MCB Marksmen Dominate Eastern Division Match Firing

Paced by three pressure shooters, the Marine Corps Base captured three of four major events in five days of Eastern Division marksmanship firing climaxed Saturday by the award ceremony.

Putting 39 of the 432 entries on the firing line, Base clinched the Elliott cup Saturday morning, set a new record for the Edson Pistol Trophy Friday afternoon and copped first place in the individual pistol match Friday morning.

The MCB missed out only in the individual rifle match, which

Pay Increase 'Assured' By Next Month

A Senate-House conference reported this week on the final version of the military pay bill that will give most Marines a welcome pay boost effective June 1.

Following a quick revote by Congress the legislation will go to the President for his approval and enactment into law.

Base Disbursing Officer Major Linus Pottebaum announced that the Base disbursing office is prepared to meet the new pay raises as soon as they become effective.

Substantially similar to the Senate-revised version, the bill provides proficiency pay for enlisted grades as recommended by the House and responsible pay for officers as decided by the Senate.

Allowances for quarters, subsistence, hazardous duty and special pay remain unchanged and are in addition to the amounts reflected in the new pay table, which appears on page 11.

Monthly checks for the majority of retired personnel are raised by six per cent.

To become law, the pay boost can either be signed by the President or automatically placed on the statute books ten days after it reaches the chief executive unless vetoed.

saw their best marksman, Sergeant Eric England, eased from first place by a record-setting newcomer from Parris Island, Sgt. Edward Eibert.

Eibert, coming from behind in the two-day match, fired a 573x600. England, who scored high in the first day's firing (291x300), ended at 570 and a tie with the old record. First Lieutenant William Pederson of the 2nd Division placed third among the 369 who finished.

The Base was not eligible for a fifth event, the Wirgman trophy. This is a rifle-team cup reserved for small units and was won by the Marine Barracks, Naval Retraining Command, Norfolk.

Some 1000 spectators saw the winners collect their rewards from five general officers Saturday. After the ceremony, 64 shooters who qualified as individual medalists collected TAD orders for California and a firing berth in the June All-Marine matches at San Diego.

Surprisingly, MCB won only six of the trips west to further competition. The 2nd Marine Division, handicapped in the trophy-team matches by a new rule which split its 108 shooters among regiments and battalions, qualified 14 for the California competition. Force Troops, with 43 entries, placed only two.

Sergeant Mucci, of Marine Corps Engineer School, fired a 583x600 (four points off the record) to tie up the pistol match, which had 241 finishers.

Mucci then teamed up with First Lieutenant K. E. Peterson, Master Sergeant Leon Chociej and Staff Sergeant Albert Jones to set a new record (1097x1200) for the Edson. The old record, set in 1956 by MCS, Quantico, was 1075x1200.

Sergeant Chociej, firing sixth in the pistol individuals, paced the Edson team with a 282x300. Chociej won the individual pistol match last year firing for the 2nd Division.

Sergeant England scored high in the Elliott race to set Base's team in first place. Others on the Elliott team were Captain James Kline-dinst, Technical Sergeant Walt Her-rington and Sergeant Ellwood Drass. The team was coached by TSgt. James Freeman.

During the presentations, Major General J. C. Burger, commanding the 2nd Division, awarded the Elliott cup plus gold rifle medals and distinguished medals. Brigadier General Wallace M. (See EASTERN MATCHES, Page 3)

Participation Asked During Saving Bond Week, May 19 - 25

Strengthen America's Peace Power Week will be observed nationwide next week, May 19-25. Camp personnel will have the opportunity during that time to boost the Treasury Department's Saving Bond program.

Lejeune is one of several participating units, organizations and areas throughout the country that have set aside one week during May for the enrollment of Americans in the payroll saving and bond allotment program.

Participation by Lejeunites in previous years has been near the bottom as compared with other Marine Corps activities. To correct this, local commanding and staff officers have been encouraged.

Prize Winning Play Dates Continue Tonight, Friday

Camp Lejeune's Little Theater presented their adaptation of the Pulitzer Prize winning comedy, "You Can't Take It With You" at the Area Three Theater (Bldg. 300) amidst gala opening night festivities yesterday evening.

The Kaufman-Hart play, scheduled for a three night stand, will be presented again tonight and tomorrow at 8:30 p.m.

The play originally opened in 1936 on Broadway and became an immediate smash comedy hit. The local version is produced by Captain Ben V. McLane Jr. The story centers around the lives of the eccentric Sycamore family and their love of the care-free life. A tender love story is woven around the erratic actions of the family.

Among the comical pursuits of the Sycamores and their extended house guests are the manufacturing of fireworks, ballet dancing, playwrighting, and the distribution of Trotsky's maxims through the use of homemade candy and a printing press.

The scene is in act one of "You Can't Take It With You," a Camp Lejeune Little Theater production that opened last night in Bldg. 300.

HOW DO YOU ACCOUNT FOR YOUR COMPANY'S FAST TIME IN THE SIXTH MARINES' HIKING CONTEST?

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS G. C. CRUMSEY, Machine Gunner, Weapons Platoon—We trained hard for the hike and were in top physical condition. While the BTG was going on last week, we hiked to the demonstration area (about 12 miles) and back every day. Our morale was tops.

CORPORAL ENOCH B. WHITE, Squad Leader, First Platoon—The cool weather helped a lot. But "B" Co. would have won in any kind of weather. We think we established a record. Our spirit and morale were great. We knew we would win when we left the barracks. In fact, we knew we would win when we first heard of the contest.

CORPORAL P. CORRIGAN, Section Leader, Weapons Platoon—March discipline was very good. Our men kept the columns closed at all times. Captain Henzel (company commander) was mainly responsible for this; he kept moving back and forth among the hikers. We had the will to win.

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS H. M. CIECHOWSKI, Second Squad, Weapons Platoon—I think the man behind me played an important role. Everytime I got a little tired he prodded me forward. We were in good physical condition for the hike.

CORPORAL D. C. GEIST, Second Platoon—Comradeship. When a buddy got tired someone would help him along and we all worked together. We kept switching the heavier weapons back and forth to ease the burden. Our breaks were spaced just right, too, and we stayed loose all the way.

The Grim Reaper rode hardest during the hour from 6 to 7 p. m. last year, a special traffic study by the State Motor Vehicles Department reveals. Of the state's 932 death dealing accidents, 88 of them occurred during the early evening hour.

Fleet Marine Force Revamping Switches To Force Troops, Introduces Ontos To Div

Marine Corps nuclear age reorganization approached its final stage this week at Camp Lejeune as two Division units were transferred to Force Troops and a new Division tank-killer battalion was formed.

Acting in accordance with present Marine Corps reorganization policies, 2nd Tank Bn. and "M" Btry., 4th Bn., Tenth Marines, equipped with 155 howitzers, staged final review ceremonies before their commanding officers and then moved to their new Force Troops location.

Formation of "C" Co., 2nd Anti-Tank Bn., gives Division 45 ONTOS vehicles and 400 added men.

Some months ago, Division increased a reconnaissance company to battalion size in the first move to conform to the Corps-wide re-vamping. Last week's action is expected to create lighter, faster, more mobile combat amphibious operations, including vertical assault by helicopters, under either nuclear or non-nuclear conditions.

Second Tank Bn., 2nd Division, became 2nd Tank Bn., FMF, during impressive ceremonies at the Goettge Memorial field house. Major General J. C. Burger, Division commander, officially gave the battalion to Force Troops commanding general, Brigadier General S. S. Wade.

The Goettge ceremony ended a 17-year span in which the battalion grew to a formidable defensive and offensive unit in the 2nd Division.

Lieutenant Colonel Leslie J. Parnell, former commander of 8th Tank Bn., Force Troops, assumed command of the unit from its Division leader, Lieutenant Colonel J. L. Jones.

Similar ceremonies on the Tenth Marines Parade Ground marked Mike Battery's redesignation as 155 Howitzer Btry., Force Troops. General Wade was among the reviewing officers.

Under the Marine Corps' new table of organization, all heavy howitzers will become part of Force Troops.

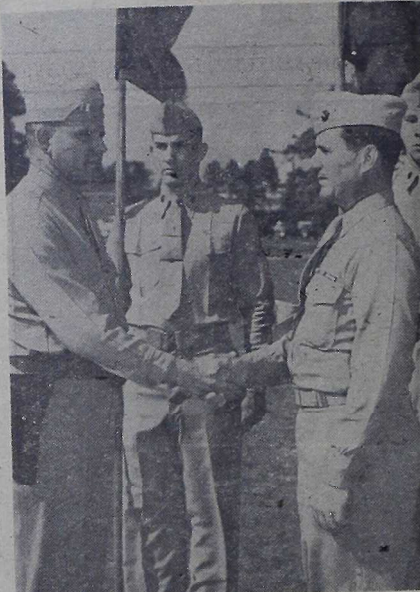

Composed mostly of Anti-Tank Co., Eighth Marines, the most recent addition to the 2nd Division's new anti-tank battalion added its complement of ONTOS and personnel in the wake of last week's merger of anti-tank companies from the Sixth and Second Marines.

The newly formed anti-tank battalion has a dual role to play. Commanded by Lieutenant Colonel R. M. Krippner, the battalion is primarily concerned with the destruction of tanks, and secondarily with providing infantry support.

Tenth Marines Messhalls Gain Coveted Certificates

Two Tenth Marines Messhalls, the 1st and 3rd Bns. received their third consecutive Outstanding Inspection Report by the Division Food Service Inspector last week.

Both messhalls were presented with certificates of achievement, endorsed by Division commander, Major General J. C. Burger.

JOINS FORCE TROOPS—Force Troops commanding general S. S. Wade welcomes Captain A. S. Ruger, 155 Howitzer Btry., 4th Bn., Tenth Marines, to his command. Present Corps reorganization policy, the battery has Force Troops and redesignated as the 155 Howitzer Btry., Force Troops. Guidon bearers are Private First Class David Corporal Charles E. Diehl.

aged to promote this year's drive on all levels.

Savings bond officers will conduct person to person campaigns through individual unit leaders, inform incoming personnel of the program and provide continuous publicity on savings bonds advantages.

To make the bond program attractive, Congress passed a bill in 1957 increasing the percent of yield on all savings bonds purchased on or after February 1, 1957. All bonds affected now reach maturity in eight years and eleven months, instead of the nine years and eight months formerly acquired.

... AND SUDDEN DEATH!

Publicizing the total of motoring injuries—almost a million last year, with 40,000 deaths—never gets to first base in jarring the motorist into a realization of the appalling risks of motoring. He does not translate dry statistics into a reality of blood and agony.

Figures exclude the pain and horror of savage mutilation—which means they leave out the point. They need to be brought closer home. A passing look at a bad smash or the news that a fellow you had lunch with last week is in a hospital with a broken back, will make any driver but a born fool slow down at least temporarily.

If you really felt that, perhaps the stickful of type in Monday's paper recording that a total of 29 local citizens were killed in weekend crashes would rate something more than a perfunctory "tut-tut" as you turn your back to the sports page.

Anything can happen in the split second of a crash, even those lucky escapes you hear about. People have dived through windshields and come out with only superficial scratches. They have run cars together, head on, reducing both to twisted junk, and been found unhurt and arguing bitterly two minutes later. But death was there just the same—he was only exercising his privilege of being erratic.

This spring a wrecking crew pried the door off a car which had been overturned down an embankment and out stepped the driver with only a scratch on his cheek. But his mother was still inside, a splinter of wood from the top driven four inches into her brain as a result of son's taking a greasy curve a little too fast. No blood—no horribly twisted bones—just a grey-haired corpse still clutching her pocketbook in her lap as she had clutched it when she felt the car leave the road.

But all that is routine in every American community. To be remembered by doctors and policemen, you had to be thing as grotesque as the lady who windshield with her head, splashing all over the other occupants of the car, then, as the car rolled over, she rolled down the edge of the windshield, cut her throat from ear to ear.

It's hard to find a surviving accident who can bear to talk. After you the gnawing, searing pain through body is accounted for by learning have both collar bones smashed, blades splintered, your right arm three places and three ribs cracked, chance of bad internal ruptures.

But the pain can't distract you, it begins to wear off, from realizing are probably on your way out. You get that, not even when they shift the ground to the stretcher and your ribs bite into your lungs and the of your collarbone slide over to stay each side of your screaming thro

When you've stopped screaming, back—you're dying—and you hate it. That isn't fiction either. It's what feels like to be one of that 40,000.

Artillery Group Departs For BATREX 1-58

Members of the 2nd Field Artillery Group embarked yesterday at Morehead City bound for Vieques, P. R., where they will undergo six weeks of intensive training during BATREX 1-58.

Commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Fritz Stampfli, the artillerymen boarded four ships; the Vermilion, Ft. Mandin, Oglethorpe and San Marcus for the maneuver. Colonel Stampfli stated that he expects to get his unit into the very best of condition physically, as well as to train in all aspects of firing during the BATREX.

2nd Division Dental Facilities Move Into Field For DENTFEX Operation

Division personnel with dental appointments last week were surprised to find that the dentist's office was not in one of the five area dispensaries, but out in the field.

Responsible for the unusual procedure was DENTFEX 1-58. This dental exercise is to personnel of 2nd Dental Co., 2nd Service Regt., what PHIBEX was for Marines of the Second Division.

Annually the doctors leave the offices with their equipment and continue practicing their profession under field conditions.

During the five day problem, May 5-9, each doctor arranged to treat eight patients per day in the field. Several teeth were extracted, the prosthetics section worked on several bridges and many molars were drilled.

Using completely portable, fully equipped Field Dental Units the doctors were able to perform all of the services available for personnel in the Division dispensaries.

Lieutenant Commander E. Deddes, MC Royal Netherlands Navy, visited the camp site on May 7. He was shown all facilities that personnel of 2nd Dental Co., commanded by Captain A. L. McInturff, USN, had set up for the treatment of patients. Captain J. L. Parker, DC USN, Force Dental Officer, FMFLant, Captain R. V. Chastain, DC USN, CO, 12th Dental Co., and Captain R. J. Chastain, D USN, CO, 4th Dental Co., also visited the camp site. Major General Joseph C. Burger, 2nd Division commanding general, was conducted through the camp by Captain McInturff Wednesday.

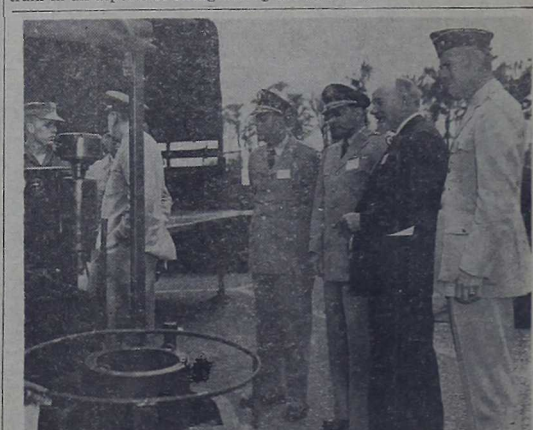

The dentists were able to perform services from the routine filling and extracting of teeth to repairing dentures.

Extractions were handled by the surgical section Navy Lieutenant Roy F. Gherardi; prosthetics was under Navy Lieutenant Leonard J. Cullen; the operative section, drilling and repairing cavities, under Captain James T. Ashwell, USN.

Lejeune Seventh Grader Wins First Place In National Writing Contest

First prize in America's biggest creative writing contest for high school students has been won by Roberta Hinitz, 12, of the 7th grade of Camp Lejeune High School.

The daughter of Master Sergeant and Mrs. I. H. Hinitz, Roberta achieved first ranking in the Junior Poetry Division of the Scholastic Writing contest conducted annually by Scholastic Magazine in New York.

Roberta competed with more than 115,000 young writers from every state and Canada and was judged on writing skill, originality and quality of expression.

Judging the competition were such authors as Eudora Welty, Jessamyn West, Gladys Schmitt, Shirley Jackson, Carl Carmer, Tad Mosel and J. Frank Dobie.

In her second year at Camp Lejeune High school, Roberta has won many other awards, including a recitation contest last year. She took honorable mention as a fifth grader during the Brotherhood of America Contest and has had pieces published in several school magazines.

An "A" and "B" student, Roberta hopes to become an English teacher and to take up dramatics on the side. She has attended schools in five different cities, among them Long Island and the Bronx in New York, and in Puerto Rico.

For her prize in this contest Roberta will receive a cash award of $35 and a fountain pen for her poem entitled "Voice of America."

An excerpt from the winning poem is as follows:

"My deserts breed the sands of hot relentless days—
My fields the quiet grass of magic, mystic hours.
My mountains shout the story of my greatness,
My forests whisper the secrets of my glory."

8th Marines Add To Colors

In a recent maneuver with the Sixth Fleet, the 1st Bn., Eighth Marines, carried the American flag and unit colors ashore in Spain to become the first foreign troops to display their national and battalion colors on Spanish soil since the Napoleonic wars.

A departure from the bloody wars of the Pacific campaigns, the peaceful landing on the Iberian Peninsula was reminiscent of landings which matured the Division's regiment under fire.

Youngest of the 2nd Division regiments, the Eighth Marines nevertheless is rich in tradition and history. Its battle standard bears seven streamers and 12 silver bands.

Though not fated to see combat action in the trenches of France during World War I, the Eighth traces its beginning to the days of the first great world conflict.

In keeping with the policy of insuring advanced operating bases for the U. S. Fleet during the Great War, Marine units were sent to occupy several strategic points which were, or might become, vital as fleet supply bases. To take part in carrying-out this mission, the Eighth Regiment was created on Oct. 9, 1917.

Commanded by Lieutenant Colonel George C. Reid, the Eighth formed and trained at Quantico, then joined the Ninth Marines to make up the 3rd Marine Brigade at Ft. Crockett, Texas.

Trained, fit and ready, the men of the Eighth were doomed to sit out the war in the Texas heat with no chance of action. With the signing of the Armistice and the subsequent demobilization, the regiment was deactivated and its colors retired from active service.

Since mid-1915, marines had been in action in Haiti, striving to maintain order in that island republic. In 1919 violence flared anew. Despite the killing of the chief troublemaker, Charlemagne Perault, by two marines, Hanneken and Button, conditions did not improve.

In January of the following year, the Eighth's colors came to Haiti and active duty was assigned to the Marine Brigade under Colonel Reid, who later Marine Corps Commandant General, and finally got the action it had been waiting for in World War. This year of action was the last of the disbandment and a 20-year rest of the colors.

With the increasing threat of World War to the Americas, the 8th Marines, activated in April, 1940, to the island of the planned 2nd Division. After training at Camp Elliot, Calif., the 8th Marines split to face the challenge of the Sixth sailed for Iceland in a few weeks after the Pearl Harbor attack. The reinforced Eighth was alerted to the Japanese.

The Japanese forces were spotted as they moved into the central and southern islands. On Jan. 6, 1942, the 8th Marines, now sporting the new design of the Brigade, sailed for American Samoa, the slim lifeline stretching 700 miles from the United States to Australia.

With Colonel R. H. Jeschke in command, the brigade set to work to train themselves in the arts and sciences of jungle warfare. The call for action came from the 1st Marine Division was in against the Japanese forces.

On November 4, the Eighth, the Second, which fought from August. During the fight the Eighth was joined by the 1st Marine Division for the first time. The following victory assured, the Division rested and retraining in New Zealand.

Under a new commanding officer, the Eighth, along with the 1st Marine Division, was looking for something new in amphibious warfare.

and then into the next valley. Counterattacks and a highly efficient enemy tank-infantry team hit the Marines. Some 19 days later the island was declared "secured."

Within two weeks the Eighth was in action again, this time on the neighboring island of Tinian. After nine days of combat other units left the island, leaving the Eighth to provide security for the builders of the airfields which soon would be bases for the giant B-29 bombers. In December, the entire regiment rejoined the Division on Saipan for training.

The 2nd Division sailed for Okinawa, the next target in the Pacific campaign. Assigned as Tenth Army reserve, the Division made a feint on the Okinawa coast, drawing defenders away from the planned landing beaches. After a week afloat off the coast, the Division was forced to return to Saipan to escape the Jap Kamikaze attacks.

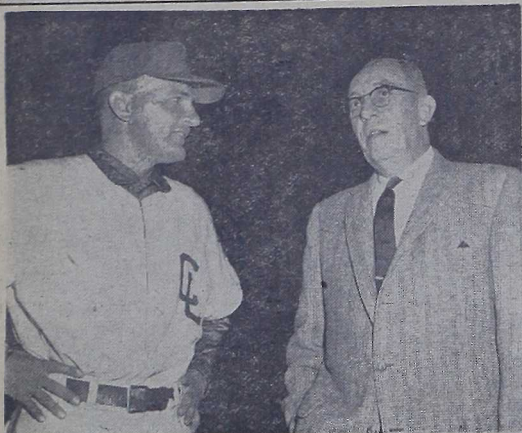

In May, the reinforced Eighth returned to the Okinawa area to seize two small islands for radar stations. The Eighth then joined the 1st and 6th Divisions in the final push of the campaign and the war. Occupation duty followed in the Japanese homeland after the cessation of all air and naval hostilities a few months later.

Men of the Eighth settled at Camp Lejeune in July, 1946, to train in the peacetime duties of a "force in readiness." Training and duty take the Eighth to the Mediterranean and to Puerto Rico. Throughout the Korean War, although the Eighth stayed "home" administratively, her alumni continually faced the Communist force under the colors of other Marine Corps regiments.

Commanded today by Colonel Robert C. Burns, the regiment trains to perfect new tactics for fighting in any type of warfare—a training enriched in various climates and countries where the regiment travels.

MATCH EXTRAS went to the two men who fired "just out" of the medals, Technical Sergeant Norman M. Renfro, MAD, NATTC, Jacksonville, Fla., left, and Staff Sergeant Charles W. Rubis, Force Troops. The two received leather awards (just below bronze); Renfro for pistol; Rubis for rifle.

Divvy To Host Softball Event Here August 8

Camp Lejeune will be the scene of a major softball tournament this year when the FMFLant tourney is held in August. Before the FMFLant tournament, many innings of softball will be played between battalion teams, and then between the regiments in the 2nd Division.

Friday, the first softball game of the year between battalions was played in the Second Marines' area. The 1st Bn. defeated the 3rd Bn. 14-5 behind home runs by Dick Holliday and Charley Bryant. The winning pitcher for the 1st Bn. was Moses.

Marinettes' Shelson Wins First Game; Locals Divide

Camp Lejeune's Marinettes dropped their first softball game of the season, 4-3, to Charleston AFB but bounced back with a 10-hit attack Sunday to salvage one tilt of the two-game series, 10-6.

The initial contest saw the host club come from behind to score two runs in the bottom of the seventh, enabling them to pull the game out in a pitchers' duel between Lejeune's Lorenda Shelson and the Air Base's John Conner.

The Marinettes managed to pick up only three bingles while Shelson was fanning nine and issuing three free passes. The local chucker twirled a four-hitter.

The following day, Shelson again took the mound and was credited with the win before she was relieved by coach-player Nancy Kark after the former had been injured in the fifth while sliding into second base.

Lejeune bounced into an early lead which they never relinquished. LaVerne Harper and Ann Wiggins contributed a double and homer to pace the Marinette attack.

After two games, Wiggins leads the team in hitting with a .571 mark followed by Harper's .428.

LADIES' NIGHT

For the first time in Camp Lejeune sports history, a Ladies' Night will be held during the third game of the Parris Island baseball series, May 22.

Every lady attending the game at Harry Agganis field will be given a scoreboard with a designated number. Upon completion of each inning, a number will be drawn and a prize presented to the winning card holder.

Crone, Armstrong Lead Local Attack In Quantico Victory

The Camp Lejeune Marines took a 2-1 victory margin from the Leathernecks of in a three-game stand over the weekend at Harry Agganis field, 5-3, 3-10 and 10-3, ending their season total to 25-10.

Before a record attendance of 3,935 for the series, Lejeune's attack was spearheaded by the clutch hitting of Lenny "The Brat" Crone and Charlie Armstrong, both of for five RBIs apiece in the three-game tilt. Armstrong also tallied an in-the-park homer to set the pace for the victorious Marines in the third game.

Lejeune scored four quick runs in the first three innings to provide the winning margin in the first game as they went to a 5-3 victory in the opening of East Coast Marine Corps competition Friday night. Gerry Smith scattered nine hits in going the distance against his last year's teammates.

Lejeune added one more to their total in the seventh as shortstop Paul Lacity tripped to deep right-center to drive in Mick Taylor who had gotten a free ride to first. The Marines collected 11 hits as Hal Norton went three for four at the plate and Crone accounted for two of the three runs in the big second inning.

Both teams played even ball in the second game with Lejeune going into the top of the ninth with a 3-2 lead. Behind the batting of second baseman Crone, who knocked in all three of Lejeune's runs, the Marines scored once in the fifth frame and twice in the seventh to take the edge.

With the score tied one apiece in the fifth, Bill Herrington took over the mound chores replacing starter Jim Donnelly and allowed one run to cross in the seventh. Leroy Mason came in in the eighth for Lejeune and looked like to push eight big runs across and drop the 10-3. The Lejeune Marines took two tilts in a three-game series inaugurating East Coast Corps competition when they won Friday, 5-3, and came back Sunday afternoon to drop Quantico 10-4.

Looking on is receiver Bob Gaiser. However, the Virginia visitors came from behind in their half of the ninth

Sports in short

PFC WILLIAM SMITH

COAST PLAY—A record breaking crowd of 1,763 fans poured into Agganis park Saturday night for the second tilt of the three series with Quantico. And up until the top half of the ninth, they had a 3-2 battle.

It's no alibi on what happened in that nightmare of a ninth when the Virginia visitors came up with eight runs. That just so happens to be baseball. If there weren't games like this, the national wouldn't have the popularity that it demands.

More item about THAT contest. Quite a few people wondered why a young man on the mound. A newcomer, Leroy Mason was Skipper Hal Glasgow whether he felt as if he could continue to do chores when the trouble began in the ninth. Mason was when he replied that he would get the one out needed to try for the locals. His next two serves were down the middle. The coach couldn't have asked for a better performance or determined Mason. The next pitch . . . well, again that's in retrospect as the season advances to the mid-way mark, as if the Parris Island Leathernecks will be the team that the stiffest test for Lejeune. As it stands now against East Bay, the Marines boast a 2-1 mark. It should read, 3-0.

More games will be played at Quantico. If the big potential Virginia club remain silent, there will be a repeat performance in the locals travel North again.

their first appearance at the Reservation will be Tuesday when they move on to Harry Agganis field for the start of the game series. That means Lejeune will end play on the diamond in June.

Island strategists are not "book" coaches in the strict sense of the word. Where a manager usually starts his best hurler in a series I might insert their third best the initial outing and come their finest in the last tilt.

There are no such things as comparison scores in baseball in two teams. Performances from team work are the only

Track Team Engages 82nd In Toughest Test Of Season

The Camp Lejeune varsity track team will travel to Ft. Bragg Saturday to meet a highly regarded 82nd Airborne squad. The local Marines have yet to be defeated this season.

With more than a two-week period of idleness from competition, the Lejeune coaches have continued with the practice of holding Saturday morning inter-squad meets.

Showing well in last week's action were Bob Cahill, Fred Stark, Tony Szalkowski and John Marshall.

Cahill put the shot 47'6" while Stark threw the discus 147'7". Szalkowski tossed the hammer 150'3".

Marshall ran a respectable 10:19.5 for the two-mile and has been improving through each effort. Several of the shorter dash men have been moved up to the 440. Both Al Daniels and Jim Hinman have shown well in the quarter event.

Still needed on the team are hurdlers and pole vaulters. Anyone desiring to try out, and who has had previous experience, report to Coach Bob Callahan at the Liversedge oval during regular workouts every weekday afternoon starting at 1:30 p.m.

Everett Paces Local WGA's To Golf Win

Camp Lejeune's WGA members walked off with the Finals Tourney in the annual Ladies Coastal Golf Association Tourney last week at the Jacksonville CC. Representatives from five clubs were present for the event.

Ione Everett again paced the local aggregation, carding a low gross of 160 for top "A" flight honors. Runner-up was Phil Anderson (171) while Dulcie Grossbeck (161) took second place in low net.

Helen Croyle (66) placed runner-up in "B" flight play for least number of putts.

In "C" flight, Pat Lindsay (145) was second for low net honors while runners-up in "D" flight went to Pat Folsom (low gross 148) and Edna Miller (low net 155).

The tournament participants were feted at a banquet upon completion of the two-day tourney.

'A' Flight Captured By Mrs. A. E. Holdt

A "Throw Out" tourney was played Monday by the WGA at the Paradise Point golf course, with Mrs. A. E. Holdt taking "A" flight honors. Tied for the runner-up slot were Mrs. A. L. Everett and Mrs. E. A. Law.

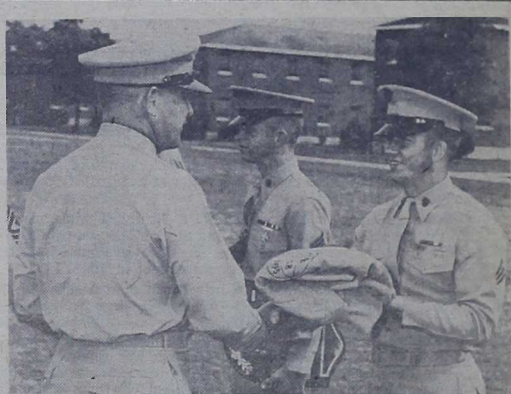

"B" flight winner was Mrs. R. E. Harris with Mrs. D. Fultz and Mrs. B. Farnum knotting for second place. Mrs. H. H. Hadd took "C" flight with Mrs. K. Miller the runner-up.

Mrs. A. C. Shofner placed first in "D" flight with Mrs. T. R. McRae taking least putts honors.

Many new faces have shown up for recent competition. The WGA extends an invitation to all personnel of Camp Lejeune to join their activities. The group meets every first Tuesday of each month. For further information contact Mrs. D. R. Faber, Jax. 7110.

Burgess, coach-captain of the MP quintet. Other players awarded before a battalion formation last Friday were F. E. Kyle, D. J. Maloney, D. D. Harris and D. C. Wyatt. Local Judo Artists Score In First AllMar Tourney

Camp Lejeune's Jim Humphreys, a Second Black Belt (NI DAN) holder in the 130-pound class, placed second in overall competition in the All-Marine Judo match held at MCRD, San Diego, Calif., last week.

The meet, first of its kind in Marine Corps sports history, brought more than 50 representatives to the two-day contest. The overall winner was the result of elimination by classes and then matching class winners. The tournament had four weight divisions active: heavyweight, 180-pound and under, 150 and under and 130 and under.

Humphreys, after copping the 130-pound title, defeated L. J. Marx, Camp Pendleton, winner of the 150-pound class to get a crack at 180-pound champ Dan Powers, also of Pendleton. Powers, another NI DAN, dropped the heavyweight titlist and then took the smaller Humphreys for the overall championship.

Ernie Cates and Howard George also scored for Lejeune by taking seconds in the 180-pound division and the heavyweight class respectively. Cates, a Second Black Belt (NI DAN), is assistant coach and captain of the local Marine team. George, competing for the first time in judo competition, is a novice and holds the white belt. The football and wrestling standout had taken up the sport only two weeks prior to adjourning to the West Coast for the All-Marine.

Jordan Chalks Win In Third Sail Race

With just :01.8 seconds separating first and third places, Jim Jordan piloted his craft to victory in last Saturday's sail boat race at Wallace Creek boathouse. Ephraim Kirby-Smith and Charles Boyes manned the boat with Jordan to a time of 1:05.30.

In second spot were last week's winners Jim Gray and Austin Rishel with 1:06.35, just a fraction of a second ahead of third place Roy Farrow and Don Winne who glided in at 1:06.38.

Gaining six points and leading competition with two races left in the Spring series are Judy and Dick Marean with a total of 20½ points. In second with 19½ is Gray followed by Jordan, 18½ and Al Baldwin, 15.

To facilitate better racing and reduce waiting time, all drawings for boats and sails will go at 12:30 p.m. with the warning gun being sounded at 1:30 p.m. and the races beginning at 1:40 p.m. each week.

FISH & WILDLIFE

BY THE "OLD ANGLER"
Phone 7-5522

FRESH WATER FISHING—Apparently, the water is still a little too cool for ole man fish. At least, with the water temperature around 58 degrees its too cold for him to take my bait, and the same holds true for the few reports that I have gotten from other anglers.

If there are any of you that can refute this then let me hear from you. Sergeant Bill Etheridge said that he tried everything in his box, then turned to some cut bait and still brought home only two small brim. Captain McCure tells me that he didn't have any luck at all, and Major B. J. Cummins can only claim one small underfed brim for his efforts.

Its just got to be the weather and the low temperature of the water. From Aycock Brown, fresh water fishing is tops in East and South Lake on the Dare Mainland near Manns Harbor, N. C.

SALT WATER FISHING—The water is still pretty cool on the beach too but the results are different. Reports indicate that channel bass catches are improving with most of them weighing around 30 to 40 pounds. The largest reported this last week scaled at 53 pounds and was taken while trolling.

While we are on the subject of salt water fishing, I might mention that information just released by Field and Stream Magazine states that three of the top ten blue marlins caught for 1957 were boated off Hatteras, N. C. The largest was a 458 pounder caught in June, 1957.

Fishing in the Morehead City-Atlantic Beach area began with sea mullet from the ocean piers, soon to be followed by gray trout and hogfish, and then during the past weekend every phase of fishing seemed to be developing in earnest. All of the above mentioned fish became plentiful in both sound and river, and bluefish was reported for the first time in the sound and from the inshore boats. While everything from the piers has been bottom fishing, the plug fisherman is standing by impatiently.

N.C. WILDLIFE COMMISSION SETS PROPOSED HUNTING RULES—I thought that some of you hunters might be interested to know that the Commission recently set up a list of hunting and trapping regulations to be presented to the public this month. Changes proposed over last year's official regulations include the following: DEER—The possession limit for deer would be increased from one to two, with the daily bag remaining at one, season limit two.

SQUIRREL—In the eastern section the squirrel season would be from October 15 to January 1. The bag limit would be increased from six to eight, and the possession limit from 12 to 16.

RABBITS, QUAIL, TURKEY AND PHEASANT—The season on these would be extended to February 14 instead of the 10th. Onslow County would be added to the list of counties having no turkey season last year.

BOW AND ARROW HUNTING—The special bow and arrow hunting season would be increased from seven to 14 hunting days prior to the opening of the regular hunting seasons. Bow and arrow hunters would be allowed to carry guns during the regular season, but not during the special archery season.

The Commission voted to include several maps showing hunting seasons on the several species to further clarify the regulations. The town closest to Camp Lejeune where the public hearing will take place is New Bern in the City Court Room on May 29, 1958, at 7:30 p.m.

FISH AND WILDLIFE CLUB MEETING NOTICE—Camp Lejeune's Fish and Wildlife Club will hold a meeting tonight at Marston Pavilion commencing at 7:30 p.m. All interested persons wishing to affiliate with the club are invited to attend.

An open discussion on next year's activities will be held immediately after the installations of the newly-elected officers.

ALL PERSONNEL—DON'T FORGET THE MEETING OF THE FISH AND WILDLIFE CLUB—BE THERE.

THIS HAPPY FEELING A color drama starring Debbie Reynolds, Curt Jurgens, Alexis Smith and Mary Astor. (91 min.)

CRY TERROR A nerve-racking thriller and one of the best of its kind to hit the screen in years and years. It stars James Mason and Rod Steiger. (90 min.)

TOO MUCH TOO SOON Dorothy Malone portrays Diana Barrymore accepting an engagement in a Hollywood play which leads her to Hollywood. The pix deals mainly with drinks and alcoholics. Errol Flynn portrays the staggering John Barrymore. Strictly for adults it is the sad story of a female alcoholic and how she got that way. (102 min.)

RUN SILENT RUN DEEP Clark Gable and Burt Lancaster in a taut story of undersea warfare. Gable has lost his sub in the dreaded Bongo Straits where four other U. S. subs have been sunk. Some really fine scenes of sub maneuvers and convoy attacks. (93 min.)

He has been told he has only six months to live. Starting with Bogarde is Margaret Lockwood. (102 min.)

BEAUTIFUL BUT DANGEROUS An Italian-made film dubbed in English, novice singer Gina Lollobrigida, Vittorio Gassman and Robert Alda star in this film. Gina is the singer in a cafe in Rome who goes on in place of her sick mother. When the audience gets out of hand, Russian Vittorio Gassman comes to her aid. She receives a voice coaching from famous conductor Robert Alda and the rest is the story of her success. (103 min.)

THE TRUE STORY OF LYNN STUART Betty Palmer impersonates "Lynn Stuart," who did time in a bank holdup and is put into a drive-in restaurant where narcotics detectives knock the gang tenant in the dope ring and begins getting information. Lord takes her to Mexico and the action begins. (90 min.)

MARCELINO In a small Spanish town three monks build a monastery on the site of a dwelling wrecked when Spanish soldiers drove out the French. A baby boy is found outside, the monastery door and the monks raise him. (85 min.)

LEFT-HANDED GUN For western fans, this is Paul Newman turning in a good performance of Billy, the Kid. He portrays the famous character as an illiterate, adolescent, brooding psychopath. As a wandering cowboy he is given a job by a cattleman and later swears to avenge the cattleman's death. They knock off a few people and flee to Mexico. (120 min.)

THE GREAT AMERICAN PASTIME For baseball fans, the father of a young baseball player takes over the running of one of the Little League clubs and finds he is in a mess of trouble. He finally proves it is sportsmanship that counts. There are a few laughs in the pix. (89 min.)

Duryea is the editor of an influential magazine and former wife of Duryea who shows up to interview the young star. That's where the action begins. A good, laughful pix. (90 min.)
