

RETIREMENT—Commanding generals from Troops, 2d Marine Division, and Marine Base honored 33 officers and enlisted men of the Navy and Marine Corps at a mass retire-

FT Team Wins High Power Rifle Holiday Matches

The Force Troops Blue Rifle Team fired 970-60Vx1,000 to take the Second Annual Independence Day High Power Rifle Championship Matches held here July 1 and 2.

Force Troops Marksmen also earned other honors in the two-day matches in which Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Marine units from the East Coast participated.

In the individual standings, 1st Lt. H. E. Itchkawich was awarded an Eighth Masters honor after he fired 100-12Vx100 in the 600-yard prone position. He is also the Force Troops Rifle and Pistol Requalification Officer and is officer in charge of the Blue Rifle Team.

Other Force Troops Marines who took honors in the matches were SSgt. F. E. Pirillo who fired 95-2Vx100 in the off-hand position and received a Third Expert standing.

Cpl. H. E. Wall took Second Expert honors in the 200-yard rapid fire competition with a score of 100-5Vx100.

Firing rapid fire from the 300-yard line, SSgt. F. L. Riddler blazed a 100-5Vx100 score for Second Expert honors in that category. He also captured First Expert honors in the Rapid Fire Aggregate with a score of 199-9Vx200.

The two-day match was hosted by the Camp Lejeune Rifle and Pistol Club.

Use To Reopen Camp Theater Within 90 Days

Work on the Base Camp Theater began Monday and it was estimated that it will be ready for use within 90 days. Repair work previously estimated to cost $50,000 has been cut to $30,000 due to the installation of an internal suspension system which will be used to support the main girders.

Area 2 gymnasium will continue to be open as a substitute theater for military personnel. Seats have been added to accommodate 800 people.

For the Area 2 indoor gymnasium, one at 6 p.m. and another at 8 p.m. The matinee on Saturday and Sunday begins at 2 p.m.

Pistol Shooters Aid All Comers

Marines wanting to sharpen their pistol shooting will soon have a chance to practice during noontime hours with members of the 2d Division team available to give hints.

A definite date has been set for it was announced by Lt. George J. Lattimore, the team has already received permission to use the D-30 ranges for noon practice.

Marines wishing to take advantage of this chance to improve their marksmanship will find only their weapons. The team has a large supply of .22, .38 and .45 caliber ammunition on hand and will make it free to shooters.

$30,000 Lessons Cost Marine $400

Thirty-thousand dollars may seem like a lot of money to invest in an education, but the Marine Corps has probably provided that much—or more—in helping educate a Force Troops Marine, and all it has cost him is about $400 and some off-duty time.

SSgt. Alfred J. Riesz of 2d Topographic Co., estimates his education to be valued at around $30,000 in monetary terms, but even higher in self-satisfaction.

The veteran of 14 years' Marine service has, within the last six years, completed more than 120 military and non-military education courses which include service schools, MCI courses, Army Extension courses, Navy extension courses, off-duty courses and US-AFI courses.

Riesz first entered into his joint Marine Corps self-education program while stationed at the Marine Corps Supply Center in Albany, Ga.

He was in charge of the design and drafting unit in 1956 when a Marine Inspector General questioned him about his desire to become an officer.

"The general asked me if I would like to become an officer," Riesz recalls, "and I replied that all I had was a high school education."

This is where the I.G. stopped questioning Riesz—who was holding the billet of a GS-9—and continued his inspection tour.

After the conversation with the general, Riesz reviewed his education background and found it lacking. Then he decided to do something about it.

He enrolled in night courses that were being offered by Florida State University at the Supply Center and took out several more MCI courses after setting his goal for receiving a commission.

After he transferred to Okinawa, Riesz says he "slacked up" on his education program, because he assumed duties of two jobs he knew little about. He became the Construction Inspector and NCOIC of Public Works.

While he was on Okinawa, he devoted most of his spare time to finding out about his new jobs and learning to speak the Japanese language.

"I had to learn Japanese because the construction work and the contracts required working closely with the civilians on the island," says Riesz.

He estimates the Marine Corps has spent $15,000 to send him to the service schools he has completed in topography. He is preparing to attend another course at Ft. Belvoir, Va., July 15.

Onslow Day Rescheduled

Jacksonville-Onslow County Day has been re-scheduled for July 6 at Harry Agganis Field. The Lejeune Marines will inaugurate the day when they take to the field against the Ft. Eustis Wheels. The occasion was originally scheduled for June 29, but 3.5 inches of rain won out for a postponement.

The special day was initiated by the Base commanding general as a token of tribute and gratitude to the residents of Jacksonville and Onslow County for their part in making the military-civilian community relationship one of success.

Military, civilian city and county officials and two area bathing beauties complete the rostrum of dignitaries who will be on hand for the first celebration.

Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley will deliver the opening and dedicating speeches and Jacksonville Mayor W. R. Page Jr., will throw out the first ball. The 2d Division Band will provide music between innings.

Bach Retires, Capt. Norris USNH Officer

Capt. Frank T. Norris, (MC)USN, officially assumed duties Saturday as the commanding officer at the U. S. Naval Hospital. He replaced Capt. Lawrence E. Bach, (MC)USN, who retired June 30 with over 30 years' service.

Captain Norris, a native of Holy Springs, N. C., was commissioned a lieutenant (junior grade) in 1939 following graduation from the Wake Forest Medical School, and Internal Medicine at Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa.

He participated in the Pacific campaigns in WW II, with the 1st Marine Division until being wounded in 1942. Norris served as Medical Officer aboard the USS Chester from April 1945 until January 1946.

The captain has served as commanding officer of the 2d Medical Bn., 2d Marine Division, and assistant Chief of Medicine, USNH, Oakland, Calif.

Prior to reporting to Camp Lejeune he served in the Personnel Section of Bureau of Medicine and Surgery.

Families, Reservists See Rocket Launch

By Cpl. B. A. Martin, Jr.

Three-hundred Marines, Marine Reservists and dependents witnessed an hour-long demonstration of 2d Field Artillery Group's delivery weapons Wednesday at Observation Post Two.

Brig. Gen. Wood B. Kyle, commanding general of Force Troops, and other guests of FAG, commanded by Col. F. R. Schleger — along with officers of the Liaison Office here saw demonstrations of outgoing and incoming artillery fire.

Three 155 Self-propelled Howitzers from 2d 155 GunBtry (SP) 8-inch Howitzer from 2d 8-inch Btry, and one section from HARB provided the hardware in the capabilities show.

Set up within view of the spectators — which included reservists from the 1st 105 HowBn., 1st 105 HowBn., and the 54th Rifle Bn., New Castle, N. H. — the weapons Company, 2d HARB, fired at targets set up in the area.

During the firing demonstrations, Capt. T. W. Hancock, 2d 8-inch Btry, and Capt. Waters, XO, 2d HARB, presided over the guests with a running commentary of what was happening.

After the guns had fired, demonstrating their capabilities, 2d concluded the demonstration with an Honest John rocket launch.

The missile was fired from the Battery, and immediately in the Atlantic Ocean. Before the rocket was launched, the spectators witnessed the preparation that goes into launching an Honest John as one section from the Battery mounted a model rocket, assembling it, on a pole trailer, then transferred it to the launching vehicle.

The demonstration concluded a two-day firing exercise.

'It's A Great Privilege,' Says New U.S. Citizen

"It's a great privilege being a citizen of the United States," says Cpl. Augustine F. Barquin, H&S Co., 1st Battalion, 6th Marines.

The young Marine who became a citizen of the United States June 11, was honored at Flag Day ceremonies conducted by his Battalion at Camp Lejeune on June 14. After he received congratulations from his battalion commander, Lt. Col. J. C. Fegan, Jr., he watched his battalion pass in review.

Born in Havana, Cuba, Cpl. Barquin came to the United States with his parents and younger brother in October 1952. He finished high school with honors, receiving his diploma from Warren Harding High in Bridgeport, Conn.

Cpl. Barquin entered the Marine Corps in January 1959, because he "liked the Corps' reputation." In August of the same year, he received a meritorious promotion to Private First Class and made Lance Corporal in the latter part of 1960. He was promoted to his present rank January 1 of this year.

He is presently serving as a Squad Leader, but he is anticipating being reassigned as Chief Scout for the Battalion S2 Office.

Reserves Learn Survival Tricks From Regulars

Marine Reservists from Nashville, Tennessee's 3d Rifle Company wound up their final week of training here last Friday with a realistic course in escape, evasion and survival.

The course was designed to familiarize the Reservists with the ways and means of getting back to friendly forces in the safest possible manner should they ever become prisoners of war and manage to escape.

Following classroom introduction to the problem the Reservists were split into two groups, hunter and hunted. The hunted were turned loose in a thickly wooded training area, cut off from their home base by the hunter forces. The problem was for the escaped prisoners to apply their classroom knowledge in moving through the enemy lines without weapons and living off the "fat" of the land.

Those that didn't make it were hustled off to mock POW camps for interrogation and more training to see how much of the "Code of Conduct" they had retained.

The training was made as real as possible to derive a maximum of training benefit.

Capt. Francis Horn, company commander, termed the two weeks training his men had received at Lejeune this year as the "best ever."

July 3, 1947 — A Marine regiment, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Samuel E. Watson, landed at Vera Cruz, Mexico, for duty with United States Army forces.

Marines March, On Queen's Birthday

Marines marching to the notes of the "Marines Hymn" recently drew a standing ovation at a parade celebrating Queen Elizabeth II's birthday in St. Lucia, the British West Indies.

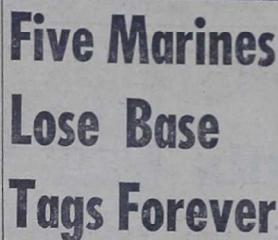

The Marines, embarked on the USS Uvalde (AKA-88), invited to participate in the many while on a liberty visit to St. Lucia and promptly responded by sending a 22-man marching band led by 2d Lt. Raymond Collier.

The Honorable Mr. Gerald Bryan, O.B.E., M.C., Acting Administrator, highest representative of the British Crown on the island, reviewed the ceremony.

After the parade, Mr. Bryan said, "The officers and men took part in the parade, and congratulations on your turn-out drill, and our sincere thanks for the magnificent contribution which you made toward the success of the occasion. I very much appreciate all the time and which you devoted to the parade which might otherwise have been spent in well earned relaxation."

Irresponsibility Is Prime Factor In Car Accidents

Twenty Camp Lejeune Marines have been killed so far this year in automobile accidents. More have been crippled and maimed for life, yet the slaughter goes on.

Who's to blame? The traffic department here at Camp Lejeune and similar organizations all over the United States point the finger at alcohol, fatigue and just plain carelessness.

The majority of accidents recorded here resulting in fatalities have managed to incorporate all three causes.

Some people seem to think traffic accidents are a big joke; a sort of status symbol.

A word of enlightenment. It's no joke here at Lejeune. It's a serious thing which is accelerating with each report. Penalties for traffic infractions are getting stiffer every day and there's room for further tightening.

We, too, recognize alcohol, fatigue and carelessness as the cause of accidents, but we also place a great deal of blame on individual irresponsibility.

Look at it this way. Those who think they are immune to accidents, and there are quite a few, have already satisfied the requirements for the safety of number one.

Common sense in the case of potential passengers in this nut's car can save a life. Simply don't ride with him or if you are already on the road before he reveals his lack of responsibility, ask to be let out. It's not a lack of courage to ride-it-out, or a rude act. It's just good common sense.

If you are the driver and assuming you are a responsible one, think about not only yourself, but the hundreds of other people on the highway you will be meeting. Look out for them and protect yourself in the process. We have a word for this: Defensive driving. It works.

Yesterday was the Fourth of July. The death toll is already on the rise. Irresponsibility, alcohol, fatigue and carelessness are making out claims for an eternity. Law abiding common sense is an effective weapon. Anything less than this is a crime against yourself and your fellow man.

Chaplain's Corner

Self confidence is one characteristic of a "squared away" Marine. Many Marines find in a personal acquaintance with God the needed assurance to give them this quality. If you are not constantly confident, why not try God?

When you wake in the morning, immediately greet God as an objective reality—an Unseen Presence close beside you. Picture His as force, creative power, unfailing calm and love, the epitome of honesty, honor and unselfishness. Identify yourself with these qualities. Do not hang loose, but rather take the initiative in perfecting these God-like characteristics in your life.

On the way to morning chow breathe a prayer to God dedicating your entire day to Him. At each meal during the day thank God for His mercy in providing food for you and then say a prayer for those less fortunate than you who must go hungry. As you carry out the plan of the day keep in mind that all of the people whom you meet and deal with belong to God just as you do. In all of your dealings be honest with yourself, your fellow man and God.

At the close of the day, in a moment of silence and in the conscious presence of God, let the failures and anxieties of the day pass through your mind and then vanish—forever. As they vanish God will lift the burden from your spirit—will make everything begin to seem clear again. When you finally drop off to sleep let your last thought be this: "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

If You Ask Me:

What type of entertainment would you like added to what is already available at Camp Lejeune?

LCPL. W. H. YOUNG JR., HqCo. H&S Bn., MCB—I would like to see horseback riding added. I think that quite a lot of people like to ride horses and I believe that we have an ideal place to do this. All the wooded area at Camp Lejeune would make perfect areas for bridle paths. I also think that an outdoor swimming pool for enlisted personnel would be good. Many people don't like to swim in salt water or in indoor swimming pools and this would also be good for swimming in the summer evenings.

1ST LT. WILLIAM A. BYRNE, H&S Co., 3d Bn., 6th Marines—In the past 12 years

I have been stationed on various bases. Approximately seven of these years I have toured Camp Lejeune and the only entertainment that has not been available is that of horseback riding. I think that if riding horses were made available they would be greatly enjoyed by both Marines and their dependents. I believe that we here at Camp Lejeune have been quite fortunate in the great variety of entertainment we do have.

LT. FRANKLIN D. WHITE, 2d Hosp. Co.

FT—The facilities at Camp Lejeune are quite adequate but there are two things that could be improved on. First, the bowling lanes on Base are old and in poor condition. A new central and modern bowling alley would add greatly to the base activities. Also, I believe too much harassment is given at the facilities already present. This is especially true of the main drive-in theatre. Why not have some courtesy and set the stage for relaxation.

CPL. THOMAS D. F. ROMIG, Division Band—In my opinion this base could use more of the cultural entertainment such as base concerts and classical concerts. Although the Base is very well fitted for entertainment not everyone can be satisfied. Fresh water facilities for swimming outdoors are missing and the refreshment stands at the base theatres are lacking in proportion to the number of people using them.

PVT. BETTY RODRIGUEZ, WM Company—I think that if a skating rink were made available to the people of Camp Lejeune it would be advantageous to all age groups. Old as well as young enjoy this type of activity because it is a good clean form of entertainment and is valuable for the exercise we need. It also can become a family form of recreation. For the number of people stationed here at Camp Lejeune there are not enough night-time activities. I think some type of activity should be open later in the evening especially on week-ends.

PFC JAMES S. DERREL JR., HqCo., Bn., MCB—I would like horseback riding added to the entertainment already available here. It is a sport people enjoy and when they can't eat it. I also think moped scooters should be allowed on Camp Lejeune. They are so handy and very convenient especially for people who live a ways from where they work but don't want a car because of numerous reasons.

A Day In The Life C

GETTING WITH IT—"I learned to shave in boot camp—no hair on my head, no hair on my chin, but the Corps said 'Get with it' and I did . . ."

GOOD MARKS—1st Sgt. Bobby L. Payne showed Pfc Steven Weaver why good conduct and proficiency marks are necessary—no promotion unless the Marine scores high. There is plenty of competition in Weaver's unit.

BUDDY SYSTEM—Weaver gives Pfc Albert Pompei's equipment a last-minute check before boarding trucks which will take them to Morehead City to board Navy transports. Weaver's unit is now training on Vieques and will have some free time in Puerto Rico, before returning to the U. S.

Story By

1st Lt. C. E. Dunlap
2d Division ISO

Ask any young Marine what is the hardest thing he does on an average training day. The chances are he'll answer: "Get up."

Not "wake up" — that's easy. Just, "Get up."

His awakening is handled by a charge-of-quarters who gropes through the pre-dawn gloom of the barracks, fumbling for a light switch. He finds it. Instantly the squad room is bathed with bare white light.

Bodies burrow deep under blankets.

"Reveille, reveille!" the charge-of-quarters yells.

"Tweeeet" goes his shrill whistle.

"Groan" goes the Marine in the third bunk from the left.

But it takes more than a groan to stop the clock and the clock is an enemy of every young Marine — at least between the hours of reveille and morning muster.

Busy Squadbay

Within minutes the squad bay is a busy place. One of the Marines now up and about is Private First Class Steven Weaver.

Weaver was not the man who groaned. "Can't fool around groaning," he says. First there is the matter of the washroom.

"I learned to shave in boot camp," he recalls. "At first it was funny — no hair on my head, no hair on my chin. But the Corps said shave, and I got with it. . ."

Back to the sack to tidy up. "I can make a bed better than my mother," Weaver confides. A few fast passes and his bunk is taut enough to bounce the proverbial quarter.

A quick check of that old foe, the clock, sends Weaver through the door on his way to the messhall. "It may not be exactly like mother used to make," he says with a tray full of bacon and eggs, "but I've put on a few pounds."

Weaver and his buddies stow away a few of the 20 thousand or so eggs eaten at Camp Lejeune daily.

Racing The Clock

Weaver races the clock again in order to have his equipment ready for inspection. He is a member of Company "D", 1st Battalion, 6th Marines, and, "The Gunny just doesn't like dirty weapons."

The young Marine learned for himself the value of clean weapons while in boot camp. He qualified expert with his rifle there and sharpshooter with the pistol.

"I thought football practice was tough back home in Camden, Arkansas," he said — he won honorable mention in his district as a guard — "but that boot camp routine taught me just how busy you can get."

He learned his lesson well and was meritoriously promoted to private first class out of boot camp.

"Like most of us, I was introduced to Camp Lejeune, via ITR" he recalls. "We were pretty busy there, too, but I guess you don't learn how to be a Marine overnight."

Rocket Gunner

After ITR Weaver joined his company as a 3.5 inch rocket gunner.

"It's a lot different," he says. "In ITR we learned how to function as individuals — more or less — and as a gunner I had to learn to function as a part of the crew."

"You know that old saying about a chain being only as strong as its weakest link," he asks "Well, it's nobody wants to be the weakest link."

To keep from being the weak link, Weaver and his buddies start the training with a timed exercise — "Yell and stomp about an

After a short bre

OVER THE TOP—Weaver gives a boost over an eight-foot wall on the beach. Being flabby he said. Daily workouts keep him in top physical shape.

he means busi- saving $40.00 a of his pay. "I'm thinking of going to college someday," he says. "I hear money is handy there. In the meantime I might enroll in East Carolina College."

Guerrilla Warfare

Another ten minute break might find Weaver turning on his buddies.

"We got a lot of training in guerrilla warfare," he says. "If your name is called to be the 'bad guy' then the thing to do is be bad. Get something out of it. Make your buddies get something too."

Weaver reads about guerrilla warfare in military publications and knows "you can't always fight a war from an air conditioned classroom. You have to meet the enemy on his own ground and beat him."

So Weaver's classroom is usually the swampy woodlands of Camp Lejeune. He's getting sharp at camouflage, patrolling and 'sneaking and peeking."

After a morning's work-out in the woods, the clock turns its friendly side to Weaver. Chow time.

"Got to take it easy at noon," he cautions. "With an afternoon's work ahead it doesn't pay to dig in too heavy on the mashed potatoes."

After a break, the clock again turns foe and the whistle calls Weaver out for the afternoon.

Combat Training

The schedule calls for combat in built up areas. Camp Lejeune has a regular spot for this — Leadville. Weaver and his crew take up positions outside town, and move forward stealthily.

"The thing to remember in this is teamwork. Without it you're a dead mob; with it you're a winning team," he says.

He and his buddies learn the benefits of providing each other with protection. One man moves and another covers him. "Pull with the team and you've got it made," he grins when the problem secures.

Three o'clock usually finds company "D" out for calisthenics. "Some of the troops call it physical torture," he comments, "but actually it isn't anything we didn't do in football practice back home." Weaver admits there isn't much excitement in push-ups and sit-ups.

"But there isn't much excitement in being flabby either. Exercise is the Marine Corps' way of fighting flab. It works."

When the sun goes down, and colors are pulled, Weaver and his friends look longingly at their bunks. "Not long — just longingly." There are weapons to clean, shoes to shine, 782 gear to scrub, a letter to write.

"Pretty soon you get a system. I even had time to drop in to the club for a few minutes the other night," he grins.

Now the clock is a real buddy. Into the bunk for a night's rest. "Sometimes it's kind of nice to just stretch out and wiggle your toes," Weaver muses.

Then the charge-of-quarters ducks through the door and reaches for the light switch. "Lights out!" he yells.

"Just a minute" yells a frantic Pfc — the one with the early morning groan. The lights go out anyway.

After all, the clock ordered it, and friend or foe, the clock just won't wait.

Not when it's marking off a day in the life of a Marine.

UP A TREE—The enemy, not Weaver, who reaches for his rifle being held by Pfc G. D. Flood. Learning to scout and snipe is part of Weaver's training although his primary job is a rocket gunner.

WE'LL GO THIS WAY—Weaver points out a scouting route he will take to 1st Lt. William F. Hurley, left, and Pfc's G. D. Flood and W. P. Terry. All members of the unit are given the chance to lead such training patrols.

ON THE SCOUT—Weaver leads the patrol under the close scrutiny of Lt. Hurley. Terry brings up the rear. Weaver's mistakes will be pointed out in detail after the patrol as well as those made by the other members. In combat, a repeat of the mistakes made in training could mean the death of many Marines. No mistake is overlooked.

h which is the training ground for the infantry units division. Left to right are: Terry, Pvt. Angela Herrera, and Maria Trujillo and Flood.

2d ANGLICO Pair Triumph In FT Tennis

Corporal W. G. Woodward and LCpl. R. L. Reading, both of 2d ANGLICO, defeated two assistant Legal Officers, Majors W. M. Cummings and C. E. Spence in a four hour marathon match that went 62 games, to take the doubles section of the Force Troops Intramural Tennis Championships.

Woodward and Reading had match point four times in the contest, lost it three times, and lost a 5-3 lead in the final set before finally winning it 8-6. The set scores were 7-5, 7-9, 6-2, 5-7, and 8-6.

The winning combination has been playing together for one year, but this is the first tournament they have competed in as partners. Reading was to have entered as Woodward's partner in the 1961 matches but went to Vieques instead.

A radio operator in the Forward Air Control Team, Woodward played varsity tennis in high school for three years and has won a half dozen tournaments during the seven years he has been in the Marine Corps. He placed second in the Force Troops singles in 1958 and 1961.

Reading played two years varsity tennis in high school and one year at Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn.

Woodward and Reading represented Force Troops in the Quad Command Tennis Championships which began on June 26.

Varsity Adds Power Hitter To Lineup

Another Marine has been added to the Lejeune varsity baseball roster and he has everyone on the team and in the stands talking about him.

He has been seen in right field and as a catcher, and from an early look, he is one of the most powerful men in uniform at the plate with a bat in his hand.

His name is Bill Buntin and he wears number 33. The 6-foot-1, 200 lb., slugger from New Orleans, La., joined the Lejeune varsity after completing his infantry training course at Camp Geiger recently and is attached to Sub-Unit 2, 3d Bn., 8th Marines.

Property of the Chicago Cubs, Buntin, a two year active duty reservist, had experience in Class D baseball in 1959 with Pulaski and moved up to Class C in the Appalachian League in 1960.

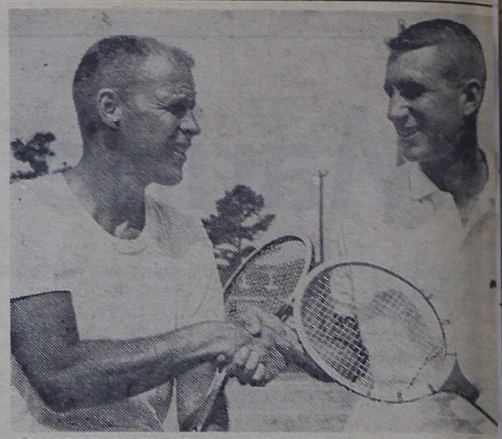

His first appearance with the varsity was an exceptional one. In the game against the Raleigh Jets last week, Buntin, pinch hitting for Joe Dunn, cracked the first pitch off the left field wall for a double.

Although he has only had three appearances at the plate, he has not been put out yet.

As the Lejeune varsity took the field against the Raleigh Tigers in their second meeting Tuesday evening, Buntin was 3 for 3 for a perfect slate.

"He is the first man that tried out for the team saying he played professional baseball and proved it in the same night," stated Chick McClellan, Lejeune's out-fielder.

"He's got what it takes in this type of baseball," stated head coach Andy Anderson. "We will be able to get a great deal of use out of him during the rest of this season and I am looking forward to seeing him next year."

CONGRATULATIONS—Maj. W. M. Cummings, left, Force Assistant Staff Legal Officer, congratulates 1st Lt. Ralph E. May, of 8th Comm Bn. after losing to him in the finals of the Force Troops Tennis Tournament Singles Championship on June 26. May represented Force Troops in the Quad Command Tennis Tournament in the Open Division, as was Maj. Cummings.

8th Engineers Take Lead In Force Troops Softball

Headquarters Co., Force Troops, "Devil Clerks" were toppled from their first place standing last week in the Force Troops Intramural Softball League.

The "Devil Clerks" were felled by 2d Field Artillery Group in a close game Monday that ended with a score of 5-4. Fifth ranking ANGLICO handed the Clerks their third loss of the season by downing them 6-1.

At the end of the week's regular play, the Clerks sparked a rally to defeat the second-place 2d Composite Radio Co. and settled down to hold a "temporary" third-place position on the Troops' slate, according to 1st Lt. Frank Junger, player-coach for the Clerks.

While the Clerks were sliding down in league standings, 8th Engineer Bn. was catapulting its way up in the league.

The Engineers blasted 2d Bridge Co. during a slug-fest in which the Engineers racked up 26 runs to the Bridgemen's lone counter. The Engineers later smothered 8th Communications Bn., 10-0. A game between the first-place Engineers and second-place Radiomen was postponed because of rain.

Fourth-place 2d Tank Bn. ground to a standstill in two contests when they were called because of darkness. The Tankers, last year's league champs, were stalemated with 2d Topographic Co., 10-10, when that game was called. Tanks was deadlocked with their biggest league rivals and last year's runners-up, 2d AmTracs, when that game was called after both teams had tallied four runs each.

Second-place 2d Composite Radio Co. maintained its standing in the league, after bowing to the Clerks' team, by shutting out 8th Motor Transport, 7-0. The Gear Grinders have been on an apparently hopeless kick this season and have lost all nine of their scheduled games, several of which have been forfeits.

Other results from last weeks play are: 2d ANGLICO 17, 2d Topo Co., 1; 2d AmTracs 6, 2d FAG 1; 2d ANGLICO took a 7-0 forfeit from 8th Motors when the Gear Grinders failed to show for the game; 2d Composite Radio vs. 8th Engineers, 8th Communications vs. 2d FAG, and 8th Communications Bn. vs. 8th Motors were all postponed during the weeks play.

Wild Pitch Decides MCSS Softball Title

A line-drive triple and a wild pitch in the seventh inning gave the Motor Transport School Company a 1-0 victory over Headquarters Company and their first Marine Corps Supply School's Intramural Softball championship.

The game was a scoreless pitching duel until the seventh when Motor Transport pitcher Aaron Taylor lined a 2 and 2 pitch to right field for the three bagger. He scored on the next pitch, which was wild.

Taylor went the distance for the Motor Transport nine giving up only one hit and striking out 11 men. Lester Jacobs, pitching for Headquarters Co. was handed the loss. He gave up only two hits while striking out eight.

The victory by Motor Transport clinched the championship and pushed Headquarters Co. into second place with a 7 and 3 slate. Motor Transport's record at the conclusion of the regular play was 8 wins, 2 losses.

Two 2d Division Marines Earn Black Belt In Karate

After a combined total of more than 5000 hours of two 2d Division Marines were awarded the first degree Belts in Karate. The Black Belt recipients are Cpl. Wood and LCpl. Kenneth Kasianowicz, both of H&A company, 2d Service Battalion.

Cpl. Wood has never been defeated in more than 16 months of competition. His instructor, Sgt. Frank Vanlenten stated, "He has been working out four hours a day, and has built his coordination to the extent that he can leap into the air and touch a basketball net with his feet."

About a year ago Kasianowicz, (better known as Ski) joined Sgt. Vanlenten's Gostilnyru Karate School here on the base. He first began studying the art of Karate while stationed in Hawaii about 26 months ago. "It took lots of time and effort, but it is well worth it," Ski remarked.

"No club on the East Coast is capable of defeating us," challenged Vanlenten, holder of the Roku-da, highest degree in the United States.

"We won the East Coast Karate Championship conducted in New Jersey last May and since have offered challenges to other clubs in the area, but have been turned down," the instructor explained.

A Karate student for over eight years, Vanlenten presently holds six out of a possible 10 degrees and regularly breaks one inch boards or a couple of bricks 'for practice.'

Wood and Kasianowicz worked their way up starting out with a White Belt then up to a Green Belt, Brown Belt and finally the coveted Shodan Degree Black Belt.

Tests for the Shodan Degree Black Belt consisted of 12 self defense throws, twenty-one Karate Katas (forms) and the breaking of three one-inch boards or one brick with the feet then with the hands.

The Gostilnyru School is located in Building 500, and is open to new members any Monday night at 5:30. Sgt. Vanlenten advised, "Anybody who is willing to try, can master Karate."

The Horned Grebe is a beautiful duck-like bird found in the coastal region of North Carolina in winter. They can be seen in April and May on fresh water where they have stopped for food and rest on the way to their summer breeding grounds farther north.

Cancels Varsity First Game Drive

Continuous downpour throughout Saturday night and Sunday morning has cancelled the hopes of the Lejeune varsity team in the East Coast Interconference but also forced cancellation of the first annual Lejeune-Onslow County Night. The game was scheduled for Saturday night but the league leading Lejeune Travellers, a total rainfall of 1.5 inches over the two day period forced the game into a king-sized rain.

The game with the Lejeune originally set to honor Lejeune from Jacksonville County but just a few hours before game time, the Lejeune with driving rain was enough to cancel not only the game but Saturday's game.

Anderson's powerful Lejeune remains in third place in the C. With a pair of wins in the past week, Lejeune would have knocked the Travellers into a second place with themselves and allowed Fort Dix to take undisputed first place. Lejeune hasn't been out of first place since the season started. Lejeune still has a chance to take closer to the top of the league when they meet Eustis nine for three games tonight. Lejeune's game with Fort Eustis has been designated as the Lejeune-Onslow County Night.

Lejeune Troops Golf Team Field FMF Golf

The Troops golf team, paced by G. Handley and R. T. G. took the FMF, Atlantic, and the championship this past week at Cherry Point.

Lejeune who finished third in the division medalist play, lost a total of 310, lost his second place in a sudden-play-off with J. D. Spenser, who also ended with a score of 310. Lejeune finished in fourth position in the open division with a total of 1,250 strokes, in second place 2d Marine Wing who had 1,260 strokes, third place was 2d Marine with 1,269.

Lejeune medalist winner was G. Laughlin of 2d MAF with a total of 308. Medalists will represent Lejeune in the Fleet Tournament played at Cherry Point Mikytuck, the Wheels boast an ECIC record of 10-11 and are just a few games behind the Lejeune nine, who hold down third place.

Coach Mikytuck has had experience at three infield positions, and is currently batting over .300 for the Wheels this season. Hailing from Vineland, N. J., the player-coach played high school ball in his home town and went on to play for the Citadel before coming to Eustis.

While at the Citadel, Mikytuck made the first team in the All Southern Conference as a third baseman in his senior year.

Strong Arm Righthander

Leading the Wheels in pitching this season is 37-year-old righthander, Henry McLaughlin.

His pitching experience dates back to 1947 when he played for the Guam All-Stars. Since that time he has pitched for the All-Army team at Fort Belvoir in

Dependents' Swim Team Sinks Bragg

The Camp Lejeune Dependent Swimming team sank the team from Fort Bragg last week by a close 228 1/2 to 221 1/2 score at the Area 5 Swimming Pool.

This was the third match for the team since its inception last month. They had previously lost to Fort Bragg in their first meet of the season and came back the following week to post a victory over the Fayetteville team.

In their last meeting with Bragg, the Lejeune swimmers took 12 first places in individual events and six relay titles. Lejeune also took 18 individual second place awards and two second places in the relay events.

The club's record is now 2-1 in the Eastern Carolina Swimming Association and they'll get a chance to improve their standings this afternoon when they travel to Kinston to meet the Kinston Water Club.

LCpl. Ulysses Smith, coach for the team, stated that he is still looking for more qualified swimmers for the squad. "We need more boys in the 10 and under class, the 13 to 14 year old class and the 15 and over age class."

All interested dependents should contact LCpl. Smith at the Area 5 Swimming pool or by calling 7-5394.

1953 and the Fourth Army Champions at Fort Sill, Okla.

Behind The Plate

Taking care of the catching chores for the Wheels is James Newman. Newman, 24, hails from Monroe, N. C. He spent three years in the Chicago Cubs organization, playing for Paris, Ill., Crestview, Fla., and Burlington, Iowa.

A consistent long ball hitter, Newman is considered an "old-timer" for the Wheels, having played for the Fort Eustis team since 1960.

Slugging Outfield

Fort Eustis' slugging outfield has done their share in contributing toward the Wheels' effort this season.

Handling right field is Bob Dodson from Annapolis, Md. Dodson played high school and semi-pro ball in his home town before moving into pro ball with the Washington Senator's farm team at Orlando, Fla. He also played ball at Fort Knox before coming to Eustis.

Versatile at several positions, Mihalich can catch, pitch, and play the outfield.

Currently hitting at a .400 clip, Mihalich played college ball at Purdue University and at the Univ. of Georgia, in addition to a year with Fort Lee.

More Black Belts

Last week the GLOBE published an article about a member of the Shorin Ryu Karate Club of Camp Lejeune receiving the rank of Shodan, black belt, first degree.

This week there is an article about two more men receiving black belts from a different club aboard the base.

For the first time since taking over the Sports Desk of the GLOBE, I have found out that there is a second club aboard Camp Lejeune, the Gostilin-Ryu Karate Club, which practices on Monday evenings in Bldg. 500.

This second club is headed by Sgt. Frank Vanlentin of Med. Spt. Co., 2d Service Bn. This club does not practice as much as the Shorin-Ryu club, taught by Sgt. S. D. Pearson, but the Gostilin-Ryu club boasts some pretty strong statements.

Sergeant Vanlentin stated that he offered challenges to other clubs in the area, but no club has accepted his challenge.

Sergeant Pearson of the Shorin-Ryu club states that his club has never turned down any competition.

The mentor for the Gostilin-Ryu club further stated that there is no club on the East Coast capable of defeating his organization.

It would probably make a very good contest if the two clubs would meet in a karate exhibition sometime in the near future. This type of contest would also settle a great deal of controversy in regard to which club is actually the better organization.

When LCpl. Peter Musacchio of the Shorin-Ryu club received his black belt three weeks ago, Sergeant Pearson stated that his student could beat any black belt in the area.

Well, Pete, there are two in your own backyard.

Gone South

The Lejeune varsity baseball team headed south last week to meet the Benton Oilers, a South Carolina semi-pro team, on Tuesday. The game was held at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, and was played in an attempt to regenerate baseball enthusiasm at that installation. Parris Island had one of the top baseball teams on the East Coast prior to dropping the sport a few years back.

Schedule Ends Too Soon

Still in the baseball light . . . It is too bad that the schedule for the Lejeune varsity ends at the end of July. Shortly after this, most of the Reservists called to active duty by the President will be getting released. This release will just about wreck every team in the East Coast Interconference because the build-up of the Army by these Reservists brought some top major league performers into the conference.

Another important factor is that from the end of the scheduled baseball season to the beginning of the football schedule, Lejeune will be minus a spectator sport for about one month.

Division Intramural Leagues Paced By 2d Marine Teams

A no-hit, no-run performance by hurler Larry Hartzler led the 3d Bn., 2d Marines, to a 6-0 victory over Hq. Bn. in Division Softball action Thursday night. The win extended 3 1/2's streak to six games without a loss.

Presently leading the National League, the 3/2 contingent possesses the only perfect record in circuit. In other games Thursday, 1/10-2/10 blasted "cellar-dweller" Pioneers to the tune of 15-5.

Motor Transport, American League's only winless team, relinquished that title when they routed Recon Bn., 16-5. Anti-tanks completed the night's action, trouncing Medical Bn., 10-3.

Recruiters Planning One-Day Visits Here

Two representatives of the local Marine Corps recruiting service will set up shop at Camp Lejeune during a one-day visit here Monday.

SSgt. Milton R. Jacobson, NCO in Charge of the recruiting sub-station in Wilson, and SSgt. Leo Smith also of the Wilson sub-station, will be at the Career Advisory Office, Bldg. 50, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on July 9.

Prospective Marine Corps enlistees in this area must sign up through the regular recruiting service and the Wilson sub-station is the nearest permanent office. For the convenience of prospective enlistees in the Jacksonville-Camp Lejeune and Wilmington areas, the two Wilson recruiters plan periodic one-day calls at Camp Lejeune in the future.

Two of the enlistment programs Sergeant Jacobson thinks that prospective enlistees should know about are the guaranteed aviation program and the 120 Day Delay enlistment program.

Enlistees who can qualify for the aviation program go to an aviation training school after their recruit and advanced training. To qualify, applicants must attain a satisfactory score on the qualification test and meet certain other requirements.

Under the 120-Day Delay program, a young man or woman can enlist in the Marine Corps, and wait up to 120 days before leaving for recruit training. The delay counts as service, including time required to be eligible for an earlier pay raise and earlier promotions.

Corps Looking For Bilingual Officers

The Marine Corps unveiled a new foreign language course last week to be given officers attending Marine Corps Schools. It provides a minimum of 60 hours instruction in either Spanish or French for all future Marine Corps Officers.

The new plan follows up a pilot program instituted last March when Gen. David M. Shoup, Commandant of the Marine Corps, ordered language instruction in the schools for the first time in Corps history. Gen Shoup expressed the need for Marine Corps officers to be versed in a foreign language in preparation for overseas assignments.

The new course will be an integral part of the schools' schedule giving all future students, basic and advanced, at least a minimum bilingual ability.

Mobile Switchboard Inventor Wins Stripe

The "inventor" of a mobile switchboard, terminal and shelter, which is considered one of the finest of its kind in the 2d Marine Division, was meritoriously promoted to the rank of sergeant June 22.

Sgt. Lee R. Sheepwash, Headquarters Battery, 1st Battalion, 10th Marines, received the warrant from his Battalion commander, Maj. D. D. Meyers.

The sergeant's "invention" was not the only contributing factor for his promotion. He was also cited for performance of duty as Battalion Wire Communications Chief, his unusual display of personal initiative and his ability to translate original ideas into action.

July 9, 1920 — Major General Ben H. Fuller became the 15th Commandant of the Marine Corps.

While walking along the men saw the sentry being attacked and quickly rushed to his aid. The assailant had already taken charge of the sentry's weapon when they arrived. They wrestled the loaded rifle from him and kept him there at gun point until the arrival of the military police.

All three of the men were attributed with safeguarding the life of an injured sentry.

The Midway Park softball game last Sunday was a close one, with the home team winning by a score of six to five. The result was the result of the game. The game will meet again July 4.

The Officers Wives Club last year sponsored such large events as the Welcome Tea, the Christmas Bazaar, the Annual Sweetheart Ball, a Spring Fashion Show and the Installation Tea. These and many other events are designed primarily to include the husband.

New arrivals and those wives desiring to join this year should contact the Officers Wives Club hospitality chairman, Mrs. R. H. Barnard, at Base extension 6-6619. Mrs. Barnard can, in turn, further direct these wives to each group hospitality chairman.

Working with the OWC and in direct contact with the wives activities, the Paradise Point Sitting Service is available to members of the club or to associate members of the OWC. The fees charged at the Sitting Service are nominal, and must be paid in cash only.

In the past, any officers wife wishing to join the Camp Lejeune Officers Wives Club, could pay her annual membership due of $3 at the Paradise Point Sitting Service. However, the Board has decided that dues will no longer be taken at the Sitting Service but paid in September to the group treasurers instead.

Art Enjoyed By Children At School

"Mommy, look what I made!" Approximately 150 parents have had their sleeves tugged by their proud youngsters displaying projects they made in the Art and Water Color class series of the Junior Group Summer Youth Program conducted at Stone Street School under the direction of Mr. Clem Belcher, business teacher at Camp Lejeune High School.

Leading the students in their adventure in art are Miss Brenda Cale, 1st grade teacher at Midway Park School and her assistant, Miss Sandy Pridgen, '62 Camp Lejeune High graduate who plans to attend the University of Maryland in the fall.

Thus far, the youngsters have experimented in crayon resists, water color paintings, party hats and are now working on mobiles which are decorated centerpieces made of construction paper and hung from the ceiling.

Classes are an hour long and the children may participate in as many as three activities a day. They may not take the same course on Monday, Wednesday and Friday as Tuesday and Thursday. The same course is being offered at Tarawa Terrace School.

Children in the junior group are in Grades 1-4 of the past school year. The first period runs from June 18 through July 13. The second period is scheduled for July 30 through August 24. There is no late registration for either period. Cost of each four-week period is $3.00.

Sitting Service Free To Church - Goers

Parents, both officer and enlisted, are invited to leave their children at the Paradise Point Nursery, Bldg. 2624, free of charge while attending church services between 8:45 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. on Sunday. The nursery facilities are available to families of all faiths and children returning from Sunday School are welcome to stay until their parents return from church.

Operated by the Officers Wives Club, the sitting service is under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. Hampton and is supervised by Mrs. R. Johnson. Attendants are assigned in ratio to the number of children being cared for. Two attendants are always on hand.

Some of the features offered by the nursery are cribs, play pens and bottle warming facilities. Refreshments are served to the children each Sunday morning. The nursery has a large variety of harmless toys to entertain the younger set and a large fenced area is available outside for playing.

A special feature of the sitting service is the insurance covering each of the children. Attendants are required to possess health cards. For further information of the church sitting service, call the Paradise Point Nursery, 6-6723.

Hurricane Season Will Begin Soon; Get Ready Now

The hurricane season will begin soon on the Eastern seaboard. Both Camp Lejeune and the Marine Corps Air Facility have published disaster plans in the past which include dependent's areas during the dangerous storms.

While no hurricanes have been sighted yet by the hunters in the Caribbean, all Marines with dependents at Camp Lejeune are urged to acquaint themselves with shelter areas for families.

The GLOBE will publish a breakdown on shelter areas, what parents should bring with them to shelters and other pertinent information in the near future. This will be set up in such a way that it can be clipped from the paper and kept for permanent reference.

Through the Caribbean hurricane hunting system and the Aerology Section at the Air Facility, Camp Lejeune personnel will have ample warning of all tropical storms or hurricanes.

Major Bangs Away With Ancient Guns

Major James H. Landers, 2d Division assistant Embarkation officer, is a man who often sheds his Marine officer's uniform in favor of the pale gray garb of a private in the Confederate Army and "... loves every minute of it."

He is one of an estimated 50,000 avid gun collectors in the United States, many of whom are members of disinterred units which saw service in the war between the states.

Not only that, the Major has a private collection of antique firearms that would have equipped a fair sized fighting force of that era. He counts 137 rifles and revolvers in his private stock — some of which date back to the 1700's.

All of the weapons are serviceable, and he has used some of them to capture an assortment of medals that would fill three or four Civil War trunks completely.

Major Landers says he first became interested in the hobby of collecting ancient firearms while serving on the west coast in 1953. Since then he has traded, bought, sold, and bargained his way to his current private arsenal which includes an English flintlock pistol manufactured sometime around 1750. He also has a flintlock rifle, made in 1780, which he used to win the California State Championship for muzzle loaders in 1956.

Shortly after his transfer to the east coast, the Major "enlisted" in the 17th Virginia Infantry as a private. "It's an authentic outfit," he says. "The old 17th fought at the first battle of Bull Run in the opening days of the Civil War and later campaigned in Virginia with General Robert E. Lee."

The "modern" 17th numbers 45 members on its rolls. It is officered strictly by sergeants and corporals — all elected — since rules bar officers from taking active part in shooting competition against other units.

Competition is divided into various categories on National, Regional, Invitational, and Skirmish levels. Major/Private Landers has won medals in almost all.

"I've never had a chance to shoot at the Nationals," he commented. "They're fired twice a year, and my Marine Corps duties have always kept me away. But you never can tell..." he added.

Skirmishes are re-enactments of actual battles of the Civil War. Last year the major — once again as a private — took part in the first battle of Bull Run. "There were about 2500 men on the battlefield, including National Guardsmen," he recalls. Unlike the first battle which took place in 1861 and slaughtered thousands, last year's fight saw only one man injured. The casualty was an artilleryman who was injured by muzzle blast from his own weapon. "We had him in the hospital within minutes," the Major said.

"This is my favorite rifle," he says, hefting a nine pound Remington .58 caliber Union musket. "There's nothing unusual about a confederate soldier using a union weapon," he explained. "The South captured thousands of them during the early part of the war."

Using home-made ammunition the Major says he can get off about 10 aimed shots in three minutes. "I think 14 in three minutes is about the record," he says. Before firing, the shooter must bite the minie ball from the cartridge, pour the black powder down the muzzle, tamp it, insert the minie ball, tamp it, place the cap on the nipple, aim and fire. "Takes time," he says.

Race Driver To Give Safety Talks Here

Duane Carter, 12-time competitor in the Indianapolis "500" mile race will present the nationally-known Champion Highway Safety Program here July 9 through 11, at Goettge Memorial Field House. Hours for the program are 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., daily.

The program features famous race drivers, such as Carter, who draw heavily from their racing experiences to illustrate three basic points of safe driving: men-

Test Yourself; You May Need Driving Lessons

It has been proven that a lack of driving knowledge is one of the basic causes of traffic accidents. This quiz, prepared by 1st Sgt. P. V. Bailey and Cpl. B. L. Slatten of the Base Rifle Range Detachment, will help you analyze your own driving knowledge.

It is designed to cover the field of highway safety and does not depend upon the variations among existing state motor vehicle codes.

If you score 94 per cent or above you may smile about your driving knowledge (practice what you know); 85 through 93 per cent, you are average (better study a little); 75 through 84 per cent, you are a potential hazard on the highway (let's cure the situation); below 75 per cent—get off the road.

The test is in two parts. Answers for Part I will be printed in next week's GLOBE.

Score two points for each correct answer.

1. Fatigue has an effect on a driver's ability to see clearly and accurately.
2. A right turn on a four-lane highway should be made from the lane nearest the center line.
3. New non-skid tires prevent all skidding on slippery roads.
4. All modern hydraulic brakes never need adjustments.
5. When driving in a heavy fog, it is best to turn on the lower headlight beam.
6. The speed you should drive your car at night is the speed that will allow you to stop within the distance you can see ahead.
7. One can always depend upon a hand signal to tell exactly what the driver ahead is going to do.
8. When making a right turn, the driver has the right-of-way over pedestrians in the crosswalk of the street into which he is turning.
9. The amount of alcohol consumed by a driver is his own business.
10. Increasing a car's speed from 30 to 40 miles per hour lengthens the braking distance approximately four times.
11. When both a policeman and a traffic light are at an intersection, you should obey the traffic light rather than the policeman.
12. Most motor vehicle accidents are caused by the defective mechanical condition of the automobile.
13. A good way to reduce automobile insurance rates is to reduce the number of motor vehicle accidents.
14. A modern automobile with adequate brakes and good tires going 40 miles per hour will be able to stop within 50 feet.
15. The following is the Correct Procedure for a non-emergency stop: Check on traffic to front and rear, give hand stop signal, let up on the gas, gradually apply brakes as road condition permits, then reduce brake pressure as speed is reduced for a smooth even stop.
16. When a car begins to skid, it is best to press down the clutch and apply the brakes.
17. When a tire goes flat on a rural highway, the motorist should stop immediately with the flat tire on the pavement to protect the tire and have a good surface for the jack.
18. If a driver injures a pedestrian along a highway, his first responsibility is to notify the Police Department.
19. Before driving off you should check traffic all around you to insure that it is safe to move.
20. All states laws require following auto to stop to the rear of School Buses halted for the loading or unloading of children.
21. Fresh snow may conceal an icy road surface.
22. All of the following rules of driving should always be obeyed: Keep your vehicle under control at all times, signal well in advance of changing direction or stopping, drive at speed determined by existing conditions of road, weather, traffic and visibility.
23. You should always give the right-of-way to a pedestrian whether he be jay-walking or crossing at a crosswalk.
24. A driver who constantly drives 40 mph in 55 mph zones is considered a safety hazard on the highway.
