Committee Cites Measures To Restore Military Appeal

More separation between ranks, greater authority and responsibility for all grades, and stronger military discipline have been recommended by the Womble Committee as the principle steps in restoring attractiveness to the military life, according to the "Navy Times."

The committee, headed by Rear Adm. J. P. Womble Jr., was established to find out why more men weren't making the military a career and to find measures to remedy this state.

The committee made its final report December 1 to the Armed Forces Policy Council, made up of the Secretaries of the various services, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the Secretary and Under-Secretary of Defense.

In its report the committee listed four general factors responsible for a decline in the appeal of military service "as a lifetime career for inherently capable personnel."

Held As Causes
"The four factors were: world commitments and the national attitude; decline in military authority and military leadership; increased competition with industry for good men; and desire for economy without regard to combat effectiveness (in the approach of civil experts to the problem of an effective military).

In an appendix to the report the committee made specific recommendations about each problem as it affects each service.

Among the things mentioned by the committee as detracting from the military as a career were: lack of pay increases; loss of "fringe" benefits; world tensions, which have made normal family life more difficult; and decline in public respect for the military.

Singled out particularly was the supposed decline of military authority and leadership. This problem, the committee members felt, was one in which the services themselves can do the most, with little help from Congress.

Diluted Authority

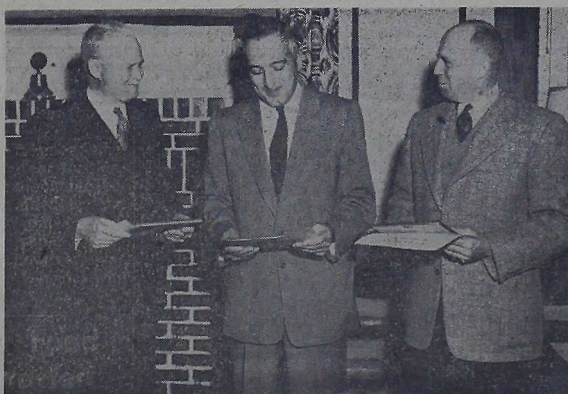

The first finding of the committee is:

"There has been a dilution of military authority and leadership." Cause of this has been laid to the great influx of inexperienced men

EXTRA HOURS

In order to give their patrons extra time for Christmas shopping, the Central Exchange, Men's Shop, Central Annex, and Toyland will be open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. today and tomorrow.

OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS were given to Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott (left), camp commanding general, and Col. A. A. Vandegrift (right), by Mr. Albert Ellis (center), president of the Camp Lejeune and Onslow County Community Chest during a meeting of drive officials Thursday night in Jacksonville. The plaques were inscribed with "In recognition of outstanding achievement in serving human needs of our community." Colonel Vandegrift was co-chairman of the drive and General Linscott honorary chairman (Official USMC Photo. See story, Page 3).

State's Utilities Commission Derails Lejeune Train Hope

Camp Lejeune's and Cherry Point's hopes for nearby passenger train service were sidetracked last week by the State Utilities Commission.

The commission ruled that the "patronage of any passenger train service between Camp Lejeune and New Bern, or Goldboro, will not be sufficient to meet the cost of operations. The experience of these railroads in the operation of short-haul passenger trains in this area supports this finding and conclusion."

The Navy Department had petitioned the commission to order the railroads serving the Cherry Point and Lejeune areas to provide passenger service between Goldsboro and Jacksonville via New Bern and between Goldsboro and Havelock, with connections at Rocky Mount.

The commission considered the question at hearings in October 1952 and last February.

The Navy supported its petition with the claim that hundreds of Marines stationed at these bases, who have to travel by bus or car to Wilson, Wilmington, Warsaw, Goldsboro, or Rocky Mount to catch through trains, would patronize the proposed trains if the railroads would make arrangements.

Named In Hearing

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, the Atlantic and East Carolina Railway, and the Norfolk Southern Railway (which later withdrew from the hearing with the Navy Department's consent) were named in the hearing.

The railroads argued against the petition, contending the proposal was unreasonable and at one time questioned the commission's authority to hear the case.

They said that they had provided passenger service between Morehead City and Goldsboro until May 31, 1950, and had discontinued the service because it didn't pay.

Service Held Adequate

Bus lines serving the area came to the railroads' support, claiming their buses already were servicing the camps more than adequately.

In its findings the commission held that nothing in its hearing record showed that a passenger train between Morehead City and Goldsboro would be better patronized in 1953 than in 1950.

The trains which once ran to the base were discontinued, the commission said, because they were not patronized.

"The stubborn fact is," the commission observed, "that the private automobile and buses have emptied the short-haul passenger trains."

General Jack Takes Cherry Pt. Throttle

Brig. Gen. Samuel S. Jack, a Marine flier for nearly a quarter century, took command of the Cherry Point Marine Air Station last week.

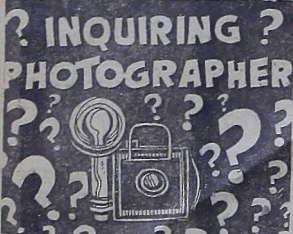

The general assumed command from Col. John S. Holmberg, chief of staff, who had been interim commanding officer since the departure of Brig. Gen. William G. Manley. General Manley left Cherry Point recently to take command of the 3rd Air Wing at Miami, Fla.

Promotion Board To Meet For Selection Of Captains

A promotion board will convene in February to recommend first lieutenants on active duty for temporary promotion to captain.

First lieutenants with dates of rank of March 31, 1953, or earlier, are eligible.

WHAT DO YOU WANT FOR CHRISTMAS?

PFC DAVID B. TORZILLO, 2ND DIV. BAND—I could use a shiny new trumpet — if Santa's listening. The weather's hard on musical instruments down here, and mine is getting tarnished and sounds a little off-key. "Colors" would sound better if the brass section was replenished with new horns.

MSGT. JAMES D. NIXON, 2ND ORDNANCE BN.—I want to be transferred to New Orleans, La., where I can be closer to my family and friends at home. If I could spend Christmas in Louisiana, then it really would be merry!

PFC EDNA J. CAMPBELL, WM CO.—All I want is to spend Christmas with my six brothers and sisters and their families in Westminister, S. C. We don't have much snow there, but our Christmas is always filled with happiness and good cheer. I wish I could be there to help trim the tree, but I'll be there a few days afterwards if all goes well.

SGT. BERNARD E. STAUB, MP CO., 2ND DIV.—Two front teeth! I lost mine in an auto accident on Halloween night, and it's been very uncomfortable without them. The ones I have are only temporary, and I can't eat all of the things I'd like to. I hate to think of going through the Yuletide without munching on hard Christmas candy.

PFC ROBERT C. HARRELSON, 2ND MARINES—I'll settle for nothing less than Marilyn Monroe. If Santa Claus would only put her in my stocking Christmas morning, I'd be as happy as a kid.

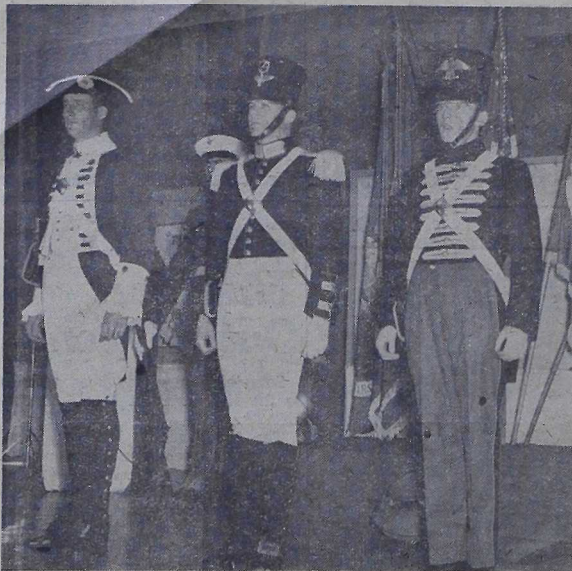

SUE SPEAKS

Pfc Sue Little, of WM Co., H&S Bn., MCB, has informed the GLOBE that the statement made by her which was quoted in last week's "Inquiring Photographer" was made strictly in fun. It was not intended to be taken at face value, avers Pfc Little.

Women Marines Featured In February 'Leatherneck'

The February issue of "Leatherneck" magazine will feature an article on the Women Marines.

The story will be published in conjunction with the eleventh anniversary of the Lady Leathernecks, and two editorial teams are now visiting East and West Coast installations to obtain material.

DEVILDOGS ON DISPLAY—Enlisted men of the 6th Marines appear in "period" uniforms tracing the Corps' 178-year history. Illustrating the dress of the years past are (l-r): Sgt. Norman A. Hanson, Continental Marine; Cpl. R. O. Lipsey, Seminole Indian wars; and Sgt. C. J. Riordan, Mexican campaign. Display occurred during a 30-minute narration of the Corps' history at the regiment's ball last week (Official USMC Photo).

Varied Program Marks OM Soiree By Sixth Marines

The 6th Marines' officers' ball at the Paradise Point Officers Club last week marked the first of what the unit hopes will become an annual affair.

Including a cocktail party, dinner, narrative ceremony and dancing, the ball was attended by some 300 officers and their wives.

During the initial portion of the narrated ceremonies, following dinner, enlisted personnel of the regiment modeled uniforms of significant periods during the 178-year history of the Marine Corps.

While the Division Drum and Bugle Corps sounded "To the Colors," the Stars and Stripes flanked by the regimental battalion standards heralded the second phase of the program.

Company commanders, followed by guidon bearers, were introduced as they marched through the spotlighted area and took up positions to await their battalion commanders and staffs. When the formation was complete, honors were rendered by the regimental commander, Col. Charles M. Nees, to the division commander, Maj. Gen. George F. Good Jr.

Among guests in addition to General Good were: Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commander; Brig. Gen. Henry R. Paige, assistant division commander; Brig. Gen. Matthew C. Horner, deputy president of the Joint Landing Force Board; Col. D. M. Weller, division chief of staff; and Col. C. D. Roberts, a member of the 6th Marines during World War I and now Supply Officer for Marine Corps Base.

Low-Flying Planes Bomb Alaska Lakes With Airborne Fish

JUNEAU, Alaska—Don't believe that fish fly, eh?

A whole new trout population, totaling 1,787,000, has been added to Alaska's lakes via Air Force transport planes. And some of the fish were unloaded in the lakes the most direct way.

The planes flew low over the lakes and tossed out the fish. There were limitations on this procedure through. The temperature of the water could not vary more than four degrees from that at the planes' altitude.

The Navy, Air Force, Kodiak Conservation Club, and Fish and Wildlife service cooperated to transplant the other fish. They used amphibious craft, helicopters, trucks, boats, and sometimes only a strong back. (AFPS)

7 MCB Lieutenants Receive Silver Bars

Seven Marine Corps Base second lieutenants were boosted to first lieutenants Friday morning during ceremonies in the office of Col. John Cook, H&S Bn. commander.

Two of the seven were Women Marine officers. They were First Lieutenants Olga Mamula and Mabel Pauley.

The remaining men promoted were First Lieutenants Chester Franz, David Hawley, Francis Hoover, Allan Spence, and Duncan Wallace.

It's a safe bet that the man who is around asking for sympathy will make bad use of it.

Motor Transport Lifetime Job For Vet Of 31 Year

Not many Marines—if any—served in Russia during the Revolution, but Lt. Col. Carl J. Cagle, commanding officer of the 2nd Motor Transport Bn., served on a motor convoy that made the long trek from Paris to Brest-Litovsk in 1920.

The convoy made the trip to supply Allied forces that were demilitarizing German troops who had fought there following the 1917 upheaval.

In 1921 Colonel Cagle ended his three-year enlistment in the Army and joined the Marine Corps. Since then he has served 16 years as an enlisted man, and 15 as a warrant and commissioned officer.

First Tank Company

In this 31 years Colonel Cagle has seen the Marine Corps develop into the modern fighting force it is today. One of the first motor transport men in the Corps, he also helped organize the first Marine tank company.

In the years preceding America's entry into World War II, he was in Florida helping to develop the "Amtrac," the familiar amphibious assault vehicle that played such an important part in seizing of Japanese island strongholds during the war.

A Distinguished Rifleman, Colonel Cagle is the winner of three of the highest awards in American rifle marksmanship. In 1928 he won the National Individual Rifle Championship. In 1929 and 1930 he won the Pershing Trophy, awarded to the highest individual shooter in the National Matches at Camp Perry, O.

After serving in Korea in command of the 7th Motor Transport Bn., Colonel Cagle reported to 2nd Division here in October. Since then he has served as Motor Transport Officer, Commanding Officer of the Motor Transport Bn.

after the Korean war started and the loss of men to whom military life has lost most of its attractiveness.

The committee's second finding: Dilution of leadership has meant increasing centralization of authority and control. The prestige normally attached to commissioned ranks has fallen off. There has been over-supervision. Men no longer are willing to accept responsibility commensurate with the rank they hold because they lack the authority to discharge the responsibility.

"Discipline requires emphasis in military authority to be reestablished" is the third finding. The legal procedures of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, held to be unwieldy, are blamed for part of the falling off in disciplinary control.

Lack Of Esprit

Fourth finding is that lack of esprit has made effective leadership more difficult. Personnel policies which deal with individuals on a mass-production basis — as numbers instead of individuals — are blamed for some of this.

"Such procedures may produce dollar economy," says the report, "but assuredly destroy unit and individual identity and, with it, esprit."

Procedures whereby individuals can identify themselves permanently with a mission and a military organization are held as essential. Frequent reassignment and excessive interchange of command lessens this identification.

Special ribbons, badges, and insignia have been used in an attempt to undo this damage. The report condemns this type action.

Promotion Criteria

Finding five says: "The services must overcome the dilution of military authority and leadership by adjusting promotion criteria. A premium must be placed on command and leadership abilities."

Technical ability, in great demand in the services, is no substitute for command ability and experience, the committee reports. Yet many men are promoted to responsible positions without ever exercising command.

"It must be clearly established that military command and technical astuteness are two separate and distinct fields of endeavor," the report says. "Both are essential, but career personnel must be reassured that leadership ability will be recognized in promotion procedures."

Professional Standards
The sixth and final finding area says that lowering of professional standards makes service less attractive. The mediocrity, leading to dissection on the part of careerists, must result in inadequate security, says the report.

The committee's findings in areas were:

World commitments
meant maintenance of the peacetime military force in country's history. Because world-wide deployments, have been separated, but careerists with abnormal ships. Too few men are willing to follow a career which means a normal family life is impossible, says the report.

The public generally is respect for the military in this, many things may be one example cited by the Times is that the comm class has been tagged with term "The Brass" as an and made the butt of jokes.

Competition With Industry

On the subject of competition with industry for good men, report states that a pay incentive necessary and that traditional pensionary benefits, which have been reduced, must be restored to a level that must be brought up to a par, particularly since industry has adopted retirement policies.

More provisions must be for families in the way of, care, and education, report says. Service attraction must be increased to the where they are a greater incentive than the pay, benefits services offered in civilian life. Provisions must be made to recognize technical ability to an enough extent so that the services may compete with industry.

Large forces which are more aren't effective as a smaller which are able, the report discussing the effect of but consideration on combat effectiveness. Short-sighted economy which will be more expensive the long run must not be permitted to affect the services, it holds. cal decisions must be made, experienced senior military officers not by junior civilian officers other agencies.

Wilmington Choral Society Sings The Messiah

Christmas portions of George Frideric Handel's "The Messiah" will be presented by the Wilmington Choral Society at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Protestant Chapel. The choir will appear in the first of three consecutive yearly appearances here. William G. Robertson, Lt. Peter J. M. King, and Lt. Peter J. M. King, will sing the tenor arias, and appear with the group. The choir is made up of members of the University of Kentucky, Mr. Taylor, who is in voice and organ at the University of Kentucky, will sing the tenor arias, and appear with the group. The choir is made up of members of the University of Kentucky, Mr. Taylor, who is in voice and organ at the University of Kentucky, will sing the tenor arias, and appear with the group.

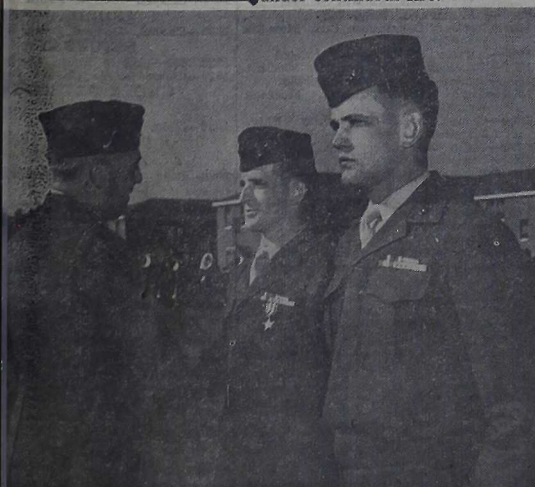

Robertson, a native of Scotland, began his musical career at 11 and, after coming to America, toured as accompanist with some of the best vocalists in the country.

Presently is the organist and master of St. Agnes Episcopal Church in Wilmington. He will present a 20-minute organ recital of music preceding the performance of "The Messiah," penned by Handel in 1741, was brought forth 24 days of nearly continual singing. It met instant success in Dublin, Ireland, and London and was performed in 1743.

Earl S. Piper Now Commanding Officer Of CSG

Earl S. Piper has assumed command of the 2nd Combat Service Group, Force Troops. He replaced Col. Robert E. Hommel, who commanded the group for the past two years and is now awaiting assignment. Piper, Navy Cross winner during the second Nicaraguan campaign, reported here from the Corps Schools, Quantico, where he has served as Director, School, since 1951. Piper is a native of Mexico, Mo., graduated from the Naval Academy in 1927. During World War I he was G-4 officer of the 1st Division and was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal during the campaign for Iwo Jima in 1945. He also was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for his service with the occupation forces in North China.

Servicemen To Benefit By Automatic Ten Percent Tax Slice Due January 1

The Bureau of Internal Revenue last week issued charts reflecting the "pay raise"—due to the automatic ten percent tax cut—many servicemen will receive beginning January 1.

The new tables are based on an 18 percent withholding rate, compared with the present rate of 20 percent.

Navy and Marine Corps personnel, who are paid twice a month, can determine the amount to be withheld from each of their checks by cutting in half the sums listed below.

If you are single and have no dependents, read the column headed 1, meaning that you have one exemption (yourself) for withholding purposes.

If you are married and have no dependents—and your wife does not work—you should check column 2. A married couple with one child should check column 3; with two children, column 4; three children, column 5; and four children, column 6.

Column 0 is for the working wife, whose husband claims an exemption for her against his withholding rate.

The deductions below are applied only to taxable incomes; items like quarters allowance and subsistence are not taxable. Tax tables for 1954, applicable to persons paid once a month and as printed in the "Navy Times," follow in the adjoining column:

Engineers Get Bronze, Silver Stars

Silver and Bronze Star Medals were presented to two 2nd Engineer Bn. Leathernecks at a battalion field review last week. Maj. Gen. G. F. Good Jr., Division commanding general, made the presentations.

Sgt. James H. Fischer of "C" Co., received the Silver Star Medal for his "gallantry and intrepidity in action" as an infantryman in Korea.

The Bronze Star went to Sgt. Clifford C. Gallagher, "A" Co., for his action in Korea as an armored personnel carrier driver.

Fischer was cited for leading a raid on a strongly fortified enemy position. Although he was painfully wounded, he led his men to successful accomplishment of their mission.

Gallagher had been assigned the mission of evacuating casualties and resupplying assault forces forward of the main line. When he arrived at the pick-up point he found the road blocked by barbed wire. Dismounting from his personnel carrier, he cleared the road under heavy enemy fire. He then made repeated trips carrying wounded and ammunition while under continuous fire.

The U. S. Marine Corps has achieved another "first" in photography.

The "U. S. Camera" Achievement Award of 1953 has been given the Marine Corps "in recognition of its jet photographic reconnaissance in the Korean war and its unparalleled record of thousands of missions completed—without the loss of a single photographic plane or a pilot."

This citation was awarded by the Marine Corps by the magazine "U. S. Camera," now on sale.

The photographs taken by Marine photographers are shot in a Banshee jet photo reconnaissance plane. The Banshee is stripped of fire power and lightly armored to give the plane greater speed and maneuverability.

Sunday School Sets Christmas Program

"The Littlest Angel," a color movie, will be one of the features of the Midway Park Sunday School program for Christmas, to be held December 21 at 7:30 p. m. in the Midway Park Community Bldg.

In addition to the movie, the children will appear in a skit and Santa Claus will present a gift to each child.

Program practice will be held Saturday morning at 9 a. m. for all Sunday School children. Bus schedule will remain the same for practice as on Sundays.

Nine Depot Officers Promoted A Grade

Nine Supply Depot second lieutenants exchanged their gold for silver at depot headquarters Monday following promotion ceremonies in the office of Col. Leroy Hauser, depot commanding officer.

The newly promoted first lieutenants are: Stanley C. Bestys, John C. Bloom, Oliver F. Cabana, Charles L. Elliott, Robert L. Haakenstad, Ardieth M. Lake, James H. Montague, Willis J. Murdock, and Thomas O'Connor.

Lejeune Sojourners Meet Next Thursday At O'Mess

Camp School Gives Yearly Christmas Pageant Next Week

The Camp Lejeune School will present its annual Christmas pageant, this year entitled "The Child Jesus," in three programs, Monday through Wednesday in the Camp School auditorium.

The story of the Nativity will be told by carols, a tableau, and the cantata, "Child Jesus" (Clokey-Kirk).

Mrs. Helen Klary and Mrs. Anna Walsh will direct the tableau, in which the Junior Choir, composed of 50 pupils of the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades, will appear, along with the Senior Glee Club. Accompanists for the group will be Mrs. Ellen Spaulding and Mrs. Erma Keeler.

Excerpts from the program will be presented to the first, second, and third grades in the auditorium Monday and the entire pageant will be staged for grades four to 12 Tuesday. The Parent-Teachers Association will review the program the following day at 8 p. m.

Girl Scouts Aiming To Cheer Patients

Girl Scouts and Brownies of Camp Lejeune have gotten the Christmas spirit, and are spreading good cheer by making tray favors for the patients at the Naval Hospital. The girls have been decorating match boxes, nut cups, and place cards with Christmas motifs during their meetings each week.

They plan a neighborhood caroling through Tarawa Terrace, Midway Park, and Paradise Point during the week preceding Christmas.

Chaplain's Co

By "twisting their arm" other methods of coercion Communists have produced results in some prison.

Dr. Walter H. Judd, P. Congressman, speaking in Roanoke, Va., said some under Communist pressure "new creatures." The old who remembered his friend had duties to his nation emerges a creature with "tuned reflex"; that is, anticipates the will of his and always does it.

This "new man" in nism has no will of his own. There is nothing good about a "new man" in Communism. He is a slave to the intentions of his captors.

Contrasting with this humiliation of the human another "new creature," in Christ he is a new (II Cor. 5:17).

Instead of a condition there is a keen sense of individuality. Instead of a slave, the Christian is free anyone and anything.

Instead of struggling to live at any price, he has a new life and, for that new will rather than yield it. He said, "For me to live is to die is to gain."

We all are opposed to nism's "new creation," for God's "new creation" and others? As a service have taken your stand as Communists. As a free citizen you taken your stand for Chaplain C. W. Crumb.

The executive committee of the Camp Lejeune Girl Scouts will meet at 9 a. m. Wednesday in the Midway Park Community Center.

WITH THIS RING—Pfc Ronald L. Kuykendall, of MP Co., H&S Bn., places the ring on the finger of his bride, the former Pfc Mary M. Barrow, of WM Co., H&S Bn., at their wedding Saturday in the Camp Catholic Chapel. Chaplain G. E. Bellon officiates at the ceremony. In background is Lt. R. A. Chapman of MP Co. (Official USMC Photo).

MAN AND WIFE — Chaplain R. J. Schneck (right) says the words which unite Pfc D. W. Kapka, of Guard Co., H&S Bn., and Pfc Ruth M. Stevenson, of WM Co., H&S Bn. Looking on is Pfc Robert Gordon (left), of H&S Bn., and Pfc Beverly Bates (right) the bride's attendant. The wedding took place Friday in the Camp Protestant Chapel (Official USMC Photo).

Pfc Ruth Stevenson Weds D. W. Kapka In Protestant Rites

Pfc Ruth M. Stevenson, of WM Co., H&S Bn., became the bride of Pfc D. W. Kapka, of Guard Co., H&S Bn., Friday at the Camp Protestant Chapel. Chaplain R. J. Schneck officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Attending the couple were Pfc Beverly Bates and Pfc Robert G. Gordon, both of H&S Bn.

The bride selected a cream-colored wool suit with interwoven flakes of brown. She complemented the ensemble with matching accessories, and carried a prayer book topped with a detachable corsage of red rosebuds.

Pfc Bates chose a pearl gray wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following Mrs. Kapka's discharge, the couple will leave to make their home in Kansas City, Kan.

WM Maneuvers

By PFC BECKY CARPER

The Camp Protestant Chapel was the scene Friday of the marriage of Pfc Cecilia Rand, of WM Co., and Cpl. Joseph Laird, of 2nd Engineer Bn. Chaplain R. J. Schneck performed the double-ring ceremony.

Attendants for the couple were Pfc Mollie Kiser of WM Co., and Pfc Robin Roberts, 2nd Engineer Bn. Pfc Kiser chose a dove gray wool suit with black accents and a corsage of mixed carnations.

The bride wore a deep lavender gabardine suit with black accessories and a corsage of white roses and sweet peas.

Ellen Carpenter, one of the few "permanent" mess duty girls, was discharged from the Marine Corps Friday, and returned to her home in Ohio.

The WAC's at Fort Bragg, which the WM hoopers visited last week, decorated their mess hall at their own expense, and take pride in showing it to visitors. The compact arrangement looks more like a friendly kitchen than the usual military variety.

Paneled in knotty pine, with thick oak tables and stools polished to a sheen, the walls are painted pale blue and decorated with decals. The mess hall has red and white organdy curtains, and the girls have replaced the conventional metal trays and tin cups with plastic ones.

A trio of Lejeune lassies are slated for transfer to Hawaii soon. Becky Clarke, who tops the list, is happy to be heading back to her native land. Accompanying her will be Betty Johnson and Mary Kiesow.

A note on the basketball team . . . The WM's have a squad they can be justly proud of. The gals are a scrappy bunch. They talk, eat, sleep, and breathe basketball, all of which adds up to a winning team. Get out and support the hoopers this season!

Barrow-Kuykendall Nuptials Performed At Catholic Chapel

In a double-ring ceremony performed by Chaplain G. E. Bellon in the Camp Catholic Chapel Saturday, Pfc Mary M. Barrow, of WM Co., H&S Bn., became the bride of Pfc Ronald L. Kuykendall, of MP Co., H&S Bn.

Given in marriage by WO J. W. Hemphill, of Montford Point, the bride chose a suit of powder blue wool jersey with a matching shell-shaped hat studded with rhinestones. She wore navy blue accessories and carried a white satin prayer book topped with white roses.

Her attendant, Pfc Elizabeth Smythe, wore a muted gold wool jersey suit with navy accessories and carried a spray of Talisman roses.

Second Lt. Edward Chapman, of MP Co., served as best man.

Preceding the services, Pfc Irene M. Tettoni sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother." She was accompanied by Mrs. P. J. Hagarty, organist.

Sports In Short

BY TSGT. BILL YOST

Football can be passed over for basketball—not forgetting and track workouts will start January 7—it might be to wrap up the season's grid impressions. Most significant 3-1 record against all kinds of competition. Final game with Pensacola provided one of the toughest although that with Bolling Air Force Base was the best has seen in a long while. It's also interesting to note, the subject of Bolling, that this great team, after losing five games, came to life and was not defeated throughout the season.

Players especially deserving mention include quarterback, fullback Bill Reichardt, and guard Joe Dudeck, all of Force Base; quarterback Ed Brandenburg, halfback George Ekle Sam Duca, of Cherry Point; and fullback John Amberg, Meyers, tackle Roscoe Hansen, and guard Al Viola, of

The Memory Lingers On

Some performers not easily forgotten are: Rex Boggan, consistent performances throughout the entire season; Glen Keller player at center and linebacker game after game; and Reggie Lee, relentless yardage gainers. Of the boys we watched this fall on the Lejeune gridiron trying for college or professional teams or coaching at colleges, when next season comes around. Some of them will be reinforced by men who have played out of the Lejeune installations, by new Marine reinforcements, perhaps, by some of the boys that showed well in intramural basketball.

A tremendous increase in service hoopsters basketball season is apparent this year and many of the elements have fared quite well in this respect. However, we will better last year's record. . . . With intramural basketball, all three post leagues are featuring some top-notch ball. A couple of early games, the H&S quintet in the Marine league will be among the better teams. A large cheer to the football coaching staff for their 1953 edition.

Devilpups Dump Dixon Hoopsters By 52-43 Count

The Camp Lejeune Devilpups salted away their second basketball game of a 21-tilt schedule Thursday, downing Dixon High, 52-43, at the Goettge Memorial Field House.

Trailing until midway through the fourth quarter — by as much as 34-24 in the middle of the third period — the Pups turned on the steam and ran Dixon ragged with a fast-breaking attack that netted 19 points in the last quarter.

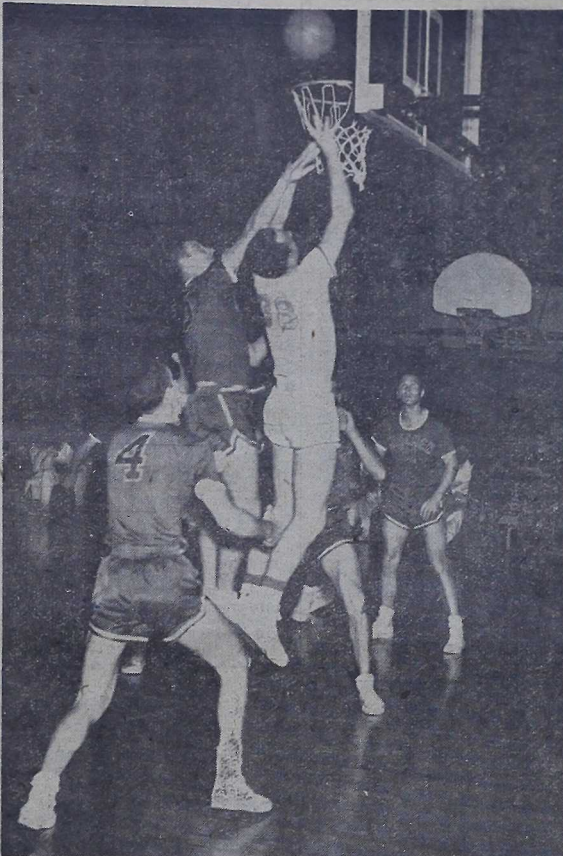

High scorer for Lejeune was Bob Royster, who tallied 17. Defensive honors were shared by Charlie Sells and Bobby Peele.

High scorer for Dixon was Donald James with 15. Starring for Dixon on defense was Jimmy Smith.

The Camp Lejeune girls' basketball team lost to Dixon, 56-11.

BACK TO SCHOOL — Or so it seems to Maj. Arthur O. Weddell, former principal of the Medora (Ind.) High School and special services officer of Force Troops. When he visited Supply School Bn. last week he discovered two of his former students. Here he examines the work of Pfc Jerry Wright, class of '53. The other student, Pfc M. R. Love, works in the Battalion Post Office (Official USMC Photo).

KEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES — Newt Jones (38) leaps high in the air to dump in two points as Walt Dalbey attempts to grab the ball. Harry Bryan (4), Jerry Norman (31), and an unidentified player from MineLant watch expectantly. Lejeune won handily from the Navy men from Charleston, S. C., 73-57 (Official USMC Photo).

Combat Nets First-Place Tie With Amphibs In FT Action

Three lopsided wins last week brought the strong 2nd Combat Service Group into a first-place tie with the 2nd Amphibian Tractor Bn. in the Force Troops Basketball League.

Combat slaughtered the officers of Hq. Co., 121-49. Barry's 19 points was high for Combat while Dollard's 20 again led the officers.

Martin and Southwick led Combat in a 103-35 crushing of ANGLICO. Martin was high scorer for Combat with 23. McCormick's 12 was the best ANGLICO could muster.

Led by the 30-point scoring spree of Martin, Combat defeated 8th Motor Transport Bn., 97-56. Thomas with 13 was high for the Motor men.

In a non-league game CSG defeated the 10th Marines, 111-61. Martin and Barry paced their team with 27 and 25, respectively.

Amphibian Tractor, led by Campbell with 32 and Zilinsky with 17, defeated Armored Amphibian, 84-59, and 8th Motor Transport Bn., 80-46, to maintain its undefeated status. Rictor was high for the Amphibians with 21 while Brown's 15 did the honors for 8th Motor.

Edge Engineers

Armored Amphibian edged the 8th Engineer Bn. quintet, 56-54, with Rictor, 23, and Johnson, 15, controlling the court for Amphibs. Harrison with 14 tallies was high for the Engineers.

The Hq. Co. enlisted quintet won its first victories of the season when it defeated Amphibian Truck Co., 73-63, and Aggressor Co., 65-47.

In the AmTruck game, Bellotti, with 13, was high for Headquarters, while Scott turned in 18 for Truck Co. Davis' 22 was high for the enlisted men in their second win while Pellechid with 23 was high for Aggressor.

Eighth Signal Bn. latched onto fourth place by trouncing Aggressor Co., 104-44, and edging Recon. Co., 51-49. Bates was high for Aggressor with 24 while Bread-belt's 20 tallies was tops for 8th Signal. In the Recon. game Bowman for 8th Signal was high with 14 while 16 points by Gaberial was the best for Recon.

Eighth Engineer Bn., with Le-vander's 23-point scoring streak leading the way, defeated 8th Signal, 86-36. Wilson was high for Signal with 12.

The standings:

2nd Combat Service Group	6	0
2nd Amphibian Tractor Bn.	6	0
2nd Armored Amphibian Bn.	4	1
8th Engineer Bn.	4	2
8th Motor Transport Bn.	3	3
8th Signal Bn.	3	3
2nd Amphibious Recon.	2	2
Hq. Co. (Enl.)	2	3

2nd ANGLICO	0	5

Mine Quint Disarmed By Camp, 73-57

An alert Camp Lejeune basketball team capitalized on MineLant's bobbles and came away with a 73-57 opening game victory over the sailors here Friday night at the Goettge Memorial Field House.

Taking the lead at the beginning of the game, the Marines were never hard pressed until the dying minutes, when the margin between the two clubs was narrowed to ten points. Lejeune took a 19-9 lead in the first quarter and a 38-18 halftime lead.

Romping away with scoring honors for the evening were Skip Whitaker and Leroy Smith of Camp Lejeune with 23 and 19 points, respectively.

Next in line were Walt Dalbey and Jerry Callahan of MineLant with 18 and 17, respectively, Cy Waldrop with 15 for Lejeune, and Harry Bryan with 10 for the Navy men.

Defensively, Camp Lejeune gathered in a great many more rebounds than MineLant and was able to convert more of them after clearing down court.

The game was slow, with a tight zone drawn up by Lejeune enabling the Marines to control both backboards at will.

Newt Jones and Joe Prater started at the forward spots for Lejeune, Cy Waldrop at center, and Skip Whitaker and Leroy Smith at the guard positions.

Next home games for the Lejeune Marines will be against the highly touted Springfield college quintet from Springfield, Mass., on December 17 and 18 at 8 p. m. in the Goettge Memorial Field House.

either open, he shook free two of Lejeune tacklers and raced 66 yards down the center of the field for the initial score. Fordie Thompson's try for the extra point was blocked.

77 To Paydirt

The second Goshawk tally was equally sensational. It came in the third quarter when Caprara punted from his 33 to the Pensacola 23, where J. D. Smith caught the ball. Eluding two Lejeune tacklers, who seemingly had him trapped on the 23, Smith raced to the right sideline, picking up blockers as he moved, and went 77 yards for the score.

Thompson never had a chance in his try to notch the extra point by placement. The entire Lejeune forward wall, which played an almost perfect defensive game, broke through to block the kick.

downs to eight for the winners. One thing that hurt the losers was fumbles; the Cannoners lost the ball on five occasions by fumbling.

Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, awarded the champions a trophy, emblematic of the camp championship, after the game. Players on both teams received individual awards.

The 1st Bn. leads the 6th Marines' entries in the early stages of their league's play. The 3rd, Provisional, and 2nd Battalions are providing the competition.

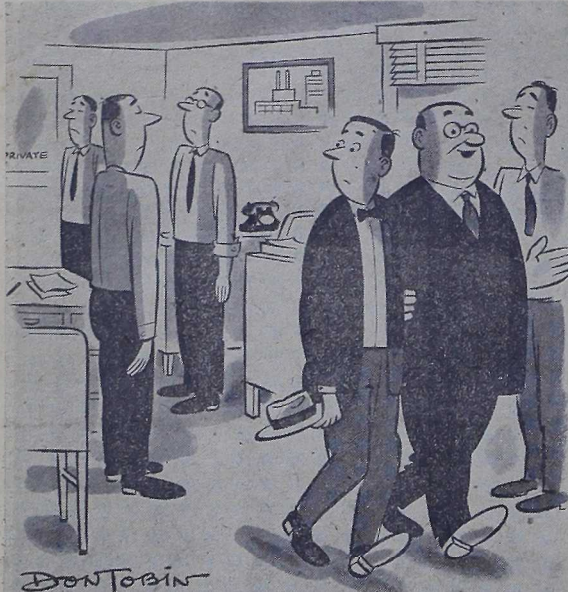

The winners of the regimental and group leagues will represent their organizations in the playoffs, a double-elimination tournament for the Division championship.

I Dreamt I Went Job-Hunting In My Civilian Suit

"We're just one big happy family here and I'm sure you'll find me—at ease, men—easy to get along with."

LOOK FAMILIAR?

You may recognize our "ship-ping-over" cartoon. Well-known artist Don Tobin drew it recently for the "Saturday Evening Post."

Inspired by the cartoon's possibilities, the Division Information Section wrote to Tobin and the "Post" and got permission to run it. There followed a hectic session of guessing at a suitable overline.

As the result above shows, life on the outside isn't all "gravy."

'Shipping' Pays Off For Duo In Depot

Two Supply Depot men Monday turned the last pages of their current Service Record Books and opened new leaves in their new ones—by reenlisting.

TSgt. Earl C. Echerd, NCO in charge of the Stock Record Section, MCSD, will add two more to his present ten years of Marine Corps service.

By reenlisting he has gained admission to the 16-week Marine Corps Advanced Supply Course conducted by the Supply School Bn., Montford Point, an assignment of his choice.

Integrating into the regulars, Pfc Kenneth L. Bradshaw, Guard Security Section, MCSD, also reenlisted for two years to gain his choice of duty. He will report to the Marine Detachment at Macon, Ga., for further duty.

Don't Make This Christmas A Short Circuit To Tragedy

Christmas trees and other holiday decorations can be things of beauty—or of tragedy.

In an effort to ensure that they'll be the former for you, camp officials urge the following precautions:

Don't set up the tree until just before it is needed and keep the tree outdoors until you are ready to install it.

Don't set it near a radiator or stove but, if you absolutely must do so shut off the heat of that installation.

The tree should be freshly cut if possible and sawed off at an angle. Support it in a pan of water with the water level maintained above the cut surface, keeping the tree moist and materially reducing the fire hazard.

Don't use cotton or paper as decorating pieces on any part of the tree or around the base. Don't hang metal objects on the tree's wiring or electric lights.

Don't operate toy electric trains around or near the tree, as they're apt to give off sparks.

No Frayed Cords

Use only electric lights and inspect all the cords to insure that they're in good condition and aren't frayed. Those which have been inspected by the Underwriters Laboratory have a paper band so certifying around the wire.

Don't leave the tree lights burning while no one is in the house. Inspect the tree to see if any of the needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so, change the location of the lights.

Once the needles start falling it's time to get rid of your tree. If it must be kept a few days longer, don't keep it lighted for more than a half hour at a time.

Don't place any decorations near chairs or other pieces of furniture where people may smoke.

No Candle In Window

Don't use candles in the windows and keep curtains and other inflammable materials pulled back at least six inches from any lights in windows.

In offices, churches, hospitals, and other places of assembly, location of Christmas trees is of vital importance.

They should not be set up near a stairway, elevator, or other location where an updraft is possible. They should not block exits, and it's well to remember that a small tree can be just as beautiful and far less hazardous than a large one.

In case of fire, leave the building without delay. Walk—don't run—and call the Fire Department, 7070.
