve, whose by-word is "READY" have proven themselves able to keep up the high standards set for them by their predecessors since 1775.

On hand to observe the four day war exercise and the more than 3,000 Citizen Marines taking part was the newly named Director of the Marine Corps Reserve ground forces, Brig. Gen. Ronald R. Van Stockum who was accompanied by his staff officers and Directors of the five Marine Corps Reserve and Recruitment Districts and their staffs, from which the 19 training units came.

High ranking officers who accompanied Gen. Van Stockum were Lt. Col. D. D'Antimo, Head, Plans and Training Branch; Maj. D. Green, Aviation Branch, and CWO Levi Woodbury, Administrative Branch. District Directors observing the four day war were Col. A. F. Lucas, Director 1st District, and the Assistant Director, Lt. Col. W. M. Ward. From the 4th Marine Corps Reserve District, Col. R. J. Odby, Director; 5th District, Lt. Col. L. W. Eskell, Assistant Director; 6th District, Col. J. D. McBrayer, Director; and the Assistant Director, Lt. Col. T. J. Belt. Col. Robert Kennedy, Director of the 9th Marine Corps Reserve District Department Director, and Capt. Walter Cook, Organized Marine Corps Reserve Ground Program Officer.
