Division Unit Shipping Out for Med. Duty

The 2nd Division's 1st Battalion (Rein.), Second Marines, under the command of Lt. Col. N. McLeod, will depart from Corehead City next Wednesday for duty in the Mediterranean with the Sixth Fleet.

The battalion, reinforced by 15 Air Command units, is slated to reinforce the 1st Bn., Eighth Marines, commanded by Lt. Col. H. C. Reifel, which has been in the Mediterranean since last May.

Marines of the outgoing battalion will be berthed aboard ships of Amphibious Squadron Six. Ships comprising the squadron are the USS MONROVIA, which will serve as flagship during the deployment. Others are the USS ROCKBRIDGE, USS CAPRICORNUS, USS WASHINGTON COUNTY, USS TALBOT COUNTY, USS CASAGRANDE, and the USS SHADWELL.

At an inspection of the reinforced battalion last week, Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, commanding general, 2nd Marine Division, addressed the group and commended the state of readiness displayed by the unit. At a later briefing the general emphasized the President's People-to-People Program which deals with everyday relations between members of the amphibious force and citizens of countries to be visited.

Upon joining the Sixth Fleet as its amphibious arm, the battalion will train extensively in amphibious tactics. Besides probable landings at Sardinia and Crete, it is expected that it will visit ports in Spain, France, Italy, Greece and Turkey.

The reinforced battalion includes units from the Division's Tenth Marines, Medical Battalion, Anti-Tank Battalion and Reconnaissance Battalion. Elements of Force Troops' 2nd AmTrac Battalion, 2nd ANGLICO, 2nd 8-inch Howitzer Battery, and 8th Engineers are also included. A helicopter unit from HMR-262 and detachments from the 2nd Force Service Regiment and Headquarters Battalion, Marine Corps Base and Division completes the Marine unit leaving Lejeune.

The Med unit will carry toys for needy European children to be presented during the Christmas season.

On Sept. 26, a letter was sent to the wives and parents of every man in the Battalion Landing Team. Signed by Mrs. Anne McLeod, wife of Lt. Col. S. N. McLeod, Battalion commander, the letter asked the women to contribute clothing, toys and other items to make "the holidays meaningful" for their husbands and sons.

Inspector General Visiting Camp Lejeune Next Month

The Inspector General of the Marine Corps will arrive at Camp Lejeune Nov. 27 to inspect units and personnel of Marine Corps Base, 2nd Division, and Force Troops. He is scheduled to depart on Dec. 9. The Inspector General is Maj. Gen. James M. Masters Sr., who was awarded the Navy Cross for extraordinary heroism on Okinawa while serving as executive officer of the Seventh Marines.

The inspection party will be made up of one colonel, general

GENERAL MASTERS

2nd Marines 'Duke' Fatally Injured Here

The Duke of Denniston, mascot for the Second Marines, and the unofficial mascot of all Camp Lejeune Marines, was struck and killed by a truck here Tuesday noon, at the intersection of E Street and River Road.

The English bulldog arrived at Camp Lejeune two months ago and had just completed recruit training and been promoted to private first class. His last official appearance was at the 2nd Division's open air concert last Sunday.

Guy Gabaldon, World War II Marine hero, presented the Duke to his old unit. The Duke was a member of the Washington, D. C., Tail Waggers Club.

inspector; one lieutenant colonel, troop inspector; and one captain, administrative inspector. The team may be augmented by others as considered necessary.

In addition to inspecting the various units of the Lejeune-based commands, the IG team will examine the operations of the following activities: Auditors, Communications—Electronics, Disbursing, Management Engineer, Maintenance, Food Services, Marine Exchange, Motor Transport, Personnel, Postal, Special Services, Supply, Training and Women Marines.

According to the CMC letter scheduling the inspection, "Commanders of subordinate organizations will (ordinarily) be informed by the senior inspector or his representative as to the details of the personnel, clothing and equipment inspection at least 48 hours in advance of such inspection.

An initial conference will be conducted by the senior inspector as early as practical on the first inspection day. Specific details concerning the inspection which have not been announced previously, will be given to commanding officers at that time.

General Masters was stationed at Pearl Harbor with the Fourth Defense Bn., when the Japanese attacked in December 1941. After the attack at Pearl Harbor he commanded the first reinforcements to arrive at Johnston Island and received the Bronze Star there.

He saw service in the Solomon and Russell Islands, and then as a member of Division of Plans and Training, G-3, Headquarters, Marine Corps, on detached duty, he was at Guam, Saipan and Tinian in the Marianas Islands.

This will not be the general's first visit to Camp Lejeune as he served here as the commanding officer of the Eighth Marines in 1950.

General Masters' brother, Brig. Gen. John H. Masters, is also stationed at Headquarters Marine Corps.

Polack Bros. Circus Here; Four Performances Slated

The sparkling 1960 edition of the Polack Brothers Circus will arrive here today for a two-day appearance in the Goettge Memorial Field House tomorrow and Saturday. Performances are scheduled for 4 and 8 p.m. tomorrow and 2:30 and 8 p.m. on Saturday. Admission will be 50 cents for children and $1 for adults. The huge

Gala Parties, Parade Fete Navy Today

Marines stationed at Camp Lejeune and people throughout the entire free world joined together today for a Navy Day salute to the men and women of the United States Navy.

Naval officers at Lejeune will hold a reception this evening at the Paradise Point Officers Club. All Marine officers and their guests are invited to attend.

The Surgeon General of the Royal Thailand Navy, Rear Admiral Tosa Krisna, is expected to arrive here today for a two-day inspection of the Naval Hospital.

He and his staff will be invited to attend the reception.

Navy enlisted personnel will celebrate their day with a gala affair this evening at the Montford Point Staff NCO Club.

A special menu has been prepared for Navy Day and will be served at the Naval Hospital. The meal includes steak, baked ham, apple pie and traditional Navy beans.

A sunset parade will be held by the Second Marines in honor of Navy Day. The parade will be reviewed by Capt. L. E. Bach, commanding officer of the Naval Hospital. The 2nd Division Band will provide music for the marching units.

assembly of circus stars from around the world will feature such headliners of the big tops as Pat Anthony, known among competing wild animal trainers as the "most nervy." Anthony appears in a series of amazing feats with 13 jungle-bred lions and tigers.

Jeanne Pivoteau, Paris born, blonde and beautiful, is the toast of aerialists in her native France.

From Greece comes John Joanides, said to be the greatest combination of slack wire artists and jugglers to be featured in this country.

Germany's gift to the American circus scene are the Five Fredonias, whose form of artistry is foot juggling of human beings. Their feats have never been duplicated.

Italy's contribution is the Robertes, an act on the European scene of circusdom for many generations. Their amazing acrobatics featuring the startling hoop-jump was originated by their grandfather. They were originally brought to this country by Ed Sullivan.

A reverse among artists from foreign countries is Jacqueline Hurley, an American artist from Boston, who won fame in Europe. Her agility, timing and precision in acrobatic performance is generally attended by performers from behind the scenes.

The famed Flying Alexanders, paramount on the flying trapeze, have won applause of audiences on both sides of both oceans. Fay Alexander is the only contemporary.

Base Leading United Fund Contributions

Half and half summed up the progress report of the United Fund Campaign at a meeting here last Monday morning halfway through the drive and halfway to the $80,000 contribution goal.

With less than two weeks remaining in the drive, Marine Corps Base leads all commands with $22,583.40, while Infantry Training Regiment remains way out in front as a single contributing unit with $13,069.30, bringing their percentage mark to 193 per cent.

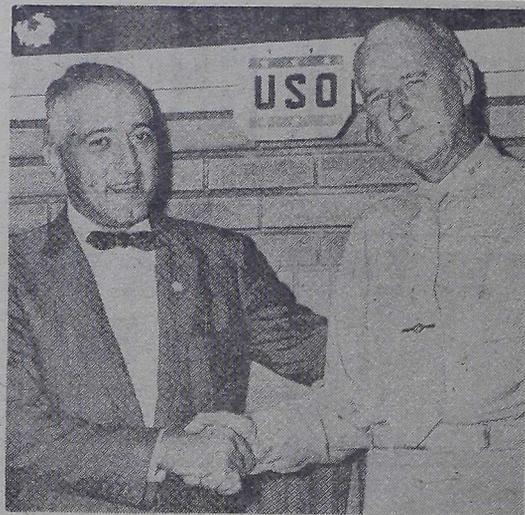

The 2nd Division holds down second place with $17,743.30; within 47 per cent of their goal. Marine Corps Air Facility reported a 22 per cent standing with 930.55.

Force Troops went over the percentage halfway mark with $7,108.78. The unit was aided by the wives of members of the command who baked 30 cakes and pies which sold for a total of $62.50 with the top price of $15 going for one cake. The enlisted men's wives arranged to charge admission to the football game between the Camp Lejeune Devilpups and Southport last week. A total of $296.25 was collected from a charge of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Overall drive results thus far stand at $48,420.78, putting the campaign at 61 per cent of the $80,000 pre-set goal.

The United Fund, a multi-charity organization, distributes its funds on a pro-rated basis according to the annual expenditures of the recipient charity.

Those receiving aid from the drive are: American Red Cross, Onslow-Camp Lejeune Chapter for Retarded Children, Camp Lejeune-Onslow County Boy and Girl Scouts, Emergency Relief Fund, Carolina United Service, Onslow County Hospital Auxiliary, Salvation Army, United Jewish Appeal for Refugee Relief, and the Jacksonville Rescue Squad.

Courthouse Cpl. Calls Casey's Castigation

Sports fans will recall that on Sept. 1 the outcome of the two pennant races was not yet "in the bag." Our Inquiring Photographer, however, put an "out on the limb" question to his subjects. "Who do you think will be opponents for the World Series?"

One of the five Marines queried, Cpl. Robert V. Boos of Headquarters Co., Marine Corps Engineer Schools, called the perfect shot when he said: "I've always been a Pirate fan so I'll stick with the Pittsburgh club. Pittsburgh has the potentiality for winning the National League flag, while in the American League it is a closer race. I believe the Yankees will emerge as the victors in the American League and the Yankees will battle the Pirates for the series' title. I won't make any predictions on the series, but, of course, I'm pulling for the Pirates."

Well, the Pirates copped the pennant in their league while the "Yanks" did the same. Along came the series and it was all tied up until the "Bucs" came home in the final go. How close can you get?

Toastmasters International Increases Self-Confidence

"The ability to talk well is to a man what cutting and polishing are to the rough diamond. The grinding does not add anything to the diamond. It merely reveals its wealth." This analogy sums up the over-all purpose of Toastmasters International, a non-profit organization of men over 21 years of age who seek to increase their self-confidence through improvement of their public speaking ability. By helping to express themselves more effectively, Toastmasters helps them live more effectively.

Instruction Competition Starts Here

The Marine Corps Base Technique of Instruction competition began yesterday and will continue through tomorrow. Winners of this competition will be announced tomorrow afternoon.

The competition of staff NCO's and above is being held in Bldg. 62, topside, and will be judged by a panel consisting of Lt. Col. L. T. Keagy, Maj. G. R. Phillips and 1st Lt. V. P. Gorgone.

Sergeants and below competition is being heard in the Second Force Service Regiment Conference Room in Bldg. 914. They will be judged by a panel made up of Lt. Col. J. F. McMahon, Maj. W. A. Flander and Capt. J. B. Wilkinson.

Winners of the Marine Corps Base competition will compete against winners of the Marine Corps Air Bases, East Coast, Cherry Point, at the same locations as the Base competitions. This competition will be held next Wednesday and will be judged by a panel composed of Lt. Col. H. W. Horst, Maj. W. A. McCormack and Capt. A. D. Gandy for the staffs and above. The sergeants and below will be judged by a panel made up of Lt. Col. H. C. Reed, Maj. R. E. Britt and Capt. B. T. Christlieb.

The winners of this competition will be announced after the competition Nov. 2 and the winners and runners-up will be presented trophies by the commanding general, Marine Corps Base, or his representative.

The 2nd Division and Force Troops will have their competition as scheduled and the results will be printed in the GLOBE as soon as they are known.

At Camp Lejeune, two Toastmaster Clubs are active. The Paradise Point Club and the New River Toastmasters Club. A third, Onslow County Toastmasters meets in Jacksonville, for civilian members.

Cmdr. E. B. Cook, head of the Biology Department at the Naval Field Medical Research Laboratory, is area governor and president of the Paradise Point Club, GySgt. R. G. Kirk, Marine Corps Air Facility, is president of the New River Toastmasters.

The first Toastmasters Club was established on Oct. 22, 1924. Ralph C. Smedley in Santa Ana, Calif. He realized the value of effective public speaking in daily living. Santa Ana is today the birthplace of the Toastmasters' Honor Office.

Toastmasters now has over 600 clubs located in every state, the union and in 34 other countries. There is even a float, the Toastmasters Club on board an aircraft carrier.

Toastmasters International is broken down into districts, and districts into areas. North Carolina District 37, this is further broken down into sub-districts. The local clubs are in the Coastal Sub-district.

A typical Toastmasters Club is composed of 30 to 40 men who meet at a regular time, usually once a week. Normally a meeting lasts for about two hours. At each meeting, several members give prepared talks of seven to 10 minutes in length on assigned subjects followed by an evaluation period. In addition a table-top program is presented in which each member is given the opportunity to speak for a moment or two on some subject.

Detailed information regarding membership in Toastmasters may be obtained from Cmdr. E. B. Cook at Base extension 7-3921 or from GySgt. R. G. Kirk at Air Facility, extension 404 during working hours or at 536 after working hours.

Onslow County Boy Scouts Hold Camporee

The Onslow District of the Boy Scouts of America held their Fall Camporee last weekend at Camp Crider, the Boy Scout Camp across the Dixon Highway from the entrance to the Camp Lejeune Rifle Range. The Camporee began Friday afternoon and was secured Sunday afternoon. About 150 scouts and scout officials attended the Camporee. An amateur Radio Station, K4DOZ, owned and operated by Capt. James F. Milligan, gave the boys some conversation with other Boy Scouts around the world. One call was completed to Frankfurt, Germany, where about 50,000 German Boy Scouts were having a Camporee.

A troop of scouts on a hike in the Catskill Mountains were contacted and some of the local scouts talked to their counterparts in that part of the United States.

Randy Johnson talked to his father, GySgt. Jerry Johnson, who is on maneuvers at Vieques. Plans were made for other scouts to talk to their fathers who are on maneuvers.

Some of the events of the Camporee were receiving a Morse Code message at night. A blinking light, set up on a pole visible throughout the bivouac area, sent messages to the scouts in their patrol areas.

Flag pole raising, tent raising and a string burning contest were the final events of the Camporee.

The scouts had to cook their own food over fires and outdoor stoves they built themselves. The boys seemed to be well fed and although the night was cold, they said they had slept warm.

Many Marines in the Camp Lejeune area are interested in the scouting program and there is a need for many more to help supervise the boys on their field outings.

Anyone interested in joining the Scouting Program can obtain further information from GySgt. Biss Ray at 75165.

Current Soviet Maneuvers.

(Third of a Series)

As the United States faces into the coming decade, its greatest political danger will arise from its tendency to act as though the nuclear deterrent equation is the sole answer to Soviet aggression and from its tendency to listen to the excessive cautions of its friends and allies in situations short of general war. The deterrent is necessary, but once it works the actual battle takes place in another part of the spectrum. The United States has become so bemused with the strategic nuclear equation that its allies have gradually recoiled in fear that we will use it in desperation and in fear that the practical outcome will be hopeless. In this respect, the firm, official posture of European governments is offset by the fears of articulate segments of the population. We are inclined to gauge a country's stability by its government's foreign policy.

Barring the remote possibility of war by mistake between the United States and the USSR, the power struggle in the coming years will boil down to one of purpose, imagination, and strong will. For the Soviets, the struggle will be in the underdeveloped areas of the Free World—from the Asian periphery, through the Middle East and Africa to Latin America. The Soviet objective in every case will be the isolation of the United States.

Their approach, as in the past, is not necessarily the quick takeover of a country by Communist power. The Soviets appear satisfied first to instigate or exploit discord between the United States or its allies and a specific country. Having split the two, they then promote neutralism, particularly through economic agreements, always emphasizing that they offer an economic, political, and military freedom which the United States has withheld. They appear content for the indefinite future to encourage and maintain neutralism in an increasing number of countries.

Apart from the goal of eventually superimposing Communist regimes in neutralist areas, the Soviets see marked advantages in maintaining an indefinite neutralist status within areas of the Free World. They gain prestige. They roll back U. S. military influence and U. S. bases. By enlarging the "zone of peace" they render less possible the gaining of new allies by the United States. Most important for them, they condition the Free World to take for granted a Soviet stake in Free World affairs. (NavNews)

Marine's Idea Of Navy Is Combat Corpsmen

"... without a decisive Naval force we can do nothing... with it, everything honorable and glorious."—Geo. Washington, Nov. 15, 1781.

Today is Navy Day.

Naval units around the world justifiably accept the appreciative plaudits of the United States. Powerful fleets, air arms, and beautifully trained amphibious groups are doing a magnificent job.

But, when you get right to the heart of the matter, it is not the gleaming, powerful ships or aircraft that spell out N-A-V-Y to the Marines.

The Navy to us is the dungaree-clad hospital corpsman, doctor and dentist who works and sweats and gripes alongside us through every kind of situation; takes the same chances and then, more, to help us when we are wounded.

The Navy is the old chief who has spent most of his Navy career in the FMF and knows as much about the Corps as the average first sergeant.

The Navy is the young doctor, not long out of internship, somewhat bewildered by the strange world of the Marine, but still able to distinguish between the really sick and the Marine who is trying to "soldier" his way out of a detail.

The Navy is the young corpsman, and the older, who marches with the best, ducks the same hell and then lays it on the line with raw courage when a Marine is hit.

The casualty list of Navy corpsmen killed in action stretches from the beginning of the Marine Corps until now. The almost unbelievable bravery of the "Docs" in combat is known to every Marine who has heard a shot fired in anger.

And, when the corpsman or doc isn't tending the sick or wounded Marine, he turns his talents to protecting and evacuating him. The Research Lab at Camp Lejeune has a constant series of programs for personal protection by means of body armor as well as other tests to keep Marines from contracting diseases in the many parts of the world they cover.

As Marines we are proud of our Navy and its strength. The success of the Polaris and nuclear subs, the development of new ships for the amphibious forces gave us added reasons to appreciate the strength, skill and courage of our Navy.

But, to the Marine, the real Navy is the part we know best—the corpsmen, doctors and dentists who are always with us, especially when the going is roughest.

To the entire Navy we say, "Congratulations," but to our "Docs" we give a hearty "Well Done."

Gen. Luckey Writes Navy Day Message

In recognition of Navy Day, the commanding general, Marine Corps Base, this week issued the following message to all members of the Navy Establishment stationed at Camp Lejeune:

"Navy Day, 1960, marks another milestone in the annals of the mighty United States Navy—sea power in its highest form.

"Our Navy is on the move, bonded together in a balanced fleet concept by the indomitable spirit and steadfast devotion of every officer and enlisted man or woman in its ranks.

"Since the United States is a maritime nation, we must be able to use and to control the seas in time of war. The U. S. Navy is our guarantee, ready and able.

"By combining nuclear powered submarines and guided missiles such as Polaris, the Navy has given the United States the ultimate indefensible weapon. At the same time, keeping pace with the powerful arsenal of nuclear weapons and nuclear powered ships, giant steps are being taken throughout every corps, department and unit of the Naval Establishment. By so doing, the Navy's position as America's greatest deterrent power is maintained and enhanced.

"With deepest respect and extreme pride in belonging, I extend hearty congratulations to all members of the Naval Establishment serving at Camp Lejeune."

Thirty-one Marine warrant officers with previous experience in the radar operators field will be selected for airborne intercept operators school at the Naval Air Station, Glynco, Ga.

Upon completion of this training they will be assigned duties as airborne intercept operators and will fly as a team with the pilot in the two-place F4H "Phantom" all-weather interceptor.

The First Medium Anti-Aircraft Missile Battalion arrived at Point Arguello, Calif., to test fire the Terrier Missile from mobile launchers this month.

The Terrier missiles are currently operational aboard Navy cruisers, frigates and destroyers.

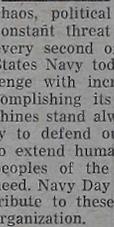

The battalion, under the command of Lt. Col. B. S. Ryder, is based at 29 Palms, Calif.

If You Ask Me: THIS WEEK, THE INQUIRING PHOTOGRAPHER ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT NAVY DAY.

What do you think Navy Day should mean?

Robert G. Brown, Lt. (jg), Chaplain, 1st Bn., Sixth Marines—Navy Day to me is a time for applauding—applauding for the unselfish endeavors of an organization whose only goal is in promotion of the peoples of the world. During this particular day and time this goal stands out as a challenge, a very acute challenge with the chaos, political unrest, revolution, and constant threat of war that plagues us every second of every day. The United States Navy today responds to this challenge with increased fervor toward accomplishing its goal. Its men and machines stand always on the ready not only to defend our American beliefs, but to extend humanitarian service to other peoples of the world in their time of need. Navy Day is a time set aside to pay tribute to these men and their devoted organization.

Are you planning to attend the Navy Day celebrations at Montford Point?

Dentalman Third Class J. G. Ewers, Base Dental—The nature of my job won't allow me to participate in all of the events commensurate with Navy Day, such as the formal ceremonies throughout the working day. However, I do plan to attend the Navy Day Ball to be held at Marston Pavilion. I understand a great deal of planning has gone into making this year's Navy Day a memorable experience and I'm looking forward to it.

What comes to your mind when you think of Navy Day?

Russel L. Tally, Lt. (MSC, 2nd Medical Battalion, 2nd Division)—When I think of Navy Day I think of a massive morale booster. Any kind of an existence in any type of environment whether it be military or civilian tends to drop into boring routine. This is in direct jeopardy of losing the basic meanings of mission, and of getting the job done well. I believe this constitutes the essence of Navy Day. In civilian life the citizen often slides away from the meaning of Americanism until he hears a stimulating speech saturated with American principles and ideals, or hears the strengthening, awakening notes of the Star Spangled Banner. With Navy Day, we recognize and celebrate the historic endeavors of our Navy and its part in promotion of peace, harmony and goodwill throughout the world and upon looking at this marked significance of past participation, stand rejuvenated and ready to better serve.

What has been your most rewarding experience while in the Navy?

Lt. Beverly Rubner, Orthopedics and Psychiatrics, U. S. Naval Hospital—The most rewarding experience I have ever had while serving in the Medical Corps was an association with an amputee. The most difficult thing we had to do was keeping him from getting depressed. He had lost a leg, and it was a job to get him to walk with crutches, because he didn't think he could ever walk again. We constantly pushed him to try to help him gain the confidence that he needed to learn how to walk on an artificial limb. Eventually, he got to the point where he believed in himself. The last I heard from him, he's leading a normal life again. When you've got patients like him, it's worth all the hard work.

Chaplains' Corner

A suburban local was stalled by a blizzard one winter's night, and so deep was the snow that its passengers were unable to leave the car. Next morning the 150-odd half-frozen commuters were startled to see a signal tower only a few hundred yards away.

The signal-station attendant had seen the stalled train the night before, an investigation revealed. But when asked why he'd done nothing about it, he answered: "It's not in my territory."

It's easy to live exclusively for one's self, to be interested only in one's own advantage, to say, "Am I my brother's keeper?" (Genesis 4:9) But this shortsighted reasoning of so many otherwise good people is the cause of much that is wrong with the world today. You never hear the people who are out to wreck civilization say, about anyone or anything: "It's not in my territory."

—Laurence F. Keefe, Division Chaplain.

THE LAST DAYS OF POMPEII This is the latest in a seemingly endless series of spectacles made in Italy by former Mr. America, Steve Reeves. Cast as a Roman centurion, Steve returns to Pompeii in 79 A.D. and because of what he finds there, goes out on a one-man campaign of revenge. Massive mob scenes and the familiar violence of the early Christian era are in abundance. (Color, 111 min.)

THE 400 BLOWS A story concerned with capturing on film the moods and feelings of a "child of our time." Feeling unwanted and neglected by his mother and foster father, Jean-Pierre Leaud has a difficult time adjusting to life. (108 min.)

THE LAST ANGRY MAN Paul Muni stars as a doctor who is dedicated to his profession. But all this dedication is not sufficient to prevent him from becoming a victim of his environment. (106 min.)

WILD YOUTH A drama starring Robert Hutton and Jan Brooks. (78 min.)

RAISING A RIOT A comedy and drama starring Kenneth Moore and Ronald Colman. (98 min.)

LUST TO KILL A drama starring Jim Davis. (88 min.)

SAPPHIRE A mystery that involves far more than the usual factors which are commonly associated with the solving of a crime. Nigel Patrick and Yvonne Mitchell head the British cast of this film.

TUNNEL OF LOVE Doris Day and Richard Widmark star in this funny-but-tender concerning the trials and tribulations of a young married couple's endeavor to increase their family. Some may feel that candid film goes too far in its rather candid approach to the "birds and bees" subject, but movies are becoming more realistic these days, anyway. (Color, 106 min.)

SEVEN WAYS FROM SUNDOWN Audie Murphy portrays a Texas ranger sent out to "get his man." Barry Sullivan creates the role of an off-beat killer and is hunted down by Audie. (Color, 93 min.)

OPERATION AMSTERDAM Espionage, diamond smuggling, plenty of street fighting and a swift romance activate this British-made film. The story is set to a World War II background. (114 min.)

THE RETURN OF THE FLY Vincent Price is back once more to struggle with that frightening phenomenon, human disintegration, which in the previous film of this series claimed the life of his brother. This time Price's nephew becomes the unwitting victim. Bret Halsey stars as the nephew. (86 min.)

ROCK AROUND THE WORLD A teen-age drama starring Tommy Steele and Hunter Hancock. (87 min.)

SOUTH PACIFIC The merry capers and romantic adventures of men and women of the Armed Forces stationed in the South Pacific war theater during World War

THE FALL OF THE HOUSE OF USHER This is an almost literal translation of Edgar Allan Poe's horror story. Imaginative settings, eerie action scenes and excellent characterizations by Vincent Price, Norma Fahney and Mark Damon fill in what author Poe left to the imagination. Suspense and horror mount as the story moves to its climax. (112 min.)

TRAPPED IN TANGIERS A drama starring Edmond Purodon and Genevieve Page. (83 min.)

FLAME OVER INDIA Made on a big scale, this English film of a religious war in Victorian India carries on the blood and thunder tradition of the Bengal Lancers. Lauren Bacall and Kenneth Moore star. (Color, 136 min.)

A story of Mardi Gras fantasy, sweet romance and the Cinderella theme in reverse. The initial setting is not in New Orleans, where Mardi Gras is held annually, but at the Virginia Military Institute. Pat Boone, Tommy Sands and Richard Sargent play cadets with romantic intentions towards Sheree North, and Christine Cerere. (115 min.)

CROWDED SKY Dana Andrews portrays a brooding, unending and arrogant commercial airlines pilot who crosses the path of a Navy jet pilot with similar traits of character. This encounter has a unique effect on Dana and at the same time it relieves the suffering of the Navy pilot, played by Gregory Zemmey. (Color, 112 min.)

LET NO MAN WRITE MY EPITAPH The story is set in the slums of Chicago during the 1930s. It concerns a 16-year-old boy who is played by Shelley Winters who tries to raise her teenage son, James Darren, above his background which includes a father who died in the electric chair. Burt Reynolds, Ricardo Montalban and Ella Fitzgerald lend strong support to the plot. (114 min.)

THIS EARTH IS MINE A story of force and excitement which steadily builds to a dramatic and emotional climax of power and logic. It tells of a dual conflict between a young rebellious, violently aggressive Rock Hudson and a winemaker's family in California. Jean Simmons, Dorothy McGuire and Claude Rains supply the supporting characterization of the film. (Color, 136 min.)

Medical Care Your widow, if not remarried, and minor children are eligible for medical care at service facilities.

Base Commander Begins War Against Litter-bugs

The alarming amount of trash and litter wantonly deposited throughout this Base has resulted in an increased anti-litter campaign by all commands. The Base commanding general has indicated that offenders of this campaign face the possibility of disciplinary action and also, that motorists who carelessly throw trash from their automobiles, may lose their driving privileges for as much as 60 days.

Camp Lejeune has been called, by many observers, one of the "most beautiful military bases" in the country. With the increased amount of "litter-bugs" in evidence, this may no longer hold true.

Careless and wanton disposal of trash and litter can only be attributed to laziness. Trash receptacles are conveniently located throughout the Base area and in barracks and offices. All automobiles are equipped with ashtrays for disposing of cigarettes and small litter.

Free litter bags for automobiles may be obtained from the Marine Corps Exchange Service Station merely for the asking. These bags may be placed in the auto and when filled, deposited in any Dempster Dumpster or trash receptacle.

Every Marine is taught "field stripping" of cigarettes in boot camp. Once out of recruit training, this method is still an effective method of ridding the Base of the unsightly litter of thousands of cigarette butts so in evidence near barracks, offices and along the roadways.

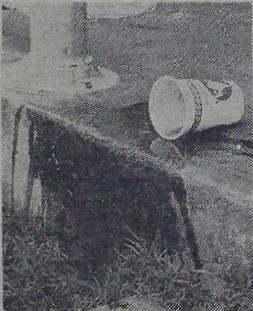

Almost every soda and candy machine on the Base has a receptacle nearby. If the item is taken from the machine, it requires only a few short steps to find another receptacle for depositing.

The many thousands of dollars and man-hours expended each year by the Base on litter-bugs is staggering. These dollars and man-hours are unnecessary.

A little pride in self, the Marine Corps, and Camp Lejeune, will keep this "most beautiful military Base" just that.

Mediterranean Unit Finishes NATO Amphibious Exercise

ALEXANDHROU-POLIS, GREECE — "Operation Flashback-Setback," a NATO training exercise employing U. S. and Greek forces, began here recently when Lt. Col. H. C. Reifel's 1st Bn. (Reinf.), Eighth Marines, launched a night amphibious and helicopter assault against the aggressor-held beach and mountain positions.

With the "new moon" obscured by clouds and a cold wind whipping spray from the white-capped waves like BB pellets, the battalion landing team debarked from ships of Amphibious Squadron Two at 0300 in almost total darkness.

Under cover of carrier-based aircraft and naval gunfire from the NATO task force lying offshore, the first wave of attacking Marines stormed across the beach at 0530 hours.

The night landing plan survived its baptism of confusion which was created by the darkness as the supporting units landed on schedule and began their individual functions of aiding the rifle companies.

Despite being subjected to nuclear bombardments, the rifle companies (dubbed Reifel's Rustless Rifles) seized and occupied their assigned objectives by the second day of the campaign.

At 0200 hours on D-day plus three, crack Greek mountain-warfare troops of the 516th Infantry Bn. landed on the secured beach-head, passed through the lines and relieved the Marines on the main line of resistance.

Other members of this unit were heli-lifted several miles inland in a practical application of the Marine Corps' "vertical envelopment doctrine."

The NATO exercise, conducted under the watchful eyes of Vice Adm. George W. Anderson, Sixth Fleet commander, and Lt. Gen. Harry P. Storke, commander, Allied Land Forces, Southeastern Europe, was declared a "huge success" in every respect.

While visiting Colonel Reifel at his forward command post, Admiral Anderson and General Storke complimented the Marines on the "outstanding manner" in which they conducted their phase of the NATO exercise.

Prior to embarking aboard their floating home, Colonel Reifel's Marines were hosts to three groups of orphans and less fortunate children of the area. The front-door delivery of the cookies, ice cream and candy by the "aerial Santas" were made via helicopters of HMR-262, which were welcomed in wide-eyed wonder by children and adults alike.

The landing, the fifth such training exercise conducted by the Camp Lejeune-based Leathernecks since they arrived in the Mediterranean on June 1, followed goodwill and sight-seeing visits to Cannes, France, and Rhodes, Greece.

Lejeune Thrift Shop Serves Three-Fold Purpose For Club

The Camp Lejeune Thrift Shop, operated by the Staff Wives Club, serves a three-fold purpose. Each year it sends a graduate of the Camp High School to college through a scholarship fund. Second, the club finances a monthly game night for patients of the Naval Hospital.

Its final purpose is to serve as a clearing house for surplus or out-dated household items at a profit. The Thrift Shop gets its merchandise from military personnel of all ranks at Lejeune. They or their dependents may bring in useful items for sale for which they have no further use.

Items are left at the Thrift Shop on a consignment basis with the contributor establishing a sale price usually restricted to approximately one-third of the original price of the article.

Eighty per cent of the sale price is returned to the owner and 20 per cent is retained by the shop.

Sales of articles from the shop are available to all personnel at Lejeune, including civil service personnel. Civilians, however, may not leave items for sale on the consignment policy.

Articles which are not sold within 30 days are reduced in price 20 per cent.

Profits from the shop are used by the Staff Wives Club as donations to charitable organizations, to purchase prizes to be awarded during a monthly game night for inmates of the Naval Hospital, and a scholarship fund for a Staff NCO dependent graduating from the Camp High School.

Any person may contribute to the scholarship fund either by direct monetary donations or by waiving his 80 per cent return from the sale of his article.

The shop was originally opened when members of the Staff Wives group found there was no Thrift Shop located at Camp Lejeune in comparison to other posts and stations where they had been stationed with their husbands.

Lejeune's Thrift Shop is located on the south end of the "Toyland" building in the Industrial Area. The shop is open from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. each Tuesday and on Friday from 9:30 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Their construction is Mrs. Flynn, another of the Staff Wives, who came to work in the shop.

Airborne Terrain School Fills Combat Recon Need

With the mounting need for continuous, all-around observation and surveillance throughout potential combat zones, the light aircraft has gained spotlight attention.

Due to its maneuverability, vision and speed it has promoted aerial observation as the most desirable mode of fulfilling the role of combat reconnaissance.

To train unit members, both staff NCO's and officers, in this vital field of reconnaissance is the job of the Airborne Terrain Appreciation School.

The establishment of the Airborne Terrain Appreciation School at New River is a direct result of the new unit separation concept now being employed by the Marine Corps.

The school, located at New River, is open to staff NCO's and officers with assignment based on the unit quota system. A limit of 12 students per session is set with quotas open to Force Troops and Marine Corps Base, as well as the 2nd Marine Division.

The training consists of studies on the capabilities and limitations of observation aircraft and the principles and methods to be utilized in performing general surveillance, road and bridge reconnaissance, terrain analysis and the selection of helicopter landing sites.

The school is for one week duration with the first two training days devoted to formal classroom presentations designed to give the students rudimentary knowledge essential for conducting various types of airborne reconnaissance missions.

The remainder of the course consists of three flight problems per student in which the techniques learned in the classroom can be applied. Aircraft and pilots for this phase of the training are supplied by VMO-1.

Upon satisfactory completion of the school, students are presented with a diploma promulgated by Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, from which source the school was sanctioned.

Personnel assigned to the school will receive refresher schooling from their parent organization in the following subjects: Map reading and terrain appreciation utilizing a map of the New River area. This refresher course in map reading will include grid coordinates, direction and azimuths, orientation, contours, signs and symbols.

Students will also be familiarized with elementary aerial photography reading and interpretation of aerial photos.

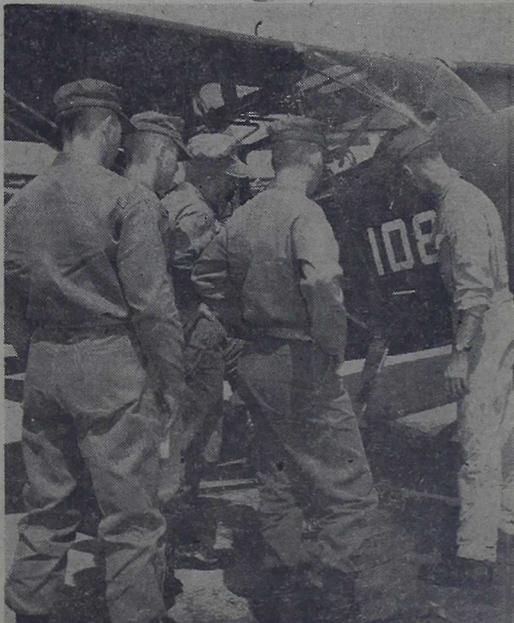

The Observation Aircraft used by the school is furnished by Marine Observation Squadron One, commanded by Lt. Col. J. D. Boldman and is stationed at the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, N. C.

This squadron furnishes both fixed wing airplanes and helicopters for observation for the school.

VMO-1 is known as the "Can Do Squadron," as this is its motto. They say they can do anything that is required in the field of observation in either friendly or enemy territory.

SITUATION BRIEFING—Vice Adm. George W. Anderson, center, commander, Sixth Fleet, studies the situation map as Lt. Col. H. C. Reifel, right, and Maj. Adolph G. Schwenk bring him up to date on the tactical situation at a forward CP at Alexandroupolis, Greece, during the NATO training exercise "Operation Flashback-Selback." Colonel Reifel commands the 1st Bn. Sixth Marines Trample Tenth During Complex League Tilt

Sixth Marines and Group Two remained as the only unbeaten teams in the Camp Lejeune-Cherry Point Complex Football League following last week's action. The powerful Sixth Marines toppled the previously unbeaten Tenth Marines 14-0 in the feature attraction on Liversedge Field Saturday morning. Earlier in the week, Group Two rolled to its fourth straight win routing a winless Marine Corps Air Facility eleven, 55-6. Marine Wing Service Group-27 edged Marine Wing Headquarters Group 16-6 in a neighborhood battle at Cherry Point.

The Devildogs from the Sixth Marines had a little too much in all departments for the Tenth Marines to cope with in their annual battle on the Lejeune gridiron. The two teams treated a large crowd to a bruising, well-played contest.

Winning the toss, the Sixth Marines put on a sustained drive following the kick-off. Paced by the deft ball handling of quarterback Lloyd Fletcher, the Infantrymen drove to the Cannoneer one before stalling.

Unable to muster an attack, the Tenth was forced to punt. Not to be denied, the Sixth put together another drive that was climaxed when Tom Bassano blasted over from the one. The score was set up on a thrilling run by Fletcher on an option play.

The second period featured some hard-hitting line play by both squads, with neither team able to put together a drive. The halftime score was 6-0.

Second Half

Starting the second half, the Cannoneurs put together three straight first downs before an intercepted pass ended the threat. Following an exchange of kicks, the Devildogs initiated a drive that culminated with Fletcher sneaking across from the three. A two-point conversion play made it 14-0.

Following the kick-off, the Tenth switched from their split-T offense to the short-punt formation and rolled to three first downs before the vaunted Sixth Marines defense regrouped and hurled back the threat. The Infantrymen threatened again late in the game but a fumble stopped the effort.

Highlight of the contest was the tremendous defense of the Sixth which held the Cannoneurs at bay without a serious scoring threat. The unit has not allowed a score in four league games. Cauty and Nelson were outstanding in leading the defense.

Group 2 vs. Air Facility

Group Two rolled to its fourth straight victory and kept pace with the Sixth by belting the Air Facility, 55-6, with an avalanche of first half touchdowns.

The composite team from Headquarters, Anti-Tank and Pioneer Battalions scored the first two times they had the ball. Lee Bradley scored on a 40-yard pass from Fred Townsend moments after the contest began. Moments later Paseh slashed eight yards for the second score of the night. Al Smith kicked both points and the Raiders led 14-0 at the end of the first period.

Four Group Two scores in the second period left little doubt as to the outcome of the contest. Andy Laverdier hit paydirt on a 47-yard jaunt and Denny Meyers bulldozed across the two-pointer for 22-0. Moments later, following an Air Facility fumble, Meyers slashed 10 yards to make it 28-0.

The New River eleven rallied here to put across their lone score of the evening. Al Condon took a pass for 40 yards to the Raider seven and carried the pigskin across on an off-tackle slant to plays later.

Group Two roared back with two more tallies before the period ended with Laverdier skirting end for a 12-yard TD and defensive line-backer Neil Shai going 23 yards with an interception for a 41-6 Group Two lead at the intermission.

The Raiders scored twice in the second half to continue the rout. Bob Manzi ran 45 yards to paydirt midway through the third period and Bud Adler scored the final TD on a 30-yard pass play.

Lejeune gridiron fans are looking forward to the Nov. 8 clash between the two unbeaten powers, Group Two and Sixth Marines. The Group Two offense has jelled in recent games and will give the Sixth Marines defense a supreme test. Each team has one game left before the titanic struggle. SHORT GAIN—Sixth Marines quarterback Lloyd Fletcher (11) picks up short yardage through the Tenth Marines line in their annual scrap on Liversedge Field Saturday morning. Leading the blocking are Bob Michelson (55) and Jim Middlebrooke (81). Sixth Marines remained unbeaten with a 14-0 victory over the Cannoneurs. (Photo by MSgt. W. V. Brown)

Homecoming Tilt At Liversedge

Lejeune Devilpups Schedule Annual Contest Against Quantico Warriors

After routing the Southport eleven, 22-6, last Friday night, the Camp Lejeune Devilpups are preparing for their annual homecoming clash against the Quantico Warriors Saturday morning at Liversedge Field. Touchdown tutor Tom McGhee is contemplating no major changes in his lineup in anticipation of Saturday's tilt. His only problem may arise from injuries suffered by ace tackles Hal Lindfelt and Ray Williams. Lindfelt was hospitalized earlier this week after an off-gridiron accident. At prestime Coach McGhee did not know if the big Devilpup co-captain would be able to take to the field this Saturday. Out for the season is Ray Williams due to a knee injury suffered during practice.

"These injuries," the Devilpup mentor reported, "may hamper our center-of-the-line defense. But I'm still hoping Lindfelt will be ready to play Saturday."

According to scouting reports from Quantico, the Warriors run out of a wing "T" and use a balanced line. In addition, the Quantico eleven employs a pro-type offense in which they have the ends open and use a flanker back.

Two of the biggest threats Quantico will have to offer on the Liversedge gridiron are fullback Nick Fritz and halfback Bernie Hayden, both veterans of last year's Warrior eleven.

Saturday, Coach McGhee contemplates sending his backfield wide and working a possible aerial attack against the Warriors. "It all depends on how their defense shapes up," he said. "If at all possible, though, we'll swing wide where we can."

Last year the local eleven dumped the Quantico squad, 26-7, and are shooting for a repeat performance Saturday.

To date the Warriors have a 1-3-1 won, lost and tied record for the season.

Game time is slated for 10:00 a.m.

Cage Squad Takes Shape

Cuts this week by head basketball coach Maj. Ira P. Norfolk firmed up the 1960-61 Camp Lejeune basketball team. The final selections were made Tuesday by the head mentor, leaving 12 of the 57 hopefuls who originally tried out for the squad.

Derek Dickinson, 6'2" forward last season, was one of the 10 players chosen to represent the Atlantic Fleet Team in 1959 and Charlie Morrow, 6'2" guard with college experience at Drexel Tech, make up the veterans of the 1959 squad.

Newcomers to the Lejeune hardwoods include Jim Avery, 6'4" center with Georgia Southern College; Dick Bailey, 5'10" guard from St. Amstems' College; Harold Day, 5'1" guard with Morehead State, Ky.; Fred Lentz, 6'7" center from the University of South Carolina; and John Niblett, 6' guard with Davis and Elkins College.

Bill Pickens, 6'9" center, joins Lejeune after two years' experience with Parris Island; Don Reddington, 6'1" guard, has two years with Salem State College; Glen Sturgill, 5'11" guard, from Parris Island; John Sullivan, 6'4" forward, an All-America in 1957 with Mount Saint Mary's College and a member of the 1960 U. S. Olympic Team, and John Whelan, 6'2" forward from Holy Cross College.

Lady Anglers Find Fishing Weather Tops

Local lady anglers found Ocracoke a fishing paradise recently. Mrs. F. G. McLenon and Mrs. J. A. Etheridge reeled in large takes of whiting, puppy drum, black drum, pompano and other salt water fish at the Hatteras island.

Casting from the surf, the ladies used shrimp for bait and 20-pound-test lines. Mrs. McLenon found that the fish wouldn't take mullet strips as well as shrimp. "We varied our bait at first," she reported, "but they just wouldn't hit the mullet. So we stayed with the shrimp and had all kinds of success."

Mrs. McLenon's best catch in the day's fishing on the island off Cape Hatteras was a 10-pound black drum which was a "beauty" and gave a good account of itself.

"I also snagged several puppy drum which average six to seven pounds," she said. But it was the whiting which really captured the ladies' fancy.

"They're such good eating," the fishermen reported.

The ladies attributed their fine catch to the recent cool weather. Surf casting up and down the North Carolina coast almost daily, they found the salt water prey striking with much more consistency after the low-temperature evenings set in.

Redskins, Bears Winners In Boys League Grid Tilts

As the second half of the Boy's Football League season got underway Sunday, the Bears upset the fast-running Colts, 12-6, in a last minute thriller while the Redskins rolled over the Rams, 21-6, for their seventh straight victory. The Redskins struck early via the air with two pass plays as Mulholland passed 15 yards to halfback Woodriddle on the Rams' 40-yard marker. From here Woodriddle scored standing up. Mulholland then cracked over center for the PAT. This action made the score 7-0 in the first two minutes of play.

The Rams battled right back as quarterback Rex Woodriddle mixed the plays well and generated the Rams all the way to the Redskins 4-yard marker where they had to give up the ball on downs.

Taking possession, the Redskins, behind long runs by Cunningham and Woodriddle, reeled off plus yardage to the Rams' one where Duval sneaked over for the second TD. Woodriddle then went over tackle for the extra point.

Once, again on the move, the Rams, behind the passing of Rex Woodriddle and the long ground gains of Roger Keagy, sliced the Redskins line up and made their way down to the opposition four. Here Aycock scooted over for the Rams' only TD.

Late in the fourth quarter Cunningham broke over his own left tackle and, picking up some of the best downfield blocking of the contest, went 35 yards for the game's final TD. Again Woodriddle carried the mail over for the PAT.

In the afternoon's second tilt the Bears and the Colts battled to a 0-0 tie until late in the final stanza.

With less than two minutes to go in the contest and the Colts in possession on their own 38-yard marker, Clear tossed a pass that had touchdown written all over it, to Paulson. But Bill Batchlor plucked the ball out of Paulson's waiting hands and went all the way to score standing up. The try for the extra point failed, however, and Batchlor kicked off to Tommy Moore, who made his way to the Colt 49.

Minutes later the same play transpired and again Batchlor was there to snag the pigskin and romp to his second touchdown.

With less than a minute to go Batchlor kicked off to Moore on the Colts' 49-yard line and again Clear passed to Paulson, who latched on to the ball and made his way to the Bears' 20-yard marker, where he lateraled to LaBahn, who continued on to score as the game ended, 12-6.

Area Boxing Tournament Slated For Camp Lejeune

A Base-wide Novice and Open Boxing Tournament will be held in the Goettge Memorial Field House at 7 p.m. on Dec. 5, 6 and 7. The tournament is to be conducted to determine the outstanding boxers in order to field the best possible team to represent Camp Lejeune in intra-Base competition. Only beginning fighters, with no more than four bouts under their belts, may participate in the Novice class. During this tournament the Novice bouts will consist of three 1½-minute rounds with one-minute rest periods in between.

Novice boxers will wear gloves weighing at least 10 ounces in all classes under 160 pounds. Novice fighters in weight classes over 160 must wear gloves which weigh not less than 12 ounces.

In Open Division boxing, gloves will weigh not less than eight ounces for those weighing in under 160 pounds. Those who tip the scales at heavier weights will be restricted to 16-ounce leathers.

National Amateur Athletic Union Boxing Rules will apply throughout the tournament, the only exception being in the wearing of headguards by contestants as required.

Entries in either division will conform with the following weight classes: Flyweight, 112; Bantamweight, 119; Featherweight, 125; Lightweight, 132; Light Welterweight, 139; Welterweight, 147; Light Middleweight, 156; Middleweight, 165; Light Heavyweight, 178; Heavyweight, over 178.

Eligible Marines are encouraged to engage in daily workouts and training prior to the tournament. The Field House boxing room will be available for workouts by all participants and the use of area gymnasiums is encouraged.

All personnel who enter the tournament are required to attend a meeting in the Field House on Dec. 2 at 6 p.m. Pairings will be made at this time along with information on weigh-ins, physical examinations and assignment of dressing rooms.

Individual trophies will be presented to the winner and runner-up in each weight class of both divisions.

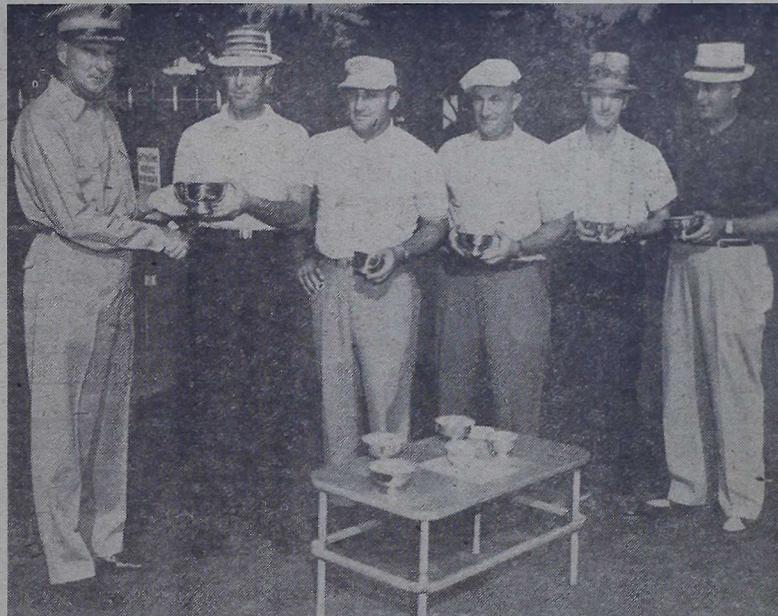

Further information on the tournament may be obtained from Base Bulletin 1710 dated Oct. 6.

2nd Division Soccer Team Seeks Second Atlantic Fleet Title

The 2nd Marine Division soccer team, coached by 1st Lt. "Robbie" Roberson, is currently drilling in preparation for the Atlantic Fleet Soccer Championships to be held in Norfolk, Va., Nov. 14-18.

The Division is the defending champion in the event and hopes to retire the rotating trophy with a victory this year. No formal schedule has yet been planned for the local booters, but games against Ft. Bragg have shown that much work is needed before the tournament. Last Friday the Lejeune squad ended up on the short end of a 7-1 score in a game played on the local pitch. An earlier game at Ft. Bragg ended with the Paratroopers in front, 11-5.

Any experienced players interested in joining the soccer squad are invited to contact Lieutenant Shepard at 7-3955.

CLUB CHAMPIONS—During informal ceremonies at the Camp Lejeune Golf Course last week. Maj. Gen. Robert B. Luckey, Marine Corps Base commander, presented trophies to 10 Lejeune linksters. Some of the recipients were, left to right: SSgt. J. A. Moore, winner of the Championship Flight; Lt. Col. L. D. McCurrey, runner-up in the First Flight; Maj. G. M. Olszewski, Second Flight winner; Col. J. F. Holt, runner-up in the Fourth Flight; and Lt. Col. J. A. Witherspoon, winner of the Fourth Flight. Not present for the awards ceremony were Lt. R. A. Myer, runner-up in the Championship Flight; Maj. H. O. Cowing, runner-up in the Third Flight; GySgt. T. F. Gay, runner-up in the Second Flight; and GySgt. J. C. Taylor, Third Flight winner. Judo Club Initiates New Beginner Class

The Camp Lejeune Judo Club will start another beginners class Monday, Oct. 31. Regular class meetings will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Judo Club Secretary-Treasurer Don Hasson said the new class and meeting time will eliminate the children's classes held Sunday evenings. The new class is for all ages above 10.

In correcting some recent erroneous information released to the public, Hasson said the club's last promotion advanced eight men from third to second grade white belt (Go-Kyu) and one man from second to first grade white belt (Yon-Kyu) instead of to black belt degrees.

Destruction Tops Curriculum Of Lejeune Demolition Class

"Some schools teach construction but we teach destruction," says SSgt. Edward E. D. Carroll, an instructor at the Combat Engineers' Demolition School at Courthouse Bay. Sgt. Raymond D. Borque, another instructor at the school, said, "It took many years to build the Golden Gate Bridge but we estimate that it would take us about four hours to destroy it." There are many useful jobs, however, that utilize explosives. Two cases of dynamite, which cost about $30, can dig a 500-foot ditch approximately two feet deep and two feet wide. This is a cheaper operation than using manpower.

The Marines employ many types of explosives and use the majority of them for destruction. Strip charges of C-3 are used to clear away trees for helicopter landing zones. This strip charge is a band of C-3 usually prepared before a job and is circled around a tree at the ground level. When the charge is set off the tree is cut smoothly and doesn't leave a stump.

Local Marine Participates In British Tattoo At New York

Another Marine Corps first has been accomplished and SSgt. Alan J. Hirsch is the Marine responsible.

Sergeant Hirsch, while on leave in New York City last June, became the first U.S. Marine to take an active part in the British Military Tournament and Tattoo at Madison Square Garden.

Attending an advanced warehouse course at Supply School, Montford Point, Sergeant Hirsch is attached to Supply Company, Service Battalion (Ordnance Supply), Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.

SERGEANT HIRSCH

Offering his services to Brigadier A. G. L. Maclean, Commander of the British Empire, Sergeant Hirsch performed duties as time-keeper and switchboard operator for 11 days without compensation.

A letter to General David M. Shoup, Commandant of the Marine Corps from Brigadier Maclean stated in part.

"I seldom, if ever, have found a more reliable person to deal with. Sergeant Hirsch became very much a part of our set-up, and was extremely popular with our unit.

Sergeant Hirsch's presence in the Tattoo had been a definite link between your distinguished Corps and the whole British Tattoo."

This was the first time Tattoo was displayed in the United States and consists of physical endurance tests involving timed competition. Snappy drill and colorful marching bands were also included in the event.

So well liked by the Royal Marine officers and men, Sergeant Hirsch was invited to lead their unit in the Grand Finale before the thunderous applause of 12,000 spectators.

In another token of appreciation Hirsch received a set of initialed cuff-links from Captain Easterbrook, leader of the unit.

COMMISSARY HOURS

According to Base Order 4065.1C, the Commissary sales hours have been changed to the following: Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, open hours, 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; Friday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., and Saturday, from 8 a.m. to noon. The Commissary will be closed on Sunday, Monday, and all holidays.

Marines, Army Assaulting Beach In Joint Maneuvers

A combination of Army units from Ft. Eustis, Ft. Story and Ft. Lee and the 2nd Battalion, Second Marines from the 2nd Division will stage a simulated assault on Onslow Beach here next Monday. The joint exercise will be known as JAMLEX (Joint Army-Marine Landing Exercise) and is expected to terminate on Nov. 3. The operation will test a "through the beach" concept—utilizing Marine IVTs and Army DUKWs and BARCs—landing troops, equipment and supplies well inland. Included in the exercise will be an assault over the beaches, clearing elements of aggressor resistance and securing of assigned areas.

A logistical support operation will commence immediately following the assault landings, with the discharge of equipment and cargo to inland destinations. This phase of the exercise will include a line haul operation to move cargo to a simulated Mobile Army Supply Point located at Fort Bragg, N. C. From there the cargo and equipment will be moved to Fort Eustis, Va.

Army participants will be a specially composed battalion of the Transportation and Quartermaster Corps of the Army. The landing exercise was requested by the Army to test the capabilities of landing craft, helicopters and amphibious vehicles of the Transportation Corps to support a battalion landing team in an amphibious assault and subsequent operations ashore.

The exercise will test the capabilities of a U. S. Army Service Support Element to perform its combat mission role in support of a U. S. Marine Battalion Landing Team. In addition, realistic tactical and technical training for U. S. Army Technical service units under field conditions in a joint support role will be accomplished.

Operation JAMLEX also marks the re-birth of Battalion Landing Team, 2/2 as a full strength combat organization of the 2nd Marine Division and present an opportunity for the newly re-organized battalion to plan and work together with combat and service support elements from other Division and Force units.

Cmdr. Lee Receives Notice Of Selection

Cmdr. James H. Lee (MC), USN, Chief of Dependents' Service at the U. S. Naval Hospital, has been selected for promotion to captain.

Commander Lee's selection for promotion was announced in SecNav Note 1421, which published the list approved by the President as reported by the selection board.

A veteran of 12 years' service in the Medical Corps, Dr. Lee interned at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1945.

He left the Navy for a short time in the middle 1950's, but returned to active service in January, 1957, reporting to the U. S. Naval Hospital, Camp Lejeune, for assignment as Chief of Obstetrics and Gynecology Service.

Certified by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Commander Lee is also a Fellow of the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology and belongs to the Virginia Obstetrics and Gynecology Society.

BURIAL IN A NATIONAL CEMETERY

The wife, husband, or minor children of an eligible Marine veteran can be buried in the same or adjoining grave in a National Cemetery if space is available. Space can be reserved by applying to the cemetery superintendent at time of the first burial and written application for renewal every two years thereafter.

Halloween Spooks Take Over At Terrace Community Center

Strange couples from all over the Base invaded the Tarawa Terrace Community Center last Thursday evening as the Staff Wives Club held its annual Halloween Party. Costumed couples entered the darkened auditorium of the center through a doorway hung with black and orange streamers. The black and orange color scheme was continued in the black and orange cats and pumpkins used as name tags. A covered dish dinner was held after a very brief business meeting conducted by the club president, Mrs. R. Kristof.

Next on the agenda was the parade of the goblins, ghosts and other creatures to select the prize winners for the evening.

Winners were, GySgt. and Mrs. L. A. Deleno, as a Beatnik couple; 1st Sgt. and Mrs. Owen Furuseth, as a pair of bums; and GySgt. and Mrs. J. Garaglia, as a Hollywood Starlet and "her" manager.

The wives plan to go to Cherry Point tonight for a joint Halloween party with the Cherry Point Staff NCO Wives Club.

Transportation will leave the Tarawa Terrace Community Center about 6 p.m. tonight for the party.

All wives of Staff NCO's are cordially invited to join the club in its many activities. Volunteers from the club staff the Thrift Shop, and conduct a monthly fun night for the inmates of the U. S. Naval Hospital. A scholarship fund is also maintained for sending the dependent of a Staff NCO to a college or business school.

Coffee, punch and assorted pastries will be served from 9:30 a.m. until 11 a.m. and are included in the cost of the tickets. Players may continue their games throughout the afternoon.

The committee states that the Sitting Service cares for more than 1,500 children each month, enabling mothers to attend to their various activities with complete confidence that their children are receiving proper care.

Charges for the service are kept to the minimum amount necessary to maintain a basic toy supply and staff the service with well qualified personnel, but they are not sufficient to cover such items as new cribs. Proceeds from the benefit will be used to purchase these new cribs which will replace the worn-out ones now in use.

Members of the committee request that players furnish their own cards, and suggest that the ladies attend in pairs or in foursomes so that they may begin without any delay.

Tickets will also be available at the door.

Activities Calendar

Air Facility Officers Wives Club

The Air Facility's OWC will hold its November meeting next Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 1 p.m. in the Officer's Club. Hostesses for the meeting will be the wives of Squadron 461.

Reservations must be in by noon Monday, October 31, to either Mrs. T. Smith at Jax 6118, or Mrs. R. D. Foster at 06-601.

Monday evening the club will be host to the children of the Air Facility at a Halloween Party. After the "Trick or Treat for UNICEF", the children are all invited to come to the Air Facility Service Club for games and refreshments. From 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. those children in the pre-school through fourth grades will have their party. The fifth graders and up will start their party at about 8:15 p.m. The parties are a joint OWC and Staff Wives activity.

Officers Wives Club — Group III

Group III of the Officers Wives Club will hold its November meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 12 noon in the River Room of the Paradise Point Officers Club.

Guest speaker for the meeting will be Miss Asbell, a home demonstrator from Jacksonville, whose subject will be, "Take Time to Live."

Coffee 'n' Confusion Group

Mrs. R. D. Wright, president of the Officers Wives Club, will speak to the Coffee 'n' Confusion Group at its meeting on Friday, November 4, in the River Room of the Paradise Point Club. Her topic will be, "Are You in Doubt, Service Wife?"

Mayor A. J. Lewis At November Meeting

Mrs. W. L. Batchelor and the wives of the 8th Engr. Bn. will host the Nov. 3 luncheon at 12 noon in the River Room of the Paradise Point Officers Club.

Mayor A. J. Lewis of Jacksonville will lead an informal discussion on Survivor Benefits for service wives, which includes Social Security, V.A. benefits and the Contingency Option Act.

Turkey with all the trimmings will highlight this luncheon, so reservations should be made early by calling one of the following before noon of Nov. 2: Mrs. C. J. Smith, 6-6308; Mrs. R. H. Cub Scouts And Brownies Start Activities For Season

Cub Scouts from Den 8, Pack 90, Camp Lejeune, earned $20 by collecting wire hangers for resale to a local cleaner. The money has been sent to the Kennedy Home in Kingston, N. C., to be used to provide a Halloween party for the boys there. They are now involved in painting playhouses for the various sitting services around the Base. The first of the houses will be on display at the Officers' Wives Club's Benefit Bridge Party this Friday. The Cubs are being helped by area Brownie Scouts in this project.

Brownies in Troop 292 at Midway Park elected new officers for the coming year at their meeting last week. Newly elected were, Patti Rickman, president; Diane Henderson, vice president; Nancy Davis, secretary, and Vickie Self, treasurer. Mrs. J. H. Henderson is leader for the troop, and Mrs. M. W. Self is her assistant.

Paradise Point Brownies of Troop 178 invested fourteen new girls during the troop's first Flag Ceremony. Tuesday marked the first meeting for the new troop.

'Great Debate'

Marine Students To Hold Mock Political Discussion

Highlighting the coming elections next month, two members of NCO Leadership School, Montford Point, will engage in a political debate surrounding defense matters at 1 p.m. next Tuesday. Assuming the roll of presidential campaigners, even to the extent of civilian clothes, the speakers will be arguing the same military issues currently being elaborated on by Vice-President Nixon and Senator Kennedy during the present "Great Debates."

According to MGySgt. Benjamin Thomas, the debate is not only being prepared to stimulate the election, but also to create an interest among Marines in matters of individual concern.

Sergeant Thomas, school's operations chief, will take Senator Kennedy's plank, supporting his defense plans and stressing future preparedness.

His opponent, GySgt. Gerald G. Pendas, will follow Vice-President Nixon's issues supporting his stand that the United States is the strongest nation in the world and is progressing at a sufficient rate. Sergeant Pendas teaches "Technique of Instruction" at the school.

Maj. Gilbert R. Hershey, officer in charge of the school, will act as moderator for the discussion.

"Each speaker will be allowed a 15-minute discourse," said Major Hershey, "then his opponent will be allowed five minutes in rebuttal."

Following the discourse and rebuttal period, 30 minutes will be allowed for questions from the floor. The complete schools detachment and invited guests will comprise the floor and will be invited to take an active part in the question-and-answer period.

The speakers to whom the question is intended will be allowed two and a half minutes to answer while his opponent will be given the same time to rebut.

W. O. Board Selecting 185 Enlisted Men

The records of 1,856 Marines, nominated by their commanding officers for appointment to warrant officer, will go before a selection board which convened at Headquarters Marine Corps last week.

Col. Ernest G. Atkin is president of the board which is authorized to select a maximum of 185 Marines to be warrant officer candidates. It is anticipated that the board will report out after December 1.

Selectees in this first part of a two-phase Marine Corps Warrant Officer Program for FY 1961 will report to the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., on Jan. 3, 1961, for a seven-week screening course. Upon successful completion of the screening course candidates will be appointed warrant officers (W-1) and will then be assigned to the warrant officers basic school.

The first phase of the FY 61 warrant officer program is for Marines in pay grades E-4 and above, with more than six, but less than eight, years of active service. Phase two of the program is aimed at veteran Marines in pay grades E-6 and above. The phase two selection board is expected to convene next March.

Six Lejeune Marines Win Photo Berths

Six Camp Lejeune Marines were winners in the All-Marine Photo Contest conducted at Camp Pendleton this month. Sgt. Stephen E. Bolf was the only Marine from Camp Lejeune to have a winning entry in the black and white groups. He received the third place award in the animals and pets category.

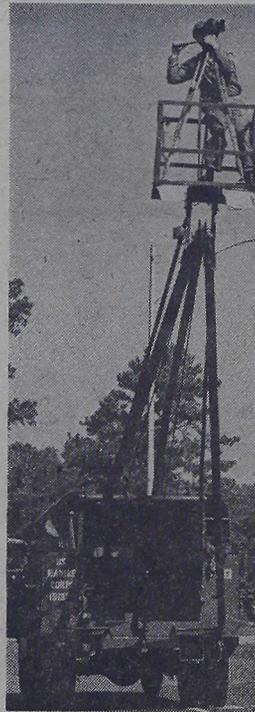

There were four local winners and one honorable mention in the color group. First Lt. Harry F. Philson, first place in color portraits; Sgt. Byron G. Highland, first place in animals and pets; SSGT. Robert L. Wills, first place in sports or action; and 2nd Lt. Fred C. Gould, second place in military life. Sgt. Billy L. Clay received honorable mention for his experiment in color.

The contest was judged by three prominent Los Angeles photographers, who looked at more than 150 entries to select the winners. They were Jack Powell, Robert Forester and Judson Hawthorne.

The winners of the All-Marine Contest will be entered in the Ninth Interservice Photographic Contest to be held in Washington, D. C., starting Dec. 5.

Lost And Found

The Base Provost Marshal's office has four bicycles and one officer's sword which have been found and turned into the PMO and have not been reclaimed. These articles may be reclaimed upon identification by contacting the Criminal Investigation Section, Bldg. 37, Hadnot Point.

Bulletin Stresses Electrical Safety

Emphasis on the possibility of fatal accidents to workers working around high tension lines is expressed by Base Bulletin 5101.

This bulletin gives some of the safety rules to be obeyed while operating heavy equipment in an area where high tension lines are located.

The Base Safety Office has prepared a series of transparencies as a visual training device to be shown to personnel who are required to work on or near high tension lines.

Commanding officers will see that all men in their units who have to work around high tension lines are familiar with this training device and know all the rules of safety for work in this field.

TOY TROUBADOUR—Days of recovery will be brighter and happier for patients in the Children's Ward at the Naval Hospital, thanks to Group Two of the Officers' Wives Club. The club donated the toys last week and got immediate response from the tots who took over with smiles and anxious hands. Club members Mrs. Don Robinson, left, and Mrs. Jane Lawrence smile approvingly as Capt. L. E. Bach, commanding officer of the Naval Hospital, serenades them with a toy ukelele. (Photo by Sgt. W. J. Freedom Foundation Letter Contest Nearing Deadline

Time is running out for members of the Armed Forces who want to try for the $9,000 in cash prizes and invitation to the Presidential inaugural ceremonies in Washington 1 January, offered to winners in the Letter Awards Program of Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge. Entries must be postmarked no later than the night of Nov. 1. All members of the Armed Forces on active duty may take part. Just write a letter of from 100 to 500 words expressing your thoughts on the subject: "My Vote — Freedom Privilege." Send it immediately to Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa.

Senior Life Saving Test Slated Here

An American Red Cross Senior Life Saving Course will begin Monday at the Area 2 swimming pool. The course may be attended by anyone meeting the qualifications set forth in Base Bulletin 1550.

Qualifications for the course are: be a qualified swimmer as outlined in Marine Corps Order 1510.2B; have a classification of Red Cross Swimmer or its equivalent; or hold a Red Cross Senior Life Saving Certificate that requires renewal.

The course will consist of eight days of instruction and the classes will be conducted from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day. Personnel selected to attend this course will report to the NCOinC of the Area 2 swimming pool prior to 8 a.m. each day that a class is scheduled. He must furnish his own swimming suit and towel for the class.

The Field Director of the American Red Cross at Camp Lejeune will award appropriate certificates to course graduates.

All applicants for this Life Saving Course must be screened and approved by their commanding officer before their names are submitted to the Base Special Services Officer. Woman Marines who are qualified may attend this course if they are recommended by their commanding officer.

Quotas for this course have been assigned to Second Force Service Regiment, 2nd Division, Marine Corps Engineer Schools and Force Troops.

Interrogators Finish Four-Month School; Diplomas Awarded

The first Composite Interrogator-Translator Basic Course graduated during ceremonies at Force Troops Headquarters last week. The ceremony was attended by Brig. Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., commanding general, Force Troops.

The nine students in this first class were from the 2nd Division, 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing and Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic.

The course was authorized by the commanding general, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, to fill the gap between the trained interrogators and the troops in the field.

The Interrogator-Translator Course is 16 weeks long and began July 7. Anyone interested in this course and having a basic knowledge of a foreign language may apply to attend the next course scheduled to begin in January, 1961.

The first class consisted of five Spanish and four French language students. One of the requirements for the course was a basic knowledge of either French or Spanish.

Graduates of this course possess the unique ability of speaking in a foreign language and the use of interrogation techniques in that language.

The nine graduates from the school were Pfc F. Gonzales, LCpl. R. Re., SSGT. R. Robicheau, Sgt. T. Corron, Sgt. B. Jones and LCpl. H. Ortiz, 2nd Division; MSgt. T. Steele, 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing; GySgt. R. LeBrun, Second Force Service Regiment; and LCpl. R. Robillard, Force Troops.

election nears, the contrast between the free vote in this country and the sham elections of totalitarian nations is particularly pointed up. Close to two million men and women in service will have an opportunity to vote their State's election by use of absentee ballots.

It is not necessary to be an experienced writer to compete, sincerity and originality of thought are what counts. But note that letters may not be in support or against any candidate. They must be strictly non-partisan in nature.

A cash award of $1,000 is offered for the best letter and one of $500 for second place. There are awards of $100 each and 50 of $50 cash. Every cash award winner will also receive a George Washington Honor medal, suitably inscribed. In addition, the top winner of each service will be invited to visit Washington for the inaugural ceremonies, January 20, 1961, subject to the approval of his or her commanding officer.

The next five winners, regardless of service, will receive invitations to the Freedom Foundation Twelfth Annual Awards program at Valley Forge on George Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, 1961.

Entries in the Letter Awards Program must be typed or legibly handwritten on one side of the paper only, and must include the name of the writer, with name of service and rank, serial number, military and home addresses. And, to be considered for an award, the letters must reach Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge with a postmark no later than midnight November 1.
