Base Commander Selected For Major General

Assistant Secretary Of Navy Jackson To Arrive Friday

The Honorable Richard Jackson, Assistant Secretary of the Navy (Personnel and Reserve Forces) and Mrs. Jackson will arrive at Camp Lejeune tomorrow afternoon. The Secretary and Mrs. Jackson will land at the Marine Corps Air Facility at 3:30 p.m. and be escorted to Camp Lejeune where they will spend an informal weekend. Monday morning, Secretary and Mrs. Jackson will travel by helicopter to the MCAS, Cherry Point. At the Air Station they will view the operation and control of the air elements of Operation WHIPSAW from a simulated support carrier group and the task control center.

Secretary Jackson and his wife will visit the MCAF upon returning from Cherry Point Monday afternoon, and will be the guests of reserve Marine Air Control Squadron-19. They will return to Camp Lejeune Monday evening where they will be hosted at dinner by Maj. Gen. J. P. Berkeley, Commanding General, 2nd Division.

At noon Tuesday, the Secretary will have lunch in the field with MAGTF-57, the headquarters group of WHIPSAW. In the afternoon, he will observe a heli-lift operation and a tracked vehicle river crossing. He will receive a briefing by staff members of MAGTF-57 and will visit troop elements in the field. The Secretary and Mrs. Jackson will leave Camp Lejeune Wednesday morning.

A graduate of Dartmouth College and the Columbia University Law School, Secretary Jackson was admitted to the New York State Bar in 1938 and to the Massachusetts State Bar in 1946. He is presently a member of the American Bar Association, the Boston Bar Association, the U. S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts and the Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners.

In 1943, Secretary Jackson went to the Officers Training School, Quonset Point, Rhode Island. He served in the Navy until 1946, when he was released to inactive duty with the rank of lieutenant commander.

The Secretary and his wife, the former Miss Helen Pfeiffer of Brooklyn, N. Y., have two daughters, Deborah and Faith. They live at 78 Larchwood Drive, Cambridge, Mass.

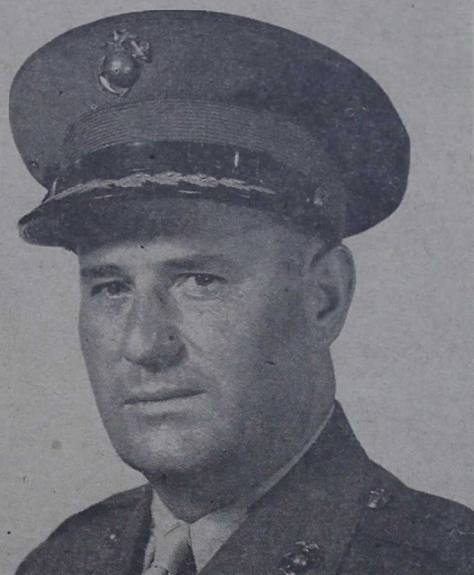

Midway Park Units To Get Face Lifting

Repainting has begun on the exteriors of 307 Midway Park housing units. Seventy-one duplex and 165 single units, all located in the 100 to 900 block of Butler Drive, will be affected by the painting operation.

The work will include cleaning and repainting of exterior wood trim, windows, doors, porches and metal louvers. The J. V. Fletcher Paint Company of Durham, N. C., submitted the lowest bid, $18,890.

Because the painting will all be exterior, there should be no inconvenience caused the residents of the affected units. Parents are cautioned of the potential dangers involved in children playing around the ladders of the painters.

Midway Park is an enlisted housing area for Camp Lejeune personnel in pay grades E-4 and below.

GENERAL WADE

General Wade Approved For 2-Star Rank

Sidney S. Wade, commanding general of the Marine Corps Base since July 1959, has been selected for promotion to major general, the Secretary of the Navy announced yesterday. General Wade was one of five Marine brigadier generals and eight colonels approved by President Eisenhower this week, for elevation in rank.

Announcement of General Wade's promotion came on the heels of his return to Camp Lejeune after a 10-day stay in Washington. He had been in the nation's capitol to attend a Marine Corps General Officers Conference and to sit on a selection board which recommended the eight colonels for promotion to brigadier general.

Pinning on the new two-star rank with General Wade will be Brig. Gens. Alpha L. Bowser, CG, Force Troops FMFPac and CG, MCB, 29 Palms; Avery R. Kier, CG, 1st MAW; James M. Masters Sr., Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, HQ, MC and Inspector General; and Ralph K. Rottet, CG, MCAS, Cherry Point and CG, MCAB's, East.

Selection of the new major generals was made by a board headed by Lt. Gen. Lewis B. "Chesty" Puller, USMC, (ret.).

Among the colonels named for promotion to Brigadier General was an officer well known to Camp Lejeune and the surrounding communities, Col. Joseph O. Butcher. He commanded the Marine Corps Supply Schools here until his transfer last February.

Other colonels selected were: Rathvon McC. Tompkins, John H. Masters, Paul J. Fontana, George S. Bowman Jr., Wood -B. Kyle, Lewis W. Walt and Joseph F. Dobbin. The Brigadier General selection board was headed by Lt. Gen. John C. Munn, USMC, assistant Commandant of the Marine Corps. General Wade first reported to

One-Way Parking Planned On Congested TT Streets

Plans are being made to introduce one-way parking on many of the streets of Tarawa Terrace, and to remove from the streets many of the Dempster Dumpsters which now pose a serious hazard to drivers and pedestrians. The Base Safety Director has released information that recommendations for the improvements of parking and driving facilities throughout Tarawa Terrace will be made as soon as the present off-street construction project is completed.

A thorough survey of the traffic congestion problem will be made by the Base Traffic Safety Specialist. The results will be submitted to the Safe Driving Council for approval prior to the installation of the new parking system.

Improvements

The proposed program of parking only on one side of the street will eliminate the poor vision and lack of maneuver area problems which now exist. Many of the Dempster Dumpsters will probably be moved into the off-street parking areas currently under construction and improvement.

September 10 is the estimated completion date of the parking pad construction. The Safety Director has again issued an appeal to parents of Tarawa Terrace to warn their children of the dangers involved in playing on or around the construction equipment.

Reserve Units Begin Assault Here Monday

More than 2,000 Organized Marine Reservists Monday will begin "Operation WHIPSAW"—modern air-mechanized-water-borne assault which could be the preparation for a role the Reserves might play in the event of a national emergency.

The giant maneuver, which begins at 1 p.m., is aimed at providing maximum integration of air and ground elements. It will provide the Reserve Marines with an opportunity to utilize specialized training in a realistic setting. For the first time, many veterans of World War II and Korea will be operating with the most modern equipment and concepts. There will be realistic survival tests in the field for ground troops and simulated combat missions for support aircraft.

Elements of all of the 12 units, six of battalion size, from the Eastern United States, had assembled here for the first time by July 17.

Bulletin

The board scheduled to meet in Washington, D. C. last week to select staff sergeants and acting gunnery sergeants for promotion to gunnery sergeant (E-7) has been postponed until October, Headquarters Marine Corps announced.

Meanwhile, the board to select Marines for promotion to staff sergeant (E-6), originally scheduled for October, has been postponed until January.

Purpose of the postponements, Headquarters said, is to provide adequate time for analysis of recent recommendations on enlisted promotion procedures.

Still due to meet in September, as originally planned, is the board to select Marines for promotion to the E-9 grades of sergeant major and master gunnery sergeant and to the E-8 grades of first sergeant and master sergeant.

ANOTHER CHARGE—Chaplain Robert G. Brown, 1st Battalion, Sixth Marines, checks his field kit to make sure he is ready for any emergency. Chaplain Brown, who reported to the 2nd Division last month, has served as an enlisted man in the Air Force, an officer in the Army, and now as a Navy chaplain with the Marine Corps.

Versatile Chaplain Joins 1st Battalion, 6th Marines

Ever try to put snow shoes on a mule? If you haven't and want to learn the results Chaplain Robert G. Brown of the 1st Battalion, 6th Marines is the man to see.

A versatile man who has served as an enlisted man in the Air Force, an officer in the Army, and now as a Navy chaplain with the Marine Corps, Lieutenant Brown reported to the 2nd Division at Camp Lejeune last month from Chaplain's School, Newport, R. I.

When questioned about unusual experiences during his various careers, Chaplain Brown told of serving with the Army's last mule pack platoon and being camped in the mountains for three months. Assigned the task of establishing a forward base during a training exercise, heavy snows prevented the mules from advancing. They set up camp and waited. Three months later they accomplished the assignment.

"We had plenty of 'C' rations but grew tired of them," Lt. Brown recalled. "One day we found a rattlesnake out of hibernation sunning himself on a rock. We caught it, cut it up and fried it. It was rather a treat at the time but I don't believe I'd like it again," he continued.

The most uncomfortable experience of his life, sleeping outside in 30 degree below zero cold, occurred during this same venture.

Chaplain Brown has favorable comment for all the services. He has fond memories of his flying days as a photographer in the Air Force and found the time spent in the great outdoors with the mules most enjoyable.

He said he expects his tour to be the most rewarding because "I genuinely committed. Christian makes a better Marine, therefore the chaplain is a valuable member of the military."

Although he has been in the Division little over a month, he has already found the day doesn't have enough hours. His schedule includes ministering to the men of the battalion and hospital visitation during duty hours. Evenings he visits at the Base Brig or consults with the families of his men. Sunday he holds services in one of the Base Chapels or preaches in one of the area churches.

Between his Air Force and Army tours, the chaplain graduated from the University of Denver with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

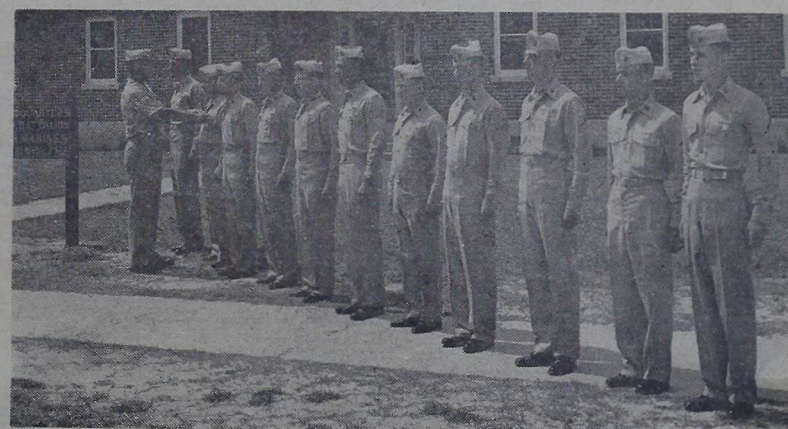

Following his Army release he entered the Coast Community College, Theological Seminary, Durango, and followed by a past Assembly Church.

Division Rifle Qualification Percentage Rises As Result Of Unit Firing System

Under the unit firing system being used at the Rifle Range, the requalification percentage for the 2nd Division has increased two per cent over last year's; in addition, more Marines have been qualified in a shorter time. In 1959, the Division had sent 5000 men to the range by September. So far this year, more than 5000 men have already fired.

Each battalion from the 2nd Division fires as an integral unit, at one time, with all members participating. The battalion furnishes its own coaches and the time devoted to "snapping in" and actual range firing is part of the regular battalion training schedule. There is continuous command supervision and control over the shooter at all times at all levels, from the commanding officer to the fire team leader.

Illustrative of the success achieved under unit command supervision is the record of the 2nd Battalion, Sixth Marines, which just completed firing a few days before they embarked for Vieques training. Of the regular infantry battalions which have completed firing so far this year, they have achieved the highest percentage of requalification. Firing 964 shooters, the battalion requalified 94.39 percent, compared to last year's 84 percent. This year the number of men firing "Expert" was doubled.

Comparison of the same 964 shooters of the 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines, with records for last year, reveals the following statistics:

	1959	1960
Number of shooters	964	964
Experts	96	195
Sharpshooters	230	294
Marksmen	492	431
Unqualified	144	64
Did not fire	0	0
Requalification pct.	84.85	94.39

Within the 2nd Bn., the highest company percentage went to Capt. K. J. Skipper's "G" Co. Firing 181 shooters, "G" Company had a percentage of 97.8. Led by Act. Sgt. Kenneth Hebert, the 1st Squad, 2nd Platoon of the company achieved the highest average score for a squad in the battalion, 214; with three Experts, five Sharpshooters, and four Marksmen comprising the 12 members.

Lt. Col. W. R. Lobell, commanding officer of the battalion, said the "unit firing" method not only permits closer supervision of training by the men's own officers and NCOs, but also, there being no range details or quotas, enables all personnel to participate fully, in normal sequence, in the unit tactical training cycle.

Base Photographic Laboratory Marks Eighteen Years Of Varied Assignments

Different people have different ideas of a photographer's duties. The Marine and his dependents see him taking their pictures for identification cards . . . the man needing an official portrait sees him behind a large studio camera . . . the passer-by at an accident sees him photographing damaged vehicles . . . the man in the field sees him following along on a mock attack or eating C-rations like everyone else.

But these are only a part of his duties. Every piece of film that is exposed has to be processed, the negative washed, dried and numbered, and the finished print completed and delivered to the requesting party.

The Base Photo Lab, located in Bldg. 27, was opened in the early 1940's to provide photographic coverage for all Base organizations. The primary objective is to pictorially record operations, training and other events to further accomplish the mission of Marine Corps Base and of the Marine Corps.

The lab maintains a duty photographer 24 hours a day including weekends and holidays. The duty photographer is available for traffic accidents, CID calls or any other emergency requiring a photographer that may arise.

The main work load is press releases either for the GLOBE, Fleet Hometown News or for release to civilian news media.

The identification section takes from 200-250 pictures per day, processing them within three days. Official assignments to date this year number 1,738, varying from two to three 4x5 prints from each negative to 40 8x10's. When the new Commandant was installed, 200 8x10's were made. This is required on all changes of command when new pictures are required by organizations.

Base photographers were sent to the Reserve Liaison Unit to assist in the summer reserve program this year. In addition, photographic support was afforded the 2nd Tank Battalion's three-month exercise in Vieques, P. R. Base photographers have traveled in submarines to the Virgin Islands; covered aerial assignments over the Outer Banks of North Carolina; traveled with the football team on road trips; covered parades and ceremonies; shot movies and stills on new equipment, schools, mount-outs, sky-divers and skin-divers.

FSR Regains League Lead After 8-7 Win

Second Force Service Regiment regained the lead during the Marine Corps Base Intramural Baseball season, edging Headquarters Battalion 8-7 for a 9-4 ledger for the campaign.

Headquarters Battalion trails last year's champs by only one-half game as the 1960 season slowly draws to a close.

Don Fenton went the route for the servicemen as he gave up 10 hits, walked one, and struck out seven to notch his sixth season victory.

Jumping into a 2-0 lead in the first inning, the champs added three tallies in the second frame before Headquarters Battalion picked up a lone run in the third. Headquarters Battalion pulled to within one run of the front-running servicemen scoring three runs in the fifth, but fell behind as the leaders followed with three markers in the home half of the fifth.

A costly error almost meant the game for the servicemen in the seventh as the losers jumped on Fenton with four hits good for three runs before the winning hurler could retire the side.

Shortstop Ken Carroll and first sacker Jim Riley led a nine-hit attack for the victors with two hits in four official trips to the plate, while coach-player Niel Shai collected two safeties in three official at-bats for the losers. Carroll slugged a solo homer for the servicemen in the first inning while Williams scored the first Headquarters Battalion tally, also with a solo blast.

Division Netmen Dominate Fleet Marine Force Match.

Second Marine Division netmen swept both titles in the week-long Fleet Marine Force Atlantic Tennis Championships concluded here last Friday. Clint Parsons, Camp Lejeune's singles champion from the Tenth Marines, won the singles title by topping teammate Jack Thompson of the Eighth Marines, 6-2, 6-4 and 6-0. In the doubles finals Parsons and Thompson teamed to defeat 2nd Marine Air Wing's Jere Cobb and Bill Eppinette, 6-0, 7-5 and 6-0.

The Cannonier champ reached the singles finals after beating Eppinette, 6-3, 6-0, and Dick Maney of Fleet Marine Force Atlantic, Norfolk, Va., 6-1, 6-1 and 6-0, while Thompson swept to the finals by besting Dick Blague, Force Troops, 6-2, 6-1; Cobb, 6-0, 6-1, and Bill Lawrence, Division, 6-1, 6-2 and 6-0.

Moving into the doubles finals, the Parsons-Thompson duo beat the Force Troops team of Blague and George Bliss, 6-0, 6-0 and 6-1. Parsons, Thompson, Cobb, Eppinette and Maney will represent Fleet Marine Force Atlantic in the Atlantic Fleet Tournament at Newport, R. I., beginning July 25.

Upon completion of this event, Parsons and Thompson will travel to San Diego, Calif., where they will represent Camp Lejeune during the 1960 All-Marine Tennis Championships next month.

Golf Slices

In an effort to answer a number of requests from Lejeune golfers the following information has been extracted from the rules governing play at Paradise Point Golf Course:

"Guests may be introduced by service personnel stationed at Camp Lejeune. The presence of guests shall not operate to reduce the privileges of local personnel. No individual may be introduced as a guest oftener than twice in any one calendar month. Persons not vouched for as guests by a member of this command shall not play. During the week bonafide house guests may play without their hosts. On weekends persons must be present with their guests.

"Children under eight" shall not be allowed on the course at any time. Children between eight and 11 inclusive normally will not be allowed on the course. They may be allowed provided they are accompanied by a parent holding a white card permit who will be responsible for their conduct and safety. Children between 12 and 16 who have not been issued a white or blue card permit must be accompanied by an adult."

Unit Bowmen Hold Archery Match Today

For those passing the Women Marines softball field this afternoon, forget the idea that Robin Hood has been enlisted. Such is not the case.

Headquarters Battalion, Marine Corps Base, will conduct their intramural Archery Match on the field beginning at 1 p.m. Personnel interested in competing in the tournament, are requested to submit their name, rank, serial number, section and event to their respective companies.

Personnel of the Woman Marine Company have been invited to participate in the event.

Events

The match will consist of four events, 20, 30, 40 and 50 yards. Twenty-four arrows will be fired at each distance in volleys of six. Hits on the target will be scored a 5, 4, 3, 2 and 1. Personal equipment may be used, if desired. Women Marines may compete from all distances while men are restricted to the 30, 40 and 50-yard markers.

Birds Continue To Set Pace During Pony League Action

This week's action in the Camp Lejeune Boy's League saw the Pony League-leading Orioles setting the pace with victories over the Indians, 5-3 and the Athletics, 6-1. Also picking up two wins during the week, the Tigers swamped the Athletics, 15-6, and edged the Indians, 10-9, in the first game of a doubleheader, The Indians bounced back taking the nightcap 6-0, holding the Indians two full games behind the Birds for the league lead.

The Tigers jumped on three Athletic hurlers for 15 hits during their 15-run route, while starter Randy Ishister picked up his first win of the campaign allowing only four hits.

Birds Continue Drive

Picking up all runs in the fifth inning, the Birds continued their drive for the league title with a 5-3 margin over the Indians, with Bobby Aurin being credited with the loss. It was Aurin again Friday, as the Orioles downed the A's 6-1. The Birds scored six runs on six hits while the Athletics collected one run on three hits.

After finishing the suspended game of July 5 on top, 10-9, over the Indians, the Tigers dropped the regularly scheduled contest to the Indians 6-0 with John McKeon being handed the loss.

MCAF Aqua Team Travels To Albany With Title Hopes

Dubbed the "Cinderella" team by Coach Chuck Wetzel, the MAG-26 swimming team departed for the All-Marine Swimming Championships at Marine Corps Supply Center, Albany, Ga., from July 20 to 23. Never in the history of the Championships has an East Coast team won, or even come close to the ful aggregations as Camp Pendleton, Hawaii, and El Toro, who have squads of around 30 swimmers, the local contingent faces great odds.

Spearheading the Air Facility swimmers in an effort to balance the odds are defending champions Sandy Gideonse, Ernie Contreras and Bob Turner, assistant coach.

Coach Wetzel has won several All-Navy and All-Service championships, both as a swimmer and as a coach. He says: "These boys have the spirit and the will to win." In addition, and just as important, the team has received the wholehearted support of the MAG-26 commanding officer, Col. John R. Bohnet, and that of the other local commands. When asked the team's chances, Coach Wetzel remarked, "We are not going down there to lose."

This will mark the first time that the championships have ever been held on the East Coast, with previous events being held in California, at the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station.

The tops in aquamen and diving artists in the Marine Corps will be on hand to compete in 13 swimming and two diving events. On the agenda are the 100, 200, 400 and 1500 meter free-style races, the 100 and 200 meter backstroke, butterfly stroke and breaststroke events, the 400 meter individual medley and medley relay, and the 800 meter relay (four-man teams).

On the West Coast last year, the Pendleton tankmen won the team title compiling 113 points. Hawaii finished a dismal second with 93 points and Lejeune's New River

Air Facility, with far less entrants than the above-mentioned powerhouses, finished third with 56 points. The host El Toro team wound up in fourth with 54 and Quantico's three-man team finished fifth with 41 points.

Group VII's First Social Planned

Members of the Executive Board of Group VII, Officers Wives Club, met last week to discuss plans for the coming month. These plans will include a Coke Party to be held next Thursday, July 28, at 10 a.m. in the River Room of the Paradise Point Club.

Mainly a get-together for all eighth Marines wives, the party will be the first opportunity of the season for newcomers to meet their wives of Group VII.

Anyone not contacted by phone may make reservations by calling Mrs. J. J. Snyder, ext. 6-6615, or Mrs. R. R. Powell, Jax 3629, before Tuesday, July 26. Those wishing to avail themselves of the sitting service are reminded to make plans early by calling 6-6723.

Last week's meeting was the first of the year for Group VII's board. Members of the board include Mrs. C. A. Youngdale, honorary chairman; Mrs. J. T. Johnston, chairman; Mrs. H. R. Merrick, co-chairman; Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick, secretary; Mrs. J. J. Snyder, reservations; Mrs. R. R. Powell, hospitality; Mrs. Wade Cooper, treasurer; Mrs. A. B. Clark, hearts and flowers; Mrs. Walter G. Smith, program chairman; and Mrs. Francis B. Campanella, publicity.

Women of this group are urged to become actively engaged in the coming year's events.

TWO MORE—Mrs. Ernest Black, center, and Mrs. Brian Dennehy, Geiger Wives Club, submit names of little Danny Watson, son of LCpl. and Mrs. Charles Watson, and Debbie Kuhn, daughter of LCpl. and Mrs. Ronald Kuhn, for participation in the club's coming "Baby Parade" to be held Tuesday morning, July 26, in the Park Canteen. The two women were in charge of the child count for the day. Recording the names is Mrs. James Dennis, also a member of the wives club. (Photo by LCpl. G. H. McIntyre)

Kindergarten Enrollment To Commence August 1

Registration for the Camp Kindergarten 1960-61 classes, open to both dependents of the base and children of military personnel residing off-station, will commence August 1. To be eligible for enrollment, children must be five years of age by January 1. Those desiring to sign up their children are requested to contact the Camp

Nursery, Building 2624, Paradise Point. Registration may be made either by mail or personal visit.

If children are registered by mail, it is asked that the application forms be picked up at the Base Nursery Building or a call may be made to Maj. T. J. Ryder, officer-in-charge, at base extension 7-5564, to obtain the necessary form that is to be mailed to the applicant. Major Ryder requests that these forms not be forwarded until after August 1.

Time Change

A change has been made in the meeting time of the Midway Park Wives Club from 11 a.m. to 10 a.m. each Thursday at the Community Building.

Women are urged to attend today's meeting as the ladies plan to discuss the new arrangements that have been made for their nursery. Also listed on the morning business agenda is next month's theme for Marston Pavilion. The wives hope to work with a "Sea Shore" atmosphere for August and would like to encourage perfect attendance. Contact Mrs. D. R. Womack, president, for further information.

Registration by personal visit can be accomplished only after August 1. Prior arrangements must be made with Mrs. Shea, teacher and supervisor of the Base Kindergarten, at base extension 6-6702.

Included in the enrollment requirements, one month's tuition of $10 and a registration and activities fee of $2 must accompany each registration card. If checks are used, they must be made payable to the Camp Kindergarten Fund. They will be submitted with the child's name entered in the lower left-hand corner of the check.

If parents desire to register children prior to August 1, because of leave at that time, registration may be accomplished by sending a letter to the Officer-in-Charge, Camp Kindergarten, MOQ 3307, with necessary certification designating time of leave from that person's commanding officer. The tuition and registration fee must accompany this letter. Upon return from leave, the parent must make a personal visit to the Kindergarten office and fill out the required registration card.

Terrace Teen Club Prepares Spaghetti Dinner For Parents

Approximately 50 guests were in attendance last Tuesday night when members of the Tarawa Terrace Teen Club purchased, prepared and served a complete Italian style spaghetti dinner for their parents.

Held in the Terrace Community Center, the guests were greeted at the door by the two Sergeant-at-Arms, Mike Marty and Bill Hunt. They were then escorted to the tables by the club's chaplain, Bobby Thomas, who later conducted the prayers before the meal was served by the three kitchen representatives, Kaysha Johnson, Sharon Cardinal and Shannon Rooney.

Following the dinner, the parents were entertained by "Rock 'n' Roll" music, played and sung by Clark Tutt and Dennis Oliver. After several selections, the group joined in the dancing.

All military dependents living in the housing areas at Camp Lejeune who are 13 years of age are cordially invited to become members of the teen club. Meetings are held every Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., in the Community Building.

Baby Fashion Show Planned For Geiger

Since baby-sitters and nursery services are of major concern to active wives club mothers, the ladies of the wives club at Geiger Trailer Park have decided to include their little ones in a feature event for the year. Scheduled for Tuesday, July 26, 11 a.m., all mothers living at the trailer park will be able to forget the problem of caring for their children during the meeting and have an opportunity to display original ideas in child's dress during the club's "Baby Parade" to highlight this meeting.

Choice of fashions is to be decided upon by the mothers. However, presentation of gifts to the winners will be judged according to Service Bn., 2nd Dental Co., or 2nd MT Bn.

Wives of Group IV extend a cordial invitation to join them "pool-side" on Friday mornings for "fun, frolic and friendship."

The best dressed and the most original, "Best dressed" awards will be given for color schemes, proper fitting, fashions chosen to suit the child's build, and selection of clothing in accordance with the age group.

The babies will be placed into two categories: those under one year and those between one and three years of age. A total of four gifts will be presented, two for the best dressed and two for the most original.

Babies participating in the parade will be accompanied by their mothers during the promenade. Mothers are asked to sign the poster on the bulletin board in the Community building if they desire to enter their children.

Judges for the event will be Mrs. Vanda Richardson, Mr. J. T. Heavey and Mr. A. P. Olmstead. Any additional details may be obtained by contacting Mrs. R. P. Kellon at extension 0-1810.

Knox Women Elect Club's New Officers

Ladies of the Knox Wives Club recently elected and installed officers for the coming social year. During ceremonies held at the Trailer Park Canteen, office for presidency was taken over by Mrs. Violet Maltbie, Lot 2396. Assisting her as secretary-treasurer for the year will be Mrs. Helen Thrasher. Mrs. Pat Burack, was elected refreshments chairman.

Monday, June 27, was the first day free nursery service was available at the park chapel. A list of regulations regarding the nursery procedure is posted on the bulletin board at the park. Workers will be Mrs. Joyce Kochler, a registered nurse, and Mrs. Marjorie Schnert, a licensed practical nurse.

Present members of the Wives Club extend a cordial invitation to the women of the park to become active members in the group's activities. Meetings are held every Monday morning from 10 to 12 on the Canteen patio. All wives of officers, staff and below are eligible for membership.

Summer Newcomers Welcomed To OWC

To welcome and invite summer newcomers to become active members of the Officers Wives Club, Paradise Point, Group IV, OWC, has arranged for prospective women of their group to familiarize themselves and have an opportunity to receive informal information as to the procedure of membership.

The group will be represented by one of the members of its Hospitality Committee at the Paradise Point Swimming Pool every Friday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, weather permitting. The representative will welcome new arrivals, answer questions, offer assistance and introduce the guests to the present members of Group IV.

Ladies who are eligible for membership with this group must be wives of officers belonging to the following outfits: Second Marine Regiment (three battalions), 2nd

Special Meeting

Women of the Camp Lejeune Staff Wives Club are to be notified of a special business meeting scheduled for Tuesday, July 26, beginning at 8:30 p.m. in the Tarawa Terrace School auditorium.

Purpose for full attendance at this meeting is the immediate action which must be taken in discussing plans for the coming fashion show to be held by the club in the Main Exchange soon. The wives and exchange personnel must make necessary pre-rehearsal arrangements. Because of the importance of the meeting, more than the majority of wives must be present.

Contact the following officers of the group for further information: president, Mrs. Sally Kristoff; vice-president, Mrs. Chester Baldyga; recording secretary, Mrs. John Veggis; treasurer, Mrs. Berwin Jenkins; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles Bueas.

HAPPY DAYS AHEAD—Miss Mary Rodites, who represented New York State in the Miss Universe Contest, is unhappy about not winning the Miss Universe title, but she is happy that 1444 Marines in 25 of the Corps' "most critical" MOS's will be receiving proficient pay of $60 per month beginning January 1, 1960.

Servicemen Are Not Alone In Sweating Out Long, Slow Lines

One of the oldest and commonest gripes of men new in the service is the line. The mess line, the laundry line, the line to get shots, the line to get a haircut, the line to get a uniform, it seems, does a man in a hurry up and wait."

But he should remember that it gives him a lot in common with his civilian brothers. They too, unless they live in small communities, spend a lot of their lives waiting their turn. And they also gripe who stand and wait.

Ever go to a bank teller's window at noon and cool your heels while up front of the line a lady's depositing 50 checks, getting rolls of coins and otherwise transacting her business? Still you want to cash your check or make a deposit. So you sweat it out.

Ever go to the post office in the Christmas season, your arms laden with packages to be mailed and find yourself the tail party in a regular congo line of people who also want to mail? But what are you going to do, toss your packages away? So, you sweat it out.

In the services, a line can be a bane. However you make it. It's a bore, it's a chance to chat with friends, it's a chance to read a pocket book. It's also a chance to develop the faculty of patience—a common virtue but not a useful one at times.

The sensible man doesn't fret or try to buck the line. He waits his lines for what they are—lines in any establishment as in the military—just as the big city dweller accepts it as something to be put up with stoically. You can get hot under the collar but it won't shorten the line a bit.

Funny, isn't it, that the man who gets hot and bothered over any delay in serving him doesn't gripe a bit when he finds himself in line for promotion.

Citizen Marines A Ready Force

The largest Organized Marine Corps Reserve training exercise, Operation WHIPSAW, will begin Monday when more than 2,000 Reservists assault Onslow Beach. This modern air-mechanized water-borne assault will prepare the citizen Marines for a role they might possibly have to play in the event of a national emergency.

WHIPSAW will provide our Reservists the opportunity to utilize specialized training in a realistic setting and provide training, for the first time for some, with the newest concepts in warfare and the most modern equipment.

Twelve units from all over the Eastern United States have assembled here for the exercise. They had trained as individual units and now will be working as a team.

This "backbone of the Corps" is ready and, as they will so ably prove next week, they too are a force-in-readiness, ready to defend our nation against any aggressor. The GLOBE salutes the officers and men of the Organized Marine Corps Reserve.

OFFICER ACT — Lt. Gen. Robert H. Pepper and Brig. Gen. Forest C. Thompson were named as Marine Corps members of the committee to study the Officer Personnel Act. The group is headed by Gen. John E. Dahlquist of the Army. Meetings start August 1. The panel of officers, all retired, are to make the study "... and recommend legislation that would achieve substantial uniformity among the military services in the career management pattern."

WM HEROINE — For her heroic actions in braving the swirling waters of the Beaufort River to rescue a Ladies Island, S. C., woman, Woman Marine Pfc Helen E. Allen has been recommended for the Navy-Marine Corps Medal. Pfc Allen is a clerk-typist of Permanent Personnel Company, Woman Training Battalion, Parris Island.

SAKI BOTTLE — A unique addition has been made to the collection of saki bottles of Gen. David M. Shoup, Commandant of the Marine Corps. Since the general's collection numbers somewhere between 600 and 800 saki containers, the new one is unique "par excellence."

Most of the bottles in the collection are oval, but this one looks like a gourd with a hollowed-out place at its base which indicates a built-in heating unit to warm the saki. The saki bottle was presented to the general at the recent annual Marine generals' conference by Maj. Gen. Charles H. Hayes, deputy commander of the Fleet Marine Force, Pacific.

'On Convictions'

Old Tom was the village drunk. Yet, whenever one of the village churches had a revival, Old Tom would be one of those to come forward when the invitation was given. Once, when he went toward the altar rail, someone remarked, "Poor old Tom. He can't resist either good or evil."

How many of us are like Tom! When tempted to do that which is right, we often do just that. And when tempted to do evil, we often do that, too! Our trouble is that too often we simply have opinions where we ought to have convictions.

Opinions are all right in their place, but too many times they are subject to change—sometimes without notice. But when we are convinced—deeply and earnestly convinced—as to what we should or should not do, those convictions hold us back from evil and move us toward good. There is a vast difference between the man whose life is girded and buttressed by the sound conviction that obedience to God's commandments is the only way of life and the man who only thinks that it is.

What we need to do is to put the strength of "I know" in place of the weakness of "I think." No man ever got anywhere without having convictions. Convictions may not win any popularity contests for us but they do place our lives on solid foundations.

The story has it that Davy Crockett used to say, "Be sure you're right, then go ahead." The Christian says, "The way of Christ is right for me," and goes ahead, secure and firm in his conviction. It is this conviction, and this one only, that puts life on a solid and enduring foundation.

If You Ask Me:

DAVID H. POPE, HAS Co., 1st ITR, — I think everybody should vote because that's what America was founded on. It is one of our freedoms—the secret ballot. In order to keep this freedom, I believe everybody should vote. It's the only way to get anything done in the government. But if people don't vote, they have no right to complain about what the government does.

HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT VOTING FOR THE FIRST TIME?

ACT. SGT. JAMES F. BRENNAN, Service Co., Hq. Bn., 2nd Division—Since it is my right and duty to as a citizen, I will vote for the candidate of my choice and for the principles for which he stands. In these troubled times it is even more important that those persons eligible to vote should do so—at least for the purpose of choosing our next Chief Executive.

PFC WILLIAM L. HALL, Sub Unit 1, Hq. Bn., MCB—This year I will make my voting debut. It will be a great step for me, as I will be able to participate in the most important aspect of Americanism. I will go to the polls this fall and feel that the selfish sacrifice and matchless courage of American patriots have preserved the voting privilege for newly-eligible voters like me.

SGT. DALE L. BAIRD, Hq. Co., Hq. Bn., MCB—I am anxiously awaiting my opportunity to vote. I have waited a long time to become eligible for this great privilege to voice my opinion in this, I believe, our greatest Constitutional right. I believe if it were not for the Absentee Ballot, the majority of my fellow servicemen and women would not be enjoying this privilege this year.

Dependent Children's Summer Program Fills Youngster Needs

Dependent boys and girls of school age in the Camp Lejeune area had an opportunity to enjoy integrated and supervised sports, crafts and vocational activities during the first period of the Dependent Children's Summer Recreation Program.

The program, which began June 20 and ended July 15, was instructed and supervised by trained recreational and vocational supervisors and included: swimming, ceramics, canoeing, folk dancing, tennis, first aid, leathercraft, metalcraft, volleyball, softball, badminton and other playground activities; basket weaving, water coloring, sketching, figure drawing and folk singing.

The first period was divided into three groups. Group I included students of grades 7 through 12 of the past school year; Group II, students of grades 4 through 6; Group III, students of grades 1 through 3.

Activities for Group I were held in the Hadnot Point or Paradise Point areas on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The Group II Tuesday and Thursday activities were held at Tarawa Terrace School, with the exception of tennis, which was held at Montford Point tennis courts.

All activities for Group II were held at Tarawa Terrace School with the exception of ceramics, which was held at Hadnot Point, and swimming, which was held at Montford Point. Group III's activities were held at Tarawa Terrace School, with the exception of swimming.

Military bus service was provided to and from all government quarters and assigned recreational areas. This service will also be available during the second period of the recreation program.

Registration for the second period of the program began July 19 and will end today at Tarawa Terrace School at 11:30 a.m. The second period will begin August 1 and last until August 25. The same activities will be included in the program as in the first period.

A $2 registration fee is required per child per session or a maximum fee of $5 per family per session. Registration for the classes was on a first-come, first-served basis.

Three groups made up of the same categories as the first period of the program will comprise the second period of the Summer Recreation Program. A full list of the Recreation Program's schedule may be obtained at the Base Special Services Office.

Fenton Hurls Seventh Win; Defends Title

Second Force Service Regiment has virtually won the Marine Corps Base Baseball Championship after defeating Infantry Training Regiment, 6-5, Monday evening.

Pitcher Don Fenton aided the servicemen in successfully defending their diamond title, picking up his seventh victory of the 1960 season.

The champs and Headquarters Bu., who are in the runner-up spot in the title race, are expected to represent the Marine Corps Base during the Camp Lejeune Intramural Championships scheduled to get underway next month.

Early Lead

With one out in the first inning, Service Regiment's shortstop Ken Carroll singled and moved to third on a hit-and-run shot by first sacker Jim Riley. A squeeze bunt executed by third baseman Walt Adams scored Carroll and gave the servicemen a 1-0 lead.

Scoring a single run in each, the second, third and fourth innings, the Training Regiment moved into a 3-1 lead only to have the victors battle back, scoring two runs in the home half of the fourth inning to tie the contest at three-all, aided by a booming triple by centerfielder John Corrigan and a single by catcher Dave Snyder.

Fenton Shaky

Unable to contain the Training Regiment in the fifth inning Fenton allowed two runs to score as the losers took a two-run lead. Again showing they were not to be mounted out, the Servicemen picked up two runs in their half of the fifth frame to again tie the game, 3-3, at 5-5.

With Fenton settling down to hold the Training Regiment scoreless in the sixth and seventh frames, Carroll, who started the scoring in the initial frame, led off the final inning with his second hit of the day in four official trips to the plate. He was thrown out at third after a single by Riley, who moved to second on the put-out. After a walk to Adams, Riley scored the winning marker after an unsuccessful attempt to turn rightfielder Sam Blackwell's grounder into a double play.

Staff Keglers Honor Vasko

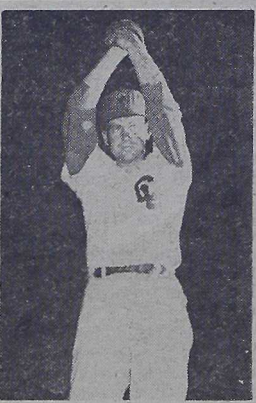

The Staff NCO Bowling League has completed their season and team and individual awards were presented during their honoring banquet held at the Hadnot Point Staff Club, last Saturday night.

Stiles Van and Storage put on a last-month surge, winning 15 out of 16 games for first place while D&E Car Exchange took the runner-up spot. Following in order were Herb Sunshine, Budweiser, Falstaff, National Bo, Pioneer American Insurance Co., Courthouse Bay, Bagger, Gulf-nade Service, Rock n Roll Drive-In and New River Pharmacy.

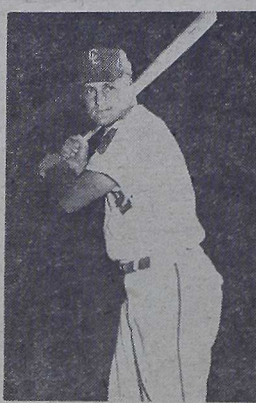

Paul Vasko of the fifth place Falstaff keglers took individual honors for high average, high game and high series. Vasko led the league in averages with 279, while his high game was 279. Vasko captured high series on the eighth night of his high game with 279.

Now are now prepared for the fall-winter league which is the staff keglers' agenda.

Locals Open Successful Trip; Valentine Regains Old Form

Sweeping into an eight-game road trip after winning the East Coast Area Marine Championship, Camp Lejeune took a doubleheader from the Coast Guardsmen nine at Cape May, N. J., 7-3 and 11-2 for their 52nd and 53rd victories of the campaign. After the regularly scheduled contest for July 11 was rained out, Lejeune's

Frank Nichols, recently acquired on the squad, hurled a one-hitter, as the Marines swept the opener 11-2. Nichols, going the route, gave up three bases on balls and struck out seven while posting his first victory since joining the team.

Rightfielder Sam Valentine, still battling to shake his recent batting slump, saw daylight, going two-for-four, including a three-run home run in the eighth inning, his seventh of the year, during the initial contest. Shortstop Charlie Armstrong led the Marines in an 18-hit attack, going three for four at the plate, while first baseman Hal Norton collected three hits in six official at-bats.

Rumer Back Again

Lejeune's Bob Rumer and Ron Beigel combined in the nite-cap to hurl a four-hitter over the coast guardsmen, 7-3. Rumer, who was believed to have pitched his final game during the Parris Island series, last week, decided to make the trip to Cape May with the locals, and will be released from active duty at the station.

Rumer was credited with the win, his twelfth of the season against four losses, in relief of starter Ron Beigel, who ran into trouble in the third inning, as the hosts jumped on him for their only tallies of the game.

With the Marines scoring four runs in the visiting half of the third inning, the Coast Guardsmen fought back with three, coming to within one run of tying the game. Starting and losing pitcher for the Cape May nine, Wells, held the Marines scoreless until the seventh inning when they erupted for three games to ice the victory.

Date Set For Intramural Golf Tourney

Top linksters from the Marine Corps Air Facility, Marine Corps Base, the 2nd Division and Force Troops will compete in the Camp Lejeune Intramural Golf Championship Tournament, scheduled to begin August 2.

With all rounds being played on the Paradise Point golf course, matches are to get underway at 12 noon for the three-day period, ending August 4.

The winning and runner-up teams of the intramural tournament of each individual command will be participating in the tournament and will be composed of eight playing members and four alternates.

Playing under U. S. Golf Association rules as modified by local course rules, individual matches will be decided by use of match play.

The tournament will be of a single elimination nature, and at the end of the match, should a tie exist, a sudden death playoff will be held. Match play will still prevail, with the play-off commencing on the first hole and continuing until the tie is broken.

In the event a team fails to make an appearance at the completion of a 15-minute period, the match will be forfeited and the opposing team will get the win.

Each member will be given two golf balls per match, by Base Special Services, while all other equipment must be furnished by the individual.

Marines Face McPherson In Two-Game Home Stand

After a highly successful road trip which carried the Marines as far north as New Jersey, the local nine returns to Agganis Field tonight to take on the soldiers of Ft. McPherson in a two-game set. During the 1960 season the locals have defeated the McPherson team three times and have lost to them three times. Sweeping two games from the Coast Guards-

Local Anglers Qualify For Annual Event

Six civilian workers of Camp Lejeune have entered the 1960 Civilian Employee Fishing Contest, bringing the total entries to 32, slightly ahead of last year's pace, during which a record number of entries were received.

During ceremonies held in Bldg. 1, Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, presented the following employees with appropriate awards for entering the heaviest fish in the individual categories during the month of June.

Jessie C. Vail—Force Service Regiment, tackle box; William Cola—Base Motor Transport, check; Harold T. Wood—Marine Corps Air Facility, cooler; Vernon Marshburn—Base Maintenance, spinning rod. Richard Powell and Angelo DePaola, Base Fire Department, were not present at the ceremony.

Fifth Year

This is the fifth Annual Contest sponsored by the Camp Lejeune Civilian Recreation and Welfare Association and has been one of the highlights of the civilian recreation program here.

The contest is open to all U.S. Civil Service and Post Office employees employed at the Marine Corps Base, Marine Corps Air Facility and the U. S. Naval Hospital. In addition these persons employed at Non-Appropriated Fund Activities at the above units are also eligible.

For further information concerning the annual event, interested personnel are requested to contact the Publicity Committee members of the association.

men at Cape May last week, the locals traveled west to Dubois, Pa., where they took two out of three games from the Dubois Rockets, a semi-professional baseball team. Winning the first game 18-0, the Lejeune nine dropped the middle game 3-4 and went on to take the final contest 11-8.

Moving into Ft. Lee, Va., the Marines downed the Travelers for the ninth time this year, 5-3, in the first game of a two-game series. The results of the final game of the series were received too late for GLOBE deadline and will be recapped in the next issue.

During Monday night's game, the Marines picked up their 56th victory of the season against 19 defeats in an extra inning contest.

The count was deadlocked at 2-2 after the regulation nine innings had been played but the Marines came up with three big runs in the top of the 10th which proved to be enough for the victory.

First baseman Hal Norton reached first on a fielder's choice which forced shortstop Charlie Armstrong at second, then took second on an error and scored on a long single by catcher Hank Nichols. Leftfielder Sam Valentine followed with a two-run home run to dead center field to end the scoring and provide what proved to be the winning run. The two-run blast was Valentine's eighth of the season.

Fort Lee bounced back and worked the bases full against starting and winning hurler Thad McCollum before Ron Beigel came on and preserved the victory with a show of fine relief pitching.

Valentine collected three hits, including his circuit clout, in four trips to the plate and scored three runs to lead his teammates in the hit department.

Third baseman Jim Green collected two hits in three official at bats while Nichols went two for five and scored a vital run earlier in the ball game.

Camp Lejeune Wins Navy Safety Award

For the seventh consecutive time, Camp Lejeune has been awarded the Secretary of the Navy's certificate for Achievement in Safety. This is the only base of its type to win the award seven years in a row.

The award is representative of achievement in all aspects of safety (except flight safety) in a shore activity. All types and sizes of activities competed for the 1959 award and awards were presented in each class.

In a letter forwarding the certificate, W. B. Franke, Secretary of the Navy, said, "An evaluation of the weighted averages of the accident experience for the Marine Corps Base indicates that the accident experience on the whole is better than the Navy-wide average."

"I extend my congratulations to you and to all personnel who contributed to this achievement. I sincerely appreciate this contribution to the cause of safety."

In forwarding the award, General David M. Shoup, Commandant of the Marine Corps, stated, "I join with the Secretary of the Navy in extending sincere congratulations to the personnel of your command for their achievement of the Navy's highest award in safety."

59 Corpsmen Finish Field Med School

Graduation ceremonies were held Saturday for 59 corpsmen completing the Field Medical Service School at Montford Point.

Graduates (who range from young hospitalmen apprentices fresh out of "Corps School" to veteran hospitalman chiefs with years at sea and shore medical units) were taught self-defense, self-preservation and field tactics ranging from the use of camouflage to firing of small arms.

The school, commanded by Cmdr. W. H. Wilford, USN, is conducted for the purpose of instructing members of the Medical Department in field medicine and in many associated tactical and defensive techniques which are associated with field medicine.

The aim of the school is to qualify graduates to work in any combat unit of the Fleet Marine Force.

During WW II, 97 out of 100 wounded men recovered. Many Navy medical personnel who were partly responsible for this unequalled record were trained at Camp Lejeune.

Guest speaker at the graduation ceremonies was Maj. V. D. Bell Jr. The major spoke of his admiration for corpsmen and welcomed the new corpsmen into the Marine Corps, and to the various units at Camp Lejeune on behalf of the commanding generals.

DI Screening Team

A four-man screening team from Parris Island, S. C., arrived here Monday to interview prospective drill instructors. The team, headed by Lt. Col. Franklin J. Harte, will be here for four days. Other members of the team are Capt. Richard A. Froeseck, Act. MSgt. Charles T. Harten, GySgt. Raymond A. Shipman and Mr. Paul T. Sayers, civilian psychologist.

Some Used-Car Lots Are Finance Company 'Fronts'

1960 PULITZER PRIZE WINNING SERIES

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles prepared by Miriam Offenberger of the Washington Star to expose the used car racket and to help prospective buyers of used cars protect themselves.)

In less than five years Washington, D. C., has become the happy hunting ground for a new breed of finance companies out to squeeze exorbitant finance and insurance charges from used car buyers.

Curbed in Maryland by a 1954 law giving rates for financing, they have shifted their scene of operations to Washington.

They have set up a network of used car lots serving as "fronts" for finance companies. Several of them also control insurance companies, insurance brokerage agencies and small loan establishments. The most complained about used car dealers—a small minority of the dealers in Washington—have all started doing business since 1955. They control or are controlled by equally recent finance companies.

The District's corporation records show that Baltimore residents are prominent among the officers and incorporators of both the most complained about used car firms and the finance companies that handle their "paper"—the notes signed by used car buyers.

The records also show that some of these dealers were originally incorporated in Maryland and got their training in a Maryland finance company. As laws in Maryland grew progressively tougher—and are even now being re-examined—the dealers migrated to Washington.

The tie-up between the most complained about dealers and their finance companies is so close that several of the finance companies have operated from the used car lots until they made enough money to move to their own quarters.

One dealer used a finance company to harass a used car buyer before the contract even was assigned to that finance company.

One man's background and holdings are typical of the close association between used car lots and finance companies:

He was formerly employed by a Maryland finance company. When the Maryland firm set up a finance company in Washington in 1955, he worked for it. He was also secretary-treasurer of a Maryland-incorporated used car firm and owned a 50 per cent interest in another Maryland-incorporated used car firm—both of which moved into Washington at about the same time.

In 1956 he became president of a new finance company organized in Washington. At the same time he became secretary-treasurer of a new agency serving as an insurance broker for policies written for the finance company's customers.

Col. Atkinson

Pac. Hawaii. The colonel was with the staff of CINCLANT from June, 1955, until July, 1957. From that post he was assigned a member of the G-4 Division, Headquarters Marine Corps, the position which he held until coming to Camp Lejeune in July of this year.

A 1933 graduate of the University of Alabama, Colonel Atkinson, has attended the Basic Defense Weapons School, the Marine Corps Ordnance School, the Marine Corps Supply School, the Senior Course and the Amphibious Warfare School.

Born in Tuscaloosa, Ala., the colonel is married to the former Nell Glover of Savannah, Ga. Colonel and Mrs. Atkinson have three children, William Jr., 13, James, 11, and John, 3.

Patience, Nerves, Accuracy, These Make Good Snipers

One of the most important Marines in an attack is the sniper. These shooting specialists, in an outfit famed for good shots, are being trained by the 2nd Division at Camp Lejeune. What is a sniper? Act. SSgt. James M. Kent, a sniper instructor for the 2nd Battalion, Sixth Marines, says they are outstanding infantrymen in the best physical condition. Marines who can be relied on for steady nerves under extreme pressure.

Most people think snipers hide in trees in the rear of enemy units and pick off unarmed men or stragglers of the unit. Not correct. Snipers work as a team. One man is equipped with a sniper rifle, the other with a regular M1 rifle and field glasses. One man scans and finds a target within range while the other fires. This routine is changed frequently to prevent tiring and to keep the team alert.

Marine sniper teams are given specific assignments. Their three main targets are unit leaders, forward observers and members of crew served weapons. Crew served weapons, such as machine guns and mortars, are the big obstacles in an attack.

When the enemy is in the attack the sniper's job is to knock out the enemies' forward observers. Without observers to send back the information to artillery units, they have little chance of making a successful attack. The sniper weapon used by the U. S. Marine Corps is the M1 rifle with a four-power telescopic sight. The scope doubles the maximum accuracy from 500 yards to 800-1000 yards. The second addition is a flash-hider on the muzzle of the weapon.

For night use, the Marine Corps has a snooter scope. This scope is used with the M1 carbine and throws a beam of infrared light which can be seen only with special glasses or through the scope. The sniper's normal combat uniform is the same as the regular infantry rifleman's uniform. They carry 80 rounds of ammunition and the size and type pack depends on the length of time they will be away from their mother unit.

The minimum time to train snipers is approximately 40 class hours. Following the class instruction they have two days of extensive field problems set up to simulate actual combat situations. Pfc Harold R. Ruth, 3rd Platoon, Golf Co., fired a 231 on the range this year. Ruth says, "It takes a lot more than a good shot to make a sniper. Patience and strong nerves come in handy when a sniper has a lot of waiting to do."

LCpl. Otis M. Jones, Fire Team

Leader for the 1st Platoon, says, "The sniper training we have had has really been interesting. There is a lot more to sniping than just picking out a man and shooting. We have learned that every shot counts especially when a platoon is depending on you to knock out machine guns and mortars."

Sniper history can go back as far as man himself. The cave men picked their best axe throwers to rid an enemy tribe of their leader. The objective of snipers today are the same. The only difference is a better weapon.

TT To Hold Free Street Dance Sat.

A free "Street Dance" for all residents of Midway Park, Knox Trailer Park and Tarawa Terrace will be held this Saturday evening, 8 to 12, at the Tarawa Terrace Shopping Center Parking Area.

Sponsored by the Tarawa Merchants' Association, the dance is being held on a trial basis. The association has been working to hold street dances regularly and has decided that if the event is a success, activities of this type will continue.

A trailer will be used to block off the area for dancing, which is hoped to include two or three parking areas. The "Rhythm-Airs" will provide music for the evening using the trailer as a stage.

Winners will be chosen for the best dancing couples of the programmed dance variations. Plans are tentative for soft drinks and light refreshments to be sold at the shopping center.

Members of the Merchants' Association extend a cordial invitation to anyone in the vicinity to join in the fun.

Contact Dr. Osgood Kight, Almond's Drug Store, Tarawa Terrace Shopping Center, Jax 4144, for further information.

Top NCO's To Attend Yearly Symposium

Two of the four Lejeune-based commands have selected senior non-commissioned officers to represent the commands at the Annual Marine Corps Staff NCO Symposium to be held at Camp Pendleton, August 14-20.

Thirty-two delegates and their wives, if the wives choose to attend, will represent 22 major Marine Corps posts and stations at the meeting. The opening address will be made by the Sergeant Major of the Marine Corps.

Sgt. Maj. B. F. Dutton, Sixth Marines Sergeant Major, will represent the 2nd Division.

Second Division and Marine Corps Base have conducted preliminary symposiums for the purpose of discussing items to be put on the agenda for the Marine Corps Symposium at Camp Pendleton. Force Troops will have its symposium July 25 and 26 at the Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club.

Top non-commissioned officers of the Marine Corps meet each year to make recommendations on changes which they feel will be beneficial to the Corps. The 1959 Symposium at Cherry Point submitted 59 recommendations, many of which produced favorable action.

Many pertinent topics will go up for discussion at the symposium, topics such as training, physical fitness programs and retirement. The five specific subjects which Headquarters Marine Corps wishes discussed are: phasing out of the acting ranks, improvement of the Marine Corps recruiting program; personal affairs counselling for junior personnel, means of reducing leave for which funds may be allotted to the detriment of other personnel programs, and changes in the Aviation "B" School curriculum.

2nd Division

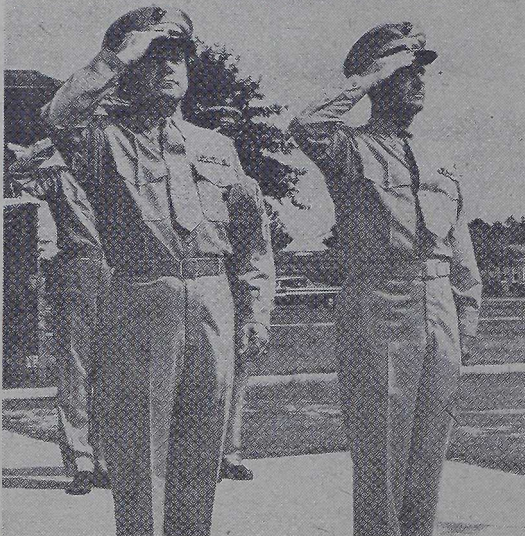

Staff NCO representatives from 2nd Division met last week to formulate items which they wish to be discussed at Camp Pendleton.

Force Troops

The Force Troops symposium will be coordinated by the Force Troops Sergeant Major, H. G. Cline, and will be held at the Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. July 26, and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. July 26. Twenty-eight representatives of 13 Force Troops commands and their wives have been invited to attend. From these 28, one will be elected to go to Camp Pendleton.

Marine Corps Base

The Marine Corps Base representatives at the symposium held yesterday in Bldg. 1 were: Sgt. Maj. E. B. Pullen Jr., Hq. Bn.; Sgt. Maj. J. P. Mangan, Infantry Training Regiment; Sgt. Maj. H. A. Stoneburner, 2nd Force Service Regiment; Gysgt. L. D. Raub, Marine Corps Supply Schools; Sgt. Maj. J. P. Kratochki, Marine Corps Engineer Schools; and 1st Sgt. W. H. Groenewald, Rifle Range Detachment.

Kai Winding Trombones Play Lejeune Next Month

"The Trombone Sound" of the Kai Winding Septet featuring Four Trombones will bring the former Kenton sideman to Camp Lejeune Aug. 9-13. The "Downbeat" and "Metronome" annual polls show Kai as consistently among the top three trombonists from 1947 through the present. The Septet's schedule is: Aug. 9, 6 p.m., Courthouse Bay Indoor Theater; 8:30, Camp Geiger Outdoor Theater; Aug. 10, 6 and 8 p.m., Camp Theater. The public is invited to this performance and admission is free; Aug. 11, 8 p.m., to midnight, Marston Pavilion; Aug. 12, 9 p.m. - 1 a.m., Paradise Point Officers Club; Aug. 13, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., Hadnot Point Staff NCO Club.

In August, 1954, Kai Winding teamed up with another great jazz trombonist and close friend of many years, J. J. Johnson, to do a dual trombone recording date. The results of the date were so gratifying that Kai and J. J. decided to "put the act on the road." The rest is jazz history. Within a year, the J & K Quintet had five LPs on the stands, all on different labels. The 1955 "Metronome Yearbook" noted "J & K . . . distinction of being the most widely recorded duo in jazz history."

A tremendous hit from coast to coast, the quintet firmly established "The Trombone Sound", created by Kai, and led to its natural extension in LP featuring no less than eight trombones.

In mid-1956, Kai and J. J. came to an amicable parting of the way, each resuming his individual career. Kai formulated a new group that would present the "Trombone Sound" at its peak. Four trombones and three rhythm; and wait until the boys put down trombones and come up with four tromboniums!

Hero's Picture Presented To Division Unit

An act of heroism that occurred 16 years ago was the basis of ceremonies at the 2nd Division's 4th Battalion, Tenth Marines, last week.

A framed citation and picture of Pfc Harold C. Agerholm, who was awarded the Medal of Honor posthumously for action while serving with the unit on Saipan, was presented to the battalion. Making the presentation was Col. K. A. Jorgensen, Marine Corps Base Chief of Staff, who was commander of the battalion during the action. Accepting the framed memento was Maj. T. J. Johnson, current battalion commander.

Agerholm was awarded the Medal of Honor for his action after the enemy had overrun the positions of a neighboring artillery unit.

The citation reads in part: " . . . Private First Class Agerholm immediately volunteered to assist in the efforts to check the hostile attack and evacuate our wounded. Locating and appropriating an abandoned ambulance jeep, he repeatedly made extremely perilous trips under heavy rifle and mortar fire and singlehandedly loaded and evacuated approximately 45 casualties, working tirelessly and with utter disregard for his own safety during a gruelling period of more than three hours."

The plaque was made by members of the Tenth Marines.

Brig. Gen. C. H. Cox Becomes Assistant Base Commander

Brig. Gen. Charles H. Cox, USMCR, assumed duties as assistant Base Commander Monday as part of his annual Marine Corps Reserve training obligation. An 11-gun salute and an official welcome by Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, Base commanding general, were rendered Monday morning on the Camp Parade Ground. After briefing by Col. K. A. Jorgensen, Base chief of staff, and other members of the Commanding General's staff, General Cox called on Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, Commanding General, 2nd Division, and Brig. Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., Force Troops Commanding General.

Tuesday, the general toured supply, maintenance and exchange facilities. He received a briefing on Special Services activities and later visited the 2nd Force Service area.

After the Commanding General's conference on Wednesday, General Cox observed firing at the Rifle Range. Today, he will be briefed on Provost Marshal activities by Col. H. G. Lawrence Jr. During the day, he will visit the Naval Field Medical Research Laboratory, U. S. Naval Hospital, and the Marine Corps Engineer Schools.

Tomorrow, the general will continue his intensive tour with a visit to the Reserve Liaison Unit at Montford Point. Later, he will tour the Marine Corps Air Facility and the 1st Infantry Training Regiment. In the evening, he will review a reserve twilight parade.

From July 25-27, General Cox will observe Operation WHIPSAW, the reserve air-ground training exercise. On July 29, he will tour the Marine Corps Supply Schools.

The general's tour of active duty will be completed on July 31.

First Lt. William J. Blair will serve as the general's aide during his two-week tour of duty.

Brigadier General Cox entered the Marine Corps as a private in 1927. Two years later, he was appointed a second lieutenant.

During World War II, he served with the American Embassy in London and in the South Pacific, where he was awarded the Legion of Merit and Bronze Star. In the spring of 1945, he returned to Europe and participated in the Battle of Western Germany.

In November, 1946, after release from active duty, he organized and commanded the Sixth Infantry Bn., at Philadelphia, Pa. He completed the Senior Amphibious Warfare Course at Quantico in 1949 when assigned to continuous active duty and was then ordered to the Landing Force Training Unit at Norfolk, Va., where he served as Deputy Chief of Staff and Director, Policy and Planning Division.

The general was detached to inactive duty in June of 1955 at which time he accepted civilian employment as Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of the Navy, the position he now holds.

Bonus Forms Now Available For Kentucky War Veterans

Application forms for the Kentucky Veterans Bonus are now available at the Base Education Office, Bldg. 19. Deadline for applications is Dec. 31, 1961.

Kentucky veterans eligible for the bonus will be paid at the rate of nine dollars per month for domestic service and $15 per month for foreign service. Veterans receiving bonuses from another state are not eligible for the Kentucky bonus.

Enclosed with the application, veterans are required to send either an original, true or photostatic copy of discharge, separation or other official record of separation. These documents must be certified. Payment of bonus claims will be made as promptly as possible. Do not write to, or otherwise inquire of the Veterans Division as to when payment will be made. Inquiries create delay while a search is made for the information. This will reduce the time devoted to processing applications and lengthen the time of the receipt of the check.

Further information may be obtained from the Education Office.
