THE USUAL CHOW LINE—This line speaks for itself as MAG-26 members line up for chow in the field. Since the camp was hypothetically in a logistics support area, a field galley was able to be set up and no "C" rations were needed.

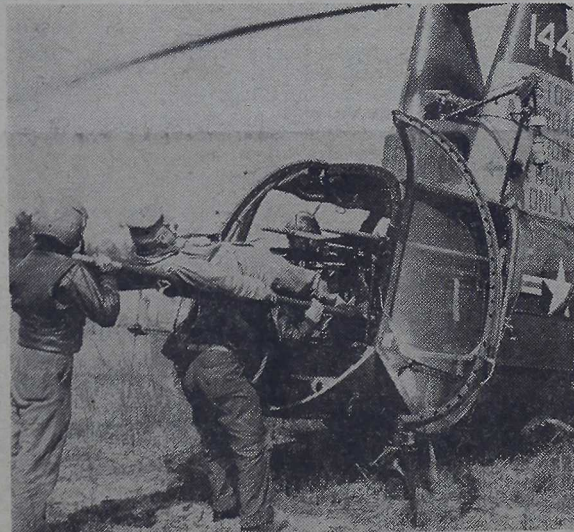

MAG-26 Combat Readiness Tested By 'Operation Foxy'

By GYSGT. DICK NICKLIN
MAG-26 ISO

"We all learned a great deal here and have verified our classroom instruction. It has been most gratifying to see the response of all our men in this operation. They have really come through and done a fine job." These were the words of Lt. Col. Robert L. Cochran, Commanding Officer of Marine Aircraft Group-26 as they wound up the week-long "Operation Foxy" at the Marine Corps Auxiliary Air Field, Oak Grove, near Pollackville, N. C., on be controlled and diverted to new missions after they are airborne and closer control can be maintained in the air.

Field equipment was also tested by the helicopter group during the operation and four of the squadrons were given their Operational Readiness Inspection by Col. E. J. Doyle and members of the 2d Marine Aircraft Wing Inspectors staff. Many extra problems were set up for the various squadrons, such as a simulated aircrash with troops aboard, medical evacuation pickups, message pickups and the use of the helicopter hoist.

MEDICAL EVACUATION—A simulated medical evacuation is performed by members of VMO-1, MAG-26, as they load a stretcher patient aboard an HOK helicopter in the field.

and their equipment of 1st Battalion, 8th Marines of the 2d Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, during night operations.

One of the other main objectives of "Operation Foxy" was to train MAG-26 personnel in anti-guerrilla warfare. For this portion of the field problem, 1st Lt. Slayton's Platoon of Bravo Company, 2d Recon Bn., furnished the guerrillas or "Stinkos" as the script called them, and 1st Lt. Breth's Alpha Co., 1st Bn., 6th Marines furnished the base defense company, which worked out in platoon sections, operating out of patrol bases to supplement the defenses of the Marine Aircraft Group.

Early defenses held the guerrillas to the outer perimeter of the field during first action until midnight when some of the air group defenses were pulled back.

During a heavy night offensive at about 2 a.m. the guerrilla band broke through some of the outer defenses and probed deep into the airfield sector. However, as was stated at a post-operation conference, had the defenses been firing live ammunition, the marauding bands would not have been able to penetrate the defense.

Col. Cochran gave high praise to the forces from 2d Recon Bn., as well as the defense company from the Sixth Marines and commented that he was "amazed at the intense enthusiasm of his own Marine helicopter-mechanic-pilot-riflemen who went all out to defend their aircraft and airfield."

An air-ground exercise was also tested during operations on Thursday when 8-man heli-teams were launched in two helicopters and sent out to pin down reported guerrillas in a certain area. The helicopters landed their heli-teams to bracket the guerrillas and then went aloft to serve as the eyes and ears of the team on the ground in spotting the action of the enemy.

March 30.

The colonel went on to say, in an interview, that: "What we lack in experience, we made up for in enthusiasm, and in this operation we gained a lot of experience."

This was the first time that an entire group had moved their unit into the field, including their helicopters, to operate under simulated combat conditions in what will become an annual field problem.

MAG-26, minus HMM-262 and HMM-264 who are deployed aboard aircraft carriers, moved into the field beginning at 6 a.m. on March 26. All equipment and personnel that could be airlifted to the camp sight were carried by the near 50 helicopters and the remainder were moved by truck.

Elements of MAB-26 had moved into the field on March 19 to set up the base camp.

One of the main objectives of the operation was to set up and perfect the Helicopter Directional Control Center (HDC); a system to control the operations of helicopters within a given radius of the main base. The center was established by members of MASS-1 of 2dMAW at Cherry Point in conjunction with their Directional Air Support Center already set up in the field.

With the system, helicopters can

"good for him" movies that everybody enjoys.
PEPE
The story is a light framework to support the melody of entertainment.
Pepe, a Mexican ranch hand devoted to a magnificent white stallion, follows the horse to Hollywood. Leading players are:
Cantinflas, Dan Dailey, Shirley Jones and Edward G. Robinson. Pepe's trip to Hollywood starts when Dan Dailey becomes the new owner of the white stallion.

BREAKFAST AT TIFFANY'S
George Peppard, a young writer being "sponsored" by Patricia Neal, arrives in his newly decorated Manhattan brown-stone, also tenanted by Audrey Hepburn, a pixieish playgirl who is dazzled by Tiffany's window display and is handsomely paid for dining with wealthy men. Others in the cast are: Buddy every captive brought back. Other cast include: Richard Widmark, Shirley Jones, Andy Devine, Linda Cristal and Henry Brandon.

THE MOST WANTED MAN
Fernandel, France's top film comic, does himself a disservice by permitting this utterly silly so-called comedy to reach American screens. It is an attempted satire on gangster film. He gets some chuckles but few outright laughs. With Zsa Zsa Gabor for marquee lure this will get by in drive-ins but that's about all. Best in the cast is David Opatoshu, who recently scored in a dramatic role in "Exodus".
HOME FROM THE HILL
Big and sprawling, the film version of William Humphrey's best seller tells many stories about many people. It is loosely assembled around a powerful rancher, notorious as a lover and a sportsman, his embittered wife, their seventeen year old boy and the father's elder illegitimate son. It stars Robert Mitchum, Eleanor Parker, George Pepp-ard and George Hamilton.
DOCTOR AT SEA
This British import is a light comedy based on the adventures of a young British doctor, who, to escape the designs of a doctor's daughter, signs up as a ship's doctor with a cargo steamer heading for the tropics. It stars Dirk Bogarde, James Robertson Justice, Brigitte Bardot and Brenda De Banzie.

WARNING! AGGRESSOR

(Editor's Note: Intelligence sources reveal that Aggressor troops are becoming increasingly active. Division and Force Troops personnel are cautioned to be extremely alert to the danger of these forces. Psychological warfare is a major weapon of the aggressor. Troops leaders are urged to keep their men fully informed on aggressor activities. The following article appeared in an Aggressor newspaper following an attack on 2d Division troops at Camp Lejeune.)

'People's Democratic Party' Welcomes Marines Back to Human Race

Aggressor troops, fresh and spirited from successive victories against Wall Street exploitation, have received thousands of discouraged 2d Marine Division troops anxious to surrender.

Aggressor-Colonel General (name withheld) has urged troops of his command to welcome all defecting Marines who wish to escape the bonds of capitalist tyranny and surrender to our forces.

Aggressor troops have been waging successful and unrelenting campaigns against Marines, who are reported near rebellion against their hardened, sadistic leaders.

Aggressor troops have received extensive indoctrination along well established and proven socio-economic lines as developed by the Party, and are reported eager to welcome Marines into the fold.

Repeated strikes into the very heart of the capitalist-riddled ranks of the Division have been successful. Psychological warfare as waged by our heroic People's Aggressor Troops, is proving more valuable daily.

6th Marines Terrified

"To beat them, you have to be prepared to play their games better than they can."

This is the philosophy behind extensive guerrilla and anti-guerrilla training exercises conducted since the Korean War by Marines of the 2d Division.

As his men prepared a guerrilla exercise, Capt. Frank P. Eller Jr., commanding officer of "E" Company, 2d Battalion, 6th Marines, explained, "Limited war has no clear-cut lines of operation. The front is where the action is—be it in front of our farthest advance or in territory far to our rear. It is a deadly game with no gentlemanly rules."

"E" Company began field operations on a Monday morning, Thursday evening, when they returned to their barracks area, they were tired and longed for a cool glass, a hot meal, a shower and a nice soft bed. As it was meant to be, the training was rough and exact. Night attacks, long marches, walking with the stealth of a cat, crawling long distances on their stomachs, observing, anticipating detection, ambushing and raiding the enemy from out of nowhere and disappearing were all part of the guerrilla game. After their four-day practice exercise, the men of "E" Company were willing to play it anywhere with anyone.

Like any art that is to be learned well, guerrilla warfare takes practice. On Monday morning when the company arrived in the field they began developing their skills in specialized phases of the art. Throughout the first day and most of the night they practiced setting up ambushes and conducting raids.

On Tuesday, more elaborate problems were staged. While three-man teams scouted the area, the separate platoons practiced ambushing Captain Eller's mighty-mite which simulated an enemy convoy.

The ambushes were built around hastily constructed roadblocks. To lessen noise, pliant roadside trees were cut only half way through and then bent across the road. Other logs were lugged into place. The road beyond it was mined as an insurance against tanks.

Enacting a typical ambush, Captain Eller's mighty-mite wheeled unsuspectingly around a blind corner. Spotting the roadblock too late, the driver slammed on the brakes. The vehicle was unable to stop until its right wheel fell into a carefully disguised hole. The trap had been made by digging a hole in the road and covering it with small branches and dirt. Instantaneously, three trees fell across the road behind the vehicle and small arms fire riddled the area. Upon a prearranged signal the guerrillas disappeared into the timber... leaving no trace of their movements. If this had plane had spotted a guerrilla force.

The helicopters picked up the men at 2 p.m. By 3 p.m. the entire company had been moved. They immediately deployed and set up road blocks to seal off the enemy force while scouting patrols were sent out to pinpoint the guerrillas and a bridge.

After accomplishing their mission, the units assembled and moved to the area where they would spend their second night in the field. By this time extensive information had been gathered by patrols pin-pointing the bridge site as to number and type of vehicles being used and the strength and location of security forces.

The company reverted to its guerrilla role and throughout the night conducted sporadic harrassing attacks on the engineer company. The problem gave the engineers practice in providing their own security while adding realism to the guerrilla attacks.

At 4 a.m., "E" Company staged a company-sized raid on the site. Small units were assigned the job of eliminating bridge security. Another unit acted as a covering force to cover the withdrawal of the raiding party. The bridge was simultaneously attacked from both sides of the river and all objectives were over-run. Upon pyrotechnic signal, both groups withdrew to designated rally points.

Speaking of the raid, Captain Eller commented, "The raid appeared to be well coordinated. The 'enemy' bridge builders were apparently thrown off guard by being attacked from all sides. The raiding party withdrew in a very orderly manner. I was very satisfied."

Wednesday and Thursday the company continued to sharpen their skills in the many facets of guerrilla and anti-guerrilla warfare. Realism was added Wednesday morning by violent rain squalls.

Guerrilla warfare is a primary tactic of most modern "small" wars. To be successful in this type of military operation, a force must be familiar with the tactics they can expect to encounter and be able to use the same tactics against the enemy . . . play their games better than they can.

Devilpups Earn Split In First Two Games

Coach Tom McGhee's Devilpups opened their 1962 baseball season last Thursday afternoon by downing Dixon 4-3 on the loser's diamond. Their victory was short lived, however, for on Friday, they dropped a close decision to Smyrna, 10-9, after a late inning rally fell just short of its mark.

In the season's opener, the Lejeune Devilpups scored all their runs in the fifth inning. Although they were out-hit by the neighboring Dixon nine, 7 to 4, the locals got them when they counted.

Bacon went the distance for the Devilpups, giving up one run in the first and two in the fifth. He helped his own cause by banging out one hit and scoring a run.

In Friday's 10-9 loss to Smyrna, Lejeune was trailing 8-3 going into the fifth inning. The Pups scored two in the fifth and added three more in the sixth to tie the game.

Smyrna came right back with two in the bottom of the sixth to wrap the game up.

Corsair Begins Spring Fishing Sched With Hopes For Another Busy Season

Deep-sea fishing enthusiasts are not forgotten in Camp Lejeune's Special program. A fishing boat is available for these sportsmen of the deep on a unit level. Each unit of the Quad-Command is allotted several days during the season themselves of this opportunity to try for the "big ones" aboard the "Corsair." Docked at White Oak River Bridge, the "Corsair" is a 44½-foot fishing cruiser, operated by the Base Special Services Office. Its mission is to provide hours of entertainment for Quad-Command service personnel and their dependents.

Boxing Award Ceremony Set For Tomorrow

Highlight of the All-Marine Boxing Tournament awards ceremony to be held Friday night, April 6, at the Hadnot Point Staff NCO Annex will be the presentation of two trophies by the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce to the most outstanding participants.

H. Don Southerland, vice-president of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, will make the presentation at a banquet for the boxers and coaches and special guests.

During other ceremonies, awards will be presented to both the winners of each division competition, and each participant of the tournament.

Winners will receive solid-gold rings emblazoned with the Marine Corps emblem and "1962 All-Marine Boxing Tournament." Participants will receive wristwatches.

Special guests at the banquet will be Brig. Gen. L. W. Walt, assistant commanding general, 2d Marine Division, and MSgt. Frank Veith.

Sergeant Veith, who retires this year after completing more than 21 years' service, is a former professional fighter who once fought one-time heavyweight Max Schmeling.

The craft, driven by two 125-horse-power, air-cooled engines had been the property of Camp Lejeune for over eight years. After its christening in 1921, the "Corsair" sank after damages were suffered in shallow water off the coast of Florida. Since being retrieved and repaired by the Navy and purchased by the Marine Corps, the "Corsair" has received numerous face liftings and today looks as though it were a 1962 fishing yacht.

The "Corsair" made as many as 180 fishing trips last year, providing fishing thrills for nearly 1,500 deep sea enthusiasts of the Quad-Command. Over 9,000 pounds of fish were believed to have been caught, with the largest being an amberjack, tipping the scales at 55 pounds.

The fishing craft began its operation last Sunday and will continue through October 31. Monday through Friday are the specific days set aside for personnel use. The first and third Saturdays of each month and all Sundays will be reserved for special weekend parties. Arrangements and reservations of 30 days in advance must be made by contacting the Base Special Services Officer in person or by telephoning 7-3762 or 7-5694. It will be on a first come, first serve basis. The Recreation Office will be closed to reservations on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Fifteen miles from the limit of operation, the minimum number of personnel on any scheduled fifteen, plus a crew of the party must be their own food, bait and equipment. Weather conditions confirmed by contacting the NCO on the morning of the trip.

An officer or staff non-commissioned officer must accompany the party. There is a limit of four members of the crew of beer aboard the craft. Dependents must make arrangements for their own transportation through the Special Services Office.

Units who fail to use the boat on the day will lose the privilege for the remainder of year.

Baseball Laments

Everyone felt that the Lejeune varsity baseball team its way last week as they compiled seven straight fore facing Louisburg Junior College, last Mon-ll, you can't win them all. During the seven-game Lejeune got the breaks all the way, including a in the game with the University of Massachusetts ey were down three runs in the 10th inning, only up with four in the last of the 10th to pull the it of the hat.

He has answered the call twice in the recent ak by putting two over the fence. The coaching tes that he is secretly mumbling about breaking ry Agganis Field home run record this year. Lejeune Wins Seven Straight Before Losing To Louisburg

The Camp Lejeune varsity nine posted their longest win streak of the season in the past two weeks only to be beaten in Monday's contest, 5-2, against Louisburg College. With seven straight victories, which included two each over Michigan State and the University of Massachusetts and three over the West Chester (Pa.) State Teachers' College, the Marines extended their exhibition record to nine wins, four losses before Monday's defeat. Lejeune started their Michigan State. They won their third straight last Tuesday, behind Frank Wilhelm's four-hit pitching, blanking the University of Massachusetts, 7-0.

Wilhelm struck out 10 in the nine inning tilt. His only trouble occurred in the second inning when Massachusetts got back to back singles. He pitched his way out of the jam and went on the rest of the way, allowing only two more hits in racking up the win.

Hal Norton and Cicero McLeland shared hitting honors with three apiece.

The locals trounced three opposing pitchers for 14 hits. Lejeune scored once in the third and fifth inning and had a five run uprising in the seventh.

Lejeune copped their fourth in a row last Wednesday by dumping the University of Massachusetts, 9-8, in 10 innings.

Steve Ellett, the last of four local hurlers, picked up the win, while Don Corry of Massachusetts received the loss.

Massachusetts opened scoring in the first inning and added two more runs in the fourth. The locals bounced back with three runs in the fifth and took a 5-3 lead by getting two more in the sixth. Massachusetts added two in the seventh to throw the game into extra innings.

Lejeune 6 West Chester College 5

On Thursday afternoon, the locals added number five to their win list by downing the West Chester (Pa.) State Teachers College 6-5, in the first of a three game series.

Alex Bright started for Lejeune and pitched six innings before giving way to Tom Mazzolini in the seventh. Mazzolini went the rest of the way and was credited with the win.

Lejeune broke into the scoring column with a run in the first and then backed it up with three in the second. In the fourth, the locals added another on Hal Norton's first home run of the year.

West Chester scored single runs in the third and fourth innings, and then scored three in the eighth to knot the score at 5-5. In the last of the eighth, Lejeune scored a lone run which was enough for the victory.

Lejeune 5 West Chester College 3

Brilliant relief pitching by Tom Mazzolini enabled the Marines to push their streak to six straight as they edged West Chester 5-3, in Friday's encounter.

Mazzolini came on in the eighth inning with none out and the bases loaded. He struck out the first batter, got the second on an infield fly, and the final out on an easy grounder to assure a victory.

Jim Goodrich, who went the first seven innings, received the win.

HOME RUN KING — Hal Norton, co-holder of the home run record at Harry Agganis Field, seems well under way in regaining his form of 1959 when he banged 14 out of the park. He hit two home runs last week.

John Holt, both with one man on, in the fifth inning sparked the Lejeune nine to their seventh in a row with a 7-3 victory in their last meeting with West Chester State Teachers College. It was Norton's second home run of the season and Holt's first.

Frank Wilhelm was the winning pitcher for Lejeune. His current record is 2-2 over the early season. Louisburg College 5 Camp Lej. 2

After winning seven in a row, Lejeune fell by the wayside by dropping to Louisburg College, 5-2 Monday afternoon.

Lejeune was held to only four hits by Louisburg pitcher Tommy Brown. He was relieved in the ninth with one on and none out by Jim Futrell who went the rest of the way untouched.

Lejeune faced Louisburg on Tuesday afternoon. The results of that game were not available and will be re-capped in the next edition.

After that, there is only a two game series, beginning Friday with Colby College before the Lejeune varsity leaves for Chapel Hill to face the University of North Carolina in the regular season opener on April 10.

Letter Praises PX Manager's Quality Work

The Camp Lejeune Main Exchange Manager, MSgt. Harvey E. Brown, was awarded a letter of commendation at a Meritorious Mast in his honor last week.

Col. William H. Junghans, commanding officer, H&S Bn., Marine Corps Base, made the presentation. The letter read: "Since January 17, 1961, to date, MSgt. Brown has been assigned duty as Manager of the Main Branch of the Camp Lejeune Marine Corps Exchange. His duties have included training and supervising more than 81 employees, preparing daily reports and budgets, analyzing records and costs pertaining to the Exchange, and supervising a $600,000 merchandise inventory. He has performed these duties in an outstanding manner."

"Of particular note has been MSgt. Brown's performance of duty from January 23, 1961 to January 31, 1962, during which period the gross sales of that activity were increased in excess of eight percent over the previous comparable annual period. This increase in sales is indicative of MSgt. Brown's proficiency in merchandise display, stock control and imagination in promoting merchandise. His efforts in reducing pilferage by patrons during this period resulted in shortages of less than .003 percent."

MSgt. Brown was instrumental in the design of fixtures and layout for the recent refurbishment of the housewares, boys' wear, cosmetics, jewelry and promotion departments.

Dispensary Head Rates 'Well Done'

Chief Hospital Corpsman Charles E. Mock, USN, was honored at a meritorious mast last week in the office of Col. William H. Junghans Jr., commanding officer, H&S Battalion, MCB.

The letter of commendation presented to Chief Mock praised him for his outstanding performance of duty as the petty officer in charge of the Camp Geiger Dispensary. Among his duties was the supervision of maintaining approximately 20,000 health records a year for Marine Corps personnel receiving training at the 1st Infantry Training Regiment at Camp Geiger. His ability to maintain the respect of his subordinates has greatly contributed toward the high state of morale at the Dispensary.

"Of particular note has been Chief Mock's performance of duty during the past four months, during which period the Dispensary administered to an average of four to five hundred patients daily at sick call. His willingness to work seven days a week, often in excess of twelve hours a day, is indicative of his responsible attitude and devotion to duty."

"Through his leadership, knowledge of his job, and keen sense of duty, Chief Mock has contributed materially to the successful accomplishment of the mission of the Base Medical Department."

Girl Scouts Have New Age Grouping Divisions

Names for four age levels within the Girl Scout program, to replace the three level structure that the organization has used since 1938, have been announced by the Girl Scouts of America. Beginning in September 1963, age groupings for the 2,685,000 girls in Girl Scouting will be as follows: Brownie Girl Scouts, ages 7 and 8 years;

Junior Girl Scouts, aged 9, 10 and 11 years; Cadette Girl Scouts, ages 12, 13, and 14 years; and Senior Girl Scouts, aged 15, 16 and 17 years. Until that time, troops will continue in the present pattern of Brownie Scouts aged 7 through 9, Intermediate Girl Scouts aged 10 through 13, and Senior Girl Scouts aged 14 through 17.

Mrs. J. P. Abbott, Onslow County-Camp Lejeune district secretary, has been appointed Program Launching Coordinator for the entire council area. She will coordinate a large-scale effort to explain plans for change to the Girl Scout family and to other community groups that work closely with the Girl Scouts; to organize troops within the present three age levels in such a way that the change to four levels may be accomplished without confusion; and to train the council's 1,847 adult volunteers in details of the revised program as soon as information becomes available.

Girl Scouts Surprise Former Leader With 'Bon Voyage' Gifts

Former Midway-Knox-Tarawa Terrace neighborhood Girl Scout chairman, Mrs. Gerald Johnson, was surprised with a number of going away gifts from the 14 MKT troops at the monthly neighborhood meeting.

She received a Samsonite train case, a ball point pen and a box of thank you cards. Presentation was made by Mrs. James Henderson, Midway Park troop leader. District secretary, Mrs. Joseph P. Abbott, also gave her a silver Girl Scout anniversary teaspoon in gratitude and as a remembrance.

Mrs. Johnson, who left Monday for Minneapolis, Minn., to live while her husband is in Japan, was neighborhood chairman for a year and a half. Her successor is Mrs. Ralph Hicks, a resident of Knox Trailer Park.

Witt Reenlists For Six Years To Become DI

A young 2d FSR Marine will soon join the student rolls of the Drill Instructor School at Parris Island. Sgt. Charles H. Witt, MS&M Bn., has been restless for the job he most enjoys. "I worked as a troop handler at Pendleton in '55 as an E-3 corporal," he said. "I guess I've always liked to work with the troops."

Witt, who has been bidding for this most elite duty for the past five years, believes that every Career Marine "should have a tour on the drill field," if at all possible.

Sergeant Witt's wife, Mary Evelyn, is behind her husband all the way. When asked if she had taken into the consideration what the life for the wife of a "D.I." would be like, she said, "You bet!...and I'm with him in whatever he wants to do." Of the Marine Corps as a whole, Mrs. Witt thought that it has been "an enjoyable life and a wonderful way to meet people."

The Witts have a daughter — two-year-old Mary Lynn. Both Sgt. and Mrs. Witt believe that a Marine's wife and family are as important to the direction and quality of his career as is the Marine himself. "If a man knows his wife is happy, then he's happy in his work," remarked Mrs. Witt.

Witt, who is also eligible for Recruiting Duty, hopes to include this phase of Marine Corps service in his career also — perhaps after leaving the drill field.

The Azalea Story

Azaleas are flowers. Azaleas grow at Camp Lejeune. Azaleas are now blooming at Camp Lejeune. Azaleas add beauty to Camp Lejeune. Base Maintenance dislikes people who pick azaleas. MP's pick up people who pick up azaleas. Keep your cotton-pickin' hands off the azaleas!

Reenlistment Award Won By 2d Marines

Col. A. L. Booth, commanding officer, 2d Marine Regiment, and SSgt. R. E. Satterwhite, career advisory non-commissioned officer for that unit, received the Quarterly Reenlistment Award from Maj. Gen. F. L. Wieseman, commanding general, 2d Marine Division, Monday, April 2.

Sergeant Satterwhite, reporting to Camp Lejeune in December, 1961, assumed his present duties the following month. During the quarter, he attained percentages of 21.2 in first term reenlistments and 83.3 in career reenlistments.

An All-Marine directive releasing Marines from active duty early (if they chose) had little or no effect on Satterwhite's campaign as he added 137 enlistment extensions to his merits, totaling more than 122 man-years.

Shorthand Course

The East Carolina College Branch will offer a special course in shorthand beginning April 11. The course, Business 115, is a continuation of Business 114 offered during the fall quarter of 1961. GySgt. Eugene P. Foote

First M-14 'High' Expired By GySgt. E. Foote

A Force Troops Marine became the first high expert at Camp Lejeune with the M-14. GySgt. Eugene P. Foote, 1st Tank Bn., Force Troops, dropped only 10 out of a possible 100 points while firing on the "Able" range here. The highest score he had ever fired with an M-1 was 233 last year. Foote, a 45-man detail sent his battalion to fire for record this year.

"We had an assortment of weather," Foote said, "during the week before we fired for record. We fired in rain, snow, and heavy winds. Qualification day was as nice a day as anyone could ask for."

Foote, company gunnery sergeant for "Bravo" Company, said that of 45 men firing, 18 of them qualified to wear the expert badge. "The major malfunction that I noticed with the new weapons was the flash suppressor, and that was always easily corrected," Foote stated.

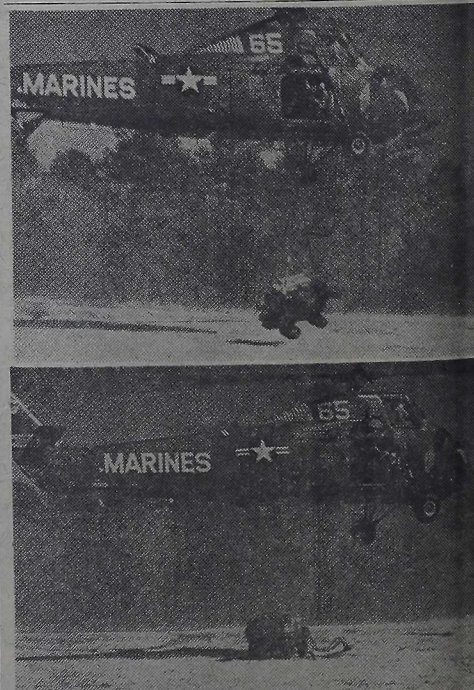

He claims that there isn't much difference between the M-1 and the M-14, "but I did score more points in the kneeling and sitting positions."

One thing Foote says while firing the new weapon is that he had more rapid fire positions. "I know what to attribute to it," he thinks it may have to do with the two five-round magazines instead of the three rounds and two.

"The only trouble with the M-14," Foote says, "is the off-hand position. It's a little awkward to cause of the magazine."

Foote, who qualified as a Leatherneck Marksman, attributes his high score to the fact that it's new, improvement in the weapon as he says with a big smile of luck.

LOP-SIDED RIDE—When one strand of a hook-up held this 2d Division mechanical mule got a lopsided ride to finish. Teamwork and good flying paid off as crew chief S. R. Brown called signals for pilot 1st Lt. John Schnabel as the mule on its wheels. The mule was gently lowered and wheels touched the ground it was pulled right. The HU is from HMM-263. (Photo by LCpl.
