Revisions In Pay Scale Proposed By Cordiner Group

In addition to its other proposals the Cordiner Committee is submitting a recommendation that time-in-grade and a clean service record be taken into consideration for monetary compensation, this week's Navy Times reported.

Included in the report are a revision of pay scales, with more emphasis on competition and sterner policies against reenlisting the less fit and the possessors of skills less in demand.

On the revision of pay scales, the Cordiner Committee feels that Master Sergeants should always receive more pay than a Technical Sergeant as an example.

Also, the Committee's report points out that industry pays fringe benefits to employees that are, on the average, higher than that which the military offers.

These benefits include retirement, medical care and insurance, (which equals the survivor benefits). These totals are considerably higher than those received by the military for comparable benefits.

The Committee thinks greater selectivity of reenlistments, coupled with better promotion incentives, can build a more competitive, more highly motivated cadre of career men.

The thinking is that men in "ob- solete" or over-staffed specialties should be given an opportunity to shift into more promising fields.

SPORTS BULLETIN

Camp Lejeune's cagers took a 98-84 win over Parris Island in a game played Wednesday night at the South Carolina Base.

According to Sgt. Tommie Bailes, GLOBE reporter traveling with the team, Lejeune led the Islanders throughout the game. After 10 minutes of play, Lejeune led 30-15 and at half-time had a 16-point, 56-40 advantage.

Don Laketa and Terry Telligman with 22 and 20 points respectively led the Lejeune scoring parade.

Maj. Gen. Luckey To Command MCB

Assignment of Maj. Gen. J. C. Burger, commanding general of Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, to the command of the 2nd Marine Division to relieve Maj. Gen. Reginald H. Ridgely Jr., who has been named Inspector General of the Marine Corps, was announced this week.

The new assignments were included in a general assignment release from Headquarters, Marine Corps.

Named to succeed General Burger at Marine Corps Base was Maj. Gen. Robert B. Luckey, who has been serving as deputy chief of staff, research and development, Headquarters, Marine Corps. The transfer of the commands will be effected on July 1.

Also named in the assignment release were Brig. Gen. Jack P. Juhan, commanding general of Force Troops, Atlantic, and Brig. Gen. Randall M. Victory, assistant 2nd Division commander. General Juhan will go to Camp Pendleton as deputy base commander and General Victory will assume joint command of Force Troops, Pacific, and Marine Corps Base, 29 Palms, Calif.

Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Earnshaw, now deputy base commander at Camp Lejeune, will retire June 30. No replacement to his duties has been named yet.

Also announced as retiring are Lt. Gen. Christian F. Schilt, now director of aviation, Assistant Commandant of the Marine Corps; Lt. Gen. Robert H. Pepper, Commanding General, Department of Pacific; and Brig. Gen. Thomas G. McFarland, commanding general of Force Troops, Pacific.

Lt. Gen. Vernon E. McGee will remain as Assistant Commandant (See TRANSFERS, Page 11)

APRIL 15 DEADLINE:

Income Tax School To Be Featured At Camp Theater

The Internal Revenue Service will not have agents present at Camp Lejeune to assist individuals in the preparation of their Federal income tax returns as has been the practice during previous years, according to a Base bulletin.

Instead, a one-day school will be conducted by the revenue agents on the income tax law and the preparation of the two forms at the Camp theater from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. on January 30.

The Director of Internal Revenue states that the Marine can save money for himself and the government if he files his return early and makes sure the figures are correct. The final date for filing is April 15, but taxpayers who wait until the last minute are often prone to make costly mistakes.

Marines will be furnished a W-2 form by the Disbursing officer, which is a statement of gross earnings and tax withheld. They will also be given a filing form, either form 1040A or 1040.

The 1040A blank is often referred to as the "short" form and the easiest to fill out. This form is to be used if the person's gross income was less than $5,000 and consisted entirely of wages reported on the W-2 statement. This type can also be used to file a joint return for husband and wife if their combined income does not exceed the $5,000 maximum.

In filing a joint return, both parties must sign the statement, even though one may not have had an income. The tax can be figured on the combined incomes or on separate incomes, whichever results in the smaller tax or larger rebate.

The short form allows about 10 per cent of your income as deductions and the back of the form is for this purpose. It must be filled (See INCOME TAX, Page 11)

GENERAL TAKES A HAND—Maj. Gen. Joseph Burger, Base commanding general, gets behind the current reenlistment program by personally administering the oath to these 11 men from MCB units. Ten of the men shipped for six years, with the other going for two. The men reenlisted under the current program giving sergeants and below the option of change of duty station, change of MOS, or schooling.

If you ask me...

WHAT DO YOU REMEMBER AS YOUR MOST EMBARRASSING SITUATION?

PFC JOSEPH J. GALLO, 8th Engr. Bn., Force Troops—The day I was discharged from the Air Force, I told all my friends that I would never be seen in uniform again. The next time any of them saw me, I was wearing Marine greens. It's easy to imagine the hazing I had to take after that.

TSGT. LEE R. PRESSLEY, "B" Co., Hq. Bn., MCB — While in New Zealand in 1943, a friend and I ate lunch in a cafe. We each had consumed one and a half fried chickens, a steak, three pork chops, and two pitchers of butter-milk before we discovered the customers and the cafe staff staring at us in disbelief. We had to be helped out of the cafe.

HN GORDON L. ARINGDALE, USNH — I once had to explain why my mother got a letter that started "Dear Darling," and had the usual rhetoric that goes with such a greeting. My girl thought the letter she received was rather boring, also, as I had gotten the addresses reversed. That was a rather ticklish situation for me.

PFC JAMES A. McCLLOUD, "I" Co., 3rd Bn., Sixth Marines—I was given a ride out the main gate by a colonel once, when the MP's decided to hold a shakedown. I had forgotten my wallet and left it in my locker. I was very embarrassed at being taken back to the barracks in an MP truck and having to produce my ID card and liberty card.

PFC ROBERT J. MOSCH, VMO-1, MCAF—My girl friend and I started for a drive in the country once, and in a most unfortunate spot we had a flat tire. Imagine my dismay when I had to admit that I had completely forgotten how to change it.

At Pohang, Korea, before an estimated 2,000 persons, Mr. P. H. Shinsky, Chairman of Korea's National Assembly, dedicated a memorial erected by the people of Korea honoring the "men of the 1st Marine Air Wing who gave their lives in defense of the Republic of Korea."

Marine Corps Cavalry Of Peking Protected American Nationals In China For Thirty-Years

By MSGT. GEORGE BURLAGE
2nd Division Information Office

"A Sad Tale: No More Horse Marines."

This headline, published in the Peking and Tientsin Times of March 13, 1938, told the story of the disbandment of the famed Marine unit which rode the hutongs—narrow alleyways—of China's ancient city for some 30 years.

Formed during the 1911 Revolution which overthrew the Manchus and established the Chinese Republic, the Horse Marines' main role was to protect the American Nationals of the area. In addition they conducted a yearly census of the Americans and acted as MP's to assist men on liberty.

An elite organization, the mounted Detachment was a regular unit of the American Embassy Guard, which had settled in Peking since the days of the Boxers. Other units of the guard consisted of Marine infantry and artillery detachments.

Averaging from 31 to 36 men, the Mounties were commanded by a second lieutenant, assisted by a corporal as his senior non-commissioned officer. Their faithful little Mongolian ponies of about 750 pounds were noted for endurance, high jumps and slides, which made them invaluable for patrol duty.

The only cavalry unit in Marine Corps history, the Peking Mounties adhered to the Army's manual, "Cavalry Tactics and Techniques." They rode in Civil War-type McClellan saddles and each man, in addition to the squad BAR's and machine guns, carried a service rifle, pistol and saber.

Troopers were distinguished by the wearing of a special uniform consisting of tailor-made breeches, with boots and spurs.

Serving the last full tour of duty as NCO in Charge of the Mounties before their disbandment was Cpl. Clyde D. Therrien, now a commissioned warrant officer with Military Police Battalion here, CWO Therrien, retiring this year with 30 years of service, recalls this last tour of duty in Peking.

A riding academy instructor at the time of his enlistment in the Marine Corps, he found his knowledge of horses useful on mounted patrols in the Nicaraguan hills in 1928-29. Later in Haiti, he played polo and tended the corral of polo ponies. In Shanghai with the Fourth Marines in 1932 he exercised and trained steeple chase and hunting horses for officers and civilian dignitaries.

With this background he was assigned as the senior noncom in the Peking Mounted Detachment in 1936. Another Camp Lejeune officer, Lt. John McAlpin, USN, who is now Personnel Officer of the Base Dispensary, was a private in the organization at the time.

CWO Therrien refers to the Mounties as the household troops of the U. S. Embassy Guard in that they were representatives of the American Ambassador. Constantly under the scrutiny of the Chinese, English, Italian, French and Japanese officials, the Horse Marines were meticulous in their military bearing to which no one was assigned without the unanimous consent of all, but from which anyone could be transferred by the request of a single man.

The men were characterized by outstanding morale and discipline, which were self-imposed. Reveille was an hour earlier for the Mounties than for other members of the Embassy Guard. This extra hour was spent in grooming the horses; the mounts always came first and a saddle sore called for disciplinary action.

Unlike the Marines who had house boys to care for their equipment and clothing, the Mounties had to care for their own ponies. Only the officer in charge and the senior corporals were permitted to have a mafoo, the Chinese stable boy.

During the troubled times of revolutions and provincial warlords, the Mounties proved a valuable protective force in North China by riding to outlying missions to guard Americans and their property.

Vehicular travel was unknown in rural, roadless China and many parts of the narrow, dark streets of Peking; the trained, well-armed Marines and their faithful ponies were the only protection for many.

In the summer of 1937 the Marines in North China witnessed the prelude to the end of the Horse Marines—the Marco Polo Bridge incident which sent Japanese troops into China to start the Sino-Japanese War. As these troops poured into the area the activities of the Mounties were curtailed to riding the outer perimeter of the city wall and to patrolling the streets in the daily task of MP's.

At the same time the 15th U. S. Infantry, which had been in the area since the days of the Boxer Rebellion, returned to the States. The Mounted Detachment was soon disbanded and the men sent to Tientsin to form the nucleus of a guard company there. Other Marines went to Chingwankao, which left the

Duffy Declared Deserter, Reward Offered For Return

If anyone has seen a Marine corporal, 1-foot 6 inches high, weighing 50 pounds anywhere in the area, he is a deserter from the 4th Bn., Tenth Marines and any information that would lead to his apprehension will be appreciated.

Cpl. Poplar "Duffy" Provost, mascot for the 4th Bn., Tenth Marines has been missing since November 21 from his home in Warehouse 513, much to the dismay of his fellow Marines. Duffy, who has been with the Tenth since June of last year, was officially declared a deserter on December 21.

Enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1952, Duffy is a brindle-colored English Bulldog with a definite aversion to horses.

A reward is being offered upon the return of Corporal Duffy, so

One Man Enlists Eight

Eighth Marines Lead Division In Holiday Recruiting Drive

During the recent holiday leave period, the Eighth Marines accrued the most impressive record of procurement, totaling more enlistees due to the efforts of its personnel than the combined recruiting figure for all other units in the Division, according to a survey compiled last week by the Division information office.

With a tally of 50, the three battalions of the Eighth Marines far outdistanced the combined results of the Second, Sixth and Tenth Marines, in addition to 2nd Motor Transport Bn., 2nd Shore Party Bn. and 2nd Tank Bn.

Excluding the fine results of the rest of its regiment, the 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines, outstanding record of 30 confirmed enlistees practically eclipses the results of the sum of all other Division units.

Weapons Company of the 3rd Battalion, alone chalked up 16 new recruits for the Corps, and of this number, one man, Pfc John Brown, enlisted eight on his own. This latter is the over-all Division record for individual achievement in recruiting.

The enterprising Pfc Brown, who was a private until last week, was appointed an Honorary Recruiter by Maj. W. E. Mack of the Marine Corps Recruiting Service and presented with an official card and citation during full Battalion ceremony.

Of the civilians 19-year-old Brown procured, two were his and 17-year-old brothers, and others were "buddies I've known around with all my life. When I do something, I said Brown, "we all end up doing it."

In spite of official ceremony conducted by his Battalion CO, appointment as Honorary Recruiter and his promotion to private first class, Brown maintains he received his greatest thrill "by having five extra days to spend with my girl."

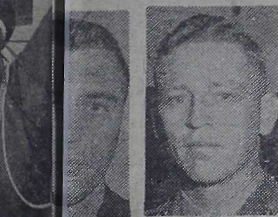

Also in Eighth Marines is another of the Division's outstanding recruiters, MSgt. Michael Gleason, Fox Co., 2nd Bn. Sgt. Gleason procured six men while on holiday leave, some of which are still pending official confirmation.

DIVVY'S TOP RECRUITER—Pfc John Brown, Wpns. Co., 3rd Bn., Eighth Marines, is cited for over-all Division recruiting record by the battalion CO, Lt. Col. Robert B. Carney Jr. In addition to Brown's record eight, the 3rd Bn. and the Eighth Marines garnered honors on their respective echelons.

One hundred and eight of the 2nd Division Medal of Honor winners are present for President Eisenhower's inaugural speech in Washington. The men were housed at the Marine Hotel, and furnished with chauffeurs.

Vehicle Regulations Duly At Midway, Tarawa

A reminder that regulations concerning the registration of vehicles at Camp Lejeune also apply at Midway Park and Tarawa was issued this week by the Provost Marshal's office. The regulations, as well as the Knox and Camp Geiger trails, are part of the military installation and regulations concerning parking, traffic control and speeding are enforced. Only those automobiles with tags or a visitor's pass will be allowed in these areas, the Provost Marshal's office warned. Areas are classified as residential areas and persons entering these areas should have a valid purpose. Visitor's passes should be obtained by non-residents.

Parking lots at these areas are for the personnel living there, and are not to be used as a storage area for vehicles which will not be inspected. All cars parked in these areas without the tags or visitor's pass will be impounded, the Provost Marshal's office reported. At the same time, a reminder that autos should not be parked on the highway was issued. Officials will impound such vehicles illegally parked. New parking regulations were SHOWING OFF—The newest addition to Marine Aircraft Group-26 is HMR(M)-461, a new helicopter squadron commissioned last Saturday by Maj. Gen. Verne J. McCaul, commanding general, Air FMFLant. The squadron is composed of the new Sikorsky helicopter shown above taxiing down the runway, at MCAF.

HMR(M)-461 Commissioned During Formal Ceremonies

Last Saturday morning, during formal ceremonies at MCAF, New River, Maj. Gen. Verne J. McCaul, commanding general, Aircraft, FMF, Atlantic, presented Lt. Col. G. B. Doyle, commanding officer, a guidon, officially commissioning Marine Helicopter Transport Squadron, Medium, 461, of Marine Aircraft Group 26.

The squadron will be the first Marine helicopter squadron using the new giant aircraft adopted by the Marine Corps.

Capable of carrying 26 Marines with field transport packs, or 8,000 pounds, the helicopter carries a crew of four; a pilot, co-pilot, chief mechanic and crew chief. Powered by twin engines, the Sikorsky helicopter cruises at 100-110 knots generally at an altitude of 1,000 feet.

It has clam shell doors and ramp, and during the testing at the Air Facility, it carried two 106mm recoilless rifles mounted on two jeeps, with eight-man crews.

Witnessing dignitaries during the ceremonies included Maj. Gen. John C. Munn, CG, 2nd MAF, Cherry Point; Brig. Gen. J. P. J. Han, CG, Force Troops; Brig. Gen. J. W. Earnshaw, Deputy commander, MCB; Col. Thomas J. Noon, CO, MCAF; A. J. Lewis, mayor of Jacksonville, and H. B. Hines, city manager of Jacksonville.

A cadre of pilots and maintenance men of the newly-formed squadron are presently undergoing an intensive period of familiarization with the aircraft at the Marine Corps Air Station, Quantico. Upon completion of the program, the men will return to MCAF to instruct the operation and maintenance to other squadron members.

All available personnel participated in the ceremonies as General McCaul inspected in a jeep accompanied by Colonel Doyle.

Following the review of troops, flyover of helicopters, including the HRS and HOKS of the group followed behind one of the new helicopters. The formation was followed by four observation aircraft, propeller-driven.

After the transport had landed, witnessing dependents and guests were invited to enter the helicopter on an "open-house" tour.

With the commissioning of HMR(M)-461, another page is added to the History of Marine Corps Aviation.

In May, 1912, Marine Lt. Alfred A. Cunningham reported to the U. S. Naval Academy for flight training. After three hours of instruction, he became the first Marine aviator, and the fifth Naval pilot.

Since that time, Marine pilots have flown and fought in every part of the world where national interests have taken their land based and sea-going brethren.

In Nicaragua (1927-1932), Lt. Christian F. Schilt, now a lieutenant general, landed and took off from unpaved streets under intense fire, evacuating wounded Marines. For this, he received the Congressional Medal of Honor.

This first was studied and its possibilities developed until today, evacuation of wounded by air is accepted procedure. In Korea, where the land sank and rose in unbelievable patterns, helicopters were efficiently used.

With the development of helicopter landings, and the commissioning of HMR(M)-461 to support operations of the 2nd Division, another chapter is added to Marine Aviation's History.

MCAF Winners To Represent Air Wing

Sgt. Ralph K. Wick and TSgt. Thomas J. Power won the right to represent the 2nd Marine Air Wing in the Marine Corps-wide Technique of Instruction Contest finals next month in Washington, D. C.

Sgt. Power won the Staff NCO category with a lecture on Map Symbols and an impromptu speech on Fragmentation Grenades.

Sgt. Wick's prepared speech was delivered on Protection Against Chemical Agents. His impromptu presentation was on Cold Weather Clothing.

Sgt. Wick's delivery of the latter subject was so successful that he was asked to repeat it over television station WITN of Washington, N. C.

Both men will compete against 10 other major commands, each with two competitors, on February 13 and 14.

Hi-Voltage Safety Drive Started Here

An all-out safety program has been initiated at Camp Lejeune to acquaint personnel with the hazards involved with high voltage and communication lines.

Disabling injuries and fatalities have been sustained in the past by personnel who either failed to observe safety precautions or did not have sufficient knowledge of the hazards involved with the use of various equipment.

The Base Safety Director has announced that a safety school will be conducted for designated personnel on the dangers of electrical hazards, how to recognize them and how to avoid serious injuries or fatalities.

These personnel trained in the school will hold instruction in their different units to give wider knowledge of the dangers encountered.

Cranes with extended booms have become energized electrically when driven into high-voltage lines. Not only does this endanger the operator but all personnel in the proximity of the occurrence. Anyone touching the crane while grounded will be seriously injured. The operator should stay in his position on the machine, keeping his hands off the controls. He should never dismount by climbing down the side or permit his body to come in contact with the machine and the ground at the same time.

Moving tanks can create a serious hazard by knocking over a power pole or by forcing a tree onto the lines. Tanks and other crawler type equipment operating near any permanent lines will maintain a distance of 50 yards from the cables. Tanks will pass under these lines only at approved crossings.

Antennas, including radio, television, and antennas from moving vehicles, are to be regarded with extreme caution. Radio and television antennas will not be installed under any overhead lines. The distance from the wire to the antenna will be twice the length of the antenna.

Lightning arrestors shall be used in all antenna construction as prescribed in the technical manual for the equipment.

Vehicles with long antennas will have them tied down when not in use. The operator should stop and check clearance before moving under overhead wires.

Before the installation of antennas on Base housing for private use a request should be submitted in accordance with Base regulations.

This request must be submitted by letter to the commanding general, via the Camp Supply officer, for approval. After installation, the antenna must be inspected by the Camp Maintenance officer. When the antenna is removed, the site must be inspected again to assure that all hazards have been removed.

The stringing of field communication wire from trees within 300 yards of a building, or within 50 feet of high-powered lines is prohibited, except at approved crossings and on steel messenger cables. They will not be suspended over or across electric or telephone lines and the climbing of utility poles by unauthorized personnel is prohibited.

Before operating any type of equipment, the Marine will be thoroughly schooled on the technical manual. Caution and warning notices are placed in these manuals for the protection of the Marine and must be observed.

Should a man come in contact with an electrified structure, fellow Marines should never attempt to grasp him and pull him free. Such an action could result in instant death for the rescuer. An attempt should be made to try to free the victim with a dry wood pole or an article of clothing such as tie, cloth belt or shirt. Immediately upon freeing the individual, artificial respiration should be applied.

The Marine should always regard high voltage with respect for his own self-protection and for others around him.

Streamlining Slated For All FMF Units

The 1st Division at Camp Pendleton, and the 3rd Air Wing at El Toro, Calif., are the first Marine Corps' units to be streamlined, giving them a greater mobility and bigger punch.

Other FMF units are also scheduled to be reorganized to provide minimum interference with combat readiness, a Navy Times article stated.

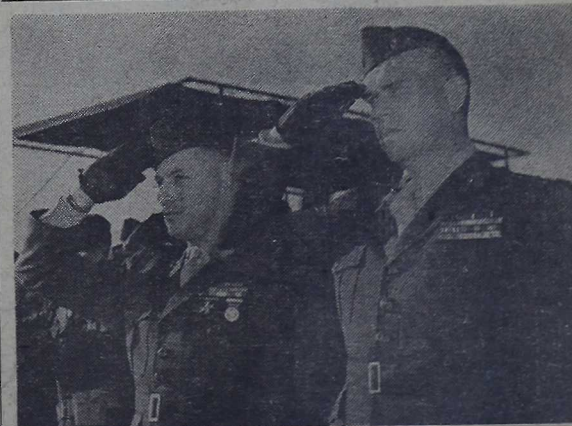

The streamlining of the Marine Divisions and Air Wings is not to be considered as part of the Army's reorganization!

Headquarters said that the Marine Corps streamlining will be done on an "evolutionary basis."

Marine landing forces of the future will be smaller in terms of personnel, much lighter in terms of vehicles and heavy equipment, much faster on its feet, and more powerful in terms of infantry weapons.

The goal is to eliminate surface ship-to-shore movement of troops in amphibious operations, concentrating more on vertical envelopment assault by helicopter.

Marines accompanied Commodore Perry's expeditions to Japan in 1853 and 1854.

All This And Paris Too:

Med Marines Visit Historical Sites Of Roman Empire, Climb Mt. Vesuvius

By TSgt. H. H. MAERLE
2nd Division Information Office

WITH THE FLEET MARINE FORCE, U. S. SIXTH FLEET, IN THE MEDITERRANEAN (By Mail)—Leathernecks of the 2nd (Hq., (Brig.), Second Marines, set sail aboard Navy ships from Naples, Italy, after spending the Christmas and New Year's holidays amid a bit of Roman splendor.

Arriving at the southern Italian city just before Christmas, the Marines combined last-minute buying with sight-seeing tours.

Shops and stores provided them with many intricate items of Italian workmanship for Christmas gifts to be sent to families back home.

On Christmas Day, Marines and sailors sat down to a huge feast aboard ship along with some 100 American Nationals they had evacuated from Egypt during the Middle East crisis. The Americans have been staying in Naples while awaiting permission to return to Egypt.

During the stay in Naples, many of the battalion Marines were granted leaves and spent them in such places as Rome, Paris, Switzerland and Germany. Organized tours were made to Rome and these were highlighted by a Vatican City visit and an audience with Pope Pius XII.

Everyday liberty was set at a premium and advantage was taken of the many tours offered around the Naples area. These one-day sight-seeing trips took in such places as Capri, Mt. Vesuvius and Pompeii.

Capri, a small island lying in the Bay of Naples, has long been a tourist paradise. Although the Marines' visit there was considered "off-season," they were still impressed by the beauty of the many grottoes or small inlets around the island.

Travelling by ski-type chair lifts up the some 4000-foot-high Mt. Vesuvius, the Marines learned that although it is far from the highest, it is one of the most active volcanoes in existence today. Last erupting in 1944, many authorities believe it near eruption.

From the huge crater at the top, the Marines traveled down the southeast slope to Pompeii, the ancient city that was covered with volcanic ash and lava during the 79 A.D. eruption of Vesuvius. While there, they saw some of the present day excavations being made and learned that the city, at the time of the disaster, was the playground of the ancient Roman Empire with a population of approximately 20,000.

New Year's day, the Marines joined with Neapolitans in gala New Year's celebrations throughout the city. Many dances and parties were held to which the Marines were invited.

Chief Cook Dazzles Palates For 16 Years

True to the form set by Capt. Richard McCutcheon, another Marine has spotlighted himself in the world of cookery.

MSgt. George W. Bates, who is chief cook on a DC-6B, had a recipe for pancakes printed in the Washington Post and Times Herald. He has been a Marine cook for more than 16 years, three of which were airborne. He is currently doing his cooking aboard a military plane that transports Navy VIP's.

Sgt. Bates has developed a sauce which he describes as "so good I'm going to make my fortune with it when I retire from the Marines."

Majors Benefit By Change In Housing Regs For Quarters

A change in housing assignments resulted in 40 sets of quarters being redesignated to field grade officers and these will be allotted to majors only.

These quarters were formerly assigned to company grade officers and are located in the 2B-29-3000 blocks. The Base housing officer announced that assignments will be made as vacancies occur.

Present policy of assigning majors and lieutenant colonels on a one-for-one basis will continue in those MOQ's designated for field grade officers prior to this change.

Youngstown Platoon Leads ITR Xmas Recruiting Drive

Unquestionably, the First Infantry Trng. Regt. led other Camp Lejeune units during the Christmas holidays an all-out enlistment program which netted the regiment 71 new recruits.

Success of the recruiting drive is partially due to the "Mahoning Valley Platoon" made up mostly of men from Youngstown, Ohio, and surrounding area, with a few men from Northern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

Completing recruit training just before Christmas, Parris Island and Camp Lejeune worked together arranging the unit's return to Youngstown for the holidays. In all, 66 of them, accompanied by their Drill Instructor, TSgt. Lloyd McGee, made the trip by chartered bus.

Upon their arrival, they were billeted in a hotel, rested, provided with rifles, and with a police escort, marched two miles from center city to the Navy-Marine Corps RTC.

Following an official greeting to the mayor and other city officials, the unit was inspected by Maj. John Beckett, Officer in Charge of the Recruiting Station.

Sgt. McGee then took charge, marching the troops to a nearby drilling area, where they gave drill demonstration.

Fourteen recruits were enlisted by men of the platoon, dressed in blues, and backed by an enviable record. In Parris Island, the unit received highest place honors in five events, drill competition, strength tests, 60-day reviews, and the endurance march. They hold the record for speed during the march, ploughing two and three-four miles in 23 minutes, knocking three minutes off the old record.

For recruiting the 14 men the Marines were given five-day passes, following their leaves.

In a continued effort, ITR is constantly boosting the ranks of recruits. Hand-bills were handed all men preparing to leave for holidays. On these papers were instructions on traffic safety, five-day extension program, what to do if late reporting back to base and warnings against AWOL.

The 71 men recruited by members of ITR are enough, with a little spare, to form an entire platoon of recruits!

SIGNED, SEALED AND DELIVERED—Members of the Youngstown Platoon check into the Ted hotel in Youngstown, Ohio, during Christmas leave. The entire platoon was welcomed during formal ceremonies. They recruited 14 Marines in their home town. They are all members of the First Infantry Trng. Regt., presently undergoing advanced training.

The act concluded with a "rock and roll" step on one wheel with the cute red-head whose flashing feet eluded the bike while never missing a beat.

To raise money for their treasury, group members are urged to wrap and bring one or more "white elephants" for sale to the luncheon.

Navy Relief layette materials should be returned if members are still sewing on them.

Reservations for the luncheon may be obtained by phoning Mrs. A. B. Slack at 6-6454 before noon on January 24.

WM Maneuvers

By CPL. JEAN DAVIS

All's well that end's well, or so the old saying goes, and although Pfc Jean E. Doyle was worried about her initial appearance as the female half of a dance team on wheels, both she and her partner, HM2 John Mays, a unicyclist, feel that the shows they gave at the Goettge Memorial field house during halftime of the basketball games on January 10 and 12 were well received and well worth all the practice that went into the finished product.

Jean, who does a mean jitterbug, even when her partner is on wheels, is not a professional dancer and was a little wary as to her abilities in the vaudeville business.

As spectator at both performances, your reporter can safely say that from all comments that she heard, the act was a sensation and Jean's part of it added the spark and color that it was meant to furnish. Congratulations on a job well done, Jean.

For those of you may have missed the past two performances of the "Two J's" unicycling duo, Jean and Johnny can be seen tomorrow night at the boxing smoker to be held at the field house when they will once again perform during the intermission.

Many happy returns of the day are extended to Pfc Peggy Stephens and Cpl. Bernadine A. Baum who celebrate their birthdays on January 22, 23 respectively.

Spring Wedding For Earnshaw-Donohue

Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Joseph Wayne Earnshaw announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Wayne, to Ens. Douglas Jerome, Donohue, USNR, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Donohue, of Portland, Ore.

Miss Earnshaw is the granddaughter of the late Capt. and Mrs. Ralph Payne Craft, USN, of San Mateo, Calif.

She attended Santa Barbara college of the University of California, and was graduated from William and Mary in Virginia, where she was affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Ensign Donohue was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania. He is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He is stationed at Pensacola, Fla., where he is completing flight training.

Miss Earnshaw is currently pursuing a business career in San Francisco, Calif. A spring wedding is planned at Camp Lejeune.

WITH THIS RING—Chaplain Patrick F. Sweeney reads the marriage vows to Sgt. Nicholas J. Luciano, Long Island, N. Y., and Miss Hazel Ann Barry, Pocatello, Idaho, at the Camp Lejeune Catholic Chapel. Given in marriage by her brother-in-law and attended by her sister, the lovely bride met her husband while visiting here last summer. The former Miss Barry was the Camp Lejeune GLOBE Hometown Pinup in the November 9 issue.

Send The Word

A piece of paper and a pencil or pen aren't very expensive. Neither are envelopes or stamps. You can even get the writing material free in many places.

As for time, even the hardest-working serviceman has plenty to spare. Writing a letter doesn't take long. So why not write home?

Those at home are interested in you, want to know where you are, what sort of duty you have. They don't like to send their letters off into a vacuum, never knowing what's going on at the other end. They'd appreciate a letter now and then.

Your commanding officer also would appreciate your writing home. If you don't he might receive a letter from your family asking about you.

It means a lot of extra work for him and his staff to dig up the answers to the questions in the letter and then send an answer back.

So you see everyone wins if you write. Besides, writing home gets to be a pleasure. (AFPS)

Career Marine

LOVE, HONOR, OBEY—the words cherished in the marriage vows. Nine out of ten people will associate these words with the wedding scene. We might even go out on a limb and say ten out of ten.

However, we think this time-worn phrase may well be applied to another scene. Think of it in terms of the Career Marine who retires on 20 or 30 years of faithful service. Surely he has served with honor, probably even gallantry, for has he not stood on the beach at Guadalcanal? This same Career Marine was the man who walked methodically toward the sea in the sub-zero temperatures of North Korea in the face of over-whelming odds. In trying times, such as the battle for Mt. Suribachi at Iwo Jima, his words of comfort to the young men of his unit were treasured more than life itself. Would you not say that this could be accepted as a definition of the word love?

Twenty or 30 years ago this same Marine raised his hand and repeated the words of the enlistment officer proclaiming obedience to his country, his Corps and to his officers. His stack of "honorable" discharge certificates is mute-testimony to the fact that he did not falter in this pledge.

In our nation's capital there is a monument to the unknown soldier. In times of peace, the Career serviceman is the unknown soldier to all but himself.

This man knows why he dedicated his life to the service of his country. He has observed many changes in the Marine Corps since his first enlistment. He is the peace-time and war-time Marine rolled into one. Heartbreaks and the "smell-of-death" have been the order of the day for this man who now packs his sea-bag for the last time. Often he has been tempted to "quit" but he stayed on knowing that it was men like himself who kept the Corps going.

Now his time for retirement is here—there's nothing false about that tear in his eye or that lump in his throat as he renders his last salute. He has served his country with honor and his retirement is proof of his ability to obey and carry out orders. Finally, his long and colorful career is evidence of the great love he has for the Corps.

To most, these words mean the wedding ceremony—to the Career Marine they are a reflection of his chosen profession.

Chaplain's Corner

"I tell you; unless your goodness excels that of the Scribes and Pharisees you will never get into the Realm of Heaven."

"You'll never get into the Realm of Heaven." Our Lord was speaking to a group of people like you and me. They were interested in how to get into the Kingdom of Heaven. They were somewhat disturbed at the usual methods used. Their worship form was no longer satisfying to them; repetitions of hollow prayers, the pious posturing of religious people was wearing thin, so Jesus tried to give them an answer to their question.

He said, "First, be reconciled to your brother, then come back and worship." Jesus always attacked the Pharisees. The core of Pharism is selfishness, neglect of others and self-righteousness. As modern Pharisees, we do not kill—but we hate. We do not rob—but we steal in subtle ways from ourselves and from others. We will be "good" to a certain point. We "get by," so to speak, by skirting the edges of life, taking the shortest cuts and loving ourselves above all else. Jesus contended that this type of living is not good enough for His Disciples and so we ask petulantly, "What more shall we do?" With God's help, we can correct our attitudes, we can change our ways of thinking, we can break through the shells we live in, we can find release for our tensions and pent-up hostilities.

We can be free. Free from the domination of ourselves. Only after we are so free, can we relate better to people and finally to God. Jesus' teachings illustrate His words! When we use kind words in place of anger. When we are tolerant of others, instead of intolerant. When we are charitable in place of being greedy. When we share what we have, instead of trying to keep it and so lose it. When we are understanding, instead of condemning. When we love our brothers and will be reconciled to them. Then we can come back, worship, and find peace of mind and really excel.

Religious practices, our futile prayers will have meaning. The hymns we sing will be more inspiring. It is what we are as individuals and how well we get along with our fellow men that counts. If we do this, we really exceed the righteousness of the modern day Pharisees and are already in the Kingdom of Heaven, for the Kingdom of Heaven is, as Jesus said, within you!

—Chaplain Frank R. Morton,
Second Marines.

Career Facts

There are many advantages to a military career that are taken for granted by too many Marines. A few of them are brought to light here for the benefit of those who have never considered them as valuable privileges.

The first of these is the initial clothing issue. Each person entering the Marine Corps is issued a complete set of clothing totaling $170.00 in cash value. Monthly clothing allowances help to keep uniforms in shape and to replenish the wardrobe as often as needed.

Most Americans participate in some kind of sport. The Marine Corps offers free use of athletic equipment, gymnasium facilities, swimming pools, and many other types of recreational facilities. Along with the use of all this equipment is free instruction in countless types of sports and recreation, and also free or low cost admission to sporting events.

Not to be forgotten are the Marine Exchange privileges. Included in this group is the use of such facilities as garages, barber shops, laundries and cleaners, tailors, cobblers, photo shops, food stores and soda shop privileges, most of which offer merchandise and service at reduced prices.

IT'S A GOOD CAREER . . .

MCAF Recreation Facilities Include Plans For Future

Text by Cpl. Tom Bartlett,

IS FOR THE FUTURE—The Air Facility gains a new building. Gym, shown, a chapel, an indoor movie and a combat pool are under construction near the entrance of the Air Facility.

D DUCK—Pfc Lonnie Murphy sights in round disc, facing the inlet, at the Air facility skeet range. All necessary equipment and ammunition is furnished by the F Special Services Office.

"QUITE A PROGRAM"—1st Lt. George Grundel, seated, Officer in charge of MCAF Special Services, and TSgt. John T. Boston, NCOIC, look over the athletic program scheduled for the new intramural competitive season.

RIGHT DOWN THE ALLEY—1st Lt. Richard Scroggins enjoys one of the many facilities offered by the Marine Corps Air Facility Special Services Section. Three alleys in an elongated Quonset hut are opened daily for bowling enthusiasts.

The Marine Corps Air Facility at New River is presently undergoing a new "face-lifting" project in conjunction with the Special Services program.

An indoor movie, a gym, a chapel, an outdoor combat training tank, an automotive hobby shop and numerous athletic fields are presently under construction near the main entrance, and are scheduled to be completed before the hot summer months.

Included in the list is the boat house, which includes 11 aluminum row boats, six canoes and four sailboats. The boathouse facilities are available for dependents as well as Marines, and the fishing in the area is considered very good.

Three bowling lanes, sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress, are in operation daily, in an elongated Quonset hut.

Movies are shown nightly in the MAG-26 hangar; schedules are listed on page 12 of the GLOBE.

Located in Bldg. 101 is the library, consisting of 2,000 non-fiction and 1,500 fiction novels, reference books and the more popular current magazines.

Hunting at the Air Facility includes duck, quail, rabbit, fox and dove. Persons desiring to hunt there must have a hunting license, and a permit from the Provost Marshal's Office. All are invited.

The gym is expected to be completed in April or May. It will contain a basketball court, a weight-lifting room, a boxing room, four bowling alleys, an outdoor combat training tank, and locker facilities and showers for Marines and dependents. The movie, when completed, will seat approximately 400.

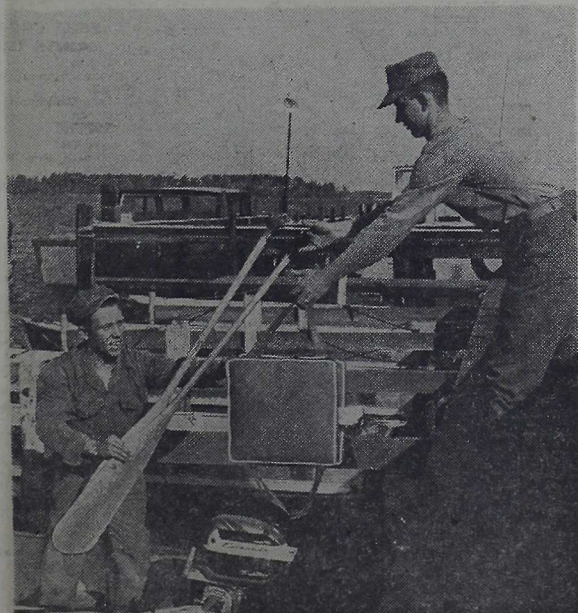

Combination athletic fields, including a lighted baseball diamond, two softball fields, a football field, tennis and handball courts are also planned for the future.

An automobile hobby shop is being prepared to operate under the same regulations as the Camp Geiger hobby shop. The building will hold three vehicles, while the outside compound will facilitate approximately 25 cars. It is expected to open during the last of February or the first of March.

Officer-in-charge of the Air Facility Special Services Office is 1st Lt. George Grundel, with TSgt. John T. Boston, NCOIC. The two schedule all intramural programs and cater to the interests of off-duty Marines stationed there.

Many other facilities are offered by the Special Services section, but the above are those which interest the majority of relaxing Marines. To find out more of what your own SSO offers during your off-duty hours, call your local Special Services Office.

ALL FOR THE ASKING—Aluminum boats, oars, and motors are checked out by Sgt. Joe Bucyk, in boat, and Pfc Wilmer Motz of the Air Facility. Fishing reports of the area have been from good to excellent during the past few months.

BOOKS GALORE—The Air Facility boasts a well-stocked selection of fiction and non-fiction books, and a subscription to most of the favorite magazines. Cpl. Louis Mandle, back to camera, does research, while Chaplain and Librarian Lt. Comdr. Oscar J. Harris browses through some new books. Pfc John Potts reads a thriller.

FAMINE BROKEN—When the cagers beat Quantico 78-63 last Friday, they broke a five-year, 16-game losing streak to the Marine Corps Schools team. A quick check through the files revealed that the last victory over the Virginians was on Jan. 22, 1952. Lejeune won that game 58-54.

Since that time, Quantico has been ruling the roost in Marine Corps cage play. Winners of five straight All-Marine titles, the MCS quintet had their eyes focused on the sixth crown when they arrived here at Lejeune.

The Lejeune win Friday showed that Quantico was not going to take the title in a walk-away this year as they have in the past. Last year, Quantico found the Lejeune cagers much to their liking and had little trouble in sweeping the four-game series.

INTERESTING RACE—This year's cage race should prove one of the most exciting in many a year. With the Lejeune-Quantico series standing at 1-1, anything can happen when these two teams meet for the last two-game series.

Then, both teams have to meet Parris Island, who reportedly has a strong squad. Lejeune met the Islanders Wednesday and Thursday and though results were not available at presstime, the results of these games will put an interesting light on the cage competition.

TURNABOUT—The second game with Quantico was a complete turnabout from the first contest. On Friday it was all Lejeune as Jack Beck and Don Laketa paced the locals in scoring.

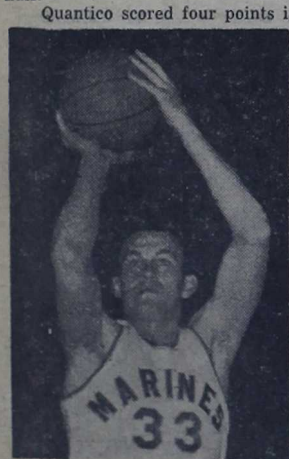

Only twice did Quantico go ahead of Lejeune and both times were in the opening minutes and by one point. The last time they saw the lead was after about five minutes of play when they had an 8-7 advantage.

In the second game, however, Quantico had little trouble with Lejeune's defense and proceeded to pour it on from the opening whistle. They took the first lead and were never headed as Jim Cary, Frank Blum and Hal Grant focused on the basket and united to score 52 of Quantico's 89 points.

SIDELINE GLANCES (FIRST GAME)—Terry Telligman was the hustler on the court. He was all over the place rebounding, stealing balls and blocking shots. . . . Bill Tompkins threw a forward pass from the end of the court. Jack Beck took it over his right shoulder at mid-court on the dead run, going on to score. . . . Both teams hit 23 field goals. . . . Quantico only managed seven field goals in the first half. . . . The second half began with a technical foul against Quantico. Beck made the foul shot good. . . . Beck had a perfect night in foul shooting, hitting 15 for 15. . . . Quantico was off on shooting but getting most of the rebounds. . . . Frank Blum was doing most of the work for Quantico. . . . Lejeune was given three shots on one foul when a MCS player stepped over the line. . . . Quantico used half and half court press to good advantage.

SECOND GAME—Quantico took no chances and began full court press from opening play. . . . Lejeune got a good start on rebounding, but off on shooting. . . . Beck tapped in Lejeune's first field goal after six minutes of play. . . . Pahmeier made the prettiest shot of the night but was called for traveling. . . . Lejeune tried two long passes. Both were intercepted by Cordell Brown. . . . Lejeune, like Quantico in the first game, had only seven field goals in the first half.

Quantico scored four points in the first 20 seconds of the second half to take a 26-point lead. . . . With eight minutes left on the clock, Quantico played a waiting game. . . . Lejeune got three more shots on one foul when Quantico was over line. Missed the extra shot last night too. . . . Quantico began operation "big freeze" with five minutes left in the game. . . . In the last five seconds, Quantico tried two all court shots, Lejeune one. All missed. . . . Beck hit on 13 of 14 foul shots to raise his two-game total to 28 of 29. . . . Quantico hit on 24 field goals and 41 of 55 foul shots while Lejeune hit on 18 field goals and 35 of 49 fouls. . . . Jack Beck had 46 points to lead all scorers in the two-game series.

Forces Player of the Year by the Washington Touchdown club. With Bolling last year, he completed 84 of 156 passes for 1,203 yards and 14 touchdowns. He carried the ball 57 times for 157 yards and four TD's.

LOCKER ROOM HUBBUB—Two boxers who won Inter-Service crowns here in November and then went on to gain medals in the Olympics have decided on different careers. Jose Torres, silver medal winner in the Olympics, has been discharged from the Army, while Jim Boyd, 1956 Olympic light-heavyweight champion, recently reenlisted for six more years and plans to make the Army his career.

FIRST WIN IN FIVE YEARS:

Cagers Take Opener from Quantico 78-63 Virginians Rebound 89-71 To Even Series

Camp Lejeune's cagers turned hot in the first game and cold in the second to split two-game series with five-time All-Marine Champions from Quantico here last week.

Lejeune took the opener 78-63 then dropped the second game by an 89-71 score over their visiting cousins from Virginia.

By winning the first game of the series, this year's quintet eased some of the hurt suffered by other Lejeune cage units of the past five years. Not since Jan. 22, 1952, has a Lejeune cage team been able to take a win over the powerful Quantico squad.

In the opening game, both teams played on an even keel until Lejeune found their shooting eye and began to move ahead on the shooting of Don Laketa and Marv Leggett to take a 19-11 lead after 10 minutes of play.

With Terry Telligman leading the way in the last 10 minutes of the first half, Lejeune built their lead to 38-35 at halftime. Telligman, Lejeune's hustling center, scored 11 points and consistently cleaned the backboards of rebounds.

During the first half, the Quantico five were unable to solve Lejeune's shifting defense and were held to only seven field goals while Lejeune with hitting on 12.

With defeat staring them in the face, Quantico sent in Don Lang in the second half to see if he could pull them out of the hole and get the team back in the ball game.

Lang, the former Navy star who holds the all-time scoring record for the Naval Academy, has been seeing little action since breaking a finger during Quantico's Christmas tournament.

Although Lang could muster only two points, he did a fine job on rebounds and pulling his team together, but in vain.

One of the big factors working against the Marine Corps Schools team in the second half was Jack Beck, Lejeune's leading scorer to date.

Beck, held to but four points in the first half and sidelined for a time with a cut over his right eye, came back to burn the nets to lead all the scorers with 27 points.

Quantico, working an all-court press, began to harass the Lejeune team and put on a strong surge in the end of the game. The 10 minutes of play was dominated by the shooting of C. Lawrence E. Peterson who combined field goals and one foul shot for the damage was done.

Following Beck in the scoring for Lejeune was Don Laketa with 17 points and Terry Telligman with 12.

For Quantico, it was Lawrence with 10 points, followed by Peterson, Hal Grant and Bob Reese with eight each.

In the second game it was Quantico from the opening tap. Regaining the poise that had tried them to their five All-Marine Championships, the Quantico team showed no mercy for the Lejeune cagers.

10th Marines Keg Loop Begins Play

First and 4th Bns. notched their initial victories last Tuesday night in the Tenth Marines Bowling League, defeating 2nd and 3rd Bns. respectively at the Area 5 bowling lanes.

Sweeping a 4-0 match over 2nd, 1st Bn. was paced by Tom Keith, who rolled a high game of 207 and a high series of 522.

Jim O'Connor sparked the losers with a 200 high game and a respectable 541 high series.

In the final game of the evening's competition, 4th overcame an early 3rd Bn. lead to win a 3-1 uphill verdict. Bill Whitham was the high kegler for the winners with a 178 high mark. Jack McWilliams carded the high series of 490.

Hank Frisbie, with a high game of 210 and a high series of 516, kept the losers in contention throughout the matches.

INTRAMURAL ROUNDUP:

Second Division Cagers Finish Hectic

Week Of Play; All Teams See Action

By SGT. DON SCHAEFER
2nd Division Information Office

With four of the five starters hitting in double figures, Headquarters Battalion wal- loped Motor Transport Battalion, 88-68, in a Division Intramural Basketball League game played last Friday afternoon at the Area 3 gym.

Coach Don Tate's quintet rolled to its third consecutive victory in Group II play as eight players tallied for the winners.

Center Jesse Shanks, who regis- tered 44 points last month for a Di- vision record against Medical Bat- talion, again paced the victors with 22 points. Lloyd Stiles took run- ner-up honors with 19 markers.

Adam Bagushinskas, an only holdover, who subbed in the ab- sence of starting guard Bucky Bu- chanan, ripped the nets with 17 big points, while Joe Johnson collected 12.

The big surprise for Hq. Bn., was the brilliant all-around per- formance of guard Bill Ritchie, who sparked several offensive plays with his 11 points.

Center Pete Fenlon was high scorer for Motor Transport with 27 markers. Doc Barton, 6-1 guard, finished with 21 points and kept the losers in contention with his rebound ability off the defensive boards.

Hq. Bn., built up a 49-37 lead at halftime and hit on about 50 per- cent of their shots during the game to keep their unbeaten skein in- tact.

In Group I games played last Wednesday and Thursday nights, 2nd Eng., upset 2nd Shore Party Bn., 69-58, and then dropped a 93-38 game to the strong 2nd Tank Bn., to throw the hectic league race into a three-way standoff as each team has a 1-1 record.

Although the score was kno- ted at 34-34 at halftime in Wed- nesday's game, the Engineers pulled away from Shore Party as center Dave Smith poured 39 points through the hoop. For- ward George Glifford contribut- ed 12 markers to cop runner-up laurels while playmaker Fred Delany sparked the second half drive.

Shore Party's Larry Harton and Steve Costello topped the losers with 27 and 10 points, respectively.

On Thursday evening, 2nd Tank Bn. and 2nd Eng. threw defense "out the window" in a 93-88 offen- sive display. Six players, three from each squad, hit in double figures.

Forward John Keaton garnered 27 points for game honors for the winners while center George Jones and guard Charlie Mitchell followed closely with 22 and 18 points, respectively.

George Glifford and Dave Smith divided 40 points between them for the losers and forward Tom Strausbaugh chipped in with 16.

Opening league action in the Eighth Marine gym saw 2nd Bn. edge 1st Bn., 66-63, and Composite defeat 3rd Bn., 60-53, last Thurs- day afternoon.

Ulysses S. Grant, a huge 6-4, 215- pound center, with 18 points, along with forward Ron Lindsay, who tallied 17, sparked their team into a 35-24 halftime margin.

Bob Leach, 1st Bn. standout, was the outstanding performer in the closely-contested battle, registering 26 markers in the losing cause.

In the nightcap Composite Bn. surged into a 37-26 halftime mar- gin, then held on the last two min- utes to salvage a close verdict over 3rd Bn.

Composite Bn. led throughout the hard-fought contest as guard

TWO-POINT LAYUP—Doc Barton, MT Bn. guard, hits on an easy layup against Hq. Bn. early in the final quarter during a Division Intramural Basketball League game last Friday afternoon at the Area 3 gym. Looking on are Hq. Bn. forwards, Lloyd Stiles (16) and Joe Walden (back to camera), along with an unidentified player. Headquarters defeated Motor Transport, 88-68, to run its winning string to three games in Group II play.

Roy Dennison, All-Division cage player last season, was high man with 33 points. Dean Smith scored 13 for the winners.

Tom Feemin, 3rd Bn. forward, paced Don Daly's quintet with 27 markers and Mel Barber followed by tallying 18.

Meanwhile, opening play in the Second Marine Regimental Basket- ball League race last week in the Area 2 gym found 2nd Bn. taking a commanding lead. The league leaders won, 39-38, and 85-80, over Provisional and 1st Bn., respective- ly.

In the 2nd Bn.-Provisional game, the winners overcame a 22-19 halftime deficit chiefly on the shooting of Mel Johnson and Dick Watkins, who recently took over the coaching reins for the 2nd Bn. Dan Drees, Provisional guard, topped his squad with 12 fallies.

After a 35-35 halftime deadlock in the next game, 2nd Bn. took a late five-point lead and froze the ball the final minutes to whip 1st Bn., 85-80. Center Bob Mosier and guard Ralph King shared scoring honors for the Second with 19 apiece while Doug Press of the los- ers led all performers with 27.

Provisional Bn. won its first con- test of the season by walloping 1st Bn. in a low-scoring game, 50-28. Doug Press again took scoring laurels with 12 points.

Beck, Leggett Lead Cagers Over Gators

In a game played at Goettge Memorial field house last week, Camp Lejeune took a walk-away, 82-55, win over the Little Creek Gators to run their record to 10 wins and five losses and hold a three-game win- streak.

Lejeune jumped to an early lead in the first 10 minutes of play when Don Laketa teamed with Marv Leggett to pile up a 15-point lead.

At halftime, Lejeune led the Gators 40-26.

Leading the parade of scorers for Lejeune was Jack Beck with a 20-point effort and Marv Leggett, scrappy little guard from Texas A&I, who poured in 16. These two were followed by Don Laketa with 14, Terry Telligman with 11 and Tom Witherspoon who hit for eight points.

J. F. Devine, former All-Ameri- can from Villanova, led the Gators attack with 20 points.

Mel Roach, who set an all-time scoring record for Goettge Memori- al field house last year with 41 points, came up with only 10 points for his night's work.

BOXERS MEET EUSTIS

The Camp Athletic office an- nounced this week that the Camp boxing team will meet Ft. Eustis in a full 10-bout card. This match will be held at Goettge Memorial field house next Wednesday, January 23, with the first bout starting at 8 p.m.

BY THE "OLD ANGLER"

Phone 7-5821

TROUT RUNNING—Reports that the sea trout are running again have reached the "old angler's" ears and I'm anxious to hear any reports from Lejeune anglers. Saturday afternoon my friends and I were down in Swansboro looking over a boat that is up for sale. In checking with some of the old timers on the fishing situation, I was told there was little doing.

The next day, however, the group, minus yours truly, found themselves at Swansboro again. This time the boat owner took for a long ride and one of my friends reported that they saw several surf casters bring in trout, most in the two-pound class.

Last Monday night I checked with a fisherman friend of mine and asked him about the trout run. He informed me that they were being taken by nets, which indicates that they are beginning another run. If any of you hear anything or happened to try your luck this week, pass the word along to me and I'll pass it along to others.

GOOD BUY—Looking for a good buy in a cabin cruiser? I know where there is one up for sale. It is a 22' job that will be just the thing for fishermen that want to go get them. The seller is leaving for the Med soon and is offering the boat for a bargain. If you're interested in more information, give me a call.

BE ALERT—More and more deer are grazing near the highways now. Every night, drivers can spot them while driving to and from the base, but sometimes they are difficult to spot until you are right on top of them. So, extra caution is needed to keep from running over them. Although statistics are not available on how many were killed by autos last year, you can be sure that some were. If the count was anything near the number killed in 1955 it means a terrific loss of deer and expenses for the repair of the autos. In 1955, 37 deer were killed needlessly. A little extra caution and a little more alertness can put a stop to this killing.

Drivers are asked to be particularly careful while driving on Lyman road from between Sneed's Ferry and the triangle and on Highway 172 from the Anti-Tank range to the triangle.

BRUNO'S BACK?—Driving to the Quantico-Lejeune game last Friday I picked up two passengers at the main gate. On reaching the driveway that comes from the Drive-in theater, my eye caught a black object moving toward the brush. When asked what it was, one of the passengers said in surprise, "Well, I'll be! A bear!"

We circled back so I could verify if it was a bear, but it was gone so I still don't know for certain if it was. Did anyone else spot it Friday night around 6:45? If so, let me know.

If it was a bear, this is the second time it has been reported, the first time being on November 2, and in the same area. Maybe he feels the warm weather approaching and has come out of hibernation.

Marines Win 88-61 Over Hurricanes

Camp Lejeune's basketball team stopped off at Charleston, S. C., on the first leg of their southern trip and breezed to a 88-61 win over Charleston AFB Hurricanes before proceeding to Parris Island for their two-game series with their South Carolina cousins.

In the game Monday, the Marines and the Hurricanes played on even terms during the first 10 minutes of play, each scoring 19 points. At halftime, Lejeune held a four-point advantage with a 39-35 score.

The Marines caught fire in the final half and proceeded to outscore the Hurricanes by 23 points, picking up 49 points to Charleston's 26.

Don Laketa took top scoring honors for the night collecting 25 points on 10 field goals and five foul shots.

Runner-up to Laketa was Lejeune's Jack Beck who hit the nets for 21. Terry Telligman was the only other Lejeune player to hit in the double figures, scoring 11 points.

For the losers, Thurston Warlick, ex-Xavier university stand-out, and Lawrence Sweeney, formerly with St. Joseph college, contributed 15 and 14 points respectively.

Island to engage in a two-game series that should put some light on the East Coast Marine Corps competition.

3rd Bn. Wins 10th Marines Cage Title

Third Battalion, as expected, won its second consecutive title in the Tenth Marines' Intramural Basketball League race Monday night, whipping 4th Battalion, 62-47, at the Area 1 gym.

Charlie Harris and Ken Lutton pushed the winners into a big lead early in the final stanza after holding a 21-15 halftime margin. Harris finished with 23 while Lutton contributed 10 points.

Center Andy Gonci, with 17 rebounds, and Bob Sherwood shared scoring for the 4th, each registering 12 markers.

In the final contest Monday, 3rd Battalion squeezed past Regimental H&S Battalion, 80-77, despite a 36-point scoring effort by "Fats" Jennings, the league's leading scorer. Jennings also grabbed 19 rebounds for the losing cause.

Third Battalion's Bill Price and Bob Terrell were runners-up with 26 and 25 points respectively.

Regt. H&S Battalion bounced back the next night, defeating 1st Battalion, 77-61, as Bob Bodecker and "Fats" Jennings each tallied 16 points for the winners. Meanwhile, in possibly the finest come-from-behind play this season, 3rd Battalion edged 4th, 55-53, overcoming a 31-16 halftime deficit.

Andy Gonci took scoring laurels with 19 points, while Bob Terrell and Bill Price had 16 and 15 markers respectively. Price scored all his points in the second half to spearhead the winner's scoring surge. Brilliant rebounding by Andy Gonci and Art Fish settled the issue in the second half.

"Fats" Jennings, Regt. H&S Bn. forward, paces the league in scoring, averaging 26.5 points per game. Bob Terrell and Bill Price are runners-up with a 20.5 mean.

Waves Hand WM Cagers Twin Loss

Norfolk's rolling WAVES swept past Camp Lejeune's lady cagers for a double win by scores of 51-37 and 62-55 in games played here last weekend.

In the first game the WAVES built up a halftime lead of 28-17 behind the sharpshooting of Barbara Dawson and Jo Powell who took high scoring honors, Dawson with 21 and Powell with 26.

Two Lejeune cagers hit for double figures with Elsie Stevens collecting 17 and Pauline Piskorik adding 11.

The second game was an entirely different battle and the WAVES had to go all out in order to take the win.

Lejeune kept the WAVES on their toes throughout the first half and had the score knotted 27-27 at halftime.

Norfolk began to hammer away at the lead with Dawson and Powell doing most of the damage. Powell hit for 22 and Dawson added another 19. Louise Bloodworth also turned in a fine performance and came through with 17 points.

Three Lejeune forwards got in the high scoring bracket with Deanne Alexander taking honors with 19, followed by Piskorik's 16 and Stephens' 14. Carol Cowan threw in six points for the losing cause.

Pups Drop 45-42 Game To Atlantic

Camp Lejeune's Devilpups threw a scare into visiting Atlantic High school before losing a hard fought game, 45-42, here Tuesday night.

In a closely fought contest, Atlantic held a slim two-point lead after the first quarter on a 12-10 score, but the Pups made up the deficit and had the score tied at 18-18 at the half.

The third quarter was the downfall for the Pups, as the Atlantic five outscored them by four points.

Mike Folkes, Lejeune's scrappy center, led all the scorers with 24 points. Phil Morris was the leading scorer for Atlantic with 13.

MCSS Grabs MCB Cage Lead; Downs Headquarters 45-42

Marine Corps Supply Schools took over undisputed lead in MCB intramural cage competition when they stopped previously-unbeaten Hq. Bn., 45-42, in a game played Wednesday.

MCSS took a commanding 12-4 lead in the opening minutes and looked like they were going to run away with the game. But Headquarters found the range and closed the gap to 20-17 as the buzzer ended the half.

In the second half the two teams fought a see-saw battle and with the clock showing just over a minute of play left, the score was knotted at 40-40.

MCSS put the game on ice by hitting on three foul shots and one field goal in the closing minutes of play.

Charlie Holmes paced his team to the win by hitting for 20 points while Bill Green with 15 and Malcolm Potts with 12 led the losers.

Kajdacz Scores Ace On PP No. 1 Course

Hank Kajdacz scored the year's first hole-in-one at the Paradise Point golf course last Sunday.

Kajdacz, a five-handicapper, scored his ace with a five-iron on the 185-yard 12th hole on course No. 1. The ball hit short of the hole and rolled in. It was Kajdacz's first hole in one. He scored a 38-36-74 for the first round.

He was playing in a threesome with Vic Garrison and D. Kane at the time.

2nd CSG Remains Unbeaten In Force Troops Cage League

With Jack Cannon dropping in 20 points, 2nd CSG noted their second win of the current season beating 1st Radio 66-55, to take undisputed leadership in Group II competition of Force Troops' Intramural basketball league.

CSG, with five men hitting in double figures, went in front from the start and were never headed despite a fine effort by the losers.

1st Radio Co. began play with a zone defense but outside shooting by the Jones twins, Jack and Dick, put CSG ahead early in the game.

In the first 10 minutes of play, CSG was leading by 15 points but the radio-men came back on the sharpshooting of George Zulucki and closed the gap to 11 points for a 41-30 halftime score.

Top scorers for CSG after Cannon were: Jim Jones 14, Jackie Jones 12, and Al Walker and Don Dick with 10 points each.

Meanwhile, in other games played earlier, 3rd AAA Bn. defeated three opponents to jump into a two-way tie for second place.

Their first win came at the expense of a stubborn 1st Radio five, 70-68, at the Rifle Range Court.

Then led by their star forward, Bert Daniels, who scored 28 points, they dumped previously unbeaten 8th MT Bn., 62-56, and continued their hot streak by running over previously unbeaten MAG 26 by a score of 62-56 last Monday at the Camp Geiger gym. Again Triple-A was led by Daniels who scored 27 markers.

Two other games held in the Camp Geiger gym saw 8th MT Bn. subdue 2nd Anglico 70-42, and MAG-26 edge by 8th Comm Bn. 39-37.

Three players for MT, Pato, Birkett and Folke with 18, 17, and 15 points respectively, led the scoring parade.

MAG had a hard time fighting off a late rally in their game after holding a 28-14 halftime lead. MAG's Tom MacGuire was high scorer of the game with 19 points.

Plenty of action was witnessed in League I with last year's champions, 2nd AmTrac Bn., in the spotlight when they defeated 2nd house Bay. AmTrac's Dunner was the high scorer with 26 points, while Moran netted 17 for How. Bn. days before this game 2nd AmTrac routed 8th Tanks 54-32.

155 How. Bn. 62-57 over at Camp

Headquarters Co. opened its season by rolling over 2nd Radio Bn. 65-37 at the Camp Geiger gym and 8th Engr. Bn. barely squeaked by an improving Recon five 46-40.

The 8th Engr. team was led by George Winsley, who took scoring laurels with 16 points. Jimmy Omerford paced Recon by swish 14.

8th Engr. again hit the column last Monday and managed to tie for first place as they scuffled 8th Tank Bn. 57-48 at the field house.

Also on Monday, 155 How. grabbed their first win of the season by downing Recon 46-31. Recon put up a stubborn fight in first half before being handed their third straight defeat.

Marines protecting all of America's interests in North China.

The Horse Marines who had served America well in the ancient city of Peking and adjacent provinces, passed into history in early 1938. But the Horse Marines only ceased to exist in reality—legends of these fabulous Marines and their deeds will only grow with time.

NO LEJEUNE WINNERS:

Sweeney And McLendon Win Speech Finals Here

MSgt. Francis M. Sweeney, of the Marine Detachment, Naval Retraining Command, Portsmouth, N. H., and Cpl. Edd D. McLendon, of the Marine Air Detachment, NATTC, Jacksonville, Fla., walked off with top honors in the Regional Finals of the second Annual Marine Corps Technique of Instruction Contest held here on January 9, 10, and 11.

Sweeney, winner in the Staff NCO category, delivered a 20-minute presentation on "Technique of Military Instruction" and a five-minute presentation on "Elevation and Contours," Map Reading.

McLendon copped the number one spot in the Sergeants and below category with a 20-minute presentation on "Simple Circuits and OHM's Law," and a five-minute delivery on "Three Steps in Life Saving."

Both winners will report to Marine Barracks, Washington, D. C., to take part in the Finals Competition which begins February 11.

A total of 25 contestants from 11 Marine Corps posts and stations took part in the Regional Finals held here. All were winners in the intra-command and area posts and stations eliminations.

Competitors in each category were rated by a panel of three judges on points considered necessary for good instruction.

MCI Offers Course Aiding All Plumbers

Plumbing, the hub of modern sanitation, is considered by some as one of the most scientific of all building and industrial trades. For aid in the particular job of plumbing, the Marine Corps Institute has opened a new course called Plumber (11.6).

The course is designed primarily for MOS 1121, but utility chiefs who have been promoted through the refrigeration or electrician's MOS will find the information the course offers beneficial in assuming supervisory responsibilities.

In eight lessons, or 32 study hours, the course offers knowledge in theory, design and installation of plumbing equipment. Information acquired from the courses will be useful to Marines who install and repair plumbing systems at posts or stations, or are interested in plumbing in civilian life.

Further information about the new course, and other MCI courses, may be obtained from unit education officers.

☆ Program Notes ☆

Music is universal, a fact that was best interpreted by the most effective ambassador of American good will, Louis Armstrong.

It is believed that the most successful concert tour ever to be conducted by an American orchestra was in the fall of 1955 when "Satchmo" took his All-Stars on a European tour of good will. The impact was such on Europe there were riots in virtually every country when the supply of seats gave out for the performances. Even on his return to the United States, Louis was headlined in the New York Times, and Ed Murrow devoted the "See It Now" TV show to the American celebrity who had bound the European nations with the power of music.

A correspondent who took time out from diplomatic conferences in Geneva to witness this extravaganza, summed up the tour as "America's blue note in a minor key."

It seems that the European people have long been aware of the fact that the American jazz bands are the best exponents of music and they can't seem to figure out why the American people don't spend more money to subsidize the travel of jazz bands to promote American democracy. American jazz is universal, it knows no boundaries, but every-

Lejeune contestants taking part in the Regional Finals held here were TSgt. William J. Hughes, SSgt. Donald E. Penman, SSgt. Robert W. Patton, Sgt. John M. Anderson, Cpl. Charles R. Roden, and Sgt. Albert E. Metts, all from the Marine Corps Base.

The following books are available at the Central Library, Bldg. 62, or phone 7-5618 for reserves:

A limited supply of Federal Income Tax Forms are now available at the Central Library, Bldg. 62. These forms are quite popular with our patrons at this time of year and it is to be noted that the supply will last only a short period of time.

For a fascinating portrait of modern war as told by one of our outstanding historians we recommend PORK CHOP HILL by S. L. A. Marshall. It is the story of a forty-eight hour defensive fight by elements of the U. S. 7th Infantry Division in Korea, 1953. The author's emphasis is on the men themselves. He interviewed patrols before they went into the lines; he talked with survivors when they came out and the result is an immediate and personal account of the way the American soldier behaves in conflict.

THE FBI STORY: A REPORT TO THE PEOPLE, by Don Whitehead is the first complete story of the organization to be published. It takes you behind the scenes and into FBI files to reveal its crusade against crime and subversion from the beginnings of its existence to the present day.

Kenneth Dodson, author of the best-seller AWAY ALL BOATS, has written another sea story entitled STRANGER TO THE SHORE. It is the story of a man looking for his place in the world, of a girl running away from her past and of danger and suspense on land and sea.

YOUR LIBRARY—THE CARE AND FEEDING OF THE MIND.

When the All-Stars performed in West Berlin, the people in the Eastern Sector, among which were many Russians, crossed the border to witness the show. According to Louis, the Russians couldn't speak English, but he says they didn't have to because the music spoke for both sides. Listen on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. when radio station WCLR will present "Ambassador Satch" on Sophisticated Swing.

Inter-Unit Shooting Begins Wednesday

Inter-unit small bore rifle and pistol competition for the first quarter, calendar year 1957, will get under way Wednesday, January 23, when the pistol shooters go into action.

In the first matches scheduled at 12:45 p.m., Hq. Bn. will meet Serv. Bn. and MP Bn. will go against Engr. Schs. Bn.

Matches scheduled for 2 p.m. will find MCSS trying to get the jump on 1st ITR, and RR Det. trying to outshoot USNH.

The first rifle match is scheduled for January 30.

The remainder of the schedule can be found in Base Order 1710.4.

Hometown Pinup

LASS FROM MASS.—Hailing from Fairhaven, Mass., is this week's Hometown Pinup, Miss Patricia Ormellas, the sweetheart of Cpl. Ronald W. DeCost of H&S Co., Eighth Marines. Pat, an 18-year-old brown-eyed miss weighing 105 pounds, is five foot, one inch, has brown hair and is a student at Fairhaven High school.

Paradise Point Club

Tonight is Happy Evening at the Paradise Point club. Refreshments will be served from 4:30 p.m. until 11 p.m. at reduced prices. Music will be available for dancing in the River room from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Bring the wife or girl friend and plan to spend the evening.

Thursday nights at the club are turned over to duplicate bridge games, play beginning at 7:30 p.m. There is something new and different on each Tuesday night at the club, but we'll let you attend to find out what it is. In addition, music for your listening and dancing pleasure will be available.

Dinner dancing each Saturday night with dinner served from 6:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m., with dance music from 8:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. is standing procedure.

Sunday brunch is an enjoyable after-church or after-golf affair.

Camp Geiger puts out the welcome mat tonight. Entertainment will feature Happy hours from 4:30 p.m. until 6:30 p.m., with dancing from 9 p.m. until 1:30 a.m.

Informal juke box dances are held at the Courthouse Bay Club Wednesday night from 6:30 p.m. until 11 p.m. Drinks and refreshments are available.

Every Wednesday evening at 8:30 p.m. is Fun night at the Peterfield Point Officer club. Refreshments are available.

Plan now to attend the first meeting of the Paradise Point Square Dancing club on January 24 in the Paradise Point Club Cafeteria. Appropriate costumes may be worn. Special classes will be held for beginners.

BLADES AND BULLETS—Appearing at the Camp Theater on January 24 with the Eddie Allen band are The Ortons, a knife-throw and crack pistol and rifle trick shot team. The program will start at 7 p.m. at the theater, to be followed by a dance at Marston Pavilion from 9 p.m. until midnight featuring the satin smooth music of Eddie Allen, known throughout the midwest as Iowa's dance band.

NIGHT RUNNER (2 1/2 Bells) A man considered a danger is released from a state mental hospital, and all goes well with him when he finds a job and falls in love with the owner's daughter. The trouble doesn't start until the owner learns the truth of his background. Stars Ray Danton and Colleen Miller.

GREAT LOCOMOTIVE CHASE (3 Bells) This is the story of the Union raiders who almost wrecked the war for the South by stealing one of their trains in order to dynamite their bridges. Stars Fess Parker and Jeff Hunter.

KISMET (3 Bells) A plush color musical set in the exotic background of India. Beautiful music and lavish costumes all lend a hand to make this one of the best musicals in the past couple of years. Stars Ann Blyth and Howard Keel.

THE WRONG MAN (3 Bells) A musician, identified as a robber and hold-up man, is arrested and goes through the police inquiries, identifications, etc., only to have the real culprit caught and identified after a mistrial has been declared. Stars Henry Fonda and Vera Miles.

PASSPORT TO TREASON (2 Bells) Rod Cameron, a private investigator, is contacted by an old friend to handle an important assignment. Before the fast-moving Cameron can ascertain vital facts, his friend is dead. This development leads him to an international league for peace, allegedly used as a front for illegal activity. Also stars Lois Maxwell.

THE KILLING (2 Bells) A complicated robbery of racetrack receipts furnishes much suspense and excitement as the robbery is carried out, only to fail at the final moment. Stars Sterling Hayden and Colleen Gray.

BUS STOP (3 Bells) A young cowboy, who has never had a girl friend, decides he is going to marry an angel, and then proceeds to pursue a poor little "floozy" whom he encounters one day at a rodeo. Stars Marilyn Monroe and Don Murray.

MEN OF SHERWOOD FOREST (1 1/2 Bells) Robin Hood and his merry band of Sherwood Forest encounter a sinister plot to kill King Richard on the latter's arrival in England. The legendary Robin is this time played by Don Taylor, with Eileen Moore as the Lady Aylin.

LAST WAGON (3 Bells) The story of a small group, mostly teen-agers, who survive an Apache attack upon their wagon train and endure terrible hardships in the long dangerous trek to safety. Their guide for this journey is Richard Widmark, supposed killer and madman. Also stars Felicia Farr.

REBECCA (Re-issue) The master of suspense, Alfred Hitchcock, and the story of the most glamorous woman of all time, headlined by the superb acting of Laurence Olivier and Joan Fontaine, make this picture worth seeing again.

GUN BROTHERS (2 Bells) The story of two brothers, Buster Crabbe, just out of the army in Wyoming in 1879, and his brother, Neville Brand, leader of a holdup gang. A rattling, incident-filled western, with fast riding and other western ingredients. Also stars Anna Robinson.

at 7 p.m., daily. CAMP THEATER (CT) — 6 and 8:30 p.m., Monday through Friday; Saturday, 4, 6:30 and 8:30; Sunday, 2, 4, 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

500 AREA (500) — Indoors at 7 p.m., daily.

DAVY CROCKETT & RIVER PIRATES (2 Bells) Another of Davy Crockett's adventures that reflect the spirit of the American frontier. With Fess Parker as Crockett, Buddy Ebsen, his friend and fighting mate, and Jeff York as the mighty Mike Fink, King of the River Pirates, the picture has humor, excitement and rip-roaring fight scenes.

D-DAY, 6TH OF JUNE (3 Bells) It is D-Day and half a million men are waiting for the signal to cross the English Channel. This story is about two men and a girl—one an American, the other a British colonel. Stars Robert Taylor and Diana Wymer.

LOOK FOR THE SILVER LINING (Re-issue) This is the story of the struggle and eventual stardom that came to the singing and dancing beauty, Marilyn Miller.

June Haver is great as Marilyn, and Gordon MacRae is good as the romantic interest. Worth seeing again.

THESE WILDER YEARS (2 Bells) James Cagney and sentiment crash head-on for rather interesting results in this romantic drama having to do with a selfish, ruthless steel tycoon who, finding himself a lonely bachelor in middle life, seeks to bring a semblance of emotional security into his life by retraining a youthful wild out that haunts his conscience. Also stars Barbara Stanwyck.

ZARAK (3 Bells) The eldest son of an Indian potentate is banished from his father's kingdom because he has fallen in love with one of his father's harem wives. This is a dramatic spectacle, with several great battles between the bandits of the North.
