THE GAP—Maj. Gen. Alfred H. Noble, commanding general of Marine Corps Base, in ceremonies Friday, turns the wheel that the 214-foot, center-pivoted swing span of Onslow Beach bridge, while Project Enck Scruggs Jr. and Maj. H. G. Bozarth,

General Dedicates Onslow Beach Bridge

Inland Waterway, crossed and recrossed by a bridge from Maine to Florida, got a new one Friday. Maj. Gen. Alfred H. Noble, commanding general of Marine Corps Base, here, turned the wheels that mark the official opening and dedication of the structure leading to Onslow Beach.

Engineer Jack Scruggs Jr., supervisor of A. Loving Construction Co., of Goldsboro, called it "the best bridge on the Inland foot center-pivoted swing span, designed to carry a 90-ton capacity, twice as much as any highway bridge in the state.

Waterway, as yet unnamed, under construction this year, is a 400-foot structure with a 214-

Built without pilings, the bridge rests on a solid concrete foundation driven through to shell-rock 24 feet below the water, and is electrically-operated from a two-deck concrete bridge house, and provides 12-foot clearance for waterway craft when closed, unlimited clearance when open.

Civil Service bridge-operators will operate the bridge on a 24-hour basis under supervision of Camp Maintenance Officer Maj. H. G. Bozarth.

Community Chest Drive Gets Fast Start

Early Donations Pour In

Contributions from local units have begun to roll in as Lejeune Community Chest drive ends its first week. Publication has been released for the drive, which will run through the month, but an up-to-date report is expected tomorrow.

The campaign is led by Col. J. Wallace, assisted by Reports released as the drive gets underway show the Rifle Range detachment with 65 per cent of the total, and Medical Search Lab with $1.67 for those contributing.

Samuelson, 2nd Division and Lt. Col. R. D. Miller, ops chairman.

All commanding officers are instructed to offer their commands a contribution through representatives. Units that contribute through representatives are placed on the Community Chest roll.

The Community Chest is a mass-mailing drive designed to receive contributions for a number of local, national and international agencies. It was devised to simplify charity drives by accepting single contributions to be divided among its member groups.

The drive will be one of three at Lejeune this year. The others were the Red Cross and Navy (See CHEST DRIVE, Page 11)

Active Duty Binder Awards Completed

Selection of the first group of Reserve officers to be offered one to five year active duty service contracts has been announced by Headquarters, Marine Corps.

Officers selected will be notified by individual letter through their commanding officers. Officers not selected will be notified by individual letter from the Commandant of the Marine Corps.

Officers who have not applied for a contract, or whose tour of duty expires before a contract is received, will be released from active duty on schedule.

Telephone Centers Post New Hours

The attended telephone pay centers at Camp Geiger and Hadnot Point have announced new hours for the convenience of local callers.

Hours at Bldg. 301, Camp Geiger and Bldg. 225, Hadnot Point are as follows:

Monday through Friday — 3:30 p. m. to 10:15 p. m.; Saturday — 2:30 p. m. to 9:15 p. m., and Sunday, 11:30 a. m. to 6:15 p. m.

Objective Passed In Memorial Drive

"It gives me great pleasure to report that the objective has been reached," Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps, said last week in a Corps memorandum announcing the successful completion of the fund campaign for the construction and erection of the National Marine Memorial at Washington, D. C.

The six-figure bronze group, depicting the historic flag-raising on Iwo Jima's Mount Suribachi in 1945, will be dedicated Nov. 10, the 179th anniversary of the founding of the Corps.

Total contributions reached $822,774.35, the Commandant reported. The original goal was $750,000. Marine donations averaged more than $2 a man.

Three Local Marines Die As Traffic Toll Goes To 19

Camp Lejeune's 1954 traffic death toll climbed another notch Monday with the auto crash deaths of three local marines on North Carolina highways, bringing to five the total traffic deaths here within the past two weeks and marking the second and third fatal injuries in the same period to members of Force Troops' 8th Signal Bn.

Phone Book Delivery Postponed Indefinitely

Camp Telephone Officer 1st Lt. Herbert J. Leak this week said there is no new expected distribution date for the new Camp telephone directory, scheduled for delivery here last week.

The new distribution date will be carried in the GLOBE when announced.

Dead were: Pvt. Robert K. Nicolia and Pfc Francis Powell, both with the 8th Signal Bn., and Pfc Thomas F. Bummer, 17, of Shelbyville, Ind., attached to the 2nd Shore Party Bn. here.

The triple deaths brought the total for the year to 19, still two under the figure of 21 reached by this same time last year. Total deaths for 1953 reached 28.

Nicolia and Powell, passengers in the same auto, died when their car hit another vehicle on Highway 301 near Halifax, N. C., according to the State Highway Patrol. Reports quoted the patrolman as saying the marine-driven auto was on the wrong side of the road when the collision occurred.

Bummer was killed in a crash that sent three other local marines from the same auto to Duke hospital in Durham, N. C. The driver of the car reportedly told patrolmen he had fallen asleep at the wheel.

Injured in the smashup that took the life of Bummer were: Pfc Charles W. Breeden, Pfc Franklin T. Schofield and Pfc J. D. Williams.

The car rolled down a 10-foot embankment and struck a tree. Two of the marines were thrown clear.

Meanwhile, the Camp Provost Marshal predicted yesterday that nine more marines will be killed in traffic accidents this year, and if the fatalities continue at their current pace, they will equal last year's total of 28 deaths.

School Choice Out As Re-Up Guarantee For Low 3 Grades

Guaranteed choice of school assignment has been withdrawn as an inducement to sergeants and below to reenlist in the Marine Corps.

The guarantee-option, in effect since 1947, promised the lower three pay grades first consideration in assignment to schools or courses of instruction, but was withdrawn because quotas were too often filled, preventing the guarantee from being met, and because applicants too often lacked necessary requirements.

Enlisted personnel still may request retraining in another occupational field upon reenlistment, but Headquarters, Marine Corps, will make the decision for which field the man is best fitted.

The option of retention at present duty station for six months, or until the end of a 24-month tour, and the option of transfer to a new station in one of six areas still is available to reenlistees in the lower three grades.

These areas include: North and South Carolina; the United States east of the Mississippi river; Southern California; the United States west of the Mississippi; Japan, or overseas, including Japan and Korea.

CG's Inspection To Continue For MCB Through December

Remaining Staff NCO clubs and Commissioned Officers messes and BOQ's will be inspected with MCSS, Engineer School Bn., First Infantry Trng. Regt. and Rifle Range Detachment.

Corps To Resume Issuing Of Manuals To Regular Officers

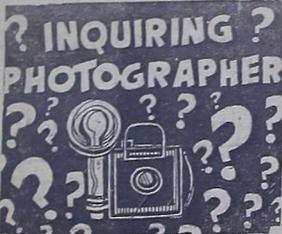

Permanent regular officers serving in a rank below the grade of major will be issued a copy of the Marine Corps Manual, according to a recent Marine Corps memorandum.

The issue partially reestablishes the pre-war policy of issuing individual copies of the manual to officers as a required professional book. Officers then could keep abreast of Marine Corps administrative regulations regardless of the type of duty they currently were performing.

Naval aviators will be issued one copy of Volume One, Personnel and General Administration, of the manual. Other regular officers will be issued one copy of Volume One and one copy of Volume Two, the supply portion of the manual. Commissioned Warrant Officers, and Warrant Officers are excluded from issue.

Volume One of the manual with printed change No. 5, is expected to be distributed by Sept. 30. Volume Two, under revision, will be distributed when available.

After initial distribution individual officers are required to keep the Marine Corps Clothing Depot, Philadelphia, Pa., informed of change in address so that all changes may be sent them.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF STAFF NCO'S BEING ALLOWED TO CARRY "SWAGGER" STICKS?

PVT. JAMES FOSTER, "D" CO., 2ND BN., SIXTH MARINES — I think it's a pretty good idea. They make a person look a lot sharper, at least the ones at Parris Island seemed to look much better. It adds something to the rest of the uniform.

FIRST LT. ALBERT GREEN, "G" CO., 3RD BN., SECOND MARINES — The theory behind the swagger stick is to help give the Staff NCO's the respect they deserve and because of this I think it's a fine idea. I only hope the theory works out.

PVT. CHARLES A. CALLEGAN, BRIG CO., MP BN. — I don't like the idea. It gives me the feeling they're just trying to play at being tin soldiers. If a man deserves respect he doesn't have to carry a swagger stick to get it.

SGT. MARVIN LEVINE, "B" CO., HQ. BN., MCB — I like them. They seem to bring about more respect for the rank. It adds a lot to their military bearing and in general makes the whole uniform seem more significant. Staff NCO's deserve the privilege of carrying swagger sticks.

PFC JOHN KASCH JR., "B" CO., HQ. BN., MCB — I can't see it, myself. I don't think they deserve to carry them. It should stay the way it is now, where only officers are allowed to carry them. To me it's always been the distinguishing mark of the officer and I'd like to see it stay that way.

SGT. WES CROWE, S-3, MP BN., MCB — It's a good idea. It gives a certain amount of prestige to the individual; makes them look more distinguished. I also think it adds a lot of color to the Corps in general.

Honors Go To 'Big Ed' As Navy Queen Signs Up For Lifetime Hitch In Corps

MSgt. Ed Rudsinske, new NCO-in-charge of the 2nd Division Informational Services office, officially clinched top West Virginia recruiting honors in May, 1952, when he signed up a former Miss United States Navy for the longest hitch known to any service—life.

Miss Betty Sue Blizzard had been named Miss Navy of 1948, and many a blue jacket registered strong disappointment when the pretty lass surveyed her name and switched to the Marines.

"Big Ed" Rudsinske, former Canadian football league all-pro end with the Hamilton (Ont.) Tiger-Cats, married the Navy queen while on recruiting duty in South Charleston, W. Va.

Betty Sue's father served in the Navy in World War I, while her brothers, Joe and John, joined up for World War II, and young brother, Jim, was released from the service only a few weeks ago. Sister Margie followed the Navy by marrying a chief. Younger sister, Shirley May, is being courted by still another chief.

The 13-year marine veteran has more than once showed he was a deft recruiter. He takes credit for the only marines actually signed up while wearing bathing trunks.

Rudsinske was making one of his weekly recruiting visits to Richwood, 95 miles from his South Charleston headquarters. The town, had been dubbed "Marine Corps Town, U. S. A." because of its high percentage of marines and former marines. It was closed for a holiday. Not wanting to encroach on the holiday spirit, Ed decided to take a swim in a nearby stream.

In the pool he was hailed by six men interested in becoming leathernecks. He administered recruiting tests on a granite table-rock and between splashes the men filled out applications for enlistment. After another dip he and his would-be marines headed back to Richwood. Two days later all six were sworn in at the South Charleston recruiting station and soon after departed for Parris Island.

A Rudsinske float, "Sinbad the Sailor," took first prize in the sixth annual West Virginia East-West Pigskin pageant. Before 125,000 spectators, including the governor of West Virginia, the Hon. Okey L. Patterson, the marine float led the way in the "Pigskin Parade."

RECRUITER'S DREAM—MSgt. E. A. "Big Ed" Rudsinske, former Marine recruiter in South ton, W. V., "Big Ed" met and married the ex-Navy Queen a clinching her all-Navy family that the Corps was the place He's now section chief for 2nd Division Informational office (Official USMC Photo).

RIDIN' HIGH—Pfc William D. Taylor, 2nd Bn., Second Marines, rides high as careful hands haul him aboard the USS Cambria after an over-the-ocean cable ride in a wire stretcher-basket ordered after he suffered a ruptured appendix while on a Sixth Fleet transport in the Mediterranean during recent maneuvers there. The transfer was ordered to permit an operation by the Cambria's surgeon (Official USMC Photo).

Inter-Ship Cable Car Carries Stricken Marine To Sick Bay

WITH THE U. S. SIXTH FLEET—Although maybe not the best means of transfer from one ship to another, Pfc William D. Taylor, on duty with the 2nd Bn., Second Marines, in the Mediterranean, found a cable and stretcher to be the fastest.

And in Pfc Taylor's case, speed was all-important. The leatherneck was found to have a ruptured appendix while aboard the USS Latimer, one of the transports carrying the Marine unit out of Morehead City.

Since there was no physician aboard the Latimer qualified to perform the operation, it was decided to transfer Taylor to the USS Cambria, flagship of the fleet, for attention by that ship's surgeon.

To make the transfer, a "high-line" was rigged and Taylor was placed in a rugged metal stretcher along with a number of life preservers. The stretcher was then attached to the two-inch cable between the two ships and hauled across to the Cambria while the cold waters of the North Atlantic swirled some, 20 feet below.

"I guess it looked pretty dangerous from the decks of the two ships, but the passage wasn't bad at all. It was pretty smooth and I didn't get wet," Pfc Taylor said later.

The appendectomy was performed immediately upon his arrival aboard the Cambria and was entirely successful.

Said Taylor: "The only thing I was worried about after the crossing was making the rest of the cruise. I volunteered because I thought that it would be a great educational experience."

Crack Train 'Derailed' By Local

A Camp Lejeune marine threw the Seaboard railroad's "Silver Comet" completely off schedule last Sunday evening.

Seems the marine, MSgt. Peter C. Patmalnee of the Camp Inspector's office, had put his wife, Marge (She's on her way home to visit her folks.) On the train at the Raleigh station.

Since they were only recently married, the farewells were fonder than most. By the time the final clinch was broken, the train was underway at high paces for Atlanta and Birmingham.

Sgt. Patmalnee explained the conductor and rust situation. Wearingly, he reached up and pulled gency cord. The train a stop.

As Sgt. Patmalnee 1,000-yard trudge back station, the conductor said why did you have to get that train?"

Leaves To Eagles In Single Week Local Navy Captain Out On 30

lieutenant commander to commander to captain to a farmer, all in one week, is the story of Capt. James McBrier, USN, who retired here last week after more than 30 years of service.

McBrier, then a lieutenant commander, was making final preparations for retirement before leaving his 315-acre farm at home.

On his last day as commander's rank selection board at Camp Lejeune, D. C., he received his promotion last Thursday a day before retiring.

On a quick trip to the Marine Corps to pick up a pair of commander oak leaves, he closed his office at the Joint Landing School, where he served as commander of amphibious ships to await the final word from the Navy Department.

Thursday afternoon—but not the word he had expected. Due to wartime commendations as skipper of an LST division during the landings at Normandy and Southern France, for which he twice was awarded the Bronze Star, the Navy Department authorized his promotion to captain.

Back to the Marine Corps Exchange again, this time to purchase silver eagles denoting his new rank!

A busy week was climaxed Friday morning in the office of Maj. Gen. Alfred H. Noble, Camp commanding general, who, along with Brig. Gen. Russell N. Jordahl, Camp chief of staff, pinned Captain McBrier's brand new eagles on during an informal ceremony.

AVES TO EAGLES—Capt. James W. McBrier, USN, center, brand-new silver eagles pinned on by Maj. Gen. Alfred H. Noble, Camp commander, and Brig. Gen. Russell N. Jordahl, chief of staff, during informal ceremony in General Noble's office Friday, climaxed a busy week for the retiring Navy officer. Two days before was a lieutenant commander serving at the Joint Landing School. Promoted to commander the day before he went into effect, Captain McBrier received last minute promotion to his present rank before leaving for his Georgia farm where he has more than 30 years' service which began as an enlisted man in 1924 (Official USMC Photo).

Gen. Noble At Toyland For Opening

Maj. Gen. Alfred H. Noble, Camp commanding general, officially opened "Toyland" Tuesday to the delight of Camp Lejeune's many wide-eyed, Christmas-minded children.

General Noble made a brief tour of "Toyland" with Lt. Col. A. A. Tillmann, Camp Exchange officer, and Clement Brownscombe, "Toyland" manager.

The general commented on the fine "up-to-date" displays and the gift wrapping booth, convenient, he observed, for a man to select his gift, pay for it, have it wrapped and mailed from the store.

Marines were the first to issue body armor as a standard item of equipment for combat troops. It was developed by the Navy Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, and features plasticized laminated fibre glass plates to stop most fragmentation ammunition.

Presidential Order Raises Penalty For UA Violation

More severe penalties for absence offenses and missing movement were signed into law by President Eisenhower in Executive Order 10565 on Sept. 27.

The new law, which will amend certain passages in the Manual for Courts Martial, 1951, will be set forth in a forthcoming Navy directive. The new penalties will not be enforced until Nov. 1.

One new limitation, according to the Navy times, states that when a man is on unauthorized absence for more than 30 days, he may be dishonorably discharged. Previously, the penalty for this offense had been loss of all pay and allowances and confinement at hard labor for not more than one year.

Another punishment change concerns UA's for not more than three days. Persons committing this violation may be confined at hard labor for not more than one month and lose two-thirds of a month's pay.

In the past, the maximum penalty for UA's of three days or less was confinement of three days for each day of absence, and two days' loss of pay for each day of absence. Another change to the Manual for Courts Martial concerns previous offenses. If a man with three or more previous convictions in the preceding year is found guilty of another offense, he may be dishonorably discharged even if the manual does not call for that punishment.

Navy Relief Enrolls 54 Students For Motherhood Class

Fifty-four parents and prospective parents were enrolled last week at the first meeting of "Preparation for Motherhood", the semi-annual orientation series sponsored by the local auxiliary of the Navy Relief Society.

Under the direction of Mrs. Geneva Hill, visiting nurse for the local auxiliary, the classes meet at 1:30 p. m. each Tuesday in Bldg. 65, the lecture hall of the Naval Medical Field Research laboratory here.

Graduation will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 4, at the same location.

Kits of baby care literature including copies of Dr. Benjamin Spock's "Baby and Child Care" have been made available to enrollees, and the current course will lay greater emphasis than in the past on visual education through movies, Mrs. Hill said.

Members of the Marine Corps Base and Naval hospital medical staffs are expected to take part in final sessions of the course.

Her Splits With Stork One-Way Birthday Race

BY TSGT. BILL DAUM

35 minutes Monday night, Mrs. Jesse Nell Straughn is as busy as the Stork, though.

Half as busy as the Stork, though, is the young mother, appearing for the first time at 7:25 p.m. in an auto belonging to Jesse's sister, Mrs. Stork to the Family here.

By the Straughn caravan, the Onslow County hospital is the time and attendant at the young mother's hand with the first half feature starring twin.

A short stop at the County hospital way they went again, and determined to reach before another visit from the stork. They made it, so the story goes, and the second attraction is a howl.

Stork called it quits after probably retired to the dark corner for a good night's sleep. The stork is doing fine, according to hospital reports, while the young mother is spending most of their time in an incubator, being pre-occupied with the birth.

A very unnecessary item at the hospital is a seaman aboard the USS Mato, Norfolk, Va. The Straughns make their home at Rt. 2, Beulaville.

NURSES NEEDED

A request has been made by the Onslow County hospital for registered nurses for general duty. Interested persons are asked to phone Jacksonville 7241 or 7242.

Quantico Record Set As 4,000 Undergo Summer Of Training

The Marine Corps Reserve Officer Training program conducted at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., this summer, hit an all-time high with over 4,000 college men and women participating, according to Headquarters, Marine Corps. Of these, 1,300 successfully completed either the Officer Candidate course, Platoon Leaders class, Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps or the Women Officer Training class and were commissioned second lieutenants.

Other participants were college students in their freshman, sophomore or junior years enrolled in the Platoon Leaders class program.

Also trained were some 400 college graduates in the Officer Candidate course, a program restricted to either college graduates or seniors who will receive baccalaureate degrees. This course provided an intensive 10-week training period for the candidates, who are commissioned in the Marine Corps Reserve.

The officers and future officers attending these courses came from 500 different colleges and universities throughout the United States.

12th Marine Men Organize Club For Climbers Of Fuji

THIRD MARINE DIVISION, Japan — An "I Climbed Fuji" club has been formed by men of the Twelfth Marines at Camp McNair, according to the temporary president of the new club, TSgt. Charles F. X. Houts of Newport, R. I.

To qualify as a member, artillerymen must produce a banded Fujistick or photos showing them at the 10th station, summit of the 12,395-foot volcano.

The cannoners are based 3,300 feet above sea level on the north-eastern slopes of the famous extinct volcano.

Men of Camp McNair, who qualify, receive a membership card which shows Fuji in the background, and certifies that the bearer, by having successfully made the climb, is a member of the club.

Houts estimates that approximately 200 members of the Twelfth Marines are eligible for membership in the club.

Pfc Stripe To Top Boot Camp Grads

The top five per cent of recruit depot graduates may now be promoted to Pfc, according to a letter from the Commandant of the Marine Corps to commanding generals at Parris Island and San Diego.

Noting that an earlier directive required privates to serve a minimum of six months in grade before becoming eligible for Pfc rank, the Commandant added that the modification reduced the time necessary for outstanding recruits to become eligible for corporal.

All promotions to Pfc will be permanent and date of rank will be the first date of the month in which the promotion is actually effected.

Corps Readies Five New Marine Movies For Autumn, Winter

The Division of Information, HQMC, has announced that five new motion pictures are being produced at the Naval Photographic center in Anacostia for the Marine Corps. Included in the group are:

The Presidential Hit Parade—A half-hour film of the Marine band performing hit songs of various presidents, with interesting historical dramatizations inserted. Distribution of the film is scheduled for early fall.

Sunset Parade—The weekly parade at Marine Barracks, 8th and Eye sts., S. E., Washington, is captured in a quarter-hour color film which should be completed late this fall.

From Ships Of the Sky—A quarter-hour black and white film about the reason for, and accomplishment of, a vertical assault should be accomplished late this summer. The film will not be ready before late winter.

Cold Logic—This is the proposed title for a story of the Marine cold weather training depicted in a quarter-hour black and white film. This film probably will be ready late this fall or early winter.

Skyknight—A color quarter-hour story of the Marine Corps night fighter, Skyknight, and the men who fly it. The film will not be ready until early spring in 1955.

In the television field, a commercial television series of 26 shows is being produced by a new television film company on the West Coast with the approved cooperation of the Department of Defense and the Marine Corps. The half-hour shows are tentatively entitled "Don't Tread On Me, or Above And Beyond."

The sentence, "The Marines have landed and have the situation well in hand," is thought to have been coined by Richard Harding Davis.

Get It Right!

The Camp Photo Lab can pride itself in handling a vast amount of work for its size, but no matter how efficient a machine, useless overloading can prevent its work being done properly and on time.

The photo lab has definite procedures set to enable good service. Recently, the services of the photo lab have been overburdened due to what has been called a lack of consideration and cooperation.

The greatest violation is in regards to Military Dependents' Identification cards. The cards are presented to the photo lab with incorrect expiration dates. They are not signed by the dependents. They are issued to dependents below the age of 16. The name of the sponsor is not shown. The correct fingerprint is not indicated by the proper check mark. Cards are being presented without attached work orders as required by Camp General Order 487.

He stressed also that those who use Military Dependents Identification cards become familiar with and comply with Marine Corps Memorandum 5-54 and Camp Memorandum 184-54, concerning regulations governing the Identification cards.

You can help the photo lab and help yourself at the same time by doing the job right the first time.

Ten years ago this week:

Lejeune's football team racked up a 6-0 win over Duke's "B" squad in a thriller.

First pictures from Peleliu showed 1st Division marines as they battled to take the important island in the Palaus.

Frank Knox, marine private, nephew of the former Navy Secretary, and veteran pro line-man, took over as Lejeune grid coach from Lt. (j.g.) Bill Osmanski, former Chicago Bear great who was transferred. Knox had as his assistant Pfc Charley Malone, ex-

Washington Redskin wingman. This made the coaching staff a "private" affair.

Brig. Gen. Gerald C. Thomas, officer in charge of the Plans and Policies Section, HQMC, presented commissions to 373 grads of Special Officer Candidate school here.

THE COST OF LIFE

Every artist has an ambition to create THE masterpiece. At least, he aspires to create something that would express all of the talent his soul possesses.

One such artist had made several creative attempts, but each time, he fell far short of his goal. Like most artists, he was barely able to earn the necessities of life. He lived in an unheated attic room, and cooked his own meals.

One day, during the height of the coldest season of the year, he was gripped with the inspiration to do something in clay. Without food or heat in his room, he went to work and laboriously shaped the statue he knew would make him famous. When it was finished, he invited all his friends to see the beauty his fingers had shaped.

During the night, however, the winter's cold increased and threatened to damage his masterpiece. Fearing the clay would crack, he wrapped his statue with the only blanket he possessed. As the night drew out, the weather became more bitter. In desperation, the artist removed first his coat, then his vest, and even his shirt to cover his masterpiece and save it from the destructive fangs of winter.

The next morning, when his friends arrived, they found the artist dead from exposure and privation. But the masterpiece he created is now on display at one of the famous European museums.

And so it is with life. Everything that is worthwhile is accomplished only with effort, pain and sacrifice—the nobler the goal, the greater the effort and sacrifice required. It is no wonder, then, that the salvation of a human soul requires the mustering of so much talent and effort. Perhaps this is what our Lord had in mind when he said: "He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it" (Matthew 10:39).

—Chaplain N. S. Karrus, 1st Bn., Sixth Marines

Fire Watch...

'COMBAT READINESS,' fireman style, is what Pfc Joseph J. DeLorenzo is showing above as he sleeps in his rack on the second deck of Fire House Number 5 in the Industrial area. DeLorenzo can be out of his covers, into his ready "bunker pants" and on his way down the brass pole at left in a matter of seconds. . .

PERIODIC INSPECTION of fire extinguishers and living quarters function of members of the Camp Lejeune Fire department inspector Sgt. Thomas H. Biffle, above. Periodic inspections fire extinguishers are filled, properly placed and in good order and see that fire bills are posted . . .

WHAT NOT TO DO is the hopefully obvious theme of this photo of a Camp Lejeune marine at rest with a glowing cigarette poised to kindle a blazing fire if he should fall off to sleep. Best way to prevent smoking-in-bed fires? Don't smoke in bed. . .

THE LATEST AND FINEST IN RESCUE EQUIPMENT is displayed above beside the local fire department's rescue squad, based in the Industrial area. Equipment shown includes, l-r, blankets and sheets, portable floodlights, an electric power hack saw, rugged enough to saw auto body steel, an asbestos suit, gas mask, stretchers, an oxy-acetylene cutting torch, resuscitator, first aid kit, hand light, foam nozzle for oil and chemical fires, a nozzle for electrical fires, an oxygen breathing mask, ropes and canvas salvage covers. Shown are SSgt. Allison E. Woolsey and Pfc Mann. . .

... Means 24-Hour-A-Day Assignment For Camp Lejeune's Fire Department

Fire Prevention week comes once a year, but fire prevention is a 24-hour-a-day job with the Camp Lejeune Fire department, a combined marine-civilian effort designed to keep you safe from one of the oldest of mankind's horror-blessings: fire.

Charged with the safety of a multi-million dollar investment in the more than 5,000 structures here, plus acres of woodland area, the Camp Lejeune Fire department maintains a system of round-the-clock fire protection that allows any of its 11 engine companies or its rescue squad to reach the scene of a fire in three to five minutes.

The sleek red pumbers carry equipment to handle virtually any type of fire, from wood to oil to chemicals to explosive materials. By inter-truck hook-ups, the department can throw up to 1,500 gallons of water a minute on a blaze, using fog, spray or direct stream.

But firemen are quick to warn listeners not to place too much faith in equipment. The best fire prevention gimmick, they say, is the man behind the match. If he—you—will take care; will heed a few vital "don'ts," then the chances of getting singed are much less.

What are the fire dangers? Careless smoking and handling of matches.

- Misuse of electricity—too many plugs in one socket.
- Defective or over-heated cooking and heating equipment.
- Improper disposal of rubbish—lighted cigarettes in the GI can.
- Careless handling of kerosene, gasoline and other flammables.
- Lighting.
- Defective or overheated chimneys.
- Children and matches.
- Field-stripping a butt isn't a top sergeant's whim, say the professional smoke eaters. It can prevent a fire in a GI can, in a rack or in a brush pile or grass field.

Fire here is down, largely due to the skill of the 68 civilians and 128 marines who man the local department under Fire Marshal Lt. Col. B. E. Cunningham, Veteran Chief Frank J. Schlarp and his staff. But the department has answered 577 alarms here so far this fiscal year, less 12 false calls, with 209 building fire and 172 dumpster blazes high on the list.

Reasonable caution has been called the best answer. The fire department will do the rest.

RESCUE TECHNIQUES came in handy last March when a local fireman was overcome by smoke after Camp Lejeune units answered a call to a Jacksonville garage fire. Passer-by Comdr. Walter D. Bundens, Force Troops Medical officer, arrived in time to help administer oxygen to Sgt. John J. Foley. . .

WHAT HAPPENED?—After a brilliant showing in their 7-7 tie of Jacksonville, Lejeune fell down in their first home game this year, played on the Camp baseball field, when they were upset last Friday night by Pamlico County High 15-12. Lejeune Drops 3rd In Row; Fort Lee Takes Win 33-14

Fort Lee's Harry Andreadis and Leo Miles provided the one-two punch that KO'd Lejeune 33-14 last Friday night before a drizzle-chilled crowd of 2,000 at the Virginia Army Base to hand the Marines their third straight loss of the season.

As if by pre-arranged schedule, Lee scored a touchdown with just two minutes gone in each half, added singles tallies on drives after receiving Lejeune's touchdown kickoffs in the second and fourth quarters, and wound up their total with a touchdown in the final 10 seconds of play.

Lejeune was in the game until seven minutes left in the contest when the Travelers scored twice, but for the second week in a row the Marines missed a field or their first win of the season when they fumbled twice within Lee's 10-yard line, once in the first quarter and again at the start of the fourth.

Lejeune took the opening kickoff, but failed to make a first down and Bob Meyers punted. Andreadis started Lee's touchdown parade when he took the kick on his own 35 and ran it back 65 yards for the Travelers' first score on their home field this year. Hal Mitchell converted the first of three extra points.

After an exchange of punts, Joe Kwiatkowski recovered a Lee fumble on the hosts' 32. With Meyers and Eldon Cadenasso as workhorses, Lejeune moved to Lee's 10, only to lose possession on a fumble.

The Marines' defense kept Lee in their own territory for the remainder of the first quarter and half of the second, and were rewarded when Bob Pophal intercepted a pass on Lee's 49.

In four plays the Marines moved to Lee's one, with Bob Meyers going over. Meyers, who tallied all of Lejeune's points, converted.

Lee immediately widened the gap by taking the kickoff and moving to Lejeune's 45 in four plays. On the next down Andreadis went over left guard for their second score and a 13-7 halftime advantage.

Lee struck again after just two minutes of the third quarter. On the first play from scrimmage following Lee's recovery of a Lejeune fumble, Leo Miles moved 32 yards for another score. Lee was penalized 15 yards for holding on the point after touchdown, but Mitchell converted from 20 yards out.

By the end of the third quarter Lejeune found enough offensive steam to push down to the Travelers' eight, but their forward thrust was halted by a fumble at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

The Marines, however, were not to be denied the climax of their effort and recovered a Lee fumble on the home team's 21. Robertson picked up five yards and Cadenasso made it a first down on the one. Meyers scored from the two-foot line two plays later and added the extra point.

At this point the Marines could have pulled the game out of the fire, but Lee took the kickoff and moved 85 yards for another score with Miles scampering 35 yards for the touchdown.

Lee finished the scoring with but 25 seconds left in the game when they halted the Marines' fourth down gamble for a first down on Lejeune's 28. With time running out, the Travelers' reserves drove to the one in eight plays, where Jim Ellis cracked over. The try for the extra point was blocked.

Three Teams Tied For First Place In O-League Play

Three teams are tied for first place in Section "A" and two in Section "B" after three weeks of bowling in the 16-team Officer's Keglers league.

Second Engineer Bn., 2nd Division's Hq. Bn. and the Sharecroppers all are tied for top honors in "A" with an 8-1 record, while the Hasbeens and MP Bn. lead section "B" with the same record.

After nine games, Edwin Krueged leads the "B" section in total pins with 1,616 and a 179 average, and John Kozlowski is far out in front in "A" section with a total of 1,693 pins and a 188 average.

In the Officer's wives bowling the Pin Kids, Hits and Mrs. Pin Ups and Hi Score all are undefeated with a 3-0 record after the first week of play.

Mrs. Jenny Parker has an individual high series of 452 and is tied with Mrs. Alice Purvis for high average with 150. Mrs. Purvis rolled a 178 last week for the individual high game.

Service Bn. Leads Intramural Golfing

After four weeks of competition in the Marine Corps Base intramural Golf league Service Bn. surged into the lead Thursday last week when they downed the only other undefeated team, First Infantry Trng. Regt. 20 1/2-3 at the Paradise Point course.

TSgt. Steve Burek for the second week in a row sparked the Service Bn. team to victory with a five over par 75.

In other matches, Engineer School Bn. picked up their first win in league play by handing MP Bn. their fourth consecutive loss 15 1/2-8 1/2.

Capt. William Anthony's 71 led the Marine Corps Supply Schools to a 15-9 win over the Naval Hospital and a tie for second place with First Infantry Trng. Regt.

Pamlico Grid Team Upsets Devilpups 15-12 In Game Here

Overconfidence can be a bitter fruit—something Camp Lejeune's High school's Devilpups found out Friday night last week at the Camp baseball field when they were upset by Pamlico County High school 15-12, before a large spectator turnout that expected to see Lejeune pick up their first win of the season.

Costly fumbles, and a lack of drive when deep in Pamlico territory, lost the game for the Devilpups.

Pamlico recovered Lejeune's first fumble late in the first quarter on the Devilpups' 15. Three quick-opener plays later, Harris went over for the score, but the extra point was no good.

The two teams engaged in a punting duel most of the second quarter until Lejeune's Jack Cohen passed to Bob Salisbury on Pamlico's 20. With Salisbury and Bruce Burnett doing most of the running, the Devilpups moved the ball to the one, where Cohen scored on a quarterback sneak. Lejeune's conversion attempt failed.

During most of the third quarter the Devilpups were deep in Pamlico territory, but failed to take advantage of the fact. However, in the fourth quarter Bruce Burnett scored from 33 yards out on a pitch out, and, despite Lejeune's third failure to convert, it seemed they had the game clinched.

Pamlico was evidently up for the game, however, and fought back to tie things up with an 80-yard touchdown march, with Lloyd Carawan scoring on an end run. Pamlico moved ahead when they converted the extra point.

Lejeune was penalized back to their one-yard-line on the kickoff, and Pamlico added insurance when they tackled the Lejeune ball carrier behind the goal line for a safety at the final gun.

WM Hoopsters Tryout Monday

The initial tryouts for the WM basketball team will be held at the field house Oct. 11, 13, and 15 at 4:30 p.m. Second Lt. John R. Alba will coach.

Anyone interested in trying out for the team should contact 2nd Lt. Nancy L. Meier of the WM Training office.

First game will be Dec. 4, against Norfolk.

CAGEY COACH—2nd Lt. Nick Maguire, Lejeune basketball coach, who lettered at Villanova with "Peerless" Paul Arizin, former Quantico star, fails to be overly-optimistic about the locals' chances this season. With 35 games against tough opponents facing them, the Lejeune courtmen will have their hands full in any event, Coach Maguire says (Official USMC Photo).

RETURNING LETTERMAN—Although he may be only a substitute for Pensacola's returning 1952 quarterback, Buster Owens, Des McLearn is slated to see a lot of action against Camp Lejeune this weekend. With a year's experience with the Goshawks under his belt, McLearn should help make Pensacola strong at the signal calling position.

Grid Squad Drops 7 Players, Adds 2; Strength Now 44

Lejeune Head Football Coach Capt. Bill Jones last week cut seven men, two backs and five linemen, while adding the name of two Texans to round off the Marines' roster at 44 men.

With some doubt remaining as to when William Owens, former Colgate end, will recover from a pre-season injury, Coach Jones added End Andrew Balke. Balke played four years for Robert E. Lee High school Baytown, Tex., two years for DelMar college and two years for Lamar State College of Technology.

While in high school, Balke was named to the All-District AAAA and All-State Texas teams, and in college was All-Conference and All-Texas Junior college in 1952.

For more halfback strength another Texan was added. William Kilgore from Sealy, Tex. had four years experience at Denison High, a year at San Angelo Junior college and three years at Southern Methodist. He was an All-District player in high school and was named to an honorable mention position on the 1950 Junior college All-American team.

Cagers Practicing For Nov. 23 Opener

Basketball Coach Nick Maguire and his 15 players began a six-day, three-hour afternoon practice Monday last week in preparation for their season's opener against Mine-Lant here Nov. 23.

Searching for almost a month and a half for a man more than six feet tall, Coach Maguire has recently been gifted with the appearance of three men, James Thomas, Thomas Campbell and Jerry Wright, not giants in the basketball world, but standing 6' 4" in their socks, cotton, brown.

The MineLant game on Nov. 23 starts a 12-game home stand for the Marines. So far the Leather-necks have contracted for 85 games, 18 home and 17 away.

The Marine Corps has three combat divisions with supporting forces and three aircraft wings, to provide balanced ground-air teams in its Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Marine Forces.

Air Force, Atlantic, Repeats As Champ In Fleet Golf Play

Air Force, Atlantic Fleet, equal- ed their 1953 performance to re- peat as team champions in the an- nual Atlantic Fleet Golf Play- ment at Lejeune's Paradise Point course last week, while Ar Sil- verstrone, Destroyer Forces, At- lantic, won low medalist honors in a sudden death playoff on the 74th hole.

The five-man AirLant team fin- ished with a four-day total of 1- 197, while Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, took second place with 13 strokes off the pace. DesLant took third place for the second straight year with 1,231 total. Followed by Amphibious Forces, At- lantic, Battle Cruiser Forces, At- lantic, Commander in Chief, At- lantic, and Service Forces, At- lantic.

In the low medalist play, Sil- verstrone surged into the lead on the first day of competition, and, after 54 holes had a one- stroke edge over his nearest rival. Out of the field of 35 golf- ers, five men had a chance to tie or edge out Silverstrone in the final round of 18 holes.

In the final round, Silverstrone blew to a six over par 76 for a 72 hole total of 295, and the low medalist championship went into a sudden death affair, according to PGA rules, when Tommy Black, from Commander in Chief, At- lantic, missed a putt for a birdie, but sunk the next try for a par on the 72nd hole to also finish with a 295 total.

In the playoff both men par- red the 73rd hole, Black doing it the hard way with a chip shot from eight yards away from the pin. Silverstrone won the title when he fired a par on the 74th hole, while Black took a four after his tee shot had sliced and his approach shot overran the green.

After the tournament, Brig. Gen. Edward W. Snedeker, as- sistant Division commander, 2nd Division, presented the champion- ship team trophy to Comdr. Frank Heyer of AirLant, and Maj. R. M. Smith accepted the runner-up award for FMFLANT. Individual trophies were also awarded to Silverstrone and the members of the winning and runner-up teams.

Tenth Marines And Group II Undefeated In Division Intramural Football Play

Group I's 7-6 upset victory over the Eighth Marines highlighted the second week of Division's intramural football league as only the Tenth Marines and Group II remain undefeated and untied following last Friday's action.

Battling from under a 6-0 half-time deficit, Group I received a break in the closing minutes of the game when they recovered an Eighth Marine fumble on the opponents' four-yard line. Following two unsuccessful line plunges, Quarterback Phares threw a three-yard touchdown pass to his right end, L. K. Johnson. Joe De Tafuri became the hero of the day when he booted the extra point.

Defending Division champ- ions, Tenth Marines, displayed a powerful running attack as they whitewashed the Second Marines 19-0 on Liversedge field.

Led by Walter Booker, Ernest Williams and Douglas Shiner, who each scored a touchdown, the Tenth Marines outplayed their opponents in every department.

Leading by 7-0 at the half, with their marker coming on a 25-yard scoring run by Booker and an extra point by Ronnie Schweneberger, the Tenth scored six points in the early minutes of the third quarter, and turned the game into a rout in the fourth, scoring three touchdowns, only one of which counted because of penalties.

The Sixth Marines suffered their second consecutive defeat as they lost to Group II 32-6.

The indication that it might be a long afternoon for the Sixth Marines came three plays after the opening kickoff when Group II's Ben Kimbrough sped 75 yards for the first score.

By half-time Group II led 13-0, but in the second half they scored three touchdowns on two passes and a 40-yard jaunt by Fullback Prudy.

League standings table with columns for Team, W, L. Tenth Marines 2-0, Group II 2-0, Eighth Marines 1-1, Group I 1-1, Second Marines 0-2, Sixth Marines 0-2.

Camp Boxing Team Meets Fort Meade In Opener Oct. 14

Confidence and determination seem to be invisible teammates of the Camp boxing team as they prepare to step into the ring a week from tonight against Fort Meade, Md., for their season opener.

First Lt. Mike Capriano, boxing coach, has predicted that this year's squad will be as good or better as last year's team, which won eight and lost one match meet, Former Pro Edgar (Shadow) Stover is the squad's trainer.

Lejeune's 1953-54 team wound up the season by placing four boxers in the All-Marine champion- ships held at the El Toro Air Sta- tion. One boxer went on to com- pete in the Inter-Service meet at San Antonio, Tex. (See photo.)

Lack Of Gear May Hold Up First Game For Terrace Teams

A lack of safe football gear may postpone the proposed opening of the Tarawa Terrace Midget Foot- ball league scheduled for Oct. 16.

When adequate gear is found, the league will made up of four teams with members aged to 13. All games will be played on the Tarawa Terrace Boys' field.

For three weeks the midget foot- ballers have been practicing and indications are that the football games will outdraw the large crowds which witnessed the Little League activity this past summer.

Anyone interested in lending a hand in this community project is urged to contact MSgt. J. E. Bres- ette, phone 0-1895 or TSgt. A. C. Kinder, phone 0-1522.

BIGGEST FISHING NEWS

The drum fish, a rugged, fighting, copper warrior of the surf, is in the headlines all along the North Carolina coast. With cut bait and artificial lures, anglers from near and far are pitting their skills against these fish which range in size from six pounds (puppy drum) to yearlings of 15 pounds, to the old drum or big channel bass which go on up in size. A 62 1/2 pounder was beached along the outer banks this season for the largest yet reported.

With cooler weather bound to come it is anticipated that record-sizes will be taken in the local surf. Schools of bluefish and weakfish or trout are yet to make their big play.

Puppy drum, spots, croakers and a trout or two are taken daily from the waterway at Onslow and at Sneads Ferry. Capt. M. Alcorn, 2nd Division, hauled in a record flounder, unless disputed, at Sneads Ferry. It tipped the scales at 10 pounds.

SNAKE BITE???

Ever hear of the L-C treatment? L for ligature (tourniquet) and C for Cryotherapy (the application of heat or cold as medical treatment). Basically the treatment calls for a tourniquet and immediate application of ice to the wound. Ice chipped to pieces one-half the size of ice cubes are prepared and the entire limb is immersed in ice water. The tourniquet is removed after five minutes, but the icy bath is kept up for several hours depending upon the size of the varmint who did the biting. Ethyl Chloride, a chemical used in lieu of ice, may soon become part of a snake bite kit. Ethyl Chloride may be used for 30 minutes of L-C treatment. The victim of snake bite or other venomous animals will recover much more quickly than in the past with the L-C treatment.

Military Police Bn., Supply Schools Win 6-Man Grid Openers

After one week of play Military Police and Marine Corps Supply Schools have given clear indications that they intend to dominate the Marine Corps Base six-man football league.

MP Bn. won their first game by bogging down Coach Leon Robinson's Headquarters team with a strong defense to win 25-12.

Supply Schools, led by the swifthehip running of A. Weldon White, washed out the Naval Hospital 54-4 to make their presence noticeable in the rugged six-man grid game.

Engineer School Bn., the only team in the league that has played two games, has racked up two victories against two of the weakest teams in the league.

The Engineers defeated the Rifle Range Detachment 47-8, and added their second tally by rolling over First Infantry Trng. Regt. 31-8.

Service Bn. marked its entry into the league by defeating First Infantry Trng. Regt. 12-8.

The illegal shift is added to the code to confusion that arose when that offense was by the former illegal signal (moving the bent arms horizontal in front of chest).

The new illegal substitution is a by-product of the two-platoon rules change that a player shall not ing a period from which withdrawn, except in and fourth periods, which is permitted in the late.

Eighth Engineers Tied By 8th Tanks In 13 To 13 Game

Second Amphibian Tractor Bn. on the strength of their 46-0 rout of 8th Motor Transport last week gained third place in the Force Troops' intramural football league, while 8th Engineer Bn. was dropped from the ranks of the unbeaten and untied when they were deadlocked by 8th Tank Bn. 13-13.

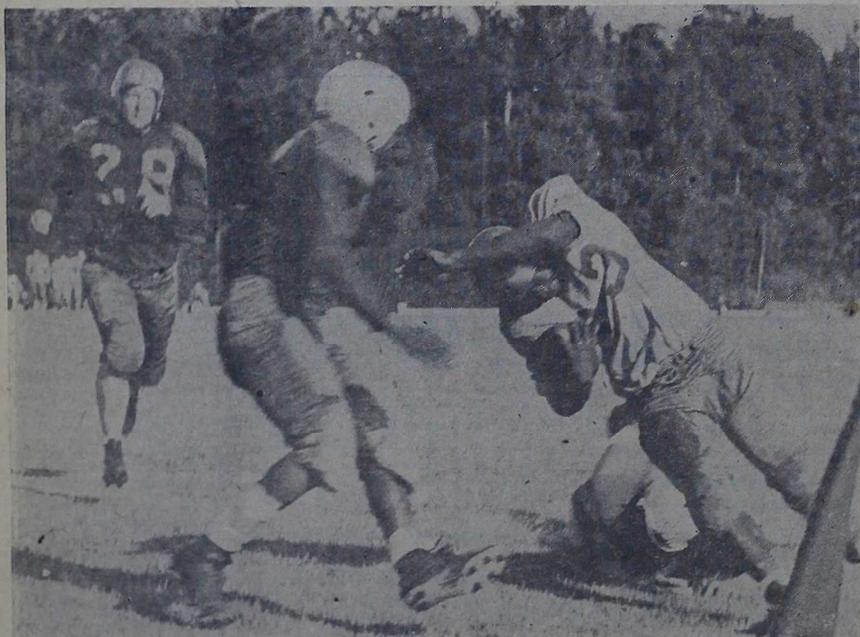

In the Motor Transport rout, John Calagaris scored two touchdowns for the Trackers, while Jim O'Donnell, Al Jeris, Don Cebulski, Al St. Peter and Johnny Johnson all scored one each. Jeris kicked three extra points and Ed Varhue accounted for the other.

Before 1,500 fans an alert 8th Tank Bn. team took advantage of two blocked punts in the second quarter to tie the favored Engineer team.

Jim Stevens scored the Tankers' first touchdown when he blocked an Engineer punt on his opponents' 35-yard line, picked the ball up and raced for the score.

Four minutes later the Tankers blocked another punt and recovered the ball on the Engineers' 11-yard line. After three plays John Rizzo scored and Bill Stewart plunged over for the extra point.

In the only other league activity last week 2nd Combat Service Group moved from under a mantle of one loss and one tie to down winless 8th Communication Bn. 27-6.

NOT QUITE—Ernest Williams, Tenth Marines, is knocked down four yards from the goal as he skirts his own left end in Friday's game against the Second Marines. Bill Callery (28) and two unidentified players rush over to help teammates tackle Williams. Williams scored minutes later as the Tenth Marines won 19-0 (Official USMC Photo).

November 1st Set As Final Deadline On Annuity Option

Regular and Reserve service personnel with 18 years or more service time have until Nov. 1 to decide if they want to enter the survivor's annuity plan under the Uniformed Service Contingency Option Act.

After the November deadline the plan enters its permanent phase in which a serviceman must decide before completing 18 years' service whether he wants to set aside part of his future retirement pay toward a survivors' annuity.

Under the plan a serviceman may have his dependent survivors receive an eighth, a quarter or half of his retirement pay, minus whatever is paid to participate in the program.

The four basic options under the plan are: annuity for the widow, ending upon her death or remarriage; annuity for a child or children ending at marriage or when they reach 18; annuity for both wife, and children, or any of the above with a provision stopping retired pay deductions if dependents covered die first.

MSgt. E. J. Suffern Gets Commendation For Korea Service

MSgt. E. J. Suffern, Ordnance Co., 2nd Service Bn., was awarded the Letter of Commendation medal for meritorious service in Korea last week by 2nd Service Bn. Commanding Officer Col. August F. Penzold.

MSgt. Suffern, perhaps known throughout the Corps as "Budda," received his commendation for serving as an artillery ordnance advisor to a Korean Marine Corps artillery battalion from May 3 to Nov. 15, 1953.

The 25-year Marine veteran was cited for his "sound judgment and tact in an advisory capacity to the Korean Marine Corps." The commendation praised his work in overcoming a difficult language barrier and singled out his participation in the inspection and repair of the artillery under intense fire as an "inspiration to all those who observed him."

Syngman Rhee, by Robert Tarbell Oliver, Dodd, 380 pp.

This story of Rhee's lifelong struggle against Korean absolutism, Japanese and Russian imperialism and Communist subversion and aggression is told with warmth, sympathy and admiration. From this telling two things stand out: his singleminded, selfless devotion to the liberation of his country and his absolute conviction that his way was the only way independence could be won and maintained.

Typhoon in Tokyo, by Harry Emerson Wildes. Macmillan, 356 pp.

This is an account of the greatest civilian overseas commitment ever undertaken by Americans—the Occupation of Japan. In September, 1945, Japan lay prostrate, a nation defeated, hopeless and bankrupt. The task before the Occupation authorities was stupendous. It was a gigantic, hastily improvised social experiment with an empire and 74,000,000 people as its laboratory. Yet through all the misunderstanding, distrust and confusion there emerged a new Japan.

1954 Housing Act Allows Servicemen To Buy Permanent Home Under FHA

(From time to time the GLOBE offers its readers informational articles on subjects close to the everyday lives of servicemen and women locally and throughout the Corps. Today: the new career home-buying provision of the National Housing act of 1954.)

Today's Washington Report column said one of the least familiar of the acts of the 83rd Congress was the provision of the National Housing act of 1954 that, for the first time, allows a career serviceman or woman to buy his permanent home under an FHA—Federal Housing Administration—mortgage loan.

What the bill does is this: it allows service personnel on active duty to purchase homes under the same credit terms now allowed veterans. In addition, it allows use of the same privilege under the GI bill after release from active duty.

The plan makes service personnel eligible for low interest, government-insured mortgage loans with five per cent down payment and a maximum of 30 years to pay. The amount of the loan; up to $17,100, or 95 per cent of the FHA approved value of the property.

Regular income and credit requirements for the approval of FHA insurance loans remain in effect.

To qualify under the new program, the serviceman must be certified as eligible by the Defense Department. He must be on active duty at the time of application, and must have been on active duty for more than two years before application. Once certified, he may apply to the Commissioner of the FHA under Section 222 of the act.

After certification, the serviceman must either live in the house or prove that his failure to do so was the result of military assignment. Certification won't be issued for persons ordered to duty for training only.

The cost of the insurance will be paid by the government through appropriation while the man remains on active duty.

VA Says Korea GI Training Stretched

Post-Korea veterans still may go to school under the Korea GI bill even though their old cut off dates may have passed, according to a Veterans Administration announcement.

Under a new bill, post-Korea veterans may use their expired GI education certificates up to three years after the date of their release from service.

To enroll, the veteran need only present his old certificates and a photostat or certified copy of his separation papers to prove his eligibility under the new three-year rule.

Claude Thornhill To Play At Pavilion Dance Oct. 20

Weather predictions for Lejeune Oct. 20th: "Snowfall."

But drag out your dancing shoes, not your boondockers, because this "Snowfall" will only be at Marston Pavilion, where Claude Thornhill will provide dance music for sergeants and below and their guests. You will be able to hear the Thornhill orchestra at the Camp theater from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. the same night.

Behind Thornhill and "Snowfall," the theme song that rocketed him to fame, is a classical background. He received his musical training at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and the Curtis Institute of Music.

He began his musical career at the age of four and was a child prodigy at age 6. He organized his first orchestra, an eight-piece affair, to play at ice cream socials and oyster suppers at that age.

Thornhill joined Austin Wylie's orchestra after leaving Curtis. Leaving Wylie's band, he became arranger for Hal Kemp, and followed that by arranging for Benny Goodman, Bing Crosby, and others. He formed his own band in January, 1940, and hit the big time at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York. In the Navy in World War II, he formed the Claude Thornhill All-Star show, featuring the Thornhill-led Navy band, the Rangers, and Dennis Day, Jack Benny's singer.

The Thornhill easy "Snowfall" style features Claude's piano and is designed to give the soft, lyrical style of falling snow. The rich quality of the orchestra is due to an uncommon arrangement of the reed and brass sections.

Thornhill's engagement here put Lejeune in good company with the Hollywood Palladium, the Paramount theater and the Hotel Statler in New York, the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago and other top spots in the country where the "Snowfall" musicians have played.
