NO. 30

Maj. Gen. Luckey To Command Base

Corps Begins Analysis Of Major Billets

The Marine Corps is making a major study of enlisted billets to determine what rank should go with what job. Some 100 senior non-commissioned officer graduates of the billet analyst schools at Camp Lejeune and Camp Pendleton, Calif., are working with Headquarters planners in making the study.

They are studying the enlisted billets at major posts and commands throughout the Marine Corps. The results of their findings are to be reviewed locally, then sent on to Headquarters Marine Corps where they will be screened and evaluated by a board of field grade officers.

The study is designed to promote the Marine Corps with information to determine whether the scope of some billets should be upgraded or downgraded, and whether some billets should be left out.

The billet analysts are studying 37 job fields embracing 287 MOS's—about 1800 billets.

The work of the billet analysts is expected to be completed by the end of the year, and the results of the study correlated by February.

The results of the study will be reflected in the MOS Manual which hasn't seen a major revision in the last 12 years.

Involved in the study are eight factors to determine:

How much training, skill, experience and knowledge does a Marine require to do the job.

How much leadership does a Marine have to exercise in the job.

How much supervision the Marine is to give or receive.

How much concentration is involved.

How easily the Marine can get the job done, move from one job to another, how often he has to shift jobs, how much warning he gets before he does.

Whether the billet allows the Marine to make independent decisions.

Whether any special planning skills are involved.

Whether the billet requires a sense of economy and responsibility for material.

2,000 Organized Marine Reserves Complete Exercise

Organized Marine Corps Reserve attack units overran final objectives late yesterday afternoon bringing Operation WHIPSAW, the largest reserve air-ground exercise ever held here, to a close. Twenty Marine Corps Reserve units, consisting of more than 2,000 civilian Leathernecks, were supported throughout the three-day exercise by host units of the quad-command and the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point.

Maj. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, held overall responsibility for the exercise with Col. Sam W. Smith, officer in charge, Reserve Liaison Unit, acting as WHIPSAW's coordinator.

ITR Replaces Fire Damaged Combat Town

Construction began yesterday on a new "Combat Town" for First Infantry Training Regiment, replacing the old town which burned to the ground June 13. Members of the 8th Engr. Bn., Force Troops, assisted by ITR personnel and supervised by men of Base Maintenance, laid the first foundations of cinder blocks.

Plans call for nine permanent buildings, separated by two streets, in the new town. It will be constructed to best enable ITR personnel to simulate as realistically as possible an actual town under attack. Training in door-to-door and house-to-house fighting is the purpose of the area.

Materials for Combat Town are being taken from old buildings at Camp Geiger which have been surveyed and are now being razed. The tearing down and building projects will be taking place simultaneously.

Headquarters Assignment Ordered For General Wade

Maj. Gen. Robert B. Luckey, now commander of the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa, will relieve Maj. Gen. Sidney S. Wade as commanding general of the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, in October, it was announced this week. General Wade, who received the two stars of his new rank here yesterday, will report to Washington in October for duty at Headquarters, Marine Corps. His assignment there has not been disclosed.

Gen. Wade Receives 2nd Star, Honors

Honors for Maj. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, Base commander, were rendered in the Goettge Memorial Field House yesterday morning upon his promotion to the two-star rank. The Honor Guard was composed of members of Hq. Bn., Marine Corps Base, and the 2nd Division Drum and Bugle Corps.

General Wade was one of five Marine brigadier generals selected for promotion last week and approved by President Eisenhower. He has been assigned a date of rank of May 1, 1957.

Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, 2nd Division commander, administered the oath of office to General Wade after the reading of the promotion order. Mrs. Wade and General Berkeley then pinned the new star on General Wade, completing the ceremony.

Maj. Gen. Donald M. Weller will succeed General Luckey on Okinawa in September.

In other command changes, Brig. Gen. Lewis J. Fields will succeed Maj. Gen. Alpha L. Bowser as commanding general, Force Troops, FMFPac, and commanding general of the Marine Corps Base, 29 Palms, Calif., in September. General Bowser will be transferred to Marine Corps Headquarters in October.

Col. Paul J. Fontana, who was selected last week for promotion to brigadier general, will report to Headquarters in August. He is now chief of staff of the 1st Marine Brigade, Kaneohe, Hawaii.

This will be General Luckey's fifth time to be assigned duty at Camp Lejeune. He first served here with the 11th Marines in the early 1940's. From 1947-49 he served here with the 2nd Marine Division as Division Artillery Officer and commander of the Fourth and Tenth Marines. He returned to Camp Lejeune in 1951 for another two-year tour, during which he served as assistant chief of staff, G-3, and as chief of staff of the Division.

General Luckey's last tour of duty at Lejeune was from September, 1954, until June, 1955, as (See MAJ. GEN. LUCKEY, Page 10)

Federal Safety Council To Convene Here Next Week

Safety in all of its many aspects will be the topic of the day Friday, Aug. 5, as the Southeastern North Carolina Chapter of the Federal Safety Council convenes at Camp Lejeune. The main objective of the Federal Safety Council is to reduce and keep to a minimum manpower and monetary losses resulting from accidents. On the agenda for the meeting will be a brief business session at 9:30 a.m. in Bldg. 1403, a visit to the Duane Carter Traffic Presentation at the Camp Theater at 10 a.m., a luncheon, a general business meeting in the afternoon, and a conducted tour of Camp Lejeune. Military and civilian personnel at Camp Lejeune having direct safety responsibilities have been invited to attend the safety meeting.

The Federal Safety Council is the official Government Advisory Agency on safety. It acts as a clearing house for disseminating information and data regarding accidents. It maintains and administers a comprehensive safety program including all responsibilities, functions and activities of the Federal agencies affiliated with it.

Accidents have cost the United States many thousands of dollars. The Safety Council gives all assistance possible to the Federal departments and agencies in expanding (See SAFETY COUNCIL, Page 2)

ULTIMATE GOAL—Close air support is illustrated as Marine Reserve infantrymen, backed up by low-flying Marine Reserve aircraft, rush to the "attack."

THOMAS J. BELT JR.

DANIEL F. FIELD

D. F. Field, T. J. Belt Jr. Promoted To Lieutenant Colonel At Second Division

Two decorated officers were promoted to lieutenant colonel last week in the 2nd Division, Lt. Col. Daniel F. Field, S-4 Officer, Eighth Marines, and Lt. Col. Thomas J. Belt Jr., assistant Division Supply Officer. Colonel Belt is a veteran of both World War II and Korea. He was awarded the Silver Star for a pre-invasion sub patrol of Shortland Island in September, 1943, and the Purple Heart for wounds received on Guam in June of 1944. He was also awarded the Navy Commendation Ribbon with Combat "V" during the Korean War. Before assuming his present duties as the Assistant Division Supply Officer, Lt. Col. Belt served as the Reserve Liaison Officer and Assistant G-4 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

Lt. Col. Daniel F. Field also holds the Navy Commendation Ribbon with Pendant and Combat "V", awarded during the Saipan-Tinian operations in the Marianas Islands. In May of 1951, while commanding an infantry company on the Central Front in Korea, he was wounded and hospitalized. Returning again to the lines, he was wounded a second time and returned to the United States for treatment.

Both officers are former enlisted men. Lt. Col. Field was commissioned in November, 1943, while serving as a Drill Instructor at Parris Island. Lt. Col. Belt received a field commission while serving as a sergeant on Guadalcanal in December, 1943.

Here's the Answer

This year Freedoms Foundation again is offering awards as high as $1,000 for the best letters on the subject "My Vote—Freedom's Privilege." It's a big and timely subject; you shouldn't have any trouble in finding 500 well-chosen words to tell how you feel about it. The deadline is Nov. 1—the address, Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa.

RIFLE WINNER—Sgt. Robert F. Alexander, left, Co., 3rd Bn., Tenth Marines, is presented a Leatherneck Magazine award of a Winchester rifle by 2nd Division commander, Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley at Camp Lejeune July 19.

PRESENT ARMS—Col. Winfield S. Haltom Jr., right, receives the colors of 2nd Service Bn., 2nd Division, from Col. K. E. Martin. Colonel Haltom relieved Colonel Martin at ceremonies held at Camp Lejeune on July 15.

WHO WAS THAT LADY?

Tony Curtis, who plays a young assistant professor of chemistry, and playboy Dean Martin star in this highly entertaining comedy. Curtis plays Janet Leigh, who suspects her husband of being untrue. (115 min.)

HOME FROM THE HILL

Against the lush background of the Texas countryside and the small town which is the domain of Capt. Wade Hummelt, is played the story of a "big man" and his wife who have never lived together as husband and wife almost since their marriage. Stars are Robert Mitchum and Eleanor Parker. (150 min., color)

ALIAS JESSE JAMES

Bob Hope as a bungling insurance man is just about out of a job when he bumps into a desperado, a desperado representing himself as Mr. T. J. James, and sells him a $100,000 life insurance policy. When Hope finds out Corey is really Jesse James, notorious outlaw, the fun begins. (104 min., color)

Dodgers Tie Pirates During Lejeune Boys League Race

In this week's Boys League action, the Braves of the Major League held undisputed first place after downing the Pirates, 5-2, but settled for a tie for the lead spot as they fell prey to the Dodgers Saturday, 5-2. During other action, the Pirates defeated the Cardinals, 9-5; the Cardinals upset the Cubs, 6-1; the Cubs edged the Giants, 5-4, and the Dodgers beat the Cardinals, 4-1.

The Dodgers, picking up two wins during the week, moved into second place over the Cardinals who were followed by the Cubs and the Pirates respectively.

The Giants battled the Dodgers to a 7-7 deadlock, last Monday and the contest will be played off as part of a double-header this Saturday.

Speeding towards the end of the season the Braves upset the Pirates or the League lead, 5-2 behind the four-hit pitching of J. Hegquist. Braves receiver Buddy Byrd slammed a two-out two-run homer in the first inning to send his team into a two run lead which the Pirates could not overtake.

Saturday saw the Dodgers blast the Braves, 5-2 to throw the Major League into a tie as the final week of play approaches. Don Denbeyer hurled six hit ball in getting credit for the victory and blasted his fifth home run of the season to aid his own cause.

The fourth place Cubs, spotted the Giants four runs in the first inning and bounced back to defeat the last place club 5-4. Rex Woodridge slammed his fifth and sixth home runs to lead a nine hit attack against the cellar dwellers.

Playing before one of the largest crowds viewing a single game the Dodgers swept the Cardinals, 4-1 behind the three-hit chucking of Tommy Wander and took over third place in the league race. Kelley of the Cardinals hurled four hit ball and suffered the loss.

There will be a field meet Saturday with all team players participating. The meet will be followed by presentation of team trophies and patches and a hot dog picnic.

John McKeon spaced five hits evenly while striking out ten Orioles batters as the Tigers upped the league leading birds, 5-4. Aurrin who suffered the loss gave up five runs on five hits while teammates committed one miscue.

Second place Indians walloped the Athletics, 11-4, with Mihalik hurling four-hit ball being credited with the victory, while the Athletics bounced back to swamp the Tigers 12-4. Praetow who had lost to the Indians got credit for the win over the Tigers, while J. Fox took the loss.

The Indians taking advantage of three Tiger errors scored a 12-0 shutout over the third place club. B. Fox who homered during the game allowed only one hit in collecting the win. Hunt who catches Fox during the games also belted a circuit blast.

Division Nine Wins Annual Softball Title

Headquarters Bn., 2nd Division, edged Marine Corps Supply School, 7-6, in a thrill-packed climax to win the 1960 Quad-Command Softball title last week.

Moving undefeated into the top slot of the winners' bracket, the Division team met Supply School, who after one loss had fought its way into the top of the losers' bracket.

In one of the most exciting games of the tournament, the Supplymen nipped Service Battalion, 1-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Paul Parker. Lynn Larriek with a hit allowed only two hits, one being a game-winning homer by third baseman Stan Smith.

During the final game, Headquarters Battalion got to Supply Schools' starting hurler, Les Jacobs, for two runs in the first frame. Supply Schools overtook the two-run lead and went into the lead, 4-2. With runners on second and third, Supplyman Al Quinn scored a two-run double to give the Schools a commanding 6-4 edge over the Division nine, which had earlier picked up two runs. Parker was again called upon to stop a rally, but the Supply Schools' receiver dropped the ball, allowing two runs to score, after he had struck out the third batter. In the seventh frame, with two away, Parker served a home run ball to Olson, which gave the Division the victory and the championship.

Lejeune Skeet Team Shows Promise At Spartanburg; Now Ready For World Event

After their impressive shooting during the North Carolina Skeet Championships, held here last month, and the Great Cotton Open and South Carolina State Shoot at Spartanburg, S. C., the five-man Camp Lejeune skeet team is ready for the World Military Invitational Shoot July 29 and 30. The team, consisting of CWO Tom Eley, Cmdr. Bob Leopold, TSgt. Clyde Hicks, Maj. George M. Faser and SSgt. R. M. Roberts, will travel to the Princess Anne Country Club in Lynnhaven, Va., where they will participate in the Invitational Shoot and the 1960 World Championships July 31 through Aug. 6.

During the Spartanburg Match, Phillip Carr, a retired Marine master sergeant from Clyde, N. C., survived a dramatic seven-man shoot-off, to win the All-Gauge championship in the 12th annual Great Cotton States Open Skeet Championships which ended Saturday, July 16.

Carr blasted 75 straight birds in the shootoff after he and six other crack marksmen broke 100 straight targets in an unprecedented assault on the elusive clay pigeons.

Lejeune shooter Tom Eley, who was among the seven perfect shots, was eliminated on the initial round of the shootoff.

Lejeune's five-man team shot a total of 485 for the team championship. The same five men are those who will represent Camp Lejeune in the World Event.

Continuing with local shooters, Ken Betzner competing with 32 other shooters shot an 84/100 for the class "C" title. In the 28 gauge event it was Metzner with a 94/100 for the "C" class title.

Tom Eley, among 40 shooters in the .20 gauge event, took "B" class with 98/100 while it was Metzner again in "C" class with 93/100.

In the .12 gauge event Tom Eley, after a seven-way shootoff all having 100/100 took class "A" honors with a second perfect score. Metzner picked up his fourth victory in "B" class, while Jeff Eley won the novice award with 89/100.

Quad Teams To Battle For Baseball Title

The Camp Lejeune Intramural Baseball Championships are scheduled to get underway Aug. 15, following the All-Marine Championships. The five-day event will see the winners and runner-up teams from the Quad-Command vieing for the Base title.

All games will be double-headers and will be played at 4:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. at Agganis Field. There will be a double-elimination tournament with the winning teams receiving appropriate trophies.

MCB Representatives

Second Force Service Regiment and Headquarters Battalion will represent Marine Corps Base during the annual event. The servicemen won the Base intramural title after defeating Infantry Training Regiment, 6-5, last week.

Also competing in the classic event will be two teams each from the 2nd Division, Force Troops and the Air Facility at New River.

Bulletin

A meeting has been scheduled by the Staff NCO bowlers for the purpose of organizing the Fall-Winter bowling league. The meeting will take place at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 3, at the Hadnot Point Staff Club.

Those who cannot attend the meeting are requested to call Dom Anzilotti, league secretary, 7-3723, to reserve a spot in the league.

Notice

Because there will be no bus service for Kindergarten children this fall from Midway Park to Paradise Point, notices will be attached to the park's rental statements on the first of next month. Residents are reminded that the attached forms are used only as a survey, not as enrollment forms, but as approvals or registration slips. It is requested that these forms be immediately returned to the rental office.

Nursery Available At Midway Park Center

Available to all military and civilian personnel connected with Camp Lejeune, the Midway Park Nursery Service, open 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, accommodates up to 35 children at one time. As Supervisor-in-Charge, Mrs. James E. Herndon would like to encourage as many mothers as are interested to use this facility.

As the present registration is not exceeding its limit.

Located at the Park Community Center and under the Base Nursery, the service has sturdy, up-to-date equipment for both outdoor and indoor recreation. A high-powered television set and an air-conditioner are installed in the main sitting room. Modern lavatory facilities are also located in the same wing of the building, bath included.

For mothers desiring to use the nursery for more than the hourly service, two meals are served. With their new, modern kitchen designed to serve large numbers of people, both breakfast and lunch are provided with maximum efficiency and minimum cooking time.

Comfortable sleeping quarters are also available at the nursery. Mrs. Herndon reports at present 25

Group Makes Plans For 'Family Picnic'

A large turnout is hoped for by the members of Group I as they make program arrangements for their "Family Picnic" to be held Monday, August 15, beginning at 5:30 p.m. Setting for the picnic will be the recreational area behind the Central Post Exchange. The women are asking that each family bring its own picnic lunch basket to the area. Ice cream and beverages for children and adults will be on sale at the picnic.

The feature attraction for the evening will be pony rides for the children attending, through the courtesy of Col. and Mrs. R. J. Battered Jr. Facilities for softball, volleyball and basketball will also be available for the guests. Ladies of the group would like to remind those planning to come that there will be a small charge for the pony rides. These proceeds, together with the proceeds from the sale of refreshments will go into the group's treasury, to help launch their fall activity program.

All Group I-members and potential members are now being contacted by telephone regarding this event. It is requested that women who have not yet been contacted should call one of the following ladies for details: Mrs. M. Sophos, Jax 3890; Mrs. C. F. McKiever, 6-6137; or Mrs. D. Horn, Jax 5135.

Japanese Pageantry Highlights Club Tea

With a background of nearly 50 ornamental pieces of the Far East, the Enlisted Men's Wives Club, Midway Park, lent an enchanting spirit to last week's meeting when they featured their big event for the month, a "Japanese Tea Party." Over 25 women from the park were on hand to discuss, admire,

Welcome Coffee For 1960-61 Members Starts Group's Year

With the launching of another social year close at hand for the Officers Wives Club, the individual groups are organizing and pre-planning their respective group activities calendars.

For a light, informal beginning, Group III would like to encourage all their members to attend the coming "Welcome Back" coffee, Wednesday, August 3, 10:30 a.m. in the River Room, Officers' Club, both for ladies who are already active with the group and those newly arrived at Camp Lejeune. Even though this first meeting will be held mainly for the purpose of acquainting the members, plans will be discussed as to the future business programs.

The $3 yearly dues will be collected at the coffee by Mrs. H. R. Kurth Jr., treasurer. Most members will have been contacted personally by this time, but in case all personnel are not notified by telephone, they are asked to contact the group's hospitality chairman, Mrs. M. R. Williams, at base extension 6-6444. Mrs. Williams will then place the names on the mailing list for receiving a monthly copy of the group's newsletter. It was announced that the first newsletter will be sent out in August.

Make Sitting Service reservations by calling 6-6723 at least 24 hours in advance.

Staff Wives Formalize Executive Election At Ceremonial Installation Buffet Dinner

As a follow-up to the Camp Lejeune Staff NCO Wives Club's informal election of officers July 7, the ladies formalized the ceremony at an investiture last Thursday evening. Held in the Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club, five major officers received honors as they were installed during a buffet dinner.

The speaker for the evening was Chaplain W. S. Palmer, assistant chaplain, Marine Corps Base. Chaplain Palmer stressed the wear and use the native art brought and displayed by one of the club members, Mrs. Paul Amsler. Mrs. Amsler, or Yoko, as she is better known, was born and raised near Ikenobo, Japan, where she attended several schools in flower arrangement. Having these items in her possession since leaving her native land, Yoko puts her knowledge and love for Japan to use both at home and at social gatherings. She is admirably eager to make known the customs, dress, mannerisms, tastes in food, holidays, industries, educational system and traditions of her country.

During this meeting, Yoko and another well-versed woman on Japan, Mrs. Carl James Alviar, also a resident of Midway Park, demonstrated the articles used during a typical "tea house" celebration. Some of the art included serving bowls, hand-made pipes, "hanahuda" playing cards, delicately carved smoking pipes, 15 vividly styled and colored kimonos, paintings, scarves, sculpture and several types of intricately made utensils.

Following the demonstration lecture, Yoko entertained the women with a song, "China Night."

Informative Talks

Marines from the Division Re-enlistment Office are available at the Knox Trailer Park Canteen every Monday between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. to answer any questions park dependents may have about career benefits. Wives of the trailer park are invited to attend the conferences and learn more about pay, insurance, fringe benefits, etc.

importance of the Wives Club's life to their husband's military life on the Base. His theme dealt with the unselfish attitude the women form toward giving their time to closer relationship, harmony, and military ideas and habits which wives of Marines and all servicemen should possess.

Installed to the presidency was Mrs. Robert Kristoff, who has been a member of the club since November, 1959. Mrs. Kristoff's home is in Akron, Ohio, where she attended Atwater High School. Upon graduation, she was enrolled at Billy Tilton School of Modeling, Cleveland, Ohio. Before marriage, Mrs. Kristoff first became involved in the Marine Corps when she was chosen Marine Reserve Queen in Akron. She is the mother of three children.

Taking over the vice-presidency was Mrs. Chester Baldyga. She comes from Rhode Island and has been a member of the Staff Wives Club since August, 1958. Among the outstanding work for which Mrs. Baldyga has been commended, she has been actively engaged in Navy Relief for the past year, serving as chairman. She and her husband have one child.

The remaining three members of the new board are Mrs. John Vegass, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Buess, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Berwin Jenkins, treasurer.

Two-Bedroom Terrace Units To Get Porch

Construction began Monday on screened-in porches for all two-bedroom units in Tarawa Terrace I and II. The project began on East and West Peleliu and completion is contemplated during the fall of 1951.

The porches will be approximately 10x15 feet and built onto the living room. A utility room approximately 4x6 feet will be installed in one corner of the porch. Latches will be installed on the utility rooms, however, and occupants must furnish their own padlocks.

Mr. W. F. Miller, project supervisor, said that television antennas will be moved by the carpenters, however, maintenance cannot be responsible for the antenna. House-holders are urged to turn their antenna, if they have poor reception after they have been moved. Tenants are requested to move fences that are in the way of the porch to speed up construction.

Tenants are also requested not to call maintenance inquiring about a porch. Two-bedroom units only will have the new porch. And work is being done as fast as possible.

The carpenters working on the porches will not do routine maintenance to the house. Requests for this routine work must be placed through the maintenance office as usual.

Division, Base, Force Troops Delegates Selected For Fifth Annual Symposium

A representative from each of the three major Camp Lejeune commands has been selected to attend the 5th Annual Staff NCO Symposium at Camp Pendleton, August 14-20. The representatives are: Marine Corps Base, Sgt. Maj. H. A. Stoneburner, regimental sergeant major of 2nd FSR; 2nd Division, Sgt. Maj. B. F. Dutton, Sixth Marines sergeant major; and Force Troops, Sgt. Maj. R. C. Gray, sergeant major of the 8th Motor Transport Battalion.

Reserve Pilots Training With HMR(L) - 263

The squadron, under its new commander, Maj. J. A. Dorsey who relieved Lt. Col. J. E. Hansen this month, had just returned from NAS Oceana after the first in a series of ten-day exercises under their new commander.

The ten-day exercises consist of familiarization flights and orientation lectures for Marine Corps Reserve Units and Navy Midshipmen.

The squadron topped-off its training by making an amphibious assault spearheaded by the MAG's Pathfinder element. The highly versatile "helos" from MAG-26 ably demonstrated the Marine Corps' "vertical envelopment" theory during the assault. Flight after flight of troops were off-loaded on the beach at Oceana.

Sgt. Maj. Harry A. Stoneburner enlisted in the Marine Corps in March, 1940, and saw World War II action in Guadalcanal, Guam and Okinawa. After tours of recruiting duty in Arizona and California, he again went into combat in Korea, taking part in the 1950 Inchon landing.

From 1951 until coming to Camp Lejeune to assume his present assignment in 1959, Sergeant Stoneburner served as an instructor in the Artillery School, Camp Del Mar; with the Enlisted Detail Section, Headquarters Marine Corps; and as sergeant major of the Marine Barracks, Naval Base, Pearl Harbor.

Sgt. Maj. Dutton joined the Marines in 1927 and fought shortly afterwards in the campaign for Nicaragua. During World War II, he served with the 4th Division in the Kwajalein, Saipan, Tinian and Iwo Jima campaigns. He was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for gallantry during the battle for Iwo Jima. His last duty station before coming to Camp Lejeune in 1959 was as sergeant major of the Marine Barracks, Naval Base, Newport, R. I.

Sgt. Maj. Gray, who has been the 8th Motor Transport sergeant major since Feb. 1, 1960, first enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1940. He served with the 1st Raider Battalion in Tulagi, Guadalcanal and New Georgia. From 1951-1952, he was again in combat, this time with the First Marines in Korea. He reported to Camp Lejeune from a two-year tour as sergeant major of the 2nd Bn., Third Marines, in Okinawa.

FAG, Engineer Bn. Get New Commanders

Two of Force Troops' largest units have had a change of commanders. Col. R. D. Wright, former commanding officer of the Eighth Engineer Battalion, has taken command of the Second Field Artillery Group, and Lt. Col. W. L. Batchelor has become commander of the 8th Engineer Battalion. Maj. J. G. Fox, interim 2nd FAG commander, has reassumed his former position as executive officer at 2nd FAG.

Colonel Wright has been at Camp Lejeune for the past 24 months. During this time he has been commanding officer of the 8th Engineers. Prior to his tour here he spent two years at Newport, R. I., at the Staff Naval War College.

Colonel Batchelor has been at Camp Lejeune since April, 1958, serving as the commanding officer of H&S Bn., 2nd Force Service Regiment. A tour of duty in the Pacific preceded his arrival here.

The 8th Engineer change of command ceremony was held on the Camp Parade Ground last Friday, and the 2nd FAG ceremony took place Monday in front of Bldg. 13, 2nd FAG headquarters.

WAVES Marine 18th Birthday This Saturday

The women of the Navy, the WAVES, will celebrate at posts throughout the world the 18th anniversary of their corps this Saturday, July 30. Of the 50 members of the WAVES; Camp Lejeune is the home of 20, all of them working as corpswives, the U. S. Naval Hospital and Base Dispensary, Bldg. 15.

Women were accepted into the Navy as early as 1917, when there were approximately 12,000 women "yeomanettes." These women served for the most part as clerical stenographers, typists and telephone operators.

During World War II, it became necessary to again accept women into the Navy to relieve men of active combat duty. The WAVES was adopted, standing for "Women Accepted for Voluntary Emergency Service." WAVES became the officially recognized title of the women's branch of the U. S. Naval Reserve, established by act of Congress on July 30, 1942. They were integrated into the Regular Navy shortly after the end of World War II.

Just as today, WAVES have many billets during World War II. They served as aviation machine gunners, clerks and repairmen, waitresses, cooks, chauffeurs, clerks and librarians. They were stationed at several posts outside the continental United States.

World Premiere Of 'Hell To Eternity'

The World Premiere of Allied Artists' new movie, "Hell To Eternity," was held last night at the Center Theater in Jacksonville. Important personages from Hollywood, New York and Charlotte were on hand for the event, which was preceded by a full day of activities honoring Guy Gabaldon, the unsung 2nd Division World War II hero, who single-handedly captured more than 2,000 of the enemy on Saipan.

Personnel from the 2nd Battalion, Second Marines, dressed in combat uniforms as well as various NCO and infantry equipment were on display in the lobby. High ranking officers of all Lejeune commands were invited to attend the premiere.

kle Jr., which acted as the aggressor force for WHIPSAW. As the attacking units advanced they were constantly harassed by the Garden State aggressors hidden in pre-designated points of ambush.

Meeting the resistance head-on, the "friendly" forces had fought their way to Courthouse Bay and French Creek by Tuesday noon.

Shortly after 1 p.m., the south column boarded helicopters and were whisked to a landing zone on the Ragged Point peninsula. Meanwhile the northern column clambered into amphibian tractors to begin a 4½-mile trek by water to the Townpoint Landing.

From these points the two-pronged attack continued as the "friendly" forces overcame objectives and fought their way to a link-up point at the junction of Verona and Townpoint roads. The pincer-action completed, aggressor forces crumbled and Operation WHIPSAW came to a successful conclusion.

Greatest Test, The Presidency

We shouldn't for a minute let the traditional hoopla that marks the American political conventions blind us to the dead seriousness of the November election itself.

The victor faces the greatest test of a man's character in U. S. history.

Anything can happen between now and next January 20—indeed, it's a period that calls for unwavering national vigilance. But beyond it loom the enormous issues and problems the new President will inherit. The world has changed since Adm. George Dewey could say, "The office of the President is not so much a very difficult one to fill, his duties being mainly to execute the laws of Congress."

We as voters will select the man to fill that office. What measure of value will we employ in making up our minds? It is too grave a choice to be determined by features of personality alone. What counts are the main ideas—about national and international issues—and his program for safeguarding the free way of life we know.

Once we are truly aware of the vast responsibility the Presidency in the next four years entails, we can scarcely go to the polls in a carnival spirit. We can't cast our ballot because we prefer one man's chin or smile or phrase-making to another's.

From now to November let's never forget that our future as a nation hinges on the ability of the President we select to captain us through a fateful time in history—when the values we cherish most are under attack. His will be a job unenviable in the enormity of its pressures, but a proud one to fill if he takes it on with our non-partisan support.

Chaplain's Corner

Does Trouble Get You Down?

Man's reaction to disaster is always an interesting thing. In Acts 16 the Apostle Paul suffers disaster; it can be described by no less word. He has been teaching what he believed to be most important, a message of life which he believed that the others needed and, for these acts alone, he had been cast into prison.

The prison of Paul's day bore no great similarity to the comparatively sanitary and airy premises of even our small town jails of today. Such a dungeon as the one in which Paul was confined would normally be windowless; it could be expected to be dark and wet and sanitary facilities would probably be non-existent. It was in such a place that Paul was shackled to the wall for what he believed—with little hope of succor. This can only be described as disaster.

Disaster may come in different forms to us. Being confined to a musty dungeon is an adventure we are not apt to have. But disaster will come. Certainly we can learn at least two things from the Apostle Paul as we confront our own problems.

The first of these lessons should be commonplace . . . God does not leave us alone. He is with us not only when things go well, but in adversity—even in a dungeon. Instead of showing bitterness, we find Paul recognizing the presence of God by singing hymns.

The second thing to be learned from the Apostle Paul should be commonplace but isn't: God can use disaster to accomplish his purposes. A jailer can be converted to God's service because of what his prisoner represents. Disaster in our own lives can be as it was with Paul, the building block on which we erect a new house of faith, through which we come to a new understanding of our God and His will for us.

Disaster never needs to be complete; it can and should lead to a new and better understanding of life . . . Don't let trouble get you down.

—Edward H. Kicklighter, Division Chaplain.

It's In The Bag

If You Ask Me:

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE NEW STAFF NCO FITNESS REPORT POLICY?

ACT. SSGT. CONRAD HALL, H&HS, MCAF — Personally, I don't think the new system is fair to a staff NCO. I think we should be allowed to see our fitness reports so that we can make the necessary adjustments between report periods. The way I see it, the new system could affect our chances for advancement. The old system was best, I believe, because it gave you an overall picture of what you were doing.

ACT. MSGT. KENNETH W. DAVENPORT, H&HS, MCAF — I can only see disadvantages in the new system. If a staff NCO is not allowed to see his fitness report unless it is unsatisfactory, he might never know if he has fallen down in his responsibilities; and, if so, how to improve himself. What has been gained by not disclosing to a staff NCO his fitness report unless it contains unsatisfactory marks?

ACT. SSGT. JOHN L. WEBSTER, H&HS, MCAF — I heartily approve of it due to the fact it will give an unbiased opinion. I believe if a staff NCO sees his fitness report, he will find that his marks will be higher than he deserves. Overall, I believe that the policy will give the average staff NCO a better break toward advancing to a higher rank.

ACT. SSGT. RONALD G. LOGAN, H&HS, MAG-26, MCAF — I don't like it. I think a man has a right to see his fitness report. He'd never know whether he was doing his job properly, otherwise. If a man felt that he was fully qualified in his MOS and as a Marine, but was passed over for promotion, he might never know why. Under the old system, he could understand why he wasn't being promoted.

GYSGT EARL F. MARINKO, H&HS, MCAF — A man could be dropping lower and lower in efficiency and never know it, under the new system. Also, the new system could develop a tendency on the part of a man toward feeling insecure, because he would never know how he stood. What a man didn't know could hurt him if he thought he was doing a good job but was really being marked down.

ACT. SSGT. ALBERT J. BICKEL, H&HS, MAG-26, MCAF — In my opinion, the new system has both its good and bad points. Under the old system a staff NCO was appraised through the medium of his fitness report as an individual. But under the new system, he is compared with other staff NCO's of the same rank. I believe the new system is better, because it encourages a staff NCO to strive harder to improve himself.

Symposium Is Enlisted Voice

Next week three delegates representing the three major commands from Camp Lejeune: Marine Corps Base, 2nd Marine Division and Force Troops, will leave for Camp Pendleton where they will attend the Fifth Annual Staff NCO Symposium August 14 to 20.

Each year top non-commissioned officers of the Marine Corps meet to make recommendations on changes which they feel will be beneficial to the Corps.

Many pertinent topics will be discussed at the symposium, but the important thing is the symposium represents an opportunity for enlisted personnel of the Marine Corps to voice through their representatives, senior non-commissioned officers of the Marine Corps, their views regarding policies of immediate concern to them.

Nor is the annual symposium the only basis for enlisted representation in establishing Marine Corps policy. Preliminary symposiums were conducted at Marine Corps posts and stations for the purpose of discussing items to be put on the agenda. Attending these preliminary sessions were both junior and senior staff NCO's of the Marine Corps.

In the past, these symposiums have produced much favorable action for the Corps. There is every reason to believe the upcoming symposium and future symposiums will continue to do the same. Such a set-up cannot but help the Corps maintain its high position among the other branches of our Armed Forces.

In the briefcases of the three representatives from the major commands at Camp Lejeune will be the consensus of policy opinion of the Camp's enlisted personnel. This is an important commodity the three representatives will be carrying with them to Camp Pendleton, as it represents the contribution of Camp Lejeune's enlisted personnel toward strengthening the esprit of the Marine Corps, and re-emphasizing that Marine Corps efficiency is constantly keeping pace with these changing times.

Library News

New Books

THE GENERALSHIP OF ALEXANDER THE GREAT by Maj. Gen. J. F. C. Fuller with maps, battle diagrams, photographs and index is now available at the Central Library.

In a brief and meteoric life the greatest of all conquerors redirected the course of world history. He accomplished this feat with a small army—seldom exceeding 40,000 men—and a constellation of bold, revolutionary ideas about the conduct of war and the art of government. General Fuller is the first historian to analyze Alexander in terms of his generalship.

The book is divided into two parts. The first, entitled "The Record," is narrative history, commencing with the background of Alexander's era, and going on to describe the structure of the Macedonian army, Alexander's character and training, the human geography of the world of the fourth century before Christ, and finally the strategic narrative of the conquests. The author considers also the measures Alexander employed to achieve, at least temporarily, secure frontiers and imperial unification.

The second part, "The Analysis," takes up the great battles, from the Granicus to Hydaspes, the sieges, the small wars, and concludes with two final chapters on Alexander's statesmanship and generalship. The book culminates in an epilogue on the value of history, as misunderstood today as it was 3,000 years ago.

Alexander saw himself as the reconciler of mankind, an ambition of extreme boldness for his or any age: "His personal position was extraordinarily complex."

'Citizen Marines' Fight Sun, Humidity, Sudden Depo Mosquitoes, Aggressor Forces In 3-Day Trainingerc

The swampy forests of Camp Lejeune once again erupted with the frenzy of mock warfare this week as the all-reserve exercise, Operation WHIPSAW, got underway. A boiling sun, humidity in the high 90's and sudden downpours, combined with aggressor forces to pose formidable opposition for over 2,000 Marine Reservists from air and ground units in the eastern half of the United States.

WHIPSAW, the high water mark for both ground and air reserve training saw a total of 20 units take part. Marine Air-Ground Task Force 57, commanded by Col. V. M. Davis, was the friendly force in the problem.

The Task Force included: 5th Staff Group, Washington, D. C.; 5th Infantry Bn., Detroit, Mich.; 12th Infantry Bn., Pittsburgh, Pa.; 71st Rifle Company, Hamilton, Ohio; one battery from 1st 105mm Howitzer Bn., Richmond, Va.; detachment from 2nd Motor Transport Bn., Port Newark, N. J.; Detachment, ANGLICO, 2nd Communication Support Bn., Chicago, Ill.; 3rd Communication Co., Rochester, N. Y.; 1st AmTrac Bn., Tampa, Fla.; 1st Tank Co., Tallahassee, Fla.; 4th Engineer Co., South Charleston, W. Va.; Marine Air Reserve Groups Seven, Thirteen and Twenty from Washington, D. C., Grosse Ile, Mich., and Norfolk, Va., respectively; VMA-236, Anacostia, D. C., and VMA-241, Minneapolis, Minn.

The task of compelling the friendly forces to employ their best training to repel the aggressors fell to the 68th Rifle Co. of Camden, N. J. The Camden unit worked with the 2nd Provisional Aggressor Co., Force Troops.

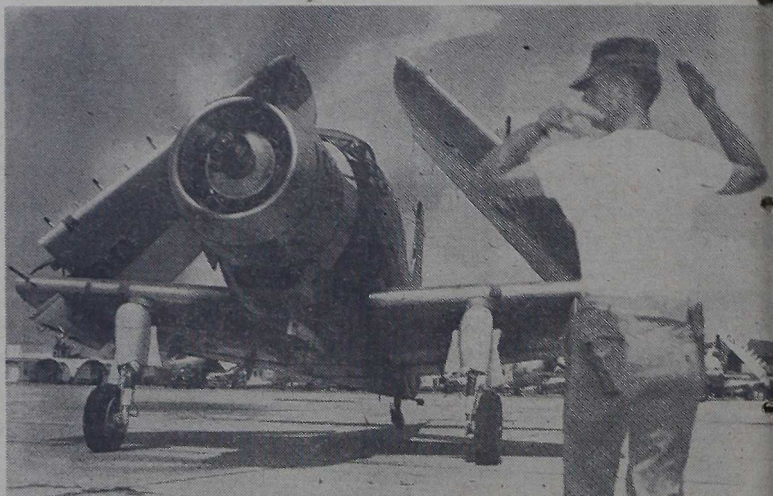

WHIPSAW opened with simulated naval gunfire and close air support aircraft first pulverizing the objective area a few hundred yards inland from Onslow Beach near the beach road. Mythical echoes from the barrage had barely subsided when whirring blades of helicopters sliced the humid air to drop into the landing zone to off-load their eager cargo. While this heli-borne assault by an element of BLT-12 was happening, in an adjacent zone, two companies of BLT-5 were effecting a juncture for a mechanized motor assault on the French Creek area.

Overall mission of WHIPSAW was to seize, occupy and defend a lodgement in the New River area in order to destroy aggressor forces, deny the enemy use of the communications facility near Verona and establish a base from which to launch further operations.

The Camden agreed to make the friendly fight for every inch of ground won. Barbed entanglements and other obstacles obstructed the vance of the northern lifted assault troops. On

Staff Kegler Prepares For ABC Tourney

Act. SSgt. Paul W. Vasko Jr., a Camp Lejeune Marine from Bayonne, N. J., took top individual honors and set a new record for the Hadnot Point Staff Club Bowling Alley, in the Staff NCO's summer bowling league. The league's banquet was held at the Staff Club July 16.

Bowling with the Falstaff Keglers, Paul earned individual honors for high average, high game and high series. The Bayonne pin spiler led the summer league with an average of 197, and topped high series by shooting a 697. The same night of his high series he set a new game high for the alleys by knocking out a 279 in his third game. The first and second game scores were 194 and 224, respectively.

Best Games

During the summer league, Vasko bowled 27 games out of 30 and had 12 games over the 200 mark. Six of his best over 200 were 222,

Top Kegler

Paul Vasko

223, 224, 226, 259, and 279. He had a total of 5,340 pins for the 27 games.

The score 279 seems to be the story of the Leatherneck's life for this is the second time in league competition of the 1959-1960 season that he has come up with this same score. He also has a 279 this year in open bowling.

In comparing the two 279's in league competition, he got his first 279 going seven strikes in a row, his eighth ball being a good hit left the four pin for a nine count and then spared and as the saying goes, "That's all she wrote"; for Paul went out with four more strikes. The second one came when Vasko missed in the first frame and only took a nine count to come back in the second frame, putting 11 big strikes together for another 279.

Sergeant Vasko is not an active bowler only at Lejeune. He is the current vice-president of the Eastern Carolina Traveling League and held a 193 average over the past season. He is the newly elected vice-president of the Jacksonville, N. C., Bowling Association.

Singles Champ

It is a known fact in this area that any time Vasko steps up to the return for his ball, he can be a very dangerous man, as he showed by copping the Jacksonville Men's Senior Singles Championship two times last year.

Sergeant Vasko went to Toledo, Ohio, this year for his first try in the ABC National Tournament. Entering in the singles, doubles, team events and for the nine games he ended up with a 190 average. When asked what his plans were about the next ABC Tournament the sergeant said, "I hope to be able to make the Detroit Tournament."

Locals Face Seven-Game Trip Before All-Marine Play

Rasing their season ledger to 59 wins against only 19 defeats, the Camp Lejeune baseball team left yesterday on their final road trip of the 1960 season. Traveling to Parris Island, the local nine will face the Devil Dogs in a three-game series to round out the year's play between the two teams. During the current season the Marines of Camp Lejeune swept seven victories out of nine contests from the Islanders, winning the East Coast All-Marine Championship and earning the right to host the All-Marine Classic at Harry Agganis Field, next month.

After leaving Parris Island the locals will travel to Georgia where they will close out their regular 1960 season with four games, two against the Signalers of Fort Gordon and two with the Gordon Provosts. Combining the Fort Gordon squads, the locals have faced the Soldiers seven times of which they have won five games while losing two.

Returning to Camp Lejeune the local nine will enjoy a one week break from diamond grind and will prepare to play in the All-Marine Classic on Aug. 9.

Camp Lejeune is scheduled to meet Hawaii in the All-Marine opener, while San Diego drew a bye and will face the loser of the initial contest the following day.

It has been said that a baseball manager would like to have his team split on the road and win the majority at home. This is exactly what the Camp Lejeune nine has managed to do up until this road trip.

Ft. Lee Dealt 8-0 Shut-Out By Haywood

Its getting to be a habit with you. This could very well have been the thought as the Camp Lejeune Marines defeated the Fort Lee Travelers last week for the 10th consecutive time this season, 11-0, behind the four-hit hurling of ace righthander Bill Haywood.

Notching his 17th victory of the year against only five setbacks, Haywood issued no bases-on-balls and struck out 10 as the locals swept their 57th victory against only 19 losses for the 1960 campaign.

Scoring their first season shut-out over the Soldiers, the Marines jumped on two Lee pitchers for one run in the second inning, four in the third and then added three in the sixth to end the scoring.

First baseman Hal Norton led a nine-hit attack, collecting three hits in five official trips to the plate, while shortstop Charlie Armstrong and Haywood chipped in with two safeties each.

Third baseman Jim Green, moving into the lead-off spot for centerfielder Cliff Simpson, who did not see action during the game, and catcher Hank Nichols rounded out the hitting spree with one hit apiece.

Utilizing three pinch-hitters in the late inning, the travelers were unable to dent the plate, with centerfielder Fay seeming to be the only member of the team able to figure Haywood out.

Fay collected two of the four safeties collected by the losers in three official trips to the plate.

While on the road playing 30 ball games the locals won 19 while losing 11. At Harry Agganis Field, the Marines playing 47 contests won a surprising 40 games while losing only eight.

MAG-26 Cops Second Place In Aqua Event

MCSC, ALBANY, Ga., July 23 — The Hawaii Marines walked off with their fourth team championship in five years Saturday, defeating a scrappy MAG-26 crew by six points in the three-day Fifth All-Marine Swimming and Diving Championships here.

New River, trying to bring the team title to the East Coast for the first time, pulled down eight of 15 first places and garnered enough points for seconds and thirds to hold a one-point edge on Hawaii, figuring only the top three spots. But Hawaii harvested enough points on fourth, fifth and sixth place strength to forge into the final unofficial team lead, 121 to 115.

Camp Pendleton, Calif., the defending team champion and only other team besides Hawaii ever to win this All-Marine event, finished third this year with 65 points. MCAS, El Toro, Calif., wound up fourth in the eight-team field with 42 points.

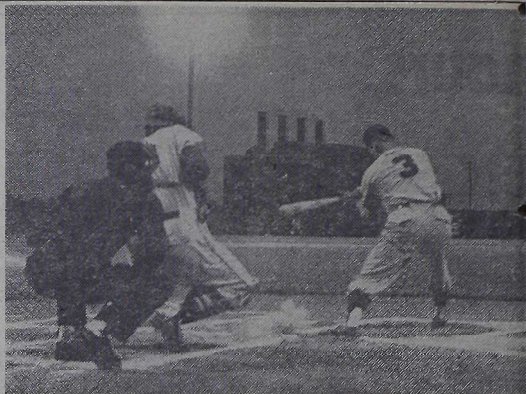

Sandy Gideonse, a helicopter pilot from the New River Air Facility, was the most outstanding swimmer of the meet, capturing three events and swimming on both of New River's winning relay teams.

Jim Von Dyl, Hawaii's ace, also turned in a sterling performance, setting one new record and winning two events.

Ernie Contreras, another helicopter pilot from New River, and Ned Meekins, an artillery officer from 29 Palms, Calif., pretty well divided up the diving awards. Meekings came from behind to upset defending champion Contreras on the 3-meter board. Then Contreras, who finished only third on the low board last year, set the field on its ear by winning the 1-meter competition in a near-run-away.

Gideonse, the "grandfather" of the 100-meter freestyle and 100-meter backstroke in the All-Marine at 25, took both of these events again this year, marking the fifth straight time he has captured these two crowns. He also added the 200-meter backstroke title to his belt and swam a leg for the winners on the 800-meter freestyle relay and the 400-meter medley relay.

Von Dyl, a 19-year-old native of Spokane, Wash., toured the 1,500-meter freestyle in a record smashing 21:54.1 to eclipse the old record by seven seconds while recording his second straight triumph in this long-distance AllMar event.

McPherson Handed Double Loss In Final Home Stand

Overcoming a two-run deficit during the late innings of the second game of a two-game set, the Marines avenged an earlier double loss by downing the Ft. McPherson nine, 8-1 and 4-2, last Thursday and Friday to successfully close out their regularly scheduled home games. After a seven-game road trip, the Lejeune nine will return to Agganis Field where they will host and participate in the 1960 All-Marine Baseball Championships beginning Aug. 9.

Notice

The Camp Lejeune Boys League will register boys between the ages of 9 (by September 1) to 13 (cannot be 14 before December 31, 1960) for the coming football season beginning 5 p.m., August 1. Boys must weigh 65 but not more than 110 on the date of registration besides meeting above age requirements.

Tryouts are expected to take place the week of August 15-19, with four teams being selected on Saturday, August 20. Teams will practice daily Monday through Friday from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

All persons desiring to assist in the officiating or coaching are urged to contact the league president, Warrant Officer Mahalik, at 0-1496, or the league secretary at 7-3321.

The opening day ceremony will be at 12:30 p.m., September 11. The schedule will consist of 12 games. The league furnishes all equipment with the exception of shoes. Tennis shoes or approved little league shoes will be authorized.

Back-to-back doubles by Hal Norton and Barry Fullerton pushed the Marines into a one-run lead during the first game of the series. The locals extended their lead to five runs in the fourth inning as Fullerton, who led the team in the hitting department, slammed a bases-loaded triple to score three runs, after Bud Simpson had earlier drove in a run.

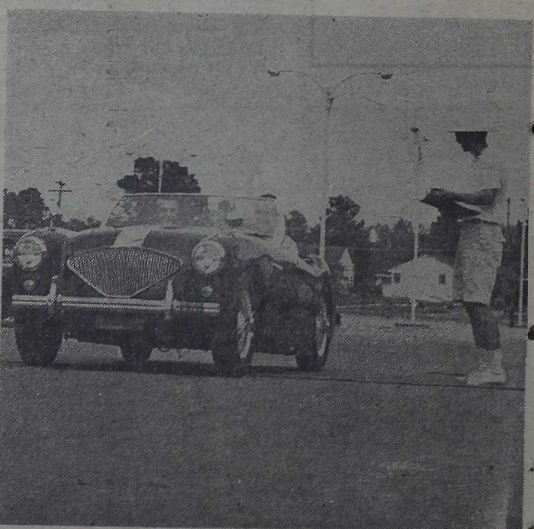

Charlie Bryan, who went the distance, ran into a bit of trouble in the fifth inning when he walked in a run, but settled down to hold the Colonels hitless for the remaining four frames.

Norton picked up his fifth home run of the season with one aboard in the sixth inning and Howie Heiden punched his eighth homer over the 365-foot marker to end the scoring.

Ace righthander Bill Haywood came on in relief of starter Frank Nichols to hurl hitless ball for five full frames and slammed a two-run double to start a seventh inning rally which saw the Marines score three runs to overtake a two-run deficit.

Haywood, a good hitting pitcher, picked up his 18th victory of the season against only five losses and stroked a booming two-base smash to tie the game at 2-all. Simpson followed with a double to score Haywood and send the locals into the lead.

Barry Fullerton put the game away with a towering solo drive over the left center field wall, his 10th of the year.

GLOBE Salutes 2nd Reconnaissance Battalion

Division 'Eyes And Ears' Maintain High Degree Of Physical, Mental Readiness

"Up the hill! Down the hill! We're the best . . . RECON!" With chants like the one above reverberating through the countryside the 2nd Reconnaissance Bn., 2nd Division goes about its daily routine.

Located in the Stone Bay sector of Camp Lejeune, the battalion has as its primary mission the gathering of intelligence and information that might be of value to an infantry commander. In gathering this information they must be as stealthy as possible.

Still a neophyte organization—it was formed here January 22, 1953—the battalion has mushroomed into its present three letter company strength. In addition, it includes in its organization a headquarters and service company.

As a secondary mission the battalion is constantly testing new equipment and improving the techniques of information gathering. To further this mission the rolls of the battalion carry the names of recon men attending various schools at military installations throughout the country. These students invariably are at the top of the class when diplomas are passed out. Ranger, mountain warfare, SCUBA (self-contained underwater breathing apparatus), and cold weather training schools are some of the types of schools attended by personnel of the battalion.

Every 2nd Division unit that leaves Camp Lejeune for training, either to the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean, or to Vieques, P. R., has its company of reconnaissance Marines. During actual training landings the Division landing force knows exactly what to expect when it hits the beach, thanks to the preliminary action of the "recon men." Usually working under the cover of darkness, the beach has been given a thorough probe so that the force commander knows where the "enemy" strong and weak points are.

Transportation is a vital problem to all units. The Recon Battalion is no different except that it utilizes more varied modes than most. Consequently, the problem is magnified. The variety of transportation used includes helicopters, rubber boats, submarines, sea-planes, destroyers, and the individual feet.

Physical fitness is stressed in the 2nd Recon Battalion to the point where it becomes routine for personnel to jog miles over the roughest terrain with no burden to the individual. At Stone Bay, everyone travels on the double. Units, striving for the peak in physical fitness, can be seen jogging about the training areas chanting the now famous slogans of the organization.

Weapons carried by recon personnel differ from those carried by other units in the Division. The very nature of their work decrees that a light weapon be carried. In addition to a knife, each member of the battalion is armed with a sub-machine gun. Depending on the specific mission, a liberal amount of grease paint camouflages the individual.

Known as the "eyes and ears" of the 2nd Division, the Reconnaissance Battalion maintains a high degree of readiness by constant training with other units of the Division. The present battalion commander is Lt. Col. W. S. Smith.

awarded another Bronze Star Medal (Army) for service in Tsingtao. In addition he has been awarded 16 citations commendations and campaign and service medals by the United States as well as receiving the Nicaraguan Medal of Merit and the Chinese Order of the Cloud and Banner.

General Luckey will be accompanied to Lejeune by his wife, the former Cary Walker of Vineyard Haven, Mass. They have a daughter, Laura, and two sons, Thomas and William.

Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade first came to Camp Lejeune as commanding general, Force Troops, FMF, Atlantic, on June 4, 1957. He was assigned an additional duty as commander of the Second Provisional Marine Force, FMF, Atlantic, in January, 1958, and took his force to the Mediterranean early that year.

General Wade served as commander of all American Land Forces in Lebanon during the crucial first weeks following the July 15, 1958, landing. He was relieved of that position by Army Maj. Gen. Paul D. Adams, but remained in command of all Marine forces in Lebanon throughout the operation.

He was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for "exceptionally meritorious service" during the Lebanon incident.

After leaving Lebanon Oct. 4, 1958, he came back to Camp Lejeune to take the post of assistant commander of the 2nd Division. He remained in that assignment until he became Marine Corps Base commander on July 1, 1959.

In 1918, when a French regiment was surrounded by the Germans in Belgium, U. S. Marine Corps Captain Francis P. Mulcahy dropped the first food from a plane to an isolated military unit. Mulcahy received the Distinguished Service Medal for the feat.

Force Troops commanding general.

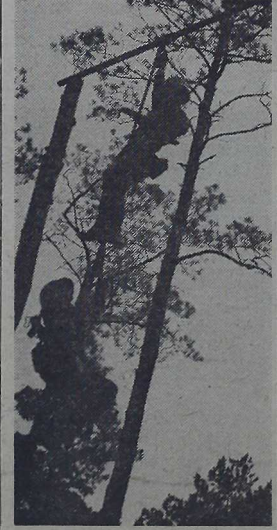

He participated in action in World War II on Guadalcanal, Cape Gloucester, Okinawa, and Guam and served in Tsingtao, China, during the surrender and repatriation of Japanese forces in that area.

General Luckey was commissioned a second lieutenant on Aug. 6, 1927 and, after completing Basic School at Philadelphia in February, 1928, sailed the following month for Nicaragua to serve on expeditionary duty with the 2nd Marine Brigade. He also served again in Nicaragua as commander of the Electoral Guard Detachment in the Department of Carazo while on detached duty from the Marine Detachment of the USS Rochester. Leaving the Rochester in February, 1932, he served briefly with the Marine Detachments aboard the USS Memphis and USS Fulton.

His peacetime overseas duty includes assignments with the Marine Detachment at the American Embassy in Peiping and with the 2nd Marine Brigade at Shanghai.

After his last tour of duty at Camp Lejeune, he reported to Headquarters Marine Corps in June, 1955, as Deputy Assistant Chief of Staff, G-3. In 1956 he began a year's assignment as Deputy Chief of Staff (Research and Development). In July, 1957, he became commanding general of Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, following which assignment he assumed his present command in the Far East in June, 1959. He was promoted to his present rank in November, 1956.

General Luckey won the Legion of Merit with Combat "V" on Okinawa after receiving the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" at Cape Gloucester. He was

Science Degree, Commission Available For Enlisted Men

A way is open for enlisted Marines, male or female, to get a college education in a scientific field and to receive a commission in the Marine Corps upon graduation from college. Applications for enrollment in the 1961 Navy Enlisted Scientific Education Program must be submitted via the unit commanding officer sometime between August 1 and November 1 of this year.

Any enlisted Marine on active duty is eligible for the program if he has completed recruit training or its equivalent by October 1 of this year, will be less than 26 on July 1 of next year, is a high school graduate, or has successfully passed a high school level GED test, has a GCT of not less than 125, will agree to reenlist or extend as necessary to have six years obligated service in the Regular Marine Corps upon assignment to college, is physically qualified, and is a citizen of the United States.

Commanding officers will interview each candidate and recommend only those whom they consider qualified to successfully complete college and become officers. They will forward the original only of a handwritten statement by the applicant of no more than one page stating the reasons why he desires to participate in the program, together with a report of medical examination, a report of medical history, and a high school and/or college transcript, to the Commandant of the Marine Corps (Code DPB).

Personnel will be selected for this program by a board of officers convened at Headquarters Marine Corps annually during March. Those selected will be informed by Headquarters Marine Corps and ordered to report to the Naval Preparatory School, Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md., or the Service School Command, Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., during June for approximately nine weeks duty under instruction in preparation for college. During this period, selectees will receive preliminary instruction in mathematics, physics, and English usage.

Upon completion of the preparatory school, candidates will be assigned to one of the participating institutions in their current rank with full pay, allowances, promotional opportunities, and normal leave. While at college, all candidates under the program will be carried on the rolls of Headquarters Battalion, Headquarters, U. S. Marine Corps, but will be under the jurisdiction of the commanding officer and professor of Naval Science of the NROTC unit at the college being attended.

Interested personnel are referred to Marine Corps Order 1560.15 for more details on the program.

Bloodmobile

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Camp Lejeune Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 9 and 10. Donations to the Bank assure all Lejeune Marines and their dependents of being able to receive blood from the Red Cross Blood Program in time of emergency.

Donors are requested to refrain from eating fatty or fried foods but should eat something light prior to donating. Unit quotas for donors are established in Base Bulletin 6530.

Duane Carter, '500' Racer, To Present Safety Program

Duane Carter, former driver in the Indianapolis "500" mile race, will present the nationally-known Champion Highway Safety Program at the Camp Theater Thursday and Friday, August 4 and 5. The 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. presentations Thursday will be reserved for members of the 2nd Division, and the 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. sessions Friday will be for Force Troops and Marine Corps Base.

In view of the seating capacity of the theater, it is necessary that each Marine Corps Base and Force Troops unit of battalion size notify the Base Safety Officer at 7-5725 or by memorandum giving the number of personnel and presentation desired on August 5. Division units will reserve quotas with the Division Safety Officer, 7-5533, who in turn will make arrangements with the Base Safety Officer.

The program features famous race drivers, such as Carter, who draw heavily from their racing experience to illustrate three basic points of safe driving—mental alertness, courtesy and good car condition. Their hard-hitting talk is accompanied by a 27-minute sound, color film made during the 1959 Indianapolis "500" to demonstrate safe driving points.

This unique approach to the serious problem of highway safety was developed five years ago to augment the work of driver education teachers in secondary schools throughout the country. Its acceptance on this level led to year-round scheduling with a military version being prepared in 1957. Since that time, the program has appeared before military audiences both in the United States and abroad.

Mr. Carter won national prominence through his driving skill, and in recounting his experiences he makes every safe driving point a living example of the right way to drive.

Mr. Carter has competed in the famed Indianapolis "500" ten times during his 25-year career.

HER LINES ARE BUSY—Jill St. John finds all the lines tied-up now that convention time is upon us but you can be sure that she will leave that telephone booth come November, at least long enough to vote. Why don't you join her and cast your ballot in the 1960 Presidential elections.

Voting Information For All Servicemen

RHODE ISLAND

Registration is not required of servicemen. Armed Forces personnel may receive absentee ballots by mailing the Federal Post Card Application (FPCA) to the Secretary of State in Providence any time. All ballots must be in prior to Dec. 5.

Voters must be 21 on date of election and meet residence requirement of one year in state and six months in town.

NEW YORK

Armed Forces personnel should apply by FPCA for both registration and the absentee ballot although registration is permanent in some places. The FPCA should be mailed to reach the Division for Servicemen's Voting, Office Secretary of State, Albany, before the 11th day prior to the election. Ballots must be in by noon the day before the election.

Voting age is 21 on date of election, and minimum residence is 1 year in state, 4 months in county, city or village and 30 days in election district.

WHEN IN DOUBT, SALUTE:

Rochester Reservist Called Lieutenant, Staff Sergeant

A lieutenant who joined the Corps before many of today's Marines were born becomes a staff sergeant for two weeks every summer. In Rochester, N. Y., his hometown, he holds both ranks at the same time. Frank W. Yodis is a lieutenant for the City of Rochester Fire Department and a staff sergeant in that city's Marine Corps Reserve unit, the 3rd Communications Company. The New York unit is currently undergoing two weeks' active duty training here.

Yodis joined the Marine reserves in May, 1925. Three months later he enlisted in the regular Marines and was shipped out to Parris Island for recruit training. From Parris Island he went aboard the USS Arkansas after completing Sea School at Portsmouth, Va.

In December, 1928, Yodis participated in the 2nd Nicaraguan campaign—flushing rebel bandits out of the jungle with a Browning automatic rifle, and guarding polls while free elections were held.

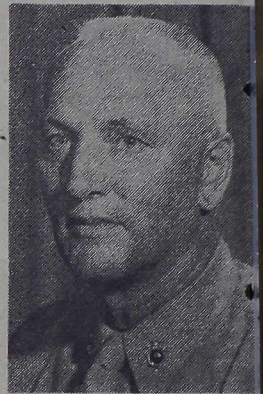

A year later, when the "Banana War" was over, he transferred as a guard, to the Naval Prison at Portsmouth, N. H., and while there he received his discharge.

Yodis joined the Marine Corps Reserve unit when he returned to Rochester in September, 1929. Except for another three-year cruise with the regulars during WWII, he hasn't missed a single drill night or summer training exercise.

Today with over 30 years' service—23 in the reserves and seven years as a regular—Yodis at 51 enjoys excellent health. He plans to stay in the reserves until he is 60, and longer if possible.

In addition to attending weekly drills at home, Yodis comes to Camp Lejeune every summer because, as he says, "It keeps me out of a rut and brings me into contact with young men with new ideas and boundless energy."

Although his education left much to be desired, Yodis said whatever success he enjoys has come through bitter experience and hard knocks. Quitting school in the eighth grade, he joined the

SERGEANT YODIS

Marine Corps at the age of 16.

As training aids NCO for the Rochester unit, Yodis now furnishes guidance, encouragement, and study materials to young Marines still in high school, or those taking MCI courses.

A few years ago, a discouraged youngster in the unit told Yodis he had not completed high school training. After a talk with Yodis, the youth reversed his decision and last May finished his freshman year at Annapolis.

From "banana war" to vertice envelopment, Frank W. Yodis, a man of many accomplishments; a lieutenant, a staff sergeant, a Marine, a city fireman and a veteran of the fiery campaign that has been partially obscured by the turmoil of three decades.

The characteristics he discovered in himself as a youth of 16 at Parris Island sustains him today at 51.

Division Career Advisory Board Holds First Meeting

The 2nd Division's Career Advisory Board held its first meeting last Wednesday to discuss the reenlistment program and career planning for members of the Division. The Board is headed by Col. Maxie R. Williams, Division G-1. Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, 2nd Division commander, spoke briefly to the Board and passed on a comment made by the Commandant at the recent General's Conference at Headquarters Marine Corps.

"We now have the best young NCOs in the Marine Corps in our history," the general said, referring to E-4s and E-5s. General Berkeley reaffirmed the importance of recommending only NCO calibre Marines for reenlistment.

The Career Advisory Board will meet monthly to discuss problems and recommend ways to insure that emphasis is on "quality not quantity" reenlistees. Maj. C. B. Thompson, Division Reenlistment Officer, discussed the career opportunities available for Marines and the ways to get this information to the man.

A number of changes have been made in Marine Corps reenlistment policies. For instance, a man no longer reenlists for a zone, but for East or West of the Mississippi, a school, technical training assignment or overseas duty station.

The primary function of the Board is to develop a program so that the Marine eligible for reenlistment receives all available information on career benefits. These include what schools he is eligible to attend, areas to which he can be transferred and the answers to any personal problems.
