Construction Scheduled For Early Spring

Construction of 800 single-unit, on-base, Capehart houses is scheduled to begin early next spring, according to Col. R. H. Crockett, Base G-4, and Cmdr. N. C. Harvey, USN, Base public works officer.

Six hundred seventy-seven staff NCO units will be built in the area adjacent to the Camp High school on Brewster Blvd., and run down along the Stone st. extension almost to Wallace Creek. One hundred twenty-three houses for officers will be situated in the vicinity of the present 2900-3300 blocks at Paradise Point.

The first unit of the $13 million project should be ready for occupancy next fall, and the entire development is expected to be completed by the latter part of 1960.

Average cost per house is limited by law to not more than $16,500, including sewage, electricity and other utilities. They will be all three and four-bedroom "public quarters," generally similar to those completed earlier this year at MCAF, except that there will be no duplexes. Each unit will be adequately furnished through HQMC.

Bids for the new development are scheduled to be opened in Norfolk, December 9, by the District Public Works Officer, Fifth Naval District.

The Capehart Act, established by the 84th Congress, is a highly complex operation. The first project required 65,000 signatures from the time the need for the housing was expressed by the particular base until the contractor was directed to begin work. The process has since become simpler, but is still rather complicated.

The local development is being processed under revisions made by the 85th Congress, wherein each project is required to have congressional approval.

Admiral Towner, General Pollock Briefly Visit Quad-Command Area

hour exercise by 2nd Division marines.

Accompanied by Lt. Gen. Edwin A. Pollock, commanding general, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, the Little Creek, Va.-based admiral arrived at 2nd Division Headquarters.

where he witnessed a static display of helicopters and attended a briefing on the helicopter aspect of amphibious warfare.

In the afternoon, following his observation of the Battalion Landing Team at G-8 and H-2 areas, the admiral went for a helicopter flight over Onslow Beach where a logistics exercise took place.

The visitor then returned to Marine Corps Air Facility at New River where he departed on his return trip to Little Creek.

This was the first tour of Camp Lejeune and area by Admiral Towner since his assumption of command of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force.

Friday where, after receiving honors from Foxrot Co., 2nd Bn., Eighth Marines, and attending a short briefing, was taken on a helicopter tour of Camp Lejeune.

Following the tour, the admiral arrived at Marine Corps Air Facility.

HOLIDAY COFFEE BARS

Free hot coffee and doughnuts will be available to weary marine drivers en route North or South back to the Base after the Thanksgiving weekend. Two highway booths will be set up by Division MP Co., and ITR personnel.

The MP's will operate their bar at Blizzard's Service Station on highway 258 near Richlands, from 8 p.m. to 6 a.m., starting Sunday and closing down Tuesday.

ITR will refresh north-bound drivers at Hampstead, about 16 miles north of Wilmington, N. C., on U. S. 17. The stand will open about 3 p.m. Sunday and close 8 a.m. Monday.

Early Discharges Approved For Christmas-New Year's

All enlisted marines, due to be discharged or released from active duty between December 20 and January 5, inclusively, will receive "early outs" December 17-20, according to Al-Mar 17, released last week.

Commanding officers are authorized to separate all eligible personnel, except six-month reservists. A written agreement must be signed and entered in the service records of those taking advantage of the premature releases.

Any man indebted to the government will not be separated.

rated until the debt is liquidated or until normal release or discharge is due, whichever date is earlier.

Personnel are not allowed to obtain early "outs" in order to reenlist.

OPENING NIGHT

The Little Theater opens a four-day stand with their presentation, "Come Back, Little Sheba," at 7 p.m. in the Camp school auditorium Wednesday.

The two-act drama which ends Saturday evening is under the direction of Capt. Ben V. McLane Jr., and is sponsored by the Staff Wives club.

Unusual Conditions Fact 'Q' Allotment

Note: This is the final article in the series dealing with allotment, published this week to inform enlisted personnel of conditions which may change the allotment and other miscellaneous data.

of more than one dependent, marriage, birth or child, change of parent's circumstances, and some ranks, the amount of the allotment check increase when a dependent child marries or enters employment or when a ger relies on the for one-half support, rank demotion her circumstances e allotment.

The allowance is completely discontinued at death of the service member or all dependents. Residence in "public quarters", disciplinary action, and release or discharge from active duty will also end the allotment. If the enlisted man is AWOL for two months, the allotment will terminate.

The serviceman or his dependents should notify Washington through proper channels as soon as any of these situations arise, to avoid heavy repayments when the allotment is finally cancelled.

If a dependent is acquired on or after the first of the month, there will be no changes in the allotment for that month. The new amount will be effective the following month, and the increased check will be received the month after that. Adjustment for the month of application will be made across the pay table and NOT from Washington.

The same procedure is followed in certain rank promotions, except when the promotion is effective on the first of the month. The increase will then be effective that month.

The Dependents Assistance Act does not require allotments for the month of discharge or release from active duty. Time, however, often does not permit "stop notices" to reach HQMC in time to effect allotment stoppage prior to the last month of service. Personnel should consult commanding officers for information regarding the last allotment payment.

Except under certain conditions an allotment cannot be stopped as long as entitlement exists. It will never be stopped for children, nor will it be stopped when the serviceman is missing or missing-in-action.

When a dependent cannot cash a check, the check should be returned to HQMC. If he or she changes residence, HQMC should be notified on the change of address cards provided. If none are available, the dependent should write to HQMC, furnishing name and serial number of the allottee and the name, old and new address and signature of the allottee.

Series Of GLOBE Articles To Explain Procedures Of Eight-Man Squad Drill

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles explaining the drill movements of the eight-man squad which will soon be re-ordered into effect by HQMC. It should be noted that halt, rest, facings, sleep, marchings and the manual of arms are executed as prescribed in the Landing Party Manual. Source of information for the following procedures is CMC letter of May 25, 1954—when the drill was then ordered into use.

The squad consists of an NCO, one automatic rifleman and six riflemen. The NCO is designated squad leader.

Other squad members form the same as in the 13-man drill, minus the third rank. In the rear rank numbers two and three men's positions should be the first to be left blank when there isn't a full squad.

To form the squad the instructor places himself three paces in front of where the center of the squad is to be and commands, "Fall in." The men assemble at attention, pieces at the order, and each individual comes to Right Dress, bringing up his left elbow and dropping it as soon as proper interval is attained. The rear rank forms 40 inches back-to-breast.

"Count off" is then ordered and, after the instructor insures proper alignment, the command, "Front," is given with no preparatory. "Ready." When "Open Ranks . . . March" is ordered, the same procedure is followed.

File closers may be utilized and be positioned two paces in back of the rear rank. Inspection of rifles or stack arms can then take place before closing ranks and readying for the march.

To turn the squad on a fixed pivot the command is, "Squad right

quires a full step forward with the right foot.

While on the march, if the turn is to the right, the command of execution is given as the right foot strikes the deck, and vice versa. The count begins on the SECOND step after the command of execution, the squad members counting: "Step-1-2-3-4-5," and stepping off on the sixth count. The "Step" is a full step forward in the march.

This time, if the turn is to the right, the step-off sixth count will come on the left foot. If the turn is to the left, the sixth count will come on the right foot.

Division Personnel Invited To Record Yuletide Greetings

The 2nd Marine Division's Informational Services Office is currently accepting appointments from personnel of the Division to tape record Christmas greetings to be sent to the subject's hometown radio station.

Hundreds of radio stations around the country have indicated their desire for these tape recorded Christmas greetings and accordingly, the Fleet Home Town News Center at Great Lakes, Ill., has set up a program for reproduction and distribution of the tapes forwarded from the Division.

Division personnel who desire to make a recording of a Christmas message to their family's hometown radio station may call the Division's Informational Services Office, telephone 7-3064, for an appointment. The deadline for recording these messages is December 8.

It should be noted that even if there is no radio station in your hometown, there is a radio station in the general vicinity that does service your town or city.

Unveiling Of Plaque Honoring All U. S. War Dead Scheduled In Great Britain

A Roll of Honor, dedicated to 26 marines and all American servicemen and members of the U. S. Merchant Marine who lost their lives while based in Great Britain during World War II, was scheduled to be enshrined Wednesday at the American Memorial Chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral, London.

Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II, was slated to unveil the plaque honoring the servicemen. Vice President Richard M. Nixon was to represent President Eisenhower, and Brig. Gen. John P. Condon, serving with Headquarters, U. S. European Command, was scheduled to represent the Commandant of the Marine Corps during the unveiling ceremony.

The Honor Roll will occupy a prominent position in the Memorial Chapel in London.

Marine Air Detach. Activated On Boxer

Another Marine Corps first was recorded November 10 when the first permanent Marine Aviation Detachment afloat was activated aboard the carrier, USS Boxer, at Norfolk, Va.

A detachment of four officers and 100 enlisted marines will provide supply, maintenance and flight deck control to Marine helicopter squadrons and troops to be assigned to the Boxer.

Thanksgiving

In this modern day of achievements that were completely beyond the imagination of yesteryear, it is a good thing to have something each year as simple to understand as THANKSGIVING. This is the time to stop for a moment and realize how well-off we marines and sailors are in this land of America.

But since we should "keep up" with the times, perhaps we can consider just what is required of us as individual military men and women—as Christians—to show our appreciation. Or to put in modern terms this requirement, we might ask how do we get into God's orbit?

We might count our blessings—all that we have is a gift from God because He loves us.

God's goodness, blessings and love should inspire us to love Him in return.

The love of a Christian military man is genuine when it puts God first and material things second. Jesus said unless we are willing to give, we do not put God first.

We might ask ourselves, "Has my giving indicated that my greatest love is for God or for myself?"

When we can answer that our giving is for God, then THANKSGIVING takes on a meaning that is real and true. THANKSGIVING 1958, the one thing that is truly American, can then become DEDICATION DAY to God and country.

Camouflaged Killers

There's a killer in your home, reports the National Safety Council. You don't need weapons to defend yourself. Just common sense and a lot of caution.

The killer? Poisons. They lurk everywhere—in the medicine cabinet, under the kitchen sink, on dressing tables. You'll even find them on food shelves, in the workshop, and in your cleaning closet.

These camouflaged killers in the home take more than 1,000 lives annually. They take a steady toll throughout the year—about 120 lives a month.

Most frequent victims are children five years of age or younger. But right up there as home poison victims are persons in the 25-44 and 45-64 age groups.

The types of accidental poisoners are as varied as the containers they come in—bleach, permanent wave solution, shampoo, nail polish remover, furniture polish, art supplies, bug killers, paint removers.

Some potential poisoners are properly labeled—but a lot aren't. Doctors aren't always sure if a product is poisonous. And some ingredients, harmless to most persons, can kill others—especially children.

WASHINGTON REPORT

A recent hearing by a senate subcommittee has brought out the fact that one out of every five men in the military manpower pool has a record of juvenile delinquency.

In a letter to the Secretaries of the Army, Navy, and Air Force, Committee Chairman Thomas C. Hennings of the Judiciary Subcommittee to investigate Juvenile Delinquency said placing all of them in uniform could prove "a very expensive proposition".

Hennings also said that "persons of this type can, of course, have detrimental effects upon the efficiency of the armed forces and upon service discipline and morale. He added, "It would be a very expensive proposition to train these men and then have to discharge them for repeated infractions of military laws."

The military services are not required to accept persons with juvenile delinquency records because of the low manpower needs. Hennings said though, that another war probably would bring about the necessity of using them just as in World War II.

A plan by Hennings showed that several courses of action are available, including the indiscriminate admission of all, as was done in World War II, and the admission of some based on the discretion of recruiting officers, but the exclusion of all is impossible because of the large number.

After a hearing with both military and civilian specialists, the subcommittee plans to recommend steps to be taken to better utilize the marginal manpower available in the total civilian manpower pool. The armed services already have started conferences on a testimony to be presented to the subcommittee.

Senator Hennings added that the subcommittee staff already had been in touch with Selective Service officials, psychologists and others in the armed forces, and civilian scientists experienced in the field of personnel selection and prediction of human behavior.

Chaplain's Corner

How do you "get along" with people? Do friends, neighbors, family or strangers sometimes irritate you? If you find yourself frequently, or even occasionally building up inner tensions over real or fancied wrongs suffered at the hands of others, you may be able to gain a better perspective of life's problems by studying the following paragraph. It is an excerpt from an article entitled "Taking Offense", written by Mary Baker Eddy and published in her book "Miscellaneous Writings".

"We should remember that the world is wide; that there are a thousand million different human wills, opinions, ambitions, tastes, and loves; that each person has a different history, constitution, culture, character, from all the rest; that human life is the work, the play, the ceaseless action and reaction upon each other of these different atoms.

Then, we should go forth into life with the smallest expectations, but with the largest patience; with keen relish for and appreciation of everything beautiful, great, and good, but with a temper so genial that the friction of the world shall not wear upon our sensibilities; with an acquiescence so settled that no passing breath nor accidental disturbance shall agitate or ruffle it; with a charity broad enough to cover the whole world's evil, and sweet enough to neutralize what is bitter in it. — determined not to be offended when no wrong is meant, nor even when it is, unless the offense be against God."

—JOHN W. WAGENSELL,
Chaplain, 2nd Div.

Short Round

Forty Cherry Point marines turned "Hollywood" as they donned makeup for their roles in a re-titled "Three Guys Called Mac." The movie, belted aboard the Air Station, depicts a marine's career: pletes boot camp and individual combat training to a film on boot camp titled "The Challenge."

The Marine Corps Institute has gone "over" in its drive toward reaching the mid-1959 of having a course for nearly every MOS in the Corps. An average of two new courses a week are being opened and 13 were opened in September to set a new record. The Institute now has 162 courses available.

BOARDING RUBBER BOAT—Marines of "B" Co., 2nd Recon. Bn., leave the submarine "Sea Lion" off the Virginia coast during recent rubber boat exercises. Navy submariners stand by to assist the marines who are about to sneak to the beach on a simulated reconnaissance mission.

Rubber Boat Drill Given Recon Men Aboard Sub

Forty-five officers and men of Bravo Co., 2nd Recon. Bn., 2nd Division, left their outlying Stone Bay area recently for rubber boat training exercises with the submarine "Sea Lion" off the Virginia Capes.

Laying 60 miles off Little Creek, out beyond the continental "shelf" the recon. unit spent five days boat drilling from the sub, surf-launching and practicing underwater submarine escape.

The first day, according to TSgt. W. E. Shumaker, company gunny, the boat crews worked for and achieved a 12-second time lapse in getting from their compartments and into their rubber boats—ready to shove off. Later, they practiced with paddles and motors, learning proper handling of the tricky craft.

In moderate surf, yet hampered by after-effects of Hurricane "Helene," the men practiced surf launchings, averaging six successful launchings out of seven tries.

Nightly, if not doing sub dives because of rough seas, the men trained with infra-red gear, watching otherwise invisible submarine signals through a Beta Scope on the beach.

Each man also received instruction on underwater escape from a damaged submarine, rounding out the maneuvers and adding even more versatility to the marine reconnaissance outfit.

LIBERTY IN NAPLES—Marines made a hasty debarkation from the deck of the USS Chilton when the unit arrived at Naples, Italy. was the first "real" liberty for men of the 3rd Battalion since joining the NELM last June.

TOURIST ATTRACTION—Rome's ancient Coliseum is visited by sightseers from the 3rd Battalion during their eight-day liberty in Italy. Organized tours for the Mediterranean marines were also made to Pompeii and Isle of Capri.

BEIRUT STREETS PEACEFUL—Trolley cars instead of armored vehicles now roll over streets of Beirut as peace comes to Lebanon after many months of fighting.

Marines Enjoy Mediterranean Liberty

Beirut, Rome And Naples

By 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines

the U. S. Marines.

Perhaps "M" Company of the 3rd Bn. summed up the feeling of all marines who served in Lebanon. On their former mountain-top position overlooking the capital city they left their legacy . . . an improvised concrete plaque bearing a short but sincere message to the friends they left behind. It simply says:

"United States Marines Corps
—From the Officers and Men of Company "M," 3rd Bn., 6th Marines, to the people of Lebanon
—A wish for a future of freedom and happiness in memory of Pfc W. C. Richardson." (Pfc Richardson was accidentally killed while serving in Lebanon.)

And there were the lighter moments of coming back to Lebanon: SSgt. Norman Quinn of "I" Company, spent four hours and 15 dollars placing a trans-Atlantic telephone call to his home in Lawrence, Mass., only to be connected with his hometown police station.

For others, there were moments to be proud: Pfc's Earl E. Morton of H&S Company and Robert E. Crews of "K" Company were commended during a special ceremony on the deck of the USS Chilton by the ship's skipper, Capt. T. B. Dabney, USN. The commendations were given them for outstanding attention to duty while serving as sentinels aboard ship.

And there was a moment of rejoicing for the civilian population when the curfew was lifted from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. by the Lebanese government, making the beginning of the end of a struggle that pitted violently opposed political factions against each other.

The military curfew, however, remained at 6 p.m. It was good to walk around in the daylight hours and see the trolley cars running again in Beirut, the shops and stores open wide, streets thronged with men, women and children, barricades torn down and fear no longer stamped on peoples' faces. Peace had finally come to Beirut.

A peace that the 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, had earned the right to witness during their short visit to a place that seemed almost like home.

With Beirut left behind for future historians to record as the site where bare knuckles showed through the silk gloves of American diplomacy in the face of threatened aggression, the NEML Battalion of Lt. Col. R. M. Jenkins prepared itself for the busy days ahead.

There would be other liberty ports. Naples was just the beginning of many. And in between them would be practice landings and perhaps a combined operation with the 2nd Bn., Sixth Marines, with its embarked Regimental Headquarters.

Liberty in Italy had been an abrupt change of pace from Lebanon. There had been a trip to ancient Rome, Pompeii and the sun-drenched Isle of Capri. Daily excursions and two- and three-day tours to these history-book show places had attracted many of the Sixth Marines.

While docked at Naples for eight days, the 3rd Bn. relaxed, enjoyed the native country scenery, tasted spicy foods, browsed among the quaint little souvenir shops, the towering department stores and bought gifts and presents for the folks back home. Christmas was only a few weeks away.

With its miles of cobblestone alleys and clothes lines running criss-cross connecting dilapidated tenement houses, broad avenues and fashionable homes, modern restaurants and dingy cafes, Naples presented a fascinating contrast between the old and the new.

Nightly, the docks echoed to the clackety-clack of horse-drawn carriages as many marines used this form of transportation back from liberty in preference to the waiting army of taxi cabs.

But too soon the eight days at Naples were gone and the Battalion was once again on its way to Athens and more liberty.

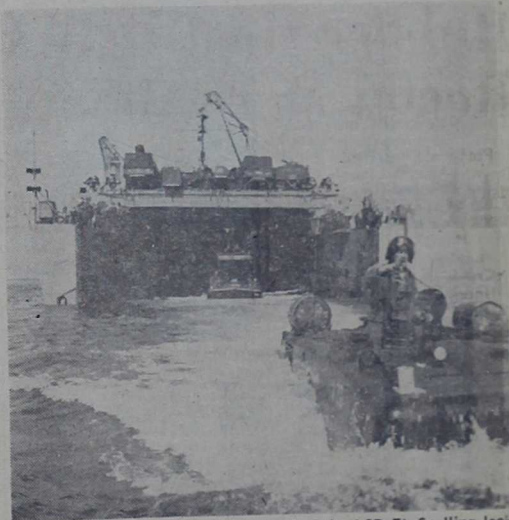

During the trip morale was kept high with daily training exercises, abandon ship drills, inspections, general quarters followed by gunnery exhibitions and movies to help occupy time and keep the troops on their sea legs.

The men of the 3rd Bn. are looking forward to their 12 days of liberty in Athens . . . November 3-15 . . . a very important date will fall then. . . The Marine Corps Birthday. . . This would call for planning and preparation to properly observe the Corps' birthday.

After Athens? Nobody knew with certainty, but one thing was sure: the 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, would be busy.

DOWN THE NET—The Navy provides the elevator service for men of the 3rd Battalion, being unloaded from small boats below. Methods were developed aboard the USS Chilton to unload troops during foul weather.

COMING ASHORE—The business end of the LSD Ft. Snelling looked like an erupting volcano as the Amphibs sped forth during turn-about exercises conducted by the 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, while afloat in the Mediterranean.

JULY LANDING—Liberty for the 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, in Rome, Naples and Beirut was in sharp contrast to this scene, taken during the July landings on the shores of troubled Lebanon.

Lejeune To Meet San Diego In Post-Season Game In Calif.

The Camp Lejeune Marines will play a post-season football game against the Devil Dogs of San Diego on Sunday, December 14, it was officially announced by Base Special Services Monday afternoon. The contest, designated the Leatherneck Bowl, will be played at Balboa Stadium beginning 2 p.m.

Yesterday, the local eleven finished up their regular season at Quantico. Results were not available at GLOBE presstime.

San Diego's team is rated just under the power club of last year, a team that finished second only to Bolling AFB, National Service champs.

With six veterans from previous years in the starting line-up, coach Bull Trometter's eleven has dropped only two games while winning five thus far in the season. Their two losses came at the hands of Arizona State college (25-19), a small national collegiate power and the Tucson Cowboys (28-7), a team comprised of former professional stars and rated as the finest semi-pro club on the West Coast.

After losing their first contest to Arizona, the Devil Dogs scored impressive victories over Eagle Rock AC, 33-0, another West Coast power in semi-pro ranks; Fresno State college, 20-6; University of Hawaii, 27-0; and Hawaii Marines.

With a four-game winning streak, the Tucson Cowboys upended San Diego. However, the following week, a highly regarded San Diego State college fell victim in a 25-0 shutout win by the Devil Dogs.

Last weekend, the Californian's played Hamilton AFB with Camp Pendleton and the Montebello Rhinos still remaining on their schedule.

Against San Diego State, the Devil Dogs racked up 14 first downs while amassing 373 yards on the ground. Though not a passing club, when their quarterbacks have tossed, it usually results in a completion.

In three games against Arizona State, U. of Hawaii and San Diego State, Devil Dog field generals have connected on 16 of 28 passes combined.

High scorer for the club is quarterback Darryl Rogers, a Los Angeles Rams draftee, with 24 points. Rogers' principal targets have been Piggy Robinson (Fiske U.) and Bob Garner of Fresno State, the latter catching two TD tosses.

The Chevron's (San Diego's newspaper) checklist on season performances have included both Robinson and Garner along with end Jack Stillwell. Elbert Bullock has been mentioned at the guard slot along with tackles John Glover, 1957 All-Marine, and John Scott (Ohio State).

Behind Rogers at quarterback is Vern Valdez, a Catholic All-American while attending the U. of San Diego. At full will either be Jim Pyles, with 19 points scored, or Ernie Merk, U. of Southern California.

Star halfbacks are Al Hall, 18 points, and a Los Angeles Rams selectee, and Lee Taylor of Fresno State.

PHYSICAL PRACTICE—Dick Brittain takes a free ride through a session at the Goettge gym. The session will end tomorrow with regular season practice scheduled for Monday afternoon. Coach Fred Campbell will have his team ready for the season opener against Ft. Eustis in a game Nov. 29. This year, Lejeune will host the All-Marine, which is set for Nov. 29.

Local writer's "walk up" became the scene for a party last Monday night in honor of Dave Pavlesic, a player with the local nine last season and currently manager. The setting included several of Camp Lejeune's outstanding players and rooters.

Of course, THAT man about the Reservation, the author of the more relaxing endeavors, baseball and trainer for both the national pastime and the football eleven, Joe "Doc" DePompa, was in conversation centered for a time on baseball and the "Doc" loosened up enough to finish off a story he has been saving for a long time.

Joe had been born and raised in the Washington, D.C., area, and that he had become a loyal follower of the Senators. It disturbed him as a youngster that his club couldn't win a pennant. After joining the Navy, he had a leave, his friends would invariably find him at the stadium watching his beloved Senators.

He became the brunt of many jokes because of his "one night, when "backed against a wall" as to why he hadn't won a pennant in over 20 years, Joe simply said he would make a phone call to Clark Griffith, manager of the Washington nine.

Just this. Mr. Griffith's butler paged the kind gentleman and there ensued a conversation between Joe and Doc for several minutes. Doc asked Mr. Griffith why the Senators were always on the short end of the stick. To best of Joe's recollection, Mr. Griffith simply requested that Joe be more patient.

That is exactly what the football trainer is doing, waiting the winter trades hoping that the prophecy comes up with holds true. "Wait until next year."

Varsity Quint Wins First Tilt By 75-64 Span Against Point

The Camp Lejeune Marines came bounding back from an eight-point halftime deficit to defeat Cherry Point, 75-64, in their first game of the season Friday night.

With the score, 34-26, at intermission, Camp Lejeune put on an early second half splurge, going ahead for the first time of the game on Rick Benson's driving layup after four minutes had elapsed.

From then on it was a see-saw affair seven and a half minutes remained in the game.

At this point Lejeune was up, 57-56, but Ed Peterson and Angelo Cuttala each sank a pair of free throws. Benson followed with a 15-foot one-hander and Cuttala scored on a driving layup from the right side to make the count, 65-56, with five minutes and 45 seconds remaining on the clock.

Cherry Point couldn't get back on its feet as the local cagers maintained this margin throughout the remainder of the game.

Lejeune's 49-point second half drive was led by 6'6" center Benson, who tallied 15 of his 21 point total after the intermission and

The locals dropped their opening home game of the season to Atlantic Christian College, 86-72, Tuesday night.

Rick Benson was once again high scorer for the Marines, dropping in 12 field goals for a 24-point total. Don Greiner and Ed Peterson chipped in 18 and 16 points, respectively, in a losing cause.

The Bulldogs' Dick Knox was instrumental in keeping a 41-33 ACC half-time lead intact during the second half. The six-foot two-inch guard found the range on a series of long jump shots, scoring 18 of his 23 points after the intermission.

Don Ryan followed Knox in the ACC scoring with nine field goals and four free throws for 22 points. Bob Whaley (18) and Darwyn Williams (14) were the other ACC cagers in double figures.

Don Greiner, who chipped in all of his 12 points then.

Ed Peterson (15), Gerry Smith (10), and Charlie Buechlein (10) were the other Lejeune cagers in double figures. Peterson, a former Wagner College star and last year's team captain, had a perfect night at the free throw line with nine from nine.

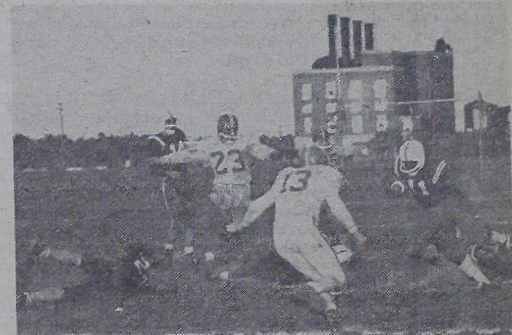

The game's high scoring honors went to Cherry Point's Bob Kessler, who sank nine field goals and seven free throws for a 25-point total. While at the University of Maryland, Kessler received honorable mention All-American honors.

Teammate Bob Verlander chipped in 11 points in the losing cause. The locals' 58-game schedule will get into full swing next week. COME-FROM-BEHIND WIN—Hq. Bn.'s T. Q. Hayes reels off yardage against 1st ITR. Moving in to tackle the halfback is H. F. Hall (13) and G. S. Sorci (23). Headquarters, behind Lenny Crone's five TD tosses, had to come from a 25-6 halftime deficit to take the game and win the MCB Six-Man Football Championship.

Hq. Bn. Comes Roaring Back To Take MCB Six-Man Title

In a thrill studded second half that left a bleacher-full of fans hoarse, Headquarters Battalion whipped a 25-6 halftime deficit into a 31-25 victory to win the Marine Corps Base six-man football championship from the 1st Infantry Training Regiment Friday afternoon.

It was the third straight crown for Headquarters and retired the Base traveling trophy into their possession.

With battalion commander, Col. Albert F. Lucas, yelling his throat raw "for the first time since college days," Headquarters changed its basic defense after the intermission and romped back to freeze ITR's blazing end runs the last two quarters.

The losers, piling up 187 yards rushing and four TD's in the first two quarters, were stopped dead with four net ground yards and a zero score in the final half.

Headquarters' coach Jack King

solved the ITR running riddle which in the first half saw T. R. Reatless break loose around end for 30 and 60-yard touchdowns and which, by the same route, saw ITR's backfield set up two other markers.

With the riddle solved, Headquarters' quarterback Lenny Crone unleashed his powerfully accurate throwing arm. Frank Westbrook, playing outstanding ball all the way, gathered in two and Jack Cole, also recipient of a first quarter six-pointer from Crone, hauled in two, all for scores.

Westbrook, after the third touchdown, took Crone's pass for Headquarters' lone extra point.

The winners changed from a two to a three-man defensive line in the second half to stop ITR.

Hard charging ends, Joe Randazzo and the ever-present Westbrook, overshooting the mark in the first half, were shifted wide. Big and fast John Grabski went in to plug the center.

Twice the trio threw ITR quarterback G. H. Ellis for big losses as he tried to pass. Twice they forced ITR to punt and twice to lose possession on downs. These were unseen sights in the first half.

Little Joe Turner, another of defensive-defensive terror, was a hero on the last play of the game.

As the closing minutes ticked along, ITR took desperately to the air. They completed two long ones and reached Headquarters' five-yard line with time for just one more play.

ITR's Ellis shot a bullet pass into the end zone. Out of nowhere, the pint-sized Turner shot into the air and batted it down to end the game.

MCB Basketball

The MCB Intramural Basketball league will be held from December 4 to February 19. The winner and runner-up will qualify for the Quad Command Championship, to be played at the Goettge Memorial field house.

FISH & WILDLIFE

BY THE "OLD ANGLER"
Phone 7-5522

I know that many of the local servicemen that have made the trip up to Mattamuskeet haven't had a lot of luck with bringing back their limit in geese. But the weather has been just too good and too warm up until this writing to make the honkers fly. From the many inquiries made of me, I know that some of you would like to have more information about the hunting and overnight arrangements to be made at Mattamuskeet.

First, where the lake is located and how to get there. It is about 140 miles north of Camp Lejeune, and one of the popular routes to take is U. S. 17 to New Bern and Washington; then take route U. S. 264, which will take you right by Mattamuskeet Lake.

I have made arrangements with 1st Sgt. Robert M. Parker of Hq. Co., 8th Comm., FT, who is a frequent visitor to the lake and has been for a number of years, to provide information on blinds and other accommodations around the lake. You can reach Sergeant Parker at phone number 7-5406. I might add that Sergeant Parker is doing this as a favor for the Old Angler.

I realize that I have mentioned this before, but it is worth mentioning again during the hunting season. Among man, the domestic cat has a place as a pet and living mousetrap. If well cared for, his occasional escapades after wildlife are negligible.

But, the free hunting cat—the kitten that was left in the woods to grow up and forage for himself—is an effective predator endowed with keen senses, elliptical pupils for night vision, powerful muscles, needle-sharp claws and teeth designed for tearing flesh. He can sneak through the underbrush with silence and cunning, suddenly to become a ball of living fury as he pounces upon a victim. Why not do wildlife a favor by taking such cats that you might see in the woods to the local pound for humane disposal?

What brought the cat bit to my mind is the fact that one crossed my path with a nail in his mouth just a few days ago. I made appropriate disposal of this cat.

Since we are on the subject of predatory animals, I might mention that Base Bulletin 1723 relating to Hunting for 1958-1959 encourages hunters during the season to kill these animals listed here: weasel, wildcats, skunk, crows, blackbirds, buzzards, English sparrows, jays and starlings.

The Camp Lejeune Rifle and Pistol club meeting originally scheduled for the Montford Point club Monday has been changed. The meeting will be held at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center on the same date, December 1, beginning at 8 p.m.

Slated for discussion will be a December 7 "Turkey Shoot" which will be for members only. So if you want to get in on the turkey shoot, as well as the many other activities enjoyed by the Rifle and Pistol club, you should join now.

This coming Thursday and Friday, I will be going up to Lake Mattamuskeet with Jim Huff from Swansboro to try my luck with the honkers. I will certainly let you know the results. Unless the weather gets a lot worse and colder, I'm not too optimistic about getting our limit.

Deadly Marine Holds Second Highest Degree In Karate

A friend's challenge two years ago has produced the deadliest marine at Lejeune. He is Don Nagle, born 20 years ago in Jersey City, N. J., and now holder of the highest degree in the deadly art of Karate (Issindo School, Okinawa) here in the United States. The 140-pounder, so adept in the killer sport, must now register with the police in any city of the United States of which he becomes a resident.

In competition alone, Nagle has gone through 17 matches without suffering a defeat. Coaches have been after him to try out for their team. As an undeveloped track prospect, the 5'9" marine can kick his foot to a height of seven feet from a dead standstill. As a potential boxer, he can break eight brick tiles and a two by four with his knuckles.

He is currently working with the side of his hands (Shuto), attempting to break two by fours employing this method. Nagle has taken six bricks or sheet rock and quickly disposed of them with the use of his left hand.

Judo coach Ernie Cates is working with Nagle in preparation of what Cates describes as a "brilliant future" in the sport.

When entering competition, Nagle is attired in armor consisting of head mask, leather protecting his neck and shoulders, foam rubber gloves and armor plate, made either of bamboo or hard leather, protecting his chest. According to the rules of Karate, it is illegal to strike an opponent in any part of the body not protected. Contestants employ the use of their hands, feet and elbows during the match.

Training is conducted on a conditioning basis as in any sport, but the weapon, usually the hand or foot, is deadened through constant battering of the limb against a hard surface, deadening the nerves in the region.

Competition is measured on the basis of technique and learning through speed of limb.

Asked in what way he can employ the art in practical application, Nagle feels that there are many law enforcement agencies that utilize phases of the sport. Nagle spends much of his time demonstrating to civic organizations.

Eglin AFB Scheduled For Annual Shrimp Bowl Play

Eglin AFB, winners over Camp Lejeune by a 20-8 margin, will play the Brooks Army Medical Center Comets in the annual Shrimp Bowl December 14 to decide the National Service champs.

The Airmen will take in a once tarnished record, tying Pensacola, 6-6, for their only blemish on a perfect season. The Eagles conquered Bolling AFB, the first time the Generals had been beaten in 20 games, and came from behind to stop Quantico in their climb to the top.

The Comets boast an undefeated record and hold a win over Hamilton AFB, picked as the second best service team in pre-season polls.

High-Rank Officers Witness Duke Win

Thirty-eight high-ranking Camp Lejeune Marine officers and their Jacksonville hosts witnessed Wray Carlton's defeat of North Carolina Saturday afternoon at Chapel Hill.

The group left early Saturday morning to view the Duke-Carolina game in which Carlton scored all the points, edging Jim Tatum's eleven, 7-6.

Sponsored by the Military Affairs Committee of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, the annual trip included box lunches prior to the game and steak dinner at Smithfield that night.

Among the guests were Maj. Gen. James P. Riskey, MCB commanding Division commander; Brig. Gen. S. Wade, assistant Division commander; and Brig. Gen. L. F. Chapman Jr., FT commander.

KARATE EXPERT—Don Nagle demonstrates a technique he has developed, kicking his foot seven feet into the air from a crouching position. The 140-pound marine holds the second highest degree in the art of Karate in the United States.

Divvy All-Conference Team Selected; Farley Top Choice

Guy Watson, a 200-pound halfback who runs over and Howard Loving, a will-of-the-wisp who cuts around and through defenses, are unanimous choices on the 1958 2nd Marine Division Conference football team.

The selections, announced last week by Division Special Services, also includes two repeaters from the 1957 team and names 1st Lt. Edward Farley of the champion Second Marines as Coach of the Year. Coaches of the league's six teams and a Division sports writer picked the team.

In addition to Loving of 2nd Recon. Bn. and Watson of the Second Marines, the team includes the repeat choices, center Don Christman of the Tenth Marines and guard Bill Starrett of Group II, ends Julius Bozeman of the Second Marines and Elmer English of 2nd Recon. Bn., tackles Bill Brown of the Second Marines and James Clark of the Tenth Marines, guard E. S. Krukowski of Group II, quarterback Horace Davis of 2nd Recon. Bn., and fullback Pete Corr of Group I.

Watson bulled his way to 56 points this season, on eight touchdowns and eight extra points, by far the best scoring total in the league. Loving was a constant fan-thriller with fine, Houdini-like broken-field running.

Lieutenant Farley, a Colby college graduate coaching for the first time, guided the Second Marines to five straight wins and the Division championship.

Both Christman and Starrett are bruising tacklers, and Christman, a linebacker on defense, intercepted several passes this season.

Corr joined Group I only in its last two games, but was outstanding in both. Davis was the league's top passer, averaging near 50 per cent on completions.

The two ends, Bozeman and English, were as adept on defense as in pass catching. Tackles Brown, both weighing 200 pounds, were sharp and fierce tacklers.

Krukowski, a line-backer guy, was a rugged defender, and the inspirational leader for his team.

Honorable mention was given Walter Brown of the Second Marines and Viv Frier of the Tenth Marines and William Williams of 2nd Recon. Bn., Williams of 2nd Recon. Bn., "Gunny Bill" Lint of the Second Marines, a 1957 All-Conference player, center Sam Smith of Group I, quarterback Elmer English of the Second Marines, Bob Lederer of the Second Recon. Bn., and fullback Sweet of Group I.
