

Now, Freezing Rain Delay Traffic

Area's Worst Winter Storm In 41 Years

A four-inch snowfall preceded by freezing rain brought Lejeune traffic to a near standstill Friday morning, in what has been termed the area's worst winter storm since 1917.

The unexpected bad weather started Thursday morning, and by late afternoon the below-freezing temperatures had turned rain and sleet covered roads into extremely hazardous driving conditions.

Lejeune schools closed Thursday in anticipation of bad travel conditions and remained closed through Friday when some roads became almost impassible.

Poor driving conditions and traffic jams Friday morning made the average 10 to 15-minute drive to work last anywhere from one to two hours.

The melting of snow and ice on some roads was evident by noon Friday, but civilian employees were released from their jobs early that afternoon when the danger of a refreeze became possible.

During the heaviest part of the snow fall, road graders and other heavy equipment were dispatched to help clear local roads that are normally traveled the heaviest.

No serious traffic accidents occurred on Base last weekend, and only six minor skidding mishaps were attributed to the icy road conditions. This was a better-than-average record.

Temperatures dropped to a low 18 degrees last Friday night and stayed in the freezing zone until Saturday afternoon when it climbed to the mid-30's.

Last traces of the area's worst snow in 41 years were still evident at GLOBE deadline as early morning temperatures remained cold.

Eight MCAF Men Avert Forest Fire

Eight helicopter personnel from New River's MHT Group 26 averted a dangerous forest fire last week while practicing landings in the hills near Brevard, N. C.

When 'copter pilot 2nd Lt. W. J. Tebow spotted the fire near the base of the Shining Gap in the Pisgah Ranger District, it had already developed into a 40-foot square blaze.

Lieutenant Tebow's co-pilot jumped from the 'copter upon landing and tried to extinguish the fire. Crewmen from three other helicopters also training in that area finally brought the fire under control by using canvas rotor blade covers, shovels and small fire extinguishers.

Hugh S. Redding, forest supervisor at Asheville, N. C., expressed his gratitude to the New River Air Facility unit in a letter of appreciation for the quick thinking and prompt efforts exercised by the 'copter crews.

Col. K. B. McCutcheon, commanding officer of MHT Group 26, also awarded each of the eight men a letter of appreciation.

Activities Slated For Christmas

The spirit of the holidays bustles through Camp Lejeune with last minute shoppers, decorations and displays, choral sings, and social groups and clubs making final party preparations for Christmas one week away.

Units are decorating areas in hopes of winning the Commanding General's Christmas Decoration Trophy, awarded annually for the best holiday exhibitions. Activities desiring to enter displays in the competition must call the judging chairman, Lt. Col. K. E. Faser, Base ISO, at 75655, by tomorrow, giving the location of the display and name of the sponsoring activity.

Maj. Gen. James P. Riskey, Base commander, has invited local personnel to post greeting cards in specially erected bulletin boards in Bldg. 1 and the Paradise Point Officers' Open Mess. The service is being provided to assist persons in extending greetings to friends without the burden of large-scale exchange of cards.

For those not taking holiday leave, parties and celebrations will be held in clubs and community organizations.

There will be a New Year's Eve dance at Marston Pavilion for sergeants and below, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., with the music of the Frank Sorrell group.

AMs like this one approaching late, turned a normal 20-minute drive from Terrace to Mainside into a 90-minute nightmare Friday morning as Ole Man Winter sprinkled the area with a holiday setting and four-inch snowfall.

More Xmas May Mean More Death

Five persons were killed on North Carolina highways during the one-day Christmas holiday period from 6 p.m., December 24, until midnight, December 25, in 1957. This year 20 will die if the same percentages hold true due to a four-day holiday.

According to the National Safety Council, the upcoming Christmas holiday period will run from 6 p.m. Wednesday, the 24th, and extend through midnight Sunday, the 28th. If tragedy runs a similar course this year, the five fatalities of last year's one-day period, multiplied by this year's four-day celebration will result in at least 20 highway deaths.

There were 312 state highway accidents in that single day last year; three fatal, 93 non-fatal and 216 property damage, injuring 153 persons.

Traffic violations tabulated were: 32 driving under the influence of alcoholic beverages; 62 speeding; 44 where the driver didn't have the right of way; 25 drivers followed preceding cars too closely and 43 motorists chose the wrong side of the road for their holiday driving.

rines, had been operating with the Sixth Fleet since the first of October and recently completed an amphibious training exercise on the island of Crete.

Dependents of the returning marines were welcomed aboard the ships as soon as they had docked and hot coffee and sandwiches were served in the crew's lounges.

The 2nd Division Band was on hand to give a musical welcome to the marines, who were transported to Camp Lejeune from Morehead City by bus.

Division units have been on duty in the Mediterranean almost continuously since 1948. In addition to carrying out frequent training operations in Turkey, Crete, Spain, and elsewhere, the marines serve as goodwill ambassadors while enjoying visits in Athens, Naples, Barcelona and other cities of the historic nations bordering the Mediterranean Sea.

Commandant's Christmas Message

Once again we celebrate the birth of Christ. Once again we turn our thoughts to the age-old story of the crowded inn and the manger in Bethlehem. Once again we are reminded of the vision of the brotherhood of man and universal peace. Once again we rededicate ourselves to this ideal which has inspired men of good will for almost two thousand years.

It is essential that we so rededicate ourselves, that we make conscious efforts to guarantee the spiritual values of justice, individual liberty, and human dignity, which are a part of that ideal. Mere lip-service to these values is not dedication and will not suffice. Dedication is the firm and unflinching adherence to principles in the face of difficulty, trial, and danger.

In our uneasy world, human freedom is threatened by power-mad, evil forces. This is a danger which has emerged repeatedly throughout history. But there is reassurance in the fact that invariably there have been brave men of good will, dedicated to the right and determined to uphold it no matter what the cost, who have stood firm against the threat to freedom.

May this Christmas of 1958 renew in every marine, wherever he may be, the ideal of the first Christmas, the ideal of peace on earth, of good will to men, the ideal of decency of all men to their brothers. May each of us have strengthened within him the resolve to give his very best to Corps and Country, and to the cause of freedom, not only at Christmas but throughout the coming year.

To each marine and to all those whom he holds dear, I wish a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

—R. McC. PATE, General, Commandant, Marine Corps.

Fri

If you ask me...

WILL YOU MAKE ANY NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS?

SGT. KENNETH F. EDWARDS, Spt. Co., "A," Hq. Bn. — I am not going to make any New Year's resolutions this year, because if past years are any indication, I will wind up breaking everything I resolve before the end of the first month. One year, for example, the resolution I made was to stop smoking. Before the New Year was even a few hours old I was smoking away as usual.

SGT. WILLIAM L. APPELEGATE, MT Co., Serv. Bn. — I have seen so many of my friends make New Year's resolutions and turn right around and break them, that I have decided not to believe in New Year's resolutions. Besides, if you want to resolve to do something it would be a lot easier to just do it when you have the idea instead of waiting for a new year.

PFC JOHN HEATH, 8th Engr. Bn. — Every year I make a long list of resolutions for the new year and then it seems like after a very short time I decide that it's just not worth the effort. This year, I have eliminated that problem. In fact, my New Year's resolution should prove quite profitable. I have resolved to start saving some money.

SGT. WILLIAM F. DOUGHERTY, MT Co., Serv. Bn. — It seems like New Year's resolutions are just made to be broken, but since I won't be at Camp Lejeune over the holidays, I am going to resolve to spend much more time with a certain crosswave who works at Bldg. 15. I think that my resolution should be very worthwhile, and I am certain that I can keep from breaking it.

SGT. RONALD J. VOORHIES, Spt. Co., "A," Hq. Bn. — Yes, this year as a New Year's resolution I am going to make a "half-hearted" attempt to give up smoking cigarettes. In the past three years, I have tried this 16 times and given in to temptation. However, this year my venture should prove successful because I'm going to buy myself a pipe for Christmas.

SGT. DONALD ALEXANDER, Spt. Co., "B," Hq. Bn. — My resolutions this year are small, but they should be a big help. First, I resolve to drive carefully at all times, and when I take a weekend, allow myself plenty of time to arrive back. Second, I will take out a bond a month to save money and to help our country. My third resolution will be to improve myself and become a better marine.

E-8, E-9 Rates Bring Study For New Corps Organization

A board is scheduled to meet at Headquarters Marine Corps in the near future to discuss the need for new military occupational specialties and new billets in tables of organization, NAVY TIMES reports.

The board, representing various specialty groups, will review suggestions received from the field, and will make its recommendations for changes in the MOS and TO structure to the Commandant.

While the placing of the first sergeant and sergeant major rank in pay grades E-8 and E-9 was a natural thing to do following enactment of the new military pay legislation, the enlisted pay grade structure required a new look when the Corps created the master gunnery sergeant (E-9) and master sergeant (E-8).

Among the problems facing the board is whether first sergeants will go to master gunnery sergeant or to sergeant major.

Another question to be answered by the board is what will be the MOS designation of the master sergeants E-8 and master gunnery sergeants. These men will remain specialists in their fields but also will assume additional supervisory responsibilities with each promotion.

Reassignment of some of the present sergeant major and first sergeant billets to the new master sergeant E-8 master gunnery sergeants grades will also be studied by the convening board. Preliminary studies on this subject indicate there will be a few changes.

The board may also consider various MOS proposals submitted by the 1958 staff non-commissioned officer symposium held at Marine Corps Schools last summer.

Among the proposals was one calling for establishment of a semi-annual promotional status list within each MOS through competitive examination. The list would be initially composed of men now qualified for promotion with additions thereto following each promotion testing period. Promotions would be effected from the top of the list to fill vacancies.

Xmas Trees Can Become Fire Traps

Every year, from a few days before Christmas to the week following New Year's, fires rage up and down the country. Many result from extra hazards which exist only during the holiday season and from carelessness that would not be tolerated at any other time.

These holiday fire tragedies are caused by little careless acts that seem so unimportant at the time. The National Fire Protection Association has pointed out that such tragedies are needless if the following safety rules are observed when setting up the traditional Christmas tree:

Cut a growing tree or buy one that hasn't dried out from prolonged storage. (When too dry, branches are brittle and shed needles easily.) Saw the trunk off at a slant and place in water kept above the level of the cut for the entire time the tree is indoors.

Do not use candles on the tree. Use only electric lighting sets that bear the UL (Underwriters Laboratories) label; before using, check all sets for frayed wires, loose connections, and broken sockets.

Don't let wrappings accumulate in the house; burn them or place them in a metal covered trash barrel.

Don't buy pyroxylin plastic toys, non-flameproofed costume suits, or toys operated by alcohol, kerosene, or gasoline.

Don't allow smoking near the tree amidst decorations or wrappings.

Keep matches, lighters, and candles away from children.

Have water-type fire extinguishers that work, buckets of water, or a garden hose connected to a faucet within reach of the tree.

If a fire should strike, first get everyone out of the house and then call the fire department immediately before attempting to fight the fire yourself.

10th Marines Return From Ft. Bragg, N.C.

The Tenth Marines returned to Camp Lejeune Sunday after expending more than 10,000 rounds of artillery ammunition in two weeks of firing at Ft. Bragg.

The Regiment's 3rd and 4th Bns. concluded the exercise after a week of gunnery drill and weapons emplacement and displacement. The 1st Bn. and 2nd Bn. used the U. S. Army reservation the previous week.

Second Anti-Tank Bn. also used the Bragg range during the same period for ONTOS firing exercises.

RICHARD JACKSON
Asst. SecNav

Asst. Sec. Of Navy Visits 2nd Division

The 2nd Division and MCB teamed Wednesday to brief the Honorable Richard Jackson, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, on the readiness and capabilities of Camp Lejeune.

Receiving honors at the field house soon after his arrival, Secretary Jackson then toured the Area 4 Service club and a barracks.

Two briefings rounded out the morning. Base officials discussed housing conditions shortly before a Division briefing of personnel and readiness.

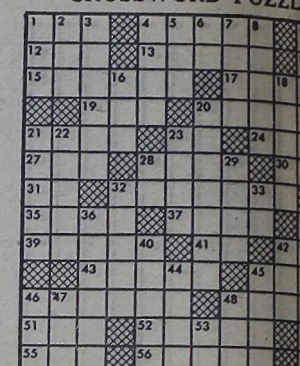

Secretary Jackson spent Wednesday afternoon watching an attack on a fortified position and other demonstrations. The fortified attack, staged by the Eighth Marines, Force Troops and 2nd Wing aircraft, demonstrated the Division's ability to maneuver and conquer under nuclear conditions.

Accompanying Mr. Jackson were Lt. Gen. E. A. Pollock, CG, FMF-Lt, and Maj. Gen. Donald M. Weller, assistant chief of staff, G-1, HQMC.

Ohio Korean Bonus Cut-Off Date Scheduled For Dec. 31

Midnight December 31 is the deadline set for application to receive the Ohio Korean bonus.

Application forms may be obtained from the State of Ohio, Korean Conflict Compensation Fund, 293 East Long St., 3rd Floor, Columbus 15, Ohio, or the Local Assistance Office (Code DKG), HQMC.

Armed Forces personnel who were residents of the state on their first day of active duty between June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953, may be eligible for $10 a month for domestic service and $15 for foreign duty, with a maximum payment of $400, provided they have not already been paid a claim.

ROTC students, Academy cadets, American Red Cross workers, FBI members and reservists on active duty for training during the period are not eligible.

During the first week of November the fund received 256 new claims, indicating that there are still eligible veterans of the Korean conflict and next-of-kin who have not as yet filed their claims.

More than 232,000 claims from living veterans and more than 3,300 claims from survivors have been received.

Almost 223,000 such claimants have been paid, totaling more than $57,500,000. Average compensation per claim is about $258 for living veterans and $341 for next-of-kin.

The Pentagon declined to give details on its proposal. But the plan is so far advanced that it has been placed on the "list of legislative proposals for calendar year 1959."

While Defense was officially withholding comments, some Pentagon experts said they believed the plan would be unworkable administratively and would make it nearly impossible to budget for pro-pay, the TIMES reports.

That Defense was tinkering around with pro-pay pay because known as NAVY TIMES obtained a list of laws or amendments affecting military personnel in the overall Defense legislative program to be submitted to the 86th Congress.

Divvy Troops Fight 3-Day Forest Blaze

A rich peat bed, near Plymouth, N. C., which fostered a 175-thousand-acre forest fire in 1955, threatened a repeat performance when it spread across 3,000 acres near Pungo Lake, December 6.

Blazing out of control, the fire threatened to torch the nearby forest and game reserve, as well as farm land. The danger, however, was climaxed after three days of fire fighting by marines of the 2nd Division, the State Forestry Service and volunteer civilians, all of whom were under the direction of P. W. Tillman, assistant State Forester.

The fire, supposedly caused by acreage clearing of near-by farmers and perpetuated by the rich peat deposit in the swamp, miraculously brought no serious damage.

A 64-man fire-fighting detail from the 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines, under 2nd Lt. John R. Hooten, moved out December 6 and after a 125-mile round trip, arrived at the Wenona fire tower Sunday. By 6 a.m. they were constructing fire breaks to create back-firing, as well as mopping up, and making sure that the fire was out along the fire line.

Monday morning, nine other marines joined the initial crew, bringing with them galley equipment, cots, tents, and more fire-fighting equipment, shovels and pails. All returned to Lejeune Wednesday.

DoD Makes New Pro-Pay Scale Study

A complicated sliding scale pro-pay system which will enable enlisted men to continue drawing pro-pay when promoted or while being retrained is being studied by the Department of Defense for submission to the 86th Congress in January, Navy Times reports.

Previously, each service had its own method of handling pro-pay. In some cases promoted men would lose pro-pay until retrained in new rates. Retrainees, in most cases, were not not eligible for pro-pay.

But Defense wants exact regulations written in the law—regulations that would set up a sliding scale for transition periods. The Defense Department was said to fear that unless specific provisions were written into law the Controller General might later hold that methods being used are illegal.

The Pentagon declined to give details on its proposal. But the plan is so far advanced that it has been placed on the "list of legislative proposals for calendar year 1959."

DEAR EDITOR,
I AM 8 YEARS OLD.
SOME OF MY LITTLE FRIENDS
SAY THERE IS NO
SANTA CLAUS. PAPA SAYS
IF YOU SEE IT IN THE
SUN, IT IS SO.
PLEASE TELL ME THE
TRUTH IS THERE A SANTA
VIRGINIA O'HANLON

(In September 1897, a little girl named Virginia O'Hanlon wrote a letter to the editor of the New York Sun, asking, "Is there a Santa Claus?" In reply Francis P. Church wrote an editorial article that pleased so many readers that the Sun printed it every year at Christmas.)

VIRGINIA, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas how dreary would be the world if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus? You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

WASHINGTON REPORT

A House Veterans Affairs Committee spokesman, according to NAVY TIMES, said this week, "His daily mail load indicates considerable interest" among GI's and veterans for a peacetime GI Bill.

The letters received by the spokesman support the belief of Texas lawmaker Olin E. Teague, who contends that as long as young men are vulnerable to the draft and are called on to serve overseas tours, they should be entitled to some readjustment benefits.

Teague feels that while post-Korean veterans, those who served after January 31, 1955, should be entitled to some school aid, he believes they do not warrant the benefits that were given wartime ex-servicemen.

The Washington spokesman said "it was a waste of time" to write the committee on the proposal when "we're already favorable disposed to the legislation." He urged veterans and servicemen to write the congressmen and senators representing their home states and districts as these lawmakers often "are not familiar" with the issue.

The chief stumbling block to the peacetime program in the past has been the cost involved. Veterans Administration officials said the cost of extending benefits to those inducted after January 31, 1955—the present cut-off on Korean benefits—would run up to an estimated $540 million a year by 1962.

Congressional leaders in both Houses are believed to favor a bill that would cut the benefits and cost in half. Legislators have indicated that any program for the new peacetime veterans, who will number about two million at the end of fiscal year 1958, would be of a watered down nature.

"THE CHRISTMAS STORY"

At that time a decree went forth from Caesar Augustus that a census of the whole world should be taken. This first census took place while Cyrenus was governor of Syria. And all were going, each to his own town, to register.

And Joseph also went from Galilee out of the town of Nazareth into Judea to the town of David, which is called Bethlehem—because he was of the house and family of David—to register, together with Mary his espoused wife, who was with child. And it came to pass while they were there, that the days for her to be delivered were fulfilled. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were shepherds in the same district living in the fields and keeping watch over their flocks by night. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by them and the glory of God shone round about them, and they feared exceedingly.

And the angel said to them, "Do not be afraid, for behold, I bring you good news of great joy which shall be to all the people; for today in the town of David a Savior has been born to you, who is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign to you: you will find and infant wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger." And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to men of good will."

—LUKE 2, 1-14.

Courtesy on the road, winter or summer, is not merely a nice gesture to others. No, it is often a matter of life and death.

Short Round

Train flagman Pat Schamber received the EXAMINER'S 47th Hero Award last month for service as jet pilot, 2nd Lt. Philip M. Schmidt, near MC Calif. Schamber's train hit Lieutenant Schmidt's after it had crashed near the air station. Schamber marine pilot from his plane seconds before it exploded.

Cpl. Jim Jarreau, 1st Marine Division, was a three-man radio team recently during cold weather training at Pickel Meadows. The other men proceeded to their post with a cook stove and canteen full of gasoline. Corporal Jarreau arrived a little later, grabbed the canteen and took four big gulps. One of the men quickly notified their CO, who ordered, "Don't let him smoke."

A new 100-ton amphibious tank-cargo vehicle called appropriately "Go-liath" is being tested at Camp Pendleton, Calif. The huge "monster" is capable of hauling cargo across enemy beaches under fire and move on to protected inland supply areas in one operation.

A new single standard filing system prescribed by the Corps and Navy by SecNav will go into effect at HQMC.

Cherry Point jet pilots have begun learning to rate a completely automatic ejection seat, capable safely at any altitude as long as the plane is moving 100 knots ground speed.

The Marine Corps Institute is over the hump toward the mid-1959 objective of having a course every MOS in the Corps.

The Fifth Marines, 1st Division, are the possessors of a 440-pound ship's bell, thought to be the oldest in the Division. The bell came from the USS Albatross, a North Carolina county.

Capt. John H. and Carol A. Blair, husband and wife, are ported for duty at Camp Pendleton last month. Carol is six months senior to Captain John.

HELPFUL HINTS—Registered Nurses Marilyn Moore, left, and Lyda Weber, center, look on while Mrs. Benjamin Margot gives young Benjamin a quick change. The local nurses make more than 30 home visits a week to render helpful suggestions on baby care to new mothers.

Mothers Receive Helpful Baby Care Methods From Navy Relief Nurses

More than 30 local homes are visited each week by two Lejeune registered nurses who answer questions and give helpful hints on baby care to new mothers.

Both graduate nurses, employed by Navy Relief, Mrs. Marilyn Moore and Mrs. Lyda Weber make their first connection with new mothers while they are still at the Family hospital.

During their first visit the nurses and new parent discuss any problems that might arise pertaining to the baby's care shortly after release from the hospital.

Two weeks later, when the mother has had a chance to orient herself with the infant, a second visit is made at the parents' home. At this time nurses and the mother talk over the baby's progress since the first visit.

When it is necessary, both Mrs. Moore or Mrs. Weber are authorized to administer various shots for the cure and prevention of minor baby ailments.

The nurses will make as many voluntary visits as needed to all homes within a 25-mile radius, including Topsail Island, Swansboro, and Richlands.

All home calls are for the purpose of rendering parents a reliable and professional source of information.

One local mother described her appreciation of this service when she said, "I couldn't have been happier if my own mother had visited me. The nurses give you added confidence when caring for babies."

In connection with their home visits the nurses also conduct a pre-natal course during the winter months. Each Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon during this period classes are held at the Camp Knox and Camp Geiger trailer parks, respectively.

Five lectures and several movies highlight the course which is completed with a graduation ceremony held at the end of the fifth class. This course is offered free of charge along with the many other nursing services to all parents from Camp Lejeune.

New Art Instructor Exhibits Paintings At Central Library

A joint showing of oil paintings by Lt. and Mrs. Alan D. Bauerschmidt, instructor of the Camp Lejeune Art Study group, is on exhibit at the Central Library until December 31.

Mrs. Bauerschmidt took over as instructor of the Art Study group upon the discharge of SSgt. Don Jackson.

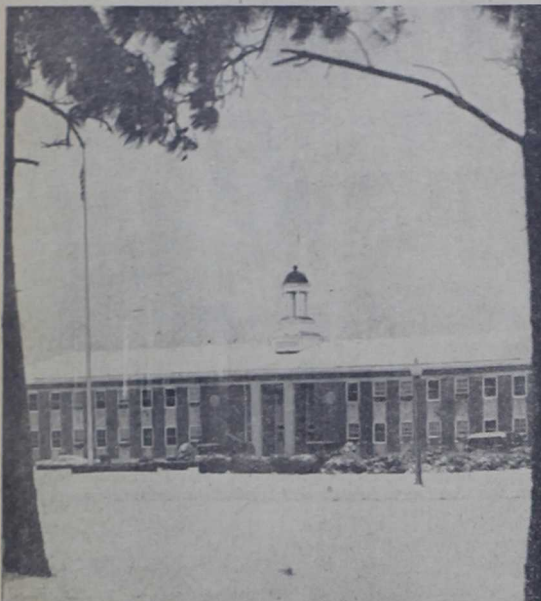

Mrs. Bauerschmidt, who paints under the name of Connie Crawford, graduated from Marjorie Webster Junior college, Washington, D. C., in 1953, with an Associate in Art degree awarded by its art department. She also attended the Ringling School of Art at Sarasota, Fla., receiving a Degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts in May of 1957. Following her graduation from Ringling she was certified and taught in the Jacksonville (Fla.) Public School System. Mrs. Bauerschmidt is a member of the Sarasota Art Association and has exhibited with each of these organizations. Her husband has exhibited at the Central Library on two previous occasions.

Art classes meet every Tuesday evening at the Medical Field Research Laboratory auditorium, and are open to military personnel and their dependents. Instruction is offered free of charge but students are expected to provide their own materials. Anyone interested in joining the group may obtain information from the Central Library.

News In Pictures

DESPITE INCONVENIENCES . . . last week's snow and freezing rain storm lent a festive note for Christmas to the normally "green" Camp Lejeune Yuletide scene. The Marine Corps Base Administration building, above, and Marston Pavilion, below, could well have been the cover for local Christmas greeting cards while decked out in their winter finery.

WELCOME HOME, DADDY—Moments after the USS Chilton docked at Morehead City, SSgt. William J. Johnson was reunited with his wife, Verena, and two girls, Geri and Susan, in the crew's lounge. SSgt. Johnson was one of the 1,800 2nd Division marines returning from the Mediterranean. Four Atlantic Fleet ships returned the men over the weekend.

Deer Population Grows At Camp Lejeune, Thanks To Effective Service Conservation Program

Camp Lejeune, "The World's Most Complete Amphibious Training Center," is also the home base for one of the most complete conservation programs established by the military.

Selected 16 years ago as an ideal training area for marines with its 111,000 acres fronting the Atlantic Ocean and mild climate most of the year around, the area abounded in wildlife; local streams, ponds and adjacent salt water swarmed with fish of all types. In fact, over 500 acres of the present reservation had been used as a private hunting and fishing club by a group of sportsmen.

As a tribute to the excellent wildlife management program carried on at Camp Lejeune, the deer population today is greater than it was 16 years ago, at an estimated 1,200 to 1,500 head.

The "wildlife savings" program is in accordance with Department of Defense directives which state that:

"All military installations or facilities which contain suitable land and water areas as determined after consultation with authorized State or Federal conservation authorities shall have an active, progressive program for the management of renewable natural resources. Such programs will incorporate proper techniques and be designed to promote the conservation, through wise use, of the soil, water, forests, grasslands, fish and wildlife."

An excellent forestry management plan is under direct supervision of Carroll F. Russell, a graduate forester.

Three fire-lookout towers are manned full-time and a never-ending program of clearing fire breaks, controlled burning and constant vigilance has resulted in an enviable record of fire safety. Since 1944 there hasn't been a serious local forest fire.

At the last timber cruise in 1954, estimates placed the board feet of standing at 111,794,000 feet. Of this figure, approximately 85 per cent is pine. At present about 5,000 cords of pulpwood is being cut annually on contract by private firms.

The forestry program is directly integrated into the overall conservation picture as well-managed woods provide shelter, food and protection to wildlife.

The Base Management section is supervised by William Henderson, a life-long resident of this area with 40 years' experience in the wildlife and conservation field.

Mr. Henderson is also Base Game Warden with full powers to enforce Federal, State and Base regulations regarding hunting and fishing. He is assisted by appointed deputy wardens.

In order to encourage the growth of game, a year-round program of food plantings is carried out. Spring and winter cover crops are sown annually, and establishments of small plots of permanent pasture mixtures eliminate the need of fall plantings.

This year the game protector section has expanded its extensive winter green planting program. These plots of winter green are designed to supplement the natural food of turkeys, rabbits, deer and to a small extent, quail.

Wildlife means hunting and fishing and few areas, even those specifically noted for outdoor life can boast of the profuseness and variety found here. Hunting on the reservation is permitted subject to stringent Base regulations which in most instances go far beyond Federal and State laws.

Deer hunting is carefully organized into groups with no individual hunting permitted. Since hunting was permitted on the reservation over a decade ago there hasn't been a single fatality due to accidental shooting. Last year 169 deer were bagged in seven assigned hunting areas.

In order to correlate the overall wildlife program with other Base activities a Fish and Wildlife Committee operates. The committee makes recommendations to the commanding general on procedures involving hunting and fishing.

GAME FEED—W. N. Henderson, Camp game protector and life-long resident of the Lejeune area, examines a stand of millet local wildlife. The seeds furnish game throughout the year.

FIRST KILL—TSgt. Weldon G. Tibbetts, MT Bn., 2nd Division, displays one of the squirrels he bagged on opening day of hunting season. Other local game include fox, rabbit, raccoon, turkey, quail, dove, and duck.

"Interested sportsmen at Camp Lejeune have an active Rod and Gun club with as its objective: "To assist in the preservation, restoration and management of game, fish and other wildlife and habitats in Camp Lejeune and its environs; to seek to obtain better fish and hunting for personnel serving in the area; to cooperate in obtaining proper respect and observation of the fish and game to further the fellowship among sportsmen by instructive and demonstrative means; and to promote interest among sportsmen when such interests are conducive to better sportsmanship."

The Rod and Gun club meets regularly with scheduled speakers well-known in the wildlife and conservation field and membership is open to all personnel.

Camp Lejeune can be justly proud of its role as one of the nation's foremost military centers. It can also hold its head high in the area of conservation and life management.

HOSTESS HOTEL—The Hostess House presents an inviting appearance, with its clean and comfortable outside furniture. Its many features include 27 rooms, a restaurant, lounge and snack bar for enlisted guests of Camp Lejeune.

Reservations are sometimes granted by the Treasurer, Capt. Jane D.

Cribs and cots may be added to rooms for families. An inexpensive laundry service is also provided, along with a staff of maids.

The dining room, a bright, modern and spotless restaurant, is open from 7-9:30 a.m. for breakfast; provides lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; and from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m. invites guests to dinner. It is available to everyone on the Base. For lighter meals, a snack bar is open from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily.

Guests hold daily gab fests in the Hostess House's spacious TV lounge on the main deck. Plush couches, tables, a juke box and telephone booths are its features.

By next summer, all rooms will be provided with air conditioning, in accordance with a Department of Defense instruction, just released.

Most of the Hostess House guests are relatives of local personnel who visit mostly during the summer and around holidays. It is also a welcome refuge to wives and sweethearts awaiting ships due to return with NELM marines and sailors. The facility also houses new Lejeunites while they look for permanent living quarters.

An independent organization, the Hostess House is headed by a board of governors, made up of a field grade officer and three enlisted men. The body establishes rules and regulations, policies and major expenditures. Profits are returned for maintenance and repairs.

The Officers' Guest House and Senior Guest House are similarly operated under the Commissioned Officers' Mess (Open). The former has 37 rooms, a TV lounge, reception room, and maid service. Dining and recreational facilities are located next door in the Paradise Point Officers' club. Stays are limited to 20 days in the summer, but are indefinite the rest of the year. The current critical housing situation has been helped by this welcome "hotel."

The Senior Guest House, behind the club, provides accommodations for colonels and general officers and their guests. The tree-shaded building has two suites and three single rooms, as well as a lounge and fireplace.

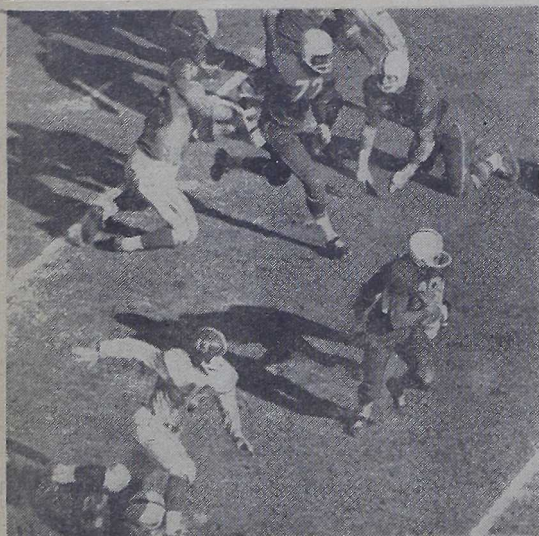

SENIOR GUEST HOUSE—Located close to the Officers' Club at Paradise Point, the Senior Guest House becomes "home" for visiting senior officers. New river flowing to the rear of the Georgian-styled building adds a picturesque touch.

OFFICERS' GUEST HOUSE—Provided for junior officers, their families and guests, the Officers' Guest House offers 37 comfortable rooms and a TV lounge. The Paradise Point Officers' club is adjacent, providing dining and recreational facilities for visitors.

OUT IN THE OPEN—San Diego's Dale Boutwell breaks clear of the Camp Lejeune line and picks up yardage against the local Marines. Carey "Choo Choo" Henley readies to overtake the fleet halfback. The Lejeunites were stopped cold in the All-Marine showdown game, 62-22, as the host eleven walked off with the championship Sunday afternoon at Balboa Stadium before a crowd estimated at 20,000. All receipts went to the Navy Relief.

WALSH TALLIES—Camp Lejeune end Jim Walsh streaks across the San Diego goal line for the locals' first six-pointer in the Leatherneck Bowl Sunday afternoon. Walsh caught a 10-yard pass thrown by Marshall Newman. Trying to stop Walsh is Al Hall while Lejeune's Howard George throws a block against Billy Martin.

Fighters Host Ft. Eustis Tonight At Goettge Gym

Camp Lejeune fight fans will be able to view the local boxing team in action tonight when Ft. Eustis invades Goettge Memorial field house. The first bout will get under way at 8:30 p.m.

Coach Ray Rogers and his able stable of pugilists will be looking for win No. 3 of the young season. Two weeks ago, the locals swept the Florida AAU Tournament in fine style, winning 26 of 35 bouts in three nights. With this excellent showing, Lejeune

D. A. Davis Pacing Hq. Bn. Keg Team

Dispite Hq. Bn.'s 5195 pinfall, averaging 865 which is tops in the coop, Serv. Bn. is currently pacing the MCB Intramural Bowling League. Much of Headquarters' success can be attributed to D. A. Davis who is leading individual averages with a 191 and pinfall of 1147. He also has recorded high individual series with a 630.

As of last week, Headquarters has both high team series and game with a 2635 and 909 respectively.

In last week's action, Serv. Bn. dropped Hq. Bn., 3-1, with Davis once again pacing the losers with a 2141-630 game and series in that order. Other scores showed ITR winner over MCSS, 3-1, and MCES playing to a 2-2 tie against USNH.

was awarded five first place and six runner-up presentations. A 29-point edge over second place Ft. Benning enabled Lejeune to walk off with the team trophy also.

Ft. Eustis will be no newcomer to the Lejeune fighters. One month ago, the locals took seven out of 10 bouts on the Virginia base.

Francisco Loera, a classy bantamweight from Monterey, Mexico, will lead the Army invasion against the locals. Loera was a former Mexican champ before entering the service.

Light welterweight Andrew Rossi, a Brooklyn, N. Y., lad, and Harry Davis, a heavyweight who hails from Galesburg, Ill., are two other rough contestants in the Eustis stable.

Coach Rogers has put out a call for additions to his team in six weight classes. The Lejeune mentor still needs flyweights (112), bantam weights (119), lightweights (132), middleweights (165), light heavyweights (178), and heavyweights over 178. Coach Rogers can be reached between 1-4 p.m. every weekday at the Athletic Gear Room or the boxing room in the Goettge Memorial field house.

San Diego Crushes Marines To Win All-Marine Championship

The San Diego Devil Dogs, moving like the Chicago Express, arrived right on time, rolling past Camp Lejeune, 62-22, for the mythical All-Marine Championship afternoon. Playing before an estimated crowd of 20,000 in California's Balboa Stadium, West Coast eleven never gave the East Coast winners a chance to even come close for the third period when Lejeune tallied all of its touchdowns.

With San Diego's ground gainers racking up 338 yards and their passing attack accounting for 280, the Devil Dogs' lighter line went to work on the Lejeune forward wall, stopping them cold while local backs could only manage 20 yards on the ground.

The only bright spot in the Marine offense was a slightly-built Marshall Newman who tried to break the Western theory of better ball teams. The former North Carolina field general completed 17 of 23 tosses, good for 266 yards and two touchdowns plus a PAT.

Lejeune end Ed Walsh scored the first local marker when he received a 10-yard heave from Newman. The conversion via a pass was incomplete. Center Mike Minutelli picked up Lejeune's second six-pointer when he dropped on a Billy Martin fumble in the end zone. Ron Beagle scored the PAT, taking a Newman pitch. And it was Beagle who picked up the last tally on a beautifully-executed roll-out pass from Newman covering 44 yards. Carey "Choo Choo" Henley ran the extra point.

However, the game had been decided long before the 22-point outburst by the Marines in the third period.

Paced by Martin and third string Ken Lutterbach, San Diego recorded two TD's in the initial quarter, opened up the game with four more in the second period, tallied one in the third and finished up with two in the closeout.

Martin scored three TD's, running two for distances of 23 and 22 yards and tallying the initial Devil Dog marker on a 79-yard pass from quarterback Vern Valdez.

Lutterbach scored two touchdowns and added eight conversions as a kicking specialist. Valdez connected on three TD passes, while sub quarterback Bob Liles added another. Jack Stillwell chalked up two markers, both on pass plays.

Lejeune finished the season with a 7-3-1 record, while the newly-crowned champs swept past 10 opponents while losing only two.

Immediately after the game, both teams were feted at an All-Marine banquet held at the Grand Hotel in San Diego. The host team was presented the All-Marine Trophy donated by Leatherneck magazine.

Eddie LeBaron, pro football player, made his way to the Redskins, will return to the service football war. Quantico to one of their seasons back in 1950. And ly enough, this was the same that Camp Lejeune's end George Cordle, played on.

Unofficially, "the Washington tosser" has just ed off with the 1958 National League passing title a unofficial average gain yards on 79 completions attempts. The former Col the Pacific Little All-American Korean war hero totaled yards through the air on tions. Though throwing frequently than the other backs in the league, has been "Steady Eddie's" story.

Marines To Hold Christmas Tournery Dec. 29-30

By PFC RICHARD G. BOLAND
Sports Publicist

For the first time during a basketball season at Camp Lejeune, local cage enthusiasts will be able to enjoy a Christmas Invitational Tournament at Goettge Memorial field house. The single-elimination tournery, which will take place December 29 and 30, will feature East Carolina college, Western

San Diego school, and Camp Lejeune. Game times are 6:30 p.m. on the 29th and 7:15 p.m. on the 30th. The tournament is being directed by Maj. Gen. James Brooks, 26-year-old commanding general, who was selected to lead the Marines in the first Christmas Invitational. The local Marines in the tournament are the 1st and 2nd Divisions.

The winners of the first night's game will meet for the championship in the finale on December 30. The opening round will be a play-off in a consolation game before the championship game.

Kentucky Inter-Collegiate Athletic Conference, has had excellent teams over the past four seasons.

The Tigers swept the conference in 1956 and 1957. Last year, they posted a 12-1 record in conference play and an overall 25-7 season mark. The '57-'58 squad also placed fourth in the NIAA Tournament at Kansas City, Mo., a tournament in which 32 teams from all districts of the country participated.

The Tigers, under the guidance of coach Bob Davis, have gotten off to a fine start this season, winning a 4-1 record to date, with wins over the University of Louisville, Concord college, and Lincoln Memorial twice. Their lone loss came at the hands of West Virginia Tech, 79-78.

Coach Jim Gudger, who has been mentor of the Western Carolina college quintet for the past nine years, will be coming to Goettge Memorial field house with a seasoned ball club.

His five starters, Jack Frauson and Randall Shields, co-captains, Dave Jones, Harris Pryor and Dave Elmore are all veteran-regulators of last year's Catamount team.

All five hit the double figure average last season, with Pryor on top at 14.5 points per game. It has been the same well-balanced scoring that has enabled the Catamounts to post a 3-0 record thus far this season. They posted a twin victory over Piedmont college, Ga., in addition to an opening season win over Carson-Newman college.

In the North State Conference of which they are a member, the Catamounts posted a 10-6 mark last season. Their overall season record stood at an impressive 20-9.

Joining Western Carolina and Georgetown in the Lejeune Invitational will be another member of the North State Conference, East Carolina college.

Coach Howard Porter's Pirates have posted a 2-2 record in the conference thus far this season. The Bucs have victimized both Guilford and Catawba colleges, while dropping one to High Point. In a game Friday night, the East Carolinians lost to a smooth-operating Lenoir-Rhyne five, 75-60.

Nick Nichols, a 6'4" forward who is in his senior year, has been pacing the Bucs' scoring attack with about 17 points a game. Jessel Curry and Charley Adams have been the other Pirate players in the double figure column.

RON BEAGLE

RON BOTCHAN

MARSHALL NEWMAN

All-Sea Service Eleven Chosen; Beagle Heads Local Selections

Camp Lejeune's Ron Beagle was chosen first string end on the Seven Annual All-Sea Service team announced in the Navy Times last week. Along with the former All-American were guard Ron Botchan and quarterback Marshall Newman who were chosen for the second eleven and center Homer Hobgood who received a nod on the third team.

Others placing high in the balloting were ends Jim Mora and Joe Fowlkes, tackle Dave Six and fullback Carey "Choo Choo" Henley. Members of the first two teams will receive engraved Elgin watches.

Described as "Mr. All-Everything" during his years at the Naval Academy by the Times, Beagle was a third string choice last year. The Chicago Cardinal draftee paced Lejeune ends with well over 300 yards through his pass catching. He was runner-up in the scoring on the local aggregation with 32 points.

However, his talents weren't reserved to offense only as he is considered one of the finest defensive ends in service competition. The Lejeune co-captain was also described as "a coach on the field through his leadership qualities."

Botchan, the other co-captain, was an outstanding offensive guard and line backer. Along with his forward wall talents, the local star was the Marines' most consistent punter, averaging 36.5 yards on 35 attempts, which covered 1,176 yards. Botchan sacrificed a great deal as he was moved to every interior line position throughout the course of the season.

It will take a long time for opponents to erase the playing memory of Newman who was consistently a star both offensively and as a defensive halfback. His passes covered 1,139 yards on completions, good for 12 touchdowns. He pitched over 500 percentage wise with 65 caught out of 125 tossed.

Hobgood as a center and linebacker was a terrific inspiration for the East Coast champs as he continually sparked the forward wall when the chips were down. His desire alone accounted for many goal-line stands that saw the Marines time and time again throw back their opponents.

Comprising the full first team were Lejeune opponents Harry Jefferson, the great Quantico halfback, San Diego's Jim "Piggy" Robinson, Quantico center Sam Valentine, tackle Al Wharton of Norfolk, and guard Jan Powell of Pensacola.

Rounding out the first string are tackle Manny Congedo of Hawaii, guard Bruce MacDonald of Memphis, Moffett Field's halfback Calvin Campbell, Alameda's Pete Steel at quarterback and Cape May's Stan Chapin, a 225-pound fullback and chosen as Most Valuable Player. Campbell was runner-up.

Besides Botchan and Newman, the second eleven was comprised of end George Nolen, Alameda; end Ed Holden, Quonset Point; tackle Curtis Klepzig, Memphis; tackle Roger Beckley who played at Lejeune last year. Camp Sukiran; guard Phil Joyce, Cape May; center Don Karnosak, Camp Pendleton; halfback Dick Jones, Newport; halfback Bill Strumbe, Norfolk, and fullback Jim Pyle, San Diego.

Quantico Sweeps By Lejeune Quint; Benson Scores 30 In Losing Cause

After whipping a long-bearded House of David quintet last Wednesday, 85-64, at Goettge Memorial field house, the Camp Lejeune basketball team ran into a brick wall in the person of their arch rivals, the Quantico Marines, the following two nights.

The Leathernecks from Virginia, who came into the two-game series with an 102-point game average, lived up to their reputation by downing the locals, 108-76, and 102-83, respectively.

The twin defeat put Lejeune's East Coast Conference record at 2-4 while Quantico has a clean 2-0 slate. Lejeune's season record now stands just above the .500 mark with 7-6, while Quantico has eight wins in nine games. The Virginians' only loss, an upset, came at the hands of Ft. Knox, 59-57, two weeks ago.

The locals had the House of David five crying in their beards after building up a 67-46 lead mid-way through the second half. Lejeune, who dominated both backboards during the contest, maintained the 29-point deficit for the remainder of the second half.

All five of the local starters broke double figures, as Don Greiner led the attack with 15 points. Rick Benson and Angelo Cuttala followed with 14 and 11, respectively, while John Ritch and Ed Peterson chipped in 10 apiece.

Eddie Grim led the Davids with 25 points on 11 field goals and three free tosses while Bob Winterburn added 18 in the losing cause.

On Thursday night, the locals ran up against Quantico's fast-breaking offense which seemed to resemble clockwork. With eight minutes gone by in the first half, Quantico jumped to a sizable 30-13 lead. At intermission, the Virginians increased their margin, 54-34.

on Jack Sullivan's 18-point output.

Dave Smalley's driving layup after three minutes of the second half built the lead to 68-38. Lejeune failed to threaten and the Quantico 30-point lead remained intact throughout the second half.

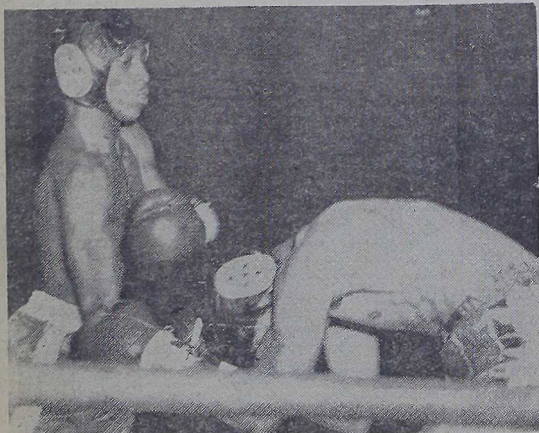

Greiner once again led the locals, scoring 16 points on seven field goals and two foul shots. Peterson and Benson followed with 15 and 12, respectively.

Sullivan, who led the small colleges throughout the nation in scoring while at Mount St. Mary's in the 1957-58 season, was high man for the evening with 24 points. Joe Miller and Smalley added 18 markers apiece, while John Brewer and Cliff Daniels chipped in 12 each.

On Friday night, the locals fought hard in the second half to keep within striking distance, but Quantico drowned all hopes when they pulled ahead, 87-68, with seven minutes remaining in the contest.

Grapplers Meet Fort Eustis Tomorrow In Initial Outing

Split Decisions Feature Divvy Boxing Tourney

A fighter who won his bout, and then two seconds later collapsed in his corner, and a parade of split decisions featured the opening round in the 2nd Division Boxing Tournament Monday night at Goettge Memorial field house.

The finals were held Wednesday night. Results were not available at GLOBE press time.

James Jessie of the Tenth Marines scored a TKO over the Sixth Marines' Tony Verniero in a light welterweight scrap between two of the Division's better boxers. Jessie bounced up from a no-count knockdown in the second round to floor Verniero for nine counts in the second and third. The fight was stopped at 1:53 of the third round.

Fred Fogg of the Sixth Marines landed a right cross on the Second Marines' John Stefonsky for a 45-second knockout in their welterweight bout.

Four other fights were split decisions, the Second Marines' Jerry Drake stopping Henry Tucker of the Eighth Marines in a 132-pound go; 2nd Recon. Bn.'s Billy Pridgen winning over Morris Young of the Tenth Marines at 147 pounds; David Young of the Second Marines defeating Bill Linscomb of 2nd Recon. Bn. in a 156-pound match; and Bobby Sapp, an Eighth Marines' middleweight, edging Jerry Goings of the Second Marines.

The Eighth's Eugene LeJeune easily whipped Robert Becket of the Tenth in a heavyweight bout, the only unanimous decision of the night.

James Horton of the Sixth Marines and Thomas Jackson of 2nd Recon. Bn. produced one of the wierdest battles ever in their light heavyweight bout.

Horton poled Jackson all over the ring for the better part of two rounds, flooring his opponent seven times. Horton was awarded a TKO with just seconds remaining in the second round, but not before he had acquired a bleeding nose via a well-planted jab from the loser.

As soon as referee Ray Bush stopped the contest, Horton staggered to the ropes and fell unconscious. It took about 20 seconds to revive the gladiator before his hand was finally raised in victory.

Least Putts Event Played

A "Least Putts" tourney was played last week by Camp Lejeune's WGA at the Paradise Point golf course. Phyl Anderson won top "A" flight honors with a 28.

Dottie Witherspoon and Florence Holdt tied for "B" flight with 33 apiece. The latter was declared winner through a play-off.

Evelyn Brown won "C" flight with 33 and Bette Walker took "D" flight with a 31.

The Camp Lejeune varsity wrestling team will make its first appearance of the 1958-59 season when it faces a visiting Ft. Eustis club at the Goettge Memorial field house tomorrow night commencing 8 p.m.

With several outstanding holdovers from last year's squad and the addition of some time-tested veterans, it is expected that the team will be stronger than last year's, a squad that went unbeaten in dual competition and finished fourth at the All-Marine.

Head coach Fred Campbell, a second year man at Lejeune and a former Duke University football and wrestling star, will be counting heavily on returnees Harvey Bekowitz, Bob Buckley, Dave Peterson, Howard George and Dick Brittain. Both Buckley and Brittain were undefeated last year while opposing competition in dual matches.

Brittain, who has been acting tutor until the return of coach Campbell, grapples in the 191 class. Before joining the Marines, he attended Penn State. Last year while out on the West Coast, he picked up two firsts and a second in AAU matches. Peterson, a 147-pounder, was fourth in the 1957 All-Marine.

George is one of Camp Lejeune's outstanding all-around athletes as he competes in football, judo and wrestling. He was the 1955 All-Marine champ and that same year was runner-up in the Olympic trials in the Greco-Roman style.

Being counted on heavily from the new crop are Howard Burt (125), Carol Campbell (160), Lynn Bechdel (heavyweight), George McCreary (115), Ralph Capone (136), and Ivan Samonoff (heavyweight).

Burt, hailing from Roselle Park, N. J., took first place at the state AAU matches in 1954. In 1953 and '54 he was runner-up in the scholastic tourney.

McCreary was second in the state matches in Pennsylvania while Capone was the runner-up in the New York state tournament last season.

Samonoff picked up his experience while at Columbia university.

The weather has been rough for this part of the but from reports all kinds of hunting has been good. E the goose hunting up at Mattamuskeet Lake where has gotten his limit that I have talked with. And all spite of the fact that there is a law on the statute North Carolina that very clearly states there will be ing of any kind while snow is on the ground—and i of the law is no excuse.

The special hunt that was held in the game re past Saturday netted only one deer, so I'm informed. Vic Stoyanow, told me that Saturday morning late traveling in his car in the direction of Paradise Po he came to a large body of men with guns and clothe pally in items of red (deer hunters).

About a mile and a half further on he saw a fe and many dogs enter the woods—this is the grou causes the deer to move toward the first group men. Then the next thing Vic saw about three-quarter mile further on was some 20-odd deer crossing the Solution—something or someone was out of pock Killed—one deer.

On the subject of deer hunting, I read an article in Field & Stream by Durward L. Allen relating to of many states where only bucks can be killed legal deer hunter knows the score—does and fawns are trigger happy gunners and left to rot, because p such a carcass is illegal.

I was amazed to read that from a survey job by the Wisconsin Conservation Department, the total kills left in the woods by hunters is larger than the of legal bucks taken out. That, obviously, is a shocki of venison. It makes the buck law, already under fire states, look mighty vulnerable.

It might also be said here that the method of deer as conducted on the Camp Lejeune Reservation preclu waste from occurring. This is merely another indic the real achievement of conservation accomplished Lejeune.

WHAT IS THE SAFEST COLOR FOR THE HUNTER?
A series of field tests to determine which color is t for the hunter has recently been completed. The t made in various types of terrain and light and weath tions. Cooperating in the tests were the National Ri ciation, the game departments of three states, the O ptometric Association, and the U. S. Army.

Final evaluated results of all tests showed YE the most visible and therefore the safest color f hunter. Against a possible score of 75, the colors as follows: yellow 72, orange 46, plaid 34, green 2 25 and blue 19.

Now all we have to do is go out and buy some ne of yellow cloth and sew it on the back, each shoul and the entire circumference of the headgear.

test. With the score, 55-39, at half-time, the locals put on a second half surge which pulled them to within seven points, 73-66, with nine minutes gone by. Then, Daniels, who tallied 22 points for Quantico, hit on a drive and a jump shot.

Leo Howard added four more on a tip-in and a layup to extend the lead to 81-66. After Lejeune's John McKenna scored on a layup, Brewer's jumps, Hayward's hook, and a pair of free throws by Smalley broke the game wide open, 87-68.

Benson was high man in the ball game with 30 points on 11 field goals and eight free throws. Greiner tallied 20 points and Ritch and McKenna added 10 each.

For Quantico, Hayward and Brewer followed Daniels with 16 apiece, while Sullivan, Smalley, and Miller had 15, 13, and 11, respectively.

QUANTICO WINS—Lejeune's John McKenna (40) and Quantico's John Brewer (34) fight for a stray rebound under the local board in the second half of a game Thursday night. Quantico Daniels (44) and Lejeune's John Ritch look on at the action. Quantico went on to drub the locals, 108-76.

Pirates Extended As Pups Lose 43-39

A surprisingly strong Camp Lejeune High school basketball team dropped their second game of the young season 42-39 but not before they gave Swansboro, defending Class A basketball champions, a run for their money. And it was on the foul line that decided the game played at the Goettge Memorial field house last week.

Swansboro's John Metts was unable to come up with a two pointer all night but his charity tosses accounted for eight markers to keep the visitors ahead.

The Devildogs outscored their opponents in the first quarter, 8-7. However, the second period told the tale as the Pirates bucketed seven more points than the Pups.

John Whitney led all scorers with three field goals and five free throws for 11 points. Skip Chapman had five for Lejeune's runner-up honors. Metts and P. Smith lead the winners with eight each. Art Potts was credited with keeping the Pups in contention all the way with his outstanding rebounding.

In the first game of the evening, the Lejeune girls were powerless against the Swansboro sextet losing, 41-26 and being held to only two points in the entire second half. Jo Brickley poured in 15 markers in the losing cause to pace all scorers.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a small dark stain near the bottom center. A faint vertical crease is visible on the left side, suggesting it was once part of a bound volume.
