

Paradise Point Toastmasters Hold Installation Ceremony

During installation ceremonies of the Paradise Point Toastmaster's Club, Cmdr. E. L. Cook was installed as the new president. Other officers installed were W. H. Nulty, executive vice-president; V. D. Bell Jr., administrative vice-president; E. P. Pattillo, secretary-treasurer, and W. F. Uber, sergeant-at-arms.

Guest speakers for the evening were three Camp Lejeune High school students, Christine Schroeder, Katherine Jerhofskey and Richard Kilpatrick. The guest of honor was Col. K. A. Jorgensen, Chief of Staff, Marine Corps Base.

The Toastmasters are a non-profit, nonsectarian, educational organization, whose program is aimed at self-expression and self-improvement. It is an international organization with clubs in every state of the union, every province of Canada, and in 34 other countries.

The title "Toastmasters" is apt to be misleading, for many men join who have neither the desire nor the ability to become polished public speakers. Their reasons for joining are varied—to learn to organize their thoughts better, to overcome fear and shyness, to be able to stand up and share an idea with others by putting it into words, or even become more critical listeners. In congenial fellowship, these men help one another through actual practice, mutual constructive criticism, and the assumption of responsibilities within the organization.

Nowhere is effective communication more important to a man and to his organization than in the Armed Services. This awareness is widened by the fact that there are over 200 Toastmaster's clubs at military installations in the United States as well as groups in U. S. Armed Services activities overseas.

The small but very active Paradise Point Toastmaster's Club of Camp Lejeune is anxious to increase its membership to the legal limit. An additional 10 over the usual 30 members has been authorized by the home office due to the special problems of the Lejeune club caused by frequent necessary absences of its members.

Detailed information regarding membership may be obtained by calling Maj. V. D. Bell Jr., ext. 7-5545 or 7-3378.

Shooting for individual honors and legs toward distinguished marksman or distinguished pistol shots will be members of 47 eastern units.

The Pacific Division Matches are scheduled for Pearl Harbor and the Western Division Matches are slated for the San Diego Recruit Depot.

Dominating the competition-in-arms scene June 6-11 will be All-Marine Matches and competition for the Marine Corps Rifle, Pistol and Lauchheimer trophies. The shooting season climaxes in early fall with the National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Amateur Radio Program To Resume Classes On April 11

The Amateur Radio Training Program at Montford Point will resume April 11. A more extensive program will be designed to give personnel the basic information and training required to obtain an Amateur Radio License.

The theory instruction will begin with a review of all material covered prior to LANTPHBEX 1-60 and will continue until sufficient material has been covered for the license. The program will use current available radio training films and radio training literature.

In order to complete the theory classes and not prolong the instruction, personnel will be able to attend two nights of theory a week. New theory will be given each Monday and Wednesday evening with a repeat class the following evening.

Classes will last four to five weeks, which should enable students to pass the theory part of the general examination. The radio telegraph code will be given each evening.

All classes are held at Montford Point, Bldg. 514, each Monday through Thursday from 7 until 9 p.m. Classes are free and a bus is available to transport personnel from the Base bus station to the school and return.

For further information, call 7-3031.

Buyers Not Protected Against Car Dealers

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles prepared by Miriam Ottenberg of the Washington Star to expose the used car racket and to help prospective buyers of used cars protect themselves.)

The used car business is so brisk and the turnover so fast that the transfer of car titles lags. Some of the most aggravated cases have come to light when a car purchaser complained to police that he couldn't get his title.

If a dealer accepts as a trade-in a car on which money is still owed, the dealer must pay the finance company the remainder of the debt before he can get the title. But the dealer may sell the trade-in before the title arrives; the finance company has held it until the dealer's check clears. As one police officer put it: "These people don't trust each other."

Result: Between 75 and 100 dealers monthly, according to police records, forfeit collateral on charges of failing to deliver the title within the required five days.

An integral part of the used-car picture is the fast repossession of used cars from buyers who can't or won't keep up exorbitant payments. Last year alone, repossession titles were issued for 3,026 cars.

Among the used-car repossessions the defaulted contracts—filled along with titles—frequently show 30 per cent finance charges, credit life insurance at double the usual rates, "pick-up payments" of $100 or more due within a week of the contract signing and "balloon payments" of $200 or more due in a lump sum after the purchaser has been making monthly payments for two years.

Officials in the office of the Recorder of Deeds call attention to similar provisions in the liens filed by certain finance companies against used-car purchasers.

Assistant Corporation Counsel

Clark King reports a "barrel of complaints" against used-car dealers at Municipal Court.

The District Bar Association's legal assistance office says it has a thick folder of cases against used car dealers. Complaints even find their way to the District's insurance department.

The Automotive Trade Association of the National Capital Area reported getting calls, too, but complainants are quickly told that the dealers in question are not members of the association.

"We don't like to see people getting fleeced," said an association official. "We don't like to be tarred with that brush."

What do enforcement agencies do with the complaints? Usually they try to get the victim's money back or at least get him out of the contract he signed in ignorance or innocence.

The District has no law regulating finance companies or what they can charge. The courts have ruled

Fellowship Is Awarded To Lt. Richardson

Lt. Robert E. Richardson Jr. Communications Support Co 2nd FSR, has been awarded Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship for graduate study in the academic year 1960-61. He was one of 1,259 winners for the fellowship awards.

Sir Hugh Taylor, President of the Fellowship Foundation, estimated that the total value of this year's awards will amount to a most $3,000,000. Each winner receives $1,500 plus family allowances and full costs of a year's graduate tuition at any university in the United States or Canada.

The winners named were nominated by faculty members. They were selected after being interviewed by regional committees of educators.

Library Week Photo Contest Is Announced

Base and Division photographers are eligible to participate in the photo contest being conducted in conjunction with National Library Week.

Four hundred dollars in cash prizes will be awarded, with the winner receiving $250. The second place entry will get $100 and third place will receive $50.

The importance of library services and the encouragement of reading should be the theme of submitted pictures. Photos should emphasize children, teenagers, young adults, families or old folk engaged in reading or some other type of activity associated with local Library Week events.

Photographers may submit as many 8x10 glossy as they wish. No entry blank is required but all entries must be captioned and identified with entrant's name, address and the name and address of the publication to which he's assigned.

Entries must be postmarked no later than 12 p.m. May 10. Winners will be announced on or before June 10 and all pictures become the property of National Library Week.

Address entries to: Photo Contest Editor, National Library Week, 24 West 40th St., New York 18, N. Y.

Passover Feast

Passover, the festival of freedom, celebrating the exodus of the Jews from Egypt, will be observed from sunset April 11 through sunset April 19.

A seder will be held at Marston Pavilion at 6:15 p.m., Monday, April 11.

Tickets are available at the door or from the Jewish Chapel, Bldg. 67, telephone 7-5822.

Good Things Happen When You Give To Your American Red Cross

Good things happen when you give. When you support Red Cross in this year's drive, you can be sure that your gift will help to make good things happen to someone.

Ever think what life would be like if nobody ever gave? If there were no gifts to schools and universities? No gifts to churches, homes for the aged, or homes for the orphaned? No gifts to hospitals, to institutions for the crippled and mentally ill? No gifts to libraries? No gifts to Red Cross and the other essential health, welfare, and recreation organizations that serve people in need of help?

For more than three-quarters of a century the American people have made good things happen to their neighbors by joining and serving in Red Cross.

More than half the time of both staff and volunteers of Red Cross and approximately one-third of its budget are expended each year in services to the armed forces and to veterans.

Many are the day-to-day services provided by the field directors stationed at every major American military post and hospital both here and overseas, by the hospital workers who visit the wards and by the Home Service Workers in the hometown chapters of members of the armed forces.

These Red Cross representatives daily assist with personal and family problems and provide the military with factual information about home situations that will assist them in making important decisions.

Unless you have received direct help from the Red Cross, you probably have never tried to put a dollars-and-cents price tag on just what your annual contribution means to you and your family.

If you want to know just what your gift means, ask yourself just how much is it worth to you to know that you, as a serviceman, have a friend to turn to in time of trouble?

The theme of this year's campaign is "Good Things Happen When You Give." These are, of course, the many Red Cross services your contribution helps make available. But far from the least that happens is the deep personal satisfaction you will feel in your heart because you gave.

Uniforms Need Spring Cleaning

There's no better time than the weeks ahead to do your personal "spring cleaning"—not with broom, brush and basket but by taking a hard look at your service wardrobe and replacing items of apparel that have seen their best days.

The winter's over. It's been rough on uniforms, shoes, overcoats, caps. Change over dates for summer wear are coming up. Have you gone over your khakis and tropical worsteds lately? Have you studied them for perspiration stains, spots, frayed cuffs, missing or broken and loose buttons? Have you tried them on to see if they still fit?

And just as the housewife, in her spring cleaning, throws out the accumulations of winter, saying, "We'll never use that again, so why keep it around?" you can do your own throwing out—and be tough about it. Is that shirt, those trousers, good for a few more times—but only a few more? Replace them. Those shoes, badly scuffed but still serviceable? Maybe—but not with a service uniform. Replace them.

WITH THE EASTER WEEKEND APPROACHING, HAVE YOU ANY SUGGESTIONS FOR THE "SAFE AND SOUND RETURN" OF HOLIDAY DRIVERS?

If You Ask Me:

PVT. RICHARD WILBURN, Hq. Co., 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines — One of the best mottoes for drivers at any time is the familiar "If you drink—don't drive; if you drive—don't drink." A very large percentage of our auto accidents involve drinking drivers. Another point to remember is to take a break when you're tired. The best procedure, especially for night driving, is to pull over to the side and take a short nap if you feel sleepy. You may lose a little time, but you'll have a better chance of getting home safely.

PVT. NANCY NOTTINGHAM, WM Co., Hq. Bn., MCB — My advice for accident prevention for the Easter vacation is this: Take it easy. Spend the holiday at the beach or some other nearby point if possible. Or, if you're bound and determined to take a long trip (and maybe break a few traffic laws on the way), buy a large insurance policy—and make me the beneficiary.

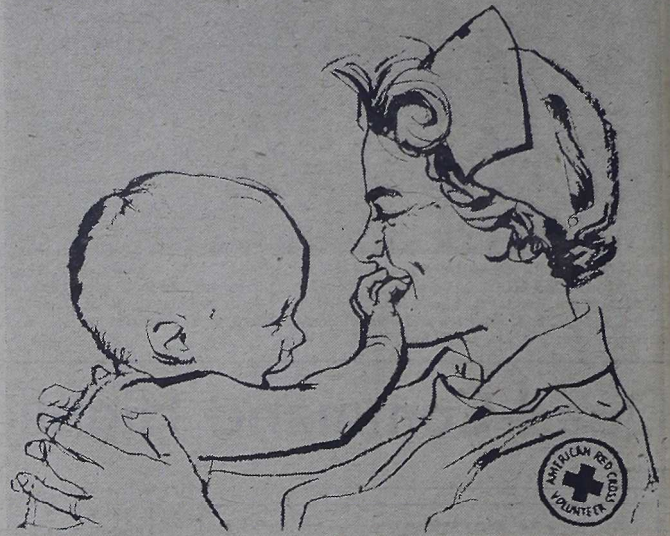

MRS. J. S. PERRIN, MOQ 2112, MCAF — A travel "hazard" usually overlooked by holiday drivers is their own children. Young children, especially, become cross and quarrelsome during a long ride and may distract the driver. If children begin to argue or become troublesome, the person driving should pull over to the side of the road before correcting them. Many tragic accidents occur when traveling families fail to keep a sharp eye on their children.

LCPL. JOSEPH JOHNSTON, Spt. Co., 2nd Pioneer Bn., 2nd Division — I feel that the holiday drivers would be much safer if they would lay off drinking while driving. Since the highways will be more crowded than usual, those that don't have to travel should stay at home or fairly near the Base to observe Easter. Those who want to go home for the weekend on a "96" should be especially watchful of local traffic laws.

The Latest Word

The Marine Corps is tightening control on regulars released to inactive duty before they have completed military service obligations. In the future, these Marines will be required to sign a statement promising they will keep their Reserve office informed of their address. The former practice required only that they give a future mailing address. It had no provision for keeping the information up to date.

Headquarters Marine Corps has sent out its annual invitation for Marine Reserve flyers to apply for integration to the Regular Marine Corps. The selections will be made in June. To be eligible for transfer to the Regular Marine Corps, the reservists must have an initial date of rank as second lieutenant in one of the following year groups: Year group 1957: June 2, 1956-June 7, 1957; year group 1958: June 8, 1957-June 4, 1958.

President Praises West Point Atlas

WEST POINT ATLAS OF AMERICAN WARS, Col. Vincent J. Esposito, Chief editor. 2 volumes, published by Praeger.

This two-volume atlas designed for the cadets of the United States Military Academy as an aid in their initial studies in the History of the Military Art bears the following introduction by President Eisenhower:

"I am glad to learn of the forthcoming publication of The West Point Atlas of American Wars, for use in cadet instruction—and indeed for use by all military personnel in the study of military history.

"Through a careful and objective study of the significant campaigns of the world, a professional officer acquires a knowledge of military experience which he himself could not otherwise accumulate. The facts of a given battle may no longer serve any practical purpose except as a framework on which to base an analysis, but when the serious student of the military art delves into the reasons for the failure of a specific attack—or soberly analyzes the professional qualities of one of the responsible commanders of the past—he is, by this very activity, preparing for a day in which he, under different circumstances, may be facing decisions of vital consequence to his country.

"The 'principles of war' which this atlas will assist you in studying are broad. They apply to air and naval warfare as well as to land combat. They are not, in the final analysis, limited to any one type of warfare, or even limited exclusively to war itself. But principles as such can rarely be studied in a vacuum; military operations are drastically affected by many considerations, one of the most important of which is the geography of the region. Thus, it is important that these campaigns be studied in conjunction with the very best available in clear and accurate maps.

"I am confident that The West Point Atlas of American Wars will prove a tremendous aid in instructing—and inspiring—the minds of those whose profession it will be to defend the frontiers of the Free World against all enemies."

Amphibious Striking Force Demonstrate

BEACH ASSAULT—Elements of the 2nd Division storm ashore in the over-the-beach assault at Onslow Beach during the opening of operation LANTPHIBEX 1-60.

PHIBEX 1-60 designed to test the readiness of the Atlantic Fleet amphibious forces.

Under the natural cover of a dense fog, the Amphibious Striking Force of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet swept ashore at H-hour, 8 a.m., March 28. Elements of the 2nd Marine Division under the command of Maj. Gen. J. P. Berkeley outslugged stubborn aggressor forces and crumbled the enemy resistance as they moved inland into the mythical country of Amicus in response to a plea for U. S. assistance.

In Onslow Beach action boat coxswains were compelled to navigate the distance to beach from ship by compass. The fog extended out to sea from the sand dunes for a distance of 6,000 yards. Visibility was limited to 100 yards.

Units of the Navy-Marine Air Team, both ashore and at sea, provided air cover and support for the assaulting amphibious task force. Enemy mine fields were cleared and aggressor submarines repelled prior to the H-hour assault at the objective area.

Meanwhile, Marine helicopters had whirled from ships of Amphibious Squadron 10 two hours earlier and had deposited troops in low-lying fogbanks at Peterfield Point resulting in the capture of the airstrip.

The Marine Air-Ground Task Force, commanded by Lt. Gen. J. C. Burger, USMC, commanding general, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, was comprised of 20,000 combat-ready Marines of the 2nd Marine Division, backed by jet fighters of the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing at Cherry Point, N. C., and helicopters of Marine Air Group 26 at New River, N. C.

During the second day of operation, more than 50 percent of the support equipment had been transported from the 70-ship task force to the beach.

The airstrip came under heavy siege by an Aggressor mechanized rifle battalion and at Onslow Beach, U. S. Forces had pushed inland approximately four and one-half miles and annihilated a battalion of Aggressor along a nine-mile perimeter. A large target area north-east of the Onslow Beach perimeter was destroyed with a nuclear bomb.

Aggressor forces got a trifle off to an explosive start by detonating a simulated nuclear bomb to shatter the early morning calm of a balmy spring day and to break an uneasy truce between

Ithacans Drop Pair To Camp Lejeune

The local Marines took on the Ithaca College Bombers last Thursday and Friday and came out victorious in both outings, 9-4 and 18-2. Bob Rumer went all the way in Thursday's game, giving up 11 scattered hits and walking three. Bill Haywood duplicated the nine-inning stint in Friday's game, giving up only five hits and two walks.

To date, Rumer's record is 2-0 while Haywood boasts a 3-1 mark.

In Thursday's game against the Ithacans, the Marines jumped off to the initial lead when Sam Valentine walked and moved to second on Dick Esau's single. Hank Nichols, who is currently behind the plate for ailing Barry Fullerton, and leads the starting nine with a .486 batting average, scored Valentine with a single.

Lead-Off Single

In the third inning, Earl Williams hit a lead-off single and went to second when Bomber pitcher, Curt Raymond, balked. Charlie Armstrong reached first on an error and Barry Fullerton, now at second base, nursing a sore arm, singled and went all the way to third clearing the bases ahead of him on two Ithaca errors. After Valentine struck out, Fullerton scored on firstsacker Bill Haywood's single.

Ithaca picked up a run on a single and a double in the top of the fourth, added two more in the fifth on an inside-the-park home run by outfielder Bel Glarola. The ball was hit to the right field corner and lost itself in the tall, wet grass and mud at the base of the wall.

Two In The Fifth

In the home half of the fifth, Lejeune got two more runs across when Valentine scored on Esau's sacrifice fly and Haywood crossed the plate on Bob Rumer's single.

The locals picked up two more in the sixth when Williams walked and later scored on a single by Valentine, and Armstrong who had singled following Williams' walk, scored on a fielding error by the Ithacan centerfielder.

Lejeune's final run came in the seventh inning on a single by Cliff Simpson which scored Nichols, who had earlier walked. Ithaca picked up their last tally in the eighth on pinch-hitter Skip Lyne's homer over the left field wall.

In the box score Nichols went three for three and Haywood and Fullerton each had two hits for five trips to the plate. Everyone except for Williams and Armstrong had an RBI in the game, with Fullerton driving in two.

Second Win

In Friday's hitting fracas, the local nine had a field day with only two starters, winning pitcher Bill Haywood and Dick Esau going hitless.

Shortstop Charlie Armstrong, first baseman Howie Heiden and catcher Hank Nichols were the bat-

Locals Open Regular Season Against Fort Gordon Tonight

Tonight marks the first regularly scheduled night game as the local nine faces the Gordon Signalers in the first of a two-game set. Riding on the crest of a four-game win streak, the locals now have a season record of 11 wins against four losses. The Ft. Gordon game marks the first of over 30 games to be played under the arcs at Harry Agganis Field during the 1960 season. During last week's action, the locals scored a double victory over the Travelers of Ft. Lee, Va., 13-4 and 13-6, after crushing Ithaca College of New York, 9-4 and 18-2.

Costa Picks Up Win

Lefthander Mike Costa was called upon to relieve starter Ron Biemel with the bases loaded in the third innings of the first game against Ft. Lee and only a sacrifice fly stopped him from pitching a miraculous ball.

Going seven full innings in relief, Costa won his first ball game of the year, allowing only two on just five hits as the locals thrashed the Virginians 13-4, hitting the visitors their first loss of the season.

Locals Explode

Ft. Lee scored a run in the top of the fourth and another in the fourth to lead a 3-1 edge before the Marines exploded for three in their half of the fourth inning, led by a home run single by catcher Hank Nichols who had a perfect day at the plate with two singles and a double drive in six runs.

The locals jumped on starter pitcher George Lastrass and righthander Gary Hepperel who relied in the sixth for six runs in the home half of the sixth aided two hit bastmen, four walks and two singles.

Nichols slapped a bases-loaded double to pick up three RBIs, the final inning off of reliever hurler Bob Dempsey, who came in the eighth.

Two Straight

The locals made it two in a row over the Travelers behind the steady pitching of righthander Bill Haywood and three round trippers 14-6.

Haywood, who relieved Ron Biemel in the fifth, who had previously relieved starter Lee Mason, scored the knot at five-all, gave up only one run on three hits win his third game of the season.

After scoring two runs in the first, one in the second and two more in the fifth, the locals bust loose for five in the seventh behind home runs by shortstop Charlie Armstrong and catcher Hank Nichols.

Perfect Day

The visitors from Virginia scored five runs in the fourth inning of starter Lee Mason, led by a home run homer by centerfielder Bob Paradise, followed by a bases-loaded clout by catcher Ron Harris, his second of the series, and added another in the ninth after two more were out.

First baseman Howie Heiden had a perfect day at the plate, collecting three for three and four RBIs and his second circuit clout of the season which came in the eighth inning with a man aboard.

Heiden drove in the final run in the ninth for the locals before the visitors rallied for their final run. The Travelers used a host of pitchers with righthander Jerry French the starter, suffering the loss.

(Over Five Innings Pitched)

Devilpups Win Two Straight

The Dover High School baseball team will move into Camp Lejeune tomorrow looking for vengeance after losing to the Devilpups last week, 13-9, on their home diamond. Lefthander Jim McCarvill, who relieved starter Dave Kelly in the first inning, was credited with the win. McCarvill, who not only pitched a fine ball game, was devastating at the plate, going three for five including a three-run double in the fourth to drive in five RBIs.

The Pups down one run, 9-8, in the fifth inning, exploded for five runs in the sixth to score their second victory of the season against one defeat.

Coach Tom McGee will again go with the fine lefthander in tomorrow's game, in an effort to grab win number three.

The losers collected three in the first and second innings, one in the fourth and two in the fifth to lead the Pups all the way until their sixth-inning rally.

McCarvill, who is in his third season with the Pups, also plays first base when not being utilized as a pitcher, and is considered by coach McGee as a good hitter.

The Pups suffered the loss of shortstop Lewis Boynton due to his parents' recent move from the Camp Lejeune area.

MCES Represented In Volleyball Action

Service Platoon of Marine Corps Engineer School, Courthouse Bay, will represent the Engineers in the Marine Corps Base Volleyball playoffs to be held at Goettge Memorial Field House this week.

"We plan to go all the way this year," stated Capt. Russell H. Stolfi, team captain and team coach M. W. Dunn.

The victors having ironed out several problems encountered in the base play-offs last year, swept over Headquarters Section, Maintenance Section, Engineer Equipment School, School Officers, Combat Engineer School and Utilities School in orderly fashion.

DUGOUT SPECTATORS—Most critical of onlookers at Harry Agganis Field this season are Coach Dave Beard, right, and assistant Coach Joe "Doc" DePompa, center. Sports In Short

Diamond Glances

When Teddy Roosevelt insinuated that those who wanted action must carry a big stick, he could very well have been talking about this year's local baseball team.

In 15 games, the locals have smashed 16 homers over the fences at Harry Agganis Field, winning 11 games and losing only four.

Sam Valentine, leftfielder, leads the club in the home run department with four and is followed by Charlie Armstrong with three, first baseman Howie Heiden, Hal Norton and third baseman Bobby Cooke with two apiece. Catcher-second baseman Barry Fullerton, catcher Hank Nichols and pitcher Bill Haywood have also chipped in one each.

Extra base hits are a big part of winning the ball games as is steady pitching and sure-handed defense. Doing very well in these departments, the Marines have coupled six triples and 20 doubles with 114 singles to drive in an average of better than 8.7 runs per game.

With Bill Haywood picking up his third win and Mike Costa also getting in the victory column, the local pitching staff seems to be in excellent shape. Although none may reach the efforts of Jerry Smith of last year, the chuckers of Camp Lejeune will win plenty of ball games during 1960.

Ron Beemel, 2-1, leads the pitching staff in earned run averages with 1.35 for 20 innings, followed by Haywood with 1.85 for 34. The overall earned run average for the club for 15 games is 3.52 for 133 innings.

With spring and warm weather in the area the locals have tightened their defenses and are now playing near errorless ball.

Although catcher Barry Fullerton has been replaced behind the plate, due to a pulled muscle, by Hank Nichols, a fine receiver in his own right, they have not suffered the loss of his heavy bat. Moving to second base, Fullerton is continuing to hit the ball and covers the sack with surprising agility.

The loss of Hal Norton, slugging first sacker, due to an earlier injury, has not seemed to hurt the locals in the hitting department, nor in the defensive area either as replacement Howie Heiden, who went three-for-three including a two-run homer in his last appearance, seems to be picking up those low throws in big league fashion. There is no doubt, though, that Coach Dave Beard will be glad to get Norton back into the lineup as soon as he is fully recovered.

The Wilmington Classic

Those of Camp Lejeune who attended the $15,000 Azalea Open Golf Tournament at Wilmington last week, saw 30-year-old Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N. Y., lead all the way to win his second open since turning professional in 1954.

Nieporte carded a 64-68-70-73 for a 277 score to win his first tournament in his last 13 stops while on the winter circuit.

Nieporte termed the win as one of his greatest golf thrills saying, "I won it the hard way. It's tough to take the lead the first day and hold it all the way."

According to Wilmington Athletic Association officials, this was the first time any golfer ever won the Azalea Open by leading all the way.

What's New In The Major Leagues?

If the White Sox needed a long ball hitter for the series last year, they have no worries for the coming season. They have finally made the deal they have been pursuing for quite awhile. The Sox gave up catcher Earl Battey, rookie first baseman Don Mincher and $150,000 to Washington for Roy Sievers. A Senator spokesman said that the switchboard at Griffith Stadium was jammed with calls after the trade announcement with sentiment about two to one against the trade. One Washington newspaper reported that the trade "probably clinched two places in the American League—first for the White Sox and last for Washington."

OUT OF ACTION—First baseman Hal Norton, who was injured earlier in the season and is expected to be benched for two to six weeks, has been replaced by Howie Heiden (insert) who is currently batting at a .364 clip.

ALL-MARINE BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP—Capt. Ruth J. O'Holleran, commanding officer of Hawaii's Woman Marine Company and officer-in-charge of the WM basketball team, accepts the 1960 All-Marine plaque during a banquet at El Toro Sunday, March 27, from Col. T. J. Noon.

Marine Corps 'Big Guns' To Fire In Pacific Match

CAMP H. M. SMITH, Hawaii, March 29—"Big Guns" of the Marine Corps will meet on the firing lines at the Puuloa Rifle Range many times between now and May 9. These "Big Guns" are rifle and pistol shooters of the Pacific area who have their sights on the Fourth Annual Pacific Division Matches. Shooters of the 3rd Marine Division, Okinawa; 1st Marine Air Wing in Japan and security forces of the Philippines and Guam will compete in these matches. Locally, Marines of the Kaneohe Air Station, 1st Marine Brigade, 1st ANGLICO, Marine Barracks (of Pearl Harbor), Naval Ammunition Depots and the Headquarters and Service Battalion of Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, Headquarters, will compete.

It is anticipated that nearly 200 shooters will vie in this, the big step towards the world famed Camp Perry Matches held yearly in Ohio.

Okinawa is well represented on the firing line, with 81 Marines teaming up under Capt. Thomas S. Brown of the 2nd Bn., First Marines.

All competitors must be qualified as sharpshooters or higher with the rifle, though many of the veteran shooters are Distinguished Marksmen or Distinguished Pistol Shots.

Though the Pacific Division Match does not officially start until May 9, there is much additional work to be done. No shooter arrives at the Puuloa Rifle Range on May 8 to begin shooting the next day.

Competitors are obligated to attend a five-week training period presented by instructors of the Marksmanship Training Unit. Thirty hours of coaching, instructing techniques, range operating procedures, advanced marksmanship, familiarization with sniper equipment and combat pistol firing are attended.

When a competitor completes this training, an entry is made in his service record book.

These weeks on the range are not vacations, for the shooters are up before dawn, waiting for the sunrise from the 200-yard line or at the pistol range. He continues shooting until classes begin.

Last year, during the Third Annual Pacific Matches, Pfc Richard D. Miller of the Naval Ammunition Depot, Oahu, Hawaii, won high individual rifle honors with a 574x600, establishing a new record for the match.

CWO Mark W. Billings of the 3rd Marine Division won pistol honors, firing a 564x600, also a new match record.

ting stars of the day. Armstrong hit a triple and a homer, as Heiden hit two doubles and a round tripper and Hank Nichols banged out a double and two singles. In the totals, Armstrong went four for five, scored three runs and knocked in five. Heiden knocked in four, scored four times and got three hits in five trips to the plate. Nichols went three for four at the plate and drove in three runs, while scoring once.

Near .500 Game

Barry Fullerton and Cliff Simpson each batted in two runs and scored twice with Fullerton hitting three for six and Simpson two for three. Sam Valentine had three hits in five trips and drove in one run while Earl Williams collected a double in four times up and scored twice.

In all, the Marines had 19 hits for 41 times at the plate and managed to draw nine walks. Haywood struck out five, walked two and gave up only five hits to the Bombers, whose only runs came in the second and seventh on home runs by catcher Brian Mee and pinch-hitter Jim Russin, respectively.

When a competitor completes this training, an entry is made in his service record book.

Three Marine Cagers Make Olympic Tests

The Marines of Quantico compiled a one-won, one-loss record after losing 102-79 to the U. S. Army All-Stars, during the Inter-Service round robin tourney being held at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, on March 25.

The following day, the Army All-Stars were declared winners of the tournament, ending the round robin action at its half-way mark.

As declared winner of the series, the Army placed seven of its players on the Armed Forces team which was scheduled to vie in the Olympic trials last week at Denver.

The Marines placed three men, all from Quantico, Jack Sullivan, Cliff Daniels and Al Dillard, while the Navy and Air Force All-Stars placed one man each on the Armed Forces Team.

Grappler Says TV Wrestling Not Authentic

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C.—"Any similarity between wrestling and the TV variety is sheer coincidence," asserted AAU Middle-Atlantic Champion Robert E. Pac, who temporarily has exchanged his grappler's tire for the green utilities of a Parris Island recruit.

Former Maryland Scholar Champion and fourth place finisher in the 1959 NAIA Tournament at Dekalb, Ill., Private Pac interrupted his studies at Locomotive College, Williamsport, Pa., to undergo the six months' active duty training required of Marine Corps reservists.

A member of the 78th Rifle Company, USMC, Williamsport, Pa., reported to this East Coast Marine Corps Recruit Depot March 5, 12 weeks of recruit training with Platoon 326, "R" Company, The Recruit Training Battalion.

The Young Leatherneck claimed he began his wrestling career the age of eight while attending McDonough School in Baltimore, Md. He estimates he has won 70 of 70 matches since his competitive career started at McDonough School.

In addition to the AAU and NAIA meets, Pac appeared in the 1959 NCAA Tournament held in Iowa City, Iowa. His weight class is the 147-pound division.

Upon completion of his active duty training, the second half of which is spent at Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N. C., plans to resume his studies and coming and "get in a little wrestling on the side."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Pac of 2405 Sparrow Point dr., Sparrows Point, Md.

Marines Copy Honors From Army Match

CAMP H. M. SMITH—Marine shooters dominated the 1960 Senior Commanders Rifle Match held at the Schofield Barracks last Saturday and Sunday. The Match sponsored by the U. S. Army, 25th Infantry Division, Hawaii, found nearly 250 shooters participating for the individual and team honors.

Saturday, shooters fired from the 200, 300 and 600-yard lines for individual recognition. Sunday, in a strong wind, and with continual light changes, team matches were held.

Forty-one teams participated with the majority of the shooters wearing Army khaki. There were 11 Marine teams, and two civilian teams represented in the matches.

Act. Sgt. Fred S. Chaldy of the Hawaii Marine team won individual honors in a duel with Army Specialist, Fifth Class Robert L. Meeks of the Eighth Army.

The match was won at the 600-yard line, with Chaldy firing 15V's, while Meeks marked up 11V's.

Red Cross Donations Grow, Base In Lead

The total contribution for this year's American Red Cross fund drive was upped by more than $2,000 this week, despite the campaign's being hit hard by LANTPHIBEX maneuvers. The Base command, with $8,665.91, continues to spearhead the drive which is scheduled to end April 15. According to drive chairman Lt. Col. J. A.

Witherspoon, membership donations in the Red Cross are expected to rise as soon as Force Troops and 2nd Division personnel get settled back in their home areas after arduous field training.

Unit Total

Division Troops are still second in the campaign with $7,459.21 for 56.7 per cent participation. In third place is Force Troops with $1,157.59 and 27.6 per cent participation. The Marine Corps Air Facility, including MAG-26 and MACS-7, has 56.8 participation (runner-up to the Base) and total contributions of $960.82. Civilian employees have a $1,699.65 total.

Throughout the quad-command, 15,077 persons have contributed a dollar or more it was further reported.

Membership cards are issued to those contributing one dollar or more; there has been no monetary goal set for the campaign. The ultimate goal of this year's drive is to strive for 100 percent voluntary participation by all members of the Armed Forces, federal employees and civilians employed by Base activities.

Individual unit breakdowns were not available this week, also due to heavy training schedules during the maneuvers.

Division Question And Answer Service Initiated For Wives Of Area Personnel

Firm believers in the proverbial "Behind every successful man is a good woman," the 2nd Division Career Counseling Center has initiated a new service for Camp Lejeune wives in order that they may know every benefit available to them and their families. Act. GySgt. James F. Dilkey, who is the center's "information man," said the new program has been set up to answer any questions dependents may have about their benefits and privileges, including their allotments, their husband's pay, reenlistment bonuses, travel pay, medical care and any others.

He went on to explain that newly-arrived families aboard the base will become more aware of the many and varied services available to them such as the Hobby Shops, theaters, golf course, boating and swimming facilities.

The new service, using an individual rather than a group approach in counselling, is available to all Camp Lejeune service personnel and their dependents at the following times and places: Knox Community Center, Mondays from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; Geiger Community Center, Tuesdays 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; and at the Midway Park Housing Office, Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Toastmasters Hold Officer Installation

During installation ceremonies of the Paradise Point Toastmaster's Club Monday, Cmdr. E. L. Cook was installed as the new president. Other officers installed were W. Nulty, executive vice-president; V. D. Bell Jr., administrative vice-president; E. P. Pattillo, secretary-treasurer, and W.

Monday To Mark Close Of Contest

Less than five days remain for contestants to get their entries to the Marine Federal Credit Union in the official seal contest. Seals should pertain to Marines' and civilians' savings and loans, displaying the idea of earnest effort and unity.

A prize of four $5 shares will be awarded to the individual whose drawing is selected for the seal. An award of two shares will also go to the runner-up in the contest, which ends Monday.

Contact Act. MSgt. A. C. Everett at 7-5726 or 7-5786 to obtain general ideas concerning the requirements of the Credit Union for the seal. Each entry must be on 8x10 size sheets of paper or larger and must be in black and white, suitable for reproduction.

Authority for the contest was voted by the Board of Directors of Marine Federal at its regular monthly meeting held March 10 in the credit union offices, Bldg. 1402.

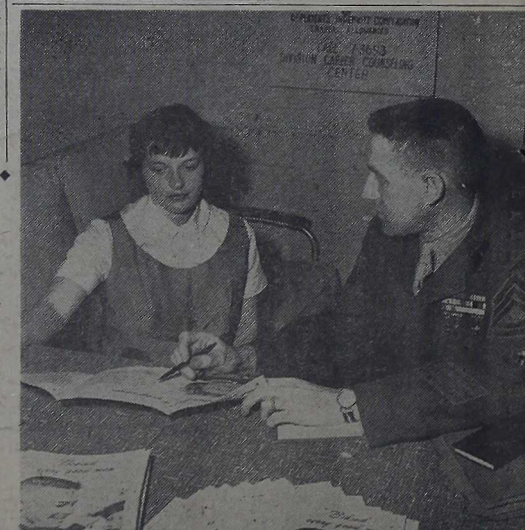

Marine Federal Credit Union was organized in May, 1959, for and by military personnel and civilian employees of this base to provide a convenient method for investment, savings and loan. From the time it was organized, Marine Federal has made more than 677 loans, totalling over $173,000. As of March 31 this year, 343 loans have been made totalling $104,000.

Passover Feast

Passover, the festival of freedom, celebrating the exodus of the Jews from Egypt, will be observed from sunset Monday through sunset April 19.

A seder will be held at Marston Pavilion at 6:15 p.m. Monday.

Tickets are available at the door or from the Jewish Chapel, Bldg. 67, telephone 7-5822.

Commandant States Policy Concerning Official Visits

In a recent personal letter to field commanders, the Commandant of the Marine Corps set forth his policies pertaining to official CMC visits. Extracts from the letter follow: "On any visit where the rendition of honors may be indicated, I do not desire that honors include a saluting battery, nor do I wish any departure honors. In the preparation of proposed itineraries, I want no special demonstration scheduled. If a unit training schedule includes a training exercise or ordnance demonstration which happens to coincide with the approximate time of my visit, I offer no objection to the delay or advance of a few days of a particular phase of such scheduled training, to permit my observation. Except in rare occasions, my schedules will be promulgated in sufficient time to enable host activities to prepare an itinerary related to normal activities without shuffling training schedules or prior commitments. In other words, I want as little vibration as possible which might be related solely to my being present.

"I like to talk to individuals. I can spend my limited time more profitably this way than looking at things through field glasses or walking through heads and wash rooms."

With regard to social affairs, the Commandant emphasized that large receptions should be kept to a minimum and that other social activities in connection with his visit "remain on the small group level and be of an informal nature." He desires as few off-post commitments as practicable. "After all," he concludes, "my purpose is to visit Marine Corps activities, and the time will always be too short to do this properly."

Armed Forces Voting Laws

CONNECTICUT

Armed Forces personnel absent from their polling place may vote by requesting absentee ballots by mailing Federal Post Card Application (FPCA) to Clerk of Municipality two months before election. Others should use the Official State Application and return it no earlier than two months prior to election.

Registration is permanent. Servicemen who've never registered should send FPCA to the town clerk any time for the Application by Member of the Armed Forces. Others must register in person. Ballots will be accepted no later than 12 noon election day.

Voters must be 21 on date of election and have a minimum residence of one year in state, six months in town. Other requirements include reading the Constitution or Connecticut statutes; being of good moral character and sound mind. Also the oath of admission as a voter must be taken. Former residents retain Connecticut voting rights for Presidential elections for 24 months.

DELAWARE

Absentee ballots are available for Armed Forces personnel when they mail their FPCA's to Dept. of Election, county of residence, any time before the general election. Registration is permanent for regular voters.

Armed Forces personnel should apply for registration by FPCA or by writing for Absentee Registration Affidavit to Dept. of Elections, county of residence, before Sept. 12. Return affidavit by Sept. 28. Ballots will be accepted until 12 noon election day.

The minimum age for voters is 21 on date of election. Minimum residence is one year in state, three months in county, 30 days in election precinct.

Base Headquarters Effects Major Relocation Change

Due to the vacancy created by the move of the First Zen Bank and Trust Co. to their new location, major changes in Base facilities have occurred at Bldg. 1, Marine Corps Headquarters. The purpose of the moves was to enable them to better fulfill their duties. The Base Disbursing Section was transferred from Bldg. 1005 to the former courtroom. Personnel transacting business with the Disbursing Office are re-

Base Printing Plant Started Due To Large Requirements

The Base Printing Plant saw its genesis back in 1955 as a result of the massive printing requirements of Marine Corps Supply Schools and other instructional activities. Heretofore the Supply Schools had been utilizing one duplicating machine to supply them with all of the necessary manuals, charts, text papers, etc., that were needed in the operation of the school.

As the school enlarged and more printed material was needed, it became necessary to activate more machinery. The idea of a centrally located printing plant, one that was equipped to fulfill the military printing requirements of the entire Base, was decided upon and the present plant came into existence.

The Base printing plant is the smaller of two plants in the Mariane Corps with the other large plant being at Quantico, Va. The plant here is composed of a copy preparation room, camera room, lay-out room, plate room, Zed room, press room, bindery room and two large supply rooms, all playing an integral part in turning out the finished products of everything from Marine Corps School instructional matter to simple non-standardized administrative forms. Outside of the regular processing rooms used in printing, the plant is also equipped with a photo-static copy room that is used in copying legal documents.

The plant, along with its two subordinate units located at Camp Geiger and the Industrial area, fulfills all of the printing requirements for Marine Corps Base and Force Troops, while Division handles the bulk of its printing needs supplied by its own mobile printing reproduction unit.

In an interview with Capt. J. Ronnsvalle, officer-in-charge of the printing plant, it was revealed that although the printing plant has the necessary equipment to print any and everything, it is bound by the Congressional Joint Committee on Printing regulations, which prohibits the local printing of standard forms of any type. The standard forms, such as NVMO and D-D, are printed in designated government printing plants.

In another area of printing, Captain Ronnsvalle went on to say that multi-colored printing is available, but only if it serves a functional purpose such as maps, wiring diagrams, etc., and not for decorative purposes.

Marston Pavilion

Stan Pearson and the Plaid will play for dancing at Marston Pavilion this Saturday from 8 p.m. until midnight. All sergeants and below, their dependents and guests are invited to attend.

This Week At Camp Schools

Midway Park School—Classes of Midway Park and Holcomb Schools were invited to participate in a county-wide window display contest by Miss Adelaide McCarty, Onslow County Librarian, and Miss Louise Rowe of the Main Library at Camp Lejeune. The displays were to promote National Library Week, being held this week. The theme this year is "The Wonderful World of Books." All grades were represented in the display at the Midway Park Drug Store. Camp Lejeune Children's School art supervisor, Ann Creech, was assisted by Alice Gale, Thomasine Deal, Helen Still, Mary Broughton, Sue Miller, Brooks Jones and Betty Hollingsworth in arranging the display.

Stone Street School—The Fifth Grades will present the play "Case Number 226" at the next PTA meeting which is scheduled for Monday in the new school cafeteria. This play is about "Killer Cancer" being on trial for attacking "Mr. Aiken Stomach."

The First Grade teachers of the Camp Lejeune Schools met here in Mrs. Greene's first grade room last Thursday. Mr. Roberts' Fifth Grade made some very attractive peep boxes illustrating some of the interesting places in the U. S. Mrs. Mullins' Fourth Grade went on a field trip to the Base Heating Plant. They have been studying this in Social Studies.

Camp School—The annual school Art Exhibit will be held in the Camp School auditorium next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The theme this year will be "Spring Festival." The exhibit will show an overall picture of the schools' art program and the different media and methods used. On Tuesday, the exhibit will be shown in the evening from 8 until 10 p.m. so all parents and visitors may have an opportunity to see the talent displayed by the students of Camp Lejeune Children's Schools.

Don't forget to see the Senior Play, "O Men, Amen!" to be held in the Camp School auditorium tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Correction

Radio Class To Resume Operations

The Amateur Radio Training Program at Montford Point will resume Monday. A more extensive program will be designed to give personnel the basic information and training required to obtain an Amateur Radio License.

The theory instruction will begin with a review of all material covered prior to LANTPHIBEX 1-60 and will continue until sufficient material has been covered for the license. The program will use current available radio training films and radio training literature.

In order to complete the theory classes and not prolong the instruction, personnel will be able to attend two nights of theory a week. New theory will be given each Monday and Wednesday evening with a repeat class the following evening.

Classes will last four to five weeks, which should enable students to pass the theory out of the general examination. The radio telegraph code will be given each evening.

All classes are held at Montford Point, Bldg. 514, each Monday through Thursday from 7 until 9 p.m. Classes are free and a bus is available to transport personnel from the Base bus station to the school and return.

For further information, call 7-3031.

Protestant Religion School In Six Courses To Be Conducted By Lejeune Chaplains

A Protestant School of Religion, offering six courses for military personnel and their adult dependents, will be conducted at the Midway Park Community Building beginning at 7:30 Tuesday, April 19, and continuing for six Tuesday evenings. The courses, taught by local chaplains, will be free of charge. However, the student may buy the inexpensive text suggested for the course if he desires. Advance enrollment will be taken at any chaplain's office or Protestant chapel service where complete information and registration forms will be available.

The following courses of study will be offered: (1) The Spade and the Scriptures, an introduction to the field of scientific discoveries (Dead Sea Scrolls, Biblical cities and documents) and their relation to the Bible, taught by Chaplain H. M. Day; (2) The Life and Teachings of Jesus as presented in the Gospel of Luke, taught by Chaplain Duane Smith; (3) The Life and Teachings of Paul based on the Book of Acts, taught by Chaplain O. R. Fitzgerald; (4) Loving Thy Neighbor as Thyself, an investigation of the principles of love found in the Bible and how we apply these in understanding ourselves and in our inter-personal relations of family and social activities, taught by Chaplain C. W. Howard III;

(5) The Christian in the Modern World, a study of the history of man's ethics and sources of the Christian behavior patterns with attention given to application of fundamental Christian doctrines in modern living, taught by Chaplain W. H. Vinson; (6) An Introduction to the Unified Curriculum for Sunday Schools, a study for teachers and prospective teachers to survey the materials used in our Sunday Schools and assist them in teaching of the materials.

Top East Coast Shooters Here

Over 500 of the Marine Corps' top East Coast rifle and pistol shooters were officially welcomed Monday morning at the Camp Lejeune rifle range to mark the opening preparations for the 1960 Eastern Division marksmanship matches. Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, host unit for the matches, welcomed the shooters who will participate in the matches scheduled for May 9-14. Competition includes individual honors and team "shoot-offs" for the Elliott, Wirgman and Edson trophies.

Representing local units in the matches will be 49 Base shooters, 66 from Force Troops, and approximately 180 2nd Division competitors.

Shooters will begin undergoing practice sessions consisting of 30 hours of formal marksmanship instruction given by members of the Marksmanship Training Unit from the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif., which was formed two years ago.

In the trophy matches, organizations of more than 600 enlisted men will furnish four-man rifle teams to vie for the Elliott Trophy. Smaller units will compete for the Wirgman rifle team trophy, while pistol teams from the majority of posts and stations east of the Mississippi will be competing for the Edson

Seabees Top Brother Units in Rifle Firing

The Seabees of Mobile Construction Bn. One, currently undergoing training here, compiled the highest composite score of any Seabee unit at the Rifle Range. The Range firing was completed April 1.

Three hundred forty-eight Seabees fired the rifle with eight qualifying as experts, 40 sharpshooters, and 132 marksmen for a total overall percentage of 51.7 percent. Eighty-seven fired the pistol for a percentage of 62.1. Two fired expert, 19 sharpshooter and 33 marksmen.

Each man fired 328 rounds of rifle ammunition prior to qualification on the Navy "A" course. Those firing the pistol fired 150 rounds in preliminary firing.

The Navy "A" course for the rifle consists of four rounds slow fire sitting, four rounds slow fire kneeling, four rounds slow fire off-hand, 16 rounds sitting rapid fire, and 16 rounds kneeling rapid fire from the 200 yard line. From the 100 yard line, 16 rounds are fired in the prone position, rapid fire, at 500 yards, eight rounds of slow fire are fired. To qualify as marksmen, a total score of 283 is required; as sharpshooter, 292, and as expert, 306.

NROTC Unit Of Rochester To Visit Here

From 20 to 25 midshipmen from the University of Rochester's Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps unit will visit Camp Lejeune from April 13 to 16. While here, the unit will observe training and visit facilities in the Quad-Command area.

The group will arrive Wednesday afternoon April 13. Thursday morning they will be briefed on their tour by the G-3 officer, Marine Corps Base, and then observe training conducted by the 2nd Division. In the afternoon, Force Troops will conduct training which they will observe.

Friday, April 15, the unit will view training and equipment at the Marine Corps Engineer Schools, visit the Data Processing Division and the Self-Service Store. Also they will tour the Marine Corps Air Facility and the 1st Infantry Training Regiment.

Maj. J. J. Thomas Jr., has been assigned escort officer.

Allied Officer Students Will Visit Lejeune

Nine Allied Officer Students from the Senior School, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., are scheduled to visit Camp Lejeune on April 11 and 12.

Upon their arrival, a briefing for the officers will be held by the Commanding General, Marine Corps Base, Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade.

Assistant G-3 officer Maj. J. J. Thomas Jr., will escort the officers during their two-day visit.

The group of officers will observe training and visit various facilities at Camp Lejeune on Monday and Tuesday until their departure for the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, on April 12.

Baseball Opener

Camp Lejeune is scheduled to open their regular baseball season against the Signalers of Ft. Gordon tonight under the arcs at Harry Agganis Field. Tonight's game will be the first of a two-game series and will be followed by a three-game series against the Devil Dogs of Parris Island on April 13, 14 and 15. The locals are now riding on the crest of an 11-4 record for their exhibition series play, losing only to Yale, Michigan State (2) and Springfield College.

Credit Union Seal Contest To End Soon

Acceptance of entries for the contest to select an official seal for the Marine Federal Credit Union of Camp Lejeune will close in five days. The seal should pertain to Marines' and civilians' savings and loans, displaying the idea of earnest effort and unity.

A prize of four $5 shares will be awarded to the individual whose drawing is selected as the seal. An award of two shares will also go to the runner-up in the contest.

Requirements

Contact Act. MSgt. A. C. Everett at 7-5726 or 7-5786 to obtain general ideas covering the requirements of the Credit Union for the seal. Each entry must be on 8x10 size sheets of paper or larger and must be in black and white, suitable for reproduction.

Authority for the contest was voted by the Board of Directors of Marine Federal at its regular monthly meeting held March 10 in the credit union offices, Bldg. 1402.

Purpose

Marine Federal Credit Union was organized in May, 1959, for and by military personnel and civilian employees of this Base to provide a convenient method for investment, savings and loan. From the time it was organized, Marine Federal has made more than 677 loans totaling over $173,000. As of March 31 of this year, 343 loans have been made totaling $104,000.

DPI Planning New Record Card Course

A course of instruction in the preparation of the new Individual Record Card (IRC) will be conducted by personnel from the Data Processing Installation. The courses are scheduled to begin April 11.

The purpose of the course is to insure that all reporting units of the 2nd Division, Marine Corps Base and Force Troops have adequate and standard information concerning the preparation of the new card. The class is for all reporting unit first sergeants, diary clerk and personnel sergeants major or administrative chiefs on the battalion level.

All company commanders and adjutants authorized to authenticate diaries are invited to attend.

Red Cross Drive Increases Despite Field Maneuvers

The total contribution for this year's American Red Cross fund drive was upped by more than $2,000 this week, despite the campaign's being hit hard by LANTPHIBEX maneuvers. The Base command, with $8,665.91, continues to spearhead the drive, scheduled to end April 15. According to drive chairman, Lt. Col. J. A. Witherspoon, membership donations in the Red Cross are expected to rise as soon as Force

Riseley Pier Dedication Scheduled April 15

Formal dedication ceremonies of Riseley Pier, named in honor of Lt. Gen. James P. Riseley (Ret.), former Base commander, will be held April 15 at 10 a.m. The dedication will be followed by a luncheon at noon at the civilian cafeteria.

Among those scheduled to attend the luncheon and ceremonies are Lt. Gen. and Mrs. James P. Riseley (Ret.), Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Randall M. Victory (Ret.), Maj. Gen. and Mrs. James P. Berkeley, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Sidney S. Wade, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Ralph K. Rottet, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Frank C. Tharion, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Odell M. Conoley, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. MacDonald I. Shuford (Ret.), and Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Roy L. Kline.

A bronze-lettered plaque will be posted on the pier, the inscription reading: "Riseley Pier, Named In Honor of James P. Riseley, Lt. Gen., USMC, Retired, An Avid Sportsman, April 15, 1960."

The 850-foot pier will be open to all persons who rate Exchange and Commissary privileges after the ceremonies. Persons must possess a valid ID card to be admitted to the pier. Admission to the pier will be 40 cents for a 24-hour ticket. The weekly rate is $1.50 and monthly tickets are $4.

Rental tackle will be available for 25 cents and includes rod, reel, line, hooks and sinker. Ice and bait may also be purchased.

The pier manager is Robert G. McIntyre. He is assisted by Edward Dieckmann, Hartsell R. Johnson, and Frank J. Heidt. All are retired Marines.

Navy Relief To Hold Volunteer Training

Camp Lejeune Navy Relief Society is holding its annual training course for volunteer women at Marston Pavilion beginning Tuesday and continuing through May 5. Two identical courses will be conducted each Tuesday and Thursday, one in the morning from 9 to 12 and the other in the afternoon from 2 to 4. Free baby sitting service will be provided for all women enrolled in the course. Navy Relief Society relies most heavily upon its volunteer workers. Society representatives say their program could not be conducted without the volunteer assistance of Marine and Navy wives.

Mrs. O. M. Conoley, Chairman of the Volunteer Women, reports that during the calendar year of 1959 total of 8,542 hours were contributed by these wives working voluntarily as interviewers, receptionists and clerks. Volunteer work payettes accounted for 5,065 additional hours.

Dedicated Service
The Navy Relief Society is a unique organization dedicated to the assistance of Marine Corps and Navy personnel during times of emergency and family hardship. It is supported financially by contributions received from members of the Naval Service.

Miss Barbara Blair, Navy Relief representative, will conduct the training course, as she has in past years. She revealed that the course offers a rich opportunity for Marine and Navy wives to join in furthering this vital program of mutual assistance.

Joint Meet Set For Six Units In D.C.

Families, guests, and Marines numbering close to 5,000 persons, are expected by division representatives to attend the Second Fleet Marine Force Concurrent Reunions in the nation's capital on June 24.

Involving veterans of all six Marine divisions and allied units, the reunions mark the 15th anniversary of the end of offensive Marine action in the Pacific during the war with Japan.

Elaborate plans are being made by Lt. Gen. Julian C. Smith, Concurrent Reunions Chairman, and his committee, to make the convention appeal to everyone. While each division association will have separate hotel headquarters and hold its own business sessions and social events, most of the main events will be joint affairs.

The combined features include a

Students' Display At Midway Park Supports Theme

A window display, outlining the "Wonderful World of Books" theme and in conjunction with National Library Week which ends tomorrow, was completed by the students of Midway Park and Holcomb Schools' grades 1 through 6 last Thursday. The project is on display at the Midway Park Shopping Center.

Each grade was represented to work on a section of the window, consisting of 15 sections. The children used mainly water colors in their drawings, illustrating 12 locations in the eastern and western world. Drawings contain dress typical of each location and a book about that particular section of the globe. Lands chosen include Hawaii, Japan, Alaska, Russia, China, India, Egypt, Holland, Mexico, Switzerland, Africa, and the United States.

Teachers who assisted the children were Mrs. Alice Gale, first grade; Mrs. Thomasine Deal, first grade; Mrs. Helen B. Still, second grade; Mr. Brooks Jones, third grade; Mrs. Virginia Broughton, fourth grade; and Mrs. Sue Miller, fifth grade. Mrs. Betty Hollingsworth, sixth grade teacher, was chairman of the project.

Open House Slated For Beach Cabanas

"Open house" will be held this Sunday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Onslow Beach's new cabanas, and they will be available for use by all married military personnel stationed at Camp Lejeune, their dependents and bona fide guests, during the six-month period beginning April 15 and ending October 15. The cabanas are specifically designed to furnish low cost beach housing to those families desiring to spend several days at the beach.

Ceremonies To Dedicate Fishing Pier

Retired Lt. Gen. James P. Riseley, former Base commander, will travel from his New Mexico home to be present April 15 for the dedication ceremonies of the new fishing pier named in his honor at Onslow Beach.

Construction on the pier began a year ago next month after General Riseley operated a huge pile-driver which drove the first piling for the 850-foot pier.

"Open house" at the pier was held Feb. 14 despite cold weather, snow, and strong winds with over 500 visitors in attendance. At the April 15 ceremonies, a bronze-lettered plaque will be posted on the pier with this inscription: "Riseley Pier, Named In Honor Of James P. Riseley, Lt. Gen., USMC, Retired, An Avid Sportsman."

The beach cabanas consist of 12 units located in the vicinity of the Enlisted Pavilion and the Officers' Pavilion on Onslow Beach.

Their main facilities are 12 efficiency apartments each consisting of a kitchen area, bathroom and sleeping accommodations for six persons. Linen, kitchen and dining ware, and limited maid service will be furnished. Eight units are located in the area adjacent to and south of the Enlisted Men's Pavilion.

Four units will normally be assigned to married Staff NCO's and their families, four units to married sergeants and below and their families, and the remaining four, located in the area of the Officers' Beach, adjacent to and north of the Officers' Pavilion, to married company grade officers.

Applications for reservations of the Beach Cabanas may be made by contacting the office of the Custodian, Camp Recreation Fund, Goettge Memorial Field House at 7-3762 no earlier than 15 days prior to the period for which the

Survivor Goods Storage Ordered By Controller

A one-year limit on non-temporary storage of household goods for families of men who die on active duty has been authorized by the Controller General. The same service for men who are captured by an enemy, interned in a foreign country or missing in action for 30 days or more was not approved. Survivors of men who die on active duty are now guaranteed temporary storage of household effects for 90 days if shipment is made within one year.

The new decision, designated B-141976, allows the services to amend the Joint Travelers Regulations in the case of "the death of a member in a basic pay status." Missing personnel or those interned, however, aren't entitled to non-temporary storage of effects.

The Controller General has also approved, in another decision (B-138882), the Court of Military Appeals to allow courts martial to forfeit all of a man's pay without sentencing him to a dishonorable or bad conduct discharge.

Marines Lost For Two Days

Fourteen Marines who were adrift in rubber rafts—five of them for two days—were reported in good condition and back with their units.

The men were taking part in a U. S.-Chinese amphibious exercise, Operation Blue Star.

Nine of the Marines started for the beach on a reconnaissance mission but were blown out to sea. A Japanese fishing boat, the No. 3 Kotoshiro Maru, picked them up. They were adrift for less than a day.

None of these nine Marines was identified other than that, like the five others who were adrift, they are members of the 3rd Reconnaissance Battalion of the 3rd Marine Division.

The five other Marines who were adrift in a rubber raft were identified as Act. Sgt. Ernest G. Ross, Pfc's Gerald R. Goodman and Robert L. Westover and Pvt. James R. Hewitt Jr. and Karl E. Thomson.

They were adrift for two days. They were rescued from a small island 35 miles south of Formosa. The incidents occurred three days apart.

Commander Jung Addresses Combat Engineer Graduates

Nineteen officers were graduated from the Combat Engineer's Course at the Marine Corps Engineer Schools April 1. Principal speaker for the ceremonies was Cmdr. Joseph W. Jung, CEC, USNR, commanding officer of Mobile Construction Battalion One currently undergoing infantry training at

Toastmasters Of Air Facility Hold Dinner

"One of the missions of the MCAF, New River, Toastmasters Club should be to advocate the careful and frugal use of government property by Marines," Col. J. R. Little, commanding officer of Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, told members of the Toastmasters Club at its annual installation dinner held in the old Service Club at MAG-26.

The colonel also expressed his desire for a program of education directed towards the younger Marines, stressing careful use of their money and the consequences of indebtedness.

The third subject in Colonel Little's speech was reenlistment. "Advantages of a Marine Corps career should be explained to the Marine as he begins his life in the Corps," the colonel explained.

Following the colonel's talk, Dr. Philip Dixon, area governor, complimented the club on its wonderful job throughout the year and installed officers, giving a brief talk on each one's duties.

As a part of each meeting a few of the Toastmasters are called on to speak extemporaneously on such subjects as "The Common Shoe String," the usefulness of "Button Holes," "Why Doesn't a Meatball Bounce" or "What Is Inside of a Ping Pong Ball." A three-minute lecture is given enabling a Toastmaster to practice extemporaneous speaking on relatively absurd subjects, subjects about which little can be said.

Dr. Dixon installed the following officers: Act. GySgt. Frank Roelker, Chief Clerk of Headquarters, MCAF; president; Act. MSgt. Stanley W. Simonson, engineer, H&MS-26, educational vice-president; Act. GySgt. Robert G. Klrk, Logistics and Embarkations Chief of MAG-26, administrative vice-president; Act. SSgt. William Robinson, NCOIC, Photographic Department, secretary; Act. SSgt. Ned L. Hanson, NCOIC, Boat Docks, treasurer, and Act. SSgt. Michael Pannone, Air Control, sergeant-at-arms.

Guests included Colonel and Mrs. Little, Dr. and Mrs. Dixon, Capt. David Webster, of the Projects Section of MAG-26, and Sgt. Maj. Henry J. Lorenz, Group sergeant major.

WM Maneuvers

Woman Marine Company greeted eight new faces last week. Reporting in for duty from Parris Island are Pvt. Anna M. Kishel from Dickson City, Pa., Base Property; Sharon A. Baker from Reno, Nev., G-3; Patricia A. Cate from South Portland, Me., Base Communications; Linda R. Shook from Heming, Okla., PMO; Diane Worthington from South Portland, Me., Base Mat.; Ruth J. Hawkins from Danville, Va., Commissary; and Bennie L. Shreve from Danville, Va., Post Exchange.

The eighth new face is that of Florence E. Carr, HN, reporting in from the Naval Hospital, Bainbridge, Md. This corpswave hails from Margate, N. J. She enlisted in the U. S. Navy on April 21, 1959.

Welcome aboard!

Camp Lejeune. Commander Jung's topic was "Education and Leadership in the Handling of Troops". The diplomas were presented by Col. W. C. Capehart, commanding officer of the Engineer Schools.

A licensed professional engineer, Cmdr. Jung has a total of 22 years service in the Navy. He is also a member of the Bar in New York and the District of Columbia and is licensed to practice in courts up to and including the United States Supreme Court.

He has served as assistant secretary of Navy for Material, Deputy Director of the Real Estate Division and was in the office of the Director of the Atlantic Division of the Bureau of Yards and Docks in New York before assuming command of MCB-1.

Among those graduating from the Combat Engineers Course was Capt. Ma Tien-Chi of the Chinese Marine Corps. He is here under a mutual training aid program that allows for exchanging of school quotas between allies for training in particular fields.

Early Release Is Okayed For College Study

The Department of the Navy has authorized commanding officers to separate or transfer for separation, enlisted personnel for the purpose of commencing or resuming their college education.

In the interest of contributing to a high level of education in the United States, it is the policy of the Chief of Naval Personnel to give maximum assistance practicable to enlisted personnel who are qualified and demonstrate a desire to further their education.

To be eligible for early separation the following requirements must be met: (1) the requested date of separation must be within three months of the individual's normal expiration of active obligated service and not earlier than 10 days prior to the date of registration; (2) the applicant must demonstrate an ability and willingness to make the required payment of an entrance fee; (3) he must obtain a statement from the educational institution which states that he has been accepted for entrance to the school that he will be enrolled in a full time course and that the term for which he is applying is the most opportune time for him to begin or resume his education.

THE RIVER'S EDGE
Having married a girl, Dobra Paget, hastily, after they met at a dance hall, a young rancher, Anthony Quinn, is forced to fight for her when the man who caused her to be imprisoned, Ray Milland, shows up to take her away. (87 min.)

GUNS OF THE TIMBERLAND
Sounds like a "Northwestern" with plenty of fast action. No further information available. (95 min.)

PILLOW TALK
Rock Hudson, Doris Day and Tony Randall star in this light-hearted romantic comedy of a bachelor who uses the telephone to sing to his girl friends. (106 min.)

A DAY WITH DEATH
No information on this one but it sounds like just the thing for some of these chilly evenings we have been having. (85 min.)

THE SPIDER
Richard Conte and Faye Marlowe star in this 1945 release. It sounds like a thriller but no further information available. (72 min.)

THE HIDEOUS SUN DEMON
Robert Clarke is cast as an atom physicist whose experiments cause him to retrograde in evolution to the age of the slimy giant lizard. (85 min.)

BUNDLE OF JOY
Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher star in this story of a department store employee who finds an abandoned baby and meets with many funny obstacles when she tries to turn it over to a foundling home. A color comedy-with-songs. (98 min.)

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY
A truly adult sophisticated comedy starring David Niven, Mitzi Gaynor and Carl Reiner is this story of an upper-middle class Gramercy Park lawyer. (83 min.)

THE PERSUADER
"Talent"—both known and unknown—is discernible in this mediocre plot on violence on the range and the forces of good and evil who struggle against each other. Stars William Talman and James Craig. (85 min.)

BETWEEN HEAVEN AND HELL
The place must be this old earth and what goes on here. (90 min.)
THE FASTEST GUN ALIVE
Though it carries all the basic qualities of a top sagebrusher, it has the additional

MONTFORD POINT (MP) — Indoors, 7 p.m.

asset of having some of the most unbearable suspense yet devised for an oater. A surprise ending plus Glenn Ford, Joanne Crain and Frederick Crawford make this a thoroughly entertaining film. (92 min.)

THE MONSTER OF PIEDRAS BLANCAS
Les Tremayne of "Whistler" fame plays in this science-fiction story of a crabman, a scaly creature some seven feet tall and driven to subsist on blood. (75 min.)

★ EXTRAS ★

(TIME CHANGES)

CAMP THEATER—The matinee Saturday at 1 p.m. is "Battle Hymn" starring Rock Hudson and Dan Duryea and chapter 9 of "Manhunt In The African Jungle." "Fastest Gun Alive" Sunday will be a continuous showing at 1, 3:30, 6 and 8:30 p.m.

CAMP GEIGER — The indoor movie has the same matinee as above Sunday at 2 p.m.

MCAC — Saturday, 2 p.m., Fred MacMurray, Jeff Hunter and Janice Rule in "Gun For A Coward" and chapter 5 of "Ghost Riders Of The West." Sunday, 2 p.m., Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh in "Perfect Furlough."

MIDWAY PARK — Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Janet Munro and Michael Rennie in "Third Man On The Mountain," Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "Happy Anniversary," starring David Niven and Mitzi Gaynor. Thursday, "Career" with Dean Martin and Shirley McLaine.

556 AREA (556) — Outdoors at 7 p.m.
CAMP GEIGER OUTDOOR (CGO) — One-half hour after sundown.
AIR FACILITY, NEW RIVER (AF) — Indoors, 6 and 8 p.m.
STONE BAY (SB) — 6:30 p.m.
CAMP GEIGER TRAILER PARK (TP) — Indoors at Community Center, 7:30 p.m.

JAILHOUSE ROCK
Elvis Presley, B.A. (Before Army) portrays a young singer in his drive to the top. The film is complete with designs, women, ex-pugs, unscrupulous managers, etc. (92 min.)

ONCE MORE WITH FEELING
"Cracking with smart dialogue this romp stars the late Kay Kendall at her brittle, sophisticated best. Yul Brynner, versatile and animated and Gregory Ratoff as a frenetic agent spouting his multicolored English. (92 min.)

THE GIRL'S TOWN
This is apparently the counterpart of "Boy's Town" but we can assume there is a difference. (92 min.)

OREGON TRAIL
Fred MacMurray as a newspaper reporter makes the long journey over the famed "trail" amid many humorous and ironic situations with both the settlers and the Indians. He is ably supported by William Bixby and Nina Shipman. (86 min.)

YOUNG STRANGER
The story of a family from the right side of the tracks, which because of the press of the father's business as a vacation pleasure, begins to deteriorate, stars James MacArthur as the 16-year-old son who gets into trouble with the police. (88 min.)

CUBAN REBEL GIRLS
The "Lost" Flynn and Beverly Aadland and sluggish newsworld footage are set against a background of Fidel Castro and revolution in this web of intrigue and counter-intrigue. (89 min.)

OKEFENOKEE
Filmed in the brooding swamplands, the story has a smuggling theme as enacted by Peter Cox, Peggy Maley and Henry Brandon. (76 min.)

JACK THE RIPPER
Back in 1888, in the city of London, a foul murderer stalked the dimly lit streets in the lowly Whitechapel area, wielding a surgical instrument with skill and precision, doing to death a number of "women of the night" and spreading terror throughout London. The gory and grisly story of this man stars Lee Remick and Eddie Byrne with a host of loveables. (85 min.)

FRANKENSTEIN'S DAUGHTER
Congratulations to the director of the blood event, who knows what this one may hold in store for you. It's sure to be a thriller in the tradition of the "old man." (85 min.)

Seasonal Petros In Sixth Year With Local Baseball Team

With the opening of the 1960 baseball season here, an old name appears on the team roster. Act. GySgt. David Petros will join the local club for the sixth season. A veteran of wars in the Marine Corps, Petros has been playing service ball for 14 years. Originally here in 1945 and '46, he also on the 1954, '55 and '56.

In 1956, he batted in clean-up spot and was utilized in the outfield.

DAVE PETROS

During his career of service ball, he has dropped under a average only once, while hitting at a .299 clip. His best season with Quantico in 1950 when he had 400 and had 23 home runs.

Biggest Thrill
While playing for Quantico in 1950, he received his biggest thrill in ball, blasting a double off Tony Antonelli, spoiling a per-game for the Giants pitcher, with Fort Myers.

Another highlight of Petros' ball career was playing with the Harbor All-Stars in 1952 and entering the Marine Corps in September 1940. Sgt. Petros was stationed at New River, N. C. in 1941 and took part in the construction of Camp Lejeune.

Class B Ball
Discharged in 1946, Petros played Class B ball in the Chicago White Sox chain and semi-pro ball in Cleveland, Ohio before reentering the Marine Corps in 1948.

Following a tour at Quantico and then at Pearl Harbor, he returned to Lejeune in 1954. In 1956, he returned to Lejeune and went to Parris Island for duty as a drill instructor. Following two years of baseball and duty on the grinder, he was promoted to duty at Quantico where he was head baseball coach for the season.

Local Golfers Hold Odd-Even Tourney

Al Tomasello was the "A" flight winner of the Odd and Even Tournament held at the Camp Lejeune Golf Course last week with a score of 33. Following the winner was Jeanie June with 38½.

Copping the "B" Flight, Alice McCullough scored a 35½, while Landrigan placed second with 38.

Joan Sietta took the "C" Flight with a 42 as Maxine Switzer, who only played nine holes, took the "D" Flight with a seven. Jess Robie and Jean Hunt tied for the runner-up spot with 10 each.

Midge Orr was low putts for the match, while Alice McCullough scored 63 for low net.

Members of the Women's Golf Association of Camp Lejeune are reminded that they have only one month now until April 15, to qualify for the Club Championship to be held shortly after the qualifying period.

Still playing in the outfield, Petros figures to be a definite asset to the Lejeune nine during the remaining season.

Dates Set For Sailing Races At Boathouse

The Quad-Command Sailing Races are scheduled to take place during the month of May, at the Wallace Creek Boathouse.

The Camp Lejeune Rotating Sailing Trophy will go up for grabs and the winner will be determined at the completion of the four scheduled races.

Each command is allowed to enter four boats in each of the races but no crew will be permitted to sail the same boat in more than one race.

A trophy will be presented to the winning boat of each race which will be governed by the North American Yacht Racing Union rules and Rules of the Road and judged by personnel appointed by the Sailing Subcommittee of the Camp Lejeune Water Sports Committee.

Runner-up and third place awards also will be awarded.

Open house is scheduled to be held at Wallace Creek Boathouse on May 21 with the boathouse officially opening the following day.

SCHEDULE OF SAILING RACES
1st Race, 0930 Saturday, 14 May 1960
2nd Race, 1400 Saturday, 14 May 1960
3rd Race, 0930 Saturday, 21 May 1960
4th Race, 1400 Saturday, 21 May 1960
In the event of inclement weather on Saturday the scheduled races will be held on the Sunday following.

JUDO CHARTER—Col. R. D. Strickler, Base Special Services Officer, presents a membership charter to Capt. B. T. Burke, president of the Camp Lejeune Judo Club. The charter gives official recognition to the local club as a member of the Shufu Judo Yundansha-Kai, the East Coast headquarters for Judo. Lejeune Judo Club Enters Five Members Into All-Marine Judo Championship Play

Members of the Camp Lejeune Judo Club departed for Parris Island, S. C., on April 6 to participate in the All-Marine Judo Championships. Five members of the local club will participate in the tourney including Brian Burke, president; Ira Bonar, vice-president; Joe Casale, secretary; Joe Blael, treasurer, and Don Ashe. Burke, who is coach for the team as well as a competitor, has been associated with the art of Judo for over four years. He is a holder of the first degree

Black Belt which was awarded to him in Tokyo at the World Judo headquarters. For the past two seasons he has coached the Lejeune club which has brought home the All-Marine title both years.

Registered Club

Through the efforts of Coach Burke, the club has been registered as a member of the Shufu Judo Yundansha-Kai, the East Coast headquarters for Judo. The Kai is a regional unit of the National Black Belt Federation in direct liaison with the Kodokan, world headquarters. Anything achieved by the local club or any of its members will be recorded at the Kodokan.

The membership charter was presented to the club last week by Col. R. D. Strickler, Base Special Services Officer, and marks the first time that Camp Lejeune has had such an affiliation.

Highest Ranking Member

Top prospect for this year's All-Marine is Ira Bonar. Coming from Okinawa, he was a keen competitor in the 3rd Marine Division Black Belt championships. In 1953, he won the championship and placed second in last year's matches. Holder of the second degree Black Belt, Bonar is the highest ranking member of the Lejeune team.

Another contender for the All-Marine is Joe Casale, first degree Black Belt. Joe started in Washington, D. C., and was awarded his present belt in Tokyo also.

Joe Blael started his Judo career in 1958 and is now a second degree Black Belt man.

Don Ashe, an experienced Black Belt, will fill out the team for the coming competition.

220 Members

At present, the local club has 220 members and is always open to beginners and experienced Judo players. Workouts are held Monday through Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. for Marines in Bldg. 1309.

Judo for children is held in the Field House from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Sunday and for women from 7 to 9 p.m. on Sunday.

Anyone interested in the sport of Judo is urged to call Capt. B. T. Burke, ext. 7-5265.

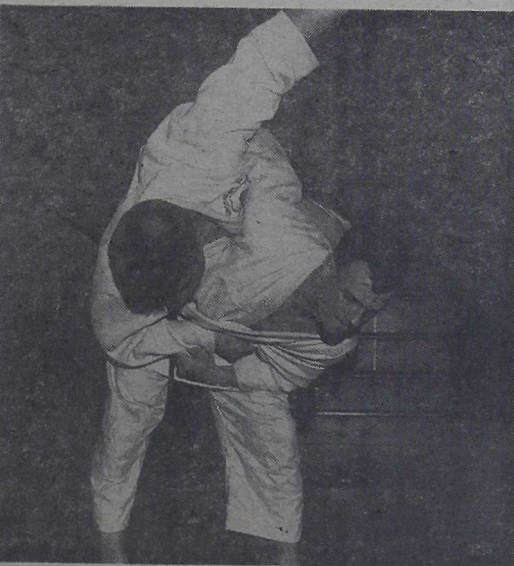

Hawaii Lady Marines Win Tournament

The Hawaii Woman Marine Basketball team, who earlier copped the West Coast Crown, defeated the East Coast Champs, Quantico, Va., three games, March 23, 24 and 25 to claim the 1960 All-Marine Championship at the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station in a three-out-of-five series.

Hawaii committed 41 fouls during these games while Quantico misused 57 times. The scores of the game were 42-23, 33-31 and 38-35.

Pauline Piskorik of the Hawaii team led the scoring field during the tourney with 44 points, followed by teammate Jan Kemmerer with 36. Quantico's Carol Lau stripped the cords for 34 tallies with Peggy Sterl, also of Quantico, following closely with 31.

Hawaii's strong defensive pattern was headed by Rheta Peele, Alberta Foley and Rose Boshier, while Quantico's guards included Joan Rush, Darla Evans and Judy Durie with June Crowel in relief.

Chapel Film To End Weekly Series Here

The last of 12 films of the most detailed depiction of the life of Christ ever filmed, just completed after four years in production, will be presented Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Marine Corps Air Facility Chapel. This is the 12th episode shown through the efforts of the MCAF Protestant Chapel.

This Living Christ Series was photographed in full color. Its cast includes more than 200 speaking parts. Never in the history of the church teachings have people been offered the opportunity to get so complete a political, economic and religious background of the greatest story ever told.

"Crucifixion and Resurrection," the final film in the series includes outstanding sequences of the remorseful Judas throwing the purse of silver coins at the feet of Caiaphas and how he hangs himself, the sealing of the tomb; its discovery empty; the Upper Room; and the convincing of Thomas.

The public is invited to attend.

Donnie Patterson in a child's "dress blues" set, stole the fashion scene.

Miss Jean Jackson, of Radio station WJNC, Jacksonville, acted as commentator for the show. The models were escorted by blues-clad Act. MSgt. Harlace McDougale.

British Wives

British wives in the Camp Lejeune area are cordially invited to join the "Union Jack Club," which has been instituted by women from the British Isles. Club meetings are held the 13th day of each month.

For further information, contact Mrs. Frank D. Page, ext. 2-2464, or Mrs. Joan Staffieri, Jax 3767.

PMF Concurrent Reunions Scheduled For June 24

Memories of war and fervent hopes for peace in the years to come will be uppermost in mind when veterans of all Marine Corps battles during and following World War II set up a beachhead in the nation's capital on June 24. The 2nd Fleet Marine Force Concurrent Reunions, involving units of six Marine divisions and allied units, mark the 35th anniversary of the end of the Pacific Marine action in the Pacific during the war with Japan. The reunions will include families and guests of regulars and veterans, near 10,000 persons are expected to attend. Elaborate plans are being developed by Lt. Gen. Julian C. Smith, current Reunions Chairman, and his committee, to make the event an appeal to everyone. Each division association will hold its own business sessions and social events, most of the main events will be joint affairs.

Protestant Chaplains To Conduct Protestant Religion Courses

A Protestant School of Religion, offering six courses for military personnel and their adult dependents, will be conducted at the Midway Park Community Building beginning at 8:30 Tuesday, April 19, and continuing for six Tuesday evenings. The courses, taught by local chaplains, will be free of charge. However, the student must buy the inexpensive text suggested for the course if he signs. Advance enrollment will be taken at any chaplain's office or Protestant chapel service where complete information and registration forms will be available. The following courses of study will be offered: (1) The Spade and the Shovel, an introduction to the field of scientific discoveries (lead Sea Scrolls, Biblical cities and documents) and their relation to the Bible, taught by Chaplain W. H. Vinson; (2) The Life and Teachings of Jesus as presented in the Gospel of Luke, taught by Chaplain Duane Smith; (3) The Life and Teachings of Paul based on the Book of Acts, taught by Chaplain O. Fitzgerald; (4) Loving Thy Neighbor as Thyself, an investigation of the principles of love found in the Bible and how we apply these in understanding ourselves and in our inter-personal relations of family and social activities, taught by Chaplain C. W. Howard III; (5) The Christian in the Modern World, a study of the history of man's ethics and sources of the Christian behavior patterns with attention given to application of fundamental Christian doctrines in modern living, taught by Chaplain W. H. Vinson; (6) An Introduction to the Unified Curriculum for Sunday Schools, a study for teachers and prospective teachers to survey the materials used in our Sunday Schools and assist them in teaching of the materials.

Logistic Support Group Provides Ready Source Of Supply For Tactical Elements

When an invasion force of some 15,000 men storm a beach, the first-hour action is usually depicted as infantrymen racing ashore. What comes later and with little glamour is a cumbersome, seemingly unending, source of supply crossing the beach.

Responsible to a great extent for this line of supply is the 2nd Marine Division's Logistic Support Group (LSG). It keeps the infantry, mechanized equipment and weapons capable of sustaining an attack with a ready source of supply material.

LANTPHIBEX 1-60 has been a proving ground for LSG in its concept of supply and logistics in the nuclear age.

Made up of elements of 2nd Service Battalion, 2nd Motor Transport Battalion, Division Military Police Company, 2nd Medical Battalion, and 2nd Force Service Regiment, the LSG is responsible for keeping all tactical units of the Division combat ready—from a logistical standpoint—from the moment the troops "hit the beach."

During the assault phase of the operation a Division Shore Party is formed from the parent Logistical Support Group and designated to operate on specific beach areas. This shore party unit facilitates the movement of men and materials off the beach and sets up evacuation centers for casualties and captured prisoners of war.

As soon as practicable after the actual combat phase of the attack moves inland, the supply and service support units displace further inland to set up logistical support areas in strategic forward locations. All tactical units refer requests for supplies to the commanders of these forward support areas. As the attack progresses, the Logistical Support Group develops as the nerve center of Division supply and places the forward support areas as close as possible to the tactical troops they are supporting.

LANTPHIBEX 1-60 provided the 2nd Service Battalion, under the command of Colonel K. E. Martin, with numerous opportunities for testing new concepts of supply and maintenance, in keeping with the Marine Corps' policy of constant improvement for front line troops.

New Off-Duty Study Courses

COMMUNICATIONS IN THE AMPHIBIOUS OPERATION, 25.5, is designed to familiarize Marines in Occupational Field 25 (Operational Communications), with the communications methods and techniques peculiar to the amphibious operation. Instruction covers amphibious communications for the embarkation, rehearsal, and movement to objective phases of the landing. Also included are communications for shore party, naval gunfire, tactical air support, amphibious troops artillery, and the ship-to-shore movement. Enrollment in this course is restricted to staff noncommissioned officers in Occupational Field 25.

AVIATION ELECTRONICS OPERATOR, 67.1 is designed for Marines assigned an MOS of 6741 (Aviation Electronics Operator). The course provides instruction in the equipment and procedures used by air control facilities to control, locate, and identify aircraft movements in an objective area. Included are instructions in the principles of radar, air plotting techniques, radiotelephone procedures, and scope interpretation.

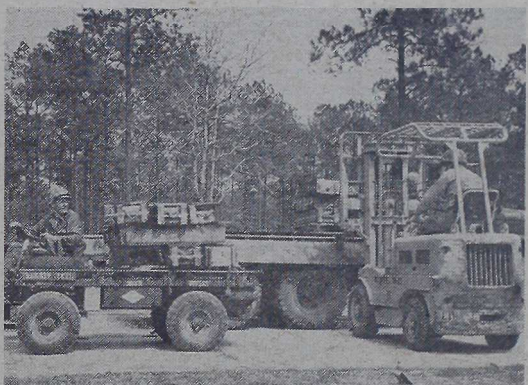

WATER SUPPLY, 11.4a. This course deals with the diseases and impurities found in water and the processes for removing them. Also this course teaches the theory of operation of water purification equipment and the development of water sources and water points in the field.

Each unit of the Logistical Support Group is assigned specific duties in the field. However, in order to provide a more cohesive unit, each element is directly responsible to Col. Martin at all times. This enables the displacement of forward support areas or the creation of new ones to be as rapid as possible.

Providing the Division with strict sanitation regulations, elements of 2nd Medical Battalion also set up graves registration centers and handle rapid evacuation of all combat casualties. The Military Police section of the Logistical Support Group erects and operates the original prisoner of war stockade and at the same time sets up collecting stations for prisoners captured in forward areas. The MP's also set up control and direction centers for stragglers of Division units, and are responsible for all traffic control procedures. Motor Transport provides the men and machines which tackle the mammoth job of ferrying troops and necessary supplies to various front line positions.

This heterogeneous grouping provides the 2nd Division with a capability of meeting almost its every requirement—from the time "Land the Landing Force" is sounded until the words "Action Secured" is heard.

CARGO TRANSFER—Act. SSgt. Edward E. Blasko jockeys his fork lift into position to transfer cargo to a mechanical mule operated by Act. GySgt. Willard E. Johnson during LANTPHIBEX 1-60. The truck was modified by Service Battalion crews to permit easy transfer of supplies. The sides were lowered and the fork lift prongs are now able to slide directly into the lower pallets. New Mobile Radio Stations Can Be Air-Lifted By 'Copter

MAG-26 helicopters will transport the first compact mobile radio stations, having voice, telegraph and teletype facilities which have been delivered to the U. S. Marine Corps. The lightweight mobile station, consisting of 750 pounds of radio equipment and 2,600 pounds of jeep, can be picked up by helicopter or cargo plane for quick transfer to strategic areas. There it can be employed as a fixed base operation center using 110 volts alternating current instead of the jeep's 28-volt power supply.

Mounted on snorkel-equipped jeeps, these versatile radio stations will be an aid to the Leatherneck in the battle tactics of nuclear warfare. They were engineered by International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation to withstand the rigors of all weather operations, rough terrain, deep streams and helicopter airlifts.

Sikorsky Men View Exercise

Sikorsky Engineers from the Sikorsky Aircraft home office in Stratford, Conn., visited Marine Aircraft Group-26 to evaluate their helicopters, the HUS, HRS and the HR2S under simulated combat conditions during the gigantic LANTPHIBEX 1-60 training operation.

This operation is designed to enhance the combat efficiency of the Navy-Marine Corps "Amphibious Striking Team" and is being held in the Camp Lejeune-New River area.

Members of the entourage were aboard the USS Boxer for the off-loading operations of troops from the carrier to the landing zones in the combat area. By seeing the helicopters of their company operate under conditions that are very similar to actual combat they are able to evaluate and improve the experimental model helicopters that are on the drawing boards at the present time.

The radio units represent a new military trend toward more powerful and longer range field communications equipment. According to military experts walkie-talkies and similar short range sets are inadequate when the threat of atomic bombardment calls for a widespread deployment of troops.

Cabinets which house the radio transmitter and receiver can be made watertight to enable the jeeps to be driven through deep streams without damaging the equipment. The military autos are outfitted with flexible tubing and metal pipe which extend above a canvas roof to enable air to intake and exhaust from the engine even though the main chassis is submerged.

With a power level of 100 watts, the transmitting equipment can communicate to almost any place in the world under favorable conditions and has high reliability under all conditions to a range of 50 miles.

The unit, known technically as the AN/MRC-55, includes reels of portable cable which enable operators to communicate as far as a mile from the jeep with telephone, teletypes and telegraph keys. The radio equipment can be transferred easily to patrol boats or other small craft as conditions warrant.

ITT spent more than two years developing the radio sets to meet Marine Corps needs for an all-weather communications system that would be highly mobile and unrestricted by weather barriers. Semi-automatic tuning, a feature which greatly simplifies operation, will permit the Marine Corps to man stations with relatively unskilled personnel.
