

BRIGADELEX Returns From Vieques, P. R.

The 10th Provisional Marine Brigade, composed of the 2nd Bn. (reinf.), Sixth Marines, and a provisional Marine aircraft squadron from the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing returned to Camp Lejeune Tuesday.

Commanded by Col. Melvin D. Henderson, the provisional brigade made an across-the-beach and helicopter assault and conducted a two-day field problem as the final maneuver in the second Brigade Landing Exercise of 1960.

BRIGADELEX 2-60 began in mid-March when troops and aircraft embarked aboard ships of Amphibious Squadron 10. Elements of the Brigade participated in LANTPHIBEX 1-60 in late March and the entire unit made an assault landing at Vieques, Puerto Rico, on April 11. En route to Vieques from Camp Lejeune, the Brigade conducted carrier qualifications for HMR-264, a Marine helicopter squadron based at the New River (N. C.) Air Facility.

The 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines, were reinforced by artillery, anti-tank, reconnaissance and other units of the 2nd Marine Division. Tanks, artillery and landing craft from Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, were also included in the ground forces of the Brigade. HMR-264, commanded by Lt. Col. Edward Reid, and other elements of the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing provided air support for the brigade.

Dependents and other observers were not allowed in the Onslow Beach area but they were invited to witness the helicopter assault. The helicopter landing site was located off State Route 72 just south of the junction of Sneads Ferry Road. Bus service was provided from the Goettge Memorial Field House parking lot to the helicopter landing site for dependents.

signed to him. He will send the results of his study to Headquarters Marine Corps where they will be closely studied and evaluated by a Board of 33 field grade officers.

The members of the Board will compare the results of the analysts with a set of standards or factors which are nothing more than the requirements common to most Marine Corps billets. These factors include: knowledge, leadership, supervision of personnel, freedom of action, adaptability, responsibility for material, concentration required and physical skill.

The end result of the comparison of the analyst's reports with the standards or factors will be the determining of comparable skills necessary to do the job on the outside and deciding what rank the man holding the specific Marine Corps billet should hold.

The results of the study will also be put to other important uses. They will be the basis for the modernization of the MOS Manual, providing up-to-date job designations.

and Edson rivals, is cut well down to competitive size by a ruling that became effective in 1958.

Division teams must be picked from regiments within the Division and not from the entire unit as a composite team. Coaches also must come from the regiment. The team coach plays an all-important role in team firing since he calls all the elevation and windage changes and directs his team from the firing line.

Also firing tomorrow in the Elliott Trophy Match will be several teams competing for the 34-year-old Wirgman Trophy.

First Occupants To Move Into Capehart Units Soon

Plans to occupy the first ultra-modern Capehart units at Camp Lejeune were disclosed this week. The first 25 units are scheduled to be released by the contractor on May 16. Cmdr. N. C. Harvey, resident officer in charge of construction, said he expects to accept these quarters for the government about May 20, following routine inspection. The first families will start moving in on May 23 if Commander Harvey gives the housing director the green light.

First to be occupied will be the junior officer area located on Paradise Point near the Stone Street elementary school. This area will be known as Hill Plaza in honor of long-time Marine Corps Quartermaster General, Maj. Gen. W. P. T. Hill (Ret.).

The entire area of Capehart quarters will be known as Berkeley Manor, commemorating the late Maj. Gen. Randolph C. Berkeley, 1914 Medal of Honor winner at Vera Cruz and father of the present commander of the 2nd Marine Division. Contractors expect to turn the first enlisted units over to the government for occupancy about June 30.

The junior officer area near Marston Pavilion will be known as Timmerman Place to honor a WWII medal of honor winner, the late Sgt. Grant F. Timmerman.

Capehart senior officer quarters off River Drive, near the banks of New River, will be named Cukela Court for a Marine whose exploits are among the most colorful and courageous recorded in Corps archives. He was Maj. Louis Cukela, one of seven Marines ever to win two Medals of Honor.

Cmdr. N. C. Harvey, Public Works Officer, said he expects to accept the first units about May 20, following routine inspection. The housing office plans to move the first families in within three days after Public Works gives the green light.

Following the initial turn-over of Hill Plaza junior officer units, contractors intend to make units available at the rate of one per week until the $13-million project is completed. A total of 123 units are to be built—123 and 667 enlisted.

If all goes well, Timmerman Place and Cukela Court will be occupied during May and the first of June.

Workshop In Letter Style To Be Offered

A course in Effective Letter Writing will be presented to top level military and civilian supervisors of Camp Lejeune, May 16-20. The course is designed to point out to persons who handle large volumes of paperwork some of the common faults in correspondence throughout the government and to teach these leaders to correct these faults. The classes will be held in Bldg. 37, the former site of the main Base Post Office.

Because the volume of written communication is progressively increasing in the government, a need for more simplicity and clarity in correspondence has been realized. The National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration was designated to develop a series of workshops in various areas of paperwork management to help attain this goal of clarity in correspondence.

The instructor of the course will be Mr. M. S. McMichen, Management Analyst, GS-12, of the National Archives and Records Service of the GSA. Mr. McMichen is from the GSA Regional Office in Atlanta, Ga.

The course is divided into two workshops, "A" and "B." Workshop "A" is a one-hour presentation designed to emphasize to commanders and senior staff officers the benefits of more effective writing and to summarize the workshop "B" course content. It will be held Monday, May 16, in Bldg. 37.

Workshop "B," for the military and civilian leaders who are primarily concerned with the paperwork problems, will consist of four two and a half hour sessions. Student participation will be encouraged by discussion and actual writing practice.

Hal Holbrook Has Humorous Experience As Mark Twain

Hal Holbrook, the Broadway actor who brings his brilliant one-man show, "Mark Twain Tonight!" to the stage of Camp Theater on May 16 at 8 p.m., has had some humorous experiences while playing Mark Twain at the age of 70. Holbrook, himself, is in his early 30's. After a show in Elmira, N.Y., where Twain is buried, the actor—still in his make-up—checked in at the Mark Twain hotel. The desk clerk's mouth fell open. Loungers in the lobby rose to their feet. And the elevator boy treated Holbrook with awesome respect. He even insisted on helping "the old fellow" down the hall to his room.

Then Holbrook removed his make-up and rang for the elevator again. The boy didn't recognize him, but when he stood in the lobby admiring a large portrait of Twain on the wall, the elevator boy came over and stood beside him. There was a long pause. Then the actor murmured, "Quite a face, isn't it?"

"Yeah," said the elevator boy. "Say, you know that fellow who does him? He's here tonight!"

According to the New Yorker Magazine, "Hal Holbrook brings Twain back alive." So, if some young man you don't know walks up to you after the performance and asks how you like it—he careful. It may be the "guy who did the show."

Tickets for this event are now on sale at the Marine Corps Exchange, Field House, Naval Hospital, Officers Club, Staff NCO Camp Theater and Unit Services.

"THE FALSE REPORT of death has been grossly exaggerated,"—Mark Twain, as portrayed by Hal Holbrook.

World War I Navy Cross Winner Visits 6th Marines

Dr. Walter E. Furr, a World War I Marine who won the Navy Cross and Distinguished Service Cross while serving with the Sixth Marines, visited his old Regimental Headquarters at Camp Lejeune May 6. Welcomed aboard by Lt. Col. P. I. Olson, executive officer, Sixth Marines, Dr. Furr was accompanied by his son-in-law, Dr. Thomas B. Reed of Jacksonville, N. C.

Pvt. Walter E. Furr began drilling on the sands of Parris Island in June of 1917 and today, 43 years later, he is still drilling. But today, there is a difference.

Now he is Dr. Walter E. Furr.

Bulletin

Miss Savings Bond of 1960, Jean Lemons, will arrive at Camp Lejeune Monday afternoon to address the audience prior to the performance of Hal Holbrook in "Mark Twain Tonight!"

Miss Lemons was named as Miss Savings Bond of 1960 by the U. S. Treasury Department.

a practicing dentist in Franklin, N. C., and the only drilling he does is on defective teeth.

"America had been in the war about two months when I volunteered for the Marines at Franklin, N. C.," said Dr. Furr, who is now a dentist in Jacksonville, N. C., "reminding in Colonel Olson's office. The doctor went through "boot" training at Parris Island and then was sent to Quantico before shipping out to France with the Sixth Marines.

Dr. Furr served with the 84th Co., 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines and was first saw action in the "quiet" sector of the trenches at Verdun.

He explained that the sector was called "quiet" because there was a minimum of troops movement, but a maximum of harassing action by German planes and artillery.

Mont Blanc, Meuse-Argonne, Belleau Wood and Soissons are hallowed names in Marine tradition and well-remembered by Dr. Furr. Glancing at these and other names commemorating Marine victories that encircle the bulkhead of Colonel Olson's office, Dr. Furr recalled that it was on the Soissons front in July of 1918, when he captured seven Germans and was later awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and the Navy Cross for his action.

The former Marine proudly commented that his DSC citation was signed by Army Gen. John J. "Blackjack" Pershing who commanded the Allied Expeditionary Forces.

Before Dr. Furr departed from Camp Lejeune, Colonel Olson presented him with a modern copy of the French Fourragere in memory of his visit.

In acceptance, Dr. Furr said, "I think the Marines are the best outfit and I'm proud to have been associated with them."

Success is making hay with grass that grows under others' feet.

Tarawa Terrace's PTA Plans Years' Events At Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Tarawa Terrace Parent-Teachers' Association was held at 7:30 this morning in the Tarawa Terrace school auditorium.

Since this was the last meeting held this school year, the business meeting was directed toward scheduling the anticipated activities for next year. Events scheduled were dances, parties, open-house, etc. The purpose of this topic at this particular meeting was to include the schedule in the Teachers Handbook. This handbook is published before the next school year begins and it is most beneficial to both parents and teachers to have the proposed activity schedule included in this book for planning.

The association wishes to stress the need for ideas and suggestions from anyone interested or concerned with the school program. This will insure a well-rounded program next year.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served to those attending.

Keep Your Home Properly Policed

Although the Base Maintenance Section is responsible for the proper police and maintenance of housing areas, it is still the individual's responsibility and duty to keep his own area in a proper state of police.

Too often, this is left undone causing unsightly and unhealthy living conditions. A few minutes spent in picking up paper and trash around houses will be rewarding in a neat and clean living area.

Also, Base Maintenance is responsible for the repairs and maintenance of quarters, including garages. It has been noticed that many garage doors are left open or partially opened which causes them to warp and, at the same time, present an unorderly appearance. It is then necessary for the Maintenance section to spend money on men and materials to adjust the doors to close.

Many occupants have put up badminton courts in their front yards. This may seem necessary for the child's recreation but it is an added expense to the Marine Corps. The repeated use of these areas results in unsightly lawns and unnecessary cluttering. It costs money to re-seed these areas.

A little time, a little consideration and a little conservation will make our housing areas a much cleaner and more attractive place in which to live.

If You Ask Me:

HOW IS YOUR CAREER AS A NAVY NURSE MOST REWARDING?

D. RYAN, Lt. NC, USN—I remember most my years of duty in Japan and Guam. Although I like my work at Camp Lejeune, the time I spent in the Far East stands out as some of the most pleasant years of my life. I wanted to travel, and travel I did. I had an especially enjoyable time during a 10 day leave I took in Hong Kong.

B. WATSON, Lt. Cmdr., NC, USN, — I have spent a happy 13 years in the Nurse Corps. After joining in 1947, I worked for six years in routine nursing duties. In 1953, I was assigned to anesthesiologist school and have worked as an anesthesiologist since then. It has been the interesting life I had expected it to be.

P. L. ERJAVIC, Lt. Cmdr., NC, USN — Some of my most rewarding duty since I became a member of the Navy Nurse Corps has been service at sea. Nurses Observe 52nd Birthday

Tomorrow, the Navy Nurse Corps will celebrate its 52nd anniversary—52 short years in which the Nurse Corps has proved itself to be a vital and unique component of the sea service.

It is unique in that nurses are the only women allowed to break an old naval tradition and serve beside men in advance areas.

The Nurse Corps is important because through it the skills of hundreds of professionally trained women are brought to bear in behalf of injured men who are often in desperate need of these skills.

This front line nursing care has paid off in lives saved in World War II and the Korean conflict. But there was a time when many people were not convinced that women in uniform would be a good thing for the service.

A bill was passed in 1908 establishing the Navy Nurse Corps as an integral part of the sea service. The first nurses to be assigned overseas went to the Philippine Islands, Guam, Hawaii, Yokohama, Samoa and Cuba.

When World War I broke out, 190 nurses were on active duty. After the United States entered the war, nurses were sent to England, Ireland, Scotland and France. At war's end, the Corps had expanded to 1,386. During the war, four nurses were awarded the Navy Cross, three of them posthumously for extraordinary heroism.

From the first group in 1908 to the present day, the Navy Nurse Corps has developed into a well-trained, proud corps of "women in white" with a high standard of service.

Service with a woman's touch is the proud tradition of the Navy's Nurse Corps and the GLOBE wishes to extend its congratulations on their 52nd anniversary.

Church-Goers Are Smarter?

There are some who think that those who go to church consider themselves superior to other people. When those who think this way are asked to attend church themselves they refuse, saying, "I'm just as good as any church-goer!"

This is a common attitude—and a foolish one. The vast majority of those who are regularly found in church are there not because they think they are any better than those outside, they are there because they know that they are very far from being good and they would like to become better men and women. To attain this end, they seek the help of God in worship and prayer. Christians are, in fact, men under reconstruction. They are those who have come to see that their lives are in a bit of a mess and that their own resources are insufficient to straighten things out.

Recognizing their need, they meet God on His terms and turn over to Him the task of rebuilding their lives. They have found out for themselves that whenever God is sincerely invited to enter a human life, He begins to change that person. God makes that person into someone who really does love good and hate evil. This is the peculiar beauty of the Christian faith: it is not by a matter of dogmas of "thou shalt not" but by the coming of God's Spirit into our spirits that, whether the process is fast or slow, we are changed from within.

So, when you next feel inclined to criticize the genuine church-goer or to condemn him as one who thinks he is better than you, wait a moment. Remember that he is a man under reconstruction. He may not be better than you but he may very well be smarter than you. He has found that his life needs rebuilding—and he is doing something about it. It could be that what he is doing is what you need to do, too.

Division Chaplain.

National And American League Leaders Stand Pat With Three Straight Victories

Headquarters Battalion and 2nd Reconnaissance Battalion each eked out one run decisions to maintain their lofty perch atop the American and National leagues of the 2nd Division softball conference last week. It was the third consecutive victory without a loss for the front-running aggregations. Headquarters Battalion ran up against some tight pitching in the form of 3rd Battalion, Second Marines' Bill Clark before they could notch their second victory of the campaign; a close

3-2 decision. Clark limited the usually heavy-hitting Headquarters Bn. contingent to five safeties and displayed airtight control in his seven-inning stint on the mound. Art Andreoli was the big gun at the plate for the league leaders when he boomed a long triple to drive in the second run of the game in the home half of the fourth inning. Andreoli later scored what proved to be the winning run when he crossed the plate on a deep fly to left field.

Brian McNaughton, ace Headquarters hurler, displayed an unusual streak of wildness in posting his second victory. McNaughton limited the 3rd Bn., Second Marines squad to five hits but walked the bases full on three separate occasions. His wildness almost proved his undoing in the top half of the sixth frame when the 3rd Bn., Second Marines put together several walks and two base knocks for their only two scores of the afternoon.

Headquarters Bn. flashed their usual high-scoring form in their third encounter of the campaign when they bested 2nd AT Bn. by a 17-4 count. The loss dropped the 2nd Anti-Tank team into fourth place in league play.

Bitter Contest

In the only other American league action Pioneer Bn. evened their seasonal log with a bitterly contested 8-7 win over 1st Bn., Tenth Marines. The triumph moved Pioneers into a second place tie with the Cannoneer contingent.

Recon Bn. continued to be the team to beat on the National league scene as they rolled to their second consecutive shutout victory; a 7-0 decision over 2nd Bn., Second Marines. The seven point scoring output marked a total of 52 runs for the league-leaders in the first two outings of the season.

In a game originally scheduled for May 20, Recon made it three in a row as they squeaked past a stubborn 4th Bn., Tenth Marine contingent by a 2-1 margin. It was the first time that the pace-setters had been scored upon all season.

In an all-Cannoneer conflict, 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines posted their second straight win with an 11-5 triumph over 4th Bn., Tenth Marines. The win moved the 2nd Bn. aggregation into a tie for second place with the idle Service Bn. nine.

In remaining National league action, 4th Bn., Tenth Marines exploded for 20 runs on 11 hits to swamp 2nd Bn., Eighth Marines by a 20-6 margin. Jerry Brooks provided a potent scoring punch when he blasted a bases-loaded home run in the fourth inning. Jim Reynolds scattered six hits in going the distance for the win.

Due to tactical commitments 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, will be unable to participate in the remainder of the intramural schedule.

Sixth Marines Retain Lead In Division Baseball Action

The Sixth Marines displayed a valiant late inning surge to down a hustling Group I contingent by a 5-3 count. The extra-inning triumph solidified the Sixth Marines' hold on the number one position in the Division baseball proceedings. The two teams battled to a 3-3 stalemate at the end of the regulation seven innings to force the game into extra innings. The game went to the bottom of the ninth before Charlie Lugo connected for a slashing double to set the stage for a game-winning blast by Bill Strickler over the right-field fence.

Group I put together three walks and two straight hits in the opening inning, then managed to squelch a desperate Eighth Marine rally to salt away their first victory of the season. The loss prevented the Eighth Marines from picking up valuable ground on the idle Sixth Marines as Hal Dean went the distance for the Group team, notching his first victory of the season.

The Eighth Marines bounced back in their next start when they exploded for a four-run first inning to hand the Tenth Marines their second defeat of the season. The Cannoneers managed to peek away for three single tallies but were held in check for the remainder of the game by airtight Eighth Marine hurling. Sam Vance rapped a double and triple to drive in three of the five Eighth Marine tallies. Dan D'Andrea led the Group team with two for three at the plate.

The regularly scheduled contest between the league-leading Sixth Marines and the third place Second Marine aggregation was rescheduled for May 12.

Quantico Set To Host 1960 All-Mar Event

MARINE CORPS BASE, QUANTICO, Va., May 5 — The 13th Annual All-Marine Track and Field Championship Meet is scheduled to be held here June 3 and 4, 1960, to determine team and individual champions of the Marine Corps.

Those Marines winning first place in the many events will compete in the Armed Forces Olympic Track and Field Trials, also to be held here June 10 and 11.

Mr. Howard Bailey, sports columnist for the Washington Evening Star, has been invited to act as the official timer for the All-Marine Meet, and Mr. Pincus Sober, Chairman of the U. S. Olympic Men's Track and Field Committee, is scheduled to act as judge for the Armed Forces Olympic Trials later in the month.

OLD AND NEW—New York Football Giants Coach Jim Lee Howell, who commanded "I" Co., 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines, during the fighting on Okinawa in World War II, compares notes with "I" Company's present commander, Capt. Richard I. Coughlin during the recent Joint Civilian Orientation Conference.

Giants Coach Jim Howell Congratulates JCOC Action

"Now in the old Corps," smiled Coach Jim Lee Howell of the New York Football Giants, "things were a lot different."

"You mean before the A-bomb, don't you, Coach," countered Capt. Richard L. Coughlin, commanding officer, "I" Co., 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines, 2nd Divison. This bit of good-natured repartee between Coach

Howell, representing the "old breed" and Captain Coughlin the "new breed," occurred when the two met during a helicopter demonstration held for the 30th Joint Civilian Orientation Conference (JCOC) at Camp Lejeune May 4.

Captain Coughlin's company took part in the amphibious landing and over-the-beach assault phase of the demonstration. Coach Howell commanded "I" Company during the fierce fighting on Okinawa during WWII.

While comparing notes about their commands, Coughlin and Howell discovered other similarities: Coach Howell now lives in Englewood, N. J., where Coughlin was born. Vince Lombardi, former assistant coach of the Giants under Howell, taught Captain Coughlin chemistry and physics at St. Cecilia High School in Englewood.

When he was introduced to the battalion commander, Lt. Col. R. C. Peck, Coach Howell congratulated him upon "... the splendid performance" displayed by the 3rd Bn. Marines in the demonstration.

"Today's Marines appear much sharper, better equipped and better trained than we were back in 1945," commented Coach Howell.

The former Marine said that he and other JCOC members were very much impressed with the "professional" manner in which the Marines handled themselves and their equipment.

After the vertical envelopment demonstration, the JCOC members witnessed an assault on a fortified position and then departed for Cherry Point where they boarded planes for the return trip to Washington.

Free Instruction

The next Camp Lejeune Marine Flying Club meeting will be May 23 in the Conference Room at Building 1. All members are urged to attend, and those interested in becoming members are also invited. Any club member who gets a new fully paid member will receive one hour of free flight instruction. Lt. M. C. Campbell, 3rd Bn., Tenth Marines, 2nd Division was elected treasurer to relieve Mrs. Landrigan who is leaving Camp Lejeune. The club plans to solo its first students Sunday and all club members are requested to be present. The club desires an insignia and will give one-hour of free flight instruction for the insignia selected. Anyone having any ideas for insignia should submit them to the club. Proposed insignia may be submitted to Mrs. Nobles, 2nd FSR, Building 914.

Golf Slices

Several linksters have asked for a ruling on lost ball, ball out of bounds, and an unplayable lie. Rule 29 states that on a lost ball or ball out of bounds, the player shall play his next stroke as nearly as possible at the spot from which the original ball was played or moved by the player, adding a penalty stroke to his score for the hole. In other words, on the tee, it may be re-teed. On an unplayable lie, you play as if the ball was lost or out of bounds, but you add two strokes to your score. We believe the rule is unfair because a player who keeps his ball on the course yet has an unplayable lie receives a greater penalty than his opponent who lost his ball or drove it off the golf course. But if you are playing by the rules that's the way it is scored.

Golfing Hazards

The days have finally arrived when the ticks, misquitos and "Old Mr. Rattlesnake" are making their appearance. If someone is unfortunate enough to be bitten by a snake, have him lie down and be quiet while someone goes to the club house for transportation to carry him to the sick bay.

New Greens

As you who have played the No. 2 course recently have noticed, temporary greens have been set up for your convenience while the old greens are in the process of being reseeded. The temporary greens will be played as the old ones with each stroke counting. You are requested to stay clear of the seeded greens.

Navy Nurse Corps To Celebrate 52 Years Of Proud Service To The Sick Tomorrow

"Women of humane disposition and tender manners . . . active and healthy . . . attending to all the sick committed to their charge with fidelity and care." These words tell the story of the Navy Nurse Corps. Tomorrow, May 13, the Navy Nurse Corps is celebrating its 52nd anniversary of care for the Navy and Marine Corps' sick and wounded. The 52 nurses at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Camp Lejeune, are constantly upholding the proud tradition of their Corps with their endless hours of devotion and service.

Top officials of the Naval service today are lavish with their praise for Navy nurses. The front line nursing care of these women paid off in many lives saved in World War II and the Korean conflict. Statistics show that of the total sum of men wounded in Korea, less than two per cent died of their injuries.

When the idea for the establishment of a Nurse Corps was first introduced, many people were not convinced that women in uniform would be a good thing for the service. There was some doubt that putting female nurses into Navy hospitals which had not a single female patient would work.

But in 1908, after several years of delays, Congress passed the act which authorized the establishment of the Navy Nurse Corps. The Navy's Surgeon General at that time, Rear Adm. Presley M. Rixey, immediately set up a program to choose the first members of the Corps. The 20 nurses selected to be the first were dubbed by later members of the Nurse Corps as the "Sacred Twenty."

On Aug. 8, 1908, Esther Voorhees Hasson was appointed first superintendent, and by October of the same year the first 20 Navy nurses had reported to the U. S. Naval Hospital, Washington, D. C., for duty. Within a year, the Nurse Corps totaled 44 nurses assigned to the Naval hospitals at Washington, D. C., Norfolk, Va., Annapolis, Md., Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mare Island, Calif. In 1910, nurses were assigned to overseas hospitals in the Philippines, Guam, Hawaii, Japan, Samoa, Cuba, and the Virgin Islands.

In 1911, Lena Sutcliff Higbee was named Superintendent of Navy Nurses and so served until 1922. For her World War I service, she was awarded the Navy Cross—the only woman to receive this award during her lifetime. During World War II, a destroyer was named in her honor, the first combatant vessel to be named in honor of a woman in the service.

During World War I, 1,386 regular and reserve Navy Nurses served in England, Scotland, Ireland and France, as well as in the continental United States. Four of these nurses were awarded the Navy Cross, three of them posthumously, for their distinguished service.

During World War II, one Navy Nurse received the Legion of Merit—the first such medal awarded to a woman—and 13 were awarded the Bronze Star Medal. Eleven of the latter received gold stars in lieu of a second Bronze Star Medal.

Five Navy Nurses were captured by the Japanese on Guam, and repatriated after seven months' interment in Japan. Eleven nurses were captured in Manila and were imprisoned for 37 months.

During World War II, the Navy Nurse Corps reached a peak strength of more than 11,000 nurses who were assigned to Naval activities in the Aleutian Islands, Alaska, New Zealand, Australia, New Hebrides, New Caledonia, Solomon Islands, Admiralty Islands, Marianas Islands, England, Africa, Italy, Bermuda, Newfoundland, Cuba and Jamaica, as well as to Naval Medical activities within the United States.

In 1944, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz wrote: "The nurses bring to the hospital organizations in the Pacific War Theater the high standard of nursing service provided in Naval Hospitals in the United States. Their specialized knowledge and training and their devotion to duty are invaluable in providing the excellent care given our sick and wounded. . . . To these nurses who volunteered their services wherever they may be required, we give our heartfelt thanks for duty well done."

During the Korean conflict, nurses were assigned to three hospital ships in Korean waters; to Military Sea Transportation vessels; to Military Air Transport planes; and to hospitals, Hospital Corps schools, infirmaries and dispensaries at home and abroad.

Used-Car Advertisements Show Misleading Prices

1960 PULITZER PRIZE WINNING SERIES

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles prepared by Miriam Ottenberg of the Washington Star to expose the used car racket and to help prospective buyers of used cars protect themselves.)

When we returned to the lot he immediately ushered us into an office with a front and back room, divided by a folding plastic curtain.

He pulled out a data sheet and started asking me questions about my credit. I protested that I didn't want him to write anything down until I had learned how much I had to pay.

"This doesn't mean anything," he said. "We do it all the time. After I get this down we can talk terms."

The credit picture I painted for him didn't make me the sort of risk a bank would rush to finance, but it was good enough for him. He went off and got another man.

We were now in the presence of what is called in the trade the "close-out man."

I told him I wanted to find out how much I would have to pay a month.

He immediately started filling out forms in a rapid scrawl. I protested that I wanted to know what it would cost me before we went on. He said he could explain easier when it was on paper.

To forestall more questions before he was ready he kept up a running stream of chatter. Apparently the salesman had told him I had pressed for a repossessed car.

"The kind of people who buy repossessed cars," he said, "carry a tool box in their car with them and when the car stops they just get out and fix it. It's a hobby with them. They enjoy the sense of accomplishment. But you wouldn't want that."

The loud sound of a woman's voice came from the next room. Through the partially closed doors we could hear her: "I'll go back to the District Building. You tell me one thing, then it's another. You're not going to cheat me! I'm going back and tell them at the District Building."

The close-out man began tapping rapidly with his pen on the glass-topped desk to obscure the voices. When that didn't work he got up and closed the curtain more firmly.

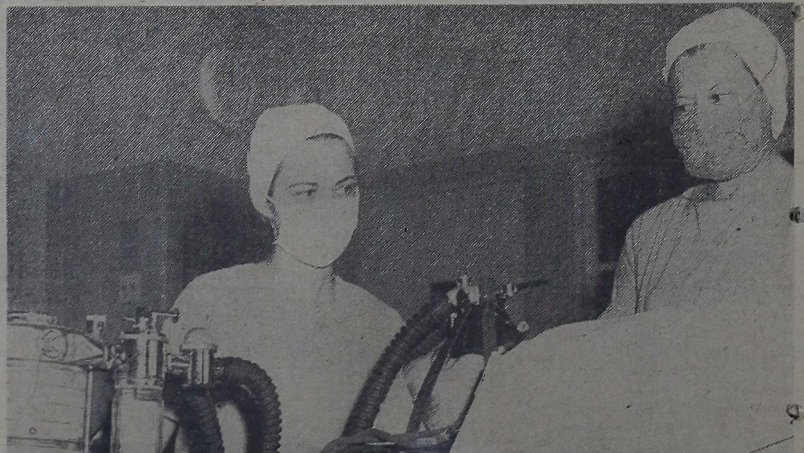

When he had the papers finished he asked me about a down payment.

"Well," I said, "your ad says $1 down. I have it with me."

"Of course," he said, "that's only where peoples' credit is good. Now I'm sure yours is good, but can't you make a down payment? Don't you have anything?"

I pointed out that his ad said no payments until next year. He brushed that aside. Under persistent questioning, I admitted I had $100 in a savings account. He wanted to know how soon I could bring it in. I told him I'd get it when the bank opened.

Reilley, is scheduled to depart for the Mediterranean on May 17 en route to the Mediterranean for duty with the Sixth Fleet. The battalion landing team is scheduled to relieve the 1st Bn., Sixth Marines, headed by Lt. Col. George E. Codea, which has been in the Mediterranean area since January. The 1st Bn., Sixth Marines, are expected to return to Camp Lejeune June.

Troops of the outgoing NELM Battalion will be berthed aboard ships Amphibious Squadron Two. The squadron is under the overall command of Capt. J. D. Collett SN, aboard the USS Mt. McKinley, which will serve as the flagship during the Mediterranean deployment. After an inspection of the reinforced battalion last week, Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, commanding general, 2nd Division, spoke to the assembled officers and men, raising them highly for their state of readiness as evidenced by the "outstanding" inspection. General Berkeley placed special emphasis on the President's People-to-People Program which deals with everyday relations between members of the amphibious landing force and citizens of the countries to be visited during the training exercises.

Armed Forces Day Activities

The First Infantry Training Regiment will stage a display of Marine Corps firepower with exhibitions of infantry weapons next Friday evening, May 20, as part of Camp Lejeune's observance of Armed Forces Day on May 21.

Quad-Command units will host open house for the entire day Saturday. Each of the commands will be represented at the huge static display on the Camp Parade Ground.

The Marine Sky Divers will jump at 10:30 a.m. and at 2 p.m. At 11:15 a.m. and 1:15 p.m., the Flying Club will conduct fly-overs at the parade ground. The 2nd Division Band will present concerts at 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Marine Corps Base Sergeant Sets Eastern Division Record

HOWARD: Individual High Rifle

Two new records were set here yesterday during the final leg of the individual high rifle stage of the Eastern Division Rifle and Pistol Matches. SSgt. Billy Howard of Camp Lejeune's Marine Corps Base command shot his way to a new Eastern Division rifle record as he fired an aggregate score of 585x600 over the two-leg course. SSgt. Donald S. Wagner from the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., team held

Senior NCO's Attend Corps' Analyst Class

A two-week school to train Marine Corps analysts, the "fact finding agents" of the Corps, began Monday in the auditorium of the Midway Park Community Center. Forty-five senior NCO's from eight East Coast commands are being instructed in billet or job analysis by Maj. Harold D. Fredericks and Mr. John T. Casey, both of the Personnel Analysis Branch of G-1, Headquarters Marine Corps.

The course is designed to teach the 45 students methods of analyzing approximately 1,500 Marine Corps billets. The goal of the analysis is to objectively determine what rank a man in any given billet should hold, what the position requires of a man and what individual is best suited to fill the billet.

From the results of the analysis reports of the men in the field, the Marine Corps will be able to better assign to billets the man with the same rank that a job requires comparable skills in the civilian world would demand.

The end result of the program, which is of necessity a long-range study, will be to improve the rank distribution in each MOS. The program should be completed within one year, and adjustments resulting from the study should be made in approximately two years.

Each student of the course, after completion of the two-week study, will return to his command and begin the study of the billets as all of his shots in the black but the first three from the off-hand position to fire a new course record of 297x300. Sergeant Wagner's aggregate score, only two points behind Sergeant Howard's, also beat the Eastern Division record of 577, set here last year.

Coming in for third honors in the two-day shoot was Act. GySgt. Frankly L. Oehring from the Marine Corps Supply Center at Albany, Ga. The supply center sergeant fired an aggregate score of 574.

On the slow fire string from the off-hand position at 200 yards, Sergeant Howard dropped only two shots out of the black for a score of 98x100. His rapid fire score from the 200-yard line sitting position was a "possible" or 50 points.

Back at the 300 rapid fire stage, Sergeant Howard, firing from the prone position, let only one shot creep out of the black for a total score of 49 there. Finally, at the 600-yard marker, the Marine Corps Base sergeant fought a mild, fish-tailing wind and held all but four of his rounds in the black bulls-eye zone for a 96x100.

With the big individual rifle shoot finished and the pistol championships decided today, attention on the Eastern Division line is focused on three trophy clashes set for tomorrow.

Probably the most coveted of the East Coast trophies is the Elliott Cup. Almost 20 teams will struggle for the honor of walking off from Saturday afternoon's public award ceremony with it.

Also on the block again this year is the comparatively young Edson Trophy for pistol shooters. Some 20, four-man teams will vie for the trophy placed in competition in honor of Maj. Gen. Merritt (Red Mike) Edson. In competing for the Edson Trophy, the contending teams will fire the National Match Pistol Course.

The 2nd Marine Division, though fielding five of the Elliott

New Gasoline Station Ahead Of Schedule

Automobile owners driving past the new service center on Holcomb Blvd. these days are looking forward to its completion and the quick, efficient service it will provide.

Construction of the new Exchange gasoline station, which will house several more pumps than the present station, is going ahead of schedule and may be completed before the contractor's Nov. 30 deadline. The station will store its gasoline in a huge, 70,000-gallon underground tank.

To date, practically all work above ground has been completed. The open area in front of the three main buildings is being prepared for paving, and excavation for the lines to the gasoline pumps is well under way.

The addition of more racks and their more convenient location will provide faster and better service in lubrication and oil changes. There will be a larger shop to handle repairs such as front end alignment and wheel balancing, tire changing, undercoating, auto washing and other minor work.

Approval Of CMC Necessary For Service Over 20 Years

Marines below the rank of master sergeant wishing to reenlist or extend for active service in excess of 20 years must now have the approval of the Commandant of the Marine Corps. According to a recent Marine Corps Order, the new change is to insure that senior NCO's who want to serve a full 40-year career are the finest of enlisted personnel. A board convened at Headquarters Marine Corps will review the records of personnel applying for service in excess of 20 years, and will recommend that such authorization be granted for those whom the Board considers to be qualified to a degree consistent with this policy.

Commanding officers are authorized to reenlist or extend the current enlistment of Marines serving in the ranks of sergeant major, master gunnery sergeant, first sergeant or master sergeant for periods that will not extend beyond the date of completion of 30 years' active service.

Fitness reports of Marines in these ranks will be reviewed by a Board established at Headquarters Marine Corps on a continuing basis in the interest of insuring that the expected high standards are maintained. For active service in excess of 30 years, approval must be obtained from the Commandant of the Marine Corps.

Personnel desiring to apply for reenlistment or extension of Marine Corps service beyond 20 years will address their application to the Commandant of the Marine Corps, via official channels, not later than three months prior to expiration of their current enlistment, or extension thereof. The above periods of submission may be waived in the event special assignment is contingent on such reenlistment or extension thereof.

Registration For Summer Session Set

Registration for the 1960 summer session of the East Carolina College Off-Duty Education Program will begin May 23. This program is offered in conjunction with the Base Education Office and is open to dependents.

The summer session will begin June 7 and run for a period of eight weeks. Classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday of each week from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Camp High School.

Fifteen persons must be enrolled to form each class, therefore, interested persons should contact the Base Education Office during the preliminary registration period from May 9 to May 20. If reservations for a class number fewer than 10 persons, the class will not be offered.

Official registration, from May 23 to June 3, may be made in person at the Base Education Office open from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. In addition, the office will be open Saturday, May 28, and June 3 from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and Friday evening, May 27, from 6 to 9 p.m.

accept these quarters for the government about May 20, following routine inspection. The first families will start moving in on May 23 if Commander Harvey gives the housing director the green light.

First to be occupied will be the junior officer area located on Paradise Point near the Stone Street elementary school. This area will be known as Hill Plaza in honor of long-time Marine Corps Quartermaster General, Maj. Gen. W. P. T. Hill (Ret.)

The entire area of Capehart quarters will be known as Berkeley Manor, commemorating the late Maj. Gen. Randolph C. Berkeley, 1914 Medal of Honor winner at Vera Cruz and father of the present commander of the 2nd Marine Division. Contractors expect to turn the first enlisted units over to the government for occupancy about June 30.

The junior officer area near Marston Pavilion will be known as Timmerman Place to honor a WWII medal of honor winner, the late Sgt. Grant F. Timmerman.

Capehart senior officer quarters off River Drive, near the banks of New River, will be named Cukela Court for a Marine whose exploits are among the most colorful and courageous recorded in Corps archives. He was Maj. Louis Cukela, one of seven Marines ever to win two Medals of Honor.

Cmdr. N. C. Harvey, Public Works Officer, said he expects to accept the first units about May 20, following routine inspection. The housing office plans to move the first families in within three days after Public Works gives the green light.

Minor Revisions Made To High School Plans

Minor revisions to the plans and specifications for Camp Lejeune's new million dollar junior-senior high school were completed by the architect last week and approved by the Base commander and the Lejeune School Board. According to an announcement by School Superintendent W. H. Tuck, approval of the changes by the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare is expected in a matter of days. Bid invitations will be published within the next two weeks with opening of bids scheduled for June 16.

More than 50 pages of alterations were made to the original details of the proposed ultra-modern school, following over-bids by all building contractors in March. The lowest bid submitted then was $178,000 over the $1,200,000 allocated for the project.

Near Capehart

The 63-acre site of the new school is located on Stone Street Extension, opposite Maryland and Delaware Streets of Berkeley Manor, which is the enlisted section of the Capehart housing development. The present high school is to be converted for elementary classes.

Thirty-two classrooms and an administrative section are included in the design of the futuristic high school. In addition, special work areas for instruction in science, languages, business administration, home economics, industrial arts, physical education and music are part of the plans. A gymnasium (combine gymnasium and auditorium) will add an even further "school of the future" touch to the new building.

As the central feature of the structure, the library appears as a separate building at the front entrance. Circular in shape, the library is a miniature replica of the Library of Congress.

Citizenship Classes To Begin In June

The Base Education Office will begin citizenship classes for alien dependents and service personnel during the month of June. All alien dependents of Armed Forces personnel at Camp Lejeune and members of the Armed Forces who are not American citizens are eligible to enroll.

Textbooks will be furnished by the education section, but writing materials must be provided by the student.

Classes will be divided into two sections: basic English for persons with limited or no ability in reading and writing English; and preparation for the naturalization examination including instruction in American History, the Constitution and the federal government.

A formation class will be held Thursday, June 9, in Room 1 of the Camp High School Annex. A literacy test will also be given at this time.

Personnel unable to attend classes but interested in home study may obtain textbooks from the education office. Further information may be obtained at the Base Education Office located in the Camp Theater or by phone at 7-5121 or 7-5572.

More Than 500 Donors Make First Visit Of Bloodmobile To Lejeune Successful

Three hundred members of the 2nd Division lined up, bared their arms and gave blood here Tuesday and Wednesday in the first organized Red Cross blood collection program held at Camp Lejeune. The American Red Cross Bloodmobile, operating out of the Charlotte Blood Bank, made its first visit under a new program recently put into operation by L. M. Sherriff, Red Cross Field Director at Camp Lejeune. Contrary to popular belief, a blood bank is not always available to everyone without cost or obligation. Blood recipients must sometimes pay for transfused blood or replace it on a two-for-one basis. The American Red Cross, through its nationwide blood program, can furnish blood bank support to Camp Lejeune servicemen and their immediate families at any hospital that participates in the Red Cross Blood Program.

Under the new program, the Bloodmobile will make a two-day visit four times a year to Camp Lejeune. Each trip is expected to net some 500 or more pints of blood. During the first visit, the 2nd Division and Marine Corps Base furnished 150 donors each day. On the next visit, which is scheduled for next August, the Marine Corps Air Facility and Force Troops, FMF, Atlantic, will combine with the 2nd Division to fill the Camp Lejeune quota.

According to Field Director Sherriff, Camp Lejeune servicemen and members of their immediate families—are protected by the Camp Lejeune program even though the individual serviceman did not donate blood himself.

BLOOD DONOR—Pfc Robert E. Pruey, "I" Co., 3rd Bn., Second Marines, was one of the first of some 150 2nd Division men who lined up to contribute to the American Red Cross Blood Program last Tuesday. The Red Cross Bloodmobile will make regularly scheduled visits to Camp Lejeune every three months. (Photo by Act. Sgt. R. R. Campbell)

Concurrent Reunion To Host Five Former Commandants

Two famous generals—the Commandant of the Marine Corps, Gen. David M. Shoup, and the Philippine Ambassador to the United States, Gen. Carlos P. Romulo—will be featured banquet speakers at the concurrent reunions of all six Marine division veterans and allied units to be held in Washington, D. C., June 24-26. Also invited as guests of honor will be five former Marine Commandants, still living—Gens. Thomas Holcomb, Alexander A. Vandegrift, Clifton B. Cates, Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., and Randolph McC. Pate.

General Shoup will speak at the joint dinner dance at the Sheraton Park Hotel involving all divisions except the 4th which will dine separately at the Shoreham with General Romulo as the principal speaker. Rear Adm. George A. Rosso, Director, Chaplains' Division, USN, will deliver the memorial address when veterans and their families gather at the Iwo Jima Memorial to honor the 26,819 Marines who died as a result of the Corps' battles since its founding in Philadelphia's Tun Tavern in 1776.

These colorful events are scheduled for June 25 along with individual division association luncheons and business sessions. Speaking at the 3rd Division's luncheon will be Brig. Gen. William T. Fairbourn, director, Marine Corps Reserve.

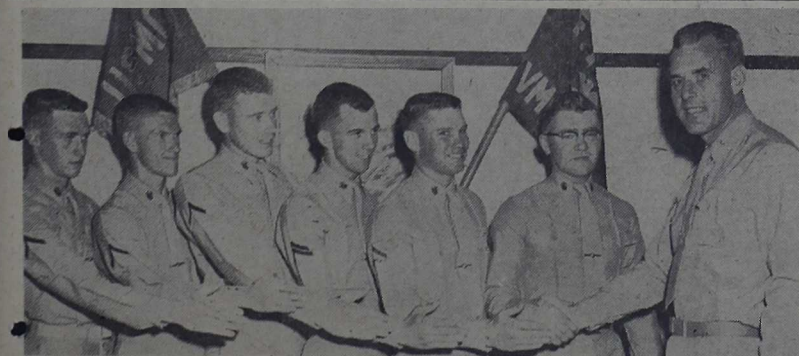

The three-day program begins June 24 with a special military demonstration at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., where veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict will watch a tactical demonstration of the latest combat methods and equipment. All maneuvers will be extremely realistic with air, artillery and tank support for an amphibious landing. New equipment used will include body armor, anti-mine boots, Ontos tank destroyers, Mighty Mite automobile carrier, and other items. After the Quantico demonstration, veterans and their families will gather at the Marine Barracks in Washington—oldest Marine Corps post in the nation (established 1881)—for the colorful Evening Parade by the famous Marine Corps Band, Drum and Bugle Corps, and precision drill teams. General Shoup and a top officer from each division will review the parade.

MCAP Bus Schedule

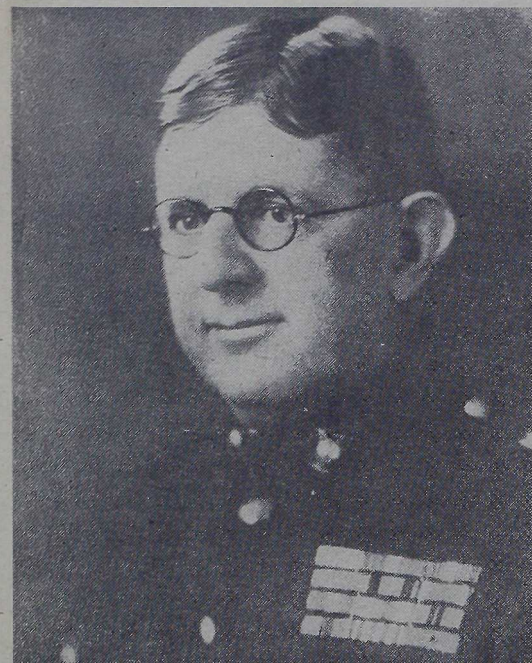

Beginning Sunday, May 22, a new church bus schedule for transportation between Geiger Trailer Park and the Air Facility will go into effect. A bus will leave Geiger Trailer Park Community Bldg. at 7:15 a.m., 9:30 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. The bus will depart from the Air Facility Chapel at 8:30, 10:30 and 12:05 p.m.

The buses will pick up and discharge passengers only at designated pick-up and delivery points. Each bus will have the word "Church" displayed in the right front window.

ALL HANDS—Six men from the Marine Observation Squadron of MAG-26 receive congratulations from Lt. Col. James D. Boldman upon being promoted. Pfc's Marvin V. Cassada, Gerald L. Mc-Daniel, and Ronald Cheadle were promoted to lance corporal. Act. Cpl. David L. G. Moser and LCpls. Raymond Shields and Arthur Todd received promotions to corporal.

GENERAL BERKELEY

Maj. Gen. R. C. Berkeley, Hero Of Vera Cruz, Mexico

The 677 enlisted Capehart units off Stone Street extension will be named Berkeley Manor in honor of the late Maj. Gen. Randolph C. Berkeley, who at 85 was the oldest living Marine Corps general officer when he died of a heart ailment at Beaufort, S. C., last January 31.

Winner of the Medal of Honor in 1914 for heroism at Vera Cruz, Mexico, General Berkeley retired from the Marine Corps in 1939 after 40 years of service. He was the father of two Marine sons, Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, commanding general of the 2nd Marine Division, and Col. Randolph C. Berkeley Jr., who is stationed at MCAS, Cherry Point, N. C.

General Berkeley was commissioned in 1898 during the Spanish-American War and saw varied service at sea and in the Philippines, Cuba, Panama, China, Haiti, Nicaragua, and Guam. In addition to the Medal of Honor, he held the Navy Cross and the Navy Distinguished Service Medal for combat at Nicaragua in the 1920's.

As a major, General Berkeley commanded the 1st Battalion of the 2nd Advanced Base Regiment when he won the nation's highest military decoration at Vera Cruz. His citation reads in part: "His cool judgment and courage and his skill in handling his men in encountering and overcoming the machine gun and rifle fire . . . accounts for the small percentage of losses of Marines under his command."

His last assignment before retirement was President of the Marine Corps Examining and Retiring Boards at Headquarters Marine Corps.

Sgt. Grant F. Timmerman, Medal Of Honor Winner

Timmerman Place, located between Pender and Stone streets, along colorful and serene River Drive just beyond Marston Pavilion, will soon become the site of 42 three and four-bedroom, modern Capehart homes for junior officers. It will be one of two junior officer housing areas under construction at Paradise Point.

The area will commemorate the late World War II Medal of Honor hero, Sgt. Grant F. Timmerman, who received this country's highest honor for giving his life to save the lives of his tank crew on Saipan July 8, 1944.

As a tank commander with the 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines, 2nd Division, Timmerman was leading an infantry unit with his tank, attacking enemy positions with his tank's anti-aircraft "sky mount" machine gun. When he saw an opportunity to use his 75mm gun, Timmerman stood up in the tank turret in full view of the enemy to order the infantry force to hit the deck because of the tremendous muzzle blast of the "75."

Suddenly a Japanese grenade came hurtling at the turret. Timmerman unhesitatingly covered the opening with his body stopping the grenade from falling into the tank and killing his crew. Timmerman held the grenade against his chest and took the brunt of the explosion. He died instantly.

On the first anniversary of his death, the Medal of Honor and also a Bronze Star Medal, earned earlier in the Saipan campaign, were presented to Grant Timmerman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Timmerman of East Logan Ave., Emporia, Kan. At their request a quiet, informal presentation was made at the Timmerman home.

In January, 1946, the Navy named one of its new destroyers for Sergeant Timmerman. The USS Timmerman (DD-828) was christened by his mother.

Timmerman attended Boot Camp at San Diego, and after his first assignment at Bremerton, Wash., went to China to serve with Motor Transport Co. of the Fourth Marines.

New Capehart Housing Areas Named In Honor Of Four Distinguished Marines

Selection of the names Berkeley, Timmerman, Cukela and Hill to designate the four areas of still-unfinished Capehart quarters here gives the quarters a broad brush of fame and a head start on history and tradition unmatched by any other Marine Corps post or station.

Announcement of the names of the quarters areas was made this week after approval by the Commandant of the Marine Corps. It was also announced that first occupancy of the 800-unit development will begin on May 23.

Three of the men whose names will honor the areas are deceased Marine Corps Medal of Honor winners. The fourth, Maj. Gen. W. P. T. Hill (Ret.), was one of Camp Lejeune's first commanders and now resides in Washington, D. C.

Col. Albert F. Lucas, Base assistant chief of staff, G-4, originated the proposal for naming the areas this week. He summed up his reasons for giving the areas specific names and why the names were selected.

"It is a human characteristic," Colonel Lucas said, "to name subdivisions of villages and cities for easy description of the locale. When such subdivisions are not officially named, derogatory descriptive titles are invented."

"It can be assumed that 'Paradise Point' is too large an area for one subdivision and also that the name 'Capehart Housing' will not be long lived," Colonel Lucas said. "Therefore, it was considered wise to give officially sanctioned names to each of the new Capehart sections."

"General Berkeley, Major Cukela and Sergeant Timmerman are now deceased after distinguishing themselves by many acts, including the winning of Medals of Honor, during their Marine Corps careers," the colonel said. "General Hill has done a great deal for the Base, and could be considered as one of the 'exceptional cases' allowed for by the Commandant's policy."

(The "policy" referred to is contained in Marine Corps Order

5030.1 which states that streets and areas should be named to honor deceased members of the Marine Corps, but that in exceptional cases living persons may be so honored.)

Biographies of the lives of each of the men who will give their names to the new quarters areas appear in adjacent columns.

With the names selected and announcement made of first date of occupancy, A. P. Olmstead, Director of the Base Housing and Quarters Division, said his office will give personnel their position on quarters lists and approximate dates they may expect to be in quarters.

Due to the volume of work created by the forthcoming moves, Mr. Olmstead said personnel desiring information should appear at his office in person. Requests by phone tie up lines being used to expedite quarters occupancy. The housing office is located in Bldg. TT-43, Tarawa Terrace.

First to move into the enlisted quarters will be personnel in pay grades E-8 and E-9. Act. MSGs and below will move in according to control dates.

This specific priority criteria for E-8s and E-9s was determined at a meeting of the Base Housing Board and approved by the commanding general April 27.

Maj. Gen. W. P. T. Hill, Lejeune's First Commander

First of the Capehart homes—to be occupied May 23—are those in Hill Plaza opposite the Stone Street Elementary School, on the corner of Bevin and Stone streets at Paradise Point. The single street of the junior officer area will be named Hill St.; hence, the name for the entire area.

Of all the names used to mark streets and areas at the newly constructed Capehart sites, this is the only one to commemorate a living person—retired Maj. Gen. William P. T. Hill, long time Quartermaster of the Marine Corps and Camp Lejeune's first commander.

Upon his retirement on Jan. 31, 1955, General Hill received a Letter of Commendation from the Secretary of the Navy as well as a Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant. The citation lauded General Hill for outstanding service in keeping vital supplies and equipment available to Marines during part of World War II and during the Korean action, and termed him " . . . one of the outstanding Supply Officers and Fiscal Directors in the United States Government."

A native of Vinita, Okla., the general was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps in 1917. During the ensuing 19 years, his colorful career included service as a Naval Aviator in the Azores during World War I, as a geologist on a survey of Alaskan coal fields in 1920, and as a company commander in the Peking Marine Legation Guard in 1926. In China, he was named a member of the Roy Chapman Andrews Asiatic Expedition engaged in exploration of the Gobi Desert of Mongolia.

General Hill was graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1917. He had previously attended Kemper Military School, Boonville, Mo., and was graduated from Western Military Academy in Norman, Okla.

Two-Time Medal Of Honor Winner, Maj. L. C. Cukela

Colorful, explosive and daring, the often-quoted Yugoslavian became a Marine Corps legend in his own time. With a grade school education, he left his native Serbia and came to the United States in 1913, joined the Army a year later, bought his way out and enlisted in the Marine Corps. As a Marine gunnery sergeant, he won both the Army's and Navy's Medal of Honor for extraordinary heroism in France during World War I.

To perpetuate the name of the late Maj. Louis Cukela (pronounced Choo-KAY-la), the 48 Capehart homes in the senior-officer area will be known as Cukela Court. This area is located off River Drive between the Paradise Point Nursery and Spring Branch.

Louis Cukela was born at Spalato, Serbia, in Yugoslavia on May 1, 1888, son of George and Johanna (Bubrich) Cukela. His mother died in 1900 and Major Cukela immigrated to the United States in 1913, where he and his brother settled in Minneapolis, Minn.

He joined the Marine Corps Jan. 31, 1917, seven months after buying his way out of the Army. With war raging in Europe from a spark touched off in the major's native Serbia, he went to France and took part in all the engagements in which the Fifth Marines fought.

He was awarded both Medals of Honor for the same action near Villers-Cotterets, France, on the morning of July 18, 1918, during the Soissons engagement. The 68th Co., Fifth Marines, in which Major Cukela was a gunnery sergeant, was advancing through the Forest de Rentz when it was held up by an enemy strong point.

Despite the warnings of his men, the gunnery sergeant crawled out from the flank and advanced alone towards the German lines. Getting beyond the strong point despite heavy fire, "Gunny" Cukela captured one gun by bayoneting its crew. Picking up their hand grenades, he then demolished the remaining portion of the strong point from the shelter of a nearby gun pit. The Marine took four prisoners and captured two undamaged machine guns.

In addition to the two Medals of Honor, Major Cukela was awarded the Silver Star by the Army, and received seven decorations from foreign countries. He was the first Marine officer ever to receive the Medaille Militaire from France.

Ft. Gordon Saints Bow To Lejeune In Two-Game Set

After defeating the Ft. Gordon Saints 8-0 last Monday, the Marines picked up the second win of the two-game series Wednesday night 9-3 behind the fine six-hit pitching of Bob Rumer. Going the route, Rumer was credited with his fourth win of the season against one loss. The righthander recorded eight strike-outs while giving up three bases-on-balls. Saint third baseman Frank Skinner, who picked up two of the three free passes, scored two of the three runs for the losers.

Simpson: Walking Man

Rumer, along with shortstop Charlie Armstrong picked up two hits in four trips to the plate, while lead-off batter centerfielder Cliff Simpson went one for two, walked three times, and scored three runs during the contest.

The locals knocked starter Dave Hinner, a lefthander, from the mound in the second frame after they picked up four runs on no hits and two errors. In the first, Simpson led off the big inning with a walk. Armstrong flew to first before third baseman Earl Williams and second sacker Barry Fullerton followed with walks to load the bags. Rightfielder Dave Petros and leftfielder Sam Valentine were both safe on errors before Hinner could retire the side.

Jumping reliever Jack Early for a double in the second inning after Hinner's fourth walk, the locals picked up one run in the second and four more in the third on a walk and four consecutive singles by catcher Bobby Cooke, Rumer, Simpson and Armstrong.

Ten Games Listed On 1960 Tentative Football Schedule

The tentative 1960 Camp Lejeune Marines gridiron schedule was announced early yesterday by Col. R. D. Strickler, Base Special Services Officer. Not yet approved by the Base commanding general, the schedule shows two surprising changes: the absence of perennial service champion Bolling AFB and the addition of the powerful San Diego Leathernecks who will make the long journey from the West Coast to Liversedge Field to face the local eleven Oct. 15.

Shown a listing of 10 service ball clubs, the unofficial schedule kicks off here Sept. 17 when the Marines face the Norfolk Tars. The previous Saturday, Elon College, N. C., invades the "oval" in a pre-season scrimmage against Lejeune. All home games this year will get under way at 10 a.m.

Marines Rout Fort Meade; Fort Eustis Here Next Week

After routing the Generals of Ft. Meade, Md., 26-0 and 6-3, the Camp Lejeune Marines have taken to the road for a four-game trip where they face VPI, Ft. Dix and Delaware, in order. Bill Haywood, the ace righthander for Camp Lejeune, picked up his seventh win of the 1960 campaign and his second shut-out in a row, 26-0, as he held the Generals to two hits last Friday at Agganis Field. The Lejeune bats supplied plenty of hits for Haywood while walking only one. Haywood seemed to have excellent control as he gave up a two-out double in the first inning and a single in the fourth with the only walk coming in the eighth with one out.

Lejeune picked up four runs in the first inning, three in the second and third, six in the fifth and five in the sixth and seventh.

Dates Set For 1960 Lejeune Track Meet

The Camp Lejeune Track and Field Meet has been scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday afternoon at Liversedge Field with all members of the Quad-Command invited to participate. Those finishing in minimum times or maximum distances as set forth by Headquarters Marine Corps, will be eligible for the All-Marine Corps Track Event which is to be held at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., on June 3 and 4, prior to the Olympic trials the following week, also at Quantico.

Mr. Frank Murray, freshman track coach at North Carolina State College, has been named as Meet Director. The top five entrants in each event will be awarded team and individual points on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis, with the winning team and individuals receiving appropriate awards at the conclusion of the meet.

McCollum Closes the Door

Righthander Ron Beigel picked up his fourth win of the year against only one loss although needing help in the late innings from reliever Thad McCollum, who came on in the eighth to close the door with the locals leading 4-3. Lejeune picked up two more runs in the home half of the eighth inning and McCollum retired the generals in the ninth with little effort after giving up a one-out base-on-balls.

The Marines ran into trouble from leftfielder Dick Ruppert, who went the route and suffered the loss, as the southpaw held them scoreless until the fourth inning. Shortstop Charlie Armstrong left off the inning with a triple and was followed by a double and stolen base by Norton. Fullerton pounded a sacrifice fly to deep right center to score Norton from third.

Armstrong Steals Home

Ruppert hit lead-off batter Bobby Cooke in the seventh and Cooke scored on a triple by Armstrong. With one away and the count two balls and two strikes on the batter, Hal Norton, Armstrong stole home for the second run of the inning.

With the Generals fighting back with two runs in the top of the eighth inning, the Marines bounced back with two to take a three-run lead in their half of the eighth.

The locals picked up 10 hits in the second game with Fullerton going one-for-one and Armstrong, Norton and Valentine each collecting two hits in four trips to the plate.

Devilpups Capture Onslow County Title; Down Smyrna And Leland In Play-Offs

Enjoying their finest season of baseball in many years, the Devilpups of Camp Lejeune High downed the Leland High nine, 6-5, Monday night in the first of a three-game series, during the Class A State Play-Offs. Although the second game of the important series was played yesterday afternoon, the scores were not received in time for GLOBE deadline and will be recapped in next week's publication. The Pups moved into the Leland series after a 4-2 victory over Smyrna.

High during the first round play-offs at New Bern. A thorn in the side of Camp Lejeune High, Smyrna, who had defeated the Pups three consecutive times, were helpless against the fine six-hit hurling of stalwart moundsman Jim McCarville.

Dube Has Perfect Day

Lejeune shortstop Dick Dube had a perfect day at the plate collecting three hits in as many trips, while driving in three runs and scoring the fourth.

Lejeune scored twice in the first inning as Skip Chapman and Al Everett slammed back-to-back singles, with Chapman moving to third when Everett was tagged out attempting to stretch his hit into a double. Dube tripled to drive in Chapman, McCarville walked, stole second and Dube scored on the throw to second.

After Smyrna threw the game into a 2-2 deadlock in the second frame, the Pups took the edge and closed the door in the third as Everett reached second on an error and scored on Dube's second hit of the day. The Pups picked up the final run in the fifth inning when Chapman walked, stole second and went to third on a sacrifice fly by Everett. Dube followed with a blast into left field to score Chapman and end the scoring.

Win County Title

Lejeune High moved into the Class A State Playoffs after blasting the Bulldogs of Dixon High, 13-1, for the Onslow County title, last Thursday.

Camp Lejeune's 13 tallies came on 11 hits and three Dixon mis-cues, with Al Everett taking credit for the win although he required help from stoutout McCarville in the late innings.

The two steady pitchers allowed only one hit which the Bulldogs combined with four errors to pick up their lone run, in the fourth inning.

Lejeune scored in each inning but the fourth as they picked up one in the first and second, scored four in the third, two in the fifth, and exploded for five in the sixth. McCarville who when not hurling roams about in right field, was devastating at the plate with three hits in four trips and scoring three runs to pace the club to the title.

The Pups now stand 4-1 in county play and 10-4 for the regular season, with one county game remaining.

Diego Mentor Leaves Corps And Gridiron

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 5—The Marine Corps Recruit Depot Devil-dogs, undefeated in 10 gridiron clashes last season, including the post-season Leatherneck Bowl, began spring football practice under their new coach, Capt. Hans Jacobson, Monday, May 9 at the Depot's Hall Field.

Captain Jacobson, who served as assistant coach in charge of guards and centers for the past two years, was moved into the head position for spring practice due to Trometter's impending retirement following 25 years of active duty.

The "Bull," who compiled an enviable record of 75 wins against only 10 losses during his service coaching career, is due to retire from the Marine Corps in August to take the helm at San Diego's University High School.

In his past three seasons with the Devil-dogs, he guided his charges to 30 victories, including two Leatherneck Bowl championships, while losing only three. Last season, the Depot squad shared National Service honors with the Quantico Marines, also undefeated.

Gainey Hurls One-Hitter As Indians Win; Hogan Leaves As Manager Of Braves

Pitcher Bryan West gave up one run and two hits as the Orioles picked up their fourth victory in the Pony League of Camp Lejeune's Boys League with an 8-1 win over the Athletics.

The Indians moved into the win column, upsetting the hard-hitting Tigers behind the one-hit pitching of Billy Gainey. John McKeon, Tiger pitcher, suffered the defeat. The Tigers had picked up an earlier win over the Athletics, 9-0. John McKeon allowed only one hit as Andy Silverthorn, who was credited with the loss, gave up five.

Leading the Pony League after the second week of action the Orioles have four wins and have yet to be handed a defeat. In second place with two wins against three losses are the Tigers and Athletics with the Indians in the cellar with one win and three losses.

Major League

Front running Pirates in the Major League picked up their fourth win over the Cubs, 6-3, behind the hitting and three-hit hurling of Jim Chaffin. Chaffin blasted a bases-loaded homer in the third inning to secure the victory for the Pirates. Rex Woolridge of the Cubs suffered the loss.

The Giants scored 10 runs on seven hits, and made use of four errors as they downed the Cubs 10-7, while the second-place Cardinals edged the Cubs, 5-4, for their third win of the season.

Moving up to .500 ball the Braves squeezed across a run in the seventh inning to down the Dodgers 2-1 during an errorless ball game which saw Anthony Jackson who relieved John Hegstad in the seventh get the win. Dodger Denblyer tripled after two were out in the home half of the seventh but died at third when Braves Bob Gilley made a sensational stop and threw out the next batter at first.

The Pirates led in the Major League with a 4-0 record and are followed by the Cardinals, 3-1, the Dodgers and Braves at 2-2, and the Giants and Cubs at 1-4.

Hogan Transferred

Bill Hogan, popular manager of the Braves, was honored with a token of appreciation by the President of the Boys League between games of Saturday's double-header. Hogan is under orders to Parris Island and Friday night he managed his final game. Hogan figures to be a tremendous loss to the Braves and to the Camp Lejeune Boys League.

Locals Win 8-6 Over VPI On Road Trip

With three games remaining for the locals on their current road trip, they picked up their 26th victory for the season with an 8-6 win over the Gobblers of VPI Monday night.

Righthander Bob Rumer allowed 11 hits, but managed to win his fifth win of the 1960 campaign against only one loss.

Homers Make Difference

Home runs made the big difference in the game as the Marines garnered four tallies on three round-trippers. Barry Fullerton slammed a two-run homer in fifth and was followed by shortstop Charlie Armstrong and third sacker Earl Williams with solo homers in the seventh and eighth innings, respectively. Armstrong's clout was his eighth of the year, while Fullerton's was his fourth and Williams' was his first. Centerfielder Cliff Simpson was the big man in the hit parade that netted Lejeune 11 hits with three safeties in five trips to the plate. Simpson was followed by leftfielder Sam Valentine with two for three and Fullerton, Dave Petros, and Williams, each with two hits in four appearances.

Hill Hurls '59 MCB Champs To First Win

Last year's diamond champions of the 2nd Force Service Regiment got off to a good start towards the 1960 title by shutting out the Marine Corps Supply Schools, 3-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Jim Hill, during MCB intramural action last week.

Hill, going the distance, struck out seven while walking three, as the losing chucker, Taylor, also fanned seven and walked one, giving up a total of five hits.

Two Home Runs

All of the servicemen's runs came from home runs as right-fielder Blackwell smashed a two-run clout in the second inning, followed by a solo blast in the sixth by coach-player Jim Riley.

Bouncing back from their defeat the Supply Schools picked up their first win of the campaign this week with an 8-1 victory over Headquarters Battalion as U. S. Naval Hospital upset First Infantry Training Regiment, 4-1.

Twice beaten Headquarters Battalion suffered their first loss of the year against Infantry Training Regiment in the season opener, 6-4.

ITR Leads

ITR took the lead in the first frame when first baseman Suppy slammed a 340-foot home run. Headquarters Battalion tied the game and went ahead on a single, base-on-balls and an ITR miscue.

After giving up Suppy's homer in the first inning, Headquarters Battalion twirler Geary retired the next 11 men in order aided by a tremendous catch by shortstop Hal Pfeiffer.

Leading 4-3 in the final inning, Geary tired and ITR picked up three runs to win the game, with pitcher Slade collecting a bases-loaded hit to drive in two runs and secure the win.

Officers Wives Club Ends 1959-60 Year With Launching Of 'Operation Petticoat'

"Operation Petticoat," sponsored by Group VII, OWC, will bring to a close a most successful 1959-60 Officers Wives Club year. The official count last week disclosed 1,032 paid members of the club. The growth in membership has seen other changes in growth. Two new groups were added to the activities this year. They are the International Wives Group and Coffee 'n' Confusion Group.

Mrs. G. H. West, with the guidance of Mrs. J. O. Butcher, president of the OWC from May, 1959, to February, 1960, organized the International Wives Group which meets monthly at the Paradise Point Club. All members of the Officers Wives Club are eligible who have either lived or traveled in foreign countries, of foreign birth, or have been stationed outside the continental United States. The purpose of this group is to acquaint members with foreign customs and to provide a better understanding of international affairs.

Coffee 'n' Confusion is the name given to the group of Junior Officers Wives who meet each month for coffee, discussions, lectures and other things of interest to the younger generation of Navy and Marine Corps wives in this area. This group was inspired by Mrs. Butcher. She hoped that this informal adjunct to the OWC would serve as a link between the established Wives Club and the younger wives who are new to the Marine Corps life and customs. Meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month and will continue through the summer.

Midst a nautical setting, "Operation Petticoat" will draw the year to a close and launch a new Executive Board on their cruise for the 1960-61 year.

The installation of officers, both Executive Board and Group Chairmen, will take place at 2 p.m. with the tea following at 3 p.m. There is no charge as reservations will not be required.

SITTING SERVICE

The Paradise Point Sitting Service is available for a fee of 30 cents an hour for the first child in a family. A nominal 15 cents an hour is charged for the second child with 10 cents an hour for each additional child. There is a day rate of $2.50 for an 8-hour day, regardless of the number of children in the family. Reservations may be made by calling 6-6723 at least 24 hours in advance.

Garden Party

Plans for a final meeting of Group V, Officers Wives Club, are completed as the group holds its last gathering tomorrow at the regularly scheduled time. This meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Sundholm, MOQ 2101.

It was announced the type of luncheon will be an informal garden party and will be sponsored by the wives of 3rd Battalion, Sixth Marines. Mrs. R. L. Autry will act as Senior Hostess.

A variety of refreshments will be served by the women of this group and a short business meeting will end the year's activities.

It is requested that all members of this group attend the final get-together of the year. Reservations can be made by contacting Mrs. Julia Cowing at Jax 6891.

Many welfare projects have been completed by the various groups. Contributions to different charities and fund drives were also part of the clubs' welfare projects participated in by the Officers Wives Club this year.

Mrs. T. Wright Selected By Wives Club As Midway Park 'Mother's Day Queen'

Members of Midway Park Enlisted Men's Wives Club added a holiday feature to last week's meeting when the women chose a "Mother's Day Queen" to reign at the park for the weekend. The ceremony was held Thursday morning at the Community Building. Approximately 50 wives were present to select the youngest mother with the most children. After carefully looking over the mother most worthy of being selected, the committee chose Mrs. Florence Wright, wife of Act. Sgt. Timothy Wright. Mrs. Wright is 19 years old and has three children. Her home is in Boston, Mass.

Crowning ceremonies were performed by Miss Jean Jackson of Jacksonville Radio Station WJNC, who also presented the queen with various gifts from the club. Some of the gifts given to Mrs. Wright were a phone call home, picture sets, several games for the children, cologne, dusting powder, a jeweled necklace, throw rug, small wallet-change purse, artificial flower pin, and a silver belt.

Refreshments were served after ceremonies. The room was decorated with pastel crepe paper and flowers.

The Midway Park Wives Club meets every week at the regularly scheduled time of 11:30 a.m. Anyone in the park who would like to become a member of the club is asked to contact one of the officers for further information.

Officers of the club are Mrs. J. H. Henderson, president; Mrs. C. J. Anderson, vice-president; Mrs. R. A. Lloyd, secretary; Mrs. R. H. Yelding, treasurer; and Miss Jane Geagan, USO advisor.

HAL HOLBROOK

Holbrook Appears Monday

The age-old Cinderella legend had its counterpart in real life last April when Hal Holbrook, a virtual "unknown" on Broadway, sky-rocketed to overnight stardom with his portrayal in an off-Broadway basement of "Mark Twain Tonight!"

The 34-year-old actor, who has brought Twain back alive on hundreds of concert and lecture platforms across the country during the past several years, opened what was intended to be a limited off-Broadway run in his one-man show. No one—least of all Holbrook—anticipated the ecstatic response his performance evoked from every one of the New York critics.

Word of this performance spread like fire the length and breadth of Broadway, and lost no time in reaching the other major cities and theater centers throughout the U. S. In less time than it takes to say, "Samuel Langhorne Clemens," Holbrook found himself a celebrity, a star of the first magnitude, with all of Broadway at his feet.

Within a week of the show's opening at the tiny 41st Street Playhouse in New York, performances were sold out for the balance of the summer. Word of the show was spread, and tickets had become literally unobtainable for any performance.

This young Ohio actor who has devoted much of his life to a study of the life, times and works of Mark Twain will appear at the Camp Theater Monday, May 16, at 8 p.m. in his re-creation of a typical Mark Twain Lecture Appearance.

Tickets for this performance may be obtained at the Marine Corps Exchange, Field House, Officers Club, Staff NCO Club, Camp Theater, and Unit Special Services. Admission for all seats is $1.

The performance is open to the public and tickets may be obtained from the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce.

Bulletin

Miss Savings Bond of 1960, Jean Lemons, will arrive at Camp Lejeune Monday afternoon to address the audience prior to the performance of Hal Holbrook in "Mark Twain Tonight!"

Miss Lemons was named as Miss Savings Bond of 1960 by the U. S. Treasury Department.

Retired Activities Section Is Established

To give more meaning to the old "Once a Marine . . ." slogan, Headquarters Marine Corps has taken steps to provide substantial assistance to retired Marines. The Retired Activities Section has been established to build and strengthen ties between retired Marines and the Corps which they served.

There are now approximately 15,000 retired Marines. By the middle of 1962, the number is expected to exceed 22,000. The new Retired Activities Section of Headquarters Marine Corps is keyed to provide the following services to the increasing number of those who have completed active duty and find themselves in the " . . . always a Marine" status.

Publications

The Section prepares and distributes to all retired personnel, including those in the FMCR, the newsletter for Retired Marines. It maintains the "Handbook for Retired Marines" in a current status and ensures that adequate supplies are in stock for distribution to all retirees prior to retirement.

Individual or group counseling for retired Marines and veterans' benefits is provided through personal interview, group briefings, correspondence with Marines on retired rolls or approaching retirement, and instructions to commanding officers relative to pre-retirement counseling.

Every reasonable and legally acceptable method of assistance is given to Marines approaching retirement and those on the retired rolls in obtaining appropriate civilian employment.

The Section ensures that up-to-date publications on civilian employment opportunities, VA benefits, retirement benefits, Social Security, Government Insurance, etc., are made available to Marines prior to retirement.

Finally, elections are processed by the Section under the Uniformed Services Contingency Option Act (USCOA) as well as any changes in dependency affecting such elections.

Marines on active duty nearing retirement are encouraged to seek counseling locally regarding their retirement activities. If satisfactory solutions to post-retirement problems are not reached, direct communication to CMC (Code DNC) from the individual Marine is authorized.

Preparation

All personnel considering employment after retirement should take advantage of this service of Headquarters Marine Corps. Initial inquiries should be forwarded to the Commandant of the Marine Corps (Code DNC) at least six months prior to actual retirement date. About one year prior to planned retirement, a Marine should begin preparing himself for a second career. In so doing, the transition from military to civilian life can be more easily accomplished.

'Corsair' Passengers Enjoy Relaxing And Reeling Day

Deep-sea fishing enthusiasts are not forgotten in Camp Lejeune's Special Services program. A fishing boat is available for these sportsmen of the deep on a unit reservation level. Each unit of the Quad-Command is allotted several days during the season to avail themselves of this opportunity to try for the big ones aboard the "Corsair." Before explaining a typical day aboard the "Corsair," it is appropriate to point out a few facts about the fishing craft and its skipper.

Docked at Casper's Mooring in Swansboro, the "Corsair" is a 44½-foot fishing cruiser, owned and operated by the Camp Lejeune Special Services Office. Its mission is to provide hours of entertainment for Quad-Command service personnel and their dependents.

The craft, driven by two 125-horsepower, air-cooled engines has been the property of Camp Lejeune for approximately eight years. After its christening in 1921, the "Corsair" sunk after damages were suffered in shallow water off the coast of Florida. Since being retrieved and repaired by the Navy, and purchased by the Marine Corps, the "Corsair" has received numerous face liftings and today looks as though it were a 1960 fishing yacht.

Retired Marine Joe Latham, captain of the "Corsair," has 16 years behind a boat wheel, with six of them aboard the local craft. Two years of Latham's sea duty was pulled in Florida where he had the occasion of accompanying former President Harry S. Truman on a fishing excursion off the Florida Keys.

According to Latham, the "Corsair" made over 180 fishing trips last year, providing fishing thrills for nearly 1,500 deep sea enthusiasts of the Quad-Command. Over 9,000 pounds of fish were believed to have been caught, with the largest, an amberjack, tipping the scales at 55 pounds, with others consisting of dolphin, king mackerel, bass, snapper, porgie and albacore.

If you were to travel to Swansboro for a day of fishing aboard the "Corsair," it would go somewhat like this:

After leaving the dock at 7 a.m., fully prepared with rods, reels, bait, chow, life preservers and hope, you and 14 others would settle down for a ride through slightly choppy Bogue Inlet.

The sun would be bright now and beyond the sand bars in view which marked the end of shallow water, you could see the breakers of the great Atlantic Ocean.

It would be getting a little rough now and the swells and breakers would give the sportsmen the impression of a roller coaster ride at Coney Island.

If the water was too rough the skipper might say, "We won't get out too far today," and probably would drop anchor at Tom Smith Rock about eight miles from Swansboro, off Emerald Isle.

"You can bait up, men, we're almost there," Mr. Latham would say, and 15 baited hooks would be over the side and the anxious wait would begin. After a strike of good size bass and several smaller bites, you would strike out for new waters. Possibly you would travel east-northeast and cut the motors near Thompson's Steel Pier.

After several more moves and several disappointing hours of reeling and unreeling the veterans of the party might blame the lack of catches on cold weather and the "Corsair" would turn and head for home.

Not many fish would be caught and possible a few yarns about "the one that got away" would be told, but all in the party would agree that a day on the "Corsair" on the high seas is a lot better than working anyway. Better luck next time.

Alien Classes In Citizenship Begin June 9

The Base Education Office will begin citizenship classes for alien dependents and service personnel during the month of June. All alien dependents of Armed Forces personnel at Camp Lejeune and members of the Armed Forces who are not American citizens are eligible to enroll.

Classes will be divided into two sections, basic English for persons with limited or no ability in reading and writing English, and preparation for the naturalization examination including instruction in American history, the constitution and the federal government.

A formation class will be held Thursday, June 9, in Room 1 of the Camp High School Annex. A literacy test will also be given at this time.

Personnel unable to attend classes but interested in home study may obtain textbooks from the education office. Further information may be obtained at the Base Education Office located in the Camp Theater or by phone at 7-5121 or 7-5572.

Selectees To E-8, E-9 Must Serve 3 Years

Selectees for promotion to pay grades E-8 and E-9 must agree to serve a minimum of three years active duty after the date of appointment to their new rank, according to a recent Marine Corps Bulletin. Also, CMC will not give favorable consideration to the request of a Marine in pay grades E-8 through E-9 for transfer to the Fleet Marine Corps Reserve if the man makes the request after receiving permanent change of station orders to overseas, and if the effective date of transfer to the FMCR is prior to the end of the normal overseas tour of duty.

The bulletin states that since the purpose of promotion is to fill bona fide military requirements, officers and enlisted Marines are expected to perform a reasonable tour of service after promotion. Therefore, those selectees for E-8 and E-9 with less than three years remaining on current enlistment must agree either to extend or reenlist for the period necessary to comply with this minimum requirement.

Only two exceptions will be made in the new restriction of completing an overseas tour of duty if orders are received before letter of transfer to the FMCR is submitted. The exceptions will be made only in bona fide hardship cases and in cases where transfer to the FMCR is clearly in the best interest of the Marine Corps.
