ate version of the pay tly $122 million less 683 million voted pre-the House. Of the Senate cuts in the House rates, $62 million was applied to E-5, E-6 and E-7. Another $4 million was taken from E-4, E-8 and E-9.

Officer pay raises were reduced by $21 million and warrants by $2 million.

Additional feature of the Senate version was the authorization of proficiency pay for officers. "Responsible Pay" could possibly mean $12 million for O-3's through O-6's.

A special longevity scale for officers with prior enlisted service has been restricted to those who have more than six years enlisted service. Previously the House had applied the extra longevity steps to those credited with over four years' cumulative service as enlisted.

The six per cent raise for retired personnel voted by the House has been retained by the Senate. Senator Stennis (Dem.-Miss.) told Senate members that retired pay after passage of the bill would cost $628 million annually. The Mississippi Senator warned that 20-year retirements might someday be cut down.

In regard to all important proficiency pay, the Senate decided that the pay should be governed by regulations set by the Secretary of Defense. The House had previously left it up to the individual service secretaries.

Reservists ordered home from active duty would receive travel pay in advance. At present, they don't receive the money until their travel is completed.

ing an Armed Forces Day demonstration.

Taking part in Armed Forces Day ceremonies, "M" Co., reinforced with about 200 men, will participate in a parade May 16, and give the assault demonstration the following day.

Three-week-old "M" Co., commanded by Captain W. P. Kitterman, is composed of Marines of the former Weapons Co., and other units of the regiment.

On its first official assignment as "M" Co., 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines, it will leave Camp Lejeune for Portsmouth May 14, by bus. The newly formed company will return to the base May 19.

Sixth Marines Demonstrate Combat Techniques Friday

Some 30 civilian dignitaries viewed a Battalion Task Group operation of the 1st Bn., Sixth Marines, Friday.

Guests of Brigadier General Austin R. Brunelli, MCB commanding general, the visiting statesmen were given a first hand look at new Marine attack concepts incorporating vertical envelopment, amphibious land- ing and close air support.

The guests were met at the H-2 indoctrination course by Major General J. C. Burger, 2nd Division commander. General Burger gave a brief review of Marine Corps tactics, past and present, and illustrated with squad maneuvers the old eight-man formation compared with the new 13-man tactics.

In bringing the change of concepts up to date with the idea of "separation concentration," the general brought out the versatility-flexibility of BTG operations in nuclear warfare. "In the face of employment of nuclear weapons," he said, "the need is for unit separation, greater mobility, increased flexibility and more shock action and fire power."

The first phase of the operation, conducted by the 1st Bn. and supported by units from Force Troops and the Second Marine Air Wing, Cherry Point, troops and supplies were landed by transport helicopters in a simulated "cut-off" position behind the designated beachhead. They disbursed and set up positions to smother any attempts of counter-attack

The mobile ground forces then started their attack. They broke enemy resistance, set up positions and prepared to make contact with the airborne troops who were already in position.

When the enemy struck back with nuclear attack, the fast-moving battalion withdrew from their endangered position and continued the assault on a new front, displaying their versatility over a static and concentrated force. The groups are so tailored that they can readily disburse, or, in the face of conventional at- tack, converge to fight as a unit.

Immediately after the demonstra- tion, the visitors were given a luncheon at the Paradise Point club as guests of General Brunelli.

The operation was repeated Monday for members of the faculty and student body of the Armed Forces Staff College. Monday's demonstration was part of the field instruction undertaken by the col- lege.

Rain Delays Eastern Div. Match Firing

As Eastern Division marks- manship competition cracks in- to full swing today, the big question is: Will the 2nd Marine Division repeat its near clean sweep of last year's top honors?

With the Elliott and Edson trophies and some 50 trips to California at stake, the 2nd Division, with 108 entries, looks sure-fire to take a lion's share of the awards.

But, as scores from 20 days of pre-match firing indicate, there is plenty of competition from all parts of the east coast with everyone intent on keeping the 2nd Division from the big stakes.

The final answer will come Saturday morning when the rain-de- layed Elliott trophy fight pits 22 rifle teams against the bulls-eye for the 48-year-old silver cup. In a parallel event, seven teams from small units will shoot it out for the Wirmgan trophy.

Second Division units have five teams entered in the Elliott match which they won last year along with the top individual honors in rifle and pistol. The MCB and Force Troops each have entered two Elliott teams plus a total of 39 and 46 shooters, respectively, in the overall competition.

The Edson pistol-team trophy is the only top mark missed in 1957 by 2nd Division shooters. This went to the 2nd Marine Air Wing, which won by a fraction over a Division team. The Division is sending five pistol teams on the line Friday in an effort to capture the Edson for a year.

Among the other 20 teams squeezing them off tomorrow afternoon for the Edson will be two each from MCB and FT.

Tri-Command and other large units are not eligible for Wirmgan. (See EASTERN MATCHES, Page 2)

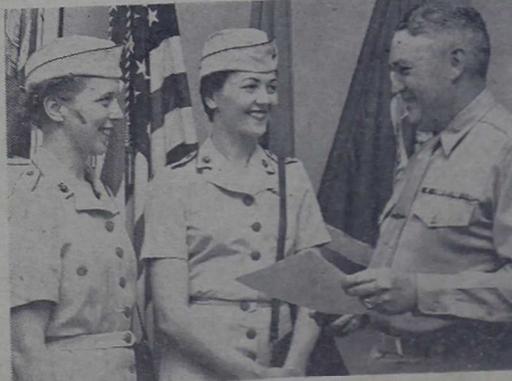

Proposed Military Rations Displayed At Paradise Point

A proposed military ration, de- veloped by the Food and Contain- er Institute of the Armed Forces, was shown yesterday afternoon at the Paradise Point club during the 20th Quarterly meeting of the Food Research and Development Coor- dinating Group of the Department of Defense.

Second Division, MCB, and Force Troops officers witnessed the demonstration and prepara- tion of the ration which is a radical departure from the conven- tional type of field ration.

Known as "meal, quick served, 25-1," the ration has been particu- larly designed for the feeding of troops in the field. The ration is a pre-cooked, dehydrated, self-con- tained meal.

Food Service School, Marine Corps Supply Schools, acted as co- ordinating unit for the demonstra- tion.

CONFER WITH GENERAL — Captain Louise Norling, Cleveland Reserve Unit, center, and First Lieutenant Elizabeth Strand, 1&1, Reserve Unit, confer with Brigadier General Austin R. Brunelli, com- manding general, MCB, Friday afternoon. The Cleveland reserve unit is scheduled to report aboard July 7. Approximately 80 WM reserves will undergo training during the summer months. The Philadelphia reserve unit is slated for Camp Lejeune July 21.

Lejeune Investigators Form Unique Service Association

With the formation last week of the Investigator's Association of Camp Lejeune, this Base gained the unique distinction of claiming the only such organization in the armed forces.

Officially approved by the commanding general, Brigadier General Austin R. Brunelli, the 30-member club will hold their initial post-organizational meeting May 19 at NCAF, New River.

Purpose of the club is to serve the Marine Corps by encouraging and promoting a better understanding of the ideals of the professional military investigator; and the development of the realization in the investigator that the Corps can be best served by his continuous striving to pro-note the ends of justice. Constitution and by-laws were drawn up at an April 17 organizational meeting and Staff Sergeant David F. Shewmake, MCB, was elected as the association's first president.

Additional officers are Master Sergeant Carl J. Erickson, 2nd Division, vice president; and Staff Sergeant Frank Santos Jr., MCB, corresponding secretary.

Members hope to establish closer ties with local law enforcement agencies by cooperating in such events as the Eastern North Carolina Law Enforcement Officers' meetings and other functions.

Leading law enforcement officials from Onslow County and North Carolina are tentatively scheduled to attend the monthly meetings as guests.

Eligible for membership are Marine personnel assigned duties as Investigators or Counter Intelligence Assistants, personnel designated by MOS as Investigators or Counter Intelligence Assistants, civilians employed by the Marine Corps, provost marshals, chiefs of military police and officers in charge of investigating offices.

Present plans call for the association to meet on the third Monday of each month, with the four commands alternately hosting the meetings.

Division Firefighters Receive Thanks Of N. C. State Forester

Fire-fighting assistance by 2nd Division personnel in last week's Hyde county blaze has brought praise from State Forestry officials.

In a letter to Major General J. C. Burger, Division commander, F. H. Claridge, State Forester, cited the Marines for their past assistance and for the quick response last week.

"There has never been a time when this help was needed more critically and never has the Marine Corps come through in more splendid fashion. This was a difficult job and nothing short of the company of Marines you sent could have accomplished results which were enjoyed," the State Forester said.

In conclusion he cited Captain John F. Roche, company commander, and Second Lieutenant Thomas M. Rich, platoon leader, adding that the rugged, well disciplined and efficient Marines gained the immediate respect of Forestry personnel and civilians of the Ponzer community.

Mike Co., 3rd Bn., Second Marines, plus supporting hospital corpsmen, motor transport personnel, communicators and a Base overseas fire truck responded April 25. The fire was brought under control April 27, at which time the Marines returned to their home base.

man firing which is limited to units with less than 600 men.

Saturday afternoon, during award ceremonies, at least 52 regular enlisted Marines will receive gold, silver or bronze medals, each of which means a trip to San Diego and a spot on the firing line in the All-Marine Matches next month. These medals will go to the top 10 per cent of both the individual rifle and pistol shooters.

The two-day match rifle winners, firing for possible 600's, will be decided late today. There are 372 shooters, most of them in match competition for the first time, vying for top honors and medals. They will be aiming to break the 570 match record set last year by SSGT. Bob Blackett, now with the MTU.

Friday morning, 259 shooters will try for individual pistol honors. Among them will be 199 who are firing rifles today.

If any of the 59 officers, 16 reserves or already distinguished marksmen who are firing in the individual matches places ahead of the top 52 regular enlisted Marines, they will receive additional medals or certificates and additional berths in the San Diego All-Marine Matches.

As Eastern Division host, Brigadier General Austin R. Brunelli will take charge of the Saturday afternoon ceremonies which are scheduled to start at the rifle range at 1 p.m. He will be assisted by a representative of the Commandant and Colonel Robert D. Moser, head of HQMC Marksmanship Branch.

Marines Aid Local Civil Defense In Operation Red Alert

Lejeune participation in Tuesday's and Wednesday's nationwide Civil Defense operation was limited to a Base-wide "Condition Red Alert."

Aid and assistance were offered by the Base to the Onslow County Civil Defense organization, which coordinated a mass evacuation of the local area following the simulated enemy attack.

Marine communicators, using two-way radios, kept the Base in direct contact with Jacksonville throughout the two-day test.

ON-THE-JOB TRAINING—Engineers of "D" Co., 8th Engr. Bn., Force Troops, forge a three and a half mile highway from the back gate of Camp Geiger past the Air Facility to the Verona Loop training area. Pfc Robert Greeves of "D" Co. checks over his TD 18A tractor and scraper before getting started.

FT Engineers Building Road From Geiger

In a move to give Marine engineers experience vital to combat operations, Marines of "D" Co., 8th Engr. Bn., Force Troops now are forging ahead on a highway which will extend three and a half miles from the back gate of Camp Geiger past the main gate of the Air Facility and over Southwest Creek to the Verona Loop training area.

As part of the on-the-job training program, 156 members of the company, commanded by Captain C. D. Wood, are now clearing the dense undergrowth and huge trees from the strip. The project is aimed at giving experience in handling engineering equipment. The road, expected to cut off at least a half hour driving time over

THE WILD BLUE YONDER—Checking the rudder before flight, Technical Sergeant Dallas R. Wells and Private Fred J. H. Morris, both of ASD Bn., make sure their plane is in tip-top condition before flying. Members of the independent flying club, Marines based at Camp Lejeune and strive to provide education and morale and welfare for members at a minimal cost.

Flying Club Members Clear Runway From Wilderness

The thick underbrush and dense vegetation in the wild blue yonder area are no challenge for a unique group of local fliers, especially if such obstacles stand in the way of their flying.

Setting out last December to form a private flying club for marines, Technical Sergeant Dallas R. Wells, H&S Co., Materiel Supply and Maintenance Bn., tried to locate a runway near Kellum, N. C.

The only trouble was clearing the spot so that the 1946 Taylorcraft plane could clear the runway on take-offs and landings. With the help of Kellum residents who gladly lent tractors and power saws, the marines went to work. And work they did—they now have a 1,300-foot strip runway which is being extended to 2,000 feet.

Thus it was that Marine Corps training helped form what is now the 18-member Pioneer Aero Club, which derived its name from the pioneer-type work of clearing the farmland.

Temporarily run by a group of officers, the club is now being run by a group of enlisted men. The club is now being run by a group of enlisted men. The club is now being run by a group of enlisted men.

Other club bills will be a secretariat, aircraft maintenance, operation-safety, education, recreation, and a picnic. The club is now being run by a group of enlisted men.

The plane used by the club is a Taylorcraft, a two-seater with a liberal fuel range. Riders of the club provided a tank for the club. Applications are being accepted about membership.

Modified Work Adds Daylight

MCAF personnel have been working on a modification of the work schedule.

Through the facility, the extra hour of work at 7 a.m. will be in effect from 3:30 p.m.

Second Division, I Bn., Force Troops personnel will be working on their regular work schedule.

Parachutists Compete In Eastern

Three Force Troops parachutists competed in the Eastern U. S. Parachute Championships at Wilmington, Del., Sunday against 42 of the country's top "spot jumpers."

A three-man Army paratrooper team from the 77th Special Forces, Ft. Bragg, won the meet and championship Delaware Cup. The marine team, using borrowed 'chutes which they had previously used, placed first. Technical Sergeant Schuback placed fourth in the individual competition. Sergeant Richard N. Davis, sergeant John Mednis, and private team Schuback are members of the Recon Co., FT. Davis.

9th Annual Reunion Scheduled For Fifth Divvy Association

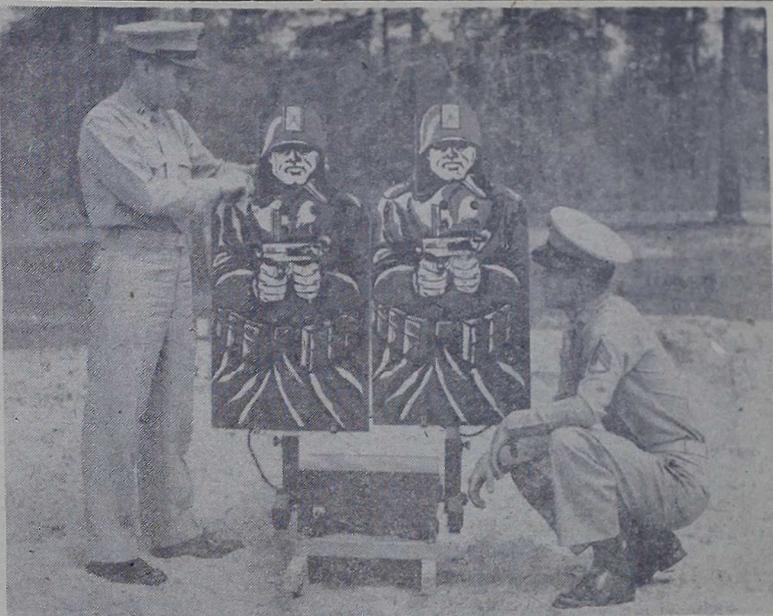

Members of the Fifth Marine Division Association will hold their Ninth Annual Reunion on June 27, 28 and 29 at the Hotel Roosevelt in New York City.

Travel arrangements to and from the New York reunion for Lejeune association members are being arranged by Colonel Tolson A. Smoak, G-4 Section, MCB, who commanded the 3rd Bn., Twenty-eighth Marines, on Iwo Jima. It is hoped, the colonel said, that air transportation will be supplied for members traveling to the reunion without dependents. Any member who plans to attend, whether desiring transportation or not, or who desire further information, is requested to contact Colonel Smoak at 7-5545.

Among the many activities scheduled for the reunion are a film showing of the 5th Division in action, a business meeting, memorial service and a huge banquet. There also will be a boat trip and bus tour around Manhattan. Master of Ceremonies for the occasion will be Frank Ferrell, columnist for the New York World Telegram and Sun.

Also to be discussed at the reunion is the Fifth Marine Division Association's Scholarship Fund which provides needed assistance for the higher education of children of men who were incapacitated by wounds or injuries while serving with the 5th Division. Proceeds from a souvenir journal for the reunion will go into the fund.

The Army was established under the direction of Gen. George Washington June 14, 1775.

POP-UP TARGETS—One of the new electrical targets, recently erected on the Camp's ranges, is inspected by Captain Charles Edwards, Range Officer, MCB, and Staff Sergeant H. D. Hesner, NCO in charge.

New Electric Pop-Up Targets Constructed At Base Ranges

Construction of new electrical pop-up targets at three ranges might possibly give 2nd Division rifle squads the added edge when they go after top honors in September's Unit Combat Marksmanship competition at Quantico.

A demonstration by a 2nd Division unit for their commanding general, Major General Joseph C. Burger, last week at F-12 range, officially opened the first of three ranges equipped with new pop-up targets. Remaining targets at F-2 and L-5 range are nearing final construction and should be available in the near future.

Tabbed as a decided advantage for the forthcoming inter-squad competition at Quantico, the electrically controlled targets give squads proficiency in marksmanship, orders and unit tactics.

Although first developed six years ago, the present targets came into wide use in 1956 when the first local targets were installed at ITR, Camp Geiger.

Twenty-nine targets are located at F-12, which closely resembles F-2 and L-5. The targets, silhouette of a soldier, are mounted on stands at varying distances from the range house.

Once the squad moves into action the range house operator starts regulating the targets which spring up by merely pushing a button.

To control the tempo of the fire fight, instructors can adjust the target for different time intervals.

The course lay-out, according to Captain Charles Edwards, Base range officer, gives each participating squad vital practice in equipment readiness, aggressive forward movement, use of cover and execution of orders.

Both squad and fire team leaders get indoctrination on unit maneuver, plan of attack, use of the right weapon on the proper target, ammunition redistribution and aggressiveness of attack.

Second Division units will start full scale use of the range next week with their goal set on retaining the plaque they won last year at Quantico. In 1957, Division squads took top honors as "A" Co., 1st Bn., Eighth Marines, gained the first spot and a Sixth Marines squad placed second.

Marine Fliers Take Air Weapon Honors

Two Marine fliers took top individual honors in the Third Annual Naval Air Weapons Meet at the California El Centro NAAS last week. Team competition laurels went to Navy units.

By recording the highest individual score in air-to-air competition for day fighters, Marine Captain Charles O. Hiett of Fighter Squadron 232, gained the unofficial title of top gun in the Navy.

Marine Captain J. W. Detroy of All-Weather Fighter Squadron 213 posted top score in air-to-ground marksmanship.

Vice Admiral W. V. Davis, Deputy Chief of Naval Operations for Air, presented more than 200 trophies to winning teams and individuals.

Attended Telephone Centers Close

THE LAST BUZZ—Telephone operators of the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company place the last call from the attended phone center in Bldg. 301 which was officially closed on April 30. Mrs. Elizabeth Porter, chief operator, watches as Mrs. M. E. Ranson, left, and Mrs. John Neely close up the switchboard. Operators had pleasant memories of the young man who got a wrong connection, and who is now engaged to the girl at the end of that phone call. Pay booths throughout the area will replace the attended center.

with 2,473 loans outstanding. There were 285 gratuities in the amount of $13,451.82 and 3,487 loans for $145,519.08 for a total outlay of $158,970.90.

Visiting nurse service increased from 2,074 contacts in 1956 to 6,650 in 1957; and nurses covered more area than ever before in the Lejeune area. Gratuities jumped from 95 in 1956 to 285 in 1957.

Helping the Navy Relief Society carry on this huge program last year, more than 67 volunteer women contributed 652 hours of office work in January and 257 others contributed 5,953 hours of volunteer work in other fields during the year.

Since Navy Relief's basic mission is to help servicemen in distress the society does not assist in maintaining a standard of living higher than that supported by the pay and allowances of the man.

Adhering to the society's mission, Navy Relief will not finance business ventures, the purchase of homes or similar capital investments—these projects are clearly beyond the scope of the society.

Although Navy Relief cannot extend its services to include non-essential items, it is ready and willing to aid as much as possible any serviceman who needs help.

Lejeunites are reminded that through membership in Navy Relief they become eligible for many attractive and valuable prizes.

Civilian Clothes

Marines here must remember that the privilege of wearing civilian clothing on liberty is not the right of the individual. The continuance of such a policy on this base depends mainly on whether the privilege is abused or not.

Undershirts, T-shirts or sweaters resembling these items should only be worn while engaging in athletics. Levis, blue jeans or other types of trousers associated with work clothing are prohibited except while engaging in sports activities.

Knit outer garments, sports shirts, coats or jackets and slacks and trousers are permissible as long as they conform to proper standards and are appropriate to the occasion for which they are worn.

There is no hardship involved in complying with these regulations, and failure to obey can result in complete loss of privileges.

It must be remembered that civilian clothes should be worn with the same feeling of pride as when wearing the Marine Corps uniform.

Camp Plans Mother's Day Observance

"All that I am or hope to be," said President Lincoln, "I owe to my angel mother."

Thus it is that throughout the nation and here at Camp Lejeune Mother's Day, proclaimed by President Wilson in 1914 as the second Sunday in May, will be observed in many ways this Sunday.

By a joint resolution approved in 1914, Mother's Day was authorized, and it was requested that a proclamation be issued calling upon government officials to display the government flag on all government buildings and all people of the United States to display the flag at their homes as a public expression of love and reverence for mothers.

The idea of a special "Mother's Day" in Sunday schools and churches originated with Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia who conceived the idea when she was asked to arrange a memorial service in the town in which her deceased mother had been a moving spirit.

Mother's Day came about with a realization of the lack of consideration for mothers among worldly-minded, busy, grown-up children.

The Mother's Day idea first came into the churches and a Sunday schools as the need to remind children of the loving, unselfish mother, living or dead, and as a demonstration of gratitude to mothers.

And on Sunday at Camp Lejeune thousands of marines will pay tribute to their mothers, near or far away.

FOR MOTHER . . . GRATITUDE—Throughout the nation and at Camp Lejeune this Sunday, Mother's Day 1958 will be observed in many ways, expressing gratitude and devotion for mothers. Here Mrs. Edward F. Wiese and daughter, Mary Elizabeth, 10, attend church services as will thousands of other families throughout the country.

WASHINGTON REPORT

The Court of Military Appeals recently held that the Armed Forces have a constitutional right to court-martial civilian employees who serve overseas with them, according to Navy Times.

The court also held that a serviceman is free to disobey an order to give blood for a drunk test.

The test for civilians serving outside the country with the military came in the case of a civilian convicted by the Army in Germany on several sex counts.

Following the Supreme Court's freeing of two service wives convicted of killings overseas, the man appealed to the highest military court. The three judges decided that civilian employees are different from families. They said the overseas employee is enough a part of the service to enable a court martial. Hence the section of the Code of Military Justice subjecting them to courts martial was held constitutional.

The case of blood tests for drunkenness suspects also came from the Army. A soldier was held to be within his rights in refusing to submit to the test.

A "lawful command," said two of the three judges, must relate to "military duty." This one didn't, they ruled, and therefore was not lawful.

All six cases were sent back for rehandling by reviewing authorities.

Chaplain's Corner

When you made your last snow man, you gathered the snow, formed it, found this or that object to add to it—a few pieces of coal, a stick, an old hat—and putting it all together you formed the semblance of a man. Before too long the sun and warm air melted the figure, and its elements returned as they were.

We too are created, but we are created as personalities. We have minds and spirits. They are created out of the tidbits of knowledge and inspiration which we gather here and there. It seems fair to say, however, that our personalities are not always pieced together with care.

William Rainey Harper, former Chancellor of the University of Chicago, wrote: "An educated man is one, who by the time he is 25, has a clear theory, formed in the light of human experience, of what constitutes a satisfying, a significant life. If he arrives at (this age) without having arrived at such a theory, then no matter how many facts he has learned, or how many processes he has mastered, the man is an ignoramus and a fool, unhappy, and probably dangerous."

A survey made of the derelicts on Chicago's Skid Row indicated the fact that these decadent men had all of the essentials of a whole personality, but for reasons varying in each case they failed to bring together in a meaningful pattern the qualities of life they were given. Their purpose in life was distorted, and their concept of self was so lacking in integration, it was not long before they lay like melting snowmen in the streets so ready to receive them. Many of them were quite young.

We can all claim a share in the culture that nurtures such conditions. The longer we persist in the indecisive and pointless neutrality that substitutes for social and cultural purpose, we will have men wasting away. Religion insists that man's life has meaning—that man is created purposely, and the meaning of his life rests in the purpose of his Creator.

We must decide who we are, to what we belong, before we can be anything at all.

PAUL SHELTON
Chaplain, Force Troops

Short Round

After more than a decade of guard duty at the Laboratory in Silver Springs, Md., the marines are 40-man guard platoon was replaced by a civilian garrison handles perimeter security patrols. The withdrawal of the Navy-wide program to turn such guard duties over to release the marines for other military work.

Ten men of the 1st MT Bn., Camp Pendleton, were awarded meritorious mast for their aid to injured victims of a plane crash near San Bernardino, March 4. The 10 were in lead vehicles of a convoy when three automobiles and two house trailers were involved in a collision. The men rendered first aid and kept the area clear while danger of explosion from a leaking gas tank was eminent.

Headquarters Marine Corps is displeased because of the lack of know-how on the part of the Marine Corps clerks. In a terse directive to the field, Headquarters notes sadly that "in many instances personnel engaged in administrative duties are inadequately trained to perform their assigned tasks." It has also been urged that administrative personnel avail themselves of various correspondence courses given by the Marine Corps Institute.

Although E-8 and E-9 ratings have not become eligible personnel have started storing away all they can for the probable forthcoming exams by which promotions will probably be made by a naval service-wide exam will be some time this summer. From the tests will be the rule until the allocations for the next filled up. Insignias and names for the new naval ratings have been made.

The third state of the union to withdraw from the program was Texas. The other two are Ohio and Rhode Island. Medical Association voted to withdraw, blasting government regulations. Dr. W. E. Sharpe charged the medicare program as a springboard for socialization. Both the TMA and Office for Dependent Medical Care said the action would be on the care of military dependents in Texas.

At the MCRD, San Diego, there's a historic rifle heap of feudin', fightin', and a-fussin' attached to it. A civilian employee there, owns a Winchester rifle, which longed to "Cap" Hatfield of the famous Hatfield-McCoy. Hatfields didn't kid around . . . seven notches on the old man seven dead McCoys!

10TH MARINES UNDERGO TWO WEEKS

Artillerymen of the Second Division's Tenth Marines, along with supporting elements, returned from Ft. Bragg, N. C., April 26, after two weeks of intensive training on the Army's extensive artillery ranges.

Bragg, home of the Army's 82nd Airborne Division, has been the scene of many field firing problems for the cannoneers of the Division. In the 12-year period since the Tenth Marines came to Camp Lejeune they have travelled to Fort Bragg many times for firing exercises.

While at Bragg the Leathernecks fired 105mm howitzers,

4.2 mortars, and other weapons organic to the regiment. The light, compact mortars were taken to the ranges for the first time. Their position in the artillery regiment has been cemented now that Marine divisions are to become air transportable under the new concepts of warfare in this nuclear age.

The regiment uses the ranges at Bragg for several reasons: principally, there are three impact zones there compared to Lejeune's single impact area, and the additional space needed for maneuvering the heavier artillery guns is plentiful.

An advance party departed for Mott Lake, on the reservation of Bragg, one week before the regiment arrived, April 13, to construct a galley and set up water points.

READY TO FIRE—Lieutenant Colonel J. Spritzen, S-3, and Major J. Sammartino, with field telephone, check with Army authorities before cannoneers of the Tenth Marines fire their howitzers into the McPherson impact area. The Army officials were informed when and where all rounds were to be fired by the S-3 section as a safety measure during the two-week period that the regiment was at Ft. Bragg.

Artillerymen Fired

In the midst of World War I it was planned to send 38 seven-inch naval guns to France for the operations planned for the offensive of 1919. "The operation of these guns," the orders read, "is intended to be entrusted to a regiment of marines." Thus the Tenth Regiment was formed.

This activation of the Tenth as an artillery regiment gave the unit its distinction of being the traditional artillery regiment of the Marine Corps. And rightly so, because 158 years of Marine history had slipped by before it became necessary to use regimental artillery in direct support of infantry troops.

The history of marine artillery in support of infantry troops is traced back to Panama in 1885 by historians. This artillery infantry venture consisted of one company of artillery armed with 3-inch field pieces and Gatling guns, in support of a field expeditionary regiment.

History has indicated that the Panama maneuvers of 1885 were probably rehearsals for their counterparts today—the Regimental Combat Teams.

Prior to the Panama action Marines served with artillery units in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812 when Washington, D. C., was burned by British forces.

Between 1812 and our own Civil War, artillery detachments, manned by leathernecks, fought bravely against the Indians and the Mexicans. John Brown was captured at Harper's Ferry by a marine artillery lieutenant, Israel Green, who had two howitzers under his command against Brown's fortified arsenal.

In the Spanish War, the marine battalion in Cuba included a company of artillery. The 3-inch landing guns of 1888 were used against the Spaniards as an assault-demolition weapon. Later, these same short range, compact guns were used effectively in the capture of Tientsin, China, during the Boxer uprising of 1900.

With the formation of the Tenth in January, 1918, it was planned that they would play a key role in World War I in France during 1919. However, the signing of the Armistice at Versailles found the regiment still training at Quantico.

After World War I the Tenth Regiment was reduced to battalion strength and its designation changed to 1st Separate Field Artillery Bn., composed of four companies, the 1st, 9th, 13th, and 21st.

This dissolution didn't interrupt the reputation that the Tenth had gained for itself during training exercises under Lieutenant Colonel Robert H. Dunlap, Lieutenant Chandler Campbell, Colonel Dion William, and Colonel Richard M. Cutts. These original commanders of the Tenth had instilled the principles of their profession into the personnel of their command.

Training continued and the heralded 7-inch guns were abandoned in favor of the lighter and more mobile 75mm (pack) howitzers and long range field pieces. The 105's and 155's were added as they were improved.

On January 1, 1921, the artillery of the Marine Corps became a regiment for the second time when the 1st Separate Field Artillery Battalion was designated the Tenth Regiment.

Joining the Third Brigade in April, 1921, the Tenth sent batteries to Wilderness Run, Va., to participate in the fall maneuvers of the East Coast Expeditionary Forces. One company, the 9th, was detached on January 9, 1922, for duty as Marine Expeditionary Detachment, Control Force, United States Atlantic Fleet in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, until April, 1922, when it rejoined the regiment at Quantico.

January 1924 marked one of the many turning points for the Tenth. Minus only one company, the 4th, the Tenth Marines boarded ships and sailed in strength for Culebra, Puerto Rico. With the regiment went the largest array of armaments the Marine Corps could muster.

The relatively small but rapidly growing son of marine fighting teams took to Culebra six 155's, 12 75's, four 3-inch anti-aircraft guns, forward observation posts adjacent to the targets, and airplanes. In the case of the mortars, BC (battery commander) scopes, set up behind the batteries, were used by the observers as a check on the gun crews.

Observation planes, EO's, and helicopters, HOK's, from VMO-1, New River Air Facility, carried observers and spotters over the impact areas for the artillery-men.

Colonel Thomas inspected his regiment and the supporting elements on Saturday, April 19. The parade ground sharp Marines in their clean utilities stood in front of mud-free guns and vehicles on an abandoned airstrip for the inspection. One of the members of the regimental inspection party was moved to comment on the appearance of the troops and the equipment. It had rained continuously for several days before the inspection.

Major General J. C. Burger, Division commanding general, and Colonel W. R. Collins, assistant chief of staff, G-3, visited the base camp near Lake Mott and the outlying battalion command posts on April 21. The general and his party moved from the base camp out to the other battalion areas by jeeps and helicopters. The battalions were deployed over a large area around the impact zones.

Detachments from VMO-1, 2nd Service Regt, 2nd Engr. Bn., 2nd MT Bn., 2nd Shore Party Bn., 2nd Tank Bn., 2nd Med. Bn., and Comma. Co., supported the cannoners during the field firing problem.

the West Coast. Two years later the Second Battalion sent "F" Battery to China to protect American lives and property during the Sino-Japanese war. They returned to their San Diego base in April, 1938.

The Tenth Regiment returned to peacetime training and exercises during 1936-37 with the Fleet Marine Force. On the East Coast the 1st Bn. participated in exercises in the Caribbean area while the 2nd Bn., stationed at San Diego, engaged in exercises with the U. S. Pacific Fleet off the West Coast.

Training continued in 1939 on the East Coast at Culebra and on San Clemente Island. This acquired experience in the art of artillery firing was to be put to use in a very short time when the United States found itself drawn into World War II in December, 1941.

The strength of the Tenth Regiment just two and a half years before World War II, April, 1939, consisted of two battalions.

Returning to normal times and maneuvers, the Tenth Marines engaged with other marine units in the training of combined arms—infantry, artillery, and air.

With the formation of the Eleventh Marines from the 1st Bn. and the organization of a new 1st Bn. at San Diego, November, 1940, the Tenth Marines were together for the first time.

The Tenth Marines came in for a long range increase in both personnel and materiel during the next 12-month period. The 3rd Bn. was activated January 1, 1941, the 4th Bn. on April 11, 1941, and the 5th Bn. on February 10, 1942.

With World War II imminent, the battalions were once again scattered around the globe. The 2nd Bn. left San Diego for Iceland as part of the Reinforced Sixth Marines, 1st Marine Brigade (Provisional), in May, 1941; the 1st Bn. went to American Samoa with the 2nd Brigade in January, 1941; the 4th and 5th Bns. were attached to the Second Marines for the Tulagi landing. After the Guadalcanal campaign the Tenth Regiment was regrouped in New Zealand as part of the infant 2nd Marine Division.

After Guadalcanal and Tulagi the Tenth Marines hop-scotched across the Pacific with the 2nd Division at Tarawa, Saipan, and Tinian, all leading to Japan and the coming occupation. The 2nd Bn. as a separate unit, saw action on Okinawa. During July, 1944, elements from the Tenth Marines participated in the campaign of Agrinan Island about 50 miles north of Saipan. This operation gave the regiment the honor of capturing one of the last enemy-held islands during World War II.

Along with the 2nd Division in September, 1945, the Tenth took part in the occupation of Japan. They returned to the United States in July, 1946, and came to Camp Lejeune, their permanent home.

Behind the desk of Colonel G. B. Thomas, present regimental commander, can be found the colors of the unit with nine battle streamers and 17 silver bands.

Korea found a major percentage of the Tenth's personnel in the Far East, though the regiment itself remained here at Camp Lejeune. They were ready for the police action and moved out one month after the start of hostilities.

Routine maneuvers and training for the Tenth Marines since the Korean conflict has been conducted here at Camp Lejeune, the artillery ranges at Ft. Bragg, in the Mediterranean with NEML battalions, and Vieques, Puerto Rico.

Whether in peace or war, the Tenth Regiment has always been ready to perform everything that was asked of it.

TOWINNING COMEDY OPENS WEDNESDAY

'You Can't Take It With You' Set For Three-Day Billing At Bldg. 300

The Camp Lejeune Little Theater has transformed Bldg. 300 into the Paper Mill playhouse or a very near facsimile in preparation for their adaptation of the Pulitzer Prize winning play, "You Can't Take It With You."

Scheduled for a three-night run commencing May 14, the play, written by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, will take the rugged and hardy playgoer back to those uninhibited days when people did as they pleased whenever they wished.

The play, later made into an Academy Award cinema, depicts the life of a Manhattan family of the Bohemian vintage and the criss-cross affects of their arty ways when differences occur.

Quantico To Inaugurate East Coast Baseball Play-Offs Tomorrow Night

Resumption of East Coast Marine Corps competition will commence tomorrow night when the

SALE OF BEER

It has been announced by the Base Special Service Officer, Lieutenant Colonel M. D. Benda, that beer will be sold at all home baseball games starting with the Quantico series tomorrow night at Harry Agganis field.

The sales will be on a trial basis only until it has been established that spectators will not abuse the privilege.

Quantico Leathernecks are hosted by the local nine at Harry Agganis field in a three-game series. Originally scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m., all night tilts will get underway throughout the rest of the season at 8 p.m.

The game with Quantico Sunday will start at 2 p.m.

The visitors have found it rough going throughout the early portion of the still-young spring. According to latest reports, the Northern team has compiled an 8-13 mark compared to Lejeune's 22-9. The Virginians have lost to several of the top teams in the college circuit; such squads as Brown, VMI, Rider, Yale, Holy Cross and Dartmouth.

However, this is not to say that the local Marines expect easy pickings. By previous indications, both clubs are known for their fighting spirit while opposing one another; more or less a Dodger-Giant or Yankee-Red Sox type feud.

Leading guns in the Quantico attack may be expected from Pete Olson, former U. of Wisconsin ace, who is powering the ball at a .400 clip, but who up until now has seen limited action, coming to bat 20 times in the first 21 tilts.

Of the regulars, Dick Meade (Cornell U.) is the pace-setting batter owning a .328 average.

Skipper Hal Glasgow is expected to go with centerfielder Charley Armstrong, catcher Mick Taylor, leftfielder George Uremovich, shortstop Paul Lacity, rightfielder Hal Horan, third baseman John Keller, first baseman Hal Norton and either Curt Salyer or Lenny Crone at second depending on whether the team is facing a right or left hander.

Gerry Smith, a 17-game winner with Quantico last year, will open against the visitors—Saturday, Jim Donnelly will hurl with John Hellmer twirling Sunday.

Meanwhile, south of here, the rampaging Parris Island Marines have kept up their winning pace.

Parris Island, defending East Coast champs, have to date a 20-4 record. Lejeune faces the Island team May 20 in a three-game series at the local park.

Pin Hitters Stave Off Competing Strikers

Last-night play in the Staff NCO Wives Bowling League saw the Pin Hitters break a near deadlock for first place by downing the Hot Shots 4-0. The winning kegglers, led by Dottie Getchel with a 157 high game and Sara Chutt with top series of 407, moved away from last week's contenders, the Lucky Strikes, who were only one game out coming into last night's action.

Leading scorers for the losing Hot Shots were Rae Cleveland with high game of 144 and Neil Alford with a 389 series.

The second place Lucky Strikes were defeated by the Maple Mixers as the Mixers maintained their third place show. Their upset over the Lucky Strikes was not enough to bring them into contention for the second billet.

For the second place Strikers it was Jeanne Ward leading the pace again with both game and series, 166-641. Gean Sedlemier also held down both scoring honors for the Mixers scattering the pins for a 164-401.

The post season banquet and presentations will be held tomorrow night at the Hadnot Point staff club.

Football Aspirants Requested To Sign

Base Special Services announced that plans are being made to form the 1958 Camp Lejeune football edit. Candidates are requested to sign a card of intent at the Office in the Goettge Memorial field house beginning Saturday.

A two week screening period will commence July 14. The first game of the year will be against the Norfolk Tars on September 20 at Liversedge field.

According to Navy Times, Little Creek, one of last year's opponents, has dropped football and will combine with Navy squads in the area. The Norfolk Tars are designated as the local Tars.

Plans are afoot in preparation for a Red Feather to be played on a rotation between the Tars, Quantico and local Marines.

The dates with the Norfolk Tars on October 25 has been announced. The number of games is expected to be five. The season's opener.

Back at the helm of the local team is Coach Wil "E" Overton with end mentor Coach Skipper Bernie Kaas. Year tutor with the team has orders to report to the Player-coaches. Ernie John Williams will be the Marines Corps during the month. Brown will be the Angeles Rams' summer

Anderson's 79 Tops In Divvy Golf Matches

Second Division golf activity picked up this week in the Eighth Marines as H&S Co. defeated Third Bn. 13½-10½. A. R. Anderson, 3rd Bn., turned in the best round of the day with a 79 at the Paradise Point golf course.

In the three-team league, 2nd Bn. is on top with a 2-0 record, H&S Co. is in the middle with 1-1, and trailing in the cellar, 3rd Bn. with no wins and two losses.

The Second Marines played their first match last week. 1st Bn. took Hq. Bn. 12½-11½. P. B. Barnett carded a 78.

All of the intramural units have their eyes on the 2nd Division tournament slated to begin June 23 on the Paradise Point golf course.

Instructions In Sailing Extended To Skippers

Qualified sailing instructions are now available at the Wallace Creek boathouse.

Col. William C. Carhart, Chairman of the Boathouse Committee, has invited all interested personnel in receiving lessons to call the boathouse at 7-3680.

Names should be submitted and the time desired for instruction so that classes may be arranged in the near future.

WM Base Team B Play Saturday

Camp Lejeune's Marine Corps ball team will begin its Saturday afternoon work off against Charleston on the first try of a two-game first Afrwomen's baseball.

The first home contest will be against Parris Island on May 20.

Holdovers from the squad include catcher Alexander, infielder Parris, and outfielder Nancy Guess. Coach Nancy Kark.

Lorenda Shelton, also of the local nine and year of service completed, is expected to see a great deal of action along with Kark. The latter was an outstanding former in service ball compiling a won-lost record in regular season play.

Mrs. Bryant Wins 'A' Flight

A "Nine Hole Penalty Tournament" was played by the WGA last week at the Paradise Point golf course.

"A" flight winner was Mrs. G. M. Bryant. Mesdames A. L. Everett, H. H. Haite and R. V. Anderson all knotted for the runner-up slot.

Mrs. F. H. Saitta captured "B" flight while Mrs. A. G. Folsom was second.

"C" flight was taken by Mrs. R. K. Miller. Runner-up was Mrs. G. B. Doyle. Mrs. C. H. Ingram was first in "D" flight.

INTRAMURAL SUPREMACY—Brigadier General Austin R. Brunelli, Base commanding general, right, presents the General's Cup to Colonel R. D. Weber, commanding officer, MCSS, in an informal ceremony Friday in General Brunelli's office. The Cup, won by the Supply men on three occasions in the last four years, is awarded the MCB intramural champions. Looking on is First Lieutenant John F. Williams, Base athletic officer.

Locals Dropped By Ft. Lee, 4-1, In Initial Home Defeat

Camp Lejeune dropped its first home game of the season to Ft. Lee, 4-1, in a rain-hamp-ered contest Monday night as the Marines returned to Agganis field and an enthusiastic crowd of 504 fans after 14 games on the road. Their record now stands at 22-9.

Gerry Smith was tagged with the loss, giving up three runs on seven hits before being relieved by Leroy Mason at the end of the fifth. Bob Theiss was the winning pitcher, allowing one run on seven hits and one error in going the distance.

Singles were scattered liberally for both teams with Hal Norton picking up two for four to lead the Marines. Ft. Lee was able to muster two extra base hits during the tilt.

Lee wrapped up the game in the fourth inning by jumping to a 3-0 lead. They capitalized on two doubles and a costly Lejeune error in the frame to gun their rally.

Lejeune's short-lived spurt came in the eighth as shortstop Paul Lacity took a walk with one away. Norton banged a single to left and got an extra base on a fielder's error that allowed Lacity to score. Third baseman John Keller grounded out and Norton moved to third but was left standing when left fielder George Uremovich failed to reach first on an infield grounder for the last out.

After being rained out on a return game with Ft. Lee Tuesday, Lejeune played the Army squad Wednesday night. Results were not available at GLOBE presstime.

In their swing through the South during the latter part of last week, the local contingent dropped two while winning their last three encounters before returning home.

Pherson, John Hellmer pitched one of his finest games of the year only to suffer his first setback of the campaign.

The Lejeune hurler gave up nine hits for six runs, struck out one while walking two. Three of the winners' runs were unearned as the Marines committed three costly errors.

The locals' lone run came in the seventh when Don Boyer singled across Keller who had previously bingled.

The varsity got back to its winning ways when they swept a two-game series from Ft. Gordon (7-0 and 8-1) and wound up the road trip Sunday with a 9-2 victory over Shaw AFB.

Jim Herrington won his second game of the year when he blanked Ft. Gordon in the opener behind a five five-hit hurling performance. In facing 32 batters, Herrington fanned six and walked only one.

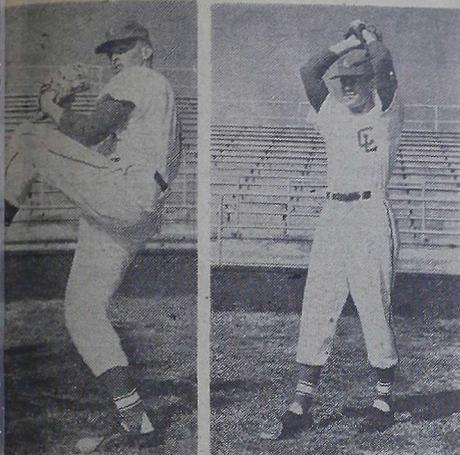

The Marines came to life early when they scored in the initial frame on Keller's single which sent Lacity home. Five were added in the second with Norton exploding a double and Mick Taylor and Uremovich each contributing singles.

Smith played the role of the relief artist in the second Ft. Gordon fray when he relieved starter Jim Donnelly after four frames and as a result picked up his sixth win of the campaign in the seven-inning affair.

The Lejeune hurler pitched a two-hitter the rest of the way while striking out three and issuing one free pass. The Marines collected seven hits.

The Army nine went ahead momentarily in the second. Lejeune was unable to tally until the fourth when Uremovich scored an unearned run. One more was added in the next frame with Lacity doubling.

(See MARINES ADD THREE, Page 10)

ROSE QUANTICO—Gerry Smith, right, and Jim Donnelly, left, are scheduled to face Quantico in the weekend Harry Agganis field. Smith will open the three-game series with Donnelly going Saturday evening, John Holler the Sunday tilt. The two night contests will start at 7 p.m. while Sunday's fray will commence at 2 p.m.

Sports in short

PFC WILLIAM SMITH

THIN MAN REAPS THE HARVEST

The great American past-time stars, ranging from the short and squat, to the lean and the big "Moose." Baseball is one sport that size is relative only to the heart and desire are. Players aren't born. They develop and are bestow upon them.

big names don't have to be reserved to major league ball. Outstanding players can be found right down the street in sandlot at the local high school park.

Marine Corps has seen many stars pass through the ranks—Harry Agganis and Dan Bankhead, just to mention a few.

local sports writer's nomination for All-Marine honors at Agganis goes to Mick Taylor, a rather unassuming chap listed on the roster as a catcher.

observer can't stop there once they see him in action.

of all he looks no more like a catcher than shortstop Paul Lacity, the club's leading hitter. The "Thin Man" isn't exactly like the typically stereotyped player the spectator usually associates with the game. In fact, one might say, if he moves too fast, his shadow has a hard time catching up with him.

Mick weighs in at 155 pounds on an even six-foot frame. This is a far cry from the usual 200-pounder behind the plate.

The best way to describe him is that he is fluid motion in a position that is perhaps the most awkward to handle. His motion is near perfection whether it's handling a hurler who has had little trouble with the men he's faced or whether there have been nine runs scored by the opponents.

His smoothness seems to rub off on the pitchers, especially when they're in trouble.

Earlier in the year, Mick was singled out as one of the finest catchers in the Marine Corps today. He may well be on his way to becoming one of the finest in Service competition.

He commands respect from anyone whom he faces, especially from those who come tearing down the third base line thinking they'll barrel over the "Thin Man" covering the plate.

perhaps his biggest asset this year is Mick's continual and climb in the batting average department. The climb was slow at first, but after their second road trip, Mick was hitting around the quarter-century mark. When the squad came home, Mick's average had gone up to .307.

"Thin Man" indicates that he has a heart for the game and he conducts himself whether it be on the field or off. A petitive spirit has a snowballing effect which seems to be the men associated with him.

sure bet that the success of the team can be in part attributed to the doings of Mick Taylor around home plate. And perhaps the honors are extended at the close of the season, there will be a Valuable Player Award for a catcher who acts with the poise of a much-seasoned veteran behind the plate and who can readily call one of their finest.

Gray, Rishel Pilot 'Rebel' To Victory

With a winning time of 1:00.31, Jim Gray and Austin Rishel nosed out last week's winners in the second race of the spring series at the Wallace Creek boathouse Saturday. Under winds ranging from 15 to 30 knots, they were a scant 52 seconds ahead of Dave and Judy Marcan who placed second in 1:01.23 for the eight-mile course. A field of 10 "Rebel" class boats and their crews were entered.

With three races still to go in the series, the winners picked up 10 1/2 points for their victory. The Mareans tallied another nine to add to the five and one half scored for last week's win.

Points vary according to the number of entries in each race. The final race will be run as a feature at the aqua show to be held at the boathouse on May 24.

Good winds and bright days were assets to a full weekend at the boathouse as a capacity turnout was hosted Saturday and Sunday.

Mixed Keg Loop Slated To Commence May 19

A Mixed Bowling League will be formed at the Paradise Point Officer's club. Anyone wishing to affiliate may do so by calling either Mrs. Ralph Bixby (6-6601) or Major Paul Wood (6-6371).

The keg loop will get under way commencing May 19. All persons must sign up prior to May 16. Four man teams will be entered. However, the league secretary will assign any individual to a team if they so desire.

The league will run for approximately 17 weeks throughout the summer months.

Bernier Raps First Pitch For Homer In Pup Win

Camp Lejeune's Devilpups dropped two games while winning one in last week's baseball play. The lone win came at the expense of Beaufort in a 4-2 victory.

Joe Bernier started the proceedings as he poled the first delivery off losing pitcher P. Hassell for a homer to put the Pups ahead 1-0 in the Beaufort contest. In the same inning, the Devilpups tallied two more times before their uprising was halted.

One more marker was added in the sixth. Leading the high school attack was John Lowe with two singles in four trips to the plate.

Art Potts and Dick Moore combined on a one-hit pitching performance, allowing two runs while the Lejeunites picked up six blows.

Earlier in the week, the Pups were held to three hits and the same number of runs as Richlands dropped the locals with an eight-hit barrage good for four tallies.

The Wildcast went ahead in the first inning, 2-0, only to have the Devilpups tie the score in the fourth on an error, walk and two hits.

However, pitcher John Dunning was unable to hold the eventual winners as Richlands came back to tally single runs in the sixth and seventh.

Lejeune scored once more in the last frame and threatened with two base runners. However, the fire was extinguished when a Pup was called out on interference.

Monday, Jones Central stopped the Pups on a one-hitter by Joe Spence and 5-2 victory margin.

Jim McCarville was the losing pitcher and banded out the only hit for the Pups in the losing cause. The young hurler gave up six hits while his teammates were committing five costly errors.

The Pups host Swansboro this afternoon in the wind up of the season. Their record now stands at 4-5.

LEAD OFF HOMER—Joe Bernier crosses the plate after he rapped the first pitch of the ball game for a home run against Beaufort. The Pups went on to take the tilt, 4-2, behind the combined one-hit hurling of Art Potts and Dick Moore. Watching the action is the visitors' catcher, Paul Halsey.

1958 NORTH CAROLINA FISHING RULES—I received a call recently that a couple of marines had been picked up by the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission for not having licenses. The report further stated that there was a misunderstanding on the part of the marines as to what constitutes residence in N. C. and the use of a given type of bait.

In order to help clear up some of the confusion that exists, I thought I'd set forth some of the requirements for servicemen: All non-residents over 12 years of age must obtain a non-resident fishing license. Non-resident servicemen and their families assigned to military facilities in the State are authorized to use a State resident fishing license. A county license may be obtained only after having lived in the county for a period of six months; in other words, in order to establish eligibility for a resident fishing license in North Carolina, a person must have lived in the State for at least six months immediately preceding the date of making application for said license. All licenses expire with the calendar year except the combination hunting and fishing license, which runs from August 1 to July 31. No license is required for any type of salt water fishing. If in doubt about requirements about a license, call the Base Warden at phone 75319, and 73314 after hours.

Also, all anglers should read paragraph 1005, Base Regulations. One statement from these regulations requires, "All persons fishing on the reservation must observe current Federal and State fishing laws." An adage—"It's better to be safe than sorry."

Fishing license fees for North Carolina are as follows:

State resident combination hunt. & fish. license	$5.25
State resident fishing license	4.10
County resident fishing license	1.10
One-day resident fishing permit	.60
Nonresident one-day fishing permit	1.10
Nonresident State fishing license	6.10
Special resident trout license	1.10
Special nonresident trout license	2.10

Here is a picture of Master Sergeant H. Aab, Food Service School, MCSS, MCB, with his 44 pound channel bass caught this past week at the Topsis pier.

Sergeant Aab truthfully said that this fish is one pound under one caught by Sergeant Stanley Reed which had been previously reported to this column. To catch this monster, Sergeant Aab used a cut mullet fish finder.

NAGS HEAD—Largemouth bass are now hitting lures in waters of Dare Coast, and the fish were averaging out at six pounds each. The baits used were a bucktail lure, Johnson Silver spoons and porkrind.

It was also reported, at my request, that fresh water fishing has been very good in East Lake waters recently according to game protector W. S. White. He stated that the fish have been more plentiful than the anglers.

FISHING RODEO—South Eastern North Carolina Beach Association's 13th Annual Fishing Rodeo got under way last week, May 1, and will continue through November 30.

Prizes will be given at the end of the season for the largest of the 24 salt water species eligible in the Rodeo.

The area included in the Rodeo is from Swansboro to the South Carolina line, and every fisherman is eligible to enter. NO PRIOR REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED.

Entry blanks will be available at all fishing piers, weighing stations and charter boats in the area. These blanks, when filled out, should be mailed to SENCBA, Box 285, Wilmington, N. C., Marines are urged to enter this contest.

LOOK, MA! ONE SKI—Roger Montague of the Wallace Creek boathouse might be saying this as he practices for the coming aquatic show to be given on the opening day of the boathouse, May 24, largest of Camp Lejeune's boating facilities. The day-long show will cover all the activities handled there plus rides in available craft. Picnic areas will be open for those wishing to spend the day.

Dashman, Miler Outstanding In Inter-Squad Meet May

Camp Lejeune's varsity cindermen were inactive this week as North Carolina college cancelled Saturday's meet at the college campus.

However, the coaches broke the local team down into two separate units for an inter-squad meet Saturday morning. Pat Altieri's crew won a close meet over Al Terry's trackmen by a 60-55 margin.

Outstanding performances were turned in by sprinter Tom Jennings who ran a 0:9.9 in the century after getting off to a poor start and by last year's All-Marine mile winner, Glen Wood, who was clocked in his speciality at 4:26.8.

Tony Szalkowski neared the All-Marine hammer mark with a toss of 144'6", approximately a half-foot off the listed record.

The track team will travel to Ft. Bragg May 17 to meet the 82nd Airborne Division squad. Shaw AFB will be hosted the following week and the dual portion of the season will conclude with a tentatively scheduled meet here against North Carolina college. Already entered in the rine Track and Field meet to be held at this Base camp, Cherry Point, 3rd Division, Parris Island and CO-CAPTAINS—Pat Altieri, left, and Al Terry have been co-captains for the 1958 varsity track squad. Altieri has all-around performer in the weight events while Terry has outstanding in the dashes. The local track squad is currently leading the 82nd Airborne Division on May 17 in an away encounter.

home as Lejeune tallied markers. Simpson paced attack by banging out five trips to the plate. Charley Armstrong in the sixth to help account for two runs.

Mitch Tomaszewicz won his third tilt when he scattered nine hits against Shaw with the losers finally scoring single runs in the last two frames. In going the distance, Tomaszewicz walked three while gaining five strikeouts.

Lacity exploded a triple to score Tomaszewicz after the latter had singled in the third for the initial Lejeune run.

Singles by Cliff Simpson and Salyer and a double by Taylor sent three across in the sixth.

Norton and Uremovich contributed the deciding hits in the seventh as the Marines came up with three more runs.

Simpson tripled in the last frame to send Taylor and Uremovich home as Lejeune tallied markers. Simpson paced attack by banging out five trips to the plate. Charley Armstrong in the sixth to help account for two runs.

Midway Park's Nine Adds Two

Midway Park's squad picked up two victories to eight games with one back to mar their record.

Sunday, Midway Park Camp Geiger, 7-2. That evening, Harold Peck hit the distance against the 11-3 win.

Outstanding performance was John Dominick's defensive efforts in leading the losers to three tall-

Group II Stops 8th Marines In Division Exhibition

In an exhibition baseball game Saturday afternoon Group II outlasted the 8th Marines, 11-8, at the latter's camp which begins this week.

It was a hitter's battle all the way with the exception of a strong pitching performance turned in by Group II's Joe Gueoconto, who silenced the 8th Marines' bats with three innings of shutout ball.

In the top of the fourth, Group II opened the doors to victory when outfielder Tom Bierwiler led off the inning with a single to left and advanced to third on two wild pitches. Angelo Varrichio followed with a sharp single to bring in Bierwiler with the first run of the ballgame.

Group II, who stayed ahead for the remainder of the contest, scored their second run of the inning when rightfielder Bill Hessler capped a double to send Gueoconto across the plate.

The 8th Marines closed to 2-1 in the bottom fifth stanza when center Penrose binged to send Sam Djesus in from

In the top half of Group II's Al Woolf the winners a wide margin with men on first as he sent a towering upward left field. Player Campbell lost the ball allowing Woolridge to base paths, with the base runners tallying making the score start AXES AND HATCHETS—Off to a huge Boy Scouts of America Camporee at Greenville, N. C., last weekend were three Scout Packs from Camp Lejeune. Loading on buses the Scouts left Friday, set camp at Greenville and took part in the many Scouting activities at the Camporee. They returned Sunday afternoon after a well-rounded work-out in the field.

Three Scout Troops Attend Eastern Carolina Camporee

Axes and hatchets in hand, patrol flags and electric lanterns swinging, three Camp Lejeune Boy Scout troops joined more than 2,300 Scouts throughout the Eastern Carolina region for a weekend camporee which began last Friday at Greenville, N. C., and ended Sunday afternoon.

Troops 90, 190 and 390 from Lejeune were among the thousands of Scouts taking part in what is the largest yearly Scout gathering in this area.

Reporting to their area headquarters on Friday, the Scouts set up a troop and patrol camp, bulletin board and exhibits and then got acquainted with neighboring troops. After a supper hour and cleanup they went visiting before holding a troop camp fire at 8 p.m. Yates went at 10 p.m. and taps at 10:15 p.m.

Saturday morning's schedule found the troops in their area for judging of projects, followed by a cleanup. They attended two Camporee Scoutcraft events and at 5:30 p.m. held retreat assembly for formal lowering of the flag. Area campfires that evening were followed by taps at 10 p.m. After the close of the convocation program in which troop pennant winners' and patrol ribbon winners were announced, the troops left for Lejeune. During the Camporee, dedicated to the theme "Onward For God and My Country," special emphasis was placed on troop leadership, advancement, conservation, safety, camping, citizenship and many other aspects of Boy Scout activities. All patrols were encouraged to do their own cooking and waste heating with charcoal and to set up their camps in a neat and orderly manner. Earning points for advancement made during the Camporee, each pack was awarded points for having such things as patrol medical forms filled out before hand, a patrol "Good Turn," project camporee training, a safety project, the Scout camping done since the 1957 camporee, for keeping a year round patrol log and for conservation projects.

The literary prize named in honor of Joseph Pulitzer has just been awarded posthumously by the Trustees of Columbia University to James Agee for his A DEATH IN THE FAMILY. This prize winning novel is in the collection of the Central Library.

With DAY OF BATTLE, by Frederic F. Van De Water, you will find historical fiction at its best. The story covers Vermont's heroic effort, following the fall of Fort Ticonderoga in 1777, to equip an army to resist the British. Told with all the color of the times, an authentic background of accurately drawn events, vital characters set correctly in space and time, the book presents romance, conflict and the daily joys and sorrows of an appealing hero and his friends.

Enlisted Club

A dance at Marston Pavilion tonight from 9 to midnight will be to the music of Homer Briarhopper and his orchestra, featuring "Grandpa Jones."

Appropriate country and western clothing is encouraged for the dance and a liberal prize will be given for the best male and female costumes.

For sergeants and below, their dependents and guests, the club is open Mondays and Tuesdays for unit parties only. The main bar and couples lounge is open Wednesday through Friday from 5:30 p.m. until 10 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays from 2 p.m. until 10 p.m.

On Saturday night, May 17, the Division Combo will play for dancing from 9 to midnight.

MOVIE CHANGE

There will be no 6:30 p.m. movie tonight at the Camp Theater. It will be replaced by a one-hour stage show with Grandpa Jones and Homer Briarhopper, starting at 7 p.m. The 8:30 p.m. movie will be shown as scheduled.

THE THREE FACES OF EVE ΔΔΔΔΔ
A must for those who missed her before, Joanne Woodward portrays the multiple-personality in excellent performance. Lee J. Cobb as the psychiatrist takes her through the terrible ordeal. This is the true story of a woman with a multiple personality and the battle for survival of just one of those personalities. Don't miss it! It's to be followed up with a book soon to be published giving later data on the case. (91 min.)

MACABRE ΔΔΔ
A cemetery at midnight and undertaking parlor entered by stealth and explored by flashlight are principal settings. Will Prince, as a small town doctor whose 3-year-old daughter disappears; Jim Backus as the local sheriff and rival for the love of the child's dead mother; Jonathan Kidd as the town undertaker. (73 min.)

DRAGSTRIP RIOT
Stars Yvonne Lime and Gary Clarke. No information available. (78 min.)

THE GENTLE TOUCH ΔΔΔ
A leisurely-paced story of the varying motivations that draw young women into the nursing profession and keep them there after they discover the heartaches, druggery and discipline of life in a hospital. Dianna Wynyard has the leading role as the matron. (96 min.)

MONKEY ON MY BACK ΔΔΔ
Based on the life story of ex-boxing champion and Silver Star winner Marine Barney Ross, this depicts the tremendous fight Ross made to overcome the degradation which narcotic habit induces in its victims and tells the rise and fall of this outstanding man who finally made the grade. Stars Cameron Mitchell and Dianne Foster. (93 min.)

RIFIIFI ΔΔ
A French film with English subtitles. Out of prison after five years, Jean Servais beats up Marie Sabouret, his former girl friend now living with Marcel Lupovic, after which he joins former comrades in the burglary of a jewelry store. The word "RIFIIFI" means trouble and it's all through the pix. (120 min.)

THIS HAPPY FEELING
A color drama starring Debbie Reynolds, Curt Jurgens, Alexis Smith and Mary Astor. (91 min.)

CRY TERROR ΔΔΔΔ
A nerve-wracking thriller and one of the best of its kind to hit the screen in years and years. It concerns the diabolical plan of an intellectual criminal to extort money from an airlines company by threatening to destroy passenger planes in mid-air through miniature time bombs. It stars James Mason and Rod Steiger. (90 min.)

TOO MUCH TOO SOON ΔΔΔ
Dorothy Malone portrays Diana Barry, more accepting an engagement in a Broadway play which leads her to Hollywood. The pix deals mainly with drunks and alcoholics. Errol Flynn portrays the staggering John Barrymore. Strictly for adults it is the sad story of a female alcoholic and how she got that way. (92 min.)

RUN SILENT RUN DEEP ΔΔΔΔΔ
Clark Gable and Burt Lancaster in a taut story of undersea warfare. Gable has lost his sub in the dreaded Congo Straits where four other U. S. subs have been sunk. Tied to a desk job, he thrives for revenge and gets the opportunity with command of the Nerka. Lancaster, chief officer of that ship, has expected the command. Some really fine scenes of sub maneuvers and convoy attacks. (93 min.)

ONLY THE FRENCH CAN ΔΔΔ
A French flick with English titles, this stars Jean Gabin in the story of the man behind the celebrated Moulou Rouge in Paris, who sees a dancer in a youthful laundress and sends her to a teacher of cancan. He goes broke a time or two, but ownership of the Moulou Rouge is made over to him by a foreign Prince who has fallen in love, in vain, with the young laundress. (90 min.)

MARACAIBO
Stars Cornel Wilde, Jean Wallace and Abbie Lane in an action drama. (90 min.)
JAMBOREE ΔΔ
A rock 'n' roll pix with singers Freda Holloway and Paul Carr who become a sensation boy-girl team. Actions of their agents drive them apart. The young crowd should enjoy this film. (86 min.)

CAMPBELL'S KINGDOM ΔΔΔ
Action, adventure and suspense when Dirk Bogarde, a young Scotsman, arrives in the Canadian Rockies to claim his inheritance, a valley in the midst of the mountains which his grandfather thought held oil. He has been told he has only six months to live. Starring with Bogarde is Margaret Lockwood. (102 min.)

BEAUTIFUL BUT DANGEROUS ΔΔ
An Italian-made film dubbed in English, novice singer Gina Lollobrigida, Vittorio Gassman and Robert Alda star in this film. Gina is the singer in a cafe in Rome who goes on in place of her sick mother. When the audience gets out of hand, Russian Vittorio Gassman comes to her aid. She receives a voice coaching from famous conductor Robert Alda and the rest is the story of her success. (103 min.)
