CMC Revises Fitness Report Regulations

Staff NCO's will no longer see their completed fitness reports before the reports are submitted to Headquarters Marine Corps, the Commandant announced last week.

The new regulation, outlined in Marine Corps Order 1611.3A, is in effect for the current reporting period. The only exception to the new rule is made when an unsatisfactory mark is given to the Marine. In such a case, it is the obligation of the reporting senior to show the report to the man.

Should a man be given an outstanding or an unsatisfactory mark either of section 16A (regular performance of duties) or 19 (general value to the service), special justification for the mark must be shown. The reporting senior will list in section D (appraisal of professional character) specific reasons for the unusually high or low mark.

Each time a reporting officer submits fitness reports on the staff NCO's in his charge, he must insert in item 19 of the report the total number of men of the same pay grade who are marked outstanding, excellent/outstanding, excellent, etc.

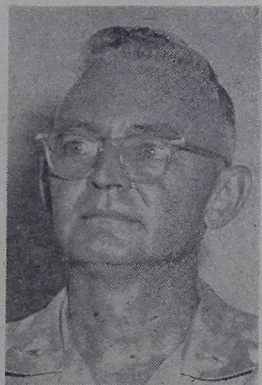

Sgt. Maj. H. G. Cline, Force Troops sergeant major, when asked his opinion of the changes in fitness report policy, said, "The change should have come a long time ago."

"It is the best thing that has happened to good staff NCO's in some time. The more unbiased markings which will result will give Headquarters Marine Corps a truer reflection of the worth of these men to the Corps."

DOD Authorizes Military Families Choice Of Movers

Military families will be given the right to choose the mover of their household goods whenever possible, the Department of Defense announced in a long-awaited directive. Military personnel also will have the right to veto use of a mover who has given them bad service in the past. Also built into the directive is a great inducement for transfer companies to provide good service.

The document says that "additional shipments shall be offered to a carrier or carriers when it has

Base Comptroller, Supply Officer Changes Effectuated

Two top-level changes have been effected within Marine Corps Base departments. Col. A. E. Dubber has assumed duties as Base Supply Officer, relieving Lt. Col. H. F. Stevenson. Col. William C. Ward Jr., former comptroller of FMFLant, Norfolk, relieved Col. E. B. Games as Base comptroller. Colonel Stevenson will remain as assistant Supply Officer while awaiting transfer to the Marine Corps Supply Center in Philadelphia. Colonel Games retired on June 30.

Colonel Dubber

Colonel Dubber came to Camp Lejeune from Headquarters Marine Corps where he has served since 1937 in the Supply and Management Branch.

The colonel enlisted in the Marine Corps May 11, 1927, and served four years as an enlistment man. He returned to civilian life, remaining in the Marine Corps Reserve and working at Headquarters Marine Corps as a civil service employee. In May, 1933, he re-entered the Marine Corps as a first lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Marines, Civilians Attend Water Safety Course Here

Last year, 40 million Americans spent $3 billion on 7 1/2 million boats in the nation's number one outdoor family recreation—6,505 Americans drowned. In an effort to lessen these senseless drownings, industry, government and military agencies have instigated an educational program in water safety. This week, 23 men from throughout North Carolina are attending a one-week course in small boat and water safety at Camp Lejeune. Seventeen are North Carolina Wildlife patrolmen, two are from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and four are Marines from Camp Lejeune.

The course, set up by Base Special Services and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, is designed to train instructors in the art of water safety and to enable them to teach others. Mr. W. J. McDonald and Mr. William McNutt, American Red Cross Water Safety Representatives for the southeastern area, are the instructors.

Similar courses were started in South Carolina last year and in Georgia this year. This program is expected to reach nationwide scope by the end of this summer.

Training in basic boating and survival swimming comprises the bulk of the subject material combined with many hours of practical application. The group is meeting mornings at the Area 5 pool and afternoons at the Wallace Creek Boathouse.

In addition, the course helps to improve practical skills in boating, both rowboats and power craft. It also covers theoretical rules of the road, rescue and related subjects.

Those successfully completing the course will be awarded a certificate qualifying them as small boat and water safety instructors.

Marines attending the one-week course are Act. SSgt. Francis M. Rogers, NCO-in-charge of the Court-house Bay Boathouse; LCpl. Francis E. Heeter, Wallace Creek Safety Patrol Driver, and LCpl. Wil-

Second Summer Recreation Registration Begins Tuesday

Registration for the second period of the Dependent Children's Summer Recreation Program will be held at the Tarawa Terrace School Auditorium from 3 to 7 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, July 19 and 20. On Thursday, July 21, registration will be held in the Camp High School auditorium from 8 to 11:30 a.m. The program, open to all military dependents and certain civilian boys and girls of school age in the Camp Lejeune area, is a program of integrated and supervised sports, crafts and vocational activity.

Daily sessions for the second period will begin Aug. 1 and continue through Aug. 25, Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. The first period will end tomorrow.

Civilian Dependents

Dependent children of school age of all military personnel are eligible for the program. Also eligible are dependent children of school age of civilian personnel living within the confines of the Base and the Marine Corps Air Facility.

The program includes swimming, ceramics, canoeing, folk dancing, tennis, first aid, leathercraft, metalcraft, volleyball, softball, badminton and other playground activities, art, basket weaving, water coloring, sketching, figure drawing and folk singing.

Bus Service

Military bus service will be provided to and from all government quarters and assigned recreation areas. Trained recreational and vocational supervisors and assistants will instruct and supervise the program.

A two-dollar registration fee will be required per child per session or a maximum fee of five dollars per family per session. Registration for the classes will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Twelve More Reserve Units Start Training

More than 2,000 Organized Marine Corps Reservists comprising the fourth and largest single increment to train here this year will begin their two weeks of annual summer field training Monday.

Composed of 12 units, six of which are of battalion-size, the fourth increment will schedule individual and organizational training during the first of their two week stint. The final week will be turned over to this year's air-ground exercise, Operation WHIPSAW.

WHIPSAW

Slated for July 25-27, WHIPSAW will be one of the largest exercises ever conducted by Organized Marine Corps reservists and will involve 12 ground units training here, along with eight reserve air units to be based at Cherry Point.

Arriving Monday to begin training are: 5th Staff Group, Washington, D. C.; 5th Infantry Bn., Detroit, Mich.; 12th Infantry Bn., Pittsburgh, Pa.; 68th Rifle Co., Camden, N. J.; 71st Rifle Co., Hamilton, Ohio; 1st 105mm Howitzer Bn., Richmond, Va.; 2nd Motor Transport Bn., Port Newark, N. J.; 2nd Communication Support Bn., Chicago, Ill.; 3rd Communication Co., Rochester, N. Y.; 1st Amphibian Tractor Bn., Tampa, Fla.; 1st Tank Co., Tallahassee, Fla.; and 4th Engineer Co., South Charleston, W. V.

Ground Broken For MCAF Boathouse

Ground was broken for a new $60,000 boathouse and recreation building at the Marine Corps Air Facility last week during ceremonies headed by Col. J. R. Little Jr., Air Facility commanding officer. Construction is expected to be completed within the next three or four months.

Boating facilities will include five slips for Special Services boats, 27 aluminum boats and five for ski boats. Space is also available for mooring of five sail boats.

Included in the boathouse will be a tool room, an issue room for issuing water skis and motors and an outboard motor repair shop. Launching ramps will be provided and refueling facilities will be available.

The recreation building will include kitchen facilities for preparation of food and a picnic area. Reservations may be made for unit or club activities at the recreation building.

Bulletin

The Honorable Richard Jackson, Assistant Secretary of the Navy (Personnel and Reserve Forces), is scheduled to visit Camp Lejeune to observe Operation WHIPSAW, a reserve air-ground exercise. Secretary Jackson is tentatively slated to arrive Friday, July 22, to go to Cherry Point Monday, July 25, and to return to Camp Lejeune for the Tuesday and Wednesday reserve maneuvers.

MERITORIOUS MAST—Pfc David P. Thibodeau, right, receives a citation and congratulations from Lt. Col. H. C. Reifel, commanding officer, 1st Battalion (Reinforced), Eighth Marines, at Meritorious Mast held aboard the USS Mount McKinley. Pfc Thibodeau, a member of Capt. E. R. Stoddard's "A" Company, exhibited "outstanding conduct" in saving a fellow Marine from being crushed by a 4,500-pound crate while loading cargo aboard ship in Morehead City May 17. (Photo by Act. Sgt. E. A. Hansen)

135-Pound Marine Battles 4,500-Pound Tank Engine

Good things come in small packages. This was proved again recently when a 135-pound Marine fought and won an unequal "battle" with a crated 4,500-pound tank engine aboard a ship in the Mediterranean. Pfc David P. Thibodeau, the "victor," appeared this week at Meritorious Mast before Lt. Col. H. C. Reifel, commanding officer, 1st Bn. (Reinf.), Eighth Marines, and received recognition of his heroic actions at Morehead City, N. C., on May 17.

The citation read in part: "... Your prompt and unhesitant action and consideration for your fellow Marines bring credit and pride to you and every member of this command. Marines such as you exemplify the true spirit of the Corps. My appreciation and congratulations for a job 'Well Done.'"

The incident occurred when Pfc Thibodeau and LClpl. Gerard E. Lamontagne, members of Capt. E. R. Stoddard's "A" Company, were on a working party aboard the cargo ship USS Vermilion loading gear prior to the Eighth Marines' departure on May 18 for a four of duty with the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

The tank engine was being lowered by a cargo boom when the crate caught in the hatch coming in such a manner that it could not be lowered further into the hold.

The crane operator was signaled to lift the crate and when he did so, the box was jerked loose, causing it to start swinging.

The crate struck Corporal Lamontagne, who was standing on another box with half of his body above the level of the hatch coming. The weight of the crate was crushing Lamontagne and, according to witnesses, it might have crushed him to death if quick action had not been taken by Private Thibodeau.

At the time the accident occurred, Private Thibodeau was standing on deck alongside the hatch. When he saw the crate hit Lamontagne, he immediately jumped to the edge of the hatch coming, sat down, braced himself, placed his feet against the box and exerted enough strength to relieve the pressure of the engine on Lamontagne, allowing him to drop to the deck below.

The swinging crate then almost trapped Thibodeau's legs but he escaped with slight bruises. Corporal Lamontagne was hospitalized at the U. S. Navy Hospital, Camp Lejeune, where he is recovering from his injuries.

Sgt. Maj. In 23rd Summer Training Tour

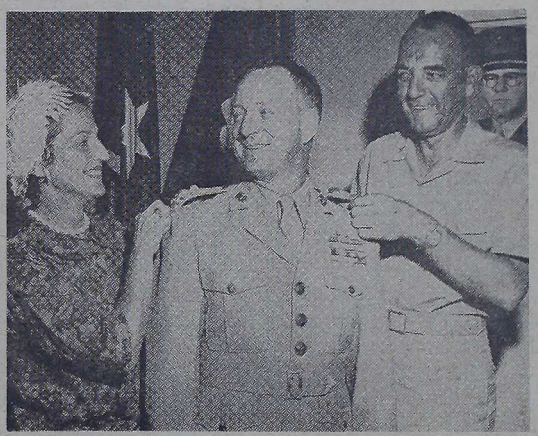

Sgt. Maj. Edward G. Anderson, first sergeant for the 1st Infantry Battalion, USMCR, Garden City, L. I., is now attending his 23rd two-week annual field training exercise. If you would figure it out, this means that in his 23 years' participation in summer training he has been on active duty, just counting the summer camps, a total of 46 weeks—almost one year. Yes, it must be some sort of record.

In the capacity of Battalion first sergeant, Sergeant Anderson has the responsibility of keeping the Battalion, which totals over 350 Marine reservists, running smoothly at all times. A job which he does well. But, he readily admits that he is still learning something new every summer encampment and looks forward to attending many more.

By joining the Marine Corps in 1927 he was only 11 years behind the activation of the first Marine Corps Reserve Ground unit. This first unit, by coincidence, just happens to be the one which the first sergeant is now a member—the 1st Infantry Battalion of Garden City, L. I. For eight years Sergeant Anderson has been affiliated with the Battalion and was mobilized with the Battalion in 1950 (when it was the 19th Infantry Battalion) during the Korean Conflict.

During his tour of active duty he served here in Camp Lejeune and Parris Island. The 23 years is an impressive enough figure, but so is the 25 years he has served in the United States Marine Corps. The sergeant has a son who served two years in the Marine Corps with the 2nd Division.

In civilian life the sergeant major is staff supervisor in the building and supply department of the New York Telephone Company. Sergeant Anderson and his wife, Louise, make their home at 269 Carlton Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

New Base Engineering Head Wins Promotion To Colonel

Col. Norman A. Miller Jr., has relieved Maj. W. M. Derby Jr. as Base Management Engineering Officer. Colonel Miller was a student at the Senior Amphibious Warfare School at Quantico, Va., before coming here. Major Derby was transferred to the 2nd Division. Entering the Marine Corps in September, ber, 1941, Colonel Miller saw action with the 7th Defense Battalion from March, 1942, to July, 1944. When he returned to the States he became Commanding Officer, Marine Barracks, Mechanicsburg, Pa.

In May 1946, Colonel Miller was assigned to the 4th Marine Corps Reserve District, where he held the post of Asst. Director for three years. From June 1949 to June 1950, he attended the Junior School at Quantico.

With the outbreak of the Korean Conflict, the Colonel saw action as executive officer, 3rd Battalion, 11th Marines. He was wounded in December 1950 and was awarded the Silver Star and the Bronze Star for bravery at Yudam-ni and Hagaru. In June 1951 the Colonel became the Commanding Officer, 4th Battalion, 11th Marines until his return to the States in September 1951.

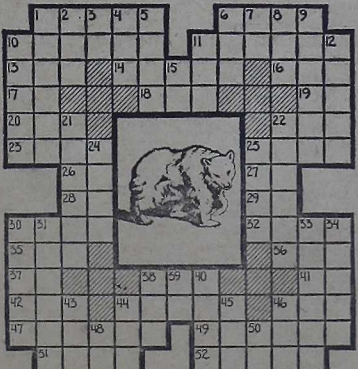

After returning from Korea, Colonel Miller served as a guided missile officer for two years and in May 1954 he was selected to instruct students at the U. S. Naval Academy. After a two year tour at Annapolis, Colonel Miller went to Okinawa for 14 months. On Okinawa, he served as a battalion commander, regimental executive officer and regimental S-3 with the 12th Marines.

the Reservists learn not only the tanks' material value but their psychological effect on "enemy" infantry as well.

Meanwhile the truck companies are being taught the capabilities of their vehicles. Along with class room sessions in repair and maintenance, the truckers spend many hours in the rough terrain surrounding Camp Lejeune, putting the 10-wheeled carriers through severe tests. Nor are their efforts restricted to land. With certain attachments in place the reservists discover the vehicles can ford deep streams and other waterways.

The days of the artillerymen are action-packed, too. From first light to sunset they wrestle the big guns into position and undergo many simulated firing missions. Finally, the reservists plan and conduct their own live-firing missions.

Bridge and road building and the proper use of the heavy equipment needed to complete these jobs are the items which appear on the training schedule of visiting engineer organizations.

Reconnaissance, the military science of penetrating undetected through enemy positions to determine size, strength and supply chain, is the important pre-attack mission of Marine Reconnaissance units. By land, sea or air, the "recon" reserves are taught to move quickly, quietly and efficiently. Stealth and accuracy are their watchwords. Reserve reconnaissance Marines training at Camp Lejeune this summer are being hosted by their regular Marine Corps counterpart, the 2nd Division's Reconnaissance Battalion.

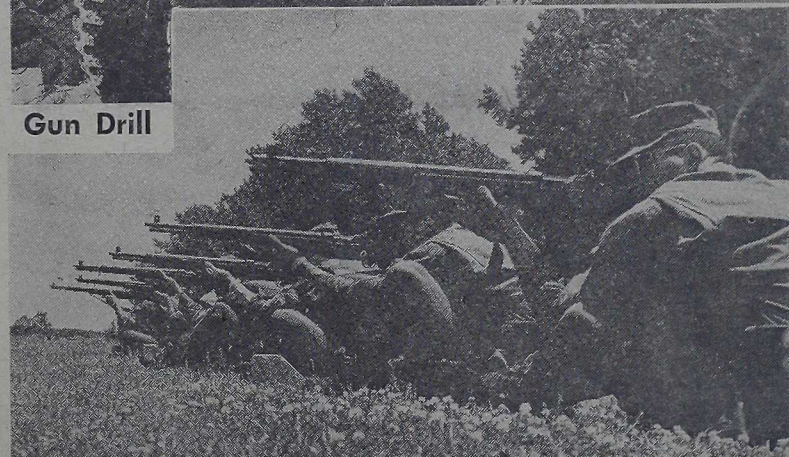

Following their two weeks of annual summer field training here, the 67 reserve organizations will return to their home towns to start the groundwork that will lead to next year's tour of summer field training.

Moms Prove Tops During Softball Play

Mothers of members of the Camp Lejeune Girls Softball League may either be in bed or popping around with sore muscles today, but at least they loved their daughters that they still play a mean game of softball.

A Mother-Daughter game, the first of four to be played in the league, the Magnificent Mothers won the Comets of the Girls League 16-8, behind the pitching of slugging Wilma Aguair, wife of Act. Ssgt. Randy Aquair.

Seven-Inning Game

Mrs. Aguair gave up only eight runs while going the seven-inning game for the Mothers. She also hit only home run of the game to help up a victory for the better lives.

Janice Paul was the losing pitcher for the Comets who were managed during the game by WO J. J. J. J. J.

The Mothers team, managed by Lt. MSgt. John Becker, is composed of mothers of various members of the four-team Girls Softball League. Next Monday at 5 p.m. the Mothers—if they are able to walk—take on the number one team of the league, the Semite Indians. Shades of the Little Horn!

Golf Slices:-

Camp Regulations prohibit practicing on the golf courses except at prescribed places, i.e., putting greens, driving range and the chipping green along fairway one on course No. 1. It has been noted that some golfers are violating this regulation.

Players checking out Special Services clubs are requested to read the Base Bulletin pertaining to these clubs which is posted on the board at the club house.

Know Your Golf Etiquette—No one should move, talk or stand close to a player when he is addressing the ball or making a stroke.

No player should play until the players in front are out of range.

In the interest of all, players should play without delay.

Players searching for a ball should allow other players to pass. They should not continue their play until those players are out of range.

All players must wear proper golf attire. Removal of shirts or undershirts will not be tolerated and Levis will not be worn.

BOAT SAFETY

Quantico Trio Selected For Rome Games

Three Quantico Marines were selected for the Olympic track and field team during the final Olympic trials held at Stanford University earlier this month.

Preparing to take on the world's best at Rome beginning Aug. 29, will be Al Cantello, world's record holder in the javelin throw, and distance runners Alex Brekenridge and Peter Close.

Cantello, a little man in the event at 5-7½, secured his second Olympic trip with a heave of 277 feet, seven inches.

Close edged onto the team with a third place finish in the 1,500-meter run while teammate Brekenridge had gained a team spot earlier in the marathon.

Close nipped New York Athletic Club's Ed Moran, after both had crossed the finish tape at 3:49 clockings but received the nod from the judges as to selection for the team.

Headquarters Battalion Wins '60 Division Softball Laurels

A steady three-hit pitching job by Bryan McNaughton paced Headquarters Battalion to its third consecutive 2nd Division Softball championship and a 1-0 victory over Service Battalion here Friday. In gaining the championship, the Headquarters nine swept through the double-elimination tournament without losing a game.

In first day tourney action, Jim Rickard hurled Headquarters Battalion to a 3-1 victory over 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines. In the second game of the day, Lynn Larick spun a no-hitter as Service Battalion walloped 1st Bn., Tenth Marines, 24-0.

Feature action on the second day saw the undefeated teams from Headquarters and Service Battalions clash. McNaughton and Larick hooked up in a pitchers' duel for six innings with Headquarters holding a slim 1-0 lead.

Service Battalion knotted the score in the seventh as McNaughton had a streak of wildness. He walked in a run and had the bases loaded, none out, and a 3-1 count on the batter when he was relieved

Headquarters Wraps It Up

Headquarters wrapped up the win in the bottom of the eighth on a pinch-single by Ron Hutchins, a sacrifice, and a single by "Robbie" Robinson.

In the losers' bracket the same day, 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines, eliminated 1st Bn., Tenth Marines, by the tune of 17-1.

Thursday's action saw Service Battalion earn another shot at Headquarters as Jim Brown pitched a 5-1 victory, eliminating 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines.

The final day of the tournament found Headquarters Battalion needing a single win to clinch its third straight title while Service Battalion faced the Herculean task of winning two in a row from the defending champs.

No Hit, One Run

McNaughton and Brown hooked up in a tense duel with Headquarters scoring the only run of the contest in the second without benefit of a hit. A walk, wild pitch, stolen base and another wild pitch got the winning run across.

Service Battalion missed a golden opportunity to score in the top of the seventh when Brown led off with a double down the left field line. However, he was thrown out trying to stretch it into three bases.

The defeat was a heart-breaker for Brown, who allowed only one hit. McNaughton scattered three hits for the winners.

Marine Golfer Claims Initial Birdie - Bogey

MARINE CORPS SCHOOLS, QUANTICO, VA. — A birdie and a bogie on one hole!

Impossible? Not to Marine Colonel John A. Saxten of Frederick, Md., as he teed off on the first hole of the Marine Corps Schools Golf Course here over the Fourth of July weekend.

The unusual incident occurred as Colonel Saxten drove a long ball down the first fairway. But in mid-flight an unwitting starling collided with the ball and plummeted to the ground. The amazed colonel finished the hole out in one over par to claim a "birdie-bogie."

"I've gotten birdies before," said the Marine colonel, a golfer for 25 years, "but never on the wing."

An 80's plus golfer, Colonel Saxten is president of the Marine Corps Tactics and Technique Board at the Marine Corps Landing Force Development Center here.

Pirates Topple Dodgers For Undisputed Lead In Base Boy's League Competition

During this week's action in the Camp Lejeune Boys League, the Tigers of the Pony League battled the Indians to an 8-8 deadlock and the game will be played as part of a double-header Saturday; the Indians downed the Athletics 8-4, and the Orioles staged a late inning rally to down the Tigers 8-6 in eight innings. Following their tie with the Tigers on Tuesday, the Indians, behind Mihalic, defeated the A's 8-4. Mihalic, who went the route, gave up seven hits including a fifth inning home run by J. Sellers. The Orioles put together two walks, a long fly, a fielders choice and a pinch single by Randy Louder to pick up their 8-6 victory in the eighth inning.

Major League

In the Major League, J. Hegquist and Al McCloskey combined to hurl a one-hitter for the Braves as they downed the Dodgers, 3-1, to move into a first place tie with the Pirates. With McCloskey being credited with the win, both hurlers led their teammates in the batting division with two hits apiece and three runs.

It was a short lived first place standing for the Braves as the Cubs handed them a 7-1 drubbing to drop them back into second place with a 13-5 record, one full game behind the Pirates. Cub hurler Rex Woodbridge hurled a one-hitter, striking out 10 batters as his team moved into third place with a 9-9 ledger.

Rick Rich of the Pirates slammed a two-out single in the first inning to start a three-run rally and the ball game as the Pirates shut out the Cardinals, 4-0, moving into a tie for the top spot with the Braves. Pirate pitcher M. Baker had a no-hitter going into the sixth inning when Glen McCloskey smashed a hard hit ball to the left of the second sacker Butch Trapp, who went far to his left and got a glove on the ball but couldn't hold on to it.

Undisputed First Place

After the Braves had lost to drop to second place, the Pirates took undisputed first place, defeating the Dodgers, 9-5, behind the three-hit twirling of Ron Rich. The Pirates scored nine runs on five hits while the Dodgers took advantage of two Pirate miscues to score five runs on three hits. Rich held the big bats of the Dodgers to one hit until the sixth inning when Denny Baker blasted his third homer of the season and immediately was immediately followed by Tommy Wenders, who smashed his first circuit clout of the season before he could retire the side.

Midway And Geiger Wives Clubs Meet With USO Executive

Two Camp Lejeune Wives Clubs from Geiger Trailer Park and Midway Park, presently receiving advice from the Jacksonville USO, were given an opportunity to meet with Mr. David M. Robinson, USO Regional Executive, last Thursday evening at an informal conference held in Jacksonville.

Mr. Robinson makes yearly visits to Jacksonville during his regular tours through North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. Although the major purpose of his tours is to assist in, discuss and report the programs of USO's, he takes a marked interest in the progress of social organizations connected with USO.

While in conference, Mr. Robinson offered suggestions for the current club projects at Marston Pavilion, helped in the programming for the coming year, and inquired about club standing in comparison to other Lejeune wives' clubs. Results of the conference were reported by Miss Jane Geagan, USO advisor to the clubs, as being "extremely successful in the motivation of the club members."

Chapman Jr., commanding general, Force Troops, and Brig. Gen. O. M. Conoley, assistant commander, 2nd Marine Division. In the background are members of General Chapman's welcoming party. Nat'l Guard Generals Visit Reserve Units

Two National Guard major generals, one from New York, the other from Rhode Island visited Organized Marine Reserve units from their home states here last week.

Rhode Island's Governor Christopher Del Sesto, originally slated to visit, cancelled his plans because of the arrival in his state of President Eisenhower who is vacationing in Newport.

Arriving here last week to observe training were Maj. Gen. A. C. O'Hara, Chief of Staff to the Governor of New York, and Maj. Gen. D. S. T. Hinman, adjutant general of Rhode Island, along with their official parties.

General O'Hara visited the 1st Infantry Bn., Garden City, L.I.; the 2nd Rifle Co., New Rochelle, and the 4th Rifle Co., Brooklyn, while General Hinman observed training of the 6th 105mm Howitzer Bn. of Providence, and the 1st 155mm Howitzer Btry., of Newport.

The New York delegation watched as Empire State Marines launched an attack on a fortified position, landed from helicopters and fired such infantry weapons as the machine gun and mortar.

At the same time General Hinman and his party took up positions in forward observer posts to watch the Rhode Island cannons rain round after round down on designated targets.

General Hinman was the reveiling officer for a twilight parade held Friday evening by the 12 reserve units now undergoing annual field training.

The New York group departed from Camp Lejeune Friday evening and the Rhode Island contingent left Saturday morning.

Chaplain Marion O. Stephenson, 2nd Division chaplain, will be the guest speaker at the Divine Worship Service of the Tarawa Terrace Protestant Chapel on July 17. The service begins at 9:45 a.m. and will be held in the auditorium of the Tarawa Terrace School.

Marines Cited In Letters Sent To Base Commander

In a letter to Brig. Gen. S. S. Wade, Marine Corps Base commanding general, the commander of the 14th Air Force conveyed to General Wade recently the congratulations of the Secretary of Defense on the fine Armed Forces Day observances in this area of the nation.

Maj. Gen. C. E. McCarty's letter read in part: "The Secretary of Defense has informed me that he is well pleased with the splendid results achieved during the 1960 Armed Forces Day observance. Although all of the final reports of this year's observance have not been received, all indications in terms of attendance, participation, and other measures of public interest, assure me that the program was successful."

"These efforts resulted in a greater public understanding of the mission, capabilities, and state of readiness of the Armed Forces in Area VI. Such understanding is especially desirable at this time."

"I am particularly anxious that credit be given the men and women, both civilian and military, whose efforts produced such gratifying results. Please accept my sincere thanks for the personal interest and attention you gave to this program."

"Best wishes to you and to all who were responsible for the success of the 1960 observance."

More than 1,200 Marines from Camp Lejeune helped the City of New Bern celebrate its 250th anniversary in an Armed Forces parade Saturday, June 18. To express to the Marines the appreciation of the citizens of the city, Mayor Robert L. Stallings Jr., of New Bern, sent a letter to Brig. Gen. S. S. Wade, commanding general, Marine Corps Base. The letter reads in part:

"We wish to express appreciation to you and to the personnel under your command at the U. S. Marine Corps Base for the assistance and cooperation given to our city in the planning and execution of its 250th anniversary celebration."

"In conveying our thanks we particularly mention the men who participated in the excellent parade given on Saturday, June 18. The success of this was immeasurably contributed to by the work of Col. Gordon West who served as parade marshal. We also appreciate the assistance given by your Informational Services Officer."

"Comments from our citizens and visitors have been highly complimentary of the parade and other events, leading us to believe that the celebration was an outstanding success. We feel that a large measure of credit for this is due to the assistance given by you and the men at the U. S. Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune."

"We sincerely express our thanks to you."

Command Changes

of the construction of Camp Lejeune, the colonel was Construction Liaison Officer between Camp Lejeune and Headquarters Marine Corps. He returned to Headquarters Marine Corps in 1943 where he held the post of Director of Facilities and Service until 1951.

He became commanding officer of the Marine Corps Supply Center, Albany, Ga., a position which he occupied from 1951 until 1955. He was assigned next to the Supply Depot, Barstow, Calif., where he served as commanding officer for two years.

Colonel Ward

Colonel Ward enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1940, soon after he graduated from Georgia Tech University. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1941.

From 1941 to 1944, the colonel served with the 1st Marine Division, seeing action in Guadalcanal and Cape Gloucester. At Guadalcanal he was awarded the Bronze Star and given a spot promotion to major.

Colonel Ward returned to the United States in July, 1944 for duty with Headquarters Marine Corps. After two years of service there, he was assigned to Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, where he was commanding officer of Infantry Training Battalion and executive officer of the Twenty-second Marines.

In April, 1948, the colonel went to China to join the staff of the Third Amphibious Group. From this post he came to Camp Lejeune for his first assignment at this East Coast station. From July, 1949, until August, 1952, the colonel's assignments included Base Industrial Relations Officer, S-3 of the Second Marine Regiment, and commanding officer of the 1st Bn., Second Marines. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel during his Camp Lejeune tour.

The Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., was the colonel's next station. He was a student at the college from August, 1952, until he was again transferred to the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, in June, 1953.

Colonel Ward went to Honolulu in June, 1956, to serve as executive officer of the G-3 section, FMF-Pac. From there he traveled to Norfolk where he held three major posts with FMFLant in two and a half years. He was executive officer of the G-3 section, Plans Officer and Comptroller.

Proper Wearing Of Short Sleeve Shirts Is Outlined

Because of the improper wearing of the short sleeve shirt with the summer service uniform, the GLOBE has been requested to publish information concerning proper wearing of the shirt. The information is taken from Marine Corps Order 1020.29 and Base Order 1020.8. To clear up apparent misunderstandings about the wearing of the short sleeve shirt after working hours, the following is quoted from the above mentioned Base Order:

"During hot weather, this headquarters, by separate directive, will authorize male officers, and male enlisted personnel to dispense with the service necktie within the limits of Camp Lejeune during the hours of 0500-1800 daily."

In other words, it is obvious that if the tie must be worn on the Base after 6 p.m., the short sleeve shirt cannot be worn.

Another point of misunderstanding concerns the type of uniform with which the cotton khaki shirt may be worn. "The shirt manufactured of cotton oxford is authorized for wear with the Enlisted Summer Service 'A' and 'B' uniforms and the Officer Summer Service 'C' uniform. Shirts manufactured of Dacron-wool or Dacron-cotton may be worn with trousers and cap covers of tropical garrison material," from Marine Corps Order 1020.29.

Again from Base Order 1020.8, "Cotton-Dacron shirts are available in the Marine Corps Exchange for officers and staff noncommissioned officers. These shirts may be worn with all acceptable summer trousers."

The Marine Corps Order explains further the wearing of the short sleeve shirt: "It (the short sleeve shirt) may be worn proceeding directly to and from residence area place of duty. It is not authorized for public ceremonies, formal or semi-formal social events, leave, or liberty."

ARMS School Bus Campaign Is Launched

The Jacksonville Association of Retired Military Servicemen (ARMS) this week launched a drive to raise funds for purchase of a school bus and other badly needed facilities for the retarded children of Onslow County.

Brig. Gen. M. I. Shuford, USMC (Ret.), ARMS president, said contributions would be solicited throughout the county. He invited anyone desiring to make a donation to the fund to contact him at Jacksonville 7410, or to call any member of ARMS.

School for the area's retarded children this year was conducted in the basement of the New River Baptist Church under the sponsorship of the Onslow-Camp Lejeune Association for Retarded Children. More than half of the 12 children enrolled this year were from military families. The United Fund allocated $3,000 for the school.

With only $3,000 to run the school, the Retarded Children Association has requested assistance from the Onslow County School system to assure continuation and enlargement of the class next year. A full-time teacher to maintain a standard six-hour class throughout the next school year is being sought, as well as state aid to further finance the expenditures of the school.

Last year the available funds of the school were used to pay the $60-per-week tax bill required to transport the children to the school. By eliminating the transportation problem, ARMS hopes to make it possible for the funds of the Retarded Children chapter to be used for teachers' salaries, supplies and other essentials.

Absentee Vote Is A Privilege

As members of the Armed Forces we are being urged—and will be for months to come—to take interest in, and concern ourselves with the issues of the campaign.

Is this because it is thought that the services can deliver their votes in one whopping block, or that men and women in uniform will be intimidated from above to do so?

That's silly, of course. We vote as individuals, according to our convictions and loyalties. This is our right as American citizens.

But there was a time in our country's history when we couldn't take pride in this. It wasn't true. From years before the Civil War, many states feared service voters and had laws against them. They felt that Army posts could thus impose military control over neighboring communities.

In fact, in 1860 only 13 of the 34 states gave servicemen the ballot and it wasn't absentee! They had to cast it in person. The Civil War, putting large numbers of vote-conscious men in uniform, changed this situation; yet in post-war years the restrictions gradually slipped back. WW I saw absentee voting readopted, but with almost two million Americans overseas the machinery for the exercise of their right broke down.

So, it's something to think about. The serviceman today does not inherit a right immemorial. Our privilege isn't as old as U. S. history. That's all the more reason to determine we'll use it wisely now.

Ready Then . . . Ready Now

If You Ask Me:

HOW ARE YOU PREPARED TO MEET ANOTHER LEBANON CRISIS?

LCPL, EARL D. COMSTOCK, H&S Co., Base Materiel Bn., 2nd FSR — I think anybody would be a little bothered when they pulled out real fast. But more likely when you board transports, you would be briefed on what your purpose was, where you were going and what you could expect when you arrived. I think once I adjusted myself to the situation, I could meet whatever was coming.

CAPT BRIAN T. BURKE, Base Maintenance Bn., 2nd FSR — By developing and maintaining skill in hand-to-hand combat. Not only does this skill keep one physically fit, but it helps one to meet the enemy face-to-face, if such a situation should ever arise. Future crisis probably will require lightning-quick blows on the enemy's rear, and a knowledge of hand-to-hand combat will be invaluable to the attacking forces.

PFC ROCCO T. MINICONE, 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines — After 19 months in the Marine Corps, I believe that I'm trained as best as possible up to this point. I know the basic infantry weapons thoroughly, particularly the machine guns, and I keep myself physically fit. No one forced me to join the Marines. My father was in before me, and I want to follow in his footsteps. Also I want to help keep our country free so everyone can enjoy our way of life.

PFC JEROME T. SHANDREWSMITH, 1st Bn., Second Marines — I am ready for another Lebanon crisis in all aspects. My organization keeps ready to move out at all times. We participate actively in physical training exercises every day, and through the efforts of our NCO's we acquire a broad knowledge of our military responsibilities. I came in the Marine Corps to defend American rights, and I want to be in the best shape possible to carry out this duty. The program of the 2nd Division to be a combat-ready organization guarantees that our country will always be ready for another Lebanon. I am ready to go wherever my unit should be needed.

FIFTY-STAR FLAG—Independence Day was welcomed at historic Ft. McHenry in Baltimore harbor as the nation's first 50-star flag was raised over its ramparts. This made the new star design official. It is not improper, officials here said, to still display old flags with fewer stars. Although the first flag was flown over Ft. McHenry, Hawaii as the 50th state will receive a special 50-star flag as a gift from President Eisenhower. It will first be flown over Independence Hall in Philadelphia before being taken to the Islands.

Many Things 'Count On 20'

Marines and Navymen often hear the phrase, "It all counts on twenty." It's a saying we like to share with each other in an effort to sum up briefly the evaluation of our time in the service.

In 20 years almost anything can happen to a person. He can become a finer individual in every way, or he may allow the time to slip by without it meaning anything particular to him.

Most of us begin our military careers youthful and eager. Life is a big opportunity, and it all lies ahead of us. Whether a person is a teenager entering the service after high school, or a young adult with one or two years of college to his credit, the military life will bring out his best mental and physical qualities.

From the day he enters the service, he finds every outlet for his capabilities. If he wants more education, he can study any of hundreds of courses offered all service members. His favorite sport or an interesting hobby is readily available. He may decide to get married and have a family. He will see many parts of the country and visit places in the world he never would have been as a civilian.

As he matures and emerges as a career serviceman, he finds himself fitting well into the pattern of a regimented life. By the time 12 or 15 years have passed, he discovers that what actually counts on twenty is all things of value he has received: a life full of activity, friends, security and the respect of his family and fellowmen.

As a civilian he may have been provided with different things over the years. But a military career has contributed much to his life in other ways. When he's close to that day of receiving a life pension, the career serviceman will know that many things count on twenty.

Unerring Loyalty Gives Real Power

A man is still the wonder of the world. Machines draw the ends of the earth together in a day's journey. Machines tear matter apart and record the heart beats of minnows. Great as they all are, machines are made by men.

Man is master of all that he surveys. It's a man's eyes behind the telescope that look into the invisible world of light. The atomic bomb is, after all, only a bigger hammer in a man's hand. The X-rays illuminate the darkest areas of disease, but a man's mind reads the diagnosis.

Man has built wide and deep and high, but nothing that he builds is greater than himself. All power under God is given to him, but he can make nothing better than himself.

Men like Lincoln, Jefferson, Francis of Assisi and Pastuer profoundly influenced the world to look up and move on. These men were eye-openers, letting in the light on closed minds. Most accurately they were seers and prophets. By their insight we see the most important thing on earth is a Man, every, any man, his needs, his hopes, and his final end.

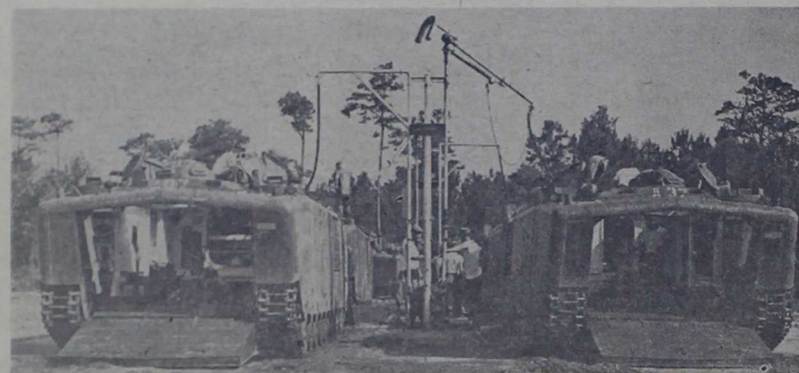

Most of us are not of the stature of these men, but we should readily understand that whatever enlivens the human mind or heals the body is the length and breadth of some man's soul.

Each one of us, therefore, is most important. Realize that importance. Let us be men—big enough to know our limitations and smart enough to live with them. Loyalty to God, our nation, our families and ourselves brings out the bigness of men, and more important, the real power of a man.

Over Half O Res Annual Summer

More than half of the 67 Organized Marine Corps Reserve ground units scheduled for Camp Lejeune will have completed their two weeks of annual field training tomorrow. In all, more than 10,000 civilian Leathernecks from points east of the Mississippi will train here between June and September.

Thirty-five units have completed their training and the fourth increment of 12 reserve units are scheduled to arrive this weekend. Camp Lejeune trains twice as many reserve ground units than any other Marine Corps Base.

Working under the direction of Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, commanding general of Marine Corps Base, Col. Sam W. Smith, officer in charge of the Reserve Liaison Unit here, directs the preparation of training schedules tailored to suit the needs of the various units. Care is taken to make sure that the reservists leave this East Coast amphibious training base well schooled in the latest doctrines of modern warfare.

First item on the agenda for many visiting units is the rifle range. Here, under the tutelage of expert Marine marksmen, the civilian Marines fire the M-1 service rifle and maintain maximum proficiency with this weapon.

From the rifle range, the Organized Marine Reserve units branch out into their specialties.

Making up almost half of the total number units reporting here, rifle companies and infantry battalions continue other aspects of marksmanship training in areas of this 111,000-acre base. Laying aside rifles and pistols for the moment, the infantrymen team up and begin firing such crew-served weapons as the .30 caliber machine gun, the 3.5-inch rocket launcher and recoilless rifle.

Throughout their training the reserve organizations aided by a counterpart among regulars of the Division and Force Troop along with Lejeune's 1st Infantry Training Regiment, Supply Schools and Engineering Schools. The reservists usually billeted in the same living area with their unit and, through mutual respect of the mission and a high degree of cooperation is established.

At one of Camp Lejeune's isolated training areas, reserves learn they can be shot at as well as shoot. Introduced during World War II, the infiltration course is an important part of infantry training.

Lejeune Wins Coastal Title; Will Host All-Marine Seeking Second Consecutive Diamond Crown Next Month

INFIELD DOUBLE—Dave Petros drilled a double off Vic Johnson of Parris Island as the locals downed the Islanders, 1-0, for the third consecutive victory in as many days. Devil dog third sacker Urbano, making a very fine attempt at the sizzling drive was a victim of a bad hop, as the ball struck him in the jaw, rolling into left field, with Petros moving to second. Locals Drop Parris Island; Green Supplies Title Blast

A lone run in the eighth inning last Thursday night gave the Camp Lejeune Marines a three-game sweep, 3-0, 17-3 and 1-0, over the Devil dogs of Parris Island and the East Coast Area Marine Championship for the third consecutive year. By virtue of the mythical title, the defending all-Marine champions of last year have earned the right to host the 1960 Marine classic at Lejeune's beautiful Agganis Field, beginning Aug. 9.

After taking a substantial lead in the title race, with their three-game sweep over the Islanders in April, the Marines salvaged the middle game of the second tri-game set in June to hold a 4-2 edge with six games remaining.

Having to win seven out of 12 for the coastal honors the Marines moved back into Agganis Field after a three-game losing streak while on the road to face the Devil dogs in what could be the deciding games.

Haywood Hurls Shut-Out

Righthander Bill Haywood, who hurled the Marines to their initial victory over the Islanders in April, striking out 14 batters, picked up his 16th victory of the year against five losses, hurling a magnificent three-hit shut-out in the opener, as the locals downed the Islanders, 3-0. Going the route, Haywood struck out 12, while issuing only three bases on balls, to continue as Lejeune's top twirler.

Held scoreless by starting and losing pitcher Garry Townsend until the sixth frame, the locals busted loose for three runs aided by a two-run triple by shortstop Charlie Armstrong, who currently leads the champs with 12 home runs.

Fourth Win

The final run came as first baseman Hal Norton executed a perfect squeeze bunt down the third base line to score Armstrong.

With a 5-2 lead in the title race, the Marines clinched at least a tie for the championship, during the second contest as the big bats of Lejeune slammed seven Parris Island pitchers for 12 hits, defeating the Islanders 17-3.

Rumer Wins, Plays Final Game

Bob Rumer, Lejeune veteran hurler picked up his 11th win of the season against four defeats. It was Rumer's final game as a Leatherneck and the Marines will be without his services during the All-Marine classic due to his contemplated discharge this month.

The visitors picked up lone tallies in the fourth, sixth and ninth innings while the locals who had scored in the first added four in the third, one in the fifth, three in the seventh and put the game out of reach as they exploded for eight runs in the eighth.

Pitchers' Duel

In direct reversal of the 17-run route the previous evening, Lejeune's Charlie Bryan and Parris Island's Vic Johnson engaged in the finest pitching duel seen at Camp Lejeune this year during the final game. With both teams scoreless and Lejeune leading in hits 5-3, second baseman Barry Fullerton opened up the eighth frame with a resounding single to left center field. Catcher Hank Nichols successfully sacrificed Fullerton to second, but Lejeune fans saw their hopes dwindle as Devil dog first baseman Cal McNair leaped high into the air to snag a whizzing line drive off the bat of left-fielder Dave Petros for the second out. Third baseman Jim Green, who had previously walked twice and forced a teammate at second base in three official trips, fouled two pitches back before slashing his run-scoring single into right center field to score Fullerton in what proved to be the winning run.

With both clubs managing several scoring opportunities, both hurlers were "rough in the pinches," as Bryan gave up four hits, five walks and struck out 11, and Johnson striking out 12, allowed seven safeties and walked only two.

After last week's three-game sweep over Parris Island for the East Coast Area Marine Championship, the Camp Lejeune nine has been named to host the 1960 All-Marine Championship at Agganis Field. Scheduled to get under way Aug. 9, the locals will face the West Coast champs and the Pacific Ocean Area Marine champs in a double elimination tournament in an effort to defend the title they won last year. Moving into the classic for the fourth time, Coach Glasgow is looking for his second consecutive title, after two setbacks, one at Lejeune and the first in Hawaii.

The West Coast title will be decided between Camp Pendleton and San Diego, while the Pacific Ocean Area crown will be determined between the Hawaiian Marines and the 3rd Marine Division All-Star team at Okinawa.

Dealt Two Losses

In 1958, the Marines were dealt two losses by San Diego, which was dominating West Coast baseball, and which later went on to win the crown. However, in 1959, Camp Pendleton up set the defending champion in the West Coast title race and moved into the All-Marine play-offs with the Hawaiian Marines and Lejeune.

After defeating the Scouts of Pendleton, 6-2, behind the 15-strikeout pitching of Gerry Smith in last year's opener at Hawaii, the locals became the title favorites among the Hawaiian fans.

Pendleton bounced back to defeat Hawaii and in turn the Islanders handed the locals their first loss of the tourney, 8-1, behind the brilliant three-hit pitching of Don Furth.

With the classic in a tie for the first time in history, Pendleton drew a bye, as the Marines downed and edged Hawaii from further competition, 3-2.

Final Win

Thad McCulloch, still with the local nine, hurled and drove in the final run during the title game to hand the Marines the All-Marine title, over Pendleton, 3-1.

Lejeune's Gerry Smith was lauded as the tournament's most valuable player, while Hawaii's pitcher-first baseman, Bill Haywood, now with Camp Lejeune (16-5), carried off slugging honors with a healthy .455.

With a crowd of 24,000 viewing the Marines, sportswriters and sportscasters alike termed the tournament as one of the most spectacular sporting events ever staged by the services in the history of the Honolulu Stadium.

Local Eleven Prepares For 1960 Season

Camp Lejeune Special Services has issued an invitation to all interested personnel to try out for the 1960 football team. All candidates are requested to report to the Base Special Services Office, Goettge Memorial Field House, Building No. 751 to fill out an athletic questionnaire during the period July 18 through 22.

A one week screening period will be held, commencing Aug. 1, with practice sessions being held from 1 to 4:30 p.m., weekdays, 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays. Candidates are requested to report to the Field House equipped with shorts, football shoes and T-shirts from their Unit Special Services.

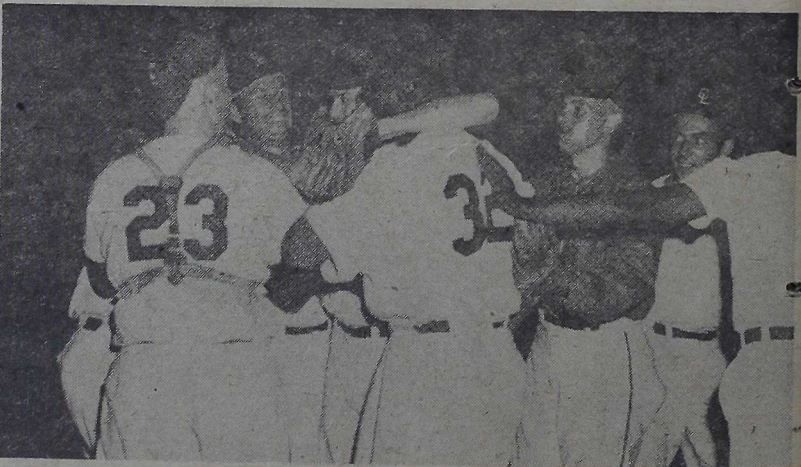

All candidates will be issued a card signed by the Base Special Services Officer, identifying them as candidates for the team, and commanding officers have been requested to excuse all members of their units bearing such cards on practice at 12 noon weekdays and 7 a.m. Saturday, commencing with the effective date on the cards.

Screening will be designed not as a conditioning period but rather as a chance for the coaches to view the abilities of the prospective players. Those candidates reporting have been requested to be in fair physical shape for the game.

Upon completion of the screening period on August 6, those candidates making the club will be issued an invitation to join the Marine eleven in regular practice which will follow.

win was the third straight during the current series with Bill Haywood adding a 3-0 blanking in the opener. The Marines pounded seven Parris Island hurlers for 12 hits in the second game to win easily, 17-3. (Photo by Cpl. C. L. Boyd)

You Can't Buy A Car For One Dollar Down

1960 PULITZER PRIZE WINNING SERIES

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles prepared by Miriam Offenberger of the Washington Star to expose the used car racket and to help prospective buyers of used cars protect themselves.)

If the advertised car really is a bargain, investigators found the unscrupulous dealer has no intention of selling it at that price. If the buyer persists, the salesman goes through the motions of closing the deal—only to be interrupted dramatically at the last moment by another salesman who says the car already has been sold. Where is the proof that the car was a come-on?

The association also has made repeated efforts to persuade Washington newspapers not to accept misleading advertising by unscrupulous used car dealers.

The Washington Star, which consistently requires that any car advertised below the wholesale price must carry a detailed description of its defects, is rarely approached by the most complained-about used car dealers.

Enforcement officials object to the credit come-ons in the advertising of the most complained-about dealers. Here are some of the phrases they object to and why:

1. "No down payment" or "$1 down. You can't buy a car for $1 down unless you can produce the entire cash balance within a few days—and the dealers controlled by finance companies don't want cash deals. If the car has to be financed, you have to produce a down payment of about one-third of the value of the car before the finance company will touch it.

2. "Take over payments and assume balance due" on repossessed cars. You can't simply take over the old contract and continue the payments for several reasons. First, a new contract must be written. Secondly, the dealer would have nothing to protect himself with if you didn't produce enough of a down payment to give you an equity in the car. The only exception is the arrangement where a previous owner signs an agreement transferring the contract. Even here, some equity is usually demanded. This doesn't happen in the course of juggling repossessed cars from owner to finance company to dealer to another car.

3. "No payment until 1961." The statement of advertising principles of the National Automobile Dealers Association specifies that where an advertisement calls for no down payment before 45 days or longer, the ad should stipulate the amount of down payment necessary to make the transaction. In some cases here, the ad gives the impression that you can put $1 down and not pay another cent on your car until 1961. Just try it sometime.

Virginia Will Clamp Down On Thumbing

Recently, a number of servicemen, including several Marines, have been arrested on Interstate Highway 95 (Richmond - Petersburg Turnpike) for "hitch-hiking" or "trespassing." The Marines have been required to post bond or be put in jail.

At the request of Judge Ernest G. Garrett Jr., of the Henrico County Court, Richmond, Va., the officer in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Richmond, has advised personnel of this command of the hazard, not only to life, but of accordance with the law, of being on this highway as a hitch-hiker or pedestrian.

Briefly, the traffic rules and regulations for the turnpike are: obey officers; obey speed limits as posted, the maximum speed is 60 miles per hour, the minimum, 40; keep in the right-hand lane, pass on the left only; no crossing or parking on the median strip;

No stopping or parking on the turnpike; no U-turns; no pedestrians are allowed on the turnpike nor is hitch-hiking permissible and do not try to evade paying the toll fare.

Rules and regulations for the use and occupancy of the turnpike are posted at all toll barriers and toll ramp stations.

Second Anniversary Of Lebanon Landing Tomorrow

'Force-In-Readiness' Role Of 2nd Division Demonstrated At Lebanon Two Years Ago

Two years ago tomorrow, the United States Marines landed in Lebanon to again prove to the world that our force-in-readiness would support free nations threatened by aggression. The landing was made in the face of the threat of global war by the Soviet bloc of nations.

From speeches made before the 20th Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union in February, 1956, it appeared the Soviets had shifted emphasis from reliance on tactics of violence to support of peaceful political coalitions.

But the massacre of Hungarians by Soviet troops the following October and the violent overthrow of the legitimate government of Iraq by communist-inspired rebels in July, 1958, proved conclusively that Soviet propagandists twist words to conceal Moscow's intentions and to justify whatever actions already taken.

No one in the Middle East seemed to know this better than President Camille Chamoun of Lebanon. Fearing that his nation would be unable to survive against revolutionaries from the East, President Chamoun appealed to President Eisenhower for immediate support.

That night after conferring with his top advisors, President Eisenhower made his decision to bolster tiny Lebanon.

Since the close of World War II, American Navy and Marine personnel had been on the alert to prevent communist domination of free Middle East nations. The 2nd Marine Division, for one, had provided reinforced battalion landing teams on a rotation basis.

In anticipation of possible trouble in the Middle East, an additional landing team was dispatched to the Mediterranean in April, 1958. Thanks to the arrival of a relief battalion for one that had been sent in January, three 2nd Marine Battalion landing teams were ready for action when the call for help came from Lebanon.

It was just after 1 p.m. on July 15, that the first Marines landed on Lebanon's shores. These were members of the 2nd Bn., Second Marines. Afterwards came the 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, and 1st Bn., Eighth Marines. Two days later the remaining battalions of the Eighth Marines came ashore.

In mid-August the Marines were withdrawn from Lebanon. But the speed with which they responded to the Lebanon crisis will never be forgotten, and this is proof more of the Marines' commitment to a force-in-readiness to meet any threat to either American interests or to those of her allies.

Unit Leader Effort Reflected In MC Reenlistment Figures

What does the Marine Corps have to offer a Pfc? This is a question that is frequently asked by potential career Marines nearing the end of their enlistments. The one best fitted to answer this question is a unit's reenlistment NCO. His responsibility is to explain to Marines with seven months or less to do on their enlistments the advantages of remaining in the Marine Corps.

Two veteran Marine Corps staff NCO's are available to personnel at Marine Corps Base to assist company commanders and section heads in promoting reenlistment programs within their units. They are Act. MSgt. Howard Wooldridge and Act. SSgt. Joseph J. Pratte.

Designated as Career Appraisal Counsellors, NCO's, Sergeants Wooldridge and Pratte, since March, 1960, have talked to over 1,000 Marines during 14 presentations, to groups of 50 to 60 men.

In addition to pointing out various fringe benefits to be derived from service in the Marine Corps, Sergeants Wooldridge and Pratte are available to individual Marines for interviews regarding American college and university requirements as well as civilian occupational potentials.

Sergeant Wooldridge stated that the Reenlistment Program should start at the desk of unit commanders long before an individual Marine is released from active duty. This, not the last minute, is the time to interest prospective reenlistees to the benefits and advantages of a Marine Corps career. Success in such a program, states Sergeant Wooldridge—and his words are taken from comments by the Commandant of the Marine Corps—is a direct reflection on individual unit commanders.

A Marine that reenlists for four years, may choose transfer either overseas or to a Stateside station west of the Mississippi; retention at his present duty station for one year, retraining, or a service school.

A six-year enlistment entitles a Marine to choose a particular overseas or Stateside station. Both the four and the six-year reenlistment options are available to sergeants (E-5) and below.

A first reenlistment entitles a Marine to 30 days' pay times the number of years of reenlistment. A second to 20 days and a third to 10 times the number of years of reenlistment, with the maximum amount of reenlistment bonus not to exceed $2,000.

Absentee Voting Laws

NORTH CAROLINA

Armed Forces personnel should apply for registration and absentee ballot by mailing the Federal Post Card Application (FPCA) to the Secretary of State in Raleigh or to the Chairman, County Board of Elections, county of residence, anytime. All ballots must be at the polls by 3 p.m. on election day.

Voters are required to be 21 on the day of election and have established a minimum residence of one year in the state and 30 days in the voting precinct. Also, be able to read and write the state constitution.

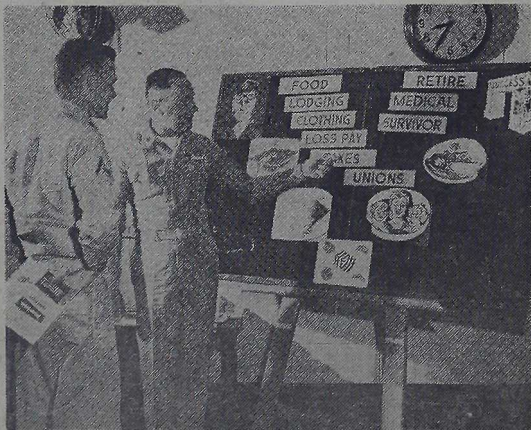

OHIO

Armed Forces personnel are not required to register when voting by absentee ballot. To receive their ballot they should mail the Federal Post Card Application (FPCA) so it will reach the Clerk of the County Board of Elections, county of residence, anytime after Jan. 1. These ballots must be in by 12 noon election day.

Voters must be 21 on date of election and have met a residence requirement of one year in state, 40 days in county and 40 days in precinct. Servicemen may vote for Presidential Electors with less than one year's residence if otherwise qualified.

Free Nursery

A free nursery is now provided for those sergeants and below who attend dances at Mars-ton Pavilion on Friday and Saturday nights and on special dance nights. The nursery is located in the Midway Park Recreation Hall. The service is for children of all ages and sleeping facilities are provided.

ECC Entrance Exam Offered To Marines

The Base Education Office, in conjunction with East Carolina College, is prepared to administer a college entrance examination to any Camp Lejeune Marine who plans to enter college after completing his military service. Upon successfully passing the exam, the prospective student will be enrolled as a fully-matriculated student at East Carolina.

The advantage of taking the college entrance exam before separation from the service is that should the Marine decide to attend some college other than East Carolina, the transfer from East Carolina to another school would be easier than direct application to the other college. Many colleges probably would not require another entrance exam other than the one taken at Camp Lejeune.

The three-hour exam is given periodically at the Base Education Office testing room, Bldg. 19. It is scheduled each time a group of nine or 10 persons indicate their desire to take it, and is usually conducted on Thursday afternoon. Any Marine who is a high school graduate or has successfully passed the high school level GED test is eligible to take the exam.

For further information about the examination, contact the Base Education Office, Camp Theater, Bldg. 19, phone 7-5121 or 7-5572.

Marine's Bus Driver Retires After 35,000 Round Trips

Last Saturday marked the end of an era for Marvin "Puny" Brown, a bus driver for Seashore Transportation Company for almost 18 years. On that day Brown quit driving buses in order to devote his full time to his store and farm in the Blue Creek section of Onslow County. During his 18 years behind the wheel Puny Brown made approximately 35,000 round trips between Camp Lejeune and Jacksonville, some 2,000 trips to Wilmington, and numerous extra trips to Wilson, Rocky Mount, and other outlying points. All of this without a single accident. Over one and one-quarter million people—mostly Marines—have ridden Brown's buses in complete safety. He has a rarely equalled record for safe driving.

During his final years of service Brown drove a modern diesel coach equipped with air suspension and other up-to-date gadgets. It was not always so, as many Marine Corps veterans of Camp Lejeune's beginnings will readily attest.

"Puny's" first runs to Lejeune were made with refugees from bus graveyards, with the well-membered "cattlecars" converted from new car carriers, or with other equally uncomfortable makeshift buses. New buses were just not available, and bus lines operating in heavily impacted areas were never able to adequately meet the exploding demand for transportation.

During those early days of World War II Brown recalls that, pending completion of Holcomb Boulevard, buses from Jacksonville went all the way to Piney Green, then over a dirt road to the present traffic circle and turned around. Marines on liberty and leave would jam up the traffic circle area in front of Bldg. 1 waiting for transportation. As there were never enough buses, these Marines would sometimes get so tired of waiting that they would set out on foot until they met the bus, and many buses loaded and headed back for Jacksonville without ever getting to the circle.

All of that is changed now. The commercial bus system here has grown along with Camp Lejeune, and Marvin Brown has been an integral part of that growth. Passengers, fellow employees, and company officials joined in expressing their regrets at Brown's departure from the scene.

Ohio Reservist's Devotion To Corps Reaps Dividends

A plank-owner in the 74th Rifle Company, Mansfield, Ohio, had to quit his civilian job in order to attend annual field training with his unit. In the process, however, his devotion to the Marine Corps Reserve has paid off with the promise of a better job. He is Act. SSgt. Haldon C. Light, of 10 Morningside Dr., Shelby, Ohio.

Light, who joined the unit when it was activated in 1953 with a complement of two officers and 10 enlisted, has made summer training with the unit every year except the first year. He missed attending then because he was hospitalized with appendicitis.

"I haven't had a vacation for the past three years and when I was refused a military leave of absence this year to attend training with my unit I just quit my job," said Light.

As the gunnery sergeant for the reserve unit, Light feels it is his duty to make summer camp with the unit.

Capt. Lichtenberger of the 4th said, "That man can get the troops to do things and make them like it. He just has a way with them."

Light joined the USMC-V program in 1949 for one year and was released just prior to the Korean War. Recalled to active duty in October, 1950, he served with the 2nd Division here until released in 1952.

Light said he plans to go to business for himself when he returns to Mansfield. An insurance firm there has offered him the opportunity of taking over a territory for insurance sales.

Absentee Voting Is Established For You

It costs nothing, it takes only minutes, it is everyone's freedom-given right and duty—why hesitate to vote? Is the next Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces of so little significance to individuals that they care not who he is? In the 1956 Presidential elections, only 62 million out of more than 102 million qualified voters cast their ballot to choose the next leader of the nation.

The Absentee Voting program was especially established a few years ago for servicemen and selected others who could not be in their home states at election time. It provides for Camp Lejeune Marines and their wives an opportunity to add their voice to the political clamor of election year.

A lot of information about the Federal Post Card Application form (FPCA) has been made available. But signs indicate that many of the facts have gone unnoticed or unread.

For example, the Chairman of the Onslow County Board of Elections reports his office has erroneously received several FPCA forms from Camp Lejeune personnel. These persons have apparently misinterpreted information about absentee voting to mean that they should apply for ballots to Onslow County instead of their county of residence in their home state.

According to Mr. Fred Gore, the Onslow County Board of Elections chairman, Camp Lejeune personnel are not considered residents of Onslow County for voting purposes unless they present proof of their intent of continued residence in the county after separation from the service. Only under that condition can Camp Lejeuners validly apply to Onslow County for absentee ballots.

Early application is of essence in the absentee voting program. The voter should get as soon as possible the FPCA form from his unit voting officer or from the Base Education Office. If he is not sure of his legal county of residence because of absence from it for some period of time, the best general rule is to send the form to the Secretary of State of the state of residence. The Secretary of State will forward the application for absentee ballot to the proper official of the voter's county.

Upon receiving the application form, the county of residence will mail the absentee ballot to the voter as quickly as possible. The voter is advised not to get impatient if the absentee ballot because the ballot cannot be prepared and distributed until all candidates have been chosen. That is, absentee ballots cannot be prepared until after all conventions and primary elections have been completed.

Generally, the absentee ballot will be in the voters' hands sometime in September or early October. If it is not received by the 15th of October, the voter is advised to reapply.

It is the best practice to mail and return the absentee ballot immediately upon receiving it from the home county. The ballot without doubt be counted in the election if received a month or two early, but there is some question about its validity if it gets to the voting place a day or two after the election.
