CMC To Tour Camp

Commandant Arrives Wed. For Four-Day Inspection

Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps, will arrive Wednesday at the Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, for a four-day inspection of Camp Lejeune.

General Shepherd will be met at the airfield by Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, Maj. Gen.

Reserve Director To Inspect Units For Three Days

Brig. Gen. John C. McQueen, director of Marine Corps Reserve at Headquarters Marine Corps in Washington, D. C., arrived here late Tuesday afternoon for a three-day inspection of Reserve training.

General McQueen was welcomed by Lt. Col. Bertram E. Cunningham, Reserve Training Bn. commander, as he deplaned

George F. Good, Jr., division commanding general, and Brig. Gen. Francis B. Loomis, Force Troops commander. The commandant's arrival is scheduled for 9:30 a. m.

Among other dignitaries arriving in connection with the commandant's visit will be Charles S. Thomas, under-secretary of the Navy, Brig. Gen. Nels H. Nelson, G-1 at Headquarters Marine Corps, and Brig. Gen. R. H. Ridgely, director of personnel at Headquarters Marine Corps.

While en route from the airfield to the camp parade ground, where honors will be rendered him, General Shepherd will briefly tour the new Camp Geiger trailer park, New River housing, and the camp's new drive-in theater.

After receiving honors, the commandant will visit the Naval Medical Field Research Laboratory, Camp Infirmary, Joint Landing Force Board, U. S. Naval Hospital and Reserve Training Bn.

In the afternoon he will inspect the Rifle Range, Courthouse Bay, and Onslow Beach.

Tour Industrial Area

After looking over the beach's facilities and activities of Force Troops and Division personnel there, he and his party will head for the Marine Corps Supply Depot and the Industrial Area.

Next on his itinerary are the camp's children's school. The commandant will end his afternoon at the Goettge Memorial Field House, where he will address all Lejeune officers.

Thursday the 2nd Division and Force Troops will "pass in review" for the Corps' chief, the review being slated to take up the entire morning. Maj. Gen. O. P. Smith, commanding general of Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, will arrive Thursday for the review in the commandant's honor.

The afternoon will find General Shepherd inspecting the Commissary, Montford Point schools, Tarawa Terraces I and II, and Camp Knox Trailer Park.

The commandant will spend all Friday inspecting the 2nd Division.

Force Troops Inspection

An inspection of Force Troops will be conducted Saturday morning with the commandant arriving at Camp Geiger by helicopter. Saturday's inspection will end General Shepherd's visit here. Sunday morning he will depart from Lejeune at the New River Air Facility.

General Shepherd's most recent visit here was last July, when he spent six days touring the reservation on his first official visit after being appointed Commandant.

GEN. LEMUEL C. SHEPHERD JR.

Appeals Court Rules Korea State Of War

Because a Marine Pfc was found sleeping on post in Korea and given a special court-martial, the "Korea conflict" has been labeled a "highly developed state of war"—at least as far as the U. S. Court of Military Appeals is concerned.

The Pfc received a six-month sentence and a bad conduct discharge. A board of review cut the sentence to three months.

The appeals court ruled that Korea is a war and that the required authority had not been granted to the special court to try a capital case. Therefore, it was ruled that the special court-martial was without jurisdiction over the case and the whole procedure was null.

The USCMA opinion, written by Judge George W. Latimer, said that sleeping on post becomes a capital offense in wartime, and only under certain clearly defined circumstances can a special court try a capital offense.

According to the opinion, the Pfc won a left-handed victory and, if he wanted to, he could refuse the sentence of the special court and ask to be tried by a higher court (general court-martial).

However, the opinion added, "Battle conditions, where many

BRIG. GEN. JOHN C. MCQUEEN from Norfolk, Va., where he had visited Reservists. He then was escorted to Hadnot Point.

The general expressed his desire to meet personally inspectors-instructors and commanding officers of Reserve units while on his inspection tour here.

General McQueen will depart tomorrow by plane for Washington.

Camp Marines Get New Housing Site Plus 1150 Trailers

More new housing is slated for Camp Lejeune Marines. This time it's trailers — 1,150 of them — part of which will be placed at a new site on Highway 17 near Camp Geiger, while the remainder will be added to the 212 trailers already occupied at Camp Knox.

This project, limited to privates through sergeants, will bring the total number of family living units available to Lejeune personnel through the Camp Housing Office to 6,302.

Project engineer Robert R. Powell of the Public Housing Authority estimates that the Camp Knox trailers will be ready by early October, and by that time 150 units should be completed at the Geiger park.

March Completion

Early March should see the completion of the whole project, with a leeway of 60 days allowed for unfavorable construction conditions, according to Col. J. M. Davis, camp assistant chief of staff, G-4.

Of the 1,150 units, 910 are destined for Camp Geiger, while the other 240 will be at Camp Knox.

Rents have not been established yet, but Colonel Davis hopes that the prices can be kept the same as those of existing Camp Knox trailers — $45 for the four-sleeper units and $51 for the six-sleepers.

Both Types

The two sites will carry both types of mobile houses, with the breakdown as follows: Camp Knox will receive 180 four-sleepers and 60 six-sleepers, while Camp Geiger (See CAMP MARINES, Page 2)

DEADLINE DATA

All persons wishing to have material appear in the GLOBE are reminded that the paper's deadline each week is Tuesday noon. No copy or pictures can be accepted for publication in the following Thursday's GLOBE after that time.

Four New Supply Courses Opening Here To Prepare EM As Officers

Four new type supply courses will open at Montford Point within the next seven months to prepare sergeants through master sergeants for commissions as second lieutenants.

The courses are: Special Disbursing Officer Course, Special Food Service Officer Course, Special Supply Officer Course, and Special Motor Transport Officer Course. The new curriculum was established by special orders from the Commandant of the Marine Corps.

Headquarters Marine Corps has selected a tentative quota of 298 men for each 16-week course. Of these, not more than 240 will receive temporary second lieutenant commissions.

The men selected applied for commissions under Marine Corps Memoranda 114-52 and 23-52 and, although meeting all the requirements for commissions, were not chosen because the quota for commissions had been filled.

Selection By Fields

From this group the commandant has picked men in the 01, 18, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, and 35 occupational specialty fields to attend these courses. Personnel selected have been notified of their appointment.

Under the command of Col. John E. Willey, CO of Supply School Bn., the nominees not only will receive instruction in their respective fields but also will be indoctrinated and screened in general military subjects.

Prior to receiving his commission, each candidate must pass these courses. Ordinarily, these indoctrination and screening procedures are undergone at the Basic School at Quantico, Va.

Study Schedule

The first course to convene will be that in supply on September 21. Graduation will be January 19. The food service course will begin September 29 and end January 29. Motor transport commences October 5 and ends February 4, while disbursing starts February 24 and closes June 21.

There will be six classes given in supply and two in motor transport. All other courses will have one class each.

Coming Security Attachments

thousand Marines now on duty at naval installations in the United States will be relieved of duty within the next 12 months according to "Navy commanders will receive an order redefining their security duties. This is in line with the new table of organization being made at Headquarters Marine Corps. The new table calls for finding means of reducing the number of "over-personnel" while increasing combat personnel. The new order will be followed by an order setting up new organization for all Marine units.

This order calls for minor changes at certain posts, most of which will find themselves operating with less personnel fiscal 1954.

Marine Corps personnel will be reduced by about 1,000 in fiscal 1954. The new order will have approximately 1,000 fewer personnel by the end of the year.

Rations Cut Cuts Per Day Defense Dept.

WASHINGTON—The value of rations for enlisted personnel in the Armed Services will be cut by 10 percent, authorized by the Defense Department. The cut has been cut from 33.3 cents to 30 cents per day.

The new ration, outlined in Defense Department Directive 33.3, was made under the authority of the current appropriation and is retroactive to July 1, 1953.

Personnel drawing separate allowances will be charged 30 cents for breakfast, 40 cents for lunch, and 40 cents for supper. The new figures show a drop from last year's price for a breakfast and a raise from 35 cents to 40 cents for a supper. The new breakfast remains the same at 30 cents.

700 Officers Get Promotions

A total of 787 Marine officers were selected in a week or two, according to Headquarters Marine Corps.

Officers received at the GLOBE this week include nine lieutenant colonels who were promoted September 3, 1952, and 706 captains picked February 15, 1952; and 706 captains picked February 15, 1952.

Officers expected to have July 9, 1953, as their dates of rank, with the exception of the Regular Army officers who will be given the same dates as their regular running mates.

THE WM'S HAVE A NEW SUMMER UNIFORM. HAVE YOU ANY SUGGESTIONS FOR A NEW MEN'S SUMMER UNIFORM?

PFC RICHARD PETTIT, 6TH MARINES—If you're going to be a Marine, you might as well look like one. The khakis look too much like the Army's and I have been mistaken for a soldier many times. To tell the truth, I think the uniform should be more of a green color to keep with Marine Corps tradition.

SSGT. CHARLES MOREHART, SUPPLY DEPOT—I think we should have something on the order of the Army khakis. They seem to hold a crease much better, although our khakis are not enough. Perhaps they could try something along the nylon line, which would require no starching, although it might not look as military.

PFC MAX WASSERMAN, MP CO., H&S BN.—I think they should do away with khakis altogether and issue 6 sets of tropicals. You wear these khakis 20 minutes and they look awful. Since I'm an MP, I'm supposed to make a good appearance and with this uniform it's pretty difficult. I'm sure the tropicals would be a big improvement.

PFC JOY PYRER, WM CO., H&S BN.—I think it would be nice if the men could be issued a uniform of some shade of green, more like the color of our new ones. The cloth should have some type of nylon fiber so it would resist wrinkles better. I think the uniform looks much better with a tie, but I don't think there's any reason why they can't loosen the top button while wearing the tie.

2ND LT. RALPH MANN, 2ND MARINES—On the average, these khakis cost 65 cents each day to launder. I think if they could devise some material which is more resistant to heat and wrinkles and could be laundered more easily and less expensively, it would be a great improvement. I think a type of processed cotton-nylon fabric of a lighter tan color would be much sharper.

Tampa's Reserves Arrive Gift-Laden For Session Here

When the 1st Reserve Amphibious Tractor Bn. of Tampa, Fla., arrived here recently for its two weeks of summer training, four Lejeune generals were in for a pleasant surprise.

The commanding officer of the Tampa Reserves, Maj. Charles W. Putnam, and the unit's inspector-instructor, Lt. Col. Ray D. Honer, paid official calls on Maj. Gen. Henry D. Lincoff, camp commanding general; Maj. Gen. George F. Good, Jr., Division commanding general; Brig. Gen. Francis B. Loomis, Jr., Force Troops commanding general, and Brig. Gen. Matthew C. Horner, deputy president of the Joint Landing Force Board, bearing gifts of Florida tree-ripened oranges and boxes of Tampa cigars.

The oranges were presented to the generals on behalf of the governor of Florida. The cigars, symbols of Tampa's good will, carried with them the mayor's cards, in effect keys to the city that may be used on any future visits the generals may pay Tampa.

Tampa Reserves spent the first four days of their two-week stay at the Rifle Range, where they fired for familiarization such weapons as the 3.5 inch rocket launcher, .30 caliber light machine gun, .45 caliber pistol, and other such crew-served weapons, aside from firing the M-1 rifle for record.

During the latter phase of their training, Tampa's "Citizen Marines" will be housed by Force Troops' 2nd Amphibian Tractor Bn. While with the "regulars," the part-time Marines will practice firing from stationary LVT's; repair and restore to duty "disabled" vehicles; and do whatever the "regulars" do.

When their two weeks here are up, Tampa's Women Marine Reserves will take over where the tractor battalion left off. Arriving Saturday, the day the battalion departs, is Tampa's Woman Marine Reserve Disbursing Platoon, which also will receive two weeks of summer training.

Aside from featuring his all-girl orchestra, Freddie has an outstanding drum soloist in Ruth Mary Mack, twice voted America's outstanding woman drummer.

Shaffer's vocalist and featured trumpeter, Louise Lust, lends her versatility to the aggregation by impersonating such trumpet notables as Henry Busse, Harry James, Clyde McCoy, and Charlie Spivak.

Shaffer and his female instrumentalists have toured all over the country.

Gen. Smith Named For 3-Star Rank

Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Smith, commanding general of Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, has been recommended to the Senate by President Eisenhower for promotion to lieutenant general.

The President also recommended that Maj. Gen. John T. Selden and Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Puller be given permanent appointments in their present grades. General Selden is Inspector on the staff of the United States Commander in Chief in Europe, while General Puller is Commanding General of Troop Training Unit, Pacific.

Belgian Refugee Becomes U. S. Citizen After Years Of Fleeing Hitler's Terror

In a Brooklyn courthouse last week, 22-year-old Cpl. Irving Schild stood proudly at attention as he solemnly repeated the oath of allegiance.

Although he has been serving as a Marine since December 1951, Corporal Schild might well have been called a man without a country until he received his citizenship papers last week. From the ages of nine to 15, Schild was chased from city to city and country to country.

In 1940 he and his family left Brussels, Belgium, Schild's birthplace, as Hitler's troops swept in. They sought refuge in France, but there the Vichy government was picking up all Jewish refugees, and Schild and his family were put in a concentration camp.

Elude Vichyites
Nine months elapsed before they escaped. Having no one place where they could be safe, they drifted from city to city in an effort to elude the Vichyites.

Their roamings, filled with intermittent captures and escapes, led them to move deep into the Italian Alps, where they joined underground partisans.

With the aid of the partisans, they went to Rome, hoping to cross the Mediterranean Sea and escape from Europe. They were in Rome when the Allies took over, and it was then they decided to come to the United States.

Back To School
In the summer of 1946, Schild and his family arrived in the U. S., and almost immediately he was put in grade school to make up for the education he had missed while roaming around war-torn Europe.

During the five years he spent here before entering the Marine Corps, Schild completed grade school, high school, and was able to attend college at night for a year and a half while working as an advertising artist in New York.

Schild furthered his education in the Marine Corps. Upon completion of "boot" camp, he was sent to a photography school at Fort Monmouth, N. J. He is now working as a photographer with the Marine Barracks Photo Lab.

When asked how it feels to be an American citizen, Schild says, "Receiving American citizenship is one of the most honorable awards anyone could get. Having been in Europe during the war, I appreciate the rights and heritages of Americans. Now that I have my citizenship papers, I feel my proud-est moment has arrived."

Nix To New Fatherhood Deferments

President Eisenhower last week issued the long-anticipated executive order ending draft deferments because of fatherhood unless men in this status can show that undue hardship would result from entering service. This new legislation will become effective August 25.

Registrants currently deferred under the "father exemption clause" will continue to be deferred. But, after August 25, men of draft age will no longer be able to use fatherhood as a basis for draft exemption, except in special cases.

According to "Navy Times," about 20,000 youths have followed the "draft-escape circuit" by first gaining an educational deferment and later getting draft exemptions because of fatherhood.

The Army has issued a call for 23,000 men in September, which will bring the total number men drafted or earmarked for induction since Selective Service went into operation in September 1950 to 1,515,430. Except for 81,430 drafted for the Marine Corps in the ten months ending May 1952, all of the inductions have been by the Army.

Admiral Holloway Lauds Camp's Part In All-Corps Meet

Congratulations for a job well done were received here this week from Vice Admiral J. L. Holloway, chief of naval personnel, for the first concurrent running of the All-Marine and All-Navy Track and Field Meets here June 11-13.

In a letter to Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, Admiral Holloway commended the job done in administering the meet by Col. J. A. White, at that time camp special services officer, and his assistant, Lt. Col. Sidney J. Altman, who is the new Camp Special Services Officer.

The letter reads, in part, "The cooperation and forthrightness displayed by the camp in general, and by Col. John A. White and Lt. Col. Sidney J. Altman in particular, in dealing with the many problems encountered in a track and field meet was outstanding. It is felt that All-Navy competition in track and field, which was inaugurated at this meet, is off to a good start."

Fourth Annual MCI Art Contest Slated For Unveiling Soon

Paint brushes, pallets, crayons, and drawing boards are the "order of the day" for Marines who are interested in art and desire to compete in the Marine Corps Institute's Fourth Annual Art Contest, opening August 1.

Marines — regular, Reserve, or retired—are eligible to enter the contest. Individuals may submit as many entries as they desire.

Whether you have an artist's specialty or a truck driver's MOS, submit your entry. Advanced artists will comprise one category and amateurs will be grouped in another. Prizes will be awarded in both groups.

The six classifications of art work are: portrait, landscape, figure, poster, cartoon, and illustration. All entries will be judged by a group of prominent commercial and military artists.

Details on prizes and more specific information will be announced in the near future.

Oregon Legislature Extends Deadline For Bonus Filing

The Oregon state legislature has extended the deadline for applying for the Oregon World War II veterans' bonus until December 31, 1953.

Persons who applied after last December 1 need not file again, the state officials said, because their claims are currently being processed. Eligible veterans or survivors who have not yet filed should write the Department of Veterans' Affairs, State Library Bldg., Salem, Ore., for application forms.

The Oregon bonus is paid only for active service between September 16, 1940 and June 30, 1946. To be entitled to it, the veteran must have been a bona fide Oregon resident for one year immediately prior to his World War II service, have served actively 90 days or more between the above dates, and have been honorably discharged.

The bonus pays $10 for each full month of domestic duty and $15 for each full month of foreign or sea duty, to a maximum of $600.

Survivors of veterans who died in service or following discharge who are entitled are un-remarried widows, the children, and the parents, in that order. (AFPS).

Palermo Kids 'Live It Up' With Marines

WITH THE U. S. 6TH FLEET— "Your treatment of the children did more to combat Communism here than American dollars."

So said a resident of Palermo, Sicily, after the Leather-necks of the reinforced 2nd Bn., 6th Marines, and sailors of Transport Division 23 entertained more than 150 orphans aboard ship during "Operation Big Brother."

Palermo was the fourth stop for the 2nd Division's Med-cruising battalion.

It was a bright sunny day when the neatly dressed and singing children arrived by military trucks at the Palermo docks to board the ships and spend an afternoon with their Navy and Marine "Big Brothers."

As soon as the youngsters hopped down off the trucks, they were met by their "Big Brothers," each one eager to take his charge in tow and guide him around the ship.

It was a big day for the kids, who were treated to ice cream, cake and candy, and a movie. But it was just as big a day for the "Big Brothers."

IT DOESN'T PAY

Many mistaken ideas about the consequences of going "over the hill" are held by those who try it.

A thorough look at what happens to absentees and deserters will show that the ones who suffer most when a man "takes off" are the absentee himself and his family.

First, and most important, you can't get away with it! The Armed Forces and the FBI are just about 100 percent effective in apprehending unauthorized absentees from the services.

Secondly, think it over. No problem is so pressing that some help from your commanding officer, Red Cross, or Navy Relief cannot alleviate it. If your presence is required at home, an emergency leave or a hardship discharge can be given when the situation has been investigated to the satisfaction of the service.

Stuck For Life

Third, it is a rare occurrence for a man who received a dishonorable or bad conduct discharge to exchange it for one under honorable conditions at a later date. A discharge other than honorable will hound you for life.

Under many conditions, only a few days' absence is required to have a man declared a deserter. For example, if a man absents himself from his unit in order to avoid hazardous duty, he may be declared a deserter the moment his absence is discovered.

All the power of the service is with a man who does his duty. He receives the respect, the help, and the benefits due a faithful servant of his country.

No cost is spared to apprehend, convict, and punish a man who deserts the job he took an oath to perform. A deserter shows little respect for himself, his family, his service, and, above all, his country.

GLOBALS

"Mars, unscrupulous god of war, rages throughout the world."—Virgil.

Early last week in Korea an estimated ten divisions of Chinese Communists (100,000 men) launched the largest assault since the peace talks started two years ago. The attack fell mainly upon ROK divisions, who gave ground until the attack was blunted last Thursday by UN assistance. The Communist tactics used are appropriately called "jen hai," which means "human sea."

The question uppermost in many minds is why the Communists, in the third week of the fourth year of the Korean war, with a truce ready for their asking, lashed out with such a costly offensive? Experts felt that the enemy set out primarily to straighten the bulge in the Korean line. And by cracking the ROK's it was believed that the Communists might also be trying to impress the South Koreans with their strength and thereby rid them of any ambitions they might have had instilled by Syngman Rhee of forcible Korean unification.

Another savage war in the Orient, that has been going on for eight costly years, flared up hot last week. In Indo-China 5000 French paratroopers descended upon, and destroyed, a major supply base of the Communist-led Viet Minh rebels Friday.

Mohammed And The Majlis

While fierce outbursts in Korea and Indo-China resounded loudly last week, internal ferment, too, caused global gastritis. Iran's Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, harassed by England's refusal to accept his oil settlement exactly as drawn up, first dissolved his country's senate for questioning his stand, and now has dissolved the lower house, the Majlis, for suggesting that a concession be made. In Egypt, sparks started to shower also when British soldiers surrounded Cairo after the Egyptians could not produce an English soldier allegedly abducted by them. The U. S. Ambassador in Cairo, Jefferson Caffery, parleyed the "blunder."

Outstanding among the internal cramps this week was the so-called purging of Lavrenti P. Beria, Russia's police boss. Beria's demise followed the Red axe's descent on the neck of Javel V. Meshik, interior minister of the Ukraine, and Vladimir G. Dekanov, interior minister of Georgia. Latest Russian big-wig to fall was M. D. Bagirov, an alternate member of the Presidium of the Central Communist party.

Boiling to the top of all the internal and external agitation paradoxically enough is a new surge of hope in the signing of the Korean truce. Latest reports indicate that the painstaking truce will be signed by the end of this week, well within gunshot of savage front line fighting. And, as the two years of haranguing seem to be ending in Korea, the United States, Great Britain, and France formally asked Russia last week to join them in a Big Four foreign ministers' conference late in September to discuss German reunification and the Austrian treaty of independence.

Cut In Appropriations

In Washington Friday the Senate Appropriations Committee approved $34,522,302,000 in appropriations for the Army, Navy, and Air Force in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1954. This figure is $1,260,000 below the amount requested by President Eisenhower and $6,200,000 under the estimate presented by former President Harry S. Truman before he left office.

Expected to be publicly exhumed this week are the heretofore concealed details of an $84,000,000 trade agreement recently signed at Peking between Communist China and an unofficial delegation of British businessmen regarding the delivery of British machinery.

WM Softballers Mow Down Shaw, Donaldson AFB's

Camp Lejeune's Woman Marine softball team returned Saturday night after playing three games away with a record of two wins and one loss. July 13 the locals dropped their second game of the season, to Parris Island, 5-4; Friday they marked a win, 17-5, at Donaldson AFB; and Saturday gained a second victory over Shaw AFB, 9-6.

At the end of the first with Donaldson the score was one-all. In the top of the second, the Lejeune girls shoved across six while the Air Force girls danted the plate with two in the bottom of the inning. The WAF team failed to score again until the seventh, when they marked two more. Lejeune tallied two in the third, three in the sixth, and five more in the seventh.

Bev Moose went the route for Lejeune, pitching her fifth win of the season. Donaldson's Niki Nicholson took the loss for the WAF team.

In Saturday's game with Shaw, Lejeune took the lead in the first, counting twice. After a scoreless first and second, Shaw-shoved four across and took the lead from the visitors. In the bottom of the fourth the Air Force girls widened their margin with two more but failed to score again in the ball game.

Rallying in the top of the fifth, the Women Marines shoved across six runs and once again led their hosts, 8-6. Carol Lau, Lejeune center fielder, hit a round-tripper to left field to make the final score 9-6.

Kathy Turner took the loss for Shaw, allowing 12 hits and three walks, with three strikeouts. Angie Darby took credit for the Marines' win with eight hits, no walks, and no strikeouts.

Diet Class Gives Homemakers Here Food For Thought

Miss Dorothy Youland, nutrition expert from the North Carolina State Board of Health at Raleigh, presented the first in a series of four lectures on "Economic Food Preparation" at the Midway Park Community Bldg. Monday afternoon.

During her first talk, "Why Plan Meals," she explained the purpose of the "Basic Seven" and their importance in the daily menu. The "Basic Seven" are seven distinct categories in which all food is classified. Food from each category daily results in a balanced diet.

A Technicolor animated Walt Disney film, "Something You Didn't Eat," was shown, illustrating more reasons for eating foods from each of the "Basic Seven."

The lecture, not given in its entirety, will be combined with next week's talk on "Food Buying" for the benefit of those who were unable to attend.

Belvoir Stifles Grim's Bid For Twentieth

East Coast's Baseball Title Goes On Line

Games at Quantico tonight and tomorrow night—games which very likely will decide the East Coast Marine champion—highlight the week's baseball competition, which includes the return of the camp team Monday to face Fort Jackson and Fort Belvoir.

Lejeune and Quantico, the sole remaining claimants to the East Coast crown, will come into the series without injuries, although tired from season's grind.

There is no doubt that Quantico will lead with its aces, Jim Pope and Jack Thomas. Thomas, a Boston Red Sox "bonus baby," has beaten Lejeune once this season, while Pope dropped a decision to the camp nine.

Grim Seeks Twentieth

Lejeune coach Pete Larghey will go with his 19-game winner, Bob Grim, in one of the two games, probably tonight, and the big right-hander couldn't find a better time to win number 20.

Should Grim win tonight, Larghey may gamble with undefeated Bob Reich, the southpaw who recently won his eleventh start. Quantico's line-up is stocked with left-handers and would normally have more trouble with a lefty than a right-hander.

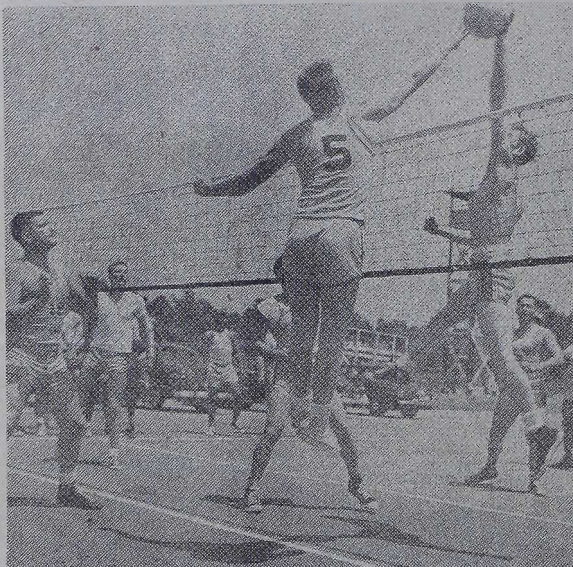

A loss in the first game would probably force Larghey to use the more experienced Ben Johnson.

Single games with Fort Myer and the Charleston, W. Va., American Legion team precede the team's return.

Outlook Here Rough

No rest awaits Lejeune at home. Monday and Tuesday nights, the Marines face what probably is the best service team in the east, Fort Jackson. The Golden Arrows ran over Lejeune, 12-2, early in the season and at last reports had lost only three games. Their roster includes ex-major leaguers Faye Throneberry (Red Sox), Joe Landrum (Dodgers), and Frank House (Tigers).

Two more major leaguers, Dick Groat (Pirates) and Tom Poholsky (Cards), will exhibit their wares at Lejeune Wednesday when Fort Belvoir comes to Lejeune.

Camp Skeet Elite To Gun For Victory At Nationals

Holders of the new world's five-man mark, Camp Lejeune's undefeated skeet team will gun for the biggest championship of the season when the Marine quintet enters the Nationals at Reno, Nev., Monday.

MSgt. Frank Heidt, one of Lejeune's steadiest shooters for the past four seasons, finally broke into the championship winner's circle last week at Hot Springs, Va., as the Marines prepped for the Nationals by copping the Seventeenth Annual Clark Memorial Shoot with a score of 489x000.

Hedit, in a five-way deadlock at 99x100 when the regular individual shooting ended, put on an amazing display of pressure shooting before more than 1000 fans, by shooting 25x25, 24x25, 25x25, 24x25, and 25x25, to outlast his finalist opponents and take the $1200 trophy.

First Lt. H. B. Stowers (98x100),

CWO James A. Martin (95x100), CWO D. L. Lawson (99x100), Heidt, and MSgt. V. R. Mull (94x100) made up the Lejeune team.

Rejoin For Reno

Mull, Lejeune's alternate, filled in for Capt. B. E. Loos, who will rejoin the team for the important Reno meet.

Lejeune set the new world's record in the Great Cotton States Open at Spartanburg, S. C., in June with a mark of 741x750. The old mark was 737. Shooting for Lejeune that day were Loos, Stowers, Heidt, Martin, and 1st Lt. J. J. Stoffa.

Between 700 and 800 teams are expected to enter the Nationals, including about 50 service teams.

Division Boxers, Force Troops Pugs Battle At Geiger

Men from the 2nd Division and Force Troops staged Camp Geiger's first outdoor boxing smoker last week for an enthusiastic crowd of over 3,000. The seven-match card produced one knockout.

The most exciting bout of the evening was between Jerry Kelley from MAGIS-7 and Bill Eule from 2nd Combat Service Group. Eule opened the first with a savage flurry of punches and soon had Kelley down for eight. Seconds later he was down again and referee Glenn McComas stopped the fight, giving Eule a TKO after 40 seconds of the first round.

The second bout presented the best boxing of the evening as Division's Joe Davis, last year's Atlantic Fleet middleweight champion, displayed his wares in defeating Fred Rube of the 10th Marines. Davis proved his right to the championship as he cut his opponent to ribbons in the three-round stint.

Heavyweight Pete Walker of 10th Marines gained a split decision over Mose Depina of 8th Tank Bn. Pierce from 2nd CSG decisioned Jefferson of 135 Gun. Williams, representing 1st 75 AAA Training Btry., won a split decision over Gordon Granath from 10th Marines. Reginald Marr of 10th Marines beat 2nd 90's Joe Atkins, and 90's Joe Collins decisioned Elbert Ford from CSG.

2nd Marines Add Volleyball Laurels To Sport Victories

The 2nd Marines continued its sports mastery in 2nd Division play last week by taking its third straight tournament victory, a straight set, 15-9, 15-3, volleyball victory over 2nd Service Bn.

Preliminary victories over the 8th Marines and 6th Marines, and an earlier defeat of the Servicemen launched the 2nd into the finals of the double-elimination tournament.

The Servicemen had toppled 2nd Medical Bn. and the 6th Marines before losing to the 2nd Marines twice.

Other tournament victories for the 2nd Regiment came in the track and swimming championships.

Fort Eustis, Camp Split Two Games

FORT EUSTIS, Va.—Harry Hill hit two of Camp Lejeune's four home runs Thursday night to lead the Marines to a 6-2 win over the Fort Eustis Wheels here. But the Army men came back the following night to cash in on poor Marine fielding, 4-2, and gain an even split in the series.

Hill, who belted the ball over the left field fence on three occasions during the two games, authored his first homer Thursday night in the fourth inning with a mate aboard to give Lejeune a 2-0 lead. His second round-tripper came in the eighth as leadoff batter and gave the Marines their final run.

Previously, Don Brown and Paul Donovan had homered. Brown's blow was the longest of the night and came in the sixth inning with the bases empty, the ball travelling (See FORT EUSTIS, Page 7)

In Monday's game Grim Tom Poholsky, ex-St. Louis pitcher, hooked up in liant mound duel. After had tallied twice in the holsky slammed the door Marines' faces, retiring in a row until Chico Rodri a one-out Texas league center in the ninth.

summer interview with a football coach produces little or nothing. True to the large fraternity of football coaches, Lejeune man, Maj. James "Biff" Crawley, volunteered very little view Monday.

didn't resort to the crying towel, as many mentors do during the waiting period between the end of spring practice and the beginning of the fall activities but, on the other hand, he was a man of optimism, of course. Yet the fact that he didn't moan about the tribulations of the coming season should be taken as a sign. Major Crawley did say that he was not totally unimpressed with the results of spring practice, although the sessions showed a definite lack of depth and adequate backfield material.

in a backhanded way, would indicate that Crawley feels that the team did all right. Still, it is hard to imagine that the backfield was as well. Taking into consideration only transfers from other returning lettermen, Lejeune can field a formidable array of backs and at fullback.

Assets In The Pigskin Ledger

else will you find a fullback of the caliber of Billy Hayes? The line-buster will be at fullback for Lejeune this fall, Harry. Or, just as a guess, how about teaming Hayes with a ro at left half and Bill Hawkins at right. Nastro, Lejeune's star in 1952 and one of the best seat-backs in service ball, can even bigger season. Hawkins, now 26 years old, is still a football player. He was tremendous last season, when he himself into shape. This year, with the benefit of practice, he can even better.

there's Orville "Speed" Williams and Harry Kreutzberg, fine backs from last season, plus quite a few transfers from other teams. The above, plus the fall crop of candidates, seems to indicate a backfield situation look pretty good.

the pre-season weak point seems to be at quarterback. Three candidates at the moment. Leading the pack, on the basis of performance in the spring intra-squad game, is O. M. St. season's third-string quarterback. Behind him are Bill and Bob Seaborn. Scanlon and DeChard handled the quarterbacking the spring game, and Seaborn played two seasons at polytechnic.

Bill On Experience

and rates the nod on experience. He quarterbacked four seasons Cross and made All-New England in 1950. He played a Washington Redskins and part of a season for Quantico. He looked poorly in the spring game.

fact Scanlon was third-string last season isn't an indication of his ability. It was his first season in the more intricate game played by the service eleven, and Lejeune had two good quarterbacks in Bill Weeks and John O'Loughlin, who did not necessitating an experiment with Scanlon.

ear Crawley may have to go with Scanlon, and it could turn out well. In his few last-minute appearances last season, he proved himself to be an unfrustrated, competent, imaginative quarterback passer to boot. He re-affirmed these qualities in the spring game. It isn't surprising if Scanlon is the player to quarterback a possible Marine title this season.

Supply Depot Takes 3-2 Win From NH To Retain Lead

Supply Depot, with a 3-2 win over the Naval Hospital nine Thursday, retained its lead in the Marine Barracks Baseball League with 15 wins against four losses.

In second place, and only one full game off the pace with a 14-5 mark, is the Supply School Bn., which was idle Thursday. Its latest victory came Tuesday last week, with a 5-1 victory at the expense of the Air Facility.

Still in the race are H&S Bn., (11-8) and Air Facility (10-9). Air Facility crept closer to the number-three spot by beating H&S the third-place team, 10-9, Thursday. The previous Tuesday H&S had taken a forfeit victory from Engineer School Bn., 9-0.

Rounding out the standings are: Engineer School (7-12) and Naval Hospital (7-10 and one tie). The Rifle Range dropped out of the league after absorbing ten defeats and winning one.

Free Instructions Offered Marines, Dependents In Golf

A long-awaited innovation, free golf instruction for service personnel and dependents, starts Saturday under the tutelage of the new Paradise Point pro, "Ducky" Miller.

Group instruction will be held Saturday from 12:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. and on Sunday from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. for service personnel. Dependents can receive lessons gratis from 8:30 a. m. to 9 a. m. Tuesday. All instructions will be held on the driving range.

Capt. and Mrs. E. C. Dresback took the special "Blind Bogey" prize. A buffet dinner followed the tournament.

Seven players fired 78's to tie for first in the PGA Relief Blind Bogey tournament.

A "points for par" tournament with the usual full handicaps will be held this week-end.

Intramural Baseball Tournament Slated

A baseball series to crown an intramural diamond champ for Camp Lejeune will begin August 17.

The tourney, under Camp Special Services, will be held in double elimination competition with the 2nd Division, Force Troops, and Marine Barracks each entering two teams.

All the games will be seven-innings affairs and will be played on Varsity Field. The series will consist of two games being played daily, at 5:30 and 8 p. m., on August 17, 18, 19, and 20. On August 21, starting time will be at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Competition Hot In Tenth Regt. Loop

The 2nd Bn., walloped the 1st, 6-2, and gained more ground on the league-leading 3rd in the 10th Marines baseball league last week.

The win gave the 2nd a total of 11 wins and four losses and a percentage of .733.

In the other game this week, H&S beat 1st, 9-3.

Punctuating the battering nor-easter, which fomented sea and sound, lakes and wide rivers, into surly wet spots until the middle of last week, are mackerel, multitudinous mackerel.

Fishermen who trolled the sea this week-end were kept busy boating record catches of the spunky, abundant, tasty, and hungry fish that patroled the Carolina coast from Hatteras to south of Southport.

Japanese feathers, spoons, and squids trolled or cast and retrieved rapidly seemed to reap the richest yields. Pier fishermen had eminent success fishing with minnows.

Amberjack Rugged

Far off shore, heavy duty rods flexed against the insurgent power of chunky amberjack, taxing tackle and fishermen to the utmost. Amberjack, a deep water denizen weighing up to 50 pounds, fed well. These blunt-nosed heavy-bodied sea goers fight with sullen power. They feed on bait or trolled lures and, for their dogged fighting tactics alone, rate not far below deep sea game fish.

A frolic, a clown, a spectacular playboy and adroit acrobat is the dolphin. His exuberance at the end of a line parallels that of only the greatest game fish. A resident of the Gulf Stream, which flows 15 to 30 miles off this coast, the dolphin is best baited with trolled artificial lures.

And this week trolled artificial lures attracted numerous dolphin, electrifying almost all who went in quest of the big fins of the deep water. To those who have never scrapped with a dolphin—they get to weigh 50 pounds—we urge you to do so. A dolphin is a blend of all the big game babies as far as his aquatic tactics are concerned. They strike fast and hard, usually stripping off 50 or more feet of line on the initial slam.

Dolphin Spectacular

This first burst of energy terminates in an explosive, spectacular series of leaps and eruptions which will set any angler's hair on end. Dolphin strike like a tarpon, jump like a sail, run like a marlin, and sulk like a tuna. Yet, being considerably smaller than these other brine batters, a dolphin is easier and less exhaustive to land.

All in all, salt water fishing reached a peak this week-end which has not been paralleled for a month, and indications seem to point to continued good angling. While the fish are running hard off shore, it is our suggestion that enthusiasts organize a fivesome, rent a deep sea fishing boat, and take to the big Atlantic where the fish will take to your lures. However, pier fishing and surf casting are providing good catches.

A productive and fascinating angling diversion is that of flounder gigging. Done at night, preferably on the dark of the moon from a flat bottomed skiff poled silently across shallow bars and flats of coastal rivers, inlets, and bays, it is an enthralling sport.

Needed, equipment-wise, is a long-handled trident or gig, and a bright light. By poling across the shallows, the light, placed on the bow of your skiff, will penetrate the water and reveal the flounder as they lie on the bottom. Your job is to spear them. There are plenty of skiffs available at Sneads Ferry, and plenty of flounder in the New River.

Ranks & Co. Exit Laughing From 'Globe'

"Salty Ranks," the mild-mannered Marine who has wandered through dozens of four-panel dilemmas in the GLOBE since January 24, 1952, is ending his Marine enlistment. And with him is going Sgt. Harold "Fred" Fredericks, his creator.

Private Ranks, the simple, good-natured, focal personality of the only original Marine comic strip going has entertained personnel here with his quiet humor, and talent for getting restricted, for a year and a half.

And his associates — Hippo, Reeky, Spex, Hazel, Skillet, Fletcher, Captain Trench, Knockworst, First Sergeant Stubble, and the rest of the rank and file of "Salty Ranks" — who have helped portray aspects of Marine life soon will cease coping with the junctures and predicaments of the Leatherneck scene.

Prior to entering the Marine Corps Sergeant Fredericks was a cartoonist for his home town paper, the Atlantic City "Daily World," and also penned a strip called "Dudley" for the Brigantine "News."

Besides drafting the weekly "Salty Ranks" strip, Fredericks recently wrote most of the music and skits for the 2nd Division musical revue, "Saddle Up."

Upon his forthcoming discharge from the Marines, Fredericks intends to travel to New York City to study art for the first time in his life. He has already outlined an adventure-type western comic strip which he intends to commercialize.

SAME MATERIAL

All Marine personnel are reminded that when the summer service shirt is worn as an outer garment from home to place of duty and vice versa, it must be of the same material as the trousers.

Bigger name bands, better professional entertainment! It's all coming your way—if you want it.

Camp Special Services plans to bring to Lejeune personnel the type of entertainment they want. But it needs YOUR help.

An idea has been proposed to form a Marston Pavilion entertainment committee. The committee's job will be to offer suggestions and ideas as to the type entertainment Special Services should book.

This is where you come in. The proposed committee is to be composed of volunteers from units on the base. For this committee to become a reality it needs members. YOU can volunteer your services by calling the Camp Special Services Officer at 5528.

CSG Retains Lead Over AW In Tight FT Baseball Race

As the Force Troops Baseball League goes into the stretch A/W and Combat Service Group continue to fight it out for the lead, each team winning one game last week. With only two weeks left to play, CSG rests one game ahead of A/W by virtue of having played more games than its rival.

While A/W was pounding 8th Signal, 15-6, in its only game of the week, Combat Service Group was squeezing out a close win over a stubborn 90's team, 3-2. CSG was pushed all the way in what was expected to be an easy victory.

Although the leaders won, 8th Motor and 155 Gun, last week's third-place teams, were not so lucky as 155 Gun suffered defeat at the hands of Motor, 2-1, and Motor turned around to be beaten by ArmAmphib, 4-3. Pitcher Monroe got the victory in the Gun game, but was charged with the defeat in the game with Amphib.

Gun Salvage

Gun was able to salvage its other games of the week as it beat the hapless Aggressor team, 7-5, and the 8th Engineer team, 15-5.

The Amtrac team, in a losing streak for the last two weeks, got back on the victory trail as it downed 8th Tank, 8-6.

In the only other action last week, 8th Engineers won its third victory of the season, downing Aggressor 14-2. Aggressor went out and got its second victory of the season as it squeezed by 8th Tank, 2-1.

The first ship fitted out for service in the Revolutionary War was the schooner Hannah, which was under the command of Nicholas Broughton.
