Gen. Litzenberg Completes Inspection

CRITIQUE—Maj. Gen. James P. Riseley, commandant, and Sgt. Maj. K. V. Rice, MCB sergeant major, talk to Homer L. Litzenberg, Marine Corps Inspector General, after the inspectors' critique held last week at the Camp Lejeune. General Litzenberg termed the inspection as very satisfactory and made a special comment on the courtesy and discipline of the Marines aboard the base.

Inspector General Praises MCB Discipline

A preliminary report of "satisfactory" was given Litzenberg and units by Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzenberg, Inspector General of the Marine Corps, at the critique following his two-week inspection tour Friday afternoon. Recognition by the general was given members of the 2nd Force Service Regiment for their efficient handling of supplies during the recent Middle East crisis, and for the administrative and training procedures used by personnel of Marine Corps Engineer Schools and 1st ITR.

All of the personnel and field inspections of units conducted during General Litzenberg's visit were termed "very good." Police of the post rated very good, and the discipline and efficiency displayed by enlisted personnel, their devotion to duty and interest in their jobs drew particular praise from the top marine inspector.

General Litzenberg and his staff began their inspection on September 22 after an initial conference with top MCB officials. Friday review of the inspection was attended by all MCB general and special staff officers; commanding officers, including company commanders; all sergeants major and first sergeants.

The Inspector General departed for Washington, D. C., on Saturday after visiting the Naval Hospital, Field Medical Service School, and Navy Field Medical Research Laboratory.

Dependents Meet Returning Troops At Morehead Sunday

Back home from Lebanon, some 3,000 2nd Marine Division and Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, troops arrived at Morehead City, N. C., early Sunday morning aboard ships of the Navy's Transport Amphibious Squadron-4.

On hand to welcome the men of the 1st and 2nd Battalions of the Eighth Marines and their supporting FMFLant elements were the commanding general of the 2nd Division and several hundred wives and children of the marines who were ordered ashore near Beirut in mid-July.

Also taking a prominent part in greeting the arriving troops was the newly organized Force Troops drum and bugle corps.

Actually, a few marines had preceded their buddies ashore by some 12 hours. They were members of the 2nd Amphibious Tractor Bn.'s Co. "A," who drove their amtracs over Camp Lejeune's Onslow Beach late Saturday afternoon after leaving the dock landing ship, USS Spiegel Grove.

Two of the ships docking at Morehead City, the transports Fremont and Olmstead, invited the welcoming marine families aboard and served refreshments in ward rooms and mess decks. Families separated, in some instances, more than nine months held quiet reunions over hot coffee, cocoa and Navy-baked pastries.

Adding a touch of the Middle East to the occasion was a Fremont crewman who greeted ship's visitors at the head of the accommodation ladder clad in a Navy version of the Arab burnoose.

While the visitors were still aboard, marines and sailors went to work making a fast transfer of equipment and baggage from ships holds to Marine Corps trucks for the trip back to Camp Lejeune.

Their duty in Lebanon over, many of the marines were looking forward to going on leave just as soon as they were settled into barracks here. There was no mistaking their elation at being back in the U. S. Marines lining the Fremont's port rail set up a resounding cheer as her first throw-line landed on the dock a few minutes after 7 a.m.

Arriving by helicopter just as the Fremont first ship into the harbor was tied up, Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, 2nd Division commander, went aboard each ship accompanied by officers of his staff and Eighth Marines commanding officer, Col. G. W. Killen.

Lt. Col. Brickley commanded the 1st Bn., Eighth Marines, aboard the Fremont while the lightly equipped 2nd Bn., air-lifted to Lebanon when the July crisis arose, was led by Lt. Col. A. A. Tillman and returned home aboard the USS Olmstead.

Rounding out the trio of ships in Morehead City's harbor Sunday morning was the attack cargo ship, USS Muliphen.

United Fund Quota Set At $35,000 For Lejeune

The United Fund Drive quota for Camp Lejeune units has been set at $35,000, Mr. Raymond Roussel and Col. H. W. G. Vadnais, co-chairmen of the annual campaign, announced.

A goal of $58,500 for the Camp Lejeune-Onslow County area was set for the drive which got underway Tuesday. Individual contribution envelopes are being used to collect donations.

This year, Red Feather donors will still have the opportunity to indicate to which organization their donations will be distributed.

According to the 1958-1959 budget, a total of $14,081.73 will be set aside for the Carolinas United Service. Included in this sum are: United Service Organization, $10,241.10; Florence Crittenton Home, $559.39; Children's Home Society, $1,180.80; WAIF (International Adoption Service), $31.85; United Medical Research Foundation of N. If you ask me...

WHAT WERE YOU DOING WHILE HURRICANE HELENE WAS IN THE CAMP LEJEUNE AREA?

CPL. JOHN E. JONES, Motor Transport Co., Service Bn., MCB—I had just finished a run out to the rifle range and was on my way back to main side when the storm hit. Right in the middle of the heavy rains, the semi-truck I was driving broke down and I had to disconnect the tractor from the trailer.

PVT. ROBERT A. FOLEY, H&S Co., 2nd Tank Bn., Force Troops—I spent a quiet and restful day at Barracks 301 playing cards and eating "C" rations. I was on standby in case of accidents, but as bad as the storm was, nothing serious occurred in this area and I wasn't required to go on duty.

CPL. JAMES C. BROWN, 2nd Tank Bn., Force Troops—I was at my home when the hurricane hit this area. We had no telephone and lights during part of the storm, but that was about the extent of damage in our neighborhood. I called on some friends nearby and while I was there, their oil drums were blown down.

CPL. CLIFTON N. MCKAY, MP Co., MCB—I've been here at Lejeune for two years, but I believe that Helene was the worst storm I've seen on this coast. I was driving back from Jacksonville to the Base when the storm really started getting bad. I had to postpone my plans to go to the beach.

CPL. JAMES S. FOX, Base Material, MCB—I was visiting some friends at Barracks 1313 during the biggest part of the hurricane. My work came when the storm was over. The heavy winds had torn loose a lot of shingles and tree branches. Helene provided jobs for many clean-up details throughout the area.

Cpl. Becomes Brown Bagger In Lebanon

A multitude of married personnel of the 2nd Division gave up their "brown bags" as they boarded ship for Lebanon last July. Cpl. Antonine M. Awad picked up his after landing in Beirut later that month for a happy family reunion.

When the Leathernecks went ashore, Corporal Awad's parents, sisters, cousins, uncles, aunts and a host of other relatives and friends were there to greet him with open arms.

Corporal Awad was born in Lebanon 21 years ago, the son of naturalized American parents. He came to the States in 1956 to confirm his U. S. citizenship before reaching his 21st birthday and settled in Elmira, N. Y., with his father and a married sister. Within a few months he had mastered the English language well enough to read, write and answer questions about his native land for curious Americans.

He joined the Marine Corps in April, 1957, and after a tour of duty at Camp Lejeune, found himself at Camp Pendleton awaiting further transfer to Okinawa.

But the magic of IBM intervened. Somebody at Headquarters pulled his punched card from the personnel file when the Corps needed a Lebanese interpreter. He was dispatched post-haste in the opposite direction and flown to Lebanon.

To travel Greater Beirut with this intrepid interpreter, one would gain the impression of being on a political barnstorming tour. While drifting into the mountains overlooking this capital city, he is greeted at every village along the way by children and adults who shout and wave and want to talk in their native tongue about America and Lebanon and his role in a Marine Corps uniform.

While the pressure of official duties doesn't permit him too many liberty jaunts to his home in the mountain resort of Broumana, he does manage to get a few hours off and a relative is always standing by with a car to drive him the few miles to his home.

And then it's a feast, a dance and a community get-together for the native son who came back to help protect the integrity and independence of his home.

Dependents Need Identification For Any Treatment Under Medicare

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles to be published in the GLOBE concerning treatment provided service dependents, both at Uniformed Services and civilian medical facilities, at cost to the government as authorized by the Dependents' Medical Care Act, PL 569, 84th Congress.)

For any service dependent to receive medical treatment under the Medicare act, either in military or civilian facilities, they must have in their possession a Uniformed Services Identification Card (DD Form 1173) as proof of their eligibility for medical care.

All eligible dependents except children under 10 years of age should be issued the card. In some cases, such as a child living apart from his parents, a card can be issued to children under 10 years of age.

Dependents living with their sponsors will receive cards through sponsors. The serviceman will fill out the necessary application form and submit it to his commanding officer. Sponsors residing apart from their dependents may send the completed application form to their dependents.

Should the sponsor be unable or decline to complete the application, his dependent can obtain the necessary form at any service installation, and submit it to the sponsor's commanding officer for verification.

Dependents of servicemen who died on active duty or in retired status can obtain an application for the card from the nearest service facility by applying in person or by mail. The completed application form may be submitted to any service facility for approval.

The card must be turned in upon expiration; when a new card is issued; when the sponsor dies, is discharged, retires, or is released from active duty; or when the dependency status is otherwise ended.

Dependents residing with their sponsors, in addition to furnishing proper identification, must present a permit to the source of civilian care except in the case of emergency.

When applying for civilian medical care, the dependent should first ask if the physician is participating in the Medicare program. If so, the dependent is not expected to pay for care covered under the revised program, with the exception of a nominal basic charge.

Under service regulations, the government pays the physician for authorized care with the understanding that there will be no additional charge to the dependent or sponsor. The physician must sign such a statement when he submits his claim for payment.

Civilian physicians and hospitals when providing care for dependents will furnish the dependents with claim forms by which the patient will indicate whether or not they are residing with their sponsor. If more than one physician, an anesthetist or a private-duty nurse is required by the attending physician, forms must be completed for each.

A service dependent in a civilian hospital will pay $1.75 a day or the first $25 of the hospital cost, whichever ever is greater. If it is recommended by the attending physician that the patient be placed in a private room, 25 per cent of the difference between the cost of the private room and a semi-private room will be paid on the part of the dependent in addition to the basic charge.

If a private room is obtained for the convenience of the patient, the entire difference between the private and semi-private room will be paid by the dependent. For a private nurse, if deemed necessary by the attending physician, the government will pay 75 per cent of the cost over the first $100.

For maternity cases, the dependent must pay the physician's charges performed in a home. The dependent is incident to the service.

Except in obstetricity cases, patient a civilian hospital after discharge, complication of which they were hospitalized, will pay $25 for the previous. All admission maternity cases due related to the same considered as one.

Three-Act Comedy, 'I Found April', Opens For Three-Night Stand Here

The curtain rose for the opening night production of the Camp Lejeune Little Theater's latest endeavor, "I Found April," last night as a throng of Lejeune theater-goers laughed their approval to the three-act comedy.

The play, under the direction of Capt. Ben V. McLane, producing his second play this year for the theater group, will run repeat performances tonight and tomorrow at the Camp School auditorium.

Under the title of "A Date With April" and starring Constance Bennett, the comical love tale played on Broadway and toured for over a year.

"Finding April" at Lejeune are Miss Barbara Boyd in the lead as Elsa Ashley, a young pianist-composer who is in love with novelist Val Corbett, played by Capt. L. K. Wildermuth.

The romantic plot thickens as Cpl. Joe Pask Van comes on the scene as Tony Poole, a Hollywood movie star who is trying to contract Miss Ashley's talents to write the music for his new movie. The dashing movie idol, nationally figured in a much-publicized love affair, turns his attentions to Elsa. The ensuing courtship between the three figures proves its worth in humorous entertainment.

The witty Mrs. Ashley, Elsa's colorful mother (with orange hair), is played by Mrs. R. H. Makowski. Mrs. Makowski and Captain Wildermuth are both veterans of the Lejeune stage, having had parts in the Theater's first production this year, "You Can't Take It With You."

Rounding out the cast are Capt. Jane Fless and Mrs. Shirley Todd. Captain Fless bounds into New York from the old home town where she and Val were childhood sweethearts. Upon her arrival, she greets Val and her new acquaintances with the acclaim that she is just a "widow on the loose."

Mrs. Todd applies her talents to Bella, attractive young maid-secretary and companion of Elsa.

Tickets for the remaining performances are available on Base at the Commissary, Main Post Exchange, Hadnot Point Staff NCO club and the commissioned officers

United Fund Drive

Words written nearly 20 centuries ago by the Apostle Paul to the Corinthians have become a standard of life for all humanity. This famous quotation went like this: "Now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity."

Tuesday a good cause again appeared here as the first 1959 charity drive got under way—the United Fund Drive. Donations to this worthy cause are not mandatory. Rather, they are through conscience, and kindness of heart.

Charities are usually classified as "worthy" by most contributors. A few express the negative viewpoint. All proclaim them a blessing when tragedy strikes home.

No one can predict when a dread and perhaps crippling or fatal disease may affect your mother, your wife or your child. Without recognized organizations to aid, most of us would not be able to financially cope with such emergencies. We could need help. Some are receiving it now. A few may need it before tomorrow. Many of us will need it in the future.

For those who have received such aid, there is no need to emphasize this point. For those who have been fortunate, this may enumerate and more clearly define a few of the reasons for their contributions.

The cause is worthy—the contributions should be the same. It's really a bank account on the future. So give to this year's United Fund with conscience, and kindness of heart.

Fire Prevention Week

This week all news media will continually warn the nation about fire being a killer. As marines, we should remember this warning throughout the year.

Saturday when 1959's Fire Prevention Week is history, we shouldn't make history of what we learned about combating fires. The fire-fighting demonstrations we saw and the safety slogans we read should be kept fresh in our memories.

If each marine remembers what he learned about fires during Fire Prevention Week, Lejeune will be a safer place for all.

My Part in Winning Friends for Freedom

THE historic church at Ulm, Germany, which claims the highest steeple in the world, will soon have a new stained glass window commemorating the friendship between Ulm citizens and the 47th Inf. Regt., formerly stationed there.

Men of the regiment collected over $4,000 to make this possible.

Money alone won't win true friends, but the spirit of good will behind such generous acts by US servicemen does wonders for the cause of freedom. Can't you remember similar cases?

Putting them in letter form of not more than 500 words might bring you an award of as much as $1,000 if you enter the Letter Writing Awards Program of Freedom Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa. ## WASHINGTON REPORT

New light has been cast into the era of learning for those education-minded servicemen who are a part of the nearly 200,000 students forced to drop out of school annually for financial reasons.

The newly passed National Defense Student Loan Program has made available $285 million for student loans, out of a total of $887 million made available for educational advancement on the college level. The measure's largest sum, $300 million, will be used to buy equipment for instruction in mathematics, science and languages. It will not help schools train or expand teaching staffs.

The idea of federal loans and scholarships gained momentum after the Soviet Sputniks and the indicated lag in this country's military scientific status.

The program, administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has made available federal aid to any accredited school providing the school contributes a sum equal to one-ninth that put up by the government.

According to HEW officials, if a college is unable to contribute its share, it may, under certain conditions, borrow from the Federal Government.

For tuition loans, a student may borrow in one year up to $1,000, and in his entire course, up to $5,000. He must sign a note for the loan and agree that the repayment will begin within one year after he ceases to be a full-time student.

Three per cent interest will be charged on the loans which must be paid off within 10 years after the student graduates or ceases to be a full-time student.

To obtain information pertaining to the loan, apply directly to the college of choice and respective deans and financial advisors at the school to determine whether or not that school is participating in the loan program.

Under the Federal appropriation for FY 1959 of $40 million, $6 million in loans has already been contracted. New York, California and Pennsylvania lead so far in loans granted to residents of each state.

KEEPING ON COURSE

The young boy who learns to row a boat understands the importance of keeping his eyes on some landmark so it will appear directly behind the stern. If he pulls one oar too hard his eyes will notice a change of relationship of the stern and landmark. By this time he realizes he is no longer traveling on a straight line. However, when he keeps the landmark centered over his stern, he rows his boat on a straight line.

The technique of rowing a boat in a straight line is not too different from that of living on a straight course. Knowing that all life comes from God, we say God is the starting point and, in a pictorial sense, the landmark of our lives. The first four words of the Bible ring loud and clear, "In the beginning, God" (Gen. 1.1). They remind us that God gave us life, started us on our way in life, and helped us by way of our parents, pastors, and teachers.

Later on, problems of life may arise to buffet us with the winds of confusion. Our lives, like rowboats, wander off course when we neglect keeping our eyes on the beginning landmark. By lining up our lives again with the point from which we started we straighten our course.

When we ask ourselves how to get "on course" again, we always have the opportunity to use that beginning landmark or check point and remember, "In the beginning, God."

—Donald B. Fitzsimmons,
Chaplain, 2nd Division.

Large Attendance Inaugurates 1958 PTA Program For Lejeune's Schools

The first official "get acquainted" meeting of the Camp Lejeune Junior-Senior Parent-Teachers Association of 1958 was very well attended.

The meeting was held at the Camp Lejeune High School auditorium and had the largest attendance recorded since the "splitting up" of the combined PTA meetings held there in the past years.

Lt. Col. Boyd O. Whitney, president of the local chapter, presided alone in the absence of his secretary and treasurer, who are presently serving overseas.

Since the first meeting was to acquaint the parents with the school system and administration of school subjects, no suggestions or comments were heard from the attending PTA members. The attending members were informed of the new expansion program that is now underway for 10 new school rooms in the Stone St. section, and 10 new rooms for the Camp school. It was also stated the school teaching system now makes it mandatory that each student from the eighth grade up to the last year of high school must complete at least 16 hours of a foreign language before the student can graduate. This course of study is in keeping with the modern concept of present world problems.

At the conclusion of the program, the school principal called each teacher to the front of the auditorium in order to introduce them to all the parents present and explained the procedure for classroom visiting after the meeting was concluded.

Refreshments were served to all members in the school cafeteria, consisting of cider and cookies.

GAZELLA, by Stuart Cloete—The setting of this fast-moving story is modern Africa. A dramatic elephant hunt shapes the lives of the four main characters. Almost as interesting as the plot itself is the incidental information on the Dark Continent, the lore of its forests, primitive beasts and native men torn between tribal witchcraft and the twentieth century.

ADMIRAL HORNBLOWER IN THE WEST INDIES, by C. S. Forester — This new chapter in the saga of Horatio Hornblower covers his three years in the West Indies and his series of adventures there. Capture of a slave vessel, aid to the forces of Simon Bolivar, bewildered pirates, and an unseasonal hurricane provide exciting themes.

The author points out tests for acting which give criteria for judging each actor's performance. He explains the importance of lighting, scenery and costumes and the need for technical coordination. # Returning Leathernecks Give First Impression Of Lebanon

BACK FROM LEBANON—Force Troops personnel, returning from their Middle East assignment, march up Onslow Beach Saturday afternoon after being set ashore by ships of the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

WELCOME ABOARD—Children of marines returning from the Middle East aboard the USS Fremont were met at ship-side by an Arabian-clad member of the ship's company, who extended the captain's invitation to come aboard.

Last Marine Unit Leaves Lebanon

The last marine battalion in Lebanon, the 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, moved out of the crisis riddled country recently leaving behind some 7500 American soldiers, according to Navy Times.

This battalion was the last of four marine units of the 2nd Division to leave the country since they first landed there July 15th.

Its withdrawal leaves behind the Army's 1st Airborne Battle Group, 187th Inf. Regt., and the 3rd Med. Tank Bn. Other Army troops there

In mid-July men of the 1st Bn., Eighth Marine Regiment, were on maneuvers with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean when they learned that the 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, had landed in Lebanon. Two days later, they, too, hit the beaches just outside of Beirut.

As the "mike" boats approached the shore tensions mounted. No one knew what to expect.

As Cpl. F. L. Dodds remembers it, "The first thing I noticed was a bunch of 'Coke' and 'Pepsi' machines a few yards from shore. There were American cars lined up along the highway leading into Beirut and people shouting greetings to us as we marched along."

According to Cpl. S. J. Pappas, "After we landed, we marched about five miles inland and took up positions on some hills around Beirut. Everyone was pretty shaky the first few nights. The rebels started yapping like dogs and making all kinds of animal noises. There were a lot of stray shots zinging over our heads on hill 396. It sounded like a zoo. I guess that's the way it was in Korea."

As the 1st Bn., Eighth Marines, prepared to land, the 2nd Bn. was being air-lifted from Camp Lejeune to Lebanon in transport planes.

Pfc W. D. Roberts remembers that, "When we left for Cherry Point, we thought it was just another drill. We were pretty surprised when troops started boarding the plane. I was really impressed by the Beirut airport when I first saw it. Everything was so new and modern. We marched down to the beach and set up for the night. The next morning when I woke up every one was standing around drinking cokes."

A few days later Pfc Roberts noted that, "We could hear firing in the hills from where we were on the docks. There were bonfires in the distance. At night, when it was all lighted up, Beirut looked like San Francisco. It wasn't anything like I expected it to be."

The marines found the people very friendly. Corporal Pappas relates that, "They went out of their way to be friendly to us. They came up and spoke to us in the streets. A church group sent pies and cakes to the men of the 1st Bn. They were very hospitable and gave us all kinds of fruit."

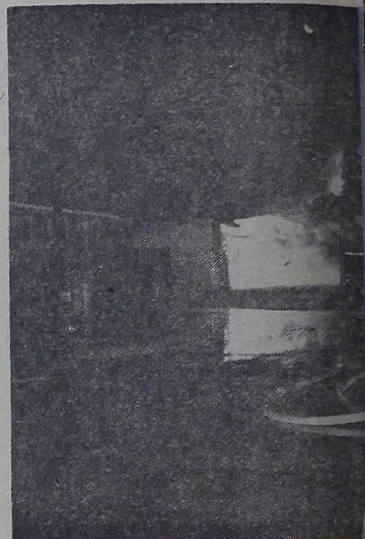

Cpl. F. E. Bissoanette was amazed to find that, "They were very close to us in their customs, except for the language." Cpl. S. R. Inabinet was surprised to see that "the women didn't even wear veils."

Although each man interviewed came back with slightly different reactions to what he saw, everyone agreed with Pfc Roberts when he said, "It was a pretty exciting trip, but I'm sure glad to be back in the United States."

Brig. Gen. S. Wade Returns To States

Brig. Gen. Sidney S. Wade, commanding general, Second Provisional Marine Force in Lebanon, arrived back in the United States Tuesday.

The general and his party of 25 officers left Beirut Saturday and landed at MCAS, Cherry Point, late Tuesday afternoon.

that every 46 minutes in this country a person dies as a result of fire; and that fire damage cost every American man, woman and child $6 each in 1957.

At a cost of about $100 each, between 700 and 800 alarms are "sounded" each year at Lejeune, reports Frank J. Schlarp, chief of the base Fire Department.

Every time a Base fire alarm is "rung" a fast-moving system of dispatching hose companies goes into effect. At fire alarm headquarters in building 18, MSgt. Earl Smith, USA (ret.), receives the alarms by phone, or the electric alarm system.

After the alarm box is pinpointed, the exact location of the fire is determined. Then, over the department's "conference phone," all stations, duty officers, Provost Marshall, Building one, and other pertinent places are notified. The nearest company to the fire is then dispatched to the scene.

Phone calls can be just as effective as the tapes says Mr. Smith, if the caller "keeps his head" and gives the information quickly and accurately.

For bigger fires, like three and four alarm "breakouts," fire stations farthest from the fire begin moving trucks in to fill vacancies at stations which have dispatched all their equipment.

Lejeune has seven fire stations. Two are located at Hadnot Point, one each at Courthouse Bay, the rifle range, Camp Geiger, Montford Point and Midway Park.

The department has eight engine companies and a Rescue Squad, assisted, if necessary, by MCAF helicopters and the 2nd Reconnaissance Bn.

The Rescue Squad, headed by acting Capt. Thomas R. Smith, has complete equipment for fire and water rescue, including two resuscitators, a motor boat and forcible entry tools.

One of the department's main functions is determining classes of forest fire danger in proportion to weather conditions. The job is handled by Sgt. W. L. Wiggins, one of 40 Marines assigned to the department.

Marine NCOIC SSgt. Henry J. Bascham.

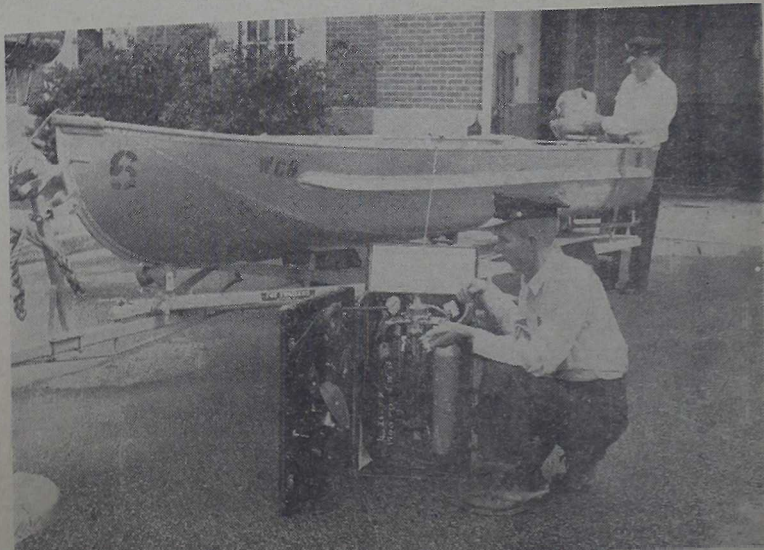

Of the 90 civilians in the department, there are four assistant chiefs and the Chief of Fire Prevention Charles B. Whittington.

Chief Whittington has the duty of year-round fire prevention, touring all of the base, inspecting and checking for improper storage, fuel storage and use, and all other fire hazards.

He emphasizes that no matter what are listed as the principle causes of fire, carelessness and failing to think rank high.

FIRE ALARM HEADQUARTERS at Bldg. 18 is the point at which all fire alarms are received. Earl Smith works the electric alarm system, takes phone alarms and dispatches the fire engines.

RESCUE SQUAD equipment receives a daily inspection by squad driver Leon Batson, who is checking the double resuscitator, which can handle two persons at a time, while squad acting Capt. Thomas

R. Smith checks-out the outboard motor on the rescue boat. The rescue squad is equipped for any emergency.

In Case Of Fire

In case of fire, the persons discovering the fire will immediately:

Notify the fire department by telephoning the operator or dialing 3333.

Give name, location by building number and type of fire.

Alert personnel who may be endangered.

Go or send someone to the outside to direct fire apparatus to the scene.

—Base Regulations.

Lejeune's Record Stands At 1-1 As Fumble Spell Difference In Defeat; Wilson Stands

Camp Lejeune's record now stands at 1-1 while Eglin was picking up its third straight win without a setback. The Eagles were stronger, especially in the line, than anyone expected.

They also threw up a defense that hadn't been exhibited in their first two outings. From tackle to tackle, Eglin was superb. Halfback Carey "Choo Choo" Henley stated after the game, "That Alliston and Dietrich, when they hit, you were really slammed around."

Guard Jim Schwartz and center Homer Hobgood turned in the best performances in Lejeune's forward wall.

Head coach Capt. Wil "E" Overgaard stated after the game that he assumed all responsibility for the loss. He felt that his club was over-worked in preparation for the Eglin clash. The Marine skipper stated that it seemed the team left the ball game on the practice field.

Breaks Spell Difference

However, the story simply lay in the fact that Eglin scored on their breaks while Lejeune didn't. Three times the Marines penetrated to the point where they could have tallied. On the other hand, the visitors took every advantage of Lejeune mistakes, especially evident when they turned two costly fumbles by the locals into touchdowns.

The Marine offense ran off 73 plays while Eglin recorded 11 less. Average is between 75 and 80.

Pass Defense

And once again Lejeune's pass offense held their opponent, BUT, two of the six completions were for pay dirt and another for a PAT. Both Eagle TD's came on bad plays by Marine defenders. Instead of going for the ball they covered the player. Result — 12 points against.

The locals have allowed only 14 completions out of 49 attempts in three games for a total of 199 yards. Besides this, they have picked off four tosses.

This compares to 20 for 42 by the Marine passers for a net gain of 397 yards.

The Game's Complexion

The second time Lejeune had their hands on the ball they traveled 56 yards before being stopped on the four yard line. The Eagles took over and went the distance of the field scoring their first TD.

82nd Hosted Sat. Morning At Liversedge

The Camp Lejeune Marines will attempt to rebound from their first loss of the season last weekend when they host the 82nd ABD Saturday morning at Liversedge field beginning 10 a.m.

The Paratroopers will bring into the game an 0-2 record and will attempt to break into the win ledger via the Marines. Last week, the 82nd was blanked by Ft. Lee, 12-0. In their first game of the season, the Norfolk TARS defeated the Army eleven, 27-18.

In their only other previous meeting, the Paratroopers dealt the Marines a 27-21 dubbing in 1948.

Using a split-T and the belly series, the 82nd has a fast team centered around left half Dick Murtland, formerly of West Point.

Baylor university's Don DeCamp, a big 253-pound right tackle, leads the Army forward wall.

Because of the increase in out-of-town football fans desiring lunch on the Base, the management of the Camp Cafeteria has announced that a buffet-style lunch will be served from 12 noon through 3 p.m. Saturday. A choice of fried chicken, pork, roast beef or turkey will be afforded marines, dependents and guests.

20-Swanson	LHB	Murtland-24
43-Henley	RHB	Derrick-21
47-Fjerstad	FB	Tompkins-41

Mid-way into the second period, the Marines fumbled on their own 35-yard line with the Eagles recovering, the beginning of a costly trend.

Willis Fjerstad followed suit in the opening minutes of the third quarter and three plays later, Eglin had its second score.

Lejeune immediately penetrated to the 18 yard line before the drive fizzled out. The next time the Marines had possession, Don Swanson fumbled with the Eagles taking over on the locals' 40 yard line and moments later tallying their third TD.

Into the third quarter, Lejeune once again moved to their opponents 27 yard line and again were stopped. Jim Mora recovered an Eagle fumble and the Marines had another chance. However, the drive was halted at the 12 yard line.

OLD COLLEGE TRY—Camp Lejeune's Ron Beagle gives it the old college try as he makes a valiant attempt to grab in a Marshall Newman pass in the end zone of Saturday's tussle with the Eagles of Eglin AFB. The Marines suffered their first loss of the campaign when they were dropped by visitors, 20-8, before an estimated 4,300 fans that braved the cold drizzly rain at Liversedge field. Moving in on Beagle are Ron Morris and Gerry Poole (65).

Virginia Club Loses First Game Of Year

The Quantico Leathernecks suffered their first loss of the season when they fell victim to Detroit Friday night, 26-13. The week before, the Virginia eleven picked up its third win defeating Xavier college, 31-20, behind the running of Harry Jefferson who accounted for three touchdowns.

Pensacola registered its second victory by stopping Memphis, 14-2. Also Norfolk tripped the 82nd ABD, 27-18, in a game delayed two days because of Hurricane Helene.

Bolling continued on its winning ways by halting Ft. Dix and Ft. Belvoir 12-0 and 20-0, respectively.

Ft. Bragg lost its initial outing of the season when they were slapped by Greensboro A&T college, 28-6. The winners completed 18 of 23 passes while the Army club lost seven out of nine fumbles.

Lockbourne AFB shut out Stewart AFB, 41-0.

Locals Suffer First Loss As Eglin Wins, 20-8; Beagle Scores Only

The Eagles of Eglin AFB swept through Liversedge field leaving in their wake the Camp Lejeune Marines who suffered their first loss of the season by a score of 20-8. Playing before an estimated crowd of 4,300 fans, the Marines never did get into the act until one minute remained in the game when Marshall Newman found Ron Beagle in the end zone for a six-pointer. Fred Beasley ran the conversion.

However, the Eagles had already wrapped it up under the brilliant directorship of Huston Patton, a former U. of Mississippi field general, and the stellar line play of guard Buddy Alliston (U. of Miss. and All-Pro at Winnipeg in Canadian League) and tackle Bob Dietrich (U. of Wisconsin and the Chicago Cardinals).

Patton passed for two TD's and added two more markers on a toss for a PAT.

Behind the "Ole Miss" quarterback were Buddy Brawdy, who tallied on a 48 yard run and accounted for 127 yards, and Larry Parker, who picked off two Patton passes for touchdowns.

The whole complexion of the game centered around Lejeune fumbles which on two occasions the visitors subsequently turned in to pay dirt and the inability of the Marines to move the ball once they penetrated deep into the enemy's territory.

The second time Lejeune gained possession, they ground out 56 yards in seven plays before the drive fizzled on the Eagles' four-yard line. The march was highlighted by a 39-yard run by Art Wilson and Don Swanson with the former laterally to Swanson on the 20-yard stripe, who in turn took the ball to the 11-yard line. Three plays later the Eagles took over and marched the length of the field to score their initial touchdown.

In methodical fashion, Patton, Jim Morris and Brawdy carried to the four-yard line with Patton tossing to Parker for the touchdown conversion attempter a penalty was called on the Eagles.

The remainder of the game played on an even basis with neither team threatening.

The tide once again swung for Eglin immediately after intermission when Marshall Newman fumbled and the Eagles took over on their own 20-yard line. Morris picked up the fumble and Brawdy hit a solid 40-yard pass to Parker in the end zone. The next play, Brawdy streaked 48 yards for a touchdown. A Patton Croy pass netted the lin went ahead, 14-0.

The Marines once again moved into scoring position on a 16-yard stripe. However, attempts they were up yardage and the over.

Don Swanson's fumble in the opening minutes of the fourth period. With the Eagles moving up most of the yardage, the Marines moved to the 10-yard line. However, a five-yard pass to the Flyers placed the 15. Patton once again moved the ball to the 15. The PAT attempt, fell short.

(See LOCALS SUFFER)

TD CATCH—Ron Beagle heads into the end zone as he scores the only TD against Eglin AFB Saturday. The two-time All-American and Maxwell Trophy winner caught a Marshall Newman strike with one minute remaining in the contest. Fred Beasley ran the extra point.

SLINGIN' JIM—Quarterback Jim Click was all set to toss when he was rudely dumped by an unidentified Eglin AFB player. Moving in on the play is Gerry Poole. The Marines will be out to break into the win column once again Saturday morning when they host the 82nd Airborne Division, commencing 10 a.m.

Swansboro Comes From Behind To Tie Pups, 13-13; Shelton Scores All Points

A fighting Swansboro eleven came from behind with only 20 seconds registering on the clock to tie Camp Lejeune's Devilpups, 13-13 before an estimated 1,000 wet spectators Friday night at the Pirates' field.

Behind 7-0 at the half, the Pups came back to tally 13 points with ailing Turkey Muford in long enough to direct the offense that couldn't get started in the first two periods.

Lejeune gained possession on their opponents' 15-yard line as the final quarter got under way. A Muford-to-Art Potts pass netted a first down on Swansboro's 24. With Joe Bernier, Tuby Shelton and Jim McCarvill alternating, the ball moved to the five-yard stripe where Shelton capped the drive, bulging over for the TD.

The next time the Pups got their hands on the ball they scored. Bernier picked off a Muford toss, good for 23 yards, and moved the ball to the 24-yard line. The Lejeune quarterback found McCarville for another strike with the halfback going to the one where Shelton slammed for the marker and what proved to be a deciding factor in the tie.

It took a 120-pound sophomore back, Jimmy Privett, to pull the game out for the Pirates, who up until the Lejeune tilt had scored only one touchdown. Privett, in for only three plays, snagged a 23-yard pass to set the stage for the down-to-the-wire climax and brought the ball to the one-yard line. From there Gene McCaskey scored the tying six points. Quarterback Mike Miller was forced to fumble on the attempt at the PAT as the Pup line held.

Tackle Jerry Howe was singled out as the defensive star in the Pup forward wall while Shelton and Bernier were the team's most consistent ground gainers. Shelton has taken over the club's scoring department with a total of 20 points in five games.

The Devilpups will be back on the local scene Friday night when they take in a 1-3-1 ledger against Pamlico Central. Game time has been set for 8 p.m. at Harry Aganias field.

THE KEY—Second Field Artillery Group's quarterback Rip Prendagast, wearing an appropriate number one and his team halfback, Mush Puck Smith, together accounted for the two ballies scored against MCAF Friday night in the 13-0 victory. Prendagast scored two TD's after long runs by Smith.

Prendagast Scores Two TD's As 2nd FAG Wins

Quarterback Rip Prendagast accounted for all 2nd Force Artillery Group's touchdowns as the Artillerymen shut out MCAF, 13-0, Friday night in the FT Intramural Football loop.

In other action, the Engineer Raiders dropped their first game of the season to the 2nd FSB Rams, 31-22.

Setting up the Artillery group's markers was Mush Puck Smith. The fleet-footed Smith picked up 40 yards on four carries to establish the winner's first score in the initial period of play. With a five-yard penalty against the Airmen placing the ball on the one-yard stripe, Prendagast tallied. Lineman Watkins kicked the extra point to put the group out in front, 7-0. Artillery scored their last six points early in the third quarter after Smith, on a series of long runs, placed the ball in position where Prendagast clunked up the touchdown on a quarterback sneak.

Neither eleven could muster a scoring threat for the remainder of the hard-fought contest.

In the Rams' victory, Dick Clery once again was the big gun in the winner's offense, scoring two TD's, setting up one on a long run and passing for another.

Les Campbell tallied the Rams' first score, setting a series of long runs by Clery with an end around. Minutes later, Clery netted his first six, boosting the Rams lead to 12 points. Before the half ended, the winners had scored another, giving them an iron hold on the contest.

The Raiders managed to score in the closing minutes, great in the intermission.

2nd Topo Co. Captures FT Intramural Football Play

Second Topo edged out 2nd FdL, 7-6, for their second win in the FT Intramural Touch Football League last Tuesday. Playing evenly in initial action, the winners finally came to life in the final period when quarterback Cliff Earl found Dexter Johnson in the clear. Three yards from the goal, Topo added the PAT to close out the contest.

The second half saw both clubs buckle down to stifle defenses play without either side to mount an effective offensive threat.

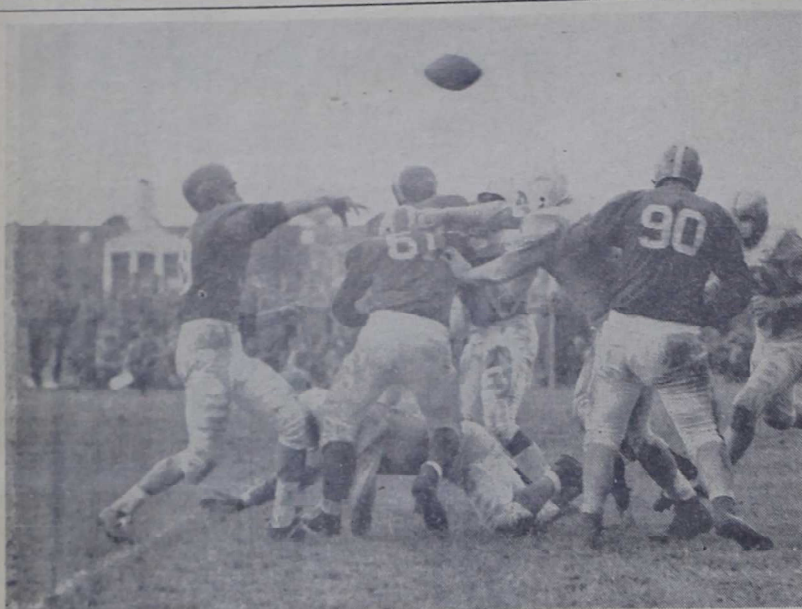

THE ONCE OVER—Coaches Larry "Boogie" Thompson, left, and Gerry Smith observe holdover John McEntee execute a lay-up. Screening has been progressing as the Camp Lejeune varsity basketball team completes its second week of unofficial practice. Additional players are expected to report with the arrival of troops from the Middle East. Head coach Thompson is still seeking players to strengthen the club. Screening will end tomorrow when the coaches make their final cut. Practice officially begins Monday.

The Eighth Marines and Tenth

Marines meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Harry Agganis field.

With approximately two minutes left in the first quarter, Second Marines guard Charles Eldridge bulled into a Tenth Marine punt on the Tenth's 20-yard line. The Second recovered on the 10, and on the first play from scrimmage sent 200-pound halfback G. W. Watson off right tackle for a touchdown. Watson passed to end Julius Bozeman for a two-point conversion.

The Second pushed the Tenth back 14 yards after the ensuing kick-off, and returned the Tenth's punt to their own 39.

Scull's only pass during the 15-play drive that covered 61 yards found fullback D. A. Smith and sent the Second 13 yards to the Tenth's 19. Watson's 17-yard run had brought the Second from its own 48 to the Tenth's 35.

The field general swept to the 12 and Watson ran to the five. Smith carried to the one on two smashes, and Watson drove over for the score. Watson's pass for the extra point was incomplete.

A 14-yard run by Buddy French and short gains by Roland Kerckhoff and Alton Davis took the Tenth to the Second's 12-yard line in the fourth period. But linemen Bozeman, P. T. McDonough and W. M. Fore smeared Tenth Marines quarterback Jim Matties for a 10-yard
