Col. Walker A. Reaves relieved
Col. Clarence J. O'Donnell last week as Chief of Staff of Force Troops. Colonel O'Donnell assumed the position of Force Troops Inspector.

Colonel Reaves recently returned from Japan, where he served for 14 months on the Far East Command as representative of the Commanding general, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific.

During previous duty with the Marine Corps Base here, he commanded the Reserve Training Bn. and H&S Bn.

Navy and Naval Reserve have been selected for promotion to captain and commander by a Staff Corps Selection Board.

New Fitness Report Set-Up Coming Soon

A new type of NCO fitness report will come into use next March 1.
The new report will resemble, in many respects, the procedures for officer fitness reporting.

One of the most significant differences between the old and new is that the fitness report must be shown to the NCO being reported on.

The NCO is given the opportunity to make a statement when he feels the ratings or remarks made by the reporting officer do not correctly portray his performance or duties.

Unsatisfactory fitness reports will be reviewed by an officer authorized to convene an informal board.
His concurrence or non-concurreence in the report will be noted, as will be whatever action has been taken or is contemplated.

Markings are somewhat revised in the new report. "Not Observed," "Unsatisfactory," "Excellent," and "Outstanding" ratings remain. "Below Average" is substituted for "Fair," "Average" for "Good," and "Above Average" for "Very Good."

A special section in the report permits the reporting officer to comment on the NCO's capacity to handle increased skills and responsibilities, on his efforts at self-improvement, on any special qualifications the NCO might have, and on any particular strength or weakness not covered elsewhere in the report.

Keep Commissaries Open Wilson Hopes

Secretary of Defense Charles E.
Wilson said recently that he is hopeful a way will be found to keep commissaries in operation until Congress has an opportunity to review the situation in more detail.
He now is awaiting data from all the services on commissary operations and the effect their closing may have on personnel and their dependents, including widows and disabled veterans.

John A. Hannah, assistant secretary of defense, added that he favors a pay scale for servicemen geared to the cost of living and believes that a raise of about eight percent should be given now.

ACCOUNTING JOBS

Sergeants and below interested in becoming electrical machine operators at Machine Records Installation can call MSgt. George A.
Candea at 5652—not 5642 as reported in last week's GLOBE—for information. No previous experience in the electrical accounting machine field is necessary.

JACKETS ON LIBERTY

Pending clarification of the status of issues of winter service coats and jackets, enlisted men who have been issued two jackets but no coat may wear the jacket on liberty.

Personnel on leave or liberty outside the 50-mile limit of Camp Lejeune will be provided with written authorization to wear the jacket by their unit commanders.

Infantry Training Regiment Set Up For Rugged Course

Every recruit graduate of Parris Island assigned to a post or station or to sea duty will receive individual infantry combat training here starting sometime early this winter.

The announcement has come with a directive from the commandant of the Marine Corps which provides for the formation of the 1st Infantry Training Regiment, Marine Corps Base.

To head the new regiment, Headquarters Marine Corps has picked Col. T. A. Culhane, 2nd Division G-3. The unit, due for activation November 2, will be assigned space at Camp Geiger.

Slated to start training probably on December 1, the regiment has a table of organization of 38 officers and 312 enlisted men, and will be able to school a capacity trainee body of 1,250.

Four-Week Session

All recruits being sent from Parris Island to a post or station or to sea duty will stop over here for a four-week session with the 1st Infantry Training Regiment.

The course will include combat training in all phases, emphasizing field training in infantry-tank cooperation, fire team and squad tactics, night operations, scouting and patrolling, individual and crew-served weapons, amphibious principles, judo, and assault of a fortified position.

Col. J. N. H. Hudnall, Marine Corps Base G-3, says that four new training ranges are being built by the 8th Engineer Bn. near Camp Geiger to accomodate the new activity.

Coordination

Material taught in "boot" camp will be coordinated with the subject matter of the four-week course here, according to the comman-dant's directive.

The unit is similar to the combat training program at Camp Pendleton, which handles the recruit graduates of the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif.

SERVICEMEN'S CENTER

The Christian Servicemen's Center in downtown Jacksonville now is open for all service personnel in and around Camp Lejeune. Located over the Leder Bros. department store, the center offers refreshments, game room, stationery, and lounge, free of charge.

CMC Tentatively Approves New Metal-Type Chevrons

The metal insignia now being worn by members of the 1st Marine Division in Korea has been approved tentatively by the commandant of the Marine Corps. It is expected that it will be adopted for universal use throughout the Corps, according to the "Army Navy-Air Force Journal"

The Army also is considering the possibility of metal chevrons for its enlisted personnel.

Made of black metal (electro-plated brass), the new insignia are miniature chevrons of the same design as the cloth chevrons now used, but only one-fifth the size. They will be attached to shirt collars and jacket shoulder straps by clutch-type fasteners, and also worn on caps and helmet coverings.

The field tests of the insignia by the 1st Division will be concluded in November, with final approval or disapproval coming shortly thereafter.

Need Apparent
The need for a rank insignia which could be transferred quickly from one clothing item to another became apparent during combat operations says the "Journal."

When men on the front lines were relieved they were taken to a rear area shower unit. Before entering the clean-up tent their old clothes would be taken from them and, after cleaning up, fresh clothes would be issued.

In this transition they would lose their rank, the new uniforms hard-

WHO DO YOU FIND THE MOST DIFFICULT CUSTOMER, MEN OR WOMEN?

MISS INEZ HOOD, MEN'S SHOP—

Women. They try the ties they're selecting for their husbands on me, and ask me whether I think a blue-eyed man looks good in green, or if wine will clash with red hair. I think it would be better if they would bring hubby in with them, and try the ties on him.

MRS. PHYLLIS O. SPARKS, PX ANNEX — Women. It seems that women are more inconsiderate of other women, and they will argue about a garment not fitting, even though its quite obvious that it does fit. In my department, the man is usually so embarrassed that he'll make a purchase and a quick get-away.

SSGT JOHN E. RICHARDS, CENTRAL PX — Women. Even though we have a policy of no exchange in the Post Exchange, its the woman who insists on bringing back many of her purchases and expecting to get a refund, or exchange. If we say no, she always is the Post Exchange wails, "But this change isn't it?"

MRS. PATRICIA P. LAPKA, PX ANNEX — Women. They always come up to the counter and say, "What do you have in a size eight?" They never specify whether they want shoes, shirts, socks, dresses, or sweaters for children.

MRS. PATRICIA P. OLSON, CENTRAL PX — Women. Those women who wait until seconds before closing time, and then rush in to purchase dozens of articles, really peeve me. The men are much more considerate.

Gen. W. J. Scheyer Stays At Pendleton

Maj. Gen. John T. Selden, scheduled to take over November 1 as commanding general of the Marine Base at Camp Pendleton, Calif., has announced at Marine Corps Headquarters that Brig. Gen. William J. Scheyer will remain at Pendleton as assistant base commander.

RECRUITER RECOLLECTS—Eleven years ago this month, Maj. Mitchell Paige, then a staff sergeant, won the Congressional Medal of Honor on Guadalcanal. The major, who enlisted as a private in 1936, now serves as Recruiting Officer for the 2nd Division (Official USMC Photo).

Major Paige, 'Canal' Hero, Now 2nd Division's Recruiter

BY SGT. WILLIAM E. MOORE

Seventeen years ago "Gun 13" on the battleship USS Wyoming blew wide open, killing eight Marines and buffeting Pvt. Mitchell Paige from the starboard fo'castle into the galley.

Though the incident may seem an unlucky beginning for a Marine Corps career, Private Paige went on to win the nation's highest military decoration, the Congressional Medal of Honor. Today he is now a major and the 2nd Division Recruiting Officer.

Even as a kid in Baltimore, Md., Mitch Paige wanted to become a Leatherneck. When he finished high school in 1936, he joined up and hustled to Parris Island, S. C., for "boot camp."

He reported aboard the USS Wyoming in January, 1937, serving with the Marine guard detachment.

Duty At Tientsin

Following his Philippine tour he was transferred for China duty at Tientsin, where he pulled a most unusual guard detail.

"It wasn't a walking post, nor was it a stationary post. I guess one might tab it a rowing patrol," he reminisces.

The great flood of '30 had all but drowned Tientsin under 20 feet of water. Most inhabitants moved out to higher ground, awaiting the crest to pass, but Mitch Paige was ordered to guard a branch of the National City Bank of New York.

In a leaky old rowboat he floated around the bank, oars in hand and rifle across his knees, as the water gurgled up to the tellers' windows.

"Every other day a Navy corpsman would paddle in and give me shots for cholera," he laughs. "I didn't get cholera, and nobody got the bank's money."

Hurls At Philly

Paige left China in 1940 with stopovers in San Francisco and Brooklyn before winding up in Philadelphia, where he pitched the Marine team to the Atlantic championship.

When the season ended he joined the 5th Marines at Quantico, Va. A staff sergeant, Paige went with his unit to Cuba and returned seven months later to be ordered to New River, N. C., later to become Camp Lejeune.

In charge of a heavy machine gun platoon when Pearl Harbor was attacked, Paige took his men aboard a cargo vessel carrying supplies to the Pacific. The unit debarked on British Samoa to set up defensive positions with the Sea Bees.

Change Of Scene

But Sergeant Paige and his platoon left the smooth, white, peaceful beaches of Samoa for yet another shore — the ugly shell-torn bloody beach of Guadalcanal.

The battles on the "Canal" found Platoon Sergeant Paige and his gunners pitted against the crack Sendai Division of Imperial Japanese Marines.

Some historians count the victory at Guadalcanal as the turning point in the Pacific war, and much credit for the triumph goes to Mitch Paige, who won the Congressional Medal of Honor there.

Machine Gun Section

His citation reads in part: "Platoon Sergeant Paige, commanding a machine gun section with fearless determination, continued to direct the fire of his gunners until all his men were either killed or wounded."

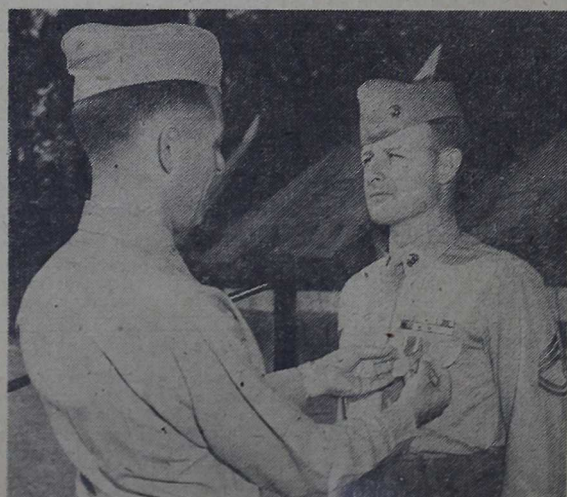

"Alone, against the deadly hail of Japanese shells, he manned his gun, and when it was destroyed, took over another, moving from gun to gun, never ceasing his withering fire against the advancing hordes until reinforcements finally arrived."

"Then, forming a new line, he dauntlessly and aggressively led a bayonet charge, driving the enemy back and preventing a breakthrough in our lines."

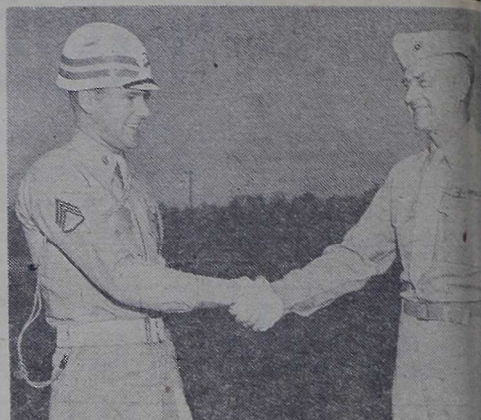

Paige was commissioned in the field as a second lieutenant in December 1942.

Today, 17-year veteran of Marine Corps globe-trotting, Mitch Paige knows the many facts of military life.

"There have been hard times as well as good," he says, "but the way I look at it, no finer life exists than that of a Marine serving his country."

PLATOON SERGEANT TSgt. Thomas J. Manning, of the division's Reconnaissance Co., receives Letter of Commendation Medal from Division Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, Col. James L. Mueller, for duty as a regimental scout, observer, and intelligence man from July 1952 to June 1953 in Korea (Official USMC Photo).

MP DECORATED—Brig. Gen. F. B. Loomis Jr., commanding of Force Troops, congratulates SSgt. Robert A. Connly presenting the MP assistant platoon leader a Bronze Star courageous action against the enemy in Korea.

Force Troops MP Wins Bronze Star For Korea Service

SSgt. Robert A. Connly Jr., an assistant platoon leader of Camp Geiger's MP Platoon, was awarded the Bronze Star Thursday by Brig. Gen. F. B. Loomis Jr., commanding general of Force Troops.

The medal was presented after an inspection of the MP unit by General Loomis, who directed particular praise toward the MP's record in the Community Chest drive. The 34-man contingent made a 100 percent contribution.

Also hailed by the general was the platoon's reenlistment quota, highest in Force Troops.

Latest to reenlist, for six years, is Sergeant Connly, recipient of the Bronze Star, who earned the medal and two Purple Hearts last December 27, near the end of a year-long tour of duty with the 1st Marine Division in Korea. At the time he was an assistant patrol leader with an infantry company.

"When a small group of his unit was pinned down by intense enemy small arms and grenade fire while venturing forward of the main lines to aid another patrol cut off by the enemy," the temporary citation states, "Connly fearlessly and with complete disregard for his personal safety moved forward into the hostile position killing and wounding many of the enemy."

"Although painfully wounded in this action, he remained in position and continued to lead his unit."

'Weldfast' Work Brings Praise For Div. Leathernecks

Praise for Marines taking part in NATO's Exercise "Weldfast" was given last week to a regiment of Leathernecks by Brig. Gen. Robert E. Hogaboom, assistant 2nd Division commander, who commanded the "Weldfast" landing forces.

"A most sincere 'well done' to you and your officers and men; the performance of your provisional regiment of Marines during the 'Weldfast' landing in Greek Macedonia was outstanding in every respect," General Hogaboom said in a message to the commanding officer of the unit from Camp Lejeune.

(Marines participating included men from the 2nd Bn., 6th Marines, 2nd Division, as previously reported in the GLOBE.)

The Marines were teamed with Greek, Italian, and British forces for the amphibious landing October 6 against a mythical defense line held by "enemy" Blue Forces. The attack, northeast of Salonika, was the highlight of the Mediter- ranean maneuvers, and was watched by NATO observers and students of the Greek Army Staff College and the NATO Defense College in Paris.

Directed jointly by U. S. Ad- miral William Fechteler and British Admiral Earl Mountbat- ten, the exercise was intended to test combat potentialities of the southern European and Med- iterranean allied military forces.

The exercise began September 30. The amphibious attack diverted "enemy" concentration on its line of defense and prevented rein- forcements from joining the Blue Forces.

Col. Cook Relieves Col. Ballentine Here

Col. S. S. Ballentine, former com- mander of H&S Bn., MCB, has re- ceived orders for Portsmouth, Va., as relief for Col. Karl W. Louth- er, commanding officer of Marine Bar- racks there.

Replacing Colonel Ballentine as battalion CO is Col. J. H. Cook, former commanding officer of Engineer School Bn.

Colonel Cook's replacement at Courthouse Bay is Lt. Col. F. A. Vaughn, previously Engineer School Battalion's executive officer.

Up Phone Charges For Long-Distance

Long-distance telephone calls went up in price October 1, increas- ing by five cents the cost of each minute overtime on interstate calls of more than 24 miles distance.

Increases of five to ten cents will be added to the initial three minute period for night and Sunday calls on most distances between 41 and 2300 miles.

The Federal Communications Commission in a split vote author- ized the increases to the Bell Tele- phone System because of recent wage boosts to employees. (AFPS)

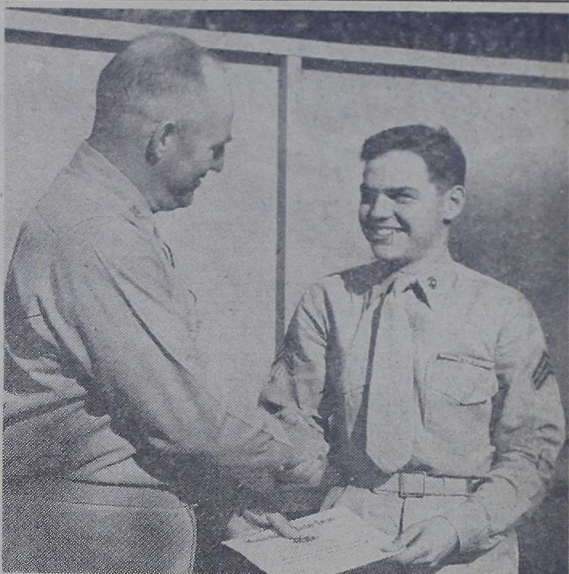

Ryan Heads Class In 2nd Division's 'Top Kick' School

Two members of "A" Co., 2nd Tank Bn., finished first and second, respectively, at graduation cere- monies of the Division First Ser- geants' School Monday.

TSgt. John J. Ryan Jr., was top man in the class with a score of 140 out of a possible 150. The other "A" Co. man was MSgt. Hiram King, who scored 138.

Col. Robert F. Scott, Division G-1, awarded diplomas to the school's 31 graduates. He reminded the men of the task ahead in carry- ing out administrative duties they learned during the five-week course.

TSgt. Malcolm F. Dunn, of H&S Co., 2nd Motor Transport Bn., fin- ished third with 135.

Use Of Tourniquet, Frostbite Treatment Undergo Revisions

Major changes in first aid for frostbite and the use of tourniquets have been announced by the American Red Cross in a new sup- plement to the Red Cross first aid textbook.

The Red Cross now advises rapid warming of frostbitten parts of persons who have suf- fered prolonged exposure to cold. Previously first aiders were told to thaw out a frozen part gradu- ally in cool water or in a cool room.

Recommended care now is to bring the victim into a warm room and warm the frozen part rapidly in a tub of warm—not hot—water or with warm blankets.

Major changes in tourniquet use call for applying it close to the wound and allowing it to re- main in position until released by a physician. It should be used only for life-threatening hemor- rhage which cannot be controlled by their means, the supplement stresses.

The changes were adopted on the basis of recommendations of the Committee on Surgery, Divi- sion of Medical Sciences, National Research Council. (AFPS)

2nd Tank Bn. Sgt. First In NCO Class

Sgt. William Steinmetz of the 2nd Tank Bn. took first place with a 90.42 average among 38 gradu- ates of the fifteenth NCO Leader- ship School class here Friday.

Col. McDonald I. Shuford, divi- sion supply officer, told the gradu- ates that too little thought is given leadership. The colonel named knowledge, dependability, person- ality, and personal example as the four essential qualities of a top- flight NCO.

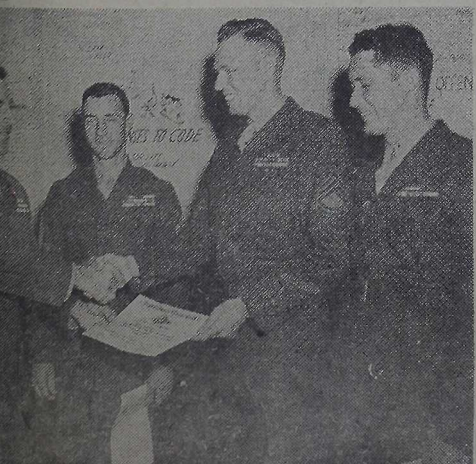

Two men from the 10th Marines nailed down the second and third spots. Sgt. Richard M. Spalding Jr. compiled a 89.42 average while Cpl. Steve H. Liddell tallied 87.83.

900 New Trailers In Works At Geiger

Approximately 900 new trailers are under construction at Camp Geiger in answer to the Lejeune housing shortage.

Although no definite open- ing date has been determined, the Public Housing Authority project is very near completion and stands almost in readiness outside the rear gate at Geiger.

The trailer community is much the same as Camp Knox Trailer Park, with fully equipped trailers, wash house facilities, and a com- munity center.

WHAT'S YOUR ATTITUDE?

Your attitude as an operator of a motor vehicle—is it careless, impatient, worried, or indifferent? Only you, the individual motorist knows the answer.

Primitive, irresponsible, discourteous, and impatient behavior behind the wheel of an automobile has no place in society today. Far too little traffic courtesy is shown on our highways. In fact, this lack of courtesy by highway users contributes not only to confusion and traffic congestion, but all too often to disaster!

It seems that, once behind the wheel of an auto, men and women whose behavior in all other circumstances is beyond reproach, suddenly become transformed into bad-mannered autocrats. The driver who tries to be considerate becomes jittery when exposed to repeated experiences with rude drivers. This otherwise safe and well-mannered person, through impatience and irritability, may become "an accident going somewhere to happen." He could be you!

The next time you're behind the wheel of your car, test yourself on your attitude toward courteous driving. It may be a shock to find out that you're not quite up to par in being a perfect lady or gentleman on the road.

Think twice; you only live once.

Corps' Anniversary Receives Big Play In New 'Gazette'

From its four-color historical cover to the commandant of the Marine Corps' hundred and seventy-eighth anniversary message on the back, the November issue of the Marine Corps "Gazette" is a blend of a nostalgic, colorful past and a practical, hard-bitten present.

Lead story is "Samuel Nicholas: Innkeeper-Marine," the personal history of the man chosen by the Continental Congress to lead the infant Corps.

Lynn Montross, familiar to "Gazette" readers as the author of the Korean historical articles, comes up with part one of "The Man With The Rifle," an article designed to trace the history of the infantryman from 331 B.C. through Korea.

Also drawing from the past is "Rebel Marines" by Major Patrick Laughlin, an account of U. S. Marines who joined the Southern cause during the Civil War.

During the Civil War, a cotton merchant was looking for someone to take his merchandise illegally up the Mississippi River. He approached a riverboat captain, offering him $100 if he would take the job. "No," said the captain. "$500! $1000; still no," came the reply.

When the merchant offered $3000, the captain drew his pistol and pointing it at the man said, "Get off the boat. You are getting too near my price."

Perhaps everyone has his price and, thus, it is necessary that temptation be vanquished before it completely engulfs the individual soul.

UN Labors In Many Ways To Give Man Better Life

UNITED NATIONS, NEW YORK, N. Y. — The work of the United Nations is more than fighting armed aggression. It also includes preventing conditions which may encourage war, such as hunger, disease, ignorance, and poor living and working conditions. This is being done in many ways.

The problem of producing enough food and clothing for the needs of the entire world population is being attacked by the Food and Agricultural Organization. It is vaccinating livestock, controlling plant pests, and developing fishing grounds. However, its most important work has been in teaching modern farming skills along the back roads of the world.

Food and clothing have gone to millions of children through the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. In Europe alone more than 10,000,000 children have received medical attention.

The World Health Organization is demonstrating the blessings of modern medicine. It has battled malaria in Greece, tuberculosis in Europe and Asia, and typhus in Afghanistan.

Understanding

The task of the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization is to help eliminate the misunderstandings among nations. It is working toward getting peoples to understand their neighbors.

TEMPTATION

During the Civil War, a cotton merchant was looking for someone to take his merchandise illegally up the Mississippi River. He approached a riverboat captain, offering him $100 if he would take the job. "No," said the captain. "$500! $1000; still no," came the reply.

No One Impregnable

No man because of his trade or profession is impregnable to temptation. The great doers of evil have many times been those who thought they never could be tempted.

As a youth Napoleon wrote an essay for the Lyons Academy on the dangers of ambition. Even the young King David, if told that he would live to darken the closing days of his reign with murder and adultery, would have said, "Is thy servant a dog?" Each of us must be aware of the little devil perched on his shoulder, whispering into the ear, tempting and urging him to do what his conscience tells him not to do.

It constantly is bringing conflicts into the choices of right and wrong. Our jails are full of men and women who permitted their little devils to be instrumental in the betrayals of lives and souls.

Negative Not Enough

When temptation comes to us, we must resist it with a strong "No" and carefully take ourselves out of its range. But a negative answer is not enough. When we say "No" to temptation, we must say "Yes" with the whole heart to Christ. If we wish to dispel darkness, we must bring in the light.

To do what comes naturally is very easy, but quite frequently loose actions get us into trouble with God and our fellow men. In order to save ourselves from the wrath of our fellow humans and to be safe in divine judgment, we must choose wisely between the advice given by the little demon on our shoulders and that which is given through our God-bestowed consciences. — Chaplain Edwin J. Netherling, 2nd Engineer Bn.

Camp, Eustis Meet Friday On Army Grid

Two prominent sidelights will be apparent tomorrow when Camp Lejeune seeks its second win over Army competition, meeting Fort Eustis at the Virginia base.

The local Marines will be out to stave off a possible "revenge" win by the "Wheels," who suffered a severe upset at Lejeune last year. In 1952 Eustis arrived here with only one blemish on its season record, a 7-2 loss to Quantico, which was having its ups and downs.

Eustis had defeated Bolling AFB, which eventually won the mythical service football crown, and seemed well on its way to a highly successful season.

But Lejeune assumed the role of "spoiler" for one day and knocked off the "Wheels," 18-0.

Comparative Scores

The other important sidelight that everyone will be watching is the comparative scores of the Lejeune-Eustis game and the Quantico-Eustis clash. Quantico ripped into Eustis two weeks ago and ran up a final of 21-0. Lejeune's performance against the Army club may give a clue to the outcome of the important Marine conference battle between Quantico and Lejeune here October 31.

Lejeune is at its peak—mentally, at least—for the Eustis game. After losing, 13-7, to Fort Lee, the Marines came back the following week to gain a hard-fought 6-6 tie against powerful Fort Jackson. They followed this up with a 27-0 romp over Keesler AFB Friday and seem to have overcome any adverse effects caused by the Lee game.

The Lejeune starting line-up will be basically the same, with minor changes brought about by injuries. Rocky Byrd will start at quarterback, with Frank Nastro and Reggie Lee, the latter the sparkplug in the Keesler win, at the halfback posts. Bill Hawkins may see action at fullback due to the broken hand sustained by Joe Caprara last week.

On The Line

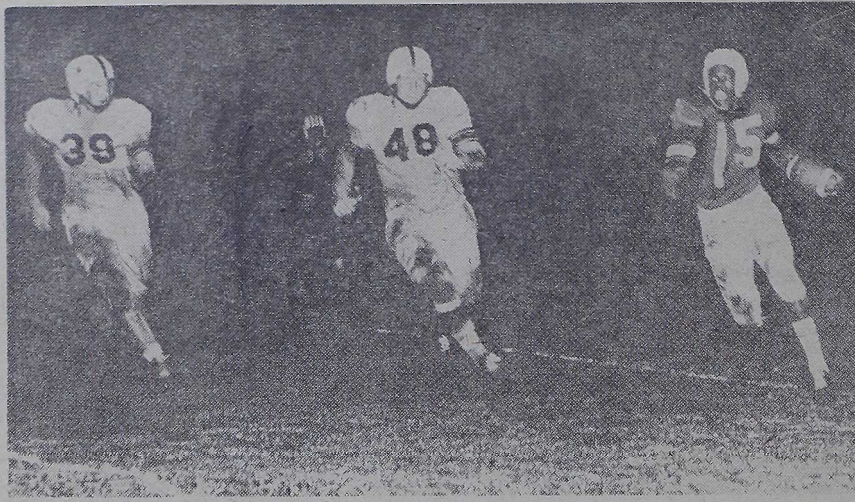

Joe Rilo and Bill Samer will hold down the flanks on the line. Rex Boggan and Ken Barfield, alumni from Mississippi, will be at the tackle slots.

The guard positions are still doubtful, material here being beset by injuries. Tony Anton's knee hasn't responded to treatment and Lou Golic suffered a bruised kidney against Keesler. Frank Rindoni and Chuck Scott will be capable replacements.

Eustis, after opening its season with wins over Bolling and Little Creek, ran into trouble, being shut out twice. Quantico blanked the (See CAMP, EUSTIS, Page 7)

CL's Skeetmen Lose First Of Year In NC State Shoot

The Camp Lejeune skeet team lost its first match of the season Sunday at Pinehurst, N. C., bowing to Cherry Point in the North Carolina State Championships.

Lejeune had won 17 consecutive trophies during the 1953 season, including the National Five-Man Team Match at Reno, Nev. Also, the Marine sharpshooters set a new world's record by smashing 741 birds out of a possible 750. The team later tied this mark.

Cherry Point's final team score was 486x500, with Lejeune finishing second, five birds behind, with 461x500. Third place in the five-man team competition went to the Charlotte Gun Club, which wound up with 497x500.

Lejeune's Lt. Hank Stowers paced the runners-up by scoring a perfect 100x100. CWO J. A. Martin totaled 98x100; MSgt. Vern Mull, 96x100; Joe Lannon, YNC, 95x100; and Doctor Jim Flanagan, 92x100.

Stowers won the high over-all championship (total score in every type of shooting) with a 287x300. He also copped the .410 small-gauge championship with 89x100 and the .20-gauge crown with 89x100. Both wins carried the title of North Carolina state champion.

After running a straight 100x100 in open-gauge competition, Stowers was forced to settle for second place after losing in a shoot-off.

Martin won the Class AA runner-up trophy in .12-gauge with 98x100.

Stowers and Mull teamed in the two-man team match for .12-gauge honors and won the title with a final score of 196x200.

CSG Takes 7-0 Win Over Amtracs In FT Grid Battle

Defensive back Benny Blair recovered a backward lateral deep in Amtrac territory to set up the only touchdown of Thursday's Force Troops League game, as 2nd Combat Service Group racked up its third consecutive victory, 7-0. The score came early in the third quarter.

It was a tense, hard-fought contest in which defense loomed as the decisive factor.

The scoreboard showing a scoreless deadlock at the beginning of the second half, Amtrac returned the opening kick to its own 48-yard line.

A series of plays resulted in a loss of ground, paving the way for Amtrac's final, desperate lunge for yardage. Quarterback Keller flipped a backward lateral and Blair grabbed it for CSG on the Amtrac nine-yard line.

'Speed' Scores

Orville "Speed" Williams carried the ball twice, scoring on the second play. Left guard Copeman kicked the extra point for a 7-0 Combat lead.

In a game played earlier last week, 8th Engineer Bn. resorted (See CSG TAKES, Page 7)

In the second flight, Mrs. H. G. Goore beat Mrs. H. B. Hutchcraft with 2 and 1, while Mrs. G. M. Olszewski trounced Mrs. C. M. Smythe 6-up.

Mrs. T. L. Milham, 1-up over Mrs. H. L. Hise, and Mrs. F. R. Roberson over Mrs. T. Kujovsky, with 2 up, took third-flight honors.

Pups Muzzled By Morehead In First Loss

The Morehead City Eagles handed the Camp Lejeune Devilpups their first defeat of the season Friday night, eking out a 7-6 victory.

The game, played on Varsity Field here before an estimated crowd of 4000, was a savage battle, with six men being carried off the field in the second half.

Two passes from Johnny Muford to Bobby Peele accounted for the Devilpup touchdown, climaxing a drive from Lejeune's 30-yard line. The kick for the extra point was blocked. The Pups made seven first downs to none for Eagles in the first half.

A fumble midway in the third period, recovered by the Eagles, put the ball on the Lejeune 20. Wickizer made the TD on the next play and also scored the extra point. Further threats by Lejeune to score were stopped by penalties. The Devilpups used 14 men for the game, eight of them playing a full 48 minutes.

The Pups take on the Jacksonville Cardinals, a class AA team, tomorrow night at Jacksonville.

Tournament matches will start November 7 and one week will be allotted to play each match. Trophies will be awarded the winner and runner-up in each flight, and all flights played from scratch with the exception of the championship flight.

6th, 10th Marines Squads Deadlocked In Division Intramural Pigskin Circle

The 2nd Marines, outmanned and outgunned, dug their cleats into the turf of Liversedge Field Friday and battled the highly-favored 6th Marines to a 6-6 tie.

Coupled with the 10th Marines 13-7 win over Group II, the tie threw the Division intramural grid scramble into a knot, both the 6th and 10th Marines having two wins and one tie without loss.

In the other game, 2nd Service Bn. scored its first points of the season to nip a stubborn Group I eleven, 12-6.

The first period of the 2nd-6th fracas was played almost entirely between the 30-yard markers until the 2nd Marines came to life near the end of the quarter. They drove from their own 36 to the 6th Ma-

Camp Marine Keesler, Lee Leading

KEESLER AIR FORCE BASE, Miss.—Halfback Lee personally escorted Camp Lejeune Marine to a convincing 27-0 decision over the Keesler AFB Tarpons, Friday night.

A crowd of 14,000 saw the 160-pound speedster from Arlington, D. C., romp through the middle of the pon line for the first touchdown 50 seconds after the second half opened. The half was a rugged see-saw with no scoring.

Lee electrified spectators later with a sparkling touchdown dash. Faking the Marine eleven, he stepped to the right, picked up his feet and outran the entire Tar for the score. Howie Hostetler the extra point to put Lejeune out front, 13-0.

Bill Hawkins, former halfback, battered over a nine-yard line for the Hostetler's kick was good.

Camp Lejeune closed scoring late in the first when Hugo Rosell fired a yard pass to Dick Layne in the zone. Jerry Fouts added the point.

N.C. Hunting Local Rules Prevail

North Carolina's squirrel and bear seasons opened today, but there are certain exceptions which should be by calling the Provost's office before going out. The season closes January 15.

Bag limits on squirrels per day and 16 "in the bag." A hunter may kill two deer a day, but he must have the daily limit in season.

Also opening on the season were the seasons on raccoons, which end on January 15, and ruffed grouse on January 30.

In the Great Smokies, 15 miles west of here, the season board season opened 15 and runs through January 15.

ou sent in your ballot for the All-Sea Service football team "Navy Times" is running the contest, which closes November 1st. But a minute of your time and gives you an opportunity to show some form of thanks for the type of football you see at Camp Lejeune.

Blankets can be obtained very easily. Your unit Special Agent has them on hand and the GLOBE ran a similar ballot. Before the contest closes, the GLOBE will run another ballot in and give a vote of thanks to the men on the Lejeune football team, for that matter, who deserve some recognition for their feats on the gridiron. Completed ballots may be sent to the "Navy Times," 3132 M St., NW, Washington, D. C.

Right of the balloting by fans this year is a unique contest. "Navy Times" is sponsoring. Each voter can select a player of his opinion, is the most valuable member of his particular team. With this selection each voter has been invited to write, in a few words, the reason why he thinks this certain player is the "most valuable" mention. A weekly prize of ten dollars is going to the voter sending in the best letter, with a final prize of $100 going to the sender of the best letter received during the contest. An excellent way for a person with the pen to pick up extra cigarette money. Quite a few cigarettes.

The Six-Man Scene

A football, a sport comparatively new to Marine fans, has here, being played by teams from Marine Corps Base under Varsity Field. The game basically is the same as regulation football, with the exception of a few minor adjustments. The length of the playing field is 20 yards less and the width is only seven yards less than the regulation grid. A team must have 15 yards to make a first down and a runner cannot fumble without taking a clear pitchout or hand-off. In other words, the ball cannot run with it himself, but must give it to a teammate. However, he can attempt to pass at the risk of a sack for a loss, since he is unable to run if trapped. Games are played on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays, drawing almost capacity turnouts at each contest. Some of the football fans might find one of these games interesting. Football is enjoyable to watch.

Lt. Stowers As Usual

Stowers keeps on winning, as can be attested by the results of the North Carolina State Skeet Championships held at Pinehurst, N. C. last week. Officer in charge of the Lejeune skeet range, Stowers, connected with skeet and trap shooting for many years. He was successful year in the sport of skeet last Sunday by sweeping the individual prize offered at Pinehurst. Our hearty congratulations to Lieutenant Stowers, a true Marine marksman.

Anyone noticed the commanding position that Cherry Point occupies in the East Coast Marine football race? The Flyers, an insignificant, albeit spirited, contender in the race at the beginning of the season, now need only a victory over Camp Lejeune to capture the East Coast flag.

Stowers stunned the service sporting world early in September by leading Quantico, 9-6, but then lost three games in a row. However, he managed to come back to win the Parris Island last week, 19-0. Two more games remaining with Marine Corps opposition, Lejeune and Miami. Marine Corps sports enthusiasts would be slightly disappointed if Cherry Point were to win games and lose every other one on its schedule.

Cage Contingent Cut To 15 Hoopsters

Lejeune's basketball team was trimmed to 15 men last week as head coach Capt. Frank Frates, USN, sent his charges through practice drills.

This year's squad "is far advanced over the 1952 group," the cage mentor asserts.

Coach Frates is anxiously awaiting the return from maneuvers of his star forward, Leroy Smith, high scorer for Lejeune last year, and his star defensive stalwart, Skip Whittaker.

CSG Takes To A Field Goal In The Last Five Minutes Of Play To Beat Supply School, 3-0.

The biggest game of the Force Troops season thus far will take place today at Camp Geiger when 2nd Combat Service Group faces 8th Engineer Bn.

Both teams, tied for the league lead with 3-0 records, are well-coached and versatile. The Engineers, because of their decisive victory over Antrac, are given a better chance.

The standings:

8th Engineer Bn.	3	0
2d Combat Service Group	3	0
2d Antrac Bn.	2	2
Supply School	1	3

Thompson, threw back two 6th Marines goal line stabs inside the ten-yard stripe.

On the first play of the fourth period Wolenstlager threw from his 40 down the middle to end Bill Drake. Drake nabbed it on the 25 and raced into the end zone for the tying score. Two attempts for the winning extra point, a pass and an end sweep, failed.

Service Victory

Service Bn. scored in the first and last quarters in its 13-6 win over the Group 1 contingent. Quarterback Osce Yokley tallied both touchdowns on sneaks from the four- and one-half yard lines.

The Group I score came in the closing minutes of play on a 25-yard pass play from quarterback Ben Monn to fullback Joe Fortunato.

In the 10th Marines-Group II game the Cannoneers took the lead in the second period when player-coach Jim Maritland scored on a two-yard quarterback sneak to cap a 55-yard drive that saw Jim Latta, Dan Mason, and Bill Jeter do yeoman leather-lugging.

Group II went ahead in the opening minutes of the second half, 7-6, when Ike Iglehart climaxed a 50-yard scoring march with a buck from the four.

Long Pass Play

In the fourth period the 10th Marines scored the winning tally on a spectacular 75-yard pass play. Dick Smith tossed a 30-yarder to Bill Jeter, who snared it on the Group II 45 and sprinted the rest of the way.

In tomorrow's games the surging 10th Marines tangle with the revitalized 2nd Marines behind the Goettge Memorial Field House. The 6th Marines meet the upset-minded Service Bn. contingent on the Cross and "A" Streets grid, and Group II battles Group I on the Area 5 field.

Wildlife Club Picks New Clubhouse For Den Of Activities

A new club site, located at the junction of Jumping Run and French Creek (TA-8734), was the main topic of discussion at the semi-monthly meeting of the Fish and Wildlife Club Wednesday evening last week.

The clubhouse formerly known as Bldg. E504, will be entirely refurbished by members of the club, now numbering approximately 230. A voluntary pledge of 12 working hours by each member of the club has been received to help in the job.

The club directors expect it will be a full year before the new quarters are ready. The club house and the immediate surroundings will be given an outdoor motif.

Seek Assistance

The directors also stated that the voluntary assistance of engineers and architects will be sought to aid in the rebuilding plans.

An instructional film on the training of Labrador, Golden, and Chesapeake retrievers was shown at last week's meeting.

It was announced that membership cards had been received and members could pick them up from the officials concerned after paying their annual dues of one dollar.

Turkey Feed

Sixteen fields of rye, it was revealed have been planted within the Camp Lejeune boundaries for winter animal feeding. The rye was planted with an eye to the wild turkeys roaming the Lejeune woods during the winter.

The next meeting of the Wildlife Club will be held Wednesday at 7 p. m. Anyone wishing to join the club or solicit information concerning it can call either Maj. W. R. Hopkins, 5613, or Lt. Olga Mamula, 5721.

Supply Depot Gives 'Happy Hour' Tues.

A "Happy Hour" and smoker will be staged at 7 p. m. Tuesday in the Industrial Area Theater by Supply Depot Special Services.

The "Happy Hour" will include feminine talent with music. The smoker will be a boxing show with two matches, plus professional wrestling. The feature will be Rip Hawk, "The Blonde Adonis," and Tiger Jack Johnson against Andy Orgozan and Tugger Zeke, in a one-hour time limit match.

Everyone is invited to attend the show.

Motor Transport, Rifle Range, USNH Take Six-Man Wins

The Rifle Range stayed near the top of the heap in the Marine Corps Base six-man football league last week by defeating Engineer School Bn., 20-14. In other league games, Motor Transport upset Service Co., 31-0, and Engineer School defeated Naval Hospital, 20-6.

A pass from Brad Day to Bob Williams in the third quarter broke a 14-14 stalemate and gave the Rifle Range the win.

Both clubs scored a brace of TD's in the first half. Jim Revard broke loose on a 65-yard run for the initial tally for the Range and Bob Diehl scored the other touchdown.

Karl Rud figured in the two Engineer scores. He tallied the first touchdown on a 77-yard jaunt and flipped to teammate Bob Kinslow for the other.

As the GLOBE went to press, Headquarters Co. was leading the circuit.

Camp, Eustis (Continued from page 6)

"Wheels," and Fort Belvoir applied a 23-0 calcimining to Eustis last week.

Most of the positions on the Eustis eleven will be filled by names familiar to Lejeune fans who saw the "Wheels" play here last year.

Carrying The Ball

In the backfield will be George Hudak and Sammy Reynolds at halfback. Hudak played with Minnesota and the Green Bay Packers and Reynolds gained all of his fame in service ball, being named to the All-Army team in 1952.

Jim Calderwood (Oregon) will call the Eustis plays and Bill Schliesner will operate from the important fullback slot in the Eustis T formation.

Running in front of the backfield will be a big, powerful line. Al Pfeifer and Bob Horton are at the ends, and Jerry Williams, 195, and Sam Murphy, 205, at tackle. Ted Daffer, twice named to All-American squads while at Tennessee, and Dick Zoller, 200, will man the guard spots with huge Irv Holdash. All-American defensive halfback from North Carolina, at center.

As early as 1740, three Marine regiments were recruited in America, assembled in New York under the command of General Alexander Spotswood of Virginia, and performed valiant service in the West Indies for the Royal British Navy.
