Admiral Hanlon Honored Before Retirement

Admiral Byron H. Hanlon, soon to retire after 41 years of service, was honored at a division-sized parade last week by 1,000 men of the 2nd Division and Force Troops as he was rendered by the Marine Corps Base battery. Hanlon, commander, Amphibious Forces, Atlantic, was accompanied by Maj. Gen. Joseph H. Hanlon, commanding general, and Maj. Gen. William F. Hanlon, commanding general, Amphibious Forces, Atlantic. Hanlon, upon his return to the New River Air Facility, was accompanied by Leonard F. Chapman, commanding general, Force Troops, and the troops that he commanded by some 4,000 spectacommander, Amphibious Group Two; and Brig. Gen. Austin R. Brunelli, commanding general, Landing Force Training Unit, Atlantic. The admiral and his party returned to Norfolk that afternoon after visiting various Lejeune units.

Plans To Alleviate Housing Conditions Proposed By MCB

A triple-barreled program is presently in the planning stage by MCB officials to alleviate the present critical housing facilities at Camp Lejeune.

Under the plan, efforts are being made to obtain funds for improving the condition of the entire Tarawa Terrace housing development. Ultimately, it is anticipated that these housing units will become public quarters, operated and furnished on the same general basis as other public quarters on the Base.

Along with the Tarawa plan, a two-year program is presently being made to raise the standards at Midway Park.

Part of the program was realized with the recent installation of 200 new refrigerators. More equipment and furnishings are to be added as the budget allows.

Third phase of the housing plans calls for 800 new homes to be built under the Capehart Act. There will be 677 three and four bedroom enlisted homes and 123 three and four bedroom officer homes.

Still in "final approval" stage, the homes are scheduled to be located on Stone Street extension near Brewster Blvd.

Assignment to these new quarters of both officers and enlisted will be the same as in the past. Nor will there be a change in assignment of quarters at Tarawa Terrace and Midway Park.

Personnel living aboard the Base in barracks will receive the benefits of $200,000 of additional furnishings. Ninety per cent of the armchairs, davenports, occasional chairs, and coffee tables have already been distributed and the remainder is scheduled to be in use within the next 30 days.

Although plans to ease the housing problem are formulated and in many instances being carried out, personnel are reminded by the Base Housing Office that the problem is by no means solved. Personnel are advised not to bring their dependents to Camp Lejeune before arrangements have been made for housing.

Montford Pt. Supply School IG Inspection Slated Today

Today and tomorrow morning the Inspector General's team is scheduled to inspect Marine Corps Supply School at Montford Point as part of their annual two-week tour of MCB units.

Tomorrow afternoon the team will visit the Rifle Range Detachment to conclude this week's activity.

Monday, Service Bn. will be inspected and Tuesday, the party will move to 1st ITR at Camp Geiger.

Next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will be spent inspecting 2nd Force Service Regt. and Woman Marine Co.

Maj. Gen. Homer Litzenberg began the annual Inspector General's inspection of Marine Corps Base Monday. Following an initial conference with top MCB officers and unit commanders, Headquarters Bn. was inspected by the senior inspector and his party Monday afternoon and Tuesday. Yesterday the team inspected Marine Corps Engineering Schools at Courthouse Bay.

As of GLOBE deadline, no preliminary reports of the inspection were available.

A final conference will be held Saturday morning, October 4.

Lebanese Workmen Saved By Alert Division Marines

There are today at least three families near Beirut, Lebanon, thankful beyond measure for the presence of U. S. marines in their troubled country.

Their gratitude has little or nothing to do with political considerations; rather it stems from quick thinking, quick action and fearlessness on the parts of two 2nd Division marines.

Cpl. Charles L. Lewis and Pvt. Paul R. Brown, risked their lives to go to the aid of three Lebanese men overcome by deadly carbon monoxide gas at the bottom of a 40-foot-deep community well. Two of the men had been cleaning the well with the aid of a small gasoline-motored pump when they were felled by its exhaust fumes. The third became a victim attempting to rescue the others.

Hearing the anguished cries of a group of townspeople, Private Brown rushed to the scene. Quickly sizing-up the situation, he unhesitatingly lowered himself to the well bottom and turned off the motor which had continued pouring out deadly fumes. Then, with the aid of other marines and the well rope, he carried one man to the top and returned below for another.

By the time he came up with the second Lebanese, Brown was himself showing symptoms of monoxide poisoning. Corporal Lewis then took over and descended for the third victim.

All three Lebanese were revived either by resuscitator or marine-

The Department of Defense has announced the major changes that will pertain to treatment of dependents receiving service and civilian medical care under the revised Dependents' Medicare program scheduled to go into effect October 1.

The new program was promulgated by Congress in an attempt to curtail over-spending by the uniformed services for dependents' medical care by civilian facilities.

The October 1 changes fall roughly into two broad categories:

Restrictions on the use of civilian medical facilities for dependents residing with the service member on whom they are dependent; in other words, their sponsor.

Reductions of the authorized care and services provided from civilian sources for which the government will pay.

Effective October 1, the government will pay the major cost of civilian treatment listed in the emergency status for those who meet the requirements for civilian medical care.

Also included will be complete obstetrical and maternity care, including in-hospital care of the newborn infant. Infants delivered by civilian physicians in a home or an office may receive authorized care they need on an outpatient basis during a period not to exceed 10 days following the date of delivery.

Prior to the effective date of the new program, dependents who were admitted to civilian facilities prior to 12 p.m. September 30, will be authorized treatment in excess of the October 1 date.

To be eligible for civilian treatment under medicare, the dependent's sponsor must be on active duty or on active duty for training for a period of more than 30 consecutive days. The dependent must be either a lawful wife, lawful husband, if dependent on service wife for over one-half of his support; or an unmarried legitimate child, adopted child or step-child.

Eligibility of the dependent for civilian medical care ceases when the service member who is the sponsor dies, is discharged, divorced, retires, or is released from active duty.

If the sponsor dies while on active duty or while in a retired status, his dependents are still eligible for care at Armed Forces and U. S. Public Health Service medical facilities when space and staff are available.

Dependents eligible for civilian medical care who reside apart from their sponsors may continue to choose between civilian facilities or a facility of the armed forces, or they may use a U. S. Public Health Service medical facility. Appropriate claims will be filled out by the civilian doctor or hospital when the patient has furnished military identification permits entitling the dependent to civilian care, and in the case of the dependent living with sponsor, when they furnish a permit.

The provisions for dental care remain unchanged. Generally, the Government will not pay for civilian dental care. Dental treatment is provided only to hospital in-patients who are hospitalized for otherwise authorized medical care.

Detailed reports on the new program will be published in a series of GLOBE articles beginning next week.

The music woman has won nine superior ratings and 52 medals in contests held throughout the state of Indiana prior to her enlistment.

She is assigned to the Issue Control Section, Base Materiel Bn.

Dual Role Transport Added To Marine Aviation Flexibility

The purchase of two Lockheed Hercules transport planes from Lockheed Aircraft Corporation's Marietta, Ga., Division was announced by Headquarters Marine Corps.

Slated to join Marine Corps Aviation in early 1960, the new additions will be officially designated the GV-1 and will operate in a dual role of in-flight refueling and assault transports.

The procurement of these and additional Hercules aircraft will enable the Marine Corps to modernize its present air transport capability. Because of the greatly increased payload provided by the GV-1, the Marine Corps plans a 50 per cent reduction in its present transport inventory as these new aircraft are phased into the operating program.

The Marine GV-1 can simultaneously refuel two airborne jet aircraft. The entire refueling system can be quickly and easily removed to convert the GV-1 to its normal configuration of an assault transport.

As an assault transport the GV-1 has a proven short field take-off and landing capability. This combined with the significant payload available, will permit the Corps to conduct assault air transport of high priority troops and combat cargo into small combat fields in the objective area.

The dual capability of in-flight refueling and true assault transport operations should add significantly to the flexibility and versatility of Marine Corps Aviation.

Second Marines Riflemen Initiate New Range Concept

A new approach to making marksmen of previously non-qualified riflemen is paying off at a 90 per cent rate for the 3rd Bn., Second Marines.

The battalion has, in the past, seen many shooters return from the rifle range as badgeless as they were when they started out. Last week, however, when 71 men came back from a week of M-1 firing, 64 were qualified shooters, including one expert and 22 sharpshooters.

The secret? For the first time, the battalion had sent them out as a detail composed entirely of non-qualified riflemen, and with them, from snapping-in week up to qualification day, were six sharpshooting coaches.

"A man needs pride when he fires," claims Lt. Col. T. S. Witherspoon, 3rd Bn. commander. "These non-qualified shooters care more about their accomplishment when they compete among themselves rather than against experts and sharpshooters. They feel they have a chance to beat somebody."

(In the past the non-qualified riflemen were sandwiched with experienced riflemen. The man who fired expert last week failed to qualify the past two years.)

The coaching on the recent detail was more concentrated than usual, with the coaches spending four days on the range with the men. Their work normally ends after a week-long snapping-in period.

'59 Officer Input Set

1600 applicants for commissions in the Marine Corps will be accepted during the current fiscal year.

WASHINGTON REPORT

The roadblock on pro-pay appears to be breaking; the Defense Department directive laying down the rules for the program is awaiting Defense Secretary Neil McElroy's signature, according to Navy Times.

Unofficially, the pro-pay directive will set $35-per month as the maximum for each pay step increase and there will be no more than one proficiency step increase during the first year. Men in all rates and MOSS will be eligible for the advances.

Defense spokesmen say that the Budget Bureau appears to have no major objections to the Defense program. However, clearing of individual service plans will still be necessary. The marines have announced that they will give 6000 pro-pay advances this year; 5100 will go to critical skills and 900 for outstanding effectiveness.

Meanwhile, on the E-8 and E-9 work moves, the marines have made no decision on how to select those outside the first sergeant and sergeant major designations. The number of persons to be selected has not been set.

Headquarters spokesmen are reasonably sure that E-8s and E-9s in the Corps will be picked by selection and examination, however, there is a possibility of additional examinations in specialty fields for candidates of the new master sergeant and master gunnery sergeant ratings.

Capacity Crowd Views Opening Game As Mental Lapses Almost Cause Defeat

Two mental lapses, one resulting in a free kick play, enabled a visiting upset-minded Norfolk TARS eleven to tie the Camp Lejeune Marines, 13-13, before a capacity crowd of 8,000-plus at Liversedge field Saturday morning in the locals' initial outing of the season.

With Lejeune receiving on the opening kick-off, the ball rolled into the end zone without a marine attempting to down it. As a result, fullback Doug Doether dropped on the pignin to put the TARS six points ahead even before the clock had swung into motion. Gene Mingo's conversion was good with the locals down, 7-0.

The seemingly stunned Marines were unable to effectively move the ball until two minutes remained in the half. Ron Botchan pounced on a TARS's fumble with the Marines taking over on their own 48-yard stripe. Quarterback Marshall Newman took to the air after Carey "Choo Choo" Henley failed to pick up yardage. The Lejeune field general found end Joe Fowlkes for a 16-yard pass play bringing the ball down to the TARS's 35-yard line.

Art Wilson picked up nine more and a Newman-to-Ron Beagle pass accounted for eight yards and a first down on Norfolk's 13-yard line. Henley hit a solid wall and Newman once again took to the aerial paths. His first was incomplete. On the most beautifully executed play of the game, Newman found Henley in the end zone only to have the fleet-footed halfback drop his perfect peg. Newman attempted one more to Fowlkes which fell incomplete as the half closed.

With play resuming, the Marines came to life, scoring two fast TD's in the third period. Unable to move the ball after the kick-off, Norfolk punted to the Lejeune 44-yard line. With Joe Ferrari, Don Swanson and Henley alternating and a Newman-to-Beagle pass play covering 17 yards, the Marines fought to the two-yard line. Swanson bucked the TARS line twice for zero yardage before he finally tallied with Beagle, opening the door through the left side of the line. Henley's PAT attempt failed.

Late into the third quarter and with the ball resting on the Lejeune 26-yard line, "Choo Choo" arose from the role of goat to hero as he tucked in a Newman pass and went the remaining distance untouched for the Marines' second marker. His conversion was good, putting Lejeune ahead, 13-7.

The locals' second mental lapse came mid-way through the fourth period as Botchan punted to the 50-yard stripe. However, the Marines failed to cover on the kick and when they finally realized their mistake, Norfolk's Bill Snyder had reeled off 38 yards along the side-lines before being hauled down by Botchan on the 12-yard line. Three plays later Snyder had scored, tying the game at 13-13. Mingo's conversion was blocked by center Homer Hobgood to end the scoring threats.

Singled out as outstanding line-men were tackle Jim Kunsman, guards Botchan and Jim Schwartz and ends Beagle and Fowlkes.

The Marines managed only 90 yards rushing to the TARS's 95. However, the locals picked up 169 yards through the air, completing nine of 19 tosses.

Varsity To Engage Ft. Lee Travelers In First Road Game

The Camp Lejeune Marines left this morning for Ft. Lee, Va., where they will engage the Army based team tomorrow night beginning 8 p.m. This will be Lejeune's first road appearance of the season.

Little is known about the Travelers as this will be their first outing of the year. Scouting reports indicate an average size club with excellent speed in the backfield. Working out of an unbalanced line and straight T, featuring the tackles pulling, the Army offense is centered around M. C. Thortham from Texas Tech, a swift-moving half.

With fewer name players than last year's club, which compiled a 4-4-2 record, outstanding returnees include tackle Joe Veto (Juniata college), guard Nick Cavazos (U. of Houston) and half-back Jerry Myers (West Liberty State). Newcomers expected to see a lot of action are backs Clay Wall (Alabama) and Gene Hansom (Auburn).

This will be the fifth meeting between the two service eleven's. Action was inaugurated in 1949 when the Marines humbled the Travelers, 81-0. In 1953 and '54, the locals lost by scores of 13-7 and 33-14, respectively. In their last tilt, Lejeune shut out Ft. Lee, 22-0, in 1956.

With only one change, coach Wil "E" Overgaard expects to go with the same starting lineup he employed against the TARS of Norfolk Saturday. Joe Kubala will take over the injured Bob Williams' slot at right tackle.

Scouting Report

Quantico and Bowling AFB successfully opened their 1958 football season with wins over Ft. Belvoir and Lockbourne AFB respectively. On September 12, the Virginia club stopped Ft. Belvoir, 13-6, 32 yards rushing.

Harry Jefferson, former All-Big Ten selectee from Illinois, measured off 83 yards on nine carries and scored the second Quantico TD. The other marker was tallied via a Jim Lorenz-to-Joe Losack pass. Last weekend, the same club was hosted by Pensacola. Results were not available at GLOBE press time.

The Bolling Generals, defending mythical Inter-Service champs, shut out Lockbourne's Airmen, 26-0.

Pin Ups Stop Alley Kats To Take Over First Place

The Pin Ups dropped the Alley Kats, 3-1, to take undisputed lead in the Staff NCO Wives keg loop. The league leaders have a record of 6-2. Marion Kailer recorded a 144-389 for the winners while Terry Anzillotti had a 143-388 for the Kats.

Thelma Seke and Ollie McCarrall combined for the Go Getters' 4-0 shut out victory over the Smash Hits with the former posting a 161 game and the latter a 431 series. Charlott Forbes had a 133-362 for the losers.

Loving Excell As Recon Bn. Tops Group II

Second Reconnaissance Bn. and its ace halfback, Howard Loving, shoot for first place in the 2nd Division Intramural Football Conference against Group I tomorrow afternoon. The game starts at 1:30 p.m. in front of the 2nd Division field house.

Loving led Recon. Bn. to a 14-2 win over Group II Friday.

A six-foot, 175-pound back, Loving returned a punt 44 yards for Recon's second touchdown. He intercepted two passes, grabbing one on Recon's 10-yard line and raced it back 37 yards to choke off Group II's only touchdown threat. He caught a pass for 23 yards, gained 43 yards on three carries and had two 12-yard runs nullified by penalties.

Recon. end Alfonso Huff time and again broke clear for passes from quarterback Horace Davis. He caught five, including a 25-yard touchdown pitch, for a total of 91 yards.

Bailey and center E. S. Krukowski were Group II's standouts. Halfback Bailey got off a 14-yard run, intercepted a pass and did the punting. Krukowski stopped one Recon. touchdown drive by recovering an enemy fumble, and made the bulk of his team's tackles.

Leo Williams, a tackle, guards William McMurry and Stephen Mikola and center Al Innamorati were 2nd Recon's top line defenders.

The Second Marines play the Tenth Marines in front of the field house next Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

Group II plays again next Monday, meeting the Eighth Marines at 7:30 p.m. on Harry Agganis field.

Service Bn. Comes From Behind To Win

A spirited Serv. Bn. six-man football team spotted MCSS a seven point lead in the first few minutes of play Thursday night and then came roaring back with TD's in the first, second and third periods to win their opener, 19-7, in the MCB Intramural Six-Man Football League.

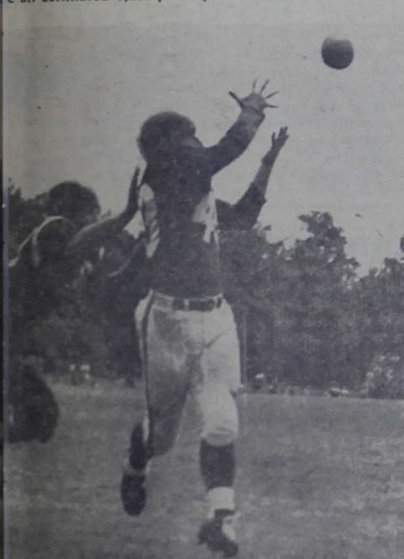

Behind, 7-0, a John Moore to Tom Everett 60-yard pass play accounted for the initial Servicemen's tally. John Watson's conversion was good as the score was knotted at 7-7.

Everett figured on another marker in the second quarter as he pulled in a Joe Ward pass that covered 35 yards and another score. The PAT attempt was blocked.

Bob Brune intercepted a MCSS pass in the third period and went 25 yards for paydirt. The conversion was wide.

MCSS's tally was recorded on a 25-yard run and a conversion.

huck Covington (22) and Russ Frazer (80) seem to be an unseen opponent. Actually, they are attempting eune's first TD of the season. However, the com- in Beagle, who led the way, and Don Swanson, who so much and the Marines tallied in the early minutes of od in Saturday's opener. The two clubs fought to a e an estimated 8,000-plus spectators.

—Marshall Newman's perfect strike into the end zone ward to last play before the intermission finds Carey Henley waiting with outstretched arms. However, something and down dropped the ball as the TARS took a 7-0 lead henley later figured in a 75-yard scoring pass that re- Lejeune's last tally.

HE CHEERS—Camp Lejeune's three cheerleaders, along Bevo, major league baseball clown for 25 years, led the cheer- Saturday's game. Bevo had attached himself to the ball nine at the State tourney and was on hand to enter- al fans in Lejeune's initial outings. From left to right, Frankie Miller, Bevo and Judy Coon.

OPENING HIGHLIGHTS—Chosen as co-captains for the TARS game were Marshall Newman and Jim Schwartz. . . . Both starting elevens were introduced with the players coming out between the 2nd Division Band lined up at the west goal. . . . The famed band entertained at the intermission.

A freak move earlier in the week caused Willis Fjerstad to see limited action in Saturday's tussel. Fjerstad was cutting grass and wrenched his back. . . . The TARS coaching staff was penalized in an attempt at a new look from the bench. It seems that the officials frowned upon the fact that the TARS quarterback was receiving instructions via a blackboard on the sideline. . . . Tackle Bob Williams was injured on the fifth play of the game and had to retire for the remainder of the contest.

SATURDAY'S CLOSEOUTS—Capt. Wil "E" Overgaard sat dejectedly in the coaches' conference room after Saturday's tie with Norfolk wondering what the popular fall sport would have in store for him and the rest of the local braintrust. Two visiting sports writers were on hand but neither were asking questions in the tense atmosphere. Skipper Overgaard settled back in the leather chair and spoke of his Marines' first outing.

The two mental lapses on the part of his charges changed the whole complexion of the contest from the onset. The first was a freak when the Marines allowed the live ball to roll into the end zone without anyone downing it. This is not a new rule by any means and one known to every ball player. It was just an unexplained happening. However, the way in which it affected the locals was what hurt the most. They never could get their offensive game started with the exception of three brief interludes of which two TD's were scored and another almost, the latter case when a halfback missed a perfect strike in the end zone.

Skipper Overgaard made mention of the fact that he had gotten out of bed at 2 a.m. the morning before the ball game and had written down a reminder about tipping off the backs on downing a free ball on the kick-offs. He blamed himself for this mistake as he left the piece of paper home.

As for the armchair quarterback, the new two point system seemed also to bother the head mentor. If either squad had attempted to run or pass and had been successful, the game wouldn't have ended in a tie. However, the Marines tallied two quick TD's in the third period and looked well on their way to an explosive last quarter. The coaching staff elected to play it safe both times figuring the Marines for another one or two markers.

And so it goes. The coaches', players' and fans' nightmares, second guessing and sideline quarterbacking are back for another six months. Coaches all over the nation had their dreams shattered Saturday as upsets were recorded across the land.

Here at Lejeune, there seemed little exception to the trend. However, the 8,000-plus who turned out to see the locals couldn't have gone away entirely disappointed. They saw a club when working effectively, that looked like a sure winner. There were times in the ball game when Lejeune couldn't be touched. If these moments can be put together, then the Marines' opponents will be in for a rough time.

NEW BASE SPECIAL SERVICES OFFICER—Col. Allen B. Geiger, left, new Base Special Services Officer, and Maj. Frank L. Straner, his assistant, talk over the calendar of events for the month of September. Colonel Geiger assumed his new duties September 4, relieving Major Straner. Colonel Geiger was Base Inspector prior to taking over as Special Services Officer.

Pups Dropped By Jones Central As Toby Shelton Tallies Only

The Camp Lejeune Devilpups lost their second game of the season Friday night when they fell victim to Jones Central, 19-6, on the latter's home field.

The winners' Jerry Pelletier, a diminutive quarterback turned full, displayed a triple threat personality before a homecoming crowd that ranks him as one of the leading backs in his class throughout the state.

The only Pup score was tallied by Toby Shelton from five yards out after Joe Bernier had scurried 33 yards to set up the marker in the third period. Bernier's PAT failed as the locals Coaches Tom McGhee and Bob Ward felt that poor blocking and tackling hurt the Pups' chances. Singled out as defensive standouts were Shelton, Jerry Rowe and Art Potts.

Lejeune will travel to Beaufort Friday night. Their opponents stand at 1-2 on the season and lost to LaGrange last. The junior Devils full power with tackle Jim Cross, knee injury Friday night. Not known whether he will play not.

Shut-Outs Mark FT Football Raiders Post Two Victories

Shut-outs highlighted the three games played this week in the Force Troops Football League. Eighth Engineers blanked 2nd FAG, 34 to 0; Second Force Service Regiment met the combined forces of Hq. Co-8th MT Bn. Friday and succeeded in shutting them out, 46 to 0; and the Engineer Raiders defeated 8th Comm Bn., 48 to 0, for their third straight win.

In the first game, using a combination of ground and aerial attacks, Frank Cooper, Mitch Patterson, and Mel Anderson accounted for five TD's. Unable to penetrate the 2nd FAG defense for more than one marker in the first half, the Raiders conferred and came up with the key for the second half.

Patterson, Cooper and Anderson were the locksmiths opening the door to the end zone, and a 34 to 0 shut-out. Cooper picked up his second TD of the game in the third quarter on an end around. Minutes later in the fourth period Patterson tallied his second six of the game. Anderson not to be out-done by his teammates scored twice before the game ended.

In the second game of the week, Dick Clary and a host of FSR Rams carried the ball to the end zone no less than seven times.

On the opening kick-off, Dan Irwin picked up the ball on his own 40 and ran it down field into paydirt 60 yards away. Clary scored for the Rams before the first period ended and again early in the second, bringing the Rams' tally to 18-0.

In the highest scoring contest of the week, the Raiders copped six tallies and all 12 extra points to make it a 48 to 0 win over the Communicators.

Anderson picked up TD's five and six of the season in the first half on an end-around run and a lateral by Norm D. Emerson went for the end zone this pass by Cooper, Ed Houston, after the extra point Raiders out in from the half ended.

STAGE STRUCK — Susan Strasberg is a young girl who is convinced that she can get on the stage. She meets Henry Fonda at a party and after becoming slightly influenced by champagne, she gives a competent performance of "Romeo and Juliet."
