Adm. Towner Honored By Div. And FT

More than 5,000 Marines of the 2nd Marine Division and Force Troops staged a parade and review here Tuesday in honor of Vice Adm. George C. Towner, USN, Commander of Amphibious Force, Atlantic Fleet.

A mass flyover by the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing, stationed at Cherry Point, was conducted in conjunction with the parade which got under way at 10 a.m.

Brig. Gen. O. M. Conoley, Assistant Division Commander of the 2nd Marine Division, was Commanding Officer of Troops for the ceremony which included elements from almost every command within the Division as well as three battalions of Force Troops.

Accompanying Admiral Towner was the following flag officers: Rear Adm. G. H. Wales, Commander Amphibious Training, Atlantic; Brig. Gen. A. R. Brunelli, Commanding General of the Marine Corps' Landing Force Training Unit, and Rear Adm. E. B. Fluckey, Commander of Amphibious Group Four.

Also attending were: Lt. Gen. J. C. Burger, Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic; Maj. Gen. R. C. Mangrum, Deputy Commander, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic; Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, Commanding General of the 2nd Marine Division; Maj. Gen. R. K. Rottet, Commanding General, 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing, and Brig. Gen. L. F. Chapman Jr., Commanding General, Force Troops, at Camp Lejeune.

Uniform Note

A recent Base Bulletin has extended the wearing of the winter service "C" uniform until the end of the year. Winter service "C" is greens without coat or jacket.

For further information on the wearing of articles of uniform, Marines are referred to Base Bulletin 1020.

'Leadville' Opens At First ITR; Hold Ceremony This Morning

Elaborate ceremonies this morning marked the opening of "Leadville" at the 1st Infantry Training Regiment. Leadville is the new combat town recently completed to replace the old town destroyed by fire last year. The official opening occurred when Maj. Gen. Robert B. Luckey, Base commanding general, after a tour through the town, exploded the red ribbon stretched across "Broadway," the main street with a small exploding device. Following a narrative describing combat town, a Marine rifle squad composed of ITR trainees, assaulted the town and demonstrated special techniques used in house-to-house fighting. After the assault and occupation of the town, Col. G. H. West, ITR commanding officer, presented the "Keys to the City" to General Luckey.

Accommodations

The new town will accommodate approximately 220 trainees per day. Six two-story buildings and three single structures comprise the town. There are three main streets and a number of alleys and side streets.

The new town will be supervised by GySgt. Robert Hicks, a Marine who has instructed over 135,000 recruits in the technique of combat in built-up areas. He has been teaching this subject since 1957.

Construction

Construction on combat town began in July of this year and was completed Nov. 9. The initial plans were drawn up by Capt. B. R. Cummins, Senior Instructor in Tactics at ITR. Supervision of the over-all construction was done by GySgt. Arthur P. Chase and SSgt. Francis J. Duffy of the 8th Engineer Bn. All of the work was done by Marines awaiting transfer.

The cost of construction was comparatively low since all materials for the buildings were taken from surveyed buildings at ITR.

United Fund Drive Ending

The final deadline date for the United Fund campaign has been set for tomorrow, it was announced by Committee Chairman Lt. Col. W. G. Hopkins at a meeting Monday morning.

Colonel Hopkins said the drive had been left open to accommodate those who have not received an opportunity to make their contributions.

"Since the drive has been left open for an extra week and we have already reached the 96 per cent mark, I believe that we will successfully realize our $80,000 pre-set goal sometime the first of next week," the colonel said.

Monday's report at the committee meeting found Marine Corps Base still leading 11 commands with $28,647.13 for a percentage mark of 102 per cent. Force Troops fell into second place boasting a 101 percentage mark contributing $14,013.78. The 2nd Marine Division, although contributing more than the other two commands, re-

Inspector General And Party Scheduled To Arrive Here Thanksgiving Weekend

The Inspector-General and his Staff are expected to arrive at Camp Lejeune on Nov. 27 to inspect units and personnel of the Marine Corps Base, 2nd Division and Force Troops. The Inspector-General is Maj. Gen. James M. Masters Sr., who was awarded the Navy Cross for extraordinary heroism on Okinawa while serving as executive officer of the Seventh Marines. An inspection party will be made up of one colonel, general inspector; one lieutenant colonel, troop inspector; and one captain, administrative inspector, will probably be assigned to each of the three major Lejeune commands. These inspectors will be augmented by about 30 other officers from Headquarters Marine Corps.

In addition to inspecting the various units of the Lejeune-based commands, the IG Team will examine the operations of the following type activities: Auditors, Communications-Electronics, Disbursing, Management Engineer, Maintenance, Food Services, Marine Exchange, Motor Transport, Personnel, Postal, Special Services, Supply, Training and Women Marines.

According to the CMC letter scheduling the inspection, "Commanders of subordinate organizations will (ordinarily) be informed by the senior inspector or his representatives as to the details of the personnel, clothing and equipment inspections at least 48 hours in advance of such inspection."

An initial conference will be conducted by the senior inspector as early as practical on the first inspection day. Specific details concerning the inspection which have not been announced previously, will be given to commanding officers at that time.

The Base Inspector, Col. J. H. Jones, and the Division Inspector, Col. R. R. Van Stockum, state that the following things should be ac-

Cothran Top Photographer In Base Lab

A photographic contest is held each month by the Base Photo Lab to select the "Photo of the Month." This selection is made from photographs taken by the Base photographers on their normal duty assignments.

A picture of the inside of the Catholic Chapel was selected as "Photo of the Month" for October and was the work of LCpl. James A. Cothran.

The pictures are judged by CWO-3 J. W. Lilley, Division photographic officer, and MSgt. W. V. Brown, Division photographic chief.

Cut Announced For Mess Assessments

The percentage of the gross sales collected by the Marine Mess Fund Assessment Program from Commissioned Officers Messes, Staff NCO Clubs, Enlisted Clubs, and Hostess Houses will be decreased as of July 1, 1961, according to Marine Corps Bulletin 7010.

The current percentage collected from the various facilities is one and a half per cent but this will be reduced to one per cent for the Fiscal Year 1962.

This decrease is due to a recent study of the capitalization and financial status of the Program which found a sufficiency of funds on hand to allow the decrease and still maintain the overall purpose of the Mess Fund Program which is to make loans to, or set up new clubs or messes at new bases.

The forthcoming Manual for Messes, Clubs, Hostess Houses and Miscellaneous Nonappropriated Fund Activities will incorporate the provisions of the reduced percentages.

Now accepted by Webster as a synonym for Marine, the term "Leatherneck" was derived from a leather stock once worn around the neck by both American and British Marines. Beginning in 1798, "one stock of black leather and clasp" was issued to each U. S. Marine annually. The three-inch high stock was dropped as an article of Marine uniform in 1872.

Classification, Assignment Gets 3,000 Marines Yearly

More than 3,000 Marines transferred to Marine Corps Base are processed through the Base Classification and Assignment Section annually, according to SSgt. Lloyd C. Ginter, NCOinC. Formerly known as the Base Reception Center and located in Bldg. 1110, the section is under the direction of the Adjutant Section, Marine Corps Base. Three Marines, Sergeant Ginter and LCpls. Gaye Salmon and Lawrence Farrell, handle the work load.

Marines assigned to Marine Corps Base report to this section for further orders to their new unit. A scan of the table of organization of Base units shows billet vacancies which are filled by the Classification and Assignment Section. Corporal Farrell said that individual assignments are determined with the aid of advance orders and the Marine's service record book.

Not as well known to personnel of Camp Lejeune, but considered a major function of the section, is aptitude testing. The Classification and Assignment Section is responsible for giving aptitude tests for the entire Quad-Command. These tests include such subjects as electronics and language proficiency.

Corporal Salmon, Testing Instructor of the section, states that the department is also responsible for the administering of the General Classification Test to Base personnel. The GCT is often re-taken for purposes of entering military schools or for inclusion in the officer career program.

The GCT is given to all Marines upon enlistment. Marines are eligible for re-testing after an eight-month period. Each Marine is allowed to be re-tested twice.

Corporal Salmon said GCT scores have been increased by an average of five to 10 points by those re-taking the test. This average was based on those tests administered during 1960. All Marines are eligible to re-take the GCT or any of the above listed aptitude tests. All that is required is a formal request sheet from their commanding officer.

Marine Wraps Up Five Years' Study During Med Cruise

ABOARD THE USS CHILTON, Oct. 29 (Delayed)—Proving once again that "Where There's a Will—There's a Way," Marine SSgt. Paul D. Thompson has completed MCI and Extension School courses totaling almost five years of study time while on the current Mediterranean cruise.

A Flame Thrower Section Leader, SSgt. Thompson is a member of Capt. Arthur M. Brown's Headquarters and Service Co., 1st Bn. (Reinf.), Eighth Marines, embarked aboard the attack transport USS CHILTON.

Although not claiming to be an official title-holder, the modest sergeant's ability to concentrate under almost any circumstances plus his thirst for knowledge has enabled Thompson to establish a remarkable record of course completions.

In one three-month period, he completed 12 MCI courses covering the 01 and 03 fields and the Advanced Enlisted and Basic Officer's Course. In another month Thompson polished off the Communication Officer's Course, which consists of seven sub-courses and usually takes eight months to finish. Meanwhile, between lessons, so to speak, he tackled the two-year Junior Officer's Course and completed it within three months.

mains in third place, percentage-wise, with $29,053.90, for an 87 per cent standing.

Air Facility reported a 78 per cent standing contributing $3,500.00. Overall total of the drive stands at $75,214.81, putting Camp Lejeune within 6 per cent of its $80,000 goal.

Here's the Answer

Look Sharp, Be Sharp Adage Still Pays Off

For the past two years, reports have been flowing into Headquarters Marine Corps from this command. These reports cover every phase of operation from the daily routine to special training. From these reports Headquarters Marine Corps is able to judge the efficiency, proficiency and even the overall appearance of the Camp.

But, all the hard work of the Marines who have kept the command in the Excellent/Outstanding column can be easily ruined. When the Inspector General inspects Marine Corps Base at the end of this month, we will be judged on what he sees during his visit. A poor showing can wipe out the work of two years.

It is reasonable to assume that a Marine who looks sharp will take more pains with his job. When you look sharp, you feel sharp, to paraphrase a popular advertisement. Staying sharp is an easy way to save money, too. A dirty uniform wears out more quickly and replacement costs are higher now than they have ever been in the past.

Proper military conduct is a money-saver. While you may not lose a stripe for failing to salute or observing proper military courtesy, it can ruin your chances for promotion.

One of the most important reasons for maintaining a sharp appearance is the impression given to the thousands of civilians who visit Camp Lejeune each year.

The Marine they see on this Base, regardless of job or unit, is the entire Marine Corps to our visitors. It is one thing for them to see a column of troops marching in from the field. This is honest dirt and sweat earned in training and this they understand. But a Marine slouching around in a dirty uniform, hands in his pockets and saluting sloppily is a shock to them and tears down the good picture they have of the Corps.

The same thing can happen when the IG visits Camp Lejeune. If you have a buddy who looks a bit cruddy, see to it he squares away. If you are an officer or NCO and you see a man out of uniform or in a dirty uniform, square him away.

And, while you are at it, take a good look in the mirror.

Construction has started on the USS ARIZONA Memorial at Pearl Harbor. The first of four 130-ton concrete piers have been lifted into place over the sunken battleship. The piers are 84 feet long and will cost approximately $50,000. It took six hours for cement trucks to fill the forms and about 28 days is being allowed for them to dry or "cure."

A Marine Air Reserve pilot, Capt. John K. Roschlaw, saved the Marine Corps and the taxpayers $800,000 by bringing two FJ-3 Fury jet fighters in for safe landings after the planes developed flame-outs—jet engine failure while in flight.

Pilots of planes who flame out are justified in bailing out and letting the plane crash because they have no control of a plane without power.

The Navy Cross was awarded to Pfc Richard N. Blasongame of Grand Lake, Colo., during ceremonies held at Buckley Field for heroism while serving with Weapons Co., 2nd Bn., First Marines, in Korea.

While acting as a platoon sergeant of a machine gun platoon, he took command of a machine gun section exposed on three sides, and manned a gun when one of the gunners was wounded. He hurled grenades, gave aid to the wounded, supervised the evacuation of the wounded and rallied his men to repulse an attack. When a grenade exploded under his last remaining gun, he continued to fire the gun by moving the tripod from side to side.

The next morning there were only four survivors of the original 16-man section. The count of the enemy dead in front of the position was 287.

Chaplains' Corner

Someone observed that introspection is to the soul what diagnosis is to the body, the first step towards recovery. Instead of building monuments to ourselves out of the debris of someone else's character, we could well profit from a good look at ourselves. Some people seem to need someone to look down on, but it is always annoying to discover that other people are just as superior to us as we are to them.

George Santayana said: "Perhaps the only true dignity of man is his capacity to despise himself." Think of the saintly men of the Bible who despised themselves. There was Peter who said: "I am a sinful man." Paul considered himself the "chief of sinners." Job who was perfect and upright said: "I abhor myself and repent in dust and ashes." Isaiah had learned the dignity of despising himself when he had a vision of the Almighty and saw his own sins silhouetted against the background of God's perfect holiness.

What we need today is to have such a vision of the holiness of God that we will be convicted by a sense of our own unrighteousness instead of rationalizing our way out of everything and priding ourselves in the fact that we know someone who is worse than ourselves. Evangelist Dwight L. Moody said: "I have had more trouble with myself than with any other man I have ever met." I believe that most people want to be good but they do not will to be good; they follow their conscience in the same way a man follows a wheelbarrow, pushing it wherever he wants to go.

One of the benefits of corporate worship in the house of God is that it brings us into the presence of the Almighty. His Spirit searches our hearts and reveals to us that we are something less than perfect. And he also gives us the strength to overcome those things by which we have been overcome.

—Chaplain W. Norman MacFarlane.

If You Ask Me:

WHAT DO YOU THINK IS THE BEST WAY TO KEEP IN BEST PHYSICAL CONDITION?

SSGT. DONALD O. ARES, Hq. Co., Hq. Bn., MCB—I believe that one of the best ways to keep in good physical shape is to participate in good sports, such as ice hockey, football, baseball and hunting.

Aside from the fact that physical exercise is necessary in acquiring a good, strong body, plenty of sleep and a good diet, comprised of three balanced meals a day, are a must. It can't hurt anyone to eat the right kind of food as well as it can't hurt anyone, least of all Marines, to do simple little exercises.

LCPL. PATRICIA A. TIMMLER, Woman Marine Company, Hq. Bn., MCB—I think the best way to stay in good physical condition is to get plenty of exercise. Taking long walks now and then can get you the fresh air your system needs. It can also help you develop a good, healthy appetite. Three square meals should be eaten every day. The foods should be non-fattening, most of the time, and the foods should include most all the vitamins that are necessary for a healthy body. I am most definitely a firm believer in taking maximum care of the body, both in health and, just as important, in appearance.

SSGT. LLOYD J. GINTER JR., Hq. Co., Hq. Bn., MCB—I feel that the best way to keep in good physical condition is to practice outdoor living. Hunting and fishing provides me with more than enough exercise to maintain good health and physical condition. Hiking through the woods once in a while, breathing that good fresh air is, to me, the best thing in the world for keeping in good shape. The fact is that oftentimes the opportunity to go on these hikes is a rare thing anymore. Another important thing is devoting at least 15 minutes a day doing little exercises, push-ups and the like. This isn't a great deal of time when you stop and think how much good it does for the body.

CPL. LAWRENCE E. FARRELL, Hq. Co., Hq. Bn., MCB—Getting three square

meals a day, at least eight hours of sleep each night, and getting as much exercise as one's schedule will permit are three "musts" in the attainment of a good healthy body. It's a bit hard for office workers to get out any time at all to take advantage of the outdoors, but at one time or another, there's always time for outdoor physical activity, even if it must be done only on weekends. Every man should take it upon himself to insure his health, improve his physical appearance and make this one of his most important goals to strive for.

good physical condition, one must first of all have enough pride in himself to want to stay in good physical condition. Some of the steps one can take to stay this way are to take upon himself the responsibility of getting plenty of exercise daily, having a balanced diet, and getting sufficient sleep and rest. The art, and I stress "art," of getting and staying in good physical shape remains with the individual. No one can stay trim and healthy unless he really wants to and makes up his mind that he is going to do so.

Lejeune Decisions Burros During Season Finale Here

The Camp Lejeune Marines struggled to a 20-6 decision over the Ft. Dix Burros in their last home game of the 1960 season at Liversedge Field Saturday morning. In a contest which saw the first half end in a scoreless tie, Camp Lejeune came on strong in the third quarter, racking up three touchdowns. The first portion of the clash was devoted to a see-saw battle in which the Burros attempted two field goals, both of which were wide of the mark.

The second half opened with Ft. Dix kicking off to "Spider" Green on the Lejeune 10-yard marker. The 165-pound halfback twisted his way upfield to the Lejeune 35. Given the pigskin once again, Green carried the ball 45 yards to the Ft. Dix 20. All-Marine halfback Mel Anderson then chipped away at the Burros' line for five more yards. Pardee followed with a three-yard gain. Taking the ball on a handoff from quarterback Marty Klein, Anderson went over for the score. Lejeune's toe-man, Chuck Rix, entered the contest to make the score 7-0, Lejeune.

Five minutes later, facing a third and six situation, the Burros' Joe Scott quick-kicked the ball to the Lejeune 25. Four plays later quarterback Vince Cesare unleashed a long (42-yard) pass play to Anderson for the second TD of the game. In the first attempt for the PAT, Lejeune was penalized 15 yards. Rix then attempted to pass to Anderson for two points. But Anderson was unable to cross the goal line with the pigskin and Lejeune led, 13-0.

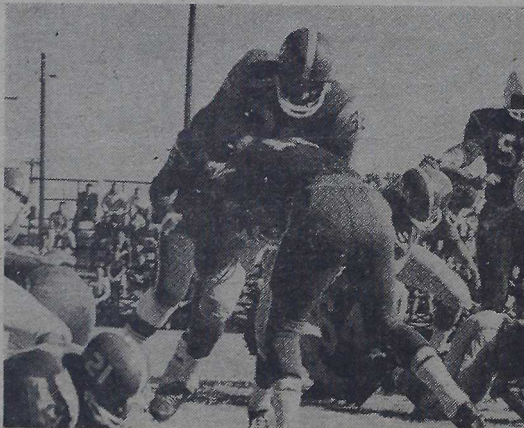

The Burros' only score of the game also came in the third stanza when their full back, Joe Scott, went over from 15 yards out on a delayed handoff. Attempting to pass for two extra points, Burros' quarterback Carl Peggs was smothered and Lejeune still led, 13-6.

In the closing minutes of the third quarter Vince Cesare again showed his throwing arm as he hit end Joe Losack for 43 yards. With a first and 10 situation on the Ft. Dix 17-yard marker, Cesare, fullback Chuck Taylor and Anderson took turns lugging the mail to the Burros one-foot line. From here halfback Denis Pardee cracked over for the TD. Rix's boot was good and Lejeune maintained their 20-6 lead until the final gun.

Big Grid Rivals Meet At Quantico Saturday

The Camp Lejeune "Marines" go back on the road this weekend, traveling to Quantico, Va., to face their biggest rival of the season on the gridiron Saturday afternoon. Considered by both coaches as the Army-Navy game of Marine Corps football competition, a win Saturday is a must for both teams. The Quantico eleven came out on top last season 22-21 to finish their season undefeated, while Lejeune won four and suffered seven defeats.

"This season both squads meet with a 6-2 record for the current season thus far.

"This is the one game we must win, and it will tell us just how good a season we had." A win will mean a very good year while a loss will be a big disappointment and will mean we were just mediocre," said Coach Horn.

The Lejeune coaches have been putting the pressure on their squads all week in preparation for the coming battle. "The morale is high and the desire to win is overwhelming," stated the coaches.

The big threat in the Quantico backfield, according to the Lejeune mentors, are quarterback Bob Schwarze and halfback King Dixon. Both are returnees from the undefeated squad last season.

Schwarze arrived at Quantico with four years' experience on the gridiron at The Citadel. He was named the Most Valuable Player on last year's championship team. Dixon, with four years' football experience at the University of South Carolina, was named Outstanding Service Football Player last year by the Washington, D. C., Touchdown Club.

Though still plagued with injuries, Coach Horn will again use his modified three-platoon system in hopes of stopping the offensive of Quantico. The line, heaviest hit with injuries, is hoping for the return of guard Jerry Smythe and end J. C. Ernest to add strength to the forward wall.

The Lejeune head tutor is expecting All-Marine Mel Anderson to spark his offensive on the ground. Mel goes into the clash with a 6.84 yards per carry average thus far. Running with Anderson will be Lawrence Fennessy and fullbacks Chuck Taylor and Ross Zaccheo.

Quarterbacks Keith Wilson, Vince Cesare and Marty Klein are all capable of throwing the pigskin to balance out the Lejeune attack. Ends Joe Losack, Bob Ware, Lee Russ and J. C. Ernest will be the main targets of the field generals if they decide to take to the air.

Turkey Tournament

A Thanksgiving Turkey Tournament will be held at the Paradise Point Golf Course on November 19-20. The tournament is open to the public with an entry fee of $1.

On Course No. 1 there will be eight contests, starting with the closest drive to the pin on holes 2, 12 and 17, the nearest ball on the third shot on hole 18, and the longest drive on 9. There will also be a Blind Bogey, Low Gross, Low Net, a pitching contest and a putting contest which will be run by the Ladies Golf Association.

On Course No. 2 linksters will find a Blind Bogey and a closest to the pin on holes yet to be determined. The winners of each contest will win a turkey.

Due to the shorter daylight hours the driving range at Paradise Point will close at 4:30 p.m.

Anderson Leads Team In Rushing Yardage, Scoring

The Camp Lejeune varsity football squad will boast a 6-2 record going into their clash with Quantico Saturday. Averaging 4.88 yards per carry on the ground, the Lejeune eleven has picked up a total of 1,252 yards rushing and 957 through the air, completing 56 of 132 pass attempts. High ground-gainer thus far has been All-Marine Mel Anderson. Mel has carried the pigskin 61 times, picking up a total of 417 yards to average 6.84 yards per carry. Anderson also leads in the scoring column with seven touchdowns by rushing.

Ranking second is fullback Chuck Taylor with 21 carries for 110 yards to set his yards per carry at 5.24. Halfback Lawrence Fennessy also has 21 carries with a total of 108 yards for an average of 5.14.

Leading the passing department thus far is Keith Wilson. With 21 attempts Keith has completed 10 for 143 yards while missing 10 and suffering one interception for a percentage mark of .475.

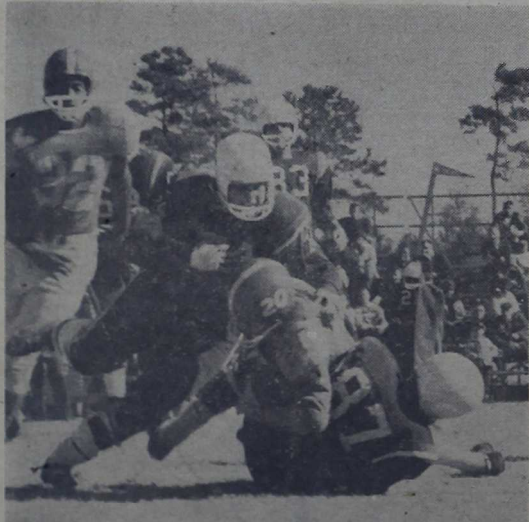

Vince Cesare follows with a percentage of .371 throwing 62 passes, completing 23 for 356 yards, missing 35 and having four interceptions. Vince is tied with Marty Klein in touchdown passes with four. Klein has heaved the pigskin 41 times, completing 15 for 254 yards, missing 22 and also suffers four interceptions to set his percentage at .366.

Three men are tied in the high scoring column for pass receiving. Mel Anderson, Jim Lipscomb and Joe Losack have each taken two spirals into the end zone for 12 points each.

The kicking slot shows Chuck Rix with 21 kickoffs for a total of 1,105 yards, giving him a 52.1 yards per kick average. Rix has attempted 10 field goals, hitting four and missing six for a 32.7-yard average. Chuck also holds an .880 percentage in conversions, hitting 22 of 25 attempts.

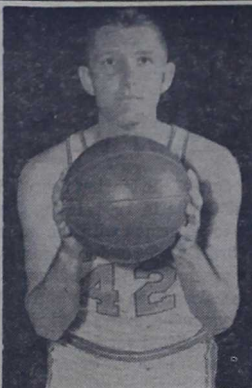

The punting chores of Joe Losack show 23 punt attempts with two being blocked. Joe has a total of 816 yards for a 35.5 yards per kick average.

PILING ON—A defensive lineman of the Ft. Dix "Burros" makes sure Lejeune halfback Dennis Pardee is down as he piles on during the final minutes of the game on Liversedge Field Saturday morning. Lejeune came out on top, 20-6. Pardee racked up Lejeune's final tally of the Marines' last home game Saturday when he cracked over the goal line from one foot out. (Photo by Sgt. S. E. Bolf)

Skins Keep First Place

Sunday afternoon saw the Rams battle the Redskins down to the final gun before going under 7-6, while the Colts ran over the Bears 14-0.

The air was nippy and tempers hot as the Colts and Bears battled for second spot in the league standings. The Colts got off to a fast start when Paulson took the opening kick-off to the Bears' 30-yard line where Bill Batchelor stopped the touchdown run.

The Bears battered the Bear team up to the 10-yard line where they lost the pigskin on downs. The Bears found the going rough and were forced to punt to their 10 where Paulson returned it to the Bear 20. Two big penalties put the Colts' back on the midfield line and a bad pass from center gave the Bears the spiral on the 45 as the first quarter ended.

The Colts regained possession of the pigskin after holding the Bears for four downs, to the 47. After a series of plays, Paulson kicked right end for the first score of the game. Billy Clear bulled his way over for the PAT.

Late in the third quarter, Paulson intercepted Batchelor's pass and went 70 yards for the final touchdown with Moore adding the conversion. The tilt ended with the Colts out in front 14-0.

A fired-up Rams team battled the Redskins in mid-field all afternoon only to go under late in the third period. Following a Rams punt taken by Wooldridge on the Redskins' 40 where he returned it to the Rams' 40. After two tries at the line, Wooldridge went around right end for the touchdown. Wooldridge again with the spiral went over right guard for the conversion.

After an exchange of punts, the Rams gradually forced the Skins back after losing the ball on downs inside Redskins' 10-yard line. Wooldridge again went around left end only to be double-teamed. He lost the spiral on a fumble, which Aycock snared in mid-air giving the distance for the score. A pass for the extra point failed and the Redskins won 7-6.

6th Marines Continue Lead In Complex Loop

The Sixth Marines remain as the only unbeaten team in the Camp Lejeune-Cherry Point Complex Football League following a hard-earned 18-9 victory over previously undefeated Group II at Camp Lejeune last Wednesday. The Sixth Marines scored the first touchdown of the game early in the first period. A 35-yard run by Phillips put the ball on the Group II three, from where Bassano scored. The extra point attempt was wide. Less than a minute later, Group II tied the score.

Returning the kick-off to their own 28, Group II caught the Infantrymen napping with a trick play. Lining up quickly with 10 men 15 yards from the center, the ball was snapped to halfback Macklin who ran 72 yards down the sideline for the six points. An attempted pass for two points was batted down.

Later in the first period Group II received a break when they intercepted a Sixth Marines pass. With a first down and goal on the two, the composite team was unable to penetrate the big Sixth Marines line. On fourth down Smith kicked an 18-yard field goal for a 9-6 Group II lead.

Neither team threatened seriously until late in the second period, when Group II put together a drive that stalled on the Sixth Marines' 31. With two minutes remaining in the half they tried to kick for the coffin corner but the ball traveled only six yards.

The Sixth Marines elected to gamble deep in their own territory and Fletcher found Jackson in the clear on a pass-run that covered 67 yards to the Group II eight. Fletcher skirted end on the next play for the score. The attempted conversion was unsuccessful for a 12-9 Sixth Marines advantage at the intermission.

Second Half
Group II started the second half with the longest sustained drive of the afternoon. With Laverdiere and Paseh doing the brunt of the carrying, Coach Jim Ward's team drove to the Sixth Marines' 20 before the drive stalled. A fourth down field goal attempt was blocked by the surging Sixth Marines line.

The big break in the game came mid-way through the final period. The Sixth Marines punted deep into Group II territory and the receiver had the ball bounce off his chest and alert Infantrymen recovered on the 20. From there the Sixth moved to the five and Fletcher ran for his second touchdown of the day on a keeper.

The win was strictly a team effort by Coach Ray Alberigi's charges. Fletcher, who had a hand in all the scoring, and Holtscaw were outstanding on offense. The defensive line, anchored by Canty and Middlebrooks, tightened in crucial moments to stop the high-powered Group II offense.

The victory assured the Sixth Marines of at least a tie for the league championship. A win or tie in tonight's game against MWHG at Camp Lejeune will give them the crown.

Tenth Marines Win
The Tenth Marines and Force Troops clashed on Liversedge Field last Thursday and the Cannoners walked off with a tight 6-0 win.

The lone touchdown in the game came on a pass from O. D. Jones to Bobby Jones that climaxed a short drive early in the second period. The Cannoners threatened only one other time when a drive from midfield was stopped on the one-foot line in the third period.

Force Troops nearly pulled the contest out of the fire in the last four minutes with their only scoring threat of the day. Al Fields got behind his defensive man on a pass from Jim Kish and seemed headed for a touchdown only to be brought down from behind on a game-saving tackle by Cannoneer end Andy Anderson on the 12. A holding penalty against Force Troops killed the threat.

Anderson and Bill Fine spearheaded the Tenth Marines defense, while fullback Joe Miluski played his usual fine game. The win was the Cannoners' fourth against one defeat and a tie. They will meet Group II on Liversedge Field Saturday morning in their final league game.

In last week's action at Cherry Point, Marine Wing Headquarters Group handed MAG-14 their sixth straight defeat, 14-0.

complished by the personnel at Camp Lejeune before the Inspector-General's inspection:

The grounds, streets, barracks and other buildings, must be in a state of outstanding police over the Thanksgiving weekend as the Inspector and his staff are scheduled to arrive that Sunday afternoon.

The initial impression on the Inspector may have a great influence on the inspection as a whole. Keep the Base clean not only over the Thanksgiving weekend, but at all times.

The Inspectors also say that personnel should take great pride in being a Marine. Wear the uniform correctly at all times, conduct themselves as Marines and walk erect.

Staff NCO's were designated as company and platoon commanders for the parade, with Support Co. "B" as color company.

Headquarters Company was commanded by 1st Sgt. Edward J. Kriwonak, while 1st Sgt. Douglas H. Guy commanded Support Co. "A." First Sgt. John D. Steeley Jr. was in charge of Support Co. "B" during the parade and MSgt. Phyllis E. McGuire commanded Woman Marine Company.

Inspector General

Other reminders for preparing for the inspection are to take down the old or torn orders, signs and other adornments used in offices. Keep all troop formations squared away, don't allow talking in ranks, and keep them marching like Marines.

Individuals should study uniform regulations, so they will know the proper uniform to be worn and how to wear them.

Buy new ribbons ahead of time, do not wait until the last day because they may be all sold out when the last day arrives. Wear the ribbons and badges as directed by the uniform.

Be sure that chevrons and service stripes (hashmarks) are sewn on properly. If the chevrons are worn from pressing of normal

Oldest Company Receives Newest Infantry Weapons

One of the Marine Corps' oldest infantry companies, formed at Cavite in 1901, is the first unit in the 2nd Marine Division to be armed with the latest infantry weapons. "I" Co., of the 3rd Bn., Second Marines, has been selected to field test a new arsenal of individual arms. Some of the weapons on hand—and already in use by the infantrymen—are the M-14 rifle and a modified version designed to replace the old standby, the Browning Automatic Rifle; and the M-60 machine gun; the XM-79, a grenade launcher.

Under the command of Capt. D. J. Fulham, the Marines are engaged in the troop-testing program which may change the current Tables of Organization for Marine units. The program consists of the employment of troops and their new weapons to determine if planned organizational structures for use in the future are satisfactory and recommended necessary changes to current Tables of Organization for maximum use of weapons and personnel.

The new M-14 rifle has many advantages over the M-1 service rifle, currently in use by the Marine Corps. The M-14 is lighter by approximately one pound and better balanced than the M-1 Garand which has been in use since World War II. It is a semi-automatic weapon, using a magazine holding 20 rounds. The M-1's maximum cartridge load was eight rounds. Also, the magazine of the M-14 may be loaded while in or out of the receiver.

The new rifle contains less moving parts and is easier to disassemble for cleaning and maintenance, with smoother operation and less recoil.

Another new weapon in use by the company is the modified M-14 rifle. The two weapons are basically the same but the M-14 requires only a few changes to be modified and become an automatic firing weapon. If found acceptable it will replace the present Browning Automatic Rifle. With the installation of a firing selector, a fiber glass hand guard, a bipod and hinged butt plate, the M-14 is converted to a versatile, effective weapon that can be fired automatically or semi-automatically. The fiber glass hand guard permits faster dispersing of the heat and quicker barrel cooling. The bi-pod may be put on or taken off quickly with the turn of a catch. The stock is constructed for quick attachment of the hinged butt plate.

Replacing the old 1919-A4 and water-cooled BMG 1917A1 machine gun is the new 7.62mm MG M-60 general purpose machine gun. This new weapon, weighing only 23.16 without mount, has many advantages over the previous two used by the Marines. This new weapon is designed to be fired from the shoulder or in prone and sitting positions. It may also be fired from the hip during assault operations. An ammunition carrier is attached to the side of the weapon for use during landings. It is gas operated and requires no adjustments of head expansion or buffer in comparison to the older machine guns. Another feature of the new machine gun is the speedy replacement of barrels in as little as four seconds.

The newest weapon in use by the company is the XM-79 grenade launcher. This weapon is capable of destroying enemy machine gun nests, light field fortifications and small troop concentrations up to 400 meters distance. This lightweight weapon, firing a 40mm shell with a six-ounce high explosive projectile, gives the rifleman an area of fire capability between the maximum range of a hand grenade and the minimum range of a mortar. The launcher weighs only six pounds, has an aluminum barrel, and is only 28.6 inches long. It has the general appearance of a shotgun.

A big advantage of the M-14 rifle, M-14 rifle modified and the M-60 machine gun is that they all use the same ammunition. The NATO 7.62mm cartridge for these weapons is the same diameter as the .30 caliber cartridge. It is slightly shorter but is packed with a new type powder which gives the same muzzle velocity and range of fire. All the free countries in the world today will use this same ammunition thus enabling easier procurement for combat troops.

Despite push-button war, super-sonic missiles, and mass destruction weapons, the man and the rifle is still a common necessity. With the new infantry weapons, the infantryman will be better armed than ever.

Unit Sets Up Turkey Shoot

Hoyle's rules for card playing will be shot full of holes here Saturday when members of Headquarters Battalion, Marine Corps Base, line up at the F-11 range to conduct their version of "showdown" poker.

Stakes of the game will be a Thanksgiving turkey and the title of winner in the Battalion turkey shoot.

Participants in Saturday's shoot will have an opportunity to crank off five rounds each at targets placed 50 feet away. Twenty playing cards, ranging in denomination from ace to five, will be drawn on each target and the marksmen, using .22 cal. weapons, will attempt to puncture the cards giving them the best poker hands.

Top shooter in each of the 10-man relays will be awarded a $100 gift certificate which can be exchanged at the Base Commissary for a turkey or other groceries. There will be a turkey-limit of one fowl per shooter.

Match officials have announced the cost to the individual shooter is 65 cents and personnel wishing to compete in the shoot must fill out an application form and return it to the Battalion S-3 office prior to noon today.

Inclement weather will change the scene of the shoot from the F-11 range to the Indoor range, D-6.

DEATH GRATUITY

If you should die on active duty, your widow, or certain other designated close relatives, are entitled to an immediate cash payment of six times your monthly basic and special pay (minimum payment, $800; maximum, $3,000). Throw away the frayed utility cap that has been your pride and joy as you think it looks salty. Do not cut down utility shirts as they are supposed to fit loosely.

Laces will be in shoes and boots for inspection and all clothing and equipment will be laid out for inspection in accordance with the NAV-MC P-1199.

Salute and salute properly at all times. Cut and clean your fingernails and hands prior to the inspection.

Col. K. A. Jorgensen, Base Chief of Staff, says, "Have as good an inspection as possible and, remember, that a good inspection can be of great benefit to all personnel and units—it shows the weak areas and confirms the good."

'Pocket Stew' Featured For Scout Group

A comical "Pocket Stew" will highlight this Saturday morning's meeting for Brown Troop 210, Tarawa Terrace, when they add a new twist to their weekend cookouts. The affair will be held at the Knox Scout Center, and is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Each girl, contributing her share to the "pot lunch," will have a vegetable in her pocket upon arrival at the hut. Meat will be provided by the troop's funds. Girls planning to attend are requested to be at the Tarawa Terrace Community Building at 9:45 a.m., after which the group will move to Knox. Another feature for the morning will be the introduction of the new members of the newly elected patrol leaders for the next two months. Those elected are as follows: Goldilocks, Gay Cooper, Connie Butler; Pricilla Peterson, Carol Williams; Orioles, Kaye Terry, Lin-Perish.

Speech Given To Wives By New Club President

Over 50 enlisted men's wives of Midway Park met in their community center last week for a formal orientation of club purpose by the group's newly-elected president, Mrs. M. W. Self. Prepared for a thorough presentation of the necessary essentials in a successful military wives' club, Mrs. Self gave an hour and a half-long speech which was followed by a discussion period by the wives. Because of the sudden rising interest among the wives in the park for new, better and different activities, seven officers will now be held instead of the usual four. Additions are two vice presidents as opposed to the previous one, sergeant-at-arms, and historian. This, the women believe, will make for more interesting reports during the meetings and motivate initiative toward group participation.

The Midway Park Wives Club is financed by the Community Association. All expenses necessary in promoting interest among the women, both during the meetings and for entertainment support, is through this association. An annual election of officers to the Community Association was held recently in the park's housing office with the following members elected: president, Cpl. Earl F. Valley; 1st vice president, Sgt. David G. Roberts; 2nd vice president, Sgt. Robert E. Wheeler; secretary, Mrs. Rose Buras; treasurer, Mrs. D. R. Womack; and publicity chairman, Sgt. Edward E. Miller.

Cancer Film To Be Explained At Staff Wives Meet Tonight

Women of the Staff NCO Wives Club of Camp Lejeune will meet tonight at 8:15 in the Tarawa Terrace Community Center. Feature for the evening will be a detailed cancer film through the courtesy of the local Jacksonville chapter of the Cancer Society.

Refreshments will follow the film and a short business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Robert Kristof, president. All members are encouraged to attend this educational meeting.

At the last business meeting, the following announcements were made: The Thrift Shop will be closed from Dec. 16 to Jan. 3; the group is planning for an "all-out" Christmas Party to be held in the Geiger Staff NCO Club; commendation to Mrs. J. Murphy for receiving her 100-hour pin for layette work; four new members were admitted to the club: Mesdames K. Nelson, E. Sigelko, D. Vanderhoof, and G. Boozier.

PTA Meeting

The Midway Park Parent Teachers Association will hold an important business meeting Monday evening, 7:30 p.m. in the Camp High School. The 2nd Marine Division Chorus will provide entertainment.

The schedule of events for the Staff Wives Club, Marine Corps Air Facility, looks toward a busy holiday season as the ladies begin planning and preparing for social meetings, dinner dances and Christmas parties.

Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the women will have as their guest Miss Sarah Asbess, Onslow County Home Demonstration Agent, who will give a lecture and demonstration on Christmas decorations. A complete display of ornaments, gift wrappings, and holly will be presented to the group, after which individual instruction will be given.

All Staff Wives in the area are cordially invited to attend the meeting. Contact Mrs. Irene Bailly, extension 548, for further information.

Mrs. H. H. Fridley New OWC Welfare Chairman

Mrs. R. D. Wright, president of the Officers Wives Club, has appointed Mrs. H. H. Fridley to succeed Mrs. L. E. Bach as Welfare Chairman of the OWC. At a meeting held this month by the incoming and out-going chairman, Mrs. Bach advised the new welfare chairman of the eight groups in the club, explained purpose and procedure of the various projects, arranged the USO "Home Town Registration" program which the Officers Wives Club sponsors in January, and organized the Naval Hospital Coffee Hour.

The Coffee Hour, conducted on the third Wednesday of each month, is sponsored by each group of Officers Wives Club. Each group is scheduled for a separate month at which time group representatives take 36 dozen homemade cookies to the Naval Hospital's recreation hall. They do this for the purpose of helping lend a homelike atmosphere for the patients.

Mrs. Fridley also replaces Mrs. Bach as the Coordinator for Welfare Projects which OWC groups undertake throughout the year.

Group I is presently collecting usable toys for the Pediatric Ward. They have bought drapes and picturesque wall plaques to make wards more pleasant for the children confined to the hospital.

Group II aids in the purchasing of wall plaques.

Group III is baking cookies for this month's Coffee Hour and will make further plans for January projects at their next meeting.

Group IV is sewing layettes and knitting baby sweaters.

Group V and VII plan to adopt a family for Christmas to help clothe and feed them.

Group VI is collecting clothes for the Haitians. Plans are under way for the sponsorship of one Haitian student.

Group VIII is continuing its Volunteer Motor Service of driving outpatients to the Naval Hospital for appointments. More volunteers are needed for this service.

Mrs. Fridley is the wife of Capt. H. H. Fridley, USN, Commanding Officer, 4th Detnal Co., Force Troops. A Registered Nurse before her marriage, she is the mother of four children. In 1956, Mrs. Fridley was president of the Dental Wives Club in Washington, D. C.

Christmas Toys Available Through Lejeune Toyland

More than $160,000 in Christmas toys and games are now available for all Camp Lejeune personnel at Toyland, Bldg. 1403. As reported by R. P. Schreckengos, manager of the facility, a complete stock of toys in all sizes and descriptions is now on sale. He has estimated an additional $15,000 to $20,000 worth of toys will arrive within the next two or three weeks.

Because of the increasing holiday rush, the operators of Toyland, under the management of the Central Exchange, have arranged for a Christmas schedule of hours to go into effect December 1. The new schedule is as follows: Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Tuesday, Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.; and Saturday, 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Shoppers are to be reminded that this schedule will stay in effect until the Saturday afternoon of Christmas Eve.

Included among the colorful display of special toys for Christmas are Marx Train Sets complete with villages, trees and lay-outs; Play-skool Toys and Blocks; large, detailed helicopters, battleships, tractors and trucks; toy kitchen appliances; hobby-horses; bicycles and tricycles; an interesting and educational "Visible Man" assembly revealing the make-up of the human body; and a long list of others.

Shoppers may use Toyland's lay-away plan available during the holiday season. This plan may only be used when a single item of $20 or more is purchased. As many items as desired can be laid away with one-third down payment on each article. Another third must be paid within 30 days and the balance is to be paid when the item is picked up. A period of 60 days is allowed to make the final payment.

Donations Purchase Window For Chapel

A $2,000 church window was recently donated by the military chapels of Camp Lejeune to be installed in the Marine Memorial Chapel, Quantico, Va. The window was purchased mainly through a collection taken in each of the Camp churches and through chapel funds.

As reported by Capt. J. C. Canty, USN, Base Chaplain, the window will depict a particular incident of Marine Corps history with the donors' inscription at the bottom.

Last week, two checks were sent to Quantico from the congregations here.

Sweeping Changes To Clubs Recommended

Sweeping changes in the Enlisted and Staff NCO Club systems at Camp Lejeune were recommended in a study submitted to the commanding general last week. Major recommendations were: 1. Transfer of the Hadnot Point Staff Club to the Marston Pavilion. 2. Consolidation of business activities of all Staff NCO Clubs at Camp Lejeune. 3. Formation of the NCO Club in the present Hadnot Point Staff Club. 4. Consolidation of all area service clubs under a new system. The study was made by a special committee of Staff NCO's appointed by the Hadnot Point Staff Club President, 1st Sgt. D. B. Goodwin, to consider the planned formation here of a Noncommissioned Officers Club and to recommend action by Staff NCO Clubs facing a heavy loss of membership as a result.

The study recommended the shift of the Staff Club to Marston Pavilion for two major reasons. With the completion of the Capehart Housing project, 677 Staff NCO families will move onto the Base. This, plus the fact that most Staff NCO's have private transportation, make the Pavilion the logical location, according to the study.

Present plans also call for the construction of two sets of BOQ-type quarters for bachelor Staff NCO's, one in 1963 and the second in 1966. The study recommended that these quarters be built near the Pavilion.

The move, recommended for as soon after Jan. 1, 1961, as possible, will make the present Staff Club available for the Noncommissioned Officers Club. Considerable remodeling will be necessary at the Pavilion, but the study's figures are $160,000 less than those proposed in a 1958 study. Remodeling would be done on a priority and progressive basis with the Staff NCO Club assuming a large part of the financial responsibility.

The loss of 2,400 members in the Camp Lejeune complex was cited as a major reason for the consolidation request by the Hadnot Staff NCO's. Some way to overcome the loss in revenue must be found before 1963, when E-5's will no longer be eligible for membership in the Staff Club. The loss of this membership, plus the 2,400 sergeants E-5 now at Camp Lejeune means further cuts in Staff Club income and could possibly cause some smaller clubs to close in the future.

To prevent this, the study recommended several systems now in use at different bases be studied for possible local use. The plan at Camp Pendleton was recommended for possible adoption and the consolidated system of the 3rd Marine Division was also suggested for consideration.

Under the consolidation, the Camp Lejeune Staff Club would not exist as an actual club but would be a governing, purchasing and planning group. Costs would be further reduced through mass purchasing.

The branch clubs—and all present facilities would be branch clubs—would each have a governing committee which would exercise operation control of the branch. The senior member of each committee would be a member of the Camp Staff Club Board of Governors. Each branch club would have equal voice in the system.

The major changes would come in management. A Secretary-Treasurer would control purchasing and bookkeeping. This would eliminate one assistant manager in each branch club, reducing the overhead. All purchasing, except for food, would be done by the central agency. A warehouse which would remain open during all club hours, would service clubs with bottle goods, beers, furniture and other supplies.

Each branch would have an equal voice in club business. The Courthouse Bay Club would, for instance, have as much to say about plans and expenditures as the physically larger Hadnot Point Staff Club.

All profits from the branch clubs would go into the Club system. Entertainment and special events would be regulated in such a way as to insure the maximum amount of profit to each club rather than favoring any one club.

The Noncommissioned Officers Club has been under consideration for some time at Camp Lejeune. A recent letter from Headquarters Marine Corps authorized and encouraged the formation of E-4 and E-5 clubs.

On Nov. 9, the commanding general directed all organizations at Camp Lejeune to submit names of individuals to serve as members of a board of governors for a club.

These Marines, according to the CG's speedletter, should be "highly motivated and capable of planning, for, and implementing policies and procedures in order to establish a Noncommissioned Officers Club."

The study recommended that the NCO Club be organized on the same basis as a Staff NCO Club. Due to its central location and closeness to the bus station, important considerations for the lower grades, the Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club was suggested as the best location.

Recommendations for a Marine Club similar to the NCO Club were also made. The present Area Service Clubs, now under the Exchange system, would make up this group of clubs and, according to the study, could be made self-supporting. The consolidation plan used by the 3rd Marine Division for clubs of this type was recommended.

The emphasis, according to Sgt. Maj. R. C. Gray, who headed the study committee, is on service to the Marine and to get away from the "slop chute" of the past.

Funds available for the recommended changes will dictate how many and how quickly these changes can be made if they are approved by the commanding general.

First Bn., Eighth Marines Makes Landing At Dikili

DIKILI, TURKEY, Oct. 22 (Delayed)—The 1st Bn. (Reinf.) Eighth Marines, re-embarked aboard its floating homes and celebrated the successful completion of its sixth and last scheduled Mediterranean landing exercise with a steak dinner here today. Under the command of Lt. Col. H. C. Reifel, the Camp Lejeune-based Marines had debarked from the ships of Commodore J. W. Thomson's Amphibious Squadron Two early Wednesday morning. Scores of high-ranking military and civilian officials were on hand to watch the battalion landing team flex its muscles.

Storming ashore from helicopters, landing craft and amphibian tractors, the first waves attacked and secured the beachhead in their usual fast-and-furious fashion.

Once ashore the rifle companies pressed the attack against the aggressor's mountainous position on the North and West. On the beach, Capt. Arthur M. Bown's Headquarters and Service Company established its defensive positions around the beachhead perimeter. Within minutes, GySgt. A. B. Henderson had his platoon of 81mm mortars laid-in and firing rolling barrages in support of the attacking rifle companies.

Meanwhile, GySgt. Fred Gessner's Communications Platoon felled out its complex, spider webs of wire and tied all units in on the Marine version of a "party line."

Overhead, the carrier-based aircraft gave a demonstration of close air support as they simulated bombing and strafing runs along the beachhead as well as the enemy positions.

A trick employed by the crack carrier pilots is to hold reveille on the Marine positions at the first light of dawn with the same ground-hugging tactics. Needless to say, the Marines gained some idea of how the constant hornet-swarmling harassment of these attacking planes would affect the enemy.

The reinforced battalion is currently enjoying a goodwill and sight-seeing visit in the French Naval port of Toulon, France. The next scheduled port of call is Barcelona, Spain, where the Marines will celebrate the 185th Anniversary of the founding of the Marine Corps with a birthday ball.
