Former MCS Colonel New Baks Chief of Staff

Henry Reid Paige was appointed Chief of Staff for Marine Corps last week. Col. Samuel S. Ballen is now Camp Inspector. Paige was here last month from Camp Lejeune, Va., where he served as Chief of the Tactics and Training Board, Marine Corps Center, since 1950. Paige officially was Camp Chief of Staff last week.

Ex - Servicemen Offered Positions By Two Companies

Two more industries have written Camp Lejeune concerning the employment of Marines who are about to be discharged.

The Frost Lumber Industries, division of Olin Industries, one of the country's largest corporations, is instituting a new training program for sales personnel, starting September 1.

Any Marines being discharged or released prior to that date, who are interested in sales work, can contact the Camp Personal Affairs Officer at the Camp Theater for more detailed information and application blanks.

The other manufacturer which wants to receive applications from ex-Marines is the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co. No specific job opportunities have been set forth, but the company is interested mainly in applications from men in the engineering and skilled machine trade fields. Camp Personal Affairs Officer has details.

Probable Up Foreseen In 'K' Rotation

Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps, last week announced that in view of the truce in Korea, the Marine Corps plans to conduct the future rotation of Marines from Korea on a "stretch-out" basis.

"Current rotation policy," the commandant explained, "provides that combat Marines serve approximately 11 months in Korea. It is expected that this tour will be increased gradually during the next few months.

"By about March 1954," he went on, "it is anticipated that most Marines will be serving on 14-month tours in Korea, while 16-month tours may finally be established, if such extension of Korean service proves necessary.

"The 'stretch-out' rotation policy continues the practice under which all Marines due for discharge are returned to the United States in ample time for their scheduled separation from the service," the commandant concluded.

Lejeune Gets Pat On Back From CMC

The commandant of the Marine Corps, Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., in a recent letter to Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commandant, expressed his "pleasure and satisfaction" with this base during his tour of inspection here July 29 through August 2.

General Shepherd emphasized that he was pleased to note the "harmonious relationships and spirit of cooperation existing between the various commands stationed at Camp Lejeune."

"I am returning to Washington," he continued, "with a feeling of renewed confidence that the Marine Corps forces at Camp Lejeune are in a high state of readiness and efficiency."

General Linscott, in commenting on the letter, said that he appreciated the "splendid achievements and devoted efforts" on the part of his command during the period of inspection. It was this, he added, which "elicited the (commandant's) letter."

Veterans Retain Civil Service Jobs

Korean veterans who held federal jobs when they entered service can have their old jobs back, or receive similar assignments, no matter whether they had permanent or indefinite tenure.

The Civil Service Commission has issued a new regulation covering this situation. Korean veterans previously had restoration rights only if they had left permanent-type jobs. To qualify, veterans must be honorably discharged and make application within 90 days after leaving the service. (APPS)

Marines Set New Record; Take Six Of Nine Firsts

The National Rifle Association Regional High-Power Rifle Championships came to a surprising climax here Thursday when three Marine Rifle Teams broke the national record for Match 7, a four-man team shoot fired from the 200, 300, and 600-yard lines.

Promotions Given En Masse To EM Starting October

Promotion of a total of 1343 Marines to staff sergeant and above will be announced in October, and approximately 63,500 Pfc's and corporals will receive rank raises starting in October and continuing through February, according to the "Navy Times."

All promotions will be temporary advancements resulting from the service-wide tests held in May and June.

A breakdown of promotions reveals that there will be 146 new master sergeants, 386 technical sergeants, 811 staff sergeants, and approximately 19,000 sergeants and 44,500 corporals.

Mich. World War II Vet Bonus Extended

Veterans of World War II, who are residents of Michigan and are still in the service, or who were disabled during the war, may still apply for that state's bonus payment.

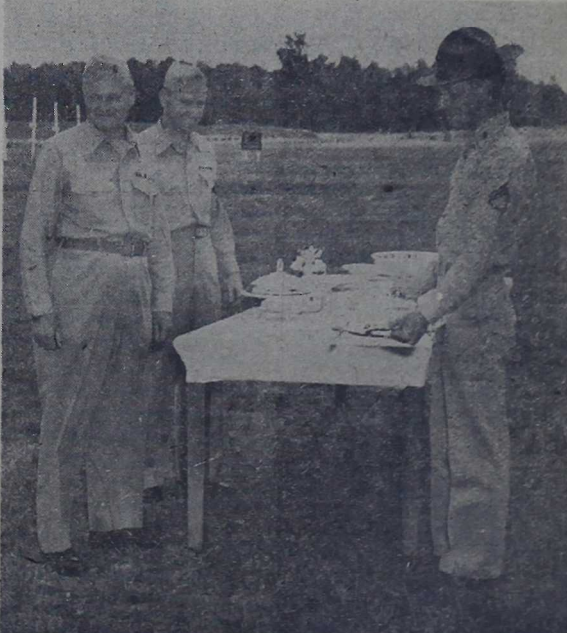

Originally scheduled to expire on May 31, 1953, the bonus act has been extended to June 1, 1956.

Marine Rifle Team 3, composed of MSgt. Robert A. Newton, SSgt. Howard Hucks, SSgt. Robert A. Blackett, and Sgt. Robert L. Arnaud, all members of the All-Marine Rifle Team, broke the old record of 968 x 1000 by ten points, firing 978 x 1000 to take first place. Marine Team 1 took second - place honors with 974 x 1000, and Marine Team 2, third place with 972 x 1000.

Of the 32 teams competing, 23 were male Marines, seven Army, one civilian, and one female, the Woman Marine Team from Cherry Point. In the team shoot, Match 7, Marine teams took the first 14 places, with the exception of fourth, which was won by Army Team 2.

Marines dominated the matches throughout, taking six of the championships' nine first places—there were seven fired matches and two aggregate matches—and the Regional Championship title, won by SSgt. Don L. Smith, a member of the All-Marine Rifle Team, with a score of 489x500 and 50 "V's." Capt. M. O. Belson, U. S. Army, Fort Eustis, Va., followed close behind Smith to place second with 489 x 500 and 49 "V's."

? INQUIRING ? PHOTOGRAPHER

Why did you enroll in the Marine Corps Institute, and what do you hope to get out of your MCI course?

PFC M. W. ATKINSON, HQ. CO., H & S Bn., M. B. — I'm a former college student, having attended Johnson C. Smith University, Charlotte, N. C., for one year, and hope to go back to school under the GI Bill when I get out of the service. I am taking a general chemistry course through the Marine Corps Institute in order to gain a basic knowledge in science because my college major is biology. Sometimes it is very difficult to get much out of a course in science without a lab, though.

CPL. FRED A. DEMARCO, 2ND MEDICAL Bn., — I enrolled in the Marine Corps Institute to take a course in photography because I hope to go into that business after I'm discharged. I became interested in photography while overseas, and have no basic experience in the field at all. Therefore, I know I'll have to attend a photography school when I get out, and this course is giving me a fundamental knowledge of photography which will be of great value when I start school.

SGT. NORMAN H. WELSER, 2ND MEDICAL Bn., — I am taking an automotive mechanics course through the Marine Corps Institute in order to gain a better understanding of the field. I'm in motor transport now, and this course has helped me to do a better job in the Marine Corps. I plan to continue in this work when I get out, and I will be better prepared for it because the course has furthered my practical knowledge in the automotive field. MCI means a lot when you haven't had the opportunity to go to a college or trade school.

CPL. EDWIN E. MEALS, 2ND TANK Bn., — I'm taking an MCI course on the principles of business law. I hope to have my own music studio when I get out and I want to get a little background which will help me in running such an establishment. I'll have to have a basic knowledge of business law in order to run it successfully, and the Marine Corps Institute is the solution. MCI offers exceptional subject material for a correspondence course, and it's giving me the business know-how I need.

Units Eligible For New PUC Announced By Headquarters

Headquarters Marine Corps has made public the official text of the 1st Division's fifth Presidential Unit Citation and the names of units entitled to that award. The citation, for extraordinary heroism in the bitter Chosin Reservoir campaign of November and December 1950, makes the 1st Division the most frequently cited unit in the Armed Forces.

Announcement of the award was made in May, but the official text of the citation was not signed by the Secretary of the Navy until August 5, when the list of attached units was completed. Marines, soldiers, and sailors who fought with these units from November 27 to December 11, 1950, will be entitled to wear the Presidential Unit Citation ribbon.

The reinforced 1st Division was fighting at the left flank of the 10th Army Corps when the Chinese Communists made their first full-scale entry into the Korean fighting with a massive counterattack on November 27-28 against the 8th Army and 10th Corps.

Ordered To Withdraw

After a daring assault aimed at cutting enemy communications with forces attacking the 8th Army, the 1st Division was ordered to withdraw in the face of tremendous pressure in the Chosin Reservoir area. The two weeks of fighting which followed were probably the bitterest of the entire Korean war.

As small garrisons at Hagaru-ri and Koto-ri held those vital towns against repeated enemy attacks, the division fought its way to them and from them on to Chinhung-ni and Hamhung.

Despite sub-zero temperatures, twisting, icy mountain roads and the enemy's overwhelming numerical superiority, the division emerged with its wounded, its guns and equipment, its prisoners, and its fighting heart. In the process it shattered seven enemy divisions and elements of three others, ruining the enemy's effectiveness for a considerable time.

Four Others

The 1st Division earned its other Presidential Unit Citations at Guadalcanal, Peleliu, and Okinawa in World War II, and at the Inchon landing in Korea.

The 1st Division, except for the following units is entitled to the award:

The Detachment Hq. Bn.; Detachment 1st Signal Bn.; Detachment 1st Service Bn.; Detachment Hq. and Companies A and C, 1st Tank Bn.; Automotive Supply Co., 1st Motor Transport Bn.; Automotive Maintenance Co., 1st Motor Transport Bn.; Detachment 1st Ordnance Bn.; Detachment Hq. and Co. A, 1st Medical Bn.; 1st Shore Party Bn.; and the 45th Rocket Btry., and Service Btry., 4th Bn., 11 Marines.

Companies A and B of the 7th Motor Transport Bn., and the Detachment Radio Relay Platoon, which were attached to the 1st Division, are included in the award. Attached Army units entitled to it are:

The Provisional Bn (Detachments, 31st and 32nd Regimental Combat Teams); Co. D, 10th Engineer Combat Bn.; Tank Co., 31st Infantry Regiment; Hq. Co., 31st Infantry Regiment; Co. B, 1st Bn., 31st Infantry Regiment, 2 Bn., 31st Infantry Regiment (less Co. E); and the 185th Engineer Combat Bn. (less Co. A).

Reserve Summer Training Program Nears Completion

The Reserve summer training program here nears its end as the largest group of Reserves to train here this year left after finishing their two-week stint last week end and a new group composed of 11 Reserve units arrived in a prelude to the final period in the program.

Units that arrived here this past week end were: 1st 155mm Howitzer Btry., Newport, R. I.; 3rd 105 Howitzer Bn., Birmingham, Ala.; 1st 90 mm Gun Bn., Free-manburg, Penna.; 1st 90 mm Gun Btry., Augusta, Me.; 1st Depot Supply Bn., Norfolk, Va.; 1st Ordnance Field Maintenance Co., Columbia, Penna.; 2nd Ordnance Field Maintenance Co., Rock Island, Ill.

Also the 3rd Ordnance Field Maintenance Co., Lawrence, Mass.; 1st Signal Field Maintenance Co., Fort Schuyler, N. Y.; Woman Marine Classification Platoon, of the 1st Air-Naval Gunfire Liaison Co., Fort Schuyler, N. Y.; and the Woman Marine Classification Platoon of the 1st Engineer Bn., Baltimore, Md.

Reserve units that left are: 2nd 155 mm Bn., Providence, R. I.; 10th Automatic Weapons Bn., Kansas City, Mo.; 90mm Gun Bn., Indianapolis, Ind.; 2nd Signal Co., Brooklyn, N. Y.; 3rd Signal Field Maintenance Co., Chicago, Ill.; 5th Supply Co., Huntington, N. Y.; 2nd Truck Co., Augusta, Ga.; 5th Truck Co., Port Newark, N. J.; 2nd Depot Supply Bn., Philadelphia, Penna., and its two Woman Marine platoons, the WM Supply Platoon and the WM Disbursing Platoon; and the Woman Marine Disbursing Platoon, Tampa, Fla.

SEA DUTY—A veteran sailboat man, Sgt. Wayne D. Greenlee spends much of his off-duty time at the Wallace Creek Boat Club teaching the intricacies of handling jib and boom to interested pupils of the 10th Marines. Here he points out a maneuver to a pupy, while handling the tiller of a 19-foot Lightning skiff across the waters of New River (Official USMC Photo).

Sgt. Greenlee Handles Helm Of Division's Sailing Club

A "solidier of the sea" is teaching men how to sail on a river here.

The salt water soldier with the fresh water duty is a 2nd Division Leatherneck who has been leading a pretty acquatic life since he traded his tricycle for a rowboat. Normally a wireman with the 10th Marines, Sgt. Wayne D. Greenlee is spending most of the summer months plying the waters of the New River.

Greenlee's warm weather career on the water began a couple of months ago when Col. Donald M. Weller, then commanding the regiment, decided that the men of his command would benefit by the services of a water-wise seadog with a yen for sailing.

Greenlee was quickly chosen for the job, for, though he is a Leatherneck ground-trooper, he has been interested in boating ever since he was old enough to lift an oar.

Water Skier Too

Born and raised at Lake Francis, near Tampa, Fla., Greenlee spent most of his leisure hours as a youth boating either at the seashore, up and down rivers, or on nearby inland lakes. Besides being a boating enthusiast, the soft-spoken Floridian is an expert water skier.

Greenlee takes his job seriously. Making good use of the boating skills learned at home, he demonstrates daily the art of sailing before the tricky and skirting the ever sandbars.

Using the 19-foot Lightning sailboats at Wallace Creek Boat Club, Greenlee says it takes pupils from three to six weeks to learn the art of sailing well to take out a boat themselves.

"The mechanics of sailing are easy to learn, but the important part is to learn what your boat is in any given situation you've got it made."

Greenlee, who attended the University of Florida before enlisting in the Marine Corps, plans to return to the university to study civil engineering in the present tour of duty.

He's also going to build a sailboat.

Military Quota Manpower-Wise Led By Nevada

Nevada, the nation's most sparsely populated state, is the contributor to the Armed Forces in ratio to its total population.

According to Progress and Statistics, Office of the Secretary of Defense, 5000 served in Nevada as their home as of January 1, 1950. Considering the 160,000 population, 1950 census, Nevada out of every 32, 1 percent, is a member of the Armed Forces.

However, the Armed Forces are in constant change of a turnover of personnel. Percentage figures below have been tabulated by the Armed Forces Service and are unofficial.

On the same basis, the state in population, Nevada has 2.04 percent of its total in service. Ratios in other sparsely populated states are: Pennsylvania, slightly less than 2 percent; Illinois, 2.0 percent; California, 2.1 percent.

Close to Nevada, percent are Alabama and North Carolina with roughly 2.7 each. The trend would indicate less population states have relatively more men and women in service.

Texas, which boasted a 2.6 time ratio, still ranks in the brackets with 2.6 percent.

Southern states, which traditionally furnished a large portion of military manpower in Pearl Harbor days, have recently leveled off to about the nation's average.

GO, ILL. — Leathernecks of the 1st Marine Division in Korea last night sent a special message to the men who served with the division in World War II, China, and who assembled here Saturday at the Hotel for the division's Sixth Reunion.

Cleaning Weapons

"We do not know now what the next months will bring. It may be that by the time you receive this message a cease fire will have been signed. If such is the case, rest assured that we have backed off only a few paces and are cleaning our weapons in the event they are needed again here or elsewhere.

"In closing, the officers and men of the 1st Marine Division join me in proposing a toast:

"Gentlemen: we give you the Old Breed—the men who gave us the know-how and the courage as a foundation on which to build the greatest and most highly-decorated division in our nation, and we give you the New Breed—the men who have built and will continue to build greater glory on that first foundation."

Generals', Colonels' Selection Boards Meet This Month

Selection boards will be convened at Marine Corps Headquarters in Washington this month to select 11 colonels for promotion to brigadier general and ten brigadier generals for promotion to major general.

The first board to convene will be one instructed to consider 14 of the most senior brigadier generals for promotion to major general. That board, which meets today, will be headed by Gen. Allen H. Supply Generals

Twenty-three senior colonels are in the promotion zone and will be considered by the board headed by General Cates. In addition to the 11 unrestricted colonels that board will select, one restricted colonel will be chosen from a limited panel for promotion to brigadier general for supply duty.

Other members of the board to be headed by General Turnage will be Lieutenant Generals James T. Moore (ret.), Thomas E. Bourke (ret.), Keller E. Rocky (ret.), Franklin A. Hart, Edward A. Craig (ret.), and Gerald C. Thomas, and Major Generals William O. Brice and John T. Selden.

NATO Exercise, 'Operation Mariner' Beginning Sept. 16

Operation Mariner will be the first exercise sponsored jointly by the three principal North Atlantic Treaty Organization area commands for the Atlantic, Europe, and English Channel, beginning September 16 and continuing for 19 days.

The Atlantic exercise will take place between Greenland and Norway on the north and between the southern United States and Portugal to the south, as well as the English Channel, the North Sea, and parts of Western Europe.

Officers and men from nine of the 14 NATO nations will take part in ships and aircraft of all types. Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, the United Kingdom, and the United States will participate in one or more phases of applied sea-air power. (AFPS)

Add Requirement For Mass. Bonus

In order to receive their Korean war bonuses from the State of Massachusetts, veterans must submit their original reports of separation with their application blanks.

The bonus, as announced recently, ranges from $100 to $300 and service within the United States counts toward eligibility.

Property Damage Act Seen For Vets

Both houses of Congress have passed and sent to the President a bill which would reinstate the right of veterans to claim reimbursement for personal property loss incurred incident to service.

The Military Personnel Claims Act of 1943 gave veterans this right and now is being amended to stretch two years beyond the Korean war or two years after the personal loss was suffered, whichever comes first.

Col. Paul Drake has replaced Lt. Col. Frederick Belton as Assistant Chief of Staff, G-1, for Marine Barracks.

Colonel Drake, transferred from his post as director of the 9th Marine Corps Reserve and Recruitment District in Chicago, served as aide to three Commandants of the Marine Corps: Generals John H. Russell, Thomas Holcomb, and Alexander A. Vandegrift.

The Camp's new G-1 enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1923 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1928. He has served at most of the Marine Corps' posts and stations in the United States and the Far East. His foreign service includes China, the Philippines, Japan, Hawaii, and Korea, as well as numerous bases in the Caribbean area.

In 1942 and '43, Colonel Drake was a member of the Atlantic section, Strategic Plans Division, on the staff of Admiral Ernest King, commander in chief of the United States Fleet.

During the Korean conflict, the colonel served as the representative of the commanding general of Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, Far Eastern Command, working out of Tokyo.

His decorations include the Legion of Merit and Navy Commendation Medals, and numerous campaign and theater ribbons. Colonel Drake is also a Marine Corps Distinguished Marksman.

In July 1866 David Glasgow Farragut was commissioned an admiral by an act of Congress. He was the first officer of the Navy to be so honored.

August 21 at least 18 high-ranking officers of the British and Pakistani armed forces will arrive here for a familiarization tour of the camp.

Led by Maj. Gen. C. G. Fairbanks, senior director of the British Imperial Defense College, and Maj. Gen. M. A. Latis-Kahn of the Pakistani Army, the group will come here from Maxwell Field in Alabama where they will have made a similar tour.

Other general officers in the party will be Brigadier V. D. G. Campbell and Brigadier W. T. H. Pike of the British Army.

They will arrive at the New River Marine Corps Air Facility Friday afternoon next week and will be rendered honors in front of Bldg. 1 at 8:30 a.m. the following day.

After that, Lt. Col. A. M. Fraser, secretary of the Joint Landing Board here, will brief the group on the function of Camp Lejeune and the mission of the Marine Corps.

Upon completion of the briefing session, the visitors will be taken on a helicopter tour of the base, followed by a motor trip through the Hadnot Point area. They will be given lunch at Mess Hall 9, and will depart for Washington, D. C., from MCAF that afternoon.

GLOBALS

"One May Employ Everything Against One's Enemies."
—Richelieu.

America's so called "Stomach Bomb" has been called the "greatest invention since gunpowder." The 15 million dollar free food program to East and West Germany has kept the pot boiling in Berlin's Russian zone for 16 days and, despite severe Communist restrictions and reprisals, the hungry people of that country continue to sift past Russian blockades to obtain the seven pounds of free food. Over two million packages have been distributed.

While the "Stomach Bomb" has jarred Communist control of West Berlin badly, Russia jarred the world when Premier Georgi M. Malenkov announced Saturday, "The United States no longer has the monopoly of the hydrogen bomb."

The announcement reputedly came as no surprise to American atomic scientists, since in January 1950 German-born physicist Klaus Fuchs confessed to betraying all major United States nuclear secrets to the U.S.S.R., as well as the secrets of the hydrogen fusion bomb and the details of the ordinary atomic fission bomb. If Russia has possession of the H-bomb secrets, it has the knowledge for making a weapon equivalent to 1000 A-bombs, a weapon considered one of "total annihilation."

In Korea, Every Weapon

Friday Gen. Mark W. Clark, United Nations Far East commander, who is to retire from the Army October 31, declared at a Washington press conference, "If the truce (in Korea) is broken I would favor using any and every weapon at the disposal of our country . . ."

The UN commander also made these points in his discussion of the armistice: (1) There may be between 2000 and 3000 U. S. POW's beyond the 3,313 listed; (2) he expects that President Syngman Rhee of Korea, having given his assurance to do nothing to impair the armistice, will stand by his word; (3) the UN troops in Korea could have won a decisive victory had additional forces been amassed and authorized to proceed as military strategy dictated; (4) South Korea does not have the military capabilities of going it alone against the North Korean and Communist armies.

For Peace, A Triple Play

Meanwhile, in Korea U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles met with President Rhee and discussed three principal issues, aimed to further divert fighting on that peninsula. They were: (1) U. S. aid to Korea, (2) mutual security pact, (3) Korean unification. Congress has authorized a 200 million dollar preliminary Korean aid program, and has plans for a three- or four-year one billion dollar rehabilitation program. Basically, the security pact commits the U. S. only to "meet the common danger in accordance with its constitutional process" in the event of another attack on South Korea, and the right to station U. S. troops in Korea.

On the unification subject, Mr. Dulles stated adamantly that the U. S. was committed to no specific course of action in the event of an armistice blow-up. Moreover, he re-emphasized South Korea's agreement to take no unilateral action to unite Korea by military means for the duration of military conferences.

At Panmunjom, A Big Switch

North of the Dulles-Rhee conferences in Seoul the world's focal interests rested on "Operation Big Switch" at Panmunjom. In an atmosphere of tension, tragedy and joy, inspection teams from the four neutral truce supervisors—Sweden, Switzerland, Poland, and Czechoslovakia—conducted the prisoner exchange operations. Grim sagas of death marches, fierce winters, and starvation were revealed by returning prisoners.

Saturday the State Department issued a formal statement reminding the Communists that the prisoner agreement also calls for the turning over of all U. N. personnel, said not to desire repatriation, to the neutral commission, where UN officials are given a chance to talk to them. (FLY)

The rate of tuberculosis among the island people is high. Whole families have been wiped out by this disease. A sick member, unable to go to hospital, passes the germ to others in a crowded cottage.

About four years ago this problem. They gave up the Protestant for the establishment of a home. A house was purchased, modernized, and made into a sanitarium. The patient stricken with tuberculosis enters the sanitarium, family moves to the health where, under supervision of medical check-up members live.

If the patient happens to be a bread-winner for the family, members are fed and clothed, the health home fund. The patient's case has been cured, he returns and immediately makes use of the fact that the entire support for the family has come from the health home.

Easter Offerings

At the Easter services this year offerings for the purpose amounted to almost $1000. When the missionary, Rev. K. Vincent, heard the results of the offering, he said: "It is a wonderful thing that you, gentlemen, in two hours have given enough money to carry the health home for the year."

GLOBE Sports Pundit Quits 'Sidelines' For Civilian Life

Cpl. Christopher Steven Valentine Jindrich Jaroslav Gerstel, pronounced "Steve Gerstel," sports editor of the GLOBE since May 22, 1952, and writer for the paper since February 9, 1952, will be released from the Marine Corps tomorrow.

Since last February Steve has written well over 150,000 words about Marines and their athletic endeavors. He has written a column in the GLOBE called "On The Sidelines," a column in the Wilmington "Star-News" called "Lejeune Sports," and has been Camp Lejeune's Sports Publicity Director.

Born in Prague, Czechoslovakia in 1930, Steve lived at various times in Italy, Holland, England, Germany, and Switzerland, and ducked out of Europe just before Nazi pandemonium broke loose in 1940.

Picaresque Life In this country he attended Peddie Prep School at Hightstown, N. J., where he learned to speak fluent English in one academic year. Upon graduation from Peddie, Steve attended Columbia College in New York City for a year and a half prior to his induction.

After completion of "boot" camp Steve was assigned to Supply School here, and then was transferred to the Camp Public Information Office and the GLOBE. He had never written professionally prior to entering the Marine Corps.

Yet many of his stories, like the one beginning "Somewhere between the halves, in the catacombs that serve as locker rooms underneath the Dayton University Stadium, the Camp Lejeune football team found itself," won loud praises.

Greason Landed In addition to meticulous coverage of all Lejeune varsity athletics, both for the base paper and state and national outlets, Steve's column last year about a Lejeune baseball pitcher, Bill Greason, opened for Greason a top berth on the pitching staff of a recognized professional ball club, the Oklahoma City Indians.

Gerstel's future, says he, with a limber shrug, includes "a Fire Island vacation, and then to work."

The Marines scored what proved to be the winning run in the first inning. With one out Dave Krings and Ryan walked. On an attempted pickoff at first from the catcher, the first baseman lost the ball and it went into right field with Krings scoring.

Lejeune salted the game away with a four-run explosion in the second. Brown's circuit clout in the fifth and a single tally in the sixth made the score 7-0.

Walsh, who still holds the record with 100 x 100 (17 "V's"). SSgt. Howard Hucks, member of Marine Team 3, scored 99 x 100 (12 "V's") to place second.

Matches 8 and 9 both were aggregate matches. The former was the Regional Championship, an aggregate of Matches 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, won by Sergeant Smith. Match 9, the International Aggregate Match, was an aggregate of Matches 2 and 6, won by Capt. H. J. Erickson, U. S. Army, with a score of 196 x 200. Sergeant Smith took second, scoring 195 x 200.

Matches 3, 4, and 5 had never been fired in the Southeastern Regional Championships before and the winners of these matches will go down in the regional record book as record holders.

Marines Come Back

Marines came back to take first place in Matches 3 (200 yards rapid fire, sitting or kneeling), 4 (300 yards rapid fire, prone), and 6 (600 yards prone, slow fire). CWO T. R. Carpenter, All-Marine Rifle Team, won Match 3 with 100x100 (14 "V's"). CWO Jack R. Kanavel, 2nd Division, who tied with Carpenter, had to take second place after losing a five-string shoot-off.

MSgt. James A. Davis, All-Marine Team, took first-place honors in Match 4 with 100 x 100 (12 "V's") and MSgt. V. F. Miller, 8th Marines, 2nd Division, placed second with 100 x 100 (10 "V's").

Mr. Clement Hensley, the only civilian to take first-place honors in any of the matches, won the fifth match (200 yards 10 shots standing; 10 shots rapid fire, sitting or kneeling) with a score of 99 x 100 (9 "V's"). Maj. Robert E. Dawson, All-Marine Team, took second with 99 x 100 (5 "V's").

Regional Champs

The sixth match went to SSgt. Don L. Smith, winner of the Regional Championship, with 99x100 (15 "V's"), defeating the national champion of this course, Colonel

2nd Regt. Pitcher Downs Service Bn. With 1-0 No-Hitter

Ken Hommel of the 2nd Marines pitched a sparkling 1-0 no-hitter against the 2nd Service Bn. Monday morning at Varsity Field in the opening game of the Division Intramural Baseball Championship Tournament. It was a pitcher's day all around, as in the afternoon game the 8th Marines whitewashed the 10th Marines, 2-0.

In the opener Hommel hooked up with Bill Brady, Service's stylish southpaw, who matched him pitch for pitch until Dick DeVaughn, 2nd Marines catcher, bashed a hot bouncer past second and into right-center with one out in the fifth.

Hommel, property of the Boston Red Sox, was overpowering all the way. Relying on his speed, and using a good fast curve, he struck out 16 in the seven-inning affair.

The infantrymen got to Brady solidly in the seventh for the winning tally. With one away DeVaughn laced a double down the slot in right-center and scored when Hommel won his own game with a clean bingle over second.

In the afternoon game Julius Poncho, a pint-sized left-hander for the 8th Marines, and John Whitmire of the 10th Marines tangled in another duel. They pitched evenly until the 8th Marines came to bat in the last of the fifth when, with two away, Poncho lifted a high fly to right which Floyd Green played badly and finally dropped.

Earl Matteson, 8th Marines left fielder, lined a scorcher over third that went to the left field corner for a triple, scoring Poncho with the first run, all the margin he needed. Joe Lawler followed with a clean single over short to score Matteson with the insurance mark.

The 8th Marines won their second game in the Division Intramural Baseball Tournament at Varsity Field Tuesday morning by defeating the Second Motor Transport Bn., 6-5, in an extra-inning ball game.

Motor Transport took a five-run lead in the fourth, sending ten men to bat. They combined five hits, an error, and a wild pitch for their scoring off the 8th Marines' pitcher, Bob Bauer.

Bernie Euker kept the 8th Regiment under control until they broke loose for five runs in the bottom of the seventh to send the game into overtime.

Julio Poncho, who hurled a shutout for the 8th's first tournament victory on the previous day, relieved in the eighth, after pinch hitting a single in the seventh-inning uprising. He won his second game in two days when his team mates loaded the bases with an out and the winning run scored on a long single to left by Buddy Denton.

Division Pugs End Slugfest For Crowns

Boxing returned to the Camp Lejeune sporting agenda in grand style last week with the 2nd Division crowning nine champions as a result of two torrid nights of fighting.

Maj. Gen. George F. Good Jr., commanding general of the division, presented trophies to the team winner and individual winners and runners-up after the fights. The 8th Marines won the team trophy and Col. DeWolf Schatzel, commanding officer of the infantry regiment, accepted the trophy from General Good.

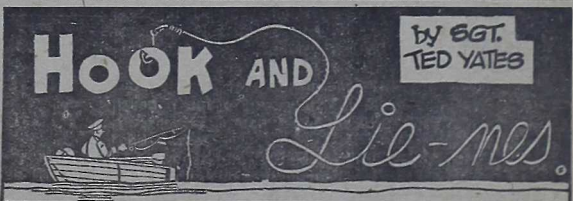

Added to the trophies was an award for the outstanding boxer of the two-night tournament, which went to a blond-headed punching dynamo by the name of Freddie Rube of the 10th Marines.

Rube, hailing from Chicago, Ill., fought his third sensational fight in three nights by scoring a TKO over Al Carmichael of the 2nd Service Bn. to win the 161-pound crown.

Carmichael had a superior reach on Rube and used it to good advantage in the early part of the fight. The Chicagoan, however, weakened his opponent toward the end of the first canto with crushing rights and lefts to the midsection and head. The end came at the conclusion of the second round when Carmichael was unable to continue.

Other bouts:

Don Davis, 128, 8th Marines, TKO over Dick Mentel, 132, 2nd Service Bn. in 50 seconds of second round; Sam Branch, 137, 8th Marines, won unanimous decision over Al Pomponio, 135, 2nd Service Bn.; Vern Robinson, 147, 2nd Service Bn., TKO'd John Byrd, 147, 8th Marines, 1:30 of second round; Joe Davis, 151, 2nd Service Bn., won by TKO over Gerry Korn, 155, 8th Marines, in 1:50 of second round; Willie White, 175, 2nd Ordnance Bn., won TKO over Ernie Martin, 168, 2d Tank Bn., in two minutes of first round; Dave Walker, 2d Ordnance Bn., won unanimous decision from Horace Eldridge, 2nd Marines, in heavyweight division.

One thing that fishermen along the Carolina coast have agreed upon is that the weather has saved a lot of fish lives this summer. Between storms anglers have hooked into some of the best runs of fish ever recorded. But things no sooner get hot than a climactic climate change comes churning along and closes the fishing ledger for a while.

This week squally rains swept in from the east, south, and west, slowing down the fishing. Yet between storms many mackerel were caught, and a fine run of sailfish was enjoyed from Hatteras to Southport.

Also in the way-off-shore department are the energetic dolphin and sullen amberjack, both of which provided plenty of sport to deep sea fishermen when the weather allowed.

Weather gripes this summer haven't been unfounded, either. Charles Carney, chief of North Carolina's weather stations, made a foul weather survey. During May there were 11 days of nor'easters; during June, 12; and six in July. This, in a part of the world where the southwest wind, the fishing wind, is supposed to prevail, yet. These were actual days of blow, not preceding and following bad storms or rain.

Along the coast, through rain and storm, the bottom fish, such as spot, drum, and croaker, have been giving pier fishermen plenty of action. Lumina Pier at Wrightsville Beach, about 50 miles south of Lejeune, has reaped a rich harvest this week in spot. These fish are caught easily on either mullet or shrimp. Bottom fishing is almost always a sure-fire way of getting action in any weather.

Clyde McCoy's Orchestra On Tap Here Monday Eve

The "Sugar Blues" man, Clyde McCoy, and his orchestra, are on tap here for performances Monday at the Camp Theater and Marston Pavilion.

Featuring the rhythms of trumpeter McCoy and the songs of Billie Jane Bennett and Chris Abbot, the band will hold forth on the theater stage from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Admission is free.

From there, the famous Capitol Records combination will move to Marston Pavilion, playing for dancers and listeners from 9 until midnight. Uniform of day or appropriate civilian clothing must be worn for the dance.

Although most famous for his rendition of "Sugar Blues," McCoy specializes in some of the most danceable music around.

The orchestra puts emphasis on versatility, playing everything from the sentimental ballads in fox-trot and waltz tempo to swaying Latin rhythms and hot swing numbers.

Airmen Shooters' Skeet Skein Snaps With Lejeune Win

When the Camp Lejeune skeet team captured the national team championship at the Fifteenth Annual National Skeet Tournament at Reno, Nev., July 29 to August 2, it snapped a two-year winning streak of the Strategic Air Command at Offutt Air Force Base, Neb.

Prior to the sparkling shooting performance of the Lejeune skeeters, SAC, with its commanding general, Gen. Curtis LeMay, as one of the team members, had won the title in 1951 and 1952. This year, however, the best it could do was to salvage second place, 11 targets behind the winning Lejeune total of 1234 x 1250.

Leading the five-man Lejeune squad was CWO D. L. Lawson who fired a perfect 250 x 250. Capt. B. E. Loos and 1st Lt. H. B. Stowers dropped 247 targets each. MSgt. Frank Heidt with 246 and CWO J. A. Martin with 245, rounded out the 1234 total. Alternate on the team was MSgt. V. R. Mull, who fired a 235x250 in individual competition.

Lawson Outstanding

The outstanding individual performance for Lejeune was turned in by Lawson, who finished third in the National All-Gauge championships.

In the 12-gauge individual shooting, Stowers took a third in class AA and Loos finished fourth in class A. Stowers won second place in Class AA in 20-gauge competition with 99 x 100.

Lejeune also placed high in two-man team competition as Stowers and Loos finished second to Alex Kerr and Tom Mettler of Los Angeles, Calif.

Aside from Lejeune, El Toro and Cherry Point represented the Marine Corps at the nation-wide meet.

School Nine Dumps Depot In MB Loop

Supply School Bn clinched at least a tie in the Marine Barracks baseball league last week by eking out a 4-3 win over second-place Supply Depot. The victory gave the Supply School a final season's record of 19-5, a full game ahead of the depot, which now sports a 17-5 record with two games left to play.

The depot jammed across all its runs and hits in the first innings to lead 3-0. Supply School hurler Joe Misiewicz then held the depot hitless until it threatened in the ninth on three walks.

Bob Alvarez then struck out the final batter to end the game. Supply School scored three times in the seventh on four singles and an error to knot the score.

Its winning marker in the ninth came on a single, a sacrifice, and an error. Three other teams chalked up wins via the forfeit route. The Naval Hospital picked up a victory over Engineer School, which threw in the towel almost two months ago, and the Rifle Range and H&S Bn. each copped wins over the Air Facility, which dropped from the league last week.

The only action in the loop this week will be when the depot plays two games previously rained out, taking on the Rifle Range and the Naval Hospital. A loss to either would give Supply School the pennant.

Both the depot and Supply School will represent Marine Barracks in the Camp intramural baseball championships starting Monday at Varsity Field.

FT Baseball Season Ends In Title Tie

The Force Troops baseball season wound up last week with Automatic Weapons, by virtue of its recent victory over Arm Amphib, locked in a tie with Combat Service Group for the league title. At present no plans are being made for a league playoff; instead, both teams will travel to Hadnot Point Monday to represent Force Troops in the Camp Baseball Tournament.

AW won the only game played last week, defeating Arm Amphib, 8-4, to move into the tie for first. Bill Brooks, Weapons' ace right-hander, was the winning pitcher as he limited his opponents to only four hits over the seven-inning stretch. His teammates supported him with 14 hits.

In the Camp Tournament, Automatic Weapons is the defending champion and, if Combat carries its feud over to Hadnot, the tournament might well end with an all-Force Troops final.
