Area Officials To Be Saluted At Ball Game

Miss Onslow County, Carolyn Simpkins and Miss Jacksonville, Jane Maynard, have been added to the list of honored guests scheduled to attend the baseball game between Camp Lejeune and the Fort Lee Travelers June 29. Game time is 7 p.m.

The game will be held in honor of all residents of Onslow County, initiating the first Jacksonville-Onslow County Day, introduced by the Base commanding general.

The special day was established by Base officials as an expression of esteem and appreciation for the hospitality and neighborliness extended to Marines and their families by the leaders and citizens of the Jacksonville-Onslow County community.

City and county officials slated to attend the game are Mayors W. R. Page Jr., Jacksonville, Ted Mercer, Richlands; Carl Milstead, Swansboro; and Gerald Hines, Holly Ridge; Onslow County Commissioner, Oscar Brower, and Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce president, John Covington.

Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, Base commander, will deliver the opening and dedicating speech and Mayor Page will throw out the first ball. The 2d Division Band will provide music between innings.

The program will be re-scheduled for the following evening in case of inclement weather.

Base, Area Plan Big Doings On Fourth

Camp Lejeune is readying for one of the biggest 4th of July celebrations ever held here.

Thousands of Marines, their dependents and civilian visitors are expected to crowd the docks at Wallace Creek Boathouse for the opening festivities 9:30 Wednesday morning. An all-day water carnival featuring boat races, acrobatic water skiing and various water demonstrations will be presented.

Attention will move to the Base Parade Ground at 6 p.m. that night for a concert by the 2d Division Band and an all-aerial fireworks exhibition. The Camp Cafeteria will be set up on the field, selling picnic chicken dinners from 6 to 8 p.m.

There will be various 4th of July celebrations conducted off-base within the immediate vicinity of Camp Lejeune.

Marines Join Hunt For Missing Civilian

Twenty-five Marines from the 1st Battalion, 2d Marines, reported to the Jacksonville Chief of Police early Tuesday to aid in looking for a missing civilian.

The man, Arnold Humphrey, 83, was reported missing at 4:45 p.m. Monday to the Onslow County Sheriff's Office. Humphrey had been picking berries with several of his friends in an area known as Hoffman Forest. The forest, just off of Gum Branch Road, covers an area of 120,000 acres of mostly dense undergrowth.

Two helicopters from MAG-26 have also been looking for the missing man. One plane, flown by 1st Lt. Charles Connor, looked for the man Monday until dark. Tuesday both Lieutenant Connor and Lt. Col. Richard L. Nickerson, MAG-26 executive officer, returned to the area and began their low-flying search again.

Under the immediate command of Sgt. Harry A. Zimmerman, Company "C," 1st Battalion, 2d Marines, the Marines joined 200 civilians who had been looking through Monday night. Members of the Jacksonville Rescue Squad have been standing by since 8 p.m. Monday to give immediate aid once Humphrey is found.

As of 11:45 a.m., June 26, no notification of the success of the search had been received by this office.

"HEY, MISTER, when is the ball field going to be done?" Children ask driver Sgt. D. D. Matheny of 2d Pioneer Bn. John McQuire, Mark Monaco, Russell Luke, Jr., and Walter Collier eagerly await their new ball field being built by Marines.

Pioneer's Training Pays Off For Kids

Bulldozers crashing through heavy brush, tall pines tumbling under axes, men of the 2d Pioneer Battalion sweating under June sun — this is the scene as Pioneers move out in full swing, making improvements around the Camp Lejeune area.

As part of on-the-job training, Company "A", 2d Pioneer Bn., under the command of Capt. J. W. Perrin, set about clearing more than 360,000 square feet of area for one football field and four softball fields, at the Stone Street Elementary School. They will be used by the dependent school children of Camp Lejeune Marines.

At the present time the children have only one small, inadequate playground.

At the G-4 range, Marines of Company "B", 2d Pioneer Bn., under the command of 1st Lt. S. S. Ratcliff, are adding two more quonset huts to the one that is already there. The huts will be used as classrooms for Land Mine Warfare and Demolition Schools. Once each year Marines of 2d Pioneers go to these schools along with Marines of other units.

Another Pioneer project is reconstruction and addition of five more targets to the D-30 live fire pistol range. The new range will accommodate an entire battalion for requalification.

Capt. M. V. Wilkerson, Jr., Commanding Officer of Company "C", 2d Bn., said, "The range will be completed, and open to all Camp Lejeune units, in late June 1962."

Division Rifle Team Wins State Match

Lejeune-based 2d Marine Division's Red team, captained by SSgt. E. A. Gee, fired a 975x1,000-76 "V" to take the North Carolina State Resident Trophy for high power match rifle competition last Sunday. Coaching the team was SSgt. John Harvey. Other members were Cpl. R. A. Lolmaugh and GySgt. D. R. Jones.

The Second Army Marksmanship Unit from Fort Benning, Ga., took the Non-Resident trophy after firing a 978x1,000, and was coached by Capt. James G. Brannon, also of Fort Benning.

Other teams which participated were: Force Troops and Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, U. S. Coast Guard from Cape May, N. J., and Army teams from Fort Eustis, Fort Bragg, and Fort Belvoir.

Marine Finds 'Grass Not So Green,' Ships

Cpl. Michael T. Wsiaki, formerly of 2d Force Recon Co., Force Troops, reenlisted in the Marine Corps on June 17, 89 days after being discharged. Wsiaki, who was discharged on March 2 through an early cut, said the only reason he could give for leaving the Corps was that, "It seemed like a good idea at the time. All I did while I was home was collect unemployment insurance. It was nice doing nothing, but I decided to come back. It was just a coincidence that I came back only one day before I would have lost my rank and bonus, because I would have come back anyway."

Cpl. Wsiaki spent three of his four years in the Marine Corps in 2d Force Recon Co., the unit he hopes to rejoin. He was a member of the 3d Recon Platoon as a Recon Team Leader and is hoping to regain the position. Wsiaki reenlisted in the Marine Corps for four years.

June 26, 1891 — The Marine Corps Post at Port Royal (now Parris Island), South Carolina, was established.

MAG 'Drag' Team Is Winning Quartet

The constant race against time, Mid-West Class "SA" Stock Class National Championship with a 1958 Chevrolet, and has competed on both dirt and asphalt tracks.

Bloser, a helicopter pilot attached to MAG-26, New River, is a drag racer by hobby. He has been driving his 1962 409-Chevrolet convertible in local drag competition since December 1961 and attests he "can't get enough".

"Dutch" and his racing cohorts, Cpls. Marian "Baldy" Hollaway as second driver and mechanic and mechanics Walter "Happy" Faul and LCpl. Arthur "Peaches" Fortier keep the car in constant competition. To date the team has raced against time at Raleigh, Holly Ridge and Concord in North Carolina; Miami, and Daytona Raceways in Florida and the York Drag Strip in Pennsylvania.

Their "white monster", as the car is affectionately called, is equipped with a four-speed dual grip rear-end and the same engine used by cars at Daytona and the "World 600" at Charlotte, N. C. The car has been clocked at 106 mph with an elapsed time of 13.46 for the standard quarter-mile from a standing start.

The team has won a first and second place in Super Stock at the Holly Ridge track and a second and third in the Super Stock at the Kinston track. In addition they have won two first places, one each in the "B" Gas event at Holly Ridge and Kinston and two second places at the Kinston track in the "B" Gas event.

While the White Monster is idling, Dutch and his crew race a Curtis Craft aluminum sports car powered by a 392 cubic inch Chrysler engine for Fred Sutton Jr., of Kinston. This has been clocked at 116 mph with an elapsed time of 11.5.

All of the team members have had previous experience in racing, but Dutch tops them all. He's been on the road since he was 16. He won the 1959 Southeast and South

HMM-262 Returns After Five Months

The detachment of HMM-262, MAG-26, commanded by Maj. Charles N. Sims Jr., has returned from the Mediterranean where they were deployed for five months with the U. S. Sixth Fleet. They were relieved by a new complement of men under the command of Maj. Harold V. Larson, of same squadron.

During the five months, Sims led his detachment in major amphibious exercises numerous smaller ones. The of these took place at Porto Bay, Sardinia. There, they formed a joint amphibious landing with the 3d Battalion, 2d Marine Division. While in this vicinity, members of Sub Unit-2 were given tours in Naples, Genoa, Livorno and Santo Spirito, Italy.

From Italy, they moved east towards the island of Crete off the Greek mainland. Here the combined Hellenic and U. S. Marines made a second amphibious assault landing to witness the exercise of the Prince of Greece and a number of other Greek government officials. Upon completion of the exercise, the men enjoyed a full day of liberty in Athens, Greece, where they were granted four days of leave on Corfu, an island just off the mainland.

En route to their third exercise they made a brief landing in Tunisia.

Before heading home, they made a six-day stop-over in Barcelona, Spain. On the island of Mallorca, the Spanish coast, the detachment was officially relieved by the new detachment from HMM-262.

While in the Mediterranean, 22 officers and 99 enlisted men of HMM-262 broke the night record of LST-1171, USS LST-1171, USS LST-1171, County. They made an unprecedented 154 landings in approximately two hours.

June 21, 1900 — A detachment commanded by Maj. Little T. Waller, of the 1st Marine Division, joined Russian troops in unsuccessful effort to relieve beleaguered legations in Tientsin, China.

Mom, Billy's Coat May Be At School

You can't find your son's favorite sweater and your little girl misplaced her overcoat and a set of gloves last December?

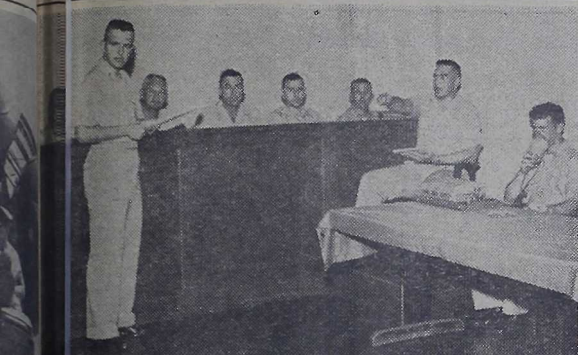

If so, W. H. Tuck, Superintendent, Camp Schools, may have the answer to your problem. According to Tuck, the many articles of clothing and equipment which have been misplaced on school property will be on display beginning Monday, July 2, and will continue through Friday, July 16, from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily in the Brewster School auditorium.

All unclaimed items will be donated to Navy Relief or the Thrift Shop.

Realistic Methods Gain Legal Group

that no Marine in the Division is without legal counsel. The job of the Division Legal Group is to provide legal assistance to all Marines in the Division.

More than 750 clients were served by the legal assistance group during the last six months and many more telephone consultations brought helpful information to Division Marines.

In the office there are four sections — administrative, defense, and trial counsel. There is also a section for annual basic legal indoctrination and court reporting course in addition to the regular section duties.

According to Major Charles R. Larouche, Division Legal Officer, the enlisted men of the section are a highly skilled and intelligent group. The Major commented that these clerks have acquired enough legal experience to lift a large portion of the administrative work load and assist the office in moving efficiently.

What does it take to be a good legal clerk? SSgt. A. R. Bonacci, Assistant Legal Chief, explained it this way. "The qualifications for our legal school speak for themselves — high school graduates only, GCT 110, type 35 words per minute and have a yen for hard, exacting work."

"Since we are the only trained lawyers within the Division," said Major Darouche, "our telephones are going constantly, sometimes with two or three conversations at once."

He related an example, "I was talking to a battalion commander when a second phone began to ring. It was the Base Legal Office with a pressing problem. I excused myself from the first conversation, and began talking with the second, when a third phone in the outer office began to ring. It was the Chief of Staff with an urgent request. I had three conversations going at once, and when I finally finished these three, the phone wasted no time in ringing again."

Major Larouche described the purpose of the legal assistance program. "A Marine with financial, or perhaps, domestic problems is subject to low morale, inefficiency, and more than likely over-concerned with a problem that could probably be solved by a legal specialist."

Lcdr. William H. Gottshal, Division Law Specialist, stressed the importance of getting legal advice when the Marine first realizes he has a problem.

"If he comes to us initially, we can usually keep him out of serious entanglements, but if it is put off until the last minute, we are not always able to help."

Wreck Leads Pop To Buy Seat Belts

An angry sergeant at Camp Lejeune has added seat belts as the result of an accident in which his wife was injured recently in Jacksonville.

"She was pitched all over the car," says Sgt. J. A. Moore of the Division photo lab. "Her car was struck from behind and shoved 300 yards down highway 17, across the center stripe and into the oncoming lane. Luckily she didn't hit another car."

Mrs. Moore is a statistic in the growing column of accidents at Camp Lejeune which have taken the lives of 19 Marines at a cost of $107,399 in property damages.

Seat belts saved the lives of two Marines from Camp Lejeune in May although the driver has been charged with reckless driving. The Marine was driving approximately 70 miles an hour when his car left the road and rolled, according to State Highway patrolmen who investigated the accident.

So far this year 76 Marines and sailors have been hospitalized at the Naval Hospital as the result of injuries received in accidents. Five others were dead on arrival. Eleven of the 76 admitted are still in the hospital. No figures are available on the number of civilians or dependents treated at the hospital for traffic injuries.

While it is impossible to say how many of the injuries would have been less if seat belts had been worn, traffic experts say that seat belts reduce the chance for injury by 30 percent. Seat belts are available at the Base Service Station and installation can be made almost immediately. Patrons can leave their cars in the morning and pick them up in the afternoon.

Your Checklist for Boating Safety

Millions of Americans have discovered a new world of fun on the nation's waterways. Boating is even more fun if the skipper, his mate and the whole crew know their craft is properly equipped. Here's a checklist on the items of boating equipment recommended by marine safety experts. How does your boat check out?

Keep Boating a Safe Family Recreation

Observe National Safe Boating Week—July 1-7, 1962

Pause For A Moment On The Fourth, Think!

Next Wednesday Marines throughout the Quad-Command will have the day off. Some will go to the beach, some to Base-sponsored activities and many will just loaf at home.

How many will consider the day and the things for which it stands?

In our changing and often uncertain world we need now, more than ever, a clear understanding of our country and the principles for which it stands. And, in our understanding, we must be able to pass these principles on to our children.

We must know the difference between our form of government and those political ideologies which would make slaves of men. We must understand these well enough to arm our children against them in the future.

We must understand and accept the sacrifices made by Americans in the past which have helped keep us a free nation. We must be willing to make the same sacrifices and help our children be strong enough to do the same.

We must accept the fact that our country, as a leader of free nations, has given each of us as Marines and American citizens, additional burdens of responsibility. We must be willing to accept this.

We must realize that ours is a dangerous occupation, fraught with uncertainty in our times and that we may be called upon to stand physically between our enemies and our people. We must be able to instill in our own people the courage needed should such a situation arise.

We must look back, with honest pride, at a history which has given us a heritage so free and wonderful that nothing like it has ever existed before. We must protect this heritage for future generations.

We must understand and teach our children to understand that these are not empty words:

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

We celebrate the Fourth of July with crackling fireworks, reminiscent of the crackle of musketry which flamed along the rail fences of Concord and Lexington so long ago. We honor the men who formed our country, stating to the world that "... We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

Each year on this day, the Fourth of July, whether we consciously consider it or not, we are pausing to reaffirm to the world that these words, written in 1776 by the first Americans, are honored and protected by men who do not intend to be the last Americans.

Teach your children this as our fathers and their fathers taught us.

Pay tribute to the spirit of the Fourth of July. It is not really a holiday.

If You Ask Me:

WHAT QUESTION WOULD YOU LIKE ANSWERED IN "IF YOU ASK ME?"

SSGT. R. E. FISCHER, Service Co., H&S Bn., MCB—There being so many young Marines aboard Camp Lejeune, I think the local (battalion level) Special Services should purchase more athletic equipment for their use to keep them in shape. The question I would like to see asked in the "If You Ask Me" column is, "What do you think of your unit's Special Services?" Then recommendations could be submitted to the Special Services Officer.

GYSGT. THOMAS A. McKNIGHT, Service Co., H&S Bn., MCB—I would like to see the following question asked in "If You Ask Me": "Should Camp Lejeune go on daylight saving time and why?" It would provide more time for off-hours recreation with the family outdoors. Another good one would be, "How about staggering working hours more to alleviate morning and evening traffic congestion?" Or "How about a greater emphasis on sports activities such as publishing a weekly schedule of forthcoming activities like the movie schedule to include the Little League, etc.

PFC JOAN HEADRICK, WM Company—The question I would like answered in "If You Ask Me" is, "What type of entertainment would you like added to what is already available at Camp Lejeune?" I would like this question answered because I think that Camp Lejeune does need a little more social entertainment, especially in the winter time. I have found that a Woman Marine who is dating an E-3 or below doesn't have much choice of where they will go and what they will do, especially if her date doesn't own a car. Maybe if several people made a few suggestions something could be done.

GYSGT. H. A. FORVENDEL, Service Co., H&S Bn., MCB—I would like to see general information about Camp Lejeune used as a topic for the "If You Ask Me" column questions. More questions should be asked how people enjoy a use our numerous facilities. Each question should be asked from a great variety of people, Division, Base and Force Troops. I would suggest asking, "Why don't more people this area use the recreational facilities that are available?"

PFC DONNA R. GROSS, WM Company—I would like to have this question asked in the "If You Ask Me" column: "What are the men's pet peeves towards their dates such as the way they dress, wear their make-up and act?" The answer to this question would help all of us girls to know what a man expects of his date. I know a lot of girls who would really like to know but are bashful to ask their date, and this would be a good way for them to find out directly.

Chaplain's Corner

WHAT'S HAPPENING TO US?

A lot of people are "dying to get out of the Corps nowadays." They can't wait! They cross off the days on the calendar each morning before they get out of the rack, so great is their anticipation to be relieved of the most distasteful station of their life to have to wear uniform of the military service.

What a chore, what a bore, to have to serve Uncle Sam for two, three, or four years! We say it's an inconvenience, breaks into our education plans, career plans, love plans, family plans, etc.

And yet, all we do is play games, do a few other routine chores, and suffer a little harassment since everyone is lolling under some sort of pressure to do a job in a little better manner than we doing it.

I guess the "lucky ones" are already dead, sleeping under little white crosses on beaches all over the world. They fought in Iwo Jima, in Korea, in Normandy, and a lot of other places. They were young, too!

But—no inconvenience! Education, career, family, love—all taken care of. —no harassment! They're not dying, get out—they're already dead!

How much of an inconvenience is it? Years of harassment really, by comparison to a little white cross-marker somewhere?

"Soldiers Of The Sea," Col. R. D. Heintz's controversial history of the Marine Corps, has just been released for publication by the Department of Defense.

Originally scheduled for publication last fall by the U. S. Naval Institute, the 700-page history was held up in clearance on the grounds it raised old ghosts of inter-service rivalries. However, the Defense Department has now decided to allow publication of the history. It will be published as originally written by the author.

Controversy started over the volume, which the author was six years in writing, when a chapter titled "The Right To Fight" was submitted for routine clearance as an article to be used in the November issue of Naval Institute Proceedings, a monthly magazine published by the Naval Institute. The article was turned down twice by Defense Department authorities largely on the inter-service rivalry issue, but was passed after a third examination. Then the whole of "Soldiers Of The Sea" was cleared.

Sgt. Maj. Thomas J. McHugh will be officially installed in the office of Sergeant Major of the Marine Corps at a formal parade and review to be held at the Marine Barracks, 8th and Eye, Washington, D. C., June 29.

He will relieve the present Sergeant Major of the Marine Corps, Francis D. Rauber, who has held the post since Sept. 1, 1959. Sergeant Rauber retires June 28.

SSgt. E. D. B.
2d Division I

Battalion Landing 2/6 ended a full-scale amphibious training here today. It marked the first landing made by the BLT since it assumed the landing force of the Sixth Fleet on June 1.

The five-day exercise was directed by Lt. Col. Dwyer Jr., commander of the BLT.

Observers of the amphibious assault included General Rafael Ariza, so, Military Governor of the Almeria Region, and the Spanish Marine and Naval Officers watching the exercise. Twelve midshipmen from the U.S. Naval Academy and Naval Reserve Training Candidates were also present.

The landing was preceded by a night reconnaissance patrol of the landing area and inland terrain. The 2d Recon Battalion Reconmen slipped under cover of darkness before the landing. After completing the reconnaissance mission, the platoon occupied positions to await the main force.

One hour before the landing, a simulated enemy line of low helicopters was used to lift "H" Company to enemy lines. With the company divided into two sections, it occupied its assigned area (the old remains of the city).

Meanwhile, Navy-based close-air-support aircraft in support of the Marines moving inland. At H-hour "E" Company landed on Blue Beach and moved inland to seize objectives Two, and Three. The company, initially in tractors and occupying Four and the overland to effect the unit.

The forces moved inland and by 10:00 a.m. after H-Hour, all objectives were reported captured.

The next day commenced extending ashore. Training day and night tactics, tank-infantry paratroops, counter operations with a ten-mile conditioning for all hands, and training for units.

The landing gave a chance to conduct a scale workout with amphibious partner units. The exercise, Col. Dwyer said, that it gave the Marines a chance to

Sixth Fleet Marine Teams Go Into Action In Valencia

Athletic teams of BLT 2/6 tasted their first action since assuming duties at the Mediterranean landing force of the Sixth Fleet while visiting Valencia, Spain.

In two sporting events with teams from local schools the Marine basketball team swept to a 43-33 win while the Navy-Marine soccer team lost by the lopsided score of 17-1.

Led by the good backboard work of 1st Lt. T. J. Harrington and Cpl. David O. Walker, the Marine quintet had an easy evening and led at halftime, 23-13. The Spaniards and a relaxed Marine team split the second half with 20 points apiece.

Pfc Daniel M. Orlowski, captain of the Marine team, said, "Although basketball is a comparatively new sport in Spain, the youngsters displayed some expert ball handling and were very fast." He pointed out that although the Marine team was put together on the spur of the moment and hadn't a chance to practice together, they were a lot older and more experienced than their opponents.

In addition to Orlowski, Harrington, and Walker, the team included Pfc Paul E. Kinney, Pfc Gerald J. Panikowski, Pfc Melvin D. Carter, Cpl. Bill Wade, and 1st Lt. Carl A. Feddeler, Jr.

Following the game, Pfc Orlowski presented Ramon Requeni, captain of the Spanish team, with the basketball used by the Marines. Requeni said that the school would keep the ball as a treasured memento and thanked the Marines for the good basketball lesson.

In the soccer game the shoe was on the other foot and the Spanish youngsters had something to cheer about as they defeated the Navy-Marine team 17-1.

No match for the experienced Valencia youths, the Americans' only goal came late in the second half when 1st Lt. Andy Kelly managed to get one past the goalie. Lieutenant Kelly was one of only a few Americans on the team who had played soccer before. He had played while attending Westchester State College in Pennsylvania. Kelly praised the excellent coordinated scoring attacks and ball control of the young team.

Soccer is the national spectator sport of Spain. Children learn to use their head, shoulders and feet in controlling a ball before they learn to use their hands.

Woman Marine Champion Bowls With Original Ball

By LCPL. SHARON ADOMAT

It's a woman's world . . . even at the bowling alley.

When a friend gave GySgt. June Crowel, Administrative Chief of Woman Marine Co., her first bowling ball in 1953, she couldn't have possibly realized just what would happen nine years later.

With this same ball, and incidentally, the only one she has ever used, GySgt. Crowel rolled a 3,367 total pinfall including a high game of 232 to capture top honors for the ladies division in the 8th annual All-Marine Bowling Championship for 1962.

What was her reaction upon hearing she took top honors in the event? "I was very surprised. Last year I didn't even place."

While attending high school in Chagrin Falls, Ohio, she was very active in sports and took an interest in softball, basketball and volleyball. In her senior year at Chagrin

Falls High School, she earned three school letters, one in sport in which she participated. After graduation, sports were no longer a part of her everyday life. Her concentration was around her busy work schedule. Upon joining the Marine Corps in 1945, she again became an enthusiast.

Sergeant Crowel is no "average" when it comes to bowling. Nine trophies during the 1961-62 season prove, but she considers no professional either. Her first high game of 234 came at Quantico where she joined the NCO mixed league and the Wives league.

This year, as well as last, she is bowling in three leagues: the Jacksonville Women's Association which takes up her free time. When she is working or league bowling, practicing to improve her

Asked what kind of helpful suggestions she can give to beginners, she replied, "Learn to roll a straight ball full control. Don't get discouraged or give up too soon. Just remember, there's always a better ball. Not even professionals can beat the ball all the time. Be slow and learn the form for rolling the ball."

Eating Our Own Words

Looks as though we bit off just a little more than we can chew when we stated two weeks ago that the U. S. Track and Field Team selected for the National AAU Championships was one of the best teams ever put together by the Armed Services and was one of the best teams entered in the meet.

The 15 Marine athletes that arrived at Walnut, Calif., for the two-day affair, only three performers finished among the top three in individual events.

It was not lost, however, as Cary Weisiger of Quantico was the best performer of his career, finishing third in the mile behind Jim Beatty and Jim Grelle. Beatty's time was 3:57.9, which tied the championship record set by Elliott in 1958, while Grelle and Weisiger finished fourth and third respectively with equal times of 3:58.1.

Another outstanding performance for a Marine was by Quantico's Nick Kovalakides finishing second in the javelin with a toss of 245 feet, 10 inches, losing by just one foot to Dan Studney of San Jose State.

The York of Camp Pendleton and Mel Schwarz of Lejeune finished third and fifth in the pole vault. Winner of the event was an also-ran to the York-Uelses duels earlier this season, Ron Morris, of the Southern California Striders. He cleared 16 feet, 1/4-inch for a new championship.

What happened to the other eleven Marine athletes? We don't know. As far as we know, they may still be running...

Talking About Karate

On Tuesday evening I had the pleasure of being present at a karate demonstration by the Camp Lejeune Karate Club and watched a karate enthusiast, Peter Musacchio, complete his rigorous test for Shodan (black belt, first degree). It was a nice exhibition to watch, but a guy could get out there.

Sgt. S. D. Pearson, chief instructor for the Lejeune club, said as the demonstration proceeded that even in demonstrations where punches and kicks are held back, there is a danger of being knocked unconscious or even being hospitalized. He also explained that only one-third of the students who enroll in a course ever complete the first six weeks.

Requires Concentration

The club practices every evening, except Sunday, in the gymnasium, and visitors are always welcome to attend. If you want to pursue both a mental and physical activity, karate is the sport for you.

Agency For Wildlife Control Offered By Defense Dept.

Wildlife and game conservation can be made annually by the Department of Defense to the establishment conducting outstanding conservation work during the preceding calendar year. The program will consist of two awards to be inscribed with the name of the winning installation and retained in the Secretary of Defense's office and the other to be presented to the winner for permanent display.

The policies and procedures for the awarding of military conservation medals were established last February by the Department of Defense Directive 1045.01, Public Law 797 of the 85th Congress.

The features of the directive include the opening of military lands to civilian hunters and fishermen on those posts where hunting and fishing do not interfere with the post's mission. The directive also requires that the managers of all installations develop conservation programs, enter into cooperative agreements with local, state, and federal officials and regional officials of the Fish and Wildlife Service in the states where the land is located.

Varsity Eyes Conference Lead As They Meet Ft. Lee Friday

Boasting a three-game winning streak, the Camp Lejeune varsity baseball team has a chance to move closer to the East Coast Interservice Conference title when they face the Fort Lee Travellers tomorrow night in the first game of a two-game series.

Game time for tomorrow's contest has been moved up to 7 p.m., to allow for the pre-game ceremonies proclaiming Friday as Jacksonville-Onslow County day at Camp Lejeune. (See Page 1 for details.)

These two games with Lee were scheduled as non-conference tilts, but due to early season rained-out games, they have been rescheduled as conference games.

Probable starter for the Jacksonville-Onslow County game for the Marines will be either Jim Goodrich (6-0) or Vic Johnson (4-2). Gil Downs of Fort Lee, who has two wins over the Lejeune nine, will probably start for the Lee-men.

Lejeune - 18 Raleigh Jets - 5

Lejeune started on their winning streak last week by trouncing the Raleigh Jets, 18-5. Bill "Pappy" Harrington pitched five complete innings giving up three runs. Jim Goodrich came on in the sixth with the score tied at 3-3, and was relieved with one out in the ninth by Vince Russo, after giving up two runs. Goodrich got the victory, his sixth of the season, without a loss.

Cliff Simpson was the hitting star of the game, going four for five, including two triples and a double.

Lejeune - 9 Henderson AC - 2

Behind two-hit pitching by Jack Davis, the Lejeune nine scored their second in a row by downing Henderson Athletic Club, 9-2.

Davis was the individual star of the game, striking out 15 Henderson batters while only walking four. The husky left-hander boosted his strike-out total to 76 for the season in 68.2 innings. The victory was his fourth of the year, against an even number of losses.

Simpson again led Lejeune at the plate with his second straight four-for-five-night.

Lejeune - 9 Raleigh Tigers - 2

Alex Bright, Lejeune's top hurler, boosted his season strike-out total to 127 in 108 innings by adding 14 to that total to post his eighth win of the season over the Raleigh Tigers, 9-2.

The Tigers, Negro American League Champs last year, opened scoring in the first by driving two runs across.

After the first, Bright settled down to go the rest of the way without any trouble.

Lejeune busted the game wide open by scoring five big runs in the third inning. They added four more in the eighth to wrap up the scoring.

Tuesday's game against the Raleigh Tigers was postponed because of rain.

Lejeune Marine Awarded Black Belt By Karate Club

Fifteen months of continuous training in the art of Shorin-Ryu Karate finally paid off for LCpl. Peter Musacchio of HqCo., Force Troops when he became the first member of the Camp Lejeune Karate Club elevated to the rank of Shodan (black belt, 1st degree) during promotion contests last week.

"It took all of my free time during my 15 months with the club but it was worth every minute of it," stated Musacchio after he was presented his belt by club instructor, Sgt. S. D. Pearson.

The 23-year-old lance corporal explained that he practiced every day of the week when the club headquarters was located in Jacksonville. When they moved aboard the base he practiced every day except Sunday.

Joining the Marine Corps in November of 1959, Musacchio decided to study karate as a self defense angle. Although he has not won any awards, he has never been beaten in competition.

"I was confident that LCpl. Musacchio was capable of passing the test for Shodan," Sgt. Pearson explained later. "This man had enthusiasm to learn karate the day he registered with the club and it has stayed with him throughout his climb to Shodan." "In one practice round," Sgt. Pearson continued, "Musacchio dislocated his collar-bone, re-set it himself, dislocated it a second time and re-set it to complete the session. That takes a great deal of fortitude."

To pass the requirements for Shodan, the individual must be well versed, knowing 18 different forms or movements. These forms include fighting with knives, sticks, chains, feet, and hands plus others.

There are some 96 such forms in the complete karate repertoire. However, only a karate master knows and can execute all of them.

The conclusion of the test consisted of the black belt candidate fighting and beating every member of the club, junior to him.

Karate must be explained or, better yet, seen to be believed. It is a rugged sport with few niceties of the better-known Oriental practice of Judo. Karate has few throws, such as are associated with Judo, and is mostly a series of blows with the hands, arms, elbows, knees, and feet, or any implement that the man can get his hands on at the time, designed to kill or disable the opponent.

Shorin Ryu Karate, as taught by Sgt. Pearson, is derived from a form of oriental fist fighting combined with Kempo, a style of self-defense brought to Okinawa by Chinese Pirates some 680 years ago.

Logistic Work Nets White 'Well Done'

MSgt. John T. White, H&S Co., 2d AmTrac Bn., was commended by his battalion commander, Lt. Col. J. P. Treadwell, at a meritorious mast on June 13.

MSgt. White has been assigned duty as Battalion Logistics Chief for more than one year. When he was assigned this job, he had almost no background knowledge or experience in the field of logistics. By diligent application, constant attention to duty, self study and sincere interest in his work he has become exceptionally proficient in his duties as logistics chief.

White attained a thorough knowledge of the logistic function within the Battalion and has contributed heavily to the solution of problem areas and thereby reduced the work load of others associated with the logistic, supply, fiscal and embarkation fields.

The commendation was made, a permanent part of the sergeant's service record book.

Leathercraft Skills Taught Junior Youth Group

Elizabeth Fulghum, supervisor of the Tarawa Terrace junior youth group of the Camp Lejeune Youth Program, is not in a predicament as the "old shoe" for she knows exactly what to do with the almost 100 pairs of shoes entrusted to her care.

Fulghum is a kindergarten teacher at St. Ann's Episcopal Parsonage and has been working on the summer youth program for the past four years.

The group is composed of the majority of the youth offered this year. They are learning weaving, leathercraft and basket weaving. Each class is an hour long and they may participate in as many as three activities a day. They will not take the same course twice, Wednesday and Friday and Thursday.

The first period runs from 8:45 a.m. to 10:15 a.m. and the second from 10:15 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. The third period is scheduled for July 13 through July 14. There is no session for either period. Each four-week period is supervised by Betty Bryant, a junior at ECC. Betty is also majoring in primary education.

A similar program is being held at Stone Street School.

Explorers Go West Camping

Three Onslow County Boy Scouts took Horace Greeley's advice and "went West" last week for a two-week camping expedition at the 127,000-acre Philmont Scout Ranch located in the mountains of New Mexico.

The dude cowboys from the East include Eagle Scout Bob Dizney, 15, son of Maj. and Mrs. Charles F. Dizney; Life Scout Chuck Pearson, 15, son of Maj. and Mrs. T. W. Pearson and Life Scout Bill Sundholm, 14, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. J. E. Sundholm.

Enroute to and from Camp Philmont, the boys will take the opportunity to tour the Southeast and Southwest. First stop after leaving Camp Charles will be Dobbins AFB, Marietta, Ga.; from Dobbins the boys will head for Keesler AFB at Biloxi, Miss.; and after a short stop in New Orleans, on to Ellington AFB near Houston, Texas.

Next on the itinerary is a visit to the San Jacinto Battlefield Monument and the Battleship Texas Shrine and after a short stop at the Alamo, on to Laughlin AFB in Del Rio, Texas.

Close to their destination, the boys will cross the Rio Grande into Old Mexico for souvenirs and leave early for the Carlsbad Caverns and the next day check in at Camp Philmont.

From June 29 to July 8 the boys will be "on the trail."

Homeward bound, the boys will leave July 9 for Amarillo AFB at Amarillo, Texas. From Amarillo they will head for the National Guard Armory in Oklahoma City for an evening of fun at the largest amusement park in the Southwest.

Lookout Mountain is the next landmark on the agenda and from Chattanooga back to Camp Charles where the by then, old cowhands, will be met by their parents.

Philmont Scout Ranch is located in the Rocky Mountains near Cimarron, N. M. The ranch and mountain property were given to the Boy Scouts of America by Waite Phillips, a Tulsa, Okla., oil executive, to provide a "large exciting area where Explorers and Senior Scouts from every part of the nation could enjoy the thrill of western camping."

Navy Capt. Gives Oath To Daughter

In the Navy it's "like father — like daughter" at least for the Harry Fridley family. This month Captain Fridley, USN, commanding officer of 4th Dental Co., Force Troops, administered the oath of office to his daughter, Sheila Claire, when she became an Ensign in the Nurse Corps, U. S. Naval Reserve.

Ceremonies were conducted at the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, Washington, D. C., the day after she graduated from Georgetown University School of Nursing.

Ensign Fridley, a graduate of Holy Name Academy, Silver Spring, Md., was selected to participate in the Navy Nurse Corps Candidate Program at the completion of her junior year of study at Georgetown University.

After a period of leave Miss Fridley will report to the U. S. Naval Officer Indoctrination School in Newport, R. I., for an eight week period. Upon graduation from Newport she will report to the station of her choice for duty at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va.

Day Camp Offers Scouts Nature Study In Woods

"Sea Shore Beavers," "Bizzy Bees," "Driftwood Whittlers," and "The Explorers" sound like names Brownie and Intermediate Scouts might choose for camping unit titles and that's just what they are.

Campsite for the Onslow County-Camp Lejeune scout day camp is the Knox Scout Hut located on Florence Blvd. between Knox Trailer Park and Montford Point. There are three units: two Brownie and one Intermediate group with 16 girls in each unit. There is also a Pee Wee Patrol with 20 little boys and girl Pee Wees.

Mrs. Michael Berry, leader of Intermediate Troops 75 and 171 of Jacksonville, is director of the day camp. Grace Grady is the district advisor. Business manager is Mrs. J. P. Abbott and for emergencies not covered in the scout handbook, Mrs. Arthur Whisonant, Jr., RN, is on hand.

Each unit has its own campsite in the woods complete with a drinking cup tree and nose bag lunch line. Washing facilities have been set up and the girls have constructed whisk brooms out of dried pine needles for "tidying up" purposes.

The scouts are now working on bug trees and leaf booklets for their nature projects. They are also studying the names of trees, birds and wild plants. Sand casting, lashing and cook-outs are several more of the planned activities.

First day of camp was June 18 at which the young outdoor enthusiasts explored their area in the woods and were oriented on the camp's schedule. Running from 8:45 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. the camp will last for eight days Monday through Thursday. Cost of the complete session is $2.50 which includes insurance, milk and program supplies.

Intermediate leaders are Mrs. Ralph Hicks, Mrs. Lawrence Smith and Mrs. Patrick Woods. Brownie leaders include Mrs. J. S. Williamson, Mrs. James Orton, Mrs. Joseph Goddard, Mrs. J. V. Gibson, Mrs. D. R. Simpson and Mrs. Donald Medlin. Pee Wee story-tellers and game thinker-uppers are Mrs. E. L. Meeker and Mrs. Alexander Kondrat.

Cookbook Is Called Bride's Best Friend

The Officers' Wives' Club reminds all June brides that a good cookbook is a wife's best friend. "The Camp Lejeune Platter Parade" is a collection of favorite recipes of Marine wives and their husbands gathered from duty stations all over the world. The recipes range from simple dinners for two to unusual and interesting menus. All of the recipes have been tested and all of them are written in clearly defined steps.

The "Platter Parade" was the brain-child of Mrs. H. D. Linscott, wife of Gen. H. D. Linscott, USMC (Ret.) and Mrs. D. W. Stonecliffe, wife of Col. W. D. Stonecliffe.

"Platter Parade" was first published in 1954 and at that time sold some 6,000 copies. Since then it has sold nearly 10,000 copies. The proceeds from the first year's sale went to the purchasing of school ground equipment for the Camp School.

The next year the proceeds were used to expand and improve the Paradise Point Sitting Service. In 1958, the "Platter Parade" book provided the funds used for the OWC scholarship awards and have gone towards that purpose each year since then.

Through the mail order business copies have been sold to people with APO and FPO addresses as well as to large cooking classes who have heard about the cookbook. Those who have the good fortune of being stationed at Camp Lejeune may purchase the cookbook through the OWC groups.

Mrs. E. D. Radics, the present cookbook chairman, hopes that all wives take the opportunity to add "Platter Parade" to their kitchen equipment.

Staff NCO Families Hold Picnic Indoors

Due to rain, members of the Staff Wives Club and their families enjoyed an "antless" picnic at the Montford Point Staff NCO Annex last Sunday afternoon.

"The chicken was just as delicious indoors," reported Mrs. Kathy Mounter cheerfully.

To the surprise and delight of the group, the Tar Heel Cloggers entertained with square dancing and twist performances.

When the sun did appear, the families joined in a number of outdoor games including horseshoes, badminton and softball.

Responsible for the well-planned and enjoyable occasion were the club's program chairman, Mrs. Iris Annis and her committee; Barbara Osmond, Mary West, Pat Gardner and Kathy Mounter.

Pre-Teen Dance

Teenagers aren't the only ones who know how to twist as the pre-teens of Tarawa Terrace have proven. There will be a pre-teen dance at the Tarawa Terrace Community Building July 7 from 5 to 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served and there will be three dance contests with gifts to the winners.

HOT DOGS!—That seems to be the feeling expressed by Jo Ann Bohnam at the family picnic held last Saturday at Knox Trailer Park sponsored by the Community Association. ## Capt. L. E. Bach Retires Saturday; Parade Planned Units of the 2d Division will pass in review at a parade for Capt. Lawrence E. Bach (MC) USN, at 10 a.m. this Saturday. The pass-in-review, to be held at the Camp Parade ground, will be in honor of the captain's retirement from the active Naval service.

Captain Bach, currently the commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Hospital here at Camp Lejeune, first entered the Navy in July of 1931 and since has served much of his career working with Marines around the world.

Nearly 20 years ago, the captain served his first tour of duty with FMF Marines here at Camp Lejeune where he was the Medical Officer of the Training Center until the middle of 1943.

In 1952, he saw action with the 1st Marine Division in Korea where he served as the Division Surgeon for nearly a year.

June of 1959 saw the captain returning to Lejeune again, this time as the commanding officer of the Naval Hospital.

Captain Bach, along with Maj. Gen. F. L. Wieseman, commanding general, 2d Marine Division, reviewing officer for the parade, will "troop the line" via a Jeep. During their mounted inspection, an announcer will give a resume of Captain Bach's career.

Caribbean Training Best, Says Troops

"We just got back from Vieques in May and here we go again... the Caribbean is a good training area, we get live firing experience there we don't get at Lejeune... the company is always sharper when they return from Vieques... most of us are anxious to get there..."

Those were the comments heard as troops of the 1st Battalion, 6th Marines (Reinf) and Headquarters, 6th Marines moved out on PHIBULEX 2-62.

Under the overall command of Colonel Edwin G. Winstead, the Marine Expeditionary Unit is built around the 1st Battalion, 6th Marines whose commanding officer is Lieutenant Colonel Joseph C. Fegan, Jr.

Organic and attached units of BLT 1/6 loaded onto busses and trailer trucks early Monday morning for a seven hour ride to Norfolk. There they will embark aboard the helicopter landing ship USS BOXER for a trip to Vieques where PHIBULEX will take place.

Advanced elements left Camp Lejeune last week to load equipment aboard ship prior to the arrival of troops.

"I've never been aboard an aircraft carrier, said Pfc Jimmy Lucas of Greensboro, N. C. "This will give me a chance to see shipboard life from a different angle."

Preparation for the exercise began several weeks ago, as the boxes were loaded and marked with unit designations and priority code.

"Even packing the administrative gear is important, 1st Lt. Bill Hurley, Company "D" executive officer pointed out, "for the company office must begin work as soon as we are on board ship. Knowing that each record was packed in its right box will speed up operations."

PHIBULEX 2-62 is expected to return to Camp Lejeune in about three months.
