NO. 29

NEW HOME

Camp Lejeune GLOBE week to its new Camp Theater, Bldg. 1106 and 1107, and the numbers remain the same. The GLOBE deadline also is Tuesday, 12 noon.

Fast Duty Changed

Base Department has changed the uniform 15-month rule for FMF units in the 2nd Division.

The 15-month rule, effective 1 and thereafter, will start the date of the departure from the command of the United States on the date of arrival at the station.

The new rule is similar to the 14-month rule now in effect on Okinawa and the Air Force Wing in the Pacific. The difference is in the time it takes to effect individual arrival at the station and the departure from the command.

The new rule will still allow for the man to serve the overseas station. At the same time, the Defense Department approved the Corps' dependent cannot join the husband in the 2nd Division.

On Alaskan duty are continue under the "category" as ex-Pentagon officials. The pay will not be the bill. The main legal aspects yet, the Civil Service for a civilian pay would be made clear that the connected with the tour have to be changed of the statehood act.

Unit Participate in NARMID

A LUCKY SUBSCRIPTION—Receiving the keys to a nine-passenger Plymouth station wagon is Maxine Heidt, Base Comptroller's office employee. Mrs. Heidt received the keys and also $100 from Brigadier General Austin R. Brunelli, Base commanding general, last Thursday afternoon as a gift from Navy Relief which wound up the 1958 fund drive with presentation of 11 gifts to holders of membership cards in the drive.

MCB Leads Fund Drive in Late Push Over Top

Hitting the $80,150.75 mark, the Navy Relief Fund Drive went over the top as the Marine Corps Base made an outstanding last-minute push to take the lead in the drive from the 2nd Division.

Final figures in the drive showed Marine Corps Base with $30,706.76 in membership subscriptions to place the Base as the top unit with 123 per cent of its goal of $25,000.

Second Division, almost keeping pace with the Base, chalked up 117 per cent with $35,088.50 against a goal of $30,000.00. In the final week of the drive, which closed last Thursday, both Force Troops and the Air Facility raised their totals considerably. Force Troops finished with 75 per cent, or $8,282.00 in a goal of $11,000.00 and the Air Facility with 67 per cent of a goal of $8,000.00. Civilian employees finished with 26 per cent, or $2,048.50, of a goal of $8,000.00.

One of the most successful drives to be held in recent years, the 1958 drive closed last Thursday afternoon with the awarding of Navy Relief gifts to local recipients on the Camp parade ground.

Top award, a 1958 four-door Cadillac, went to Private First Class R. O. Thompson of H&S 26, MAG-26, New River Air Facility. Mrs. Maxine Heidt, wife of Master Sergeant Frank Heidt of the 2nd Division, who supervises the civil payroll for the Base Comptroller's office, was awarded the second prize, a nine-passenger Plymouth station wagon, and $100 for holding a subscription award.

The third award, which went to Mrs. Virginia Hill, wife of Technical Sergeant Jack L. Hill, was a 1958 Triumph TR-3 sports roadster, and the fourth, presented to Navy Lt. J. L. Grimes of the Supply Department at the Air Facility, was a 16-foot outboard boat. Technical Sergeant H. L. Fitzpatrick, "A" Co., 2nd AmTrac Bn., received the fifth award, the 1958 Renault Dauphine.

Among the numerous other awards were a portable radio, to be presented to S. M. Modzelenski, 1st ITR; a 17-inch portable television set received by First Lieutenant Earl G. Poronto, Military Police Bn., MCB; a hi-fi phonograph given to Private First Class Dalton G. Phillips of the 2nd Service Bn.; a Polaroid camera for Sergeant L. R. Watson, H&S Co., 2nd Bn.,

Gen. L. F. Chapman Takes FT Command

Ceremonies at Force Troops Wednesday marked Brigadier General Leonard Fielding Chapman Jr.'s assumption of command.

The former Marine Barracks, Washington, D. C., commander relieved Force Troops Chief of Staff Colonel Parker R. Colmer, who served as interim commander during the temporary absence of Brigadier General Sidney S. Wade. Headquarters Marine Corps has announced that General Wade will serve as Assistant 2nd Division Commander.

General Chapman, one of five marine colonels promoted to brigadier general this month, participated in WW II battles at Midway and Coral Sea. As a battalion commander at Peleliu and Okinawa, he won the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star Medal, respectively.

Following graduation from the University of Florida, General Chapman was commissioned a second lieutenant. After completing Basic School at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, the DeLand, Fla., native joined 1st Battalion, Tenth Marines, at Quantico, Va. In 1942, as commanding officer of a marine detachment USS Astoria, he took part in the Salamaua-Lea and Tulagi raids as well as in the Coral Sea and Midway actions, earning the Letter of Commendation with Commendation Ribbon.

Returning to the States in August, 1942, General Chapman again embarked for combat duty in June, 1944, when he joined the 1st Marine Division. As S-3 and commanding officer, 4th Bn., Eleventh Marine Artillery Regiment, he saw combat at Peleliu and at Okinawa.

Following WW II, General Chapman served at Headquarters, FMF, Pacific, as Secretary of the General Staff; executive officer, G-3, Division of Plans and Policies at HQMC and the Marine Corps Development Center, Quantico, Va. During this period he completed the Quantico Senior Course.

In July, 1952, General Chapman joined the 3rd Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif., as commanding officer, 12th Marine Regiment, and accompanied the Division to Japan in 1953. In August, 1954, he was (See GEN. CHAPMAN, Page 3)

Technique Of Instruction Competition Starts Soon

Local MCB competition for the fourth annual Marine Corps Technique of Instruction gets underway on intra-unit level next month with the finals scheduled at HQMC October 20-24.

As in past years, the competition is sponsored by the Marine Corps Institute and Leatherneck magazine.

Intra-unit competition, according to Base Bulletin 3590, will be completed by August 14 with MCB winners moving on to the East Coast Regional elimination competition, starting August 18 at Camp Lejeune.

Eligible for competition are all enlisted members of the regular Marine Corps. Competition this year will be divided into two categories: Staff NCOs, and sergeants and below.

Each competitor will present a rehearsed twenty-minute talk and an extemporaneous five-minute presentation. Competitors in both categories will be subject to the same contest rules although each category will have its own finalists.

First and second place intra-unit level winners will vie in the August 18 Base finals. Successful first and second place winners

MCAF Construction Goes Before House This Week

Final action authorizing $1,003,000 for construction at the New River Air Facility was due before the House of Representatives within the next week, according to a Navy Times report. A tentatively approved bill would allocate this amount as part of an over-all $34 billion dollars in military construction.

SOUTH PACIFIC SERENADE—Under the glow of marquee lights, and with the sound of the music from the Broadway musical, Master Sergeant W. B. Butcher leads the 2nd Marine Division Band as it plays for the opening of the film "South Pacific" at Minneapolis recently.

If you ask me...

HOW DO YOU PLAN TO USE YOUR SUMMER LEAVE?

SERGEANT CARL SCHWALBE, Serv. Co., Serv. Bn., MCB — I'm not sure I'll be getting summer leave, but if I do I'll spend it in Wrentham, Mass., visiting my folks. While I'm there I'd like to get in some swimming and a little tennis, but mostly I'll just relax and take it easy and do some visiting.

FIRST LIEUTENANT WILLIAM F. KENDIG, Serv. Bn., MCB — I've just returned from leave and got married. I went out to Salt Lake City and married a girl I met in Okinawa who was working in the Red Cross there. We're getting settled here at Camp Lejeune now, and without any doubt, I'd say it was the finest 30-day leave I've ever taken.

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS DAVID L. SHELTON, H&S Co., H&S Bn., 2nd Force Service Regt. — I'll head out for the beaches. I'm leaving the service soon, so part of my summer will be spent at home and job-hunting. First I'll go home and look for a job; then I hope to come back this way and visit Myrtle Beach. I'll also attend a Youth Meeting in Nashville, Tenn., late this month. It's a religious meeting and I'm looking forward to helping at the conference.

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS LEO RICK, Ord. Maint. Co., Material Supply & Maintenance Bn. — I'll go home to Buffalo, N. Y., and do nothing. As far as I'm concerned, leaves are for loafing and that's exactly what I'm going to do... just try to enjoy my summer vacation. I'll just hop in my car once in a while and drive around doing nothing in particular.

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS JOSEPH SMITH, Hq. Co., MP & Gd. Bn. — The first thing I'll do is go home to New Orleans. Then I'll go swimming and play some tennis, which I love. I'm getting 21 days in August, so besides relaxing and visiting my family, I'll probably do a little sight-seeing on the way down and back. Of course, I'm also going to see my girl while I'm home, so I'll be pretty busy all the time.

INCHON LANDING—Marines with scaling ladders storm ashore at Inchon Harbor, Korea. One of the fastest operations on record, it had to be perfectly timed because of the rise and fall in the tide. Marine close air support and naval gunfire kept the Communists buttoned up until the marines established a beachhead.

Corps History Repeated In 1950 Korean Conflict

Though hardly aware of it, United States marines rushed to Korea in August, 1950, were reliving one of the Corps' most memorable feats.

Seventy-one years previously in 1879, headlines across the nation told of marines fighting along the Han River in Korea. The 1879 papers carried stories concerning the surrender of Han River forts near Seoul to American Naval landing forces following "vigorous attacks led by Marines."

Landing parties from Rear Admiral John Rodgers Asiatic Fleet, according to the New York papers, stormed ashore and captured three forts fiercely defended by several thousand Koreans.

The June, 1950, situation almost repeated the marine's initial entry into Korea. Similar to 1879, their numbers in 1950 were small and at first oncoming hordes from the north all but overran their positions.

By June of that year, the Marine Corps was at its lowest strength. From a peak August, 1945, strength of 485,113, the Corps had dwindled to 74,000. Despite their small numbers, men of the First Provisional Brigade were rushed into Korea in August, 1950. An Air Group was included in the Brigade.

While the Brigade was helping stem the tide on three sections in the Pusan perimeter, stateside marine reservists were preparing for the long voyage to the Far East. After "hurry up" training at Camp Pendleton, the citizen-marines joined the Brigade, which shortly expanded into the 1st Marine Division.

The Division later made the now-famous amphibious landing at Inchon on September 15, 1950, and spearheaded the offensive which resulted in the capture of Seoul.

Marines arriving at Inchon wasted no time in their preparations for war. Aircraft stored on ships, were brought ashore and assembled in the streets. Marine pilots then flew off to join ground forces in finding enemy targets.

Vertical envelopment made its debut when a marine helicopter squadron, using the new transport helicopter, arrived on the Korean battlefield. For the first time in Marine Corps operations, helicopters transported entire companies and battalions to the front lines.

Thanksgiving found the marines enjoying their air-lifted turkeys only a stone's throw from the Yalu River.

From the time the 1st Marine Division's Seventh and Fifth Regiments first arrived at the southernmost shores of a huge artificial lake until December, one of the Corps' bitterest and proudest chapters was written.

Since they encountered only minor enemy opposition, the Seventh and Fifth Marines had no indication of what was to follow in the next few days. Civilians had previously reported large concentrations of Red Chinese forces east and west and north of the Chosin reservoir.

On November 27, blue-clad Chinese "volunteers" poured across the Yalu in a giant enveloping movement. Thus began the epic of the Frozen Chosin, which in the next few days gained a niche in Corps' history.

When one of the enemy fell, four more rose to take his place. Marine marksmanship in one section alone accounted for over 800 Chinese Communists. After 15 days, the Chinese broke off contact with the outnumbered marines.

Icy gales and wintry winds plagued the men of the 1st Division in their long withdrawal, but, despite battling both elements and enemy, they brought back their wounded and most of their dead.

Peace talks were started between representatives of North and South Korea, and finally on July 27, the long-awaited decision was reached as representatives of the two sides agreed on a truce.

The Corps' second chapter on Korea was concluded.

Division Celebrates Arrival At Lejeune

Fresh from occupation duty in Japan, elements of the 1st Marine Division came through the main gate of Camp Lejeune for the first time on July 13, 1946. They've been at the camp ever since, and this week are marking the 12th anniversary of their arrival.

WO Horton Ends Career

The marine who designed the machine gun mount carried by trucks and jeeps today, and who was instrumental in selecting the prototype of the present pack, retires from the Marine Corps August 1 after 25 years of active service.

A marine gunner and commissioned warrant officer for the past 15 years, Gunner Horton was a first sergeant of the Marine Corps Equipment Board at Quantico when he designed the machine gun mount adopted by the Corps in 1941. For his design he received a Letter of Appreciation from Lieutenant General Thomas Holcomb, then Commandant of the Marine Corps.

In other instances while serving on the equipment board, Gunner Horton recalls selecting a new pack for marines and working on specifications and modifications of the then new armored amphibious tractor.

The veteran marine saw action in the Pacific during World War II and served with the 1st Armored Amphibian Tractor Battalion in Korea in 1951.

In the 12 years his division colors have flown from any spot other than 2, it's headquarters. During this time the combat-ready unit has and wide with other Marine Corps groups the world.

The men of the 2nd Marine Division, conquerors of Tarawa and Tinian, arrived at Camp Lejeune, N.C., July 12, 1946, and began the 225-mile trip to the 2nd Marine Division's headquarters by the 8th Marines.

There were only 55 men in the two regiments. With less than two years' sea duty by December, they were sent to China. The regiment was released remaining in the 2nd Division's move, expanded to 13,000 men.

The Tenth Marines' Eighth and Second regiments showed up on the later group arriving. Rounding out the early part of the Division, the Tank Battalion, which arrived August 8.

The Marines found Lejeune very similar to today. The golf course operation was as a mess hall and Wallace C. House. Although a bug program was in progress, 1946 most of the buildings already completed in the area.

The GLOBE of July mentions that "at present division is appropriately the Number Two area." 2nd Marine Division's five regimental areas Point.

AGGRESSIVE SERVICE—One of the highest awards for outstanding library publicity in the John Cotton Dana Publicity Awards Contest of the 77th annual conference of the American Library Association was received by the Central Library for its cooperation with outstanding forces in the community, for its film society, book exhibits and community programs. 325-Man Detail Preps For Camp Perry Matches

A 325-man detail of 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines, warmed up for special duty next month as the Camp Lejeune Rifle and Pistol club concluded its annual highpower rifle tournament Saturday and Sunday at the rifle range.

The regional rifle meet, in which the majority of entrants were soldiers or civilians, gave the 3rd Battalion detail a chance to score and officiate an NRA (National Rifle Association) championship tourney.

The same detail will go to Camp Perry, Ohio, in August for identical duty at the national rifle and pistol matches.

Among the 317 competitors were 170 from Army units—most of them attached to Ft. Benning, Ga., where they are training for the Perry championships.

Some 50 civilians were attracted to the firing line from as far as Illinois, Florida, Tennessee and Virginia. There were 70 Marine entrants, most of them novice NRA competitors, on-the-line for the experience.

In charge of the Perry-bound range detail is Captain C. A. Folsom, 3rd Battalion S-3 officer. An old hand at competitive shooting, and a distinguished rifle shot, the captain acted as chief range officer for the tourney. The matches were NRA sanctioned and scored. The national matches, sponsored jointly by Congress and the NRA, are also fired under NRA rules. NRA rules are more complicated and involved than those used by the Marine Corps. In addition to a different course of fire, the NRA uses a classification and scoring system which separates, by match, the masters from the beginners, with experts, sharpshooters and marksmen in between.

In strictly Marine competition, all firing is "open class." This pits master shooters against beginners but, at the same time, gives the beginner an ultimate in satisfaction when he scores (and medals) with the top 10 percent.

Top individual honors in the Lejeune-sponsored meet—accompanied by an NRA regional trophy and a $100 set of sterling silver goblets—went to Army Sp3 W. B. Jordan, who fired 489 (44V's)x3500. The Army also captured overall first in the team matches with a 975x1,000. Both Jordan and the team are training at Ft. Benning for the Camp Perry nationals.

One woman, a 51-year-old mother of five from Newport News, Va., competed with the men. Sunday, she paced her Newport News team to first place in the civilian category of the team matches.

Top Library Publicity Wins Association Award For Base

Aggressive service and increased use of the Central Library has won one of the highest awards of the American Library Association for the local library.

During the John Cotton Dana Publicity Awards Contest in the 77th annual conference of the American Library Association, now in progress in San Francisco, the Central Library was honored for outstanding library publicity resulting in increased use of the library services.

The contest is sponsored jointly by the Wilson Library Bulletin of New York and the American Library Association Public Relations Committee.

Twenty libraries in the nation and overseas were honored during the conference. Framed citations for 13 awards, two special awards and five honorable mentions were presented July 14 at the conference, with the Central Library receiving one of the top 13 awards, accepted by Mrs. Margaret E. Jordan, Fifth Naval District Librarian, for Camp Lejeune.

Judging was based on scrapbooks submitted by 91 libraries showing a cross-section of the year's library publicity. Entries were received from 28 states and 36 overseas libraries, including libraries in England, France, Germany, Austria and Japan. Criteria for selecting winners was based on John Cotton Dana's pioneer policies of aggressive library service.

From the beginning of his library career in 1889, Dana introduced new innovations in the li-

Locals Take Honors In Water Ski Event

Four members of a Camp Lejeune water skiing team took second place honors in the mixed doubles event of the Carolina State Skiing Tournament held last weekend at Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

Composing the team were: Sergeant Roger E. Montague, Private First Class Don Wallace, and two civilians, Cheyenne Shelton and Mary Van Walbach.

Both marines work at the Wallace Creek Boat House.

Besides the mixed doubles event, the locals participated in the jumping, slaloms and trick skiing events and were competing against approximately 100 other contestants throughout North Carolina.

Winning the mixed doubles event allows the Base team to enter the Charlotte, N. C., Skiing Club and Eastern Coastal meet at Beaufort, S. C., this weekend.

Safety-Conscious 4th Transport Platoon Names Unit's Driver Of The Year—1958

In the 4th Transport Platoon, recently cited in the GLOBE for its safety record, the driver among drivers is Private First Class James E. Eggleston, 18, of North Adams, Mass.

Private First Class Eggleston is the platoon's "Driver of the Year—1958" and possessor of a gold, engraved trophy attesting the fact. He won the trophy in a platoon "roadster" meet and received it from Major Donald Cooley, executive officer of Service Bn., MCB, the unit's parent organization.

According to its commanding officer, Warrant Officer Kenneth C. Boston, the 4th Platoon averages some 8,000 miles a day in support of the 1st Infantry Training Regiment. Its approximately 60 drivers recently chalked up 323,000 accident-free miles, mostly in tractor-trailer buses.

In the platoon's roadster, Private First Class Eggleston scored tops in written and driving tests. With other competitors, he was required to park, back and turn backwards with a trailer-jerp. He was also judged on skill in maneuvering through a zigzag obstacle course.

library profession which later were copied by libraries in all parts of the world. He is credited with doing more than any man to set up the ideal library and create libraries of service rather than libraries as mere collections of books. It is in his honor that the annual publicity awards are made.

Lejeune's winning scrapbook was prepared by Mrs. Joyce Dunn, assistant librarian, with the cooperation of the staff of the Central library and was received for the library's cooperation "with outstanding forces in the community, its film society, book exhibits and community programs."

Five experienced librarians staff the Central Library. Miss Louise Rowe, head librarian, holds an A. B. from Atlantic Christian college, Wilson, N. C., and a B. S. degree from the University of North Carolina. Mrs. Thelma Turnage, cataloger and children's librarian, received her degree from East Carolina college. Mrs. Dunn holds an A. B. degree from the University of Minnesota and is a graduate student of Shakespeare at the University of Birmingham, England.

Mrs. Jean Moyle, assistant librarian, attended Florida State university and will return to the university soon to get her degree. Aaron Farnell, educated at Wake Forest college and the University of North Carolina, was on the staff of Richmond, Va., and Baltimore, Md., public libraries and serves as assistant librarian in charge of branch libraries.

Naval Men Invited To Church Meeting

Naval officers, enlisted personnel and their dependents are invited to the Spiritual Life Conference to be conducted by the Office, Chief of Air Force Chaplains.

The conference will be held at Ridgecrest, N. C., starting August 29 and lasting through September 2.

Chaplain's Corner

When Perry Como sings he is "out of this world," or his listeners are, or his song is. This expression is used whenever anyone or anything extraordinary appears. Just what do we mean by this statement? Physically out and so we swoon? Emotionally out and so we become ecstatic? Nervously out and so we scream and sigh?

If only all this energy and undivided interest were transferred to the Person Who is really "out of this world," then we would be doing something really worthwhile. If only our churches were filled to an overflowing with individuals paying tribute to the God Who is out of this world but still a part of it. If men would only be truly conscious of the all-embracing presence of the God of love, Who sees all, Who knows all, Who cares for all as an interested Father, what a happy old world this would be.

Time was when man with some show of justice could cry out, "What do you know of our woes, You in Your well-lighted skies?" But that was before His Son became one of us and shared with all humanity, the hopes and disappointments, the joys and sorrows which beset the human race. He was and is one of us. His kingdom is not of this world—it is "out of this world." It is our ultimate destiny: What are you doing about it? Let's start working on this important project now!

★ WASHINGTON REPORT

Headquarters Marine Corps is eyeing the French SS-10 anti-tank guided missile for possible use as a light and maneuverable defensive punch to be added to the Corps' arsenal.

Navy Times said the SS-10, in service with the French Army and Air Force, has been successfully fired from helicopters and aircraft. Since there is no helicopter-mounted ordnance operational within the Marine Corps, the French missile might be what the Corps is looking for.

While the Corps is also interested in the Army's Dart anti-tank missile, there is a growing feeling at Headquarters that the French missile might be more readily adaptable for the "close-in fighting" skirmishes employed by Marine infantry units.

While the Dart has a range of about three miles, the SS-10, manufactured by the Nord Aviation Co. of Paris, has a one-mile range.

What really attracts Headquarters is the difference in weight. The launching weight of the French missile is 33 pounds compared to the 300 pounds of the Dart.

The SS-10, designed for tank mounting, has straight wings and is controlled by ailerons. It has a solid fuel rocket motor, is guided through wire which feeds out from the body of the missile and a joy stick which is controlled by the operator following the missile through a telescopic sight.

The French claim the SS-10 gives them 80 per cent accuracy in hitting enemy targets.

Marine missile experts have been ordered to France where they are undergoing seven weeks of indoctrination in the SS-10 missile system.

The Army itself is very interested in the French missile's anti-tank destroying capabilities. A number of SS-10 missiles have already been ordered from the French government and have been tested by the 7th Army in Europe and at Fort Knox, Ky., and Fort Benning, Ga.

The Army is also testing and evaluating another French anti-tank missile, the SS-11, also built by Nord. Similar to the SS-10, the SS-11 is a two-stage missile with a range of 2.5 miles. The SS-11 also has been fired from helicopters.

Mrs. Jean Stranger Elected President Of Newly Formed Club

A new Staff Wives Club has been formed for wives of staff non-commissioned officers who work in the Courthouse Bay area. Formed on July 1, the club officers are: Mrs. Jean Stranger, president; Mrs. Ellen Anderson, vice-president; Mrs. Eleanor Roache, secretary; Mrs. Evelyn Cole, treasurer; Mrs. Dorothy Hagle, entertainment chairman, and Mrs. Evelyn Haber-ski, publicity.

The second meeting of the club was held July 14.

Ladies' Auxiliary To Host FRA Members And Guests To Social At Hadnot Club

The Ladies Auxiliary, FRA Unit 208, is sponsoring a social picnic for all Fleet Reserve members, their families and guests, Sunday, July 20, at the Montford Staff NCO club at 2 p.m.

Everyone is asked to bring their own picnic lunch.

There will be a horseshoe tournament and dart contest, ladies against the men, with prizes offered.

A variety of games is also planned for children of all ages. There will be prizes for the winners and consolation prizes for all contestants.

UNDER WATCHFUL EYES—Mrs. Francis Coit registers month-old son, Frankie, with Mrs. F. W. St. Clair, supervisor of Paradise Point Sitter Service where she leaves him while there he can play or sleep under the watchful eyes of sonnl who follow any special instructions left by mother.

Paradise Point Baby-Sitter Set Goal To Please Parents

Aiming at double-action service, the Paradise Point Sitter Service gives just that, providing a home away from home for youngsters while parents enjoy unburdened shopping and secure in the knowledge that their children have the finest of care.

Operated for children from six months to 10 years of age, the Sitter Service goes far beyond that of a mere sitting service, providing training and educational programs for small children and special instructions in group play.

In guiding the activities of an average of 50 children a day at the service, located in Building 2624, the Sitter Service abides by a strict code of conduct in health and safety measures, guaranteeing a high standard of supervision beyond that normally found in any civilian sitting service.

Endeavoring to fulfill the needs of all parents using the service, the Sitter Service has gradually increased its facilities and hours. Last week the hours of operation were extended to include Sundays and now the service is operated from noon to 11:30 p.m. on Sunday. In addition to the usual books, games and activities for all ages, the center now boasts a brand new gym for outdoor play and is being put on gammon to attract the old group.

Open daily Monday through Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Fridays from 9 a.m. to midnight, and Saturday from 12:30 p.m. to 1 a.m., may be made by phone and must be made. The Sitter Service has the option of closing if no reservations are made.

On Mondays there is a day rate of $2.50 for 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Children be registered before 9 a.m. Regular rates are 15 cents per hour for the first hour, 10 cents for additional hours. A penalty charge is assessed for late arrival at the rate of one hour beyond established hours.

'Pappy' Pitches 3-0 Victory; Keller Hits

Bill "Pappy" Herrington avenged teammate Gerry Smith's earlier afternoon loss to Quantico, coming back in the night end of a doubleheader to hurl a two-hitter, giving the Camp Lejeune Marines the East Coast Championship for the first time since 1951.

"Pappy," in racking up his ninth win of the campaign, needed just one mighty swat off the bat of Jack "King Kong" Keller in the fourth frame to earn the victory for the locals. From there, "Pappy" retired the last 17 batters in a row, facing in all 27 opponents in a game that took just 1:28 to play.

Keller lost the ball over the Virginia wall after Hal Norton had walked. Lejeune's last tally came across in the ninth when Lenny "The Bat" Crone walked and advanced to second on catcher Ron Botchan's error. Paul Lacity's sacrifice grounder scored the Marine rightfielder.

The winning chucker struck out four while exhibiting perfect control. Bob Wolfenden was charged with the defeat, fanning five and walking three. The only other Lejeune hit came off the bat of Mick Taylor.

Smith hurled a brilliant game in the first tilt allowing the only Quantico run on an eighth-inning home run ball issued up to Botchan. The Virginia catcher, with two strikes against him, slammed a high inside pitch over the short left-field wall.

The Lejeune chucker had already won five games in conference play without a setback. In the losing cause, he issued one base on balls, while whiffing four. Bob Rumer was credited with the win.

The locals now stand 83 in the Marine conference with one contest left against Quantico. The three-game series last week was postponed twice because of rain. Lejeune had planned to get the last tilt in Saturday night after playing Bolling AFB in the afternoon. However, the weather once again cancelled out both games.

Football Screening Session Capped By Scrimmage Saturday At 9 a.m.

The 1958 football edition at Camp Lejeune unofficially opened Monday afternoon as some 70 candidates began practice in the hot July sun. The current program calls for two weeks of screening. The four Lejeune coaches will pick a tentative team upon completion of the session with official practice scheduled for August 4.

This week's activities will be capped by a scrimmage Saturday morning beginning 9 a.m. at which time spectators are invited to see the football aspirants in action.

The coaches held an informal meeting Saturday morning and Monday afternoon discussing the procedures that will be carried out over the two-week period.

The ball players will be screened thoroughly with concentration on ball handling, tackling, blocking and the insertion of basic plays to study the candidates' reactions.

Wednesday afternoon the team began hitting. The coaches only have a limited time in which to see their players under fire. Basically, the screening session is designed to see if the candidates have the qualifications for varsity level football and to view how they coordinate together.

The marine coaches will be out to improve on their 4-1 record of last season. This year, the locals will open against Little Creek on September 20 at Liversedge field. Prior to the initial contest, Lejeune will game-scrimmage two college elevens.

THE PUSH IS ON—As indicated by these linemen, Camp Lejeune football begins to move into high gear with the inauguration of a two-week screening period that began Monday when 70 aspirants reported for practice. Saturday, the four Marine coaches will see their charges under fire as they send them through a scrimmage commencing 9 a.m. Practice will officially begin August 4. The locals will open September 20 against Little Creek in a home encounter at Liversedge field.

FISH & WILDLIFE

BY THE "OLD ANGLER"

Phone 7-5522

July and August are months of sultry days, sticky nights, sudden storms and sweat that bathes the body at the least exertion. The months when fish and fishermen both turn lazy, and all kinds of reasons are advanced by fishermen to explain why the fish won't strike.

The real truth is seldom mentioned among the welter of alibis and old angler's tales which men use to rationalize their staying at home in July and August—but it's simply that the fishermen are lazier than the fish.

When the water gets warm as it does during these months, fish seek the coolest spots in the water and seldom feel like eating during the mid-day. So, the best time for going after Mr. Fish is a couple of hours before sunup and another two hours in the late afternoon just before it gets too dark to see.

I don't like to fish at night, because I like to see what's going on, so you might let me know how you make out at night—just for the record. Some mighty nice ones have been caught at night.

And this brings me to why you should get off your rocking chair and go deep sea fishing. Here you are at Camp Lejeune where some of the best salt water fishing in all the world exists. Reports coming from Morehead City indicate that the big sailfish are taking the bait in large numbers.

A new season record has been recorded with a six-foot 11-inch sail landed this past weekend. Off-shore, the leading fish are still amberjack and dolphin, with a fair number of albacore and an improvement in kings.

From the ocean piers, blues have been good early in the morning, and the best bottom fish catches have been made at night. Big croakers are the mainstay of sound and river fishing, with blues, flounder and sheepshead being caught in large numbers.

All along the entire coast of North Carolina the fishing is good to excellent, and all of us should get out and try our luck.

The president of the Rod and Gun club told me the other day that he is well pleased with the response to pleas for club participation. The membership in the club is larger than it has been for a good while in the past, and with the interest and enthusiasm shown by everyone attending, he feels sure that the club will continue to expand.

Now is the time to join the Rod and Gun club to take advantage of organized efforts in fishing and hunting. A very active program is being prepared for the future and YOU should take your place in the club to enjoy the fun.

'Iron-Man' Fletcher Pitches Hq. Bn. To Softball Crown

Bob Fletcher, Hq. Bn., hurled one-hit ball while blanking Serv. Bn., 2-0, in the finals of the Division Softball Tournament Friday at the Tenth Marines' field.

Fletcher was the workhorse for the Hq. Bn. team, pitching every inning in the five-day double-elimination tourney, 36 in total, and compiling a 4-1 record to cop the title.

Going into the final day of play, Hq. Bn. had a 3-0 record

Pete Olsen Upsets Inter-Service Titleist

The Division tennis players got off to a fine start in the opening round of the FMFLant Tournament Monday at the Sixth Marines' courts.

Highlight of the tourney thus far was Pete Olsen's upset victory over Inter-Service champion Al Miles, MAG-21, Miami, in the Senior Division, 2-6, 6-4, and 6-2.

In the Open Division, Division's Al Philpott downed Woodward, FT, 6-1, 6-2, and Tom Jones, Division, bested FT's Brown, 6-4, 2-6, and 6-1. In the afternoon, Woodward, FT, beat Maney, Hq. Bn., FMFLant, 6-2, 7-5; Connolly, Cherry Point, defeated Olsen, MAG-26, 6-2, 6-2; Bowes, Cherry Point, downed Conti, MAG-26, 6-2, 6-1; Short, Cherry Point, won over Roenning, MAG-26, 6-0, 6-2; and Noel, Miami, bested McCombs, MAG-26, 11-9, 6-0.

while Serv. Bn. posted a 4-1 mark. Service Bn., fighting with their backs against the wall, edged Fletcher and Hq. Bn., 5-4, in eight innings, on E. Simpson's home run, his second of the game. This win put Serv. Bn. back on an even footing, both teams having one loss apiece.

Fletcher, playing the iron man role, came back even stronger that very same afternoon to halt Serv. Bn. in their quest for the title with his one-hit, 2-0, superb performance. Andy Anderson, Fletcher's mound opponent, collected the only hit, a single in the second inning.

Headquarters Bn. jumped into a 1-0 lead in the first inning on singles by Dick McKuck, George O'Brien and Tom Haase. Fletcher was given an insurance run in the sixth frame when Ron Hutchen's bloop double to shallow center sent Angelo Verrico across the plate with the second tally.

Both Hq. Bn. and Serv. Bn. will now go on to represent Division in the Quad-Command Tournament which starts Monday.

Golf Slices

By JIM BUTLER

Congratulations to the Division linksters who finished first in the FMFLant tourney and to Ed Ross who finished with individual medal honors.

More golf is on tap in the local area when the intramural season is climaxed, commencing July 21 with the Quad-Command Tournament.

Eight teams will participate in the annual event. Last year, the tourney was won by a never-say-die MAG-26.

Divvy Linksters Capture FMFLant For 3rd Straight Year; Ross Low Medalist

By PFC RICHARD BOLAND
Division Information Sports Writer

For the third consecutive year, the Division golf team has captured the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, tournament. Friday, at the 72 par, 6-500-yard Cherry Point course, the Division came in with the low score of 1299 in the 72-hole, four-day tourney, to retire the coveted three-year rotating team trophy.

Second Marine Air Wing, Cherry Point, host to the tournament, placed second, nine strokes behind the champions, with a total score of 1308.

It was a nip and tuck affair between these two teams throughout the four days of play. However, the 2nd Divvy golfers never trailed in the tourney. After the first day's action, Division led by three strokes, 326-329. The three-point edge remained after the second round, 657-660, but the turning point came on the third day when the Division opened up their lead to 14 strokes, 969-983.

This surge by the Division was due mainly to the spectacular and consistent firing of Ed Ross, who just two weeks ago won the low medalist honors in the Division tourney held at Paradise Point. This time, after a first round score of 80, Ross finished up with three successive 74's for a 302 total to cop low medalist honors in this tourney also.

Force Troops placed third in the team standings with a 1329. Fourth spot went to H&S Bn., FMFLant, 1343, while MAG-26 took fifth place with a 1358.

Ross, along with teammate Bruce Bartnett, who took third-place in individual honors, and Force Troops' J. W. Sisler, who was in the fifth slot, are three members from the Camp Lejeune area on the five-man FMFLant team which is participating in the Atlantic Fleet Tourney this week at Cherry Point.

Gindry Hurls Supplymen to Softball Title

Sporting a 2-0 record in the MCB Softball Tournament, MCSS won their final game behind "Frenchy" Gindry's two-hitter for the Base title. Gindry, in striking out 10 opponents, hurled a 2-0 shut-out victory over Hq. Bn., the latter settling for the runner-up position with a 3-2 ledger.

Headquarters' Mike Costa banged out the only two bingles off the winning pitcher, Bob Carter was the losing twirler allowing three hits while his team was committing three miscues.

MCSS scored their runs in the second and third frames. Joe McCormick walked and advanced to second on an error. Jim Hull singled him home with the first run of the game. Two walks and a wild pitch accounted for the other marker.

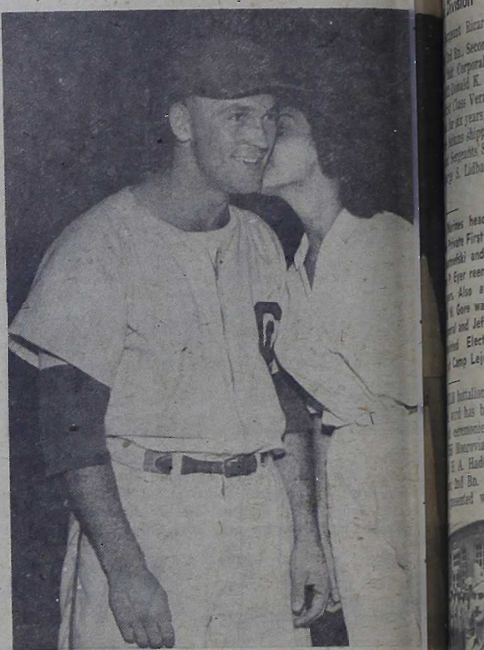

The Supplymen reached the finals by stopping Serv. Bn., 8-2, and Headquarters 6-5.

Rounding out the standings were Serv. Bn., third; ITR, fourth, followed by MP and Gd. Bn., and MCES.

The Servicemen's "Canvas Back" Jude was the unofficial standout performer in the double elimination tournament. The boxer-turned-chucker won three games for his team while dropping only one.

Mid-Summer Sailing Set For Wallace Creek Sat.

Sailboat racing will resume Saturday afternoon at the Wallace Creek boathouse when the Mid-Summer series is inaugurated.

Fort Bragg Overpower In Varsity's Twin V

Matching power for power, the Marines of dropped a stubborn visiting Ft. Bragg nine earlier by scores of 12-9 and 11-3 to raise their win games.

The initial tilt Monday night before 1,132 fans proved to be a battle royal as four homers, three triples and a double were propelled over or against the fences of Harry Agganis field. Paul Lacity and Charley Armstrong both slammed out four-baggers with Hal Horan accounting for two triples and four RBIs. Hal Norton rapped out a three-bagger and two bingles in four plate appearances.

Jim Donnelly started the game but needed assistance from Vern Kruger after seven and a third innings of work. Lejeune totals read 12 runs on 13 hits while committing one error. The Army squad tallied their markers on an 11-hit attack with three miscues.

Tuesday evening, Ft. Bragg proved once more a formidable foe as they out-hit the locals 12-11. However, the Airbomemen erred six times in the losing cause.

John Hellmer was credited with the win but needed help from Bill "Pappy" Herrington in the sixth. Pacing the Lejeune offense were Norton with another three for four night including a double and Jack Keller who bingled three times, good for three RBIs. Both Mick Taylor and Hellmer banged out two baggers.

The visitors' Bill Brown homered and doubled to account for all of the Army's runs.

The Sixth Marines report that three corporals, 10 privates first class and 13 privates joined the regiment this past week. Captain Pat F. Cumiskey and Technical Sergeant Harold L. Williams became regimental horseshoe champs last Friday afternoon by topping their opponents, 21-5, 21-0, 21-17. From Hq. Co., Sixth

Marines, Master Sergeant Lawrence C. Fries completed an MCI course in Administrative Procedure.

Major Albert L. Williams, operations officer for the Eighth Marines for 20 months, last week was reassigned as Division Informational Services Officer, succeeding Major J. Dunlap, who has held the position for the past year. In a three-way reassignment on July 10,
Major Dunlap succeeded Major J.
M. Lowder Jr., as executive officer, 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines, who in turn was reassigned to fill the position vacated by Major Williams. The Division Informational offices are located on the second deck above the gymnasium in Bldg. 401. Telephones remain the same.

Div. Woodworking Classes Revamped

Second Division Special Services announced a new policy this week for the woodworking classes they hold weekly. Rather than a series of classes, instructions will be given every Monday evening, except the last Monday of the month, for adults from 7:30 p.m. until 10 p.m.
There is no enrollment for the classes. Advice on woodworking techniques and finishing surfaces is supplied by the trained personnel on duty at all times.

The classes are held in Bldg.
331. Hours of operation are from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.
until 10 p.m.

Instructions for juniors are conducted every Saturday morning from 8 a.m. until 11 a.m. The first class, one of six, will be held July 19, in Bldg. 331.

work. In charge of the educational program is Mrs. George Gale, who holds a B.S. in education from Rochester university in New York and who is a former camp counselor and school teacher.

EXPEDITIOUS AND EFFICIENT—For his research into legal problems on off-duty hours and his general knowledge of military law in contributing to the orderly and efficient administration of military justice at Lejeune, First Lieutenant Richard G. Moore is awarded meritorious mast by Brigadier General Austin R. Brunelli, Base commanding general. Lieutenant Moore served as both defense and trial counsel for general courts-martial and was lauded for his expeditious and efficient handling of cases.

DRIVE-IN (DI) — Begins one-half hour after sundown.
COURTHOUSE BAY (CB) — 6 p.m. and 8 p.m., indoors daily except Saturdays, Sundays and holidays when show starts at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m.
NAVAL HOSPITAL (NH) — 1:15 p.m. (Patients only) and 7 p.m. daily.

LIFE BEGINS AT 17 — Stars Mark Damon, Dorothy Johnson and Edward Byrne in a drama. (90 min.)

GUNMAN'S WALK 00000
 The action is centered on a father and two sons, one an arrogant power-hungry gun-carrier with an itchy trigger finger and the other a diffident youngster who has been kept in the background by his over-aggressive brother. A newer type of western where the principals are more important than chasing and snatching cattle. (97 min.)

LES GIRLS 00000
 Kay Kendall is on trial in a London court charged with libelling Tina Elie in a book of reminiscences she has published. Her testimony takes the picture back to the period when three girls roomed together and despite the events of the period, Gene Kelly is the key figure in the three romances which make up the body of the story. (105 min.)

SPACE CHILDREN 00
 A thing from outer space hypnotizes by light the children of some workers at a satellite launching site and compels them to sabotage the project. When the rocket proves a dud, the children tell the investigating adults they did it to save the world. (90 min.)

THE BROTHERS KARAMAZOV 00000
 The hatred of the four Karamazov sons for their degenerate and hypocritical father, the purrizing love of Dmitri for Grushenka, the murder of the father and its manifold consequences have been blended into some first rate cinema melodrama. Val Brynner is excellent as the elder son, reckless and irresponsible. Maria Schell is the seductive Grushenka. (144 min.)

BULLWHIP 000
 Meet of the action in this western finds its motivation in Rhonda Flem-

RIFLE RANGE (RR) — 6 p.m. and 8 p.m., Sunday through Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 7 p.m.
MONTFORD POINT (MP) — Indoors at 7:30 p.m. daily
CAMP GEIGER (CG) — Indoors at 4:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.
INDUSTRIAL AREA (IA) — Outdoors

ing's desire to wield a bullwhip held on her trading business as well as on Guy Madison, who is on the run from a false murder charge. She tricked him into a marriage in order to claim an estate. There are also Indians and the like. (90 min.)

FORT MASSACRE 00000
 Joel McCrea, a sergeant, is the only one left to command the remnants of a cavalry patrol caught in the wastelands of the west by marauding Apaches. The small group of men seek to make their way back to the protection of the fort, but twice are subject to Indian attack. Remnant of McCrea mounts and reaches a high point when McCrea shoots down an Indian ready to surrender. (78 min.)

SING BOY SING 00000
 This film is sure to click with rock 'n' roll fans. The story is about a youthful singing sensation (Tommy Sands) with the foremost figure in the picture Edmond O'Brien who portrays the young man's ruthless manager. The singer learned singing in support of the revival-type preacher whose deathbed admonition to the boy is to give up his way of life and carry on in the path taught him. (91 min.)

DON'T GO NEAR THE WATER 00000
 Serving the public relations section of a giant Naval Command base in the Pacific are various characters, armed with typewriters and vivid imaginations. Lieutenant Commander Fred Clark, former stock broker, heads the personnel which includes Lieutenant Glenn Ford, the only one with sea duty experience. Good for howls. (107 min.)

THE KEY 00000
 A drama starring William Holden, Sophia Loren and Trevor Howard. Holden, an American fighting with the Canadians, is assigned as captain of one of the
