CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C.
HOME OF THE 2ND MARINE DIVISION
AND FORCE TROOPS, ATLANTIC

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1953 NO. 43

DATED to the memory of an outstanding athlete and exemplary Marine is Lejeune's Liversedge field named for Brig. Gen. Harry B. Liversedge, outstanding football and track star of the early 1920s and twice winner of the Navy Cross in World War II. A plaque in his honor, shown in the center of the field, will be unveiled by Lt. Gen. B. Cates, commandant of Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Saturday, at halftime during the football game between Quantico and Lejeune (Official USMC Photo).

Commandant Britain's Corps Here

Commandant general of the Marine Corps, Lt. Gen. Westall, CB, CBE, will be Sunday and Monday. British Royal Marines' boss will be met by Gen. Henry D. Linscott, commanding general. Linscott will be taken on a quick tour of the camp and vicinity. Linscott is commander of the 2nd Division. Linscott will be taken on a quick tour of the camp and vicinity. Dedicate Liversedge Field Saturday At Halftime Of Lejeune-Quantico Tilt

Liversedge Field, home of Camp Lejeune's varsity track and football teams, will be formally dedicated Saturday at halftime during the football game between Quantico and Lejeune. A bronze plaque honoring Brig. Gen. Harry B. Liversedge, for whom the field is named, will be unveiled by Lt. Gen. Clifford B. Cates, commandant of Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., and former commandant of the Marine Corps. Liversedge Field is aptly designated, for General Liversedge was an outstanding track and football star. He is remembered particularly for his part in the 1920 and 1924 Olympics, when he placed second in international competition in the 16-pound shot event. He starred also in the 1920 Army-Marine Corps football game played in Baltimore, Md. Enlists As Private In his military career, as in his sports achievements, General Liversedge was outstanding. Enlisting as a Marine private in 1917, he rose to second lieutenant in little over a year. The typical duty stations of Marines in the 1920's and 1930's were also those of General Liversedge—the "Banana Wars," duty in the Orient, and service aboard ship, in addition to various stateside posts. In World War II General Liversedge won two Navy Crosses. One was for the extraordinary heroism he displayed as he led the 1st Marine Raider Regiment against enemy positions on New Georgia. The other he received for his gallant leadership of the 28th Marine Regiment in the assault on the enemy island fortress of Iwo Jima. It was his regiment which raised the Stars and Stripes on Mount Suribachi. JACKETS OK

According to Camp Memorandum 367-53, winter service jackets may now be worn by all male enlisted personnel on the same occasion as the winter service coat. Recent rulings held that the jacket could be worn only at certain stated times and places, but the new memorandum specifies that it may be worn at any time when winter service is prescribed.

Grid Clash Looms As Fight For East Coast Supremacy

BY PFC PAUL McARDLE

In the year's biggest battle for Marine pigskin supremacy on the East Coast, Quantico, labeled the most powerful squad in service football, invades Lejeune's Liversedge Field Saturday.

Lejeune will be facing its toughest foe of the season in the Virginia Leathernecks, who will be a solid two-touchdown favorite.

Gen. Paige Shifts To Asst. Command Of Second Division

Brig. Gen. Henry R. Paige has been detached as chief of staff of the Marine Corps Base here and has been appointed as assistant commander of the 2nd Division. General Paige officially became assistant commander of the division Tuesday. Col. Robert J. Straub has been appointed as chief of staff for MCB. General Paige had been chief of staff since August. He was appointed to his present rank last month. Colonel Straub's last assignment was as commander of H&S Bn., MCB, at which time he briefly acted as camp commander in Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott's absence.

Extend Chest Drive Till November 10; MCB Still Leading

The Camp Lejeune Community Chest Drive has been extended until November 10 in order to give all personnel an opportunity to participate. Col. J. H. Cook Jr., drive chairman, announced at a meeting of officials here Tuesday night. Colonel Cook, who emphasized that the drive afforded Marines the opportunity to donate to 14 different organizations at one time, said that many of Lejeune's personnel had not been able to make a donation. "It would be a fine gesture by Marines here toward the United Fund on the Marine Corps Birthday, November 10," said the colonel, "if we could show 100 percent achievement."

Leaders in the drive still are the units of Marines Corps Base. The Base has a per-capita donation average of 84 cents, while Force Troops is runner-up with a 57-cent average. The 2nd Division has given at the rate of 48 cents per man, while (See EXTEND CHEST, Page 2)

Seek Foreign Duty Applicants At Once

There is an immediate need for applications from approximately 350 corporals and Pfc's for assignment to special foreign duty with the Department of State. Headquarters Marine Corps is expected to assign approximately 140 applicants to foreign duty in January and 160 during the remainder of the fiscal year. Interested personnel should mail all pertinent information to Headquarters Marine Corps (Code DFB) via the usual channels prior to December 1. Priority in assignments will be given those persons agreeing to extend or reenlist.

Inductees Released Early Given Two-Year Credit

Marine inductees being discharged or released early under Almar 33 will get full credit for two years of active service, and will be treated the same as those who have served their full 24 months, in the event of recall to active duty, according to Almar 35.

Quantico rates the edge due to its heavy surplus of talent and the showing it has made this season. For the locals Saturday's game will be the first taste of Marine opposition they have had this year. Quantico has played two Marine opponents. The Virginians opened the season against Cherry Point, being stung with a 9-6 loss, and defeated Parris Island last week, 35-0.

In season competition thus far, both Lejeune and Quantico have chalked up enviable records. Lejeune has won four, tied one, and lost one. Quantico has picked up Packed With Talent The Quantico roster will be loaded with a host of top college and professional players. Quantico will field two complete teams, in a fashion similar to the defunct two-platoon system. One will relieve the other near the end of the first quarter so that the Virginia Marines will have fresh playing talent on the field at all times.

Quantico is packed deep in every position. At the end slots it can call on Bob Trout (Baylor), Frank McPhee, All-American from Princeton, Ken Macafee (Alabama), and Jim Baldinger (Navy).

WHAT WAS YOUR FAVORITE HALLOWEEN STUNT WHEN YOU WERE A KID?

PFC JOHN R. STEPHENSON, 2ND ENGINEER BN. — When I was in my early "teens," a gang of about 50 kids used to get together every Halloween. One particular Halloween, early in the morning, we pushed over an empty street car. The neighbors didn't get over it for some time.

PFC ROBERT J. HUTCHINS, 2ND ENGINEER BN. — One Halloween a bunch of neighborhood kids played a dirty trick on the district school. We collected all the clotheslines in the area and then tied them together onto the school bell. The rope stretched for almost three miles—or so it seemed at the time—and from there we rang the bell for hours.

CPL. FRED A. BERG, HQ. BN. — It may seem cruel, but for excitement we kids would tie some of the youngest ones to the railroad tracks. We'd listen to them scream until a train could be heard in the distance, then we'd snatch them off. Such things we thought were a lot of fun. Now I realize how wrong we were.

MRS. R. ARANSON (VISITING FROM BROOKLYN, N. Y.) — Girls don't usually go all out for destruction, so most of our Halloween stunts were merely pranks. One Halloween a group of us got together and dressed up a statue of Abraham Lincoln that stood looking very dignified on the courthouse lawn. He didn't look very dignified in diapers!

SGT. LEONARD A. JACOBS, 2ND SERVICE BN. — When I was barely big enough to walk, I can remember going out with the bigger fellows on Halloween. We'd do most of our stunts on the way to school in the morning. Our favorite was setting ink bottles against doors so they'd break and spill when the doors were opened. The rest of the day, we usually spent our time pulling little girls' hair and chalking up sidewalks.

Tenth Marines At Fort Bragg Taking Artillery Training

The 10th Marines currently are undergoing extensive artillery training at Fort Bragg, N. C., having left here Monday.

Col. Joe C. McHaney, commanding officer of the 10th Marines, is controlling the exercise, which will last approximately two weeks.

Accompanying the 10th Marines are the 2nd ANGLICO Co.; the Division Naval gunfire teams; 4.2 Mortar Co., 2nd Marines; and the 4.2 Mortar Co., 6th Marines.

The main unit left Lejeune by motor convoy in three sections Monday morning. An advance party went to Fort Bragg a week earlier.

Before departure, Colonel McHaney said the purpose of the movement is "intensive field training utilizing live ammunition."

The training will be set up on a battalion level during the first week, and on a regimental level the second week. The exercise will culminate in a three-day regimental field maneuver.

Participating members of the exercise will train day and night, seven days a week, according to Colonel McHaney.

"At the conclusion of the period, the 10th Regiment will have reached a high state of training in field artillery," he said.

Set November 15 As Mail Deadline For Xmas Parcels

Christmas parcels for servicemen overseas must be mailed by November 15 and mailing to most remote areas is preferable by November 1, according to Alnav 55.

Due to the anticipated increase over previous years in the volume of mail, there is no assurance that parcel post mailed from the continental United States after November 15 will be delivered before Christmas.

It is likely that air parcel post to some areas, particularly the Far East, will be diverted to surface transportation at ports of embarkation as a result of reduced military airlift capabilities. Also, delay in mail to the continental United States is expected at ports of arrival due to customs clearance and the volume of mail.

Recruiting Office In Washington, N.C.

A recruiting office has been opened at the post office in Washington, N. C., with Sgt. C. A. Jackson as NCO in charge.

The first office of its kind to be opened by the Marine Corps in this area, it is assigned the counties of Chowan, Washington, Tyrell, Dare, Beaufort, Hyde, Pamlico, Jones, Craven, Onslow, and Carteret.

Sergeant Jackson will be at the Jacksonville Post Office on the third Monday of each month between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Dedicate

Harry B. Liversedge to brigadier general in May, 1948, while he was Assistant Division Commander of the 1st Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The death of General Liversedge at Bethesda Naval Hospital on November 25, 1951, ended the career of an outstanding Marine and a great athlete.

The halftime dedicatory ceremonies will open with the invocation by Cmdr. Carl M. Sittler, camp chaplain. Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, then will introduce General Cates.

Also participating in the ceremonies will be the 2nd Division Band and an honor guard from H&S Bn., Marine Corps Base.

Sailor Finds Service Life Is Simply Relative Matter

BY SGT. AARON J. ALEXANDER

When Richard Breighner enlisted in the Navy in September 1950, he had no inkling of sister Nadine's secret ambition. She was a high school girl in Millersville, Pa., while he was attending "boot" camp and Hospital Corps school.

In 1952 Nadine was in her senior year, presumably preparing for ordinary secretarial work, as brother Dick served with the 1st Division in Korea, earning a Purple Heart in May. Sister wrote—but there was nothing between the lines.

Actually Nadine had plans of her own. Perhaps the final decision was made when she learned of her brother's leg injury in combat. But she couldn't carry them out. She had to wait.

Still in high school, she took a pre-enlistment physical examination. Immediately after her graduation last June, fulfilling a life-long ambition, she enlisted in the Marine Corps.

Twin Transfers
When Dick heard of his sister's enlistment, he was surprised. When he heard that she was transferred here from Parris Island, S. C., he applied for a transfer from Camp Pendleton to Lejeune.

Dick joined 8th Engineer Bn., Force Troops last month as a corpsman in Hq. Co. sick bay.

He saw his sister for the first time in three years when Pfc Breighner, USMC, visited HM3 Breighner, USN, at Camp Geiger.

But no happy ending followed. Family ties gave way to esprit de corps and that's where the trouble started.

It seems that Nadine, now working in the Supply Depot, still has plans of her own. Dick outranks her, but on liberty she claims she's her own boss and refuses to take orders from any kind of sailor, even if he is her big brother.

When Minds Collide
Take last week, for instance. He was anxious to see "Melba" at the Camp Geiger Outdoor Theater, and she was set on the Frankie Carle dance at Marston Pavilion.

"Where did we go?" laments Dick. "To the dance, of course." But he's getting used to the new Nadine. "At first it was hard to forget Nadine as the 16-year-old high school girl which she was when I joined the Navy," he says. "She's 19 — a big girl now — and a Marine. And she doesn't let me forget it. Slowly but surely, I'm beginning to catch on."

Open New Center For Tarawa Te

Residents of the Tarawa races assembled in their community building Wednesday last week for its dedication ceremonies.

Mr. C. D. Spangler, president of the Spangler Construction Co., opened over the building to the members' residents via Mr. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general.

He presented the general key to the building and checked to be used for opening the center. The general turned over the key and to Mr. Daniel Kirk, acting president of the New Community association.

Chaplain Carl M. Sittler, chaplain, made the invocation. Chaplain G. J. Reilly, Catholic chaplain, the benediction. Abraham Gross, NCO in Charge of Camp Housing, was master of ceremonies.

The Divisionaires supplied for the dance which followed.

Construction of the building which is located across from shopping district, began months ago and cost $60,000 and $70,000. The building contains an auditorium, equipped kitchen, and meeting rooms.

One Out, One Makes For Fa Recruit Exchan

The Marine Corps is losing Belton, and gaining another. The retiring assistant captain, Lt. Col. Frederick Belton, is leaving the Corps after his 19-year-old son, Edwin C. Belton, in the Marine Corps, day morning, during ceremony held in Maj. Gen. Henry D. Scott's office.

Private Belton left Camp Lejeune Tuesday for ten weeks basic training at Parris Island. His father will retire for Saturday morning and leave Mrs. Belton for Eustis, Fla.

The young private, a graduate of Eustis High School, Eustis, is not sure he will follow in the footsteps of his father. "I'll have to wait and see his reply when queried whether he plans to make a career of his father's career. He will work in food service "boot" camp.

Colonel Belton entered the Marine Corps 30 years ago and has been from Haiti to China back.

He has served in Parris as first sergeant of a recruit company; in Washington, D. C., as administrator of the Division of Recruits; and as sergeant-major at Guantanamo Bay, where he received his commission.

He arrived here in 1951 as a major and was G-1 for the 1st Marine Division.

Med Maneuvers, Earthquake Relief For Busy Six Months On 'Med'

PL. PETER M. BAIRD

down with souvenirs, memories, Marines of the 3d, 6th Marines (reinforced) to Camp Lejeune following completion of month cruise in the Mediterranean.

Commanded by Lt. Col. F. Humphreys, which Europe in April, debarked at the city Monday morning a 25,000-mile cruise.

Participation in three major Atlantic Treaty Organization exercises, assistance during the island earthquake disaster and calls at many foreign ports marked their trip.

Landings on the beaches of Greece — operations "Wave" and "Weldfast" — and on the British Mediterranean stronghold of Malta highlighted the Med-cruising unit's participation in NATO land, sea, and air exercises.

Amphibious Sock
"Weldfast," one of the largest training operations ever held in the Mediterranean brought together the military power of six nations, the amphibious sock of Colonel Humphreys' command, and the 1st Bn., 2nd Marines.

"Defense Exercise Malta" pitted the Marine forces against defending British military might on the rugged beaches and hills of that island fortress.

Several other landings on the shores of North Africa and two five-day training problems on the island of Sardinia filled out the unit's training schedule.

Aid Stricken Greeks
Shortly after the Greek Ionian sea islands of Ithaca, Zakynthos, and Cephalonis were struck by a series of earthquakes in August, the entire U. S. 6th Fleet and Marine forces were ordered in to aid the stricken people.

The rescuing forces found the island cities and villages almost totally destroyed, with more than 1000 killed and many thousands injured and left homeless.

The battalion and the fleet poured food, medical supplies, men and equipment ashore for several days during the rescue and rehabilitation operations.

Calls were made at ports in Spain, Italy, and Turkey. The men also stopped at Athens and Naples twice and three times on the French Riviera.

51 Thousand Pfc's, Corporals Receive Promotions Soon

Between now and February 27, 1954, about 51,000 Marines privates first class and corporals will be promoted to the next higher grades as a result of examinations given this summer.

All promotions are temporary and will become effective in five promotion periods. Date of rank will be October 1 for the first group, during the period of October 26 to November 14.

November 1 will be the date of rank for the second group and promotions will be given between November 16 and November 30. The date of rank for the third group is December 1 and promotions will be effected between December 15 and December 31.

Promotions for the fourth group will be made from January 15 until January 30, with January 1, 1954, being the date of rank.

The fifth and final group will be promoted between February 15 and February 27, with the date of rank as February 1.

Kiwanians Need Talented Marines For Benefit Show

The Jacksonville Kiwanis Club will hold its annual benefit show for underprivileged children November 17 and 18 and Marines here have been invited to participate in the performance.

The show will consist of two contests with prizes totaling $120. One contest will be for hillbilly music and the other contest will be for straight, amateur-show entertaining.

First-place winners in each of the two contests will receive $25, second-place winners $15, third- and fourth-place winners $7.50, and fifth-place $5.

Anyone wishing to enter the show may contact Rod Jones at Station WJNC in Jacksonville or Bob Kalet at the Hartsfield Jewelry Co. in Jacksonville.

Board Selects New Lieutenant Colonels

A selection board convened at Headquarters Marine Corps Thursday to select 121 majors for temporary promotion to lieutenant colonel.

Senior member of the board was Brig. Gen. Thomas G. McFarland. Selections were made under the provisions of the Temporary Promotion Act of 1941. Under this act there is no zone of eligibility, and officers not selected will not be considered passed over.

Cash-Saving Suggestions Win Dollars For Employees

Beneficial suggestions aimed at reducing government expenditures paid off Thursday for nine civilian employees as Brig. Gen. Henry R. Paige, the then camp chief of staff, presented them with cash awards at Bldg. 1.

Suggesting a jig for refacing the electric brake armature on low-bed trailers and gun carriages won Mr. Glen Burleson, a machinist in Motor Transport at the Supply Depot, 65 dollars. It is estimated that this new development will save the government $1,518 during the next year.

Another cash award went to Mr. Carson P. Israel, Motor Transport auto mechanic, Supply Depot, who received 25 dollars for his method of installing grease seals on emergency brake drums on "six-by" trucks, saving the government an estimated 452 dollars a year.

Putting On Pressure
A method of keeping steam pressure constant on the feedwater heaters and deaerators at the Central Heating Plant won Mr. Ladson P. Hudson, engineman, Central Heating Plant, 275 dollars.

Two awards, one of 80 and the other of 40 dollars, went to Mr. Edward O. Cotton, a welder in Ordnance Supply, Supply Depot, for his construction of roller ramps to handle hot steel to and from furnaces, saving $208.80 yearly, and a device to drain fluid from 105 mm and 155 mm howitzer recoil mechanisms.

Mrs. Addie P. Boykin, supervisory cash accounting clerk at Camp Disbursing, received ten dollars for her system of computing supernumerary rations.

Ten dollars went to Mr. William F. Southall, property and supply clerk, Ordnance Supply, Supply Depot, for his improvement on lighting conditions.

Safety Hazard
For saving the government 261 dollars and eliminating a safety hazard, Mr. Freddie B. Smith, Motor Transport auto mechanic at the Supply Depot, received 30 dollars. He devised a tool for installing shock absorber grommets and pins in jeep shock absorbers.

Mr. Lemuel C. Holland, Motor Transport welder at Supply Depot, and Mr. Namon G. Canon, another welder in the same section, shared a cash award of 120 dollars for a joint suggestion regarding the moving and handling of large sheets of metal from storage rooms to shears. This new method eliminates safety hazards.

Two Clergymen Here First Of Their Faiths In Service

BY CPL. VINCENT J. RAFTI

The Marine Corps, famed for landing first on war-torn beachheads, has another first here, but this time it is in the realm of the spirit, on the battleground for men's souls.

Chaplains Nick S. Karras and Robert Lee Mole recently joined the staff of the 2nd Division clergy. Chaplain Karras is a Greek Orthodox priest, Chaplain Mole is an Elder of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, and both are the first ever to serve the spiritual needs of the Marines of their faiths.

Chaplain Karras is the first priest of the Greek Church to be called to active duty with the armed forces and Chaplain Mole is the only Seventh-Day Adventist clergyman in the entire Naval service. They were in the same class at the Naval Chaplains' School in Newport, R. I., and were assigned here in September.

Karras presently is attached to the Division Chaplain's Office while Mole is chaplain of the 2nd Medical Bn.

Enlists As Seaman

Lieutenant Karras, 32, enlisted in the Navy as a seaman recruit in February 1952. Shortly afterwards he was assigned duty on the Pacific island of Guam, in the Marianas chain. He remained there until his religious training and background came to light.

He received his theological training at the Religious College, Corinth, Greece, from which he graduated in 1941, and later at the Holy Cross Theological Seminary, Brookline, Mass. When he was recalled to the United States from Guam he was commissioned a lieutenant, junior grade, at the Treasure Island, Calif., Naval Station, on May 29, 1953.

Before enlisting in the Navy he was pastor of the Greek Orthodox Church in Sacramento, Calif. He considers the opportunity of serving the sacramental needs of Greek, Syrian, Russian, Serbian, Bulgarian, and other Orthodox personnel the most gratifying aspect of this assignment. He estimates that there are well over 100 members of the Eastern Orthodox Church on this station.

Top Navy Chaplain Holds Confab With Lejeune Clergymen

Rear Admiral E. B. Harp Jr., chief of chaplains, USN, was greeted on his arrival here Tuesday at the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, by Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, and 2nd Division, Force Troops, and camp chaplains.

Admiral Harp, accompanied by Cmdr. J. T. McLaughlin, head of the Reserve Section, Chief of Chaplain's Office, arrived here from Cherry Point to confer with Lejeune clergy. It was Admiral Harp's first visit here since his appointment as Chief of Chaplains.

Following the rendering of honors and a review of an H&S Bn., MCB, honor guard, Admiral Harp met Lejeune's chaplains at the Jewish Chapel, Bldg. 67. Later he attended a luncheon at the Officers Mess. Admiral Harp left Lejeune yesterday afternoon to complete his tour of East Coast Naval districts.

Radio Section Chief Awarded For Work In Cancer Appeal

MSgt. Thomas DeCastro, section chief of the Camp Information Office's radio section, received a certificate of appreciation for his assistance in the 1953 Cancer Drive from Mrs. James D. Piver, executive secretary of the American Cancer Society in Onslow County, Monday morning in the office of Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general.

He merited the award for his service as master of ceremonies for "Operation Mercy", a radio marathon which raised $3000 for the drive last April. Voluntary Lejeune and civilian entertainers rendered their services. The program was aired over WJNC from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m.

WM Maneuvers

BY PFC BECKY CARPER

Anguished cries were heard from those who suddenly found them- selves "Women In White" follow- ing the posting of the mess duty roster last week.

Following a short leave, Pfc's Irene Daily, Louella Frisbee, and Mary Neal will head for the sun, sand, and surf of Hawaii to spend a year as communications per- sonnel.

The wedding of Pfc Loretta J. Wallace and Pfc Ronald Borowski, 2nd Engineer Bn., was solemnized October 6 in Conway, S.C. For her marriage, the bride selected a street-length dress of beige wool jersey, with brown accessories, and a corsage of yellow "mums" and white carnations. Her attendant, Pfc Eleanor Efta, wore a dark green wool suit with brown acces- sories.

Sgt. Evelyn Easler, after spend- ing several months dipping sun- daes and frying hamburgers in the service club, is headed for Quanti- co.

Betty Allen Tatalajski and Alice Charry Wichelns were dis- charged from service yesterday and Joyce Halmaker also was released.

The engagement of Pfc Mary Barrow to Pfc Ronald L. Kuyken- dall, of MP Co., is announced, and Capt. Joan Rush is engaged to SSgt. Richard M. Ahlers.

Replacing Pfc Patty Stamper Schindler as company mail clerk is Pfc Dolores Ponton, who hails from El Paso, Texas.

WM's Hold Second Monthly Holy Rites

The second monthly church services and communion for Women Marines will be conducted Sun- day at 7:30. Services for Catholics will be held by Chaplain G. J. Reilly at the Catholic Chapel, and Protestants will worship in the Jewish Chapel, located in Bldg. 57, with Chaplain H. C. Duncan officiating.

Following the services, breakfast will be served in Mess Hall 54 at 8:30. All Women Marines are in- vited to attend.

Gen. Good Returns From Vieques Trip

Maj. Gen. George F. Good Jr., commanding general of the 2nd Division, has returned to his Camp Lejeune headquarters following last week's four-day trip to Vieques, Puerto Rico.

During his stay, General Good inspected elements of the 8th Ma- rines, currently on maneuvers in the Vieques sector.

Staff Wives Club Unveils Chic Look For Fall, Winter

Spotlighting chic fall and winter fashions, the Annual Fall Fashion Revue was staged by the Staff NCO Wives Club Thursday night in the Midway Park Community Bldg. before approximately 175 guests.

Master of ceremonies Rod Jones, of Station WJNC, Jack- sonville, introduced the models and described the soft woolen suits, jerseys, rustling taffeta, and swirling net they wore. Organ music was provided by Miss Carolyn Boney.

Such creations as a red poodle cloth full-length coat with black plush trim, a black corduroy skirt and matching jersey blouse en- hanced with a belt and collar of simulated leopard, a "mink" blue crepe cocktail dress decorated with rhinestones, and a shimmering waltz-length gown of orchid tulle over satin with shirred ruffles and accordion pleats were among those sponsored by a Jacksonville dress shop.

Shoes were provided by a local shop and hair styles by a New River beauty salon.

Mrs. Mary H. Hadley, president of the group, was in charge of preparations, assisted by Mrs. Louise H. Scott and Mr. William S. Morris.

Models were Mrs. Charles Bailey, Mrs. B. E. Wood, Mrs. Rex Dickey, Mrs. Baulson Beyers, Mrs. James McCandless, Mrs. Robert Glad, Mrs. Edwin Fix, Mrs. F. A. York, Mrs. W.

R. Dillow, and Mrs. L. Green.

The younger set — Sandra Glad, Joan Capra, and Betty Kay Thomp- son — modeled crisp peppermint- striped organdy, colorful plaid gingham, and pastel sweaters and skirts.

The room was decorated in fall colors of gold, rust, and green, and the tables, set in banquet style, had a motif of autumn with center- pieces of colored leaves and light- ed candles.

Following the fashion showing, door prizes were awarded and re- freshments served during a social hour.

Costume Party Set For OM Halloween

Freddy Masters' sextet will pro- vide the music and stage a floor show for the Annual Halloween Costume Party Saturday at the Officers Mess.

A special dinner will be served from 6 to 8:30 p. m. Dancing and singing will reign from 9 un- til 1.

Prizes will be awarded for the best-dressed, worst dressed, most original, and funniest costumes.

Party officials are hoping that battalion parties will attend.

PTA Gathering Set At School Monday

The November PTA meeting will be held at the Camp School audi- torium Monday at 8 p.m.

"Growing, Growing, Grown," will be the topic of the main speaker of the evening, Lt. D. J. Perry, head of the neuropsy- chiatry department of the Naval Hospital. The talk will last about 15 minutes, and be followed by a question and answer period.

Pfc Harold T. McNeil, of the 2nd Division, will demonstrate his fam- ed baton-twirling form as the en- tertainment feature of the even- ing.

Chaplain F. R. Morton will take over as program chairman from Chaplain H. R. March, who is leav- ing Camp Lejeune.

MASTERS AT MESS

The Frankie Masters Sextet winds up its stay at the Officers Mess this week end, playing to- night from 6 until 11 p. m., to- morrow night from 5 until 11, Sat- urday night from 8 until 1 a. m., and Sunday night from 6 until 11.

Major Bishop New Head Of WM's Here

Maj. Barbara J. Bishop, former- ly attached to Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, has assumed her new duties as commanding officer of Woman Marine Co.

Capt. Elaine T. Carville, officer in charge of the NCO Leader- ship School, who acted as com- mander of the unit since August, introduced the major to the WM's in a company meeting last week.

The major, a native of Everett, Mass., enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1943 and was one of the first Women Marines to attend the Naval Midshipmen's School at Mount Holyoke College. Following graduation from Officers Candidate School, she served her first duty as an aviation storekeeper at Indiana University in Blooming- ton, Ind.

MAJ. BARBARA J. BISHOP

In 1944, she was promoted to first lieutenant, and was stationed at the Marine Detachment at At- lanta, Ga., until 1946, when she became commanding officer of the Women's Squadron at Quantico and was promoted to captain.

Following two years out of the service, during which she at- tended the University of Chicago, the major was called to active duty in 1948 in the Division of Plans and Policies at Head- quarters Marine Corps, where in 1951 she was promoted to her present rank.

She was officer in charge of files at FMF Pacific, Pearl Har- bor, T. H., from February 1952 un- til ordered here this month.

In the first two and a half years of Korean hostilities, the Navy's hospital ships "Repose," "Consola- tion," and "Haven" treated about 40,000 United Nations patients.

8th Engineers Top Team In FT Football

A spirited 8th Engineer Bn. team defeated 2nd Combat Service Group Thursday, 7-0, taking first place in the Force Troops Football League. In other action, 2nd Amtrac topped 8th Motor Transport last week, 7-0.

A fluke climaxed a 60-yard Engineer drive early in the second quarter and clinched the game. Lenny Hazel attempted a touchdown run from CSG's 25-yard line. Combat's Williams tackled and Hazel dropped the ball. It bounced forward, out of their reach, to the four-yard line.

Although both teams' players touched the ball, the Engineers were awarded a first down, since they had last possession of the ball.

Two plays later, Quarterback "Doc" Dougherty passed to Dick Weidokai in the end zone for the touchdown. Buzz Culler converted.

Combat took its first loss of the season and moved down to second place as the league tie was broken by the Engineer victory. The Engineers tallied nine first downs to Combat's four, and gained 297 yards to 78 for CSG.

The Amtrac eleven topped 8th Motor Transport, 7-0, via a pass (See 8TH ENGINEERS, Page 7)

Cannoneers, Group II Notch Wins; 6th Marines, Service Bn. Fight To Tie

The 10th Marines "T" ran like a tank at Liversedge Field Friday and rumbled over the 2nd Marines, 25-0. The Cannoneers took the lead in the Division intramural grid title chase from the 6th Marines, who came from behind to tie Service Bn., 6-6, setting the scene for tomorrow's climactic clash between the 10th and 6th.

In the other league game Group II tripped the winless Group I eleven, 26-21, winning the wild melee with a touchdown in the final minute of play.

The 10th Marines, sparked by hinge-hipped Jim Latta and quarterback-coach Jim Martland, scored twice in the second period and once in each of the final two stanzas. The Infantrymen could muster only one scoring threat, marching to the 10th's 16 in the third quarter, with Bobby Thompson and Ed Urbanszyk doing most of the lugging, before losing the ball on downs.

Goalward Parade

Late in the first period the 10th Marines started from their own 35 and reeled off five first downs in a goalward parade. The score came in the opening minutes of the second when limber-legged Latta took a handoff from Martland on the ten and burst off right tackle into the end zone. Martland passed to end Jim Ryan for the extra point.

On the last play of the half, with the ball resting on the mid-field marker, Martland threw a jump pass to end Willie Moore on the 2nd Marines 40. Moore snared the pass, cut to the sidelines, and went the rest of the way untouched to make the half-time count 13-0.

Following the second-half kickoff the Cannoneers moved to the 2nd Marines' 39. Then Latta took another Martland handoff, scooted around his right end, shook off a brace of tacklers and danced to the third touchdown.

Impressive Foursome

The Quantico backfield is still more impressive. A quartet of Johns — Pettibon (Notre Dame), halfback; Idzik (Maryland), halfback; Amberg (Kansas), fullback; and Fry (Baylor), quarterback — hold down the starting spots.

Yet, a sparkling secondary offensive unit is not lacking, either. Halfbacks Jimmy Parker (Baylor), Bob Meyers (Stanford), and Charlie Harris (Georgia) will provide a two-way punch. Backing up Fry as field generals will be Steve Piskach (Toledo) and Dick Neveau (Detroit).

Added strength at fullback will be provided by Johnny Mounie (Duke) and Fred Rippel (Bradley).

Lejeune, although not possessing the "name" ball players that dot the Quantico roster, also will field a potent squad. The locals' forward wall is noted for its defensive play, the Lejeune linemen having allowed opposing teams to gain an average of but 57 yards a game over the first half of the season.

Starting At End

Bill Samer (Pittsburgh) and Joe Rifo (Villanova) will start at the end slots, getting help from Terry Falls (Vanderbilt) and Walt Beilich (Pittsburgh). Rex Boggan, All-Marine in 1952 and Mississippi alumnus, will share the tackle berths with Lou Golic from Cleveland. Backing up this pair will be Ken Barfield (Mississippi) and Loyd Spencer (Illinois).

Jack Maultsby (North Carolina) has been transplanted from tackle to guard and he will be flanked by Dick Steber, formerly of Auburn and Parris Island. This duo will be given a breather by performers such as Pete Booth, Henry Doak, Bill Stovall, Frank Rindoni, Chuck Scott, and Tony Anton, if the former Akron stalwart is able to shake off the

Sixth, Tenth Marines Vie For Div. Title

The 6th and 10th Marines meet tomorrow afternoon on the Varsity Field gridiron with the division championship at stake.

Both squads are unbeaten in league play but the 10th Marines lead by virtue of their three wins and one tie. The 6th Marines have won twice but have been tied the same number of times so the winner of tomorrow's fracas will cop the league laurels. Should the game end in a tie, the Cannoneers will remain on top.

The 10th Marines "T" contingent opened the season inconspicuously with a scoreless tie with Service Bn. Then, rolling into high gear, they routed Group I, 33-6, Group II, 13-7, and the 2nd Marines, 25-0.

The 6th Marines romped over Group I, 41-13, and Group II, 19-0, in their first two games. The Infantrymen's attack stalled in the next two frays and they were tied by the 2nd Marines and Service Battalion in 6-6 encounters.

The winner of the Division title will play the Force Troops League titlist for the camp championship early in December.

Headquarters Co. Beats Range, 12-6; Grabs First Place

Headquarters Co. surged into a one-game lead in the Marine Corps Base intramural football league by tripping runner-up Rifle Range, 12-6, under the lights at Varsity Field Wednesday.

Headquarters took a 12-0 lead in the first half when halfback Jim Pegram scored on a 24-yard jaunt in the first period and quarterback Tony Furnari hit Willie Warfield with a 40-yard pass that went for a touchdown at the end of the second quarter. Both tries for the point-after failed.

The Rifle Range scored its lone tally toward the end of the third quarter when Dwight Eames scored from 25 yards out on an end run.

Fifth-place Supply Depot exploded against the cellar-dwelling Service Company six, scoring at will for a 42-20 win.

In a game between Hq. Co. and Service Co. Tuesday night, Hq. edged Service 20-18.

The league standings as of yesterday, when the GLOBE went to press, were Hq. Co., 5-0; Rifle Range, 3-1; Naval Hospital, 2-2; Engineer School, 2-2; Supply Depot, 2-3; Motor Transport, 1-3; Service Co., 1-5.

is a sports event created as much interest and speculation as this Saturday's game with Quantico. Seldom have more at stake than these two, which both realize that a ruin of an entire year of effort.

final effects of Saturday's game between these two teams will be far more reaching than just a win or a loss. Quantico, touted as number-one among Marine elevating to stay in the race for Marine Corps honors, had succumbed once, to Cherry Point. Lejeune has yet to meet Marine Corps opposition.

Devilpups Nip J'ville Cards, 13-6, Friday

The Camp Lejeune Devilpups beat their traditional rivals, the Jacksonville Cardinals, 13-6, Friday night at Jacksonville.

The game, played before an estimated crowd of 4,200, was the first game with the Cardinals in which the Pups came out on top.

The first score was set up by Jay Cardy's interception of a Cardinal pass on the 28-yard line. Five plays later Johnny Mugford flipped to Chet Mottershead for paydirt. Jim Oggerino's conversion was good.

A Cardinal fumble in the second period, recovered by Mottershead, set up Johnny Mugford's pass to Bobby Peele, good for 24 yards and the second TD.

Jacksonville's only score came on a 35-yard pass from Dick Church to Jerry Aman, following Aman's recovery of a Cardinal punt fumbled by Lejeune in the third period.

The final game of the season for the Devilpups will be played at 8 p. m. tomorrow on Varsity Field, when the high school eleven takes on Jones Central.

The Pups, still feeling the effects of the Morehead City game, may find it a little difficult to cop this one. Earlier in the season the Pups ripped Beaufort, 33-0. Beaufort was beaten Friday by Jones Central, 14-13, but held Morehead City to a 13-0 score.

Hoopsters Jump Into Stepped-Up Practice Sessions

Varsity basketball practice at Camp Lejeune surged into high gear this week as the charges of head coach Navy Capt. Frank Frates were put through heavy practice sessions and new talent arrived from a recently-concluded Mediterranean cruise.

The team spent its third week of practice developing ball handling and aggressive tactics on defense, while individual players sharpened their scoring eyes.

Coach Frates and his assistant coaches, Lt. Bob Frear and Sgt. Rod Mansker, looked over new talent which has appeared since a reinforced battalion of the 2nd Division returned from a Mediterranean cruise. Leading the new hopefuls were Skip Whittaker and Leroy Smoith, two of the standout players from last year's squad.

The physical appearance of the Lejeune club will be "rangy" this year, according to Frates, who, though pleased with the development of the hoopsters, reiterates that men wishing to try out for the team will be welcome at any time.

Pick Men For Fleet Football Tourney

Force Troops began screening touch football players from several East Coast commands this week for the team to represent FMF Atlantic at the Atlantic Fleet Touch Football Tournament at Norfolk, Va., November 12-18.

Force Troops has been designated the coordinator for Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, and a contingent of 15 men will be chosen by November 10.

Poplar St. USO Wants Entertainers

Service personnel with talent are invited to get in contact with Jacksonville USO Club Director Harold Taylor as soon as possible. Talent of all types is being sought for several programs planned for the near future at the Poplar Street club.

Likewise, a call is issued for service personnel with some recreational leadership ability. An opportunity for added experience and growth in this area of activity is offered to those interested in forming a Program Planning Council at the USO Club.

Rear Admiral Robert D. Workman, chief of Navy chaplains during World War II, first served his country as an enlisted Marine from 1905 to 1909.

Pugs Start Drills Under New Mentor

The Camp Lejeune "leather-pushers" bounced back into action in full last week with the naming of a new head coach to succeed Capt. Glenn McComas and the turnout of more than 20 fighters who reported to Goettge Memorial Field House for tryout sessions.

Lejeune's new mentor for the 1953-54 season is 2nd Lt. Mike Capriano. Capriano gained his boxing experience in New York City under the guidance of his father, who formerly handled Jake LaMotta.

Of the approximately 20 candidates who reported to Capriano for the early session, about 12 probably will be retained, according to the coach and his assistant, Babe Miceli.

Leading the returnees this season are Marine Corps heavy-weight champ Bud House and Marine middleweight champ, Richie Hill. Joe and Don Davis (no relation) are also back with the locals. Walt Byars, Marine feather king last season, has reported to Lejeune from FMFPac and will see yeoman service this year.

Capriano has come up with a perplexing problem in the two smallest weights, fly and bantam. No candidates have reported in the classes and Capriano has issued a call to anyone in the 112- and 119-pound classes to report to him at the Field House if they wish berths with the squad.

the score 19-0. Hostetter's attempt for the extra point was perfect, stretching the score to 20-0.

Lejeune marched to its final score when Steve Lazarus intercepted a Jim Calderwood toss on the Wheel 38 early in the fourth period and returned to the 30. Nine plays later the Marines hit paydirt once again when Fouts cracked over from the four on an end sweep. Fouts also added the point after to bring the final score to 27-0.

Eustis never did launch a successful drive, the Wheels being able to move into Lejeune territory only once, this after the first Marine score.

The Marines bottled up the Wheel offense while grinding out yardage at will. Lejeune picked up 281 yards, both rushing and passing, while Eustis could garner only an impotent 83. The Marines chalked up 13 first downs, limiting Eustis to seven.

A Close One

The Service Bn. 6th Marines tussle was closer than two feet in one shoe. Service scored first when, after a push-and-pull first period, quarterback Osce Yokley sneaked over from the two in the second quarter to cap a 45-yard drive, giving Service the halftime edge, 6-0.

The 6th Marines, battling to hold their league lead, came back strong in the third quarter. Their powerful single wing started moving and tailback Dan Hatfield broke off tackle to lead 45 yards behind good downfield blocking for the tying touchdown.

Ron Mazzaropi's vital placement for the extra point was deflected, dropping the 6th to second place in the championship race.

Group II left the field at half-time on the short end of a 21-7 score. It led, 7-0, in the first period, but Group I scored in the same quarter to cut the count to 7-6 and then tallied two more touchdowns and a safety in the second period.

Second-Half Wiltng

The undermanned Group I contingent wilted in the second half and Group II closed the gap, finally tallying the winning marker 49 seconds before the gun. Quarterback Joe Bush tossed a pass from the Group I 30 to Dick Johnson on the 11 and Johnson sprinted over.

In tomorrow's games the 10th Marines meet the 6th Marines in the title-deciding clash behind the Goettge Memorial Field House. The surprising Service Bn. eleven clashes with in-and-out Group II and the 2nd Marines tangle with Group I.
