THE GLOBE

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C.
HOME OF THE 2ND MARINE DIVISION
AND FORCE TROOPS, ATLANTIC

THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1953

NO. 31

Under-Secretary Of Navy Commends Troops' Morale

Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps enplaned for Washington, D. C., at the New River Air Facility Sunday afternoon, after spending four days here inspecting Marine Barracks, 2nd Division and Force Troops.

Last week he joined Under-Secretary of the Navy Charles

S. Thomas in reviewing units of the 2nd Division and Force Troops in a huge display of equipment and troops.

The commandant arrived here Wednesday last week, spent the day touring Marine Barracks facilities, and, in the evening, helicoptered to MCAF to greet Mr. Thomas. The next morning, the two high-ranking officials, along with Lt. Gen. O. P. Smith, commanding general of Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, reviewed the division and Force Troops.

In the afternoon they toured the Camp Commissary, several housing developments, Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory, Supply School, and the Field Medical Service School.

Secretary Commends

On departure from MCAF Thursday afternoon, Secretary Thomas commended the commanding generals of Lejeune activities, saying, "Visiting Camp Lejeune was one of the biggest thrills of my life. I could really see the fine morale of the troops. It was apparent everywhere I went."

Seeing the under-secretary off besides General Shepherd, were General Smith, Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general; Maj. Gen. George F. Good Jr., commanding general of the 2nd Division; and Brig. Gen. Francis B. Loomis, commanding general of Force Troops, Atlantic.

Friday the commandant inspected the 2nd Division. During the intensive Division tour, General Shepherd saw demonstrations of firing, gunfire liaison, beach-landing tactics, and helicopter lifts.

Draftees' Extensions Authorized

Voluntary extensions for Marine Selective Service and regular sergeants and below have been authorized in Almar 23.

Commanding officers are authorized to take final action on written requests by Marine inductees who desire to remain in active service for any period from six to 23 months after completion of active service.

Limitations, however, have been set on inductee extensions. To extend, he must be considered qualified and be a sergeant or below. He must, in order to have an extension granted, agree to enlist in the Marine Corps Reserve for three or four years, if not an eight-year obligor as defined in Marine Corps General Order 127, upon the termination of his 24-month obligated inductee service.

Also, to extend, the applicant must have at least nine months of active service remaining after execution of the extension. That is to say that, to extend for six months, extension has to be granted three months prior to the end of two years' obligated service.

Extensions of regular personnel are governed by the same conditions as for inductees. However, regulars can extend only for a period of six to 11 months.

Personnel extending under the authority of Almar 23 will receive no reenlistment bonus. Eight-year obligors will not get their mustering out pay, leave settlements, or mileage allowances until their release from active duty at the end of their extensions.

Persons with no Reserve obligations prior to extending will be paid their leave and mileage settlements and get their MOP at the end of their extensions.

200 College NROTC Berths Open To EM Through Competitive Exams

The service-wide examination for nominating qualified enlisted personnel for entry as midshipmen in the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps fall term next year will be conducted December 12, 1953.

Emphasis will be placed in screening applicants to insure that candidates selected for NROTC appointment desire a career in the Naval service.

Separation from the regular NROTC will entail transfer to a Reserve component in the previous enlisted rating held to fulfill the additional service obligations of the Universal Military Training and Service Act. Persons separated from the program will be recalled to active duty to complete their original enlistments, or for two years, whichever is the lesser.

For Enlisted Men

Of the total 2,000 appointments available in the NROTC program 200 will be offered to enlisted personnel on active duty. Enlisted Reservists not on active duty and civilian candidates will fill the remaining 1800.

Fees of candidates enrolled in the NROTC program, including tuition, textbooks, laboratory expenses, and instruction or administrative expenses, will be borne by the Department of the Navy. Uniforms will be provided and midshipmen will receive $600 per year retainer pay.

Students usually require additional incomes of from $100 to $600, depending on the college, to meet necessary expenses. Students are permitted to accept employment provided it does not conflict with NROTC and academic activities.

NROTC students may pursue any courses leading to a baccalaureate or higher degree, with the exception of the fields of medicine, theology, music, and art. Students who undertake five-year courses, such as engineering, may be granted a one-year leave of absence provided they will not have passed their TOT'S-EYE VIEW—Apparently impressed with the might of her daddy's Corps, little Patricia Susie Cullum sits by the roadside as the 2nd Division and Force Troops thunder past in a massive display, reviewed here last week by Under-Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas; Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps; and Lt. Gen. O. P. Smith, commanding general of Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic. Patricia is the daughter of 1st Lt. C. H. Cullum of the 3rd Bn., 6th Marines (Official USMC Photo).

Cut Officers Predicted

Manpower axe is predicted to lop more than 20,000 reserve officers, regulars and specialists, such as from active duty within 11 months whether or not it, according to the Navy, Air Force Journal.

Specialists, such as will be retained for duty, thousands of Reserve officers released from duty as the Forces strive to get within manpower ceilings.

D. C. Police Force Has Job Openings For Ex-Servicemen

Want to be a policeman? Here's your chance. The Metropolitan Police Department of Washington, D. C., is seeking applications from qualified ex-military personnel, and is offering a starting salary of $3900 to successful candidates.

Applicants must be at least 21 years old and not over 33, and must be able to pass physical and written examinations.

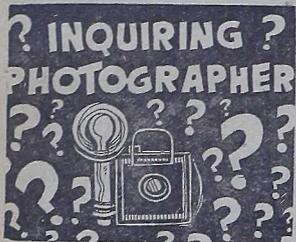

Other detailed information as to requirements which must be met may be obtained from the Camp Personal Affairs Officer at the Camp Theatre.

Information also may be obtained by writing to Inspector Archie M. Winfree, Director, Training Division, Metropolitan Police Department, 300 Indiana Ave., NW, Washington, D. C.

Lost Baggage

Marine Corps personnel who have lost baggage or personal effects as a result of the Korean conflict can address inquiries to one of the following addresses: Commanding Officer, Marine Corps Supply Depot, Personal Effects and Baggage Center, Camp Pendleton, Calif., or, if considered more appropriate, to the Commanding Officer, Marine Corps Supply Depot, Personal Effects and Baggage Center, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE PROPOSED TO?

PFC IRENE O'NEILL, CAMP MAIL AND FILES—I'm not an advocate of moonlight and roses nor the bended-knees routine. I definitely prefer that a proposal of marriage be unexpected on my part. The setting is not really important, even a fishing outing would serve the purpose nicely.

CPL DOROTHY A. DAY, RESERVE, TAMPA, FLA.—Marriage is a sacred obligation. Therefore its consideration requires a corresponding attitude. Time and place are not important but I would like to be made to feel that the question carried deep respect, admiration, and love.

PFC WILMA HUMPHREY, CAMP MAINTENANCE—I'm married and when my husband proposed to me it was on a moonlit night and Bill just asked me to marry him. I was surprised, happy, and very pleased, and I said "yes" immediately. We had been dating about four months and after five months of marriage my husband has been transferred to Albany, Ga. I am still happy with the proposal and with my marriage even though he is away.

PFC BARBARA L. KRESSMAN, WM TRAINING OFFICE—I'm looking for a knight in shining armor and when he proposes I expect him to be kneeling on a scarlet cloak and say the words, "Wouldst thou be mine to love and to cherish?" I would say "yes," provided he had a treasure chest full of gold and jewels and stacks of the folding green. Perhaps I still believe in fairy tales.

PFC COLLEEN RICE, RECREATION NCO, WM CO.—I was married March 21, but I don't remember the exact proposal. I think we just sort of agreed one night at a drive-in over coffee and sandwiches that it would be a darn good idea if we got married. A week later we were married. My husband is in Korean now and I doubt if he could be more specific in the details of his proposal of marriage than I have been.

Leatherneck Chief Views Lejeune

He inspected mess halls and barracks, and wound up the day by watching several innings of an intramural softball game between the 3rd Bn., 2nd Marines, and 2nd Bn., 10th Marines.

That evening, the general and his wife were guests of honor at a reception at the Officers Mess at Paradise Point. They stood in the reception line for two hours, shaking hands with over 2000 Lejeune officers and their wives.

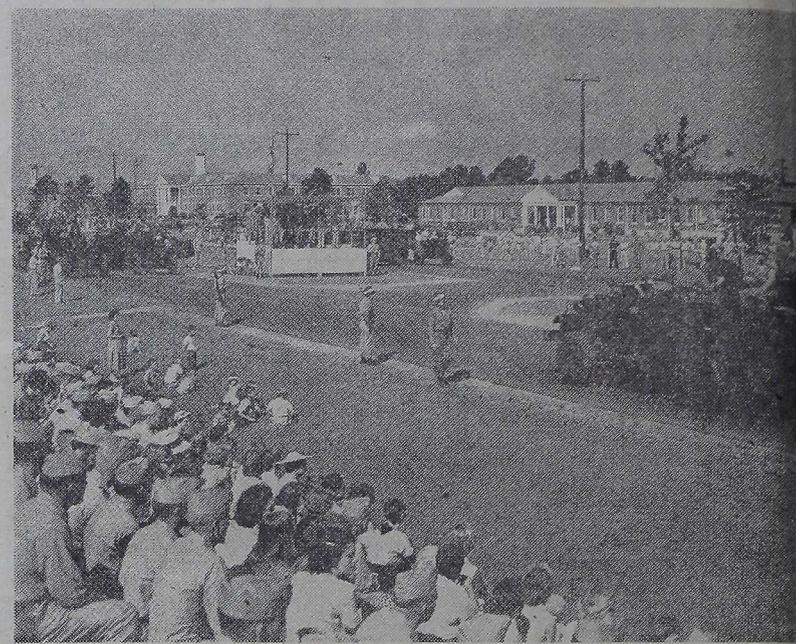

Also in the receiving line were the commanding generals of Camp Lejeune and their wives, plus Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Matthew C. Horner. General Horner is Deputy President of the Joint Landing Force Board.

Saturday General Shepherd toured Force Troops.

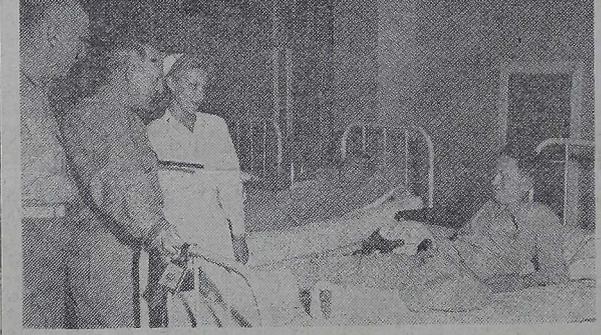

The commandant addressed a formation of 10,000 men massed on the Camp Geiger parade field with heavy artillery and other equipment. In the afternoon, he made a tour of various Camp Geiger areas.

CORRESPONDENTS NEEDED

The Camp PIO Radio Section is still in need of new radio correspondents. Any sergeants or below who are interested in this type of work are requested to call Camp PIO Radio Section, 5755, for an audition within the next week.

ON THE MOVE—In a massive display of armed might, the 2nd Division and Force Troops review before Under-Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas; Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps; and Lt. Gen. O. P. Smith, commanding general of Fleet Marine Force Atlantic. Also in the reviewing stand were Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding officer; Maj. Gen. George F. Good Jr., commanding general of the 2nd Division; and Brig. Gen. Frank Loomis, commanding general of Force Troops (Official USMC Photo).

HOSPITAL CHEER—Pfc Walter A. Pinner has a talk with his "boss," Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps, during the general's tour of inspection through the Naval Hospital here last week. Pinner, wounded in Korea by a mortar projectile which exploded behind him, was serving at the time with the 5th Marines. To the extreme left is Capt. Charles R. Wilcox, USN, commanding officer of the hospital, while Pinner's nurse, Ens. Betty M. Bills, NC, USN, stands to the right (Official USMC Photo).

PUT IT THERE—Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr. (center), commandant of the Marine Corps, shakes hands with commanding officers of the 2nd Division Reserve units in summer training at the Rifle Range. GIVING—Indians give thanks to their gods for a fine corn harvest in the opening dance scene of "The Lost Colony," an historical drama presented nightly except Monday throughout the summer at Fort Raleigh on Roanoke Island, N. C. Most of the "Indians" in the picture are natives of Roanoke Island. Part of the more than 200-member cast of the play (Photo by Aycock Brown).

Lost Colony Recreated on Roanoke Isle Stage

A five-hour drive north from Camp Lejeune lies the birthplace of American colonization—Roanoke Island in Dare County, North Carolina, land of "The Lost Colony."

On August 18, 1587, Virginia was born, the first English colony born on American soil.

Every year of this birth, the story of the first English colony and their strange disappearance is presented in Paul Green's symphonic drama, "The Lost Colony," every night except Mondays during the summertime at Waterside Theater on Roanoke Island.

The shortest route to Roanoke Island is Highway 17 to Washington, N. C., Highway 264 to Currituck Harbor, and then the ferry to Roanoke Island airport, from which a highway leads directly to the theater.

Cast Over 200

Over 200 islanders and professors, numbering over 200, are in the great outdoor theater which has played to over 500,000 people since the first performance on July 4, 1952.

The story is that of Sir Walter Raleigh's third attempt at a permanent colony on the North Carolina coast, called Roanoke. His advance explorers discovered the best land under the sun.

It is the story of the great dream, the hopes, and the tragic dissolution in the songs and movements created by Paul Green.

Men Of Dreams

They are once walked the men of the dream, Green writes, "the hope and pain and wonder from high-pitched optimism to deep despair, the play story of suspense, action, romance. Dances are an important part, ranging from the traditional Indian meditations, Uppowoc, to the light folk dances.

Exultation And Grief

It is the story of exultation when Virginia was born, and grief as fathers, husbands die in the struggle against the Indians. Whole families are wiped out by famine and disease. Finally, the colony is forced to capitulate to the will of the Indians and the mystery of the disappearance has not yet been solved.

But the seed was planted; a permanent colony had been formed, others would be formed, and eventually a mighty nation would emerge from the wilderness to perpetuate the memory of the colonists' struggle, the Roanoke Island Historical Association was formed and carries on the work of the play and the restorations around the fort.

Elizabethan Garden

Inside the walls of the fort, besides Waterside Theater, are several block houses, a church, and a museum containing tools found on the site. An Elizabethan Garden has been established outside the walls and is ornamented by marble statuary donated by John Hay Whitney and valued at $100,000.

Oposite the Fort Raleigh site, across the sound, is the Wright Memorial, commemorating the spot where the Wright Brothers made their first flight. Nearby are the beaches of Nags Head, Kill Devil Hill, and Kitty Hawk.

Rich in the history of the birth and growth of our nation, the whole coast of Dare seems to whisper Paul Green's words—"This was the vision, this the fadefull dream—tread softly, softly now these yellow stricken sands. This was the grail, the living light that leapt—speak gently, gently on these muted tongueless shores."

REGAL SMOKE—Queen Elizabeth is offered a puff of that latest curiosity—tobacco—brought over from America by Sir Walter Raleigh's first expedition to the North Carolina coast, in a scene from "The Lost Colony," an historical drama performed at Fort Raleigh on Roanoke Island. Looking on is a page and in the foreground is an Indian chief brought over from the new land (Photo by Aycock Brown).

Generals, Colonels Up For Promotions

Brigadier generals and colonels who are in line for promotion will be passed on by promotion boards which are scheduled to convene August 13 and 20.

The August 13 board will pass on promotions to major general, while the August 20 board will recommend promotions of colonels.

Boards Pick Navy Officers For Boost

Line selection boards will meet soon to recommend Naval officers on active duty for temporary promotion.

Next Tuesday a board will meet to select officers to be promoted to captain, while August 25, a similar body will convene to pick officers to be promoted to commander. Officers eligible for consideration for selection to the next highest grade include line commanders and lieutenant commanders with at least five years and four years, respectively, in grade on June 30, 1954, computed from their dates of rank.

Reserve officers on active duty will be considered if they have reported for their current tour of active duty prior to July 1, 1953.

TAKING A BULL BY THE HORNS was the order issued three Texas Marines last week. An angered Angus bull gave MP's a merry chase around Hadnot Point for eight hours before Sgt. F. J. Wamsley, TSgt. J. E. Womack, and Sgt. Charles "Spike" Miller (l to r) went out in true Texas cowboy style and roped and subdued the bovine (Official USMC Photo).

3rd Division Slated For Relief Of 1st, Says Commandant

Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps, said last week that the 3rd Marine Division, recently ordered to the Far East, Command by President Eisenhower, will "eventually" replace the 1st Division in Korea.

It was not stated when the change would take place. The commandant admitted that all veterans in the 1st already had been replaced through rotation.

Upon Gen. Mark W. Clark, UN commander in the Far East, rests the decision whether the 3rd Division will go immediately to Korea or first to Japan or some other U. S. outpost in the Western Pacific.

The 11th Marine Air Group at Miami, Fla., composed of about 72 jet fighters and helicopters, also was ordered to accompany the division. In addition, 900 men from Quantico were to replace men in the 3rd whose enlistments have five months or less to run.

DOG LOST

A blond cocker puppy called "Taffy" has been lost in the vicinity of Pine Grove Trailer Park. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the puppy is requested to contact Mrs. Robert Killeen, 172 Pine Grove Trailer Park, phone 5131. A reward is offered.

A real bull-story occurred here last week when a 785-pound Angus bull, belonging to Mr. H. C. Hallman of Piney Green, horned his way past Camp Lejeune sentries and eluded harrassed MP's all night before he was finally roped by three Texans on Holcomb Boulevard Friday morning.

The angry Angus broke away from Mr. Hallman's farm late Thursday night and headed straight for the middle of Camp Lejeune's Hadnot Point via the "boondocks."

Receiving the first report at 1:15 a.m. Friday, the Military Policemen spent a hectic night attempting to cow the bull into captivity. But it was a bold bovine, and the MP's finally were forced to abandon their cowboyboying.

After their noble efforts, which resulted in no bull, they called the Criminal Investigation Department here.

Texans To Rescue

At 8:30 a.m. CID dispatched three tall Texans, former cow punchers, with orders to "rope and tie the critter."

Sgt. F. J. Wamsley of Corpus Christi, T-Sgt. J. E. Womack of Dallas, and Sgt. Charles "Spike" Miller of Alice set out to rope the rampant animal and, if this failed, to shoot the bull, literally.

After an hour's chase the Texans managed to drop a long loop over the wild-eyed Angus' head. Then a two-hour-long melee ensued while the Lone Star State Marines loaded the kicking, bellowing bull into a truck.

Read the Texans' report: "Bull and owner left the base in good shape. Owner much happier than the bull."

twenty-fifth birthday on July 1 of the year in which the requirements for a degree are to be completed.

During the period of leave, which may be any one of the five years involved, the student will not receive subsidization from the government.

Midshipmen are required to participate in two summer cruises and one summer period of amphibious and aviation indoctrination. Each period of the summer training is approximately two months' duration. On graduation, NROTC students are obligated to accept commissions if offered, as ensign in the Navy, or second lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

Integration

After two years' duty they may apply for integration into the regular Navy or Marine Corps. If they do not apply, or are not accepted for career retention, they are obligated to accept Reserve commissions and may not resign prior to the eighth anniversary of the date of acceptance of their original commissions as ensign or second lieutenant.

To be eligible for acceptance in the NROTC program, passing high school level tests will be considered the equivalent of high school graduation.

All qualified enlisted personnel interested in the program can apply to their commanding officers for nomination to take the Navy College Aptitude Test.

For further information, consult BUPERS Instruction 1111. 4.

Depot Lieutenants Receive Promotions

Monday morning six Marine lieutenants who came up through the ranks were promoted to first lieutenant in a ceremony in the office of Col. P. W. John, commanding officer of Supply Depot.

The officers, all attached to Supply Depot, are: 1st Lieutenants Fred L. Thomas, Ray C. Hickey, and John D. Kerr, all with the Southern Audit and Inventory Detachment; Valentine J. Kucharczk, accountable officer, Electronics Supply; John A. Davis, accountable officer, Subsistence Section; and Edwin A. Amundson, electronics supply officer.

Hunger Is Insolent, And Will Be Fed.—Homer

Berlin's Russian zone boiled with unrest this week as 225,000 Communist German police and troops held the hungry nation at gunpoint from free American food. Unofficial Associated Press reports said that about 50,000 East Germans demonstrated against the blockade of American food being distributed from the Western-Berlin sector. Apparently, Communist-controlled Berlin is on the verge of another June 17 revolt.

During the first eight days of the 15 million dollar American free food program, 1,350,000 parcels of food were distributed. Then Communist police and troops blockaded the distribution stations, and Berlin's battle for food was on.

Thousands of Communist-governed Germans have risked their lives for seven pounds of simple foodstuffs. For parcels containing two pounds of flour, two pounds of lard, two pounds of dried peas or beans, and four small cans of condensed milk, 150 hunger riots have started, and more than 600 Germans have been arrested.

In Korea An Uneasy Quiet

And as the battle for food in Germany continues, an uneasy quiet rests over Korea as the new truce creeps into its second successful week. Now that the generals are done, the diplomats must begin in earnest, and world sentiments vary sharply as to what should now transpire on that peninsula. In Washington, D. C., Secretary of State John Foster Dulles stated unequivocally that the United States has made no automatic commitment to resume war after 90 days, but, admitted that the U. S. had agreed to walk out of conferences if they proved unproductive concerning the withdrawal of troops from Korea. In Seoul, though, President Syngman Rhee said that the U. S. had promised to take "immediate and automatic" action against the Communists if political action failed, and also warned that he intends to "go his own way" if UN negotiations break down.

England's labor party asserted that the U. S. should not quit the Korean conferences at all, and in Russia Premier Georgi M. Malenkov pledged full support to North Korea in welding national Korean unity. India's Prime Minister, Jawaharlal Nehru, said the UN must consider the views of Communist China and North Korea, and added that their admission to the UN is a prerequisite for peace in Asia. Japanese officials asked for a seat in the Korean conferences, claiming that their vast interest in Korea's fate was actually greater than Russia's.

But still two huge armies face each other across two and one-half miles of "neutral zone." And all the world watches to see what will happen, especially Formosa and Indo-China.

In this county W. J. McNeil, assistant secretary of defense in charge of the budget, cautiously predicted a one billion dollar reduction in defense spending if the Korean truce holds up. Meanwhile Lt. Gen. John B. Coulter, former deputy commander of the U. S. 8th Army in Korea and now the UN agent for Korea reconstruction, stated that it will take one billion dollars to repair that devastated republic.

In Washington A Summing Up

A record of President Eisenhower's first Congress was all but in, awaiting the end of Senator Wayne Morse's talkathon. Claimed as the administration's principal achievements are the six-month extension of the excess profit tax, a cut in over-all appropriations by 3.4 billion dollars, a year's extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act, admission of refugees over immigration quotas, appropriation of a 100 million dollar food surplus to needy nations between now and next March, and reorganization of seven governmental departments. One observer said neither party was "keenly happy or keenly unhappy." (FLY)

Marine Bombs Fall At Korean War End

The 1st Air Wing closed out its share of the Korean War when 35 minutes before the cease fire Captain Williams J. Foster Jr. dropped three 2000 - pound bombs in support of United Nations troops on the eastern front.

Last Marine jet pilot to loose bombs in North Korea was Capt. William I. Armagost, whose sortie was his hundredth mission.

The primary job of the Navy during the Civil War was blockading the 35,000 miles of Southern coastline stretching from Virginia to Texas.

Medal Of Honor Awarded To Hero Slain In Korea

WAKEFIELD, R. I. — Fifteen-year-old Reginald H. Champagne proudly accepted his brother's Medal of Honor here last week. The nation's highest military decoration for valor was presented posthumously to Cpl. David B. Champagne by Brig. Gen. R. H. Ridgely, Jr., director of personnel at Headquarters Marine Corps, representing the commandant of the Marine Corps.

Present at the ceremony was Pfc William A. Powers, of "A" Co., 1st Bn. 8th Marines, who served in Champagne's company.

Corporal Champagne, the twenty-ninth Marine to receive the Medal of Honor during the Korean fighting, was cited for gallantry and extraordinary heroism above and beyond the call of duty during an assault by his company against a strongly fortified and heavily defended enemy-held hill position in May, 1952.

Serving as a fire team leader in the 7th Marines, he led his team through a hail of intense enemy fire, overrunning trenches and bunkers in order to place his men in defensive positions at the crest of the hill.

Although painfully wounded in the leg, after the enemy counter-attacked he picked up and hurled back a hostile grenade that had landed in the midst of his team. The missile exploded as it left his hand, blowing off his hand, and throwing him out of the trench he was occupying.

Lying in an exposed position outside the trench, he was mortally wounded by enemy mortar fire. His courageous actions, according to the citation, undoubtedly saved the lives of the men in his fire team.

Chaplain's Corner

Sin is one subject that we don't seem to think enough about in this day. There seems to be something about the word that people try to avoid as they often try to get around saying a person died. They may try to soften this fact by saying "He has passed away," or some like phrase. Sin is ignored.

However, sin is very important in the life of all Christians, for it is that which cuts us off from God. It clouds the issue so that we can't see the Vision of God clearly. One of the most important elements is false pride. False pride is a most insidious thing that can take the helm in the life of a man and one of the most constant dangers in the life of all Christians.

No matter how good a job we are doing, we have to watch that we do not become self-righteous and proud for the sin of false pride can destroy our proper relationship with God. A Christian, to be effective, must be God-centered. A person who becomes too proud of his abilities and feels that he can handle the situations of himself puts the lowly Ego center of his life, so that his abilities try to supplant God's.

This is the state of many feel that they can live in God. When the test comes of such a man is he is like concrete that is not forced with steel, which is strong in any but can the job of reinforced for no inward strength.

A man with a God-center can stand the strain of life. He appears as weak as any, but the pressure is put upon him will not crack, for he has stronger than himself to in the hour of trial.—Chaplain R. Hardman, 2nd Sigs.

WM Maneuvers

BY CPL ELOISE TURNER

The new officer in charge of the Woman Marine NCO Leadership School here is Capt. Elaine T. Carville.

When Captain Carville reported aboard for duty recently she was a first lieutenant but last week she had her captain's bars pinned on in a promotion ceremony in the office of Col. R. J. Straub, commanding officer of H&S Bn., MB.

Prior to assuming her present duties with the leadership school, the captain served for one year as commanding officer of Co. "D", Headquarters Bn., Henderson Hall, Washington, D. C.

In 1943, when WM's were WR's, Captain Carville entered the Marine Corps and served until 1946, when the WR's were demobilized, as Special Services Officer for women at Cherry Point.

In September 1949 Captain Carville returned to active duty. Since that time she has served with the I & I Staff, 4th Infantry Bn., Minneapolis; as an instructor for the Women Officers Training Class at Quantico; and also as Administrative Officer of the Landing Force Development Center.

Her last tour of duty before reporting to Headquarters Marine Corps was with the Office of Procurement in Chicago.

After graduating from the Plaquemine (La.) High School, Captain Carville enrolled at Northwestern State Teachers College where she received a Bachelor of Arts degree. Later she entered Louisiana State University, where she earned her Master's Degree in education.

Party Raises Funds For Sitting Service

Officers' wives and their guests gathered at the Officers Mess last week for a fund-raising party for the Paradise Point Sitting Service. Money raised will be used to buy electric fans for the Service.

The following new hours have been slated for the Sitting Service: Tuesday — 8:30 a.m.-11:30 p.m.; Wednesday through Friday — 12:30 p.m.-11:30 p.m.; Saturday — 12:30 p.m.-1 a.m.; and Sunday — 12:30 p.m.-11:30 p.m. The Sitting Service is closed all day Mondays.

Staff Wives Club Meets Next Thurs.

Next Thursday the Staff NCO Wives Club will meet at the Community Bldg. at Midway Park for its regular weekly meeting from 8:30 to 11 p.m.

Discussion of several entertainment programs is on the Thursday agenda. Transportation can be arranged for by contacting Mrs. Bobby Godowitz, 2449 Tarawa Blvd, Tarawa Terrace.

The Navy's first large-scale amphibious assault of World War II was the landing in Morocco-Algeria on November 8, 1942.

Captain Carville relieved 1st Lt. Jane Connell, who transferred to the 3rd Recruit Training Bn., Parris Island, as officer in charge of the school.

First To Go

The first Woman Marine, since the activation of WM Co. here in October 1950, who is being released on expiration of enlistment who will return to civilian life, leaves Camp Lejeune today. She's Sgt. Marie Connor, a Reserve who came on active duty almost four years ago.

Last year, after completing a three-year enlistment, Sergeant Connor extended for one year. She was attached to the general supply section, Supply Depot.

MCI Opens Art Contest For All Hands

All Marines, regular and Reserve, may enter the fourth annual Marine Corps Institute Art Contest which opened Saturday. Contestants may enter any number of pieces of art that are original in conception and execution.

Entries must be identified by name, rank, service number, address, and judging category on the back of each entry. All work should be wrapped securely and clearly marked with a return address. Articles are to be mailed to: Art Contest, c/o Director, Marine Institute, Washington 3, D. C.

The contest is divided into six classes: illustrations, portrait, figure, landscapes, poster, and cartoons. Entries may be in any medium but must not exceed 18 by 24 inches in size. They may be submitted without frames or any kind of mats unless the entry plus the mat are within maximum size limits.

Artists whose work will be included in the novice category are those who have not attended art school for more than a year and who have not had any professional or "paid" experience. Marines taking MCI art courses will be considered in the novice category unless they request otherwise. All other entrants will be considered in the advanced group.

Prizes will be awarded in all classes. "Leatherneck" magazine reserves the right to purchase publication rights for any entry selected for reproduction. Any publication rights that are purchased through not necessarily for prize winners, will be reproduced at any time the publisher desires.

Quantico Dumps Point To Snare Coast Crow

Flyers Fold After Edging Camp, 2-1, In Crucial Mat

Camp Lejeune sat helplessly by as Quantico clinched East Coast Marine baseball championship Saturday night, toppling Cherry Point, 4-1, behind ace Jack Thomas.

Most of the Lejeune players traveled to the Marine station with hopes of seeing the Flyers pull an upset and more boost Lejeune into a first place.

Skeet Team Fires Way To National Championship

RENO, Nev.—The Camp Lejeune skeet team blasted 1234 out of a possible 1250 targets to win the National Team Championship at the Fifteenth Annual National Skeet Tournament here Monday.

Prior to their recent victory, the Marine skeet shooters had won every tournament they had entered this year, setting the five-man team world skeet record.

CWO D. L. Lawson finished third in the National All-Gauge Championships. The Lejeune Marine had finished in a three-way tie for first place with Ed Castagnetto, former national champ, and Capt. C. A. Bagley of Westover Air Force Base, Mass. The three shooters had downed 250 straight targets in three days. Bagley won the championship in a shoot-off.

But Cherry Point was in of rising to the heights second time within a week. Flyers had been superlating Lejeune, 2-1, Thursday night. Thursday's upset h Lejeune one-half game Quantico and set the Vir in the driver's seat.

Ben Johnson, Lejeune's pitcher, took the rap for loss, which, in the final turned out to be the "key" Miss Chance

Trailing, 2-0, going eighth, Lejeune flubbed its opportunity of the game. batter, Don Brown, whacked run over the left field fence the third hit off Dick Deloer George Dingler lined to Ed Kababek and Johnson base on errors. Nev. Pelle for Johnson, and "Chico" quez' bloop single loaded the with only one out.

Ray Semproch relieved and delivered a very five relief performance. ped a strike pass Dave and then forced Jim Ryan to short.

Cherry Point scored once fifth on Jim Kay's single, by "Chico" Rodriguez in field, and Lew Rotundi's sixth the first two Flyers, "Rip" Collins and Joe reached base via infield hit. Remsa then lined a single and Collins headed home.

The peg from the outfield Collins beaten, but the Point stop slid hard into catcher Dingler, forcing him to drop ball.

The Thursday and Saturday games, which decided the ionship, overshadowed Bob brilliant 6-0 shutout Wednesday his twentieth win of the which put Lejeune into place deadlock.

He allowed a single third, a triple in the fourth a double in the eighth, only time he was in was the fifth, when two and an error loaded the with one out. He worked out of the jam by easily r the next two batters.

Lejeune capitalized on rows and nine hits, against Stewart and Bob Deeds Campers scored twice in the three times in the sixth, all in the seventh.

BANG-UP JOB—The Camp Lejeune skeet team, already possessor of the five-man team world skeet record, added another to its laurels by winning the National Skeet Shoot at Reno, Nev., July 27 through August 2. Left to right the hot shots are: 1st Lt. H. B. Stowers, CWO J. A. Martin, 1st Lt. J. J. Stoffa, MSgt. Frank Heidt, and Capt. B. E. Loos. CWO D. L. Lawson, who finished third in the National Individual Championship, was not present when the picture was taken (Official USMC Photo).

Baseballers Girding For Final Stand

Camp Lejeune baseball fans get their last opportunity to see the Marine nine in action when the home season closes with games against Fort Meade Monday and Tuesday nights. Starting time will be 8 p. m.

After the two-game series, Lejeune switches names and becomes the Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, team for purposes of the Atlantic Fleet tournament, starting August 17 at Norfolk, Va.

Double victories at the expense of the Meade Generals would give Camp Lejeune a 70 won-15 lost mark, probably one of the outstanding records in the country.

The departure of Ben Johnson, Lejeune's number-two hurler, will probably mean the promotion of fastballing "Chuck" Chronopoulos.

Although lefty Bob Reich has been rated third on the staff all season, he currently is hampered by back miseries and there is (See BASEBALLERS, Page 7)

Division's Intramural Boxing Bouts Swing Off In Fist-Filled Flurries

Nine TKO's, one KO, and three decisions was the outcome of the opening round of the 2nd Division's Intramural Boxing Tournament Monday night at the Goettge Memorial Field House. The finals, held last night too late to meet the GLOBE's deadline, decided Division representatives in the coming camp championships, to be held August 12 through 17.

The fourth contest Monday saw Bob Rigsby, 134-pound lightweight from Hq. Bn., go up against Don Davis, 134, of 8th Marines. Both men gave all they had, but Davis grabbed the edge in the final round and came out with the decision, one point separating the men in the judge's scoring.

The thirteenth match, the most action-packed of the evening pitted Fred Rube, 161-pound middleweight from the 10th Marines, against Jim Crawford, 167, Sixth Marines. Both Rube and Crawford had won bouts previously in the evening.

From the opening bell the two traded punch for punch. In the third Crawford started to tire and Rube cut loose with an assortment of rights and lefts that started his opponent going down, but the bell sounded and ended the round. Rube was given a unanimous decision.

Other action: Al Carmichael, 164, Service Bn., TKO'd Herman Petzold, 162, 8th Marines, in 1:05 of the first. Fred Rube, 161, 10th Marines, TKO'd Tom Thomas, 163, 2nd Ordnance Bn., in 1:05 of the third. Jim Crawford, 167, 6th Marines, KO'd (See DIVISION'S, Page 7)

10th Marines Pace Intramural Softball Tournament Play

A four-run explosion in the sixth inning gave the 10th Marines a 5-1 win over Force Troops' 8th Tanks Tuesday afternoon and shoved the artillery men a notch further in the winners' bracket in the Camp Intramural Softball Tournament.

As of Tuesday the Cannoneers were the only team to have won two games. They beat Hq. Co. of Marine Barracks, 8-1, on the opening day of the tournament to go along with their victory over 8th Tanks.

The Tankmen had protected a slim 1-0 lead until the sixth, when timely base hits and poor support led to their defeat. The Division club sent nine men to the plate in the attack, which produced five hits and two costly Force Troops errors.

Medics Top Weapons The other team in the winners' bracket, the Field Medical Service School of Marine Barracks, won its first game by beating Automatic Weapons Tuesday morning, 3-1. The Weapons men from Camp Geiger defeated the 2nd Marines in the other game on Monday, 2-0.

Games in the losers' bracket pitted Hq. Co. of Marine Barracks against Automatic Weapons yesterday morning and 8th Tanks against the 2nd Marines in the afternoon.

The winners of these two games play this morning to determine who will face the winner of the 10th Marines-Field Medical Service School match this afternoon.

The finalists will play a game tomorrow morning and, if necessary, one in the afternoon, to determine the champion.

NRA Shoot Dominated By Marines

Almost 200 shooters from the southeastern region of the country are participating in the National Rifle Association Regional High-Power Rifle Championships, sponsored by Marine Barracks, which started at the Rifle Range Monday and winds up today.

The matches opened Monday afternoon with the Free Rifle Match, in which the members of the All-Marine Rifle Team prevailed, taking four of the first six places. Lt. Col. Walter R. Walsh won the event with a score of 494 x 600. Second place went to MSgt. Jacob Sveta, U. S. Army, Fort Benning, Ga., with 479 x 600.

Tuesday morning the first of the five matches which together will determine the Regional Championship started off with the Army taking the first four places in Match 2, slow fire at 200 yards.

about this time, "Leatherneck" Magazine starts collecting data on all Marine baseball players. With this info in hand, "Leatherneck" sports staff proceeds to pick the official All-Marine team. It is published sometime during the basketball season. Due to their inability to see many games, "Leatherneck" sports staff picks their team on the basis of figures, which don't always tell the whole story. And if "Leatherneck," which, I believe, never will see Lejeune play this season, can pick an All-Marine team we feel that we can at least make a stab at picking the best East Coast aggregation.

The first thing selectors attempt to do when picking in as small a group as the five East Coast teams is to make sure that every team is represented. But, going through the lists, we couldn't find any open spots for the Parris Island team, which, with another set of players, was the selections last season. The closest PI comes is with Rollie Santos, who came fast in the latter part of the season. He doesn't rate with the top three.

Two Exceptions

Of the 11 men on the squad only one Cherry Pointer pitcher, Ed Hart, and one Miami MCAS starter, outfielder Roy Smalley, are mythical squad. The other nine positions are divided between Quantico, Quantico taking five spots!

The hardest decision to make was at first. Both Lejeune's Daskalakis and Quantico's Frank Seastrand are first-rate and in this case the word "great" is not misused. And, in a mid-200's batting average, he led Lejeune in the very best batting column.

On the other hand, is only a fair fielder. But he leads the East Coast Marines in homers and his batting average has been unimpaired, despite some recent slumping. On the premise that any of the deficiencies more than made up by his booming bat, the East Coast first baseman goes to Seastrand.

Krings and Brown

For Krings was a surprisingly easy choice at second, although he was not all that good. Brown was the only third baseman returned out to be a standout, and he proved a valuable asset in the field and at bat.

Krings' competition came from Quantico's Tom Venditelli. He feels Krings was the best around last season and haven't changed our minds. He had another big season at the plate, and he did well in the field. Bobby Knight, Quantico, on slightly better hitting beat out Ed Kababek, Lejeune, at short.

In addition to Smalley, Lejeune's Paul Donovan and Quantico's Smalley make up the outfield. Both .300 hitters, they beat out "Chico" Rodriguez, who is the most improved player in the league.

Lejeune's Bob Grim, Quantico's Jack Thomas, and Stewart make up the pitching staff. Grim is the best of the three and the one to win twenty games. Grim also gets the nod as the most valuable player, based on his brilliant record (20-4) and the fact that he was called on to pitch Lejeune's crucial games.

The catcher's post goes to Hal Naragon, who shows his major league ability every time he takes the field.

It makes a good team. Plenty of .300 hitters, power, fine and tremendous pitching. Any manager, in the Marine Corps, would like to work with this crew.

NRA Shoot

E. Malone, Fort Benning, took the shoot with 98x100 V's. Capt. M. O. Belsion, my Team, tied Malone, placed second when he was shot shoot-off to the winning representative. The Marines came back to themselves as the dominators in the third and fourth matches, leaving the Army only fourth place in each event.

R. Carpenter, a member of the Marine Team, took first place in Match 3, 200 yards, 100 x 100 (14 V's). CWO J. E. el, 2nd Division, tied with but had to take second in a five-string shoot-off. Lt. S. G. Miller, 2nd Division, placed third with 100 x 100

Marine Trio
The first three places in Match 4 were taken by MSgt. J. A. Davis, All-Marine Team, with 100 x 100 V's. MSgt. V. F. Miller, 2nd Division, 100 x 100 V's, and SSGT. R. N. Black, 1st Air Detachment, Crane, 100.

In the third and fourth matches, the Marines placed first in the regional record as record holders in either match ever has included in Southeastern Division Championships before. 200 shooters entering the matches, over one-half were at least a quarter soldier and the remainder civilians.

Femme Contingent
Women Marines from Cherry Point and Mrs. S. K. Johnson, of the Village, Va., considered the foremost woman shooter in the southeastern region, were among the female entrants. Mrs.

Johnson walked off with all the women's trophies for matches 2, 3, and 4 Tuesday.

Mr. Clement Hensley, here with the Norfolk Naval Shipyard Rifle Team, took all the civilian honors in the three matches with scores of 94 x 100, 90 x 100, and 98 x 100, respectively.

In all, the Championships are composed of seven fired matches and two aggregate matches.

To Camp Perry

The winner of the Regional Championship, an aggregate of Matches 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, will receive a free trip to the National High-Power Rifle Championships to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio. The International Aggregate Match is composed of the total score of Matches 2 and 6. The winners of both matches will be determined after the shooting is completed today.

Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general; Maj. Gen. George F. Good Jr., commanding general, 2nd Division; Brig. Gen. Matthew C. Horner, deputy president of the Joint Landing Force Board; Brig. Gen. Francis B. Loomis Jr., commanding general, Force Troops; and Col. Perry D. Swindler, U. S. Army (ret.), official NRA referee, will present the regional winners with their trophies this afternoon at the Rifle Range.

ATTENTION GRIDDERS

All football candidates, including spring practice hold-overs, are requested to see Maj. "Biff" Crawley, head football coach, Monday at 1 p.m. at the Goettge Memorial Field House, Hadnot Point.

SWISS MOVEMENT—MSgt. F. B. Conway Jr., a member of the all-Army team, watches for his target to be marked after firing a sighting-in shot. The rifle he is holding is a Swiss-made Hammerly '06, complete with a Schuetzen-type butt plate, palm rest, and cheek rest, and weighing 18 pounds. Sergeant Conway fired the Hammerly in the Free Rifle Match Monday, the opening shoot of the NRA Regional High-Power Rifle Championships, but failed to place (Official USMC Photo).

Callahan - Jakacs Combo Cops First In Links Tourney

A pair of golfing sergeants, P. J. Callahan and M. J. Jakacs, combined to fire a 59 to take first place honors in the "Best Ball Of Partners" tournament at the Paradise Point Golf Course Sunday.

Maj. A. W. Soupious and Capt. W. S. Anthony nabbed second with a 61, followed by Dr. E. W. Murphy and Lt. W. W. Lee who finished third with a 62. Capt. G. M. Olaszewski and CWO B. W. Konopa scored a combined 63, good for fourth place. Forty-four contestants entered.

At the halfway mark of the two-month "Ringer" tournament, Capt. Eugene R. Hering leads the Class A golfers and CWO "Windy" Windham heads Class B.

Continuing the tournament - a week policy, the Golf Committee has scheduled an "Alibi" tournament for the weekend. In this tournament, a player will be able to recall one shot, and replay it, if desired, on each hole.

little reason to believe he will regain his effectiveness by the time the "Fleets" roll around.

Jim Waugh will be around for the Meade games to help out and Nevio "Ski" Pelleschi will be ready to work.

Meade, although it possesses good hitting, has little top-flight pitching, and isn't rated one of the better teams in the east.

Fall Football Drills Draw 75 Hopefuls

Monday heralded the beginning of fall football practice here as approximately 75 candidates answered the call for preliminary workouts sounded by head coach Maj. J. C. "Biff" Crawley.

The initial workouts are preliminary ones only and the candidates are being thoroughly screened by Crawley and his assistants during the first week with no contact work or scrimmaging scheduled.

The second week of drill will be devoted to organized practice, using the players that were accepted from the first week. Rough work will start in the middle of the week with a scrimmage scheduled for the latter part.

Starting August 17 holdovers from spring training will integrate with the earlier prospects and contact and body workouts will begin in earnest. Crawley hopes to have the squad trimmed down to about 50 men by August 24 about ten more than he plans to carry this season.

The latter part of August and the first two weeks in September should find the club polishing offensive and defensive plays. A practice game has been slated with Fort Bragg during the first week in September and Lejeune will take on North Carolina State in controlled scrimmage September 9 through 11.

Thirteen years ago, when the original survey of Camp Lejeune was being conducted, Edward H. Cole, a native of Durham, N. C., came to Onslow County and Jacksonville to start business. He forsook the business possibilities that grow simultaneously with the founding of a military community.

Mr. Cole is a small man in stature, perhaps in his early seventies, with a weather-creased face and bright eyes, and is the owner of several large and lucrative businesses in this area.

Most recent of his business transactions was the excavating of two lakes about three and a half miles northeast of Lejeune's Main Gate, near Piney Green, in July of last year. These two lakes, called Lake Cole, are about an acre and a half large each, ten feet deep, and stocked to capacity with carp, catfish, and bream.

Last September Mr. Cole imported 5,990 pounds of carp and catfish from Lake Mattamuskeel for his lakes. Six weeks ago he brought in 2,700 pounds more, and two weeks ago added a mere 920 pounds of the bottom fish. Four thousand head of bream, mostly fingerlings, have been planted in his lakes. Mr. Cole claims that some of the carp weigh 30 pounds, and a few of the cats will tilt the scales at 20.

Prizes By Sizes

Each week cash prizes for the first, second, and third largest fish are awarded. Anyone can fish at Lake Cole and no license is necessary. It costs a dollar to fish from daylight to 5 p. m., and another dollar to angle from 5 until midnight. The lake is electrically lighted for nighttime fishing, and a picnic area is available to anyone, free.

All fishing at Lake Cole is done from the banks of the lake, which have been especially cleared and shaped for fishing.

Above George Cole and his father, Edward, transplant a recent load of carp and catfish into Lake Cole, actually two artificial lakes near Piney Green, which have been hand stocked with 9,610 pounds of grown carp and catfish, as well as 4,000 head of fingerling bream (Photo by M. B. McCaskill).

'Sugar Blues' King's Combo Hits Lejeune

Sweet listening's in store for Lejeune music lovers August 17, when Clyde McCoy and his band raise cane—"Sugar Blues" variety—at the Camp Theater and Marston Pavilion.

The master of the mute will take up his trumpet first at the theater, playing an admission-free show from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. After that the McCoy menage will meander to Marston, setting up shop for a dance from 9 p.m. to midnight. Uniform of the day or appropriate civilian clothing must be worn for the dance.

Waxing exclusively for Capitol, McCoy is the creator of one of America's most imitated records. His styling of "Sugar Blues" has sold over 3,000,000 discs and, in addition, McCoy even has recorded a "Sugar Blues Boogie."

Clyde's combo accents danceability, playing blues, waltzes, Latin-American numbers, and swing with equal ease.

'Stormy Weather' Man Plays O' Club

Dean Hudson and his orchestra will open a two-day engagement at Paradise Point Officers Mess by playing for a dance Saturday, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The following day the orchestra will furnish music for a tea dance at the club from 4 to 6 p.m., and in the evening the Hudson men will climax their engagement with two hours of dinner music, beginning at 6:30.

Hudson, son of T. N. Brown, famous trumpeter for John Philip Sousa's band, has made such recording hits as "Stormy Weather." He also holds the distinction of being the first dance band to be heard and seen transcontinentally over TV's coaxial cable.

Supply Nines Move Ahead In Marine Barracks Action

Supply Depot and Supply School drew farther away from the rest of the pack in Marine Barracks intramural baseball last week as each team won two games and H&S Bn. slipped to the rear, absorbing two setbacks in the week's activity.

The depot eased past H&S Bn., 5-3, and picked up a win by forfeit over Engineer School, which dropped from the league last month. Supply School further greased the skids for H&S by blanking it, 6-0, and kept pace with the depot with a rousing 16-1 win over the Rifle Range.

In other league activity, the Air Facility split a pair of forfeits, picking up a game from Engineer School and losing to Naval Hospital by default due to a quirk in the schedule.

Only two more playing dates remain before the camp intramural baseball championships begin, and it is unlikely that the depot or Supply School will be overtaken. The first and second-place finishers will represent Marine Barracks in the fight for the camp baseball crown.

WM'S Wrap Up Softball Season, Blasting Norfolk

Coach "Whitey" Langerud's Woman Marine softball team closed its season here Friday with another victory, 14-0, over the Norfolk NAS WAVE's. The Lejeune WM's have a season record of 16 wins and two and two losses.

The Marines jumped off to an early lead in the first inning when they dented the plate for seven runs. Irene Dionne, right fielder, scored with a grand slam home run, her first round tripper of the year.

Fran Grey took the loss for the WAVE's allowing eight hits, three walks, and striking out three. Rita Cohen and Angie Darby split the pitching chores for Lejeune, with Cohen receiving credit for the win. Between them they allowed a total of only four hits.

Heroism In Korea Wins Navy Crosses For Two Marines

Navy Crosses recently were awarded on the West Coast to two Marines for Korean combat heroism.

One went to Sgt. Nils V. Ingemansson, a former 5th Marines squad leader, who came to this country from Sweden in 1948, and the other was awarded to Pfc Billy J. Bowerman of the 1st Marines.

Ingemansson was credited with holding, singlehandedly, a bunker which was the key to his unit's position at the time, and killing 15 enemy troops, while armed with a hand grenade and rifle.

Painfully wounded, armed only with grenades, Pfc Bowerman put an enemy machine gun out of commission, was wounded again, refused aid, and waited until other casualties had been removed.
