NO. 47

Board Of Governors Elected For New Proposed NCO Club

A unique group of Marines met at Base Headquarters last week. They were the recommended Board of Governors for the proposed Noncommissioned Officers Club, the first club of its type at Camp Lejeune. Thirty-four NCO's were present. Sgt. Richard B. Travers, MS&M Bn., 2nd FSR, was elected president; Sgt. Herbert R. Icke, 2nd MT Bn., 2nd Division, was elected vice-president. The Area Four Service Club has been tentatively selected as the NCO Club and proposed plans call for the club to close for remodeling after Nov. 28. An opening date has not been announced due to the amount of work necessary to prepare a club. However, the Board of Governors hope the opening will take place around the first of the year.

Sergeant Travers said that all members of the board were extremely enthusiastic about the idea of the club.

Mature NCO's

"The Marine Corps has recognized the fact that the NCO's are mature enough to handle such a club and manage their own affairs. It's up to us to see that it is true," he added.

Sergeant Travers went on to say that he felt, personally, that all NCO's at Camp Lejeune are mature enough to appreciate a club of their own. "We can handle those who aren't," he said.

"We think our biggest trouble will be in handling the volume of business we expect," Travers added. More than 6,000 Marines at Camp Lejeune are eligible for membership in the NCO Club.

Committees Formed

Several committees were formed by the NCO's during the meeting. An Organization and Planning Committee, under Sgt. R. L. Harper, Hq. Co., Eighth Marines, and an Entertainment Committee under Sgt. H. D. Snipes of H&S Co., 3rd Bn., Second Marines.

The Organization and Planning Committee has been ordered to submit a report of items to be purchased that are required for the operation of the club. It will also report on the feasibility of opening the club in the Fourth Area Service Club and to minimize the expenditure due to a contemplated move at a later date.

Capt. L. W. Kuchler, the club advisor, said that he was "personally enthusiastic" about the club.

Senior Staff NCO's at Camp Lejeune, when queried on the subject, all voiced approval and offered their assistance.

The recommendations of the Board of Governors have been submitted to the commanding general.

Flow Of Dependents Abroad Will Become Trickle In 1961

The Presidential order to bring dependents back to the United States is not expected to result in the separation of families except in unusual circumstances, the Department of Defense has announced. The plan is scheduled to begin Jan. 1, 1961, at the rate of 15,000 a month with a final goal of some 284,000 dependents of military and civilian personnel now overseas scheduled to return home.

Not affected are an additional 148,000 dependents now in Alaska, Hawaii, Canal Zone, Puerto, Virgin Islands, the Marianas and Midway.

The action is part of President Eisenhower's sweeping seven-point program to curb the flow of gold from the U. S. into foreign markets. It was estimated the program would save $300-$500 millions yearly when it is fully effective—possibly in two or three years. It has been estimated that spending of U. S. dependents abroad is about $1,000 a year per dependent.

The Defense Department said length of overseas tours may have to be altered but that details have not been worked out. It is possible that some tours could be "lengthened" and others "shortened." Thus, a man with his family in a three-year tour area might have this lengthened to a four-year tour. Those without dependents might have their tour shortened and not spend as long a time in the same tour area.

Normal tour terminations with a few shortened tours plus a curtailment of dependents proceeding overseas should accomplish the President's Executive Order, the Department of Defense said.

Further plans are now under study and will be announced as soon as possible.

Intelligence School Resumes Operation At 2nd Division

The 2nd Division Intelligence School resumed operation early in November after a lapse of several years. The school has the mission of providing trained intelligence personnel to the 2nd Marine Division. To fulfill this mission, the school has devised an extensive curriculum ranging from aspects of psychological warfare through the evaluation of weather and terrain. It also digs into such specialized fields as the preparation of intelligence annexes to operational orders—a staggering job in itself.

Capt. Richard R. Anderson and his four-man lecturing staff indoctrinate previously untrained personnel in the highly specialized skill of gathering, sifting, evaluating and correlating intelligence material.

The month-long course's current crop of 28 students range from privates first class to first lieutenants. Together, they prepare and maintain a simulated operations command post exercise, utilizing data supplied by members of the staff.

"This is the high point of the course, a sort of final examination," explained Captain Anderson.

"As a rule we set up the problem along accepted aggressor lines. Then the students assimilate and evaluate this information and pass it on to their imaginary commander in the form of an operational annex. An annex may require several typewritten pages of information and is only one of the complicated, technical functions of an operating intelligence section," he continued.

Plans now call for conducting regular, semi-annual classes. The current class graduated here Tuesday.

After viewing a demonstration involving eight-man drill and Landing Party Manual Drill, the Commandant concluded that either drill could be used to develop leadership qualities, alertness and the necessary disciplinary standards.

Although the eight-man drill has been abolished for ceremonies and normal drill, commanding officers are not prohibited from using it during other special occasions. This was left to the commanding officers' discretion.

General Shoup also stated that any reduction in training time within the recruit depots due to the change will be applied to other training. No reduction in present overall training periods was announced.

The new revision cancels Marine Corps Order 1500.13 and all sections of chapter three of the Marine Corps Drill Manual except sections V, XI, XII and XIII. All cancellations and revisions were ordered to become effective Dec. 15.

In effect for several years, the eight-man drill has been a controversial topic throughout the Marine Corps since its inception.

Curtain Rises During Staff NCO Parade

A curtain of ground fog went up just as Sgt. Maj. E. B. Pullen Jr., commanding officer of Troops led his staff onto the Hadnot Point Parade Field during the Hq. Bn., MCB, Staff NCO sunrise parade last Wednesday morning.

More than 500 troops, completely obscured by dense fog, came into view with the sound of "Adjutant's Call," as if a curtain had been raised to start the parade.

Maj. Gen. Robert B. Luckey, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, and Col. Roy J. Batterton Jr., commanding officer, Hq. Bn., MCB, and reviewing officers were said to have been well pleased with the entire ceremony.

With Staff NCOs filling top billets, all participants were from Hq. Co., Support Co.'s "A" and "B", Woman Marine Co., Military Police Co., and MT Co.

The parade was held as part of the battalion's weekly training schedule.

Support Co. "B" with 1st Sgt. J. D. Steeley, as commanding officer served as the color company for the parade. MT and MP Co. combined to form a Provisional Co. First Sergeant Barto marched as the Provisional Co. commander.

Holiday Leave

Marine Corps personnel may be granted 10-day leaves during either the Christmas or New Year's holidays, according to instructions issued by Headquarters Marine Corps.

The holiday leave policy, outlined in Marine Corps Bulletin 1050 of Nov. 7, authorizes commanding officers to grant the leaves during period beginning Dec. 17-18 or Dec. 28-29.

PRESENTATIONS AND CONGRATULATIONS—Col. A. J. Roose, commanding officer of 2nd Force Service Regiment, center, presents the final amtrac, number 71, to Lt. Col. J. P. Treadwell, Amtrac Bn. commanding officer. Looking on are, from the left, Maj. J. A. Mitchell, commanding officer of Ordnance Maintenance Company, Lt. Col. Sherbondy, Materiel Supply and Maintenance Bn., commanding officer, and at far right, Col. L. A. Ennis, deputy commander of Force Troops. Present at the ceremonies, at far left, are some of the men that made this "team effort" project a success.

Money-Saving Modifications Completed On AMTRACS Here

More than 23,000 man hours, over $100,000 saved the government and 71 modified amphibian tractors was the tally run up by members of the 2nd Force Service Regiment in completing a gigantic task here last week. Col. A. S. Roose, commanding officer of 2nd Force Service Regiment, presented the final tractor, emblematic of the previous 70 already returned to their units, to Col. J. P. Treadwell, commanding officer of Amtrac Bn. Also present at the ceremonies were Lt. Col. A. L. Sherbondy, commanding officer of Materiel Supply and Maintenance Bn., and Maj. J. A. Mitchell, commanding officer of Ordnance Company, where the work took place. There were six modifications completed in all; however, two had been noted by the men who used these vehicles for landings, that carbon monoxide from the engines in the rear had been seeping through the supposedly air-tight doors into the troop area. This seemed to cause the men to become sluggish when they hit the beaches, which of course during wartime or peacetime could be disastrous. The other imperative modification which took place was the relocation of the battery wells. Previously they had been at the front of the engine compartment, separated from the troops by a thin wall. When certain conditions did occur, these batteries were capable of exploding and driving themselves and the protective metal wall into the troop area. These tractors carry 36 men plus a crew of three, and if an explosion of this nature did occur there could be many fatalities.

Savings Plan

These two conditions resulted in much comment and discussion as to how this problem could be best handled. A communique issued from Washington stated that these two modifications would be made at Albany, Ga., on the East Coast, and Barstow, Calif., on the West. It was discovered that by doing the work here at Camp Lejeune, $1,500 per vehicle could be saved in packing, shipping, unpacking, and the same on the return trip. This saved the taxpayers and "Uncle Sam", for the 71 Amtracs, a total of $108,500.

Specialists from Albany were recruited to get the program off on sound footing, and from there it has been carried on with rewarding results. As plans for the project were drawn up it was discovered that four other modifications could be made to further improve the operation of the LVT-P5's.

The job that has been successfully completed at Camp Lejeune has been carried on throughout the Corps, modifying the LVT-P5's at least as far as the two major modifications. Some circumstances would not permit certain areas to modify these vehicles as far as they wished. The actual modification itself was not the part which made this mission so difficult.

Each Amtrac had to be stripped down to its bare hull before any of the necessary work could begin. According to CWO H. A. Bookhardt, in charge of the shop, the cutting, grinding and welding made this job as demanding as it was. An idea of just how much welding was necessary becomes clear when one realizes that 42 pounds of welding rod material was used on each vehicle. This totals 2,982 pounds of welding rod material used. To complete the work on the landing tractors, approximately 342 hours was required on each vehicle, totaling around 23,000 man-hours for the entire job. The work was done on three types of the $120,000 LVT-P5's, four retriever tractors, nine command radio tractors, and the remaining tractors being of the troop-carrying variety.

A point too easily glossed over when one reports on a story of this type is the men responsible for making the project go. Just this vein of thinking reveals in this story the key to its success. This was no ordinary effort in the line of regular duty; this was an outstanding "team effort." Maj. J. A. Mitchell, commanding officer of Ordnance Maintenance Company, pointed out that the men had to carry their normal work load, in addition to the LVT-P5 project. This was accomplished with no appreciable setback in the normal work progress. To help this effort men came from the Amtrac Bn., welders from the 8th Engineer Bn., Force Troops, Maintenance Engineers from Materiel Supply and Maintenance Bn., as well as technical advice and assistance from Albany. These factors all contributed in getting the effort started and keeping it going in the proper manner. The problem for the men of this program was not a simple one, for they were neither as fully equipped or schooled in this type of job as the men from Albany. However, their attention and effort has brought gratifying results. They have kept with the schedule and by finishing the last Amtrac on Nov. 18 at 0900, they are slightly ahead of time. Congratulations, of course, are due to the people of responsibility: Col. A. J. Roose, Lt. Col. A. L. Sherbondy and Maj. J. A. Mitchell, who have fathered this project to its conclusion.

Well Done

However, a hearty "well done" must be justifiably extended with equal sincerity to the privates, corporals and sergeants who performed the actual work. To sum up this story, it must be concluded that this has been, from top to bottom and beginning to end, a "team effort," and at that, a most successful one.

CUTTING, GRINDING, WELDING—Sgt. J. F. Junker, from Ordnance Maintenance Company, Materiel Supply and Maintenance Bn., performs one of the many jobs subordinate with the LVT-P5 modifications.

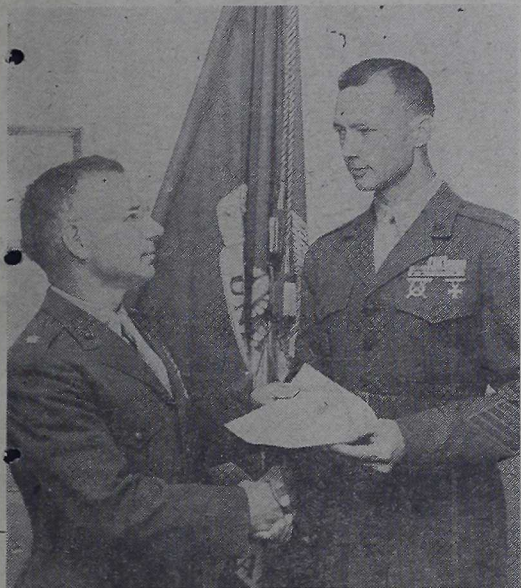

TRALEX 5-60 Next Landing Team Task

The 2nd Bn., Second Marines, Battalion Landing Team, commanded by Lt. Col. Fred F. Eubanks Jr., has been assigned as the Landing Force in TRALEX 5-60. Departing Camp Lejeune on Tuesday for routine landing and training exercises on Vieques, Puerto Rico, the Battalion Landing Team is expected to return about Jan. 17, 1961.

In addition to the 2nd Bn., Second Marines, the BLT includes the following attached elements from the 2nd Marine Division: a battery of artillery, a platoon each of Ontos and Pioneers, and medical and service detachments.

Supporting elements from Force Troops include a platoon each of tanks, trucks and amphibian tractors, along with a detachment from the 2nd Force Service Regiment.

FIELD RADIO EQUIPMENT II, 2532, is designed for Marines as-signed 2531 (field radio operator), 2533 (radiotelegraph operator) and 2539 (radio chief) MOS's.

Instruction covers equipment used at Regimental, Division, Wing and Force levels. It includes in-formation on AN/MRC-55, 83 and 87 radio sets, and the AN/PRC-38 and 41 radio sets. These radio sets are new and will be replacing sets presently in use.

This course is primarily design-ed for Marines with MOS's 2531, 2533 and 2539, but will be of in-terest and value to anyone concerned with communication equipment employment.

This course consists of seven lessons and requires 44 study hours to complete. Reservists can earn 15 retirement credits upon com-pletion.

04.2a—LOGISTICS I. To familiar-ize Marines in MOS 0441 with the principles of logistics. Offers de-tailed instruction in the planning, execution, and supervision of the logistical portion of a tactical plan. 5 lessons, 14 study hours.

Off-Duty Education Courses Announced

The Base Education Office has announced the subjects and regis-tration schedule for off-duty col-lege education offered by East Carolina College.

Registration for the off-duty courses will be as follows: Prelim-inary, Nov. 21-25 except Nov. 24; Official registration will be Nov. 28 to Dec. 5; and the late regis-tration will be from Dec. 6-12. Per-sonnel interested in this program must register in person at Base Education Office in the Camp-The-ater.

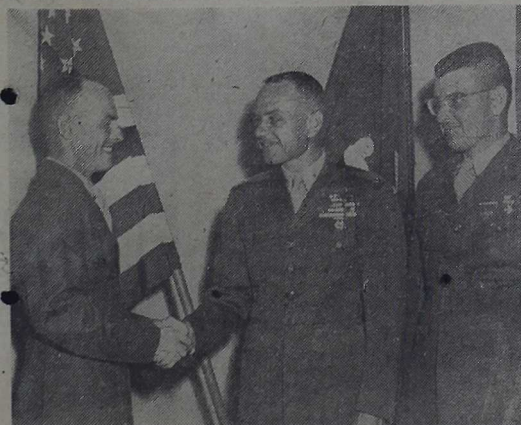

The classes will begin Dec. 5, one night a week, and run for 10 weeks, on the following schedule: Monday, Education 408 (Public School Administration); Tuesday, Business 441 (Management of Small Business); Wednesday, Psy-chology, 325G (Introduction to Psy-chological Testing); and Thursday, History 380G (Modern History of the Middle East).

Unit Returning

The 3rd Bn. (Reinf.), Eighth Marines, will be returning to Camp Lejeune Nov. 29, follow-ing a final weekend in the Car-ibbean, where they have been holding training exercises.

The USS BOXER and USS SPEIGEL GROVE will drop an-chor at Kingston, Jamaica, BWI, while the USS RANKIN, visited Montego Bay, and the USS LO-RAIN COUNTY stopped at Ocho Rios.

Guided tours to points of interest in these ports were ar-ranged for the benefit of Ma-rines and sailors serving aboard the ships. The 3rd Battalion will hold a final landing exercise over Onslow Beach upon their re-turn to the United States.

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE — Sgt. John E. Murry, right, and Cpl. Thomas F. Garvin, both of the Sixth Marines, were cited by their battalion commander, Lt. Col. W. C. Noren, for outstanding performance of duty while under instructions at the 2nd Marine Division's Non-Commissioned Officer Leadership School. Garvin at-tended the school as a lance corporal, and finished first out of a class of 33 with an average of 95.94. He was later promoted to his present rank. Murry, who attended an earlier class, scored 95.81, finishing second out of a class of 41. (Photo by SSgt. L. P. Leblond)

Each Must Decide His Thanksgiving Purpose

The popular conception of Thanksgiving Day is the loaded table and happy crowds watching the big game. This makes an interesting advertisement in the magazines and newspapers but it is far from a true reflection of the actual meaning of Thanksgiving.

Because of the vastness of our country, our millions of citizens with their varied beliefs and background, this day has come to mean something different to each of us. In the beginning it was the simple act of a small group of people who wished to give thanks for surviving a particularly harrowing time.

They prayed to the Almighty for the strength and courage and wisdom to face the dangers of the future.

It is this which gives each of us something in common with other Americans on Thanksgiving.

We too, have, and still do, face harrowing times. We also need strength and wisdom and courage to face an unknown future where the hands of so many are raised against any free peoples.

What do we have to be thankful for?

More things, actually, than can be written about. It is for each of us to decide what we have to be thankful for.

WATCH OUT FOR:

Highway Hypnosis

The road ahead is smooth and straight. The sky is clear the pavement dry. Your car is fairly new and powerful—so smooth it seems to drive itself. It's around noon-time and you roll along the trouble-free highway at 50 or 60 miles an hour.

Suddenly, you run into the rear end of a truck.

What happened?

Even if you survive you'll probably never know. Perhaps they'll say you fell asleep at the wheel. But you were wide awake and rested. Maybe they'll say you were driving too fast. But you were going only 50 or so, legal in North Carolina. So maybe you were following the truck too closely. But you never even saw a truck. The road ahead was clear; you're sure of that.

If you weren't driving and drinking and nothing went wrong with your car, no one can say for sure what made you hit the truck.

But psychologists and some traffic authorities have what they think might be the answer. It's called "highway hypnosis."

State troopers have investigated thousands of accidents easily assignable to highway hypnosis, although no one has defined the term nor, for that matter, even invented it.

Yet no hypnotist could ask for better conditions—complete attention of the driver to the unbroken ribbon of road in front of him.

So the accidents go into the records probably as speeding, following too closely, or falling asleep at the wheel.

Traffic experts are particularly concerned about these mishaps because they are usually severe and very often fatal. Occurring on relatively high speed highways with excellent driving conditions and few of the usual traffic hazards to slow you down and make you drive a little more carefully, the highway hypnosis accident happens when you're hitting 50 mph or more.

One authority has suggested that drivers will have to be "stimulated and excited to the point that the laws of self-preservation will work." What he means is that modern highways have eliminated many of the distractions that formerly kept drivers alert. He points out that by denuding highways of such distractions (signs, lights, etc.) on the theory that it's easier for the motorist to concentrate on his driving, it actually creates a new and far more dangerous hazard from the standpoint of safety.

The ideas of highway engineers keeping our highways somewhat away from civilization by screening from view most of the products of man—these things which are of fundamental interest to human beings—is not sound," says the authority.

That's controversial, to be sure. Still many other experts agree the evidence is good that signs and other roadside objects serve as stimulants to drivers.

Essentially though, prevention of highway hypnosis falls into two distinct classes—features that engineers can build into roads and things you can do yourself to avoid being overcome by monotony.

In the latter case several effective ways have been suggested. Among them: Stop frequently on a long trip and get out of the car for a walk around. Drink a cup of coffee or tea and relax a few minutes.

If you're traveling alone, lower the windows to create a breeze in the car. Even in winter, too much heat can lull you into danger.

Vary your speed every 15 minutes or so on long trips. Driving a steady speed is one of the commonest causes of the drowsiness that's a warning signal of highway hypnosis.

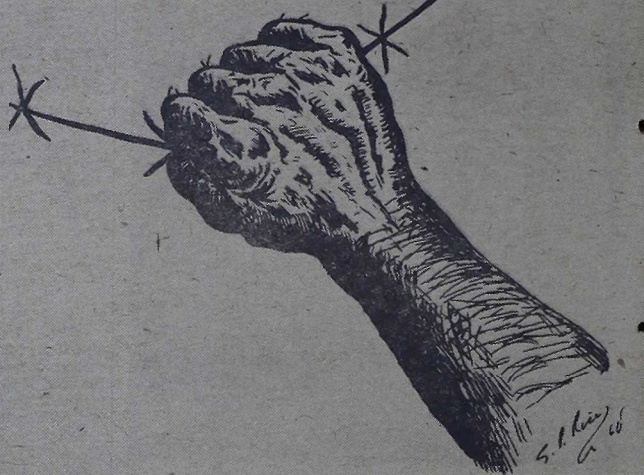

Avoid heavy meals and overeating just before long trips. And stay away from fried, starchy foods.

Maintain a good erect posture while at the wheel. That comfortable slouch can set you up for highway hypnosis.

There are nearly as many ways to keep alert while driving as there are drivers. Some find that reading every sign aloud is helpful. Others note the various types of architecture along the roadside. One fellow drives in his stocking feet.

But such individual devices are not the final answer, of course. There's not likely to be one until electronic highways take over maybe.

If You Ask Me:

WHICH THANKSGIVING STANDS OUT IN YOUR LIFE?

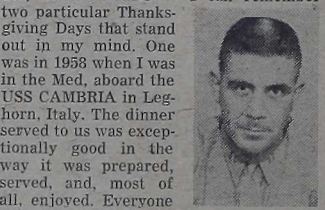

LT. Cmdr. W. S. PALMER, Assistant Base Chaplain — The Thanksgiving of the year

1957 comes to mind as the most unusual for me. On the day before I left my ship in Athens, Greece, and flew to Nice, France, bringing my holiday turkey with me. There I joined my family for an unexpected and very joyful family Thanksgiving dinner. The next day I was back in Athens. Actually, every Thanksgiving stands out to me, since its emphasis on gratitude makes us pause and view the richness of God's blessings. It is like finding buried treasure.

CAPT. A. J. CASTELLANA, H&S Co., 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines — I can remember two particular Thanksgivings that stand out in my mind. One was in 1958 when I was in the Med, aboard the USS CAMBRIA in Leghorn, Italy. The dinner served to us was exceptionally good in the way it was prepared, served, and, most of all, enjoyed. Everyone was most congenial; spirits were unusually high for being away from home. The other Thanksgiving I'll never forget was back in 1949, the day of a successful high school football game. The game was rather rough and I was somewhat "beat up." I was late for a beautiful meal I couldn't enjoy anyway. I spent the entire afternoon nursing my wounds. But I really didn't miss out, for the next day my family prepared a complete turkey dinner especially for me.

LCPL. VERDELLE SEAY, Woman Marine Co., Hq. Bn., MCB — I can't really say that one particular Thanksgiving stands out. They all stand out simply because the day stands out. I remember holidays spent at home, family, friends, there was a lot to be thankful for then. But even more so now, in the service. Last Thanksgiving, I was stationed in Memphis, Tenn. It was a day I shall never forget, to see so many girls, some more than a thousand miles away from home, feeling the meaning of the day so clearly. And the turkey dinner was excellent. Mother couldn't have cooked it much better if she stayed up all night.

CAPT. T. R. HENDERSON, "H" Co., 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines — Offhand, there are two that stand out. In 1948, we played a high school football game in snow up to our knees. This may not sound different or unusual to you, but my home state is Missouri, and it rarely snows there. To go from one extreme to the other, I spent a Thanksgiving Day in Hawaii in 1957. Mind, we don't see a lot of snow in Missouri, but we do know what cold weather is like. You get kind of a "either here nor there" feeling when you're trying to remember home Thanksgivings, listening to 10 or 15 fans. Whatever, there's no question as to how wonderful the meaning of the day is, whether you're swatting flies or sitting near a fireplace. Due to fast living, I suppose, people lose the real idea of the day.

MRS. REX BROOKS, Cashier, Navy Relief Society — During World War II, my fan-ily and I experienced one of the most wonderful Thanksgivings in our lives. I can't remember the exact year, but I know it was during the war because we had the honor of hosting about seven Dutch Marines. I live in Jacksonville and these men were here at the time. Mother and Daddy invited them to our home and explained the customs, tradition and meaning of the day to them. They seemed to be so enthused about the whole thing. For some time afterwards, we received letters from them every November. We learned that one was killed a few years ago. If I live to be 100, I'll never forget those men each time I sit down to a Thanksgiving dinner.

NATALIA by Anne Miller Downes is the story of love and adventure with Alaska in 1867, the year of the Alaska purchase, as the setting.

THE GREEK HISTORIANS by M. J. Finley comprises the essence of Herodotus, Thucydides, Xenophon and Polybius.

SHAKESPEARE'S WOODEN by Leslie Hotson investigates in detail the existing theories of Elizabethan stagecraft and their methods of execution.

Chaplain's Corner

A man walking along the street passed a vacant lot where some boys were playing baseball. He asked one of the youngsters what the score was. "We're behind 18 to nothing," was the answer. "Well," said the man, "I must say you don't look very discouraged." "Discouraged?" the boy said, "Heck no. We haven't come to bat yet!"

There is a thought in this little story that cheer us all. On those days when life seems to be defeating us, when small trials come in a series, we can then think of life as a kind of baseball game and patiently wait our turn at bat. Moreover, we can have the confidence of a winning team, since we have a Captain incapable of failure.

—James T. Callahan,
Chaplain, Sixth Marines.

BOY WHO STOLE A MILLION
 A story about a 12-year-old who waives the formalities of borrowing money from a bank to help his father make ends of a movie between tradition and progress. (135 min., color)

GIANT LEECHES
 A science-fiction thriller starring Ken Clark and Yvette Vickers. (70 min.)

THE TIME MACHINE
 A science-fiction adventure starring Rod Taylor and Yvette Vickers. (111 min.)

WHEN COMEDY WAS KING
 A compilation of silent comedy reels featuring such old favorites as Charlie Chaplin, Buster Keaton, Laurel and Hardy and others. (89 min.)

THE SUBTERRANEANS
 Leslie Caron depicts a troubled young woman who seeks to escape reality by joining pleasure-seeking "bottleheads." George Peppard as a young writer looking for "kicks" among the Bohemian crowd finds real love instead with Miss Caron. The film treats the new Bohemians seriously instead of exploiting them for farce or melodrama as many have in the past. (Color, 98 min.)

BOBBIKINS
 A far-out tale of a little blond-haired 14-year-old who plays a part in a bench friendship with a British cabinet member whose hot tips on the stock market end in the child's father and establish him as a gentleman. Max Bygraves and Shirley Jones star. (97 min.)

CAPTAIN'S TABLE
 John Gregson portrays a captain entrusted to command a passenger liner after spending years of service with the company in charge of cargo vessels. Don O. Sinden plays his first officer whose main interest is romancing all the females aboard. This situation is at first irritating to Gregson until he finds himself involved in "cruise capers." Peggy Cummins has the feminine lead. (98 min.)

 A dated drama which still packs a

JACKSONVILLE — Ageless Cary Grant, swashbuckling. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and the late Victor McLaglen can be seen teamed together at British army buddies in a Hollywood adaptation of Rudyard Kipling's immortal poem, "Gunga Din." Dated as the film is, it still sends chills up one's spine when viewing the action scenes it contains. Don't miss it Wednesday and Thursday, or the free Thanksgiving Day Buffet at 4 p.m.

Sunday, the Woodsmen's Circle will sponsor Hospitality Hour at 4 p.m. The weekend movie is "Retreat Hell," starring Richard Carlson and Frank Lovejoy.

WILMINGTON — The club will feature a special free Thanksgiving Day Buffet at 1 p.m. A dance will be held Sunday at 8:30 p.m., with USO Junior Debs as hostesses. Hospitality Hour is at 4 p.m.

NEW BERN — Club facilities are available every night during the week. On Saturday, the club opens at 2 p.m.

KINSTON — Dancing with USO Junior Hostesses is the program for Saturday night, along with refreshments being served during the dance. Snack time Sunday is at 5:30 p.m.

punch, starring Dick Powell and Evelyn Keyes. (113 min.)

YOUNG JESSIE JAMES
 A number of Americans' most romantic badmen—and one had woman—receive what can be regarded as the usual screen treatment. The only possible exception is Jessie himself, exploited as an adolescent victim of circumstances. Ray Stricklyn as 'Jessie' James and Merry Anders as 'Belle Starr' play the leading roles. (61 min.)

BRAIN EATERS
 A science-fiction thriller starring Edwin Nelson. (78 min.)

VALLEY OF THE REDWOODS
 A seasoned satecracker and his two accomplices, one a good-looking young woman, are fugitives in the "Valley of the Redwoods." The film attempts to prove among other things that among thieves, honor runs a distant second to greed. (78 min.)

DESERT ATTACK
 An action-packed drama starring John Mills. (84 min.)

HELL IS A CITY
 A tough hard-hitting chase melodrama dealing with a manhunt in the slum area of Manchester, England, John Crawford, an escapee from prison, plans with two of his buddies the robbery of a local bookmaker. When Crawford, the crown up in a Chicago orphanage and secures a job as a guard in a forestry reserve. Action, romance and human interest follow. (Color, 85 min.)

FRECKLES
 Martin West stars as Gene Stratton's turn of the century hero of the Northwest woods. Having lost his parents in a fire that also left him physically handicapped, West grows up in an orphanage in a Chicago orphanage and secures a job as a guard in a forestry reserve. Action, romance and human interest follow. (Color, 85 min.)

ALBERT SCHWEITZER
 This film depicts, pictorially and through narrative, outstanding events in the life of world-famed Dr. Albert Schweitzer, cleric, organist and physician. The Doctor was himself, but does not speak; rather Frederick March and Burgess Meredith narrate in the first person. (98 min.)

THE LOST WORLD
 An eccentric zoologist portrayed by veteran Claude Rains returns to London claiming to have discovered the remnants of a prehistoric era on an isolated South American plateau. Although ridiculed, Rains gets financial backing for a return expedition. In the jungle the party encounters terrors of every description. Michael Rennie, Fernando Lamas, Jill St. John and Richard Haydn play supporting roles. (Color, 106 min.)

MAGIC

THIRTEEN FIGHTING MEN
 Grant Williams portrays a captain of a 13-man Union cavalry patrol protecting a box containing $50,000 in gold coin which has to be returned to Washington by Treasury agent Richard Crane. The group naturally encounters enemies intent on stealing the gold, but the latter are not too well organized. Carole Matthews adds the feminine touch. (79 min.)

EXTRAS
MIDWAY PARK — "The Horse Soldiers," starring John Wayne and William Holden will be shown Saturday at 2:15 p.m. Chapter 3 of "King of the Congo" will also be shown on the same program.

CAMP GEIGER — the same matinee feature as that shown at the Midway Park theater on Saturday will be shown on Sunday at the Camp Geiger theater at 2 p.m.

"LEADVILLE, N. C., Nov. 17, 10:30 a.m.—U. S. Marine ground elements advancing toward Leadville . . . heavy artillery barrage engulfs town . . . Marine aircraft begin strike . . ."

"LEADVILLE, N. C., Nov. 17, 10:45 a.m.—Marine begin attack . . . City Hall occupied . . . American force moving rapidly through town . . . aggressor cast into heavy . . ."

"LEADVILLE, N. C., Nov. 17, 11 a.m.—Aggressor defense crumble . . . enemy routed . . . Marines have situation well in hand . . ."

These communiqués describe the "battle" which occurred last Thursday at Camp Lejeune's 1st Infantry Training Regiment (ITR) at the official dedication ceremonies of "Leadville," the new combat town built to replace the old town destroyed by fire last year.

By
Sgt. Fred Moore

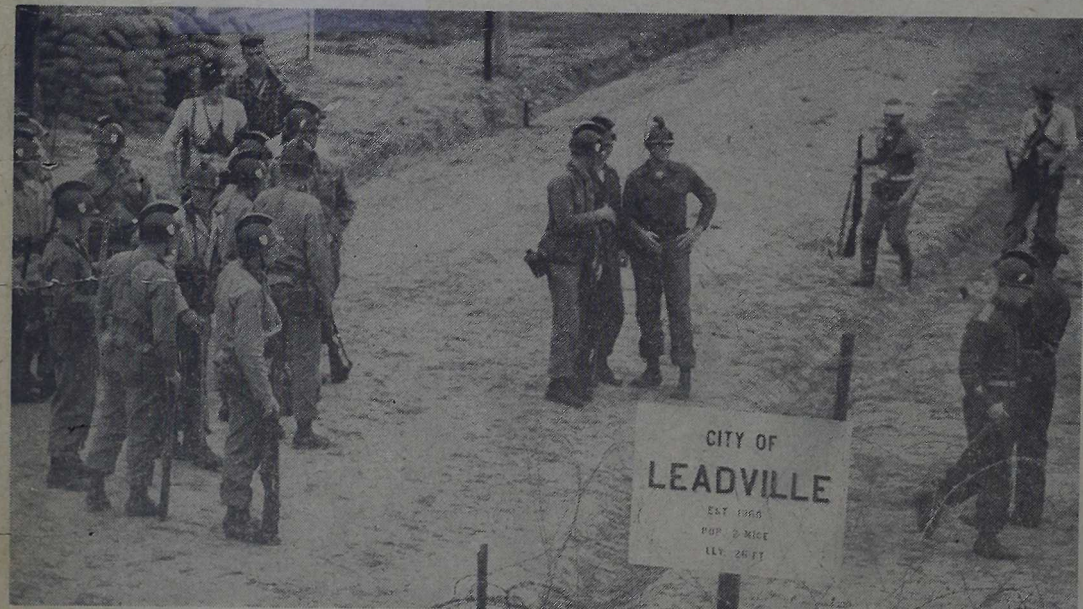

ATTACK—ITR Marines begin the assault on "Leadville" with a blast from a 3.5 rocket launcher after a heavy artillery barrage had pounded the city.

SECURED—A Marine rifleman takes careful aim on one of few remaining aggressors trying to escape. The "Battle of Leadville" is now history.

ROPE CLIMB—Using knotted ropes and grappling hooks, two ITR Marines demonstrate one of the many methods of entering a building at the combat town dedication.

RALLY—Aggressors and partisan fighters gather at the entrance to "Leadville" immediately after occupying the town. Speeches denouncing the invading American forces "worked" the crowd into a frenzied peak.

ed fire, pinning the aggressors. Artillery fire began to pound the city, forcing the aggressors to strike (simulated) by Marine aircraft.

The Marine ground force then moved efficiently through the town, entering the first throwing a hand grenade and entering.

Throughout the assault, aggressors were falling out of windows a long "hell box" streets. To add realism, stripes of rubber, painted on the walls, simulated wounds.

The Marines, all built up aggressors from the town "killed" and immediately set up a further aggression to the town.

The Marine Corps Colonel and "Leadville" was secured.

First Lt. A. W. Elliott, soon leaving force, delivered the address to West, who, in turn, presented a proclamation requesting recognition was read by Capt. B. R. Tamm, Tactics of the ITR S-3 section and commanding general.

Prior to the combat demonstration, B. Luckey, Base commander, opened a Red ribbon stretched across the artery, with a "hell box" (a building) through the town by Col. Gen. H. ing officer, before the actual assault.

A demonstration of the towns, one of the most difficult forms a high degree of skill and technique. Methodist of entering buildings by "muscle" were demonstrated by a 2nd Bn., 1st ITR. Capt. J. J. Wilkins narrated the entire ceremony.

Construction on "Leadville" began year and was completed in 1964. The town were drawn by Camp Lejeune town was done by Marine Corps materials used were from salvaged materials.

The construction project was supervised by Arthur P. Chase and SSgt. Francis the 8th Engineer Battalion. Nine buildings comprising the town structures, 15x15x10-foot buildings, Commerce, Bar Koza and Las second row of buildings are "Red Red Lead Saloon, Last National Bar Boarding House. Those buildings high with two floors.

The last row of buildings, 15 trap doors on the second story, are Cross General Store, C. H. Lin Chow Hand Laundry.

The are three main streets in Trail, Broadway and Plaza. The town is Race Course Main Alley, West Street in honor of and No Name Street.

Primary instructor for the Hicks, who has instructed over 130 of town fighting, said that the handle approximately 220 towns.

Once in the town, the aggressor leader assembled the troops around the flagpole in front of the Chamber of Commerce building and called the partisans to join them. After a speech, in Spanish denouncing the invading American forces and dousing cheers, the rebel flag was raised.

The flag raising was interrupted when a partisan moved into town telling of an imminent attack on the city. The aggressors immediately took defense within the town.

Season Ends Saturday For Gridders

Locals Carry 6-3 Ledger To Fort Eustis During Final Contest Against 'Wheels'

A battered and bruised Lejeune eleven will close out their gridiron season on the road this weekend, traveling to Ft. Eustis, Va., to meet the Eustis "Wheels" Saturday afternoon. Lejeune will go into their final tilt with six wins and three defeats. Ft. Eustis has a season's record of two wins, three losses and two ties thus far. Ft. Eustis, fielding a squad for the first time since 1957, has won over Ft. Lee, 28-6, and Ft. Belvoir, 48-22, while suffering defeats from Mitchel AFB, 8-12; Ft. Lee, 13-19, and Westchester State College, 21-30. Deadlocks at the final gun came in their tilts with Ft. Dix, at 12-12, and the Tampa Athletic Club, 20-20.

According to Eustis scouts viewing the Lejeune-Quantico clash, the "Wheels" are expected to use an aerial attack depending on the arm of Lonnie Holland, a veteran of four seasons with the University of Houston.

Holland's favorite target all season has been right end Charles Robinson, who with only service experience, has scored 42 points. On the ground the soldiers will use their leading ground-gainer, fullback Al Worden, to carry the pigskin. Al, with service experience, also has averaged 4.5 yards per carry this season, with 18 points.

Lejeune, still suffering from the beating they received against Quantico, are spending the majority of the week sharpening their pass defense and smoothing out their running attack.

Halfback Lawrence Fennessy and center Tom DeFlavis, both out with injuries prior to last week's game, are expected back in pads and ready to go Saturday.

The Lejeune forward wall, plagued with injuries all season, will consist of ends Joe Losack and Bob Ware, and tackles Sam Thornton and Norm Benford. At guard will be Pete Winebrake and Sid Metzger with either Dave Gann or Ed Craig handling the pigskin.

The backfield will find All-Marine Mel Anderson and Dennis Pardee at half, Rosario Zacheo at full with Keith Wilson or Vince Cesare in the field general slot.

Lejeune High Places Hopes On Lettermen

Seven returning lettermen will form the nucleus of the Camp Lejeune High School basketball team for the 1960-61 season, head coach Tom McGee announced this week.

Of the seven returnees, Mr. McGee said only two were regulars during the 1959-60 season. During last year's season the Devilpups won only four games while losing 14.

Hoping for a better season, the Pups' starting five will be strengthened by returning senior David Kelley and sophomore Rick Baker. Believed by the coaching staff to aid the squad by their prior experience are returnees Ron Pruiett, King Thathenurst, Chuck Lange, Dick Dube and Louis LeBlanc.

Fifteen games have been scheduled for the coming season with the opening game being played away against Dixon High, Dec. 6. The final game of the season and considered as the rival game of the season will be against Quantico. The contest will be played at Quantico, Feb. 11.

All home games will be played at Goettge Memorial Field House beginning at 7 p.m.

Quantico Scores 36-15 Win; 'Marines' Suffer Third Loss

The mighty midgets of Camp Lejeune saw a three-game winning streak snapped at the hands of a bigger, faster and more experienced Quantico eleven, 36-15, Saturday afternoon at Quantico. The Virginia-based Marines had the edge with their forward wall, out-weighting Lejeune by approximately 20 pounds per man. The injury-plagued locals hit the field with only five players boasting more than one year of college experience, while Quantico carries 33 of 40 with four seasons on the collegiate gridiron.

Quantico started out strong, scoring in every quarter and losing the lead only once to the overpowered Lejeune squad.

First Score

The first score of the tilt came on a 14-yard run off tackle by fullback Bob Marshall with halfback Jerry D'Avolio hitting the mark for the conversion to set the scoreboard at 7-0 in the hands of Quantico.

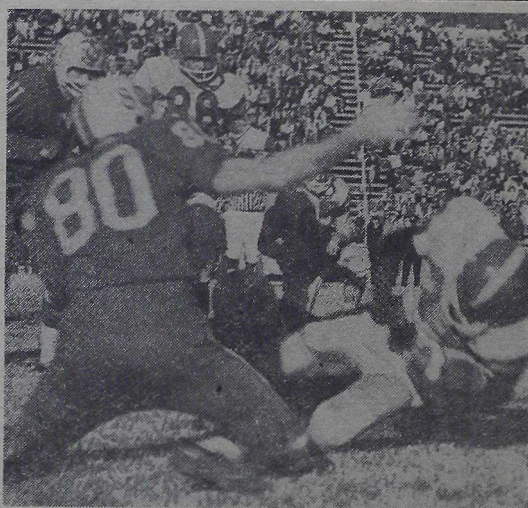

Bob Miller went into the end zone for the second Quantico score from the two-yard line, climaxing a tremendous downfield drive. D'Avolio again booted the pigskin through the uprights to set the lead at 14-0.

The high-spirited Lejeune eleven got back into the ball game late in the second stanza when Keith strong, scoring twice in the remainder of the third period. Their first marker of the stanza came on a 45-yard pass play from Tom Maudlin to player-coach Stu Vaughn. An attempted pass from Maudlin to Vaughn failed for the conversion.

The victors' next score came on a off-tackle run by Bob Miller from five yards out. A plunge by King Dixon for the conversion set the scoreboard at 28-15 to end the third quarter.

Quantico hit the scoreboard again in the final stanza when Maudlin hit Howard Coughron in the end zone. Using the same pass pattern, the Virginians again racked up a two-point conversion to end the clash at 36-15.

HIT HARD—Lejeune's All-Marine halfback Mel Anderson goes down under a host of Quantico defenders during last Saturday's tilt. Anderson found the going tough Saturday, but still scored both Lejeune touchdowns, running for 23 yards and grabbing three passes for 48 yards. (Photo by Sgt. S. E. Bolf)

Wilson hit All-Marine Mel Anderson on a 36-yard pass play. Chuck Rix made use of his educated toe to set the score at 14-7.

With 40 seconds remaining in the first half, the local coaches, hoping for a little luck, sent Chuck Rix in to kick a field goal from his own 46. King Dixon took the kick on his 10-yard line, returning it to the 30 where Quantico had possession at the end of the half.

Lejeune Leads

Still showing their great desire, the fired-up Lejeune eleven edged a one-point lead in the third quarter when Mel Anderson went over from the 12. Chuck Rix faked a conversion kick and passed to end Joe Losack for the two points, making the scoreboard read 15-14 with Lejeune out in front.

Cagers Look Strong In Final Scrimmage

Prior to their opening game, Monday night, Camp Lejeune's cage squad showed their speed and scoring possibilities during a scrimmage game against North Carolina College of Durham, Saturday afternoon at Goettge Memorial Field House.

Led by forward Jack Sullivan with 36 points, the local five edged the visitors 96-91 during an unofficial contest. A returnee from last year's squad, Derek Dickinson, followed Sullivan with 18 points while 6'9" center, Bill Pickens, ripped the cords for 14.

Pickens, playing well under the boards, hit four field goals from the floor while hitting 75 per cent from the free throw line with six for eight.

A newcomer to the Lejeune team, Dick Bailey scored 10 points and showed amazing speed on the court, coupled with accurate passing.

Lejeune jumped into an early eight-point lead and increased their edge to 12 by the half at 50-38. The visiting five hit from the floor in the beginning of the second half, but could not close the gap as the locals stopped their attack in the final period. Lejeune held a 20-point advantage late in the third canto, but saw their lead sliced to five at the final buzzer.

Infantrymen Win Title In Complex Tilts

The Sixth Marines are the champions of the Camp Lejeune-Cherry Point Complex Football League. The Infantrymen clinched the title with a convincing 40-7 victory over the Marine Wing Headquarters Group at Camp Lejeune last Wednesday.

The Cherry Point eleven threw a scare into the new champions by leading the local team until the final minutes of the first half. The Sixth Marines broke the scoring ice late in the first period on a touchdown by Holtsclaw. MW-HG's Hill returned the ensuing kick-off 76 yards to the Sixth Marines 14, from where they scored on the next play. The conversion gave Cherry Point a 7-6 lead.

The Headquarters Group held the local eleven in check until late in the second period. Fletcher culminated a drive by scoring on a roll-out from the 18-yard line to give the Sixth Marines a 12-7 lead at half time.

Four TD's

Re-grouping their attack during the intermission, the Sixth Marines rolled to four second half scores. The touchdowns were tallied by Ferguson on runs of 22 and eight yards, Phillips on a sort buck, and Middlebrookes on a short jump pass from Fletcher.

The big Sixth Marines line once again was a big factor in the victory, holding MWHG to 15 yards rushing. In seven league games, Coach Ray Alberigi's team allowed only 19 points on two touchdowns and two field goals.

The Tenth Marines pulled a mild upset when they defeated Group II 20-0 Saturday morning. The win gave the Cannoneers second place in the final league standings.

First score in the contest was midway through the first period when a bad pass from center enabled Cannoneer Bill Fine to tackle the Group II kicker in the end zone for a safety.

The 2-0 lead stood until Joe Miluski scored for the Tenth Marines in the final two minutes of the second quarter. The extra point by O. D. Jones made the score 9-0 at half time.

Upper Hand

During the second half the Tenth Marines held the upper hand but were unable to muster a sustained drive until the final minute of the game when Jones scored from in close.

Much of the credit for the win must go to the Tenth's defensive unit which allowed the composite team only three first downs and never allowed them to cross the mid-field stripe.

Earlier in the week Force Troops ended their season with a tight 10-8 win over Cherry Point MW-SG-27.

Ralph Brown opened the scoring for Force Troops by booting a 37-yard field goal in the first period. The Lejeune eleven boosted their lead to 10-0 on the last play of the first down. Bill Broughton took a pitchout and ran 80 yards behind fine down-field blocking for the score.

Cagers Pass Century Mark; Smash Fort Story In Opener

Soaring over the century mark, the Camp Lejeune Marines opened their 1960-61 basketball season with an easy 115-87 victory over the Ft. Story "Ducks" Monday night at Goettge Memorial Field House. Six-foot, 4" Co-Captain Jack Sullivan, who holds a string of broken cage records and other honors, paced the Marines with 34 points. Sullivan scored 22 markers in the first half, and appearing briefly in the final half added 12 more.

Sullivan, who was a member of the 1960 Olympic Basketball squad, scored 41 points here last year while playing with Quantico. The tally was one point shy of the field house record set by Dave Beck, now with the Philadelphia Warriors, in 1951.

Veteran Charlie Morrow took runner-up honors in the scoring department for the Marines with nine field goals and a total of 18 points. Little Olin Barton, 5'9", led the visitors with 24.

Pickens Scores First

Big Bill Pickens, 6'9" center, dropped a free throw with two minutes gone in the contest to open up the scoring for Lejeune, with Morrow Sullivan and Derek Dickinson extending the lead to 11-0.

With six minutes gone in the first quarter, Russ Grooms hit on a short jump shot to give the visitors their first tally.

Aided by the fast hands of Dickinson and Dick Bailey and the rebounding of Sullivan and Pickens, the Marine moved into a 29-4 lead midway in the first half. Fort Story's Jim Brown scored five points in succession to close the gap slightly, but Sullivan poured ten points through to keep the locals on top 40-18.

Leading 55-32, Lejeune's Howie Day dropped two points in from the foul line and with ten seconds remaining in the half a steal and hand-off to Glen Sturgill sent the Marines to the dressing room with a 59-32 advantage.

Ft. Story Opens Second Half

Story scored quickly in the first half with Barton hitting on a drive and Bill Lattimer dropping two from outside. The threat was short-lived however, as the Marines surged ahead, 79-49, behind buckets by Sullivan, Morrow, Dickinson and Bailey.

After an exchange of several baskets, Sullivan and Morrow, with help from Don McGorty and Jack Whaland, burned the nets, moving the locals into a 97-69 lead.

With less than six minutes remaining in the contest, 6'7" Fred Lentz tapped one in to hit the 100-mark for Lejeune. The visitors put on a last ditch effort, out-scoring the Marines 18-15 in the final minutes, but the rally fell short with Lentz hitting a three-point shot and foul before the final buzzer ended the game.

'Skins Stretch Lead Behind Eleventh Win

Action in the Boys League Sunday saw the Rams battle the Colts down to the wire before going under, 13-6, and the Redskins proved their dominance of the league by downing a hard-fighting Bear team, 20-0.

The hard-fighting Rams put up a stiff fight, but a few breaks decided the game in favor of the Colts. Keeping the ball around mid-field throughout the first period, the Rams drove deep into Colt territory late in the second quarter, only to lose the ball on downs on the 20-yard line. Two tries at the line netted a first down and when the Rams held on a third down, Paulson punted to the Ram 40. The Rams failed to gain ground and Wooldridge punted to Tom Moore on the Colts' 40-yard line. Picking up key block by Paulson and Billie Clear, Moore raced down the side lines for the first score of the game. The conversion was good and the half ended at 7-0, Colts.

Rams Fail to Rally

Battling back into the game, the Rams picked up six points when, after driving to the Colts' 34-yard line, Rex Wooldridge took a hand-off and went 35 yards for the TD. A try for the PAT failed and the Rams trailed 7-6. The Rams pushed deep into Colt territory, but the Colts held and took over on their 35-yard line. Billie Clear then got a key block, reversed field and, picking up blockers, went all the way for the touchdown. Paulson's attempt for the PAT failed as the game ended 13-6.

Frosty Wooldridge, ace halfback of the Redskins, scored three touchdowns and scored one PAT as the Skins thumped an injury-ridden Bear eleven, 20-0.

Wooldridge Scores Three TD's

Wooldridge raced 37 yards for the first score of the game and then crashed over from the three for the PAT. His second score came on a 20-yard dash in the third period and he scored again in the final quarter after taking a pitch-out on the 39 and swept the left end for the score.

Thanksgiving Day will see the Rams meet the Bears at 9 a.m., and the Redskins against the Colts at 10:30 a.m.

Sophomores Upset Juniors During Powder-Puff Classic

After viewing the Powder-Puff football game held Saturday at Camp Lejeune High School, it is believed that someone here is trying to revolutionize football. Clad in an assortment of bermudas, dungarees and pedal-pushers, the Juniors and Sophomores staged 20 minutes of female gridiron artistry. More than 500 wildly cheering spectators saw Sophomore right halfback Candy Favor score an early second-half touchdown to secure the win for the Red Puff eleven, over the Gold team, 12-7.

Overcoming hair-pulling, scratching and kicking, Miss Favor skirted the right side of the field for 20 yards and the tally.

Scoring early in the first quarter on a long right end run by barefooted junior, quarterback Carol Peck, the Red Puffs connected for the point after touchdown and jumped to a 7-0 lead.

80 yards for the Red Puffs' first touchdown, but a failure of the PAT left them trailing, 7-6.

After loosing ground on several line plays, a successful quarterback sneak good for big yardage set the stage for Miss Favor's touchdown run.

Hunting Permits

Sgt. Joseph T. McCourt, Assistant Game Warden, announced tests for Base Hunting Permits will be administered by the Base Game Warden's office, Bldg. 37, Hadnot Point. Tests will be given Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Best Gridders Selected After Coaches Vote

The Lejeune coaches, having a tough time picking the usually two outstanding players of the week, had to settle for four players this week due to their commendable performances in the Lejeune-Quantico clash.

Picked as the coaches' choice were end Joe Losack and guard Pete Winebrake from the forward wall. All-Marine halfback Mel Anderson and quarterback Keith Wilson from the backfield.

Losack joined the Lejeune squad after having played with Quantico in 1957-58 where he was named All-Marine in '58. Joe was selected as an All-State, Junior College end in 1954 while attending Wharton County Junior College before attending the University of Texas.

Winebrake is completing his second season with the local squad. Pete has two seasons with Wilkes College where he was named the Most Valuable Lineman in 1958. Attending Clarks Summit Abington, Pa., high school, he was selected as All-State in 1957.

Anderson, also in his second year with the Lejeune eleven, was voted the Most Improved Player and selected All-Marine last season. Having no college experience, Mel is the leading ground gainer and scorer on the squad this season. He attended Campbell High School, Ohio, where he was chosen to the All-Steel Valley Conference in 1954-55.

Wilson, a halfback for the Lejeune squad last season, has been an alternate quarterback this season. Keith has four years experience on the gridiron at Kansas State University. He attended West End High School in Birmingham, Ala., where he was chosen as All-City, All-State and All-Southern halfback in 1953.

Marine Dependents See Second FAG Maneuvers

Force Troops Marines and their dependents were guests of the 2nd Field Artillery Group for a direct fire and field demonstration staged by the Cannoneers Saturday. Col. R. D. Wright, commander of 2nd F.A.G., welcomed over 200 guests to the program. The event culminated a two-day operation which included a field exercise and weapons demonstration. Dependents were provided transportation from the Goettge Memorial Field House to the G-7 area, where the artillery unit commanders provided the visitors with a running commentary on the proceedings.

Capt. W. H. Davis' Headquarters Battery demonstrated the .30 cal. and .50 cal. machine guns along with the 3.5 rocket launcher. His unit also introduced the new M14 rifle and M60 machine gun. Capt. W. D. Benton of the Heavy Artillery Rocket Battery introduced the 762mm rocket.

Maj. K. C. Williams' 155mm Howitzer Battery, Maj. F. W. Blough's 155mm Gun Battery and Maj. J. G. Fox's 8-inch Howitzer Battery provided live firing demonstrations of their weapons.

The firing portion of the program was culminated with a demonstration by Capt. W. H. Davis' Headquarters Battery of the 4.5-inch rocket.

Following the live demonstrations, the Marines and their guests were invited to visit the weapons emplacements of the various units. There, battery guides carried out further demonstrations and answered the visitors' many questions.

Undoubtedly, the biggest fans of the day were the youngsters who seemed to have a great time watching the actual firings and climbing

Vehicle Registration System Is Explained

Recent reports from the Provost Marshals Office show that many Camp Lejeune car owners are not complying with regulations regarding registration and change in car owner's status.

Because of this, the PMO has published the following "tips" to automobile owners with vehicles aboard the base.

1. All state license plates will expire between now and April, 1961. Owners must report license plate changes to the Pass and ID Section of the PMO in Bldg. 37.

2. Car owners are required to notify traffic authorities of their new policy and policy number when their insurance expires.

3. Owners must report to another command or discharge from active duty in order to keep records straight.

4. Any alteration in the physical appearance of a car (paint, body lowering, etc.) must be reported to the Provost Marshal's Office.

Operation Santa Claus Nearing Final Stages

The busy hum of the family sewing machine, the clatter of tin snips, hammers banging—all these familiar sounds indicate that the Levasseur family is hard at work on its annual Christmas mission, "Operation Santa Claus." Each year, Marine GySgt. Joseph J. Levasseur and his family of five spend their free time repairing toys for needy children in Camp Lejeune area. Everyone in the family, from Mayetta, his wife, to little four-year-old Debbie helps the gunny with the toys. "Operation Santa Claus" began five years ago when Sergeant Levasseur was stationed at the Marine Corps Supply Center in Albany, Ga. How did the project start? Let Sergeant Levasseur tell about it.

"The kids are really responsible for getting this thing started. They were the inspiration that began 'Operation Santa Claus.' In 1955 they came up with the idea of giving some of their own used toys to some of the less fortunate boys and girls in the area of the Supply Center. The first year, we used only the toys our own children had owned. They were repaired and distributed to only five families. This last year we furnished over a thousand toys to families that might not have had them otherwise."

Able Assistants

Mechanical toys and toys of metal or plastic are usually repaired by Sergeant Levasseur with the able assistance of his five-year-old son Terry. Terry also tries his hand at the painting. Mayetta Levasseur and her four daughters, Gloria 14, Jean 12, Elaine 8, and Debbie are in charge of the doll and stuffed toy department. Elaine is the hair stylist for the project, using comb, brush and scissors to renew the outmoded, tangled wigs. Gloria and Jean make all minor repairs and do the hand sewing on doll clothes and the stuffed animals. Mrs. Levasseur runs the sewing machine on the rag dolls, stuffed toys and any other item needing a great deal of repair work.

Even the Levasseur pets get into the act. Tiger Jane, their year-old tabby cat, is chief supervisor of indoor activities, while the family dog, Tippy Sue, keeps an eye on outdoor aspects of the project.

Full Cooperation

Long hours of work go into this year-round job. Not only the repair work, but picking up the toys to be repaired, the materials with which to do the work, and finally delivering the remodeled toys, all these take up a great deal of time and effort. Many times at different duty stations, people have been kind enough to contribute paint, brushes, wood and other needed gear to keep the project going. This year much of the necessary welding has been done by MSgt. Frank S. Hoffman of the Base Material Battalion. Maj. T. J. Ryder and SSgt. William B. Shadden have helped Sergeant Levasseur with the transport and storage of the toys. The finished toys are being stored in warehouse 1402 until time to distribute them. Members of the Woman Marine Company have also been helping to relocate the dolls for "Operation Santa Claus."

Monetary rewards for the project do not exist. To Sergeant Levasseur and his family, "The look on the face of a child who suddenly finds out there really is a Santa Claus is the finest reward we could possibly ask for."

Anyone wishing to help the Levasseur family with the project may obtain further information by calling Sergeant Levasseur at 7-5772.

MECHANICS AT WORK—GySgt. Joseph J. Levasseur and his son, Terry, 5, work on one of the many toys being repaired during the family's "Operation Santa Claus" project. Terry helps his father on most of the mechanical and plastic toys. He also likes to help with the painting.

RC Chapter Selects Two Top Leaders

Mrs. Robert B. Luckey, wife of the commanding general, Marine Corps Base, has accepted the position of Honorary Chairman of the Red Cross Volunteers at Camp Lejeune. She succeeds Mrs. Sidney S. Wade, who recently moved to Washington. Before leaving, Mrs. Wade was awarded Certificate of Appreciation by the Red Cross for her services with the organization during the past 10 years.

Mrs. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., wife of the commanding general, Marine Corps Troops, has accepted the appointment as Chairman of Volunteers and will direct the over-all programs.

The extensive growth of Red Cross Volunteer services on the base has created the need for this new office. Mrs. Chapman has been active in Red Cross work since Pearl Harbor and during her two years at Camp Lejeune, she has volunteered many hours as Gray Lady in the U. S. Naval Hospital and the blood donor program.

Mrs. R. R. Berling is Administrative Assistant to the Chairman. Her volunteer services and their positions are: Staff Aides, Mrs. A. Lucas; Gray Ladies, Mrs. J. A. Witherspoon; and Blood Program, Mrs. R. M. Lehman.

Thrift Shop Hours

In answer to many inquiries, a complete schedule of hours of operation for the Camp Lejeune Staff NCO Wives Thrift Shop is as follows: Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.; and on Fridays from 9:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

An announcement was made by Mrs. Robert Kristof, president of the club, that the shop will be closed Dec. 16 through Jan. 3.

Junior Wives Meet

Ladies of the Coffee 'n' Confusion Group will hold their December meeting next Friday, Dec. 2, at 10 a.m., in the River Room of the Paradise Point Club. Theme for the morning will be "Just a thought for Christmas."

Each lady is asked to bring her own idea for a gift, decoration or gift-wrapping for the Christmas holidays. These items will be displayed during the meeting. If necessary a complete explanation of how to make the favor or decoration may accompany the idea.

Coffee 'n' Confusion is an activity for all Junior Officers Wives and is sponsored by the Officers Wives Club. No membership dues are required. The only prerequisite is membership in the Officers Wives Club. Women are cordially invited to attend.

School Library Observes Book Week For Children

Last week, more than 1,000 students at Tarawa Terrace School commemorated Children's National Book Week from Nov. 13 through 19. Grades 1 through 7, under the direction of Mrs. Robert McFarlane, librarian, planned a reading growth schedule designed to encourage variety in reading. Over 4,000 books were used during this special instruction in addition to quality magazines, pamphlet files, picture files and phonograph records. Close to 20 bulletin boards were also used throughout the school, stressing the importance of well-rounded library use.

The seven classes were motivated in different ways. All classes with the exception of grade one participated in a weekly "Story Hour." At that time, the students revealed their interests in books to the other children, and at the same time, showed reading comprehension used in grading.

In preparation for this library week, the classes worked on several "gimmicks" to incite young readers toward increased library work. Some of the clever ideas included a puzzle chart, with the names of books in pictures and a colorful mobile suspended from the center of the library depicting famous book characters.

Mrs. McFarlane compiled a reading work chart which the classes used during the library class periods. A few literary choices were: Travel and Transportation; Other Lands; Our Country; Famous People; Holidays; Adventure; Home and School; Bible Stories; Poetry; Sports and Games; Art and Music; Humor and Fantasy; Children; Animals; Health; and Science.

WHAT DO I TAKE NEXT?—That's the question 1st Sgt. John A. Bresette is asking his commanding officer, Maj. P. C. Osterhoudt, of Communication Co., 8th Communication Bn., Force Troops. The first sergeant recently completed his 30th MCI course, 20 of which he finished in nine months.

Well Read Children Make Self Sufficient Individuals

Educators have discovered those who do best in school, business and the professions have one thing in common. They know far more words than the average person. Children learn words by reading or being read to. The children's book sections at the Hadnot Point Central Library and the Montford Point Library contain over 3,000 children's books for the youngest child to the teenager.

Included in this collection are books of adventure, mystery, humor and the arts, stories of animals and nature, science and space, biographies of famous people, great ideas and beliefs, action-packed sports stories, interesting hobbies and crafts and wondrous tales of enchantment for all ages.

'60 Christmas Seal Drive Is Under Way

Onslow County's 1960 Christmas Seal Drive got underway officially last week with the posting at the Jacksonville Post Office of 10,000 letters to area residents.

Each of the letters, delivered to the Post Office by county drive chairman Reverend A. E. Livesay, contained a quantity of colorful Christmas seals for use on this year's packages and greeting cards.

Recipients of the letters are asked to make a contribution in return. All proceeds from the sale of Christmas Seals go to the National Tuberculosis Association for therapy and research to fight this dread killer of thousands annually.

Camp Lejeune personnel who do not receive seals in the mail or who require an additional supply, may obtain them from the TB Association office in Jacksonville, Post Office Box 84 or Telephone 9154.

Speed, Intoxication Top Wreck Causes

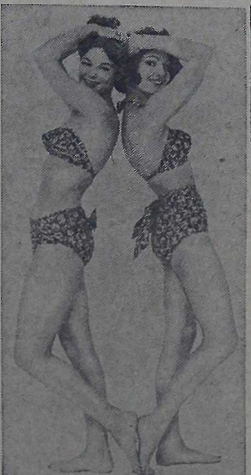

During the week of Nov. 14-20, Marines from the Camp Lejeune area were involved in 23 accidents and eight of these last weekend.

With thousands of Marines on the road as well as millions of other travelers, personnel are urged to drive with care and not become a statistic in the accident files of some traffic bureau.

The eight accidents last week were reported to have been caused by the following: Two, driving too fast for conditions; One, intoxicated driver; One, improper backing; One, reckless driving; and the other three were unavoidable.

The choice of books, either old or new, to suit the taste and interests of your child, is always easier if you can consult the children's librarian in your local public library. Mrs. Thelmas Turnage, children's librarian for the Central Library, and Montford Point Librarian Aaron Farnell are always available for counseling with parents. They are qualified to give advice on any special reading problem a child may have and to offer suggestions for building a child's reading interest. They have complete lists of recommended books for children of all age groups and of all interests. Many books by leading authorities on children's reading are also available in the libraries.

According to Dr. Nancy Larrick, one of the foremost authorities on children's books, "Every time you read aloud to the child, every time you introduce new storybook friends, every time you pay a visit to the library or read books of your own, you are exerting an influence on the child's reading. If you can provide him with continuing delight in reading, you are contributing to his development as a happy, self-sufficient individual."

Sports, Self-Education And Religion Make Bresette 'An Outstanding First Sergeant'

First Sgt. John A. Bresette of Communication Co., 8th Communication Bn., is, in the words of his commanding officer, "one of the most outstanding first sergeants I have served in the Marine Corps." "This is emphasized," Maj. P. C. Osterhoudt went on to say "by the two letters which Sergeant Bresette received this month and by his past record in the Corps." Sergeant Bresette completed his 30th MCI course this month, and is currently working on the last subcourse to

Unit Families Send Christmas Presents To Needy European

The 1st Bn., (Reinf.), Second Marines, 2nd Division, will be away from home this Christmas but as the Marine ambassadors of goodwill in the Mediterranean, they will carry the spirit of the Yuletide season with them. The unit, which left for the Mediterranean recently, is carrying toys for needy European children.

In response to a letter, the office of Chaplain R. F. Titely, who originated the idea in line with the President's "People to People Program," soon looked like toy land during Christmas week.

"I am truly grateful to the wives and relatives of the men of this Battalion Landing Team," said Chaplain Titely. "They acted promptly to our request and by so doing have shown the American spirit in action."

The money was used to buy more toys and clothing which have been added to the others.

Cub Scouts Meet

Cub Scout Pack 190 will hold its monthly meeting in the Knox Scout Hut at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday.

the Junior Officer's Extension Course from Marine Corps Schools, Quantico.

In addition, he has completed the Communication Officer's Extension Course and the Basic Officer's Extension Course, both offered by the Extension School, Marine Corps Schools.

Sergeant Bresette complete 20 MCI courses in the nine-month period from April to December, 1958.

Maj. Gen. R. B. Luckey, commanding general of Marine Corps Base, recently sent Sergeant Bresette a letter of appreciation for his work in the Camp Lejeune Athletic Program. "Your interest and participation in the Youth Athletic Program of the Camp Lejeune Boys League was exceptional and exceeded that which is normally expected," the letter stated in part.

Athletics

The first sergeant served as umpire and referee during off-duty hours for baseball and football games of the Boys League during the past two years. "... you have endeavored to implant honesty, loyalty and the importance of teamwork—traits which are of utmost importance in good character building and the development of these youngsters as leaders of tomorrow," the general continued.

"I wish to congratulate you on the respect and admiration you have won, both from the youngsters and the adults, for your display of skill, tireless efforts, and endless patience in teaching the youngsters the basic fundamentals of the game. By your conduct, you have contributed materially to the successful accomplishment of the mission of the Camp Lejeune Boys League," General Luckey concluded in his letter.

Religion

Sergeant Bresette's off-duty hours are not occupied solely with athletic events, as indicated by the letter which he received this week from the Camp Lejeune Protestant chaplain, Lt. Cmdr. Wendell S. Palmer.

Chaplain Palmer wrote: "I wish to take this opportunity to express our extreme gratitude for your work as Superintendent of the Tarawa Terrace Sunday School."

"You have performed a difficult and often trying task in keeping with the best traditions of Christian Service. Your dedication and leadership have provided us with a lasting source of inspiration."

Sergeant Bresette's record shows an intense interest in the intramural sports programs of the Marine Corps. He played on intramural softball teams for eight years as a pitcher with the 1st Marine Division, Tenth Marines and the 8th Engineer Bn., Force Troops.

For five years, he managed the softball teams of the Fourth Marines, 1st Marine Division, and the 8th Engineers. He was backfield coach for the 8th Engineer tackle football team for two years. The 1953 team was the Camp Lejeune intramural champion.

In addition to boxing for four years in Marine Corps sponsored matches, he served a year as boxing coach for the Tenth Marines.

Sergeant Bresette, who says his hobby is now motion picture photography, is being transferred to the 3rd Marine Division this month.

Gen. Luckey Is Speaker At TM Meeting

Maj. Gen. Robert B. Luckey

Base commanding general, was guest speaker at the meeting last night of Paradise Point Club No. 261 of Toastmasters International. The meeting was presided over by Toastmaster TM E. B. Cook, president of the club.

Toastmasters International is an organization designed to promote fellowship and good will and at the same time, give practice to the vital art of conversation.

Following prepared speeches by TM J. N. Trone, TM G. J. Haskins and TM W. E. Ludwick, General Luckey was introduced. The general emphasized the need for a larger membership and the value of belonging to a Toastmasters club. He was displeased at the small number of Marines in the club but happy that interest was high among the members present, and also pleased with the speakers who appeared.

The general recognized the need for an NCO Toastmasters Club. Presently, only one such organization exists, the Marine Corps Air Facility Club. He said that he would assist any efforts in establishing more NCO clubs.

Information on Toastmasters International, for those interested in joining the established clubs or for organizing a new one, may be obtained from TM E. B. Cook, phone 7-3921.
