Here's the Answer

QUICK THINKING—Lt. Charles B. Murphy, left, and HM3 Theodore P. Catliff appear before Lt. Col. R. M. Hall, commanding officer, 3rd Bn., Second Marines, at Camp Lejeune on Sept. 7. The citation was for quick thinking that saved a Marine's life while undergoing training at Vieques, Puerto Rico, last June. Murphy, Catliff and Pfc Edward J. Linehan, not present at the ceremony, were credited with saving a Marine who was overcome by heat exhaustion. The men quickly administered first aid and evacuated the victim to the nearest road. Working as a team, the three alternately applied mouth-to-mouth respiration and were successful in reviving the stricken man. (Photo by SSgt. Al Braley)

ACHIEVEMENT—Col. Henry G. Lawrence Jr., left, Base Provost Marshal, presents certificates to SSgt. Thomas A. Roberts Jr., center, and Sgt. Lloyd A. Day, right, upon completing a course at the North Carolina State Highway Patrol School at Chapel Hill, N. C. The sergeants were the only two military personnel in the class of 21 subjects which began June 18 and ended Sept. 9. (Photo by Sgt. W. J. Rush)

Hurricane's Threat Welds Marines Into Solid Team

Last week the Base commander commended all hands for their hard work and organization during and after the recent hurricane.

Nothing organizes individuals into a team quicker than an emergency. No danger is so seriously regarded as the one which affects everyone.

On Sept. 11 Hurricane Donna threatened us all. Camp Lejeune personnel, both military and civilian, had been aware of the high winds and excessive rains that began to hit the Florida Keys late Friday. But for many here it posed no immediate concern.

Even as late as Sunday morning people in the Lejeune area were planning their activities for the day and contemplating the routine schedules of Monday. But by noon the weather reports informed us the dangerous storm was moving in to this area at a tremendous speed. The winds were suddenly upon us. Safety precautions were urged. Emergency directives were being spelled out.

Almost at once the population, which was scattered throughout Onslow and surrounding counties, became a force in resistance. For those who were confused, there were others who knew how to react. The many who found themselves unprepared to cope with the impending danger did not have to look far to find someone who was willing to lend a hand.

Behind the early warning stages were those who are normally on duty: the military police, the telephone operators, communication sections, the watch standers, and the security details. With the facts of Hurricane Donna staring these people in the face, they went to work.

The local civilian radio stations and TV networks gave vital assistance. Patrol cars with bull horns toured the residential areas announcing instructions in safety procedures. Telephones were used in every instance: to call in key personnel, to clarify evacuation centers, to inform the uninformed what action to take.

No one hesitated to relay what information they knew. No one doubted the importance of the message. The anticipation of the hurricane quickly welded together the mutual respect of everyone for each other. What was earlier in the day a large area of casual individuals soon became a place where thousands of human beings determined to beat the enemy storm that moved against us.

The height of the hurricane found willing hands doing what they knew must be done. Messhall crews made coffee and sandwiches for all-night work details. Emergency vehicles braved the treachery of heavy winds to aid, if necessary, anyone in trouble. Maintenance personnel did their best with power lines and communication systems. Hospital staffs stood by. For several hours it was a supreme test for a glorious team.

Although wind caused the greatest property damage Camp Lejeune has ever sustained, it is most fitting to cite the orderliness and control that prevailed among our Marines, Navy men and civilians. It is with pride and satisfaction that we sum up our response to emergency's challenge: Hurricane Donna brought out our true colors.

Latest Word

Two battalions have left Camp Pendleton for the Far East under the Marine Corps' battalion replacement policy. The 3rd Bn., Seventh Marines, sailed on the transport Sultan from San Diego during August. The 1st Bn., Ninth Marines, departed San Diego the first week of September. The 1st Bn., Fifth Marines, is scheduled to return to Pendleton, arriving Sept. 20. In November, the 2nd Bn., Ninth Marines, are scheduled to relieve the 2nd Bn., Fifth Marines, who will return to the States in early December. Under the battalion rotation policy personnel are held within the units for 30 months, 15 months in the States and 15 months overseas.

An estimated 2,600 Navy and Marine Corps men and women can expect to be discharged in time to be home for the Christmas holidays. Personnel serving on active duty in the Continental U. S. who normally would be discharged or released from active duty between Dec. 16 and Jan. 5 will be separated from service between Dec. 8-16. This policy does not apply to six-month reservists or those personnel serving on three-year enlistments to obtain citizenship in the U. S.

If You Ask Me:

LT. (JG) METIN I. FERIN, Turkey — Most impressive. I was most impressed with the organization and the degree of skill shown by the hospital corpsmen. The organization appears most flexible. The big helicopter would be of tremendous value because of the number of injured it could carry. Speed is essential and this has been developed greatly by the use of helicopters.

CAPT. MEHET ALI ISIGIGUR, Turkey — Our Turkish soldiers fought alongside the Americans in Korea and we learned something from that. The demonstration to day was most impressive, especially the organization. Everyone seems to be highly skilled. The armored tractor which can carry a number of wounded under fire or through areas an ambulance cannot go is most impressive.

LT. COL. ARIFIN SJOEKOER, Indonesia — I was most impressed by the organization of the unit. A complete hospital with the capabilities shown today will greatly benefit the injured personnel due to the speed with which they can be treated and evacuated. Helicopters are excellent evacuation vehicles and I see they are well considered here. Not only can they evacuate the most critically wounded, but they can speed in needed supplies and more men.

LT. CMDR. JELAL HAMIDI, Iran — The organization made the deepest impression on me. Nothing appears to be neglected and everyone seems most capable. It was a very impressive demonstration. The small helicopter with room for a doctor or technician to travel with the patient is excellent. The pilot today appeared most skilled.

CAPT. ERNESTO J. PEREZ, Argentina — Organization, skill, the tremendous amount of equipment and planning. Nothing has been ignored for the treatment of the wounded. The organization was perhaps the most impressive thing. Great attention has been paid to detail. I think the big tractor would be most useful, especially in country such as this if roads were not good.

LT. (JG) KAHYA N. AIBINER, Turkey — Perhaps the organization. The men all seem highly skilled and show a tremendous interest and pride in their jobs. I was amazed by the amount of equipment and details. Excellent organization, I believe, that impressed me most. Nothing seems to be overlooked to make evacuation faster. The different helicopters and the armored tractor are excellent evacuation vehicles. No expense has been spared here to save life.

Spirited Engineer Maintenance Corp Uses Muscle, Brain To Fix All Ma

GIANTS—In the equipment compound various pieces of giant-like machinery are stored while repairs are made. Here in the equipment compound repairs are made to such huge items of equipment as Bay City cranes, bulldozers, road graders and other equipment too large for shop work.

From heavy cranes to delicate cameras, from cement mixers to outboard motors, the specialized mechanics of the Engineer Maintenance Company are the fixers of all. A member of the Materiel Supply and Maintenance Bn., 2nd Force Service Regiment, and commanded by Capt. F. E. Harnage, this unit is one of the few honored "company of companies" in the Marine Corps.

To expedite work in the main shop of the company, Bldg. 902, the unit is divided into three sections. The Heavy Equipment Section repairs a too-numerous-to-mention list of machinery including tracked and mobile cranes, tracked and mobile tractors, road graders, cement mixers, rock crushers and diesel engines from all types of equipment.

The Utilities Section is broken down into a gasoline engine section which repairs any type of gasoline engine including outboard motors used by reconnaissance units; a refrigeration section which repairs such items as ice cream machines and air conditioners; an Electrical Section which works with all types of generators; and a Water Purification section which fixes all kinds of purification equipment.

The third main division, the Service and Support Section which operates a welding shop and a machine shop, is responsible for all supply problems, and handles both personnel and repair work administration.

The percentage of staff NCO's in the company is high, because most of the men are specialists with many years' experience in their particular field of engineering. They have been schooled at the Marine Corps Engineer Schools, Courthouse Bay, at the Army Engineers Schools, Ft. Belvoir, Va., and at schools conducted by various equipment manufacturers. Personnel average approximately 90 per cent enrollment in correspondence courses, with the current enrollment standing at 91 per cent.

There is at all times a detail of one officer and 10-12 enlisted men from the company stationed at Vieques, P. R. The detail, which is rotated every three months, is maintained at the Vieques training area to perform advanced maintenance work for Force Troops' 8th Engineer Battalion.

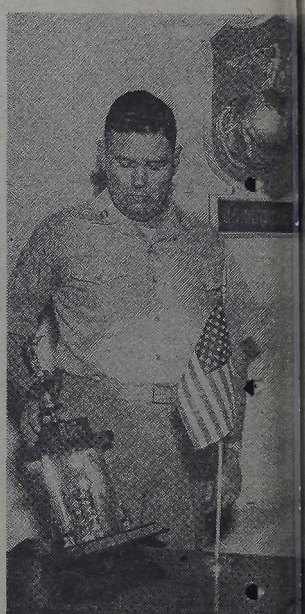

Technical inspection teams are often requested from the company by the commanding generals of 2nd Division and Force Troops to conduct the technical inspections of organic equipment belonging to the major commands.

During the fiscal year 1960, the Engineer Maintenance Company received 1,621 work orders on major items of equipment. Of this number, 1,450 were repaired and returned to the user, 84 were evacuated to Albany, Ga., for fifth echelon repair, 58 were sent to Albany for rotation and evacuation, and 29 were evacuated to Redistribution and Disposal as unserviceable items.

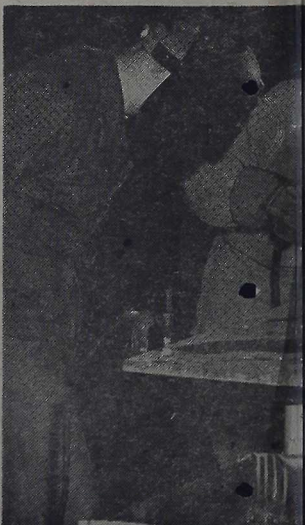

Morale, discipline and esprit de corps are exceptionally high in the company. At inspections and ceremonies, the unit is constantly regarded as excellent to outstanding. The men hold the Battalion Athletic Proficiency Trophy and the 1959 Marksmanship Trophy. The latter was won when the company fired an amazing requalification figure of 100 per cent.

According to 1st Lt. K. P. Millice, company executive officer, the same spirit prevails in giving to organized charity drives. In the recent Navy Relief Fund drive, the company was one of the first Camp Lejeune units to exceed its quota.

Captain Harnage feels the mission of his company is best stated in these three points: to ensure the combat readiness of all supported units; to improve themselves as individuals and attain a high degree of military proficiency as Marines; and to prepare for and seek the responsibilities of citizenship.

TROPHIES—Capt. F. E. Harnage, company executive officer, holds the new company marksmanship trophy and the Battalion trophy which the company currently holds.

WELDING—In the welding shop of the company, Pfc T. E. Milam uses an arc welder to repair equipment. (A. E. Engle)

Second Division's Duke Of Denniston To Complete Recruit Training Sept. 26

UNIFORM ISSUE—Private Denniston showed up at a Regimental Supply to draw a full issue. Fitting the mascot with a winter service uniform is Cpl. Richard F. Ward. (Photo by Sgt. J. H. Webster Jr.)

Several weeks ago an English bulldog destined to become a mascot with the 2nd Division arrived at Camp Lejeune amid the fanfare reserved for royal guests. The red carpet has long since been rolled up and the "Duke of Denniston" is a plain Marine private undergoing canine training that will make him a full-fledged devildog.

Soon after joining the Division, it was discovered that donor Guy Gabaldon, World War II Marine hero, intended for the mascot to be presented to his old outfit, the Second Marine Regiment. Maj. Gen. J. P. Berkeley, Division commander, presented his lordship to Col. C. W. Kelly Jr., Second Marines commander, at appropriate ceremonies.

Like any neophyte Marine, the 17-month-old pup was given a complete physical before starting his indoctrination and recruit training period. The Division's pedigreed mascot was given a clean bill of health by his attending physician, Maj. C. V. Lang, the Base Veterinarian. Lt. Cmdr. H. E. Freeman, a Second Marines dentist, will attest that the Duke has a full set of canine molars.

Complete with record book and health record, the new recruit was ready for a strenuous training program. A typical day will find drill instructor Cpl. R. G. Staggs holding reveille at 6 a.m., followed by breakfast at 7 a.m.

Training begins promptly

ly at 8 a.m. and consists mostly of obedience classes. Currently he is being taught to sit, lay down, shake hands, stop and heel, and to speak for his food. He is also being trained to eat only from his own dishes.

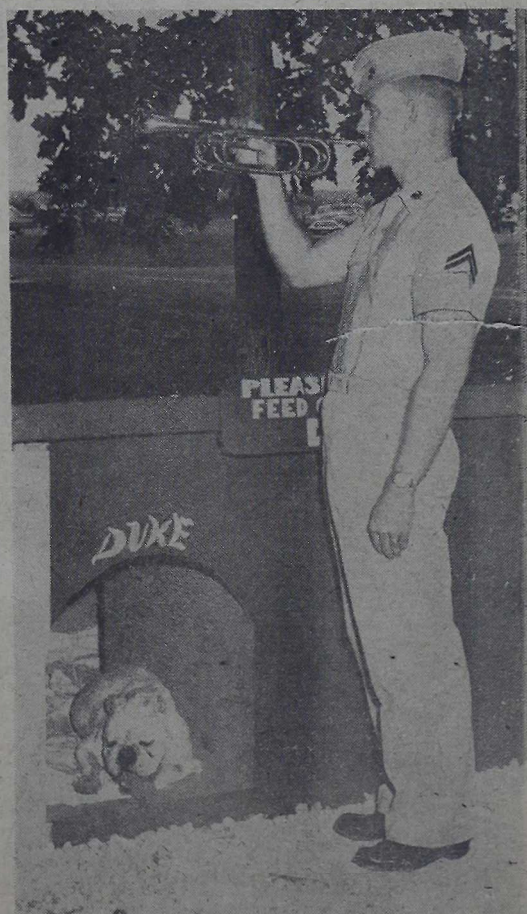

Duke quickly learned that he must stay squared away even during non-working hours. Colonel Kelly frequently holds surprise "inspection" on his new recruit, and General Berkeley has dropped in unexpectedly from time to time.

Currently housed in temporary quarters, new housing suitable for a dog of his stature is now being planned and will be provided before cold weather sets in.

Upon completion of recruit training Sept. 26, Private Denniston will assume duties with the regimental headquarters. He will visit units of the Second Marines, both in garrison and the field. Public appearances in behalf of the regiment, Division and the Marine Corps will also be on the agenda.

While Duke has yet to make an official public appearance, good behavior did earn him a visit to the 2nd Division Band's 1st Annual Labor Day Concert.

Publicity concerning his arrival at Camp Lejeune has prompted queries from dog-lovers as to the new mascot's availability for public appearances. An article in a Washington, D. C., paper resulted in his being made a member of the capital's "Tail Waggers Club."

REVEILLE—Before joining the Corps, 6 a.m. reveille was an unheard of thing for his lordship. Corporal Staggs shatters the early morning calm with a familiar call. (Photo by SSgt. Al Bralley)

Lejeune Scuttles Tars, 31-8

GLOBE SPORTS

THROUGH THE LINE—Quarterback Keith Wilson cuts through the Norfolk "Tars" defense as the Lejeune "Red Squad" makes a hole in the center of the line during the season's opener at Liversedge Field where the Marines romped over the "Tars" 31-8. (Photo by LCpl. F. J. Flynn)

New Three-Platoon System Successful In Opening Tilt

Lejeune's hard-hitting varsity grid squad succeeded in melting the "Tars" of Norfolk Saturday by romping over them 31-8 in the season's opener at Liversedge Field. Showing their versatile air-ground attack while unveiling the three-platoon system, the Lejeune eleven took a 7-0 lead after 11½ minutes of the first quarter. The scoring came after Marine tackle Ben Chitko recovered a Norfolk fumble on the Tars' 28-yard line. Capitalizing on the break, Lejeune hit pay dirt seven plays later with halfback Lawrence Fennessy plunging over from the two. Chuck Rix made his first kicking attempt of the season good for the one-pointer.

Norfolk again felt the sting of the Marine scoring power when Rix demonstrated his educated toe for the first tally of the second stanza by kicking a 40-yard field goal. The kick came after a Lejeune drive, which started on their own 23, was stopped by the Tars on the Norfolk 20.

Behind 10-0, Norfolk took Bob Ware's boot on the six-yard line and drove to the Marine 46 before punting to the Lejeune 17.

After driving up-field to the 43, quarterback Vince Cesare flipped a 15-yard pass to end Lee Russ who broke through the defensive secondary to make the play work 57 yards and six points for Lejeune. The kick by Rix was good, making the score 17-0 in favor of the Marines.

When action was resumed, Norfolk's Bob Eanes took Ben Chitko's kickoff on the five and returned it to the 25. Two plays later, a pass from Wood was intercepted by Lejeune's All-Marine halfback Mel Anderson who streaked down the sidelines for the third Lejeune six-pointer. Rix continued his accuracy by again putting the pigskin through the up-rights. A desperation attempt by Norfolk to chalk up a marker before the end of the half failed and the score read 24-0 at the mid-point.

The second half started with Wood having difficulty kicking off.

being penalized a total of 15 yards for kicking out of bounds. On his fourth try, Wood's kick was returned to the Navy 47 by halfback Denis Pardee, who fumbled when hit, losing the ball to Norfolk's Eanes. The powerful Marine line held the Tars to a two-yard gain in three plays, forcing Wood to punt to the Lejeune 20, where Pardee downed the ball. What looked like another scoring march by the Marines was interrupted after the ball had been moved up to the Navy 45. Norfolk's Carlos Mobley intercepted a Cesare pass on the Tars' 40 and fought his way to mid-field.

A fumble by Wood on a play from the Marine 38 was recovered by Mobley on the Navy 45 and Wood was again forced to punt. Halfback Jim Green took the spiral on the Marine 20 and returned it to his 40-yard line. Keith Wilson then moved the pigskin to the 45 on a keeper play, to set the stage for the outstanding run of the day.

Anderson Intercepts

Displaying his All-Marine qualities and establishing himself as a definite contender for this year's honors, Mel Anderson broke through the line, line backers and secondary, reversing his field seven times. Picking up excellent blocking, led by guard Jerry Smythe, Anderson squirmed his way for 55 yards and his second touchdown of the day. Chuck Rix's toe again hit the mark, giving the Marines a 31-0 edge.

Norfolk entered the scoring column early in the fourth quarter. Taking the ball on their own 39, the Tars punched their way to the Marine 49-yard line. At that point, Ken Easley, a member of the 1959 Lejeune squad, broke through the line and into the clear to rack up the sailors' only touchdown. Cox ran around end for the two points after touchdown and the score was set at 31-8, the final count.

Outgained on the ground, 216 yards to 191, the Lejeune squad accounted for 159 yards via the aerial route while Norfolk could only muster six. Lejeune completed 10 out of 21 passes to one out of 11 for Norfolk.

Quarterback Club Meets.

The Camp Lejeune Quarterback Club held its first of 10 scheduled meetings at the Camp Cafeteria's Steak House Tuesday and viewed motion pictures of Saturday's win over the Norfolk "Tars."

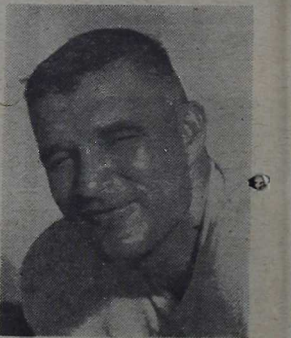

One of the highlights of the meeting was the announcement of the selection of halfback Mel Anderson and Joe Losack as "Players of the Week." Anderson and Losack were selected as the outstanding backfield and lineman, respectively, by the members of the Lejeune team before the Quarterback Club met.

In last Saturday's game, Mel made the only Lejeune pass interception, good for 30 yards and 6 points.

He also ran 87 yards on the ground, including a 55-yard touchdown sprint. During the game he averaged 10.8 yards per carry.

During Saturday's game, Losack proved himself a definite contender for All-Marine honors this year by snagging five of eight passes for a total of 49 yards.

Taking on punting chores for the Lejeune eleven, Joe booted for an average of 31.3 yards per punt until the fourth quarter when a partial block shaved his average for the day down to 25 yards.

The Quarterback Club's next scheduled meeting will be held Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. in the Steak House.

Lejeune Eleven Takes On Pensacola 'Goshawks' Sat.

The fast, hard-hitting Lejeune eleven will assault the Pensacola gridiron Saturday night in the annual Shrine Game conducted for the benefit of crippled children. The newly adopted three-platoon system of Lejeune will be put to the test this weekend against a more experienced "Goshawk" eleven who also utilize the triple-platoon system. Both Lejeune and Pensacola will be running their offensive attacks off the Wing-T formation, with versatile air-ground power.

Coach Paul "Moose" Tetreault, in his second season with the Navy team, is using the Louisiana State University platoon system for the second time. Last year in his first year of coaching with Pensacola and using the triple routine, Coach Tetreault and the "Goshawks" compiled a season's record of seven wins and four losses.

Out to better their last season's record the Pensacola eleven have racked up two victories to date, rolling over the University of Corpus Christi 27-0 in their opener and defeating McNeese State College 13-7 last weekend.

Lejeune Defensive Coach Charles Zielinski after scouting Pensacola in their win over McNeese State College reports the "Goshawks" are a well conditioned, fast team with a smooth offensive attack off the wing-T, with the capability of both running and passing plays.

"If we play heads up ball and don't relax our defense, we should come out on top against Pensacola," said Head Coach Denis Horn.

The Lejeune squad fell prey to the "Goshawks" last season 19-0. Having proved their versatility in the air and on the ground last weekend with a much improved pass defense over last season, the Marines will be seeking revenge this weekend for the shut-out they suffered last season in the Shrine Game.

Anglers Make 'Limit Catch' At Currituck

"Best bass fishing on the East Coast," was the way Lt. Col. H. C. Reed, 2nd FSR, described the recent angling excursion he and his 17-year-old son, Don, made to Currituck Sound.

Lying about 200 miles from Camp Lejeune and southeast of Norfolk, Va., the sound, according to Colonel Reed, abounds in bass averaging about two and a half pounds.

"Currituck," said Colonel Reed, "is about 95 per cent fresh water and is covered with grass extending about three to four feet from the bottom. Needless to say," the colonel added, "this is ideal fishing grounds and we made the most of it."

The colonel and his son, in one and a half days of fishing hauled in their two-day limit of 16 bass each. The largest Colonel Reed described as weighing about three and three-quarter pounds and were about 18 to 19 inches long.

Another interesting item the colonel found at Currituck Sound was the weather. "High temperatures are usually not good for fishing," he said, "but we experienced some extreme heat and still pulled them in pretty regularly."

'Pups' Pound Rockets, 18-6

A new, fired-up Devilpup eleven took to the gridiron Friday night and showed they had the mettle as they rapped the Beulaville Rockets 18-6.

With the game only seconds old, veteran halfback Dick Dube scampered up field with the kickoff pigskin tucked under his arm. Seventy-seven yards later the near-capacity crowd was left hoarse as Dube crossed the goal line.

The spectators had hardly caught their breath, but Dube evidently had, as scant minutes later he hauled in a Rocket pass deep in opposition territory and twisted up field for 25 yards and his second tally of the game.

One of the deciding factors in the grid tilt was the Devilpup line which averages about 175 pounds. Like a well-oiled machine, the Pups' forward wall arose consistently throughout the clash to throw the Rocket attempts for minus yardage.

Beulaville's only scoring opportunity came in the early minutes of the second half when Rocket fullback Jerry Pickett recovered a Devilpup fumble on the Lejeune 36. Five plays from scrimmage later, Rocket seatback Dan Lanier slipped around his own left end and scooted 10 yards for the TD.

After bringing the kickoff back to their own 40-yard marker the Devilpups displayed one of the finest offensive onslaughts of the evening as they marched 60 yards to pay dirt. This final tally of the game was scored by Dave Lawson from 20 yards out as he cracked off his own left tackle and twisted his way to the goal line.

Tomorrow's contest will be the first of three consecutive road games on the "Pup's" agenda.

Three Teams Pacing SNCO Bowlers At Hadnot Point

With team standings posted this last week, Wainwright Transfer, Herb Sunshine and Stiles Van & Storage emerge as the leaders in the Staff NCO Bowling League at Hadnot Point, having won nine out of their 12 games. In last week's action, Herb Sunshine took three games from D&E Car Exchange.

Lew Niccoletta bowled the high scores for Sunshine with tallies of 201 and 587. Regis Perrie of the Car Exchange rolled that team's high game and series, posting scores of 205 and 584.

The National Boh and Mae's Bar split four games as Jack Kurz rolled high game for the National team, hitting 206. Gene Takacs was high series man with a score of 506. Mae's leading series and game bowler was Paul Vasko with scores of 218 and 559.

Also splitting four games last week was Wainwright Transfer and Budweiser. Holly Boltseridte took honors for Wainwright with scores of 189 and 544, while Jim MacDonald's 182 and 502 were sufficient to put him in the Budweiser spotlight.

Maj. Gen. Berkeley Officially Opens Boys' Football Season

The Boys' Football League officially opened the 1960 season Sunday as Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, 2nd Marine Division commander, threw out the first pigskin. League play began on Sept. 11 but the "official" opening had to be postponed until Sept. 18. Also on hand to open the grid season was the 26-man 2nd Division Drum and Bugle Corps under the direction of drum major GySgt. J. E. Rippard. It was the Redskins over the Bears, 19-0, in the first tilt of a scheduled double-header while the Rams edged the Colts 13-6 in the second clash.

The first game remained scoreless until late in the second quarter when Redskins quarterback Bob Mulholland hit Forrest Woolldridge near the mid-stripe. Having already outrun the opposition secondary, Woolldridge put on the steam and scampered for the goal line.

In the third quarter the Redskins' Jim Cunningham and Tim Smith teamed up along with Woolldridge and Mulholland to begin a 65-yard touchdown drive which culminated with Woolldridge slicing over from the eight.

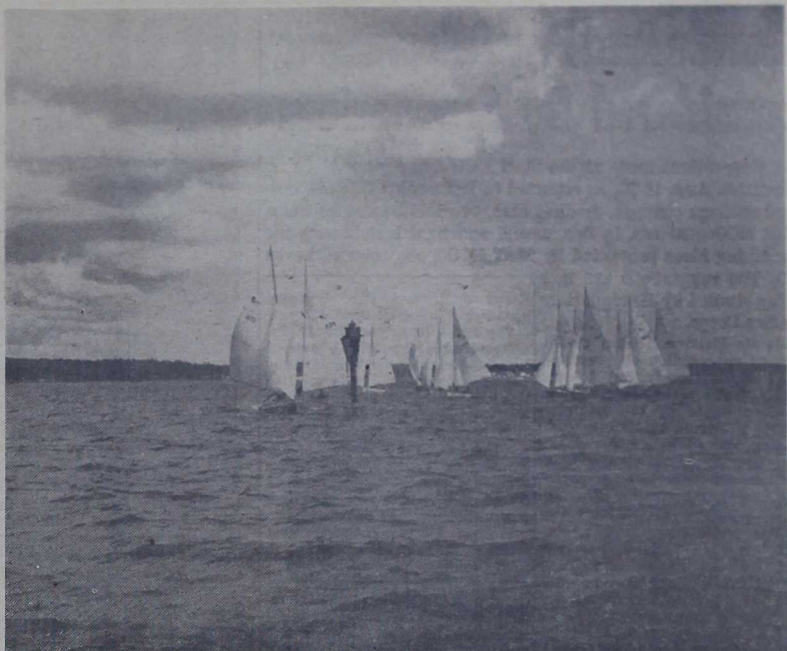

In the day's second tilt the Rams took advantage of their first scoring opportunity to send Roger Keagy off tackle for 28 yards and six points. The Rams then utilized the same play to send Keagy over the goal line for the extra point.

Late in the third quarter the Colts' Bill Clear intercepted a Ram pass at mid-field and scampered all the way to bring the Colts within one point of a tie game.

Turnabout is fair play and the Rams did just that as Cecil Parker intercepted a Colt pass on his own 40 and ran for the TD.

2nd Annual Regatta Hoisting Sails At Lejeune Tomorrow

Camp Lejeune is slated to host the 2nd Annual All-Marine East Coast Sailing Regatta beginning tomorrow and continuing through Saturday afternoon. Despite the efforts of Hurricane Donna, the Wallace Creek Boathouse crew has 14 rebel-class sailboats in top shape for the forthcoming races. Originally four East Coast bases were to be represented in the classic. Only recently, however, word was received that Parris Island will not be able to participate in this year's regatta. Present plans call for three teams each from Quantico, Cherry Point and Camp Lejeune. Skipping the three local entries will be Col. G. H. West, 1st Lt. R. A. Dent and 1st Lt. C. L. Carpenter Jr. Lieutenant Dent was a member of last year's winning Quantico team.

A total of eight trophies are slated to be presented to the winners of each of the four races, the first, second and third place winners overall and a team trophy to the contingent with the highest composite score.

Races are scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m. each morning and at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday afternoon.

Chief judge for the event will be Lt. Comdr. H. R. Noer of the Naval Hospital.

According to local sailing enthusiasts, Hospital Point is the vantage area for viewing the 1960 Regatta.

The Special Service Athletic Office has announced try-outs for Camp Lejeune's 1960-61 basketball squad will be held Sept. 26-30 from 4:30-6:30 p.m. in Goettge Memorial Field House.

Morale And Pay Allowances Considered By Symposium

Suggestions made at the Staff NCO Symposium at Camp Pendleton Aug. 14-20, as reported in last week's GLOBE, covered uniform changes, medical care, promotions and bachelor Staff NCO quarters. In this second and final installment, the remaining ideas submitted by Staff NCO's are covered in detail. The suggestions are now being studied by Headquarters Marine Corps.

Morale Matters: That a certificate of appreciation be presented to Marines transferring to the FMCR; that a certificate similar to the one issued by the extension school be made of completion of individual sub-courses of the Extension School, rather than waiting until the student completes the entire course.

Mobile Home Matters: That posts and stations with public housing set up mobile home sites in addition to the public housing; that the government contract with commercial concerns to transfer private trailers at no cost to the individual, and that the financial transaction be between the government and the mover in a manner similar to that used for the transportation of household effects; that mobile home owners be paid dislocation allowance.

Marine Corps Standard Drill: That the Landing Party Manual be the only reference for Marine Corps drill, and the eight-man squad drill be discontinued.

Pay and Allowances: That HQMC recommend a Quarters Allowance based on rank, regardless of number of dependents, with a substantial increase between sergeant and staff sergeant; that Sea and Foreign Service Pay for pay grades E-8 and E-9 be increased; that dislocation allowance be paid before permanent change of station is effected; that the practice of awarding proficiency pay be abolished.

Woman Marine Matters: That Woman Marines be permitted to wear Bermuda, but not brief, shorts while engaged in recreational activities; that WM's be allowed to request retention on active duty for completion of their Reserve contract.

Reenlistment Program: That greater emphasis be placed on encouraging six-month reservists to integrate; that increased emphasis be placed on the reenlistment program at the local level.

Staff NCO Schooling: That the College Degree Program be expanded to include eligible SNCO's; that consideration be given to the establishment of a SNCO School at Marine Corps level; that sergeants major be eliminated from quotas for the Sergeants Major/First Sergeant School; that only first sergeants and E-7's who are potential first sergeants be assigned to the school.

College Benefits for Korea Veterans: That legislation be introduced which would extend the period of government assistance for veterans attending college beyond January, 1965.

Assignment to FMF: That Marines leaving ITR or Aviation "P" school be assigned to FMF units wherever possible; that Marines completing FMF tours be assigned to post and station or independent duty wherever possible.

MOS for Special Services: That an occupational field be established for personnel serving in special services billets to enhance the promotional opportunities of these Marines and permit abolishment of several related, category "B" MOS's.

Administrative Personnel MOS 0141: That courses of instruction in general office procedures be established on both coasts for qualified Marines upon completion of ITR training.

Marine Forces To Participate In PHIBULEX

The 8th Marine Expeditionary Unit, commanded by Col. V. R. Bisceglia, has been recently formed here and left yesterday for the island of Vieques, Puerto Rico, where it will undergo intensive training in the technique of modern amphibious assault. During the training, the unit will participate in Operation PHIBULEX, an amphibious squadron expeditionary unit landing exercise.

An example of a Marine Corps "Force in Readiness," the 8th Marine Expeditionary Unit has as its principal ground element an infantry-battalion of the 2nd Marine Division, the 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines, commanded by Lt. Col. R. C. Peck.

The battalion has been organized into a flexible, hard-striking battalion landing team by the addition of tanks from Force Troops here, ON-TOS (anti-tank vehicles) from the 2nd Division, artillery from the Tenth Marine Regiment and engineers from the 2nd Pioneer Battalion.

A provisional Marine Air Group from the 2nd Marine Air Wing under the command of Lt. Col. James Cupp has been assigned to the Expeditionary Unit to control the air elements of the force. These elements are Marine Helicopter Transport Squadron 261, of Marine Air Group-26, reinforced by aircraft and crews from Marine Helicopter Transport Squadron 461 and Marine Observation Squadron One, and Marine Fighter Squadron 122 of Marine Air Group 26.

To round out this force, a platoon of amphibian tractors, a reconnaissance platoon and a logistical support unit, organized from service elements of the 2nd Marine Division and Force Troops, have been attached.

As part of Operation PHIBULEX, the 8th Marine Expeditionary Unit will make two assault landings on the island of Vieques, and will conduct field training during a 10-week period. At the end of this period, the force will return to conduct an amphibious assault on Onslow Beach.

Ships from the Amphibious Force, Atlantic Fleet, participating in the exercise will be the USS Boxer, USS Rankin, USS Spiegel Grove, USS DeSoto County, and the USS Lorain County.

The operation is expected to extend through Nov. 30.

Surveyed Rifle Sling Serves Useful Need

Rifle slings, the old style leather ones, have been used for a lot of things, but SSgt. Alan J. Hirsch, a student in the Advanced Warehouse Course at Montford Point Supply Schools has still another.

Hirsch has devised a wrist watch band from a portion of a sling. The watch is fastened to the strap with two officer-type Marine Corps emblems which belonged to his father, CWO David M. Hirsch, USMC (Ret'd), now deceased.

Young Hirsch has carried his father's emblems with him since his father's death and when he made the wrist watch band, used them as fasteners for the watch. While Hirsch was a cannoner he couldn't find a watch band sturdy enough to hold his watch so he hit on the idea of devising his own from the rifle sling.

He now claims that even when people he knows see him and can't recall his name they always recall the watch band.

MARY J. SCOTT
... Head Majorette

Award Winning 'Twirler' Featured In School Band

Fans who attended Camp Lejeune High School's second football game of the season last Friday night will surely remember the young half-time performer who attracted attention from the football heroes to the hot dog man. Bedecked in flashing sequins and flying plumes, 12-year-old Mary J. Scott made her debut as head majorette for the Camp High School Band.

Now under the direction of Mr. Donald K. Griffin, Director of Bands at the high school, Mary has had more than three years' training including professional assistance from Ann Pierce, well-known solo strutting champion.

Mary became interested in baton twirling in June, 1957, as a childhood pastime in her hometown in Seattle, Wash. Since that time, she has received a total of 10 medals and one trophy at various state and national competitive meets throughout the United States. She won high honors for strutting and fingerwork in Washington, D. C., Bristol, Va., and Falls Church, Va.

One of her more recent honors was received last month when she was chosen as first runner-up for the Junior State Twirling Championship for the State of North Carolina.

Among her many plans for the future, Mary will perform this Sunday afternoon in Auburn, Wash., at the Green River Valley Church. She will then travel to Alexandria, Va., in November to compete for the Presidential Gold Cup Award.

Thirty ITR Officers' Wives Given Tour, Briefing Of 10 Training Areas At Geiger

Wives of officers of the 1st Infantry Training Regiment received an orientation visit of the Geiger training area last Thursday morning when approximately 30 women were taken to various points of interest to see just what their husbands do during a typical working day. The ladies arrived at ITR bright and early, eager to begin the briefing and tour of nearly 10 training areas. At approximately 9 a.m., the women were assembled in the court room for a standard briefing by members of ITR's Executive Staff. Battalion commanders and husbands of the ladies were also invited to attend.

From the court room, members of the touring party, including Col. G. G. West, commanding officer, 1st ITR, motored to Verona to begin a three-hour schedule. They witnessed the following phases of training: Rifle Grenades, K-306; Technique of Fire, K-303; Flame Throwing, K-21; 3.5" Rocket Launching, K-301; Squad Fire and Maneuver, K-402; (en route to race course) Land Mines, M-107; Infiltration Technique Course, M-109; BAR Firing, M-113; and Hand-to-Hand Combat, MF-106.

Captain Robert A. Johnson, Officer-in-Charge, Weapons Section, 1st ITR, acted as guide for the morning, with on-the-spot assistance of escort officers who rode with the women to provide running commentary of the facilities in the training areas.

During the tour, coffee and tea were provided for the guests by the Officers Mess. Upon completion of the visit, the ladies returned to the Officers Club where they were given a buffet lunch.

New CO Takes Over MAG-26 Tomorrow

A formal change of command ceremony will be held tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. when Col. John R. Bohnet is succeeded by Col. Paul T. Johnston as commanding officer, Marine Aircraft Group-26.

Colonel Bohnet, who assumed command of the helicopter group on June 19, 1959, is being reassigned within the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing, MCAS, Cherry Point. His assignment upon reporting to Cherry Point for duty is unknown at this time.

Colonel Johnston, the new group commander, was assigned to the Air Facility group upon completion of duty under instruction at the Naval War College at Newport, R. I.

officially launched the Force Troops drive Monday on his return from an inspection tour of a part of his command in Vieques, although the drive for funds began last Thursday.

All commanders throughout the Quad-Command are backing the drive to the fullest extent. Key-men have been designated in all units and the drive is receiving good support from everyone and progressing rapidly toward the goal of $80,000 set for Camp Lejeune.

The Red Cross has joined the United Fund Drive this year thereby eliminating one drive for solicitation of funds.

The combining of the drives saves a tremendous work load placed upon individuals assigned the tasks of collections and greatly reduces the number of solicitations required of individuals.

A good example of the United Fund worthiness occurred last week when the Red Cross was granted $500 to set up an emergency relief headquarters following hurricane Donna. At least 13 Marine families have requested and received Red Cross assistance in recovering from damages suffered during the hurricane.

All personnel are urged to make their contributions at the earliest practicable time to enable keymen to tally up their scores and push Lejeune over the top.

Contributions are coming in at a good rate. No box scores have been tallied for the drive as of this date but a recap of figures is expected to be available for the next edition of the GLOBE.

'Pops Americana' Featuring Herb Shriner Here Oct. 13

"Pops Americana," a fun concert of American folklore, featuring Herb Shriner and the "Concert Orchestra Americana," will be heard at Goettge Memorial Field House at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 13. Shriner, known to the American public as "Mr. Home Town," has conjured up this production as sort of an answer to cultural exchange. "What with the influence of French Movies, Italian shoes, Russian ballets, German cars and Japanese cameras," he says, "our people are starting to forget about their own heritage. I thought it might be time to take a look at our own scene... especially our music."

HERB SHRINER

This is precisely what "Pops Americana" sets out to do. Shriner has been abetted in his musical research by Gustave Haenschen, whose famous radio program, "The American Album of Familiar Music," established him as one of the acknowledged experts in the field of Musical Americana.

During this tour, in addition to supplying the humorous commentary, Shriner also will demonstrate his talents on the harmonica.

Admission for this special attraction is $1.00 per person. Tickets will go on sale Sept. 26, at the Camp Theater, Marine Corps Exchange, Field House, Camp Drive-In Theater, Unit Special Services offices and the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce.

Ext. Schools Gives Faster Mail Service

The Marines Corps' Extension School at Quantico recently adopted a new system of supplying their students with study materials that really speeds up service.

Upon enrollment in an extension course, the Extension School now sends you a booklet of mailing labels, a list of subcourses you are to take, and the first two subcourses in the series.

From there on you yourself determine the rate at which you desire to receive materials by merely filling out a label with your name, address, and the number of the subcourse you want and return it to the Extension School. The Extension School then places on the subcourse desired and both are on their way back to you within hours.

Whether you are on leave, TAD at your permanent station, or in between stations, nothing stops your service so long as you have a place to receive mail. You may ask for more than one subcourse at a time or even move ahead to pick up subjects pertaining to your duty assignment which would not normally be studied until later in the course.

If you are not enrolled in an extension course and are an officer or staff noncommissioned officer, submit your application now for the Extension School course which fills those gaps in your professional know-how and take advantage of the fastest service ever offered in correspondence training.
