ROISM—Peter A. Crescitelli, DT3, receives Navy's highest peacetime award for bravery in rescuing an unconscious boy from a burning building last March. Presentation of the Navy-Marine Corps Medal was made May 1 by Col. Robert L. Cochran, commanding officer of MAG-26 while Mrs. Crescitelli looked proudly on. (Photo by Pfc J. M. Fabiano).

Crescitelli Receives Medal For Heroism

A 21-year-old Navy Dental Technician was awarded the Navy's highest peacetime award for heroism during ceremonies at the Air Facility last week. Peter A. Crescitelli, DT3, was awarded the Navy-Marine Corps Medal by the Air Facility commander, Col. Robert L. Cochran, for his part in rescue operations at a quarters fire this past March. Crescitelli was awakened by the fire alarm the morning of March 26 and asked the duty corpsman if he might accompany him when a call for an ambulance came to the infirmary.

Public Is Invited To Armed Forces Day At Lejeune

A massive display of weapons and equipment, designed to show the amphibious capabilities of the Marine Corps, will highlight Camp Lejeune's observance of Armed Forces Day, Saturday, May 19.

Quad-Command static displays will be located on the parade ground at Hadnot Point and will be open to the public all day beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Also open to the public on May 18, will be a night-firing demonstration by the 1st Infantry Training Regiment. The demonstration will be held at the K-16 range, Verona Loop area. The demonstration includes a night attack on a fortified position and a night final protective line firing.

Open house will also be held throughout the Quad-Command area. A barracks (Bldg. 51) and a messhall (Bldg. 54) will be open for the visiting public as will the U. S. Naval Hospital. All Base Chapels and the Goettge Memorial Field House will be available for public inspection.

Firemen were already fighting the fire and conducting rescue operations when Crescitelli and the corpsman reached the scene. Three of the five occupants in the house, a father and two children, had been brought safely outside. At the time it was not known how many were in the house and rescuers were deterred by intense heat and smoke.

"We were administering first aid when I was called over to the house to quiet the father who was apparently in hysterics," Crescitelli said. "The man was making attempts to re-enter the building saying that two more of his children were still in there."

Crescitelli reported the fact to the firemen. He was told that the roof was about to collapse any minute and that any attempt to enter the building would be extremely dangerous.

Crescitelli wet down his clothing and dashed into the burning building.

"I couldn't see for the smoke," he said, "and when I first entered the building I ran into the wall and was knocked to the floor. I started groping my way around in the smoke and by sheer luck, bumped into the little boy lying on the floor unconscious."

Crescitelli immediately carried the boy to the outside and revived him with a resuscitator.

Meanwhile a Marine fireman had entered a back bedroom window and rescued the last occupant, a 6-year-old boy. Attempts to revive the child failed and he was pronounced dead on arrival at the Navy Hospital.

Missing Flight May Cost Marines Cash

Marines traveling on civilian airlines on government orders who fail to make their flight or cancel reservations can be charged up to 50-percent of the ticket price in penalties.

WO W. C. Burrell, the Base passenger officer, said that, locally, Reservists completing six months' active duty would be most affected.

"The traveller will not be required to pay the penalty if he can show sufficient reason for missing the flight or failing to cancel the reservation," he said.

The 11 trunkline carriers affected by the new ruling will issue an exemption card to the traveler who had sufficient cause to miss a flight. However, when a flight has been missed or a reservation has not been cancelled, the ticket will not be honored until the penalty is paid.

Relief Fund Ahead

Ship subscriptions continue to mount 32 Navy Relief Fund totals as of Monday $7,677.50, or 11.2 per cent of $50,000 quota. This is an increase of $6,063.50.

Units are still contributing and perfect goal. Maj. William R. Force Troops, command drive representative, total deposit of $3,520.00.

Hot Spring Increases Danger Of Fires

the existing danger of conditions at Camp Lejeune is suspended until the fire is under control.

There will be no smoking in the area unless unit commander designate a spot where can smoke under supervision.

Units shall guard against the fire hazards and shall report to the Base Fire Department if hazardous conditions exist. It will be the responsibility of the unit commander to ensure that fires are put out and that no fires are left in the area.

Units, however minor, must report immediately to the Base Fire Department, even if the fire is out without aid of the fire department.

Greek Village Given Tractor By Marines

Some 1600 Marines of BLT 3/8, gave a farm tractor and its attachments to the small village of Derviziana in Northern Greece April 26. Lt. Col. John A. Mac Neil, commanding officer of the Landing Team, presented the tractor on behalf of the men of the Landing Team who had contributed $1.00 each to buy it.

The Nomark of Ionnina, Mr. Kalligeros, accepted the gift for the tiny community which in the past two decades has experienced invasions from German, Italian and communist forces. He said, "I accept this tractor as a gift from brave men to a brave people." He further commented on the great help the tractor would be in their struggle to repair the devastation wrought by the past wars.

LCdr. Wendell Palmer, the battalion chaplain, flew from Crete to Athens several days prior to the Landing Team's arrival to shop around and find a tractor which would best be suited for the rocky, mountainous terrain surrounding Derviziana.

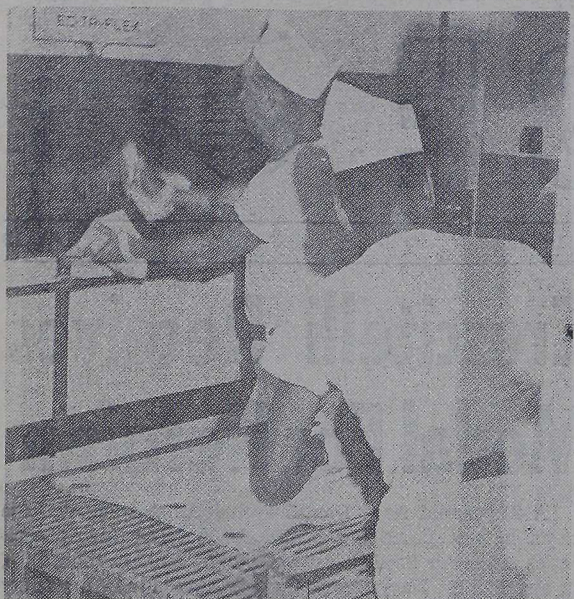

Maj. Charles Sims Jr., and Capt. Joseph Beno of Marine Helicopter Squadron 262 (HMM-262) which is deployed with the BLT, flew the men to the village for the ceremony. However, they were faced

Big Appetites Help Keep Bakers Busy

Every month a railroad car loaded with 45 tons of flour pulls in behind the Camp Lejeune Base Bakery. Seven and one-half hours later a portion of the shipment has been converted into 9,000 loaves of fresh bread, ready for hungry troops of the Quad-Command, MCAF and Cherry Point. Aside from with the problem of having to re-fuel somewhere along the way.

The solution to this was found when an American Oil Company in Athens agreed to have a tanker truck with aviation gas meet the "whirley bird" at a point along the route which was nearly at the half-way mark of the flight.

The tractor and its accessories; plow chase, inverted plow, two bottom plows and a wheeled seat; and the "chopper" of Marines arrived at the village at almost the exact time. As the Leathernecks climbed out of the aircraft, they were greeted by the President (mayor) of the community and a crowd of cheering villagers who gave them bouquets of flowers.

After the presentation, the Marines gave a demonstration to the people on how to operate their new machine and gave them a chance to take a test ride. According to the Nomark, this was the first tractor ever in the history of the village, for none of the people ever made enough money to buy one. He said, "The average family income of the village is approximately $40 per-year."

Following the ceremonies, the tractor and all papers were turned over to the agriculture advisor for the region who will teach them the care and maintenance as well as how to use it most effectively.

A check for $70, which was left over after buying the tractor, was presented to the Bishop of the Church of Derviziana to buy a stand and frame for the Ikon that the church-goers kiss as they enter the sanctuary.

After lunch, the men were shown around the village which had been almost completely "leveled" at one time during an invasion, then climbed back aboard their helicopter and headed back for Athens.

The Marine Corps increased its strength from 175,000 to 190,000 men as part of President Kennedy's program to strengthen the nation's defense position.

Force Troops 'Career Day' To Be May 16

Force Troops will hold its third "Career Day" in the Camp Theater on May 16 at 8 a.m. The Career Advisory staff will give a morning-long presentation aimed at helping Marines get their career "Spring cleaning" under way.

Designed primarily for the benefit of first-term Marines, the morning is open to others who have specific interests in the areas of personal affairs, education and long range planning of careers in the Marine Corps.

Brig. Gen. Wood B. Kyle will speak on the programs designed by the Marine Corps and Force Troops to provide assistance to the individual Marine and his dependents. General Kyle's message will be followed by information on personal finances, how to use credit and how not to use it, a close look into the requirement of life insurance and suggestions for obtaining the most out of the insurance dollar, and one plan for building a sizeable retirement "nest egg."

Attention will be given to professional and academic opportunities with an explanation of the potential rewards derived from either kind of study. The USAFI program, the tuition-assistance program, high school at night, and various college commissioning programs will be covered. A long look at the prospects of a Marine Corps career will be presented, winding up with an examination of just what the Marine can look forward to in the near and distant future.

"Career Day" will be concluded with the presentation of over 150 sets of orders to Japan, Okinawa, Hawaii, and East and West Coast duty stations. These orders have been specifically arranged for utilization in the Force Troops Career Advisory Program and are intended primarily for the first-termers who are reenlisting or extending their enlistments.

Navy Relief Auxiliary Marks 20th Birthday

Monday, May 7, marked the 20th anniversary of the Camp Lejeune Chapter of the Navy Relief Auxiliary. Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley read a proclamation during informal ceremonies held at the Navy Relief Building which declared May 7 as Navy Relief Day at Camp Lejeune.

Following the reading of the proclamation, the general cut a cake specially prepared for the occasion. The proclamation was later presented by the general, as president of the Board of Man-

Local Scouts Tour Lejeune Facilities

One hundred Brownies and Girl Scouts with adult leaders from the Onslow County area were given a tour of Camp Lejeune and surrounding facilities last Saturday. Projected for the tour was Capt. H. H. Hutter, Force Troops, and Linda Stever, WM Company, Marine Corps Base, was

The first hour of their tour was spent at the Field Artillery Group Gun Park. They inspected the Honest John Rocket and the eight-inch self-propelled gun. Two tanks were also included in the static display of heavy and medium-heavy mounted weapons.

Traveling to Courthouse Bay next, the girls, ranging in age from 7 to 14, visited the 2d Amphibian Tractor Battalion. Here they observed an AmTrac put through its paces in the water, making a series of tight turns in the bay, and then storming back ashore. The girls were then given a short talk on the characteristics of an AmTrac by 1st Lt. L. M. Pedreira, officer in charge of AmTrac's P-5 school.

Early in the afternoon they departed for a tour of the Rifle Range and observed live firing in progress by the 2d Bn., 6th Marines.

Dependents Eligible To Apply For College

Sons and daughters of 2d Marine Division veterans are now eligible to apply for college scholarships provided by the Second Division Association.

Scholarship fund created by Mitchell A. Thomas, said that qualified applicants are not screened for fund help. Interested in the program should send their application or contributions to Mr. Mitchell A. Thomas, Box 169, route 1, land, Miss., or to Mr. Gerald, 46 Winthrop Road, View, Long Island, N. Y.

The 2d Marine Division is made up of veterans of the division. The scholarship was established as a memorial to the member Marines who lived in battle. It is maintained through contributions from and relatives of deceased Division veterans, or other interested parties, who desire to contribute to the scholarship fund may do so by mailing their contribution to either of the above addresses.

Base Begins Club For Soccer Play

The first phase of spring training for the Base soccer team is underway but there is a more players. To recruit new players from Base units, Sports Services is sponsoring a soccer tournament.

To launch the program, Sports Services invites all Marines interested in playing soccer to the return of the 2d Marine Division at 7-3820 o. Baunher at 7-3702.

High School Classes Will Begin June 4

The off-duty high school summer quarter will begin June 4. Classes will run for 12 weeks and will be held two nights a week, either Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 to 9 p.m., at the Brewster Elementary school.

Achievement tests will be administered to new students to determine the level in which they will be placed in English and Mathematics. The English test will be held May 15, and Mathematics May 16, at 6:30 p.m., at the Base Education Office, Camp Theater.

Interested persons should contact the Education office by calling 7-5121 or 7-5572, or in person during the preliminary registration period from May 21 through May 25. If registrations for a class are less than 15 the class will not be offered.

Registration

Official registration will take place May 28 through June 4, with registration being made in person at the Education office between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Students portion of tuition and completion of enrollment cards must be completed at this time.

Military personnel who have not received a high school diploma from an accredited school (does not include GED certificate), are eligible to receive tuition assistance from the Marine Corps by completing form MCBCL-590. This form must be in triplicate and hand carried to the Education office at the time of official registration.

Eligibility

Military dependents must obtain written permission from the superintendent of Camp Lejeune school for eligibility. Civilians must obtain permission in writing from the Onslow County Board of Education in Jacksonville.

Full cost of tuition is $28.00 per course. The Marine Corps will pay three quarters of the tuition for military personnel. Dependents and civilian personnel must pay the full cost of tuition.

Nurses Celebrate 54th Anniversary

The more than 50 nurses assigned to the Naval Hospital will take part in a world-wide celebration Friday night to commemorate the 54th Anniversary of the Navy Nurse Corps. A reception and dinner will be held at the Paradise Point Officers Club from 6 to 8 p.m. The Nurse Corps, U. S. Navy, was established May 13, 1908, and was authorized to consist of one superintendent and as many chief nurses and reserve nurses as necessary.

Maj. Blasko Retires On Twenty Years

Maj. Paul J. Blasko, former officer-in-charge of the Commissioned Officer's Mess, Paradise Point, retired from the Marine Corps April 30 after 20 years service. Informal retirement ceremonies were conducted in the office of Col. K. A. Jorgenson, acting Base commander.

Maj. Blasko enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve in 1941. He was commissioned in February 1943 and assigned to a Marine aviation unit in the South Pacific. Following the war he served at various posts and stations throughout the Corps. Maj. Blasko and his wife Ruth will reside at Surfside, Miami Beach, Florida.

The first aerial contact with enemy planes was by Marine carrier-based planes on Apr. 21, 1951.

Esther Voorhees Hasson was appointed the first superintendent on Aug. 8, 1908, and by October, the first 20 nurses had reported to the U. S. Naval Hospital, Washington, D. C., for orientation and duty. This group later became known as the "Sacred Twenty."

The demand for a Nurse Corps was realized many years before it was actually established.

In 1811, the Secretary of the Navy commissioned Dr. William P. C. Barton, a young Navy surgeon who later became the first chief of Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, to submit his recommendations for "conducting hospitals and institutions for the sick."

Barton wrote, "The nurses whose number should be proportionate to the extent of the hospital and number of patients, should be women of humane disposition and tender manners; active and healthy. They should be neat and clean in their persons; and without vices of any description . . . and are to attend with fidelity and care upon all the sick committed to their charge . . ."

This guide for selection of nurses was written nine years before the birth of Florence Nightingale, but is still adhered to throughout the nursing profession. They wear their nurse's cap with justified pride.

Since its establishment, the Nurse Corps has grown steadily and has served through the two World Wars and the Korean War, in addition to its day-to-day service to peacetime servicemen.

Force Troops Jumpers Win Parachute Meet

The Force Troops Sport Parachute Team members who won the Southeastern Open Invitational Sport Parachute Meet in Lexington, N. C., April 15, were commended by Brig. Gen. W. B. Kyle Monday when they received their trophies.

Two of the three-man teams finished in first and third places. Bad weather cancelled all but the accuracy jump which was won by Sgt. H. R. Turpin.

Capt. N. J. Jasper, Jr., captain of the team, placed third.

The team defeated the jumpers from the 82d Airborne, 18th Airborne and the 7th Special Warfare Forces Sport Parachute Clubs, all from Ft. Bragg. This was the Force Troops team's first taste of competitive sky diving.

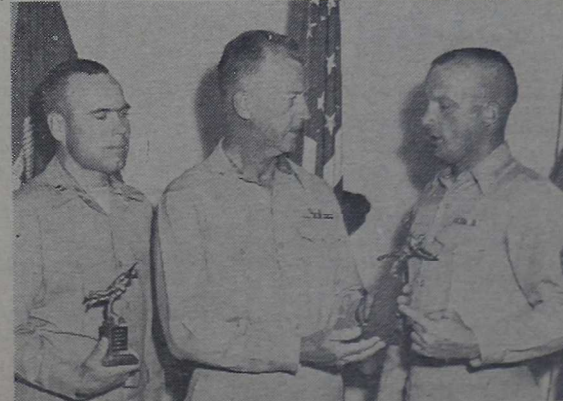

Sergeant Turpin placed first, averaging 39 feet from the center of the target, after delaying his opening approximately 12 to 16 seconds after jumping. Cpl. Ivan L. Trantham did not place.

The jumpers control their direction by using the "delta" position—arms extended with the legs bent at the knees and head down—also known as tracking. Normally the jumper will track to his opening.

The maximum score in the sky diving contest was 300 points. This is attained by free falling from 12 to 16 seconds, opening at 2,200 feet and hitting in the center of the target. For each foot from the center, the jumper is penalized two points.

The Force Troops team pilot, Lt. Cpl. G. B. Platt, flew the team members for the competition jumps.

'Will To Win' Is Quality Needed By All Marines

Perhaps the most important element of the Marines' Esprit de Corps is perseverance. Perseverance, sometimes called "the will to win" or even more colloquially "guts," has been demonstrated by Marines from Chapultepec to Chosin. A strict definition of perseverance is persistence of steadfast pursuit of an undertaking or aim. Tarawa or Onslow Beach, actual combat or training exercise, the requirement for perseverance does not lessen. Today's mission of Force in Readiness demands that quality of "staying with it" to its greatest degree.

As a forest is formed by individual trees however, so is our Corps formed by individual Marines. How well that forest survives the elements of nature and ravages of mankind depends on how well the growth and stature of each tree progresses. They grow together in ranks protecting one another. Yet when the ranks of the forest have been thinned by fire or timber hunters, a regeneration begins and new trees grow persevering despite the odds. So too must the individual Marine persevere when he sees the ranks of the Corps thinned by those who wear the uniform but are complacent and have lost the stature of a Marine. Perseverance is a state of mind that enables one Marine to finish a grueling hike while another falls out. It's the same force that makes one Marine seek education, off duty, while another finds it too much bother. A man might be the finest physical specimen in the world but if he's mentally soft he doesn't rate the uniform he wears.

Perseverance is the only cure for that mental softness that kills initiative and stifles drive. If the goal pursued is a worthwhile one, then perseverance in self-improvement will separate the Marine from the boys whether it be on or off duty. As the growth of each tree strengthens the forest against the force of the storm, so does the endeavor of each man to become a better Marine strengthen our Corps as a "Force in Readiness" defending the free world against the storm of world aggression.

Chaplain's Corner

A football coach was reported to have called to his side a substitute player with the intention of sending him into the game. His team was not doing well and the coach was hoping this player could inspire greater effort in his teammates. "Go in there," he said to the player, "and get ferocious!" The player, perhaps possessing more ability in football than vocabulary, asked, "O. K., Coach; which one is he?"

In the Bible, the story of Gideon recorded in the Book of Judges reminds us very much of this football player. God wanted Gideon to do a big job for Him and Gideon's first reaction was one of complete confusion. He was baffled by the suggestion that he could accomplish anything important for his people.

Gideon was like most of us who are living within the confines of our own estimate of what we are worth. We keep asking ourselves, "What difference could I make?"

"Am I a dreamer, lost in crowds,
Small count in human life:
Am I quite worthy of the call
To aid this worldly strife?"

Many people today are losing the sense of individual worth which inspires men to great achievements. In communism, the individual values slip very quickly out of sight. Even in our system of free enterprise, we tend to become lost in the crowd. We have assembly lines and very few who work on assembly lines ever see the final outcome of their labor. We are caught up in large and impersonal systems of education and business which make "the personal touch" hard to find.

God says this is not the way it ought to be. He wanted Gideon to expand his principle of life to realize the full measure of his ability. He wants us to do the same. In God's sight there are no "nobodies." Where other people demand that we conform or be counted worthy of no thought, God deals with us as individuals.

Not only are you an individual, but—under God—you are an individual plus the ideas you have and the ideals for which you stand. You are an individual plus all that God intends to accomplish through you. As a child of God, make your life count!

Chaplain, 3d Bn., 6th Marines

If You Ask Me:

HAL NORTON, First Baseman—Every game is a tough one but I think the toughest competition that we will probably face in the ECIC and throughout the entire season will be Fort Eustis. From past experience I know that Fort Eustis has always fielded a good ball club and this year should be no exception. From the college teams that we have played that have also played Fort Eustis, these teams state that they have a very good hitting team and fielding team. I am positive that we can hold our own in the conference with big challenge, Fort Eustis, finishing a strong second. After the first two places, the rest of the league will be a toss-up for third place.

ALEX BRIGHT, Pitcher—Perhaps the biggest series we'll play all year will be against Fort Eustis.

They had a well-balanced team last year and should come around the same way this season. They are loaded with hitting power and are fair fielders. We should have the same trouble with them as we did last season but I'm sure we can beat them. Lee has a fair ball club but they do not have the power to stay up with either our team or Eustis. With only two good pitchers, Lee stands as a threat but that's about it. In final conference standings, we are going to be on top with Eustis, Lee and Belvoir following in that order.

GARY HARRELL, Centerfielder—The biggest competition we should face throughout the season should be against Fort Belvoir. Every game will be a tough one but Belvoir has put together a team with some top major league talent currently on six months' active duty. Jim Grant, who still plays for the Cleveland Indians on weekends, is their prime organizer, their head coach, their star pitcher, and everything else but their bat-boy. Their infield and outfield is scattered with some of the major league's top prospects. The next competition should come from Fort Lee later in the season. We beat them 13-2 in their first game of the season but they came back to beat us, 2-1, the following day. We are the team to beat as far as the conference title is concerned with Belvoir in second and Lee rounding out the top three.

BILLY GARRETT, Third Base—About the most powerful team in the pitching department besides Lejeune is Fort Belvoir with 'Mudcat' Grant, who still pitches for Cleveland in the American League on weekends. They shouldn't be our toughest competition because Grant can't pitch every game. I believe that the hardest game we will have to play will be the next time we face Fort Lee. We slaughtered them 13-2, when we faced them the first time but they came back the next day to beat us 2-1. I am not selling Lejeune short, however, and I'm sure we can beat both of these teams. As far as the conference is concerned, Lejeune should finish on top with Lee in second place and Belvoir bringing up third place.

CURT SALTER, Second Base—I am going to have to pick between Fort Lee, Eustis and Fort Belvoir. From what our team has heard from some of the college teams we have played during the exhibition schedule, all reports indicate that competition will be keenest against Fort Eustis. Going from performances in last week's games against Fort Lee, we cannot underestimate them. Although we've had some games with them, these games were first of the season for them and showed us a great deal. Belvoir be taken for granted either because of their major league talent or on six months' active duty. We play Belvoir, I hope it is on end, when Mudcat Grant is playing Cleveland. Overall conference should finish with Lejeune on a toss-up for the other places.

Marines Teach Seabees

Story by DICK MORRIS, JO2

Seabees of MCB-4 have traded their hammers, saws and blow torches for rifles, packs and helmets for six weeks.

"We are," said one veteran Seabee, "doing the 'John Wayne'."

Naturally, Camp theaters are featuring an epic starring John Wayne called "The Fighting Seabees."

MCB-4, which has an outstanding construction record stretching from Scotland through Spain to the Caribbean, will go overseas again as soon as their combat training at the First Infantry Training Regiment is completed.

Several Marine instructors at ITR can recite from personal experience, part of the proud history of the Seabees.

SSgt. Bill Richardson, who fought beside Seabees on Guadalcanal, Pavuvu and in the Russell Islands in 1944-45, said, "For what the Seabees were designed to be, they're the world's best organization."

He added that he thought the movie, "The Fighting Seabees", was the reason Seabees have combat training.

SSgt. Edward L. Stephenson, who remembered the Seabees from Georgetown, New Guinea in 1943-44, said, "They built the airfield by carving it out of the jungle."

Referring to today's Seabees, he commented, "You can take one off a tractor or a bulldozer and put him in the lines and he'll do about as good a job as a Marine."

The battalion is receiving the same advanced infantry training as Marines who are just out of recruit training. Lights often burn late in MCB-4 headquarters at Camp Geiger where administrative matters are handled by LCmdr. James M. Hill, who gets the paper work done after the training day. Working next door to his former duty station, Lt. James T. Taylor, the new executive officer of the unit, uses his familiarity with the area to benefit the battalion. Taylor was previously stationed at MCAF, New River. The unit has a long record of overseas assignments.

MCB-4 has worked in Port Lyautey, French Morocco, Puerto Rico, Cuba, Spain, Scotland and Haiti and other spots in the Atlantic area since the battalion was organized 11 years ago. The recent assembly of a floating dry dock in Holy Loch, Scotland, was praised as a courageous engineering feat.

While in Rota, Spain, the Seabees contributed to President Keple To People by distributing 3700 clothing to ne which had been

UNDER THE WIRE—Seabees did the Marine version of the 'Limbo' but more than one was snagged on the wire. Famous for their construction exploits in two wars, the modern Seabees won the approval of their Marine instructors from the 1st ITR, many worked with the Seabees in WW II campaigns and Seabees received the same advanced infantry training

Engineers Clean Out Southwest Creek

By CPL. B. J. MARTIN, JR.
Force Troops ISO

The work-horses of the 8th Engineer Bn., "C" Co., are making Southwest Creek a navigable stream much to the delight of local anglers.

So far they have dredged more than 20 tons of obstacles from the scenic creek using more than 200 pounds of explosives and working nearly 800 man-hours on the project.

Jacksonville city authorities requested that the Marine engineers undertake the project because the backwater from the log-jams was flooding the land around the creek and causing damage.

Engineers of "C" Co., commanded by Capt. T. J.

Gipson, Jr., undertook the task as a training project and have found the work hard but pleasant enough.

Marines employed on the project are gaining invaluable experience in operating equipment and developing new techniques, according to 2d Lt. J. S. Mavare. The Marines are working from boats and rafts they have designed to ferry them through the shallow waters of the winding creek.

One of the problems confronting the engineers is the high water caused after a heavy rain. The water covers the logs and debris and makes removal of obstacles almost impossible.

Another problem is the soft, marshy ground on which their tractors operate. The 'dozers are now operating so close to the stream—grading out roads and winching out debris—that it is impossible for them to get proper traction.

The engineers hope to overcome this by getting longer winch lines for their operation.

Engineers working on the project feel the Southwest Creek job is little different from their normal tasks.

"C" Co., which has spent 10 months of the past year in the field, has rebuilt most of the Verona Loop area, relocating Quonset and Nissen huts and constructing culverts; erected buildings and continued work on the air-strip at Vieques; and more recently an air-strip for the visit here. (See Marine Corps story on SATS Engr. Bn.)

Maj. Gen. J. and the Mayor have visited the engineers on the job and expressed their appreciation for the work the engineers are doing.

When completed in June, miles of the creek will be cleared.

One benefit to the personnel and the share as a by-product the engineers will mark improved fishing in the creek.

The history of the Seabees and the Corps are parallel for the past 20 years. Seabees worked, fought and died alongside Marines in practically every campaign in the Pacific. On Guam, Marines erected a sign which said in effect, "When we reach Heaven's Scenes, it will be on a road the Seabees built."

Most of the early Seabees were construction workers recruited specifically for duty in combat areas. Their ability to scrounge, improvise and produce the impossible gave rise to many legends. Their attitude toward living well is remembered by many Marines who shared a cold beer or a shower with them. The same attitude is still apparent, according to members of MCB-4.

"Shortly after we left for Rota, Spain," an anonymous Seabee related, "the 'old man' received a dispatch to search for an ice-making machine. It weighed several hundred pounds and was discovered nicely crated in the hold. No one knew how it got there from the BOQ."

The ice-maker went back to the States by the next ship.

Most of the WW II Seabees were older men, giving rise to a cry which arose during differences of opinion on liberty, "Don't hit a Seabee.
He may be a Marine's father."

Not only did the Seabees work and fight in the Pacific, but they were called on for construction jobs during some of the bloodiest European landings, such as Sicily and later at Salerno.

In peacetime they have been constructing missile-tracking stations in the Pacific, bases on the frozen waste of the Antarctic and housing units on Guam, Puerto Rico, Okinawa, Africa and Greenland.

MCB-4 will relieve the Seabee battalion at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, when it leaves
Camp Lejeune.

The motto of the Seabees is "Can Do."

SSgt. Robert M. Hawkins, an instructor at 1st ITR, summed up his impression by saying, "They always get the job done."

CAN DO—During their third week of training, the Seabees were introduced to the cargo net. One said, "I'll stay on the ground after this..." All members made the tower, spurred on by shouts of "Can Do," the Seabee motto.

Sellers Sparks Devilpups With Two No-Hit Games

Mike Sellers, Lejeune High's top hurler this year, demonstrated his skill last week by tossing his second consecutive no-hitter to blank last place Swansboro, 4-0. The win by the Devilpups pushed them to within one game of the Onslow County Championships and assured them at least a tie for the titles they won in the last two seasons.

Karate Club Begins Air Facility Classes

The Camp Lejeune Karate Club, under the direction of Sgt. Sam Pearson, started the first class for beginners at the Air Facility last Monday evening behind Bldg. 202. Personnel at the Air Facility may still participate in the program. Classes will be held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Interested personnel wishing to participate should contact Pfc Till at Bldg. 212, or by phone after 4 p.m. at 06-335.

Students joining the class may also attend classes at Mainbase on Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings in Bldg. 115, between 5 and 7 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 to 11 a.m.

In recent promotion contests held at Bldg. 115, the following men were promoted to the next higher degree: P. L. Musacchio to Brown Belt, 6th degree; M. R. Barras and F. C. Howing to Brown Belt, 1st degree; W. E. Wilson to Green Belt, 4th degree; B. M. Padgett to White Belt, 6th degree; T. W. Stout to White Belt, 5th degree; F. Rayburn, C. Payne, A. B. Knight, and J. A. Horne to White Belt, 4th degree, and C. Nye, D. P. Ryan, B. Bryant, and D. H. Hall to White Belt, 2d degree.

Wildlife Club Sets Monthly Meeting

The Camp Lejeune Fish and Wildlife Club will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in their French's Creek clubhouse.

Immediately following the business meeting, refreshments will be served.

The deciding game for the championships was played Monday afternoon when the Devilpups, unbeaten in Conference play, met second place Richlands, which lost to the Pups earlier this season.

Recent Transfer

A transfer student from Jacksonville High School this term, the big righthander started his no-hit skein against the same Swansboro team on April 19, leading Lejeune to their third straight conference victory, 5-1.

The all-around athlete helped his own cause, getting two hits in three trips to the plate and scored one of the Devilpup's runs. Swansboro scored its lone run in the fifth inning on two walks and an error and almost broke up Sellers fine pitching performance in the seventh. Rick Lowder made an outstanding catch of a Swansboro line drive to stop the threat.

Second Straight

After pitching a few innings in relief last week, Sellers got the starting nod against Swansboro and answered by racking up his second straight no-hitter. He also aided his own cause by belting a home run in the fifth inning to deep centerfield.

He struck out thirteen Swansboro batters but issued eight walks.

Swansboro loaded the bases in the first inning on walks but Lejeune catcher Jim Barrett picked off a Pirate runner from third and Sellers executed a double play on a grounder hit back to the mound.

Sellers kept the Swansboro batters off guard and not a ball was hit to the outfield. Only one ball was hit past the pitcher, fielded by shortstop Dick Dube.

Scoring Early

The Pups broke the ice with a pair of runs in the first inning. Left fielder John Winn got the hitting attack off the ground with a line double to right. Dube brought Winn across with a single. Dube stole second and scored on Barrett's line single with the first two runs.

In the fifth, after Sellers lined his homer to deep center, Larry Walt got hit by a pitched ball, stole second, and scored the final Devilpup tally on an error.

Mike Pate of Swansboro was the loser. He gave up six hits, two of them to Dube, while striking out two and walking two.

Devilpups Eliminate Richlands To Win Onslow County Title

Coach Tom McGhee's red hot Devilpup baseball team went into extra innings afternoon to squeeze out a 4-3 victory over Richlands and capture their third Onslow County Conference crown. Once again, the hero of the game was lanky Sellers, who came on in relief in the fifth to run his string of hitless innings to 18. Sellers pitched 2-2/3 innings without giving up a safety, and received credit for the win. All spotlight was Ned Paulson, who lined a single to left field, scoring Dick Dube from third with the game-ending run in the eighth inning.

Richlands opened the scoring early in the game by tallying twice in the second and adding an insurance run in the third.

Lejeune brought one run across in the second and trailed until the sixth inning.

Richlands had a 3-1 lead going into the sixth inning although they could only reach Lejeune starter Charles Pruitt for three hits.

In the sixth, the Devilpups banged away at Richlands starter Earl Coombs for a pair of runs to knot the score and send the game into extra innings.

The Devilpups didn't waste any time in the eighth. Dube led off the inning with a single and moved to third on Dick Barrett's one-bagger. This set the stage for Paulson's game-ending blow.

Four Lejeune players shared hitting honors with two apiece. They were Dick Dube, Rick Lowder, Ned Paulson and Jim Barrett.

Still undefeated in conference play, the Devilpups meet Swansboro in the finale today at 2:30 p.m.

Varsity Plans Ladies Night For May 18

The Lejeune varsity baseball team has designated the night of May 18, Ladies Night, at Harry Agganis Field, in an attempt to increase baseball interest aboard the base among Women Marines and Marine dependents.

On this Friday night, the baseball team, in conjunction with Base Special Services will give away one dozen free orchids plus a surprise gift to the lucky ladies holding the right ticket stubs.

Tickets will be distributed to each lady attending the game, in which the Lejeune varsity will face Fort Devens, and a drawing for the orchids and the surprise gift will take place prior to the start of the game.

This is the first game of its kind this year, and if the attendance shows a marked increase, the team will schedule more such events in the near future.

Also scheduled at a later date will be a knot-hole day for the Camp Lejeune Boys League, in which members of the Boys League will engage in a home run hitting contest according to age groups.

The varsity nine is currently on its way to one of their best seasons. After dropping their opener against the University of North Carolina, the local varsity ran up eleven straight victories before losing their second game to Fort Lee, 2-1, last Sunday.

All home games are played at 7:30 p.m. except Sunday games which start at 1:30 p.m.

As a result of legal protection, the majestic Royal Tern has increased its numbers along the North Carolina coast. The chief colony there is on Royal Shoal Island in Pamlico Sound.

Lejeune 'Sailers' Complete Frostbite Sail Boat Race

Capt. L. S. VanGaasbeek of Marine Corps Base won the sixth and final race of the Frostbite Sailing Series on Saturday, April 23. The four hour race was marked by tricky winds which ranged from 5 to 25 mph throughout the day, but Capt. VanGaasbeek and his one man crew, Maj. L. Hall, took an early lead and held it through the entire race to capture the victory and overall third place in the six-race series.

The first place trophy was awarded to Lt. M. M. Green, who won three races and placed second one for a total of 40½ points. Lt. Green stated that he was happy to win the trophy but most of the credit should go to his wife, who acted as his crew during the six races.

Lt. L. G. Popp of Base Dental finished in second place for the overall point standings. Popp had two first places and two seconds for 39 points and was followed by Capt. VanGaasbeek in third with 36½ points.

Challenge Regatta

The sailing committee plans a challenge regatta with the Cherry Point Sailing Club at Camp Lejeune on June 2, when they hope to regain the trophy lost to Cherry Point last November. On Saturday, May 26, the Camp Lejeune team will take on any and all comers in a practice race. On June 9, a tune up series of three races will begin, and all skippers like to get the feel of for the Summer Series to participate.

If you are a skipper, member, or are just interested in sailing, contact the NCO of Wallace Creek Boathouse.

Any personnel interested in participating as a starter, member of the Race for any of the above races contact Lt. Green at 98.

Judo Play To Compete Uels For Hono West C

The Camp Lejeune Judo Club Monthly Championship Tournament will be held on Tuesday, May 29, at 7:45 p.m. at the Judo house, located in Bldg. 500 Area. All judo players in the Camp Lejeune area are invited to participate.

Competition will be in competitive categories down into age groups and divisions. Immediately following the contest, a monthly meeting will be held. All ages from age 16 and older are to attend.

The club has also scheduled judo beginner's class at 7:30 p.m. on May 22, 29, and June 5. Military personnel and dependents from nine years and older may attend. Course registration is required.

Classes will be for beginners every Tuesday from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. to the clubhouse, located in the 500 Area outdoor movie building as the snack bar.

Parents are asked to bring their children during the training. For military utilities or other work clothes worn during the first training session. The Lejeune club is recognized by the Judo Federation of America, and the American Athletic Union.

Quality Work Wins Praise For Tankman

A display of organizing ability and leadership paid off in congratulatory dividends last week at a meritorious mast for a 2d Tank Battalion staff sergeant. SSgt. James A. Coryer was presented with a letter of commendation by his commanding officer for "outstanding display of organizing ability and conscientious devotion to duty."

The letter further stated: "He demonstrated his versatility and creativeness in a wide variety of duties which he willingly assumed. In carrying out his duties his attention was constant and his results sure and timely which materially contributed to the success of the display. In addition to his assigned duties, SSgt. Coryer constantly sought responsibility and as a result of his efforts, the officers under whom he served were greatly assisted."

"His skill, ability to organize, and devotion to duty were especially noted in the handling of equipment while it was being transported by rail and ship, often under adverse conditions. Throughout the project he displayed exceptional leadership and outstanding judgment."

FSR Wire Instructor Honored With Mast

Cpl. Daniel C. Waldo, an instructor at the 8th Communications Battalion Wire School, appeared at a Meritorious Mast last week honoring him for his "military bearing and knowledge of job."

The battalion commander, Lt. Col. V. M. Johnson, presented Waldo with a letter of commendation that read in part: "As an instructor in the Field Wire Course at the Communications School, you have demonstrated characteristics of leadership and professional devotion far above that normally attained by a Marine of your rank."

"The example you set in military bearing and personal appearance is commendable. Your energetic, untiring efforts and patience demonstrated while assisting in the training of over 400 Marines in the specialty of Field Wire is exceptional."

"Your devotion to duty during the past year has contributed materially to the successful accomplishment of the mission of the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, Communication School."

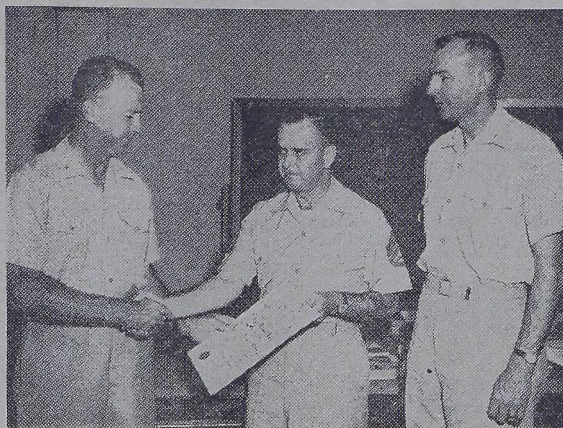

Cpl. Waldo's wife Beverly, and two of his three children, Debra and Pamela, attended the ceremonies.

Wilson Wins CMC Letter Of Approval

SSgt. William N. Wilson, 8th Engineer Battalion, Force Troops, was presented a letter of appreciation and congratulations from Brig. Gen. Wood B. Kyle last week in behalf of the Commandant of the Marine Corps. Sergeant Wilson received the award for outstanding results attained as career advisory NCO of his battalion.

From the time he assumed his duties at 8th Engineers in October 1961 to the end of February 1962, the reenlistment rate climbed from 7 per cent to 34 per cent.

Sergeant Wilson, a bachelor, lives in the barracks and has devoted a large part of his own time to the problems of the Marines living there. In fact, he is well known to the troops as the "Radar Unit" because of his speed in finding out about the problems of his men.

In recommending him for the award, Sergeant Wilson's CO, Lt. Col. Harper, wrote in part: "SSgt. Wilson has, through self dedication and untiring efforts, provided the career advisory leadership so essential in the procurement of reenlistments. Many interviews and contacts were made after working hours and during weekends. His methodical attention to records maintenance has enabled SSgt. Wilson to conduct excellent follow-ups on prospective reenlistees."

"In view of the foregoing, it is felt that SSgt. Wilson is very deserving of the consideration for the Career Advisory Achievement Award."

CWO T. E. Reeves Retires From Corps

Chief Warrant Officer Thomas E. Reeves, was congratulated by his Bn. Commander, Lt. Col. J. P. Treadwell, CO of 2d AmTrac Bn., Force Troops, FMFLant after being presented with a certificate of retirement from the Marine Corps on April 30, 1962.

CWO Reeves, at the time of his retirement, had completed over 27 years of active service in the Marine Corps, serving through two wars.

In 1941, then a Sgt., Reeves served at Dunedin, Florida with the detachment which was later to become the 2d AmTrac Battalion.

After his retirement, Warrant Officer Reeves plans to reside at 709 Barnes Street, Jacksonville, N. C., with his wife Josie and two children.

Ammunition Course Revised, Improved By 'Corps Institute

The Marine Corps Institute's "Care, Handling, Storage, Preservation and Destruction of Ammunition" course (23.3a) has been revised under the title "Ammunition: Handling, Storage and Transportation" (23.3b).

In the revision, TM 9-1903, formerly the basic text, is replaced by Ordnance Pamphlet 5. The student is further furnished a reproduction of the Ammunition Handbook, Special Text 9-156, U. S. Army Ordnance School, and extracted portions of "Care, Handling, Storage, Preservation and Destruction of Ammunition," TM 9-1913. Students may keep the course material upon completion.

The course offers instruction to Marines in MOS 2311 in receiving, storing, issuing, disposing of, and shipping ammunition; setting up an ammunition supply point; operation of a magazine area; and inspecting and picking out the common defects of ammunition.

Staff Wives Seek Elephants, White Ones, For Bazaar Sale

For wives who have finished their spring house-cleaning and are now stepping on, over and under those odds and ends they "just couldn't throw away", here is an exclusive extra. The staff wives are having a bazaar May 16 at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center beginning at 12 o'clock and are looking for white elephant items. Helen McClelland is the "contact" to see at 775 Naha Drive. Chairman of the bazaar, Pat Garner, held a "junk on the bunk" inspection of the committee members' wares last Thursday night at the wives club meeting. Mary West showed a collection of kitchen utensils while Hester Delano displayed samples of her needlework. Elsie Buess demonstrated her wrapping ability for she will be behind the parcel post booth. In charge of the game booth will be Peg Vegass and in charge of all the little charges will be Jan Patterson who will run a kiddies cosmetics booth. A nursery will be provided for the bazaar workers.

AF Officers Wives Bid Adieu Till Fall

The Air Facility officers' wives held their last club luncheon for the year Wednesday, May 2, at the Officers' Club. Multi-colored flowers placed on the tables accented the theme, "Springtime in Austria." The center of attention was a large delicate tree of pink tissue flowers under which the many door prizes were placed.

Highlight of the afternoon was the election of the executive board for next year. The newly elected officers are, president, Barbara Shook; vice-president, Jil Hurite; treasurer, Patricia Brown; assistant treasurer, Jane Plasterer, and secretary, Patricia Becraft.

Mrs. Cochran, in turn, expressed the many thanks of all the members for the fine job Mrs. Short-sleeves did as president the past year and gave her a silver charm bracelet.

Others helping with the annual event are Mrs. S. M. Smith and Mrs. W. H. Junghans, hospitality; Mrs. L. S. VanGaasbeek and Mrs. B. R. Cummins, decorations; Mrs. J. J. Mortorano, pouring arrangements; Mrs. F. W. Blough, invitations; and Mrs. C. E. Buchmann and Mrs. W. G. Carson, Jr., publicity.

The honored guests will be Mrs. J. P. Berkeley, Mrs. F. L. Wieseman, Mrs. L. W. Walt, Mrs. W. B. Kyle, Mrs. E. P. Dunn, Mrs. R. L. Cochran, Mrs. L. E. Bach, Miss B. C. Black, Mrs. R. P. Mendelson and Mrs. C. O. Winter.

For entertainment the Choral- iers will present several numbers. There will be a display in the lobby of items created by the various activity classes.

Mimeographed copies of the Sitter Service rules and regulations will be available.

There will be no charge and reservations are not necessary. Sitting service reservations may be made by calling 6-6723.

Midway Park Wives Install New Officers

"I present you this gavel and I know you will do a good job for the club," said Mrs. Carol Wilson, outgoing president of the Midway Park Wives Club as she "handed the reins" to Mrs. LaRue Hubbard. The installation of the club's new officers and a covered luncheon were held last Thursday at the Midway Park Community Center.

Chaplain Guy M. Leonard, assistant base chaplain, officiated at the candlelight ceremony. He gave the qualifications of the officers and a description of the individual responsibilities as each new officer "pledged herself to the utmost of her ability to accept and fulfill the duties of her office."

Installed individually were president, Mrs. Hubbard; vice-president, Jean Rachal; corresponding secretary, Charlene Dobbs and financial secretary, Shelby Ward. Business manager, Carolyn Miller; historian, Liz Mansfield; Sergeant at Arms, Clara Singleton and publicity chairmen, Lonnie Jordan and Honor Halbkat were pledged in as a group.

Past presidents were presented with gold pins inscribed with the initials MPWC. These were Mrs. H. F. Wilson, Mrs. D. R. Womack, Mrs. D. R. Smith, Mrs. D. M. Self and Mrs. J. H. Henderson.
