Stone Bay Closes; NCO School, Recon Moving

The closing of Stone Bay and the relocation of the 2nd Division's Recon Bn. and NCO Leadership School was announced here this week. The decision to close the Stone Bay Area came about due to the high cost of maintenance of building structures and because the facilities and living quarters were no longer considered suitable for permanent occupancy. The 2nd Recon Bn. and Division NCO Leadership School are scheduled to move to the 400 area, Hadnot

93,510 To Be Promoted By End Of June

By the end of next June, the Marine Corps will have made a whopping 93,510 enlisted promotions. HQMC said that it expects to make 81,000 promotions to private first class, lance corporal and corporal. Earlier, it was announced that 12,510 advancements would be made in the higher enlisted ranks.

The promotion plans revealed last week include 32,000 hikes to private first class, 32,000 to lance corporal and 17,000 to corporal.

Last month, Headquarters announced plans to give 12,510 promotions in the sergeant through sergeant major ranks. It said 60 of the promotions would be for sergeant major, 150 for master gunnery sergeant, 250 for first sergeant, 750 for master sergeant, 2,400 for gunnery sergeant, 3,900 for staff sergeant and 5,000 for sergeant.

Hurricane

According to the Aerology Department at Marine Corps Air Facility, hurricane "Donna" is moving up the coast although her speed has decreased. At GLOBE presstime "Donna" was located approximately 580 miles East by Southeast of Miami, Fla.

Winds located at the center of the hurricane are estimated at 140 miles per hour.

Precautionary measures to be taken by personnel in the event the hurricane strikes this area can be found on page 12.

Point, and Montford Point sometime during the month of September.

The 2nd Recon Bn. will begin its move to the Hadnot Point area on Sept. 7, and expects to be completely moved by Sept. 19.

Four hundred ninety-four officers and enlisted personnel of the Recon Bn. will move to Hadnot Point and occupy the area formerly used by the 2nd Bn. Eighth Marines. Personnel will be billeted in Barracks 412 and 420 with the battalion headquarters established in Bldg. 416.

The Recon Bn. motor transport section will occupy the old exchange service station. The Recon unit will conduct its rubber boat training at French Creek where two warehouses will be used for storage facilities.

The NCO Leadership School has tentatively scheduled their move to the Montford Point Area Sept. 17, to prevent interrupting classes but no definite date has been set for the move.

The school will be housed in six buildings at Montford Point when construction work on the class rooms and office space is completed.

The Leadership School headquarters will be located in Bldg. 618 and classes conducted in Bldg. 321. Personnel will be billeted in Barracks 623, 622 and 621. Unit supply will be in Bldg. 255.

"Class room facilities are expected to be far superior to those presently in use at Stone Bay," said Maj. Gilbert R. Hershey, Officer in Charge of the NCO School. "We will also utilize the Montford Point Training areas for field problems," he added.

The school staff is made up of 71 enlisted men and two officers and carries a normal student load of 90 personnel in two classes of 45 students each.

The mission of the Leadership School is to teach general military subjects with a goal toward devel-

Porches For 3 BR Units Being Added

Construction of porches for three-bedroom units in Tarawa Terrace began last week. Originally it was planned to add the porches to two-bedroom units only before beginning work on the three-bedroom units.

Last week it was decided to add the new additions to the three-bedroom units along with the two-bedroom units as maintenance personnel progressed through the housing area.

Those three bedroom units already passed in the chain of construction prior to the decision will not receive the addition until the entire project has been completed throughout the housing project.

The decision to add the porches to the three bedroom units was brought about in the interest of monetary allowances and the saving of time and labor.

The porch additions are prefabricated in the maintenance yard and delivered to the units for setting up.

Construction of porches to the housing facilities at Tarawa Terrace II will not begin until all units in Tarawa Terrace I and Midway Park have been completed. This is due to a variance in height of units.

Base Order Outlines Wading Pool Policy

Policies governing the placing of wading pools in Camp Lejeune housing areas has been outlined in a recent appendix to Base Order 11101.30, "Quarters and Housing Administration."

The appendix reads: "Privately-owned swimming and wading pools are prohibited in quarters and housing areas except as follows: wading pools not more than six feet in diameter may be utilized by occupants in the back yards only of assigned public quarters or rental housing.

"Water in wading pools shall not exceed 12 inches in depth; a responsible adult will be in attendance when children are in wading pools; wading pools will not be left filled and unattended; wading pools will be moved frequently to prevent killing grass."

Marine Corps League Elects New Officers

The Jacksonville chapter of the Marine Corps League, formed and granted a charter last June, installed officers at a recent meeting.

Elected officers for the league are: League Commandant, SSgt. Keith E. Davis, Military Police Co., Hq. Bn., MCB; Senior Vice-Commandant, 1st Sgt. Jack S. Booz, Military Police Co., Hq. Force Troops Drum, Bugle Team Helps Produce Spirit

Each morning at 0745, along Lucy Brewer Avenue, the Force Troops Drum and Bugle Corps carries out one of its many missions: that of making Marines proud of their Corps and boosting the morale of all within hearing distance of the marching music. The Force Troops Drum and Bugle Corps was formed in the summer of 1958 to enhance the spirit and morale of Force Troops. It is a non T/O organization comprised of members from all Force Troops units.

"D & B," as it is known, performs at morning colors, honor guards and parades, mess nights, social functions and twice weekly they play at Force Troops mess-halls during the noon meal, Tuesday afternoon finds them at the main Post Exchange performing for the working Marine personnel and the shoppers milling around the Exchange.

Since its inception the fame and caliber of music of Force Troops D & B has spread to many of the surrounding communities in North Carolina. D & B played at New Bern during the recent 250th anniversary of the city. People in Morehead City, Beaufort, Mount Pleasant and Jacksonville have been entertained by the Force

Troops Drum and Bugle Corps.

Sgt. Jerry Smith, a member of D & B, has arranged many of the marches played by the Corps. His specialty is marching music flared with a Latin tempo. Another outstanding feature of D & B is its "Bugle Trio." It is probably the only Marine Drum and Bugle Corps which features such a trio. The "Trumpeters Lullaby" is featured by the Bugle Trio.

At the present time the strength of the Drum and Bugle Corps is 22 pieces consisting of snare drums, tenor drums, cymbals, baritone and soprano bugles. Twenty-nine pieces is the greatest number D & B has ever had. It is hoped that in the coming months D & B can obtain 35 pieces. Any member of Force Troops having musical talents or aspirations should make the fact known to his commanding officer and steps will be taken so that your talent can be appreciated by all.

Wilmington Civil Air Show Will Feature 'Blue Angels'

Servicemen and their dependents in the Camp Lejeune area can see the "Blue Angels" flying at 500 miles per hour with their wing tips only five feet apart, as they perform the intricate maneuvers in Wilmington, Sunday, Sept. 18, as feature attraction of the third annual Civil Air Patrol Friendship Day. Led by Cmdr. Zeb

Knott of Asheville, the "Blue Angels" flight team is composed of six pilots, four flying in the team formation, and two solo pilots. Planes used are the supersonic Grumman F11F Tiger jet fighter. The "Blue Angels" were formed in 1946 and have performed thousands of times throughout the world. This will be the team's second performance in Wilmington and the entire program is free to the public.

The maneuvers of the "Angels" are not stunts, they are all part of the fighter pilot. However, they are done in close formation and at a lower altitude than is normally the case. Two basic formations are utilized, the echelon and the diamond. These formations are held tightly together with a five-foot separation between the wings during all the maneuvers. Echelon rolls, barrel rolls, loops, a tight 360-degree turn and other breathtaking maneuvers are done at speeds of 170-

500 miles per hour.

"The Blue Angels" are unique in many ways. Among all flight demonstration teams the group flies the tightest diamond formation with almost a complete overlap between aircraft. The "Angels" also change formations several times during the show and the only supersonic team that forms the difficult echelon formation and high performance take-off in formation and four-plane formation landing.

oping men into better unit leaders.

The school is operated under the cognizance of Division G-3 and draws students from the Quad Commands of Lejeune, FMFLant, Norfolk, and reservists on 30 days' active duty.

When the two units have vacated the Stone Bay Area the buildings will be closed and used only as a billeting area for emergency use of overflow personnel at the rifle range.

All Marine Corps personnel active duty for a period of 90 days or more and assigned to Marine Corps Base, 2nd Division or Force Troops units are eligible to enter.

Winners of the Camp Lejeune contest will be entered in the 1961 All-Marine Photography Contest, to be held at Camp Pendleton, Calif. on Oct. 10. Winners at Pendleton will be entered in the Ninth Annual Inter-Service Photography Contest, hosted this year by the Army.

Birds

Mr. Clyde Bartley of Grounds and Roads called to clear up the bird mystery of Holcomb Blvd. The birds are bantam chickens. It is assumed that they were left there about 10 years ago by a family who lived in the area and worked at a government saw mill here. In recent years the bantam population was reduced to two hens. To remedy this situation, Navy CWO James F. Griffin, former officer in charge of Insect Vector Control, brought a bantam rooster from his home and turned him out in the area. CWO Griffin was transferred to Pearl Harbor last June. Maybe the woods will be full of chickens by the time he returns for another tour here.

Champion

He served in the Pacific during WW II, and later became an orderly for Gen. Clifton B. Cates, 19th Commandant of the Marine Corps. But of all his exploits, the one that brought the most fame to Ronald E. "Slat" Mueller was the day in 1945 when he became the champion chow hound of the U. S. Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune Mess Hall 411. It was then that Mueller consumed 29 pork chops, four bowls of mashed potatoes (all serving bowls), four bowls of corn, four bowls of carrots and peas (mixed), one loaf and a half of bread, one pound of butter, one apple pie, all the salad for eight men and four pitchers of iced tea. His accomplishment was later reported in NAVY TIMES and post and station newspapers throughout the Corps.

In 1947 Mueller lost an egg eating contest 69-72, but came back to win the noon meal when his opponent conceded on the third tray of roast beef. Mueller finished five of the oblong serving trays of beef. A former tech sergeant, Mueller was medically retired as the result of a training accident in 1957, after 15 years' service. He now manages a furniture firm at Lejeune Blvd., and prefers to be a retired champion than to actively defend his title.

Are there any growing boys at Lejeune today who can equal or surpass the Champ's record?

WEEKEND CONCERT—The 2nd Division Band and Chorus performed for more than 600 Marines, dependents and guests at the first Annual Labor Day Weekend Concert at Camp Lejeune Sunday. Selections by the band included such old favorites as John Phillip Sousa's "Semper Fidelis," themes from "Mr. Wonderful" and the "March to the Battle of Jaz." The 30-man chorus entertained with

"Summertime," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "Marines from 1775." The Cummerbunds, a new vocal group composed of six members of the Division Chorus, entertained the audience with two of the popular tunes of the day. The two-hour concert was held in the picturesque setting of the natural grass amphitheater behind Division Headquarters. (Photo by Sgt. J. H. Webster Jr.)

Appropriate Dress Applies To Military And Civilians Alike

One of the privileges many service personnel take for granted is the wearing of civilian clothing. In doing so they fail to practice the same habits of neatness they observe when wearing their uniforms. An old pair of slacks, dirty and unpressed, and a sloppy sport shirt seem to satisfy their tastes. They trade their spit-shined dress shoes for a pair of worn out loafers. Thus attired, they roam freely about the camp. They climb aboard the bus or hop into a car and head for town. Looking like vagrants, they go forth for any and all to look at. People who see them assume they are servicemen from Camp Lejeune.

Last week a Marine officer took one of these over-casual young men to task. The two met in the Hostess House, where the officer was dining with a prominent civilian guest from a nearby city. Other Marines and their families, also present, could not help but notice the young man's untidy appearance. His dirty shirt was open, exposing part of his chest and stomach. Grease stains spotted his trousers. His hair was going in four different directions. He was an offensive sight. It is no wonder the officer felt compelled to speak to this individual, and in doing so, learned that he was a civilian visitor to the Base.

This fact, however, offered little consolation to the officer. He had seen other men at Lejeune similarly attired. He knew that this carelessly dressed person was just one of many, and that many of the others were service personnel.

In each case, all of them lowered the standards of civilian dress, wholly unacceptable by any branch of the armed forces, aboard any post in the country, and in any civilian community.

The Marine Corps in general, and Camp Lejeune units in particular, have always taken pride in the appearance of their service personnel. Civilian employees have conformed to neatness and worn appropriate work clothing. The wearing of extreme articles or continuing to wear the same soiled garments day after day has never been acceptable.

The original idea of allowing military personnel the privilege of wearing civilian clothing after duty hours was based on regulations that each garment would be clean and worn appropriately. The man who disregards this principle should, in all respects, be deprived of this freedom.

Those in a supervisory capacity—the officers, the staff noncoms, and the civilian section heads—have a constant responsibility to check those individuals who flaunt bad taste in dress. They must be aware of the appearance of each man and woman with whom they come in contact. By their friendly correction, stern reprimand or, if need be, disciplinary action, the standard of attire will be maintained.

A Marine major has become the first military pilot to be checked out in the Vertol 76 (Army's VZ-2), world's first successful tilt-wing VTOL research aircraft.

Officials of Vertol Division of Boeing Airplane Company, designers and manufacturers of the aircraft, revealed that the first military pilot to fly the aircraft was Maj. Don Segner, who is stationed at the Naval Air Test Center at Patuxent River, Md.

The Drill Instructors School at Parris Island has amended its five-week curriculum to an eight-week course to: (1) provide higher qualified graduates; (2) condition its students to recruit activities and (3) ultimately produce better trained recruits. The new course began Aug. 15.

The first of a four-phase test and evaluation program is under way in the Marine Corps which is expected to lead to some major changes in the tactical organization of the two Fleet Marine Forces.

The results of the tests, which are slated to be completed during the fiscal year of 1962, will tell the Corps what type of tactical organization is best to use the new weapons it is getting.

You Can Control Your Own Future

One of the most common expressions one hears around Camp Lejeune has to do with resignation and defeat: "That's the way the ball bounces." Admittedly, things happen to us that cannot be explained and we are often caught in situations not of our making where authority glares at us from its awesome height and raps our knuckles for mistakes.

Nevertheless, the expression "that's how the ball bounces" is often used as a catchphrase and cliché to cover up for failures brought on by our own mistakes, or our own carelessness. When a man deliberately puts off the completion of a report, already overdue, he cannot blame the matter on fate. The result is a product of a man's decision, not just "how the ball bounces."

If we wish to reap anything out of this life of ours, we cannot go through our threescore and ten blaming all of our failures on fate, on factors beyond our control. The plain fact of the matter is that most of what happens to us is a direct product and result of our own actions. We open the tap and, if there is water in the tank, water is going to run out.

The action of wisdom when personal trouble is upon us, or when there is crisis in our marriage, or when there are other difficulties, is to accept the fact that these problems are mostly the result of our own decisions. If we can do this, we are in a position to personally make better decisions in the future and to avoid mistakes of the past. Let's not try to make a scapegoat of fate; we can be too fatalistic.

Division Chaplain.

If You Ask Me:

GIVEN YOUR CHOICE, WHAT JOB OR DUTY STATION WOULD YOU PREFER?

PVT. JOHN K. VESPER, Sierra Co., 1st ITR, Camp Geiger — I would like guard duty in Washington, D. C. This, to me, would be the best duty in the Corps. Personnel are hand selected for duty in our Nation's Capital and the Marine Barracks there has the sharpest people. They are always on display in the twilight parades.

PVT. WILLIAM J. STEBBINS, Sierra Co., 1st ITR, Camp Geiger — Hawaii would be most interesting duty to me. I have read some books on Hawaii and would like to see Diamond Head, Mauna Loa volcano and the pineapple and sugar cane fields. I would especially like to see the monument at Pearl Harbor honoring those who died in the attack on Hawaii.

PFC GERALD J. BURKEL, Sierra Co., 1st ITR, Camp Geiger — I plan to be an electrician when I get out of the Corps, so my choice of job and duty would be as an electrician at the Brooklyn Navy Yard in New York. The experience in electrical work on the ships and buildings would give me a good background for civilian employment.

PFC WILLIAM J. JONES, Sierra Co., 1st ITR, Camp Geiger — Duty with the Military Police would be my choice. If I don't make a career of the Marine Corps, I plan to get on the Pennsylvania State Police force. I feel that duty with an MP force, especially with a roving patrol, would give me a greater knowledge of the job through the different cases handled.

UNITED NATION: HOPE FOR A DIVIDED WORLD by Sir Leslie Munro shows that the United Nations is a vital part of world community whose success is a matter not of delegates and officers, but of ourselves and our attitudes.

THE FALL OF DARK by James Norman is a novel of the Civil War in Spain which evokes the anguish and dark grandeur of the country in the last days of the war.

SHOULD THE WIND BE FAIR by Garland Roark is a novel of blockade running during the Civil War by the author of "Wake the Red Witch."

HANCOCK THE SUPERB by Glenn Tucker is the life story of a great fighting general of the Civil War, Winfield Scott Hancock, whose steadiness, unflinching courage and incisive military judgment many times helped to preserve the Army of the Potomac as an efficient fighting force.

PVT. CLARENCE M. WILLIEN, Sierra Co., 1st ITR, Camp Geiger — Since my home is only about 150 miles from New York, I think I would like Brooklyn Navy Yard. I live in West Chester, Pa., and I could get home and see my wife. I am going to the Brooklyn Navy Yard but only for processing and transportation to French Mo, rocco.

PFC RAY BEAMON, Sierra Co., 1st ITR, Camp Geiger — I would like to be stationed in Philadelphia at the Naval Yard. I was born in North Carolina but I make my home in Philadelphia with my grandmother. Philadelphia is a big city and there are a lot of interesting sights to see and many things to do and places of entertainment to go to.

SHEP FIELDS

Shep Fields Parlayed Soda Straw Into Million Dollars

They say that inspiration is the foundation of all new ideas and discoveries. That must be particularly true in the field of music, for more than one artist has cashed in on some ideas that came about during an off-moment. The outstanding case is that of Shep Fields, the "Rippling Rhythm" maestro, who will appear at Camp Lejeune Sept. 14-17. Fields parlayed a soda straw into a million dollar enterprise.

Fields and his orchestra will appear in concert at the Camp Theater Wednesday, Sept. 14 at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. The public is invited to these concerts. Thursday, the orchestra plays for dancing at Marston Pavilion from 8 p.m. until midnight. The Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club will host the group Friday from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Shep Fields winds up his Lejeune tour at the Paradise Point Officers Club Saturday night from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

While en route to New York, where Shep Fields was to begin his first important engagement, he spent all his time trying a way to musically describe his "Rippling Rhythm" music.

After trying hundreds of musical innovations that had failed, Shep became disgusted when suddenly his wife was mulling over a soda and humming through a straw. What came out was the inspiration for the trademark that has become the most famous in the world.

The story of Shep Fields is the story of popular dance music over the past 12 years. For as he progressed, the trade moved forward and his innovations served as a guide for other men who formed the musical tastes of the nation.

"Rippling Rhythm" was the musical innovation that first put Shep on the map as a qualified conductor and musician. While the rhythmic style is older than most of the current band interpretations, it has endured through the years.

'School Days, School Days, Dear Old Golden R

PESTS—Every class has 'em. Some of them get started early in the year. Milton Hansard decides Cindy Sabettini's "pony tail" is just too tempting at the Tarawa Terrace School.

MODERN CLASSROOMS—Children from Camp Lejeune attend the bright, modern, Stone Street School. When the dismissal bell rings the New River youngsters head for buses to return home, full of tales of the interesting day at school. New classrooms and facilities were completed since the last school term.

STONE STREET SCHOOL—Miss Beverly Edwards, 2nd grade teacher, pins name tags on the children to help them learn to read, as well as to aid her on these first, busy days. Left to right are: Margaret Unkle, Miss Edwards, and Eddie Grover.

MONTFORD POINT SCHOOL—Munson Cockayne, left, helps Gail Harville get started on the swings. At Montford Point, as at all schools, the favorite class is still recess.

1960 Camp Lejeune Dependents' School Year

"School Days, School Days" have begun throughout the Camp Lejeune School System with an estimated enrollment of 2,888 students. Of this number, 825 are enrolled in the Junior-Senior High School.

The Parent-Teacher Association has already begun their program of activities for the school year including an extensive membership drive. Col. Maxie R. Williams is president of the association for the 1960-61 school year.

Teachers began making preparations for the coming year at a special pre-school workshop that began Aug. 25. Pre-school activities started with teacher registration and a tour of the Base. The workshop was designed to familiarize teachers with old and new policies and to outline projects scheduled for the coming year.

And students flocked back to the school last Thursday amid shouts of joy at seeing old friends, some made new ones the first day. Others were a little sad at the thought of another school year of hard work but all were eager and anxious to get started.

LUNCH TIME—After a three-month breathing spell children attending the Camp Schools once more cause the lunch rooms to echo with their laughter and chatter. This group of children sit down to a lunch prepared by their mothers and carried in their lunch boxes. This delights the children each day with a surprise to see what they will eat and drink today.

Ten Local Linksters Latch All-Marine Tourney Berths

Ten Camp Lejeune golfers will join other Marine linksters from throughout the world at Parris Island to take part in the Sixth Annual All-Marine Golf Championship at the Depot course Sept. 21-24. More than 100 golfers are expected to congregate at Parris Island on Sept. 19 in preparation for the concurrent running of the Men's Open and Senior Divisions and the Ladies' Division consisting of medal play.

Camp Lejeune's 10-man team, slated to compete in the Open Division match, are: 1st Lt. Charles E. Lynch, 1st Lt. Richard E. Meyers, 2nd Lt. William W. Scott, 1st Sgt. William G. O'Brien, 1st Sgt. Henry M. Kajdacz, GySgt. Leonard M. Kylan, SSgt. Milanthorn C. Read, SSgt. Joseph A. Moore, Cpl. Melvin J. Miller and LCpl. James C. Dixon.

The recruit depot's 18-hole, 6,500-yard course is hoped to be a stern test for Marines attempting to gain All-Marine honors and a berth in the Interservice Golf Championships, Oct. 3-7, at Ft. Ord, Calif.

Male linksmen in the Open and Senior Divisions will start the 1960 classic with 18 holes on Sept. 21 and play 18 holes on each of the following days until the final round of the 72-hole tournament on Sept. 24. At that time an All-Marine team will be selected by the Parris Island executive committee. Consisting of five Open players and three Seniors, the team will represent the Marine Corps in the Interservice test.

The Ladies' Division is scheduled to tee off on Sept. 21, also, and conclude at the end of 54 holes on Sept. 23.

A woman's contingent from Camp Lejeune will not be placed in competition for All-Marine honors.

The Senior Division has been devised for Marines who have reached the age of 45 by the opening date of the tournament, but Seniors are also eligible to compete in the Open Division.

Football Squad Using New 3-Platoon System

A completely new style of football will be seen by the Lejeune eleven on the gridiron this season. Coach Denis Horn, along with his assistants have added the three-platoon system to their secret bag of tricks for the approaching season. The system adapted by Coach Horn is a variation of the successful three-platoon system employed by Coach Paul Dietzel of Louisiana State University. Utilizing a medium weight, well-conditioned line, fast versatile backfield and strong ends, Lejeune will use an equally balanced attack with Red, Blue and Green specialist squads.

The red team, capable of both passing and running attacks, will be used for both offense and defense, while the blue eleven will be primarily an offensive squad, with the capability of holding their own on defense. The defensive specialist will be made up of the green squad. Although their primary mission will be defense, the squad is capable of moving the ball on offense, both on the ground and in the air.

All Lejeune players will see more action with the adoption of the platoon system. Substitutions to any of the specialist teams can be made, as any member of the team is familiar with all plays of each squad.

Saturday's practice scrimmage was utilized for perfecting the three-platoon system. Each squad worked primarily on their specialty under simulated game conditions. Although each eleven is primarily a specialist squad, all players were used both on offense and defense plays that could be encountered during a regular season game.

The gridiron stars from Elon College arrived Tuesday and will hold three scrimmages with the Lejeune eleven starting at 1:30 p.m. today. Saturday the two teams will meet on Liversedge field for a scrimmage under regular game conditions without kicking. By mutual agreement of both coaches Thursday's scrimmage may be stopped between plays to allow for correction of mistakes. Coach Horn has extended an invitation to all hands to view the scrimmages with Elon.

End Charles Rix has been added to the injured list with a pulled muscle. Chuck, adding much strength to the end position, played two years for the University of Rhode Island and has four years semi-pro ball experience.

Rix joins left guard J. C. Ernest and tackle Sam Thornton on the sidelines. Ernest has been laid up with two fractured ribs and Thornton suffered a broken left hand. All three men are expected to be in uniform by the opening game Sept. 17 against the Norfolk Tars.

Linemen Cherubini, Chitko Add Speed, Strength To Line

With the three-platoon system adapted by Coach Denis Horn the Lejeune eleven will employ a fast, hard-hitting, well-conditioned line, and a fast versatile backfield, capable of both running and passing attacks. On defense the Lejeune squad is capable of protecting their end zone against the various offenses encountered during the regular season.

Adding speed and strength to the line are tackles Ronald Cherubini and Benjamin Chitko. Both men are members of the 2nd Marine Division. Cherubini is attached to Service Co., Headquarters Bn, while Chitko is in "T" Co., 3rd Bn, Eighth Marines.

Cherubini was selected to the All-Marine team in 1958 while a member of the Quantico squad. He joins the Lejeune team from Quantico where he played last season also. His football career started while attending Rahway High School, Rahway, N. J., where he made All-State in 1952. Ron has four years with Villanova University, Philadelphia, Pa., before entering the Marine Corps in September, 1957.

Chitko starts his sixth year of service football this season. He was

New Coaches Helping Horn

The Lejeune eleven is supervised by an entirely new coaching staff this season. New coaching, players and ideas are resulting in a new style of football on the Lejeune gridiron this fall.

Predicting a tough season with his 10 opponents, Coach Denis Horn is relying heavily on his three assistants to ease the coaching strain.

Assisting Coach Horn with the line is Ike Schneider, who is making his debut in coaching this season. A graduate of the University of New Hampshire, he was a member of their line for four years. Ike was with the Pensacola "Goshawks" line in 1958-59, playing against Lejeune both seasons. A first lieutenant, Ike is a member of Base Special Services.

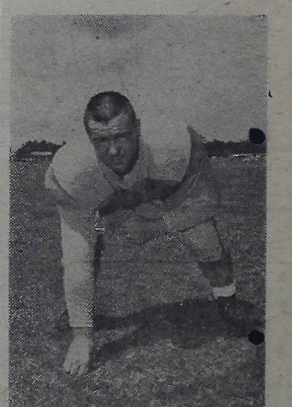

SCHNEIDER

Assisting with the ends and strong point of this year's team is Brian Moore, who joined the team from the 3rd Division. An assistant coach with the Camp Kinser Streaks, Brian helped that squad place as runner-up in the Division play-offs. Brian has four years' college experience at end with Michigan State University. He is a first lieutenant, attached to the Rifle Range Detachment.

The defensive specialists, supervised by Charles Zielinski, also with the 3rd Division last season. Chuck coached the line for the Royals while with the Division. He played half back for Northeastern University one season and half-back for Foston College four years. A first lieutenant, Chuck is a member of Headquarters Co., Tenth Marines, 2nd Division.

ZIELINSKI

a member of the squad at China Lake, Calif., in 1952-53. In 1956 Ben played with the Ninth Marine Regiment and for Key West, Fla., in 1958-59. His career in football started at Goodman High School, Goodman, Wis., where he played tackle. Although he has no college experience, Ben is expected to add much depth to the Lejeune line this season.

Riseley Pier

The Riseley Fishing Pier will be closed from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. Sunday through Thursday. On Friday and Saturday nights, the pier will be open all night. This temporary schedule goes into effect this week.

Boys Football League Play Starts Sunday; Gen. Berkeley To Make Opening Address

Camp Lejeune's Boys League football will kick off Sunday at the Boys League Football Field, located at the entrance of Tarawa Terrace II, with Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, 2nd Marine Division commander, slated to make an opening address prior to the game. It will be the Redskins meeting the Rams in the first of a doubleheader, with the Bears taking on the Colts for the second game. Also on hand to get the Boys League grid season rolling will be the 26-man 2nd Division Drum and Bugle Corps under the direction of drum major, GySgt. James E. Rippard.

Golf Slices

Novice golfer, LCpl. James M. Collins of MCSS, stepped up to the 12th tee of the Lejeune No. 1 golf course last Sunday and blasted one toward the flag, 167 yards away. Collins watched as the ball cut a high arc, bounced once on the green, rolled up to the pin and out of sight in the hole. "I went buggy for about five minutes," related Collins, who has been at the game a little over three months. The 25-year-old golfer finished the course with a 98.

Cmdr. J. W. Sedlacek of Division Dental won the local Labor Day PGA Hole-in-One Tourney by shooting to within seven feet, nine inches of the second pin on course No. 1. Commander Sedlacek will be awarded a money clip for his effort. In addition, his footage on this hole will be forwarded to PGA headquarters to be placed in competition with other courses over the United States.

In the Club Championship Tourney the following results were recorded:

Championship Flight: SSgt. J. A. Moore (1st); 1st Lt. R. E. Meyer (2nd).

First Flight: Maj. F. S. Wood (1st); Lt. Col. L. D. McCurry (2nd).

Second Flight: Maj. G. M. Olzewski (1st); GySgt. T. F. Gay (2nd).

Third Flight: GySgt. J. C. Taylor (1st); Capt. H. O. Cowing (2nd).

Fourth Flight: Lt. Col. J. A. Witherspoon (1st); Lt. Col. J. F. Holt (2nd).

The Women's Golf Association elected new officers this week. The following ladies will preside over the association for the coming year: President: Genie June; Vice-President, Julia Cowing; Secretary, Betty Lawson; Treasurer, Evie Sinderson; Tournament Chairman, Ann Sherbondy; Handicap Chairman, Ann Olzewski, and Publicity Chairman, Bobbie Storie.

and George Bougay, will play Sunday's game wearing gold jerseys with gold helmets, while the Colts, coached by Bill Dunn with the assistance of J. Wheaton and Al Bortridge, don blue jerseys and helmets for the contest.

Volunteer officials for Sunday's games will be 1st Sgt. J. Bressette, Maj. D. Kelley, MSgt. B. Cardinal and Navy Chief J. Whitehead.

The Lejeune Boys League was formed in 1954 by a group of staff NCO's residing at Tarawa Terrace and was aided materially and personally by now-retired Lt. Col. H. G. Bozarth.

The League operates about nine months out of the year and provides athletic and recreational sources for over 300 boys during the 12-month span.

The League also operates a refreshment stand during all games, the profits going toward the purchasing of new uniforms and needed equipment for the teams. Parents of the squad members operate the stand which sells coffee, soft drinks, candy, etc.

Depot Eleven Starts Sept. 16

The San Diego Recruit Depot's 1960 football squad moved closer to its Sept. 16 opener with Cal Poly (Pamona) with plenty of head-knocking this week, as Head Coach Hans Jacobsen sent his charges through two scrimmages, with the promise of more to come.

Jacobsen and assistants Jackie Barrett and Don Laaksonen got in their first full week of looking at the squad under contact conditions and will be watching a lot more of it as they attempt to come up with new faces. Particularly at interior line posts, with which to help rebuild the undefeated 1959 champs.

After all-out sessions Saturday and Wednesday, the grid brain-trust voiced dissatisfaction, but for differing reasons.

Jacobsen bemoaned lack of pass blocking Saturday, although the offense generally out-performed the defense, while Wednesday he was satisfied with a much more rugged defense, at the same time noting an improvement in pass protection.

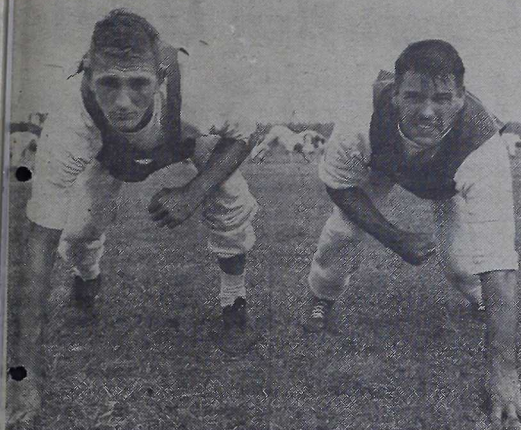

The coaching staff will go on checking this year's squad under game scrimmage conditions in an effort to pare down the current 40-plus roster to the 35-man level that will be carried after Sept. 5.

Quantico's Varsity Marked Team In '60

Quantico's defending National Service Gridiron Champs, undefeated last year, will be a marked team this year, according to Coach Wil Overgaard. For one thing, he reasons, this year's schedule lists some tougher teams. Also, some of those that Quantico beat last year figure to be pointing for revenge in 1960. Pre-season info on Detroit University, one of three college teams scheduled this year, ranks them as a real powerhouse.

Overgaard will miss Percy Price, one of last year's standouts, who has won a berth on the 1960 Olympic Boxing Team in the heavy-weight division. Price is now training with the boxing team at Ft. Dix, N. J.

The picture is not all black, however, for Overgaard has more than 80 prospective pigskinners to pick from, including several veterans from last year's champs who scored a record-setting 90-0 win over McClellan AFB in the Shrimp Bowl.

MARINE CORPS BASE REPRESENTATIVES—Two players will represent Marine Corps Base units on the Camp Lejeune 1960 varsity football squad this season. Guard William Link, right, of Base Special Services, and end Lee Russ of H&S Co., Marine Corps Supply Schools, join the Lejeune squad for their first season this year. Russ was a member of the 3rd Division Royals in 1958-59 while Link has nine years' service experience. (Photo by Sgt. J. H. Webster)

Staff NCO Bowlers Open Season At Hadnot Point

The Staff NCO keggers opened their annual fall-winter bowling league last week at the Hadnot Point Staff Club. Paul Vasko, leading summer league bowler, took high series with a 603 including high game of the night with 245. Following Vasko by one pin for high game was Harry Schaeffer of Quality Cleaners with an even 200.

Other bowlers to top the 175 mark during the first night's action were: Lew Nicoletta—Herb Sunshine, 197; Al Jukoski—Herb Sunshine, 184; "Shim"—Shimunas—Mae's, 183; Dave Davis—National Boh, 181; Bill Myers—Pioneer American, 180; Jake Pugh—D & E Car Exchange, 180; Dom Anzillotti—D & E Car Exchange, 180; Laird Silvasy—New River Pharmacy, 179; Jack Wilde—Budweiser, 178; and Ken Therrel—Stiles Van & Storage, 175.

Although having no bowlers over the 175 mark, Courthouse Bay Staff Club, Wainwright Transfer Co., and Gulfpride Service also have teams in the Tuesday league.

Mae's Bar jumped into the lead of the 35-week season with high game of 953 and high series of 2,652.

During last Thursday night's six-team league Al Jukoski set the pace with a 534 series and a 178 average. Holly Boltseridge and Bob Warden took over the runner-up spots with 174 while "Smokey" Greenwood moved into third place with a 173 average.

Also expected to run 35 weeks, the six-team league is currently playing without sponsors.

A possible six-team, 835 scratch league and a "Mr. and Mrs." league are on the Staff NCO keggers' agenda for the coming season. Both leagues are hoping to get started during October. All bowlers interested in these leagues should sign up at the Staff NCO bowling alleys.

CAPTAIN EDDLEMON

Captain Eddlemon extended his award-winning streak to three consecutive years. He took top shooting honors during summer training at Little Creek, Va., in 1958, with a score of 239 and topped all Reserve shooters at Camp Lejeune last year, firing 242. In 1959, he also placed third in the Reserve officer category of the Leatherneck magazine marksmanship awards program.

He and his company outshot 3,000 other Organized Marine Corps Reservists who fired on the rifle range here this summer.

Other top shooters of the Volunteer State Marines, all of Knoxville, were: Pfc Larry J. Henry, 236; SSgt. Leonard W. Martin, 234; SSgt. Jack H. Gouge, and Pfc Barry M. Mitchell, both with 232.

Fire Sleuths Teach MP's On Foul Play

Are you perplexed with a dilapidated old car that you owe a lot of money on? One that a very competent mechanic has just informed you is literally falling apart at the seams? Would putting it back into running condition cost you a far greater amount than the car is worth?

If this is the case, take some sound advice: pay the car off, have it fixed and admit that you bought a lemon under ridiculous conditions. Don't do like so many people have tried to do and burn the thing up in hopes the insurance company will pay for the loss.

This is a rarity and what makes it so are people like A. T. Moore Jr., North Carolina State Fire Insurance Investigator, and Louis Reineri Jr., Special Agent for the National Automobile Theft Bureau.

The investigators combined years of training and experience to give an expert lecture-demonstration Sept. 1, at the Precision Auto Parts lot, on Highway 17, Jacksonville.

Thirty members of the Camp Lejeune Military Police and Criminal Investigation Department attended the lecture and demonstration.

Mr. Reineri lectured on what to look for at the scene of a burned car that would suggest foul play, covering everything from financial records of the owner to mechanical condition of the car before and after the fire.

Immediately following the lecture two cars were set afire with gasoline and inspected for tell-tale evidence involved in a fraudulent fire insurance collecting case.

Whoever says that all evidence can be safely disposed of in flames must be completely ignorant to the workings of Fire Insurance Investigators. Their investigation covers everything.

The moral of this story is, if you're thinking like an arsonist as a way out of a bum car situation, perish the thought, because you'll be jumping right out of the pot into the fire.

Toys Wanted

Toys for children who might not otherwise receive them this Christmas are needed. Anyone having broken or unused toys and desiring to donate them is requested to call GySgt. Joseph Levasseur at 7-5772. Sergeant Levasseur will repair these toys and see that they are distributed to needy children.

SMOKE AND FLAME—Even smoke and flame will not destroy all the evidence of arson. Tom Moore, North Carolina Insurance Commission, and Louis Reineri, National Auto Theft, proved this by burning a car here and giving a lecture on proper investigation procedures at the scene of the fire. About 30 members of the Camp Camp Lejeune Military Police and Criminal Investigation sections attended the lecture last Thursday.

Hurricane Season Blowing Precautionary Steps Listed

By following these simple directions, Camp Lejeune Marines and their families can remain relatively safe from destructive wind and water forces of hurricanes: Listen to radio or television for official Weather Bureau hurricane reports. If you are told to evacuate, don't delay. Just get out and follow instructions, a minute could save your life. Don't run the risk of being marooned. Get away and stay away from low-lying land, beaches or other places likely to be swept by high waves and tides. Don't go outside during the storm. Stay indoors, preferably in a brick or concrete building.

All windows and shutters should be firmly secured when a hurricane is imminent.

Loose material and movable objects, such as boards, garbage cans, porch furniture and the like, should be placed where there is no danger of its being lifted or blown away. All such material should be placed inside a building.

Occupants of buildings should preferably stay in rooms on the leeward end of the building.

Awnings should be raised and tied back, if they cannot be removed entirely.

Only highly essential electrical appliances and the absolute minimum of lighting fixtures should be used during conditions one and two.

Fill bathtub, bottles and cooling utensils with water. Keep extra food (which does not require cooking) on hand. Be sure to have a flashlight or candles to use in the event of power failure.

Don't touch fallen wires. Report such damages to Base Maintenance.
