Lejeune Meets Quantico On Saturday

Greater Emphasis Is Urged In United Fund Campaign

With only three weeks remaining in the Camp Lejeune United Fund Drive, Lt. Col. W. G. Hopkins, campaign chairman, this week called for a concentrated effort by all hands to reach and exceed the $75,000 quota. "We're nearing our goal now and I'd like everyone to give it a little extra push so that we may get it over with on the scheduled closing date (Nov. 30) and not have to extend the drive," Hopkins said.

Sixteen Lose Base License Permanently

Sixteen Marines became permanent pedestrians in the last few weeks at Camp Lejeune. Two others received one-year suspensions and four civilians received six-month suspensions and fines up to $50.

PERMANENT SUSPENSION

- JOSEPH SANGERMANO, 2d 155mm Gun Battery, 2d FAG, No Operator's license.
 - RICHARD BITONTI, "A" 2d Pion. Bn., Driving under the influence, wrong way on one way street.

Graduate Courses

East Carolina College announces two additional graduate courses. Registration will be conducted Nov. 27 through Dec. 1, 1961. Class schedule, Monday, Dec. 4, Education 400, Counseling Techniques; Tuesday, Dec. 5, Business 451, Sales and Management. In addition, counseling services are also scheduled weekly on Tuesday and Friday mornings at the ECC office, Bldg. 67. Appointments may be made by calling 7-5864.

Injuries Plague Team On Eve Of Year's Top Game

More than 10,000 Lejeune football fans are expected to see the season's top game when Lejeune meets Quantico this Saturday at 10 a.m. at Liversedge Field. The injury-riddled Lejeune squad, with a 7-1 record, is meeting the highly favored Quantico team which has not lost to a service club in their last 21 games. It will be the fifteenth meeting for the two teams, with Quantico having an 8-5-1 edge. Injuries notwithstanding, Coach Phil Monahan says the Lejeune squad has been pointing toward this game and will give a good account of themselves.

Special bleachers have been set up to accommodate the extra crowd. All service clubs, the NCO Club, Staff Annexes and Officers Clubs will be open immediately after the game.

Victory parties have been planned at all clubs. This may change to "Wait Until Next Year" parties after the game.

Seating of personnel within the field grade, company grade and staff NCO sections of the main stands will be on a controlled basis. A special section has been reserved for team guests.

Lejeune lost the services of Bob Schwarze last Saturday when the leading quarterback received a broken rib in the Ft. Dix game. Quantico, according to scouting reports, is three deep in all positions and "is the LSU system of 'White,' 'Red,' and 'Chinese Bandits.'"

Local armchair quarterbacks point out Lejeune's record in the field of routing bandits, regardless of nationality. Special half-time ceremonies have been planned for the game. Fans are urged to come early in order to get a seat.

Insurance Policies Can Be Guaranteed By Relief Act

Beside the general and specific provisions of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act, there are miscellaneous provisions also serving to help military personnel keep their legal obligations in order during their active duty period. These provisions cover insurance, storage liens, public lands,

Base To Hold Services For Tarawa Dead

Memorial services honoring Marines who gave their lives at the Battle of Tarawa Atoll during World War II will take place at the Catholic Chapel here on Monday, Nov. 20, at 5 p.m.

All officers and enlisted personnel, either active or retired, who served with the 2d Marines or attached elements at Tarawa are invited to attend this non-denominational service.

Officiating at the memorial services will be Father Francis W. Kelly, a veteran of the bloody campaign.

Anyone desiring further information may call Maj. William C. Bitlick, 7-5652.

mining claims and homestead entries. Suppose you own a commercial insurance policy insuring your life. After entering military service, you find that you are unable to keep up the premium payments. Does the Relief Act help you in this situation?

Yes. Under it you can ask the Veterans' Administration to guarantee payments of the premiums on policies not exceeding $10,000 in value. This may be on one or more policies but the total value must not exceed the maximum allowed.

Under this provision you have two years to pay all premiums and interest charges due, after separation from the service.

Another protection includes storage liens.

As for the provision on public lands, mining claims and homestead entries, special provisions of the act protect these claims while you are serving your country. (AFPS)

Valencia, Spain, Welcomes Med Marines On Liberty

WITH BLT 3/2, IN THE MEDITERRANEAN SEA, Nov. 3—Valencia, Spain, was the first Spanish port visited by the 3d Battalion (Reinf.), 2d Marines, during its present tour of duty with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea. The NELM Battalion, under the command of Lt. Col. Stanley Davis, arrived in Valencia on Oct. 28 and left there for Barcelona, Spain, on Nov. 3. While in Valencia, the Marines were given daily tours of the city and its surrounding countryside.

ITR To Host Scouts From East Carolina

Teenagers from the East North Carolina Council of the Explorer Scouts of America will converge on the First Infantry Training Regiment this weekend for three days of observing Marines in action.

Following a dinner meet upon their arrival Friday afternoon, the Scouts will travel to the K-305 Training Range for a look-see at Marine weapons in a live firing exercise. Outside of the regular M-1 and heavy machine guns, 106mm recoilless rifles, 3.5 inch rocket launchers, flame throwers and demonstrations will be used to demonstrate Marine fire power on a Final Protective Line. Six-month Reservists training at Camp Lejeune will put on the demonstration.

Two trucks from the Camp Cafeteria will be on hand with cold pop and snacks. Although primarily put on for the Scouts, the general public is invited to attend. Military Police will be stationed all along the route on the Verona Loop Road to direct those desiring to attend.

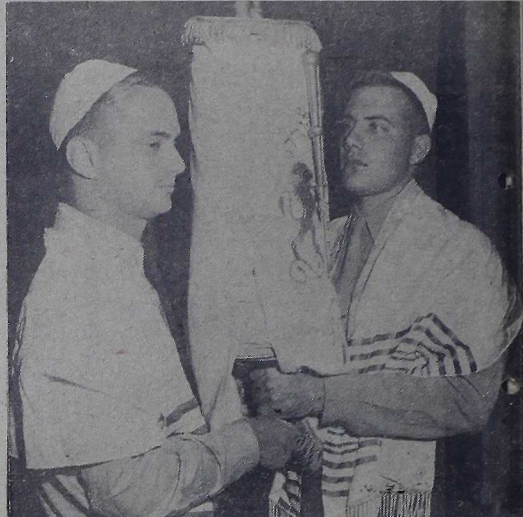

SPARE TIRES?—Those monstrous wheels tagging along behind the M-60 tank aren't spare tires for an over-sized Jeep. Those are fuel wheels, commonly known as "rolling doughnuts." The tires hold enough fuel to allow a tank to operate five times its normal time and distance. The Marines on the M-60 are members of the 3d squad, 1st platoon, "E" Co., 2d Bn., 2d Marines, at Camp Lejeune. The M-60 tank crew is from 2d Tank Bn., Force Troops. (Photo by GySgt. PMO Warns Speedsters Of Radar System

The Electronic Velocity Analyzer (RADAR) is now in use within the limits of Camp Lejeune. The average person has been greatly misled as to the use and function of the Electronic Velocity Analyzer. It is a precision instrument that measures the speed of a vehicle in miles per hour through the use of an electronic beam. This unit can be mounted inside or outside a vehicle; also, it can be used independently of a vehicle. Weather does not affect the operation of the set. No rubber hoses are used in conjunction with the unit.

This radar unit can be set up in a matter of minutes and quickly moved from one location to another. So—if at sometime during the day, you see the radar unit in operation at a particular place, don't be surprised to see it in operation somewhere else, ten minutes later. The Provost Marshal states that the radar as well as other type electrical timing devices will be used continuously throughout the Base and housing areas.

Tact is the unsaid part of what you think.

JEWISH SERVICES—Rabbi Martin Siegel, left, assistant Chaplain of the 2d Marine Division, and his assistant, Private First Class Allan Rich remove the Torah—a hand-written scroll of the first five books of the Bible—from its place in the Camp Lejeune Jewish Synagogue during regular services conducted for the benefit of members of the Jewish faith. (Photo by Pfc Robert Pombrant)

Renovation Project Draws Aid From All Camp Faiths

Two years ago—when Rabbi Martin Siegel reported to the 2d Marine Division—the Jewish synagogue at Camp Lejeune was a bare room with chairs for the congregation and a cupboard-like arrangement to house the Ark-of-the-Covenant and the Torah, a hand-written scroll containing the first five books of the Bible. Today the Synagogue has replaced the chairs with pews, a wood panel with sliding doors contains the Ark, and carefully polished hand-cut brass symbols of the 10 Commandments gleam beneath the Eternal Light—a requirement of every Jewish Synagogue.

All the improvements were made by volunteers of many faiths, who worked on their own time, helping the Rabbi improve his Synagogue. The Chaplain supervised all improvements to insure that the conform to Jewish traditions regarding the configuration of Synagogues. For example: Hebrew religious law requires that the Ark of the Covenant, occupy a place of honor in the center of the wall facing the congregation and behind the pulpit. It also requires that a light be kept on over the Ark 24 hours a day. In the case of the Synagogue at Camp Lejeune, this light was installed by employees of Base Maintenance who used a candle holder from the Catholic Chapel wired for electricity.

The 10 Commandments were cut from sheet brass by 1st Lt. Fred Kinnick (a Catholic), LCpl. Robert Goldberg and Karl Teller, HM3 (both Jewish). The three cut the Commandments, then spent hours filing off rough edges and polished the finished work before securing them to the wall behind the pulpit. More help on this project came from Pfc A. J. Krenthal who worked long hours at night, filing and polishing.

Altogether the four worked almost every evening for three weeks. Another project, currently in process to improve the Synagogue which serves Lejeune's 300 Jews are imitation stained glass windows, being renovated by 2d Lt. Lowell Hugen (a Protestant) artist who volunteered to re-paint the windows that line either wall of the Synagogue.

Although the Chapel is built to Jewish Synagogue specifications, it can double for services of other faiths as well. A star of David attached to the door is removable and can be replaced with Christian symbols in a moment. This is the work of Pvt. Jess Rothberg who painted the various religious symbols. When conducting services in the refurbished Synagogue, Rabbi Siegel is aided by Pfc Allan Rich who assists in performing the traditional Ritual of the Hebrew Church.

MC Birthday Celebrated At Double Zero

Marines aboard the USS Donner and USS Suffolk County came through with another Marine Corps "first" this year in celebrating the Corps' Birthday.

The two ships and four hundred Marines comprising the Landing Force of Operation Solant Amity, by sheer coincidence, celebrated the Marine Corps Birthday while at Point Double Zero, latitude zero degrees and longitude zero degrees.

The same hour Landing Force Commander Lt. Col. James D. Boldman was cutting the cake all hands became Golden Shellbacks of the Ancient Order of the Deep.

Highlight of the day's celebrations came in the evening just as the ships were about to cross the Prime meridian and the equator. Lights were turned off as the Task Force Navy Band played the Marine Corps Hymn.

AUSTRALIAN VISITOR—Lt. Col. Russell McNamara, left, of the Royal Australian Army, on a three-week visit to Camp Lejeune, checks over and compares the Marine Corps M-14 rifle with the FN self-loading rifle used by the Australian Army. 1st Lt. Aussie Colonel Ends U. S. Tour With Visit To Lejeune

Lt. Col. Russel George Patrick St. Vincent McNamara of the Royal Australian Army, climaxing a year and a half visit in the United States, is spending the last three weeks of his visit here at Camp Lejeune. During his stay here, the colonel has been studying Marine training methods. Colonel McNamara said, "The purpose of my visit here is to gain an understanding of the training system which gives such excellent results. In the short time I have been here I can see why the Marine has such a fine heritage and tradition."

One of the highlights of his visit was a tour of the 8th Marines while they were preparing for the rifle range with the M-14 rifle. The colonel was very interested in the M-14, since it is very similar to the FN self-loading rifle which the Australian Army uses. The weapon fires the 7.62 or NATO round and is similar to the M-14.

The Reconnaissance units of the Division also interested the colonel, for a great deal of the training of the Australian Army is done in the jungles where guerilla warfare plays an important role.

Since arriving in the United States nearly a year and a half ago, Colonel McNamara has spent a considerable amount of time at the Army's Command General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, as part of the Australian Military Mission of Washington, D. C., and many of the military bases which specialize in commando and paratrooper type training.

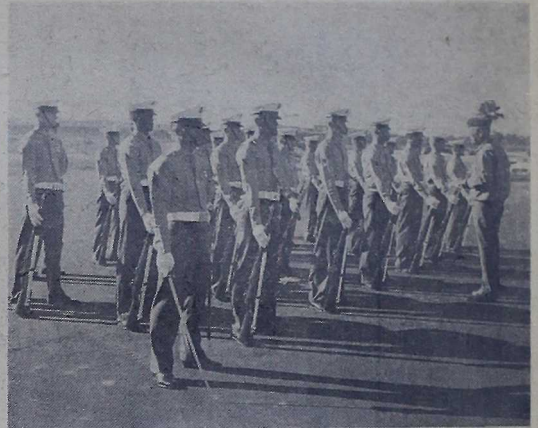

AFPS, Corps Give GLOBE Two Awards

The GLOBE won the Armed Forces Press Service award as the best service paper, letterpress division, in the United States for the third quarter of 1961. At the same time, the GLOBE took second place in the Marine Corps competition for 1961.

The Camp Pendleton SCOUT was named 1961 winner of the Annual Marine Corps Journalism award, according to Headquarters, Marine Corps Judges for the contest were Col. D. L. Dickson, editor-publisher of LEATHERNECK, Lt. Col. T. N. Greene, editor-publisher of the MARINE CORPS GAZETTE, Lt. Col. P. N. Pierce, Division of Information, Maj. J. L. Zorack, Procurement Aids Section, and Maj. R. J. Randolph, Jr., of the Special Services Branch, HQMC.

Thirteen Marine Corps papers were considered for the award.

Armed Forces Press Service, which judges some 1400 service papers in all categories from letterpress through mimeograph, picked the GLOBE over all letterpress papers in the United States. The award was made on the basis of service to the command, morale factor, appearance of the paper and editorial content.

SOMETHING NEW—Members of the newly-organized 2d Force Service Regiment Drill Team stand at parade rest as they accept congratulations from the regimental commander, Col. A. J. Roose. FSR Specialists Succeed In Transition To Drill Team

How much time does it take to transform a group of cooks, bakers, and heavy equipment operators into a precision drill team ready for its debut? This was the problem confronting Lt. R. E. Stevens of the Industrial Area Guard, 2d FSR. In just two weeks they were ready. Last Thursday, the Industrial Area Guard Drill team gave their initial performance of precision drill for their regimental commander, Col. A. J. Roose, who stated after viewing them, "These men are as good as any drill team I have seen."

Composed of 29 enlisted Marines attached to 2d FSR, and ranging in rank from private to sergeant (E-4), the drill team practiced two hours a day for six days of each week while they were preparing for their first performance.

"This drill team is not a volunteer group," stated Lieutenant Stevens, who is the officer in charge of the team. "I hand picked these men, based on their appearance and military bearing," the lieutenant continued.

None of the 29 men in the drill team had ever been a part of any drill team before. "And half of them never expected to be either," added the lieutenant. "It was just an idea that flourished into the first precision drill team to ever represent the 2d FSR," Lieutenant Stevens continued.

There are no tentative engagements in the near future, but arrangements for a performance can be made by calling Lieutenant Stevens at 7-3472.

Sailor Wins Soup Contest, Gives Recipe

The following letter was received by MGYsgt. G. E. Rumer of Base Food Services:

Dear Soup-Stirrer,

Your interest in the Annual Bean Soup Contest is appreciated. On the assumption that you might be curious about the winning recipe, and may even want to try it, we are sending you a copy. Here it is:

Take 1 1/2 cups of Michigan Navy beans, 5 1/2 cups of water, 4 ounces of diced pork sausage, 3 tablespoons fresh carrots, 3 tablespoons green onions, 1 bouillon cube, 1/2 cup canned tomato juice, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 tablespoon black pepper, 1 tablespoon dehydrated potato granules, and 1 tablespoon monosodium glutamate.

Place beans, water, sausage, carrots, onions, and bouillon cube in saucepan, blend. Bring contents to a boil. Cover. Simmer for 2 hours on low heat. Let cool 1 hour. Drain, and save stock. Grind remainder then recombine with saved stock. Blend in tomato soup, salt, pepper, potato granules diluted with 1 cup water, and monosodium glutamate. Cook on low heat for 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Serve hot.

We look forward to receiving another entry from you next year, and add our best wishes for your eventual culinary success.

PO2 Joseph S. Ventura, a cook on the destroyer escort McGinty, was judged winner of the fifth Navy Bean Soup Contest in which some 500 contestants submitted recipes from around the globe.

Ventura's recipe got a unanimous vote—unprecedented in the annual contest—from the six judges who included Rear Adm. Daniel F. Smith, Navy Chief of Information.

TRAVELING COLONEL—Lt. Col. W. L. Batchelor, commanding officer of 8th Engineer Bn., Force Troops, has become known as the "traveling colonel" for his frequent trips to Vieques. He holds one of the most unique battalion commander's posts in the Marine Corps, because elements of his command are stationed 1500 miles apart. In his 16 months at the helm of the engineers, he has made the flight to the Caribbean island 15 times, representing 225 hours of flying time and almost 50,000 air miles, and no flight pay. (Cartoon by Pfc Dave Rydberg)

8,756,011 SIT-UPS — More than 800 pounds of blubber have disappeared from members of the 8th Engineer Bn., Force Troops, since early September through dieting and physical exercise. The engineers are approaching the halfway mark of their campaign to trim 1750 excess pounds off 65 Marines in that unit, and Sgt. Maj. R. E. Duncan Jr. reports they are "working hard" on the other 900 pounds. One engineer already has shaved 39 pounds from his 242 of a few months ago; another is slated to drop 109 of his 302 pounds.

Never Has Our Country Needed Marines More

There was no tradition in the beginning, only a burning desire for freedom among the men who enlisted in the first two Marine battalions in 1775. Their drill was British, their organization was British and their muskets were stamped "Tower of London."

They tell a story of those first recruits, of how Abe Aaron and Zeb Zilch came off the mountain to enlist that day in Philadelphia. Captain Nicholas began by giving a tot of rum and a handshake to each alphabetically as they signed on but at the end of the day an empty rum keg and a sore hand left Zilch with nothing but a smile and "Welcome Aboard."

Zeb complained to Abe, which was natural even at that early stage and got the answer which has haunted Marines since Nov. 10, 1775.

"It wasn't like that in the Old Corps."

He was so right. It wasn't like that in the old Corps but then, nothing has ever been like the "old Corps." The old Corps is a state of mind and not necessarily a good one. The old Corps is like the Good Old Days when life was leisurely and there were no real problems.

No Marine has ever had that kind of life. At no time in our history has the Corps ever been anything but ready and in most cases, the Corps has been needed.

Today, more than any time in our history, the Corps is needed. Combat readiness in this time of cold war and global crisis can easily mean the difference between trouble before it begins and world war. The only Corps which counts is the "Now" Corps, the ready, strong arm of American defense which can move quickly and efficiently into the breach should any enemy of freedom start to move.

It isn't an easy thing to accept. The knowledge that at any time, any moment, we can be catapulted from our peaceful life into combat has disturbed the dreams of more than one Marine. Since war, real war, gives little or no warning, we are in the unenviable position of being like a fighter training for the big match and never knowing when the bell will sound. It is hard to keep a fighting edge day after day, week after week, month after month and possibly, year after year. Yet this is what we must do and what we must always face.

Fire Chief Lists 'Don'ts' For Stove And Heater Owners

Each year during the cold weather months the Fire Department responds to an unusually high number of oil stove and heater fires. While the damage in most cases is negligible, there is always a potentially serious fire resulting from stoves and heaters. The Fire Department listed the main causes:

1. Turning the intake valve on and leaving it for an undue period of time to "get a little oil in the firepot" before lighting.
2. Overhauling and cleaning of fuel intake system resulting in improper assembly and ultimate overflow of oil.
3. "Burning off" firepots that had been flooded with oil.
4. Accumulation of soot in smoke stacks due to infrequent and improper cleaning, causing back-up of fire.
5. Attempts to increase the heat beyond the capacity of the stove, thereby supplying more fuel than the burner would consume.
6. Spilling of fuel in the vicinity of the heater and improper policing thereof prior to lighting the heater.
7. Lack of proper training in refueling, regulating and cleaning the heaters.
8. Drying clothes too close to the heaters.

9. Too much "horse play" in the vicinity of the heaters.

10. Improper initial installation of heaters due to failure to clear with cognizant safety personnel.

In order to eliminate or materially reduce responses to these incidents, the cooperation of both military and civilian personnel is requested in assuring that the foregoing does not occur in stoves and heaters under their control. Extreme caution is therefore urged in the operation of all heating devices. Above all, in cases of trouble call the Fire Department, phone 3333.

Chaplain's Corner

Words are like sunbeams, someone sagely said, the more you concentrate on them the deeper they burn.

This is true. It is also true that you cannot retract or erase the spoken word. Once it has gone past the lips, it is on its way to all ears. It is on its way to make a friend or to lose one; to encourage or to hinder; to praise or destroy.

Words on the loose! How they can damage, tear apart, rip a reputation; how they can inspire, lift up, elevate! Curses, foul words, degrading words uttered on the spur of the moment cannot be recalled! They leap at people, and make a lasting impression of you.

Be a good listener first, a good talker second, and you will not "wish I hadn't said that." Think twice and speak once, and you won't always be "shooting off." Before you say it, write it, for then if you do not like the way it looks, you can erase it on paper.

These are the simple remedies for quick-spoken folks, for people who regard their words carelessly, thoughtlessly. How cruel are many words spoken in haste. "You're wrong," "you stupid . . ." "you dumb ox" someone shouts and another person feels that he or she has been degraded.

It is all in how you say what you say. Watch your words, and your words will make a good impression for you.

STOP! Think twice! Speak once! Listen more than you talk. Remember, you can't erase the spoken word!

If You Ask Me:

WHO DO YOU THINK WILL WIN THE LEJEUNE-QUANTICO FOOTBALL GAME?

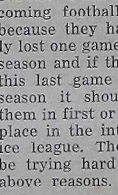

B. L. SMITH, Base Mail and File Room—

Quantico seems to have an easier time overcoming their opponents than Lejeune does. I am basing my opinion on past history. I've been to quite a few Lejeune-Quantico games and I can only remember a couple of times that we came out on top. But maybe this will be one of those exceptions so

I'll be there pulling for Lejeune.

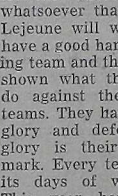

SGT. ROY D. CARTER, Base Guard Mail Section—I think Lejeune will win the upcoming football game because they have only lost one game of the season and if they win this last game of the season it should put them in first or second place in the interservice league. They will be trying hard for the above reasons.

CPL. DAVID J. BLOES, Base Mail and File Section — Definitely Lejeune! Although Quantico has the power of college experience, I feel the men of Lejeune, with the outstanding record they now hold, will display more drive and aggressiveness to retain the same. Adding to this the spirit of their supporters, and will to win. I am sure it will be enough to put our team on top.

PVT. KAREN A. BURKE, Base Communications—There is no doubt in my mind whatsoever that Camp Lejeune will win. We have a good hard fighting team and they have shown what they can do against the other teams. They have seen glory and defeat but glory is their trademark. Every team has its days of winning. This year has been Camp Lejeune's winning year and we don't intend to stop now. Quantico has a good team but Camp Lejeune has a better one and the day that Quantico and Lejeune clash I can truly say there are going to be a lot of unhappy Quantico fans going home. Every team, sooner or later, will meet its match and they must step down and let the winner take over and it will be on Nov. 18 that Lejeune will take the winning stand. My only hope is that Quantico is as good a loser as it is a winner.

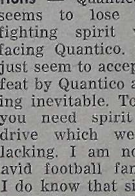

LCPL. CARL L. BAILEY, Base Guard Mail—I think Lejeune will win the forthcoming football game with Quantico because I have seen a few of the games that Lejeune has played and they do have the team and effort and teamwork that it takes to make a winning team. I have heard that Quantico is pretty rough and they haven't lost a game but I think that this will also make the Lejeune team play that much harder to win.

CPL. JANE WALEY, Base Communications — Quantico will. Lejeune always seems to lose their fighting spirit when facing Quantico. They just seem to accept defeat by Quantico as being inevitable. To win you need spirit and drive which we are lacking. I am not an avid football fan but I do know that since I have been stationed here, Lejeune has not won once against Quantico. I hope we break the record, though.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—What protection do seat belts give in case of collision?

A—Seat belts help keep passengers from being ejected. This is important because chances of being killed in an accident are five times greater if thrown from the vehicle. Belts also reduce the force of impact of the body on any part of the car's interior. Further, when the driver is held firmly in place by a seat belt he is able to maintain better control of his vehicle after a collision occurs.

Q—Do seat belts protect passengers riding in a car involved in minor accidents?

A—Passengers are protected from possible injury when caught unawares by sudden stops, bumps, and rear-end pile-ups. All occupants are safer if the driver is kept behind the wheel to control the car.

Q—What if I am caught in a burning or submerged car with my seat belt fastened?

A—Less than 1% of all injury-producing accidents involve fire or submersion. Even in such instances, chances of remaining conscious in order to free yourself and escape from the vehicle are greatly increased when wearing a seat belt.

Q—Is it necessary to use seat belts on short trips to the store, the office, or to perform minor errands?

A—More than half of all injury-producing automobile accidents occur in urban areas. Three out of four traffic deaths occur within 25 miles of home. And more than half the traffic accidents, involving either injury or death, occur at speeds less than 40 mph.

Q—When should the seat belt be fastened?

A—As soon as driver and passengers are seated in the car. Once you have started to drive you may not have a chance to adjust the belt properly and comfortably.

MIDWAY PARK (MID)—Daily at 6 and 8:30 p. m.
COURTHOUSE BAY (CB) — Indoor, one showing daily 7 p. m. Sat., Sun. holiday. Indoor 8:30 2 p. m. daily.

NAVAL HOSPITAL (NH) — 7 p. m. Mon-Fri: 1:15 and 7 p. m. Sat-Sun. (Parents only)

RIFLE RANGE (RR) — Indoors, 6:30 p. m.

BLOOD AND ROSES
This is a beautifully mounted suspense drama involving a centuries-old legend of vampires associated with a particular family. The story opens at an old country villa near Rome, where Nicl Ferrer is making preparations for a masked ball to celebrate his coming marriage to Elsa Martinielli. In planning the fireworks for the event it is revealed that part of the villa ground was once a cemetery.

THIEF OF BAGHDAD
Steve Reeves, a thief in ancient Baghdad is aided by an old man, George Chamarrat, in abducting Prince Osman who is arriving to marry the princess, Georgia. When Georgia sees Reeves in the prince's robes, she falls in love with him. But he is forced to flee the palace, taking jewels which he distributes to the poor. Georgia refuses to accept the real prince and she falls ill. The palace doctors say that only a man who finds a blue rose will cure her. Reeves ends up with the blue rose and the princess, too. (Time: 102 min.)

WEEKEND WITH LULU
The only information we have on this movie that it is a comedy and stars Leslie Phillips and Robert Monkhouse, and that the running time is 83 minutes.

PURPLE HILLS
The story takes place in the Apache Indian country of Arizona in the 1870's, and bounty hunter Gene Nelson makes every effort to get the large cash reward for a man he has killed and buried. However, the dead man's partner, Kent Taylor, complicates matters for Nelson by saying it was he who shot the man and should have the money. At this point, both Nelson and Taylor are confronted by the victim's kid brother, who is out to slay the killer of his brother, but is frustrated by the two claims to the killing.

THE TRAPP FAMILY
Ruth Leuwercik, a high-spirited nun in an American convent, is sent to the ancestral home of Baron von Trapp (Fans Holt) to care for his seven motherless children. The children are highly disciplined by their autocratic father, but Ruth soon teaches them to play and have a good time. Trapp, who has been away visiting an attractive woman of wealth, returns with the intention of firing Ruth, but when he hears how she has taught them to sing in choral style, he relents. This comedy-drama is ideal for the family, especially suited to young children. (Time: 102 min.)

BLOOD LUST
No information available on this film. We do know that the running time is 76 minutes.

GUN FIGHT
A return to the kiddie western in the almost lost tradition of the Saturday afternoon matinee is about all that is accomplished by this feature. In addition to the action implied by the title, there is a stagecoach robbery and a lot of chasing on horseback. James Brown, recently released from the army, agrees to join his brother, Gregg Palmer, in a cattle ranch enterprise only to discover that Palmer is still operating outside the law. Brown decides to take Joan Staley, a dance hall singer, and escape to the mountains where they hope to live in peace. (Time: 68 min.)

USO Features Variety Show This Saturday

Ted Mack's Amateur Hour and Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts can stand by this Saturday, Nov. 18, when the Central Prison of Raleigh opens the big Prison Variety Show at the Jacksonville USO building at 7 p. m.

A troupe 35 performers, who, according to last year's spectators, really "tear down the house" with rock n' roll, hill-billy and a minstrel show has been obtained through special arrangements with the Warden of the State Prison. Everyone who has seen this show in the past says that this is the best performance of any other similar show held at the USO.

Men should come early to obtain a seat. The stage show will be followed by the movie "Flying Leathernecks" in color with John Wayne. The variety show is one of the special activities connected with the USO Pal Day Celebrations. Another is the special Thanksgiving turkey dinner which this year has been prepared to accommodate 500 men. Doors will open November 23 at 4 p. m.

MAJOR GENERAL J. P. BERKELEY—Commanding general, Marine Corps Base, prepares to cut the birthday cake opening the ceremonies for Marine Corps Base and Force Troops Officers at the Paradise Point Officer's club. Brigadier General Wood B. Kyle, Commanding General, Force Troops, looks on from behind General Berkeley.

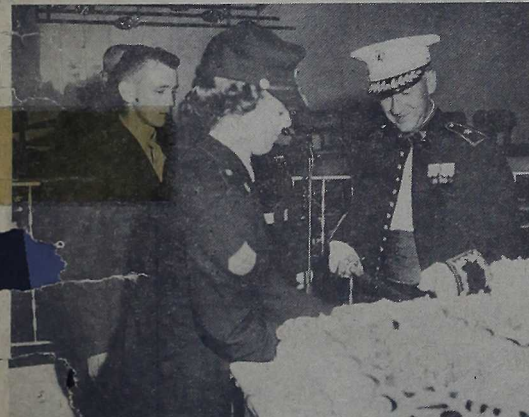

HISTORY IN THE LIMELIGHT—186 years of Marine Corps history was represented in uniform at Friday's Birthday parade. Marines in uniform from Tun Tavern day

KID STUFF—The thrilling spectacle of a Marine Corps pageant and parade with color and history set many-a-heart-a-thumping, but to this young tyke it was all kid stuff in a silly grown-up world and the proper thing for her to do was take advantage of the situation by snoozing away in her ring-side seat.

MARSTON PAVILION—Highlight of the Birthday festivities at Marston Pavilion came when Maj. Gen. Frederick L. Wieseman, commanding general, 2d Marine Division, cut the traditional Birthday Cake for enlisted Marines.

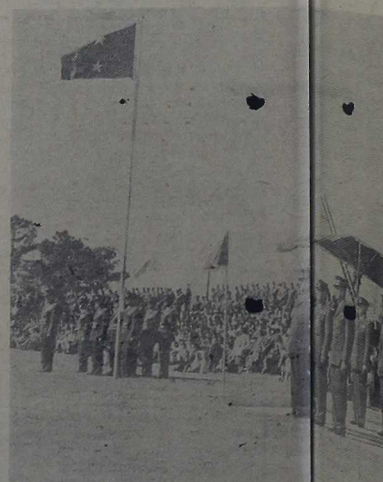

SURPRISE—LCpl. James A. Tobey, center, a member of Base MP and Guard Co., on duty at Triangle Outpost but not forgotten, smiles his approval as MSgt. W. A. Collins left and GySgt. Archie Blair present him with a 10-pound cake on Friday, Nov. 10, for the guards.

CAMP GEIGER—Cake cutting ceremonies were presided over by Brig. Gen. L. W. Walt, the Assistant Division Commander. Col. R. J. Batterton Jr., commanding officer, 1st Infantry Training Regiment, looks on from the background. On the right is Sgt. Major J. A. Rodriguez, Sergeant Major of the Infantry Training Regiment.

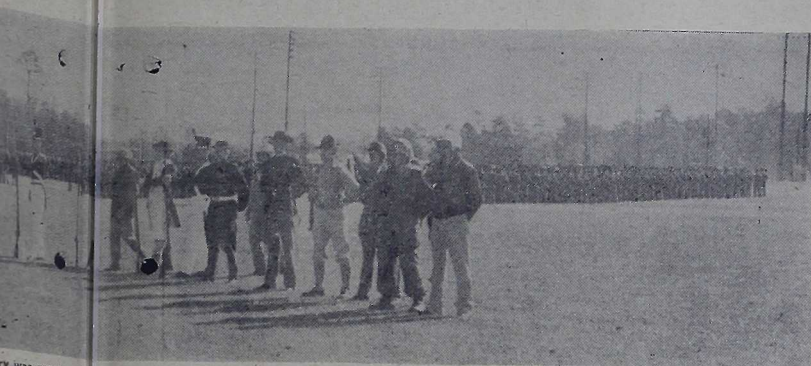

IT LOOKS LIKE HIM—Somewhere in there is a pay stop that music maybe he could hear it. And maybe he is there and find him. Naw, I better wait out here. That on the posterior.

Traditional Battle With Quantico Eleven Could Mean Share Of Conference Crown

Camp Lejeune will get a second shot at a first place finish in the East Coast Interservice Conference here Saturday when they host arch-rival Quantico in the final game of the '61 season for Lejeune. Last week, the Quantico Marines moved into first place in the service conference when the director of the league upheld a Quantico protest of the game with Ft. Eustis, Va. The ruling nullified a decision by the referee of the game to award Eustis a touchdown and a 13-9 victory some 30 minutes after the game ended.

Marines Roll To Seventh Win In Topping Dix 28-12 Sunday

Lejeune's hard-driving Marine eleven rolled toward Saturday's climactic game of the season with Quantico by posting an easy 28-12 victory over the Ft. Dix "Burros" Sunday at Ft. Dix, N. J. The win, Lejeune's seventh of the season against one loss, was costly, however, as the Marines lost their two first line quarterbacks through injuries. Bob Schwarze suffered a cracked rib early in the first quarter and Vince Cesare, who just returned to active playing status, re-injured his shoulder. Schwarze is definitely out for the season and Cesare will be in doubtful condition for Saturday's game with Quantico.

Cesare, who took over after Schwarze was injured, directed the Marine attack to four first half scores against Dix Sunday and then sat out most of the third and fourth quarters as the Marines coasted in to win.

The little field general directed the Marine attack 86 yards late in the first quarter for their first score. Halfback Dan Droze went the last 29 yards on a cutback over center to cap the drive. Ed Long's point after kick gave Lejeune a 7-0 lead with 3:06 to play in the first period.

Two plays into the second quarter the Marines got a break which set their second touchdown. End

Ft. Dix came back to score two plays later as quarterback Bruce Webster hit halfback Mike Fitzpatrick with a 62-yard "bomb." An end run for an attempted two-point conversion failed and Lejeune had a 13-6 lead with 12:17 to play in the second period.

Lejeune came right back to score, going 91 yards in four plays. The big play was a brilliant 71-yard run by halfback Chuck Lattig which carried from the Lejeune 25 to the Dix four. Fullback Bill Tasker plunged over from the two to cap the drive. Ed Long kicked the PAT.

The Marines tacked two points to their total on the next Dix series of downs when End Jim Knight cut Fitzpatrick down in the Dix end zone for a two-point safety to give Lejeune a 22-6 edge with 7:57 to play in the second quarter.

With Dix forced to kick to the Marines following the safety, the Lejeune attack rolled to their fourth touchdown, going 71 yards in 11 plays. Tasker drove in for his second score of the game from the three to give Lejeune a 28-6 lead at the half.

Although Dix outgained Lejeune in the air, 192-89, the Marine secondary picked-off three Dix passes to blunt the "Burros" offense. Lejeune had a big edge on the ground, rushing for 235 yards to Dix's 98.

Thus, Lejeune could throw the conference into a three-way tie with a win Saturday. Lejeune's record is now 7-1. Their only loss was a 12-6 setback against Ft. Eustis three weeks ago.

Quantico Favored
Saturday's clash with Quantico is the 15th meeting of the two Marine teams. The Virginia-based Leathernecks have an 8-5 edge in the series, with one tie. Quantico will be heavily favored to rack up their ninth win and third straight over an injury-riddled Lejeune squad.

Coach Phil Monahan of Lejeune is faced this week with the task of digging up a quarterback to start against a Quantico team which has won 21 straight games against service competition over a three-year period.

Quarterback Problem
Last Sunday at Ft. Dix, Lejeune lost quarterback Bob Schwarze for the season when the talented signal caller suffered a broken rib early in the game. Three other Lejeune quarterbacks are in questionable playing condition.

Vince Cesare, who returned to action Saturday after being out for three weeks, was re-injured late in the Dix game and may not be ready. Ed Dobbs and John Sylvara, who have seen only limited action, are also on the injured list, which leaves Lejeune without a quarterback if one of the trio is not ready by game time.

Three Deep
This year's Quantico team is a typical Marine Corps Schools squad. Coached by Major Wil "E" Overgaard, who is in his seventh year of service coaching, Quantico is three deep in every position with college talent.

Common Foes
Lejeune and Quantico have played three common opponents this season. Quantico topped Ft. Dix, 13-9, Ft. Eustis, 9-7, and Ft. Campbell, 32-9. Lejeune whipped Dix, 28-12, lost to Eustis, 12-6, and stopped Campbell, 6-0.

Quantico's season record now stands at 7-3. All of their losses have been to college or semi-pro teams. They lost to the Columbus (Ohio) semi-pro team, 33-0, Baldwin-Wallace College, 18-7, and Villanova, 34-0.

Game time for this traditional battle is 10 a.m. The capacity of Liversedge stadium has been expanded to 11,500 in order to assure adequate seating for all fans. Pre-game activities will get underway at approximately 9:25 a.m.

Marines Combine Defense, Offense To Post Best Record Here Since '58

With only the Quantico game left on Lejeune's 1961 football schedule, team statistics reveal the Marines have combined a crunching offense and a grudging defense in romping to a 7-1 record this year. The Marines' present win-loss record is the best here since the 1958 squad hustled to the East Coast All-Marine title. In their season finale here Saturday against Quantico, Lejeune will throw an offense at their Virginia counterparts which has racked up a total of 1,611 yards rushing and 873 passing for an average total offense of 310.3 yards per game.

Four Selected 'Outstanding' In Ft. Dix Game Last Week

Four members of Camp Lejeune's football team were selected as last week's outstanding players by the Marine coaching staff in the 28-12 Lejeune win over Ft. Dix, N. J. "We had three backs who looked real good last week," coach Phil Monahan said. "I really couldn't pick one of them over the others so we decided to name three outstanding backs and one lineman from last week's game." The outstanding backs are halfbacks Dan Droze and Mike Dunn and fullback Bill Tasker. Guard Tom Harwell is the pick as the week's outstanding lineman. The selection of Harwell is the second time this year the tough little guard has been named as lineman of the week.

Droze, Dunn and Tasker each scored at least once to lead Lejeune over Dix. Droze got the Marines' first touchdown on a nifty 29-yard run, while Dunn tallied on an 11-yard pass from Vince Cesare, and Tasker bulled over twice from short range to cap Lejeune's scoring.

The air and 18 on the ground, for a total of 190 points or an average of 23.7 points per game.

While their offense has been making hay, the Marines' defense has given up practically nothing in the way of real estate. The defense has allowed eight opponents 785 yards rushing and 638 yards passing for a rushing defense of 97.2 yards per game and a passing defense of 79.7 per game. This defense has allowed a total of 60 points for an average of 7.5 points per game. Marine defenders have also been busy picking off enemy passes, coming up with 13. The only game in which they failed to intercept a pass was in the 12-6 loss to Ft. Eustis, Va. Individually, the team's leading ground gainer is fullback John Parrinello with 360 yards on 67 attempts for a 5.4 average. Halfback Chuck Lattig, former Iowa State star, is leading the scoring parade with six touchdowns and three PAT's for 39 points.

Official Protest Tilt To Quantico

An official protest of the Ft. Eustis-Quantico football game by Quantico was upheld last week by the director of the East Coast Interservice Conference.

The decision reversed a ruling by the game referee to award Ft. Eustis a touchdown and a 13-9 victory some 30 minutes after the game ended. The official score thus reverted to 9-7 in favor of Quantico.

On the basis of this ruling Quantico went to the top of the Conference standings last week with a record of 3-0 in league play, while Ft. Eustis dropped into a second place tie with Camp Lejeune.

Lejeune has a conference record of 3-1 and Ft. Eustis now stands at 4-1. Lejeune has an important meeting with Quantico here Saturday. A victory by the Lejeune-based Marines would throw the conference lead into a three-way tie between Quantico, Lejeune, and Ft. Eustis.

Navy Tops Marines In Leatherneck Bowl

Pensacola Naval Air Station grabbed a hard-fought 21-15 win last week over the San Diego Marines in the fourth annual Leatherneck Bowl at San Diego, Calif. San Diego, hosts of the service grid classic, lost their second straight Bowl decision in two years, while Pensacola's win was the first for a Navy team in two tries. No further information on this game was available at GLOBE presstime.

A little quick addition shows Quantico with an 11-pound-per-man weight advantage and an 18-pound edge along the line for Saturday's game. . . . However, this isn't anything new to Lejeune's "Mighty Mites." They haven't played a game this year in which they had a weight advantage. . . . In fact, they haven't played one yet on an equal poundage basis. . . . The secret of success has been mobility, desire and just plain "guts" . . .

Quantico Strong Favorite

It's going to take all three Saturday. Quantico as usual is loaded with college talent. Going down their starting lineup, the playing experience reads: Princeton, Naval Academy, Service, Michigan State, Florida State, Maryland, Illinois, Naval Academy, Alabama, Austin College, and Nebraska Wesleyan. . . . On experience alone they rate a strong six-point favorite and with Lejeune hurting for quarterbacks, they have been picked as a 13-point choice. . . .

Championship

However, the picture isn't all black since this is about what Lejeune faced going into the Pensacola game. Another effort like that one would give Lejeune its eighth win, a share of the East Coast Interservice title, and the unofficial All-Marine championship. The latter because San Diego lost a 21-15 verdict to Pensacola last week in the Leatherneck Bowl. . . .

Good Decision

We applaud the decision given by the Conference Executive Board last week. The reference is to the decision on the Quantico-Ft. Eustis game. . . . The rules clearly state an official may not change a decision once he has made a definite ruling during the process of a game and this certainly applies once the game is over. . . . In this case the awarding of a touchdown to Eustis some 30 minutes after the game was clearly in error. . . .

Challenge Trophy Up For Grabs In Saturday's Race

Lejeune's fresh water "sailors" go after their third straight victory over Cherry Point in the Challenge Trophy series Saturday at Cherry Point. The last race in this continuing trophy series was held here during the month of September with Lejeune successfully defending the race trophy. The tentative team from Camp Lejeune will consist of Lt. (MC) L. G. Popp, Lt. M. Green, Lt. D. S. Lardner and Pfc A. Dean.

The regular series of weekly races held at Wallace Creek every Saturday will be discontinued this weekend only and will resume Saturday, Nov. 25. In a weekly race two weeks ago, Lieutenant Green with Mrs. Green acting as crew sailed to a narrow victory over Lieutenant and Mrs. Lardner, while last week Lieutenant Popp took top honors in the weekly race. Lieutenant Lardner came in second and Lieutenant Green third last week. Entry in the weekly sailing races is open to all personnel and their dependents at Lejeune who have qualified for sailing licenses. In order to qualify for a license, interested personnel should contact the Wallace Creek boathouse to arrange for sailing lessons.

Ayden Halts 'Pup Bid In State Playoffs With A 19-14 Victory

The Camp Lejeune High School Devilpups suffered their first loss of the year, breaking their 14-game winning streak over a two-year period, last Saturday at the hands of powerful Ayden High, 19-14, at Grainger Field, Kinston. The loss eliminated the Devilpups from the State regional playoffs. The football seemed to be bouncing the wrong way for the Lejeune squad. On the opening kickoff, the Devilpups fumbled and Ayden recovered on the Pups' 49. A 15-yard penalty helped Ayden move the ball to later, the Ayden Tornadoes hit paydirt as halfback Rudy Cannon smashed over from the one.

Lejeune then scored its first TD of the game, driving 64 yards in 12 plays to tie the game. Jim Barrett's 12-yard sprint climaxed the drive as he outraced the Ayden defenders into the end zone. Dick Dube converted the extra point. Lejeune looked like they were going to put the game on ice when they scored once more when Ayden couldn't move after the kickoff. Dick Dube returned a pun, from his own 40 to the Tornado 35. After Randy Fridley and Dick Dube moved the ball to the 34, Barrett found end, Dan Paetow all alone and hit him with a perfect strike on the 10. Paetow walked over for the score. Dube's PAT was good and the Devilpups lengthened their lead 14-6 with only 37 seconds to go in the quarter.

Halfway through the second quarter, Ayden's Bill Edwards intercepted a Dick Barrett aerial to start a 60-yard touchdown drive for Ayden in 14 plays. The final score of the game came late in the third quarter when a Lejeune fumble gave Ayden the ball on the Pups' 20. Halfback Joe Harrington bowled over tackle for the final score.

Troops Touch Football Team In FMFLant Tourney Finals

Force Troops' All-Star aggregation in the FMFLant football playoffs took a big step toward the Lant title Tuesday afternoon when they turned back a tough 2d Marine Air Wing team from Cherry Point, 21-14, to advance into the finals of the double-elimination tournament. Glue-fingered Ralph Brown led a blistering first half of offensive attack to get a 19-14 intermission lead for the Force Troopers, and then Lou Santangelo and T. V. (Television) Green turned on the defensive heat in the second half to insure the victory.

Green nailed the Cherry Point quarterback in the end zone late in the fourth quarter to account for the final two points and put a lock on the bitterly-fought contest. In first round contests Monday, Cherry Point edged the Division team, 22-18, and Wednesday's rematch promised to be a dilly, but no results were available at press time. Force Troops slaughtered the MAG-26 entry, 63-0, in the initial round.

Three Teams Unbeaten In Troops Loop

The number of unbeaten teams in the Force Troops Intramural Basketball League was reduced to three after the second week's play. Second FAG, 2d Tank Bn. and 2d AmTrac Bn. shared the lead with identical 2-0 records. Four squads in the 10-team league were tied for fourth place with 1-1 records, and the remaining three were still looking for a victory with 0-2 marks.

In last week's games, 2d ANGLICO and 2d Composite Radio Company hooked up in the closest battle before the Radiomen finally emerged victorious by a narrow 68-67 count. This game left ANGLICO as one of the winless and the radiomen with a 1-1 mark. Other action saw FAG knock off 2d Bridge Company, 76-58; tanks give the bridgemen another licking, 73-42; FAG with their second game, 73-46, over 8th Motor Transport Bn.; AmTracs gain a hard-fought 77-69 win over 8th Engineer Bn.; and 8th Comm Bn. rack Headquarters Company, 87-45.

In Tuesday's game in the lower bracket, the New River crew put up quite a battle before bowing out of the tournament on a 14-0 loss to Division. The winner of yesterday's contest will meet Force Troops this afternoon in what will be the championship game if the Troopers win. However, if the Troops team loses, another game tomorrow will decide the championship.

Excellent Ski Sites Located Near Lejeune

Some of the most popular skiing sites east of the Mississippi are located just a few hours away in the mountains of western North Carolina.

Blowing Rock, N. C., high in the Blue Ridge Mountains, offers natural slopes improved by grading and clearing, snow manufacturing equipment, in case it doesn't snow, tows, lifts, restaurants and warming stations; all made to order for the winter sportsman. The ski facilities are located on a rolling 50-acre tract, just off U. S. 321 between Blowing Rock and Boone, near the Blue Ridge Parkway.

The principal ski run is 1,800 feet long and 200 feet wide, while a slope for the novice skier is 1,000 feet long and 200 feet wide. Plenty of parking space is available and accommodations abound. Skiing instructors are on duty for beginners.

Bears-Redskins Win Boys All-Star Game

The combined squad of the Bears and Redskins punched out an 18-6 win here Sunday afternoon over the combined Eagles-Colts teams in the Annual Camp Lejeune Boys Football League All-Star game. A light rain just before game-time hampered both teams throughout the contest with neither squad able to muster a scoring drive until late in the third quarter when Mike White of the Bears-Skins team drove over from three yards out. A fumble recovery by the winners on the Eagles-Colts 35 set up the game's second touchdown. Allen Batholomew broke loose on the first play to score the Bears-Redskins second score.

The Eagles-Colts narrowed the margin to 12-6 late in the fourth quarter on a three-yard plunge by Roger Keagy. The Bears-Redskins added their final TD with less than a minute to go on a four-yard run by Carl Wiggins.

FORCE TROOPS GRID CHAMPS—Headquarters Company's champion touch football team celebrated their winning season with a banquet Wednesday night. The team continued its winning ways in the opening round of the FMFLant tournament Monday, racking up a 63-0 victory over MAG-26.

OWC International Wives Visit Asia Friday, Nov. 17

Golden temples and oriental decor will set the scene in the River Room at the Paradise Point Club as the OWC International Wives Group visits Southeast Asia, Friday, Nov. 17, at 10:00 a.m. In concurrence with the year's program theme of covering countries in the news, the International

Dental Officer PTA Speaker

Is sugar sweet or sour? Capt. W. E. Ludwick, USN (DC), Navy Medical Field Research Lab, discussed this question Monday evening, Nov. 13, at the monthly meeting of the Midway Park PTA.

Captain Ludwick issued many startling statements in regard to the prevention of tooth decay. While stationed in Bainbridge, Md., he was asked to produce 19 people with perfect teeth for a certain test. It was necessary to examine 48,000 before the 19 were found. Besides the interesting and informative lecture, he also showed slides to illustrate his points.

He mentioned that Camp Lejeune is now in the planning stage to fluoridate all its water thereby improving dental and oral health. The doctor brought out the fact that it is not the amount of sugar you eat but the frequency it is consumed.

One man in the audience was overheard saying, "Why all my teeth were pulled years ago, but I'll never put sugar in my coffee again!"

Apparently there were more people that felt the same way for after the captain's lecture, coffee and doughnuts were served with an abundance of sugar and doughnuts remaining.

This was the second monthly meeting since the newly elected president, GySgt. Tom Donaldson accepted the reins. Attendance was a record-breaking 150.

Awards were presented to three teachers who were tied with the highest attendance of their students' parents.

Next on the PTA agenda is a Christmas program which will be presented by the school children Dec. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Midway Park School Cafeteria.

Wives Group will hear firsthand accounts of life in Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam and Laos.

A warm gracious atmosphere will be created by the initial coffee hour and while members and their guests are sipping their coffee and munching delicious delicacies of Southeast Asia, they may examine the many artifacts displayed artfully by Mrs. W. F. Kendig.

Lt. Col. C. J. Robichaud, Maj. and Mrs. H. Richard Kurth, Lt. Col. and Mrs. J. P. Treadwell and Mrs. Samuel Oots, all of whom were recently in the area, will give a panel discussion of the cultural customs, history, politics and everyday habits of the peoples of Southeast Asia.

For reservations call Mrs. H. R. Kurth, Camp Lejeune 6-6196; Mrs. J. T. McDaniel, Camp Lejeune 6-6514; and Mrs. S. Oots, Jacksonville 346-8920.

OWC Saves Season's Shoppers With A Country Store Christmas Bazaar

The Officers Wives Club of Camp Lejeune will start the Christmas season by opening the doors of its Country Store Christmas Bazaar at the Paradise Point Club Dec. 4 at 2:00. All patrons of the Paradise Point Club and their guests are cordially invited to come, bring their children, shop and have fun. The bazaar will be a united effort on the part of all members of the Officers Wives Club working together. Each of the eight groups, and the sitting service, will have a booth. Members are sewing, knitting, making tree ornaments, designing center pieces, stuffing toy animals, baking, decorating candles, filling grab bags and fish ponds. Other groups are working on decorations for each booth, and for the club itself.

Every Christmas list has its problem: a difficult aunt, a friend who has everything, an in-law who only likes the very unusual, a small boy who breaks everything. The Country Store Bazaar hopes to solve each of these problems.

There will be inexpensive remembrances, those small, hard-to-find presents that are attractive, but not too hard on the budget. There will be handsome and effective decorations for the house: baubles and beads and shiny things for the tree, stocking presents to delight small children and practical presents to please mother-in-laws, delectable food items for the gourmet, beautifully done ceramics for the artistic and baby presents for the newest member of the family, pretty things for teenage girls, and a booth just for men and boys.

The Christmas Bazaar will provide not only the answers for adult shoppers, but it will be an opportunity for children to purchase presents for parents. There will be gifts priced for the piggy-bank spender, and a gift wrapping booth to take the strain off small fingers. For those young shoppers who complete their list early, or who wish to rest and relax, Group III will have a cartoon theater, complete with pop corn and caramel apple refreshments.

A special dinner will be served so shoppers may browse in the happy calm that comes from knowing there is no hurry about rushing home to provide a family dinner.

Prizes will be offered, and Group I has invited Santa to be present with a special photographer to take pictures of him with his young friends.

Group II will have a bakery and a gift "grab."

Group IV will have a variety store that includes every kind of Christmas notion, baked goods, and tree decorations.

Group V is planning a "parcel post" sale, natural Christmas wreaths, candles and ceramics and hand sewn articles.

Group VI is devoting its booth entirely to articles for men and boys.

Group VII will not only do all gift wrapping, but will sell knitted slippers, handmade aprons, Christmas socks, toy animals and hand decorated guest towels.

Group VIII offers free decorations, handmade candles, stockings, and a fish pond."

Sitter Service will sell wine jelly, and unusual strawberry bon-bon recipe, children's aprons, and will have a "Tailors House Grab Bag".

Visit the Country Store Christmas list, Shop early, easily, and have a good time.

Girl Scout Troop Invests Tenderfeet By Candlelight

An impressive candlelight investiture ceremony took place last Monday evening at 6:15 in the Knox Scout Hut at which ten girls fulfilled the Girl Scout motto, to "Be Prepared" and became Intermediate Girl Scouts. Having passed the Tenderfoot requirements which consist of (1) knowing the Girl Scout promise; (2)

knowing the Girl Scout laws; (3) knowing the Girl Scout slogan; (4) knowing the Girl Scout motto; (5) attending four meetings; (6) completing one outdoor activity; (7) completing one homemaking activity; (8) knowing the history of the Girl Scouts and (9) knowing the history of the flag, these girls were accepted into Troop 210.

Former Tenderfeet included Terri Brair, Kim Berger, Sharon St. Pierre, Brenda Brown, Shirley Black, Cathy Mask, Lynn Woodham, Laura Brinkman, Chris Beatty, and Lillian Percival. Mrs. C. Kuras, assistant Girl Scout leader, was also invited.

Bearing the American colors during the opening flag ceremony was Laura Kuras. Dawn Wedge and Phyllis Baladyga were honor guards. Hostesses for the evening were Connie Butler, Julie Hoskins and Theresa Dalkiewicz who showed the parents to their seats and served coffee, cake and punch.

If anyone wishes any more information Mrs. R. Wilson, leader for the Tarawa Terrace Scouts may be reached at 346-6811 and Mrs. C. Kuras at 346-6245.

Area Boy Scouts To Participate In Court Of Honor Tuesday

Girl Scout Meeting

Due to the Thanksgiving holidays the Paradise Point Girl Scout Crafts meeting has been moved up a week and will take place Friday, Nov. 17, at the Paradise Point Scout hut. Mrs. E. E. Schott will be in charge of the Christmas projects.

ON SAME GROUND—Marine infantrymen from the 2d Battalion, 6th Marines, 2d Marine Division, prepare to move further inland during their "assault" at Forest Beach, Hilton Head Island, S. C. The Marines were taking part in the 100th anniversary of the Civil War invasion of Port Royal Sound.

Marines Stage Battle Of Port Royal Sound

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., Nov. 7—U. S. Marines are well known for their valor in such far away places as China . . . Guadalcanal . . . Iwo Jima . . . France . . . Okinawa. But little is known about one battalion of Marines who participated in a 14,000-man assault of Port Royal Sound, S. C., which paved the way to victory for Union Troops on Nov. 7, 1861. Now, 100 years later, two companies of Marines, "E" and "H," from the 2d Battalion, Sixth

Marine Regiment, 2d Division, have "assaulted" Forest Beach at Hilton Head Island in commemoration of the original battle.

The difference? In 1861 more than 14,000 soldiers including one battalion of Marines participated. Today, 581 Marines made the "assault."

As the 500-plus Marines staged their demonstration "invasion" today, using demolitions, blank ammunition, and pyrotechnics to add authenticity, they packed more fire power than Flag Officer Samuel F. Dupont's entire fleet which included 20 warships.

The ceremonies began at 12:30 p.m. when Lt. Col. Ross T. Dwyer Jr., commanding officer of the 2d Battalion, presented the introduction to the Marine "invasion."

Upon completion of his address, Colonel Dwyer turned narrations over to Capt. J. E. Coody, the 2d Battalion S-3 (training) Officer, and Maj. O. E. Cory, the Regimental Air Officer.

Throughout the one hour and five minute operation Captain Coody and Major Cory explained the purpose of each phase in detail. Captain Coody related the infantry's role and Major Cory the aerial operations.

The assault began when an HUS (helicopter) landed a four-man team of Marine Pathfinders. Their objective was to scout "enemy" activities and strength and prepare the way for oncoming infantry.

Immediately following their landing an underwater demolitions team was dropped approximately 100 yards off-shore to destroy any obstacles from the paths of incoming landing craft.

While the UD team was working the first two waves of Marine infantrymen were brought in by helicopter for a vertical envelopment, the third wave with Marines armed with two 106 recoilless rifles and an 81mm mortar section.

After three more waves of Marines were landed by helicopter, jets again made an appearance, flying close air support for the incoming LVT Landing Craft.

The pilots strafed the beach and used napalm to "soften-up" the "enemy," and keep him pinned down while the Marines landed in their amphibious tractors.

A company of Marines, landed from two ships in the bay, then overwhelmed the "enemy" on the beaches.

Division Marines Celebrate Corps Birthday In Barcelona

By CPL. DON H. GEE

2d Marine Division ISO Staff Correspondent

BARCELONA SPAIN, Nov. 10—Battalion Landing Team 3/2, presently serving with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea, celebrated the 186th Anniversary of the founding of the Marine Corps by holding three separate Birthday Balls in Barcelona, Spain. The first ball was for sergeants and below. While here, Lt. Col. Stanley Davis, the commanding officer of the NELM Battalion, cut the Birthday Cake and presented the first two pieces to the youngest Marine present, Pvt. R. T. Franklin, and the oldest Marine, Cpl. H. L. Dean.

In addition to the regular anniversary ceremony, the colonel stressed the importance of the non-commissioned officers and their part in making the Marine Corps what it is today.

Following this, a list of names of the men being promoted to the ranks of Corporal and Lance Corporal was read to the gathered Marines. There were 22 promotions from the battalion to the rank of Corporal and 40 to Lance Corporal.

Upon arrival at the Staff-Non-Commissioned Officers Ball, held a short distance from the first ball, the colonel again cut the cake, presenting the first pieces to the youngest Staff NCO, SSGT. R. W. Perry, and the oldest Staff NCO present, MSGT. A. G. Van Zyle.

At the Officer's Ball, held in the Real Club Maritimo de Barcelona, the Guest of Honor, VADM. David L. McDonald, Commander of the Sixth Fleet, addressed the officers, stating, "Tradition is a religion with the Marine Corps."

In speaking further to the assembled officers and their guests, the admiral said, "The combat-strength and readiness of the Marine Corps is known and appreciated by the people of America and myself. I only hope that this strength and readiness does not have to be proven."

Prior to the address, Lt. Col. Davis once again cut the Birthday Cake, this time presenting the first slices to the admiral and United States Consul General Fritzman.

Special Thanksgiving Day Services

There will be a Catholic Mass of Thanksgiving at 9 a.m. at the Catholic Chapel Nov. 23.

A Protestant Thanksgiving Service will be held Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 23, at 10:15 a.m., at the Protestant Base Chapel. The public is cordially invited.

Aliens Must Register By January '62

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Department of Justice has issued its annual reminder that aliens living in the United States or its possessions, including servicemen and their dependents, must report their addresses to the U. S. Attorney General during January.

Cards on which to file these reports will be available in January at all Post Offices, or may be obtained at any time from the offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Justice Department.

Willful failure to submit the report, the Department of Justice says, may lead to serious penalties such as fine, imprisonment, or deportation. Accordingly, it is important that alien members of the Marine Corps, or those who have dependents or relatives who are not U. S. citizens, take steps to insure compliance.

M-14 Test Firing Reveals Boost In Marksmanship

Is the M-14 rifle as good or a better weapon than the M-1? Marines of the 2d Marine Division are inclined to think it is better. Last week 299 men of the Division fired the M-14 at the Camp Lejeune Rifle Range for annual requalification and the results were impressive. A delegation consisting of E. J.

Cross and G. E. Taylor from Ordnance Weapons Command, Rock Island, Ill., joined with Captain Durham, Marine Corps Liaison Office, Captain J. B. Harris, Headquarters Marine Corps, Ordnance Section, GySgt. G. L. Saltonstall, Rifle Team Equipment Armorer, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., and T. A. Tyrer, production engineer, representing the Springfield Arsenal visiting here for the week of requalification.

Force Troops Holds Career Day Nov. 22

Force Troops will present a "Career Day" in the Camp Theater next Wednesday, Nov. 22, at 8:20 a.m., for all first-term Marines and their dependents.

Brig. Gen. Wood B. Kyle, Commanding General, Force Troops, will be guest speaker at the conference.

For the benefit of all Force Troops personnel, answers to questions about a career in the Marine Corps, will be the subject of the morning meeting. Pay and allowances, education, promotion, travel and duty stations, retraining assignments, dependents benefits, retirement information and privileges will be among the topics to be covered by the Force Troops Career Advisory Staff.

Of particular interest is a special quota allotted to Force Troops from Headquarters Marine Corps. At this conference there will be 80 sets of orders for duty stations throughout the United States and overseas.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served, so all married personnel are encouraged to bring their wives.

USS Arizona Memorial To Be Dedicated

"A Twentieth Anniversary Memorial Ceremony" will be held on the USS Arizona platform, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, on Dec. 7, 1961.

The dedication of this memorial over the sunken Arizona is planned for Memorial Day, 1962. It is anticipated that construction will be essentially completed by that date.

The sum of $150,000 for completion of the Arizona Memorial was appropriated Sept. 27, 1961, by Congress to augment the voluntary contributions of the State of Hawaii, many individuals and patriotic groups.

The USS Arizona Memorial has been officially named by Congress as a memorial to all members of the Armed Services who lost their lives as a result of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941. (NavNews)

The same 299 men fired the M-1 rifle last year and their percentage of qualification was 94.2 per cent, this year with the M-14, the percentage was an outstanding 95.3 per cent. When you stop to consider that these men never had fired the new weapon before, this figure is even more remarkable.

The average score last year was 208.4, this year it was 210.2. The most impressive statistic is that the number of "expert" and "sharpshooters" also increased. Rifle "experts" last year numbered 33, this year it was "upped" to 59, "sharpshooters" were increased from 85 to 98.

Capt. L. W. Tucker, Executive Officer, Camp Lejeune Rifle Range, stated, "The M-14 is a lighter, better balanced weapon than the M-1, also the hinged butt-plate, similar to the one on the Browning Automatic Rifle, insures the shooter of a more stable position. These three factors account for the outstanding shooting we have seen here this past week."

Maybe even more important than the great scores is the fact that malfunctions were almost negligible. Only two alibis were recorded on qualification day. Captain Tucker said, "Fewer moving parts are responsible for the reduction of malfunctions. Still another advantage of the M-14 is the chrome-plated bore, also the gas cylinder and piston are made with non-corrosive type metal, making the weapon much easier to maintain."

Three complaints were made by range officials when the new rifle was first fired last month at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va. These were: "Inaccuracy at the 500-yard line, the tendency of 'most' Marines to resist change and a shortage of experienced ordnance men."

The shooting of the Marines here would seem to disprove at least two of these and possibly all three. (1) scores went up during the slow fire strings, including the 500-yard line, (2) the Marines scores show they have the ability to change weapons and (3) there were few malfunctions while firing the rifle for record at this base.

Fund

June Family, the Onslow County Emergency Relief Fund, unsolicited, came forward with a cash grant to the family.

According to Colonel Hopkins, the above cases are "only a few among the many assistances made possible by local support of United Fund."

In the standings aboard the base at this point of the campaign, Marine Corps Base has attained 83 per cent of its quota, with $17,389.

Division this week hit the 80 per cent mark with 3rd Bn., 2d Marine and 2d Motor Transport Bn., joining the ranks of those units which have reached or surpassed the 100 per cent mark. Division personnel have donated a total of $28,201.

Force Troops units have contributed a total of $7,761 for 55 per cent of the assigned quota, while the combined MAG-26-MCAF drive currently stands at 45 per cent with contributions totalling $2,041.

Particularly noteworthy are the efforts of local Civil Service personnel who have gone over the 100 per cent mark to take a big lead over other civilian employees of the base.
