Naval Wires Open For Communication With TRAEX Men

Headquarters for the current TRAEX 1-54 training maneuver announced this week that telegraphed class "E" messages can be sent to participating members of the training exercise at Vieques, P.R., under certain circumstances. Class "E" messages are personal telegrams handled by the Naval Communication System between persons within the continental limits of the United States and Naval personnel removed from these limits.

These messages can be sent only if they contain news of (1) life, death, or serious illness, (2) important personal business or arrangements not of a recurrent nature, (3) births in immediate family.

Custom Fees Off Overseas Troops' Homebound Gifts

The privilege of sending gifts home free of the usual customs charge by members of the Armed Forces on duty overseas has been extended by Congress for an additional two years.

The amended law will permit duty-free entry of bona fide gifts to the extent of $50 in any shipment accompanied by a declaration and certificate. Articles sent by mail which are sealed require either the green (Customs) label affixed to the address side of the parcel, or the endorsement, "May be opened for customs."

The law exempts items purchased with funds provided by persons other than the sender, items purchased and sent to the United States to be held for future use by the sender.

To be sent free of the customs charge, the gift must be purchased in or through authorized agencies of the Armed Forces, or in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Naval command from which the gift is sent.

Capt. Micasio J. Zagone, camp legal assistance officer in Bldg. 1, Hadnot Point, is the man who can help you with your legal problems.

Tax complications, applications for citizenship, and other important civil legal functions, excluding process serving and collection agents, are readily taken care of by the base legal assistance officer.

Matters requiring the assistance of a civilian lawyer are arranged via the legal assistance officer and the appropriate state bar association to insure capable legal representation.

All military counsel is granted to personnel here free of charge. If a civilian lawyer is needed, he is entitled to a fee, but often will charge a member of the Armed Forces a nominal amount.

Any counsel will be treated as confidential and privileged in the legal rather than military sense. Superior officers may not legally order the disclosure of discussions with the assistance officer.

Errant 'Road Hog' Bites Highway Dust In L-Day Mishap

A "road hog" was added to the Labor Day casualty list as a result of a collison with TSgt. Gus Pitt-man's car about seven miles south of Kinston, N. C.

The impact crushed the grill of Pittman's car and caused the offender's instant demise.

Lest man-slaughter charges be placed against Pittman, it should be added that his victim was a genuine road hog—an erstwhile porker which had wandered from a nearby farm onto the road.

Pittman, who is attached to the Camp Training Aids Library, was on his way to his home in Washington, D. C., when the mishap occurred. His car was damaged to such an extent that he had to return to Leigung and foreign the long Lyber. Lejeune and forego the long Labor Day week end.

Accused by friends of hamming it up, Pittman ruefully surveyed the estimated hundred dollars' damage and remarked, "Labor Day week end, 1953, certainly was a lost week-end for me."

Check Your Own Condition

Be pretty careful while driving the day you get your promotion; the day you get your discharge, your girl says "yes" or turns you down, or your husband walks out in a huff. The chances are you are in an emotional stew, and accidents are more liable to happen.

Remember, also, that some medicines, including some anti-histamines, anti-biotics, and car-sickness remedies, may produce temporary drowsiness. Ask your doctor if it's safe to drive after taking that pill. Don't drive when too fatigued. Don't drive after drinking.

Korea, Iran, West Germany, Trieste, and French Morocco—the Big Five in the international news limelight—temporarily rest peaceful and seem in unity against the Communist factions of this globe.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro-American Christian Democrats won a landslide victory in West Germany's parliamentary elections Sunday. This triumph virtually pledged 50,000,000 Germans to the defense of Western Europe against Iron Curtain aggression. The German Communist party, despite rabid propaganda gymnastics, received but 2.2 percent of the total vote, whereas Adenauer swept in 45.2 per cent. His strongest opposition, the Social Democrats, accumulated 28.8 percent of the votes. Deemed one of the most important political trends today, West Germany's international allegiance now is clearly pro.-U. S.

In The Land Of The Shah, American Dollars

And another highly significant political trend comes from oil-rich, dollar-poor Iran, which, via popular revolt, wrenched itself free of semi-monarch Mohammed Mossadegh recently. President Eisenhower this week approved a 45-million dollar loan to Iran. This indicates that the Shah's new government, led by Fazollah Zahedi, is ready to reach an understanding with Britain over the nationalization of the British-owned oil at Abadan, as well as veer away from the pro-Communist course of the country set under Mossadegh.

"Operation Big Switch" concluded in Korea Sunday. During the prisoner exchange program the UN returned 75,797, and still holds 14,500 Chinese and 7800 North Koreans who refuse repatriation. The Communists turned over 12,753 prisoners, of which 3,596 were Americans, 7,842 South Koreans, and the remainder other UN troops. The Communists retain 344 South Koreans and "more than 20" non-Koreans who refuse to return—according to the Communists

Although a tactical triumph has been scored by the U. S. during the recent hot UN debates on the structure of the Korean truce council to meet in Geneva next month, a final, loud whine is expected to be heard from Russia as the UN goes into its eighth regular session of the General Assembly Tuesday. The U. S. succeeded in limiting the forthcoming meeting to participants in the Korean war and keeping it a straight across-the-board conference, in lieu of a round table talk.

In The Circles Of Diplomats, An American Warning

In The Circles Of Diplomats, An American Warning
To add force to the U. S.'s stand, John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, said, "If the Korean conferences discuss Korea for three months without making genuine progress . . . we shall pause (to consider whether) to withdraw from the conference." Russia is expected to counter all proposals made by the U. S. in a supreme effort to delay the Korean talks and further embroil that situation.

Contention flared hot over the split city of Trieste last week as the Italians, panic-stricken that Yugoslavia was going to take their section of the city, massed troops along the border. Yugoslavia denied the charge. John Foster Dulles then said that the U. S. was open-minded about returning Trieste to the Yugoslavs. This outraged the Italians remier, Guiseppe Pella, that the U. S. plans no change in its ItalianYugoslav policy, and things rest quiet in Trieste now. However, troops and police stand by, ready for any emergency.

On The Barbary Coast, A Signing Sultan

In Morocco, French authorities all but ended that country's attempt at nationalization by having the sultan, placed in office by the French three weeks ago, sign away most of his judicial powers.

This move, however, left many Moroccans unhappy, and several members of Premier Laniels' Cabinet in Paris objected, one member resigning. International authorities believe that new trouble will emanate from this North African possession. (FLY)

Chaplain's Corner

For some time, there has been in this country a school of thought which holds that it does not matter whom or what a man worships as long as his life is right. The point of view of the whole Bible is that it matters enormously what a man worships, because that is what determines the whole tone and quality of his life.

We are ant to find this difficult

We are apt to find this difficult to grasp because, when we are talking of religion, we think of wor-ship as "going to church."

ship as "going to church."

The matter of worship is an important thing: "You shall have no other gods before me. You shall worship the Lord your God and Him only shall you serve."

Too many worship the works of their own hands. They go in for home-made gods.

When we know what a man relies

Mhen we know what a man relies on for satisfaction and zeal, what it is that gives meaning to his life, then we may say that is his god. When we know what it is which takes first place in a man's thoughts and desires, what that is for which he is prepared to sacrifice other things, then we may say that is his god.

The Real God

The Real God

For practical purposes, a man's god is what he finds pleasure in thinking about and zest and satisfaction in pursuing. This may not be the god he professes to worship, but it is his real god, whether he professes it or not.

professes it or not.

So a great deal of the teaching of the Bible comes to something like this. If your god is home-made, if you worship the works of your own hands, if you give your reverence to something less than the Lord God of heaven and earth, then your life is bound to be wrong.

If your real God is the God and Father of the Lord Jesus Christ, then your life is bound to be right. Or, see to it that you make your god a real God.

If a man is to make anything

god a real God.

If a man is to make anything but a mess out of life, then he must have some central interest, some big commanding loyalty; and it is of the utmost importance that this interest, this loyalty, should be directed to nothing less than the One True and Living God, the Father of the Lord Jesus Christ.—Chaplain Carl W. Herrick, 2nd Am-Trac. Bn.

MCI Course Open To Teach Flying's Theory, Practice

The Marine Corps Institute now offers a course entitled "Air Pilot" to all aviation personnel. This course is designed to give aviators and mechanics a thorough understanding of the construction, operation, and upkeep of aviation engines and aircraft.

The purposes of this course are:
(1) to supplement technical background; (2) to provide selected basic aviation information for Marines who desire to enter this MOS area; (3) to develop an appreciation of the broad scope of aeronautical knowledge necessary to the success of the pilot or mechanic; (4) to spread knowledge of safe practices; and (5) to encourage further study.

The 33 lessons which comprise

The 31 lessons which comprise this course offer instruction in theory and practices of flying that will help the student to prepare for a pilot's examination. Although there is no prerequisite for this course, a basic knowledge of mathematics is necessary for a successful understanding of the technical sufficients.

Practice Rolling For 2nd Marines Gridiron Hopefuls

Second Marines head football coach Allan Finger and his asistants, backfield coach Harry Kreutzbery and line coach Ralph Luedtke, are running some "gravel crunchers" through their paces at the practice field behind BOQ 58, prepping for the Division Intramural opener with the Group 2 team from Engineer, Medical, Motor Transport, and Headquarters Battalions on October 2.

The number of candidates jocksying for the eleven starting berths is relative large considering that the team can draw from only half of the regiment; the 2nd Bn. is in Camp Perry, Ohio, and the 1st Bn. is preparing to go on a"Med" cruise.

The team will work out of a straight "T" quarterbacked by Bob Fisher, a clever ball handler and good passer. In the left half slot probably will be speedster Roger Montgomery, the 195 - pound Le-Jeune track star who holds the State of Maine 100-yard dash record, having been officially clocked in 9.6.

Services Unite On Concept of Less Needling

In military life a serviceman has to take a lot of needling, pointed or otherwise. However, a recent joint regulation divided the world into five inoculation areas, which will decrease the amount of injections given to service personnel.

According to the "Reserve Marne." the five areas are: North America, Mexico and Guatemala, Europe and North Africa; USSR, Philippines, China and Korea; South America and French West Africa; and India, Pakistan and Ceylon.

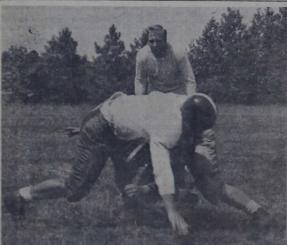

Servicemen stationed in North

Servicemen stationed in North America will be saved from nine of the usual jabs. Recruits coming into the service this year escape two typhus injections, four diphtheria jabs, one for yellow fever, and two plauge shots that the '52 group didn't miss.

VA Offers Low Cost Insurance To Korean Vets

The special post-Korean term life insurance policies are now held by nine times as many veterans as a year ago, according to the VA.

year ago, according to the VA.

These policies are the five-year non-convertible, non-participating type for which anyone is eligible who has served with the Armed Forces of the United States anywhere in the world since June 27, 1950, who was ordered to active service for a period of more than 30 days, and who is entitled to the free indemnity protection of the law.

Eligible veterans must apply to the VA within 120 days after date of discharge or separation to receive policies.

date of discharge or separation to receive policies.

These policies do not entitle the veteran to dividends nor may they be converted to any other type of insurance. But the cost is the lowest of any type of GI insurance administered by the VA.

The Servicemen's Indemnity and Insurance Acts of 1951, which set up this insurance, also provide for another kind of policy. This applies to the post-Korean veterans discharged on or after April 25, 1951 with service-connected disabilities that would entitle the veteran to ten or more per cent disability compensation. Likewise, it does not pay any dividend. However, both term and permanent plans, with conversion rights, are provided.

Cavalier Eleven Scrimmages With Lejeune 3 Days

Camp Lejeune ran through a three-day scrimmage with the Un-iversity of Virginia last week end, Friday, Saturday, and Monday.

The Cavaliers arrived here Friday and ran through two workouts a day while meeting up against the Lejeune varsity.

Both teams worked on kicking and extra points on the first and second days. The Lejeune line-men concentrated on pass pro-tection and defense.

Lejeune played entirely on of-fense for the first two days. In the long Labor Day meeting, both teams ran offensive patterns.

NC State Gridders Work Out Here

North Carolina State arrived at Camp Lejeune yesterday to run through a three - day scrimmage session that will end tomorrow.

Horace Hendrickson's charges who are exponents of the split-T attack, had been working out for two weeks prior to their arrival here to tussle with Lejeune.

The two clubs will run through a controlled scrimmage for the three days with one club running the ball for a set period of time before relinquishing control to the opposition.

Links Ladies Elect Five New Officers

The Ladies Golf Association held a regular monthly meeting September 1, electing new officers to serve during the next six months. Mrs. E. W. Murphy was unani-mously reelected as President.

Other officers elected were: Vice-President, Mrs. H. M. Bow-ers; Sec.-Treasurer, Mrs. P. T. Kujovsky; Tournament Chair-man, Mrs. J. R. Broadus; Handi-cap Chairman, Mrs. A. L. Ever-ett; Publicity Chairman, Mrs. S. S. Ballentine.

September 1 Ladies Day featured Medal Play, on the front nine of Course No. 2 with full handicaps. Class A winner was Mrs. A. M. Fraser; Class B, Mrs. Bowers; Class C, Mrs. Baltentine; and Class D's best putter was Mrs. Sharit.

Sunday, September 20, is the date set for the next Mixed Event at the Paradise Point Golf Club. This will be a Medal Play round, Blind Bogey, no handicaps required. Because the ladies are out-numbered in these mixed events as a rule, the pairings will be arranged to give each lady two men to compete with. A buffet supper will be served following the match. Further information is available at the club house.

A buffet dinner and talks by North Carolina conservation experts highlighted the last meeting of the Fish and Wildlife Club last week. Backstage, and off the official record, was talk of forming a camp archery club, collateral with the wildlife club. Capt. James M. Gorman and 1st Lt. Rex W. Crook, avid archers, expressed the desire of opening an archery range here for interested personnel and suggested that during hunting season here this winter a deer hunt be conducted for qualified archers.

Such a club as this was formed Monday at Cherry Point. A regulation National Field Archery range will be set up at the "Point," and the new organization there has applied for membership in the National Field Archery Association. Deemed an intriguing sport, archery demands all the marksmanship of a rifle expert, and in hunting it requires real prowess as a stalker. Ako, archery is an inexpensive pastime.

The next meeting of the camp's Fish and Wildlife Club is set for Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Bldg. 1404, Industrial Area, Hadnot Point. More information about the club can be had by calling Lt. Col. William C. Stoll at 5629 or this writer at 5522.

Fishing Picture Brightens

In general, fishing along this coast has improved markedly over the last week. Reports of large runs of mackerel at Sneads Ferry and Wrightsville Beach come in. Puppy drum have made an appearance, and a migration of spot is keeping pier fishermen busy baiting their hooks.

wingins in Beach come in Puppy didni have made an appearance, and a migration of spot is keeping pier fishermen busy baiting their hooks.

Nimrods had better start checking their hunting gear. North Carolina's deer season kicks off October 15 and runs through January 1. Day and season limit is one buck. Camp Lejeune will stage six organized hunts this year on the following dates: October 17, 31; November 14, 28; and December 12, 26. The base has been divided into seven hunting areas. On each of these dates above seven different parties, of not more than 30 shooters, will move into their allocated regions to hunt. The hunts are drive hunts, local deer dogs being used to run the game past the hunters.

Hunting privileges here require a valid state hunting license, a special permit from the Camp Provost Marshal, and an age of at least 16. No hunting of any kind will be done without the sanction of the Camp Provost Marshal on the day prior to the scheduled hunt. Also, hunting will be done only with shotguns on this base. Shotguns may be drawn from unit Special Services.

The complete hunting regulations for this base can be obtained from Camp Memorandum 298-53.

Lake Cole Wenekly fishing awards included, in first place, Cpl. Harold E. Houseman, Hq. Co., 8th Tank Bn., who landed a 10 pound 3 ounce carp. Cpl. Clifford B. Swilley, Service Co., 8th Tank Bn., won a second prize with a 9 pound 10 ounce carp, and TSgt. Clyde J. Bridgers, Food Service School, Supply School Bn., won third with a 6 pound 8 ouncer.

This week Edward H. Cole, owner of the artificial fishing lakes near Piney Green, added several thousand bass fingerlings to his already heavily stocked lakes. Besides getting good fishings, personnel here can utilize picnic facilities at Lake Cole, and fish at night under specially situated electric lights.

GO MAN, GO!—Ernie Chession, the famous rub-a-dubber for band-man Bill Littlejohn's Silhouettes, adds a little vocal melody to the rhythm of his brushes. Ernie Chession is just one of the many music makers scheduled to arrive here during the coming week.
