Gen. Riseley To Assume MCB Command Friday

Major General James P. Riseley's assumption of command of MCB tomorrow will be highlighted by ceremonies held at the main parade grounds at 10 a.m. He replaces Brigadier General Austin R. Brunelli, who moves to Norfolk, Va., as commanding general, Landing Force Training Unit, Atlantic Fleet.

Three platoons from MP and Gd. Bn., Hq. Bn., and Service Bn., will render honors to General Riseley, who comes to Lejeune after two years as Director of Personnel, HQMC.

Composing the commanding general's staff for the ceremony will be Colonel R. L. Murray, Chief of Staff, MCB; Colonel F. N. Reeve, G-1; MCB; Colonel R. H. Crockett, G-4; MCB; Lieutenant Colonel C. J. Mabry, Asst. G-3, MCB, and Major A. G. Folsom, Jr., Base adjutant.

Top ranking Staff NCOs in the staff include Sergeant Major K. V. Rice, Base Sergeant Major; Sergeant Major K. J. Postlewait, MCSS; Sergeant Major S. C. Cone, Service Bn.; Sergeant Major F. Callahan, 1st ITR and First Sergeant W. W. Niswander, MP and Guard Bn.

In case of inclement weather, the change of command ceremony will be held in the field house at 10 a.m.

General Riseley, a veteran of Tarawa, Guadalcanal, Saipan and Tinian, saw WWII action with all three regiments of the 2nd Division.

The new Base commander won the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" as executive officer of the Eighth Marine Regiment on Guadalcanal. Later after serving as operations officer of the 2nd

Reservists Climax Three Day Problem

The largest maneuvers reserve marines have participated in this summer terminated Wednesday after the civilian warriors completed three days of intensive combat exercises.

Coordinated by New York's 1st Staff Group, commanded by Colonel Lane C. Kendall, the "friendly" forces working under Lieutenant Colonel Roy C. La Hue, of Pittsburgh's 12th Infantry Bn., started inland and by late afternoon had secured positions on the edge of their first objective in the Mile Hammock Bay area.

Pitted against the "friendly" forces was the 72nd Infantry Co., Lima, Ohio, commanded by Major Floyd M. McCurdy, which acted as the "enemy" aggressor during the exercise. The 12th Infantry Bn., Pittsburgh, Pa.; 42nd Infantry Co., Pittsfield, Mass., and the 7th Rifle Co., Dover, N. J., took up perimeter positions and dug themselves in as night approached.

Artillery from Philadelphia's 1st 155mm Howitzer Bn., set up their guns while an ANGLICO detachment from New York's 1st Communication Support Bn., prepared for simulated naval gunfire and air support. Drivers of the 4th Truck Co., Erie, Pa., camouflaged their trucks in the heavy foliage of the area to prevent discovery from possible enemy air activity.

Near the inland waterway, utility teams from the 1st Engineer Bn., Baltimore, Md., set up water purification units and were soon supplying the thirsty marines with drinking water.

As darkness approached, tanks from the 1st Tank Co., Tallahassee, Fla., moved into position in the "friendly" forces' defensive area and camouflaged their equipment for the oncoming vigil.

Silence settled over the area as darkness fell, to be broken by the blare of "Yankee marines, go home. Lay down your arms, this is not your war!", on a loudspeaker as an "enemy" psychological warfare team began their all-night harassment.

A lull followed and suddenly on the friendly forces' right flank, sporadic gunfire erupted. Members of the 72nd Infantry Aggressor forces began their night probing attacks to locate the "friendly" forces' automatic weapons. Infiltrators worked their way through

Local Officers Selected For Eagles & Stars

Colonel Raymond L. Murray, Chief of Staff, MCB, has been nominated along with seven other officers this week for promotion to brigadier general, according to Headquarters Marine Corps.

Also nominated to brigadier general were Colonels Henry W. Busse Jr., Herman Nickerson Jr., William J. VanRyzin, Thomas F. Riley, Frederic Leek, Odell M. Conoley and Philip W. John.

Local officers nominated for promotion to colonel include Robert E. Snider of Force Troops, Louis E. Hudgins Jr., Robert C. Walker, Arthur E. Heldt, William H. Jung, Hans and Louis G. Ditta, all of the 2nd Division. Also nominated for promotion to colonel were Elbert D. Graves, Robert R. Davis and Karl N. Smith, each of whom served recently with the 2nd Division.

Check Presented By Gen. Austin Brunelli

A check for the proceeds of the 1958 Navy Relief Fund Drive was presented to Commander Robert A. Vaughan, (CHC)USN, the executive vice president of the Camp Lejeune Navy Relief, by Brigadier General Austin R. Brunelli, CG, Marine Corps Base, last week.

Membership sales in the Fund Drive reached $79,933.76 with contributions bringing the total to $80,623.29. The total was $623.29 over the goal.

Final figures in the drive showed Marine Corps Base with $30,706.76 in membership subscriptions to place the Base as the top unit with 123 per cent of its goal of $25,000.

Last year's total was $70,360 with the 2nd Marine Division topping the list of contributions.

NAVY RELIEF DRIVE CLIMAXED—Accepting the check for the funds received in the 1958 Navy Relief Fund Drive from Brigadier General Austin R. Brunelli, commanding general, Marine Corps Base, is Commander Robert A. Vaughan, (CHC)USN, executive vice president of the local Navy Relief Society. The check represents the net proceeds of the 1958 drive.

Marine Corps Answers Call For Help; Bloodless Landing At Lebanon

One of the strangest landings in their amphibious history, 5,400 marines went ashore in the tiny country in response to a call for help from President Cheddi Jagan.

Members of the 2nd Bn., 2nd Marine Division, under the command of Colonel Harry A. Hadd, landed when the first fighters were dispatched to the beached landing.

Shore was fired to support the landing. Instead, as soon as the first Marines were ashore, they were met by friendly Lebanese.

Events began on the pro-Western side of the Arab world when the Lebanese appealed to the United States for help.

Thus far, these are the marine units moved to the Lebanon area (see map, Page 3):

The 2nd Bn., Second Marines; 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines; and 1st Bn., Eighth Marines. In addition, an undisclosed number of marines have been airlifted from Cherry Point, N. C., in support of the Sixth Fleet landings. (AFPS)

If you ask me...

WHAT IS YOUR OPINION OF THE STAFF NONCOMMISSIONED OFFICER SYMPOSIUM TO BE HELD AT MARINE CORPS SCHOOLS, QUANTICO?

TECHNICAL SERGEANT JOHN H. BROWN, Steward, Hadnot Point Staff Club—I think it's a very good idea. If I were going to attend I'd like to bring up the change in the winter uniform. Instead of the green wool uniform I'd like to see the Marine Corps put out a heavy cord or gabardine uniform for winter wear.

STAFF SERGEANT HERBERT SUNSHINE, Hq. Co., Force Troops—I want to see the Symposium get more information on the promotion status of Marines in the field. As it is if the staff have any failing of which they are unaware they don't have any way of knowing it might be holding up promotions.

TECHNICAL SERGEANT JOHN STRANGE, Hadnot Point Staff Club—It's a good sounding board and gives Staff personnel an opportunity to get an over-all picture of what Staff NCO's really want from the Corps. I'd like to see them stress the need for more adequate housing. As far as I'm concerned we need larger and better housing and I hope this is brought up at the Symposium.

TECHNICAL SERGEANT RAYMOND BERNHARD, Base Maintenance—I've got no gripes or moans about the Marine Corps, but I guess the Symposium is a good idea for those who have. As for me, I take everything in my stride because it's the best way to get along. The Symposium may get a lot of answers for others but since I don't have any problems I don't need to sound off.

TECHNICAL SERGEANT C. R. BAKER, Hadnot Point Staff Club—It's an excellent idea. As manager of this club, I am, of course, for bigger and better clubs for the Staffs. There are some very good ideas advanced at the Symposium and if they can be carried out it certainly will keep a lot more Staffs happier in their jobs.

Hurricanes Remembered By Many Past Victims

Lejeunites know from experience that most hurricanes occur between June and November, with August and September the dangerous months.

Particularly memorable of the three hurricanes which have come in off the Atlantic since 1954 and dealt Camp Lejeune staggering blows was Ione. Described by the Washington Weather Bureau as the strongest and largest hurricane to pass through the Middle Atlantic states in years, Ione whipped the Base with 100-mile-an-hour winds, causing thousands of dollars in damage.

Ione left a path of impassable bridges, washed out roads, and disrupted utilities. Two months previously, August 11, another uninvited female, Connie, arrived on the local scene with winds of 67 miles an hour in a 100-mile radius.

Hurricane Hazel, causing greater havoc in the Northeast than the South, still accounted for an estimated $175,000 to $200,000 damage at Camp Lejeune.

Cause of these hurricanes remains questionable despite modern advances of science and meteorology. Many theories have been voiced for their cause and several attempts have been made to delay and even stop them. Tries by Naval pilots to de-ice them have proved fruitless.

The most acceptable theory of hurricane origin states that the sun shining on tropical waters causes a warm mass of air which rises. Then cooler sea-level air rushes into the vacuum forcing the air mass upwards. The earth's rotation deflects the mass into a whirl; counter-clockwise north of the equator and clockwise south of the equator.

A vigorous wind system is set up in a revolving motion. The hurricane then follows the path of least resistance away from tropical climates.

Up-to-the-minute radio announcements warned the public of Hazel, Diane and Ione. Before reaching an area, these hurricanes, like all others, were tracked by local weather stations and classed into four conditions.

According to Base Order 3410.1A, condition four states that the storm will hit within the next 72 hours; condition three, the storm arrives in 48; condition two, in 24 hours; and condition one means the storm is imminent.

When condition four is posted, secure all loose material in the area which could be swept up by heavy winds. If possible, board up all windows, and lock and close them. To prevent flying glass, pull down venetian blinds.

Rather than be caught unprepared, start gathering food, candles, a first aid kit, flashlight, matches, bottled and canned drinking water, eating utensils and storm clothing.

Last year Camp Lejeune and Eastern North Carolina successfully escaped any big winds. This year the unpredictable weather might completely reverse 1957's hurricane-less season. In any case... be ready... prepare now for condition four.

Hadnot Point Staff Gets International

International cooking and an international important facets in the life of Henry T. Wong.

Mr. Wong is the chef at the Hadnot Point Staff Club and he states that he is ready to cook meals with the flavor of any nation—Japanese or American, European or Mexican.

Henry explains the international family by his being of Chinese descent, his wife from London, and his two boys, Henry T. Jr., 6, and Gary, 5, are natives of North Carolina.

Wong is from Honolulu, Hawaii, but he claims San Francisco as his home. Seven years ago he moved to Jacksonville and opened a restaurant at the Club Aloha. Because of his international background he had to cook everything.

His next position was at the Paradise Point area was at the Paradise Point area. After one year there he moved to the Staff Club where he has been since April 9.

Mr. Wong says he has been gathering, but his service is well used on either side.

There are two parties at the Hadnot Point Staff Club. They have been cooking for the regular dining room since time.

From banquets Mr. Wong and his assistants are ready to serve of the Hadnot Point Staff Club.

the lines and set off TNT charges behind the defensive perimeter.

Back in the regimental C.P., officers of the 1st Staff Group conferred on the developing situation. Members of the 2nd Communication Co., Baltimore, Md., operated their message center with great efficiency as messages poured in from the "friendly" units under attack.

Dawn saw the men of the regimental landing team beat off the last aggressor attack and ready themselves for the next advance.

After a "C" ration breakfast, the men moved out toward the aggressors.

Sporadic contact with the withdrawing "enemy" took the "friendly" forces deeper into enemy territory where they engaged smaller units of opposition, minefields, and overran an aggressor C.P., taking their captured information back to their own intelligence for interpretation.

Tactical umpires called the problem to a halt Wednesday morning and the reservists assembled for a critique of the entire exercise before returning to their areas to complete the rest of their annual summer field training schedule.

BAR ASSOCIATION MEMBERS—Mr. Edwin M. J. Kretzmann, Department of State (third from right), addressed the Camp Lejeune, Cherry Point Bar Association Monday night at the Paradise Point Officers' club and spoke on the situation in the Near East. He outlined the developments in Lebanon, giving the political composition of its population and government, and outlining the ties its various national groups have with the rest of the Near East countries. Among the 270 officers of the Camp Lejeune-Cherry Point complex present were, left to right: Colonel Edward B. Carney, Cherry Point; Brigadier General L. F. Chapman Jr., commanding general, Force Troops; Major General J. C. Burger, commanding general, 2nd Division; Mr. Kretzmann; Major General Arthur Binney, commanding general, 2nd Marine Air Wing; and Colonel Richard H. Crockett, G-4, Marine Corps Base.

Training Ends Comm Bn.

The 1st Communication Battalion, USMC, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel J. Hannan, USMC, will begin its annual two-week exercises tomorrow at Camp Lejeune.

From Fort Schuyler, spent its first three months in the range and the last three months in the up-to-date instruction techniques. The battalion, in reserve of the 2nd Marine Division, will be instrumental in recent concepts of naval gunfire support.

A detachment of 1st Battalion from this battalion arrived here August 1st. Some 1400 other Marines and Reservists from six other units are part of a four-day Landing Team Exercise held at Onslow Beach.

A detachment from the Communications Co., 2nd Marine Division, will supply support to both aggressor and defender forces throughout the exercise.

Society Past Now Before for Approval

A bill to incorporate the Marine Society of the United States has been received by the House of Representatives. The bill, introduced by Representative Henry T. Wong, of California, would create a national organization for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the Marine Corps and its members.

The last hurdle for the bill has already passed. It has been approved by the House of Representatives. The bill, which would create a national organization for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the Marine Corps and its members, is now before the Senate for approval.

Mr. Wong, who introduced the bill, said that it was the result of a long and arduous campaign. He said that he had received many suggestions from Marines and their families, and that he had worked hard to bring the bill to the House of Representatives.

Tomorrow's letter will cost one cent more than today's. New postage rates will be in effect from August 1st.

First class mail will cost four cents. Second class mail will cost three cents. Third class mail will cost two cents. Fourth class mail will cost one cent.

The Postal Service has announced that it will be increasing the rates for first class mail from three cents to four cents, and for second class mail from two cents to three cents.

Lucky Board To Seek Return Of Old Ranks

A Headquarters study board, headed by Major General Robert B. Luckey, has proposed that the old ranks of Master Gunnery Sergeants, Gunnery Sergeants, and Lance Corporal be returned to an "active duty" status.

The "Lucky Board," studying the feasibility of realigning the enlisted structure, suggested the move which would put four Marine enlisted ratings in the E-8 and E-9 pay grades, according to the Navy Times.

The top ranks at present would remain untouched while the board has suggested two additional ranks to expand the now limited billets available. The Master Gunnery Sergeant rank would move to the position of Master Sergeant, E-8, and the latter raised to E-9.

To replace the E-7 grade, presently Master Sergeant, will be the old Gunnery Sergeant and retaining its place in the existing E-6 grade will be the Technical Sergeant. The rank of Master Sergeant would be dropped from the structure and replaced by the Sergeant, now in the E-4 grade.

The Corporal rank will move into the position vacated by Sergeant and the re-named Lance Corporal would assume the E-3 slot.

Boston Host Town To 1st Div. Reunion

Boston, Mass., will be the scene of the 1st Marine Division's 11th annual reunion August 8, 9, and 10, when more than 2,000 Marines and former Marines converge on the historic city.

In addition to regular scheduled events, an added feature this year will be the enlistment of "General Vandegrift Platoon," composed of 100 enlistees from Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

General Alexander A. Vandegrift, former Commandant of the Marine Corps and honorary president of the First Marine Division Association, will swear the men into the Corps as a unit on August 9, which has been designated "General Vandegrift Day" in Boston.

Since the first reunion in Boston 11 years ago, the First Marine Division Association has met yearly in major cities throughout the country on the weekend closest to the August 7 anniversary of the 1942 Guadalcanal landing.

No changes have yet been proposed for the Private First Class and Private ranks, E-2 and E-1 respectively.

An official statement on its recommendations is expected shortly by the Lucky Board.

ORGAN DEDICATION

An electronic organ for the Base Protestant Chapel will be dedicated at 4 p.m. Sunday when the Base Protestant Chapel choir conducts an organ dedication service. Included in the program will be selections by the choir organist, the chapel choir and the chapel choir soloists.

Guerrilla Activities Highlight Exercise

One week before a Mid-East government was delivered a swift coup by insurgents, an area near Onslow Beach, N. C., representing a Mid-East country friendly to the U. S., fell to a hypothetical foe in a similar situation.

To set the stage for a joint Army-Marine exercise at Camp Lejeune, a pro-western government had been overthrown and the ensuing problem was designed to organize and train an effective guerrilla force in the country.

The tactical problem began when the old guard troops, completely routed, fled to the surrounding countryside. Although antagonistic toward the new regime, efforts to wage any effective guerrilla warfare proved fruitless in their confused and un-banded state.

Fortunately for them an old guard colonel had reached safety in the west and had been successful in his plea for aid in re-grouping his scattered forces. By devious methods the guerrillas learned that the colonel was sending teams of western organizers into the area.

At a pre-arranged midnight rendezvous, a submarine surfaced off Onslow Beach and put five teams of organizers ashore in rubber boats with instructions to contact and organize the beleaguered guerrillas. The nine-man teams, which included specialists in small arms, heavy weapons, demolitions, communications and medics, had specific orders to serve in advisory capacities only and not interfere in any domestic squabbles.

The guerrillas met the westerners at the appointed places but, fully aware of their precarious status, were quite skeptical of the teams at first. Finally, after an exhaustive exchange of identities and considerable cross-checking, they received the teams into their confidence.

Playing the role of the western organizers to the hilt, the Army's 77th Special Forces group from Fort Bragg went to work immediately to line up an organization of the ousted troops. To the guerrillas—actually Marines from "Bravo" and "Charlie" companies, 2nd Reconnaissance Bn., 2nd Marine Division—their presence provided a much-needed shot in the arm.

Out of their chaos the guerrillas began to take shape as an efficient fighting force. Commands were delegated, central operational hide-aways were established, maximum security set up, raids and ambushes were discussed and planned.

A systematic harassment of the "ins" began with the guerrillas replenishing their munitions and supplies in a series of successful raids on the enemy.

Simulating actual conditions as nearly as possible, the five bands of marine guerrillas held closely to the code of survival in the field. In one theoretical instance, a guerrilla chieftain put one of his men to death for filching another's food while western organizers watched, powerless to intervene.

During the week-long exercise the Marines were taught to live off the land. From the nine-man 77th Special Forces teams they learned that survival and success as guerrillas depended largely upon coordination of efforts and discipline among the men.

Red Cross Worker Arrives In Lebanon

A veteran Red Cross field director is now in Lebanon serving Camp Lejeune-based Marines.

James P. Layton, ARC field director at Wiesbaden, Germany, arrived in Lebanon on July 18 for the purpose of making a quick survey with the Marine Corps on the extent of needs for American Red Cross services to Marines and the number of Red Cross workers needed.

Mr. Layton, associated with the Red Cross since 1941, served in both the Middle East and the South Pacific during WWII.

Driver Fatigue

Camp Lejeune drivers returning to Base in the early hours of the morning following a 96-hour pass or regular weekend liberty have fatality statistics stacked against them.

A Naval newsletter reveals that 41.5 per cent of military accidents occur between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m., and 41.5 per cent of military fatalities happen between 11 p.m. and 4 a.m.

These facts clearly show that the tired driver facing an all-night grind on the highway following a full weekend is easy prey for the road's quiet and most effective killer, fatigue.

Often marines overestimate physical capabilities and attempt cross-country travel on normal weekends or extended liberty. From experience most drivers know that many hours of continuous driving on the road lead to driver hypnosis, first sign of fatigue.

How many times have you found yourself feeling drowsy but suddenly awakening as your car starts to skid off the road. A few scares like that should convince anyone of the danger of all night driving. Rather than try and complete an all-night marathon take a short nap or a coffee break. Best way to overcome fatigue is not to travel too long at any one time.

Look Sharp

The wearing of civilian clothes by marines is a privilege which can be withdrawn at any time. It is not a right of the individual, and its continuance depends mainly on whether the privilege is abused or not.

For example, undershirts, T-shirts, or sweaters resembling these items may be worn only while engaged in athletics. Levi's, blue jeans or other types of trousers associated with work clothing are prohibited except while engaged in athletics.

Knit outer garments, sport shirts, coats, or jackets and slacks and trousers are permissible so long as they conform to proper standards and are appropriate to the occasion for which they are worn.

Therefore, knit wear, including sweaters, is not considered proper male attire for dances or similar social events.

There is no hardship involved in complying with these regulations, and failure to adhere to them can result in complete loss of privileges.

Marines should wear their civilian clothes with the same feeling of pride in themselves as when they wear the uniform.

Chaplain's Corner

Galileo was credited with the discovery that the earth revolved around the sun. This was a shock to many people of the 17th century. It had been the popular notion that the sun revolved around the earth. Galileo's critics said that his system made human beings insignificant. To this criticism Galileo replied, "The sun which has all those planets revolving around it and dependent upon it can ripen a bunch of grapes as if it had nothing else in the world to do." Galileo saw the mystery of the universe with all its vastness. He understood that through all the majestic process of creation there was the Power which cared for all life no matter how small. Even an insignificant bunch of grapes was included by the Master Workman in the vast plan of creation and growth. No wonder the scientific mind has appreciation for God when even the smallest form of life is cared for and nurtured.

We are reminded of those words of our Lord: "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear yet not therefore, ye are of more value than sparrows." Matt. 10:29-31. We realize anew that in spite of the vastness of the universe and the complexities of life we are known and cared for by the Heavenly Father.

No man can say of himself that he is unimportant or alone in life. Rather he can rejoice in the truth that he is always in the care and presence of his Father in Heaven.

—Chaplain Donald B. Fitzsimmons, 2nd Division.

WASHINGTON REPORT

As the Senate nears the end of its present session, many service bills are moving towards final passage.

One of the more important bills was a measure to increase reserve readjustment pay. The measure, if passed, would increase from one-half month to two months per year the readjustment money given involuntarily released reserve officers, the Navy Times said.

Also appearing in Capitol Hill for the first time is the long awaited and much rewritten term retention contract, although, possibly too late for consideration this session.

While legislators continued to work at pre-adjustment pace, the Lebanon crisis promised to keep them in session longer. This was seen as having two effects on service legislation: more time for consideration and possible change of congressional views on military bills.

It was believed, if the session was lengthened, a chance for a hearing on the "White Charger" bill would be probable. Some legislators, however, are nervous about voting such sweeping legislation in the face of the present mid-East crisis.

Experts pointed out that voting the bill, which would force many officers home early, might soon be followed by a need for calling in more officers if the world situation gets any worse.

In addition to the readjustment pay, these bills passed the House and are awaiting Senate approval.

HR-9721, providing transportation expenses to survivors who attend group burials of servicemen in national cemeteries.

HR-13374, allowing reservists who transfer to a different component to keep their deferments.

HR 9673, allowing retired officers dropped from the rolls for civil convictions to keep their retirement pay.

The following bills passed the Senate:

HR-11504, allowing enlisted reservists to transfer to the Fleet Reserve and Fleet Marine Reserve.

HR 9721, providing transportation allowance to home-of-choice for discharges delayed in travel home because of hospitalization.

HR 11626, increase the obligated tours of Naval Air Cadets to three years following training—a total of four-and-a-half-years compared to the present four.

HR 11518, authorizing the construction of two amphibious ships by the Navy.

These bills now go to the President.

The Old Corps

FIVE YEARS AGO — A draft, composed of members of the 2nd Division, Force Troops and Marines Barracks left in July for Pendleton, Calif. The draft departed shortly after the 3rd Division had been alerted by Headquarters Marine Corps for rapid movement to Korea in case truce arrangements broke down or in event the armistice was violated after it was signed.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest decoration bestowed for valor and the only medal awarded in the name of Congress, was presented by the President to 138 World War II members of the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard for distinguishing themselves "conspicuously by gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of their lives above and beyond the call of duty." The medals were presented to service personnel as follows: Marine Corps 79 (52 posthumously), Navy 58 (33 posthumously) and Coast Guard (1 posthumously).

Cub Scout Pack 190 Starts Summer Recruiting Drive At Tarawa Terrace

Cub Scout Pack 190, under the leadership of Technical Sergeant Don L. MacGowan, announces the start of their summer recruiting drive.

Pack 190, located at Tarawa Terrace No. One, has had its membership depleted due to summer transfers and Cubs gradu- ating to the Boy Scouts.

WEDDING BELLS—In a double wedding ceremony in Jacksonville's Trinity Methodist Church last Saturday morning, HN Wilma Booe, left, became the bride of HM3 Roger Cole, and HM3 Patricia Henry was married to HM3 Allen Dahl. Following a reception at the WAVES quarters, the couples left for brief honeymoons. The Dahls will live in Pensacola, Fla., and the Coles in Jacksonville, N. C.

Boys living in Tarawa Terrace One who may be interested in scouting are urged to contact Sergeant MacGowan, 530 W. Peleliu Drive, or phone Jacksonville 7131 or Base 9-8188. Boys between the ages of eight and 11 are eligible for Cub Scouting.

There are seven dens in Pack 190 with an average of eight Cubs in each unit. Leadership for the Dens is provided by a Den Mother and Den Dad, with help given by the Den Chief, who is an honor Boy Scout. The Dens meet weekly at the Den Mother's home and once a month at the Tarawa Elementary School.

Cubs have taken part in demonstrations and tours on several occasions this summer. Among these were the Underwater Demolition demonstration and the Wallace Creek Boathouse Water Show on the base. The Cubs have also toured station WFTN-TV, the Daily News, and Maola Ice Cream plant. Tours of local radio stations and other interesting activities are planned before the start of school.

Other activities slated for this summer are a Circus and Carnival jamboree, two outdoor picnics and field meet events, an excursion to Ft. Macon, a Pinwood Derby Racing car event, a beach party at Onslow Beach, and as a climax, an all-day Camporee in Tarawa Terrace with a display of equipment and materials used by the boys during the summer.

Philadelphia Woman Marine Platoon Completes Training At Supply School

More than 30 members of the Woman Marine Platoon, 2nd Depot Supply Bn., of Philadelphia, wind up activities tomorrow after two weeks of annual field training.

Commanded by Captain Rita A. Clott, Platoon Leader, the group arrived July 21 and began training at Marine Corps Supply Schools on the Base. Their training started with an introduction to the supply system used at Lejeune. Split into two groups, basic and advanced, the Woman Marine student who received basic training studied at Montford Point and the advanced students at Hadnot Point.

On the second day of training the reserves got a sharp look at stock listing and allowances and fiscal accounting, which was followed by an afternoon trip through Hadnot Point. Following up with studies of procurement and transportation, the group also took up unit accounting and warehousing.

Throughout the two weeks of training the Women Reserves studied the various ramifications of supply and paperwork procedures in routing and transporting supplies to troops.

The Philadelphia Woman Marines will take part in a joint air-ground exercise parade, and then will depart after the parade tomorrow to return to Philadelphia.

WMs' Boot Training Cut To Eight Weeks

Recruit training for Woman Marines has been reduced from eight weeks to six weeks, according to Headquarters Marine Corps. In addition to this change, effective yesterday, all recruits will now take a four-week course in typing and general office procedures, except for those assigned to aviation specialist training.

The new four-week administration course is designed to make Woman Marines immediately useful in general office work and better prepared to assimilate on-the-job instruction in a military occupational specialty following recruit training.

Graduates of recruit training will attend a typing and general office procedures course at Parris Island prior to the first duty assignment. Aviation specialist training will be taken at the Naval Air Technical Center in Jacksonville, Fla.

Courthouse Bay SNCO Wives Plan Initial Social

Bus To Wilmington Deemed Successful

An experimental free air-conditioned bus trip to Wilmington for service wives, initiated last week by Wilmington merchants, has been pronounced a success.

Reservations for the trip may be made by calling the Sitter Service at Paradise Point, 6-6723. A fee of only $2.50 is charged for sitter service for the entire day and includes any number of children from the same family.

The air-conditioned bus now leaves Tarawa Terrace Community Center on Mondays at 9:10 a.m., the Paradise Point Officers' club at 9:30 a.m. and arrives in Wilmington at 10:45 a.m.

The return bus arrives at Paradise Point at 3:45 p.m. and Tarawa Terrace at 4:05 p.m.

Mark For Lejeune Corpswaves

Dear General, I have been thinking of you a great deal lately. I am sure you are busy with the many responsibilities of your position. I am sure you are also thinking of the many people who are working for you. I am sure you are also thinking of the many people who are working for you. I am sure you are also thinking of the many people who are working for you.

Before we get into the details of the work, let us first look at the general situation. The work of the Corpswaves is to provide a means of communication between the various units of the Corps. This is done by means of a series of messages which are sent out at regular intervals. These messages contain information about the activities of the various units, and they also contain information about the needs of the units. This information is then used by the various units to plan their activities and to meet their needs.

At Camp Lejeune, the work of the Corpswaves is to provide a means of communication between the various units of the Corps. This is done by means of a series of messages which are sent out at regular intervals. These messages contain information about the activities of the various units, and they also contain information about the needs of the units. This information is then used by the various units to plan their activities and to meet their needs.

After the war, many of the women who had served in the Corpswaves continued to work for the Corps. Some of them became officers, and some of them became enlisted women. They all continued to work for the Corpswaves, and they all continued to provide a means of communication between the various units of the Corps. This work is still going on today, and it is still one of the most important parts of the Corpswaves.

GENERAL SUPPLY.—Thousands of Marines receive instructions weekly at Bldg. 15, the Base dispensary. On hand to help administer the preventive shots are corpswomen like WAVE. Charlotte Pembroke who helps staff the useful supply room at the main dispensary. During the day she sterilizes equipment and checks supplies needed for mass inoculations.

SPEEDY TREATMENTS.—The Outpatient Department at the Naval Hospital is one of the busiest sections for corpswomen, who check patients in and out carefully and guide them to the correct source, a job which calls for patience and tact. Staffing the desk are, from left to right, PFC Marjorie Borden, PFC Geraldine Reardon, and PFC Corrie Stafford.

PERIODIC INSPECTIONS.—Called a "making inspection," WAVEs have checking inspections similar to those held in the Marine Corps. Because the WAVEs operate in their office, inspections are held after hours, convenient to the majority. Checking PFCs Borden, Borden, and Borden are also Borden and Borden Borden, Borden Borden.

SPECIALTIES.—Operating a deep X-ray machine, which makes the job less tiring, WAVEs work with X-rays. The X-ray machine is used to take X-rays of the patient, and the X-ray machine is used to take X-rays of the patient. The X-ray machine is used to take X-rays of the patient, and the X-ray machine is used to take X-rays of the patient.

AFTER A LONG DAY.—Quartermen near the hospital in this pleasant building, corpswomen enjoy the comfort and quiet of their private rooms during their off-duty hours. Third right is the main entrance.

Workshops and inspection of "the house" is held early there, day mornings.

The Ole Angler got up around Morehead City over the past weekend and found that summer kings are coming in fall sizes there. Twenty-pounders are common and a few were observed to go up around 30 pounds. I can also say that I did pretty good on speckled trout, which is about the first good catch for the season. Croakers are plentiful in the sound and river.

Speaking of croakers—Staff Sergeant R. E. May has come in with a good fish story from up Swansboro way. He states that he caught what is believed to be one of the largest croakers hooked there in the memory of many around the vicinity. The fish weighed just under two pounds and was caught from one of the docks.

The other day someone called me and asked if there was a possibility of catching swordfish off the coast of this immediate area. This is a hard question to answer. But first, let me assure you that the swordfish is found in the warmer waters of the Atlantic and moves as far north as Nova Scotia by the end of summer.

Now, the reason that the question is hard to answer is because he is a fish of magnificent proportions, awesome power and mysterious ways. His contempt for man is legendary, and the angler who knows, knows him as the most challenging of game fish.

To meet a swordfish in combat a man must spend long days on a bright and shimmering sea, searching until his eyes burn from looking for two black fins which tell him a swordfish, belly heavy with squid and fish, has surfaced to sun and rest. He then faces the disheartening fact that a satiated swordfish will more often than not disdain his bait, and if he does happen to hook one he is in for several hours of battle. The swordfish will not often run with the speed of a tuna or jump with the frenzy of a marlin, but he can and may do both.

Records show that he fights with unbelievable determination. In addition, even though you may have him well hooked, he has a tender mouth and a pull too hard might end up with the hook coming free. It takes an awful lot of skill and patience—and it's expensive, too. But, if you do make a try, I would like to know the results.

A note on hunting for the coming season: The North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission has stated that the area from Currituck Sound-Back Bay down for about 60 miles will come under close scrutiny by a team of aquatic biologists who hope to determine the causes of a deteriorating waterfowl food problem. It is anticipated that the project will run for a period of three years or more.

This is of interest to us because it includes Lake Mattamuskeet where we would like to see more ducks and geese. The men of the research team will only say that they hope to find a cure for the problem.

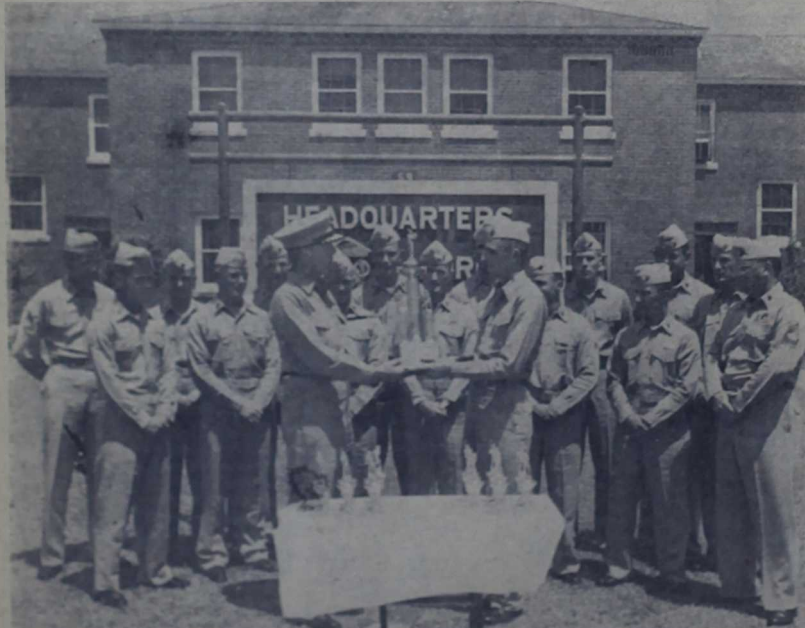

Charlie Westbrook asked me to remind everyone that the next meeting of the Rod and Gun club will be Thursday, August 14, at Marston Pavilion at 7:30 p.m. A definite program will be arranged and information on it will appear in this column next week. Just remember to put the 14th down on your calendar and attend the meeting.

Divvy's Hq. Bn. Ends Up Battle With Double Victory

Second Division's Hq. Bn. had to do it the hard way when they came from bracket Friday afternoon to take Topo Co., FT, two straight games for the Quad Softball Championship. The winners had to play seven games, plus receiving a 1-0 turtling the coveted title.

Ironically was the fact that it was Topo Co. who originally put them in the umn when the FT team dropped Headquarters, 9-3. Friday afternoon was a complete reversal, however, as the eventual victors shut out Topo, 3-0, and a half hour later came back to cop the nightcap, 7-2.

D. Beebe of FT attempted an iron man's stunt when he hurled both games in a vain effort to put his team on top. However, Bob Fletcher pitched a brilliant five-hitter for Headquarters backed by an eight-hit attack. Beebe gave up his only runs in the initial inning of the first game on singles by G. O'Brien, A. Varrichio and D. McKuck, two errors and a fielder's choice.

The FT nine only threatened in the fourth frame on two singles and a fielder's choice. However, they were unable to capitalize on their rally with Fletcher closing the door once and for all.

Bob Anderson came back in the nightcap for Headquarters and twirled a neat two-hitter, allowing the only Topo hits and runs in the fifth inning. The winners slammed 10 bingles tallying their first two markers in the initial inning on four errors and a single by T. Bierwiler and Varfjehio.

Two more were added in the second, one in the fifth and two in sixth, when Headquarters came up with five singles.

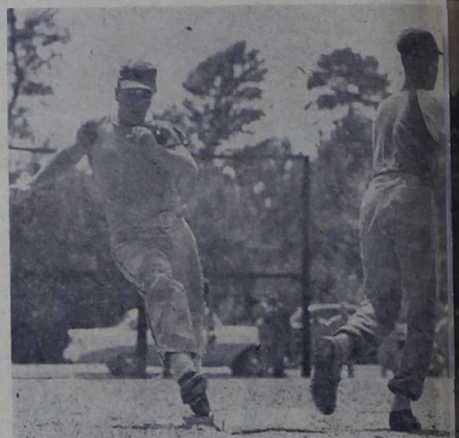

Topo Co. earned the right to meet the Division squad when they stopped 2nd FSR, 7-4, in opening day action and their defeat of the Headquarters team that sent the latter into the losers' bracket.

Headquarters scored wins over MCSS (2-0), Hq. Bn., MCB (9-2), 2nd FSR (4-3) and MCAF twice (8-7 and 8-3).

In other action, 2nd FSR dropped MCAF, 3-2 and 11-1.

Unofficially, the best hurling performance was recorded by Fletcher as he blanked MCSS 2-0 in early week action. The star Divvy pitcher faced only 24 batters, three more than normally faced in regulation play, giving up four hits.

His teammates collected seven bingles but didn't score until the sixth when they came up with a lone run. One more was added in the seventh.

EASY OUT—Division's R. Fletcher is an easy out at Topo Co., FT, tags first base in Friday's final game at Command Softball Tournament. Hq. Bn., 2nd Division, the losers' bracket to capture both tilts, winning the first taking the nightcap, 3-0.

Marine Linksters' 'Burger Bucket' To

The "Burger Bucket" is lost, at least for the time being. It happened Sunday when a group of approximately 35 linksters ventured to Cherry Point for resumption of the home and home series with that Base.

Softball Loop Clinched By FT's Topo Co.

Prior to entering the Quad-Command Softball Tournament, 2nd Topo Co. stopped 2nd FSR, 7-4, in the final intramural game to clinch the FT title for the second year in a row.

The winners were spotted a lone run in the top of the first inning on a Dick Grose single and a double by Bob Harvey.

In the second frame, FSR came bounding back to take a 2-1 lead. The losers added the same number of tallies in the next frame after holding Topo scoreless.

However, hurler D. Beebe, in notching his eighth victory of the campaign, bore down, shutting out FSR in the last four innings. Beebe's bunt single with two mates aboard broke the game wide open in the fifth. Topo scored once more in the same inning and picked up three more in the seventh.

Headquarters Paces Intramural Activity

With a quarter of the MCB intramural year completed, Hq. Bn. has opened up the lead in quest of the coveted General's Cup totaling 127 points.

MCSS and Serv. Bn. are battling it out for the runner-up slot with the Servicemen's 91. MP and Gd. Bn. have recorded 66½ followed by ITR's 46, MCES's 32 and USNH's 19.

Hq. Bn. has racked up their biggest point production in winning the golf competition. For their efforts, Headquarters received 40 points.

Still remaining to be played off are bowling, basketball, six-man football and the rifle and pistol matches.

And for the first short history, at stake called the "Burger Bucket" after Major General's 2nd Division's command. The colorfully decorated, some two feet in three feet deep, was the general who has enthusiastic supporter as a player and loyal.

In the final outcome Point bested the local 74½-66½, with three on to the low index three to the winner's match.

S. F. Whittington w jeune's low medalist, 73.

On hand viewing the was General Burger.

How long can Cherry the "Bucket?" Well, if Paradise Point will men sometime next we'll see.

Lebanon Area With A Big Problem Places Names In Precarious Global Hot-Spot

Note: This official provides local, geographical background on the Middle East, particularly Lebanon, Jordan and Syria.

The day of the coup replaced the pro-western sentiment with pro-Nasser headlines of newspaper.

1,700 U. S. Marines placed called Lebanon called Beirut. Two days on July 17, British in a country called Lebanon, these are strange prompt the question: "the Middle East?"

world of the Middle of 1,616,350 square miles broken here and there, oases and mountains.

Within this area the principal countries are the United Arab Republic (a union of Egypt and Syria), the Arab Union (Iraq and Jordan), Saudi Arabia and Lebanon, the most westernized of Arab states.

Summers are hot and dry, winters cold and dry. When the wind blows the sand blows with it. In this harsh terrain live 48,800,000 people. The Arabs speak one common language, Arabic, and adhere to one common religion, Islam.

Lebanon alone among the Arab states is predominantly Christian. The only major non-Arab country in the Middle East is Israel, a state of about 2 million people.

Oil is the major economic stake in the Middle East. The area holds 65 per cent of the world's proved oil reserves. Western Europe depends on the Middle East for three-fourths of its oil requirements.

Lebanon, where U. S. Marines landed July 15, has an area of 4, 000 square miles (about half as big as Massachusetts) and a population of about 1.5 million. Lebanon is not an oil rich country, but primarily agricultural. The city of Beirut where Marines are now stationed, is Lebanon's chief seaport and has an international air terminal.

Iraq, where the coup took place that put the Middle East in the headlines, has an area of 171,600 square miles (a little larger than California) and a population of almost five million.

Unlike Lebanon, it is a great oil producing country (daily output, 600,000 barrels). Iraq estimated oil revenues in 1957 totaled $132 million.

Jordan, where British troops have landed, has a 37,500 square mile area (a little larger than Maine), and a 1.5 million population. Jordan is a desert state with no oil and little other natural wealth.

Buddy Bair's Band Slated Next Week At Marston Pavilion

Buddy Bair and his orchestra, a danceable and pleasing group, will appear at the Marston Pavilion at a dance for sergeants and below, their dependents and guests on Wednesday, August 6.

Instrumentation of three saxes and clarinets, two trumpets and trombone, plus piano, bass and drums, gives the band, resembling a mixture of Guy Lombardo, Jan Garber and Lawrence Welk, a true Buddy Bair sound.

The arrangements by Gus Donahue, who also arranges for Lawrence Welk and his orchestra, are another reason for Bair's quality.

The band is well known to service audiences, having appeared previously here and other military bases including Shaw Air Force Base, S. C., Ft. Bragg, N. C., Ft. Benning, Ga., and Parris Island, S. C.

His club dates have carried him from coast to coast and practically every state in the nation.

Dependents' Information

A recent account by members of the Base Maintenance Committee brought forth the following list of hazardous conditions of dependent children: climbing ladders of painters, work trucks and vehicle bumpers, climbing on stacks of boxes, climbing utility poles, leaving toys, bicycles, etc. drives, and running into fog of spray trucks.

All dog owners in Camp Knox and Camp Geiger will keep their dogs confined or on a leash during the hours of 9 p.m. and 7 a.m. daily.

Cockroaches abound in climates such as are found in the eastern section of the United States. The most suitable environment is one of high humidity and moderately hot summer temperatures.

Cockroaches may transfer filth-borne disease by coming in contact with food. Wherever they go, they spit an ink-like fluid and their excretions are of great frequency, both excretions giving rise to a foul odor. They feed at night and hide during the day in cracks and crevices close to their feeding haunts.

The most effective means of control is of a contact poison and areas being disinfected must be kept scrupulously clean. Commercially prepared insecticide which contains chlordane in solution should prove effective.

Book On 'Old Corps' To Be Republished

The new edition of Col. John W. Thomason, Jr.'s collection of short stories "...and a Few Marines" is scheduled to go on sale August 1.

Republication of the famous anthology was sponsored by the Marine Corps Association working through the original publisher, Charles Scribner's Sons.

"...and a Few Marines" weaves a tale of the professional marine in combat and on liberty in many lands.

Such countries as China, France, Cuba, Nicaragua and Haiti come to life again as Colonel Thomason's colorful characters move through their fights, loves and escapades in the era when most NCOs had at least one hash mark for each chevron.

The new edition may be ordered through the Gazette Bookshop, Box 1844, Quantico, Va. Regular price is $5.95, however, members of the Marine Corps Association may purchase the book for a special discount price of $4.75.

SEVEN BRIDES FOR SEVEN BROTHERS ΔΔΔΔΔ This one has been around for some time but is still good movie entertainment. A musical comedy in color and stars Jane Powell, Howard Keel, Russ Tamblyn and Jack Richards. (107 min.)

RISE A CROOKED TRAIL ΔΔΔ In spite of my assumption that this is the story of a drunken jockey, it's a western and stars Audie Murphy as a gunslinger who turns straight when he discovers that he likes the company of honest people, namely Gia Scala. In color and CinemaScope. (88 min.)

MISSOURI TRAVELER ΔΔΔΔ Stars Brandon DeWilde, Gary Merrill, Mary Hovard and Lee Marvin. It's the story of an orphan who makes a place for himself in a small Missouri town in the early 1900's. In Technicolor. (103 min.)

OPERATION MADBALL ΔΔΔ A comedy starring Jack Lemmon, Emile Meyer, 1988 to meet his partner and Mickey Rooney. The story deals with American soldiers in France during World War II and the party they plan dubbed "Operation Madball." (101 min.)

NAKED EARTH ΔΔΔΔ A young and impoverished Irishman, Richard Todd, travels to the interior of Africa in 1898 to meet his partner and wife, only to arrive and find his partner had died and the so-called wife, Juliette Greco, is in and that she was never really married to his partner. Then the fun begins. (96 min.)

MAN OR GUN No information on this one. Stars MacDonald, Totter, James Craig and min.)

NEVER LOVE A STRANGER This fast-paced screen punches in its treatment in America from the wild west to the modern times. En route, it rather frightening and brutal. Stars John Drew Lita Milan. (83 min.)

RAW WIND IN EDEN A drama starring Estelle Chandler and Charles Thorpe in CinemaScope and color. A wealthy adventurer reclusive on a small island coast and has a romance with whose plane crashes. (83 min.)
