LEMUEL C. SHEPHERD JR.
GENERAL, USMC
Twentieth Commandant of the Marine Corps

Sincere Thanks Commandant

Marine Corps Birthday of 1953 is the first anniversary which does not find men of the Corps in action. The end of a long and arduous period of combat by ground forces in Korea—combat which has added the host of battle honors won by the Corps.

Now, with the halt in active combat, we find our Corps again in its traditional posture of striving to exist in peace so that it may be fully ready for the next. We know that the weapons, the tactics, and the technology of the last battle are never adequate for the next. For that reason, we must never falter in our efforts to be ready. Day by day increases in our skill, our efficiency, our overall readiness to meet any challenge that may hold.

Look To The Past
In this area, however, we must look, not to the future, but to the past. That is in the great example of courage, resolution, and loyalty that has been set for us by our forebears.

It is for us to revere and to emulate in our every action the inspiring Marine tradition which lives today in the words as Belleau Wood, Iwo Jima, and Inchon—which have been made a part of our nation's great history through the valor and sacrifice of Marines of other generations in the memory of those brave men that we find the courage and to meet the responsibilities which confront the Corps today. While those responsibilities have never changed, I believe that the superb accomplishments of our men and woman in the Corps during the past year are a measure of our ability to meet them.

To Marines Everywhere
Therefore, with a sense of deep satisfaction for the full confidence for the future, that I extend to you everywhere—regular and Reserve, active and inactive (See SINCERE THANKS, Page 4)

Festival Air Reigns Over Camp Tues.

Birthdays come once a year and on November 10, next Tuesday, the United States Marine Corps will have its one hundred seventy-eighth.

One hundred seventy-eight years of tradition, honor, and service to our country.

Birthday parties, cake-cutting ceremonies, a parade, a special show at the Camp Theater, and birthday dinners at all Lejeune mess halls will make this birthday celebration a fitting tribute to the Corps' anniversary.

For its celebration dinner Tuesday the mess halls will prepare the traditional holiday fare which graces Marine Corps Birthday tables.

For this dinner a reasonable number of bona fide guests of enlisted personnel, as approved by the appropriate commanding officer responsible for the operation of the mess, may attend. Each host will pay for his guests on a supplementary ration basis, plus surcharge where applicable, to the unit mess officer.

Article 24451
A formal cake-cutting ceremony will be part of the dinner, plus the traditional reading of Article 24451 of the Marine Corps Manual.

Article 24451 is a short history of the Marine Corps and an explanation of the many things that the Corps represents.

Highlighting the birthday afternoon will be a parade by the 2nd Division.

In the evening Camp Lejeune will begin its birthday parties. Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, will cut the cake, at the Paradise Point Officers Club and the Headquarters (See FESTIVAL AIR, Page 2)

Adm. Burke Reviews Div. B'day March

Rear Admiral Arleigh A. Burke will act as reviewing officer at the 2nd Division parade and review here Tuesday in honor of the one hundred seventy-eighth birthday of the Marine Corps.

Admiral Burke is attached to the Office of Chief of Naval Operations, Washington, D. C., and will be the guest of Maj. Gen. George F. Good, Jr., division commander, while on the base.

Colonel Donald M. Weller, division chief of staff, will act as Commanding Officer of Troops.

MSgt. Robey C. Stewart, 51, of Hq. Bn., 2nd Division, and Pfc. Peter E. Masse, 17, of "B" Co., 1st Bn., 8th Marines, will act as honor guard as the oldest and youngest enlisted men in the division, respectively, in time of continuous service.

The parade will take place on the camp parade ground at 10 a.m. All Division units here will participate and no vehicles or carts will be paraded. Winter service with dress shoes and T/O weapons will be the uniform of the parade.

A rehearsal of the parade will be held Monday.

Marines - 178 Years' Glory

As we here pause in our duties Tuesday to observe the one hundred seventy-eighth anniversary of the founding of the Marine Corps, it is for us to remember the traditions begun on November 10, 1775, which have been carried on unswerving through the years.

The esprit de corps for which Marines are noted was as much in evidence in the landing on the Bahamas in early 1776 as it was in the World War I assault by the 5th and 6th Marines upon German positions in Belleau Wood. Upon these Marines the Germans bestowed the title of "Devildogs" and on these same Marine regiments the grateful French bestowed the Croix de Guerre. Members of the 6th Marines stationed here still wear the fourragere signifying this award.

At Camp Lejeune the "Old Breed" that was the 1st Division organized and trained in the early, fearful days of World War II. It was they who first stemmed the Japanese tide at Guadalcanal and gave hope to the free world.

On the chests of many Marines here is the Pacific Campaign Ribbon of World War II, with stars signifying action in the rugged island-hopping campaigns which were the Pacific war — Tarawa, Bougainville, Cape Gloucester, Peleliu, the Marshalls and the Marianas, Iwo Jima and Okinawa. Other ribbons tell, too, of a gallant defense on Wake Island and of the horror that was Bataan.

A New Luster Added
Of recent years and recent days Marines have added a new chapter and new luster to the Corps' tradition—Korea. From Lejeune trained reinforcements were sent to swell the 1st Division, about to sail to reinforce the 1st Provisional Marine Brigade. The latter unit helped hold the Pusan perimeter in the early, desperate days of the Korean war in 1950.

Lejeune Marines vividly remember the "fire-brigade" action at Pusan, the mud beaches at Inchon, and the frozen mountain passes encountered in the Chosin Reservoir breakout. They recall the actions of Operations Killer and (See MARINES, Page 4)

Ripper followed by bitter defensive fighting, and culminating in an advance through the Punchbowl area. In their recollections is the 140-mile lateral shift across Korea by land, sea, and air to a position anchoring the western end of the Eighth Army line.

From that position they guarded the peace corridor to Panmunjom and the vital approaches to Seoul in bloody actions which added the names of Bunker Hill, Carson, Vegas, and Reno to a battle roll which includes such names as Tripoli, Chapultepec, and Samar.

Recognition for these achievements in Korea have come to the 1st Division in the form of three Presidential Unit Citations, two Korean Presidential Unit Citations, and, for the supporting 1st Air Wing, a Distinguished Unit Citation from the Army and two Korean Presidential Unit Citations.

America's Most Decorated Division

The three PUC's won in Korea, when added to the three previously received for Guadalcanal, Peleliu, and Okinawa, make the 1st Division the most decorated division in American history.

Marines in Korea have won individual honors, too, the latest count being 39 Congressional Medals of Honor, 166 Navy Crosses, 1,433 Silver Stars, and 3,880 Bronze Stars.

Today's Marines—the so-called "New Breed"—have proven themselves, as Maj. Gen. R. McC. Pate's message from Korea, written just before the cease fire, evidences: "We have fought numberless patrol and outpost actions," the 1st Division commander wrote, "and out of these actions men have returned through the darkness carrying their dead and wounded, singing the Marine Corps Hymn."

Marines Take Care Of Their Own

"The men in this division have fought . . . with a deep sense of duty to the men at their sides, and in the full knowledge that Marines take care of their own . . . It may well be that by the time you receive this message a cease-fire will have been signed. If such is the case, rest assured that we have only backed off a few paces and are cleaning our weapons in event they are needed again here or elsewhere."

The world situation on this one hundred seventy-eighth anniversary of the Marine Corps is one of armed peace. But, peace or war, the Marines will be there.

Cmdr. Parker New Head Of FT Chaplains

Cmdr. Joseph F. Parker was appointed Force Troops Chaplain last week at the retirement of Cmdr. William A. Wiggins.

Commander Parker, a Navy chaplain since 1941, received a personal citation for heroic action

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Richmond in 1936, Commander Parker attended the Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., and Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa., where he was ordained in 1936.

After two years at the pulpit of the Salem Baptist Church, Sparta, Va., he enlisted in the Navy, serving aboard the USS Chaumont and USS Hancock during World War II. He accepted a regular Naval commission in May 1945.

Before joining Camp Geiger's staff of eight chaplains, Commander Parker completed a year of Korean duty with the 1st Air Wing.

FETTERS OR FREEDOM?

"And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captive by him at his will." (II Tim. 2:26)

In certain tropical areas an ingenious method is used to catch monkeys. Although it is used with variations, its success is uniform because it takes advantage of a peculiar monkey characteristic.

In Africa the natives will take a coconut and cut a small hole in the shell, just large enough for the monkey to get its paw in. Then they fasten the coconut at some place where the monkey will be sure to find it. It is not long before the monkey comes to investigate the prize. He thrusts a paw in and scrapes up some of the tender meat.

It is so good that he works and works until he has gathered all he possibly can hold in his little paw, so much, indeed, that he cannot withdraw it without losing some. But this he is unwilling to do, and instead of releasing his hold he closes his paw yet more tightly, even when he sees his captors approaching with the net in which he will be caught.

The monkey is trapped by a victim of his own greed.

Human Application

The application in the realm is obvious. When seeks to ensnare men in he baits it with that which will find most attractive. It is to relinquish. Fame, frolic, sex . . . these are dred other allurements he used to bring men to des.

But, praise God, there who is wiser and more than our adversary. At our cost, Jesus Christ, a way by which we may ourselves from the snare devil.

Let us not grasp and clinging things of this life monkey, but rather may God's Word as it reveals to escape Satan's snare highest moment will come who will say with the hymn "Take the world, but Jesus." — Chaplain W. wold, 8th Tank Bn.

CP's Flyers Winging Into Lejeune Sat.

Camp Lejeune takes on its second Marine opponent in two weeks Saturday, playing host to the Cherry Point Flyers, a team which has blown hot and cold this season — but usually hot against Marine opposition. Game time is 2 p. m. at Liversedge Field.

WJNC will air the game.

The Flyers of '53 have been nothing but an ordinary ball club with the exception of two stunning occasions. They opened their season by dumping Quantico, 9-6; lost three games in a row; smeared Parris Island, 19-0; and split their last two contests.

It adds up to an unimpressive slate of only three wins in seven games but two of the wins have come against highly regarded Marine opponents. Quantico, without a doubt, is one of the two or three best eleven in the country and Parris Island, though down this season, is always rough, especially when facing Marine clubs.

A Scoring Punch

Cherry Point can't be considered lightly by Lejeune or any other club. The Flyers have molded a unit that packs a scoring punch, particularly in the passing arm of Ed Brandenburg. They have fine talent in the backfield in halfback George Kinek, formerly of the Los Angeles Rams, and John Cullity (Holy Cross). At fullback is Angelo Lombardo, who runs powerfully from that position even though he weighs just 175.

Tenth Marines Div. Champs By Rugged Win Over Sixth

BY CPL. VINCE RAFTI

The 10th Marines retained the Division intramural grid championship in a slashing, bitterly fought battle on Varsity Field Friday with a 13-6 triumph over the 6th Marines.

The Cannoneers, last year's titlists, will meet the winner of the Force Troops league for the camp laurels early in December.

The big guns in both offensives were kept silent almost all through the first half by the hard-charging defensive forward walls. The first period was played substantially between the 35-yard markers and in the second quarter the Cannoneers "T" mustered a drive that penetrated to the 6th's 15, where they lost the ball on downs.

The single-winged Infantrymen paraded to the 10th Marines 22, pounding out three first downs en route, before the whistle ended the half.

Latta's Big Return

The big play of the game was a 78-yard punt return for a touchdown by Jim Latta in the early minutes of the third period. After an exchange of kicks the 6th had the ball on its 31 and was forced to boot again. Dan Hatfield lofted one which the 10th Marines end halfback gathered in on his 22.

Latta appeared to be stopped but the twinkletoe Texan burst out of a cluster of Infantrymen, wove his way to the sidelines, and raced all the way for the TD behind key downfield blocks thrown by Tommy Meniffie and Yawk Mysza.

Latta also scored the extra point, taking a pitchout from quarterback Jim Martland and bulling over left tackle to make the count 7-0.

In the opening minutes of the last quarter the 6th Marines started their goalward march, paced by the pitching arm of Will Cheatham and sure fingers of halfback

Red Rawding. The combination was good for three completions, bringing them inside the five, but the 10th's line held on the two-foot line.

Boot Blocked

Three plays later Latta attempted to kick out from the rear of the end zone. The boot was partially blocked by end Don Meyneke and the 6th Marines were in business again on the 12 with less than six minutes to play.

They tried the line once for a yard and then Cheatham faded to pass, looking for his favorite receiver, and found Rawding in the end zone. Rawding and the defending Latta both went up high and came down with the ball together but the ruling gave it to Rawding for the score.

Cheatham's placement was deflected by end Meniffie, the score (See TENTH MARINES, Page 7)

Nip Quantico's TD Threes But Fail In Field Goal Try

Two attempted field goals, one of them successful, the difference in the Marine Corps football game of the Saturday.

Quantico, abetted by the magic toe of Bob Meyers, slipped across a field goal with three seconds remaining in the half to down Camp Lejeune before 12,000 fans at Live Field.

Headquarters Co. MCB Intramural Football Champ

Headquarters Co. clinched the title in the Marine Corps Base six-man football league last week, by tripping Service Co., 20-18, as the second-place Rifle Range lost to the Naval Hospital, 14-12. The games were played at Varsity Field.

The win by Hq. Co. gave it a record of 5-0. Rifle Range dropped from title contention after the loss to the Hospital and now has a 3-2 record.

In other league action last week, Engineer School Bn. romped over Motor Transport, 28-6. Motor Transport was further stunned in a game Tuesday when the Rifle Range fired its way to a 33 to 18 triumph.

Two games remained to be played on the league schedule as the GLOBE went to press. Engineer School played Supply Depot last night and Hq. Co. ends league activity with a game against Naval Hospital tonight.

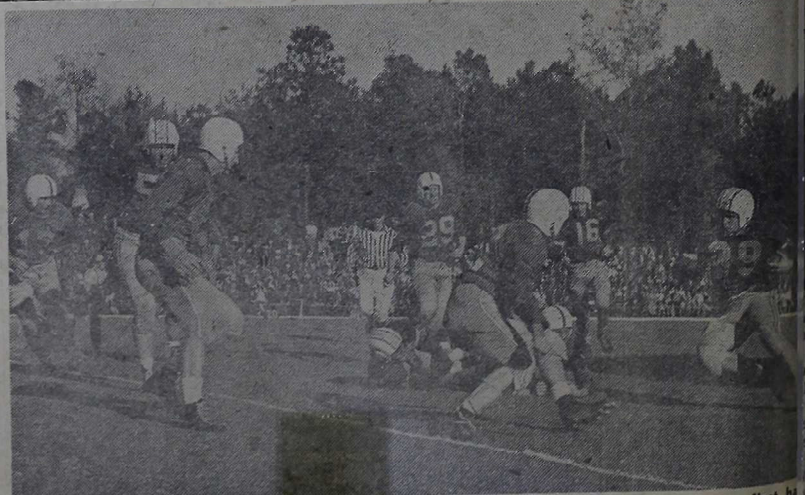

Camp Hoop Squad Bolstered By Return Of Smith, Whitaker

A 16-man Lejeune basketball aggregation continued its steady practice grind last week after being bolstered by the return from maneuvers of two 1952 veterans, Skip Whitaker and Leroy Smith.

Navy Capt. Frank Frates, head coach, in drilling his charges, entered another phase of practice this week. The cagers are stressing the fundamentals of running backwards the length of the court on defensive play.

"This method of practice will be stressed this week and for the balance of the season," Frates added.

One of the new additions to the squad will be diminutive Don Neigo who, Frates said, will be used as a running mate of Dippy Carosi, one of the "mighty mites" of the 52-53 team. Neigo, a guard, stands 5'10", towering over Carosi, who scales 5'8 1/2".

CUTTING UP — Billy Hayes (39) rips off a sizable chunk of yardage during the first half of Saturday's game against Quantico as an unidentified Quantico tackler comes up to meet him. Hayes went for naught, however, as Quantico edged out Lejeune, 3-0 (Official USMC Photo).

Lejeune can rip Cherry Point this Saturday, if Parris Island in November, and wind up in a three-way stalemate for the East Coast crown. Considering that only four clubs are in this peculiar, easiest way for the thing to be settled, of course is to have the Flyers bump the locals this week. That would be a 3-0 record against Marine opposition.

At the same time, though, it would bring a bright red blush to Marine sports circles. Take a peek at Cherry Point's record and you'll see why: Little Creek, 8—Cherry Point, 7; Bainbridge, 6—Cherry Point, 6; Fort Jackson, 25—Cherry Point, 0; Fort Lee, 12—Cherry Point, 6.

Flyers aren't a great team, yet they are a good club, capable of good teams on a given afternoon. Ed Brandenburg is rated the best of service quarterbacks, the rest of the backfield is capable, and the line will play savage football when pushed. The big question is how will a three-way tie be dissolved? In a one team must receive a bye. If this is the case, then a three-off can't begin before December 11 or 12 since Lejeune is scheduled to play December 4 at Key West. Two weeks for a playoff, the West Coast, practice there, with the game being played the large bowl game—a pretty rough grind.

Pickings And Breedings

is impractical, involves too much travel and expense, and it fit in with a well-balanced Marine Corps athletic set-up. So a probably be picked. Logically, and on paper, Quantico would be the choice. However, Cherry Point knocked off Quantico and the Q-C-L game and the fact that Lejeune had beaten Quantico will make it close.

me is running short for those who wish to cast a ballot for Sea-Service football team being run by the "Navy Times." in the Navy, Coast Guard, or Marine Corps is eligible to vote in the contest. Football fans at Lejeune have seen two Marine in action thus far, their own and Quantico. A team picked these two squads alone probably could beat any aggregation of service football.

Cherry Point arrives here this week, and talent isn't lacking on the island. Fellows like Ed Brandenburg, Sam Duca, George Kinek, and others have drawn raves all season. And anyone who watched the Quantico game might be tempted to vote for the entire team.

Most Valuable Players

sidelight to the contest, the paper also is running a "most valuable player" contest and paying a weekly prize of ten dollars to the player who is judged the best letter during a week. The letter concerns the player for selecting a man for the most valuable player nomination. Completed ballots should be sent to the "Navy Times," 3132 M St., Washington, D. C., or the GLOBE office. The GLOBE will run a contest for those who can't procure any on the Thursday preceding November 28 deadline. Until then, ballots are available at all unit messes.

Is this for a sports oddity? When Mrs. G. A. Sharit and Mrs. Murphy teed off for the title of Women's Golf Champion at Parris Island last week it was just a renewal of a friendly feud. Both played each other when their husbands were stationed in Hawaii and were past presidents of the Women's Navy-Marine Golf Association on the West Coast.

Nip Quantico's

Hawkins fumble and moved toward the Lejeune goal. The fumble of Quantico sparked a 17-yard run on the play that brought the ball to Lejeune 33.

Hawkins Intercepts

He broke this threat up, by snaring quarterback Rocky Byrd's pass on the following line of scrimmage and the ball to the Lejeune. Connor fumbled on the play after being chased back. Three plays later Meyers kicked the perfect kick.

He got its best chance at quarterback Rocky Byrd and Fred Rippel's fumble. Quantico 12-yard line late in the game, after Lee had punned the Quantico 11 from the 40.

Adams was dropped for a loss at the 13 and Lee recovered after recovering his fumble. Joe Rilo was sent to the line, picking up two yards, putting the ball in the field. Fouts then was sent to try for the field goal.

His best march of the game late in the third quarter, he marched from its 30-yard line to the 12-yard line in just 18 plays. Parker picked up nine yards, carrying 12 more to the 12. Meyers gained four and Lee skinned end for eight. The 35. Meyers was stopped by John Mounie chopped out by Rilo. Harris gained a dozen.

received its only penalty at this point, a five-yard penalty for delay of game. Four chances to pick up a first down, Quantico was determined to a determined line. Mounie was knocked down for no gain; Harris used two downs to pick up four yards; and Mounie was pulled down again, this time for a two-yard loss.

Lejeune pulled two perfect defensive plays in the second quarter to stave off possible scores. With the ball on the camp's 40, Steve Piskach passed into the end zone, where Harris was waiting. But Ray Smith leaped high, snagged the ball and raced with it out of danger to the Lejeune 35.

Lejeune moved from its own 38 to the Quantico 43 in its best march of the day before Lee once again was forced to kick. The one rhubarb of the game came at this point. Lee's kick bounced around on the ten and the Quantico safety man man bobbled the ball. Hawkins raced over and had partial possession as the ball went out of bounds.

The officials ruled, however, that Quantico had possession, though the entire Lejeune eleven argued the point.

The last time Lejeune moved out of its own territory was on the final play of the game. Meyers, with five seconds remaining, kicked again, leaving a punt from his own 24 to the locals' 25. Lee, playing the safety spot, fumbled momentarily, picked up the ball, and set sail for the Quantico goal.

He moved up to the midfield stripe after eluding three Quantico tacklers and started to pick up blockers. But, just when he reached the Quantico 35, two Virginians caught him from behind and pulled him down, ending the game and Lejeune's chances of upsetting one of the most powerful elevens in service football.

'Doc' Dougherty Leads Eighth Engineers To 12-6 Victory Over Battling Amtracs

Quarterback "Doc" Dougherty led the 8th Engineer Bn. to two first-half touchdowns in rapid succession, providing the margin needed to stop a battling Amtrac eleven last week, 12-6.

The Engineers thus extended their unbeaten string to six straight and strengthened their first-place slot in the Force Troops Football League.

The Tractormen rallied unsuccessfully in a second half riddled with injuries, penalties, and expulsions.

Two fumble recoveries by Amtrac Guard Steve Yajko and unnecessary roughness penalties against the Engineers brought the ball to the Engineer 21-yard line. Amtrac scored when halfback Duke-James lunged twice, for a first down and then the tally.

Resort To Punts

Neither team could make much headway at the start of the game, resorting to punts on fourth down. "Cannonball" Campbell, the Engineers' right halfback and leading ground-gainer, broke the ice by intercepting an Amtrac pass to place his team 15 yards from the goal. Halfback Frank Martin scored the first touchdown on the next play.

The Engineers dominated the offense in the first half, driving 75 yards in a series of six first downs for their second score.

Dougherty spearheaded this brilliant drive and scored the clincher.

Supply School Wins

Tiny Jack MacDonald sparked Supply School to a 13-0 win over 8th Motor Transport Bn. Thursday. The 150-pound quarterback passed 15 yards to Chuck Hanafin for Supply's final tally.

Fullback Ben Kimbrough scored the first touchdown to break a scoreless tie in the second half.

The victory earned Supply School a third-place tie with Amtrac. The teams meet today at Montford Point.

Eighth Tank Bn. dropped out of the league because of personnel commitments in Vieques. Tanks had lost to Amtrac and defaulted to 8th Motor Bn. The other teams were credited with a win over Tanks in the league standings.

The standings:

8th Engineer Bn.	5	0
2nd CSO	4	1
2nd Amtrac Bn.	3	3
Supply School	3	3
8th MT Bn.	1	5

CP's Flyers

rest on Brandenburg. The Flyer signal-caller, formerly of Mississippi, has been the team's spark-plug all season and was the big gun in the Flyer win over Quantico.

The Cherry Point line will have Gene Brooks and Joe Henderson at ends; J. T. Seaborn and Sam Duca, tackles; John Russos and Frank Malek, guards; and Don Agler at center.

Duca was one of the heroes in the Quantico game. He played the entire second half with seven stitches in his forehead and was outstanding in the Flyer line.

Similar Starters

Lejeune suffered no serious injuries in the Quantico clash. The starting line-up will be similar to the one that started last week.

Joe Rilo and Bill Samer are at end, Loyd Spencer and Rex Boggan at tackle, Dick Steber and Jack Maulsby, guard, and Glen Graham at center. Rocky Byrd gets the nod at quarterback with Reggie Lee and Ray Smith handling the halfback posts. Billy Hayes will open at fullback.

Rilo, Samer, Lou Golic, Ken Barfield, and Tony Anton are nursing minor hurts but will see action.

Boggan and Lee have been chosen co-captains for this important Marine clash. Boggan has been the bulwark of the Lejeune line this season and Lee, an intramural player last year, has surprised everyone with his sterling backfield play.

The game will mean a great deal for both clubs. Lejeune, by beating the Point and then whipping Parris Island, could tie for the East Coast crown. But a victory for Cherry Point will give the visitors the East Coast title and the right to play the West Coast champ in December.

Lejeune Mittmen Round Into Shape For Eustis Match

The Camp Lejeune boxing team started to round into shape this week as the sluggers went through their pugilistic paces in preparation for their opening match of the season November 18 at Fort Eustis.

Boxing mentor Lt. Mike Capriano and his assistants, Babe Mirelli and Al Whitshire, thinned out the ranks during the week and sent the balance of the mittmen through a week-long training grind.

The flyweight and bantamweight divisions, which were thinly populated last week, received some help this week from three fighters, the brother combination of Sam and Marco Canel and Jack "Spider" Brockley. The Canelas will fight in both of these small weights with Brockley performing as a flyweight.

Featherweights Return

The other weight classes also are rounding into shape, according to Capriano. A pair of holdovers from last year's Lejeune squad, Charles Leeman and Bob Rigby, hold sway in the featherweight division.

In the lightweight division, Walt Byars, All-Marine feather champ of 1952, has moved up to this class and will be aided by newcomer Dave Gonsalves.

Another pair familiar to Lejeune fight fans, Don Davis and Charles Fortune, anchor the light-welter class, while Dave Nance will handle the chores in the welter division.

The heavier weights—light-middle, middle, light-heavy and heavy—auger well for this season. Joe Davis, one of the smoothest boxers on the team, according to his coaches, will be back in the light middle division.

'52 Champ Back

Richie Hill, 1952 Marine champ, returns to protect his laurels in the middleweight class, receiving help from Red Barribeau, a Pendleton alumnus of '33.

Earl Belton is making rapid progress in the light-heavy class and shows a lot of promise.

Bud House is back. The heavy-weight better who won the Marine heavy crown last season has picked up class this season and looks ready to repeat his successes. Chuck Litwinas, who has been a steady performer in the Supply Depot smokers, looks ready to move into a faster class and will spell House this year.

Devilpups Finish Year With 40-13 Victory Over Jones

Quarterback Johnny Mughford led the Camp Lejeune Devilpups to a 40-13 victory over the Jones Central Rockets here Friday night to wind up the Lejeune High football season.

Getting off to a slow start, the Pups exploded in the second and fourth periods, scoring three touchdowns in each quarter.

A 36-yard run by Bobby Peele, a jump pass to Jim Oppertine in the end zone by Mughford, and a five-yard plunge by Mughford accounted for the three TD's in the first half.

Following the kick-off after the first TD, Central's Bobby Adams carried all the way from his own 50 to paydirt in the best play of the game. Adams' conversion was good.

A Mughford-to-Oppertine pass, an end run by Jay Cordy, and Mughford's 46-yard toss to Peele added three more Lejeune tallies in the last quarter.

Don Abernathy made good four of six conversions.

Following a 25-yard run by Central's Larry Brooks and a 26-yard pass from Brooks to Bill Brown, the visitors' Jimmy Barlow moved from the two.

Outstanding for the Rockets were Bobby Adams and Larry Brooks.
