NCO's Plan Club Opening December 31

New Year's Eve has been recommended as the opening date for the proposed Noncommissioned Officers Club. The recommendation was made at the club's Board of Governors meeting last week.

Immediate plans call for renovation of Bldg. 425. The planning committee, headed by Sgt. R. L. Harper, presented proposed plans for redecorating the club. Previously the committee had visited military and civilian clubs in the area to get ideas for the NCO Club.

The design recommended by the committee is similar to the Morehead City Country Club. Included will be a bowling alley, which is now in existence, plus a stag bar, dining room and ballroom. A package sales store will also be installed in the club.

A constitution, by-laws and house rules for the club have been prepared and submitted to the commanding general for approval, according to the president of the board, Sgt. R. B. Travers.

Sgt. Maj. H. G. Kline, Force Troops sergeant major, spoke briefly on the responsibilities of a Board of Governors and some of the problems they will face.

Capt. L. W. Kuchler, club advisor, was also present at the meeting.

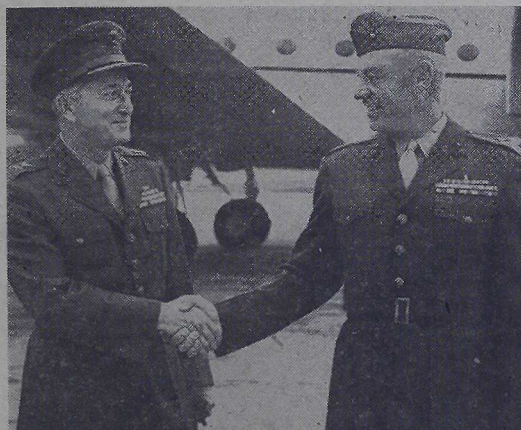

Sergeant Travers has asked that all NCO's contact their unit representatives on the board. "We are going to need help to get the work completed and we also need to know more about what the men want," he said.

Inspector General Arrives; Begins Annual Inspection

The Inspector General of the Marine Corps arrived here last Sunday to begin the annual inspection of the 2nd Marine Division, Force Troops and the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune. Maj. Gen. James M. Masters Sr., Inspector General, was greeted on his arrival by Brig. Gen. Odell M. Conoley, assistant Division commander.

2nd Division. General Masters is a veteran of World War II and Korea. He was awarded the Navy Cross for extraordinary heroism on Okinawa while serving as executive officer of the Seventh Marines.

The general, accompanied by a 45-member staff, will be at Camp Lejeune inspecting the Tri-Command until about Dec. 9.

While inspecting the various units of the Lejeune-based commands, the IG team will examine the operations of the following activities: Auditors, Communications - Electronics, Disbursing, Management Engineer, Maintenance, Marine Exchange, Motor Transport, Personnel, Postal, Special Services, Supply, Training, and Woman Marines.

Briefing

Monday, the Inspector and his staff attended a briefing in the Camp Theater where they were briefed on various units to be inspected and to set up an inspection schedule for the Tri-Command.

At this briefing, General Masters named Maj. Gen. R. B. Luckey, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, as "the most inspected general for 1960." General Luckey was commanding general of the 3rd Marine Division when the Inspector General inspected the Division earlier this year.

Monday, the inspectors hit Headquarters Company and Motor Transport Company of Headquarters Battalion, MCB, and Headquarters Company and the Second Tank Battalion, Force Troops.

On the inspection schedule for Tuesday were Support Company "A" and Support Company "B," Headquarters Battalion, MCB, and the Second Field Artillery Group of Force Troops.

Yesterday, one team inspected MP Company, Brig Section, and Engineer School, MCB, and another team inspected the Eighth Engineer Battalion of Force Troops.

Information pertaining to the inspection of the 2nd Division was not available.

Staff Members

Among the members of the inspecting staff are: Colonels J. H. Brickley, H. G. Dalton, J. D. Howard and J. Leffers. Lieutenant colonels in the party are E. P. Dunn, (See INSPECTOR GENERAL, Page 12)

600 Miles Authorized For 72-96 Hour Passes

Pleasure-seeking Camp Lejeune personnel this week were authorized to increase distance of travel on normal and special liberty. An amendment to Base Regulations distributed Tuesday pushed back the limits of travel to a radius of 600 miles while on 72 or 96-hour special liberty. The regulations also extend to an 85-mile radius the limit military personnel may travel from Lejeune while on normal overnight liberty. The overnight limitation had formerly restricted travel to a 50-mile radius.

Easing of the limitations means that Lejeune personnel on normal weekend or 48-hour special liberty may travel to points within an area encompassed by a line drawn on the map from Savannah to Augusta, Ga., Asheville, N. C., Charleston, W. Va., and Baltimore, Md. Previous limitations had restricted travel to points within a line drawn from Savannah to Columbia S. C., Charlotte, N. C., Wytheville, Roanoke and Harrisonburg, Va., and Washington, D. C.

Unlike the old, the new regulations spell out specific travel distance limitations for 72-hour liberty bounds. These distances and the new limitations for 96-hour passes are identical in the new order.

Jacksonville, Fla. Lejeuners with a 96 or 72-hour pass in pocket may cruise to such far away places as may be encompassed by a line drawn on the map from Jacksonville, Fla., to Macon, Atlanta, Chattanooga, Huntington, W. Va., Pittsburgh and New York City. Specific distance for such liberty travel is a radius of 600 miles, (See TRAVEL LIMITS, Page 2)

United Fund Goal Topped By First ITR

Camp Lejeune Marines have exceeded their goal in the 1960 Onslow County-Camp Lejeune United Fund Drive. Assigned a quota of $80,000 for the annual campaign, the Lejeune-based commands had exceeded that figure by over $350 when final tabulations were completed this week.

The Onslow County portion of the drive is still in progress with officials reporting hopes of early attainment of the $20,000 county-wide goal.

High unit in contributions at the Base was the 1st Infantry Training Regiment with $16,050.41, 244 per cent of their quota.

Lt. Col. W. G. Hopkins, United Fund Chairman for Camp Lejeune, said, "I wish to express my appreciation to the unit chairman and the unit key men for their help in attaining the goal for Camp Lejeune. I also wish to thank the unit commanders for their outstanding cooperation which attributed to the success of the drive."

This year's drive at Lejeune officially opened on Sept. 27. Maj. B. W. Clarke served as Division co-chairman, Maj. W. L. Kay as co-chairman of the Force Troops drive, Capt. C. W. Delaughter at the Marine Corps Air Facility, and Maj. W. H. McCormack acted as Base co-chairman. Mr. M. A. Califano was in charge of the civilian employee's portion of the drive.

Postal Facilities

Beginning today, Central Exchange shoppers will be able to mail packages directly from the store through a post office extension located next to the gift-wrapping counter. The extension has been set up for the Christmas rush on outgoing packages and will continue through Dec. 24. Any size or shape package will be accepted.

Central Exchange Christmas hours are as follows: Mondays, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Tuesdays and Fridays, 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Wednesdays and Thursdays, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; and on Saturdays, 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Holiday Routine Regarding Leave, Liberty Announced

Leave and liberty dates for the upcoming Christmas and New Year holidays for Marine Corps Base personnel have been published in Base Bulletin 1050. Personnel will be divided into two groups for leave. Each group will not exceed 50 per cent of each unit. Also, Camp Lejeune Marines were warned not to depend on Military Air Transport Service for transportation to and from home on holiday leaves. Marine Corps Bulletin 4631 advises that "... space available for personnel traveling in an ordinary leave status is practically nonexistent." The bulletin also emphasized that no reservation requests would receive special treatment and no Marines' names would be placed on waiting lists in advance.

Marines considering travel beyond the continental United States will be required to have sufficient funds to handle costs of commercial travel in the event they are flying MATS on a space available basis and suddenly find themselves pre-empted by personnel on official orders.

Holiday routine will prevail within the Base on Sunday and Monday, Dec. 25 and 26, and on Sunday and Monday, Jan. 1 and 2. Extended liberty will be granted from 6 a.m. Dec. 24 to 8 p.m. Dec. 27 and from 6 a.m. Dec. 31 to 8 p.m. Jan. 3.

No member of Marine Corps Base will be granted both leave and extended liberty. Liberty will commence and expire at the regular time for personnel granted normal liberty during the holiday routine specified.

Christmas leave will begin at 8 a.m. Dec. 17 for group one and end at 7:30 a.m. Dec. 23. Group two will leave at 8 a.m. Dec. 18 and return at 7:30 a.m. Dec. 29. Personnel on New Year's leave will depart at 8 p.m. on either Dec. 28 or 29 and return at 7:30 a.m. on Jan. 8 or 9.

Travel Limits

to include the above-listed entertainment Meccas.

Before launching on one of these excursions, enlisted Marines E-5 and below must have in their possession an Armed Forces Liberty Pass which has been duly executed. This does not include routine, over-night liberty, for which the standard Liberty Card will suffice. Officers and staff noncommissioned officers are not required to have special liberty passes except when travel is to be through an area where regulations of another service require passes.

Ground Only

The limitations apply to ground travel only. For air travel, limits are extended to any metropolitan area within the continental U. S. served by a regularly scheduled airline. Reservations must be secured in advance.

To assure safety and timely return of broke but happy troops, the new regulation authorizes commanding officers to reduce the travel radius when considered necessary. This reduction would be based on such factors as mode of transportation and prevailing weather at the time of travel.

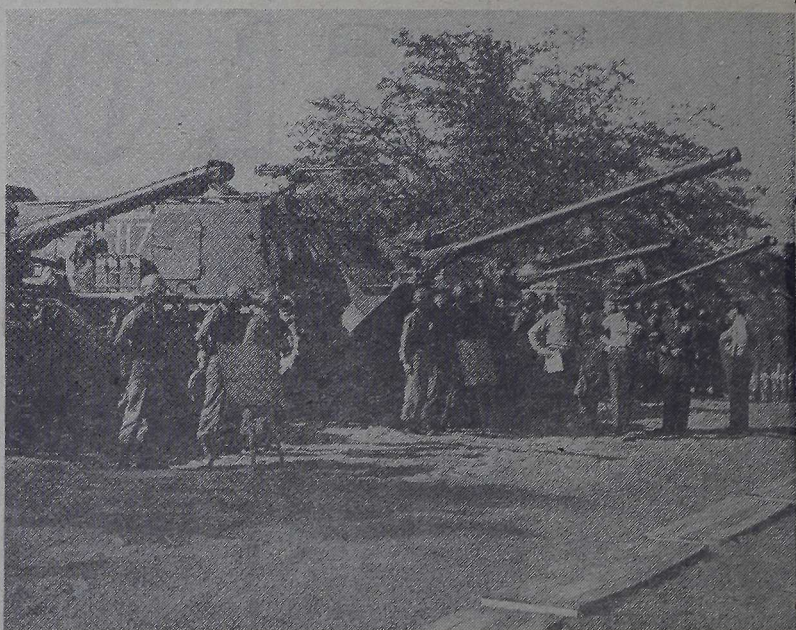

According to the new Base Regs, no individual will be authorized more than one 96 during any calendar month.

during Luckey Day at Force Troops last week. The longest "tube" in the background belongs to the new 103 tank and its 120mm gun.

Base Commanding General Views Force Troops Display

Maj. Gen. Robert B. Luckey, commanding general of Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, accepted an invitation from Brig. Gen. L. F. Chapman Jr. to visit Force Troops units last week. Since General Luckey commanded Force Troops in 1954 and 1955, it has been reorganized to complement the lighter and more mobile Marine infantry divisions. After viewing displays and demonstrations by the 20 Force Troops specialized units, General Luckey told General Chapman, Force

Troops commanding general.

"I am greatly impressed with the over-all combat readiness of Force Troops units. Each Marine in Force Troops is completely capable of fulfilling his primary mission when called on to do so."

The visit was designed to familiarize General Luckey with the current organization, equipment and mission of Force Troops.

Displays Inspected

After welcoming ceremonies at Force Troops Headquarters, General Luckey inspected displays by the 2nd Counter-Intelligence Team, the 2nd Composite Interrogator-Translator Team, 2nd Photo Interpretation Team, 2nd Hospital Company, 2nd Topographic Company, 2nd Separate Surgical Company, 4th Dental Company, 2nd Composite Radio Company, 2nd Bridge Company, 2nd Provisional Marine Aggressor Company, and 2nd Force Reconnaissance.

The Communication School and the Atomic, Biological and Chemical Warfare School of Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic Fleet, also held a briefing and display for the visiting general.

The 2nd Tank Battalion demonstrated its tank trainer and displayed its new 103 tank, which mounts a 120mm gun.

Second Field Artillery Group displayed an array of mobile, long-range artillery, among them the Honest John rocket, 8-inch howitzer, 155mm gun, 155mm howitzer and the 4.5-inch rocket.

Demonstration

After touring the 8th Engineer stockade, General Luckey saw a demonstration by the 8th Communication Battalion. The battalion's Construction Platoon demonstrated the current, rapid method of erecting telephone poles and the procedures involved in cable splicing.

Second ANGLICO and the 2nd Amphibian Tractor Battalion displayed various equipment and methods of operation.

After spending the day with specialized units, General Luckey commented, "Force Troops is combat-ready."

Chapel Fund Thanked For $1,000 Check

Two weeks ago, a letter was received by Maj. Gen. Robert B. Luckey, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, from Lt. Gen. E. W. Snedeker, commandant, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., in appreciation for the $1,000 check given to the Marine Memorial Chapel there from Lejeune Catholic and Protestant Chapel Funds. The checks were sent to the Chapel to be deposited in the Chapel Window Fund. The window which this money will install is to be designated as coming from "The Congregations of the Military Chapels, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina."

In his letter of appreciation, General Snedeker states:

"We are deeply grateful to you and to the Commanding Generals of the 2nd Marine Division and Force Troops for your cooperation in presenting the Memorial Chapel Window project to your commands. Please express our sincere appreciation to all of your chaplains and to congregations of your chapels for their generous response."

"All Marines who have served at Camp Lejeune, or with the World War II Divisions in the Pacific, glory in the beauty of the stained glass which graces the windows of your chapels. It is especially fitting therefore that from the congregations of your chapels we should receive the money to place a window in the Marine Memorial Chapel."

M-14 Phase-In To Begin During FY61

Phase-in of the M14 rifle and M60 machine gun of the 7.62mm small arms weapons group will begin in the Marine Corps during the fiscal year, 1961. Headquarters Marine Corps has announced.

Priority of distribution to field activities has already been established.

Gen. David M. Shoup, Commandant of the Marine Corps, has provided for training of infantry weapons armors for the 7.62mm group in formal schools. In addition, provisions have been made for early distribution of the weapon to Recruit Depots and Infantry Training regiments to provide instruction at the earliest practical date.

Field Manuals and Technical Manuals for the 7.62mm group have been published by the U. S. Army and have already received their normal distribution in the Marine Corps. Graphic training aids and training films are in production and will be distributed from Headquarters Marine Corps to field activities as they become available. Operable transparencies and 21 scale working models of the M14 rifle and M60 machine gun are undergoing service tests.

Sixteen Marines attended the first class of the Camp-Lejeune Marine Flying Club's new ground school. GySgt. D. R. Wells, a commercial pilot and instructor who is conducting the school, said response was better than expected. Wells also said the Flying Club has received a number of text books for ground school and navigational plotters. The book deals with navigation, meteorology and general aviation subjects.

The ground school course is designed to prepare student pilots for the Federal Aviation Agency's written Private Pilot's Examination. Club officials have announced, however, that membership in the Flying Club is not necessary to attend the ground school. The classes meet from 7 to 9 p.m. each Tuesday night in Bldg. 535. CONGRATULATIONS—Lt. Col. Dene T. Harp, commanding officer, 3rd Bn., Tenth Marines, congratulates HM3 Joseph Nieto upon his promotion to his 1st Lt. rank.

If You Ask Me:

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF
HAVING A NONCOMMISSIONED
OFFICERS CLUB?

SSGT. THADDEUS McCOLLUM, Support Co. "A," Hq. Bn., MCB — NCO's definitely rate the privilege of having their own separate club. This will eliminate a lot of confusion that presently exists in service clubs where one room is set aside for NCO's. Persons of lower rank are tempted to peek their heads in to see what's going on, and before you know it, you've got a fight on your hands. Most E-4's and E-5's are much more mature, a lot married... they deserve a place of their own where they could sit and relax, dance, possibly enjoy a mixed drink and be rid of any inconveniences. The NCO's would probably take more pride in their own club. Funds could go toward improvement. One last thing, it makes the men feel important because of their rank privileges.

Sgt. W. J. RUSH, Support Co. "B," Hq. Bn., MCB — By setting up a club especially for NCO's and one for those of lesser rank, there will be a lot more harmony. Everyone will be equal in each group, doing away with rank friction during liberty. Another thing, a separate NCO Club is a big morale builder for NCO's. They can be by themselves. I believe you can't work in the same office or field with a private of private first class and expect to pull liberty with him the same evening. The relationship just isn't the same during working hours as it would be if the two men knew each other on a corporal-private basis. If we had a separate place, we'd have a much better chance of getting good entertainment, good food and drinks. It would be operated on a higher level.

SGT. ROBERT R. BURZINSKI, Motor Transport Co., Hq. Bn., MCB — Being an

NCO, I like to keep company with people my age and my rank bracket. From what I've seen and heard, most NCO's are more sensible in the way they think and act. One of the things wrong with the Marine Corps is that there's too much close association with lower and higher rank. In this new club, a variety of food should be served. Mixed drinks, good entertainment will be provided. They could even get into stage shows. However they decide to operate it, I'm all for NCO's getting a club of their own. They deserve the privilege, they need being looked up to. Respect for rank is slowly being lost. This might do something to bring it back.

SSGT. ROBERT C. FRANCO, 2nd Tank Bn., Force Troops — A separate NCO

Club is a good idea. The atmosphere for our E-4's and E-5's will be greatly improved. This, they deserve. They should feature dance bands weekly, direct the management of the new club somewhat like the Staff NCO Clubs. I think the patronization at the service clubs is not at its best because there isn't that much to offer. About the only thing you can do is drink, shout and raise a lot of "noise." One thing I am strongly in favor of is bringing civilian women aboard the Base. This could be done through the USO, possibly. The Woman Marines are fine company during liberty, but, let's face it, there just aren't enough to go around. No matter what, a man's liberty is much more enjoyable and the atmosphere isn't as loud when there are ladies present. Another thing, quite a number of NCO's are married. They need a nice place to bring their

New NCO Club Receives Whole-Hearted Support

The proposed Noncommissioned Officers Club is regarded with enthusiasm on practically every level at Camp Lejeune. The NCO's themselves are naturally enthusiastic but the response to the idea by the officers and Staff NCO's has been overwhelming.

In addition to welcoming the idea of a club for NCO's, the Staff NCO's have offered advice and assistance. The NCO's realize the problems they face and the fact that their success or failure will have a great deal of bearing on other such clubs in the future. The NCO's are confident of their ability to handle the situation and this opinion is echoed by their Staff NCO's and officers.

That NCO's rate additional privileges is an accepted fact in the Marine Corps. The formation of the NCO Club is a concrete step taken to show that such privileges are being given the NCO.

Age and marital status play important roles in the idea of the NCO Club. Sergeants E-5, who under the old system would have been staff sergeants, are for the most part married, mature career Marines. The NCO Club will give them a place to entertain their families and affords the same facilities to the bachelor NCO as well as privacy and association with Marines of his own age and grade.

By assuring NCO's the privileges their rank warrants, the prestige of the NCO is enhanced. This has a very high flown sound, but the NCO will feel and act more like a non-commissioned officer because of it.

The GLOBE applauds the Commandant, the Corps and the officers and Marines at Camp Lejeune for their recognition of the needs of the NCO and the efforts on their behalf.

Now's The Time For Money Plans

This is an ideal time of year to do some hard, unwishful thinking about money.

How much do you plan to spend in the months ahead? Will you have it to spend? If not, where will you get it? How will you get it?

Maybe you'll rent it. Rent money. Well, that's what you do when you buy things on time or get money from a bank or a loan company. So the question to ask yourself is the same you ask when looking for an apartment or a house—Can I afford the rent?

The thing about credit today—a nice, but often not-so-nice thing—is that for the average man, in or out of the service, it's so remarkably easy to get. People are so darned eager to extend it. They make it so easy.

Is there anything basically wrong with credit? Certainly not. Our national economy is based on it. Without credit the American family would not now enjoy the highest living standard on earth. Moreover, credit is trust and it is a good feeling to know business and banking people trust you; so good that it's a real pleasure to avail yourself of credit.

But too often there comes a time of reckoning. Because of credit, a man is in debt and somehow he can't get out of it. In trying to, he just finds himself in deeper. That's when he regrets the delicious ease with which he obtained credit and wishes he'd calculated better on his ability to repay.

December's rolled around and it's the heavy-spending month—the best time for a man to sit down with his personal or family budget and figure out not how much credit he can get, but how much he can afford. Otherwise, he may be building to a time when he needs it the most and it isn't forthcoming.

New Books

These books are available at the Central Library, Bldg. 62, or through request from area branches at Montford Point, Courthouse Bay, Rifle Range and the Tenth Marines. Books may be reserved by telephone.

SOVIET DESIGN FOR A WORLD STATE by Elliot R. Goodman reduces to concrete terms the meanings concealed in the commonly repeated, but seldom examined, clichés about Soviet purposes and goals and considers Soviet methods for creating their world state.

NEXT STOP—PARADISE by Marke Hlasko is a moving novel of contemporary Poland.

JUMBOS AND JACKASSES by Edwin Palmer Hoyt Jr. is a popular history of the political wars—Democratic versus Republican issues, leaders, compromises, achievements, balloons and brickbats.

THE MONITOR AFFAIR by Charence Budington Kelland is a novel of espionage and romance and it is also the story of the amazing ship that saved the Union.

Chaplain's Corner

Dr. Halford Luccock in his book, "Unfinished Business," tells us of an experience of a 16th century monarch. It seems that when Charles V, the Holy Roman Emperor, retired, he spent six years in his palace in Spain, trying to make six clocks tick together. He could not do it. Then remembering the problems of Europe, he said, "How can I make six nations tick together?"

It is a strange picture of an old king evidently with his mind impaired, putting in the days and years at the momentous task of trying to make clocks tick together.

It seems an impossible task, and in his day it was. But Western Telegraph Company does it every day, and makes not only six clocks tick together, but makes many times 60,000 clocks tick together. It does the trick by calling in the sky, the sun and the stars. The clocks all tick together because they are regulated by astronomy. The time comes from the Naval Observatory in Washington, and the clocks have the same time because they all get their time from the heavens.

This is a truth that has application in many areas of life. Particularly in the family do we find such a need. In a modern family we often find each member going his or her own selfish way when in reality they should be giving their best to the welfare of the family. When God is the unseen guest in the home the members "tick" together. Devotional services in accordance with the religious persuasions of the family help to create this common ground of experience.

The same is true of nations of the world. Each tends to tick at its own time. Only by finding a common compulsion to action, in something larger than their own advantage—that is, in the righteousness and justice of God—will they ever tick together.

—Chaplain Richard K. Tiley.

BRAIN EATERS
A science-fiction thriller starring Edwina Nelson. (78 min.)
VALLEY OF THE REDWOODS
A seasoned safecracker and his two accomplices, one a good-looking young woman are fugitives in the "Valley of the Redwoods." The trio attempts to prove among other things that among thieves, honor runs a distant second to greed. (78 min.)

DESERT ATTACK
An action-packed drama starring John Mills. (84 min.)

HELL IS A CITY
A tough hard-hitting chase melodrama dealing with a manhunt in the slum area of Manchester, England. John Crawford, an escapee from prison, plans with two of his buddies the robbery of a local bookmaker. While committing the crime, a few things get out of hand and Crawford becomes involved in more than he bargained for. Billie Whitelaw and Maxine Audley provide the feminine interest.

FRECKLES
Martin West stars as Gene Stratton, a teen-ager who grows up in the North west woods. Having lost his parents in a fire that also left him physically handicapped, West, as Freckles, has grown up in a Chicago slum. He secures a job as a guard in a forestry reserve. Action, romance and human interest follow. (Color, 85 min.)
ALBERT SCHWEITZER
This film depicts, pictorially and through narration, outstanding events in the life of world-famed Dr. Albert Schweitzer, cleric, organist and physician. The Doctor appears as himself, but does not speak, rather Fredrick March and Burgess Meredith narrate in the first person. (98 min.)

THE LOST WORLD
An eccentric mad scientist portrayed by veteran Claude Rains returns to London claiming to have discovered the remnants of a pre-historic era on an isolated South American plateau. Although rich and famous give financial backing for a return expedition, in the jungle the party encounters terrors of every description. Michael Rennie, Fernando Lamas, Jill St. John and Richard Haydn play supporting roles. (Color, 106 min.)

GREEN MAGIC

THIRTEEN FIGHTING MEN
Grant Williams portrays a captain of a 13-man Union cavalry patrol protecting a box containing $50,000 in gold coin which has to be returned to Washington by Treasury agent Richard Crane. The group naturally encounters enemies intent on stealing the gold, but the latter are not too well equipped. Carole Mathews adds the feminine touch. (79 min.)

OCEAN'S 11
A daring plot to rob five of the world's most famous gambling casinos in Las Vegas in holiday provides the highly suspenseful action and entertainment of this unusual film. Frank Sinatra combines his talent with a host of other stars, including: Dean Martin, Peter Lawford, Sammy Davis Jr., Richard Conte, Angie Dickinson, and Patricia Wymore. (Color, 129 min.)

ICE PALACE
Richard Burton, Robert Ryan, Martha Hyer and Carolyn Jones play the leading roles in this screen version of Edna Ferber's modern history of the 48th state of the union. The film covers 40 years and three generations of Alaskans, and involves multiple sequences of emotional love, violent action and breathtaking scenery in Technicolor. (143 min.)

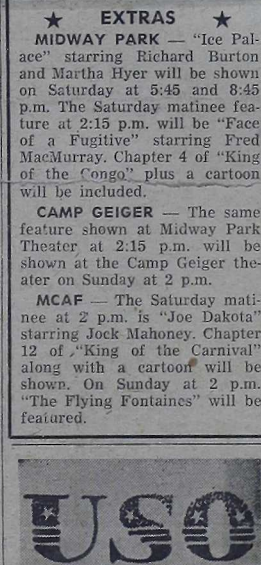

DESIRE IN THE DUST
Ken Scott portrays an ex-convict who returns to his home only to find the girl who had professed her undying love for him earlier had broken her vow, even though he had gone to prison to save her family name. Embittered by this turn of events he launches a campaign of revenge. Raymond Burr, Martha Hyer and Joan Bennett play the supporting roles. (113 min.)

GREEN MANIONS
Audrey Hepburn stars as a South American jungle girl who falls in love with a young Venezuelan seeking gold to avenge a political rebellion in which his father was killed. Anthony Perkins has the male lead. (Color, 123 min.)

FIVE BRAVE WOMEN
A story about five Yugoslavian women who are branded for having fraternized with the Nazis during an occupation of their village in World War II. Based on an unpublished novel by Ugo Pirro, the story gets under way with frank dialogue throughout. Silvana Mangano, Barbara Bel Geddes, Van Heflin and Harry Guardino star. (108 min.)

LES MISERABLES
Michael Rennie and Debra Paget star in this 1959 version of Victor Hugo's famed narrative about the rise of a poverty-stricken Frenchman to fame and fortune, though constantly hounded by his past. (115 min.)
JIM THORPE
Bud Spencer stars as the great Carle Indian College football hero. (100 min.)

•Did you know that the personal history, military and civilian of every Marine on active duty can be recorded on seven tapes 3,600 feet long? This amazing feat can be accomplished by the Camp Lejeune Data Processing Installation by using an electronic computer which is leased from the National Cash Register Company.

This is only one of the many jobs done by the Installation headed by Maj. W. S. Patee Jr., Data Processing Officer. He is assisted by MSgt. E. L. Green, the Installation Chief, and a staff of three officers, 53 enlisted and eight civilians.

The Installation is divided into three departments: Administrative, the Electric Accounting Machine, and the Electronic Data Processing Machine department.

The administrative department takes care of the correspondence, supplies and other administrative functions for the Installation. This department is directed by Capt. T. L. Costello.

The Electric Accounting Machine Department is divided into three main sections: machine room, project planning and the personnel analyst sections.

The personnel analyst section receives the IRC cards and unit diaries from the various units and codes the information for the key punch operators. The analyst checks the information to make sure the correct information is entered into the system, for, as Major Patee says, "The Personnel Accounting System of the Marine Corps is only as good as the information which is entered into the system. These machines are accurate but if wrong information is put into them, then wrong information will come out of them.

After the analyst completes the coding of the information, it is passed to the machine room where the information is recorded on punch cards by key punch machines. After the information is punched, it is run through a key punch machine, where another operator punches the same information on the card. If a mistake is found, a red light comes on and the operator checks the information three times to make sure that the operator did not make a mistake. The card is then returned to a key punch operator and the correct information is recorded.

This department also handles the reporting of all information pertaining to special reports, supply accounting, fiscal accounting, as well as personnel accounting for this area.

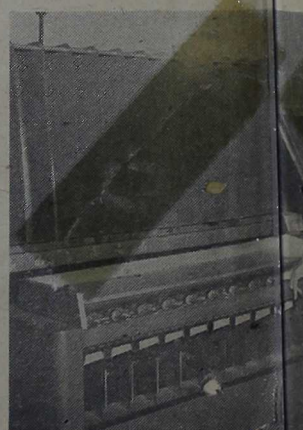

The Electric Accounting Machine Department is directed by Capt. W. G. Wall, assistant Data Processing Officer.

CARDS TO PUNCH—GySgt. Anne Feczhanin, Key Punch Supervisor, gives a box of cards to Key Punch Machine Operator, LCpl. Gene May, for information for the personnel accounting system.

INFORMATION COAST TO COAST—Information recorded on key punch cards can be sent to any Marine Base in the United States in a matter of minutes by this transceiver machine. Operating the machine are GySgt. Keith E. Lowe and Pfc Fay G. Cupp Jr., transceiver machine operators.

ONE THOUSAND CARDS A MINUTE—The machine which is run by Sgt. Fred C. Cade can punch one thousand cards a minute.

Machine Room Supervisor, machine operator, check panel for one of the many VERIFIER—Pfc Shirley A. Smitherman, Key Punch Verifier Machine Operator, verifies information punched on cards by the key punch machine. All information punched on the key punch cards must be checked by the verifier machine.

MACHINE REPAIR—GySgt. Thomas A. McKnight, Chief Console Operator, holds a test plug while Mr. Harry B. Zeiger, Site Manager for the National Cash Register Company, checks out a part of the electronic computer on a testing machine.

l, Fiscal And Supply Accounting For East Coast

The Electronic Data Processing Machine Department, headed by Maj. W. C. Bittick Jr., a former sergeant major, has the electronic computer and records the information from the cards onto tapes for forwarding to Headquarters Marine Corps, or runs it off on a printing machine.

The printing machine, a part of the computer, is capable of printing 600 lines a minute with 10 characters per line. This machine can print all the Monthly Personnel Rosters for the entire Marine Corps in less than four hours.

When the consolidation of the various installations on the East Coast is completed, the printing machine will print all the PRs for the East Coast.

The electronic computer can read 2,000 cards or 160,000 characters per minute using the card system which is its slowest process. By using tape, the computer can read 30,000 characters per second.

The machine can multiply a 10-digit number by a 10-digit number and give a 20-digit answer 50,000 times per minute.

The present accounting system was adopted by the Marine Corps in 1948 and was the result of 14 months of work and research by a nine-member board. The board was the Personnel Records Board and consisted of two majors, six sergeants major and one technical sergeant.

This system took the place of an old nemesis of first sergeants and sergeants major, the muster roll and change sheet.

In 1958 another board was formed to adopt the electronic computer method of accounting. This system was adopted and the change to this method should be completed in December.

Many Marines still refer to the Data Processing Installation as Machine Records Installations, MRI, but this name was changed to Data Processing Installation in 1958 because the name MRI did not express the nature of the work done by the installation.

Major Bittick was a member of the original Personnel Records Board which recommended the adoption of machine accounting by the Marine Corps. He was a sergeant major at that time and of the other six enlisted members of the board, one is a major and four others are now officers.

CONSOLE OPERATOR — GySgt. Thomas A. McKnight, Chief Computer Console Operator, turns the dials to put the electronic computer into operation, while Maj. W. C. Bittick Jr., Electronic Computer Officer, observes the procedure.

Visiting Nurse Program Provided By Navy Relief

The Navy Relief Auxiliary has employed two registered professional nurses who provide visiting nurse service to all military families at Camp Lejeune. The mission of the Visiting Nurses is to assist in a professional advisory capacity and at no time are they able to "live in" with a family. The service of the visiting nurse falls within the direct purpose of Navy Relief.

MCAF Wives Group Share Holiday Ideas

The Marine Corps Air Facility Officers Wives Club will feature "Christmas A La Mode" at their regular luncheon meeting for this month. Scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, the social will begin at 10 a.m. in the Air Facility Officers Club.

The program will feature individual talks on decorative hints for the Christmas season such as centerpieces, ceramics, sewing, and displays, etc.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be the wives of Hq. and HqSgt. Reservations must be made no later than Monday morning of Dec. 5 by calling either Mrs. R. D. Foster at extension 601 or Mrs. Thomas Smith at Jax 6118. If any cancellations are to be made, they must be in by noon Tuesday by calling the officers club, extension 50.

All officers wives living at the Marine Corps Air Facility are cordially invited to attend. New residents of the facility who have not yet been enrolled in the Officers Wives Club are also invited.

Coffee/Confusion Group Plans Two Christmas Socials

The Coffee 'n' Confusion Group of the Officers Wives Club is busy bringing in the holiday season by scheduling two Christmas get-togethers this week and next. The social meetings will be held in the River Room of the Paradise Point Club.

Tomorrow, 10 a.m., the theme will be "Just A Thought For Christmas". Each lady is asked to bring her own idea for appropriate personal decorations. These items will be displayed during the meeting.

Next Saturday, Dec. 10, the Junior Wives and their husbands will hold a Christmas get-together. A crowded social hour from 6 to 8 p.m. will precede a buffet dinner and dancing. The price of the dinner will be $2.25 per person.

Mrs. Charles L. Stitt, chairman, wants that reservations be made by Dec. 5 by calling one of the following members: Mrs. Ralph Hughes, Jax 4574; Mrs. Dennis Corn, Jax 5135; or Mrs. Donald Cox, 6-6203.

MCAF Staff Wives Celebrate Second Anniversary Tomorrow

Approximately 40 Staff Wives of the Marine Corps Air Facility will celebrate the Second Annual Birthday of the organization of their Wives Club tomorrow evening in their Service Club ballroom. A semi-formal buffet dinner and dance will highlight the celebration for all the members of the club and their husbands, commencing at 7:30. Mrs. W. F. Mortimer, president of the group since July, will act as Senior Hostess at the dinner. Her staff, consisting of Mrs. D. E. Frost, Mrs.

Bake Sale

Is your "goodie" larder depleted from the Thanksgiving Day feasting? Don't worry. You can restock for the Christmas season at the Holiday Bake Sale to be held tomorrow morning, 11 o'clock, at the Central Exchange. The sale is being sponsored by Group IV of the Officers Wives Club.

All ladies baking for the sale are reminded to bring their goodies to the exchange on Friday or take them to one of the following: Mrs. R. Carey, MOQ 2511; Mrs. R. Tittle, MOQ 2618; or Mrs. F. S. Wood, 705 Williams street, Jacksonville.

G. R. Cruddas, Mrs. D. D. McMahon, and Mrs. E. W. Covell, will serve as assistant hostesses throughout the evening.

Special guests for the affair will be Col. and Mrs. J. R. Little Jr., commanding officer and "First Lady" of the Air Facility. Honorable guests will be nine of the 51 charter members who originated the Staff Wives group in November, 1958, and who are still living at MCAF. They are: Mesdames H. L. Childs, G. W. Kean, H. M. Hoffine, C. J. Gallagher, J. E. Bailey, J. R. Neece, J. J. MacMillan, L. J. Wiederwax and C. L. Hines.

History
The actual beginning of the Air Facility Staff Wives Club was in October, 1958. Col. T. J. Noon, then commanding officer of MCAF, granted permission to Mrs. H. C. Norris to start a Staff Wives Club. In October, 1958, a set of by-laws was adopted and a nominating committee appointed.

The first charity project by the women was on Christmas of 1958 when they helped two needy families. From this small contribution sprang the present varied contributions each member takes part in for and beyond the benefit of military personnel here.

Club colors were adopted on Jan. 27, 1959, as green and yellow. One day after, the group's first luncheon was held in the Chinese Room at Camp Lejeune. The women then decided to schedule a regular luncheon every three months.

For the past two Mother's Days, members have baked and served cakes at the USO Hospitality Hour in Jacksonville. In March, 1959, the club adopted the Onslow Pines Rest Home as their club project, and since have planned visits twice a month, giving aid and providing entertainment for the patients.

The program will include games, dancing and a few "surprise features." All members and their parents are invited to attend.

Slogan And Cartoon Contest Sponsored By Safety Office

The commanding general has approved a Traffic Slogan Contest and a Traffic Safety Cartoon Contest to be conducted by the Safe Driving Council during the Christmas-New Year holiday period in connection with the off-duty motor vehicle accident prevention program. A total of $100.00 in Marine Corps Exchange Merchandise Certificates will be awarded the winners of the two contests. Entries will be judged by the Board of Judges appointed by the commanding general.

A safety slogan contest will be conducted in a series of three weekly contests from Dec. 5 through Dec. 12; Dec. 12 through Dec. 16 and Dec. 19 through Dec. 23. The winners of each of these weekly slogan contests will receive a $20.00 Exchange Merchandise Certificate. All entries in the slogan contest must be original and contain a traffic safety theme, i.e., highway, automobile, driver, etc. Entries must be submitted in legible handwriting or typewritten or may be telephoned to the Base Safety Office, Building 1110, phone 7-5725, indicating the contestant's name, organization and telephone number. Slogans are limited to 15 words.

The safety cartoon contest will run from Dec. 5 through Dec. 30, inclusive. Entries in the safety cartoon contest must also have safety as their theme, such as highway, automobile and driver, etc. Captions, monologues and dialogues are desired but are not required. Cartoon contest entries must be on 10x14" heavy white paper or art board using black india ink only, and must be submitted to the Base Safety Office, Building 1110 not later than 1630 on Dec. 30. These entries will also be judged by the Board of Judges appointed by the commanding general. A first and second prize winner will be determined. First prize will be a $25.00 Exchange Merchandise Certificate; second prize will be a $15.00 Exchange Merchandise Certificate.

Both contests will be open to military personnel and their dependents, attached to units at Camp Lejeune. All slogans and cartoons submitted will become the property of the Base Safety Office and will not be returned after judging. Winning entries will be retained for publication and use in the highway safety program.

Four Marines Participate In English Play

Four Camp Lejeune Marines turned thespian are currently involved in the first production of the newly-formed Jacksonville Theatre Guild, George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion". The Guild was organized by several civilians and Marines interested in bringing live theater to this area.

"Pygmalion" will be presented Dec. 9 and 10 at the Jacksonville High School Auditorium. Tickets are one dollar and may be purchased from any Guild member or at the box office. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

The play is centered around the story of Liza Doolittle, the little Cockney flower girl who becomes a lady through the efforts of Prof. Henry Higgins who teaches her proper English. Sgt. Fred Moore of the Base Informational Services Office, and one of the organizers of the Guild, is the director.

Second Lt. Greg Stone, 8th Communications Bn., will be seen in the role of Alfred Doolittle, Liza's father, a cockney dustman by trade. Alfred is a man who loves life but is bothered when he is forced to conform to "middle-class morality," standards he has heretofore fought against.

Also in the cast is Pfc Phil Kline, "K" Co., 3rd Bn., Second Marines, in the role of Freddy Eynsford-Hill, son of an impoverished aristocratic family and admirer of Liza.

In charge of set construction is SSgt. Dick McChesney, an instructor of General Military Subjects for H&S Co., 2nd Service Bn., 2nd Division. He is responsible for the building, painting and erection of the sets.

Marine Turns Playwrite For Safety Speech

A 2nd Division staff sergeant turned playwrite last week in an effort to point out the tragic consequences of careless driving.

SSgt. Richard F. McChesney, of 2nd Serv. Bn., wrote a five-minute skit to bolster a safety lecture given to members of his battalion. The skit featured the family of GySgt. James Lewis, who assisted McChesney in the production.

The skit portrayed a family, sitting down to a holiday dinner after learning the man of the house had been killed in a traffic accident.

The family was played by Sergeant Lewis' wife, Jeanne, and their two children, Lou Anne (eight) and Carl (six).

By way of props the sergeant used a table, heavy-laden with traditional holiday turkey and all the trimmings, candlelight and an empty chair at the head of the table—the chair that would have been filled by the husband if he had been more careful driving home from work.

Notice

A banquet honoring members of the Boys League Football teams will be held at the Montford Point Staff Club Dec. 6 from 6 to 8 p.m. Capt. Dennis Horn of the Base football team will be the principal speaker of the evening which will include a short movie, a chicken dinner and an awards ceremony.

Eighth Marines Return To Camp Lejeune This Week

The Eighth Marines return to Camp Lejeune. The Eighth Marines headquarters with the 3rd Battalion, and the 1st Battalion began arriving Monday from two different duty assignments.

The 1st Bn., Eighth Marines, commanded by Lt. Col. H. C. Reifel, as expected arrived first. Docking at Morehead City on the morning of the 29th, they were welcomed back by the Division Band, and by their dependents at Bldg. 424 on noon of the 29th. Dependents were not permitted at Morehead City Docks, but facilities in Bldg. 424 were available to dependents beginning at 11 a.m. for those desiring to meet their 1st Bn. Marines as they arrived at Camp Lejeune about noontime.

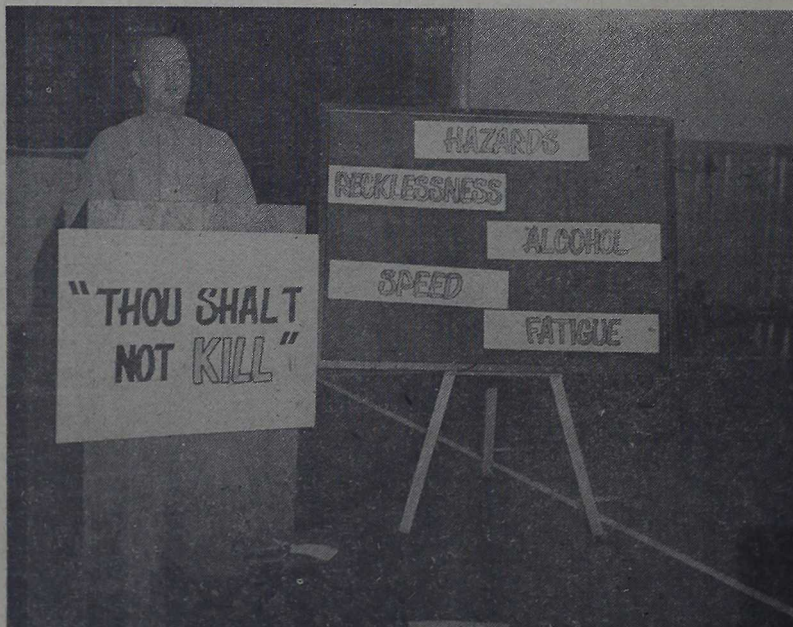

The 1st Bn., which left Camp Lejeune last May 17 to join the Sixth Fleet as the Landing Force Mediterranean, has executed six landing operations, and visited Italy, Spain, France, Greece, Turkey and other Mediterranean countries.

The Eighth Marine Expeditionary Unit, commanded by Col. V. R. Bisceglia, arrived off Onslow Beach early on the morning of the 29th and concluded their PHIBULEX 4-60 training exercise with an amphibious assault across the beach, followed by a 24-hour problem ashore. Dependents were not permitted in the Onslow Beach area during the landing or maneuver period. Facilities were made available at 11 a.m. Wednesday for dependents who wished to meet their Marines of the Eighth Marines Headquarters and the 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines, as they arrived in the Hadnot Point area around noontime.

'Miss Polaroid'

"Miss Polaroid" will be the feature attraction at the camera department in the Central Exchange next Friday, Dec. 9, from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. She will demonstrate and explain the function of the all-new Polaroid camera. She will also be available to help customers with their photographic problems.

HAZARDS of holiday traffic are explained by SSgt. Richard F. McChesney, of 2nd Service Bn., 2nd Division. Sergeant McChesney's talk featured a five-minute skit, written by himself, and acted by members of a fellow Marine's family.

USN Chaplain Corps Marks Anniversary

Navy chaplains stationed here at Camp Lejeune celebrated the 185th anniversary of their Corps Monday with a dinner held at the Paradise Point Officers Club.

The Corps dates from Nov. 28, 1775, when the Continental Congress passed Article 2 of the Navy Regulations which provided for divine service to be held twice a day on board all ships, and a sermon preached on Sundays, "unless bad weather or other accidents prevented."

Naval chaplains have fought beside the Marines since 1912 when

With extreme pleasure and deep sincerity I extend hearty congratulations to the officers of the U. S. Navy Chaplains Corps. The exemplary service of the officers of the Corps, to God, to country and to the Naval establishment needs no amplification on this 185th Anniversary of the Corps. Everywhere we Marines have gone—in war and in peace—we have been accompanied by our Navy chaplains. Wounded, hungry, wet and cold, these indefatigable officers have stood their ground and in so doing have cast a light not unlike the star of Bethlehem.

To all chaplains serving at Camp Lejeune, I humbly express my profound gratitude and admiration on this 185th anniversary of your Corps.

ROBERT B. LUCKEY,
Major General, USMC
Commanding General, MCB

Chaplain J. F. Fleming landed with them at Managua, Nicaragua. They have served side by side with their men through some of the hardest fighting in World War One, World War Two and Korea.

Thirty Chaplains

Thirty chaplains are spread throughout the Camp Lejeune Quad-Command. They serve with the 2nd Division, Force Troops, Base and the New River Air Facility. Catholic, Protestant and Jewish personnel have their own services conducted at the many area chapels. Marines can call on the chaplain of their choice for help in any emergency.

From the three poorly paid volunteers of the Revolutionary War to the respected Naval officers of today, the Navy chaplains have always worked to give their men the spiritual aid needed when in a combat situation.

Other members of the staff are 1st Lts. W. L. Strain and W. J. Westcott, and CWO-3 K. R. Jensen. The only enlisted man on the staff is Sgt. Maj. Leo W. Rich.

Lejeune Edges Fort Eustis During Final Season Game

The Camp Lejeune Marines, probably playing their worst game of the 1960 season, edged a slim 15-14 win over the "Wheels" of Ft. Eustis, Va., Saturday to close their schedule with a 7-3 record. The locals, plagued with injuries all season, suffered their worst loss last week with the leg injury of All-Marine halfback Mel Anderson, putting him out of action prior to Saturday's clash.

Going into the final tilt of the season the Lejeune coaches, still making changes, moved end Joe [unclear] back, Rosario Zac [unclear] to halfback and line

Division Cage Teams Begin '60-'61 Season

The 2nd Marine Division Intra-mural Basketball season got off to a fast start last week with 10 games on the agenda.

First half competition finds 13 teams divided into two leagues. Battling for honors in the Two-Star League are Service Bn., 1st Bn., Tenth Marines, 4th Bn., Tenth Marines, 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines, Motor Transport Bn., Recon. Bn., and Medical Bn. Entered in the One-Star League are 1st Bn., Sixth Marines, 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines, Pioneer Bn., Anti-Tank Bn., and Headquarters Battalion.

First night action in the Two-Star League found Service Bn., 4th Bn., Tenth Marines, and 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines, gaining wins.

Service Bn., paced by Manning with 16 points and Cunningham with 17, beat 1st Bn., Tenth Marines, 74-62.

The 4th Bn., Tenth Marines, overcame Recon Bn., 54-40, with Procter's 22 points leading the way.

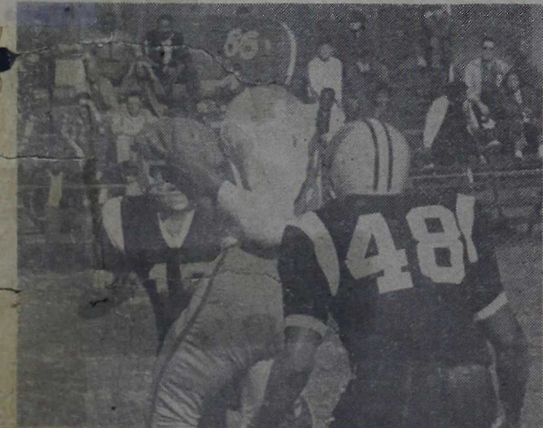

The 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines, opened with an easy 72-48 win over Motor Transport Bn.

Defending Division and Quad-Command Champion, Headquarters Battalion, started on the right foot in the One-Star League with a 100-63 victory over Anti-Tank Bn.

The 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, posted an impressive 73-63 win over 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines.

Service Bn. stamped themselves as a threat to the Two-Star title by beating Medical Bn. 58-35 later in the week for their second win. Fourth Bn., Tenth Marines, matched Service Bn. with a tight 60-61 win over 1st Bn., Tenth Marines.

The 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines, moved to the front of the One-Star League by edging 1st Bn., Sixth Marines, for their second win. Pioneer Bn. opened its season with a 68-56 victory over Anti-Tanks, while Headquarters Bn. was upset by 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines.

Locals Lose Ground

Lejeune received the opening kick-off with quarterback Keith Wilson being thrown for a 35-yard loss on the first play from scrimmage. Three plays later Joe Losack was forced to punt from his own 40.

The "Wheels", setting up their first score of the game, blocked the Lejeune punt attempt and downed it on the Marine six-yard stripe.

On their first play from scrimmage, Fort Eustis' Chuck Robinson fumbled in the end zone with teammate Jim Chaplin recovering for the score. Going for two points, a run off tackle by Bob Redmond set the scoreboard at 8-0 with 11:30 remaining in the first stanza.

The Lejeune eleven got back in the game in the second quarter when Vince Cesare hit speedster halfback Jim Green on a five-yard pass play with Green going over for the score. Fullback Chuck Taylor plunged his way over to tie up the tilt at 8-8.

After an exchange of punts the soldiers took advantage of a recovered Lejeune fumble, driving 66 yards for their second score, climaxing with a 13-yard run by Lonnie Holland. A conversion attempt by Bob Thornton failed, setting the score at 14-8.

Interception

In the remaining seconds of the first half Bob Thornton intercepted two passes from Cesare with the following play putting the Army within field goal distance. Thornton missed his first of two attempts of the day from the Lejeune 15-yard line.

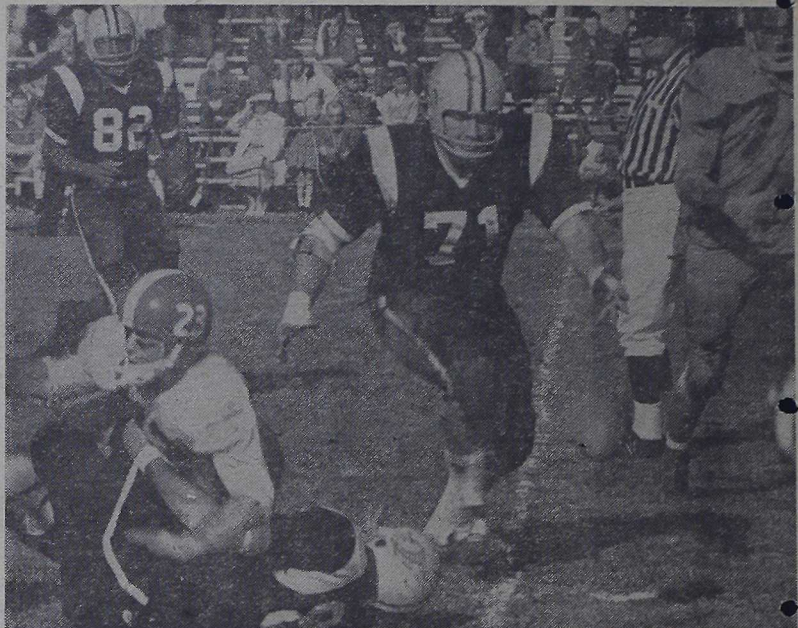

The Marines came back strong in the third period forcing the "Wheels" to punt from their own 33 with John Copenhagen taking it on his own 20, returning it to the 28.

The Lejeune eleven set up their second score although a fumble by Keith Wilson was recovered by Eustis guard Jim Chaplin on the Marine 41. Halted there, the "Wheels" attempted a field goal with defensive end Lee Russ blocking the attempt, picking up the pigskin and running to the Fort Eustis 39.

On the next play from scrimmage Jim Green streaked around end going the distance for the score. Chuck Rix added the extra point, putting the locals out in front, 15-14.

Christmas Tournament Plans Firm For Third Annual Event

Final plans have been announced by Base Special Services for the Third Annual Christmas Basketball Tournament to be held at Camp Lejeune. The tournament, highly successful in past years, is scheduled for December 28-30 at Goettge Memorial Field House. Game times will be 1:30, 3:30, 7 and 9 p.m. daily. According to tournament officials, seven colleges will be entered during this year's classic along with the host and defending champion, Camp Lejeune "Marines."

Those colleges featured will be Elon and Catawba of North Carolina, Pikesville of Kentucky, Georgia Southern, Concord from West Virginia, Carson Newman from Tennessee, and the University of Baltimore.

Each team will play three games during the three-day tournament, win or lose. The four winners of the first day will play the two evening sets on the second night. Losers of the opening day's action will pair off for the afternoon of the second day. Winners of the second night will play in the finals, while losers will play in the initial game of the third night for third place. Winner of the second game, second afternoon, will play the third afternoon for fourth place. First game of the third afternoon will decide seventh and eighth places.

During the first day's action, Camp Lejeune will meet the Catawba quintet in the final game of the evening. In other pairings for the evening, Elon College will play Pikesville at 1:30 p.m.; Georgia Southern meets Baltimore at 3:30 p.m., and Concord faces Carson Newman prior to the Lejeune contest at 7 p.m.

Returning to the annual event will be the Catamounts from Catawba College of Western Carolina. The "Catamounts" will be under the coaching of Sam Moir, who is in his first year at the college as head basketball mentor. During last year's cage season, the Catamounts won 20 games while losing 11 and won the North State Tournament, took third place in the Florida Tournament and were runners-up in the Parris Island Invitational Tournament.

Also returning from last year's classic will be Elon and the University of Baltimore.

During last year's tournament, Camp Lejeune edged an unbeaten "Golden Bear" team from West Virginia Tech, 111-108, for the title.

Lejeune's Art Andreoli, voted MVP of the tournament, led the Marines during the final victory with 29 markers. In three games the popular former Holy Cross player totaled 83 points.

Local Soccer Team Takes Fleet Crown

The FMFLant Soccer Team, composed of 2nd Division and Force Troops personnel, won the Atlantic Fleet Soccer Championship at Norfolk last week. In winning the title for the third straight year the local booters retired the Atlantic Fleet Rotating Trophy.

The FMFLant team, coached by 1st Lt. "Robbie" Roberson, opened the double-elimination affair by defeating favored PHIBLANT, 5-3.

In second round action the Marines had an easy time downing CRULANT, 8-2, to earn the right to meet once beaten PHIBLANT for the title.

Facing elimination, PHIBLANT upset the Marines 5-3 to force the tourney to the limit.

Final Game

The final game found the lead changing four times before PHIBLANT scored a late goal to make the score 5-5 at the end of regulation play. Two scoreless overtime periods followed before Vince Jordan won the game and the title for the Lejeune team with a goal after three minutes of a sudden death period had expired.

The victory was particularly rewarding for the local team had only two practice games under their belt before entering the tournament.

Force Troops Sharpshooter Sweeps Title

MSgt. Ralph C. Cox, Force Troops, shot his way to Grand Aggregate Match Title, last week, during the Third Annual Fall Invitational Pistol Matches at Parris Island, S. C.

Sergeant Cox fired a 2,598 out of a possible 2,700 points during the three-day event.

Topping the list of prize-winning pistolers, Cox aided the Camp Lejeune team to the .22 Masters team title, captured the .22 caliber aggregate championship and scored individual honors during the Open class, .45 caliber firing.

Aggregate winner in the Masters class for the entire match was Gy-Sgt. Al Froede Jr., Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, with 2,579 and 93 shots in the center bulls-eye.

Local Shooters

Sergeant Billy Thompson, 2nd Marine Division, pinned down the Unclassified aggregate win with 2,270 and 29 X's.

Opening day saw Sergeant Cox walk off with the .22 caliber aggregate title in the process, leading the Lejeune team to the Masters team title. Cox fired a 880 in individual competition while the team totaled a 1,141.

During the second day's firing with the centerfire handgun (.38 cal.) Camp Lejeune's Marine Corps Base team nailed down the Master class team title with a 1,128.

Firing for individual laurels, Cox fired an 857 to pin down the centerfire Master Class title, while Gy-Sgt. J. W. Powell, also from Force Troops, took the Sharpshooter crown. Sgt. Billy Thompson fired a 750 for the individual unclassified crown.

Marine Corps Base walked away with the Master class team 45 trophy on the final day with a score of 1,133. Local High Individuals in the .45 caliber firing were: Cox in the Open Class, Cpl. J. F. Bowen, 2nd Marine Division, in the Sharpshooter class, and Sgt. Billy Thompson took the Unclassified class crown.

Officers Golf Match Winners Announced

Col. W. H. Atkinson defeated Lt. Col. R. Lou 3-up to win the Championship Title of the Commissioned Officers Golf Tourney, completed last week.

Considered a successful tournament by Paradise Point Golf Course officials, the match play classic involved 85 linksters and was played over a period of six weeks.

First Flight winner was Lt. Cmdr. W. M. Florie, while second place honors went to Capt. J. B. Wyatt. W. S. Halton took top honors in the Second Flight with Capt. J. C. Cauthron moving into the runner-up spot.

Maj. J. W. Marsh was the winner of the third flight. Runner-up in this flight was Lt. Col. J. A. Witherspoon. Fourth flight was taken by Capt. R. E. Haislip, while second place was topped by Maj. W. A. Gagne.

Cagers Face ServLant Five For Single Contest Tonight

Carrying a 3-1 record, the Camp Lejeune Marines face a strong ServLant team tonight at Goettge Memorial Field House. Game time is 8:15. The public is invited to attend. Following a home game with Ft. Myer from Virginia Saturday, the locals will travel north for a three-game road trip. After meeting Ft. Story, Ft. Lee and

Ft. Eustis, all in the Cavalier state of Virginia, the "Marines" will return to meet MCSC, Albany, Ga., in a two-game set Dec. 9 and 10.

The Albany contest will mark the first Marine Corps competition this year and will be the first game of the mythical East Coast Area Championships.

Picking up their third victory of the season Tuesday night, Camp Lejeune downed AirLant, 92-67, before a disappointing crowd of less than 300 spectators.

Lejeune played without the services of their speedster Dick Bailey, who was sidelined due to blood poisoning.

Stalwart forward, 6'4" Jack Sullivan led Lejeune in the scoring department. Sullivan stripped the cords for 30 points. Howie Day scored 11 points for Lejeune while teammates Don McGorty and Jack Whalan both tossed in 10.

AirLant's center, Vern McDonald, led the "Flyers" with 17 tallies.

Apparently displeased with the offensive play during the victory, Lejeune Coach Ira Norfolk ordered an extensive half-hour drill after the game. Stress was placed on passing and lay-ups during the practice.

Winning the tap, Lejeune jumped into an early six-point lead, 8-2, after three quick baskets by Sullivan and a basket by Derek Dickinson. A tap-in by AirLant's Bill Stevens made the score 8-4, but foul shots by Sullivan and Dickinson moved Lejeune into the lead, 11-4.

AirLant closed the gap to 13-9 with Jim Bettis and McDonald scoring field goals, but saw the margin spread to 10 after scores by Dickinson, Charlie Morrow and Jack Whalan.

With three minutes remaining in the first half, Lejeune moved into a 15-point lead, 45-20. After an exchange of several baskets, Lejeune started to move and as Day tapped in a shot, the locals left the court with a 56-35 halftime lead.

Opening a slow second half, Sullivan pushed Lejeune into a 60-35 advantage. AirLant's McDonald dropped a free-throw and Stevens scored from mid-court, but the Marines fought off the effort with two baskets by Sullivan and Whalan. Fred Lentz dropped a hook shot to throw Lejeune into a 70-44 lead with eight minutes remaining in the game.

Hitting well from the free-throw line during the final eight minutes, Lejeune battled a final AirLant effort to hold their 23-point deficit at the final buzzer.

Division Wins Touch Title During FMF Gridiron Action

Riding the left-handed passing of Clint Parsons and the pass snagging of Bill Reeves, 2nd Division swamped 2nd Wing, Cherry Point, 38-6, to capture the FMFLant Touch Football Championship earlier this month. The Parsons-Reeves combination accounted for 20 points and many long gains as the Division went undefeated during the double elimination tourney.

Little League Will Sponsor All-Star Game

The Camp Lejeune Boys League will sponsor an All-Star game at 1 p.m. Sunday, December 4, at Liversedge Field, Camp Lejeune, ending a successful season of small-fry football competition.

The season's finale will see the outstanding players from the Colts and the Bears vying a selected team from the Redskins and Rams for the Boys League All-Star championship.

In the first game of a league Turkey-Day double-header an out-weighted but determined Ram squad fell before the smooth running and hard-hitting Bears late in the last quarter, 12-0. First scoring action came in the second quarter when the Bears started a drive from their own 40.

Bears on Rams' 10

Bill Batchelor, Bear quarterback, heaved a 20-yard pass downfield to end Ed Henne, putting the Bears on the Rams' 10-yard line. After an eight-yard loss on a first-down scrimmage play, Batchelor pulled out of the line and raced around left end 18 yards for the first score of the game. The Rams came back, driving several times to the Bears' 10 only to be stalled by a shifting, aggressive Bear line.

Final tally of the game came in the last quarter when scoring ace Bill Batchelor took a pitchout at his own 10-yard line and galloped 90 yards for pay dirt. This was the longest run recorded in the Boys League this season.

The second game was composed almost entirely of defensive action with both the Redskins and Colts stopping the other's offensive action cold. This tide didn't change until late in the fourth quarter when a Redskins pass was intercepted by Paul Paulson, who raced to the Redskins 32-yard line before being brought down by a shoe-string tackle.

On the first play from scrimmage the Rams' Billy Clear picked up a key block by Paulson on a pitchout around left end, hit for the sideline and scored just as the whistle blew, giving his team an upset 6-0 victory over the favored Redskins.

Lejeune began eating its 20-point age in the first period and didn't let up until the second half. They scored 21 points in the first quarter with Parsons throwing to Winners for a TD and PAT, and to Reeves for two six-pointers and one extra point. Ken Crowell accounted for the other extra point, catching another Parsons aerial.

Second Wing's only score of the day came early in the initial stanza when Jim Barotti heaved a pass to Terry Alderson in the end zone.

With Parsons' aerials—everywhere, it was the Division all the way in the second quarter. Rolling to his left, Parsons heaved a 30-yard pass to Reeves in the end zone. Rolling to the right he threw another to Ted Skaggs, who snatched across the goal line for another TD.

Half Ends 36-6

Putting the rush on, the Division broke through the Wing defenses to tag Anderson for a safety and two points, making the score 36-6, as the half ended.

Showing outstanding defensive play during the fourth period, the Wing team couldn't get its offense moving, as the Division scored another safety during this period to end the game at 38-6.

Division gained the finals of the tourney by drawing a bye in the opening round and defeating Force Troops earlier in a squeaker, 26-20.

An all-star squad of 15 men will be selected by the coaches of Division Wing, and Force Troops to represent FMFLant in the 1960 Atlantic Touch Football Tournament being held in Norfolk this week.

Quantico Set In Defense Service Title

Quantico rolled over the Ft. Belvoir Engineers 41-16 Thanksgiving morning to end their second consecutive undefeated season against service competition.

Cold weather "fumbalitis" on the part of the Marines and the uncanny passing accuracy of Belvoir quarterback Bill Zador kept the score in reasonable figures for the Engineers who won but one game all season.

Quantico, defending National Service Champions, ended their season with an overall record of 7-2. The Leathernecks dropped contests this year to Xavier and Detroit University.

The Marines will defend the service title against the Pensada Naval Air Station Go-Hawks (5) in the first annual Missile Bowl at Orlando, Fla., Dec. 3, then go on to meet the San Diego Marines (7-1) at the Leatherneck Bowl Dec. 11 in California.

Bulletin

Camp Lejeune's Boxing Smoker is scheduled to take place Dec. 6 and 7, at 7 p.m. at Goettge Memorial Field House. All personnel are invited to attend. The smoker is being held to select fighters for the Varsity boxing team which will meet Ft. Campbell in their season opener, Jan. 12.

Lejeune's Varsity football squad will be feted at a special banquet at Marston Pavilion. The event is scheduled to be held Dec. 5, beginning at 8 p.m. Guest speaker for the occasion has not been announced.

Hot Lunches Now Served By Montford Point School

Turkey and all the "trimmings" was the lunch served at the Montford Point Elementary School November 23 in the new hot lunch program which began last week. This is the first time in the five years the school has been in operation that hot lunches have been served. Guests of honor at the traditional Thanksgiving meal were Col. Richard Quigley, Marine Corps Supply Schools commanding officer; Capt. O. W. Ritter, MCSS S-4 officer; Capt. A. L. Bressler, commanding officer of the Food Service Company at Montford Point; MSgt. C. F. Lambert, S-4 Chief; and Mr. W. H. Tuck, superintendent of Camp Lejeune Schools.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Verna Anthony, Camp Lejeune Dependents School dietitian, and her staff, offers hot lunches each day for 25 cents to the children. The food is prepared at the Camp School and transported to Montford Point in field equipment loaned by the Food Service Company. The lunchroom and serving room has been approved by the Base Sanitation Department.

The lunch room was decorated by the mothers and teachers. Decorative centerpieces are on each table and curtains are being made for the windows. An appropriate bulletin board is devised each month by the teachers.

History Of Marine Corps Emblem Is Similar To History Of Corps Itself

The history of the Marine Corps emblem is a story similar to the history of the Marine Corps itself.

The emblem of today has its roots in the designs and ornaments of early Continental Marines as well as the British Royal Marines. The emblem took its present form in 1868. Before that time many devices, ornaments, and distinguishing marks followed one another as official marks of the Corps.

In 1775 the device consisted of a "foul anchor" of silver or pewter. The "foul anchor" still forms a part of the emblem today. (A foul anchor is an anchor which had one or more turns of chain around it.)

Changes were made in 1798, 1821, and 1824. In 1834 it was prescribed that a brass eagle be worn on the hat, the eagle to measure three and a half inches from wingtip to wingtip.

From 1834 to 1859 numerous distinguishing marks were prescribed, including "black cockades," "scarlet plumes," and "yellow bands and tassels." In 1859 the origin of the present color scheme for officers' dress uniform ornaments appeared on an elaborate device of solid white and yellow metal. The design included a United States shield, half wreath, a bugle, and a postal envelope.

In 1868 Brig. Gen. Commandant Jacob Zeilin appointed a board to decide and report upon the various devices of cap ornaments for the Marine Corps." On Nov. 13, 1868, the board turned in its report. It was approved by the Commandant four days later and on Nov. 19, 1868, was signed by the Secretary of the Navy.

The emblem recommended by this board has survived with minor changes to this day. It consists of a globe (showing the Western Hemisphere) intersected by a foul anchor and surmounted by a spread eagle. On the emblem itself the device is topped by a ribbon inscribed with the Latin motto, "Semper Fidelis" (Always Faithful). The uniform ornaments omit the the motto ribbon.

The general design of the emblem was probably derived from the British Royal Marines' "Globe and Laurel." The globe on the U. S. Marine emblem signifies service in any part of the world. The eagle also indirectly signifies world-wide service, although this may not have been the intention of the designers in 1868. The eagle they selected for the Marine emblem is a crested eagle, a type found all over the world.

On the other hand, the eagle pictured on the great seal and currency of the United States is bald eagle, strictly an American variety. The anchor dates back to the founding of the Marine Corps in 1775, and indicates the amphibious nature of the Ma-

'Common Cold' Virus Target Of Base Research Laboratory

There are 142,000,000 cases of upper respiratory tract infections or common cold illness every year. Almost 400,000,000 man days are lost each year as a result of these illnesses. Virtually every person at Camp Lejeune has at least one cold a year, and thus the common cold is the most common illness at the Base. The Virology Division of the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory is currently engaged in a joint study with the National Institute of Health, Washington, D. C., aimed at identification of the viruses which cause the common cold in adults.

Since 1950 the studies of many laboratories throughout the world have directed their efforts toward identifying a single "common cold virus." These intensive efforts have yielded at least 70 viruses associated with common cold illness.

The new viruses have world-wide distribution and include such agents as Influenza, Adenovirus, the Parainfluenza viruses, and many others. Some are prevalent at Camp Lejeune and have been identified in the Virology Laboratories at the NMFL. For example, during the months of January-March, 1960 a wave of severe upper respiratory illness in the personnel at 1st Infantry Training Regiment resulted in much lost training time, the hospitalization of many personnel, and immeasurable personal discomfort.

A virus of the adenovirus type was isolated in the Virology Laboratories at the NMFL and shown to be responsible for the outbreak of illness. This year all ITR personnel are protected from adenovirus infections by a vaccine received during training at Parris Island. In addition, an influenza vaccine, which has been available for some time, is also administered.

The viruses are isolated and identified in the laboratory by utilizing living tissue grown in sealed tubes in which the viruses multiply and produce changes which are characteristic for each virus. A sterile swab of an infected individual's throat is the source medium for virus to be cultured in the laboratory.

The head of the Virology Division, Lt. H. H. Bloom, MSC, USN, is assisted by Lt. M. A. Mufson, MC, USNR, and four hospital corpsmen. Excellent cooperation and interest by the various units of Marine Corps Base, Division, and Force Troops have been a great help in the attempts of this laboratory to pursue answers to this important disease problem.

During this past year many viruses were isolated from specimens collected from military personnel at Camp Lejeune. Intensive efforts will be made this winter to establish which viruses are most important in producing colds. Ultimately, it is anticipated that vaccines will be developed to protect against these viruses and eventually relieve everyone from the discomforts of the common cold.

Infant, Shoe Departments Opened Here

The Exchange Officer has announced the formal opening of two new departments at the Central Exchange this week. Two additions are a Shoe Department and a new Infant and Maternity Department.

This morning at 8:30, Mr. V. B. Belanger, store manager, officially opened the Shoe Department located in the former TV and Radio Shop. This shop has been completely redecorated and will carry a complete line of Children's and Ladies' Shoes.

Saturday, at 8:30 a.m., the new Infant and Maternity Department will open in the former Alimentation Shop at the Exchange. This department has also been completely redecorated with all new fixtures. The section will feature all of the needs of the expectant mother and the new baby. In addition, a new and complete line of items is available in maternity fashions.

The two new departments will operate the same as the Central Exchange hours.

Smokey Stover To Appear Next Week

Arriving from Las Vegas, Smokey Stover and his Dixieland Band will give two one-hour performances at the Camp Theater Dec. 8. Performances will begin at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. The scheduled movie will follow the final performance.

Smokey Stover and The Original Firemen guarantee to please. Fans will thrill to the Firemen as they offer old favorites like: "The Saints Go Marchin' In," "Basin Street Blues," "South Rampart Street Parade," and "Jazz Me Blues." With Smokey and his red hot trumpet will appear Jimmy Granato on the clarinet, Floyd O'Brien on the trombone, Hal Happy John Gilliland with the tuba, Hal Benson at the piano, Monte Mountjoys on the drums, plus Jerry Allen on the banjo.
