than 200 2d Division responded to fire calls as flames ravaged two wooded areas near Camp Lejeune, April 4 and 5. Fire destroyed more than 4,000 acres of woods of the Hofmann Forest, near Highway 1 in Jacksonville. Another fire through Croatan National Forest destroyed 4,000 acres of timber—between Swansboro and Maysville.

The Division fire-fighters came from Pioneer Battalion, Motor Transport Battalion, Medical Battalion, the 10th Marines, and the 2d Marines.

They were alerted shortly after the Base Fire Marshal's office received its first call for help from Dr. J. V. Hofmann, secretary of the North Carolina

Forestry Foundation, in charge of efforts to douse the blaze in Hofmann Forest.

An initial group of 23 Marines from Pioneer Battalion was first on the scene from Camp Lejeune. They were released that night and returned to Camp Lejeune.

A request for a 100-man detail was placed for 5 a.m. to reinforce fire-fighting efforts at Croatan National Forest.

They arrived there the following morning (April 5) and remained at the scene of the fire until that evening. This detail consisted of troops from the 3rd Battalion, 2d Marines, which sent 86 Marines reinforced by an additional party of 23 from Pioneer Battalion.

The group was relieved that afternoon by yet another party made up of 60 Marines from the 10th Marines, 40 from Medical Battalion and 40 from Motor Transport.

They remained at Croatan Forest until relieved by Marines from the Infantry Training Regiment, stationed at Camp Geiger, which furnished two parties which remained battling the blaze until it was officially declared under control the following day.

400 Marines March During Azalea Parade

A crowd of about 150,000 showed little respect for the weather as they gathered in the Azalea area Saturday, April 14, for the 15th Annual Azalea Parade. Camp Lejeune joined stars of stage and screen, beauty queens, and dignitaries in shows and 400 Marines from the Infantry Training Regiment, led by their commander, Lt. Col. W. T. West Jr., a color guard and the 2d Division band, marched in the parade were a platoon of Marines from Cherry Point.

Banking officers from Camp Lejeune and Cherry Point viewed the parade from the reviewing stand. The local authorities in the huge crowd were helped by the Marines as well as the Military Police stationed in Wilmington.

Electrical Outage

There will be an electrical outage Sunday, April 15, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Buildings in the Industrial Area affected will be 33, 35, 40, 712, 742, 770, 778, 786, 797, 798, 799, 801, 802, 803, 804, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 910, 914, and Bldg. 448 in the old trailer park area. ### FAG Shoots On K-2; First For 11 Years

The 2d Field Artillery Group, under the command of Col. F. B. Schlesinger, conducted a two-day long live firing exercise on April 4 and 5.

For the first time in over 11 years, the K-2 impact area, located on the Camp Geiger side of the river, was utilized as an artillery range. The sight and sound of the 200-pound artillery rounds dropping in on the range added considerable realism to the training of the ITR students.

The 155mm guns of the Group fired medium ranges of approximately 13,000 meters from positions along the Onslow Beach Road, and the 8" howitzers fired from Jarrett's Point, near Courthouse Bay. All firing was directed by aerial observers who spent up to 16 hours a day of continuous observing.

In addition to the ITR trainees, the firing was also observed by Allied students from the Senior School at Quantico, Va., and by some 260 "Seabees" from Navy Construction Battalion-4, Davisville, R. I.

President Kennedy Will See Landing

More than 80 ships of the U. S. Second Fleet sailed Tuesday commencing extensive exercises which will be climaxed Saturday when the President and Vice President witness a firepower demonstration and amphibious assault off Onslow Beach. An estimated 10,000 Marines, commanded by Maj. Gen.

Pfc Heads Up Section; Gets Mast For Job

Pfc John R. Mogelnicki of 8th Comm Bn., Force Troops, was cited at a Meritorious Mast by his battalion commander, Lt. Col. V. M. Johnson, for outstanding performance of duty.

The citation read in part: "Pfc Mogelnicki, after conversion of his MOS from 2543 to 2511 as a result of finishing second out of 40 students in the FMFLant Communications Schools' Wire Section Leader course, and occupies the position of Wire Section Leader which is normally held by a sergeant E5, but necessitated by the deployment of the platoon and personnel losses."

"Because of his willingness to exert himself in the efforts of his platoon and section, composed mostly of basic wiremen receiving OJT for MOS 2511, and to devote many hours of his free time to the members of his section to enhance their value to the Marine Corps and as communicators, PFC Mogelnicki's section has become one of the best in the platoon. His conduct during this period has been exceptional and inspiring."

"Surmounting many personnel problems which clearly indicate a mature and logical approach to his career, which includes the completion of one MCI course and present enrollment in another, he has many of his contemporaries, unfamiliar with his rank, surprised when they realize that he is not a Noncommissioned Officer."

"Through his leadership professional acumen, and instructional ability he has developed an inexperienced group of Marines into efficient, well trained professionals."

Frederick L. Wieseman, will hit the beach in one of the most impressive displays of modern amphibious striking power since World War II. They will be organized into two Regimental Landing Teams, commanded by Col. Jonas Platt and Col. Anthony Caputo.

The Shah of Iran, presently touring United States military bases, after luncheon with Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, will join the presidential party.

The Marines will hit the beach under a blanket of Naval Gunfire and air support provided by supersonic jets from the 2d Marine Aircraft Wing at nearby Cherry Point. As Marines race across the sands at Onslow Beach, other helicopter-borne troops will be ferried to assault areas behind the beach.

Viewing areas for the presidential party have been set aside on Riseley Pier. The party will be flown to Onslow Beach from the nuclear aircraft carrier Enterprise via the special presidential helicopter squadron from Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

A static display of a Battalion Landing Team (reinforced) will be arrayed near Onslow Beach for the President's inspection. It will consist of BLT 2/6 Marines, commanded by Lt. Col. R. T. Dwyer Jr. Tanks, amphibious vehicle and other supporting arms from various Camp Lejeune units will be lined up with the troops.

Following the display at Camp Lejeune, the presidential party will fly by helicopter to Bogue Field near Swansboro for a look at one of the most recent Marine Corps combat techniques. There they will see jet attack fighters hurtle from the short runways utilizing the SATS-SELF (Short Air Tactical Support/Short Expeditionary Landing Field) technique which enables supersonic aircraft to operate from extremely short and primitive landing facilities.

Later in the day, the presidential party will travel to the Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Point for an inspection of facilities there, and departure honors.

The assault at Onslow Beach, largest conducted in recent years,

Entitlement

Many Marines and their dependents are not fully aware of what they are entitled to under regulations. Some have mistaken ideas as to entitlement of housing, shipment of personal effects, leave, medical care and others. Rather than start a series of articles covering different subjects, the GLOBE invites its readers to submit questions which will be answered as completely as possible. Questions such as "Why wasn't I promoted?" and "Why did I get transferred to the 2d Division instead of Kaneohe?" are not considered valid. All questions must be signed.

Housing And Quarters

The basic difference between public quarters, such as Tarawa Terrace or Berkeley Manor and rental housing such as Midway Park and Knox and Geiger Trailer Parks, is that in public quarters the occupant is required to forfeit his entire Quarters Allowance. Rental Housing is a unit which does not meet the criteria for adequate quarters standards. The tenant does not give up his BAQ but pays cash rent in an amount comparable to rates being charged for privately owned housing of similar type in the area. This necessarily fluctuates from one part of the country to another.

Assignment

The allocation of quarters and housing and the assignment of tenants are the responsibility of the Commanding General. Since Marines are entitled to privileges commensurate with rank, housing is primarily assigned on the basis of rank or grade.

Generally, all officers and Marines in pay grades of E-4 with more than seven years' service, through E-9, who have legal dependents residing with them are entitled to Public Quarters.

Waiting List

As of March 30, the waiting list for public quarters and rental housing was:

Camp Knox Trailer Park

Rental

Single Trailers, 3 months; Double Trailers, 0-30 Days

Camp Geiger Trailer Park

Rental

Single Trailers, 2 months; Double Trailers 0-30 Days

Midway Park

Rental

(Furnished housing no longer available)

1 Bedroom, 1 to 30 Days; 2 Bedroom, 2 months; 3 Bedrooms, 5 months

Tarawa Terrace

Public Quarters

Enlisted

(E-4 with seven years through E-9)

2 Bedrooms, 30 Days; 3 Bedrooms, 1 to 3 months

Officers

2 Bedrooms, 10 to 12 months; 3 Bedrooms, 12 to 14 months

Paradise Point

Public Quarters

(Captains, W-4, W-3)

3 Bedrooms, 12 to 18 months; 4 Bedrooms (Capehart) 18 to 24 months

Berkeley Manor

(Public Quarters)

All units have not been completed. Three bedrooms for staff NCOs, at present, one to three months and four bedrooms, four months.

For detailed information on specific cases, contact the Base Housing Office at Tarawa Terrace or call 2-2125. The housing situation changes from month to month, depending on the number of Marines transferred.

Base Housing can also furnish limited information on housing available at other Marine Corps installations.

Booth Heads Deputy Post For Division

Change of command ceremonies were held on the Camp Parade field here April 4 for the 2d Marines. Col. Robert M. Richards assumed the command of the 2d Marines from Col. Alfred L. Booth.

Holder of the Silver Star Medal which he earned while commanding officer of the Marine Detachment aboard the USS ST. LOUIS during the battle for Leyte Gulf in November 1944, Colonel Richards was named as the 2d Marines' new commander after a nine-month tour with the 2d Division as the Deputy Chief of Staff.

Colonel Richards

Prior to reporting to the 2d Division, the colonel spent three years at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, as an instructor and later as Associate Director of the Office of Military Psychology and Leadership.

Honored guests on hand to see Colonel Richards take command of his first regiment were Maj. Gen. F. L. Wieseman, Col. C. W. Kelly, Chief of Staff, and the colonel's parents and his mother-in-law.

Colonel Booth's new assignment will be to fill Colonel Richards' former duty as Deputy Chief of Staff until he takes over as the Chief of Staff, replacing Col. C. W. Kelly. Colonel Kelly is due to be transferred during May when he will be assigned as the Director of the 9th Marine Corps Reserve and Recruitment District with Headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Snakes Will Be Crawling Again Soon

Snakes will soon begin making frequent appearances around Camp Lejeune. While many non-poisonous snakes live in the area, rattlesnakes and other poisonous snakes are plentiful.

Protection against a snake bite is better than treatment. Snakes normally will not attack a human unless they feel they are in danger. The average snake's strike range is about one-third his body length. By keeping at a distance, most bites can be avoided. Don't tease a snake.

Two basic poisonous groups exist in these parts and are extremely important in discovering which type snake has struck. Rattlers are members of the pit viper family and have hemotoxic venom. When struck by such a snake, immediate pain and swelling take place. Snakes with neurotoxic venom affect the nervous and respiratory system. The symptoms are apparent usually about a half hour after a bite. The victim has difficulty in breathing and generally shows shock symptoms.

Keep a snake bite victim as calm and as still as possible. Activity increases circulation and moves the poison faster through the system. Do not give any stimulants such as alcohol. Try to kill the snake so that the doctors can give the proper anti-venom.

Lithography is a highly complex, complicated process involving a multiple of machines designed to reproduce documents, directives and other paper work in quality and quantity. At Camp Lejeune the process is further compounded by a demand for reproducing over 900,000 official documents and executive directives per month. Satisfying the demand at Marine Corps Base is a four-man team comprising the General's Reproduction Department.

Located in the Base Administration Building and operating under the direct supervision of the Base Adjutant, the Reproduction Department consists of Cpl. Larry Elmen, NCO-in-charge, and Pfc's Philip J. Cangelosi, Omer Windham, Jr., and Michael J. Shea.

Each of the Marines were required to obtain secret security clearance and to complete six months on-the-job training before getting their primary MOS's. Moreover, most of them have completed two advanced courses in lithography affording them the "know how" to competently operate, maintain and repair the three complex machines in their shop.

All of the machinery within the department is, of necessity, both versatile and highly efficient. The Multilith 1250 reproduction machine processes most of the large orders, producing or reproducing a wide variety of copy at a rate of 7200 copies per hour at its operational capacity.

A newer machine can reproduce a photographic copy of most documents and photos in four seconds. The machine was originally purchased by Naval Intelligence for its speed and accuracy in compiling photostatic copies of restricted data.

The most amazing piece of machinery within the section is the large document photographic reproducer. The exact cost of the machine is not known, but its cost has made necessary rental rather than purchase by the Marine Corps. Its primary function is the photographic reproduction of larger official documents, such as proclamations and court martial proceedings. It can reproduce a majority of documents in thirty seconds.

If You Ask Me:

WHAT IS YOUR ULTIMATE GOAL IN BOXING?

PFC BOB PALMERI, Flyweight Champ—My ultimate goal in boxing is to win as many fights as possible and to be a smart fighter. I would also like to go to this year's Counsel International Service Military Games if I win in the Inter-Service Championship, which will be held in Germany. I would also like to be a professional boxer after I get out of the Marine Corps.

LCPL. LEONARD LOPEZ, Bantam-weight Champ—My goal in boxing is to be a very good amateur boxer and always show the best of sportsmanship. I would like to improve enough from the present time to 1964 and be able to fight in the Olympics. I don't plan on making boxing my career although I do plan on fighting in the amateur ranks for quite a few more years.

CPL. CHARLES BROWN, Featherweight Champ—My present goal is to set a new record for winning All-Marine Corps Boxing Championships. But my ultimate goal is to become World Lightweight Boxing Champ and the greatest lightweight boxer of all times. (Editor's Note: Brown won the Featherweight title for the fourth straight. One-half of his ambition is realized. It was a new record.)

LCPL. LEANDER C. MOORE, JR., Lightweight Champ—Ever since I was a small child I have read and heard talk of the Olympics. My greatest ambition is to take part in the next Olympic Games. If I can just take part in such a great gathering of athletes I will feel very proud. If I can take a winning place I will feel and know that all of the hard work involved in boxing has paid off.

CPL. ROOSEVELT SANDERS, JR., Light Middleweight Champ—My goal in boxing in the Marine Corps is to gain enough knowledge about the sport so that some day before I have completed my 20 years in the Marine Corps I may have a chance to coach an All-Marine team like my fine coach, MSgt. Frank Veith.

CPL. CHUCK CARTER, Light Welterweight—My ultimate goal in boxing is just to continue it because I love to box. In high school I was a star ball player but I changed to boxing and that is what I do to keep me happy with my surroundings. My wife dislikes it but she goes along with it because I really enjoy it. Because of this I will probably box when I get out of the service. There's money in it, too.

LCPL. MAURICE E. FRILLOT, Welterweight Champ—At this point of the game I have no confirmed thoughts on turning pro. However, if I continue boxing as a Marine and attain a position on an Inter-Service team I may think seriously of stepping into it since boxing offers a more direct challenge than most other sports.

LCPL. RICHARD ANDERSON, Middleweight Champ—My ultimate goal is to win as many fights as I can as long as I am fighting and to be the best in my weight class. To fight is a joy to me because I have always wanted to fight and enter in and win the All-Marine Championship and also the Inter-Service competition. When I have done all this then I think I will be on my way to larger things in the boxing world. Fighting is hard but I believe that anything is hard if you let it be so.

LCPL. DAN STEPNIWSKI, Light Heavyweight Champ—My goal as a boxer in the Marine Corps is the self satisfaction, discipline and moral and physical well-being derived out of it. Added to this is the feeling of winning against the best competition there is in the service. No, I do not intend to box when I get out. I'm married and when I get out I would just like to get a job and raise a family.

CPL. PERCY PRICE, Heavyweight Champ—I would love to continue fighting while still in the Marine Corps. My ultimate goal is to fight professionally and see how I do at it but I have an obligation to the service right now. If I don't get a chance to fight professionally within the next two years, I hope to make the Olympic team once again and this time bring back a gold medal.

Chaplain's Corner

There are three reasons why the salvation of most people depends on their doing a certain amount of good reading. These reasons are sufficiently cogent to overcome sloth, indifference and the distractions of the world, in anyone who is concerned about his soul.

A knowledge of the will of God and the teachings of Christ must be brought into the mind from outside. No one is born with a knowledge of what God has revealed as necessary for man's salvation. Instruction classes and sermons supply a goodly part of this knowledge. But to the instructions (usually received only in childhood) and the sermon listened to (usually infrequent and short, or too packed with doctrine for ready and complete absorption by the mind), the average Christian needs to add good reading if his knowledge of God's plan of salvation is to become complete and secure.

One does not come by evidence for the truths of religion by reading secular newspapers, popular magazines, best selling novels, etc. Nor by conversation with others who have not considered all the evidence themselves, or who have been given misinformation about religious truths by their parents or teachers.

Courage to put into practice the truths learned about religion, whether from the revelations of God or the working of one's reason, requires (besides the grace of God) the stimulus of example, clarification of motives, considerations on the passion and love of Our Lord, and increasing knowledge and awareness of the reality of both heaven and hell. All these can be provided most effectively by good reading.

It is possible for human beings to be content to dwell in a purely material, natural, or animal world. They do so by depriving their minds of the opportunity or time to think. How much more glorious it is to live like a "man," the image and likeness of God, using the mind that makes him "only a little less than the angels."

Troops Say, 'Junior Day'

Of all types of warfare, one of the most demanding of the individual infantryman is combat in built-up areas. The abundance of cover and concealment favors the defender. He must be forced to give ground room by room and building by building. Every rooftop, window, or doorway is a possible source of unseen fire. Piles of rubble provide other concealment.

In this environment, warfare is reduced to its lowest denominator. The skill and aggressiveness of the individual infantryman decides victory or defeat.

When entering from the bottom of a building, "rat-holing" (blowing a hole in the side of the building) is considered one of the best means of access.

When working from the top of the building, the aggressor forces have a path of retreat and eventually will be forced out of the building into the "kill zone" of the covering party.

Developing the basic skills required to fight in built-up areas is a vital part of all infantry training. Camp Lejeune's combat town is the scene of almost constant activity as Marines from all base units run its course.

Lejeune Judo Club Starts All Marine Corps Tourney

Thirteen members of the Camp Lejeune Judo Club began competition this morning in the 5th annual All-Marine Corps Judo Championships at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, in an attempt not only to gain an All-Marine title, but to qualify for the 10th annual National AAU championships to be started at Chicago later this month. Leading the team against some of the top Marine Corps judoka is coach Jack Norton, who is a 1st degree black belt holder. Norton, a First Lieutenant attached to 3d Bn., 6th Marines, is the 1959 National Judo Tournament semi-finalist. Other black belt holders with the team are Clarence Butts Jr., who placed second in the 160-180 lb. Far East Championships last year, Ira Bonar, a 2d degree black belt holder who is the 1961 All-Marine Heavyweight Champion, John Roseberry,

ECIC Begins Season With Locals At Lee

The East Coast Interservice Conference will open its first baseball season on Wednesday, May 2, with two games on the 1962 slate.

In league openers, the Camp Lejeune Marines are at Fort Lee, while Fort Eustis is host to Fort Belvoir. The clubs will play a three-game series on successive days.

The seven-team league will play 126 games with each club playing a 36-game schedule broken down to six contests against each opponent. League competition for the season ends on August 24.

According to the schedule drawn up, the four clubs involved in the '62 openers all will play 17 home games and 19 on the road.

Fort Dix and Fort Devens will split their schedule in home and away tilts, while Fort Monmouth is awarded 22 home games as to having to play only 14 on the road. This arrangement was agreed on as Monmouth's Signaleers play only two-game series at Lejeune, Belvoir, Dee and Eustis. These clubs visit Monmouth in four league appearances.

Of the seven teams, Camp Lejeune finishes its conference schedule the earliest. The Marines wind up their ECIC action on July 28, almost a month before the league's final game.

Locals Play First Season Night Game

The Camp Lejeune Marines play their first night game of the 1962 season tomorrow night as they take on Frederick College in the first of a two-game series.

In games played last week, Lejeune closed out the exhibition season with an impressive 11-6 record against some of the top college baseball teams in the country.

After stopping a seven game winning streak, Louisburg College made it two in a row over the Lejeune Leathernecks on Tuesday by pulling out a 1-0 squeaker in ten innings.

Lejeune threw the game away in the top of the tenth by allowing a Louisburg batter to reach first on an error. They continued to allow the runner to advance and he finally scored the winning run on a Lejeune throwing error.

Alex Bright gave up only five hits, walking only one and striking out seven, but was credited with the loss.

The locals bounced back on their feet in last Wednesday's contest, with the help of a six-run eighth inning to down Louisburg for the first time 10-7.

Tom Mazzolini picked up his third win of the early season after coming on in the seventh and limiting the collegians to just one hit in going the rest of the way.

Hitting stars of the game were George Howe, who belted his first home run of the season and John Parrinello, who drove in the tying and winning runs with a double in the seventh.

The locals made it two in a row as they downed Colby College 4-0 behind the three hit pitching of Frank Wilhelm.

Lejeune started the scoring with three big runs in the first and added an insurance run in the sixth to take the victory.

Pups Facing Rough Road This Season

Currently rolling along with a 2-3 record, the Lejeune Devilpups met Topsail Tuesday afternoon in an attempt to even their season record.

In games played last week, the Devilpups lost to Beaufort, 5-2, on Tuesday but bounced back to down Swansboro, 6-5, on Thursday. In Friday's encounter, the Pups were shelled by Havelock, 6-1.

Beaufort took advantage of faulty ball handling in Tuesday's contest and scored all unearned runs to beat the Devilpups, 5-2.

The visiting Seadogs broke the scoring column with four in the second inning and added a single run in the seventh.

Lejeune got one run back in the second and added their final tally in the fifth. They had the bases loaded in the fourth and seventh innings but could not get a run.

Lejeune High 6 Swansboro 5
The bats of Ned Paulson and Robbie Curtis led the Pups to a 6-5 victory over Swansboro last Thursday.

Curtis banged a three run homer over the left fielder's head in the sixth and Paulson lined a double in the last of the seventh to score Rick Lowder from second with the game winning run.

Lejeune High 1 Havelock 6
In Friday's contest, John Zimmer of Havelock struck out 10 batters to pace Havelock to a 6-1 victory over the locals.

Jim Barrett scored the only Devilpup run with a home run in the second with the bases empty.

Once A Marine

Ex-Marines have been appearing all over pages of every major newspaper this past week west coast, John Uelses, just 10 days out of the Coed 16 feet ¾ inch at the Santa Barbara Easter Santa Barbara, Calif. This jump, in outdoor comakes him eligible for the world's pole vault record.

Uelses, considered the fibreglass astronaut, jumped the same height at AAU games in Boston, Mass., on Feb. 4 of this year. This indoor mark could not be recognized as a world record because the United States is the only country where the pole vault event is staged indoors and outdoors.

On The East Coast . . .

Back on this side of the country last Saturday, ex-Marines clashed with one another for domination of the famed tournament of champions in the first round of the Professional Goats' tour, Rodgers still maintains third place in the winners in 1962 behind Arnold Palmer and Gene I.

Down South . . .

With the mint juleps and the cotton gin at the Tourney in Augusta, Ga., ex-Marine Phil Rodgers, of the famed tournament of champions in the first round of the Professional Goats' tour, Rodgers still maintains third place in the winners in 1962 behind Arnold Palmer and Gene I.

Cindermen Invade Quantico For All-Marine Track

Marine trackmen and top college stars from the United States and abroad have arrived at the Marine Schools for the 15th Annual All-Marine Track and Field Championships and the Marine Corps Schools Relays this afternoon at Quantico's Butler Stadium. The events will be run simultaneously, beginning on April 12 and will run for three days. Some of the Relays' events have also been designated as All-Marine events.

In other words, during some of the Relays' events a Marine could finish third in the MCS Relays' standings, and yet be a first place winner in the All-Marine event.

In last year's competition, marked by low temperatures and bad weather, only one record breaking performance was registered and most of the times were well above those set by Marines in the 1960 All-Marine event.

The only record to fall was for the 10,000-meter run. Lejeune's Alex Breckenridge finished in 32:16.2. The old record was 33:14.0 set by D. Ziehl in 1960.

Breckenridge was the only winner for Lejeune in last year's competition. He also took second place in the 5,000-meter run, losing to Mike Fleming of Quantico.

Lejeune's track threesome, consisting of Pete Close, Bob Gardner, and Mel Schwarz, grows to a quartet for the All-Marine with the addition of last year's only Lejeune winner, Alex Breckenridge, to the team.

A former Villanova distance ace, Breckenridge has only competed this year in the 10th Marines' Invitational Track Meet held last month.

Bob Gardner, who was absent from the meet last year while making a goodwill tour to South Africa, is the current record holder in the All-Marine high jump event. In the 1960 edition, Gardner cleared 6 feet 7½, a record which should fall next week. Last year Phil Fehlen of Camp Pendleton won the event with a jump of 6 feet 6¾.

Marine Stars In AAU Tourney

The Marine All-Marine event, consisting of basketball, volleyball, and other sports, is being held in Denver, Colorado, this week. The event is being held in Denver, Colorado, this week.

Three members of the neck squad were among tournament players in the United States team competition for the world championships at the AAU Championships in Denver, Colorado, this week.

The Marines moved into the semi-final round by a 2-1 margin, 82-59, over San Diego, 82-59, Cozell Walker and Dick controlling the boards.

They were knocked out of the tournament by falling to Trukers, 83-70, in a consolation game by 84-74 game to Goodyear.

SWIMMING PRACTICE

All age groups of the Marine Corps Swimming Team will practice Friday April 13, 5 p.m. in the Area 5 pool. Practice for the final two rounds of the AAU Championships, April 14, is cancelled.

Fish And Wildlife Club Meets

The monthly meeting of the Base Fish and Wildlife Club will be held April 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Clubhouse on French's Creek. Light refreshments will be served following the club business.

Camp Lejeune Wins Three All Marine Titles

Easiest Win

Of the three Lejeune titles, Bob Palmeri had it the easiest. Of the competitors who arrived here to compete in the All-Marine, none were flyweights. Therefore, Bob Palmeri, without putting on a glove, received the title, and a chance for the Interservice title in bouts to be held in Norfolk next week.

Big One For Moore

Lejeune's second win came by Leander Moore's unanimous decision victory over Ernie Garcia of Camp Pendleton in the lightweight division. This was Moore's first All-Marine title in two attempts.

In the opening round of fighting, Moore was content just jabbing and keeping away from Garcia, who scored a first round technical knockout over Louis Sanders of the Marine Barracks, Portsmouth, N. H., in the semi-final round the night before. His semi-final TKO victory was the fastest bout in the tourney, only lasting 2 minutes, 10 seconds. With good speed, Moore was able to move around Garcia, landing good hooks throughout the round.

Garcia changed his pace in the second round and opened up on the Lejeune slugger as the round started. Landing a good hook, the Pendleton fighter, who was runner-up in last year's competition, sent Moore into the ropes. Garcia moved in on Moore blasting him with rights and lefts as Moore tried to get off the ropes. Once off the ropes, Moore opened up on the Pendleton fighter, but was stopped as the second round ended.

In the final round, action started slow. Moore opened fighting with a series of jabs, but Garcia kept working on the body. Halfway through the final round, Moore landed two right crosses which stunned the Pendleton fighter and forced him into the ropes. This time it was Moore's turn and he took advantage of the opportunity by landing blow after blow until the round ended. Moore was easily awarded the victory.

Price Beats Teammate

In the final bout of the evening, Lejeune's only other victory, Percy Price scored a technical knockout over his stable mate Sebben Jackson in 1:33 of the second round. Price, who was hoping for a crack at Al Wilson of Camp Pendleton, who defeated him in last year's All-Marine in San Diego, settled for Jackson when the Camp Pendleton coach cancelled Wilson's appearance because of medical reasons.

With only one minute gone in the second round, Price landed a left on Jackson's cheek and countered with two thunderous rights. Jackson was dazed and took another right off the head without even making an attempt to block the punch. Seeing his condition, Joe Bunsu, the referee, stopped the fight before anything serious could occur.

In other bouts of the final round:

119 lb Bantamweight Title — Leonard Lopez, Camp Pendleton over Charles Amonette, MCAS, El Toro, Calif. (Decision)

125 lb Featherweight Title — Charles Brown, Camp Pendleton over Fabian Sutterlee, Camp Pendleton (TKO in 2:10 of third round).

132 lb Lightweight Title — Leander Moore, Camp Lejeune over Ernie Garcia, Camp Pendleton (Decision).

139 lb Light Welterweight Title — Charles Carter, MCAS, El Toro over Ron Sullivan, Marine Barracks, Portsmouth, N. H. (Decision).

156 lb Light Middleweight Title — Roosevelt Sanders, Camp Pendleton over Richard Gregory, Camp Pendleton (KO in 2:45 of first round).

165 lb Middleweight Title — Richard Anderson, Camp Pendleton over Rocky Winstead, Camp Lejeune (Decision).

178 lb Light Heavyweight Title — Dan Stepniewski, Camp Pendleton over William Love, Camp Lejeune (Decision).

Heavyweight Title — Percy Price, Camp Lejeune over Sebben Jackson, Camp Lejeune (TKO in 1:33 of second round).

An innovation in trophy awards took place during the championship finals. The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce presented awards to Dan Stepniewski of Camp Pendleton and Gilbert Tindley of the Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, for the most outstanding bout of the entire tournament. Tindley and Stepniewski met in the opening round with the Pendleton fighter taking the decision after a hectic three rounds.

IT'S ALL OVER—Richard Gregory, a light middleweight from Camp Pendleton, takes the ten count from referee Joe Bunsu after his opponent, Roosevelt Sanders, also from Camp Pendleton, lowered the boom on him in 2:45 of the first round. This was the only knockout of the three-day program.

MSgt. John E. Green ended almost two decades of Marine Corps service here March 30 upon his transfer to the Marine Corps Reserve. Lt. Col. Ross T. ## Captain Hunt Retires From Marine Corps

A Marine Corps career spanning more than 21 years came to a close March 30, with the retirement of Capt. Eugene Hunt, adjutant of the 2d Marine Division's Pioneer Battalion.

The retiring Captain was honored at a parade and review, staged by the Pioneer Bn., on the Base Parade Ground.

Hunt has served with the Pioneer's since August 1959. The captain will make his home in Swansboro where he plans to go into the charter fishing boat business.

Capt. Hunt joined the Marine Corps as a private in October 1940. He was commissioned a second lieutenant while serving with the 1st Marine Division during the Korean conflict in 1952. His promotion to first lieutenant came in 1953 and captain in 1956.

Prior to reporting for duty with the 2d Division almost three years ago, Capt. Hunt was stationed at the Marine Barracks, Naval Ammunition Depot, Oahu, Hawaii.

Capt. Hunt is the owner-operator of the Jessinda, a 48-foot fishing boat, powered by twin GM diesel engines. The boat — named (Jessinda), is a combination from his wife Jessica and daughter Linda, and will operate out of Casper's Marina in Swansboro. Captain and Mrs. Hunt also have two other children, John and Eugene Jr.

Among the captains ribbons and decorations are the American Defense, Korean Service, United Nations Ribbon, Naval Commendation with Combat "V", Asiatic-Pacific, Army-Navy Occupation Service, National Defense Service, Philippine Liberation, and the Marine Corps Good Conduct Medal (six awards).

Corps during an informal ceremony honoring his career from active duty.

Sergeant Green enlisted in the Marine Corps on September 1942. At the time of his retirement, he was serving as a gunnery sergeant of Company "E", 2d Bn., 6th Marines.

During World War II, he participated in the island-hopping campaign where he made his home in Bougainville, Guam and Iwo Jima. He was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in the battle for Iwo Jima.

In his 20 years active duty, Captain Green was stationed at Lejeune four times, and he likes this area and his permanent home at Snead's Ferry, N. C.

He lists his most interesting assignments as his time going duty aboard the USS Roosevelt, a carrier at the Marine Corps Base, Washington, D. C. His assignment to the Roosevelt enabled him to see much of Europe. His most challenging and rewarding experience, however, was at the Marine Institute where he helped the Infantry Course students in preparing for their study courses.

Looking back over his career as a professional Marine, he says, "It has been a good life and my wife. I will miss the men I have seen duty with."

New Lejeune Dependents Teenage Club Opens Doors With Installation Of Officers

"... With the authority vested in me, I install you, Sharon McCabe, as President, you Albert Kyle, as Vice-President, you, Marilyn Wander, as Secretary, and you, Jim Rogers, as Treasurer of the Teenage Club, Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N. C." With these words, Maj. Gen. J. P. Berkeley, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, installed the first officers of the newly formed Teenage Club for Marine dependents of the Tri-Command area at Camp Lejeune. The club has been formed to provide entertainment and recreation for its members and to give them an opportunity to prepare themselves to be useful citizens.

Attending the first official meeting of the teen club were more than 300 teens and adults. Included in the attendance were representatives from 2d Marine Division, Marine Corps Base, Force Troops, the Officers Wives Club, the Staff NCO Wives Club, the PTA, the Camp High School Senior, Junior, Sophomore, Freshman and pre-high school classes.

The first official business of the club's newly installed officers was the presentation of membership cards in the club to Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Berkeley. Along with the cards, the Berkeleys were made lifetime members of the club.

Miss McCabe continued the club's first business meeting by recognizing other honored guests.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, the adult guests adjourned to the recreation room where they were served refreshments by the Staff NCO Wives Club. This club also provided the decorations for the festivities.

While some of the teens danced to the music of a combo, others played ping-pong, shuffleboard, and pool.

There are presently more than 200 teens on the club's rolls.

While membership in the club is restricted to teenagers—13 to 19—associate membership of college students is permitted.

Other rules of the club's by-laws and constitution state that "dependents of military personnel on active duty, Fleet Reserve, or retired and widows of military personnel who have not remarried) . . . dues for such membership are one dollar."

The teens desiring to join the club must also have the written consent of their parents.

Future plans for the Teenage Club call for an Easter Dance April 21 at Marston Pavilion.

The Marine Corps of today was established by an Act of Congress on July 11, 1798, as a separate service within the Naval Establishment.

Jewish Faithful Celebrate Feast Of Passover April 18

Wednesday night Jews throughout the world will gather in their homes and other dining places to celebrate their most important Spring holiday: Passover. The festival will be observed at Camp Lejeune Wednesday, April 18, in the Hostess House Cafeteria, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Passover is observed through means of the annual traditional Seder service and is derived from the Book of Exodus which recounts the dramatic struggles of the early Israelites in their bid for freedom from bondage in Egypt during the reign of Ramses II.

The Seder service dramatizes this colorful chapter in the history of the Jewish people. It also serves as a means of bringing the Jewish family together — father, mother, sisters, brothers.

Even for those far away from home, the Seder serves an important family function. The rituals and symbols used at military and communal Seders reunite men and women with their families who are distant from them.

In the Torah, which comprises the first five books of the Bible, Passover or "Pasach" is known as the "season of our redemption." It is also known as the "Feast of the unleavened bread."

The name "Pasach" is a derivation from the Hebrew word "Psoach," meaning to skip. Before the Israelites were freed from Egypt, according to the scriptures, they were ordered to bring an animal sacrifice in the form of a lamb. The lamb was worshipped by the Egyptians.

In defiance of the Egyptian law, the Israelites slaughtered their lambs in the sight of Egyptians, and then sprinkled its blood on their doorstep posts. This act served as a sign for the Angel of Death, who was to slay the first born of the Egyptians, while passing over or "skipping" the houses of the Israelites.

The meat of the lamb was then eaten in family groups, all the members fully dressed for travel, so as to be ready for the call to depart from Egypt. The ritual continues to this day.

In the Seder service, an invitation is extended to strangers to join the feast. The traditional breaking of the "matzo" or unleavened bread has been interpreted to symbolize an eagerness to share food with others.

The Passover epic, according to the Rabbis, teaches Jews to share their blessings with all their neighbors, Jews and non-Jew alike. Through means of the Seder ritual, Jews also keep alive the memories of their ancestors' trials.

Notice

The Paradise Point Officers Club swimming pool will open April 20 for club members and their dependents and guests. Pool hours are from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. Persons under the age of 16 must pass a swimming test or be accompanied by an adult swimmer. Swimming tests will be conducted daily at the pool.

Capt. Lowery Ends Career On 22 Years

A pioneer Camp Lejeune Marine, Capt. Hershel D. Lowery, retired from the Marine Corps March 30, following 22 years' active service during ceremonies held in the office of Col. William H. Junghans, Jr., Base Headquarters and Service Bn., commanding officer.

Captain Lowery, who participated in the first Marine Corps landing on Onslow Beach in the summer of 1941, enlisted in the Marine Corps in February 1940. After completing recruit training, he was assigned duty with the 3rd Bn., 7th Marines, 1st Marine Division.

The landing on Onslow Beach was made in Higgins boats prior to the establishment of a Marine tent camp in the Verona Loop area.

With the outbreak of war in the Pacific, Lowery's battalion was transferred to British Samoa, and later participated in combat operations in the South Pacific.

Returning to the states in November 1944, he subsequently served as an instructor of officer candidates at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., performed administrative and security duties in Panama, Camp Lejeune, Washington, D. C., and logistic duties aboard ship and in California.

Captain Lowery served as a regimental training officer with the 3rd Marine Division, and later as commanding officer of Headquarters Co., 9th Marines, from October 1960 to December 1961.

Lowery was then transferred to H&S Bn., MCB, where he was assistant Adjutant and Operations Officer until his retirement.

ALL ABOARD!—Families of 8th Engineer Battalion Marines "fasten their seat belts" for a breath-taking ride at speeds approaching three miles per hour aboard the engineers' "shuttle" Friday. (Photo by Sgt. R. Beam)

Family Day Shows Why Dad Gets So Dirty

Pole-climbing and pole-chopping, 'dozer precision and foot races, sack race, automatic "laundry taker-downer," were a few of the events which highlighted "Family Day" held at the 8th Engineer Battalion stockade last Friday. "We want the families to see why the men come home dirty and to understand the job they do," said 1st Sgt. T. J. Avery of Service Company. After arrival at the Engineer stockade, more than 450 wives and children were treated to a smorgasbord—Marine Corps style—with all the trimmings. After the meal, the guests were directed to another area in the stockade where the engineers had set up bleachers.

THESE THINGS BORE ME—Sgt. John F. Kilpatrick, Service Co., was intent on the proceedings as the engineers built a 100-yard stretch of road in eight minutes. His son, John, three, was not overly enthused. After all, what could be as exciting as doing it in a sandbox? It was a good time to catch a few winks. (Photo by Sgt. R. Beam)

Here, the various demonstrations and contests were to be staged. For the convenience of the parents—and to the delight of the younger set—the engineers ran a "shuttle service" from the mess area to the bleachers in the form of a large sled pulled by—you guessed it—a bulldozer. Though walking was actually faster than taking the "train," the expression on the faces of the kids indicated that they weren't that concerned with its poor showing in any 0-60 m.p.h. competition.

The first event of the day was a "dozer-driving-precision" contest between the various engineer companies in which the operators had to start their weapons—ah, vehicles, that is—maneuver them to balloons tied at ground-level, and lower the blade as close as possible without breaking the balloon.

Following the driving contest, company representatives vied for honors in a pole-climbing and pole chopping contest. This event provided interesting entertainment in that some of the ascents and descents were not quite orthodox—but they were speedy.

Probably the most interesting event of the day was the construction of a 100-yard stretch of road using 32 pieces of required engineering equipment. For the convenience of the parents—and to the delight of the younger set—the engineers ran a "shuttle service" from the mess area to the bleachers in the form of a large sled pulled by—you guessed it—a bulldozer. Though walking was actually faster than taking the "train," the expression on the faces of the kids indicated that they weren't that concerned with its poor showing in any 0-60 m.p.h. competition.

For the convenience of the parents—and to the delight of the younger set—the engineers ran a "shuttle service" from the mess area to the bleachers in the form of a large sled pulled by—you guessed it—a bulldozer. Though walking was actually faster than taking the "train," the expression on the faces of the kids indicated that they weren't that concerned with its poor showing in any 0-60 m.p.h. competition.

The EOD platoon conducted an afternoon's events with a demonstration of their automatic "laundry taker-downer," which consisted of an orange clothes line on which were attached clothes. In a demonstration of "clothes line" was the "removal" of clothes from the line. The "removal" of clothes probably made a demonstration of the housewife's question. One "band" were all down. The "removal" should be so fast.

Lt. Col. James A. Kennedy, who had assumed command of the 8th Engineers earlier that day, was the guest of honor. He said, "I was here at the time of the attack on Iwo Jima. I feel very fortunate to be here today. I've met here today." The moral of the story is that the engineers are a very hardworking and dedicated group of men.

IT'S A MARINE CORPS POLICY that everyone will have mess duty, and in keeping with this, Lt. Col. James A. Kennedy, CO of 8th Engineers does his share as he serves Mrs. Faye, wife of Cpl. J. Tucker of "C" Co., 8th Engr. Bn., and daughter, Reba Faye. (Photo by Sgt. R. Beam)

A Moo Moo On ACDU Not Boo Boo

When Pfc. Glenn Bradley was called to active duty last fall he traveled 1,000 miles from Wells, Nev., to Ft. Lewis, with his wife, a child, and the family cow.

Asked why he brought the cow, he said, "I didn't want to sell her back home because I would have taken a beating. And I couldn't find someone to keep her for me while I was gone."

The 25-year-old Reservist, a Nevada forest ranger in civilian life, lived at the Wells ranger station. "Everybody back there has a cow," Bradley explained. "Wells has about 1,000 people but no dairy. The nearest one is 115 miles away, at Twin Falls, Idaho."

Asked what will happen to his cow when the 32d leaves active duty, the soldier replied confidently, "Why we'll just take her back to Wells with us, of course."
