Marines In Galveston Report 'Destruction Is Unbelievable'

By SSGT. MIKE PITTS

GALVESTON, TEXAS, Sept. 10—The 2d Division Marines who were rushed to assist the victims of Hurricane Carla last week are guarding against looters in the city of Galveston, where, they say, "The destruction is unbelievable." Almost 200 Marines, under the command of Capt. Richard R. Blair, are stationed mainly in a 21-block disaster area protecting the belongings and property of residents of this hurricane and tornado-ripped city. Today marked the fourth consecutive day of guard duty for the Marines since their arrival in Galveston on Friday, Sept. 15th.

The 2d Division Marines have also been assigned as a security measure to stand guard for Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson, who arrives in Galveston today to survey the disaster area.

The Marines were originally aboard two aircraft carriers, the USS SHANGRELA and the USS ANTIETAM, which were sent to the area to give aid wherever needed. The city of Galveston sent out a call for assistance and the 2d Division Marines were flown by helicopter to the attack transport USS FRANCIS MARION, which was berthed at one of the city's piers.

Immediately upon their arrival, the Marines were pressed into service. Detachments of Military Police were dispatched to help the local police control traffic in the disaster area, swollen with the influx of tourists and the curious. Road blocks were set upon all streets leading to the area, with Marines in full combat gear assigned to guard them against looters and sightseers.

Damage from Hurricane Carla and the tornado have been estimated by Galveston officials at more than 200 million dollars. More than 200,000 Texans have been left homeless by the storm, worst to hit the United States this century.

More than 1400 homes have been totally destroyed.

The main force of Marines are from Company "L", 3rd Battalion, 8th Marines. They are supported by 30 men from the Division Military Police Company and 35 men of the 2nd Pioneer Battalion.

As yet, no returning date has been scheduled for the Marine relief force.

Community Antenna Not Set At Manor

Marines moving into Berkeley Manor must furnish their own TV antennas, according to the Base Public Works Officer.

Two plans for a community antenna in Berkeley Manor are under consideration. The first calls for the construction of a mast-type antenna. The second, similar to systems already in use at Camp Lejeune, would be an antenna placed on top of the water tower in Berkeley Manor. Neither of the plans have been accepted but Public Works, said an announcement would be made on the expected completion date after bids are let.

It is anticipated that this will be when approximately half the units in Berkeley Manor are completed.

Before installing an antenna, residents must complete FANC Form 140 at Base Maintenance. This is authorization to install the antenna, where the antenna may be placed and grounded.

Uninformed Families Are Endangered By Hurricanes

In the midst of the hurricane season, it has come to the attention of the Base authorities that many married Marines are endangering the lives of their families by not informing them of the procedures necessary for surviving a hurricane. This is attributed, in part, to lack of knowledge of the Destructive Weather Plan, and, partly through neglect. Complete instructions in these procedures contained in Base Order 3141.1A.

Evacuation centers have been set-up throughout the Camp Lejeune area to assist and shelter Marine families who feel their quarters are not safe. The centers are located at: Camp Geiger, Bldg. TC-1120, H&S Co. office, ITR; Montford Point, Bldg. M-324, FSS Co.; Hadnot Point, Bldg. 300, Area 3, gymnasium and Bldg. 751, Field House; U. S. Naval Hospital, Bldg. H-4; Rifle Range, Bldg. RR-9, BOQ; Marine Corps Air Facility, Bldg. 208, Enlisted Service Club for those with small children, including Geiger Trailer Park evacuees, and Bldg. 202 Air Facility Gymnasium for all others.

Families occupying privately-owned trailers are urged to use the Evacuation Centers, because, in all probability, strong winds will blow their trailers off the cinderblock supports, Government-owned trailers are bolted to concrete and are considered as safe as the evacuation centers. The occupants need not evacuate unless they desire to.

Injured personnel, women with injured children or pregnant women who are expecting delivery within two weeks go to the Information Desk in the Main Hospital, not the Family Hospital. Husbands and children, except infants in arms, may not accompany the mothers.

Evacuees reporting to these centers must provide their own blankets and bed linen. Dependents with infants must take any items needed for the child such as diapers, bottles, nipples, baby oil and powder, soap, towels and a 24-hour supply of special formula.

All other personnel remaining in government quarters should take necessary steps to secure all loose items around the housing area as well as preparations within their quarters such as food and water.

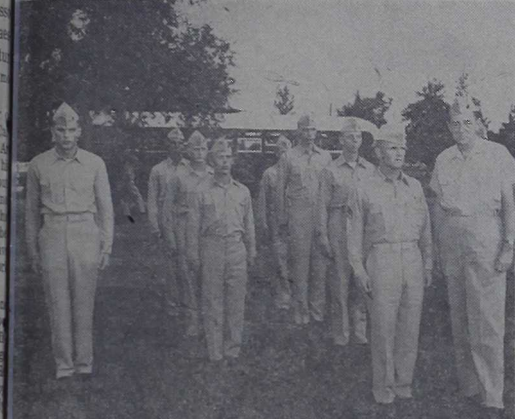

BRIG. GEN. RICHARD A. EVANS

General Evans To Serve As Assistant CG

An educator from Beverly, Ohio, Reserve Brig. Gen. Richard A. Evans, began a two-week tour of duty as Assistant Base Commander Monday. Honors were rendered in the Field House.

A native of Jasonville, Ind., General Evans was commissioned a Marine second lieutenant in 1936. During World War II, he served in the Pacific theater.

During the General's two-week stay here, he will visit various units within the Quad-Command observing organization and operation procedures. He began these tours Tuesday with a visit to the Rifle Range and 2nd FSR. Today, he is at the Marine Corps Engineer Schools.

GOOD LUCK—Cpl. Paul L. Malone, with his winning squad of "G"-5, gets a good luck farewell from Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, prior to their departure Friday to take part in the Corps-wide Combat Squad Competition at Quantico, Va., this week. The general also had brief chats with the winning squads from the Second and Eighth Marine Regiments before they left.

Top 2d Division Squads To Compete For 'Best In Corps'

The 2d Marine Division's three best combat squads are competing this week in Quantico against the other top squads of the Corps. The winner will be designated as the Marine Corps Top Combat Squad. Before leaving for Quantico, each squad was visited by Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley and the Assistant Division Commander.

Maj. Gen. L. W. Walt. The generals gave the troops a pep talk and assured them that "the division is behind you and is wishing you the best of luck."

Representing the Second Marines are the 2nd Squad, 1st Platoon, G Co.

'8's Will Be Promoted In Three Groups

October 1 is the date announced for the promotion of the first increment of the more than 600 Marines selected for first sergeant and master sergeant. One hundred in each rating will be promoted on that date, the other two increments in January and April, 1962.

Thirty-four Marines were selected for first sergeant from Camp Lejeune and 14 for master sergeant. They are among 327 first sergeants and 308 master sergeants selected throughout the Marine Corps.

Those selected for first sergeant from Marine Corps Base were: G. Anglin, P. Bailey, E. Brower and R. G. Ireland.

Second Marine Division: W. Bolander, O. Coats, J. Collins, J. Dixon, Hall, F. Hingston, A. Kersey, R. May, W. Lenk, D. Masters, J. Ramirez, B. Sears, D. Short, W. Turner, Vanzyle and S. Witt.

Force Troops: W. Aughtmon, W. Bendokas, H. Cashwell, M. Delgado, W. Dembrowski, J. Duhe, B. Forrester, W. Hall, J. Hedge, A. Kaller, Kennedy, R. Machado, A. Pachuta and S. Scott.

Selected for master sergeant from the 2d Marine Division were: J. Brungler, R. Faulkner, P. Lovett, V. Owen and C. Plonowski.

From Force Troops: J. E. Delfield, G. E. Shivelhood, Geyer Cannon, R. Wichmann, J. Gallagher, Ray Richard, A. Gruber, C. Bush and E. Kwasnick.

Sgt. William E. Rich is squad leader.

Cpl. Paul L. Malone and the 1st Squad, 2nd Platoon, G Company, carry the honors for the Sixth Marines. The Eighth Marines are represented by Cpl. Robert L. Burkhart with the 2nd Squad, the 1st Platoon, A Company.

Competitions held within each regiment of the division eliminated contenders down to one squad from each of the three infantry regiments to represent the 2d Division.

Last year, due to travel funds, the competition was held at local levels only. This year they are to be carried out as originally planned when the program was originated by the Marine Corps Association in 1958.

The squads will be judged on the principles of individual leadership, camouflage and concealment, and aggressive spirit.

The purpose of the annual competition is to stimulate training on the squad level in offensive combat and to determine the Marine Rifle Squad most proficient in combat marksmanship.

Winners of the competition will be announced by the Commandant of the Marine Corps at an evening parade at the Marine Barracks at Washington, D. C., on Sept. 22.

Last year's winning squad, led by Sgt. B. D. Trevathan of the Sixth Marines, were presented a watch and scroll by the 2d Marine Division Association. In addition, each man was promoted to the next higher rank.

Triplets Titilate 10th's Trooper

On September 14, Cpl. James E. Pressley of the Tenth Marines added another blast to the population explosion.

He became a father for the first time, and the second and third and joined an odds group which practically assures him of a place in history.

At 7:49 that morning, he was just another nervous father awaiting the birth of his first born. By 8:06, his wife Rita had presented him with a daughter and two sons. It was the first set of triplets to be born at Camp Lejeune since 1957 and Pressley was stunned.

"I haven't gotten over it yet," he told reporters. "I haven't had time to think."

Now that the Waynesville, N. C. Marine has had time to think, he has found that arithmetic is playing an important part in everything. Everything must be multiplied by three. Three times as many bottles. Three times as many diapers. Three times up during the night. Three times as many miles walking three times the normal number of babies.

And three times the amount of noise.

ARC Qualifies Nineteen As Senior Guards

Nineteen Camp Lejeune Marines completed a nine-day course of instruction in Red Cross senior life-saving techniques at the Area 5 swimming pool last Friday.

Sponsored by the Base G-3 office with the assistance of Base Special Services and the Camp Red Cross Field Director, the training course consisted of Red Cross boating, swimming, rescue, water safety and artificial respiration techniques.

Three men from Base Special Services, life-guards at the Area 5 swimming pool, Cpls. John Howell, James Fredricks and Pfc Jerry Askins, instructed the class.

According to Sgt. William L. Roberts, NCO in charge of the classes, completion of the course qualifies the graduates to serve as life-guards either for their individual units or to be on call when needed.

Engineer Gets Merit Award, Cash For 'Gazette' Article

Initiative, hard work and long hours were rewarded here recently with enhanced professional standing and $500 in cash for Capt. Conway Smith, executive officer of Service Co., 8th Engineer Bn., Force Troops, who was named second place winner in the fiscal year 1961 Marine Corps "Gazette" Merit Award Contest for articles of military interest. When "Red China's Military Revolution" was selected for publication, Captain Smith received a $150 check. On final selection of manuscripts for the issue, his story was awarded Best-of-Issue, and Captain Smith was sent a second check, for $100. After the year's output had been printed and compared, Captain Smith's article was selected for second place award for the year, and he received $250, for a grand total of $500. Captain Smith's reaction? "I was surprised and pleased! The Gazette has been improving tremendously, taking the best features of the leading service magazines, and putting them together in a fine professional package and retaining its own unique qualities.

Fast Action Saves Three At MCAF

An Air Facility Marine was recently awarded a Meritorious Mast for saving the lives of three persons in danger of electrocution.

SSgt. William M. Hogan, II&MS-26, MAG-26, rushed to turn off a power switch when he saw Pfc R. B. Vesilus becoming locked by his own grip to the hot (220 volt) rail of the overhead hoist on which he caught himself on when falling from a transmission can.

Two other men were about to try and free him when Hogan threw the switch. If not for his quick action, the two men would have acted as a ground for 220 volts.

10th Marines Begin Firing At Fort Bragg

The Tenth Marines left Camp Lejeune Monday for two weeks firing in the field at Fort Bragg, N. C. The artillerymen are making the trip to take advantage of Fort Bragg's larger artillery range.

The Tenth Marines are taking their own weapons and equipment with them on the motor march to Fort Bragg, and will set up under simulated combat conditions for the exercise.

Their trip to the sprawling Army base this year marks the second time in as many years that the Marine artillerymen have used the Fort Bragg range for field exercises.

Prior to their departure, Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley inspected troops and equipment displayed at the Tenth Marines weapons park at Camp Lejeune.

M-14 Training Aid Available At Base

Training charts for the M-14 rifle are now available at Base Training Aids. The graphic training aid (9-608), shows the general characteristics, basic nomenclature, field stripping, feeding and chambering, firing mechanism and safety functioning, extraction and ejection and the automatic operation.

This training aid may be requisitioned in accordance with BO 1551.1c but due to the limited number, cannot be kept more than seven working days.

For more information contact the Training Aids NCO in Bldg. 67 or call 7-5405.

Shipment Of Household Goods

The expense of moving household goods to your home of official record, or place designated by your widow, if death occurs while on active duty, will be borne by the Marine Corps.

Dream Comes True For 2d Division Man

A radio-relay technician with the 2nd Service Battalion, LCpl. Theodore C. Cieplik Jr., has been appointed to the Marine Corps Aviation Cadet Program. He was the first member of the Division to pass the exacting tests in recent months.

This was a dream come true to the young Marine who had always wanted to become a flyer. During recent years he had pushed these dreams to the back of his mind, but hearing of the MARCAD program "started the old fire burning."

Submitting an application was just the beginning for he still had to pass a series of rugged tests and a thorough physical at the New River Air Facility.

Cieplik began preparing for the mental exams which were in store for him after passing the physical. "The stiffest was the two-year college equivalency test," replied the young Marine, "and I still don't know for sure whether or not I'd been accepted, because I had to be recommended by the battalion commander."

It will take months of pre-flight, flight and jet fighter training at Pensacola, Fla., before Cieplik will receive his wings and a commission as Second lieutenant.

Army General Tours ITR, Gains 'Constructive' Ideas

Maj. Gen. R. H. Tucker, Commanding General of the U. S. Army Infantry Training Center, Ft. Dix, N. J., was escorted by Col. Roy J. Batterton, ITR's commander, on a tour of Marine infantry training facilities at Camp Geiger last week. Arriving at the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, Wednesday afternoon, General Tucker and his staff were greeted by the ITR commander and escorted to Camp Geiger where they were given an executive staff briefing regarding their visit.

The following morning Colonel Batterton led the Army party on a tour of the tactical infantry training courses taught at the Marine Corps' East Coast infantry training center. During the tour General Tucker and his staff took particular note of the elements of Marine training comparable to those in use at Ft. Dix. The tour also helped General Tucker gain a better understanding of the Marine Corps training doctrine, some elements of which he hopes to introduce into the training schedule of his own command.

Commenting on his tour here, General Tucker stated that his visit had been most interesting and constructive.

"I shall take with me many fine ideas which I hope to put into operation at Ft. Dix," he said.

As a parting comment General Tucker expressed admiration for Marine Corps Leadership qualities, saying that "you have so many examples of fine leadership and initiative here."

Accompanying General Tucker on his visit was his Chief of Staff, Col. S. W. Holderness, his aide and sergeant major. Colonel Batterton's party consisted of Lt. Cols. J. F. McMahon, S-3, ITR, and W. T. Westmoreland Jr., CO, 2nd Bn., ITR, and the sergeant majors of ITR and Marine Corps Base.

Army Medal Awarded To Capt. Frazier

A Marine member of the Military Assistance Advisory Group to the Republic of China reported to the 2d Marine Division last week and found he had been awarded the Army Commendation Medal.

Capt. Philip N. Frazier, now assigned as Assistant S-3 for the 2d Battalion, Eighth Marines, received the medal from Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, during ceremonies held in the general's office Sept. 14.

The captain also received a Letter of Appreciation from the Commandant of the Chinese Marine Corps for his services with M. A. A. G. The letter mentioned Captain Frazier's "... untiring and effective efforts in reorganizing the Chinese Marine Corps' Stock Record system."

The Army Commendation cited the captain's ingenuity in organizing "wall-to-wall" inventory systems for the Chinese Marine Corps and noted his professional competence.

Captain Frazier served with the M. A. A. G. at the Chinese Marine Corps Headquarters at Tsoying, Taiwan from July 1959 to July 1961. During that time he was assigned duties as Military Assistant Program Advisor.

Marines To Add Color To Historic Tryon Ceremony

Marines from Camp Lejeune will play a major role in the flag and cannon ceremony in New Bern, N. C., Wednesday, Sept. 27, when Marine Day is observed at Tryon Palace. Units from Marine Corps Base, 2d Marine Division, Force Troops, and the 2d Marine Air Wing, Cherry Point, are expected to participate, according to an unofficial report received at GLOBE press time.

The 2d Marine Division will provide two platoons of troops, the Division band, and a color guard; Force Troops furnishes its drum and bugle corps, colors, and a gun crew that will fire an 18th century cannon during the ceremony. Marine Corps Base will provide its colors, and the 2d Marine Air Wing will send its colors and a Marine who will raise a colonial battle flag.

Other participants include a representative from the British Embassy in Washington, who will hoist the British Red Ensign flag, and Lt. Cmdr. Wendell S. Palmer, Chaplain Corps, USN, Assistant Base Chaplain here who may give the benediction.

The ceremony is slated to begin at 3 p.m. at Tryon Palace. Among distinguished guests invited to attend are Maj. Gen. A. F. Binney, USMC, the principal speaker; Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Robert B. Luckey; Mr. David de Bonville, Regional Information Officer, British Embassy, Washington, D. C.; Mr. Dale T. Mullins, Mayor of New Bern; and Mrs. John A. Kellenberger, chairman, Tryon Palace Commission.

During the special Marine Day observance all uniformed servicemen and their dependents who accompany them will be admitted to the palace free. This courtesy does not apply to servicemen in civilian clothing.

Air Observer Class Begins At Air Facility

The 10th FMFLant Aerial Observer Class got under way Monday at the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, N. C. The 11 candidates were given a hearty "welcome aboard" by the school's commander, Capt. Thomas R. Kelly, who introduced the speakers, Assistant Division Commander, Brig. Gen. L. W. Walt, Lt. Col. R. C. Peck representing Division G-2, and Maj. H. A. Nelson, Commanding Officer, Marine Observation Squadron One (VMO-1).

The aerial observer course is under the overall guidance of Headquarters, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, Norfolk, Va., and the 2nd Marine Division. VMO-1 provides the pilots and the aircraft.

The intensive nine week course is designed to produce officer students capable of performing the important and exacting assignments demanded of aerial observers.

The AO school accepts officers, from Warrent Officer through Captain, who are basically ground officers and who have passed a flight physical. To complete the course, the candidates must log a minimum of 100 hours' flying time.

The students tackle a schedule covering night flying, night spotting missions, pilot direction, air safety, briefing, airborne map reading, navigation, procedures and techniques of conducting artillery, naval gunfire and close support missions.

Hurricane Season Makes An Old Cliche Necessary

Don't call us, we'll call you! This may seem like an old cliche but it is a necessary plea from the Marine Corps Air Facility Aerology Section at New River this week. Aerology, with SSgt. Floyd Davis in charge and a staff of 12 men, is the section responsible for keeping the command informed of tropical storms and hurricanes which sweep the Atlantic seaboard. The section keeps a 24-hour vigil gathering information from the teletype circuit, Air Facility Communications, and prepare daily weather charts from this and reports received from ships and land stations. They are able to keep an accurate check on all weather conditions in the immediate area.

Aerology at New River has responsibility to units both at the Air Facility and at Camp Lejeune, to alert them of storm conditions and hurricane warnings as received from the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The section has a check list of units which they call whenever there is a storm condition. This is why they say "Don't call us, we'll call you." If their phones are tied up they are unable to complete their list of calls to units to warn them of approaching hurricanes and storms.

During times when there is a hurricane or heavy storm approaching which will effect this area, aerology makes up a weather chart every six hours for the units concerned. As the storm moves closer, they produce a weather chart every three hours. Each unit and housing area has received detailed instructions as to procedures to take in these cases. Some of the more important precautions listed below:

1. Tape all windows — this prevents the possibility of shattering glass.
2. Close the windows on the side toward the approaching storm. As the eye of the storm passes directly over you, reverse the procedure to prevent the forming of a vacuum in the building.
3. Stay out of ditches and low areas.
4. Make sure that you have stored plenty of food and water where they are easily accessible.
5. Secure everything that will move. Tie it down or move it inside.
6. Keep portable radio on for information on weather conditions.
7. Shut off all electricity and gas to prevent fire and explosion.
8. Move expensive materials away from windows.
9. In barracks — move lockers against the windows to reduce flying glass.
10. Seek shelter against a solid inside wall. Preferably in a closed room.
11. At all costs, stay indoors.

All of the Hurricane warnings to the Air Facility come from either San Juan, Miami or New Orleans U. S. Weather Bureau Stations.

Each warning transmitted to the Aerology Section contains estimated position of the hurricane by coordinates, time, how the report was ar-received at present movement by degrees and speed if known. In addition—the message contains the velocity of the highest winds in the center and the extent of the gale force winds around the eye of the hurricane. They also give a 12 and 24 hour forecast on the storm's position.

HUMIDITY READING—Cpl. Gallo takes a reading from the Hydrothermograph at Air Facility Aerology which gives him constant information on the relative amount of humidity and temperature.

Through the proper tracking and plotting of hurricanes and the use of early warnings, loss of life and property can be reduced, as evidenced by the reduction of damage to life and property in Hurricane Carla.

Please — don't, call Aerology, they'll call you.

FT Marksman Takes Honors In NRA Match

Despite bad weather, Sgt. F. L. Ridler of Force Troops fired a score of 2548-69x to take top honors in the 2700 Grand Aggregate Pistol Match held here last weekend.

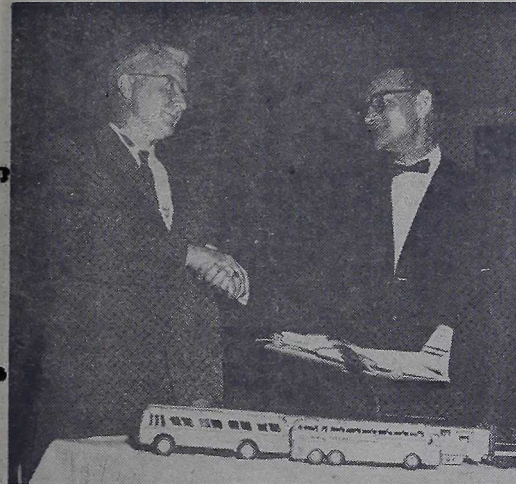

MSgt. W. C. France, President of the Lejeune Rifle and Pistol Club, which hosted the event, said weather conditions weren't the most desirable but seemed to have little or no effect on the most experienced shooters.

Sergeant Ridler took 1st Master in the 45 Cal. Camp Perry Course, 1st Master in the 45 Cal. Timed-Fire Match, 1st Master in the 45 Cal. Aggregate Match, 2nd Master in the Center-Fire Slow-Fire Match, 3rd Master in the Center-Fire Aggregate Match, and 2nd Master in the 22 Cal. Match.

Ridler was awarded a Model 41, Smith & Wesson .22 Cal. Match Pistol for winning the Individual Grand Aggregate and numerous certificates in lieu of trophies for his outstanding shooting in the other matches.

Force Troops Master Team, composed of Sgt. W. L. Getz, Sgt. F. L. Ridler, Sgt. W. P. Griffin, and GYSgt. J. W. Powell, took the 3-Gun Grand Aggregate with a score of 3385x2600. Force Troops Expert Team, composed of Cpl. R. G. Hicks, L. Cpl. J. H. Suddath, Sgt. F. D. Butler, and Lt. H. E. Itchkawich, won the 3-Gun Grand Aggregate in their class with a 3231x3600.

The Cherry Point Team, composed of Capt. B. M. Owen, MSgt. R. W. Diman, SSGT. J. K. Maurer, Sgt. C. F. Wise and coached by GYSgt. G. A. Osterlin, was Match Winner in the 45 Cal. and Center-Fire contests and took 1st Master in the 22 Cal. Match and the 3-Gun Aggregate.

MEETING THE BOSS—CWO W. C. Burrell, left, officer in charge, Passenger Section, Base Material Bn., 2nd FSR, greeted Capt. C. V. Johnson, Assistant Director for Passenger Traffic, of the Military Traffic Management Agency, Department of Defense, who visited Camp Lejeune to get a first-hand look at local military passenger traffic procedures. (Photo by LCpl. S. P. Rice.)

DOD Passenger Expert Gets Look At Lejeune System

The assistant director of military passenger traffic for the Department of Defense, Capt. C. V. Johnson, USN, visited Camp Lejeune last week to "get a birdseye view of the military passenger system in use at the Base." Meeting Captain Johnson were representatives of local commercial transportation firms and Marine Corps transportation officials from Camp Lejeune.

"We're constantly striving to improve the passenger service," Captain Johnson said. "As we obtain more knowledge about travel procedures at various military installations throughout the United States we can make more precise arrangements for moving military personnel to new posts and stations."

Visiting Camp Lejeune for the first time, Captain Johnson was impressed by the facilities here. He particularly noted the distances between the main area at Hadnot Point and the facilities at Camp Geiger.

"Factors like these," Captain Johnson commented, "are very important to us. They provide us with a mental picture which we couldn't conceive in Washington."

"Once aware of these small and often unseen details, continued Captain Johnson, "we can offer better assistance to local officials in promoting increased operational efficiency."

According to Captain Johnson frequent studies are made on military passenger operations. Test movements are carried out to insure that commercial firms are fulfilling their contracts.

"Operations so far," the Defense Department official said, "have been pretty good." In fact, I'd say we've been experiencing nearly 100 per cent operational efficiency."

GLOBE Arithmetic Faulty Last Week

The GLOBE inadvertently sent the 3rd Battalion, Sixth Marines back to the Mediterranean and added two more years to an already illustrious Tank Battalion history last week. Faulty arithmetic was blamed.

Members of the 3rd Battalion, Second Marines, not Sixth Marines, are on their way to join the Sixth Fleet. Just how the mistake was made is not clear but there were so many numbers involved that the headline became confused.

Members of the 2nd Tank Battalion, Force Troops, celebrating their 20th anniversary were sent looking for two year's of lost history as the result of a GLOBE headline which heralded their 22nd birthday celebration.

The GLOBE's proofreaders have been enrolled, en masse, in the USAFI Basic Arithmetic Course.

ent operational efficiency."

"Nevertheless," Captain Johnson added, "There is always room for improvement, and our job is to discover how and where such improvements can be applied for best results."

Captain Johnson's hosts at a banquet held in his honor at the Hadnot Point SNCO Annex were, R. S. Davenport, O. D. Curtis, George Barnes and Iris Gillikin, representing local commercial passenger firms and Major J. Ladutko, Capt. J. T. Lovell and CWO W. C. Burrell, Camp Lejeune transportation officials.

Traffic Citations Show Slight Drop But Penalties Still Stiff

Traffic citations have shown a slight drop, according to the Base Chief of Police, Capt. V. R. DeSchuytner, but stiff penalties are being handed out to all offenders. In the past week, another Marine permanently lost his Base driving privileges after a conviction for driving under the influence. An 18-month suspension was handed another Marine for driving while under suspension and two civilians were fined and lost their privileges for six months after being involved in accidents.

Marines Who Stay Give More Strength To Corps

Defense Department time tables give the Corps until the middle of next summer to reach 190-thousand men authorized by the Congress. The Commandant recently said the figure would be reached by the end of December, six months ahead of schedule.

How and why?

General Shoup is basing his estimate on the results of the overall recruiting program in the Marine Corps and Camp Lejeune is a good gauge for the rest of the Corps. The reenlistment figures for July and

	MCB	2nd DIV.	FT
July	40%	38.9%	34%
Aug.	51.5%	54.9%	42%

August tell part of the story. These percentage figures tell only part of the story. They do not show the number of extensions, integrations by Reservists, SWAG contracts or new instances of Extended Active Duty.

Force Troops, for example, expects extensions in that command to exceed 500 in this fiscal year.

What makes this doubly important to the Marine Corps is that skilled, trained and highly professional Marines are remaining in the Corps to train and lead the new recruits. It means that positions of leadership and special skills will continue to be filled by competent Marines.

Every reenlistment, extension and SWAG contract means another brick in the freedom wall which is holding back our enemies. Every trained Marine who reenlists or extends means one more reason why America will be strong enough to face anything in the future.

Career advisory personnel in all commands are to be commended for a truly outstanding contribution to the welfare of the Marine Corps and the country.

Marines and officers who are staying with us are to be congratulated.

It is more than a good career. Stay with it.

Operation Silver Sword, the first Navy-Marine amphibious landing exercise to be staged on Maui, Hawaiian Islands, since WW II will begin Oct. 30. Landing forces will be composed of the Kaneohe-based 1st Marine Brigade under the command of Maj. Gen. Richard G. Weede.

Air support will be provided by MAG-13. Thirteen ships of Amphibious Squadron One, based in San Diego, Calif., will participate.

If You Ask Me:

DO YOU THINK MARINES SHOULD BE SENT TO DISASTER AREAS?

PVT. RAY KOPESKY — I believe that sending Marines or any servicemen to disaster areas such as the hurricane in Texas would be a splendid idea if they were specially trained to handle such emergencies. But I think this is more in the National Guard's field. In my opinion, it would just add to the confusion to send a lot of men down there; but to convey a small group along with a number of amtracs to help in evacuating would be a good solution.

LCPL. G. M. TAYLOR — Who are we to provide such relief? It's understandable that we should consider it because it's only human nature to want to help those in need. It seems obvious that President Kennedy and his civil defense should cover any disaster area of the Texas nature with ease. As Marines, we are bound to defend our country in time of international political strife but our civil defense program is designed to protect us from national disasters whether they be caused by political, social or weather conditions.

PFC H. W. PADGETT JR. — The idea of sending Marines out to help in cases of national disasters is very good mainly because a Marine's training includes adjusting to inclement weather. An amtrac would be a very valuable piece of equipment in these situations due to the fact that it has been developed for both land and sea. It could be used for evacuating the people and also delivering supplies.

PFC ALFRED M. RODERICK — Sending Marines to the scene of disaster areas such as the hurricane in Texas is very suitable to their training. They are qualified for quick thinking and quick acting. They have had actual experience in carrying out their duties under unfavorable conditions. A very valuable piece of equipment to send with the Marines is the amtrac which could be used in evacuating.

PFC RICHARD G. FLETCHER — Yes, I think it is a very good idea to send Marines to disaster areas. It would do a lot in creating good will towards the government. There are many ways in which we could be of service. For instance we could guard and protect their personal belongings and deliver them safely to their destination. We could also transport the injured to hospitals. This act would help people to have better feelings toward servicemen of all branches.

PVT. ROBERT SYDOROWITZ — In my opinion, Marines should not be sent to national disaster areas. It is not a problem for us. These towns must have a National Guard or civil defense program for such purposes. Amtracs cannot fill the bill. They were made for combat use and hauling. It would also cost the Marine Corps too much money to send us. The help that we could give wouldn't be enough to cover the trouble and expense.

Chaplain's Corner

On a mission field in Africa an annual award is given to the most humble missionary. It is really a joke. Instead of giving it to the one who has been the most patient in enduring trials without complaint, it is given to the missionary who has complained the most.

What does it mean to be humble? Certainly it does not mean to run yourself down, for Christ was the most humble of men, and He continually stated that He was one with the Father. Real humility is to lose sight of self entirely in devotion to duty. As Paul puts it, it is to kill self and live as if God were living through you. This means going against the crowd if necessary; being a leader instead of a follower. It is strength rather than weakness. It brings a man to respect himself more, since now he sees self as like God in its potential. It lifts his eyes to Heaven, rather than seeing his own feet of clay.

Humility is not developed by blandly accepting life as it comes to us, but by boldly meeting life with the desire to serve God and man. If a man would save his life, he will lose it, but if a man will lose his life for My sake, he shall find it.

Library News

By LOUISE ROWE

Two new reference works have been added to our newly-opened reference room in the Central Library. The first is "Strong's Exhaustive Concordance of the Bible," one of the most comprehensive Biblical Concordances on the shelves. Included in this work are the Main Concordance, the Comparative Concordance and Dictionaries of the Hebrew Bible and the Greek Testament. The second work is "The Agricultural Resources of the World" by William Van Royen which discusses the nature and geographic distribution of resources. Our reference room has more than 2,000 reference works that are invaluable for effective college study.

Latest non-fiction books received in the library are "The Legacy of the Civil War" by Robert Penn Warren, "Custom Built Rifles" by Dick Simmons, published by the National Rifle Association, Archer Jones' "Confederate Strategy From Shiloh to Vicksburg" and "Shark!" by Thomas Helm, an exciting book about this unpredictable killer of the sea.

Other new books: "Inside Europe Today," by John Gunther, "Lizzie Borden" by Edward Rodin, "Man In Process" by Ashley Montague and "X-45" by Richard Tregaskis.

Crackdown On Litterbugs Is Saving Money

The Base "cleaning bill" is going down and if the present trend keeps up, Camp Lejeune will be the cleanest camp in the military. Base Maintenance reports a "very noticeable decrease" in the amount of litter thrown on the roads and grounds. The decrease is also apparent on the outlying roads which are policed once a week.

We could say the decrease came about because of the dismantled litterbugs now hoofing it through the command but we honestly feel it is because the members of the Quad-Commands are responsible Marines who know right from wrong.

Less litter means fewer unsightly areas and it also means a big savings in maintenance costs for Camp Lejeune.

Our congratulations to those who are exercising restraint in throwing trash on the roads.

As for the others . . .

Happily "the others" are few and will, in time, be walked out of the picture.

'Thurber Carnival' Looms As Potential Sell-Out Here

"A Thurber Carnival," the Broadway smash hit comedy revue staged by Peter Turgeon for producers Lee Guber, Frank Ford and Shelly Gross, was rated by the New York ticket agencies as the town's No. 1 call. The comedy revue based on some of James Thurber's most famous sketches opened to a capacity sale prior to its premiere on Broadway. Following its premiere at the ANTA Theatre in New York, long lines of playgoers stood in the rain patiently waiting to buy tickets. "A Thurber Carnival" became an overnight

Standing-Room-Only show. The advance sale locally is now growing daily with telephone orders averaging 100 pieces daily.

"A Thurber Carnival" has a trio of stars, Imogene Coca, who kept the nation laughing on TV's "Show of Shows" with Sid Caesar, Arthur Treacher, the veteran British comedian of film fame and King Donovan, who has created many Broadway roles.

Also prominent in the cast of "A Thurber Carnival" are Walter Klavun, the hilarious Elaine Swann, the versatile Gigi Durston, Janis Hansen, who is also making a stir in her first road assignment as the Third Woman, and Vince Harding, who has played lead roles in many Broadway plays.

Columbia Records original cast album of "A Thurber Carnival," like the comedy itself, is proving a fast seller in the music shops across the land.

Seats are being made available to everyone at the Geotgie Memorial Field House. It is recommended that orders be phoned in immediately to obtain good locations, at 75894. The public is cordially invited.

Movie Reviews

THE FIERCEST HEART
 Producer-director George Sherman has made full use of the CinemaScope canvas, color and a stirring musical score by Irving Gertz to give this adult action drama of early Dutch settlers, Boer farmers in 1837, seeking their own "promised land" in Africa an aura of epic quality.

THE STORY OF RUTH
 One of the most notable, and well-cherished of the stories from the Old Testament is the Book of Ruth, a story of love, of faith and hope and of mercy and a merciful God. It is a story of a great love, of a great faith, of tolerance and understanding. (Color—132 min.)

THE DAY THE WORLD EXPLODED
 A topical premise of what can happen to us mere earthlings is appraised of an oncoming shower of asteroids from Outer Space. Paul Hubschmid, Madeleine Fisher and Fiorella Mari star. (60 min.)

ARMORED COMMAND
 Interesting characterization and action are brought into enjoyable focus in this war drama. A good cast headed by Howard Keel, beautiful Tina Louise, Warner Anderson and Earl Holliman; and suspenseful, realistic battle sequences drafted under the capable direction of Bryon Haskin make this WWII incident, written and produced by Ron Alcorn. Film-ed in its entirety in Germany for authenticity, with cooperation from the U. S. Department of Defense and the U. S. Army. (99 min.)

RIGHT APPROACH
 "The Right Approach" is a moderately entertaining tale of an obnoxious heel portrayed in one dimension by Frankie Vaughan, popular British entertainer, who also sings a few songs during the course of the routine plot. Some new and young faces aiding and abetting Vaughan in this slow moving story are: Martha River, Robert Pruse and Gary Crosby. The plot has Vaughan sharing a club house with five young buddies who are trying to make their own way in the world. Others involved in the songs-on are David McLean, Jane Withers and Jesse White. (92 min.)

ALAKAZAM THE GREAT
 "Alakazam the Great" is a Japanese made feature length cartoon that is destined to be a hit with the younger set. A product of the Toei Company, the animated treat was filmed in a wide-screen process called Magiscope. The voices of the characters are supplied by performers such as Frankie Avalon, Dodi Stevens, Jonathan Winters, Arnold Stang and Sterling Holloway. The tale told is appropriately simple and uncomplicated. A shy young monkey, Alakazam, passes the test of courage and becomes the king of the animals. (84 min.)

BRAMBLE BUSH
 An unusual and compelling situation is set forth with dramatic power in "Bramble Bush," based on the novel by Charles Merzendaht that attracted many readers. The situation is this: A doctor is faced with the problem of what to do when his best friend, who is dying from an incurable disease, pleads with him to supply the overdose of drugs that would end his life. Stars of the film are Richard Burton and Barbara Rush. Together Burton and Miss Rush play out several stirring dramatic scenes as they struggle against their feelings for each other and their succumb. (105 min.)

TWO RODE TOGETHER
 In "Two Rode Together" the plight of two people is examined. One is a white youth played by David Kent, who has lived with the Comanches for eight years and thinks of himself as one of them. The other kidnap victim is a young Spanish woman (played by Linda Cristal) forced to live as the "suava" of an Indian buck for five years. When she is rescued at the same time as the boy, her life is made miserable by other women at the army fort to which she is taken. James Stewart and Richard Widmark star. (Color, 109 min.)

PEPE
 "Pepe" stars the beloved Mexican clown, Cantinflas, in this warm, humorous spectacle. A gala roster of international motion picture stars appear in cameo roles throughout the movie. Cantinflas, himself, has been internationally acclaimed for his roles in this, and other movies.

ATLANTIS THE LOST CONTINENT
 The simple plot line of this Metrocolor production concerns a young Greek (Anthony Hall) who rescues and falls in love with a shipwrecked princess (Joyce Taylor) of the fabled lost continent. He returns her to her country and then is ensnared by John Hall, who controls the weak king. Edgar Stechi. (90 min.)

All-Marine Golf Tourney Begins Here Next Week

Force Troops Finishes Second In FMFLant Golf Tournament

CHERRY POINT—The Force Troops golf team took an early six-stroke lead in the FMFLant golf championships, but couldn't beat back a determined bid by the host 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing for the title as the Point entry won the four-day (72-hole medal play tournament by 18 shots over the Troops quintet. The Wing team wound up the rain-soaked tourney with a 1242 total as compared to 1,260 for runner-up Force Troops. The 2nd Marine Division team was third on the strength of a 1,289 score, Headquarters and Service Battalion, FMFLant, Norfolk, was fourth at 1,321, and MAG-26, New River, was a distant fifth with 1,340.

After the first round of play, the Wing team trailed pace-setting Force Troops by 11 shots and 2nd Division by five. The second day told the tale of the 1961 championships. The Wing quintet bounced back from a 325 total the first day to a 302 score while Force Troops sunk from a 314 total the first day to a 319 and the Division representatives dropped from second to third with a 321. The Wing team finished out the last two days with a 308 and 307 to win going away.

Al Hardister and Bill Laughlin paced the winning team and walked off with the two top spots on FMFLant's team to the Atlantic Fleet tournament which got under way Tuesday at Norfolk. Hardister's winning score was 78-72-77-75-302, while Laughlin registered a 77-79-

73-74-303. The Wing's Latimer finished third with 78-74-78-76-306, Lt. Col. K. R. Nelson, Norfolk, was fourth with a 72-79-83-75-309, and Capt. Joe Marron and Herb Brown, of Force Troops wound up in a tie for the last spot on the team to the Atlantic Fleet tourney. Marron fired 73-80-80-79-312, and Brown posted 80-77-80-75-312. The pair then hooked up in a sudden death playoff for fifth spot which went seven extra holes before Brown finally emerged victorious with a par-3 on the tough seventh.

MSgt. Frank Bullard captured the senior title and will represent FMFLant in the Atlantic Fleet tourney. He fired 78-84-75-237 in the 54-hole event.

The Wing's Capt. Travis Hopkins was a senior runner-up with 241, and Force Troops' Lt. Col. W. W. Wander was third at 269.

DEFENDING CHAMP — Jerry Harmon of MCRD, San Diego, Calif., will be after his second straight All-Marine title when a field of approximately 60 golfers tee-off next Tuesday at Paradise Point for the Seventh Annual All-Marine Golf Tournament. Harmon, who won last year at Parris Island, has the chance to become the All-Marine's first double winner.

Two Champions Head List Of Sixty Marine And Navy Golfers Entered This Year

Two All-Marine champions will head a field of approximately 60 Marine Corps and Navy golfers scheduled to tee-off here next Tuesday in the seventh renewal of the All-Marine Golf Tournament. However, only one of them will be defending the title he won last year at the Parris Island Marine Corps Recruit Depot. With the elimination of the Seniors' Division from the All-Marine competition by a rules change this year, Commander Cecil Parrish, (DC) USN, stationed at MCRD, Parris Island, finds himself without a title to defend. Commander Parrish won the Seniors' Division over his home course last year by a six-stroke edge.

Lt. Cpl. Jerry Harmon of Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif., last year's open division winner, however, may find holding on to his title a bit rough this year with some 60 four-or-under handicapped golfers after the crown he annexed at Parris Island last year.

With a win this year, Harmon would become the first player in the history of the tournament to ever win the title twice. The closest any player has come was the third place finish last year by Phil Rodgers the 1959 All-Marine and Interservice golf king.

Harmon will head a strong San Diego squad which might furnish him with his stiffest competition. Fellow teammate Pfc Ross Gatzert was last year's runner-up in the open division, finishing four strokes behind Harmon.

Early this week nearly 50 golfers from posts and stations throughout the Marine Corps had entered the four-day, 72-hole tournament and the list was expected to grow longer during the week. Among the Setting their sights on the East Coast All-Marine Regatta which begins tomorrow at Cherry Point, Camp Lejeune's fresh-water "sailors" sharpened their jibs with a nine-point victory over a Cherry Point team here recently in the latest of a continuing series of challenge races.

The challenge series is raced approximately every three months with the winning team of the last race offering the next challenge. In the most recent of these, the Lejeune sailors took both ends of the two-race course to down the Point squad, 41-32. After gaining a narrow 18 1/2-18 edge in the morning leg, the local sailors raced to a 22 1/2-14 advantage in the afternoon for the final margin of victory.

The winning Lejeune squad was paced by Lt. L. G. Popp, Lt. M. Green, Lt. D. S. Lardner and HM2 L. E. Adams. Popp, Lardner and Green's boats were crewed by their wives, while HM3 W. P. Larkins crewed for Adams.

The Third Annual East Coast All-Marine Regatta scheduled to begin tomorrow will match crews from Parris Island, Cherry Point, Quantico, Camp Lejeune and MCAS, Beaufort, S. C. The three-day event is slated to wind up Sunday at Cherry Point.

Local, some 17 golfers representing Marine Corps Base, 2nd Marine Division, Force Troops, and Marine Corps Air Facility, New River have entered the tournament. Top Lejeune-based threats to Harmon's title are 1st Lt. Jim Deemer, club champion and joint holder with pro "Porky" Oliver of the course record (66), 1st Sgt. Al Greer, who finished second in the '59 All-Marine, and Cmdr. Jim Kinder, a two-time All-Navy champion.

Upon completion of the All-Marine Tournament, the top five finishers in the event will remain here for the Interservice Golf Championships which begin at the Paradise Point course October 2.

Penalties plagued both teams in the final hole. The letter half and materialized for either team in the second game. Roger Keagy twice scored and half behind the blizzards. Bruce Burns Graham, Graham scored 100 for a 13-0 halftime. The Colts rallied in the 2nd quarter but were knocked out of the game after a 2-0 lead. Al Keagy intercepted the closing minutes of the final score.

sports in short
By SSGT. AL GUNKEL

While the football season got under way here on a highly successful note (accompanied by its usual hoopla and fanfare), two of the best attractions in service sports have been waiting in the wings . . . the All-Marine and Interservice Golf Championships . . . Not to take anything away from football, but this year's All-Marine golf tournament promises to be one of the best ever held . . . A tightening of the rules has eliminated the deadwood before actual play ever gets under way and it'll be a fast field teeing-off Tuesday at Paradise Point . . . Last year's champ, Jerry Harmon of MCRD, San Diego, is back this year in a try for a record second title. If he makes it, he'll be the first to ever win the title twice and there have been some good ones who tried . . . A couple of local golfers to keep your eye on . . . Jim Deemer and Cmdr. Joe Kinder . . . Deemer is the local club champ and co-holder of the Paradise Point course record (66) . . . Kinder, who has a game which resembles Hogan's, is a two-time All-Navy champ . . . Both should prove rough to handle on the home course . . .

Here and There
We feel as if we had been done a dirty deed . . . Coach Phil Monahan has been saying all year that Lejeune's line this year is too green and inexperienced . . . So we pass the news along as gospel . . . but, somewhere along the line those Marine linemen forgot to read their notices . . . because Benning left here Saturday afternoon, after getting slapped silly all morning by those babes-in-the-woods, with the distinct impression that they sure knew what they were doing out on the field.

Three Karate Pupils Hiked Meritoriously

Three members of the Lejeune Shorin Karate Club advanced in ratings over the weekend for their outstanding performance in matches with the Isshando Karate Club of Jersey City, N. J. Sam Pearson, Shorin instructor, promoted Maurice R. Garras to 4th degree White Belt and Robert L. Stubbs and Peter L. Musacchio to 3rd degree Green Belt.

The two clubs pitted opposing styles in several fast and deadly exhibition matches. Don Nagle, who instructs the Isshando Club, demonstrated his nine and one-half foot high kick, a technique peculiar to this type of Karate.

Three other Shorin students were promoted through regular promotion procedures this week. They are Kenneth R. Norman to 3rd degree Green Belt, Albert T. Langier to 3rd degree White and Kenneth S. Patane to 2nd degree Green Belt.

Beginners' classes in Shorin Karate begin Oct. 2 at the 500 Area Gymnasium. Any interested persons may register there between 5 and 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday or 9 to 11 a.m. on Saturday. Dependents are welcome.

entries received this week was Cherry Point's FMFLant championship team which entered en masse. However, each player will be competing in the All-Marine on an individual basis. Parrinello, Line Pace Marines To 27-7 Victory Over Benning

Fullback John Parrinello and a hard-driving line paced Camp Lejeune's Marines to an easy 27-7 win over a fumbling Ft. Benning "Doughboy" eleven here last Saturday morning in the opening game of the 1961 football season for both clubs. Parrinello, a stand-out for Quantico last year, romped to two touchdowns and gained 61 yards in 13 carries to lead the Lejeune ground attack. His effort was only five yards shy of the total yardage gained by the entire Benning backfield as Lejeune's line, outweighed some 25 pounds per man, completely dominated the game.

Only bright spot for the Army eleven was a 94-yard touchdown gallop by halfback N. C. Brown following Lejeune's third score midway through the third period.

Breaks

"Breaks" played a large part in Saturday's game and Lejeune got three good ones. The Marines took the opening kickoff and drove from their own 35 to the Benning 28 before the drive stalled. However, on Benning's first play from scrimmage the Army quarterback was jared loosed from the ball and Lejeune's Larry Wagner recovered on the Army 12.

From there halfback Chuck Latting went off tackle to the nine,

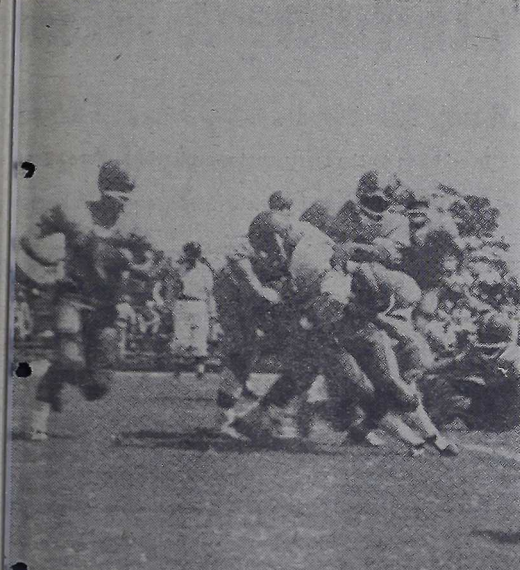

Mel Anderson carried to the three and on third down Parrinello picked up the vital first-and-ten at the one. Anderson then barreled over on the next play to open Lejeune's scoring. Latting's attempt for PAT was partially blocked and Lejeune led 6-0.

After battling on even terms through the rest of the first quarter, Benning mounted their best offensive drive of the game as the second quarter opened. Farrier returned a Lejeune punt from the Army 42 to the Marines 46 from where Benning moved to Lejeune's 10 only to see the drive stall. The Marines Jim Knight and Ulysses Frier dropped Army quarterback Shankles for a 10-yard loss on an attempted pass play, and then an Armyman was caught clipping which set Benning back to the 35.

Mel Anderson returned Benning's fourth down punt from the Marine two to the 12 from where Lejeune mounted an 88 yard drive that was capped by Parrinello's 14-yard scoring jaunt over tackle. Halfback Frank Long's conversion made it 13-0.

The Marines opened up early in the second half after partially blocking a Benning punt at the Army 35. On the first play from scrimmage Parrinello rambled 35 yards only to have the TD recalled for a clipping violation at the 21. After Latting gained one off tackle, Schwarze hit End Jim Knight on the Benning 22 for a Marine first-and-ten.

After an unsuccessful try at end by Parrinello, Schwarze drifted back and hit halfback Chuck Latting in the end zone with a 25-yard

Lejeune Takes On Powerful Pensacola Eleven Saturday

Camp Lejeune's Marine eleven, flexing fledgling muscles this week after romping to a 27-7 win in their season opener, face one of their toughest games of the season here Saturday morning when they take on the powerful NAS, Pensacola, "Goshawks" at Liversedge Field. The "Goshawks," who have a 2-0 slate so far this season, last a squad loaded with top-flight college and service talent. Out to better last year's so-so record, Pensacola has rolled over the University of Corpus Christi (ex.) 25-0 in their opener, and clinched out a 24-6 win over Meese State (La.) College last Saturday.

Lejeune End Coach Joe Losack after scouting the "Goshawks" last week reports they are a fast, well-conditioned team with good player personnel. Losack picked quarterback Joe Tranchini, former Naval Academy field general, and halfback Bob Marshall as Pensacola's top backs. Losack tabbed center and linebacker Phil Mentor as the "Goshawks" top forward. Mentor is a three-year veteran of U.C.L.A.

The Marines have an added incentive to beat the Naval Station team this year after being shut out by the "Goshawks" the past two years. Saturday's game has been rated as a toss-up after the showing by Lejeune in their opening win over Benning last week.

Both Lejeune and Pensacola will be running their offensive attacks off the wing-T, which points to a wide-open battle. The Marines will be depending on the running of Chuck Latting, Mel Anderson and John Parrinello and the passing arm of Bob Schwarze for their attack on the Pensacola goal line Saturday.

Lejeune came through the opening game of the season last week with only minor injuries and is expected to be at full strength Saturday.

Recon Teams Win Pair In Touch Play

Two Second Recon Battalion teams grabbed off a pair of wins last Wednesday afternoon as Group 1, 2nd Division opened its touch football season here.

"C" Company, 2nd Recon Bn., coach, LCpl. Charles Austin, with the help of a strong defensive team, and the pass-catching of Corporal Coomer, guided his team to a 25-0 thumping of 1st Light Support Co., 2nd Service Battalion in the league's opening game.

In the second game, "A" Company, 2nd Recon came back from a 6-0 deficit at halftime to score an 8-6 win over H&S Company, 2nd Service Battalion. The "A" Company griders scored a safety and a TD in the final period while shutting out the Service Battalion team for the win. Biccum got the lone Service Bn. score and "A" Company tallied on a pass from Crabtree to Hunter.

Crabtree was also responsible for the Recon team's two point safety when he nailed a Service Bn. back in the end zone for the final margin.

Lineman, Back Of The Week Named By Lejeune Coaches

After reviewing last week's game with Ft. Benning, Camp Lejeune's coaching staff named their inaugural outstanding back and lineman of the week for the 1961 season. Each week throughout the 1961 football season the Marine coaching staff will nominate a back and a lineman of the week based on performances in the previous week's game.

The coaching staff this week picked fullback John Parrinello as the outstanding back and guard Norm Hafler as the outstanding lineman for last week's Benning game.

Parrinello, who gained 61 yards rushing in 13 carries and scored two touchdowns Saturday is a native of Rochester, N. Y. He played three years of varsity football at the University of Rochester and was one of Quantico's outstanding backs last year in his first year of service football.

PARRINELLO

Guard Norm Hafler is a returnee from last year's Lejeune squad and is the Marines co-captain this year.

According to line coach Jim Hardin, Hafler did an outstanding defensive job Saturday, plus keeping the team fired up throughout the game with his spirit and hustle.

Quantico By 20-19

Quantico barely squeezed by North Carolina A&T College last week, 20-19, to win their first game in two outings. Leading 20-7 going into the fourth period, the Leatherneck eleven got a real scare in a frantic fourth quarter as the A&T squad closed to 20-19 before the gun stopped them.

Devilpups Nip Beulaville 7-6

Lejeune High's Rick Lowder made the defensive play of the game for the second week in a row as the local schoolboys nipped Beulaville, 7-6, last Friday night.

The 140-pound junior linebacker "saved" the game for the Devilpups when he stopped Beulaville's Jerry Simpson at the goal line on the extra point try with the score at 7-6 late in the fourth quarter. Two weeks ago Lowder made almost an identical play to keep a 20-19 edge for Lejeune at Havelock in a game the Devilpups finally won by 26-19.

The game at Beulaville last Friday night was a squeaker all the way. Hard running fullback Randy Fridley cracked over center from the five early in the second quarter to cap a 35-yard drive which was set up by halfback Dick Dube's 20-yard punt return late in the first period. Junior fullback Paulson Webb then went around left end for the vital extra point.

On the ensuing kickoff, Beulaville's Jerry Simpson apparently got the tying TD on a 55-yard return, but a clipping penalty nullified the play. Beulaville finally scored in the final quarter, setting the stage for Lowder's timely defensive play.

The local high school squad takes on Norfolk Catholic tomorrow night at the Intramural Field near Agganis Stadium in their home opener of the 1961 season.

scoring toss to stretch the Lejeune lead to 18-0. Long's PAT was good but a penalty nullified the play and his second try from the 25 was short.

Then came Brown's 94-yard kickoff return for Benning. End Bill Johnson's kick for the extra point made it Lejeune 19, Benning 7 in the third quarter.

After a clipping penalty killed a fourth period Benning drive at the Lejeune 39, the Marines came driving back to the Army two only to have the drive stall when a holding violation set the Marines back to the Army 22.

However, on Benning's third play after taking over, Lejeune's Percy Price picked off a stray Army aerial at the Benning 32 and romped to the 12 before being run out of bounds. Anderson bulled to the seven and then Parrinello shot between guard and tackle to score the Marines' fourth touchdown.

Latting went off tackle for the two extra points to close out the scoring for the day. The game ended with Benning in possession of the ball on their own 30 after stopping a fifth Lejeune scoring thrust at the 18.

Skins, Eagles Win In Boys League Play

The defending champion Redskins added another scalp to their coup stick when they owned the Bears 12-0 in the first game of the Lejeune Boys Football League doubleheader Sunday. The Eagles screamed to a 25-0 victory over the Colts in the second contest.

The first Redskin score came early in the second quarter when Carl Wiggins sprinted wide around his own end from deep in Bear country. The Bruin ground attack barely was launched when the Redskins' John Richards intercepted a pass and Ricky Likens set up the touchdown play. Wiggins then scampered on a double reverse around right end for the final tally.

Penalties plagued both teams during the latter half and no real threat materialized for either team.

In the second game, the Eagles' Roger Keagy twice scored in the second half behind the blocking of Jay Callahan, Bruce Burns and Richard Graham. Graham scored the first PAT for a 13-0 halftime score.

The Colts rallied in the third quarter but were knocked down by the Eagles' defense. Al McCloskey scored for the Eagles after a series of runs by Keagy, Graham and Burns.

Keagy intercepted a Colt pass in the closing minutes of the game for the final score.

'Gunny' Gray Reenlists

GySgt. Robert H. Gray, Hq. Co., Second Marines, received his reenlistment papers and congratulations from his regimental commander, Col. A. L. Booth, during informal ceremonies held during maneuvers recently. The "Gunny", the company communications chief, "shipped-over" for six years.

Finest Training Anywhere Offered To Troops Marines

In addition to the many quotas available to Force Troops personnel for a change of duty station, the Marine Corps offers specialized training in various fields to qualified personnel equaling and in many cases surmounting that obtainable under comparable conditions in civilian life. Courses, many of which are available on a TAD basis outside the Camp Lejeune area, include Artillery Repair, Ammo Tech, Infantry Weapons Armorer, Shop Mach Repair, Airborne, Topo Survey, Cartographic Drafters, Construction Draftsman, Weather Equipment Maint., EOD School, Interrogation, Artillery Ballistic Meteorology, Engineer Equipment Mech., Automotive Mech., Metal Worker, Atomic Projectile Assembly, and the Rocket Nuclear Warhead Assembly.

First Sergeant Places Third At PI School

A 2d Division Marine tied for third place honors at Parris Island's Sergeants Major school last week with a 96.20 class average. He is 1st Sgt. William A. Coughy Jr., first sergeant of "C" Company, Sixth Marines.

The course is designed to bring top ranking enlisted men up to date on current policies and techniques of Marine Corps administration procedures. Personnel assigned to the school are from posts and stations throughout the United States.

First Sergeant Coughy was among 19 senior Staff NCO's graduating from the six-week course.

1ST SGT. COUGHEY

In addition, courses, many of which are available on a duty assignment basis in the Camp Lejeune area, include the Force Troops ABC School, PMFTant Comm School, Cold Weather Training, Unit Instructor Course, Basic Engineer School, Basic Supply School, Basic MT School, NCO Leadership School and the Clerk Typist School followed by the Personnel Administration Course.

Force Troops receives quotas throughout the year for these schools.

When a school is desired by a qualified Marine for which there is no quota pending, it is possible, in most cases, to get one with two or three months.

Marines interested in these schools should contact their Career Advisory NCO.

Vacancies still remain on the December Replacement drafts for Okinawa, Hawaii and Japan. Contact your Career Advisory NCO today.

Accrued Leave Pay

Accrued leave is payable in cash upon reenlistment or separation, computed according to your base pay and length of service. Under present law, you can carry up to 60 days' leave on the books.

Base, MAG Dental Officers Promoted To Navy Captain

Two area dental officers recently were promoted to the rank of Navy captain in ceremonies within their respective commands. Doctor Merlin E. Naylor, Base Dental Clinic, received the silver eagles of his new rank in the office of Maj. Gen. Robert B. Luckey, Base commanding general. At MAG-26, Richard T. Sochowski, Senior Dental Officer of the Air Facility Dispensary, had the new insignia pinned on by Col. Russell R. Riley, MAG's acting commander.

Doctor Naylor, a graduate of the University of Kansas and the Dental School of Georgetown University, will continue in his present position as director of the Prosthetics Section of the Base Dental Clinic.

Mrs. Naylor and Capt. C. T. Pridgen, Base Dental Officer, attended the 18-year veteran's promotion ceremonies.

Commissioned a Navy Ensign in 1941, Capt. Sochowski reported to MAG-26 in July after service at the Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Training Station.

SOLANT AMITY Duo Receives GC Award

GOOD CONDUCT AWARDS were presented to Sgt. M. Gerrits and Pfc R. W. Cornett by Lt. Col. James D. Boldman, commander of the Landing Force SOLANT AMITY III, during recent ceremonies held at Camp Lejeune. It was the second award for Sergeant Gerrits, the first for Private Cornett. The two men, members of MAG-26, New River, will depart soon with SOLANT AMITY III on a good will tour of South Atlantic countries.

GERRITS

THE NAVY TOO—HM2 Raymond V. Weaver, of the Marine Corps Air Facility Dispensary, readily signed his enlistment contract for six more years, deciding, too, that the Navy is a good career. Weaver, a member of MABS-26, MAG-26, is a veteran of eight years service in the Navy Medical Corps. He first enlisted at Jefferson City, Mo., in October, 1948. Also present for the signing of the contract was his wife, Janet, and MAG-26 Flight Surgeon, Lt. F. G. Hurite. Weaver and his wife are both natives of Russellville, Mo. They have two children and reside in MEMQ at the Air Facility.

Staff Wives Open Shop for Charity, Scholarship

The Thrift Shop cash register showed a profit of $14.67 at the end of the opening day, Friday, Sept. 15. "This is more than we even hoped for," exclaimed Jan Patterson, co-chair of the activity which was sponsored by the Staff Wives. The shop is open for business from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. Tuesdays and Fridays. It is located in Bldg. 1403 behind Toyland.

Protestant Women's Guild

The Protestant Chapel Women's Guild will hold their first meeting and get acquainted coffee Monday, Sept. 25, at 9:30 a.m. in Bldg. 87.

In addition to the monthly meetings, which includes a devotional service, guest speakers and fellowship, special projects in Christian service are sponsored. Mrs. Robert Mills, president, extends a cordial invitation to all Protestant women to participate in this worthwhile program.

Chairman Peg Vegass will accept donations and goods to be sold in consignment during the sales. All items must be clean, pressed and in good repair. The goods to be found on the racks include baby clothes, girls' skirts, ladies' dresses, military Corps uniforms, including blues, dolls, purses, books and various gadgets. The proceeds from the sales will be donated to charity and the scholarship offered by the Staff Wives Club each year. Mrs. Hester Delano, and Iris Annis also on hand Friday to aid the women in their selections.

LITTLE THINGS MEAN A LOT—Little Lou Ann Harris does her part to make the opening of the Thrift Shop a success by offering last year's snowsuit. Accepting her donation is Mrs. Hester Delano.

Workshop Of Protestant Leaders Held On Base

To teach effectively, one must constantly be growing spiritually," Chaplain J. H. Phillabaum told teachers attending the recent Protestant Day School Workshop.

The workshop, under direction of Mr. W. S. Palmer, Base Protestant Chaplain, met at Marston Pavilion, Sept. 14 to plan this year's Sunday School curriculum.

Following registration Chaplain Palmer gave an "Introduction To Curriculum." The group also received instruction on audio-visual techniques.

The group separated into four departmental sections for lectures: Clergymen, under Chaplain H. M. Fitz, chaplain for Tarawa Terrace; Primary, Chaplain J. H. Phillabaum, Midway Park; Intermediates, Chaplain S. J. Beach, Montford Point; Juniors, Chaplain D. N. Paulson. "More effective teaching through increased leadership education" was the main topic.

To conclude the day long program, pastors and chaplains took part in service of individual consecration by Chaplain Goetz. GYSgt. Charles Schumaker Jr., gave the meditation "Teachers are Important All."

Activities Calendar

AIR FACILITY STAFF NCO WIVES — A September social meeting will be held Sept. 26 at the chapel classroom beginning at 7:30 p.m. Guest speaker will be Mr. E. J. Rader of Fund Investment Corporation.

KNOX WIVES GROUP — At the last meeting a committee was chosen to plan booklets to be distributed to new Knox families. Begin thinking of nominations for new officers. Election time is coming up soon. There will be a pot luck luncheon Oct. 6. Meetings held first and third Fridays of each month beginning at 10 a.m. in the Knox Canteen.

MIDWAY PARK WIVES — Join us Thursday night at 8 p.m. for game fun in the Midway Park School auditorium. Regular meetings held Friday mornings at 10 in the Recreation Center.

MOTHER OF TWINS CLUB — This is for wives with at least two things in common. The meetings are held in private homes. For further information contact Mrs. D. N. Erikson, 346-8935.

EXERCISE AND DIET CLUB — Meetings are held every Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Tarawa Terrace Community Building. If any of you calorie-conscious readers are interested in joining, contact Mrs. Jessie Sbrocco, 346-4368.

Dependents' Transportation

When a Marine dies on active duty, his dependents are provided or reimbursed for transportation to his home of official record or to a place designated by his survivors.

OWC 'Welcome Tea' Gathers Harvest Of Freshman Members

The welcoming tea of the Officers' Wives' Club of Camp Lejeune, sponsored by Group VIII, drew hundreds of attractive women, pretty clothes and beautiful decorations. Mrs. F. O. Olson was chairman of the tea and greatly responsible for its large success. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. M. Sophos, Mrs. J. W. Mann, Mrs. C. L. Stitt, Mrs. L. W. Fisher, Mrs. R. L. Hatch, Mrs. J. M. Terry, Mrs. E. Ragsdale and Mrs. M. S. Shinka. Working with top efficiency, the committee members all helped to establish a welcoming atmosphere for the many wives new to Camp Lejeune who attended.

Bea Black's lovely table arrangement carried out the autumn harvest theme. Her decorations' deep fall colors, their originality and charm, made a beautiful background for the party. One table was in brown, draped in gold satin, with a cornucopia centerpiece of yellow pumpkins, corn and wheat. Two tall bronze candles completed the table. Another handsome table was in shades of purple, the tall glass vase in the center filled with magenta liquid and banked with heavy bunches of dark purple grapes. A third table was done in colors of avocado. On it a huge hurricane lamp was filled with gourds and vegetable sand flanked with silver candelabra. The entire dining room was decorated with leaves and flowers.

The large cornucopia, made by Mrs. Black, was spilling with fruit and echoed the pretty cornucopia name tags, designed by Mrs. R. W. Edwards. Well over a thousand of these unusual tags were made under the direction of Mrs. F. C. Cushing and Mrs. T. J. Deen.

The receiving line, consisting of Mrs. R. B. Luckey, Mrs. J. P. Berkeley, Mrs. L. W. Walt, Mrs. W. B. Kyle, Mrs. F. O. Olson and Mrs. N. A. Miller, stood in the living room enjoying refreshments, the ladies signed up for various winter activities in the River Room.

Mrs. R. H. Bannard was chairman of the pouring committee. Alternating at the tables were the following ladies: Mrs. A. L. Booth, Mrs. J. M. Platt, Mrs. A. J. Roose, Mrs. W. H. Hitt, Mrs. V. C. Shortsleeves, Mrs. W. C. Humberd, Mrs. L. F. Childers, Mrs. S. W. Scroggs, Mrs. J. W. Blough, Mrs. M. H. Silverthorn, Mrs. W. W. Wander, Mrs. J. B. Wilkinson, Mrs. D. T. Harp, Mrs. R. E. Carey and Mrs. R. E. Collier.

Special guests at the tea were Mrs. R. M. Victory, Mrs. M. J. Shuford, Mrs. W. M. Rakow, Mrs. W. C. Humberd, Mrs. V. C. Shortsleeves, Mrs. C. O. Winters and Mrs. R. P. Mendelson.

Facility 'O' Wives Hold Lawn Party In Fairy-Land Setting

The spacious grounds of Mrs. W. C. Humberd's quarters at the Air Facility provided a fairyland setting for a lawn party which took place last Thursday.

This was the first event of the year for the Air Facility Officers Wives Club and many old friends were reunited and new friends acquired after the long summer months. Gaiety and laughter prevailed under the large shade trees, and the magnificent view overlooking the water was enjoyed by all.

Many noticed, while looking out over the water, the Humberd's "cannon," an uprooted divided tree trunk with its "barrels" aimed at the house. This is a result of last year's hurricane, Mrs. Humberd explained.

The main table, covered with a green satin tablecloth and matching net overskirt, was decorated with an arrangement of wild daisies, wild purple asters, and gladioli. Refreshments, made by the members of the executive board, who were hostesses for the day, included hors d'oeuvres and assorted pastries and cookies. Iced tea, coffee, and a delicious champagne punch were also served.

Special guests invited from Camp Lejeune included: Mrs. R. B. Luckey, Mrs. L. W. Walt, Mrs. A. E. Dubber, Mrs. P. J. O'Connell, Mrs. M. H. Silverthorn, Mrs. R. E. McClean, Mrs. J. P. Treadwell, Mrs. W. W. Wander, Mrs. H. H. Fridley, Mrs. D. T. Harp, and Mrs. N. A. Miller.

SMORGASBORD — Brig. Gen. Lewis A. Walt, assistant 2d Division commander, approved the smorgasbord prepared by MSgt. William A. Collins, Mess Hall 325 mess sergeant, and his crew. Pfc William Ritchie Jr., right, also beams his approval. Said Ritchie: "I didn't want to play favorites, so I just took a little of everything."

Don't Gamble A Penny For Prison Term

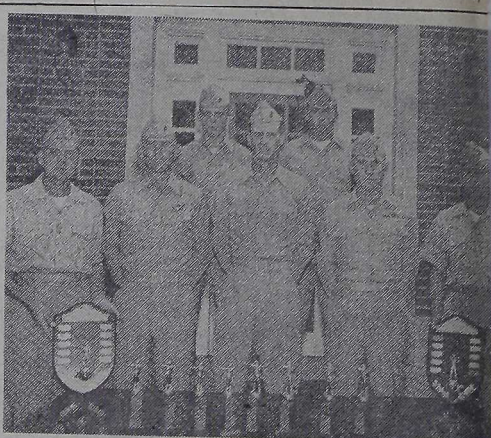

Everytime a Marine or his dependent takes a penny and files it down to get a 10-cent soft drink or candy bar, he's gambling against 10 years in a Federal penitentiary and a $4,000 fine.

To mutilate government coins is a federal violation. It's punishable by a $2,000 fine and five years in a Federal penitentiary. Putting mutilated coins in vending machines brings the culprit an additional $2,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

According to Lt. Filmore A. Cotton, treasurer of the main exchange, this Federal law is violated many times each month at Camp Lejeune.

On July 12 of this year, a large number of defaced coins was turned over to Secret Service agents of the U. S. Treasury Department, who are working on the case.

It is impossible for investigators to pinpoint the source of the bogus coins. Most of the coins come from the troop areas, with Midway Park and Tarawa Terrace housing areas contributing, too.

No Greasy Aprons Revealed In Smorgasbord Aftermath

The stereotyped mess sergeant of old—the mythical paunchy character with a grease-stained apron—would have fainted if he had wandered into Headquarters-Pioneer Battalion combined mess recently. There wasn't a platter of hash to be seen, nor a greasy apron, either. But there was a smorgasbord that stretched on and on and on. Tables were loaded with delicacies and decorations ranging from green peppers stuffed with cottage cheese to flowers fresh from the garden of MSgt. William A. Collins, the Mess Sergeant.

Unregistered Drivers May Have To Walk

A spot-check campaign to pick up improperly registered vehicles is under way at Camp Lejeune. First offenders will be afoot as long as it takes to correct the registration, plus 10 days. Second offenders will receive the same, plus 30 days suspension of Base driving privileges.

Registration of vehicles is the responsibility of the owner. Initial registration is usually correct but changes in insurance, state registration and address must be reported or the vehicle is no longer allowed on the Base.

With 18-thousand privately owned vehicles valued at nearly 54-million dollars operating each day at Camp Lejeune, the Registration and Identification Section is hard pressed. To make changes in registration easier on owners, the section is open 24 hours a day in Bldg. 37, the Base Military Police office.

At present, according to the Registration and Identification Section, these are the most common offenses:

Failure to give change of address when transferred to another unit at Camp Lejeune.

Failure to report transfer of title or sale of vehicle.

Failure to report change of insurance, particularly cancellation.

Failure to report change of vehicle description, such as "body style or color."

All gates and patrols will make spot checks for expired Base registration and insurance. Safety checks are being set up on a weekly basis to reduce violators operating on expired tags.

The first Marine Corps Recruiting Station was Tun Tavern in Philadelphia.

Collins picked the flowers at 4 in the morning to "sort of dress the lines up a little." He pointed out that he wasn't the only Marine from Mess Hall 325 up that early. "Most of the men worked all night putting the finishing touches on the food and getting the place ready."

Among those working around the clock was GySgt. Archie Blair, who turned out a cake to end all cakes. He said that the hardest part of the job was "scrounging" the tools he needed to decorate it. The cake was placed in the center of the mess hall where two smorgasbord lines converged. Sergeant Blair's cake drew praise from Brig. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, Assistant Division Commander, who was a guest at the Smorgasbord.

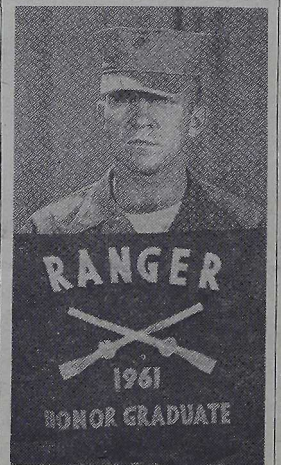

SSgt. Milton Martin, chief cook on watch, said that he and his crew had prepared 150-pounds of shrimp cocktail, 400-pounds of roast beef, more than 100-pounds of ham and 90-dozen deviled eggs. "And that was just a good start," he added.

Hungry Marines also sampled 29 varieties of salads and desserts ranging from strawberry pie to chocolate eclairs. Two hundred gallons of milk also vanished during the course of the meal. The menu also called for a selection of cold cuts, vegetables, fruits and drinks, which were carefully laid out in geometric patterns — soon destroyed by hungry Marines.

Sergeant Collins — who joined Headquarters Battalion three weeks ago from Pioneer Battalion — and 1st Lt. John Barr, Mess Officer, said they hoped to feature an outdoor steak bar-b-que soon, and that the smorgasbords would be a regular monthly feature of the mess.

After mentally trying to calculate the man-hours put in on the project, Sergeant Collins finally shrugged his shoulders and stated: "quite a few."

And there still wasn't a greasy apron in sight.

COLLINS

Recon Officer Tops 87-Man Ranger Class

A 2d Force Reconnaissance officer, 1st Lt. Patrick G. Collins, received his coveted Ranger shoulder tab last week after finishing first in the 87-man class at the Army's Ranger school at Fort Benning, Ga.

Collins, a native of Grosse Ile, Mich., completed the rugged eight-week course at Ft. Benning, the ranger Mountain Camp at Dahlonega, Ga., and Florida Camp near Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

Speaker for the event, Col. Bernard G. Teeters, Director of the Ranger Department, said that "this graduation ceremony marks a commencement for you, the beginning of your wearing the Ranger tab and accepting the challenge that goes with it."

He said that Ranger instruction helps turn the spark of a good soldier and a good Ranger into a fire and assists in discovering that the difficult is not impossible. "You have initiative, drive and determination and you can think for yourself and operate under difficult conditions," Col. Teeters emphasized. Calling the Ranger training the most difficult course of instruction in the U. S. Army, the Colonel said, "more will now be expected of you."

In addition to Marine Corps and Army personnel, the class included officers from Norway and India.

Base Permitted Revoked Ten Mari

Twenty-four military drivers lost their driving privileges to a week for not having their vehicles properly registered. The reason for the improper registration was a six-month suspension of the result of a check put into effect last month by the Base Military Police. Drivers receive 10-day suspension of driving privileges if they do not have their vehicles properly registered.

Moving violations drew the stiffest penalty in a six-month suspension of driving privileges. The majority of tickets were for speeding in no-passing zones.

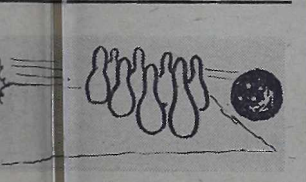

SIX MONTHS SUSPENSION. L. H. ELLMER, 2d Troop, was suspended for 6 months for improper turn (left turn) on a red light.
