

Lejeune Staggers Under Donna's Fury

CAMP LEJEUNE GLOBE

Local Damages Over $672,000

"Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned" and Hurricane Donna demonstrated no lady-like attributes as she swept down on Camp Lejeune Sunday night bringing havoc and destruction. Donna came bustling up the coast from her birth place in the Caribbean Sea to vent her fury on the Base, causing an excess of a half-million dollars' damage. An emergency operations center and six evacuation stations began functioning immediately after 8 p.m. Sunday when Hurricane Alert Condition One was set throughout the Base.

From the emergency operations center, representatives of all commands monitored activities within their respective units to assure maximum preparedness for Donna's onslaught.

Bedding, food, medical personnel and supplies were assembled in the evacuation stations for military personnel and dependents who chose to evacuate their homes. More than 2,200 persons had taken shelter in the centers by 3:25 a.m. Monday when the "all-clear" was sounded.

Destruction of government property was assessed at $672,000 Tuesday with damage reports still coming in.

Natural resources of the Base—trees, foliage and the like, valued at an estimated $125,000—were laid to waste by the storm, with an additional $93,000 damage to utilities. Damage to various buildings and structures on the Base estimated at slightly under $400,000.

Pier Destroyed

At Onslow Beach alone an estimated $300,000 loss was felt. The greatest single loss, $80,000, occurred at the beach when the intense

NCO Symposium Proposals Published By Marine Corps

Appropriate staff sections within Headquarters Marine Corps are now studying 41 recommendations submitted by the fifth annual Staff NCO Symposium held at Camp Pendleton, Calif., Aug. 14-20. Thirty-three top noncoms and their wives attended the Symposium to offer their views on subjects pertinent to morale, welfare, and Marine Corps procedures. Two of the delegates were Woman Marines.

Generally, the subjects covered in the recommendations can be classed under 19 categories. Here, under the broad, general headings, is a summary of the proposals:

Uniforms: That ribbons and ribbon bars be placed in the supply system, and that the material of the ribbons be durable, of fast color, and easily cleaned; that the Marine Corps abolish the wearing of collar ornaments on khaki and tropical shirts; that the wearing of rank insignia on the utility cap be discontinued; that the green scarf be deleted from the minimum clothing allowance; that the Creighton, 65 per cent dacron, 35 per cent cotton short-sleeve shirt now being tested be adopted, and authorized for liberty wear at the discretion of commanding officers;

Lejeune Gridders Opening Here Against Norfolk Tars

Can 2,200 pounds of Marine Corps Napalm melt 2,300 pounds of Navy Tar? Football fans will find out Saturday at 10 a.m. on Liversedge Field when the Lejeune "Marines" meet the Norfolk "Tars" for the season's opener. Lejeune fell prey to the "Tars" from the Naval Station, Norfolk, Va., last season

13-12. Seeking revenge for 1959 Coach Jim Quinn, Coach Denis Horn, in his first year with the Lejeune eleven, will utilize the three-platoon system, running his offensive attack out of a wing "T" formation. The Lejeune squad will balance their attack with a fast versatile backfield.

"It will be a hard fought game all the way, and if our men play with the ability they have and play hard we will come out on top," said Coach Horn.

The home team proved their capability of a balanced attack last Saturday, defeating Elon College in a practice game 19-6. Lejeune averaged 4.5 yards per carry on the ground for a total of 261 yards and completed 10 out of 20 passes for a total of 146 yards in the air, while the Elon eleven was held to 2.75 yards per carry on the ground for 91 yards and completing six out of 15 passes for a total of 67 yards in the air.

Coach Bob Tata will run his "Tars" out of a split "T" offense, using the one-team system, with a primarily running attack. He will be depending on quarterback Glen Wood and fullback Bill Strumke to spark his offensive attack.

Ken Easley, a fullback on the Lejeune team last season, has joined the "Tars" and is expected to see plenty of action with them this fall.

United Fund Drive Begins Here Today

The 1960 Camp Lejeune United Fund Drive, with a goal of $100,000, begins today.

In a move that reduces the number of local drives, the Red Cross has joined the United Fund. Now there are only three major fund drives annually at Camp Lejeune. These are Navy Relief, United Fund, and the National Health Agencies.

Lt. Col. W. G. Hopkins has been designated as the chairman for the 1960 fund drive. Co-chairmen to assist Colonel Hopkins are Maj. W. H. McCormack, MCB; Maj. B. W. Clarke, 2nd Division; Maj. W. L. Kay, Force Troops; Capt. C. W. Delaughter, MCAF, and Mr. M. A. Califano, Industrial Relations Officer for civilian employees.

A scale has been established suggesting what is considered a fair share contribution for all grades of personnel at Lejeune. The fair share contribution is not a mandatory figure, but all personnel are encouraged to give to the fund in accordance with their ability.

All personnel stationed at or employed at Camp Lejeune are requested to make their contributions to their respective chairman since there will be no residential solicitation conducted in the Jacksonville area.

This year charitable organizations participating in the United Fund Drive are the Red Cross; Onslow Camp Lejeune Chapter for Retarded Children; Camp Lejeune-Onslow County Boy and Girl

Former Lejeune Marine Is Hero Of Skin Diving Book

A former Camp Lejeune Marine is the hero of a new book, "Diving for Pleasure and Treasure." Bob Marx, once a member of the 2nd Division, has been a skin diver since the early 50's. While he was still a Marine and stationed here, he put both himself and the Yankee Civil War vessel, the USS Monitor, into the news headlines for several months. Strapping on his aqualung in 1955, he lowered himself into the waters off Cape Hatteras and came up with the news that the man-of-war ship, the first iron-clad in history, was laying just beneath the surface of the Atlantic.

Since then, Marx has made diving his most important activity. In the book "Diving for Pleasure and Treasure," by Clay Blair Jr., the ex-Leatherneck is involved in an adventurous expedition that finds him seeking treasure off the coast of Mexico, along the shores of Yucatan.

But through it all, Bob Marx from Camp Lejeune proves most competent. Although he reaches a point of collapse from over-work, he manages to bring treasures from the sea. The story is a well-told yarn, and adds much to man's knowledge of the mysterious underwater world.

Symposium

that the wearing of the waistplate with insignia on dress blues be limited to sergeants major and master gunnery sergeants; that the new dacron-wool green uniforms without a belt and with simulated large pockets, be adopted as the standard year-round uniform.

Medical Care: That the Navy Medical Department be requested to maintain facilities to fill prescriptions made by civilian doctors in cases where the patient has been referred to civilian doctors by medical department authorities, or where an emergency dictates that the individual consult a civilian doctor.

Promotion: That if the system of administering technical tests is continued, tests be administered for all fields and waivers for certain fields be discontinued; that local level interview boards for personnel eligible for promotion to pay grade E-8 be discontinued; that Marines in pay grades E-5, and above, be permitted to submit, through channels, written communications inviting attention to any matter of record which the individual deems important in the consideration of his possible promotion, a privilege now enjoyed by officers and detailed in paragraph 9054.7, MCM; that a list of all personnel being considered by a promotion board be published to the field so that Marines who are eligible may know that they are not, through error, being denied consideration. In a broad look at the overall promotion picture, the symposium recommended that the Marine Corps continue administering TT's and GMST's only if they are a prerequisite for promotion for all hands; that personnel be given a chance to retrain in other fields if, in their present MOS, promotion chances are limited; that source materials used in preparing TT's be made known to the field.

Bachelor Staff NCO Quarters: That planning be expedited on the HQMC level to insure sufficient and adequate bachelor SNCO quarters on all posts and stations. (To Be Continued Next Week)

"Bad officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote."—George Jean Nathan.

Voting is everybody's privilege. Servicemen and dependents can win as much as $1,000 for their idea on this timely subject. It shouldn't be hard to put together 500 words on the subject, "My Vote—Freedom's Privilege," and send them in letter form to this year's Freedom Foundation letter-writing contest. The deadline is Nov. 1. Entries should be mailed to Freedom Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa.

HOWLS from the BOONDOCKS

Twilight Zone

Suddenly it clears up. The moon swings down out of the clouds and is reflected on the puddles of water on the sandy road that goes down through the swamp and over to Bear Creek. The lightning bugs begin to blink while sounds of rain frogs and crickets pierce the uneasy silence. Somewhere there is a clank of metal and a grunt. Is it Blackbeard and his band of renegades running for high ground with a trunk of gold and silver? Is it members of the Lost Colony looking for passage back to England? No, the noises are clear enough now, it is General Robert E. Lee, who with fresh provisions and gun powder, has rallied his troops for a return to Appomattox. Then it is impossible to tell, because all at once the isolated sounds are engulfed by crushing winds. It seems ridiculous the next morning, but out there in the middle of the night, all things seem possible in the eye of a hurricane. It is a timeless place of muffled terror and infinite beauty.

Wildlife

SSgt. Dale L. Thompson, Engineer Schools, called with this bit of information regarding the bantams on Holcomb Blvd. He says the chickens were brought on the base while they were roosting in the frame of a bus about 18 months ago. The chickens escaped and have remained in the tree since that time. Thompson says he saw them leave the bus. A Pfc in the Second Marines called to say he was sick and tired of reading about chickens. Since he called, there have been reports of turkeys and wild pigs along Lyman road. How do you like these categories, pal?

Event

Ahoy, gunnery sergeants: A number of B.A.R. men have requested that the following be published for your information: There will be a meeting of the North Carolina Neuro-Psychiatric Association in Charlotte October 28.

If You Ask Me:

WHAT DID YOU THINK OF THE HURRICANE JUST PASSED?

MRS. RUTH OWENS, Midway Park — I was really scared. I thought the trees would fall on my kitchen. Actually, I wasn't sure where they might fall, and I didn't know where in the house to go. I certainly don't look forward to any of them. Hurricane Hazel didn't scare me half as much as this one. I was also afraid the windows would fly out and glass would fly around.

MRS. JAMES H. HENDERSON, Midway Park — I think it was the worst one we've had in quite a while. It certainly made a mess of our yard. We were a little concerned about the trees around our home, so we took shelter in the Field House. We're used to them by now, but we always take the necessary precautions to protect ourselves.

MRS. CAROL IVEY, Knox Trailer Park — I didn't like it a bit. I'm just not used to hurricanes or tornadoes. I'm from West Virginia and where I lived they just don't have such things. We left our trailer about 9 or 9:30 p.m. It was blowing pretty hard then and raining quite a bit. We went to a shelter at Montford Point. When we got back we discovered a fallen tree had just missed smashing our trailer by inches.

MRS. JOHN SHIMOTA, Tarawa Terrace — Not much at all, as it uprooted a tree that completely demolished our new car. We were going to move our car, but we were so busy keeping water from entering our home that we let it go. The soil is so loose there is nothing to hold the roots of the trees down. Consequently, when the wind reached enough velocity the tree to our east toppled right over our car.

SSGT. EDWARD P. TRUESDELL, H&S Bn., 2nd FSR, Knox Trailer Park — Well, this was our new living room where I'm standing. From now on, if I add any more rooms to our trailer, I'm going to make sure I'm covered by insurance. I thought I was this time, but discovered that I hadn't read the small print on the policy. Even so, I had tied down everything with nylon cord, rope and wire, but it was in vain. The wind just carried it away.

SSGT. JOHN E. KJOS, Hq. Bn., Eighth Marines, Knox Trailer Park — I didn't think it was too bad at first. My wife and I were the last to leave our area. We were playing canasta and watching the storm build up. Then my wife said that everybody was leaving and I said there were still people around and my wife retorted, "Well, there is only two cars left in the parking lot, and they're both ours." It was then I decided to leave.

Consolidation Of Needy Fund Drive Makes Charitable Donations Easier

Most service personnel are willing to contribute to a worthy cause. This has been proven at Camp Lejeune over the years. The charity drives, the funds donated to welfare agencies, and the contributions made on behalf of relief work have always met with wholehearted response.

But what has been a topic of discussion among groups as well as individuals, is the frequency of programs to raise money for a long list of welfare organizations. Human nature hesitates to accept a repetition of the same thing, especially when it is something as personal as the donating of one's money too often.

For this reason Camp Lejeune has held fund raising programs to a minimum. It is realized that every recognized agency who seeks funds is well justified. But if they were to launch their requests individually at frequent intervals throughout the year, they would find themselves up against a negative attitude which would defeat their purpose. Without resources their vital work in benefiting mankind would be impossible.

The solution then is to have several agencies make one appeal; to receive a single contribution that helps them all.

Beginning today, the Camp Lejeune 1960 United Fund Drive combines the Red Cross; Onslow-Camp Lejeune Chapter for Retarded Children; Camp Lejeune-Onslow County Boy Scouts; Camp Lejeune-Onslow County Girl Scouts; Emergency Relief Fund; Carolinas United Services; Onslow County Hospital Auxiliary; Salvation Army; United Jewish Appeal for Refugee Relief and the Jacksonville Rescue Squad. By making one contribution you can give a helping hand to all of these benevolent organizations.

And remember your donation to the United Fund will, in turn, reward you. By lending a hand to such a worthy cause you gain a sense of self respect. For every person who needs help, there is another to assist him. In being the one who gives support, you'll feel an inner pride that cannot be denied.

Spectators Fulfill Needs Of Team

The speeding end leaped high into the air and made a desperation grab for the plunging pigskin. Quickly he folded the ball in his arms and, dodging around opposition safeties, stumbled across the goal line.

But, instead of the thundering ovation expected from the assembled spectators, only a smattering of cheers and victory cries arose from the stands. A glance at the 10,000 capacity stadium indicated why. The sports arena was less than one-third filled.

One of the greatest contributing elements to Marine Corps "esprit" over the years has been teamwork. Leathernecks are famous for it both on the gridiron or in a beach assault. One link of the sports team, however, has been dwindling of late. And, like any chain, the team is as strong as its weakest link.

Therefore, when spectator participation drops off the team cannot help but weaken. Camp Lejeune gridders, be they varsity or intramural, receive only the cheers of those watching as payment for the effort they put forth on the playing field. And they should not be denied this payment.

Aside from the enjoyment one can relish as he watches his or her team pit their strength and ability against the opposition there is also a certain sense of duty fulfillment in being on the scene urging the squad to victory.

Due to Camp Lejeune's geographical location another factor is brought to bear concerning sports and spectators. There is not another area within 200 miles of this military reservation where an individual can watch former top college football stars in action, without paying for the privilege.

So tally the score, spectator. Teamwork. Sense of duty. Enjoyment. And top action sports, free. Fill the stands and fulfill the needs of the Marine team.

Chaplain's Corner

Youth Ready For Huge Challenge

Youth today waits to be challenged to some great and mighty cause. Youth is eager to be commanded by something. We only need to look back in history to see the absolute and sacrificial abandon with which youth once marched for Christ in the crusades.

There is still a spiritual warfare against unrighteousness, and youth, if rightly challenged, will abandon themselves to such a spiritual crusade as shall equal the sacrifices of this spirited endeavor of the naval exploits of Old Ironsides, and the military tactics of the crusades.

Stand out in front of the chapel someday, or stand and take a good look at the chaplain's flag, as it flies with Old Glory, and remember this: how much you owe to the Church of Jesus Christ, to its benefits, its blessings. Then ask yourself whether or not you are doing all that you ought to do for the great Cause that has meant so much to America. The Church will always challenge youth to a more effectual and powerful service. The individual is always more effectual when a part of an organization of individuals.

There will always be the challenge of courage. Some people are not inside the ranks of the Church because of the hardness of the rigors of the way. There will always be the challenge of personal evangelism. No amount of preaching will ever take the place of the layman's heart on fire for Christ and reaching out to pass Christ on.

Finally, there will always be the challenge of the Church's future. How far ahead do you look—do you dare to look? If those loves of yours were snuffed out for you in the next year, would you still have something for which you could live beyond the grave? I do not see how any youth can give his life to any cause or program that does not match the imperishable nature of his soul. Seeing our souls live on forever, we should be riveting our energies to the service that lives on forever. The Church challenges youth to an undying service.

Division Chaplain.

Half Of Onslow Sand Dunes, Most Of Fishing Pier – Gone

By SSGT. W. D. SMITH

Last Monday morning, following the midnight rendezvous of Camp Lejeune and Hurricane Donna, I visited Onslow Beach.

This was my first visit to the beach since leaving Camp Lejeune in April, 1954, and it was very different from the beach I remembered. It doesn't seem possible that wind and water could do as much damage to man made objects as it did to the beach facilities.

Approximately 750 feet of the new 850-foot recreation fishing pier, which was completed last April, had been washed away and only a few pilings were visible where the $135,000 structure once stood.

The Staff NCO Beach Club had a crack extending around the building. All the sand was washed from under the building and only the pilings kept the building from toppling over.

The long, high sand dune, once a landmark at the beach, had been washed away. Approximately one half of the dune has been flattened making it possible to see from the Inland Waterway to the Atlantic Ocean.

This dune furnished protection for the buildings and other facilities located on the land side. When the dunes were washed away, the buildings behind them soon crumbled, and many were blown to oblivion.

All the hard-surfaced roads in the area had been washed away by the fury of the wind and waves created by Hurricane Donna as it pounded the North Carolina coast.

Parts of the fishing pier and other structures located on the beach were blown over to the Inland Waterway. One bit of wreckage that I saw was really amazing. A piece of the pier platform was blown about 500 yards inland and one of the light poles on it was standing straight and tall. The bulb in the light was still intact and the filament looked to be in good condition.

One of the beach cottages on the Officers Beach was blown off its foundation and carried by the wind and water over to the edge of the Inland Waterway. The cottage was a total wreck and the furniture and equipment scattered over the beach like confetti at a parade.

All the buildings along the beach had the sand washed from under them. Some of the beach cabanas, which were recently built, stand about 10 to 15 feet on their pilings above the sand.

The enlisted pavilion suffered the most damage. One wall of the structure about 60 feet long was completely destroyed and all the equipment used in the cabanas and on the beach was almost a total loss. LCpl. William P. Rigdon, NCO in Charge of the beach cabanas, said that about $5,000 worth of equipment alone was lost when the wall gave way to the pounding of the wind and waves.

CWO Robert C. McIntyre, USMC (Ret'd), manager of the fishing pier and the beach cabanas, said the only part of the pier that everyone expected to be blown away was left untouched. The green plastic roof over the breezeway between the two buildings on the pier was undamaged and sparkled brightly in the morning sun.

The last time I saw the beach in 1954 it was a beautiful place built for the enjoyment of the Marines and their dependents. Now the facilities once used for pleasure and training are almost all destroyed.

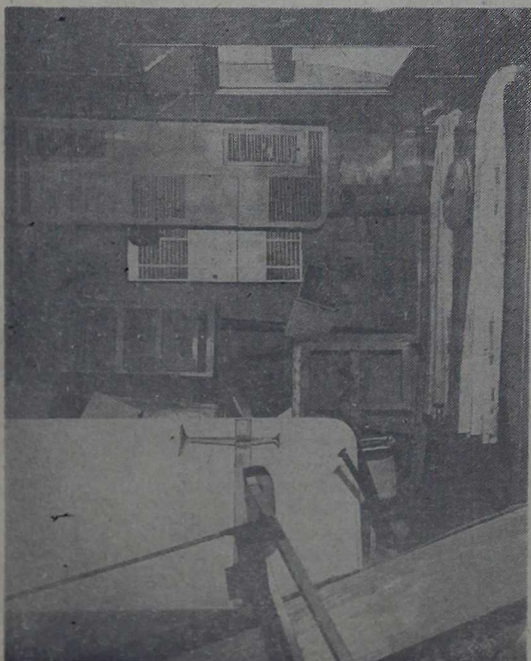

I was on Okinawa last year when the island was hit by three typhoons and one tidal wave. At Onslow Beach last Monday morning, as I stood among the spoils of Hurricane Donna, I saw the worst ravages by a natural disaster that I have ever seen.

winds lifted a major portion of the still-new Riseley Fishing Pier from its moorings and scattered it as far as the Inland Waterway. In view of the great amount of damage to facilities and structures at Onslow Beach the commanding general has ordered that the beach be closed to all activities until further notice. The Area Commander, Courthouse Bay area, has been directed to ensure that only maintenance and clean-up personnel gain entrance to the beach area.

The unfinished Capehart Housing at Paradise Point came in for heavy damage but was not considered in the cost appraisal for the Base. Heavy personal losses, primarily from automobiles smashed by falling trees, were registered throughout the Camp.

No report of the extent of damage to Base facilities at Radio Isle and the Division Embarkation Team site in Morehead City has been received in the maintenance office. Estimators are still out checking the sites.

In the Courthouse Bay area three temporary buildings received major damage and the outdoor movie screen was demolished. Several temporary roads, one leading to the demolition range and sewage disposal plant were washed out. Other damage was slight as water ran through quonset hut-type buildings and power lines and trees were torn down and up-rooted, according to Capt. P. J. O'Connell, the S-4 for MCES.

Montford Point

According to MSgt. C. E. Lambert, S-4 Chief, Marine Corps Supply Schools, damage at Montford Point from the hurricane was estimated at $8,200. Of this amount, $7,000 was seen as the loss from damage to buildings and structures; $1,000 to roads and grounds, and $200 to utilities.

The motor transport dispatcher's building there was a total loss after being lifted from its foundation.

Forty-eight buildings received roof damage, 14 trees were up-rooted and the entire area littered with tree limbs and other debris. The top of one tree broke off and fell through a barrack's roof. Telephone communications were maintained at all times and 1,505 Marines and their dependents were billeted in evacuation centers.

At the Air Facility no monetary estimate of damages suffered had been compiled. In their report to the Chief of Naval Operations, according to Maj. A. A. Black, S-4 Officer for MCAF, it was reported there was no damage to aircraft or personnel injuries sustained. Operation facilities damage was considered to be negligible. Only one temporary building was completely destroyed and 15 houses in the quarters area received moderate to heavy damage from falling trees. Other damages encountered ran from broken windows to power lines, telephone lines and trees being pulled down by the winds. Major Black said, "There was no damage from flying debris due to a lack of preparation for the storm." He added, "Over 750 persons were quartered in Air Facility structures, most of them from the Geiger Trailer Park."

Rifle Range

Very slight damage and no personnel injuries were reported at the rifle range, according to Capt. A. A. Russell, executive officer. Other than numerous trees being up-rooted the extent of damage ran only to screen doors, window screens, broken glass and the loosening of some roof tile. A sunroof covering an outdoor reefer was the largest piece of damage. Forty-eight evacuees took refuge in the range BOQ.

There has been no report received of the estimated damage in the Camp Geiger area but it is expected that when all reports are in they will boost the figure close to the three-quarter-million mark.

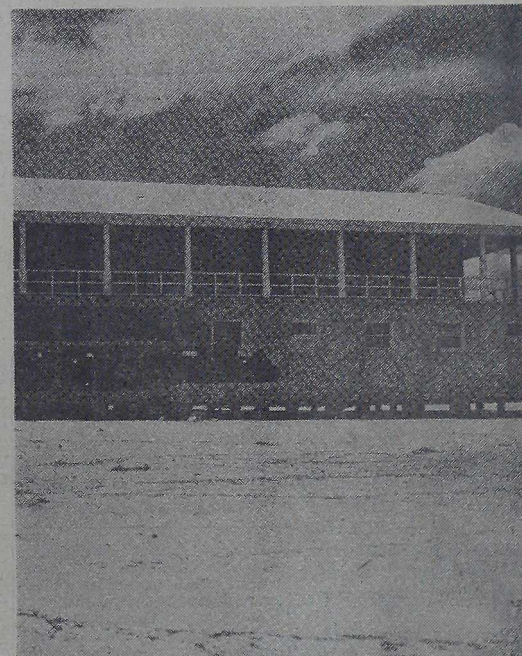

Remove Debris

The Base commander has announced that Base Maintenance crews will remove all fallen trees and major items of debris left by Hurricane Donna.

Clearing of trash, tree limbs and leaves, and other small items from yards will be the responsibility of quarters and housing occupants. Debris raked into piles will be removed by Maintenance.

Rams Defeat Devilpups 12-7 In Season Opener

In a back-and-forth battle that saw the lead change hands three times, the Camp Lejeune Devilpups lost a 12-7 decision to the Havelock Rams Friday night in their season's opener. With the game only 10 minutes old the Camp Lejeune eleven found themselves behind 6-0 as Havelock quarterback "Tee" Wood hit halfback Cliff Wooten in the end zone with a short pass. The Rams, however, were unable to make the conversion.

The Devilpups came roaring back in the second quarter as they launched a drive that began on their own 33-yard marker and culminated when halfback Dick Dube twisted through the line to hit pay dirt. Lejeune's high school griders then spread their line out to draw the opposition and once again Dube juggled the mail. This time for the extra point.

Passing and the break-away running of Ram halfback Bill Turcott made the big difference in the final tally. The Havelock squad utilized both right and left-handed pitchers to keep the Devilpup defense off balance.

Quarterback Club

It has been announced that a Camp Lejeune Quarterback Club will be formed and is scheduled to hold its first luncheon-meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 20, at 11:30 a.m., in the Camp Cafeteria's Steak House.

One of the main purposes of the club, aside from "Monday Quarterbacking" will be to pick a "Player of the Week."

It is anticipated the club will maintain no regular membership rolls. The weekly meetings will be open to all interested fans.

Present plans call for the showing of motion pictures of the previous Saturday's game at each "Dutch-treat" luncheon-meeting.

Coming back in the opening minutes of the third quarter, the Rams' Turcott broke loose through his own right tackle and romped more than 50 yards. Three plays later sophomore halfback Bob Lawrence hit Ram end Dave Pollard in the

This week the Devilpups will clash with Beulaville High School in their second home game of the season.

Game time is slated for 8 p.m. under the lights in the intramural gridiron adjacent to Liversedge Field.

flat for Havelock's second TD. Fine defensive play by the locals again denied the Rams their extra point.

Minus the services of ace halfback Dick Dube, out for portions of the second half with a minor knee injury, the Pups were unable to spark a big enough offensive rally to put them ahead by the final gun. Dube carried the ball almost a dozen times during the game and gained an average of about eight yards per carry.

Fine defensive play by Mike Smith, Hal Lindfelt and Dick Datdorff helped contain the Havelock Rams throughout the clash.

Lejeune Eleven Rolls Over Elon 19-6 In Scrimmage Game

A powerful, fast, well-conditioned Lejeune eleven rolled over Elon College, 19-6, in a practice scrimmage game Saturday on Liversedge Field. The scrimmage was played under regular game conditions with the exception of kickoffs, the ball automatically being placed on the respective 20-yard line. By mutual agreement of both coaches, punting was allowed; however, the fair catch was placed into effect on each kick. Lejeune won the toss of the coin starting the game and elected to receive. The ball was placed on their 20-yard line, starting an 80-yard drive by the powerful locals. Sparking the touchdown drive was quarterback Joe Losack leading his team to a six-pointer the first time they got their hands on the ball. Using the quarterback keeper, Joe ran the ball for a total of 22 yards while passing to end Bob Ware for 26 more yards.

Also aiding in the drive were fullback Tom Sacramone and All-Marine halfback Mel Anderson with drives around the ends and through the middle.

Lejeune hit pay dirt again in the second quarter on a handoff from Losack to fullback Jack Mossburg for a three-yard plunge. Mossburg scored again in the fourth quarter on a one-yard plunge after a tremendous pass play from halfback Dennis Pardee to Anderson good for 59 yards.

The local squad proved their capability of a balanced attack with a three-platoon system by rolling over Elon for an average of 4.5 yards per carry on the ground for a total of 261 yards and completed 10 out of 20 passes for 146 yards through the air.

The home team missed two more possible touchdowns, one in the second quarter on an incomplete pass in Elon's end zone from Losack to halfback Jim Lipscomb. Pardee intercepted a pass from Elon quarterback George Wooten in the third quarter on his own 10-yard line, running the pigskin back to Elon's 12-yard line. The ball was brought back to the Lejeune five-yard line on a slipping penalty, much to the disappointment of Pardee and the local club.

Elon's lone score came in the third quarter on an 11-yard pass play from Wooten to Buie, with Wooten missing the point after touchdown. Elon was held to 2.75 yards per carry on the ground for 91 yards and 67 yards on six completions of the 15 passing attempts.

The Lejeune injuries during the scrimmage were guards Jerry Smythe with a bruised heel and Marv Lassiter with a sprained shoulder. Other Lejeune players on the sidelines Saturday due to injuries were quarterback Keith Wilson with a bruised heel, ends Ed Long, suffering from a sprained ankle, Charles Rix with a pulled muscle and tackles J. C. Ernest with two fractured ribs and Sam Thornton with a broken finger.

According to Coach Denis Hogg, all Lejeune players will be in uniform for the opening game Saturday against the Norfolk Tars at 10 a.m. on Liversedge Field.

SSgt. Bonar Now Heads Camp Lejeune Judo Club

The Camp Lejeune Judo Club has announced the installment of three new officers. Replacing Capt. Brian T. Burke as club president is SSgt. Ira Bonar of Base Materiel. The club's new vice-president will be SSgt. Richard Tyner of 1st Bn., Second Marines. Taking over as the Judo Club secretary is SSgt. Richard Hassen of Base-

Comm. Captain Burke has coached the Camp Lejeune Judo Club to three All-Marine titles in the past three years. He is being transferred to the Marine Corps Development Center at Quantico later this month.

The captain is a first degree Black Belt holder. He was awarded the belt at World Judo Headquarters in Tokyo.

It was through the efforts of Captain Burke that the club was registered as a member of the Shufu Judo Yudansha-Kai, the East Coast headquarters for Judo. The Kai is a regional unit of the National Black Belt Federation in direct liaison with the Kodokan, world headquarters. Anything achieved by the local club or any of its members is recorded at the Kodokan.

The club's new president, Sergeant Bonar, reported to Camp Lejeune from the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa where he was a keen competitor in the Far East Division's Black Belt championships.

In 1958 he won the championship and placed second in the same matches last year.

A holder of the second degree Black Belt, Bonar is the highest ranking member of the Lejeune club.

Captain Wins Games Medal

Marine Capt. William W. McMillan Jr., one of the nation's all-time great pistol shooters, earned the United States its 33rd Gold Medal in the XVII Olympic Games held in Rome.

A United Press International wire dispatch datelined Rome, Sept. 9, reported McMillan with a 147 out of 150 in the rapid fire pistol competition. His win came, however, in a special shoot-off with a Russian and Finnish competitor, the dispatch said. The three tied for first place in the regular match with 587 out of 600.

The shoot-off was over a course requiring each man to fire at a human silhouette target appearing for only four seconds at a time.

In the first round of the decisive contest, Alexander Zabelin of Russia scored 49 out of 50, while McMillan fired a 48 and Finland's Pentti Linnoyve a 46, UPI said.

McMillan, whose "Russian rival was unable to match his coldness in the clutch," according to UPI, applied the pressure in the second round with a perfect score of 50. Zabelin scored a 37 and Linnoyve a 45.

Each registered a 49 on the third time through, but McMillan was assured a gold medal with a final 147 total to 140 for the Finn and 135 for the Russian.

Newcomer Bowlers Begin Action Here

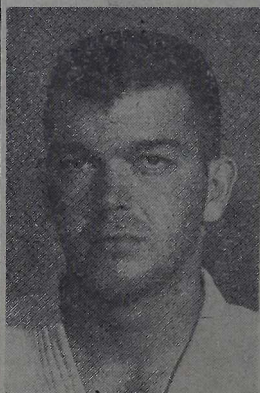

The New River Newcomer Bowling League began action last week as the Alley Dusters took four from the Hidi-Hi's and the Pinsters won three over the Rolling Pins.

Rolling high game for the Alley Dusters was Mary Jane Nacrelli with a score of 142. Margaret Krause of the Alley Dusters took high series with a 409.

The Hidi-Hi's high bowler, both game and series, was Virginia Macklin with scores of 145 and 414 respectively.

High roller for the Pinsters was Edna Bressler with a 128 game high and a score of 350 for the series.

Lila Nielsen came home for the Rolling Pins as she bowled a high game of 125 and a high series of 329.

The Commissioned Officers Bowling League completed its third week of competition with WO Jack R. Kanaval of the Lucky Five copping both high me and high series with scores 254 and 624, respectively.

The team high game, with handicap, went to the Salty Warriors as they racked up a total score of 1,444, while the team high series, with handicap, was snagged by the Lucky Five as they bowled 2,932.

Last week's action saw the Salty Warriors take three out of four from the Sin Cuidados while the Buffers blanked the Engineer School team four to nothing.

The Medics tromped the Motors four to zero also as the Serpents did the same to the 2nd Motors. It was the Wrench Twisters three and the Blockbusters one while the Lucky Five romped over the Pioneers four to nothing.

The Molars were unable to win from the Force Troops five and the Automatics captured three from the MCSS team.

Seen as the spark of the Lejeune offensive are quarterbacks Keith Wilson and Vince Cesare. The two field generals will be relying greatly on halfbacks All-Marine Mel Anderson and Dennis Pardee along with fullbacks Jack Mossburg and Tom Sacramone to add the punch to their drive.

Other halfbacks Bob Fennessy and speedster Jim Lipscomb will again be called upon to demonstrate their running ability which stood out during the Elon scrimmage game.

Since the adoption of the three-platoon system, all Lejeune players see action. According to Coach Horn there are no bench warmers on his team, and any man in playing uniform is capable of playing either offense or defense, although they are assigned to either Red, Blue or Green teams to suit their individual specialties.

With the additional bleachers at Liversedge Field, 8,700 fans can now be seated to view the home games. All hands are urged to attend the games starting at 10 a.m. on Saturdays and cheer the Lejeune grid-squad to victory.

Divvy Contingent Balances Camp Lejeune's Grid Squad

The four field generals are: Vince Cesare in his first year of service ball was a three-year letterman at the University of Scranton; John Copentico and a strong lineman from Villanova University, Ben Chitko, is adding much strength in his sixth season of service play, and Jim Shorter capable of filling the slot with no service or college experience. Jim was a member of the Virginia All-Stars in 1959.

Center
Filling the center slot will be Ed Craig, also in his first season of service football. Ed will be in his first season as a center also, having played guard for Wingate College.

Fullback
Running in the halfback slots will be Bobby Cooke, a returnee from last season and a member of the '59 All-Marine Baseball team; Lawrence Fennessy in his first season of service ball and a veteran from the Boston University grid squad; Gordon Jefferson, a member of the '58 Lejeune squad, played for Oregon State College and freshman ball with the Naval Academy in 1959; Jim Lipscomb, in his third year of service experience, played one semester for Morris College; Fred Macklin, a rookie with service play was a member of Indiana University's freshman squad; and Dennis Pardee, who joins Lejeune from the Quantico team. Dennis has four years with Case Tech where he made All-Conference in 1954-55.

Redskins, Colts Victorious In Boys League Grid Tilts

Under fringe winds of Hurricane Donna, the Camp Lejeune Boys League opened their grid season here Sunday afternoon with a double header. It was the Redskins over the Rams 18-0 in the first tilt while the Colts edged the Bears in the second battle 6-0. In the early game the Rams were in trouble from the opening gun. Winning the toss and electing to receive, the Rams found the pigskin rather slippery and dropped the ball which the Redskins immediately recovered on the Rams' 20 yard marker.

In the second play from scrimmage the Redskins found paydirt as quarterback Bob Mulholland faded back ten yards and then hit end Forrest Woolridge in the left flat. Woolridge then scampered five yards for the TD.

On the try for the extra point Mulholland attempted to buck the line, but the Ram eleven braced and the Redskins led 6-0.

Second Score
The Redskins came back to score once more in the second stanza when Forrest Woolridge took a Ram punt at mid-stripe and fought his way to the Ram 25 before being run out of bounds. Jim Cunningham, Mike Duval and Forrest Woolridge then took turns lugging the mail for the "Skins" as they steadily worked the ball upfield for short gains. Finally, Mulholland handed off to Woolridge who cracked off tackle for 15 yards and the Redskins' second touchdown.

For the second time the Ram line arose to block the opposition's conversion attempt.

It was the Civil War and brother against brother all over again as Woolridge kicked off to his brother Rex, who snatched the tumbling pigskin on the Ram 10-yard marker and angled for the opposite sidelines where he was downed on the 50.

Ball carrying by Ram backs Roger Keagy, Larry Aycock and Rex Woolridge, who utilized every piece of available gridiron, was to no avail as the Redskin defensive team tightened up.

Final Tally
In the early minutes of the final stanza the Redskins' last scoring drive came into view as their left guard, Bob Stillwell, came charging through the line to block an attempted punt by the Rams. The ball bounced deep into Ram territory where it was recovered by the Redskins on the 15-yard marker.

On the second play from scrimmage quarterback Mulholland faded back to the 25 and hit Woolridge in the flat. A few steps later the speedy Redskin crossed the goal line for the third and final tally of the game.

The day's second tilt was a seesaw battle between the Colts and the Bears which gave both teams' defensive squads a workout.

The Colts won the toss, elected to receive and the Bears' Bill Batchelor booted one down field to Tommy Moore on the Colts' 20. Picking up his interference, Moore scampered up to his own 45 before he was brought down by a host of Bear tacklers.

On the second down from scrimmage Billie Clear lobbed a 20-yard pass that was intercepted by the Bears' Ed Henne who was dropped in his tracks.

The remainder of the first and second stanzas was dedicated to short drives and punts with Batchelor, Mike West and Gary Burns toting the pigskin for the Bears and Moore, Clear and Lou Paulson lugging the mail for the Colts.

Colts Score

Late in the third quarter, with their backs against the wall, the Bears punted out to their own 25-yard marker. In the second play from scrimmage 115-pound Lou Paulson carried one over center, shook off several Bear tacklers and made his way over the goal line. Clear's attempt for the extra point on the quarterback sneak was thwarted by the Bear line.

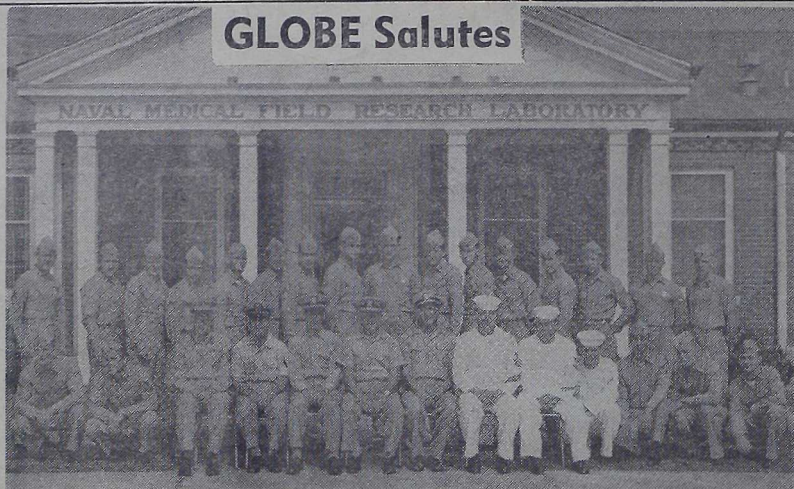

Late in the final stanza the Bears began a drive on their own 40 which looked like it was headed for six points. Receiving a Colt punt, Mike Campbell loped up to his own 40. Then Mike West connected with Eddie Phillips on a pass that was good for 20 yards. The West-Phillips combination then clicked once again, this time for 10 yards. By this time the Colts' defense tightened up, however, and the drive stalled out on the Colts' 30-yard marker.

Field Research Lab Personnel Endure Heat To Help Troops

Last week the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory, under the command of Capt. George L. Calvy, MC, USN, completed another in its series of studies of the effect of high temperature and humidity on the performance of the combat infantry Marine. Under the supervision of LCDr. J. J. Martorano, MSC, USN, head of the Research Laboratory's Physiology Division, tests were conducted at the Laboratory of Applied Physiology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N. C. The present study was initiated at the request of the Director of the Marine Corps Landing Force Development Center, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

The purpose of this study was a heat stress evaluation of man load-carrying systems now under consideration for use by the Marine Corps. The test objective was to determine which of the load-carrying system imposed the greatest heat stress, and what significant effect on the wearer's performance resulted when compared with the present standard Marine Corps packs.

This is the third series of tests conducted by the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory in heat stress. The first and second tests were conducted last year during the period Feb. 9 to 21 and Nov. 5 through 21. The preceding tests were conducted to determine integrated body armor and load-carrying capacity of personnel and the role of physical fitness in heat acclimatization. Both previous tests were conducted at the Laboratory of Applied Physiology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Subjects in the current test consisted of 19 volunteer enlisted Marines of the 2nd Reconnaissance Bn., 2nd Marine Division. These men were selected from a larger group of volunteers who, for a period of three weeks prior to the tests at Chapel Hill, had been subjected to a program to increase their physical fitness.

The test phase of the study consisted of having the men perform with each of the load-carrying systems in a climatic chamber under simulated tropical conditions. In the chamber the men were required to walk on a motor-driven treadmill which had a three per cent grade and rotated at a speed of 3½ miles per hour.

Throughout this exercise continuous measurements of heart rate, skin and body temperature were recorded by means of electronic devices. Dehydration and energy expenditure were determined by various biochemical tests.

Veteran 2nd Div. Officers Receive Colonel's Eagles

Two veteran 2nd Division officers were promoted to colonel in ceremonies held at Camp Lejeune last week. Donning the "silver eagles" of their new rank were Colonels S. D. Carey and R. E. Carey. Maj. Gen. J. P. Berkeley, Division commander, conducted the ceremony. Colonel Low, a 1941 graduate of the University of New Hampshire, is currently Division Supply Officer. He was commissioned in September, 1941.

From November, 1942, until January, 1945, he served in the Pacific with the 12th Defense Battalion on Woodlark, Cape Gloucester and Peleliu. Upon returning to the United States he was assigned to Camp Lejeune.

After a period under instruction at the Command and Staff School at Quantico, Colonel Low served briefly at Headquarters, Department of Pacific; Marine Barracks, Puget Sound; and Marine Barracks, Portsmouth, N. H.

During the Korean conflict, he served with the Seventh Marine Division. He was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received while serving with the 4.2 mortars.

Returning to the United States he served with Force Troops at Quantico, Colonel Low served briefly at Headquarters, Department of Pacific; Marine Barracks, Puget Sound; and Marine Barracks, Portsmouth, N. H.

Colonel Carey, winner of the Silver Star and Bronze Star Medal for bravery, is serving as executive officer of the Second Marine Regiment.

A native of Baltimore, Md., Colonel Carey is a 1941 graduate of North Carolina State College. Prior to being commissioned in the Marine Corps on Sept. 1, 1941, Colonel Carey served as an enlisted man in the Maryland National Guard, and also as a second lieutenant in the Army Reserve.

During World War II he served aboard the USS New York and Casablanca, French West Africa. In 1944 he attended the Command and Staff School at Quantico.

Upon completion of the school he was assigned to the 4th Marine Division, serving with the Twentieth Regiment from November 1944, until April, 1945, when he was wounded during the Iwo Jima campaign.

In 1950, Colonel Carey was ordered to the 1st Marine Division where he served as executive officer, 2nd Bn., Seventh Marines, participating in the Inchon, Seoul and North Korea engagements.

Post Korean service saw the colonel reassigned to the 2nd Division at Camp Lejeune and later Headquarters Marine Corps.

Upon graduation from Senior School until 1953, he remained at Quantico until early 1956 when he was ordered to Rota, Spain. He joined the Division in June, 1956.

Use Of Two Hand Method Aids Shooters

The first shooters at Quantico to fire for record using the two-hand grip qualified an amazing 93 per cent during August and, it was learned through interviews with officers and staff NCO shooters that the new technique raised scores from 30 to 80 points.

Out of 494 shooters firing for record with the pistol, since the new grip was authorized, only 33 failed to qualify. However, it is not known how many of these shooters preferred to fire the conventional one-hand method.

First group to fire under the system was 391 Basic School students of which 93 per cent qualified. This marked the first time in two years the percentage rose above 90 per cent. By comparison, student officers qualified with 87 per cent and 81 per cent in February and July, respectively.

Sixty-nine of the officers fired Expert, 158 Sharpshooter, 140 Marksmen and only 24 unqualified. While officers generally outshoot enlisted with the handgun, the first "mixed" group of re-qualifiers to use the two-hand technique fired a high 91.3 per cent qualification.

Of the 103 Marines firing, 23 shot Expert, 45 Sharpshooter, 29 Marksmen and only nine failed to qualify. Last year's re-qualification average with the pistol here was 79 per cent.

Fall Splendor Draws 1,000 To OWC Tea

The Paradise Point Officers Club set the scene for fall finery and glamour last Friday afternoon as the Officers Wives Club met the new social year with their annual "Welcome Tea." Nearly 1,000 ladies, attired in the loveliest of fall colors and fabrics, were received by three of Camp Lejeune's general's wives, Mrs. J. P. Berkeley, Mrs. L. F. Chapman Jr., and Mrs. O. M. Conoley; OWC president, Mrs. R. D. Wright; and the chairman of the tea, Mrs. L. Cohan.

The theme, "Autumn Leaves," was apparent in numerous ways: Distinguishing markers were available at the various group tables where women received "autumn leaf" name tags. Each group had a different color leaf to help old members recognize the new group members.

The autumn hues were also ablaze at the four tea tables. One table was done in green with yellow marigolds and candles featuring orange punch. An all-brown table was centerpiece with an apothecary jar filled with matching liquid and yellow zinnias. The bronze satin-covered table held a bronze urn containing yellow mums. Table number four was done in purple cloth, matching liquid in a tall vase. It was topped by fruit of the same color beside yellow mums and candles.

Puffed pastries and delicate sandwiches, punch, tea and coffee were served at the tables with the following ladies alternating in pouring: Mesdames E. A. Wright, L. E. Bach, K. A. Jorgensen, L. A. Ennis, M. O. Stephenson, A. F. Lucas, G. H. West, C. T. Pridgen, D. S. Pregnall, R. S. Stubbs, W. W. Wander, O. H. Gaver, C. D. Barrett, R. N. Hall, E. Hampton, J. C. Jordan, E. H. Dowling, J. B. Wilkinson, T. J. Johnston, W. H. Davis, H. R. Merrick, R. E. McClean, A. B. Schwenk, G. G. Chambers, P. J. O'Connell, J. R. Hansen, E. W. Killian, H. C. Fuson, R. R. Funk, W. G. Britt, B. A. Truesdale, C. F. Disney and J. A. Como.

From the tea room, the ladies went into the River Room where decorative booths featured the handiwork or appropriate symbols of the various activities offered to all Officers Wives Club members. OWC is now ready for a busy year.

MCAF FESTIVAL

Plans are nearing completion for the Second Annual Fall Festival to be held at the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, on the afternoon of Oct. 2. Ladies of the Officers Wives Club and the Staff Wives Club at the Air Facility are sponsoring the event with hopes that the proceeds from the affair will see the completion of a children's nursery building at MCAF. To be held at the facility's hangar, Bldg. 504, the feature attractions on the festival program will include rummage sales, refreshment stands, children's rides, talent games and a long list of entertainment for all the family.

For further information, contact either Mrs. Fred Steele, president, OWC, MOQ 2041, MCAF; or Mrs. W. Mortimer, president, Staff Wives, MEMQ 1139, MCAF.

Geiger Wives Set Goal For Large Membership

As a kick-off to the coming social season for all Camp Lejeune Wives Clubs, the Wives Club of Geiger Trailer Park will stage their first big event for the year, a Welcome Tea, to be held Tuesday, Sept. 20, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., in the park's Community Building. Posters and pamphlets are being distributed by the women stating attire for the occasion, reservation procedure and plans for the 1960-61 Membership Drive.

Emphasis during all Geiger Wives activities between now and Tuesday will be directed toward expanding the present membership roster of approximately 40 wives to an estimated 200, as reported by the group's outgoing president, Mrs. R. P. Kellon.

The ladies have been planning new and different programs throughout the summer season to encourage and invite wives living in the park to participate in the meetings held every Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the Community Building.

The purpose of the organization is to promote maximum interest among the enlisted men's wives in the role they must play and the background they should have as military and Marine Corps Wives. This, the club members believe, will be gained through discussions, lectures and general socializing for the women who are confronted with similar problems and situations.

All wives of the park are cordially invited to become members of the club. For further information, contact the Community Building, phone 0-1305.

Groups V, VII Plan First Luncheons To Lead Off Club Year

"Getting to Know You" will be the theme for Group VII's, OWC, first social luncheon for this fall season. To be held Thursday, Sept. 22, beginning at 11:30 a.m., the Tenth Marines Wives will meet in the River Room of the Paradise Point Club.

Each person present will be asked to give her name, home town and state, along with any other information she'd like to offer.

Reservations must be made by noon, Wednesday, Sept. 21. Anyone not contacted by phone may make reservations by calling either Mrs. J. J. Snyder, 6-6615, or Mrs. F. B. Campanella, Jax 3642.

Group V
A Panel Discussion is planned by Mrs. O. H. Cowing for Group V's first luncheon tomorrow beginning at 12:30 p.m. in the River Room of the Paradise Point Club. Mrs. J. E. Sundholm and the wives of the 2nd AntiTank Bn. will be hostesses. All of the ladies are reminded to have questions prepared for the discussion.

DIOR'S DREAM?—These three devastating models choose to focus the attention on their fashionable attire rather than their bewitching beautiful faces as they attract passengers to Midway Park's "Mis-Leading Fashions," to be featured tonight at 7:30 in the park's Community Building.

Midway Park Wives Spotlight Husbands In 'Mis-Leading' Comedy Show Tonight

Six husbands of Midway Park, with a little encouragement from their wives, will demonstrate their modeling abilities tonight when the Midway Park Wives Club stages its "Mis-Leading Fashions." Scheduled to begin at 7:30 in the Park's Community Building, at least an hour of action-packed skits will be performed by the men in an attempt to present their rendition of the ever-changing women's fashion world.

Both military and civilian personnel are invited to attend the show. There will be an admission fee of 50 cents. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Plans are tentative for "lucky gifts" to be awarded to those in attendance. Exact program routine will not be finalized until the actual "curtain call."

Members of the group will also accept clothing donations or suggestions for comical modeling stunts until deadline for the models.

Brownies Eager To Begin Another Year At Tarawa Terrace

Troop 210, Fourth Grade Brownies of Tarawa Terrace, held their first meeting of the 1960-61 Scout year last Saturday at the home of their leader, Mrs. Chester Baldyga, 381 West Peleliu Drive. Fourteen girls were present.

Elections were held to choose patrol leaders. Results were as follows: Goldfinch, Dawn Wedge; Oriole, Robyn Becker, and Red Robin, Julie Hoskins.

The girls are planning a Mother's Tea soon. Preparation for the event will take place during the meetings to be held at the Baden-Powell Scout Building at Knox. Transportation, which will be provided by the parents, will leave the Tarawa Terrace Community Building at 9:45 a.m. each Saturday.

Mrs. Leroy Delano will serve as assistant leader for the troop.

PTA Meets

The Midway Park Parent-Teachers Association will hold its first meeting Monday, Sept. 19, 7:30 p.m., in the park's cafeteria. The discussion for the evening will include the election of vice-president and treasurer offices and the cooperation by present members to start a membership campaign.

With the schedule planned for the coming school year, the group must have larger attendance at the meetings. For further information, contact Sgt. Roy L. Roberts at 2-2197 or 5-7394.

Lejeune Corpsman's Action Gets Medical Aid To Seaman

In answer to a call for blood and medical help from the merchant ship, the SS Cristobal, at sea, a young corpsman from the Naval Hospital took off on a "mercy mission" and came through with flying colors. At 1:45 a.m. on Sept. 9, Hospital Corpsman John C. Nunes Jr. was put aboard a helicopter at the landing zone of the Naval Hospital here. The helicopter and passenger were to rendezvous with the merchant ship somewhere at sea, where merchant seaman Harry Donald Duthrie, 38, lay in critical condition with a Duodenum (bleeding) ulcer. Due to extreme fog and weather conditions the helicopter could not locate the ship and returned to the Coast Guard Station at Ft. Macon, Atlantic Beach.

Here, Nunes was put on board a 30-foot Coast Guard launch and taken out to sea where he was transferred to a larger 40-foot launch.

It was 4:30 a.m. when Nunes reached the side of his patient. He quickly sized up the situation and immediately began infusion of blood into the patient's muscle for absorption into the blood system.

Now the arduous task of returning with the patient while maintaining a steady flow of the life-saving blood began.

Nunes and his patient were once more put on the Coast Guard launch and returned to Ft. Macon station. Here he was met by an ambulance from the Cherry Point Marine Corps Air Station. At 7:40 a.m. Nunes delivered his patient to the Naval Hospital here, just five hours after he had left on his errand of mercy.

At last reports the patient was still in a critical condition, but in a much improved state.

Woman Marine, First Lady Sky Diver With Local Club

Versatility of Woman Marines—unsurpassed! Camp Lejeune's Woman Marine Company is certainly no exception when it comes to adding to the list of versatile. Pfc Raquel Galvan is the first and only woman sky-diver in the history of this Base. After successful completion of two months' training with the Marine Sky-Divers Club of Camp Lejeune, Pfc Galvan made her first static line jump Saturday morning, Sept. 3, at an altitude of 2,700 feet.

PFC RAQUEL GALVAN

The landing was done with "the makings of an experienced and confident jumper," according to her instructor, SSgt. John Makos.

Raquel received her membership to the club July 20 and was presented her official parachute log last Saturday during the regular club meeting.

Pfc Galvan enlisted in the Marine Corps on April 9, 1959, in San Antonio, Texas. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Florencio Galvan, Corpus Christi, she is the fourth oldest of eight children. Camp Lejeune is her first duty station where she works in the S-1 office, Base Material Battalion.

"Everyone seems to think you've got to be daring," Raquel said. "When I first decided to take instruction, I just made up my mind I would one day find myself jumping out of an airplane. I had no knowledge of sky-diving. I even got air sick the few times I made long range flights."

Historical Museum Opened Last Monday At Quantico

Divisions To Hold Squad Competition

The final phase of the Third Annual Unit Combat Marksmanship Competition will be held at the Marine division level with results expected by Oct. 15. Headquarters Marine Corps announced last Friday.

In the past, winning squads of the three divisions were pitted in competition for Marine Corps-wide honors at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va. Budgetary considerations have forced revision of this procedure for Fiscal Year 1961, however, plans call for a resumption of the finals at Quantico next year.

Members of the winning squads from three divisions will receive appropriate letters of commendation from the Commandant of the Marine Corps. Trophies will be presented to the battalions providing the top squads. Headquarters is also encouraging meritorious promotions for the winners who are otherwise qualified.

According to G-3, 2nd Division, plans have been made to fire teams in the Annual Unit Marksmanship Competition on Oct. 12.

It was further revealed by Division G-3 that the 2nd Marine Division Association has expressed considerable interest in this competition and the association plans to award suitable prizes to members of the winning squad.

Notice

Quarantine of all cats and dogs aboard Camp Lejeune will be enforced by the Provost Marshal Section from Sept. 15-21. Any animal not kept on leash or in the house will be picked up by the dog catcher in accordance with Appendix "I" to Base Order 11101.30.

NEW 'COPTER—Sikorsky Aircraft technical representative James Walker presents the "papers" on the first HUS type helicopter to be delivered to Maj. J. A. Dorsey, commanding officer of HMR(L)-263 in the presence of the squadron engineering officer, Capt. D. G. Woodland. HUS 'copters have been slowly replacing the HRS. The HUS, an advanced, more powerful version of the HRS, has proved itself able to carry a bigger payload at faster speeds with less cost per load.

the Leathernecks' weapon history and traditions from their beginning at Tun Tavern in Philadelphia through the Korean conflict.

Entering the white, two-story building, visitors first view the Marine Corps colors with combat streamers; a facsimile of uniforms, muskets and sidearms the first Leathernecks, and possibly the earliest piece of Marine equipment still in existence, powder horn used by Marines in their initial assault on the Balas in 1776.

From there the exhibit forms an inverted "T" and divided into the chronological history of the Marine Corps and Weapons Hall.

Viewers will pass in chronological sequence through displays of the Quasi War with France, Barbary Wars, War of 1812, Mexican War, War with Mexico, opening of trade with the Orient (including Perry's expedition to Japan), protection of American trade companies in China, Civil War, including Confederate Marine equipment, the first Korean campaign, and the "Golden Era of the 1920s period," Boxer Rebellion with Spain-Philippine Insurrection, the Banana Wars, World War I, the development of Amphibious Doctrine and Technological World War II and the Korean conflict.

The main focal point of the display cases is the colorful contemporary uniforms, weapons and equipment. They are vividly illustrated with drawings and photographs and include actual newspaper accounts of the campaign for an "on-the-spot" coverage many of the events.

Of particular interest in this section is the sword Lt. Presley Bannon used in the assault on Derne, Tripoli; notes kept by a Marine Lieutenant during the Mexican War, and the American flag which was raised over Iwo Jima. Miscellaneous items include the mount pay of privates in authentic mode of the day, and a bathtub used by seagoing Leathernecks in the early days of American naval history.

Located prominently throughout the area are six three-dimensional dioramas featuring detailed miniatures of famous campaigns of the Marine Corps. In these displays, model Marines capture John Brown; make their desperate stand at Bladensburg in 1814; capture of Belle Wood; fight native troops at Cuernavaca, Cuba, and are rallied (then) Col. David M. Shoup as he leads the assault on Red Beach Two at Tarawa.

To the left of the main entrance the Weapons Hall houses examples of naval landing ordnance from the Civil War through the Spanish-American conflict. In addition, a careful collection of machine guns and automatic weapons illustrates the evolution from the crude hand-powered multifiring devices of the mid-19th century to the fantastically high rate of fire automatic machine gun mechanisms we know today.

Mess Night

Col. Roy J. Batterton Jr., commanding officer of Hq. Bn., Marine Corps Base, has announced a battalion Officers Mess Night will be held Monday at 7 p.m. in the Paradise Point Officers Club.

General and field grade officers will wear mess dress uniforms, while the attire for company grade officers will be white dress.
