Lejeune Wins All-Marine

Schools Nearly Pupils

The schools opened an enrollment of 1,000 pupils in the Parade Grounds recently constructed School. The new classrooms accommodate 1,000 through five. Other members of the school have been almost a week, attending workshops, and reading in the classrooms. The school system is available to all who reside in government quarters, or in the housing areas, Park, Tarawa Terminus, Knox Trailer Park, Trailer Park or the Air Facility. If the parents live off-Base, but are assured by housing quarters on the Base, they may register for their children to attend school. The schools are in the junior or senior high category that require training from a school accredited by the Association of Colleges of the South. Schools are eligible for the Base schools. These include those whose parents live on the Base and who have full responsibility for transportation, discipline and attendance.

TAKE HOME BACON—Coach Hal Glasgow accepts the All-Marine baseball trophy from Brig. Gen. Frederick L. Wieseman after his Lejeune charges captured the coveted title for the first time in eight years by stopping Camp Pendleton last Friday, 3-1. General Wieseman commands the 1st Marine Brigade and was host for the Hawaii tournament. (More pictures on page 8.)

Fight Back After 8-1 Loss; Oust Hawaii 3-2, Scouts 3-1

CAMP H. M. SMITH, HAWAII—Coach Hal Glasgow's East Coast Champions garnered their first All-Marine baseball crown in eight years as they edged Camp Pendleton, 3-1, Friday in the final game of one of the most hotly contested Championship Tournaments in the history of the event. The Marines

Instructors To Test Abilities Here Tuesday

East Coast Regional Non-FMF Unit competitors in the Fifth Annual Technique of Instruction Contest will be welcomed aboard Tuesday by Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, commanding general, MCB.

The four-day contest is to begin Tuesday at 9 a.m. immediately following the general's welcome and will continue until Sept. 11.

Local personnel are invited and encouraged to attend the presentations in the staff NCO category to be held in Bldg. 62, and the sergeants and below competition in Bldg. 65.

East Coast units to which Camp Lejeune will play host are MCAS, Cherry Point; Hq. Bn., Washington, D. C.; MCS, Quantico; MCRD, Parris Island; MCSC, Albany; the First, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth and Fifteenth Naval Districts.

Senior judges for the Regional Contest are Lt. Col. H. C. Howard, staff NCO category, and Lt. Col. G. H. Hazel, sergeants and below category.

Marine Corps Base competition is currently being conducted to determine Regional finalists and is to be concluded tomorrow.

behind ace moundsman Gerry Smith, opened the tourney a week ago Monday with a stingy 6-2 victory over the Pendleton Scouts before 5,500 avid fans.

Pendleton bounced back the following night to hand the Hawaii Marines a 3-1 defeat. In the third game, the Islanders soundly spanked Lejeune, 8-1, behind the brilliant three-hit pitching of Don Furth. This threw the tournament into the first tie in history.

It was necessary to draw to decide the winner. (Continued on Page 8)

Col. Damke Serving As Base Inspector

Colonel Kenyth A. Damke relieved Col. Edmund B. Games as Marine Corps Base Inspector last Friday. Colonel Games has assumed duties as Base Comptroller. Prior to his assignment as Base Inspector, Colonel Damke was staff officer and senior assistant in the office of the Special Assistant to the Joint Chiefs of Staff for National Security Affairs, Washington, D. C.

Kansas Native
Born in Goodland, Kan., Colonel Damke graduated from the Fort Collins High school, Colo., in 1931. Upon graduation from high school he enrolled at Colorado A&M, also located in Fort Collins, and graduated in 1935 with a Bachelor of Science degree. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in July 1935.

Duty assignments held by the colonel prior to World War II include Battery Officer with the Tenth Marines Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla., and commanding officer of the Marine Detachment aboard the USS Phoenix from July 1940 until May 1943.

Coffee Bars To Help Curtail Auto Wrecks

Coffee bars in North Carolina and Virginia will be in operation over the Labor Day weekend in an effort to cut down the expected traffic toll.

Division Military Police, in conjunction with the Base Safety Office, will set up a 12-hour free coffee bar Monday night for weary motorists traveling on U.S. Route 258.

An invitation has also been extended to Lejeune motorists traveling north to stop for free coffee over the weekend on U.S. Route 1, at Triangle, Va.

The Dumfries-Triangle Rescue Squad will serve free coffee at the fire house there from 8 p.m. tomorrow until 6 a.m. Tuesday.

The local coffee bar will be on U.S. 258 at the intersection of State Route 41 (Hargett Crossroads), about 19 miles south of Kinston. (See COFFEE BARS, Page 3)

World War II
During World War II he attended the Advanced Field Artillery Course at Fort Sill and held positions as commanding officer, 2nd Bn., Thirteenth Marine Regiment, and later became executive officer of the same unit. In 1945 he was appointed Inspector of the Fifth Division and later that same year he assumed duties as Fifth Division G-1.

Following the war the colonel was assigned as commanding officer, Marine Barracks, Pier 91, Seattle, Wash., from March 1946 to August 1946. The colonel then attended the Senior Officers School at Quantico, Va., and upon completion became a Senior School Instructor until June of 1951.

Korean Conflict
Duty in Korea included Colonel Damke being assigned staff officer, Joint Strategic Plans and Operations Group, Far East Command, Secretary General staff, Far East. (See COLONEL DAMKE, Page 11)

Labor Day

Holiday routine will prevail throughout Camp Lejeune Monday in observance of Labor Day. The Base Commissary Store will be closed Monday and Tuesday next week due to the holiday on Sept. 7. The Central Exchange will be closed as usual on Monday, but will be open for business on Tuesday. The Naval Hospital wards and the local morgues will remain open for business—as usual. Please drive safely.

Seven Officers Here Picked For Colonel

Lt. Cols. John H. Brickley, Second Marines executive officer, and Winfield S. Haltom Jr., commanding officer of Base Materiel Bn., are two of the seven Camp Lejeune lieutenant colonels whose selections for temporary promotion to colonel were approved recently by President Eisenhower.

The other five listed in last week's GLOBE are: Lt. Cols. James B. Glennon, commanding officer of 2nd Anti-Tank Bn., Thomas J. O'Connor, Division Air Officer, James W. Love, commanding officer of 2nd Pioneer Bn., Roland J. Spritzen, Tenth Marines executive officer, and Maxie R. Williams, Sixth Marines executive officer.

Colonels Brickley and Haltom's names were inadvertently not published last week.

NEW BASE INSPECTOR—Col. Kenyth A. Damke, seated, discusses a few of the particulars concerning his assignment as Marine Corps Base Inspector last Friday with Col. E. B. Games, former Base Inspector. Colonel Games has assumed duties as Base Comptroller.

THE OLD AND NEW—Pfc Thomas C. Rowse compares an approved Marine Corps "swagger stick" with a longer one he found among the effects of his deceased great-aunt and uncle. Rowse plans to loan the older and longer stick to the Marine Corps Museum at Quantico for research and exhibition. The relic may date back to before World War I.

Mysterious Swagger Stick Stumps Old Corps Veterans

The well-worn tale of the old treasure-laden trunk, to be found in the attics of virtually every American home, has become a true story for a local marine. Pfc Thomas C. Rowse, Comm. Spt. Co., 8th Comm. Bn., Force Troops, is the proud owner of a rather mysterious Marine Corps "antique." His mother found a swagger stick with a Marine Corps emblem embossed on it among the effects of Rowse's deceased great-aunt and uncle.

Rowse brought the stick back to Lejeune when returning from a recent leave. Its characteristics aroused not only Rowse's curiosity, but that of many officer and enlisted veterans in his outfit.

About four inches longer than swagger sticks in current use, the antique is tan, slightly flexible and has a brass tip with a silver head. Embossed on the side of the stick's head is the old-style Corps emblem. Noteworthy differences of the emblem are the no longer used longitude and latitude lines on the globe and the different way the line fouls the anchor.

Origin Puzzling

From its characteristics, the veterans in Rowse's unit guess the stick to be from the "Banana Wars" period, while others insist the relic was used in World War I. Research on the emblem dates it between the two world wars. One marine veteran wagered that the swagger stick was used no earlier than the late 1930s.

When asked about his family's history, Rowse said his family has only been in this country for three or four generations. As far as Grandmother remembers, "there were never any marines in the family on either side before me." Rowse believes the swagger stick could have been a gift from one of his great-uncle's many friends and professional colleagues.

"My uncle was a movie actor" he said. "Maybe it was used as a movie 'prop' or maybe it was a souvenir from one of his many cross-country trips," Rowse guessed.

Museum Research

The Long Island, N.Y. radio telegrapher plans to write to the Marine Corps Museum at Quantico, asking authorities there if they are interested in doing the necessary research to date the swagger stick's usage.

"If they want it," he said, "I'll donate it to them for exhibition. I just want to find out how old it is and would be glad to let the Museum display the stick," he explained.

"Who knows, he added, "The thing, now or someday in the future, could be worth a lot of money."

Urge Caution For Drivers As School Starts

Now that schools are in full operation throughout the Camp Lejeune area and surrounding communities, Col. H. G. Lawrence Jr., Base Provost Marshal, cautions all motorists to drive with extreme care.

Drivers are urged to be especially careful when driving near school buildings, buses, cross walks, and to observe the school speed zones.

The provost marshal said all motorists should come to a complete stop when approaching school buses from either direction when the bus "flashers" are in operation. Violators are subject to disciplinary action on the government reservation and arrest, heavy fines, and penalties on city streets and state roads by civilian law enforcement agencies.

The State Motor Club has also warned Camp Lejeune motorists to use courtesy, caution and common sense to combat the usual staggering toll of accidents, deaths and injuries during this Labor Day weekend.

The 3-C suggestion was made by the motor club's president, Thomas B. Watkins.

Coffee Bars

and 12 miles north of Richlands.

Five MP's under the supervision of Act. SSgt. William S. Bittle, and a cook from 2nd Pioneer Bn., will begin operations at 6 p.m. Monday and will continue until 6 a.m. Tuesday.

Marines as well as other military personnel and civilians are urged to stop at the coffee bars for coffee and donuts. Restrooms will be available at the site of the coffee bar. Ample parking areas are also at the site with signs denoting "Free Coffee Ahead" marking the highway in both directions.

Hospital Staff Fetes Birthday Of BuMed

A cake-cutting ceremony at the Naval Hospital Sunday marked the 117th Anniversary of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. Capt. Lawrence E. Bach, hospital commanding officer, addressed a gathering of more than 150 enlisted, officer and civilian staff members who attended the birthday celebration.

In his talk, Captain Bach briefly summarized the history of the "Bureau" and said, "It is a source of great personal satisfaction and pride to be a member of this team. I take great pleasure in commending each of you, officer and enlisted, regular or Reserve, for your contribution to the honor and prestige of the Navy Medical Department."

Bureau's History

The name is the same after 117 years, but the Navy's Bureau of Medicine and Surgery is synonymous with medical advancements.

Gleaming white hospitals equipped with the latest in equipment and staffed by specialists are far removed from the Navy's beginning in 1798. Then there was no medical department, only individuals, and a severely wounded sailor had little hope of recovery. Now the death rate in the Navy has fallen to its lowest point in history. This was two per cent for Navy and Marine Corps personnel wounded in combat during the Korean conflict.

Retained Name

On Aug. 31, 1842 Congress established the present Bureau, which is the only one in the Navy Department retaining its original name. The first hospital was established at Norfolk, and began receiving patients in 1830. Others followed at Philadelphia in 1833, Boston in 1836, and Brooklyn in 1838.

The title, Surgeon General, was not created until 1871 and is now held by Rear Adm. Bartholomew W. Hogan, recently re-appointed by the President to a second two-year term.

Women Nurses

The first female nurses on record in the Navy were used during the Civil War. The Nursing Sisters, who volunteered only for service during the war, served aboard the hospital ship, Red Rover, a captured Mississippi sidewheeler. It was not until 1908 that the Navy Nurse Corps was established.

The Medical Department in the Navy today ranks high in the confidence of the men who know that the professional care available to them is second to none.

It's easy to tell when you are on the right road—it's all upgrade.

H. B. Hargett, First IRO Here Retires From Active Career

Harold B. Hargett, top-ranked Civil Service employee here since 1944, retires tomorrow after almost 25 years of service with the federal government. Members of the IRO office gave a going-away luncheon-party for Hargett last Friday. Mr. Ralph Piper, employee relations and services officer, presented the out-going IRO with a gold wrist watch. Mr. Piper will be the acting Civil Service head here until late this month when Mr. Michael A. Califano, now working at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory, White Oak, Silver Springs, Md., takes over.

HAROLD B. HARGETT
...retires tomorrow from IRO

Hargett was assistant Industrial Relations Officer under a military IRO for more than 14 years before the position was established as a civilian post in January, 1958.

As field representative for the 4th Civil Service Region beginning in 1942 Hargett covered the Nation's capital, the Virginias and the Carolinas with headquarters in Midway Park. He recruited, examined, appointed and issued travel arrangements to government employees in this area to points throughout the world. He was transferred to the assistant IRO post in 1944.

ANNIVERSARY—Lt. Roger F. Schindele, MSC, Naval Hospital commanding officer, "does the honors" by cutting the cake last Sunday at the hospital honoring the 117th birthday of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. Capt. Lawrence E. Bach, MC, hospital commanding officer, right, and assistant chief nurse, Lt. Cmdr. J. J. Wade, observed. The ceremony was preceded by an address by Capt. Bach and followed by a full-course ham and roast dinner for the hospital staff.

Considerate Motorists

Most of us know what it is to be without transportation. For this reason, we often stop for hitchhikers knowing this considerateness can very well cause us to end up without wheels, wallets, and other valuables.

Few of us, however, realize that motorists, as well as hitchhikers, can be arrested for waiting for riders, picking up, or discharging passengers on approach roads to freeways, toll roads, and tunnels.

Many states are diligently enforcing regulations regarding both hitchhikers and motorists. Military Police are assisting these civilian law enforcement agencies where military personnel are the violators.

Hardly a week goes by that the Provost Marshal here doesn't receive a report from civilian authorities about a Camp Lejeune marine observed hitchhiking or walking in areas where he was obviously attempting to hitchhike.

The reasoning behind these rules and regulations is readily understood. The Maryland State Roads Commission points out that from past experience they have learned that 50 per cent of the accidents that occur on their approach roads become a chain reaction and cause much property damage and injuries to kindhearted persons stopping for hitchhikers.

Maryland, as well as other state roads commissions, point out that they have the utmost respect and are deeply indebted to servicemen. But, where lives and property are at stake, they have no alternative.

Military discipline isn't the only punishment awaiting motorists and hitchhikers who violate these state traffic laws. For example, violators are subject to immediate arrest for walking or hitchhiking on Maryland thruways and are fined from $10 to $100. Motorists are fined a like amount for waiting for a rider or picking up or discharging passengers on a thruway.

Avoid the consequences of hitchhiking by being certain you have the necessary funds for your leave or liberty. And, motorists, kind-hearted as you may be, you'll be way ahead if you ignore hitchhikers, excepting, of course, those at authorized military pick-up stations.

Monday Will Tell

Tomorrow hundreds of Camp Lejeune Marines will climb into their cars to start on Labor Day trips. Some will be joining their families and friends for the weekend while others may be joining the hereafter permanently.

Accidents, deaths, and injuries have grown so steadily over Labor Day periods that the National Safety Council outlines official reporting periods to record the fatalities. This year's period begins tomorrow at 6 p.m. and ends at midnight Monday, Sept. 7.

Will you be one of this year's statistics? Why not use the proverbial horse sense, instead of horse power?

OFFICER OPPORTUNITIES—

Fifth in a series of articles on ways for enlisted marines to become officers has been released by HQMC.

Marines who meet the eligibility requirements may apply for the Marine Corps Aviation Cadet Program, which leads to a commission as a second lieutenant in the Corps' air arm.

Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 24, inclusive, and must have completed two years of college. In the absence thereof, individuals who have completed one year of college, or have the service-accepted equivalent (attainment of a satisfactory score on the USAFI College Level Test), and have a GCT of at least 120 plus a minimum Pattern Analysis score of 116, are eligible to apply.

Marines of any enlisted grade may apply, but they must be unmarried and agree to remain unmarried until commissioned. Physical qualifications are rigid and no waivers are permitted by the physical qualification board.

Qualified applicants are given a special examination called the "Aviation Selection Test." Those who obtain satisfactory scores are then interviewed by local selection boards. Candidates are finally selected by Headquarters Marine Corps and attend an 18-month flight training course.

For further information about the Marine Corps Aviation Cadet Program, see MCO 1560.11.

Chaplain's Corner

During the conversion of the ill-fated Normandie from a French luxury liner to Naval transport, one small job called for four stanchions in the main lounge to be burned away. One base clip remained to be cut. The job was practically done. The metal fire screen was removed, and the fire watch started for the door. It was 2:25 p.m., Feb. 9, 1942.

The burner had been working near several bales of kapok life preservers, and these caught fire. In the early confusion, the fire pail of water was kicked over. A portable fire extinguisher failed to work. The fire hydrants had French threads and the hose fitting had American threads. You guessed it—no fit. The New York City fire department alarm on the bridge failed to work. Eventually, 36 fire trucks and three fire-boats responded all with one idea in mind—to pour as much water as possible into the ship.

In justice it must be said that it looked as though the whole ship was burning because smoke in large volumes was coming from an extensive area. But no fireman asked any workman where the fire was or how large it was. Too much water was trapped in staterooms above the center of gravity. The ship, the largest the French had ever built and the pride of the French nation, capsized at her pier in New York harbor.

The atom did not have to show us the chain reaction. Many errors do that. That is why in our lives it is so necessary to have some defense set-up against a chain of errors.

The chain of errors process is especially dangerous in the intellectual and spiritual life, as the old time McGuffey Readers so thoughtfully pointed out to youngsters of many generations. Only constant vigilance, and a determined will to do something about it can help. No one in the early stage of the Normandie debacle had any idea what would happen, what all was wrong. But nature is ruthless; it does not forgive a mistake. Look into your soul . . . do you see another Normandie?

Short Round

Where is the field music that sounded Arms' bugle call on Dec. 7, 1941, at Pearl Harbor Barracks?

The marine bugler, then a corporal, is Act F. W. Rieck, who is now serving at the Marine 29 Palms, Calif.

Rieck was crossing the Pearl Harbor parade in hand, on that fateful day almost 18 years ago, heard low-flying aircraft a few minutes before he looked up and saw the red circle insignia of the he immediately sounded the call to arms which troops into action.

Rieck, an instrument repairman with the Band, still has the battered bugle on which he historic call in his possession.

"Reckless," the famous Mongolian horse in Korea with the 1st Marine Division, has a "acting" title under the new rank structure as staff sergeant.

Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, Commandant of the Marine Corps, promoted "Reckless" Monday during a regimental parade and review held by the Fifth Marine Regiment at Camp Pendleton.

Reckless earned her fame as a marine during the battle for Hill Vegas in Korea when she made 51 hazardous trips through 1,800 yards of "no-man's-land" to deliver ammunition to hard-pressed Marine gunners.

It was befitting that General Pate present the promotion as he was the 1st Marine Divisioner when Reckless performed her heroic deed. It is owned by the 1st Marine Division Association, stationed at Pendleton's stables.

What started as immediate action when his lighter failed to function has developed into a hobby for Act. MSgt. Charles F. X. Houts, Pal Information Chief.

"When my lighter acted up, I tried to fix it, explained. "Many hours and bitter words later, I was a hatful of spare parts and an unlit cigarette."

That was more than a year ago. Since then he has become skilled in repairing lighters and has 140 lighters of all sizes and shapes. Seems Houts aren't as patient as he, and they discard their lighters if they fail to fire.

Plans Announced OWC Welcome Tea

Officers Wives Club will start this fall season with Welcome Tea Sept. 21 sponsored by Group I. The 2:30 and is given to welcome all wives, new and offer the opportunity for each to become members Lejeune Officers Wives Club. All wives of officers, and renewal of old friendships, and the making of new friends," club leaders said.

Registration

Following the Tea, registration for classes will be open to all paid members.

The classes are varied, exciting and interesting. This year's agenda includes:

Copper tooling, flower arranging, shell craft, knitting, sewing for beginners, great books, figure control, golf for beginners, bowling, Jr. Wives Group, dancing (Hula), book reviews, and a sewing workshop.

There will also be four classes of bridge. These include beginners, intermediate, advanced, and a couples class. So bring your cookie jar savings and have a full 59-60. Membership cards will not be required for the tea. However, membership cards must be shown when registering for the activity classes.

Reservations for sitting service while attending the Welcome Tea must be made in advance by calling 6-6723.

OWC Group I Sets First Luncheon Date

The first luncheon of Group I of the Officers' Wives Club will be sponsored by the wives of the Naval Research Laboratory on Sept. 10. It will be a social "Get-Acquainted" gathering for all old members and new members. The get-together begins at 11:40 a.m. with lunch being served at 12:15 p.m.

There will be no phone reminders this year as written invitations will be sent to all. Reservations may be made no later than Tuesday by calling one of the following: Mrs. R. F. Schindele, 4-4356; Mrs. M. E. Naylor, 6-6431; Mrs. B. T. Jones, Jay 6610; Mrs. E. F. Patillo, 6-6153; or Mrs. E. F. Smith, 6-6248. Persons are requested not to call the Officers' Club.

Orient Food Served At Messhall 54

A noon meal served in Messhall 54 last week rang a familiar bell with marines who have been stationed in the Orient.

Some 850 regular patrons of the newly remodeled messhall enjoyed a Japanese dinner which was prepared as the first of a series of meals from "around the world."

Included in the Oriental menu were French bird nest soup, suki-yaki, Japan fried rice, Japan fried shrimp, salad bar, hard rolls, ice tea with lemon slices, sugar cookies, chilled milk, coffee and nipon egg rolls.

To add to the theme of the occasion, five Woman Marines served the meals in bright colored kimonos which were furnished by two marines who had served in Japan. The Woman Marines were Pfc's Mary McClain, Mary Spivey, June Gorneau and Pvt. Cecilia Brown and Evelyn G. Dingsu.

A selected assortment of Oriental recordings were played as background music, setting a true atmosphere for the Japanese meal.

Special guests for the noon meal included Col. P. R. Colmer, Force Troops chief of staff; Maj. Van D. Bell, executive officer, Hq. Bn.; Capt. L. P. Day, Base food inspector; Capt. M. H. Tart, Division food inspector; Capt. E. B. Moroney, commanding officer, Woman Marine Company; Capt. J. J. Sullivan, adjutant, Hq. Bn.; and WO D. L. Hamlet, Base mess administrator.

Messhall 54's future plans call for additional "foreign" meals, adding variety to the food prepared for Messhall 54 marines.

Wives Club Slates 'Hospitality Brunch'

Group V of the Officers' Wives Club will hold a Hospitality Brunch September 11, at the Paradise Point Club for all members of Group V.

The Brunch will begin at 10 a.m. and hostesses for the morning will be the wives of Officers of the 6th Marine Regimental Staff. Mrs. M. R. Williams will be senior Hostess.

Reservations will be taken through the Group V Hospitality Committee when they call to welcome members to the group.

Mrs. W. J. McKennan, Honorary Chairman of Group V, Mrs. W. E. Antley, Chairman, and the other members of the groups executive board will present a program designed to acquaint everyone with the functions of the various committees within the group.

MEDICAL ANNIVERSARY—Navy Lt. Frank M. Moury, left, Medical Officer at the Courthouse Bay Dispensary, accepts the first piece of anniversary cake from Lt. Col. Donald V. Nahrgang, executive officer, MCES, commemorating the 117th anniversary of the Naval Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. The cake-cutting ceremony Monday followed a steak dinner with all the trimmings for 12 corpsmen and officers at Engineer Schools Bn. and AmTrac Bn. at the Courthouse Bay messhall. (See additional anniversary story and photo on page 3.)

Wilmington Coed Receiving Summer On-The-Job Training At Naval Hospital

The U. S. Naval Hospital here has a "special" Red Cross employee, Miss Katrina Tiedeman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John A. Tiedeman of Wilmington, N. C. Miss Tiedeman is working at the hospital as a member of a newly formed Summer Placement Program sponsored by the Red Cross at four military hospitals in the Southeast area. Hospitals at Ft. Bragg, N. C., Ft. Campbell, Ky., and Ft. Benning, Ga., are also participating in the program which provides on-the-job training for outstanding college students majoring in recreation.

When asked what she thinks of the summer course, Miss Tiedeman replied, "Everyone has been wonderful to me." The interview also revealed that the young lady's father, Dr. John Tiedeman, a former Naval Reserve officer, is still serving the Navy in a civilian capacity. To this Miss Tiedeman adds, "I feel right at home working in a Naval establishment."

Each new patient assigned to one of her wards is interviewed by the pretty young Red Cross worker and whenever possible, she tries to introduce patients with like interests.

Through the American Red Cross, these college seniors are given a two-week orientation period and then are assigned specific recreation responsibilities for the remainder of the three-month program.

Miss Tiedeman, a graduate of a Raleigh high school, is a senior at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. She is performing duties as a Red Cross recreation aide at the Naval Hospital and her duties consist of providing various means of recreation for the hospital's patients.

Among the activities the Red Cross trainee has engaged in, is a "Book Discussion Group," which she organized among the bed pa-

Division Troops Well Into Latest NELM Cruise

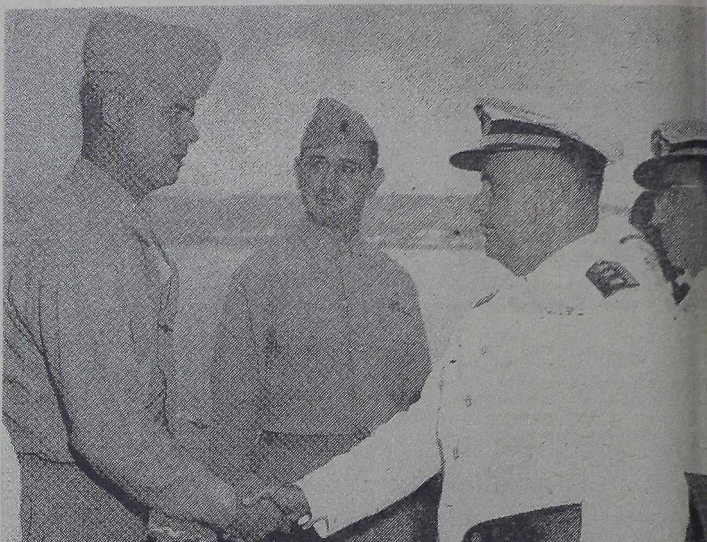

The 3rd Bn. (Reinf.), Eighth Marines, arrived in the Mediterranean early last month, relieving the 3rd Bn., Second Marines, who returned here Aug. 23, after serving six months in the Med.

Aboard ships of Amphibious Squadron 6, the Eighth Marines' unit conducts their training as usual which includes weapons inspections, physical conditioning, military subjects and lectures. Special classes are held on the mission of the Sixth Fleet both ashore and afloat in the Mediterranean area.

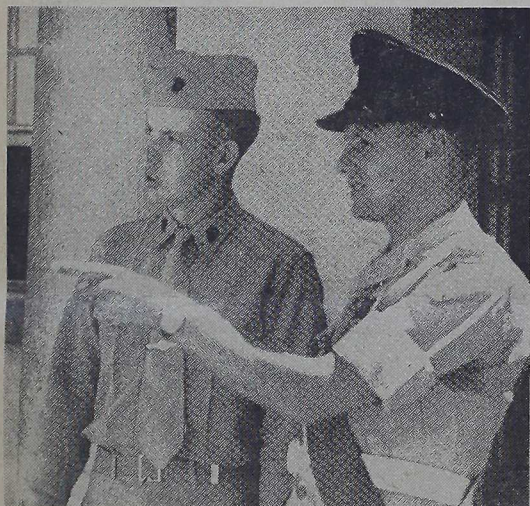

It is a welcome sight to the men of the Sixth Fleet to see a helicopter land on the fantail of their LST's and LSD's every Sunday morning, for it means that the "flying chaplains" are making their weekly circuit.

On land and at sea the job of the Fleet and the marines attached is to achieve and maintain a peak of combat readiness. In port the secondary mission of the Leathernecks of the 3rd Bn. (Reinf.), Eighth Marines, will be to promote goodwill and understanding.

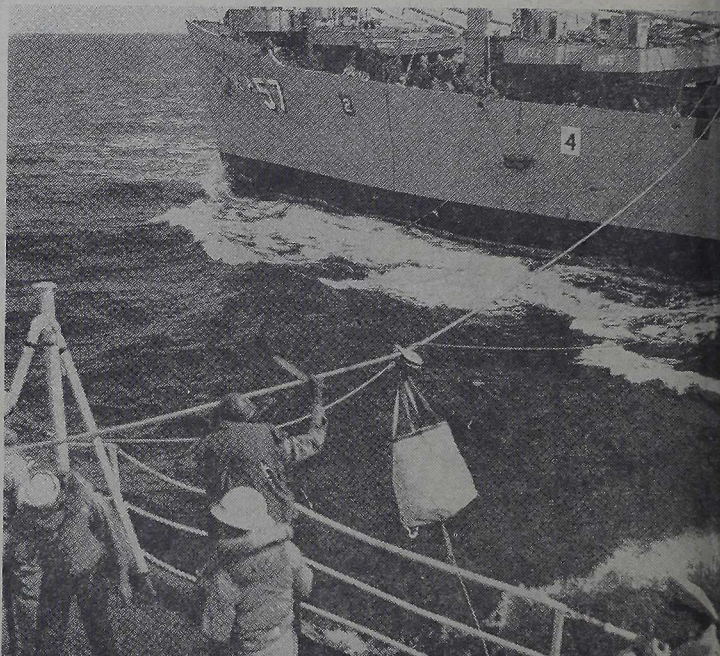

The reinforced battalion, composed of elements from 2nd Division and Force Troops, with an HMR-262 detachment, are tentatively scheduled to visit Spain, France, Italy, Greece and Turkey with practice amphibious assaults at Sardinia and Crete.

WELCOME ABOARD—Lt. Col. J. F. Paul, commanding officer, 3rd Bn. (Reinf.), Eighth Marines, greets Spanish Marine Capt. Manuel de la Cruz as he and other officers of the Spanish Corps board USS Taconic. The visitors joined the Marine battalion at Algericas, Spain, and will accompany American counterparts for the remainder of the Mediterranean cruise. Maj. Gilbert H. Bn. executive officer, center, was on hand for the ceremonies.

MARINE TELLS MARINE—Royal Marine Sgt. Ken Tohasson of York, England, points the way to Pfc Jim Stigers in Gibraltar during the recent stopover there made by members of the reinforced 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines. While "The Rock" is but two and three-quarters miles long and three quarters of a mile wide, the mixture of Moroccan, Spanish and the "King's" English present a confusing picture of direction to Private Stigers, a native of Louisville, Ky.

THE SHOW MOVES ON—Lt. Col. J. F. Paul's 3rd Bn. (Reinf.), Eighth Marines, enjoy the latest Hollywood productions "thanks" to the efficient high line transfer of films at sea. Running at normal speed, ships of Amphibious Squadron Six about 30 yards, connect with each other by a "heaving line" and then exchange films from ship to ship.

CIRCUIT RIDER—Navy Lt. Cmdr. Robert F. Lang, Chaplain's Corps, boards an HUP-2 helicopter as he starts on his Sunday visits to ships of the Amphibious Squadron Six in the Mediterranean. Prior to the introduction of the helicopter, many smaller ships of the Fleet did not enjoy the services of an ordained chaplain.

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE of duty as embarkation NCO is recognized by a meritorious mast held for Act. GySgt. D. H. Jones. Lt. Col. J. F. Paul, commanding officer, 3rd Bn. (Reinf.), Eighth Marines, presented the sergeant with a meritorious NCO appreciation during ceremonies held at sea aboard USS Taconic, flagship of Amphibious Squadron Six.

Highlights Of '59 National Matches

Local Entries Place High In Many Events

Local shooters proved themselves worthy representatives at the 1959 National Rifle and Pistol Matches as the last round went over the butts at Camp Perry, Ohio, last week.

The 2nd Division shooters captured 21 team awards and 13 individual awards, while MCB placed high in at least three matches. Force Troops shooters took a team match and 13 individual awards.

Match Awards

Featured among the awards taken by the Division team were a 393-57v score to top all Marine teams for a third place in the Rumanian Trophy Match. The Division team also placed third in the Rumbold Trophy match, losing the match by a scant two points. Force Troops' team took top honors in the Nevada Trophy Team match and by doing so won six of their 13 individual honors. The 2nd Division team took second place in this match.

Cpl. Charles B. Galkowski, Rifle Range detachment, MCB, won the General Shepherd Trophy for firing the combined high Marine Corps Aggregate score in the National Trophy Individual and Team matches. He was one of three Base shooters who were TAD to the Marksmanship Training Unit at San Diego to represent the Marine Corps team at Camp Perry.

The Division Pistol Team entered eight shooters in the matches and won seven individual awards.

Individual Awards

Outstanding among the Division individual rifle awards were: The Wimbledon Cup Match, a 1000-yard course, in which Act. SSGT. Ronald Chabot won a 4th Silver Medal with a score of 98x100-12v. He was one of 50 winners in the match. In the 200-yard rapid Coast Guard Trophy match, Act. Cpl. James Kuroski fired a 100x100-4v for 10th Expert.

Act. Cpl. Kenneth Edge, Division, captured a 2nd Expert in the Navy Cup Match. Capt. John Roe, captain of the Force Troops team, also placed in the 200-yard off-hand match, taking 1st Sharpshooter.

Act. GySgt. Robert M. Hayes, 2nd Division and newly promoted Sgt. Eric England, a Base delegate to the MTU "all-marine" team, became members of the "President's Hundred" in the President's Match at the annual competition.

FUTURE CMC—Maj. Gen. David M. Shoup, next Commandant of the Marine Corps, watches scores on Leatherneck targets through a scope during the Rumanian Trophy Match at the 1959 National Rifle Matches during his two-day visit to Camp Perry, Ohio, Aug. 26. With him is Lt. Col. Walter R. Walsh, of Arlington, Va., captain of the Marine Corps Rifle and Pistol team.

CHAMP—Using an M-1 rifle instead of aerial guns, Kenneth Erdman, of Torrance, Calif., shot his way to Reserve Service Rifle Championship and captured the both in the same day at the 1959 National Rifle Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio. The aviator-marksman fired a potent 489 in 47 shots in the tiny V-ring in the five matches that make the Service Rifle Championship to outshoot all other military rings in the 1959 world series of shooting. In the Navy Cup Match, Captain Erdman fired a perfect 100 score with nine in the V-ring to outshoot some 2,200 of the nation's top regular military, reservists and civilian, to keep the cover-up in the Navy-Family.

SHOOTER—Cpl. Charles B. Galkowski, Base RR Detachment, was awarded the General Shepherd Trophy by Brig. Gen. S. R. Dector, Marine Corps Development Center, Quantico, at 1959 National Rifle Matches. Galkowski won the trophy for firing the Marine Corps aggregate score in the National Trophy Individual matches at the "world series" of marksmanship.

TOAST TO PERFECTION—Marine long distance high powered rifle winner, Act. SSGT. Donald S. Wagner, left, Kannapolis, N. C., pours from the Leech Cup into the Wimbledon Trophy held by MSgt. Frank O. Freeman, San Diego, following their dual wins at Camp Perry. In the two 1,000-yard matches, the shooters fired 100x100-17v and 100x100-19v, respectively.

Pendleton tied it up in the third when their big stickman, Jim Spurling, blasted a solo homer over the rightfield fence.

For the next five innings of play the two teams could chalk nothing but goose eggs on the scoreboard. Then, in the bottom of the eighth with two outs, Don Federico singled, Armstrong walked and McCollum stepped up to win his own ball game.

McCollum singled scoring Federico. Armstrong, racing home with an insurance tally, was safe at the plate on a wild throw. The final count showed the Marines with three runs on eight hits and one error. Pendleton had a 1-3-2 count.

Glasgow Earns Glory Slice

Winning the All-Marine diamond tourney was a team effort. Coach Hal Glasgow would be the first to voice that sentiment. But the level-headed, fan-liked, sometimes fiery, always modest Glasgow deserves more than a small slice of the glory.

Look at the record. Lejeune played in the first baseball All-Marine in 1951 and won it with one of the greatest teams ever fielded here. The following year, and in 1953, the memorable Bob Grimm of Major League fame was burning up the mound for Lejeune. But in neither year could the Marines reach the big tournament though both were winning seasons.

From 1954 through 1957, the Marines didn't even come close. In two of those years, sportswriters said at season's end "we looked potentially good on paper." But all those years were losers.

So then, in 1958 Coach Glasgow arrived. We reached the classic playoffs after a six-year famine. And then we won. Casey Stengel couldn't have done better.

DIVISION FOOTBALL

Sixth Marines To Be Tough But Eighth's Coach Unhappy

Two more contenders in the 2nd Marine Division intramural football league are engaged in practice sessions, preparing for the opening of the 1959 season later this month.

The Sixth Marines, coached this year by Lt. R. H. Alberigi, and the Eighth Marines, with Lt. Richard Moran as head mentor, will be very much in contention for the Division football crown.

Although the Sixth hasn't fielded an intramural team for the past two seasons, Coach Alberigi has a large, enthusiastic squad readying the attack. Led by Terral Elder at tackle and "Pappy" Argazzi at center, the forward wall has plenty of weight and depth.

Bob Michelson at the guard position and D. W. Hampton and Earl Holmes at the ends have shown promise in pre-season workouts.

Backfield Competition

Competition for starting berths in the backfield is intense, with seatbacks Tom Bassano, Dave Hochtshaw, John Ferrugson, and Bob McLaughlin vying for halfback positions. Much of the scoring is expected to come from the fullback slot, where two standout contenders are Ray Phillips and Oliver Wolf. Both men have shown they are capable of gaining yardage when needed.

Due to the lack of capable candidates for the quarterback position, Coach Alberigi has converted end Lloyd Fletcher to the number one ball-handling slot and has hopes that Fletcher will be in top shape for the opening kickoff.

Coach Moran of the Eighth Marines is pessimistic about his chances to capture this year's Division championship. He cites quite a few reasons why the Eighth may have difficulty in overcoming opponents. One is inexperience. There are only two returnees from last year's grid squad. Another reason is shortage of personnel.

Only 33

Due to the relatively small turnout and the number of cuts made, there are only 33 candidates remaining as the opening game time draws near. Coach Moran says there are also a number of injuries plaguing the team.

Willie Taylor, halfback from last year's eleven and one of the fastest men in the conference, is bothered by a bad knee. Also on the injured list is center J. J. Lasky, an all-state tackle from Massachusetts who has been switched to center to make up for some of the weakness in the middle of the line. However, both boys are working out with the team and are expected to be in shape to start the season.

Currently looking best at the end positions for the Eighth Marines are Bob Greene and Don Sellers. Greene played end for the Eighth last year. Sellers lacks experience. (See FORCE TROOPS, Page 10)

Force Troops Football Loop Looks Lively Though Small

A half-size but lively Force Troops intramural football league will start play on Sept. 16 with three teams providing the action in double round encounters. One team looks powerful, another is already singing the blues, hampered by manpower shortages, and the third will be covered next week in a final pre-season look at the league.

The three outfits fielding a team in this year's Force Troops play are the 2nd Field Artillery Group, 8th Engineer Bn. and Marine Air Group 26 from the Air Facility.

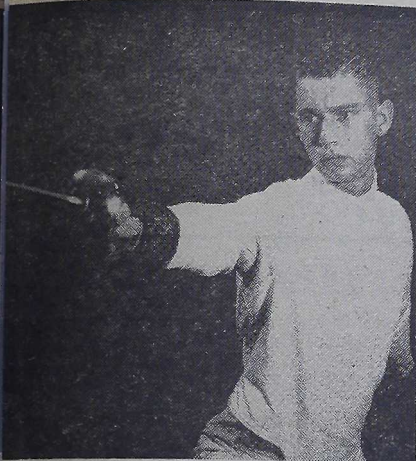

There were six contenders for the 1958 crown. Two of them, 8th Comm Bn. and Headquarters, 8th Motor Transport Bn., are not fielding 1959 teams. The 2nd Force Service Regiment will play in the MCB league this year since that league has converted to 11-man ball. The Base league played six-man ball in 1958.

Coaching the present Force Troops entries are: MAG-26, Lt. H. D. Stark; 2nd FAG, Lt. Tom Williams; and 8th Engineers, Lt. Lamar Light.

Good FAG Squad

Lieutenant Williams is not making any predictions for his Artillery squad but he says he has a "pretty good team." Practice has been progressing for three weeks with 28 men out.

There are few returnees from 1958 but the squad is bolstered by (See DIVISION FOOTBALL, Page 10)

WALTNER—Act. Cpl. Rudolph Waltner demonstrates the way to hold a foil and sent him into competition. The young marine is seeking some oppo- blade. He is willing to teach a beginner.

Polished College Fencer Seeking Blade Opponent

Where footwork and muscle coordination are heavily it is a wonder there are so few advocates which combines the two in a high degree of refinement. Yet such is apparently the case in the Marine Corps. For nearly two years, Act. Cpl. Rudolph Waltner, presently a QUARTERBACK QUARTET—Talented signal callers who will field-general Lejeune's grid eleven when the season opens at home on Sept. 12 are, from left, John Wuenschel (a lefty), Bob Fearnside, Marshall Newman and John Mugford. Newman was the Marines' deft quarterback last year and will carry the big load this season. Wuenschel started for Quantico in '58 and will probably see plenty of action.

11 Locals On All-Star Team

An All-Star team was picked from the Hawaii Tournament and left Sunday for a six-week exhibition tour of Japan and Okinawa.

Second place Camp Pendleton sent Pete Cherinko, Gerry Brunelle and Chris Schmidt.

Hawaii placed hurlers Don Furth and Bill Haywood and shortstop Rudy Faust on the squad.

Two other players were added who did not compete in the All-Marine.

Hawaii's coach Lt. Col. Raymond "Hap" Spuhler was named officer in charge of the team and left for Tokyo in advance of the team. The team will return to Hawaii on Oct. 6.

POWERHOUSE TRIO—Three Lejeune fullbacks who will spell plenty of trouble for opponents this fall are, from left, Carlton Smith, Ken Easley and Martin Klein. Easley, described by head coach Jim Quinn as a "Bullwhip," will probably be the starter, though Smith is expected to give him a run for his money and could ease him out.

Golf Slices

By JIM BUTLER

The Staff NCO Tourney was completed this weekend with L. G. Peterson winning. A. J. Tomassello placed second.

A tournament was held for the junior golfers Friday. First place in A Flight went to Bobby Gordon, who beat out Jimmy Butler Jr. by one stroke in an 18-hole playoff.

Winner of B Flight was Billy Gordon. Runner-up was John Lomac Jr. A playoff is scheduled between Jim Love and Skip Midkiff for the C Flight tops.

JIM BUTLER

Qualifying play for the All-Marine will begin Sept. 15 and continue through the 17th. Tee off time is 9 a.m. Play will be in threesomes drawn from a hat. The next two rounds after the first will be in pairs according to first round scores.

men of the 2nd 155mm Gun Btry, which reported recently from 29 Palms for Atlantic coast duty. The former California unit had a base runner-up team at 29 Palms last year.

Standing out in practice play for FAG is Ken Eaton, a 195-pound center who played with Okinawa last year and was an All-Marine selection. He is co-captain of the FAG team with halfback Alec McGreggor.

Weak End

Only at left end does Williams feel his squad is weak. In a scrimmage last week, these men showed promise of a powerful season for the Artillerymen:

In the backfield, Max Eaton, quarterback; Mike Schaeckbach, fullback; McGreggor and Paul Poles, halfbacks. On the line, Jackie Cox, end; tackles Gerold Campbell and William Alton; guards Sid Mentzer and Frank Ramsey; and center Ken Eaton.

Cox, Mentzer, Max Eaton and McGreggor played at 29 Palms last year on the 155's winning club.

Coach Williams is in his first year of grid coaching but he is no stranger to athletics. He graduated from Western Carolina College with a major in physical education.

Engineer Blues

For the 8th Engineers, last year's league champions, the picture is not so bright. Until Tuesday there was some doubt that the Engineers would field a team this year. But coach Lamar Light says now he "definitely will field a team."

The Engineers, football-wise, have been hampered by a shortage of manpower. Two of their 1958 stars have graduated to the Camp squad of coach Jim Quinn where they show great promise in the backfield. These two are halfbacks Mel Anderson and Ralph Tropeano.

Can't Scrimmage

There are only 19 Engineer players on Light's roster—not enough to hold a scrimmage. Of these, only 13 are able to practice regularly. A few injuries, even minor ones, could be disastrous.

On the brighter side are four returnees from last year's championship squad, among them end George Robinson, halfback Mitchell Patterson (converted this year to quarterback) and tackle Dick Dorron.

Light's best new prospect, and one he is happy with, is Vernon Desjardins who, says the coach, can fill any line position and do a good job of it.

Lieutenant Light is in his first year of service coaching. He played four years in a guard slot with Allegany College, Meadville, Pa.

List Seasons, License Fees To Answer Hunter Queries

By Act. GySgt. Helen Brusack
Phone 7-5888

Several inquiries have been received about the various hunting seasons so here is a list:

For deer, bear and squirrels, the season starts on Oct. 15 and continues to Jan. 2. The quail, rabbit and pheasant season opens on Nov. 26 and lasts until Feb. 15. Turkey (gobblers and toms only) may be hunted from Nov. 28 until Feb. 15.

From Dec. 1 to Feb. 15 the season is open on mink, muskrat, opossum, otter and raccoon. Wildcat and groundhogs may be hunted all year. There is no official season as yet for dove.

There is a special bow hunting season. Bow hunters may take game 18 hunting days preceding the regular open season. A bow hunter must have a regular hunting license.

Bow hunters are cautioned that poisonous, explosive or barbed arrows are prohibited. Arrows must have a minimum broadhead width of seven-eighths of an inch. Bows must have a rated pull of 45 pounds.

It is illegal to carry any type of firearm while hunting with a bow during the special bow and arrow season. The use of a cross bow for hunting is also prohibited.

Hunting licenses, which can be obtained at the Post Exchange, cost as follows: State hunting, $4.10; State, combination hunting and fishing, $5.25; County hunting, $1.10.

All service personnel permanently stationed here are considered a state resident for hunting and fishing purposes as soon as they arrive. However, to qualify for county hunting and fishing privileges, a serviceman must be here six months.

On the fishing scene, drum have been hitting at Onslow Beach in shallow water. Large catches of sea mullet and blues have been reported.

On the Dolphin No. 2 out of Morehead City two fine catches were made by Lejeune fishermen. Lt. Robert Wooden (DC) USN, caught an 83½-pound amberjack. The jack was four feet, 11¼ inches long.

Lieutenant Wooden, a fisherman of 20 some years' experience, said the jack took the bait about 15 feet behind the boat near the surface. After about 30 minutes of fighting the big jack was subdued and landed.

Another dental man, DTC Chief W. L. Willis, USN, caught a 17½-pound barracuda. The fish was about 46 inches long.

Both Lieutenant Wooden and Chief Willis are new to Camp Lejeune. Both are also new members of the Rod and Gun Club.

Two Generals To Attend Big Race Classic

The Fleet Marine Force will be well represented Labor Day, Sept. 7, in festivities observing the Darlington "Southern 500."

The event, which is fast becoming the South's most popular racing classic, will be attended by Lt. Gen. Edwin A. Pollock, FMFLant commanding general; Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, 2nd Division commander; the Division Band and Drum and Bugle Corps; and the Division chorus.

General Pollock has been designated Honorary Chief Steward of the race and, with General Burger, will reign as honorary judge of the beauty contest to select "Miss Southern '500."

The Division band will be lead unit in the "500" parade and has other tentative area appearances slated in connection with the race. It will perform a two-hour concert in Florence, S. C., at the Florence Memorial Stadium.

Film Festivities

A Hollywood movie company will be in Darlington to film portions of the race and festivities for a movie starring Rory Calhoun in which Division bandmen will appear. The band is also scheduled to play during the running of the "500."

A full schedule of appearances is planned for the Division chorus. Included are television shows and personal appearances in the Darlington-Charlotte area. On Saturday, Sept. 5, the chorus will be heard over WBT in Charlotte.

The Darlington "Southern 500" is expected to draw a large audience from the nation.

College Fencer

During his two years at Rochester Tech, Waltner spent at least one weekend a month in New York City being tutored by Giorgio Santelli, fencing coach of the last three U. S. Olympic teams. He spent from seven to eight hours on each fencing lesson at $3 an hour, a special rate for college students. The money he scrimped from his weekly spending allowance.

Santelli's usual fees range from $10 an hour to $50. The top rate, explains Waltner, is charged actors who need to learn a washbuckling style for Broadway or Hollywood.

Since joining the Marine Corps, Waltner has fenced only on leaves. On those same leaves he has taken further lessons from the New York master.

Anyone desiring to take up the sport should contact Waltner at the 2nd Division Photo Lab where he is assigned as a photographer. The number is 7-3072.

perience, Coach Moran states, but he more than makes up for it in determination.

Zupko to Call

The Eighth Marines will work mainly from a T and winged-T formation this year. When the team goes into the T, Bob Zupko should be over the center to call the signals.

Zupko is bothered by a torn ligament in his leg but the injury is not serious enough to keep him out of the Eighth's first encounter, against the tough Second Marines, on Sept. 17.

With the start of the 1959 Division conference drawing near, both the Sixth Marines and the Eighth Marines are going at practice sessions full tilt in the hopes of being at their best when the opening whistle sounds. And with the addition of these two teams to the league, rugged intramural football is promised this fall.

(This is the second in a series of articles featuring the teams in the 2nd Marine Division Intramural Football League. Two more teams will be covered in the next article.)

BASEBALL:

There is no doubt at Lejeune's second All-Marine crown. In last week's tournament story we invited fans were hoarse for results. The calls came. In fact, all his friends, several thousand received early local dial system.

We must admit to a heart murmur or so predicting a title sweep and then hearing of the Hawaii handed us in Wednesday's game. I fear followed the pill would have been very in July a Hawaii sports writer had this to say about when their record stood 66-16:

"This might look like quite a record as more games than we do here in the islands. They are playing a lot of small colleges and pro big teams they come up against are Quantico Andrews Air Force Base, Marshall College, Ohio Florida State University. . .

Light on Hitting

"To have such an impressive record the seems to be just a little light on hitting. . ."

The record is now 96-20 including a 7-1 record "tough" western and Pacific competition and against North Carolina's finest semi-pro clubs. "on hitting" Marines finished the season with four up in the .300 averages—Hal Norton, Barry Valentine and George Uremovich. In addition, he was surprised to find Charlie Armstrong among others when the final averages come in. Though on as a slugger, the speedy shortstop was .292 at last report and going strong at the plate.

May Be Lesson

Maybe what the Marines have done with the "weak" schedule will be a lesson in sports as well as in baseball.

One more note on the Champions. We're sure be the first to say that the more than 70,000 record at Harry Agganis Field this year helped spark winning ways. Fan support is a big booster. It was Coach Hal Glasgow, too. A finer baseball Lejeune has never seen. Congratulations, Skipper earned victory.
