

Navy Doctors Recognized For Cold Virus Research

A three-year research program by members of the Navy Medical Field Research Lab here into the various viruses which may cause the common cold has received national recognition. A United Press International release from Chicago last week said that an intestinal virus may be one of the causes of the common cold. The information was attributed to Cmdr. Henry H. Bloom, USN, head of the Virology Department of the Research Lab at Camp Lejeune and Drs. Karl J. Johnson, Maurice A. Mufson and Robert M. Chanock of the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md.

The virus, Cocksackie A-21, they said, is one of a group of "hardy agents of small size" which commonly inhabit man's intestinal tract. The virus was recovered from the throats of cold sufferers among Marine personnel in the 1st Infantry Training Regiment and Force Troops. Prior to the discovery, Group A. Cocksackie viruses had been associated with mild fevers and neurological diseases.

The importance of the Cocksackie A-21 virus in producing cold symptoms and the possible role of other intestinal viruses in causing colds remains to be determined, they said.

Dr. Bloom said that research on the Cocksackie viruses is being continued and that it was impossible to link any pattern of physical complaints with the presence of the virus.

However, in comparison of cold victims with the virus to cold victims without the virus, the sniffles, headaches and chills and fevers were reported more frequently by those with the virus.

Division and Force Troops personnel augmenting ITR and personnel attending Supply Schools and Engineering School, will make their contributions there, not through parent units.

Solicitation Dates

Personnel will be solicited for contributions to the National Health campaign on the first pay day during the drive period and Federal Services Joint Crusade on the second day. Other pay days during the period will be utilized for personnel not available on either or both of the first and second days.

This unique "Ask 'em one time, and one time only" plan was originated and utilized successfully by Col. Miller for last year's drive.

Participating Agencies

The following are participating health agencies:

American Cancer Society: Supports research in cancer prevention, diagnosis, detection and treatment. Dramatic advances in treatment of and cures of cancer are expected in the near future.

American Heart Association: Is dedicated to the support of research, education, and community service programs with the objective of reducing death and disability due to heart disease and blood vessel disease.

The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation: Purpose is to increase and improve local treatment, to provide training to more doctors, to increase investigation and to extend knowledge of the diseases.

National Multiple Sclerosis Society: Supports research seeking the cause and cure of the disease and furnishes services to MS victims.

National Society For Prevention Of Blindness: Supports research into causes of blindness and provides services to persons already blind.

National Society For Crippled Children And Adults: Operates and develops nation-wide programs and services for the care and treatment of crippled children and adults.

Federal Services Agencies

American Korean Foundation: Helps Koreans help themselves by aiding in the rebuilding and rehabilitation of their devastated land.

Crusade For Freedom: Solicits funds for Radio Free Europe which broadcasts to satellite countries behind the Iron Curtain.

CARE: Channels food and self-help material to needy people in 24 countries of Europe, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East.

A contributor may designate his gift for any of the six agencies participating in the National Health campaign by checking a card provided with the gift envelope. Spaces are provided on the Federal Service envelope to designate contributions to any of three agencies.

A MARINE DISCUSSES

How We Can Protect Our Freedom

(Editor's Note: Pfc. Thomas F. Gillespie, 19, a member of the Communications Platoon, H&S Co., 1st Bn., 6th Marines is presently attending the Tactical Air Control Party School at LFTU, Little Creek, Va. Gillespie is a graduate of West Catholic High School in Philadelphia and enlisted for four years in February, 1961. His father served in the Army in WW II.)

It is almost impossible to describe Communism in just one short paragraph — the most a person could attempt to do is describe his own personal feelings toward Communism and the Cold War; with such a premium on time and space, it is often difficult to do even this.

Most people do have very definite ideas and opinions concerning Communism, and will volunteer them with little, if any, prodding. When talking to any group of persons about the Cold War and the like, you will quite probably come away with some views different from your own — which is a good thing, because the more one talks and discusses a subject, it follows that he will know more about that particular subject. And if a man is to volunteer any accurate edition of his views, then he should be familiar with what he is talking about — in this case, the means and goals of our Kremlin comrades, and, most important, of our own United States.

True Communism

From the blood-stained Berlin Wall, to the bullet-ridden Bamboo Curtain, we can observe true Communism at work. The ideological system which, founded by a questionably sane group of men, promises much, but provides little; maintains "freedom" of speech, religion and press, but liquidates "revolutionaries" and "subversives"; competes with the system of Free Enterprise, but at the same time condemns it; abhors "Capitalistic Imperialism," but, yea, endorses the "free choice of the Communist System by the starving proletarians."

Paradoxical, unethical, immoral, subversive, barbarian — these are the epithets which are rightly applied to Communism. One more could be used: fatally dangerous to freedom, if we do not take the offensive soon.

Hitler vs Khrushchev

If we consider Nazi Germany under Hitler and compare it with Russia under Khrushchev, we can discern a formidable enemy. Hitler, had he been sane, might have won World War II. But he was not; because of serious mental lapses he did not heed the advice of his staff, and thus lost Britain and the war. Khrushchev, on the other hand, is very sane; he has many times the strength of World War II Germany, and he does take into account the views and opinions of his advisors.

But no matter how powerful Russia may be, or will be in the future, it is the United States and her Allies that will determine the fate of freedom. If we continue in our frustration, confusion and indecision; if we persist in taking the defensive instead of the offensive in Cold War tactics, our current policy of containment might well fail us.

Nuclear Stalemate

Some may say that the nuclear stalemate and threat of all-out war are to blame for such frustration. This is, in fact, true. But these same people, or rather, a small, extremist fraction of this group, also say that the United States has, perhaps, overestimated the possibilities of nuclear war. Perhaps. Only the President has both the necessary information and authority to effect a change in policy. To date, all available information dictates a "middle-of-the-road" course. We in the Marine Corps must, of course, abide by Executive decisions and policies. Moreover, we might consider the fact that any extreme course could prove disastrous: too far to the left means total war; too far to the right means surrender. Some may laugh at such extremes as being ridiculous, but one need only look at the radical groups which are beginning to take root. A few persons contend that we might never have had the troubles we are having now (Berlin, Southeast Asia, Latin and South America), had we been more aggressive in past military campaigns. A thorough study of the past merits due consideration; however, as Winston Churchill once said, "The Condemnation of the Past is the Surrender of all hope for the Future." And it is to the future we should all look toward.

American Freedoms

Fate, or the Almighty, or whoever it is that determines the course of history does not have any special preference for the American system of freedoms under a Federal Republic. What we have, we fought and died to get, and must fight again to maintain it. But, at the same time, we must not (or at least, should not) allow ourselves to fall prone to frustration.

Marines and civilians alike could help considerably by judiciously exercising one of the very rights we are all defending — our right to vote. The character, ambitions, and competence of our elected officials — be they liberal or moderate, radical or conservative, left-wing or right-wing, Democrat or Republican — will determine the future course of our nation.

And, most important, we must have the will to take risks; the will to fight, if necessary; and the will to preserve our freedom. The risks of a brush-fire or even nuclear war today are far smaller than the risks of Communist domination in the future. "We must insure tomorrow's world order and peace today," if such a cliché is appropriate.

The choice is not entirely that of the individual — but, no matter how small, we do have a voice in the matter. We must let it be known to friends and enemies alike whether we wish to be "Red or dead," or, to put it in another quotation form, whether we prefer "Liberty or Death."

Annuity Program Provides Security For Service Families

When a member of the Armed Forces retires from active duty, he receives retired or retainer pay as long as he lives. No part of this retirement income, however, passes on to his immediate family when he dies. To help correct this situation, the Defense Department in 1953 backed a voluntary survivorship annuity plan under which servicemen could provide income for their widows and children.

Command Of 3/10 Goes To Major Patton

The 3d Battalion, 10th Marines, 2d Marine Division, got a new commanding officer Jan. 17 when Maj. W. C. Patton relieved Lt. Col. Dene T. Harp during informal ceremonies held in the battalion headquarters, Jan. 19.

Col. Harp was ordered to 3rd Marine Division Headquarters for duty as Special Projects Officer.

Maj. Patton had served as battalion executive officer since August 1961. Prior to that he was commanding officer of the Marine Barracks, Trinidad.

The Major, a 1946 Naval Academy graduate, holds the Bronze Star with Combat "V" for his services during the Korean campaign. He also wears the Presidential Unit Citation with 2 stars, the Korean Presidential Unit Citation, the United Nations ribbon, the Korean Service ribbon, the World War II Victory ribbon and the National Defense ribbon.

Originally called the United Services Contingency Plan, the program has since been amended and renamed the Serviceman's Family Protection Plan.

In essence, the plan makes it possible for a career serviceman to earmark a percentage of his pay for the annuity, depending on which of three options he chooses. He can choose annuities of eight, one-quarter or one-half retired pay remaining after cost of the annuities is taken.

Members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard—as well as the commissary corps of both the Coast and Army—can participate in the plan. Persons on the active and reserve lists of Reserve components are also eligible.

A participant must elect the annuity plan he wants either before he completes 18 years of service for pay purposes, or else at least three years before the first day on which he will receive retired pay (the latter applies when the serviceman did not make an election before completing his 18th year). Thus, the election will not be influenced by a definite expectation of a life-shortening physical disability at retirement.

Under the original act, a serviceman who wanted part of his retired pay to go toward a survivor annuity could do so only if he had completed his 18th year. If he did not meet this deadline, he had no second chance to elect.

The amended program permits career officers and enlisted men to elect the annuity plan at any time until they have completed 18 years. However, an election after 18 years is not effective unless the participant has served at least three years more. If an individual elects during this three-year waiting period, his election is not in effect until he may not take part in the program.

Since most servicemen who elect to have 20 or more years of service, the plan is geared to needs. The waiting period satisfies the plan's primary requirement: an election in advance of retirement, and applies the same rate to all who retire with 20 or more years.

Base Dentist Host January Club Meeting

The Demeritt Pedodontic Study Club of North Carolina conducted the professional program for the January meeting of the Camp Lejeune Dental Society.

The meeting was held at the Lejeune Hotel and was devoted to children's dentistry in conjunction with the coming 1962 National Children's Dental Health Week program. Thirteen cities and 10 counties in the eastern part of North Carolina were represented by civilian dentists in addition to guests from separate military commands.

The meeting was hosted by the Dental Department headed by Charles T. Pridgen, DC, USN. Clinics were conducted by Lewis Lee of Wilson, Dr. Don B. Wallace, Dr. William H. New Bern and Dr. Zeno Edwards, Jr., of Washington, N. C.

An invitation has been extended to both military and civilian personnel in the immediate area to attend a parade and review to be held at 10 a.m., Jan., 21, marking the change of command of Marine Aircraft Group-26 at the Marine Corps Air Facility.

The registration card is also retained by the owner. Until he registers his new car, required within 20 days, and obtains a new registration card, he keeps the old card, showing on the reverse side the name and address of the purchaser. The registration card, as usual, is required to be with the vehicle while it's in operation.

Liens against motor vehicles and trailers will be recorded next year by the Motor Vehicles Department. The new procedure eliminates the old practice of liens being recorded in the county of residence. Liens are to be incorporated on the vehicle's title certificate in one of two ways — by presenting the existing title to the department with an application for recording the lien, or by owner's application for a title containing the name and address of the lien holder, the date, amount and nature of the lien.

And in 1962, trucks and truck tractor combinations will be licensed for the gross weight of the combination. The license fee for all trailers and semi-trailers, regardless of size or use, will be $3.00 for any part of the license year.

Owners who use truck-tractors and trucks to pull trailers should make a gross weight declaration to include the empty weight of the combined two vehicles and the heaviest load that is to be transported by such combination.

Full details of the new truck fees and a summary of other regulations are contained in the special instruction leaflet sent with license renewal cards.

in January, 1946, the colonel was assigned to NAS, Dallas, Texas, where he entered flight training. He received his wings on July 26, 1948 at Jacksonville, Fla.

His second Bronze Star was earned while serving with SMS-12 in Korea and also Headquarters Squadron, MAG-12. Later tours of duty included MCAS, Cherry Point in 1951 after return from Korea and a tour as a student in the Amphibious Warfare School, Senior Course at Quantico. He also served another tour at Headquarters, Marine Corps, as head of the Electronics Branch, Division of Aviation.

He has been serving at Cherry Point since his return to the U. S. in January, 1960 and has been G-2 at the 2d MAW since June, 1961.

Civilians wishing to attend the change of command ceremonies on Mat Number 5 at the Air Facility may obtain a visitor's pass at the gate of the Air Facility.

Edson's Raiders will hold their Thirtieth Annual Reunion at Diamond Hall, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., on February 23 and 24, 1962. Camp Lejeune military personnel and their dependents now have another recreational activity available to them with the official opening last Tuesday, Jan. 16, of an automotive hobby shop in Bldg. M-113 at Montford Point. The third of its kind on the Base, the new activity is operated by personnel of the Marine Corps Supply.

Consisting of nine stalls within a 60 X 150 foot area, the new hobby shop furnishes free of charge all equipment necessary for minor automotive repairs. Indoor stalls and outdoor spaces are available on a first come, first served basis.

Set up within a month after final approval by the local area commander, the hobby shop is available to military personnel and their dependents during the following hours: Tuesday thru Friday 3 to 10 p.m.

Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Sun., Mon. and Holidays Closed

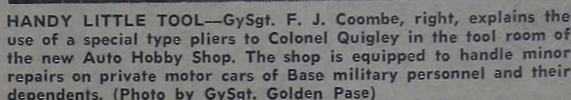

Vehicles brought to the shop must be registered with the NCO in Charge, and may not be left outdoors more than 30 days or indoors overnight. For the convenience of patrons, the hobby shop stocks a limited supply of spare parts, available to patrons through a merchandise resale activity. Also, metric tools are available for patrons who own foreign cars.

Only those vehicles properly registered with the Base Provost Marshal Office may be worked on at the hobby shop. Vehicles requiring more time to complete than the allotted 30 days may be left outside for a longer period provided special permission to do so is obtained from the NCO-in-Charge.

Dependent children under 18 are required to have written permission

Personnel desiring to use the shop facilities need only sign a check-in-log prior to either going to work on their cars or using the resale activity.

"The Base Provost Marshal has extended the date for obtaining the Base Vehicle Registration-Inspection Decal to February 15 to coincide with the procurement of 1962 North Carolina vehicle license tags."

If You Ask Me:

Of the various functions offered by Special Services, which do you find most relaxing in your off-duty hours?

PVT. KENNETH RUTHBUN JR., "C" Co., 8th Motor Transport— I spend most of my time in our area gym. I find that this is one of the best ways to relieve tensions that build up from day to day. It is also a good way to keep in shape and have a lot of fun at the same time.

MRS. BERYL HOGE, Base Education Office—In past summers my husband and I have enjoyed deep sea fishing trips on the "Cortain." I feel that this is an outstanding service to Marines and their dependents. It offers them the opportunity to relax and enjoy the exhilarating sport of deep sea fishing with their families.

LCPL. JAMES A. BOYT JR., Service Co.—I have found exercise and sports to be one of my best relaxing off-duty activities. I am currently studying shorin style karate, fighting under the competent and experienced eyes of Sam Pearson (4th degree black belt). Not only do I dissipate the day's pent up emotions, but I contribute more to my health and ability to be a formidable fighter with or without the M-1.

The GLOBE is printed by the Mount Olive (N. C.) Tribune at no expense to the government, being paid for from the Camp Recreation Fund. Published in compliance with Marine Corps Order 5727.3. Circulation this issue, 20,000.

The GLOBE is distributed free to service personnel of this Camp every Thursday. No advertising accepted. Yearly subscription, $2.00. The GLOBE receives Armed Forces Press Service (AFPS) material. All photos official USMC unless otherwise indicated.

LCPL. JOHN M. STANLEY, 2d Area Swimming Pool—I find the Base swimming pools one of the best facilities available at this base. Even during my off-duty hours I usually can be found swimming. This base has three Olympic size pools with adequate facilities, but personnel just don't seem interested. We have four regulation diving boards, placed at 5, 3 and 1 meters. Anyone interested in swimming should contact me at the Area 2 swimming pool.

PFC ROBERT W. ASHER, Base Education Office—I think that the Service Clubs are just about a necessity. They are very nice places to go in the evenings to relax and blow off steam built up during the day. Without the clubs I don't think the morale of the troops would be as high. With the various types of recreation offered such as pool, ping pong, cards and games, I think the clubs are one of the best things we have aboard the Base.

PFC R. L. SCHMIDT, 2nd Recon Bn., "A" Co.—I find the library most relaxing and educational after working hours. Before entering the Marine Corps I was attending various art schools, majoring in advertising art. The commercial art training which I received did not leave me much time to study the Old Masters. Upon entering the Marine Corps I've found my off-duty hours an ideal time to study the History of Art.

Truth Is Best Weapon In Fight Against Rumor

It has been said, but not by the GLOBE, that the quickest way to spread news is to tell it to one woman and ask her to keep it a secret. Where the ladies are concerned, this is called Gossip, but Marines, frequently and with imagination, employ its blood brother—Rumor.

Rumors spread, it appears, faster than the speed of light. A significant look by the general after hearing some ambiguous comment or question travels to the last rear-ranks rifleman in a matter of seconds and arrives in such unrecognizable shape as to be impossible to describe.

"General, sir, what do you think of the new M-14 rifle?" someone may ask.

"Well, I learned to shoot with the '03' and still like it," he might reply.

"They're gonna replace the M-14 with the '03," the private tells his buddy 15 minutes later. "The general just told the CO."

Heads are wonderful places to start rumors. Chow lines and pay lines and shot lines also contribute their share. Every place two Marines gather is a potential rumor factory.

On the surface rumors appear to be no more than distortions of truth but their effects are far-reaching, sometimes unbelievably so.

When the Germans made their frantic thrust into the Ardennes Forest during WW II in what developed into the Battle Of The Bulge, the Supreme Commander was immobilized due to rumors that German agents disguised as American soldiers were going to try to kill him. Later investigations did not completely discount the possibility but the rumor was enough to keep Eisenhower confined to his quarters according to the former President's book, "Crusade In Europe."

Rumors in a combat zone can be disastrous. Morale can be seriously damaged and combat effectiveness can be and, in some cases, has been reduced.

Rumors can do their most damage just as easily in peace time. If the price of eggs in the commissary goes up two cents at the beginning of a quarter, and particularly if it happens on a pay day, the rumor that prices have been raised discourages shopping on pay day start.

If liberty is restricted due to weather conditions, such as was the case during the recent ice storms, stories of a major move of troops will be heard.

Truth is the only way to fight rumors. Leaders, including every corporal through general, must fight rumors with truth. It isn't always easy to find the cause or origin of a rumor but constant attention to what the troops are saying generally stop rumors before they start.

Civic Minded Marines Are Corps Assets

We frequently read in civilian newspapers about Marines and other military men who have been complimented by a community for services rendered. They have been, are continuing to be, praised for helping in community projects which require much of their time and, in many cases, at considerable personal expense.

The desire, the will and the ability to help their community is evident among Marines at Camp Lejeune. Hundreds give freely of their time and talents to help youth activities and community projects. The Scout program is tremendously enhanced by the enthusiastic participation of Lejeune Marines and their wives. The youngsters' athletic teams are coached, managed, not only at Camp Lejeune but also in many surrounding communities, by Marines.

It takes a good man to shoulder the additional responsibilities of community needs. It is so easy to finish out the day by relaxing in front of a TV set or with the family. Happily, for our military civilian community, the number of civic-minded Marines is great.

To name even a few of the Marines who have and are now giving of their time and talents in programs would require several issues of the GLOBE.

The leaders of our community and civic, know that the Marines are truly outstanding. Their untary acceptance of additional responsibility to aid the community increases the value of a Marine to the Corps.

The GLOBE congratulates the civic-minded Marines and wishes them continued success with their myriad programs to help the youth and the people of Camp Lejeune and the surrounding area.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR PARENTS

1. Give your children the support of love and confidence. This will provide for them a firm foundation.
2. Plan for good times and try to realize how things seem to a child. This will create a pleasant home atmosphere.
3. Give your children a share in the tasks, plans and creative activities of the home. They will grow in character and increase in resourcefulness.
4. Look for good which you can praise more than for faults which you must condemn.
5. Value curiosity in your children and stimulate in them the love of all things true and beautiful.
6. Teach your children to convert obstacles into opportunities. Strength develops by firm purpose and by creative conquest of difficulty.
7. Develop in yourself such qualities as you want your children to have. You want vital growth, not mere conformity.
8. Make your home a center of friendship and good neighborliness.
9. Share with your children in the fellowship of the church. This will give them the sustaining strength of a community of faith and love which extends across the ages and embraces all people.
10. Lead your children into faith in God through discipleship to Jesus Christ that they may be workers with God in overcoming evil and promoting the good. This will be aided by thought-sharing, religious interpretation and worship in the home, and by living in the great purposes of the kingdom of God.

In this movie Eddie Albert is a small town grade school principal whose two young sons not only drive their teachers to tears, but almost cause Albert to lose a coveted high school appointment. All because his kids, Donnie Carter and Butch Patrick, develop the ability to "believe" so strongly that they can turn into little bears at will, and do just that. "The Two Little Bears" will delight the youngsters. (Time 81 min.)

FLIGHT THAT DISAPPEARED

Craig Hill, young rocket propulsion expert; Paula Raymond, Research assistant, and Dayton Lumis, nuclear scientist, are among the passengers aboard a plane to Washington, D. C. For unknown reasons, the plane soars into space. While in space the three are confronted by a man of the future. No one aboard the plane except the three involved know what has happened and they vow never to tell. (Science-drama, time 72 min.)

DOCTOR BLOOD'S COFFIN

A young doctor, Kieron Moore, secretly believes he can transfer the heart of a dying person to a corpse and restore life. He is caught in the act of making a transfer of a heart from one of his victims by the nurse, whose husband had been killed in an accident a year earlier. To prove that his theory is correct, Moore "tugs" up the corpse of her husband and brings it to life in an abandoned mine. The corpse attacks Miss Court, who escapes. It then attacks Moore and kills him. (Horror-drama, time 92 min.)

THE WORLD OF SUZIE WONG

Suzie Wong and her friends make a ramshack native hotel in Hong Kong's back streets their base of operation, picking up sailors in the bar, William Holden, an American artist who uses his room upstairs as a studio, gets to know the friendly, good-hearted group, and pays Suzie to model for him. Although the plot is shoddy, the personality of its heroine and its intriguing setting bring it a new look. The leading stars in this movie are William Holden, Nancy Kwan, Michael Wilding, and Sylvia Syms. (Color, time 128 min.)

FROM HERE TO ETERNITY

The only information available on this movie is that it is rated good and stars Burt Lancaster, Montgomery Clift, Deborah Kerr, Frank Sinatra, and Donna Reed. Running time is 126 minutes.

Gettysburg Choir

The Gettysburg College Choir will present a program of choral music at the Base Protestant Chapel at 8 p.m. January 31. The repertoire of the choir includes works of the Renaissance composer, Vittoria, double choir motets of both Johann Sebastian and son Johann Christoph Bach, and works of romantic and contemporary composers. The public is cordially invited.

Corps' Largest Company (?) Boasts 1400 Marines, Hardest Working Clerks

Regimental Headquarters and Service Company, 1st Infantry Training Regiment claims to be the largest company in the Marine Corps, a title even Lejeune's Data Processing Installation won't dispute as long as the boast remains within the bounds of the East Coast.

The Company commander, Capt. H. E. Arney, has had no word of any unit which might top his command of 1440 Marines.

The reason for this monumental number of men is the consolidation of all draft, casual and supporting personnel of the Regiment into the once, normal sized Headquarters and Service Company.

The consolidation took place in October 1961. Until that time the company had 300 men, the instructors, Marines working in the staff sections, cooks, supply men, armorers, communicators, ordnance and maintenance personnel of the Regiment.

Col. R. J. Batterton Jr., Regimental commander, said, "This consolidation places the many housekeeping and administrative details more directly under the responsibility of Regiment. By doing so, the battalion commanders are able to concentrate all of their attention on the primary job of supervising the Marines undergoing individual and advanced combat training. Captain Arney is carrying a big lead in the best Marine tradition."

The administration for a company of this size can create quite a headache. According to Arney, the office personnel have to work as much as 18 hours a day prior to the departure of a draft. Two unit Diaries are required for an accurate personnel accounting system.

How does all this affect the clerks? Captain Arney says the company's size and demands has been an asset to their training. "I think an administrative man can learn more about administration and its various aspects as a clerk here than at any other company-level organization."

Arney, with the assistance of his executive officer and first sergeant, handles all personnel and disciplinary problems.

Warrant Officer J. R. Henderson, with the somewhat misleading title of Personnel Officer, has control of all the Draft, casual, support and Guard Personnel. A few of his additional duties include Regimental Provost Marshal, Postal Officer, Guard Officer and Insurance Officer. He has two staff sergeants and one sergeant (E-5) serving as troop handlers for almost 1,000 men. According to Henderson, the troop handlers are often required to work 24 hours a day prior to the departure of a draft.

1st Sgt. J. F. Rattenbury, previously with the 1st Battalion, ITR, has the knowledge and experience gained from almost 20 years in the Marine Corps.

check is made for I.D. cards and dog tags and each individual is checked for completion of his checkout form.

After this, a clothing inspection is held and any Marine who is missing clothing is promptly escorted to Cash Sales.

The day before leaving each Marine packs all of his gear except what he will wear for travelling. Each man on a draft going to California is allowed one sea bag and one hand bag.

On the blessed day of departure, as the clerk call it, all Marines going to the West Coast and to duty in the Pacific are transported to the Air Facility at New River where they board com-

When the last bus load of troops depart for their permanent duty stations full equipped with the little details of the SRB's and shots, permanent personnel and grounds take on a new and fresh look. It doesn't last long though, for a fresh batch of work is usually piling up in the back yard at the same time. "There is one consolation," says Captain Arney, "There's never a boring, inactive moment."

NEED AN SRB? — This may be what Cpl. R. L. Mitchell is thinking as he prepares the Service Record Books for appropriate entries.

Chief clerk in this 0141 paradise is MSgt. Billy Bowen, previously in the Enlisted Detail Section at Headquarters Marine Corps. Bowen served as First Sergeant of the company for a year before Rattenbury arrived.

Some of the headaches involved with the draft and casualties include making joint entries on IRC's Unit Diary and in SRB's; then too, Marines are always going on leave adding the spice to an already much flavored work pile.

Marines returning from leave have to be paid; misplaced or incorrect I.D. cards and dog tags have to be replaced, and shot records have to be brought up to date; all a part of the readying process for output drafts.

On the fifth day before transfer, the men get their last pay at Lejeune. A final mercial airliners for the cross-country flight. All personnel going overseas will report to Staging Regiment at Camp Pendleton and the others to their respective organizations.

Personnel assigned duty on the East Coast and to duty in the Atlantic, board commercial transportation at Camp Geiger and depart for their duty stations or point of embarkation as appropriate. These personnel are very few in number as they normally are transferred directly from the Training Battalion rather than being processed in this company.

MSgt. Bowen is assisted by eight clerks. He comments, "My clerks handle the many administrative details involved in joining and dropping approximately 1,000 men a month with a minimum of supervision."

Bowen is also a Korean veteran and has served 15 years in the Marine Corps.

SSgt. C. Gunther, a veteran of WW II and the Korean conflict, is the company Gunnery Sergeant and Training NCO. He is responsible for keeping a record of the General Military Subjects proficiency on all permanent and TAD personnel and insuring that they attend classes in any subject they fail on the proficiency test.

The regimental Career Advisory and Education NCO billet is filled by SSgt. Robert P. Burns, also a veteran of WW II and Korea. Sgt. Burns supervises the Career Advisory Program for the entire Regiment and DOUBLE TROUBLE — It requires two Unit Diaries for an accurate Personnel Accounting system in this company. LCpl. A. Lentini left, is responsible for permanent personnel and LCpl. J. C. Sturgill Jr., handles the casuals.

Gene Jones)

Force Troops pistol shooters took top honors last Sunday in the first NRA sanctioned 1800 Aggregate Pistol matches scheduled for 1962 at the Camp Rifle Range.

The Force Troops "Blue" team, composed of 1st Lt. H. E. Itchkawich, Cpl. J. N. Suddath, Sgt. W. P. Griffin and GySgt. J. W. Powell, won the .45 Cal. Team Match with a score of 1105-28X. Sergeant Griffin won the Individual Grand Aggregate Trophy posting a score of 1707-56X.

Marine Corps Base ran a close second in the match, taking First Master in the .45 Cal. team competition. Base team members were: Sgt. Gene Jones, SSgt. W. J. Carter, 1st Sgt. J. R. Skinner and SSgt. A. M. Sherman.

Individual match winners were: .22 Cal. Slow Fire, Sgt. W. P. Griffin; .22 Cal. Timed Fire, Sgt. Gene Jones; .22 Cal. Rapid Fire, Capt. B. M. Owen; .22 Cal. Aggregate, Sgt. W. P. Griffin; Center Fire Slow Fire Match, SSgt. J. K. Maurer; Center Fire Timed Fire and Center Fire Rapid Fire, Sgt. W. P. Griffin; Center Fire Aggregate, SSgt. A. M. Sherman; .45 Cal. Slow Fire, GySgt. J. W. Powell; .45 Cal. Timed Fire, SSgt. D. G. Barker; .45 Cal. Rapid Fire, Sgt. W. P. Griffin; .45 Cal. Aggregate, GySgt. J. W. Powell.

The NRA Building Fund Match, an aggregate of the slow fire, was won by GySgt. J. W. Powell.

Other winners in the Individual Grand Aggregate were: SSgt. A. M. Sherman, 1st Master; SSgt. W. J. Carter, 1st Expert, and Cpl. M. H. Fetz, 1st Sharpshooter.

The Camp Lejeune Rifle and Pistol Club will sponsor another 1800 Aggregate Pistol Match at the Rifle Range Feb. 18. The first string of fire will begin at 9 a.m.

All of the matches sponsored by the club are sanctioned by the National Rifle Association with NRA rules governing the conduct of each match. Since the matches are NRA sanctioned consequently only NRA members may compete. Provisions have been made to accept memberships at the rifle range on firing dates.

Advance registration for the matches is preferred. Registration fees may be forwarded to the Secretary, Camp Lejeune Rifle and Pistol Club, 2076 Tarawa Boulevard, Tarawa Terrace, N.C. Registration fee of 50 cents per competitor will be charged with entry fees as follows: $1.25 per match, Team Matches $5.00 per match and a package entry fee (all individual matches) will cost $18.00 per individual.

Awards will be given on the basis of one award for each ten competitors or major fraction thereof. Five competitors are required to establish class competition.

Membership in the Camp Lejeune Rifle and Pistol Club is open to all military personnel stationed at Camp Lejeune. The club is a self-supporting organization whose mission is to improve marksmanship and promote competitive shooting in this area. Those desiring membership in the club may do so by contacting SSgt. J. A. Pijuan, club secretary, at 2076 Tarawa Blvd., Tarawa Terrace. Annual membership fee is one dollar.

Contrary to popular belief the club is not exclusively for rifle and pistol experts and people who have competed in National Marksmanship competition. The Camp Lejeune Rifle and Pistol Club is open to all military personnel and dependents stationed at Camp Lejeune regardless of marksmanship ability or history of competitive shooting.

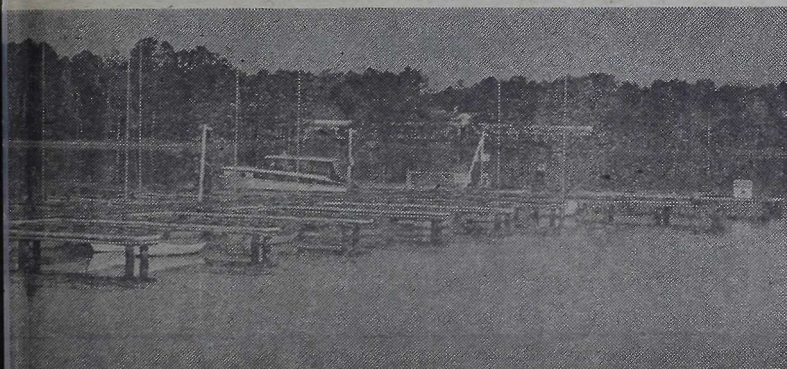

Throughout the year, the club sponsors various shooting events according to National Rifle Association standards and rules. Money collected from the events is used to support the club in its many ventures and to pay for the trophies presented at each match. In this way the club is entirely a self-supporting organization.

Those desiring membership in the club may do so by contacting a team member or club secretary, SSgt. J. A. Pijuan, at 2076 Tarawa Boulevard, Tarawa Terrace. Annual membership fee is $1.

Famed Arkansas Travelers To Meet Locals Saturday

Pups Trounce Beulaville For Victory No. 4

After a near-disastrous beginning, Lejeune High's surging Devilpups last week ran their victory string to four straight with a 56-34 thumping of Beulaville on their home court.

The Pups will try to extend the win streak to five when they entertain New Topsail High at the High School gym Saturday night. The game Saturday will be the local's second outing in two weeks. Weather conditions during the past two weeks cut into the Pups scheduled action.

Since dropping their first three games this year, the Pups now sport a 3-2 record in conference play and have become a power to be reckoned with in the upcoming league tournament in March.

In posting the one-sided win over Beulaville last Saturday, the Devilpups used the one-two punch that has brought them back to a winning record to avenge an earlier, 49-44, whipping at Beulaville. With Junior Jim Barrett tossing in 22 points and big Dan Paetow controlling both backboards and adding 13 markers, outscored the Panthers in every quarter to win handily. Co-Captain Dick Dube also contributed 15 points to the 'Pup cause.

Both Barrett and Paetow were sidelined with football injuries during the early season losing streak. The Pups have yet to lose since the pair made their appearance in the Lejeune lineup.

Defense-minded Lejeune also applied the collar to Beulaville's Jerry Simpson, who had been averaging over 20 points per game and had dropped in 22 in the first Lejeune-Beulaville game. Simpson was held to eight points, while his cousin, Ricky Simpson, paced the Panthers with 10.

Division Pair Again Lead U. S. Entries

For the second straight year, Marine Cpls. Jerry Tennant and Gary Sheffield of Camp Lejeune made the best showing of any North American entry in the World Two-man Bobsled races, but still finished a disappointing fourth last week behind two Italian and a West German entry at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany.

The two men, both members of the 2d Marine Division Security Platoon are the current U. S. champions and had hoped to capture their first world title after finishing a surprise second in world competition last year.

The next best North American finish was the eighth place posted by one of the two Canadian teams. The other U. S. team of Floyd Johnson and Bill Gleason finished in 13th place.

This year's competition was almost a repeat of last year's meet at Lake Placid, N. Y., where Italy's Eugenio Monti dominated the championships. This time it was Monti's replacement, Rinaldo Rattini, who supplied most of the excitement by captaining the Italians to their second straight world title.

Italy's winning team posted a total elapsed time of 5:03.73 for their four runs. The Italians number two sled finished just there — second, to complete Italy's domination of this year's meet. A West German team finished third.

Sheffield and Tennant's four-heat total elapsed time was 5:09.45. The two Marines have made the best showing of any U. S. team in the last four years with their high finishes in world two-man competition in 1961 and this year.

Instructors Needed

Qualified Red Cross Water Safety Instructors and Water Safety Aides are needed to participate in the current "Teach Johnny to Swim" campaign at Camp Lejeune. Classes are held at the Montford Point pool Monday through Thursday from 6:30 to 8:30 and will run for six weeks. Those interested in helping with instruction are requested to call the Montford Point pool, 9-8173.

KISS'N TIME AGAIN—Cpls. Gary Sheffield, left, and Jerry Tennant are congratulated by their wives after their second place finish in the two-man World Championship Bobsled races at Placid, N. Y., last year. The two 2d Division Marines dropped fourth place in this year's competition, but still finished a U. S. and North American entry at Garmisch-Partenkirchen many, last week.

Cagers Home For Football After Unsuccessful Trip

After completing a two-week-eight-game road trip day night at Ft. Belvoir, Va., Lejeune's varsity five returned to the friendly confines of Goettge Memorial Fieldhouse to meet the visiting Ft. Monmouth Signaleers opening tilt of a four-game home stand. Tonight, Lejeune takes on the visiting Ft. Dix.

Burros in another conference game beginning at 6:15 p.m. The game last night was played too late for GLOBE deadline and will be recapped in next week's issue.

The Marines will play their third tilt in as many nights when they meet the Ft. Gordon (Ga.) Signal squad here tomorrow evening. This game is a non-conference affair. Lejeune then winds up the four-game home stand with an exhibition tilt Saturday night against the all-girl Hazel Walker Arkansas Travelers.

In this current home stand, the Marines will be attempting to recoup their basketball fortunes after a rather unsuccessful road trip which saw them bat an even .500. The locals won four and dropped four on the road to bring their season record to 10-5 and 2-3 in conference play.

The two biggest losses on the trip were the one-sided losses to Quantico last Friday and to Ft. Dix last night. The powerful Virginia steamrollered the locals, 88-71 and 110-85, to extend their unbeaten string to 15, and 7-0 in conference play.

After dropping the pair to tico over the weekend, Lejeune back into the win column by bouncing Ft. Belvoir, 99-81, an East Coast Conference game. The win was one league tilt salvaged by the team on the road. The other was an 89 pasting of the Eustis "V" last week.

The game tonight with Ft. Dix will be for third place in conference standings. Dix is 3-2 in league action and Lejeune is 2-3 in games played through.

Quantico Tops In ECIC Action

Quantico's powerhouse squad is on the crest of a 15-game winning streak, this week continued by a 78-59 victory over the East Coast Interservice Conference Basketball standings by one game over the second place Lejeune Travelers.

The powerful Marine squad has won a total of five wins over the past week, including a 78-59 over the previously unbeaten men and double win over Camp Lejeune, 88-72 and 110-85.

Lee's record for the season stands at 16-1. In other games this week, Quantico dumped Ft. Monmouth 104-68, and Ft. Eustis 104-68, and Ft. Dix 104-68, the following Lejeune-Quantico game, Quantico Chemical Center, lost a 78-59 to Quantico and then dumped Ft. Dix 104-68 in ECIC action Monday.

The Arkansas Travelers

Sports in short

By LCPL. BILL GIERY

Since this writer has been pressed back into service one more one, as the lyrics go, I'll try to make this short and as painless as possible. . . Both to you and to me truly. . . Incidentally, we hate to say I told you so, "I told you so"—Quanticó and Ft. Lee have emerged as the top powers in East Coast Interservice Conference basketball this year. . . Quanticó, unbeaten and practical, looks like a shoo-in for this year's crown by handing Lee its only loss by 22 points. . . Quanticó's record now stands at 16-0, while Ft. Lee is 15-1—Impressive? . . . It's not that we have a defeatist attitude, it's just that we are realist and continue to savor Quanticó's heady feats on the greensward last fall. . . Especially that 19-0 final against you-know-who. . . By-the-way—There's a good spread on same in the January issue of Leatherneck mag—just in case you missed it. . .

Headlines

Breathes there a soul (in Marine green) so dead—ch doesn't get a charge when headlines like those which covered the nation when Lejeune's Bob Gardner ended John Thomas at the BAA games appear? . . . Or recent banners proclaiming the golfing skills of former Marine Phil Rodgers on the pro tour. . . By the way, Gardner was both All-Marine and Interservice Golf King couple of years ago. . . To answer my own question— I guess there is, since I've heard Marine Corps athletes referred to in less than glowing terms by some of fellow members in the Globe, Eagle and Anchor fraternity. . . and have seen first hand some of the stumbling blocks placed in the athletes' path because he wants to his abilities for the Scarlet and Gold. . .

Marine Corps Excellence

This, we think, is unfortunate. . . We know of cases at now where athletes are competing under Marine Corps colors in sports events of national and international scope and are receiving little, if any, cooperation. . . They must give up their own time and money, yet we as Marines reap the harvest, because through their own and our efforts the word "Marine" in the world of sports has come to be synonymous with excellence. . . And who wants to be associated with an inferior product. . . So, next time you are tempted to use that less than complimentary term for the Marine Corps athlete, remember. . . Let's not confuse the slice with the whole loaf— athletes would compete whether there were any so-called fringe benefits or not. . .

Lejeune Trio Set To Enter Top Eastern Track Events

A trio of veteran Marine thinclads, led by high jumper Gardner, is set to enter the famed Milrose Games next week at New York City and will follow that meet with the Boston Athletic Association Games in Boston the following night. Gardner heads a Lejeune threesome of himself, middle distance runner Pete Close, and pole vaulter Mel Schwartz, who have been invited to compete in this pair of indoor meets.

The Milrose and BAA Games are rated among the top events of the indoor season, and the top college and AAU and field performers. Although the Lejeune threesome will compete under Marine colors, the trio will be listed as independents on the program since they will not officially be representing the Corps in these events. One of the featured events both in New York and Boston is expected to be the meetings between Gardner and John Thomas, the American high jump record holder. Gardner topped Thomas at 6-foot-8 in the KofC Games last week at the Boston Gardens, thereby becoming the first American jumper to beat the tall Bostonian at his specialty.

Engineers Set Pace Troops Keg Loop

Col. W. L. Batchelor, commander of 8th Engineer Bn., led his engineers in winning seven straight games in the Force Intramural Bowling League. Engineers downed 2d Co., 4 to 0, and Headquarters Co., 3 to 1. The 8th FAG split a four-game series with 2d ANGLICO, 2 to 2, after falling victim to Headquarters Co., 3 to 1. Second FAG 2d Separate Surgical Co., 2 to 1. Other Troops tenpin action, 8th Motor 4 to 0, 2d Separate Co., 3 to 1, 4th Dental was by 2d Tanks 3 to 1, and 8th registered a 3 to 1 victory over Hospital.

Local Mittmen Vie For Third Straight Win Tomorrow Night

After racking up the Airmen of Charleston AFB, S. C., last Thursday at Charleston, Camp Lejeune's boxing stable goes after its third straight team win of the current season tomorrow night at Ft. Eustis, Va. The bouts will be a rematch of Lejeune's first team win when they shut out Eustis, 2-0, here two weeks ago. The bouts are a part of the current four-match road trip by the local sluggers. After meeting Eustis tomorrow night, the locals travel to Ft. Benning, Ga., Feb. 1, and then swing into McGuire AFB, N. J., Feb. 8, for the first meeting between the two teams.

Base To Host 1962 All-Marine Boxing Event

Lejeune fight fans have been tapped for the best in Marine Corps boxing this year with the All-Marine Boxing Championships slated to be held here during the first week in April.

The announcement of Camp Lejeune as the site of the 1962 All-Marine championships is contained in the program of All-Marine, Interservice and National Amateur Athletic Union Championships recently released by Headquarters Marine Corps. Boxing is the only All-Marine event slated for Lejeune this year.

This year, with the exception of bowling, the only sports on the roster are those which are included in the Olympic games. However, there will be no All-Marine Bowling event as such. This competition will be decided on a letter basis from each command to HQMC.

Quanticó will host two of the top All-Marine events with Basketball slated for 28 Feb.-3 March and Track, 12-13 April.

Foot In Mouth Disease Hurts Sports Editor

(Ed. Note: The following letter was received by the Sports Desk this week. We admit to the occupational disease mentioned, but otherwise will reprint the letter without comment.)

Dear Sports Editor,

This is just a short note to tell you how sorry we are to hear of your recent illness. While perusing the Jan. 18 issue of the GLOBE, we learned you had contracted "foot-in-mouth" disease.

You suggested in your column that Anderson, Parrinello, or Laiting might be better choices for the Touchdown Club Award for best Armed Services football player. However, you went on further and selected an ECIC All-Star Team and placed Laiting on the second team in favor of Hawkins (Ft. Eustis) on the first team. We realize there are different playing positions involved, but on the basis of favoring Laiting over Herzbraun, and then favoring Hawkins over Laiting, we wonder who is going to explain to Hawkins why he didn't get the Touchdown Club Award.

We enjoy your column and we hope the operation to have the foot removed is not too painful.

Skin Divers

The annual meeting to elect officers of the Sea Urchins skin diving club will be held Friday, Jan. 26, at 7 p.m. in Bldg. 1211, Industrial Area. All members are urged to attend this most important "dry" meeting of the year. A movie on skin diving will be shown. All Marines and their dependents interested in skin diving are invited to attend.

CHAMPS REGAIN FORM AGAINST AIRMEN

ATLANTIC FLEET CHAMPS—Ron Cooper, left, and Tom Hennessy, both of whom won division titles in the 1961 Atlantic Fleet Boxing Tournament, got back on the winning trail last week at Charleston AFB. Both fighters copped their first decision of the season as Lejeune's boxing stable won its second straight team match.

More Teams Planned For Boys Leagues

At the regular monthly meeting of the Camp Lejeune Boys League officials last week, members voted to sponsor eight Minor League teams (ages 8-10), eight Major League teams (ages 11-12), and six Pony League teams (ages 13-15) during the coming baseball season.

The next regular meeting of the league will be held at the Tarawa Terrace clubhouse at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 1, at which time election of league officers for the coming year will be held.

This figure—a total of 22 teams—represents a planned increase of six new teams to be sponsored this year, according to league president W. I. Paul.

Persons interested in league operations or desiring to serve the league in any capacity are invited and encouraged to attend this meeting.

Staff NCO's Needed For NROTC Duty

Marines in pay grades E-6 or E-7 with a GCT of 100 or better may be eligible for duty as NROTC instructors. Requirements stated in a letter from the Commandant to all major commands in the Corps say that a staff NCO seeking nomination should have no record of previous disciplinary action or letters of indebtedness.

Personnel selected to become an NROTC instructor must have demonstrated to an exceptional degree the ability to perform duties as an instructor, especially in small arms and close order drill.

Marines desiring nomination to this program must have 36 months' obligated service upon assignment or reenlist if necessary. If a Marine is eligible for transfer to the Fleet Marine Reserve, he must agree in writing to hold in abeyance application for such transfer until completion of a normal three-year tour of duty with the program.

The final requirement for entering the NROTC instructors program is that a Marine seeking nomination to the program must not have completed a previous tour of subject duty.

Nominations for this program should reach Headquarters, Marine Corps, not later than March 1.

Marines who are chosen for the program will receive orders by May 1. No notification of non-selection will be made.

Gold Wings Presented To 'Copter Pilot

1st Lt. Oliver B. Revell III finally got his "Wings of Gold" in a belated ceremony at the Marine Corps Air Facility here last week.

Lieutenant Revell graduated top man from the helicopter flight school two months ago where he won the wings in scholastic competition.

Although each graduate is presented with a set of wings, the special gold wings engraved on the back are presented by the Navy League to the top man in each helicopter flight training class.

The engraving, plus Revell's recent assignment to HMR-264, Marine Air Group-26, are blamed for the delay.

The presentation was made by Lt. Col. Lynn E. Midkiff, commanding officer of HMR-264.

Yeakel Has Mast For Advisory Work

GySgt. Marvin J. Yeakel, 2d Field Artillery Group, Force Troops, was awarded a letter of appreciation at a Meritorious Mast last week by Brig. Gen. Wood B. Kyle, Force Troops commander.

Yeakel received the letter for "exceptional effort and devotion in contributing to a successful Marine Corps Career Advisory Program".

The award is presented quarterly by the commanding general of Force Troops on behalf of the Commandant of the Marine Corps to the Marine who does the most effective job in the Career Advisory Program.

Yeakel's unit reenlistment rate for the 2d Field Artillery Group was 83.3 percent for the 2d quarter, Fiscal year 1962.

Artillerymen Win Awards For Shooting

Four 2d Division Marines were presented Leatherneck Marksmanship Awards by Col. Wade Hitt, commanding officer of the 10th Marines, during ceremonies held here Friday.

Pfc. George E. Womble was presented a Bronze Medal, a check for $10.00 and a certificate signed by Col. Donald Dickson, Leatherneck editor-publisher. Pfc. Edward J. Horak Jr., Private Russell H. Potter IV, and Pfc. Larry R. Wagner received certificates.

The four young Marines earned their awards while undergoing recruit training at Parris Island, S. C. last September, and have subsequently been assigned to the 2d Marine Division.

They fired in the "D" Division which pits recruits against other recruits.

High Shooter of the four was Womble with 234. He was followed by Horak (233), Potter (232) and Wagner (232).

Local Cook Keeps MCI Clerks Busy

Cpl. Lee A. Grannon, Company, 8th Motor Port Battalion, Force Troops, claims he is one of the Marine Corps Institute's best cooks. To date, Grannon has completed seventeen courses; 14 of which covered the entire of his MOS, Cooking and Baking.

Since joining the Marine in Nov. 1951, Grannon has completed the High School GED and has three pages of MCI in his service record book.

Although primarily interested in subjects related to his field, Grannon likes to "mix 'em up", a cook he agrees that "varies the spice of life".

"I plan to enroll in business counting I and II sometime in the future," Grannon says, "and offers a course on the MCI enroll in that, too". Cpl. Grannon spends from two to five hours studying his courses and has maintained an 85 or better on each.

A career Marine with his limited duty and volunteer programs, Grannon works in the Health Department in his hometown of Zanesville upon retirement.

Achievement Lands Mast For Top Graduate

LCpl. William T. Little, Field Artillery Group, Troops, was awarded a Meritorious Mast last week by Group commander, Col. Schlesinger.

Little was awarded the meritorious mast for his graduating "top man" from the 2d Marine Division Non-Commissioned Officers Leadership School.

The letter announcing the award said in part: "He graduated a class of forty-three with an average of 95.7 per cent achievement was a result of exceptional attention to initiative and energetic and less application which he exhibited throughout the course. The standing performance of evidence of excellence in application and ability and the highest credit upon and serves as an outstanding example and inspiration to others."

Wagner, Kent Take Honors In Recitations

Kent Baker, a junior, and Susan Wagner, a sophomore, talked their way into first place at the speech contest held Friday night at the Camp Lejeune Junior-Senior High School with speeches entitled "The Constitution and the Man Next Door" and "The Significance of Democracy", respectively.

Kent Baker, who won the "Constitution" category, will now be eligible to compete in the county American Legion Contest which will take place February 12.

Mr. John Downs, chairman of judges, presented the gold medal awards. Other judges were Mr. Charles Hawley, Mr. Donald Halsey and Mr. C. W. Summerlin.

Students taking part in the contest included Ned Paulson, who spoke on "The Declaration of Independence"; James Trett, "The Framework of the Constitution"; Nancy Metas, "Khrushchev's Strength"; and Madeline Sorge, "Espionage in America".

Skip Howie, Sue Meeker, Mary LaPlant, Zaney Thomas and Carol Peck, all members of the Camp Lejeune Drama Club, acted as ushers for the evening.

Wives Club Member Wins Permanent; Hair Naturally Curly

Mrs. G. E. Smith, of the Midway Park Wives Club, was the winner of the door prize awarded by guest, Nellie English, a hair stylist. The prize was a free permanent.

Mrs. Smith's hair is naturally curly.

"It's the first time I've won anything. I just can't refuse it," laughed Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. William R. Miller, owner of the Lejeune Boulevard beauty shop, attended the meeting as a special guest.

Members bade farewell to Alverta Little, who is leaving for Hawaii. Kathryn Lingle baked a cake for the occasion inscribed "Best Wishes Alverta." This cake and another brought by Jean Rachel were served with coffee.

Tuesday was the first swimming class for the Club. Although the six-week course is intended for beginning swimmers any Midway Park wives who enjoy the water are welcome. For further information phone Jean Self at 2-2393 or Jean Rachel at 2-2496.

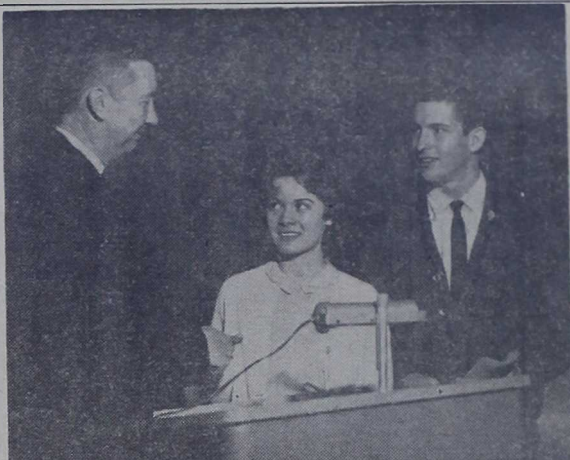

Cakes Rise, So Do Scholarship Funds Donated By Wives

Since the Thrift Shop is closed indefinitely for renovation members of the Camp Lejeune Staff NCO Wives' Club decided at their meeting Thursday night at the Community Center to hold a bake sale at the Friday night game nights in Tarawa Terrace. Proceeds from these sales will be contributed to the scholarship fund sponsored by the Staff Wives' Club as are the Thrift Shop profits.

Wanda Mitchels, Eleanor Cline and Edith Johnson were guests at this meeting. Jim Hedge, 15, son of president, Mrs. James Hedge, gave a demonstration of the twist.

Winner of the raffle was Miriam Ballinger. Marilyn Bishop won the door prize.

Each member is asked to bring a white elephant item to the next meeting, February 1, so the "Miss Fix-its" of the club can prepare them for the bazaar.

Marines To Help NASA With Wallops Island Shot

Although the emphasis is on rockets and spaceships, the helicopter is still in great demand, particularly helicopters from Marine Corps Air Facility, New River. Helicopters from HMR-461 have been assigned as primary recovery vehicles for the Jan. 27 Aerobee rocket shot at Wallops Island, Va. Outside of the Project Mercury series, Marine helicopter crews from HMR(M)-461 of MAG-26 have been participating in the Aerobee rocket experiments conducted by the Lewis Research Center for NASA for nearly a year. Their role in the Aerobee experiments are the same as Project Mercury: retrieving nose cones.

USO Will Be 20 On Feb. 4, Plans Affair

The Jacksonville branch of the United Service Organizations will hold a dual anniversary celebration Feb. 4 from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the USO. The event will mark the 20th anniversary of the Jacksonville branch and the 21st of the National Organization. Maj. Gen. J. P. Berkeley, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, will preside at cake-cutting ceremonies. An informal reception will be held in the USO prior to the cake-cutting. The Jacksonville USO served over a quarter of a million servicemen during the past year holding true to its slogan "a home away from home" by providing a congenial atmosphere for relaxation; a program of wholesome fun, and a record of having never closed its doors since officially opening them Feb. 15, 1942.

The local USO has ten telephone booths, a TV set, writing desks with free stationary and envelopes, library, snack-bar, pin-pong and pool tables, shuffle board, and a nine-hole indoor miniature golf course. Free movies are frequently offered along with a weekly quiz program with chances for free phone calls home. Local Camp Lejeune and Jacksonville church and women's groups sponsor a hospitality hour every Sunday.

In addition to its program for the servicemen, the USO also serves the service family. The Jacksonville USO supervises three service wives' clubs: Knox Trailer Park, Midway Park and Geiger Trailer Park.

Nationally, the USO is a federation of voluntary civilian agencies whose purpose is to provide religious, spiritual, social, welfare, recreational and educational services to the members of America's Armed Forces and their families.

The six agencies composing the USO are: Young Men's and Women's Christian Associations, National Catholic Community Service, National Jewish Welfare Board, the Salvation Army and the National Travelers Aid Association.

The Jacksonville USO is directed by the National Catholic Community Service and financially supported through the Camp Lejeune-Onslow County United Fund.

Talent Hunt Nets Big Haul For Telethon

This year's annual March of Dimes Telethon will be aired by WITN-TV, Channel 7, Washington, N. C., beginning at 11:45 p.m. Jan. 27 and will continue all through the night and into Sunday until their goal is reached.

Marines who have volunteered their talent and assistance to the March of Dimes Telethon include: Sgt. Harry Hill and his Jazz Combo; Sgt. W. A. Watson and his Rock & Roll — Western Group; A. Owings and "The Tremolos"; guitar player Cpl. J. A. Sanchez; Gy. Sgt. William D. Helsel playing the guitar country and western style; soloist Pfc W. J. Cardarelli; Sgt. Coggins and a contemporary singing group; singer LCP. M. J. McGonnigle; Pfc Stewart I. Halverson and a novelty act; HM1 Milton Ortiz and his Pantomime Club; and a comedy routine by Cpl. Robert E. Wilson. Offering their help as technicians are Pfc E. C. Otto, LCP. Edward Sherwood, Pfc D. G. Rowland and Pfc R. E. Langston.

In addition to helping provide entertainment last year, Marines and dependents from Camp Lejeune-Cherry Point areas worked as announcers, waitresses, hostesses, telephone operators, tabulators, and in general all-around handymen for the telethon.

Landings, Liberty Set For BLT 3/8 In Mediterranean

The 3d Bn. (Reinf.), 8th Marines, under the command of Lt. Col. John A. MacNeil, departed from Morehead City Jan. 17 for duty in the Mediterranean with the U. S. Sixth Fleet. Battalion Landing Team 3/8, reinforced by approximately 16 Tri-Command units, will relieve the 3d Battalion, 2d Marines, commanded by Lt. Col. Stanley Davis, which has been in the Mediterranean since the middle of September.

Marines of the outgoing unit will be berthed aboard ships of Amphibious Squadron 8, comprised of the USS Monrovia, Rockbridge, Capricornus, Ft. Snelling Lindenwald, Desoto County, Terrebonne Parrish and Taconic.

The USS Taconic will serve as the squadron flagship during the five month cruise.

As the amphibious striking force of the Sixth Fleet, the landing team will train extensively in amphibious tactics on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea. The Marines expect to make landings on Sardinia and Crete, and visit liberty ports in Italy, France, Spain, Greece, and Turkey.

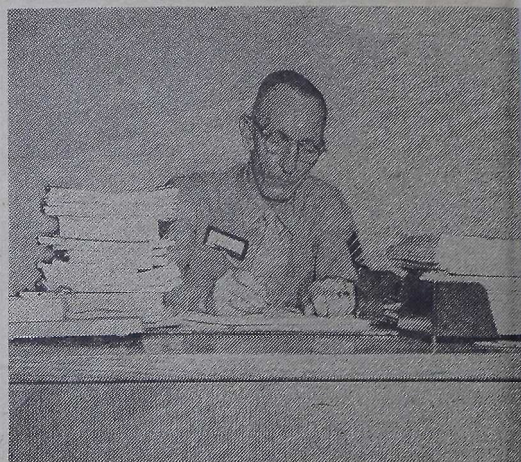

The reinforced battalion includes

Legal Clerks, Officers Will Hear Tax Men

Two tax experts from the Federal Bureau of Internal Revenue will present a "Taxpayers Assistance Institute" for Quad-Command Legal personnel at the Camp Theater, Tuesday, Jan. 30.

H. Virgil Martin, Jr., and Charles W. Barker of the Wilmington office will discuss current tax laws and changes. A question and answer period will give legal personnel a chance to get more complete information on particular points.

All legal and legal assistance personnel in the Quad-Command are invited to attend. Reservations should be made through the Legal Officers of Marine Corps Base, 2d Division, Force Troops and MCAF-MAG-26.

SCHOLARLY SERGEANT — MSgt. Frank O. Tarbox, NCOIC of education, Food Service Schools, Montford Point, sets an example in his unit seeking to further their education. The Ser has completed sixty-three MCI courses and plans to complete more before his retirement.

Sergeant's Achievements Endorse MCI Advantages

Records are made only to be broken, but one record remains unchallenged at the Food Service School, Montford Point. It's the completion of 63 correspondence courses by MSgt. Frank O. Tarbox, NCOIC of the education office, Food Service Company. He expects to complete about 60 more correspondence courses before retiring on "thirty." His objective is to increase his basic knowledge and obtain a necessary degree which will enable him to teach after retiring from the

At Cherry Point, his outstanding performance of duty with Wing was recognized with a meritorious mast by his commander, Lt. Col. H. A. Stahlstr. Tarbox was commended for raising enlistment status from 41 per cent. He was also responsible for enrolling 169 Air Wing in the Marine Corps Institute.

Since his transfer to Camp Lejeune, Tarbox has been instrumental in encouraging 321 Marines to complete MCI courses.

Tarbox finds education the best way to sell Marines. The usual objections are, "I don't have time," "I'm too old," and "I've been in school too long." "Professor Tarbox overcomes these objections with his personal background example. The sergeant joined the Marine Corps in 1937 and is now 44 years old. He claims to be just beginning to live, and finds his age in his pursuit of academic knowledge.

When he counsels men with educational advice, Tarbox says, "First complete your high school credits, if necessary. Then, general educational development test. You can determine from results, whether to proceed with college work. Then if you test so indicates, prepare for college degree."

VISITING COUNTY COMMISSIONERS — Were given an on scene explanation of Individual Combat Training by Capt. Johnson, Escort Officer. Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, Commanding General of Marine Corps Base is second from right and Col. I. Batterson Jr., Commanding Officer of the 1st Infantry Training Center is on the extreme right. The commissioners representing 2d and 3rd districts, Onslow county commissioners were also present.
