

Irishmen Set To Observe Festive Date

This anniversary of the beloved saint, St. Patrick, is celebrated as Ireland's national holiday with green, the color of the day, significant of undying gratitude to his memory; and the shamrock is worn everywhere to commemorate its use by him as symbolic of the Trinity. The day, observed from earliest times, expresses the patriotism of Irishmen wherever they may be.

Its celebration takes the form of parades, dinners with speeches and toasts, balls, and special festivities not only in Irish circles but in general social life.

St. Patrick is more than just a symbol to be remembered on this day by wearing green, he was a missionary to Ireland and its patron saint, he is one of the great founders and statesmen of Christendom.

A Scotsman by birth, St. Patrick was kidnapped while still a boy and forced to serve his pagan masters in Ireland. Later escaping, he returned to Scotland and became a priest. Remembering his early days, he returned to Ireland determined to convert the people to Christianity. Beseet by superstition and idolatry, he persisted and devoted his life to Christianity. For this devotion, he was elevated to sainthood.

Marines of Irish descent all over the world will be celebrating this day in churches observing the religious obligations, in the large metropolitan areas with gala parades, speeches and banquets and later on, with parties and festivities.

Although loyal to Ireland on this day, Irish-Americans are Americans in the truest sense of the word. They have helped to build and mold this great country of ours and we, as Marines, can be proud to call them comrades-in-arms.

Force Troops Sergeant Is Life Member Of Gallon Club

In approximately two and one-half years, Act. Sgt. John J. Suhovsky, Hq. Co., 8th Engineer Bn., Force Troops, has become a life member in the Red Cross Gallon Club.

Sergeant Suhovsky gave the first pint of blood in March, 1956, when the Red Cross asked for volunteer donors to help them fill their quota. His reason for giving is simply, "They needed donors and I gave."

Also, with the gallon of blood in reserve, so to speak, if any of Sergeant Suhovsky's family is in need of blood, he will be able to obtain it from the Red Cross without charge.

The card he received when he became a gallon donor reads in part, "In recognition of the donation of eight or more pints of blood . . . the Red Cross is proud and honored to award Sergeant Suhovsky a Life Membership in the Red Cross Gallon Club."

The Camp Lejeune chapter of the American Red Cross has recently established a blood bank for all personnel stationed at Camp Le-

Federal Services Campaign Final Donation Over $32,900

The 1960 Federal Services Campaign for the Support of National Health Agencies and International Relationship Agencies received over $32,900 in this year's drive. This represented an 88 per cent contribution by military and civilian personnel of Quad-Command units.

The National Health Agencies received a total of $23,496.58. Of this, $7,154.89 was undesignated. The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness received $1,344.63; United Cerebral Palsy Association, $1,494.54; American Cancer Society, $4,933.31; American Heart Association, $2,756.50; Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, $882.79; Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., $1,487.01; National Multiple Sclerosis Society, $761.59, and the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, $2,681.32.

Contributors designated $3,724.76 to CARE, Inc., in the International Relationship drive. Crusade for Freedom received $1,663.07; American Korean Foundation, $1,219.99, and $2,793.07 was undesignated for a total of $9,405.89.

The drive was under the direction of the chairman, Lt. Col. Sam W. Smith, the officer in charge of the Reserve Liaison Unit at Montford Point.

Training Becomes Lesson In Cold-Weather Survival

Marines of "M" Co., 3rd Bn., Second Marines, currently undergoing cold weather training in the Pisgah National Forest, experienced a type of hardship seldom found except during wartime two weeks ago during one of the worst snowstorms hit North Carolina in several years. The snow, which abundantly amounted to anywhere from 18 to 24 inches on level spots, had drifted to as much as 15 to 20 feet in places and iced over so that it was possible to walk on it. In some places, it had drifted almost as high as small trees.

Future Wars To Be Fought In 'Saucers'

Future wars may well see Marines entering their fighting area on "flying saucers". These are air skimmers or, as the military call them, ground effect machines (GEM).

Navy Times said that the Marines, now experimenting with one-man ground effect machines, are looking for large vehicles, up to 100 feet in size which, flying at ten to 20 feet off the ground, can skim over the ocean and rough terrain. Air skimming machines could well revolutionize current amphibious warfare concepts.

The Marine Corps is prodding the Navy to build more LPHs (amphibious assault ships). Now helicopter carriers, future LPHs would handle both VTOL planes and copters.

"A large number" of LPHs are needed to adequately transport the Corps' three divisions, Headquarters officials contend. They have asked the Navy to convert two more World War II carriers, the Lake Champlain and Valley Forge, to amphibious assault ships.

Three carriers, the Thetis Bay, Boxer and Princeton, have already been converted and designated as LPHs, for exclusive use as Marine Corps helicopter transports.

Recently the Navy announced that the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard had been assigned the job of building an LPH under the 1960 shipbuilding program. This would be the third ship of this type to be built from the keel up. The first ship of this class, the Iwo Jima, is now under construction at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard. The Philadelphia yard is also building the second original-designed LPH.

Capt. H. M. Washington and a company of 143 men had climbed the eastern slopes of Mt. Mitchell, Tuesday, March 1, to carry a planned assault on the mountain.

When the new storm broke next day, their expedition was washed into a rigorous experience of cold-weather survival training. "M" Company left from South Toe of Mt. Mitchell at 8 a.m. Tuesday morning for three and a half mile climb up mountainside and arrived on Mt. Mitchell at 2:30 p.m. in the afternoon. Using ropes, the men went up a cleared for a power line, had to break trail about half up when they started getting two-foot snowdrifts. Closer to top, the drifts became waist deep. Each man was carrying about 50 pounds of equipment.

Wednesday morning the Marines ran a company attack up over side of Mt. Mitchell. Fresh snow had started falling that morning and by afternoon it had reached most blizzard capacity.

As the new storm raged, blowing full strength Wednesday night with heavy sleet and winds strong that the men couldn't stand, the maneuver became a matter of survival training.

Two volunteers hiked two miles and a half to bring food to six civilians stranded in the snow. They remained with them overnight in old building until the storm subsided.

Maj. R. G. Demaree, executive officer of the 3rd Bn., Second Marines, summed up the benefits of the trip: "The bulk of the company are boys who are relatively new to the company and to the military life. Because of the unusual weather and training conditions they were able to gain the meaningful experience of a lifetime. A share of the load in order to make this thing a successful operation."

A Last Will And Testament Protects Your Loved Ones

(Prepared by Capt. J. B. Peck Jr., Legal Assistance Officer.)

Many people think that only the wealthy need wills because only the wealthy leave "estates." This is not true. You have an estate if you leave a car, or an interest in a home, or a little cash in your checking or savings account or perhaps some household furniture and kitchen appliances. A will is just as important to people in modest circumstances as it is to those with vast holdings. It provides the means through which you can make the best future arrangements for those for whom you care.

Do you know? The legal requirements for a will? What happens if you leave no will? What probating an estate means? What to consider in making a will? This article and the one following it will point out some of the facts you should know about wills and what the law has to say about the distribution of your property.

What Is A Will?

A will is a written document in which you direct what is to become of your property after your death. It names the persons whom you wish to benefit or protect, and designates someone (called an "executor") to carry out your wishes. To make a valid will the laws of most states require that you must be at least 18 years old; you must be of sound mind and memory; the will must be in writing, signed by you and witnessed by two or more persons who sign as witnesses in your presence.

If you do not meet these requirements, the result will be the same as if you had no will at all. In addition, the executor must be a resident of your state of permanent residence and the witnesses should not be persons who are named as beneficiaries in the will, by the law of most states. If your will disposes of real estate in another state, the requirements of that state too must be met. It is not safe to use a form or copy of someone else's will. It is unlikely that all of your circumstances and relationships will be the same as those of your neighbor. You should always consult with a lawyer or your legal assistance officer when it comes to drafting your will.

Law Provisions

If you do not have a will the law provides for the division of your property. This distribution, according to the fixed and inflexible rules of the statute, may possibly be very different from what you would want.

If you leave a wife and no child, under the law of some states your wife would receive all your personal property but only one-half your real estate if a parent, brother, sister, nephew or niece survives you.

For example: John and Martha had no children. The home which John inherited from his parents was the most important thing he owned and, since he was under the impression the house would go to his wife, he did not make a will. When he died, only Martha and a nephew survived him. Because there was no will, the nephew, whom John didn't even know, was entitled to half of the real estate.

Need

There is a special need for a will where there are minor children.

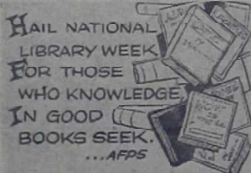

For example: Charles and Ruth had a small daughter, Jane. When Charles died without a will, his widow received one-third of his estate and Jane (age 5) received two-thirds. Until she went to court to have herself appointed guardian, the mother could not use Jane's share for the child's support or education. Even thereafter she was strictly limited in what she could do.

Failure to make a will may have unfortunate consequences as shown by these examples. It can mean hardship and added expenses for your immediate family and benefit to some relative you may not even know. The family of modest means can less afford this than can the family of wealth. Conserving the modest holdings of the average family through the means of a properly drawn will may be of greater importance to the beneficiaries involved than in the case of an estate of great wealth.

Freedom

The law leaves you free (unless you have otherwise contracted) to dispose of your property by will in whatever way you wish, except that your wife (or husband) will be entitled to receive at least one-half of your estate if there is no child or grandchild and at least one-third if there is a child (by the law of most states).

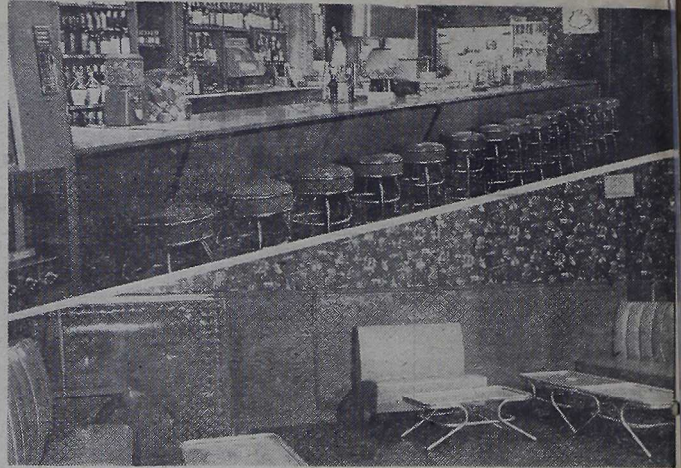

The article next week will consider the following questions: Does it cost more to have a will? Is "Joint Tenancy" a substitute for a will? Can a will be changed? When should a will be changed? What is involved in settling an estate?

Library Week Set For April

Camp Lejeune and members of the Armed Forces everywhere will join 5,000 American civilian communities observing National Library Week, April 3-9.

This assurance was given by Murray D. Snyder, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs, to William I. Nichols, chairman of the 1960 National Library Week Steering Committee.

Designed to dramatize the importance of libraries to the nation's cultural and educational progress, National Library Week will work toward five goals:

1) to provide a dramatic focus for continuing community reading development programs throughout the year. Long-range programs have already been initiated by most of the 5,000 communities participating in National Library Week last year.

2) To attract wide attention to Library services. In the past, libraries have reported as much as 50 per cent increases in circulation after the National Library Week.

3) To increase awareness of libraries as a major community resource and build support for their expansion.

4) To foster reading activities in homes, schools, clubs and businesses.

5) To inspire people to more thoughtful reading.

In support of the program, Pres-

Census Takers

During the two-week period, enumerators will call at each of the more than 5,000 units of quarters and housing on the reservation. At every fourth house, enumerators will leave a "Household Questionnaire" which is to be completed and mailed promptly.

ident Eisenhower said, "The strength of our nation is founded on the minds and hearts of its citizens—individuals who have sought out the truth and formed their own convictions.

"In this search, the freedom to read is an indispensable asset. During National Library Week, I hope that all Americans will make a special effort to seek out the treasures of knowledge, ideas and spiritual insight provided by our libraries across the land."

A pamphlet on National Library Week for servicewide distribution will offer commanders and their staffs specific instructions for this year's observance.

Quantico To Have 450 Capehart Units

QUANTICO, Va.—Plans to construct 450 on-base housing units were announced this week by Marine Corps Schools authorities.

The units, to be built astride the old Richmond-Fredricksburg highway, will be the first major housing construction for Marine Corps Schools since the development of Thomason Park in the early 1950's. Ground-breaking is slated to take place about July 1.

The construction plan calls for 170 enlisted and 280 officer split level and rambler units. A total of 383 three-bedroom and 67 four-bedroom units will be built.

Plans show five or six different designs of the rambler type house with varied floor plans.

Legal Officer Outlines Reasons Why Military Personnel Should Make Wills

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two articles about the importance of Navy and Marine Corps personnel preparing wills, compiled by Capt. J. B. Peck, Jr., Legal Assistance Officer.)

Many people think that only the wealthy need wills because the wealthy leave "estates." This is not true. You have an estate if you leave a car, or an interest in a home, or a little cash in your checking or savings account or perhaps some household furniture and kitchen appliances. # Vandalism Is A Stigma That Must Be Erased From Camp Lejeune

Throughout the Camp Lejeune area, progress is very evident. This is one of the most beautiful military reservations in the country. A new bank will open next week, a huge service station is under construction, new government quarters are being built, landscaping is continually being improved; all of this in an effort to beautify and improve this base.

But the stigma of vandalism also lies across the face of the reservation, vandalism caused by that minority group, the famed "ten percent" who never get the word nor pay heed to it. The results of vandalism are expensive and this expense is paid by you, the taxpayer.

Reports of vandalism at Camp Lejeune are not confined to the school child or teen-age group; many cases involving Marines have been reported. In the case of a child, the parent can be held responsible. Closer supervision of children may prevent this trouble.

One of the more common cases of vandalism involves the many traffic signs and organizational signs that have been defaced or destroyed by careless and thoughtless persons. These signs have to be replaced and replacing them takes time and money that could better be used in Camp Lejeune's improvement program or in research that will develop new weapons of war to keep the Marine Corps foremost as a force-in-readiness.

Recent exercises in the Onslow Beach area have brought about many instances of vandalism; broken windows and doors, beach houses being torn apart to build fires, and igniting of fires inside the houses. In addition, the expense for policing the area due to the many litterbugs is enormous.

This vandalism is not necessary and in the case of adult personnel is utterly ridiculous. Remember that the money that repairs the destruction from vandalism is the taxpayers money, your money. By helping to combat this problem, we can be assured of a base that is modern and up-to-date in keeping with the traditions of the Marine Corps.

Your Vote May Elect Your Chief

The excitement, the heady partisanship, the speech-making of a Presidential election year are already upon us. Every month between now and November will see them intensified. It is a great American show—the greatest.

But it is a show in which, ultimately, the audience plays a greater role than any of the principals. We in the service are an all-important part of that audience—the American people. We are the first to be affected by the course of the national defense effort. We can be expected to scrutinize the ideas of candidates on this great issue more closely than the average civilian.

Above all, let none of us feel himself remote from the contest because he is in uniform. That is not less of a reason to cast a vote, it is more of a one. Being in the service is no curtailment of the rights of citizenship any more than the service is a political vacuum.

Your service wants you to vote. It urges you to register; it will give you advice and assistance through its appointed voting officers. Your state wants you to vote. It will provide you with an absentee ballot and voting information. Finally, both of the principal candidates will want you to vote. One of them will be your Commander-in-Chief for years to come. Your interests, your mission, will be among his paramount concerns.

If You Ask Me:

BRIAN O'BRIEN SHAWNESSY McCool, Leprechaun Detachment, MAG-26 — For those of you who are wondering why MAG-26 has a Leprechaun detachment, let's just say it's "unofficial." During World War II they called us gremlins — by mistake, of course. Now, sure, on St. Pat's Day, I plan to shine the symbol of Ireland to the very skies; I'm going to paint shamrocks across the windshields of every aircraft aboard the Air Facility.

PETER PADRAIC KELLY, Bldg. 1 (Exact location undisclosed)—No one knows it yet, but I plan to start this grand and glorious day with a bang. See, now, there are wonderful big guns outside my little home here, and I feel St. Patrick deserves a small salute—50 guns or so. When I've finished that little job, I shall put on my Sunday hat and call on the foin clubs around Base. I'm hopin' that they'll leave a little bite and a little nip of somethin' for such a fella as me.

TOP FLYERS — The top graduates of the Naval Aviation Cadet program in 1959 include three Navy and one Marine Corps flyers. The Marine picked as one of the outstanding graduates was 2nd Lt. J. L. Omer of Marine Air Group-32. Lieutenant Omer maintained a very high average during the 18-month training program which started in 1958 at Pensacola, Fla., and ended at Corpus Christi, Texas. He will receive an award from the Texas Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in ceremonies to be held in Corpus Christi.

PRO-PAY — The Defense Department told the services that they could double their authorized P-2 awards—provided they finance the extra ones out of money budgeted for the $30-a-month P-1 awards. The Marine Corps would be able to award 722 P-2 awards. At press time the Marine Corps was unable to say what they would do with the sudden new authority. The Corps does not as yet have a plan for awarding P-2 pay in the early part of fiscal year 1961. Awards, if any, will be made on the basis of plans developed after further study on the effects of the current program.

The 1st Bn., First Marines, will be coming back to the States May 3 aboard the MSTs transport USNS Mitchell. It originally was to have returned May 2 aboard the Breckinridge. Leathernecks of the 1st Bn., First Marines—the first to go to the Far East under the program of rotation of infantry units between the 1st and 3rd Divisions, and the first Stateside unit to complete its Far East tour—will leave aboard the Mitchell from Okinawa on April 19.

Christianity Is Not Kid Stuff!

"Peter Pan" is a fairy story about a little boy who refused to grow up. It is a fine story that both children and adults enjoy. One reason we like it is because it stirs our imaginations as we think how nice it would be to be a child forever, with never a worry or care or the necessity of facing the problems and making the decisions that are the lot of grown-ups.

Yet, though we may long to go back to the security of childhood, the fact remains that we do grow up. But though we grow in a physical sense, too often we still act and think as children do. In our crowded divorce courts, our traffic accidents, our men going to "office hours," we find ample evidence of how many there are with immature minds in mature bodies.

This immaturity is often apparent in our thinking about God and our relationship to Him. If we think about God at all, it is all too often immature thinking, about on a level with that of the beginner in Sunday School. Most non-Christians have never thought about religion in an adult way at all. Like children, they airily dismiss the whole subject of religion as being something of no importance to them.

The fact that millions, after mature thought, have accepted the claim of Christ to be the Son of God, means nothing to them. If this attitude is true in your case, it is time you grew up. It is time for you to realize that Christianity is not "kid's stuff" at all. Nothing that can change men as Christianity does can be lightly dismissed. Investigate the claims of Christ for yourself. Look at them with an adult viewpoint. You'll be surprised to find how much you have been missing.

Division Chaplain.

WHAT ARE YOUR PLANS FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY?

(Asked of Leprechauns Hiding Out in The Greenery Around Camp Lejeune.)

SEAN-DANIEL McMANIGAL, Camp Lejeune Amphibious Training Areas — Celebrate? Celebrate? Not!

"Tis worried I am, in these woods, with the Marines a-runnin' and a-huntin' through the land. I've got enough to do to stay hidden and away from them. Not that I'm afraid, mind you, of any man born, but once the rascals catch me, the old laws of Erin say that I must give my pot of gold if they ask me for it. And I've no likin' to turn in these lovely jingling pieces to the young lads—not after spendin' 600 years acquiring them.

TIMOTHY ANTHONY MICHAEL O'FIN-NEGAN, Hadnot Point Area — Well, now,

I've just come from the land of Ireland and from a visit to the castle of the Blarney Stone. Knowin' the powers of the stone, and of me own irresistible charms, I've a mind to call on the Woman Marine barracks. Surely, some of the lovely colleens would be for spendin' an evenin' on the town in me foin company.

Gray Ladies Contribute Many Hours In Making Minds And Hearts Happier

Gray Lady Service, the official name of the former Hospital and Recreation Corps, evolved from the activities of a group of volunteers banded together in 1918 who provided a variety of friendly and helpful services to the sick and convalescent at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C.

These activities were undertaken at the request of Mabel T. Boardman, the national director of Volunteer Services, and under the leadership of Mrs. Henry R. Rea, volunteer field director at Walter Reed.

In the early days the volunteers were concerned primarily with hostess and recreation duties. In June, 1918, however, the return of the sick and injured from the European battlefields, together with the many casualties of the "flu" epidemic, gave impetus to the need for more direct services to individual patients of the wards and in convalescent houses. At about this time the gray dress and veil were adopted as the official uniform of these volunteers, and the name "Gray Ladies," affectionately bestowed by the patients, became the customary designation.

The services of these volunteers were later broadened to meet many needs in civilian hospitals, clinics, and in the homes of shut-ins and the chronically ill.

In 1929 six members of the Walter Reed group were loaned to the U. S. Naval Hospital in Washington to assist the District of Columbia in the organization of a Hospital and Recreation Corps, and the same year saw the establishment by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the first trained Red Cross volunteer group in the Veterans Administration hospital at Aspinwall, Pa. Two years later the corps was accepted in the first civilian institution—the Episcopal Eye, Ear, and Throat Hospital in Washington, D. C., and several years later the first service in a U. S. Public Health Service hospital was established by the New Orleans Chapter in the marine hospital there. Service in each of these hospitals has been continuous.

The most widely known assignment for Gray Ladies is visiting patients in hospital wards and rooms. During their visits Gray Ladies give personal services in writing letters, reading, obtaining reading material, and arranging flowers. They also do shopping for the patients, serve as guides to visitors and entertainers, act as hostesses in the recreation room, staff the hospital information desk, and serve in the library.

Gray Ladies often fill individual assignments by bringing bedside recreation to the patients, teaching simple crafts, assisting the social worker, tutoring, translating, and interpreting. Although these are typical services they are not necessarily appropriate for all hospitals, nor are they the only duties that can be performed by Gray Ladies. This service should be very flexible and insofar as possible meet the real needs of the patients.

The interest and qualifications of individual Gray Ladies frequently bring about even more specialized assignments. To enable them to work effectively with blind patients, paraplegics, or those under treatment for tuberculosis, aphasia, or mental illness, some hospitals give selected Gray Ladies instruction in specific skills and techniques.

Today Red Cross Gray Ladies serve in military hospitals throughout the United States and in 19 foreign countries. In addition to their service to patients in military hospitals, they also serve in U. S. Public Health Service Hospitals, Veterans hospitals, and civilian institutions and clinics. At the Naval Hospital at Camp Lejeune the Gray Ladies provide five major types of service: (1) Ward visiting, which consists of writing letters for patients who are unable to do so, shopping at the hospital PX, friendly visiting, etc. (2) Recreation, which includes group recreation activities in the wards such as quiz games, paper and pencil games during which refreshments are served. ## Quantico Tops Cage Event; Red Raiders Place Second

CHERRY POINT, N. C., March 11—Quantico triumphed over Camp Lejeune in the finals last night, 60-43, to win the East Coast Woman Marines' basketball championship at the Air Station here. The tourney ran from March 7 until last night. Carol Lau, Quantico offensive sensation, paced her teammates to four consecutive wins while averaging 23 points per game. Quantico defeated Parris Island 39-22, Henderson Hall 57-32, and Camp Lejeune twice, 66-47 and 60-43.

Lau Hits 31 Against PI

A native of Honolulu, Hawaii, Carol was the big spark in the Quantico attack. She scored with a deadly jump shot and an accurate two-handed set. Her speed and hustle enabled her to score almost at will. She tallied 31 points in the game against Parris Island.

Quantico, the defending 1959 All-Woman Marines Champions, will represent the East Coast in the 1960 All-Woman Marines Championships to be held at MCAS, El Toro, Calif., beginning March 23.

Offensive Stalwarts

Local Nine Opens 1960 Play Against East Carolina College

Although the regular Camp Lejeune baseball season is not scheduled to begin until April 7, the locals will open their college exhibition play against East Carolina College tomorrow at Harry Agganis Field. Scheduled to begin at 3 p.m., the game is one of a three-game series to be played over the weekend. All games during the exhibition season are scheduled as home games and are to include such opposition as Michigan State, Virginia Polytechnical Institute, Ithaca College, Carson-Newman, Springfield and Yale. (See 1960 Schedule, Page 10).

Proposed Lineup

Capt. Dave Beard, rookie mentor of the 1960 club, has stated that the proposed starting line-up for the opening game will see Cliff Simpson leading off and playing in centerfield. A three-year veteran at Lejeune, Simpson gained his baseball experience playing American Legion ball in Virginia.

In the number two spot and at the hot corner, third base, will be Bobby Cooke. A member of the Giant organization, Cooke saw action behind the plate with the locals last year.

Slugging star of last year, Hal

Norton, will be handling first base and batting third in the lineup. Norton, who set numerous all-time Camp Lejeune batting records during the 1959 season is in his third year with the locals.

Tobacco-chewing Barry Fullerton will be behind the plate and in the cleanup spot in the batting order. Fullerton, who is now in his third season of service ball, ended the '59 season with a blistering .342 batting average.

Left fielder Sam Valentine will follow Fullerton in the batting order and should supply plenty of long balls for the locals this year. Valentine, a former Penn State All-American grid star, rapped the ball for an even 350 mark last year.

In the number six spot is Charlie Heiden. A member of the Naval Academy baseball team in 1955-56 and 57, Heiden is in his second year of service ball after one year with Quantico and will be covering right field.

Carl Cohen, former ballplayer from Boston University, and in his rookie season with the locals will follow Heiden and handle second base.

Veteran short-stop Charlie Armstrong will cover the hole between second and third and stands eighth in the batting order. Armstrong, who is in his fourth season of service ball, played three years under the coaching of Hal Glasgow, who previously piloted the local nine for the past two years.

Bob Rumer, who aided the cause last year for the locals with an 18-3 record during the 1959 season, will be on the mound for the Marines.

Red Cross Drive Seeks Donations; No Goal Set

The annual 1960 American National Red Cross campaign has passed the halfway mark with an overall percentage of 20 per cent contributions. 1959 saw the Red Cross spending over $111,000 at Camp Lejeune and collecting only $24,000 during the annual drive. Marine Corps Base still leads the way with 55.3 per cent and 4,057 members. The 2nd Division has 18.6 per cent and 2,264 members. Force Troops has 15.9 per cent and 244 members, and the Marine Corps Air Facility has 15.0 per cent and 185 members. No report has been received from the civilian personnel.

Membership cards are issued to those contributing $1 or more. No monetary goal has been set for the campaign. The ultimate goal of this year's drive is to strive for 100 per cent voluntary participation by all members of the Armed Forces, federal employees and civilians employed by Base activities. Jacksonville, Kinston and Wilmington Red Cross Chapters also provide services and financial assistance to Marine families.

St. Patrick's History Reaches Special Significance Today For All Irishmen

Today is the anniversary of the beloved saint, St. Patrick. It is celebrated as Ireland's national holiday with green, the color of the day, significant of undying gratitude to his memory; and the shamrock is worn everywhere to commemorate its use by him as symbolic of the Trinity. The day, observed from earliest times, expresses the patriotism of Irishmen wherever they may be.

Its celebration takes the form of parades, dinners with speeches and toasts, balls, and special festivities not only in Irish circles but in general social life.

St. Patrick is more than just a symbol to be remembered on this day by wearing green, he was a missionary to Ireland and its patron saint, he is one of the great founders and statesmen of Christendom.

A Scotsman by birth, St. Patrick was kidnapped while still a boy and forced to serve his pagan masters in Ireland. Later escaping, he returned to Scotland and became a priest. Remembering his early days, he returned to Ireland determined to convert the people to Christianity. Beset by superstition and idolatry, he persisted and devoted his life to Christianity. For this devotion, he was elevated to sainthood.

Sal Salvador To Appear In Concert At Camp Theater

SAL SALVADOR

From Birdland to the Newport Jazz Festival, customers have been treated to the musical convictions of the "jazzman's guitarist," whose quiet smile belies some exciting musical ideas. In 1958 and 1959, he was voted by Playboy magazine's jazz poll as one of the outstanding jazz artists of the year.

In 1953, his quartet placed third in the annual Downbeat poll and he started on a successful tour that took him and his group to the big jazz clubs around the country.

Tickets for the Sal Salvador concert are now on sale at the Marine Corps Exchange, Field House, Camp Theater and the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce. The public is invited to attend and may purchase tickets at any of the above facilities.

Sal will have a featured spot in the soon to be released movie, "Jazz on a Summer's Day," filmed at the Newport Jazz Festival.

While aiming for new tonal qualities all the time, Sal never sacrifices the beat. Rhythm, he believes, is the basis for all listening and dancing pleasure. The rhythm section is an integral part of all arrangements. "You've got to keep the time thing happening," he says, "I'm trying to create more subtle tonal shadings, but not at the cost of the beat."

Perhaps Sal's greatest break was when he was asked to join the Stan Kenton band. He was featured soloist for over a year and a half.

Rod & Gun

By ACT. GYSGT. HELEN BRUSACK
Phone 7-5888

The monthly meeting of Camp Lejeune's Rod and Gun Club was held last Thursday. Five hundred dollars was allotted to the 1960 Fishing Contest. This contest will begin April 1 and is scheduled to continue until December. There will be fresh water and salt water fishing prizes. Entrants must be Rod and Gun Club members, and no commercial fishing boat catches will be accepted. Entries, however, caught from the contestant's own boat or the Corsair are allowed. Full contest details will be printed in later Fish and Wildlife columns.

Tickets to Riseley Pier
The club also proposed to attempt to acquire yearly tickets to be sold for fishing at Riseley Pier. Nominations for new club officers to hold office during the next fiscal year will be held at next month's meeting.

Tackle Tips
To prevent tackle from tangling while moving from one fishing spot to another, wrap line and hook to your rod with a pipe cleaner. The pliable wires go on and off easily. Buying new waders? Make sure they fit, especially at the crotch. You should be able to raise each knee high without the wader binding, and normally the legs should hang straight, free of folds that could cause rub spots.

Best way to catch trout in early season is to fish deep, and the best way to get a worm or streamer close to the bottom is to pinch a split shot or two on your leader a foot or more above the lure. Add or subtract weight as needed.

The Mighty Minnow
Of all the baits used for catching fish, the one that almost every experienced fisherman would vote most likely to succeed is the minnow. There are several reasons why this is so. For one, practically all fish eat minnows except minnows themselves. For another, you can fish a minnow in a dozen different ways, all of them wonderfully effective. And still another, minnows offer you a variety of sizes, shapes and even colors, if by minnows you mean shiners, dace, sticklebacks, chubs, and all other small forage species.

Officers Wives Bowling League

The Alley Cats took three from the Pinflippers to hold a two-point edge over runner-up Hopefuls who also took three from the Holie Rollers, during Monday night's roll-off of the Officers Wives Club. Other action saw the Alligators swamp the Dudds 4-0 and the Hi-Fives split with the Zeros.

The simplest, and probably the most popular way to fish a minnow is simply to hook it lightly through the fleshy part of the back and let it dangle just off the bottom. If you cut off half the tail of a live minnow you throw him off balance. Keeping the minnow off balance causes him to struggle to stay upright, and the harder the struggle the easier it is for a fish to find it.

However, a dead minnow can be just as effective as a live one. Sew it on a short shank snelled hook in a curve so that it spins, and you've got what may be the world's best all tackle bait in fresh or salt water. Adjust the curve on the bait so that it flops over as you retrieve it, and fish it slowly. It's a line-twister, though; so don't forget the swivels or trolling keel.

If you're just fishing and not fussy about what you catch, try still-fishing with a dead minnow on the bottom. Eels, catfish, bowfin and other bottom feeders will give you some fun. Don't be surprised if you tie into a bass, pike or pickerel, too. Some dead-minnow-on-the-bottom fishermen partially skin their bait to make it even easier for cruising fish to locate.

Another virtue of minnows is the choice of sizes they offer. For muskies and pike, you can't buy minnows too big. For pickerel and largemouths, the four-to-six-inch size is generally your best bet, whereas smallmouths and walleyes like them a bit smaller. Pick out the two-to-three-inchers for trout, depending on the size of trout you hope to catch. If you enjoy still-fishing for crappie and perch, the two-inch babies are just about right.

Off the Record

An Ontario naturalist made a tape recording of a captive wolf pack and played it, amplified in an area where game technicians got their count from the wild wolves which answered the recording.

BEST BALL—Professional Marilyn Stroud, left, of Greenville, S. C., and Marine CWO Victor "Red" Garrison of Camp Lejeune check their low total of 62 which enabled them to cop top honors in the best-ball division of the 7th Annual Parris Island Pro-Am Golf Tournament. Garrison was also low net amateur with a 66.

Local Golfer; 'Best Ball' In Parris Island Golf Tourney

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., March 11—Professional Marilyn Stroud of Greenville, S. C., and Marine CWO "Red" Garrison of Second Force Service Regiment, Force Troops, Camp Lejeune, N. C., combined for a 10-under-par 62 to take top honors in the best-ball division of this East Coast Marine Corps Recruit Depot's annual Pro-Am

Golf Tournament held March 10. A field of 35 professionals and more than 100 amateurs toured the Parris Island course in the seventh running of the tournament, played under sunny skies for the first time in four years.

Garrison, last year's All-Marine Senior Champion, carded the day's low amateur net with a 66 and tied Navy Cmdr. James C. Rock of the Charleston Group, Atlantic Reserve Fleet, for low gross with a 73.

Chuck Alexander of Rocky Mount, N. C., added a brilliant back nine 33 to his opening 37 for a total of 70 and low score among the pros.

Professionals Thorne Wood of Asheboro, N. C., and Harold (Catfish) Kneec of Greenville posted scores of 71 for a second place tie.

Dick Tiddy of Charlotte, N. C., and Bill Hoover of Greensboro, N. C., had totals of 73. Jim McNair of Aiken, S. C., 1959 pro winner here, finished out of the running with a disappointing 39 on the front nine.

Trailing Garrison and Rock for low gross amateur honors was Dilard Trynham of Greenville, divisional winner in Wednesday's Tri-State Open Invitational at Aiken. He allied a three-over-par 75.

Dr. W. D. Lundquist of Savannah, Ga., was runner-up for low net with a 68.

Parris Island Club Professional Joe Frasca awarded prizes in the four divisions at the conclusion of play.

Pan-Am Head Aides DesLant At Ringside

Years of experience and ringside "savvy" has been and will continue to be riding in the corner of each Destroyer Forces, Atlantic, fighter during the Atlantic Fleet Tournament being held here, in the person of Coach Ed "Knobby" Walsh, lifelong boxing enthusiast. The DesLant mentor began his boxing career in the late 1930's as a featherweight when he participated in several AAU bouts in New England.

Walsh continued his pugilistic pursuits upon entering the service and in 1947 advanced to the All-Navy quarter finals as a welterweight. Shortly thereafter Walsh hung up his gloves to begin his coaching career in earnest. No stranger to some of the big names in boxing, Walsh acted as a second for such noted ring personalities as the fiery Willie Pep, ex-featherweight champion of the world, and Joe Brown, current holder of the world's lightweight crown.

From 1953 through 1956 Walsh operated his own professional "stables" in both Louisiana and Texas. Although no title-holders were spawned in Walsh's training camp, he did produce several "main event attractions."

Pan-Am Head Coach

The Weymouth, Mass., native's close association with the sport netted him the head coaching duties with the All-Navy and Navy Pan-American teams during the 1959 campaign, where his teams turned in several outstanding performances.

Walsh rates his team's charges as excellent in the forthcoming Atlantic Fleet tournament. The DesLant aggregation is definitely not lacking in an experienced coaching staff. Augmenting Walsh's prowess at the reins is assistant Coach Ray Wharton, holder of numerous service and amateur titles. Wharton began his active boxing career in 1947, the same year that head coach Walsh retired from the ring as a fighter. Since that time he has nailed down the New England Golden Gloves title and captured the Intel-Service featherweight crown in 1957.

KICK-OFF DINNER FOR SHOOTING SEASON

A special meeting of the Camp Lejeune Rifle and Pistol Club has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on March 21. The meeting is to be held at the Montford Point Staff NCO Club and a free buffet dinner will be served.

All club members and their dependents are cordially invited to attend. Reservations may be made by calling 9-8167.

WGA Winners Will View Azalea Open

The Women Golfers of Camp Lejeune have scheduled a Scotch Foursome Match to be held at 12:30 p.m., March 20, at Paradise Point golf course. Entry fee for participating golfers will be $1.

The individual flight winners will be awarded tickets to the first round of the 1960 Azalea Open, to be held at Cape Fear Country Club, Wilmington, March 31.

Paradise Point Golf Course was the site of the Points for Par Match held last week.

Genie June totaled 37 points to take the "A" Flight honors, while the "B" Flight was taken by Avian Collins with 35. Julie Cowling led the "C" Flight with 36 as "D" Flight finished in a 14-14 deadlock between Monoka Midkiff and Maxine Switzer.

Exhibition Baseball Begins Tomorrow

Unless Old Man Winter decides to play havoc with Camp Lejeune, the college exhibition of the 1960 baseball season will get underway at 10 p.m. tomorrow. East Carolina College, considered by many to be one of the finest baseball teams in North Carolina, will move into Agganis Field for a three-game series tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday. Following East Carolina College, the locals will face such other colleges as Michigan State, Virginia Polytechnical Institute, Ithaca, Carson-Newman, Springfield and Yale. The exhibition games will continue until April 7, when the Marines will open their regular season against Ft. Gordon (Signal) of Georgia at Agganis Field. Fifty-two home games and 43 away games have been scheduled for the season and should supply many evenings of entertainment for the baseball enthusiasts of Camp Lejeune. Thirty-five of the 52 home games are scheduled to be played on weekends or in the evening, affording those baseball fans of Camp Lejeune and their dependents the opportunity to get out to Agganis Field and support their team. (See Story, Page 8)

HE "MIGHTY MITE"—American Motors representative, Paul E. West, left, describes the capabilities of the Corps' new "Mighty Mite" amphibious jeep to Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, Base commander, who accepted the first vehicle, one of 24 received at 2nd Force Service. Another 24 Mites are due for delivery next week and will go into operational use in tactical units here late next month. Additional shipment of the new quarter-ton vehicles are expected in the near future. (Photo by Act. Cpl. P. W. Freeland)

First 'Mighty Mite' Jeeps Arrive For Use Next Month

Tactical units at Camp Lejeune will be using the Marine Corps' new lightweight jeep—"Mighty Mite"—late next month, was learned Tuesday morning as Base commander, Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, accepted the first jeep from Paul E. West, general sales manager for the Special Products Division of the American Motors Corp.

Twenty-four of the new amphibious jeeps have already arrived at 2nd Force Service. The remaining 24 more are en route, with more expected in the future.

Designed and developed by American Motors for the Corps' tactical envelopment operations, the new jeep is slated for helicopter airlifts to forward positions in combat. Under strenuous tests at Annapolis, the vehicle passed all tests in mobility, carrying capacity and durability.

Amphibious
Each of the jeeps is equipped with a "fording kit" which includes intake and exhaust snorkels to enable the Mighty Mite to cross rivers and streams completely submerged in up to 60 inches of water.

A personnel-cargo vehicle, the Mite can carry four persons or two tons and 500 pounds in cross-country operations, pulling a trailer loaded with 1,000 pounds. In addition, it can be adapted for mounting the 105mm Recoilless Rifle, carrying two litters with wounded Marines, or the installation of a command radio. Its power-plant is headed by an aluminum, V-4, air-cooled engine with an output of 55-horsepower. Its maximum speed is 62 mph.

Initial power in the compact jeep comes from a 24-volt electrical system. The Mite's curb weight, with fuel, is 1,750 pounds. It is 107 inches long, 60 inches wide and 45 inches high (or less, with two fold-down rear seats).

The entire plant, according to American Motors, has been extensively tested, not only in the field, but has qualified as well by the Army at Aberdeen (Md.) Proving Grounds and the Navy at Annapolis for performance and durability.

Overall commander for the PHIBEX exercise is Vice Admiral G. C. Townner, Commander, Amphibious Force, Atlantic Fleet. Lt. Gen. J. C. Burger will be Ground Forces commander during the gigantic maneuver. He formerly commanded the 2nd Division prior to taking over as Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic.

Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley will command the Division troops participating in PHIBEX. It will be the first, Division-size operation since he assumed command in November of last year. Forty ships will participate in PHIBEX 1-60 with Naval and Marine Corps aviation units supplying air support. PHIBEX 1-60 is the second large scale Marine Corps-Navy operation to be held off the Virginia-North Carolina coast. The first exercise was held in early 1958.

Massive Amphibious Exercise Will Get Underway Tuesday

The largest Marine Corps-Navy exercise of the year kicks off Tuesday when 2nd Division Marines embark aboard ships at Morehead City to participate in LANTPHIBEX 1-60, according to an announcement from Atlantic Fleet Commander, Adm. R. L. Dennison. The exercise will involve over 40,000 Marines and sailors and is expected to end in early April. In addition, the 10th Provisional Marine Force commanded by Col. M. D. Henderson will embark aboard shipping of Amphibious Squadron 10 to participate in BRIGALEX 2-60. The Force will storm Onslow Beach on D-Day during PHIBEX, then reembark aboard ships arriving at Vieques, P. R., on April 11. They are expected to return over Onslow Beach in early May.

Red Cross Is At Half-Way Mark Of Drive

The annual 1960 American Red Cross campaign has passed the halfway mark with an overall contribution of 20.0 percent. 1959 saw the Red Cross spending over $11,000 at Camp Lejeune and collecting only $24,000 during their annual drive.

Marine Corps Base still leads the way with 55.3 percent and 4,057 members. The 2nd Division has 18.6 percent and 2,264 members. Force Troops has 15.9 percent and 244 members and the Marine Corps Air Facility has 15.0 percent and 185 members. No report has been received from the civilian personnel.

Membership cards are issued to those contributing one dollar or more; there has been no monetary goal set for the campaign. The ultimate goal of this year's drive is to strive for 100 per cent voluntary participation by all members of the Armed Forces, federal employees and civilians employed by Base activities.

Jacksonville, Kinston and Wilmington Red Cross Chapters also provide services and financial assistance to Marine families from Camp Lejeune.

Judge Latimer Addresses Bar Assn. Meeting

The Honorable George W. Latimer, Associate Judge, U. S. Court of Military Appeals, spoke at a meeting of the Camp Lejeune-Cherry Point Bar Association held at the Paradise Point Officers Club Monday evening.

About 100 officers attended including Maj. Gen. James P. Berkeley, Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, Brig. Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., Brig. Gen. Odell M. Conoley, and four lawyers from the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

Judge Latimer reviewed recent decisions of the Court of Military Appeals and spoke on trends of interest pertaining to military law of interest to unit commanders.

Census To Include Everyone

Census takers will descend on Camp Lejeune and the surrounding area next month for a population count in all government quarters, rental and private housing.

Bureau of Census enumerators are scheduled to begin work on April 1 and are expected to have contacted every home in the area by April 15. By agreement with the Bureau of Census, Camp Lejeune authorities have assumed responsibility for the count of personnel residing in barracks and bachelor officer quarters.

Julian Herring, District Supervisor for the Bureau of Census, with offices in New Bern, is responsible for the count in this area. He will be assisted locally by Crew Leader Percy Grant of Jacksonville and approximately eight enumerators.

A 12-hour training course will be conducted in Jacksonville on March 28, 29 and 30 to acquaint enumerators with procedures to be used in taking the census.

Information concerning the 1960 census of personnel living in barracks aboard the Base has been published in Base Bulletin 5740. Additional information is contained in a SecNav Notice bearing the same number, dated Feb. 9, 1960.

Full cooperation with the census enumerators during their door-to-door campaign has been called for by the Commanding General, Marine Corps Base. Enumerators will wear a distinctive badge for identification purposes.

PTA Members Host Two Guest Speakers

155 Players Sign Up For Boys League Baseball

Despite snow and icy conditions, registration for the Camp Lejeune Boys League was held Saturday and 155 boys were signed up.

Additional registrations will be held tonight and tomorrow between 4 and 6 p.m. in the clubhouse located near Tarawa Terrace I, adjacent to the baseball diamond. All boys who did not register Saturday are urged to sign up today or tomorrow.

Try-outs will get underway Monday at 5 p.m., weather permitting, and will be held every week night thereafter. Boys, ages 8 and 9, will try out from March 28 through April 1. Team selections will be made April 2, according to Act. MSgt. Howard Wooldrige.

Wooldrige said more volunteers are needed for coaching and officiating.

Cosmetic Consultant Offers Beauty Tips At Central Exchange

Camp Lejeune women are being given an opportunity to pick up or brush up on some ideas in correct make-up application this week and next week at the Central Marine Corps Exchange.

Demonstrations, lectures, and visits are now being conducted by Pat Baker, a well-known make-up artist in the beauty world, who is visiting the base. Miss Baker began working with the women Tuesday and will be at the exchange until Saturday, March 26. Her services are available to anyone interested.

She will assist beauty consultants at the exchange and explain proper uses of corrective creams and various modern techniques. She is rendering services to all beauty-minded women by holding special training sessions in the art of make-up and the art of color.

Miss Baker is also available to the ladies' groups in the Camp Lejeune area who wish to have her attend the meetings for group demonstration.

First Capehart Unit To Be Ready Soon

The first officer unit of Capehart housing is expected to be completed and ready for occupancy early in May, according to Commander Norman C. Harvey, resident officer-in-charge of construction. The initial enlisted unit is expected to be completed in June. All of the 800 units—127 officer and 673 enlisted—will be completed by March, 1961, Commander Harvey said. This would indicate a completion rate of approximately 20 houses per week.

Scouts Hold Bazaar; But No Parade

Senior Girl Scouts, Mariners, Intermediates, and Brownies from local District 7 joined in a nation-wide celebration of the 48th anniversary of the Girl Scouts of America Saturday.

Although the previously scheduled annual parade was cancelled due to inclement weather, the girls displayed the Girl Scout theme of the year, "You Can Count on Her to Be Creative," by presenting an afternoon bazaar in Goettge Memorial Field House.

The bazaar featured Scout-made items for sale at prices of $1 or less. Four Brownie and four Intermediate troops from Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, displayed booths filled with hand-made waste-baskets, floppy-eared "doggy" pillows, Brownie lapel pins, parsley plants and corsages.

Tarawa Terrace

Tarawa Terrace I's four Brownie and two Intermediate troops sponsored booths featuring "piggy" placemats, earrings made from candy hearts and macaroni, planters, linens, bath salts and purses. Four Brownie and one Intermediate troop represented Tarawa Terrace II. One booth was decorated with flags of all nations having members in the Girl Scouts World Organization, while a new Terrace Brownie troop sold cloth books for babies. The troops also displayed bookmarks, decorated plates and autograph books.

Four Brownie, three Intermediate, and one Mariner troop represented Paradise Point. Their booths refreshed bazaar patrons with baked goods, fancy cakes, hot chocolate and candies. Girls from Paradise Point also sponsored booths featuring an arts and crafts display and decorated match boxes for sale.

Commander Harvey said it is planned to accept the finished units from the contractor in increments of approximately 12 houses. Families will be moved into the new quarters as soon as the final inspection has been passed.

Approximately 17 different designs and floor plans are included in the Base Capehart Housing project. The lots will be landscaped. Screened porches, carports and outside storage areas are included in the Capehart plans.

The homes will feature hardwood floors, air conditioning and thermostatically-controlled heating. Stoves and refrigerators are included with each unit.

DOD Gives Green Light On Pro-Pay

Steaks and chops and more clothing for the kids are a possibility for some Camp Lejeune families when Headquarters Marine Corps acts on recently authorized P-2 proficiency awards.

The Defense Department gave the "go ahead" last week allowing a $60 per month P-2 pro-pay provided the awards are made out of money budgeted for the $30 per month P-1 awards.

The Corps had originally requested authority for a number of P-2 awards equal to a maximum of 10 per cent of the currently approved P-1 awards. This would have accounted for an estimated 1100 or 1200 P-2 billets.

In the announcement last week, however, Defense Department set the P-2 awards at 722. Another 722 P-2 awards could be granted if two P-1's were dropped for each P-2 over the basic 722. No plans have been made for awarding the P-2 pay and none are expected in the early part of fiscal year 1961.

Noisy Crowds Distract From Performances

"WHEN IRISH EYES are smiling, all the world seems bright and gay" and it has a right to be for the Irish have left us a wealth of literature, poetry, song and folklore . . . and we suggest that on this "grand and glorious day" you read some of St. Paddy's favorite authors . . . William Butler Keats, Lady Gregory, Thomas Moore, J. M. Synge, Sean O'Casey . . . to name but a few.

COURTESY . . . politeness . . . respect . . . or indulgence, these things need to be practiced more by those of us attending entertainment functions. . . it is only "common courtesy" to be attentive and listen to a performer whether he be of star calibre or amateur . . . rudeness on the part of the audience has been evident lately at some of the Special Services events and at other smaller performances . . . let's respect a performer enough or at least be indulgent when he is giving of his time to try and entertain us . . . your appreciation will make a better performance.

DON'T MISS "The Return of the Fly" coming soon to base theaters . . . it will thrill and chill you in the same way as the original.

JOSE GRECO and his Spanish Dancers will be here April 1 . . . one of the greatest in this art, Jose will provide an exciting evening for his audience.

Miracle Saves Two Marines

Two Marines on Okinawa are ready to testify that the rifle is their best friend. It saved their lives during maneuvers recently, and in a most unusual way. Rounding a turn in the road, their jeep overturned in a ditch. The driver, Pfc R. J. Boughner, had his rifle resting beside his leg. When the jeep turned over, the piece flipped through the air and landed in an upright position, holding the left rear of the vehicle about two feet off the ground. This permitted Boughner and Pfc Billy Moore to crawl from under the vehicle. The only injury was a bruise on the head suffered by Pfc E. M. Cardenas when he was thrown clear of the vehicle. The rifle holding the jeep prevented serious injury.

The Marine Corps Band was organized in 1798 and has played for every President except George Washington.

Kaman Aircraft Award Is Presented To MAG-26 Pilot

"For rescue operations conducted under adverse conditions while flying a Kaman Aircraft Corporation aircraft," read the inscription on the plaque presented to 1st Lt. Paul McNally by the Kaman Aircraft Corporation through his commanding officer, Lt. Col. J. D. Boldman, commander of Marine Observation Squadron 1, Marine Aircraft Group-26 at Marine Corps Air Facility, New River.

The rescue was made on Okinawa in February, 1959, while Lieutenant McNally was stationed there with VMO-2. During the operation which started at 1 a.m., McNally ran into ground fog on returning from the northern part of the island with a food poisoning victim en route to the hospital. Having to fly by the aircraft's instruments because of the weather, Lieutenant McNally's helicopter was picked up by the Kadena Air Force Base's radar and vectored to the field for a landing. The weather at the time of landing was, ceiling 100 feet, visibility one-fourth mile with rain and ground fog.

Lieutenant McNally's name will now be placed on the Kaman "Scroll of Honor," which is permanently located at their headquarters in Bloomfield, Conn.

More Post Exchange Buying Means Additional Special Services Activities

When a Marine purchases items totaling $1 at the exchange he unknowingly has paid for admission to a movie.

Marines and their dependents, shopping at the 70 exchange activities throughout Camp Lejeune, pay indirectly for all recreational activities available to them.

Out of every dollar spent at the Marine Exchanges, eight cents goes to Special Services. And the $167,000 spent by Special Services for movies each year breaks down to about seven and a half cents per movie goer.

Movies at the 14 Base theaters are the largest single item on the Camp Recreation Council's near-million dollar 1960 budget.

There are many other items, however, which are budgeted for under the heading "recreation." In fact, if a Marine spent a full month visiting Special Services recreation activities during his off-duty hours, he would not have enough time to enjoy all the facilities.

There are seven Camp libraries, all of which are aided by Special Services in the buying of books and periodicals and in the paying of off-duty Marines librarian salaries. The cost, $17,000 yearly.

The hobby shops located at Hadnot Point, Montford Point and Camp Geiger receive about $32,000 every 12 months from profits of the exchange via the Special Services office.

Every person approaching one of the 36 manicured greens of the Base's two golf courses is there courtesy of the money spent by himself and others in an exchange facility. Over $57,000 will be poured into the links this year in order to keep them at maintenance and operational peaks.

In addition to the many recreation facilities sponsored by Special Services and paid for by Lejeunites, the Special Entertainment Program provides some of the best musical, dramatic and sports entertainment available. While it is now necessary to charge admission to some of the shows viewed here, the ultimate goal of Special Services, if the exchange profits can provide the additional money needed, is to eliminate this charge entirely. More on-base buying at the exchange would mean more money turned over to Special Services. The overall cost for last year's entertainment schedule, consisting of 14 shows was $31,573. The 45,000 people attending these events purchased tickets totaling $18,764. The cost to Special Services was $12,808 or about 28 cents per spectator.

Many are of the opinion Special Services caters only to organized "Varsity" sports such as the Camp Lejeune football, basketball, baseball, and boxing team. Actually, only seven per cent of the yearly budget is given over to these "post and station" sports. This figure breaks down to only 28 cents per spectator. Other recreation, however, receives a whopping 45 per cent, almost half of the budget.

Another facet of the yearly budget is proposed projects. A total of 21 projects to improve services and facilities are on the present agenda.

New furniture for Marston Pavilion is one of them. One hundred fiber glass porch chairs, 12 tables and 48 accompanying chairs will be installed at the Pavilion during 1960. The cost, over $2,500.

Replacement of boats, sails, boat-trailers and other equipment for water sports at the Wallace Creek Boat-house is a $3,000 project now under way.

The use of the facilities at the Hadnot Point Ceramic Hobby Shop has reached the point where expansion is considered necessary in order to take care of the number of patrons interested in this popular hobby. Plans are now in progress to install a Ceramic Hobby Shop at Montford Point for approximately $2,000.

Two of the largest projects undertaken by Special Services last year were the Riseley Fishing Pier and the beach cabanas. Riseley Pier was recently opened and the cabanas will be ready for occupancy next month. Like everything else of worth they cost recreation dollars. Approximately 250,000 of them. Eventually, when they have been paid for, it is hoped to add them to the many free recreation facilities here.

Camp Lejeune's largest Special Services United States Marine Corps here is changing. The two team best available.

When a purchase is made from one of the 70 exchange facilities an interest is bought in Special Services activities. The cycle from exchange profit to off-duty enjoyment is completed.

The Wilmington Classic

Those personnel and dependents of Camp Lejeune who attend the 12th Annual $15,000 Azalea Open at Wilmington's Cape Fear Country Club March 31-April 3, will see some of the finest golfers in the country.

J. B. (Bunny) Hines, president of the Wilmington Athletic Association, expressed pleasure with the first list of commitments when he stated: "We have some of the country's best golfers on this list, and we expect other commitments, as they arrive, to assure us of one of the best fields for this year's open that we have ever had."

Defending Champion Art Wall Jr. and two former titleholders head the first commitment list for the open. Two returning former champions are Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, who won the title in 1953, and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., the 1955 winner.

Fifteen tournament circuit golfers were included in the first commitment list received by the Wilmington Athletic Association, including Dow Finsterwald, third leading money winner of 1959; Doug Ford; Bill Collins of Crystal River, Fla.; Frank Stranahan, also playing out of Crystal River; Tom Neipote of Bronxville, N. Y.; Bob Goetz of Tulsa, Okla.; Paul Harney of Auburn, Mass.; J. C. Goosie of Nixa, Tenn.; Tony Lama of Napa, Calif.; Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Tex.; Ed Langert and John Gustin.

Wall, last year's leading money winner and "Pro-Golfer of the Year," is currently off the tour undergoing treatment for a swollen knee, but he will rejoin the circuit in Wilmington, if not sooner.

If he successfully defends his Azalea Open title, it will be the first time in the tournament's history that a winner has ever repeated.

The Big Question Among Golfers and Fans

Is the annual Wilmington Azalea classic a significant factor in determining how well the touring pros in this tournament will finish in the Masters event which will take place a week later?

This is the question among the pros and golfing enthusiasts each year as the Azalea Open approaches, and although the answer cannot be agreed upon by even the pros, the record shows this:

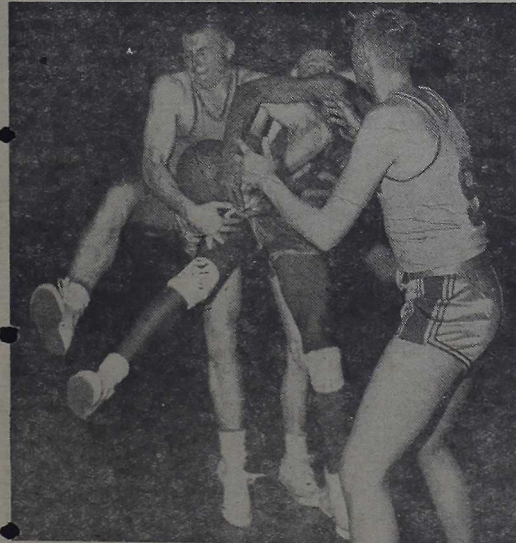

In nine years in which the Azalea Open has preceded the Masters, the top 10 finishers in Wilmington have gone on to Augusta and won: Four championships, one second place, two third places, five sixth places, five seventh places and one ninth place.

Veteran professional Jimmy Demaret believes the Azalea classic is a "MUST" tune-up for the Masters. He chooses his tournament appearances with greater selectivity nowadays, and the Wilmington match is usually one of his choices. Demaret believes the tournament to be a good one and an excellent opportunity to "shape-up" on the eve of his trip to Augusta.

This belief may go back as far as 1950, when jaunty Jimmy won seventh place in the Azalea Open and went on to win the Masters. In 1957 Doug Ford, 10th in the Azalea Open, copped the Masters title, while Arnold Palmer who lost a playoff to Howie Johnson in 1958 for the Wilmington title, several days later won the Master's championship.

Last year, Art Wall Jr. won first place in Wilmington and a week later placed first in Augusta. Thus, in four of nine years the Azalea top 10 have produced four Master's champions.

The answer, which is not entirely agreed upon by the experts, may be answered by the records. What will this year's Wilmington classic produce as far as the Masters is concerned? Only time will tell.

Second And Sixth Marines Are Leaders In 2nd Division Volleyball Competition

Third Battalion, Second Marines, swept through to an undefeated season last week to capture the National League of the 2nd Division intramural volleyball leagues while 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines remained on top in American league action with an unblemished 5-0 record. The American league still has six makeup games involving 1st Bn., Eighth Marines before the conclusion of league action. The National league wound up in a three-way tie for second place when 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, Service Battalion and 4th Bn., Tenth Marines all concluded league play with an identical 4-2 record. Second Bn., Tenth Marines, remained in the running for the American league crown with a 4-1 mark; one-half game behind the front-running 2/6 contingent.

Third Bn., Second Marines opened the second half of National League action with an easy two-game victory over 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines. The league champions vanquished the sixth-place Eighth Marines contingent 15-3 and 15-4. The 3/2 aggregation continued their winning ways, chalking up their fifth straight victory with a 15-3, 15-4 drubbing of the second-place 3d Bn., Sixth Marines sextet.

Third Bn., Second Marines clinched the title with their sixth successive triumph, a 15-0, 15-0 dual shutout over 3rd Bn., Tenth Marines.

Three Late Wins

After dropping two early season contests, 2d Service Bn. swept through to three important late season wins to assure themselves of a second place tie. Service Bn. opened the second half with a closely contested win over 4th Bn., Tenth Marines, taking the match by an identical 15-10 count in each game.

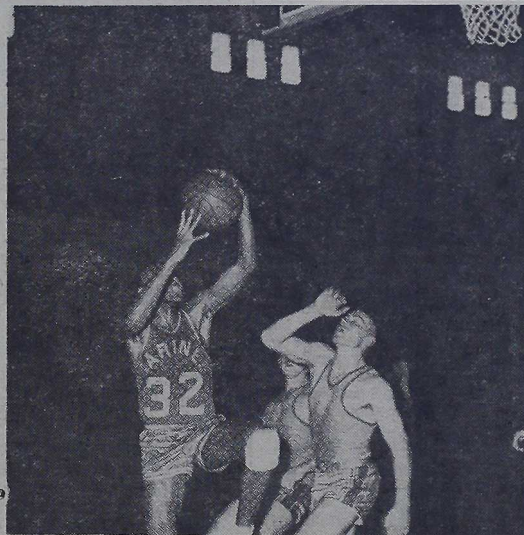

After capturing their initial two contests 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines ran into a stone wall when they tangled with the league champion, 3rd Bn., Second Marines contingent, dropping the set in two straight games. Third Bn., Sixth Marines was on the rebound in the following game as they drubbed the 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines sextet handily, 15-2 and 15-4. The Sixth Marines' aggregation continued their uphill battle for the number two position as they captured the final game of the season from 3rd Bn., Tenth Marines by 15-6 and 12-10 margins.

Cannoneers Shake Slump

Fourth Bn., Tenth Marines survived a mild mid-season slump with two late season victories to wind up in a deadlock for the number two position. The Cannoneers finished out the season in winning form as they edged the winless 2nd Anti-Tank Bn. squad, 15-10 and 15-11.

Second Bn., Sixth Marines, winning the bulk of their games in the first half competition, continued the victory march with a forfeit win over 1st Bn., Second Marines in the opening round of second half play.

Second Bn., Tenth Marines picked up a forfeit victory over the winless Headquarters Bn. team and followed up with a 15-6, 15-11 triumph over Medical Bn. The double victory kept the Cannoneers in the running for the league crown pending the outcome of the six 1st Bn., Eighth Marines make-up contests.

Bobby Duer Leads Division To Quad Basketball Crown

Headquarters Battalion, 2nd Marine Division, led by Bobby Duer, defeated Air Facility Team-2, 89-65 and 71-69, to win the 1960 Camp Lejeune Basketball Tournament last Thursday at the field house. Duer, scoring ace for the champions throughout the regular season, tossed in 51 points during the two-game set, aiding his teammates in defeating the top seeded Air Facility team.

Duer and Air Facility's Tom Hall tied for the scoring honors in the first game of the final series with 24 points apiece.

After snapping a first quarter 18-13 deadlock, the Division cagers, led by Duer with 10 points, grabbed a 37-25 half-time advantage.

Golf Slices

Act. MSgt. Bill O'Brien, Non-Commissioned Officer in Charge of the Camp Lejeune Golf Course, has announced that he has 10 FREE tickets available for each round of the 1960 Azalea Open to be held at the Cape Fear Country Club of Wilmington during March 31-April 3.

The tickets are available on a first-come, first-serve basis. All interested personnel should call Sergeant O'Brien at the golf course, 6-6751.

Golfers of Camp Lejeune are again requested to heed the signs placed on the green of the golf course, "Closed—Do Not Play." These signs are erected for the convenience of the players as well as the maintenance of the greens. Approximately $57,000 is spent annually to afford the personnel of the Camp Lejeune area and their dependents with one of the finest courses in North Carolina.

Aided by four one-handers from outside by Buck Shouder, the Division stretched the margin to 60-45 with seconds remaining in the third canto.

Air Facility's Charlie Short struck for a fast six points, helping to cut the lead to nine at 62-53, but that was it, as the Division out-pointed their opponents in the final period 27-12, coasting to an 89-65 victory.

The final game of the tournament saw the remarkable Duer strip the cords for 27 points and lead the Division over the Air Facility for the Quad-Cage Crown, 71-69. Tom Hall was high man for the Air Facility in the final thriller with eight field goals and six free throws for a total of 22 tallies.

Scoring the first tally of the final contest, the Division cagers inched into the lead, battling off several scoring threats by the Air Facility courtmen to head for the dressing room with a slim three-point half-time advantage, 32-29.

Led by Larry Draph and Willie Clark, the spirited Air Facility cagers battled into a 45-44 lead early in the third period, but the rally was smashed as Duer slammed six points into the bucket, giving the Division a 50-45 margin.

conducted afterwards. The newly elected officers for the OWC are as follows: Mrs. V. Marafine, president; Mrs. F. A. Steele, vice-president; Mrs. R. D. Swanson, secretary; Mrs. E. O. Reed, treasurer; and Mrs. F. W. Alber, assistant treasurer.

The out-going officers for the club are Mrs. H. S. Sabatier, president; Mrs. J. R. Most, vice-president; Mrs. R. M. Keim, secretary; and Mrs. R. M. Gregory, treasurer.

During the meeting, a gift was presented to the out-going president, Mrs. H. S. Sabatier, as a token of appreciation for her outstanding work last year and the time and effort she devoted to make the group's activities successful.

The social period of the affair was a "Crazy Hat" luncheon. The ladies displayed their most beautiful and unusual ideas of hat concoctions. Prizes were awarded to those women having the most striking hats.

Prize for the most unusual head-piece went to Mrs. L. W. Smith, who wore a miniature bridge table complete with cards, drinking glasses, peanut dishes, tally cards, and pencils. Honorable mention for the most unusual was given to Mrs. Robert V. Anderson, who displayed a large brim hat representing Squaw Valley Olympics. The hat was adorned with an artificial snow effect, trees, various figures engaging in snow sports, ice skaters, ski jumpers, etc.

The hat chosen to be the prettiest was owned by Mrs. J. W. Alber, newly elected assistant-treasurer. Her hat was designed in a tall crown, which was a bird in a net cage with a Paris ala mode peek-a-boo brim made of net decorated with red roses. Honorable mention for the prettiest was given to Mrs. H. G. C. Henneberger, who wore a large brim hat decorated with flowers, fruit, and ribbon with a giraffe in the middle of the crown.

Decorations, in keeping with the Irish tune, consisted of artistically arranged green shamrocks and hats of various sizes. The arrangement bordered the head table and the walls.

The ladies are preparing for their big fashion show to be held Saturday. With this recent election and installation, the women have been actively engaged in various social affairs, each member assigned to a particular job. The fashion show is expected to be one of the most successful shows to be presented by the wives.

Local Driver Assisted By Legal Office

At least one Marine at Camp Lejeune is convinced that the United States Government is "a government . . . for the people" and he's happy that he just happens to be one of those people.

Aet. Cpl. James L. Denny, a driver with Base Motor Transport, was driving his bus back from the 2nd Division's cold weather training camp in the Pisgah National Forest in the mountains of western North Carolina recently, when his brakes failed on the highway and the bus collided with another vehicle. The incident occurred near Wadesboro, N. C.

Post Bond

A state highway patrolman issued Denny a citation and the Marine driver was required to post an $18 bond. Upon returning to the Base, Denny reported the accident to his company commander, who looked into the matter and found his driver blameless.

The company commander, Maj. R. W. Hengesbach, asked the Base Legal Office for assistance. After they found that Denny definitely was not at fault, Base legal officials asked the Judge Advocate General of the Navy for official representation from the Department of Justice when the case went to court.

The Attorney General of the United States was the next authority to step in. He requested the U. S. Attorney for the Western District of North Carolina to look into the matter. As a result, the case was dismissed and Denny happily acknowledged receipt of his $18.

National Library Week To Be Observed April 3 To 9

The Armed-Forces will join 5,000 American civilian communities observing National Library Week, April 3-9. This assurance was given by Murray D. Snyder, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs, to William I. Nichols, chairman of the 1960 National Library Week Steering Committee.

Designed to dramatize the importance of libraries to the nation's cultural and educational progress, National Library Week will work toward five goals.

- 1) To provide a dramatic focus for continuing community reading development programs throughout the year. Long-range programs have already been initiated by most of the 5,000 communities participating in National Library Week last year.
- 2) To attract wide attention to library services. In the past, libraries have reported as much as 50 per cent increases in circulation after the National Library Week.

3) To increase awareness of libraries as a major community resource and build support for their expansion.

4) To foster reading activities in homes, schools, clubs and businesses.

5) To inspire people to more thoughtful reading.

In support of the program, President Eisenhower said, "The strength of our nation is founded on the minds and hearts of its citizens—individuals who have sought out the truth and formed their own convictions."

"In this search, the freedom to read is an indispensable asset. During National Library Week, I hope that all Americans will make a special effort to seek out the treasures of knowledge, ideas and spiritual insight provided by our libraries across the land."

A pamphlet on National Library Week for servicewide distribution will offer commanders and their staffs specific instructions for this year's observance.

Base Locator Can Pinpoint Any Camp Lejeune Marine

Three phones are ringing 24 hours a day giving locator service on approximately 250 to 300 persons a day, at the Base Locator office in building 37. The locator section has a card file of all personnel stationed at Lejeune, also a drop file is kept for one year on all personnel transferred, discharged or released.

The Base Locator is operated as a unit of the Base Postal Section and furnishes only the information contained in the Postal Director strip files on personnel on board this Base. Military addresses of individuals will not be given to representatives of commercial enterprises.

Between 10,000 and 15,000 pieces of mail are readressed per month. Also, unit diaries from 237 units located within the Quad-Command are processed to maintain the card file.

The Base Locator Clerk will ascertain the name and other identifying information of the party calling in order to decide whether or not information may be revealed. The locator unit is not an agency for verifying the military status of any individual.

Due to the large number of identical and similar names in the file, personnel requesting locator service shall furnish the first name, middle initial, last name, and serial number, if known, of the party to be located.

Persons physically presenting themselves at the Locator Office may be given information upon proper identification and when it can be ascertained that the information is not for commercial purposes.

The hours of operation for the Base Locator Unit are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily with calls between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. limited to emergencies.

Festival Will Host Beauties From Florida

Two Florida beauty queens, Shelia Lane Corum of Winter Haven, Fla., and Clara Ellen Heidt of Lake City, Fla., will participate in the North Carolina Azalea Festival to be held in Wilmington March 31 to April 3.

Highlighting the festival will be a three-hour parade featuring bands from Camp Lejeune, a parade of celebrities representing stars of stage, screen and television and political and military figures and finally, a parade of floats and marching units including members of the Tri-Command.

Miss Corum is currently the Cypress Gardens Queen of Hearts. She has won numerous beauty contests including the Sigma Chi Sweetheart at Florida Southern college and was chosen as Orange Bowl Princess.

An aquanaut at Cypress Gardens, Miss Heidt is the Flamevine Queen of the Gardens and was crowned Miss Newberrian at Newberry College.

Savings Bonds Are A Sound Investment In The Future

Savings bonds are, and have always been, looked upon as an investment in the future. However, the guarantee of peace is the only guarantee that there will ever be a future. America's only hope for continued world peace is our military, industrial, scientific and economic strength—strength which costs money to maintain. United States Savings Bonds can and do provide with peace power by providing the money necessary to maintain our strength.

The importance of each individual establishing an automatic savings plan in order to insure his own financial security cannot be over-emphasized.

The bond program provides a regular, safe and practical savings plan for civilian personnel through the Payroll Savings Plan, and for military personnel through the Bond Allotment Plan.

The new E and H series bonds paid three and three-quarters per cent interest when held to maturity last year. New E bonds now mature in seven years and nine months, and H bonds mature in 10 years.

Further information on the bond allotment plan may be obtained from unit commanders or from the Base Education Office.

Pin-Ups Wanted

In the past few months, the GLOBE has had many requests to resume one of its most popular features — the Home-town Pin-up. The GLOBE has received few if any home-town pin-ups recently, but if Quad-Command personnel desire to see this feature in their paper again and the GLOBE receives their pin-ups, the feature will be resumed. Anyone desiring to have a home-town pin-up published in the GLOBE is requested to bring a photograph to the GLOBE office, Bldg. 11, at any time. Photographs will be returned to the owner after publication.
