IRING AWAY—Six-man troop-carrying helicopters swarm off the deck of the carrier USS Minotaur, carrying Leathernecks of the 2nd Bn., 8th Marines, behind the assault waves on the beaches of Vieques, P. R. The "copter movement, employing the concept of "trifibious vertical envelopment," something more to worry about than infantry hitting the beach. Airborne troops and behind the lines, disrupt communication and supply lines, and generally harass defenses. Gen. Samuel S. Jack's 7000-man command secured the Puerto Rican island in three days to wind LANT TRAEX I-54 exercises (Official USMC Photo).

Leathernecks Get Emblem For Service

Personnel who have served in the Korean conflict and been attached to Fleet Marine units in combat have been authorized to wear a new Marine Corps emblem appropriate campaign ribbon.

Virginia is about 5/16 of an inch wide and will be worn on the ribbon. Battle dress will be arranged on either side of the emblem. The first on the wearer's left, the second to his left, and the third to his right.

The USMC emblem may be worn on a campaign ribbon. The emblem earned during the Korean conflict will be worn on the Korean Service ribbon and no other. Any subsequent awards earned will be worn on the campaign ribbon for that campaign.

Officers will be decorated with the emblem. The emblem will be given by CO's. The emblem will not be issued by the Authority for the new emblem can be found in BuPers 1650.4, dated October 1953.

Mass Naturalization Ceremony Marks MC Birthday For 29 Leathernecks

WILSON, N. C. — Twenty-nine Marines from Cherry Point and Camp Lejeune celebrated the one hundred seventy-eighth anniversary of the founding of the Marine Corps here Tuesday in a most appropriate and solemn manner.

The 29, aliens from all over the world, became naturalized American citizens in the U. S. District Court here, taking the oath of allegiance to the flag they already had sworn to defend as Marines.

After the oath was administered, District Judge Don Gilliam pointed out the significance of the occasion to these Marines who had forsaken allegiance to any other nation or flag but the United States. He paid tribute to the Marines on the Corps' birthday and said he hoped they would be as good citizens as they had been Marines.

A Roll Call
The list of nations from which these naturalized Marines came reads like the roll call at the United Nations. From Japan comes Cpl. George S. Kobayashi who, although originally an American citizen, was impressed into service with the Japanese Imperial Army during World War II, resulting in the loss of his citizenship.

Hailing from Germany is Cpl. Hershel Itzinger who, besides being a Marine, is a Jewish rabbi. In 1949 he was rabbi at a synagogue in Youngstown, Ohio. After his discharge next February he plans to rejoin his wife in Cleveland and continue his rabbinical studies under the GI Bill of Rights.

Others in the group list countries behind the Iron Curtain as well as those of the free nations. Sergeants Karl O. Reichel and Hermann Schimpf are from Germany; Sgt. Ronald G. Clarke, Scotland; Sgt. Baha E. El-Mazaffar, Arabia; Cpl. Robert A. Akos, Hungary; Cpl. Jose A. Cortina, Cuba; Cpl. Jerzy Federowicz, Poland; Cpl. James P. Gallagher, Ireland; Cpl. John J. G. Hegarty, Ireland;

Cpl. Joseph M. Laurin, Canada; Cpl. John F. Moray, Hungary; Cpl. Ernesto D. Pulido, Cuba; Cpl. Herman J. Rom, Yugoslavia; Cpl. Dominick J. Sharkey, Ireland; Cpl. Alvin Stroming, Canada; Cpl. Teodor Szkielko, Poland; Cpl. Irving Waldman, England;

Privates First Class Gunars Apstis, Latvia; Yerbant Bossbaly, Cuba; Freddie Roman, Nicaragua; Vaino Paaron, Estonia; Vinicio Santone, Italy; Pascal G. M. Simon, France; Theodore Unrau, Canada; Domenico Vernice, Italy; Hugh E. Sangster, Jamaica; William Karpiak, Czechoslovakia.

Appreciation
The Marines who became American citizens Tuesday were most appreciative of the work of the Camp Legal Office personnel who prepared the multitude of papers and statements. Singled out for the most praise were Capt. Nicasio (See NATURALIZATION, Page 2)

Troops Land At Morehead, Ending TRAEX Maneuvers

The main body of 2nd Division Leathernecks, who recently climaxed Phase II of LANT TRAEX I-54 exercises with a three-day assault on the Caribbean island of Vieques, P. R., began landing at Morehead City yesterday and will complete that operation tomorrow.

Chest Drive Ends; Receipts $27,000

The Camp Lejeune Community Chest Drive ended Tuesday with contributions still coming in from some units.

According to Col. J. H. Cook, Jr., chairman of the drive, the returns at noon Tuesday showed that Lejeune personnel had compiled a per capita contribution average of 97 cents, for a total of $27,000.

The drive, which started October 1, was the first such drive held here in which Marines could contribute to 14 different organizations at one time.

Colonel Cook stated that he feels sure that, after all returns are tabulated, Camp Lejeune's contribution will be 100 percent.

Medical Men Here Tuesday For Conclave

The Committee on Naval Medical Research of the National Research Council will arrive here Tuesday for a two-day visit to the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory and a series of conferences on medical research.

Chairman of the committee is Dr. Richard A. Kern, professor of Medicine and head of the Medical Department at Temple University Medical School, and chief of Medical Service at Temple University Hospital.

Other members of the committee include Dr. R. Keith Cannon, chairman, Division of Medical Sciences, National Research Council, and representatives of various colleges and medical research institutes.

Naval and civilian personnel from the Research Division, Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, include: Rear Admiral W. P. Dana, assistant chief of the Bureau for Research; Dr. H. T. Karsner, research (See MEDICAL MEN, Page 2)

Under the command of Brig. Gen. Samuel S. Jack, the Division Leathernecks wrested the island from "aggressor" forces while more than 100 military, press, and civilian observers, headed by Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Affairs Frank C. Nash, looked on.

Observers included Lt. Gen. O. P. Smith, commanding general of FMFLANT; Rear Admiral Austin K. Doyle, commandant of the 10th Naval District; Maj. Gen. Clayton B. Jerome, commanding general of Air FMFLANT; Brig. Gen. Henry R. Paige, assistant Division commander; and personnel from the Army and Air Force.

Secretary Nash told newsmen he was "much impressed by the efficiency with which the landing was carried out."

He was particularly interested in the helicopter troop support which landed men of the 2nd Bn., 8th Marines, behind "aggressor" lines. Moving against the beach in amphibious craft were the 1st and 3rd Battalions of the 8th Regiment and supporting elements.

Phase I of the TRAEX operation consisted chiefly of unit infantry training for ground troops with particular emphasis on air-ground coordination. Also on the schedule were problems in Naval gunfire spotting and close air support control for Marine-Navy spotter teams.

General Jack, who served as Assistant Commanding General of the 2nd Air Wing at Cherry Point, N. C., prior to assuming the LANT TRAEX I-54 command, returns to relieve Brig. Gen. William G. Manley as Commander, Marine Corps Air Base, Cherry Point, and Commanding General of the Marine Corps Air Station there.

Colonel Croft Asst. Head Of 2nd Wing

Col. F. S. Croft has been named Assistant Commander of the 2nd Air Wing at Cherry Point, N. C., succeeding Brig. Gen. Alexander W. Kreiser Jr., who was appointed Wing Commander.

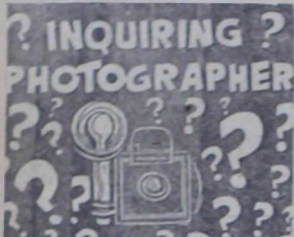

Camp Laundry Has Special Bundle Deal

Special rates for enlisted personnel are being offered by the Marine Corps Base Laundry in its bundle service. Charge is one dollar a bundle.

Each bundle may contain 25 pieces, of which seven may be pressed. Utility coats and trousers may be tumbled and folded but not pressed. No civilian outer garments may be included in the special rate bundle.

CONGRATULATIONS to the 29 Marines who took the oath of citizenship in his court are tendered by District Judge Don Gilliam, sitting in the U. S. District Court at Wilson, N. C. The ceremonies had added meaning for the day was November 10, Tuesday, the one hundred seventy-eighth anniversary of the founding of the Marine Corps (Official USMC Photo).

IF YOU WERE BALD, WOULD YOU WEAR A TOUPEE?

CPL. JACK L. GOLDBERG, H&S BN., MCB — Yes, If I were bald

at my present age, I'd have reason to worry and would do everything I could to disguise the fact. When I reach middle age, however, I'll let my bald head shine, and just consider it another phase of middle age.

HM3 KIMMIE WIGGINS JR., 2ND MEDICAL BN. —

Yes. With the cold and damp weather we've been having, I might catch cold through my bald head. I'd have to have some device to keep warm and dry, and a wig would be just the thing.

SGT. CHARLES W. MCCANN, H&S BN., MCB — No.

I believe the regulations state that you will not wear anything which will alter your appearance, and a toupee will most certainly change an old man into a handsome young Joe.

CPL. RICHARD J. BERNARDI, 2ND

DIV. BAND — No. A toupee is too much bother. You have to wash it, comb it, have it sprayed for moths, and get it flame-proofed and insured. They cost a fortune and, if you ever lost one, you'd be running around with a shiny pate anyway.

PFC CLIFTON T. BUTTS, 8TH SIGNAL BN. —

No. It's so windy the toupee would blow off, and it would be just as embarrassing to chase down the street after a runaway wig as to be seen with a bald noggin.

Next WM Officer Class Meets Jan.

The next Women Officer Training Class is scheduled to convene January 28 at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., and all qualified college graduates are invited to submit applications for it. Applications must be received at Headquarters Marine Corps by December 15. Graduates of the course will receive commissions as second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Answer to Puzzle

CITIZEN-IN-THE-MAKING—Pfc Theodore Unrau has his naturalization papers placed in order by his wife, Irene, who typed his naturalization certificate (and those of 29 other Marines) and Mr. Paul E. Johnson (right), officer in charge of the Norfolk (Va.) Immigration and Naturalization Office. On the left is Capt. Nicasio J. Zagone of the Camp Legal Office (Official USMC Photo).

J. Zagone, legal assistance officer, and MSgt. Virgil V. Harton, legal section chief, who accompanied the 29 through the citizenship proceedings.

Also playing an important part in the frantic last-minute processing which went on prior to the actual oath-taking in court were Mr. Paul E. Johnson, officer in charge of the Norfolk, Va., Immigration and Naturalization Office, and Mrs. G. Irene Unrau, a civilian employee at Camp Lejeune, who came down to witness her husband, Pfc Theodore Unrau, become an American citizen and who was "recruited" to type the unprecedented number of forms and naturalization certificates.

Ex-POW's Assured Of Former Jobs

Repatriated prisoners of war, who, because of retention in enemy prison camps, have remained in the service beyond the four-year limit for job retention guarantees, have been assured the right to claim their former jobs.

If ex-POW's have trouble getting reinstated, they have recourse to the local veterans' administrator, state employment office, or, as a last resort, to the U. S. district attorney.

The right to reinstatement automatically becomes void as soon as the veteran reenlists or extends in the service voluntarily beyond the four-year limit.

Ex-Tenth Marines Executive Officer Upped To Colonel

Col. Charles M. DeHority, awaiting assignment with Headquarters, 2nd Division, was promoted to his present rank at ceremonies in the office of Maj. Gen. George F. Good Jr., commanding general of the division, Thursday morning.

Colonel DeHority was the former commanding officer of the 1st Bn., 10th Marines, and executive officer of the 10th Marines.

A native of Elwood, Ind., Col. DeHority was commissioned in the Marine Corps upon graduation from the Naval Academy in 1938.

Col. LeRoy Hauser Cuts Cake At Depot

Supply Depot Marines snapped to parade rest as Col. LeRoy Hauser, their commanding officer, read the Marine Corps Manual's Article 24451, commemorating the one-hundred seventy-eighth birthday of the Marine Corps Tuesday.

The half-hour ceremony took place in one of the depot's new warehouses, Bldg. 1116. It had counterparts in numerous other such ceremonies throughout the base.

Following the birthday greeting, Pfc Joseph Martinez, 17, the youngest Marine in the Depot, handed the sword for the cake-cutting to the colonel.

The first piece of cake went to the Marine with the longest enlisted time in the Depot, MSgt. Frederick Shesso, 49.

Capt. Charles L. Manley, assistant operations officer of Hq. Squadron, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross "for heroism while participating in aerial flight against the enemy in Korea."

MSgt. Paul E. Mayer, engineering chief of VMO-1, received a gold star in lieu of a second Air Medal, and the Letter of Commendation Medal with Combat "V," for "meritorious acts while participating in aerial flight over enemy territory in Korea," and for "heroic service in line of his profession while serving with a Marine observation squadron during operations against the enemy in Korea," respectively.

Maj. Harry J. Anderson, executive officer of MGCS-7, was awarded the Letter of Commendation Medal with Combat "V" for "meritorious service in the performance of his duties while serving with a Marine Air Base Squadron in Korea."

Also present will be representatives of British and Canadian military medical research and scientists from North Carolina and Duke Universities.

Following the arrival of the committee at the New River Air Facility, members will be the luncheon guests of Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general.

The committee will hold a round table scientific discussion with the staff of the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory following the luncheon.

Wednesday morning the group will continue the scientific meeting, which will be followed by an inspection of the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory's facilities. The committee is expected to leave for Pensacola, Fla., by plane that afternoon.

The mission of the Army Security Agency School is to train specialists and technicians in communications security and communications intelligence.

FT Bakers Put Gala Ice On MC B'day

An assembly line utilizing sources and technical skill, Force Troops' mess halls put the 1500 pounds of Marine Birthday cake that served the of Camp Geiger Tuesday.

Second Lt. Howson W. Force Troops food director, the word was out, ed the following ingredients went into the ten cakes, which weighed 150 pounds served 300 men:

- 1,080 eggs.
- 400 pounds flour.
- 300 pounds shortening.
- 700 pounds powdered sugar.
- 320 pounds granulated sugar.

The cakes, shield-shaped and topped with "Semper Fidelis" and the globe and anchor, were prepared by Technical Sergeant Leonard H. Klynman and Smith and SSgt. John J. Pribil, who were trapped in the structures as the buildings were being dismantled. The cakes were prepared by the mess halls of the Force Troops, which were being dismantled as the buildings were being dismantled.

Working 24 consecutive hours to have the pastry ready Tuesday's cake-cutting ceremonies and holiday dinners, the bakers were aided by 12 bakers in processing the cakes, each 48 inches long, 33 inches wide.

Mess Hall 4 made the cakes, and Mess Hall 1 was responsible for the baking and assembly. Sergeants Klynman and Smith had baked Marine Corps B'day cakes for front-line Korean troops two years ago. Last year, the Sergeant Pribil completed tasks at Camp Geiger.

Leathernecks Turn From War Games to Aid Greece's Stricken Thousands

BY ST. PETER M. BAIRD

The below eye witness account of relief work on the earthquake-stricken islands was written last week for the GLOBE upon the unit's return.

Friday, August 13, NATO Exercise Malta was completed. The Mediterranean Sea was the scene of the 2nd and 6th Marines. Hot, tired, and hungry, they re-boarded the waiting transports of the U. S. 6th Fleet, looking forward to showers, food, and "sack."

The word was out. A new assignment was in the offing for the Marines. The 6th Fleet marked Marines had been at the disposal of the Greek government to aid in reconstructions at the earthquake-stricken Ionian sea islands.

Several days earlier, disaster had struck the Greek islands of Ithaca, Cephalonia, and Zante. Entire towns were wiped out. Mother Nature sent her weapon against man—the earthquake—to twist and heave the buildings. Buildings were knocked down. People were trapped in the structures as man's works of civilization crumbled. Pressed aboard various transports of the reinforced battalions, they sailed at top speed to the

Russia Seen Leading Race In Sub Power

"Jane's Fighting Ships," the authoritative encyclopedia of world naval power, says that the United States alone has developed atomic power for naval use, but that Russia leads in over-all undersea strength.

The new edition of the book says that the Red fleet has 370 subs on active duty and in reserve against 201 for the U.S. However, Jane's calls the construction of two new atomic submarines at New London, Conn., "a milestone which may be as profound as the conversion from sails to mechanical power."

Here are some comparative figures from this year's edition including ships in reserve:

	U.S.	Brit.	USSR
Battleships	15	5	3
Cruisers	75	26	20
Destroyers	352	107	83
Destroyer escorts and frigates	250	161	38
Submarines	201	53	370

In addition to the 370 submarines Russia has on duty and in reserve, another 400 are under construction. (AFPS)

Lejeune's First Christian Science Chaplain Aboard

A former Naval ordnance inspector turned Christian Science chaplain has come aboard, becoming Lejeune's only padre in that faith.

Lt. Richard F. Shroth, USN, a graduate of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich., received a direct commission as an ensign in April 1942.

After serving as a Naval inspector of ordnance at Pontiac, Mich., he was assistant personnel officer of the U. S. Naval Ammunition Depot at Crane, Ind., from June 1943 to June 1946.

Following his discharge in July 1946, he was employed by the Dodge Manufacturing Company in Mishawaka, Ind., as assistant personnel director. But his life was to take a new turn.

In 1950 Shroth became a Christian Science practitioner. He applied for a chaplain's commission last March, was sent to the Chaplain's School at Newport, R. I., and reported here following the completion of the course.

Chaplain Shroth is located in the Camp Chaplain's Office, Bldg. 41, and would like to hear from Christian Scientists stationed here.

Cook Makes Corps Life's Main Course

Sgt. Paul W. Polson, a cook with Engineer School Bn. at Court House Bay, has integrated from the Reserves into the regular Marine Corps, and hopes to make a career of it.

With six years in the Reserves so far Sergeant Polson was sworn into the regulars by Lt. Col. F. A. Vaughn, commanding officer of Engineer School Bn., Friday.

FASCINATION—Brian Goley, 18-month-old son of MSgt. Elwood W. Goley, first sergeant of "A" Co., 1st Bn., 6th Marines, is obviously fascinated by his father's newly awarded Letter of Commendation Medal. Sergeant Goley was awarded the medal for exceptional service in the Korean theater. With the North Carolina Leatherneck is his wife, Bernice, and his daughter, Kaye, four (Official USMC Photo).

SSgt. Ahern Wins Award For Heroic Service In Korea

"For heroic service in the line of his profession," SSgt. Joseph W. Ahern, now studying in a special course at Montford Point, received a Letter of Commendation Medal from Lt. Col. H. W. Seely Jr., executive officer of Supply School Bn., here Friday.

Attached to the 1st Tank Bn., 1st Division, in Korea last July, Sergeant Ahern's platoon was firing on enemy installations when the brakes on his tank failed and began to lose a track.

Realizing that the vehicle must be protected, Sergeant Ahern, disregarding personal safety, jumped from the tank and successfully guided it from the vulnerable position to one of less danger, saving his crew and the tank from intense mortar and anti-tank fire.

Sergeant Ahern presently is attending the Student Special Motor Transport Officer's Course No. 1 at Montford Point. Upon successful completion of the course, he will receive a commission as second lieutenant.

It takes at least a full year aboard an active submarine for an officer to become eligible to pin on his "dolphins" and become a full-fledged submariner.

Division Band Blows Busy B'day Date

The Division Band faced a busy schedule over the Marine Corps Birthday and Armistice Day this week. Providing marching rhythm for troops, the unit performed at the Force Troops review Tuesday.

Providing brief musical backgrounds at Marston Pavilion and at the Officers Club Tuesday evening were the next band stints on the list. A small contingent travelled to Marine Barracks, FMFLant Headquarters, Norfolk, Va., for the traditional cake-cutting there.

An Armistice Day throng in Wilmington applauded the bandmen's concert sponsored by the American Legion, while the Drum and Bugle Corps lent musical cadence to a celebration in Warsaw at which the commanding general of Marine Corps Base, Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, was principal speaker.

CASUALTY-PRODUCING NOVEMBER

Forty-one percent of the Marines from this camp killed in auto accidents last year were killed during the month of November. Remember these figures the next time you are off the camp.

Are you marked as a fatality for this month? Last year, November alone produced 15 deaths due to automobile accidents.

Plain old carelessness, that's all it was, and the only person to blame—the driver! Will you be one of the fatalities this year? Only you, the individual motorist, by being considerate, cautious, and courteous will be able to keep this year's total down. Don't "clutch" up. Make the highways "safeways" for the other motorist as well as yourself. We're hoping that you won't be a number in our accident reports.

FT 'Bulletin' Shuts Down Presses With Printing This Week

Force Troops Special Services' publication, the "Bulletin," ended a 22-month tour of duty this week with the printing of its eighty-second issue.

The "Bulletin's" first edition, a mimeographed production, was distributed on January 29, 1952.

Since then, it has presented the men of Camp Geiger with news of Force Troops sports, educational opportunities, liberty tips, character guidance, library facilities, individual units, and special services information and activities.

Maj. A. O. Wedell Jr. succeeded the editor-in-chief, 1st Lt. Thomas Young, in April last year, piloting the "Bulletin" every since.

Sgt. Martin Rosenthal, staff artist for over a year, edited the last issue, printed by offset press.

The staff, under 1st Lt. Martin Boyle, will function solely as the Force Troops Informational Service Section, releasing news items and feature stories on Camp Geiger units and personnel to the GLOBE and home town newspapers.

Sgt. Aaron J. Alexander, sports editor of the "Bulletin," is NCO in Charge of I.S.S.

The Navy's mothball feet at the end of 1952 represented an investment of more than 23 billion dollars at current replacement costs.

FRIENDS ONCE FOES—First Lt. Charles I. Herriotts (left), of the 2nd Engineer Bn., was a sergeant in charge of a prisoner-of-war stockade on Guam in 1945 when Lt. Col. Zenji Abe (right), then a Japanese naval flight commander, awaited repatriation to Tokyo. The Camp Lejeune Leatherneck and his one-time charge were reunited after eight years recently when Herriotts visited Fort Benning, Ga., where Zenji is chief interpreter for Japanese officers studying American Army administration (Official USMC Photo).

Marine, Former Foe Meet As Friends In U. S. Camp

A Marine and his one-time bitter enemy cemented a friendship recently. The Marine is 1st Lt. Charles I. Herriotts, of the 2nd Division's Engineer Bn., and the former foe is Lt. Col. Zenji Abe, of the Japanese army.

The two discussed the grim days of the past during a week-end social call which Herriotts paid the colonel by motoring to Fort Benning, Ga.

Colonel Zenji Abe fought against the United States as the commander of a navy dive bomber squadron during World War II. Leading nine planes, he made the initial run over Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. He personally is credited with the sinking of the battleship USS Arizona, surprised at anchor in the harbor.

The colonel, who won his wings at the Kasumigaura Naval Air Training School, Ibaragi Prefecture (Province), Japan, had been briefed about the raid as early as October 1941.

Recalled in 1951 by the re-organized democratic militia, Zenji Abe is on special assignment at Fort Benning as executive officer and chief interpreter for 65 Japanese officers learning U. S. Army administrative techniques.

Got Around

During World War II, he saw action in raids against Port Darwin, Australia; Dutch Harbor, Alaska; Guam, Marianas; and Guadalcanal, Solomons; and in operations in the Indian Ocean.

As a Japanese naval air officer, Zenji Abe took off from a carrier deck with his squadron, carrying orders to hit an American task group steaming toward Guam in August 1945.

The island supposedly was in Japanese hands. The colonel was slated to make the run and refuel there. But Marines had already conquered the volcanic island, so Zenji Abe crash-landed his plane on Rota Island, and surrendered the stronghold as senior officer present, September 4, 1945.

The next day he was transported to a prisoner of war stockade at Guam, where Herriotts, then a sergeant, was brig warden. Soon after Herriotts and Zenji Abe became acquainted, the colonel was returned to Japan.

Samurai Sword

During the intervening years, a comradeship of correspondence grew up between them. The former Japanese commander went so far as to ship a gold-laced samurai sword to his friend.

Herriotts enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1937. He was a leading Golden Gloves middleweight in Pennsylvania prior to joining the service. In 1937 and 1938 he filled the blocking back slot on the football team at Quantico.

The lieutenant saw three years of combat in the South Pacific during World War II, as well as another hitch during the recent Korean conflict.

At their week-end reunion, Zenji Abe told the Marine officer that the democratic form of government has wrought amazing changes for the people of Japan.

He is happy that his three children are growing to maturity "in a land where young people make their own decisions and decide on their own careers."

"During the reign of the 'war lords,'" explained the colonel, "a young man had no choice and no future but the military. Now I'm proud to wear the uniform of my government's forces. A man is serving himself when he serves democratic ideals."

LET'S BE HONEST

Most men would say the easiest persons to be honest are themselves. But I say this is true in many areas of our life. Thousands are themselves all the time trying to make themselves things they definitely know to be truthful or factually honest, and others, and other things.

Especially do we find this in the realms of religion. A man comes into the Corps, he may intentionally or unintentionally try to convince himself that the Church is not necessary now. He joined the Marine Corps all that back home."

It may be true that he leave God and the Church that goes with it at home. He is honest with himself, he has to admit that he needs and that God is very near his life. All that a man has cause of God's mercy toward him.

His life, his health, the he wears, the food he eats, the comforts he enjoys, exist. God sees fit to bestow the him. If God were to withhold powerful hand of mercy, he be the most helpless creature on earth.

But even beyond the material blessings of life, we are really honest with ourselves, we are in constant of spiritual blessings from Heavenly Father. And mainly, if we have faith in Him, He is ready to pour out his love in such great quantities that we won't be able to receive it.

If we are truly honest with ourselves, we will have to admit true happiness and peace can be found in God through Jesus Christ our Lord. Willis L. Saunders Jr., 6th

At a nuptial high mass at the Camp Catholic Chapel Saturday morning, Pfc Rosemarie L. Fischer of WM Co., became the bride of Mr. Raymond R. Chakey of Bayonne, N. J.

Mr. Chakey, a former Marine, is an ex-Camp Lejeune varsity basketball player.

Chaplain K. Keane performed the double ring ceremony and TSgt. William A. Yost, of the Camp Information Section, gave the bride away.

Attending the bride were Pfc
Toni Granadoz, maid of honor, and
Sgt. Betty Ciunedeam, bridesmaid, both of WM Co.

The bride's white net and Spanish lace ankle-length gown with matching jacket was highlighted by a baby pearl-studded Juliet cap, crowning the finger-tip veil.
She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and satin streamers.

The maid of honor and bridesmaid wore satin and net ankle-length gowns. The maid of honor's was pink and the bridesmaid's yellow.
Each carried old-fashioned bouquets of chrysanthemums and carnations to match their gowns.

The groom, the best man, Pfc
Guido Carosi, and the ushers,

Pellesschi, all of H&S Bn., MCB, wore dark blue suits and white carnation boutonniere.

WM Maneuvers

BY PFC BECKY CARPER

A blanket of white greeted Pfc
Pat Sellers on her recent jaunt to Washington, D. C. It was the Mississippi belle's first glimpse of the North's snowy scene and she was delighted to build a frosty snowman and stage a Yankee snow fight on Capitol Hill.

Former WM Laura Ulrich, now
Mrs. John Messner of Pittsburgh,
Pa., was a visitor to the company
Monday and Tuesday.

Assigned duty with the Home
Town News Center at Great Lakes, Ill., are Pfc's Dorothy Brian and Bertha Yazombak, who both left last week. Pfc Dollie
Brown will see "action" in D.
C.

Barbara Buffington and Joyce
Ring, both sergeants, were discharged Friday after serving their enlistments.

A December wedding is planned
by Pfc Jacqueline Luce and Sgt.
Ronald Smith, of the 6th Marines.
The bride-elect presently is serving on mess duty.

The parents of Cpl. Peggy Rice are visiting her from Nebraska.
It is the Rices' first journey east.

Congratulations to all of those who received their rates during the recent promotion hike.

Ann Taylor and the Marine Corps shared a birthday cake Tuesday, but Ann could make use of only 19 of the 178 candles on the cake.

The appearance of some feminine finery at the Marine Corps Birthday Ball in the Pavilion proved that women in the service can still be dazzling creatures when bedecked in formal attire. Soft, dreamy blue was the prevailing color.

Margie Cassels chose a strapless ballerina length gown with a bodice of lace studded with rhine-stones. Bands of deep blue satin enhanced the bouffant skirt of Gladys Peterson and a short satin bolero completed her ankle-length gown.

Shirley Rixe selected a waltz-length gown of snow-white net over taffeta, with an overskirt of shadow lace and a matching stole.

Troop 90 Receives Boy Scout Charter

Next Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m.

Point's Flyers Gunned Down In 7-2 Dogfight

Camp Finds Throttle After Being Stalled In First Half

A befuddled Camp Lejeune eleven tripped all over itself during the first half Saturday and almost lost a ball game before Reggie Lee and Ray Smith snapped the locals out of their lethargy to carry them to a slim 7-2 win over the Cherry Point Flyers.

Lejeune played perhaps its worst two periods of football this season during the first half, doing nothing right against a determined Flyer squad which ran and passed at will. Lejeune had the ball for only 22 plays before intermission.

Sparked by the passing and play-calling of Ed Brandenburg, Cherry Point seemed destined to win and cop the East Coast Marine flag. Brandenburg was superb. His passes took the visitors almost the length of the field, splitting Lejeune's defenses wide open to allow the Point ball-carriers to gain large chunks of ground.

But Lejeune came back strong in the second half, thanks to the running efforts of Lee and Smith. The pair of halfbacks gained a total of 192 yards between them in 23 carries. Their performances alone were largely responsible in enabling Lejeune to reverse the tables on the Flyers and eke out the win.

Aside from their own spirited play, the Flyers recovered one Lejeune fumble and intercepted three passes to keep the locals at bay during the first two periods.

The two Flyer points came as the result of a boner by Lee, who at length fell victim to the Lejeune apathy midway through the second quarter.

Brandenburg Hitting

Cherry Point started a drive from its own 28-yard line and moved quickly down the field, Brandenburg hitting his receivers with perfect tosses. Halfback Russ Murphy spurred the drive with two long runs.

With a first down on the Lejeune 31, George Kineck took a Brandenburg handoff and moved to the 26. Brandenburg then flipped a pass to end Gene Brooks in the Lejeune end zone.

Lee drifting over with the play, got the jump on the ball and, instead of batting it down, intercepted it in the end zone. Brooks promptly tackled him there for a safety and two Flyer points.

The locals tried vainly to hit paydirt after the Flyer score but fell victim once again to the "fumble-itis" and pass interceptions that have haunted them all season.

They finally collected themselves long enough in the third period to jam across the winning tally. Yet, even this score came on a break.

Starts To Click

After Cherry Point was forced to kick from deep in its own territory in the third quarter, Lejeune started to click. Starting from the Flyer 39, Smith smashed for 13 yards to the 26 and Lee picked up eight more, putting the ball (See CAMP FINDS, Page 7)

CSG Victory Tightens FT Football Fight

Second Combat Service Group has moved within one game of first place in the Force Troops Football League by trouncing 8th Motor Transport Bn. by the largest score of the season, 31-0.

Cushioned by a 19-point margin in the final quarter, CSG skillfully dumbofounded the cellar dwellers with the trickiest scoring play of the campaign.

Combat center Moran took his position on Motor's 26-yard line. He faced the line of scrimmage and MT's defense where the ball was placed, on the right side of the field. But the remainder of CSG's eleven, as if by mistake, formed on the left sideline, facing nothing but the goal posts.

Moran faked confusion, trying to get his teammates behind him. But before Motor could recover from its confusion (it was real), CSG's center threw quickly to his fullback, "Speedy" Williams, who ran with the whole team blocking for the touchdown.

Decided Early

The game was decided in the first 45 seconds when MT's fumble of the opening kickoff was recovered on its 19-yard line by Combat. Two plays later halfback "Reb" Harris tallied.

Harris scored twice, fullback Jack Halyak once, and Williams the final two.

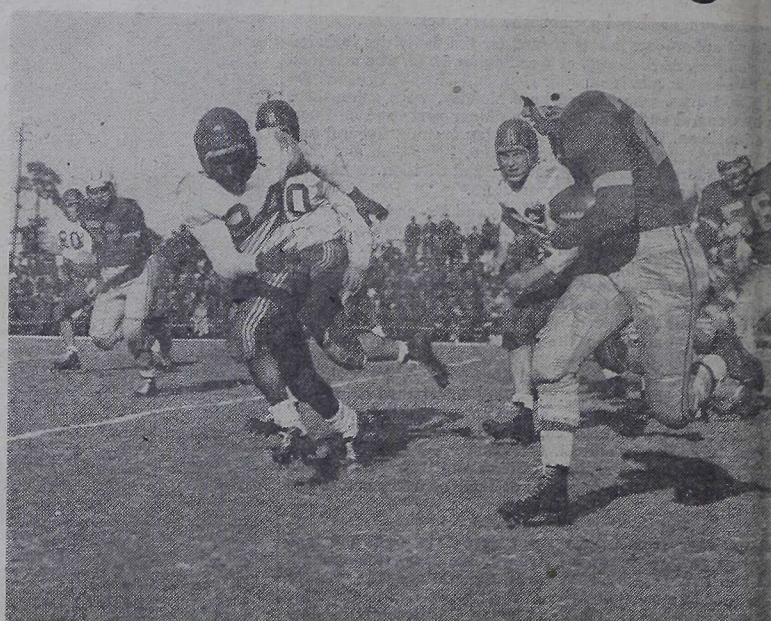

In another contest last week, Amtrac and Supply School fought to a scoreless draw to maintain their tie for third place.

Weather conditions holding the offensive punch to a minimum, the (See CSG, Page 7)

Bolling AFB Generals Hit Liversedge Field Saturday

Camp Lejeune faces a Tartar this week when Bolling Air Force Base, 1952 inter-service football Champion, invades Liversedge Field. Bolling, after dropping its first three games of the season has come on strong to win five in a row.

Lejeune will be seeking its sixth victory of the season. The locals have dropped two games, bowing to Fort Lee, 13-7, and Quantico, 3-0.

After dropping three straight to Fort Eustis, Fort Lee, and Quantico, Bolling came to life suddenly, displaying its 1952 power. The Generals cracked into the win column with a resounding 51-2 win over the Army Chemical Center and followed up with victories over Fort Jackson, (which Lejeune tied, 6-6), Little Creek, Fort Belvoir, and Fort Monmouth.

Before its loss to Bolling, Belvoir had been tabbed as the best team on the East Coast and perhaps the best service aggregation in the nation.

Dorow Heads Generals

A host of top-flight players will be in the Bolling lineup. Heading the invading eleven will be Al Dorow. Before coming to Bolling in 1952, Dorow gained All-American honors at Michigan State when that club first started hitting the national headlines.

He hasn't slowed up a bit while performing for the Generals. His daring running and pin point passing led them to the inter-service crown last season. After a slow start this year his arm has sparked the Generals to football prominence once again.

Fred James, Walt Klevay, and Bill Reichardt will start in the Bolling backfield. James, formerly of North Carolina, has been transplanted from end to replace the injured Mel Groomes.

Fastest On Squad

Klevay is the fastest man on the squad. Small in stature but with flashing speed, the former Ohio State stalwart is a returnee from last year's team. Reichardt is the pride of Iowa University and has received wide acclaim for his running in his first season of service ball.

He was named to the All-Midwest and All-Big Ten teams two years in a row, capped All-American honors in 1951, and played for the Green Bay Packers before coming to Bolling. In his first year of service ball, Reichardt has overshadowed completely Bolling's Allen Boyd, who was named the "most valuable player" on the General squad last year. He has gained an average of over four yards a carry since the season started.

Bolling won't lack for talent in the line. Chuck Jones and Jack Lindsay will be at the end posts. Lindsay is a Maryland University product and Jones prepared at George Washington.

Ed Nickla and Joe Moss hold down tackle positions on the Bolling eleven. Moss, 235, also went to Maryland while Nickla, 215, played at Tennessee.

The loss by the Flyers cost them the chance of clinching the East Coast Marine football crown. A win over Lejeune would have given them a 3-0 record. They now are deadlocked for first place with Quantico, which has a 2-1 slate against Marine opposition.

Lejeune now has a chance to enter into a three-way tie for the crown. Should it knock off Parris Island later this month, the locals too would show a 2-1 slate against Marine opponents. Cherry Point and Quantico have completed their schedules against Leatherneck foes on the East Coast.

scheduled to be played Tuesday night between league champion Hq. Co. and the Naval Hospital.

Bob Kinslow paced the winners to their lop-sided win over the Depot, passing for three of the Engineer tallies and scoring two others on line plunges. Bill Riggs made the final tally. Center Karl Rud converted six times.

The game scheduled between the Naval Hospital and Hq. Co. was important in so far as the hospital was concerned. If the Sailors were able to top the loop-leaders, then a three-way tie for second place would result.

The Rifle Range and Engineer School Bn. finished their seasons with identical records of 4-2. As it is, Rifle Range and Engineer School will play off the two-way tie for second place. A three-way playoff will be held for the second spot if the Naval Hospital wins over Hq. Co.

The final standing of the league, not including the game between Hq. Co. and the Naval Hospital, are:

Talent Parade Struts Stuff Wed. Night At Field House

BY CPL. DOUG VANCE

Next Wednesday night the Goettge Memorial Field House will play host to one of the greatest entertainment values ever to hit Camp Lejeune—talent-wise and dollar-wise.

This star-studded show will begin shining at 8 p.m.

Tied up in the entertainment package are such stage troupers as Tex Ritter, "America's Most Beloved Cowboy"; Henny Youngman, well-known comedian of stage, screen, radio, and TV; Mary Mayo, a lovely songstress; the Renards, a magical dance duo; and Johnny Long and his band, featuring Barbara Hammond, Dick Perry, Jimmy Sedler, the Long Shots, and the Glee Club.

A bundle of songs, laughs, and swing for a buck, or—if you really want to "live it up"—there're reserved seats for $1.50. Tickets are on sale at the Officers and Staff NCO Clubs, Hostess House, Field House, Camp Theater, and unit special services.

Civilians are invited to attend and all military personnel must wear the uniform of the day.

Tex Ritter is credited with starting the trend of popularity for cowboy songs and western music. Some of his top western recordings are "Deck of Cards," "Ninety-Nine Years Is A Long Time," and "High Noon." Tex's was the voice heard singing "High Noon" in the picture of the same name.

Henny Youngman, the man whose brother is a lifeguard in a carwash, is no stranger to those liking funny men. Acclaimed from coast to coast for his machine-gun style, Youngman has appeared in spots such as the Copacabana and Latin Quarter night clubs and the Roxy and Paramount Theaters in New York and on the Milton Berle and Kate Smith TV shows.

One of the prerequisites for a songstress is to be pretty to look at. Mary Mayo has it. Through her wonderful delivery Miss Mayo has won the hearts of audiences throughout the country. Just a few of her outstanding Capitol recordings are "Dancing In The Dark," "Molly Malone," and "Domino."

Rising Renards

The Renards, Leon and Yvonne, is one of the fastest-rising dance teams to come along in many a year. They have appeared on such TV programs as "The Robert Q. Lewis Show" and "The Cavalcade of Stars." Their personal appearances include the Capri Supper Club on Long Island, New York, and Jackie Heller's Carousel in Pittsburgh.

Set to provide the music for Wednesday's show are Johnny Long and his orchestra. Johnny, who has appeared here before, has gained the reputation of being "Young America's Favorite," being in constant demand by colleges and country clubs throughout the nation.

Noted for his use of the entire ensemble in recording his discs, Long's waxings of "Shanty Town," "Blue Skies," and "Silver Dollar" have been smash hits.
