Col. McHaney New Boss Of 10th Marines

Col. Joe C. McHaney, 39-year-old veteran of 18 years in the Marine Corps, assumed command of the 10th Marines Thursday during a regimental parade and review on the camp parade field.

The traditional change of command ceremonies saw Colonel McHaney relieve Col. Donald M. Weller, who has commanded the 10th for about a year. He will replace Col. Charles B. Luckey as chief of staff of the division.

No newcomer to the 10th Marines, Colonel McHaney told the troops of his new command that it was 17 years ago that he first served with the division's cannoners, reporting for duty to the 1st Bn. Since that time he also has served with the 2nd and 3rd Battalions.

A 1935 graduate of Texas A&M, the colonel enlisted in the Marine Corps in July of the same year and saw duty in Shanghai, China from 1937 to 1940.

During World War II, he served from 1942 to 1944 in the Pacific and at one time was an aide on the staff of the 1st Marine Amphibious Corps.

Colonel McHaney reported here from Quantico, where he was Academic Assistant Director of Marine Corps Schools.

Davis Rider To Die Unless Re-Enacted

Enactment before July 1 of a permanent rank-limiting statute on officer promotions has become next to impossible and a House Armed Services subcommittee in about two weeks is scheduled to file only a preliminary report, according to "Navy Times."

The amended Davis Rider, running with the fiscal year, will die June 30 unless re-enacted in the new budget. However, there seems little likelihood of any significant ease-up in the officer promotion picture.

Quick Action Seen If Budget Bureau OK's Pay Raise Bill

Rep. James E. Van Zandt, sponsor of the military pay raise bill, has stated that, if the Bureau of the Budget gives an official OK to the proposed pay adjustment, he is confident the House Armed Services Committee will schedule speedy hearings for it.

Representative Van Zandt made his statement after unofficial reports that the proposal has received tentative Administration approval after an informal presentation to the President, according to the "Army-Navy-Air Force Journal."

The bill would probably mean an increase of about eight per cent but, although it would apply only to base pay, it is understood that the Defense Department has asked that this be broadened to include allowances as well.

All-Marine, All-Navy Meets Running Through Saturday

BY CPL. SEBASTIAN SOMMER

The largest track show in the history of the Navy will get underway here this afternoon when the first concurrent running of the All-Navy and All-Marine Track and Field Meets opens with ceremonies set for Liversedge Field at 1 p. m.

Over 200 contestants are entered in the three-day affair, which will run through Saturday afternoon and culminate in a huge banquet at Marston Pavilion for participants and officials.

7358 NCO Promotions Authorized

As a result of the service-wide enlisted tests administered during January and February, the Marine Corps will authorize the temporary promotions of 7358 NCO's during June and July. A breakdown of the new hikes shows 246 new master sergeants, 1678 tech's and 5434 staff's.

One group will have May 1 as its date of rank while another will have June 1. This division is for seniority purposes.

Promotions will be made from June 19 through July 19. However, commanding officers are authorized to effect promotions of personnel who were in transit or whose record books weren't available during the regular promotion period.

Ex-Marines Eligible To Join Reserves For Specific Duty

Ex-Marines may now go to any U. S. or Hawaiian Marine post or station and enlist in the Reserves for assignment to extended active duty for a period of more than 30 days.

Personnel enlisted at posts and stations will be assigned to duty at place of enlistment, except Marines enlisting with an aviation MOS. They will be transferred to Aircraft, FMFPac; El Toro; Cherry Point; or Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii, which ever is nearest.

The new policy authorizes the posts and stations to enlist ex-Leathernecks in the ranks of sergeant and below. New Reservists above sergeant desiring assignment to active duty must be referred to the appropriate district director or commander, Marine Air Reserve Training Command.

Enlistments in the Reserve are for either three or four years.

Former Marines enlisting will be designated as in Class III, Volunteer Marine Corps Reserve.

The field of runners, jumpers, and fliers comes from such widespread places as Japan, California, Illinois, New York, and Florida, and includes some of the best-known names in national and international track.

Leading coaches and officials from the Southern Conference will serve at the meets, and the chairman of the Olympic Track and Field Committee, Mr. Pincus Soffer of New York, will be the clerk of course.

Other officials will be Dale Ranson, track coach of the University of North Carolina, as referee; Bob Chambers, Duke University track coach, as head timer; George Barclay, UNC head football coach, head finish judge; and Paul Derr, physical education director of N. C. State College, head starter. Cmdr. Milton Gabrielson, director of athletics for Atlantic Fleet, will act as chief inspector.

Col. J. A. White, camp special services officer, and Lt. Cmdr. Ralph Colson, of the 1st Naval District, head the Games Committee. Commander Colson is the Navy Project Officer for the meets.

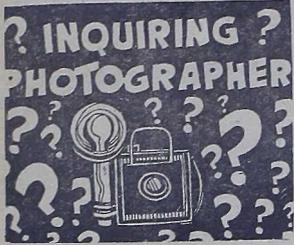

A seemingly endless list of nationally prominent track men entered in the meet is headed by three Olympic stars of last year's games at Helsinki. Ken Wiesner, runner-up in the high jump, Bill Miller, runner-up in the javelin, and third-place Olympic high hurdler Art Barnard all are on the entry lists.

Wiesner, holder of the world's indoor high jump record, is a Navy dentist attached to Great Lakes Naval Training Center and will be entered in the All-Navy meet. His best jump indoors is six feet, ten and three-quarters inches, while outdoors he has done well over six feet, eight inches.

Smith Top Vault
From San Diego Marine Recruit Depot comes one of the country's outstanding pole vaulters, Bob Smith, who holds the All-Marine record at 13 feet, 11 and three-quarters, and has done over 14 feet, five inches. He held the NCAA championship in 1948 and '49.

How Did Yop Propose To Your Wife?

CPL. ROBERT L. GOODRICH, 2ND AMPHIBIOUS TRACTOR BN. — I proposed to my wife while we were at an amusement park in Kansas City. I accidentally addressed her with a pet name of some kind and she picked it up quickly and asked me why I had become so familiar. From then on, we were going to get married. That was the closest I ever came to a proposal. It was more or less understood.

SGT. WILLIAM E. PALMQUIST, 2ND ENGINEER BN. — I'm not married yet, but I've already proposed. I've been going with the girl for two years, and it was generally known that we would be married someday. Now, I'm a simple man and not very poetic, so I simply came right out and asked her point-blank. The day when men got down on their knees to propose is gone forever.

PFC. TOMMIE O. FRENCH, 2ND ENGINEER BN. — I've been married eight years but I remember that walk in the park that clinched things. We had gone to a movie or something; it was one of those everyday dates. On the way home, we went through the park. It was nothing extra or exotic, but I still remember it and I think she does too.

SGT. JOHN C. ANDREWS, 2ND ENGINEERS BN. — Well, I can truthfully say that I am the only man I know of who didn't propose to his wife until the night before the wedding. Of course, we had made all the plans and everything, but I couldn't recall ever asking her to marry me. So, the night before (and it was midnight, if I remember correctly) we'd just come home from last minute rehearsals, and I thought I might just as well tie the knot completely. So I asked her.

SGT. GARLAND R. WAID, 2ND AMPHIBIOUS TRACTOR BN. — I was going with her for quite a while before I went overseas, but just before I left we had a misunderstanding and decided to call it quits. I had plenty of time to think about the whole matter while I was in Korea and, when I got back, I took her out and then proposed one night right at her front door.

Ace 'Saddle Up' Comedian Lives Strictly For Laughs

BY CPL. DAVE McCULLOUGH
Pfc Louis Gostel, top funny man of the 2nd Division's new musical revue, "Saddle Up!", opening June 24, has been clowning his way through life ever since he was able to climb—comically, of course—from his cradle.

PFC LOU GOSTEL

That he is such a top comic is hardly a surprise to his family, friends and the cast of "Saddle Up!" For, as the hackneyed expression states, the theater is literally in Lou's blood.

His father, "Jo-Jo" Gostel, is famed in Miami, Fla., as manager and comedian at the "Life" Bar, mecca of the local show trade. Lou was weaned on the vaudeville circuit, spending his childhood traveling with his father.

Pantomime
When young Gostel graduated from high school in Miami, he started to work professionally with a solo pantomime act at Miami's Tepee Club. Seven months later he switched to straight comedy in an act which played to Miami club audiences for the next year.

Gostel then teamed with Howie Storm in the Gale and Storm comedy team. For three years they played the Catskill Mountain resort centers, and in New York City, Miami, Boston, and Maine.

June Christy, the famous band singer, called the Bronx-born comic "one of the funniest people I have ever seen." Lou appeared with Miss Christy several times, as well as with Artie Shaw and Mel Tormé.

When Gostel entered the Marines in May 1952, he was rehearsing for a featured spot with Gordon Jenkins in NBC's TV show, "U. S. World Showcase."

The 22-year-old Leatherneck comic is still making people laugh—and after "Saddle Up!" opens, thousands more Marines should be laughing at Lou's antics.

SILVER STAR WINNER Sgt. Robert A. Hyer is congratulated by Brig. Gen. Robert E. Hogaboom, interim commander of the 2nd Division, during formal ceremonies here last week. Hyer, a member of the 2nd Marines, won the award for conspicuous gallantry in action against the enemy in Korea (Official USMC Photo).

SHOCK WAVES kick up the dust a fraction of a second after the crew protect their ears from the terrific concussion.

Time, Location Set For Annual Reunion Of Fourth Division

The 4th Marine Division Association will hold its sixth annual reunion in Washington, D. C. from June 25 to 28.

Tentative plans for the three-day get-together have set June 25 for registration from noon to midnight and June 26 for the annual meeting and elections. Also planned for the latter day are a Sunset Parade and review at Marine Barracks and attendance at a Washington Senators-Detroit Tigers baseball game at Griffith Stadium.

Further information may be obtained by writing MSgt. J. B. Nelson Jr., Executive Secretary, Headquarters Marines Corps, Washington 25, D. C. Association officials wish those attending to send their two-dollar dues to Sergeant Nelson as soon as possible.

Staff Integrations To Be Immediate

Staff NCOs' requests for integration submitted after May 21 must be for immediate integration when approved, according to Almar 14.

In cases where a request was submitted before May 22 and is approved, the Staff NCO may delay actual integration pending completion of service requirements as set forth in Marine Corps Memo 54-22.

WRONG TIME

The GLOBE was in error last week in reporting that Onslow Beach is open from 1 p. m. until sunset, Monday through Friday. Correct time is 10 a. m. until sunset. On Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays the beach is open from 8 a. m. until sunset.

Under the direction of S. Williams, 155 Gun's commanding officer, the huge, 15 fired almost every day last two weeks, blasting targets about 12 miles firing positions.

The awards, all won in action, included Star Medal, six Bronze Stars, one Air Medal, a Commendation Medal and Purple Heart Medal.

Winner of the Silver Star was Sgt. Robert A. Hyer, sergeant from the 3rd Battalion. Other recipients were James L. Anderson, Sgt. A. Frydrychowski, Corporal P. Dzuravcik, Benjamin J. Curran, and Ralph James; and 1st Lt. William V. H. Walter.

8th Marines Trio Garner NCO Honors

With class averages of 91 and above, three men of the Eighth Marines took over the win, place and show slots among the top ten graduates of the Non-Commissioned Officers' Leadership School's class number five last week.

The number one spot went to TSgt. Charles H. Shields, who chalked up an average of 92.13 for the three-week course. Marks of 91.71 and a 91.16 won the second and third-place honors for SSgt. Robert E. Brown and Cpl. Joseph J. Belluomini, respectively.

Guest speaker at the 60-man class graduation was Col. David W. Stonecliffe, assistant chief of staff, G-2, 2nd Division. In the colonel's brief address he pointed out that, "the school is not an end to the achievement of leadership abilities, but rather a beginning. It is the proper application of what you have been taught that will make you a leader."

Others in the top ten, in the order of their standing, were: Sgt. Charles B. Drake, 2nd 90mm AAA Gun Bn.; Sgt. William J. Muldoon, 10th Marines; Sgt. Billie J. Redmond, Hq. Bn.; Sgt. Edward F. Healey Jr., 2nd Ordnance Bn.; Sgt. James M. Kittle, 2nd Amphibian Tractor Bn.; Sgt. Lawrence T. Goulet, 2nd Amphibian Tractor Bn.; and Sgt. Richard M. Schneidmiller, 8th Marines.

Years Of Saving Lives Celebrated By Hospital Corps

More than 50 years ago, on June 1, 1898, the Hospital Corps of the United States Navy came into existence as an organized unit of the Department by act of Congress.

For the last 55 years the "Corpsman!" has been a hero of help and an exclamation point of hope for countless Marines. Their anniversary signifies a half a century of unending bravery. It signifies, in the eyes of the Department, the great advancement in the techniques of saving lives in the battlefield.

The techniques of military medicine have become ever more advanced. Corpsmen today must have the knowledge to inherent in the techniques of saving lives in the battlefield.

The project is undertaken here at the Field Medical Service School, Montford Point. Here do the Corpsmen bound for the front get highly distilled training.

School Reopened

In September 1951 the Field Medical Service School was reopened for the first time since World War II. Its primary function is to prepare Corpsmen for combat, the school stresses the techniques of saving lives in the field.

In a rigorous four-week course, Navy medical personnel receive physical conditioning, study combat tactics, watch demonstrations and participate in displays, and are subjected to the privations of field life.

More than one Corpsman has said, "The worst part about going to Korea today is going to the Field Medical Service School."

Naval Veteran

Commanded by Capt. Eugene R. Burgess, a veteran of 22 years of Naval service (17 of them attached to the Marines), the school is led by a man who has had the experience of Korea's Chosin Reservoir. To expedite Herring's school plan, a staff of 10, mostly combat veterans, is in place. Four of the staff are Marine instructors.

Perhaps the basic theme of the school was best expressed when Herring said, "I know the kids have the guts to go out and get casualties, but I don't want them getting killed." This is why, since the school's inception, more than 4200 enlisted men and 700 officers have had to crawl across a combat range with 30 calibre slugs splitting the air overhead, and half-pound shells of TNT pounding the earth around them.

Like "Mud Marines" in the Pacific, for four weeks the Marines learn, like a "Commarine." The basic phases of the infantry's war are crammed into the Corpsman at Montford Point so that he may protect his own life in order to save someone else's.

To insure that the training is adequate, Captain Herring encourages "grads" to write letters of evaluation of the school in hopes that new and important phases might be suggested.

A recent letter from Korea stated in effect that, "you only left one thing out. You never made a noise like a mortar just before it goes off."

Such "heads up" operations as the Field Medical Service School have insured Marines the bravest and the best-trained medical care in the field, and has etched a handsome record for the Medical Corps in the annals of the Navy for the last 55 years.

DON'T GET THROWN BY GRAVEL

If you should strike a stretch of rough pavement or a gravel fill, don't jam on the brake or clutch. Even fast reaction time is tricky in such cases, for jamming the brakes or releasing the gears may throw your vehicle out of control enough to cause an accident. Ease up on the accelerator, letting the engine slow you down with better control, and concentrate on steering.

NEW BARS are pinned to the collar of 2nd Lt. James W. Rahill by his wife, Mrs. Marion R. Rahill, and Lt. Col. Charles E. Chaplain's Corner

STRAGGLERS

One of the greatest problems in any military organization is the continual presence of stragglers. We have stragglers from liberty and leave, stragglers in the pay line, stragglers at chow. Wherever we have a formation of men almost invariably there are some who can be classed as stragglers.

Therefore, those of us in the armed forces can perhaps appreciate more than others the words of the prophet, "On that day . . . I will collect the stragglers." Micah 4:6 (Moffatt).

As the prophet spoke these words, he probably was remembering the history of his people, looking back to the long march through the wilderness. The problem of stragglers was a great one in that group. We know from the account in Exodus what a sorry division of stragglers marched, or rather lagged, at the rear.

This is perhaps the greatest burden of any pastor or chaplain—the stragglers. Some are so far in the rear that one would never dream that they had ever been counted in the army. They are completely out of hearing of any words of command at the head of the column.

But let us not be complacent in glancing at the stragglers. What are we all but stragglers where the purposes of God are concerned? "Like a mighty army moves the church of God." That is as beautiful as an ideal picture. It is a good marching song. But think how it would move if it were not for all of us uncounted millions of stragglers!

"On that day . . . I will collect the stragglers." So may it be!—Chaplain E. W. Glass, 2nd Service Bn.

Sailor's Sales Talk Sells Brother Corps

A service-slanted "triple play" is responsible for John E. Richards being in the Marine Corps today.

The 26-year-old native of Pineville, Ky., served in the Army from 1945 to 1948. However, he had a brother Bill in the Navy who spent his time singing the praises of the Marine Corps for the manner in which the Leathernecks conducted themselves during World War II combat operations. Bill's song was convincing. In 1949 John enlisted in the Marines. Today he's assistant steward at the Naval Hospital exchange—with the Army and Navy in on the play.

Lejeune Linksmen Lose To CP Flyers

Rain brought a premature halt to a match between two 24-man golf teams from Camp Lejeune and Cherry Point Sunday at the Cherry Point links.

Cherry Point was leading in the match, 20-19, before the early halt, and was declared the winner. The two installations have planned a return match here within the next two weeks.

A best ball foursome tournament will be played at the Paradise Point Course Saturday with prizes going to the winners.

First, you must work out a system for keeping busy. There are a number of ways for doing this. Studying the movie column in the GLOBE will get you off to a good start.

Bill Miller, flying the Camp Pendleton banner this year, holds the All-Marine record in the javelin at 210 feet, eight and one half inches. He missed beating Cy Young in last year's Olympics by a little over five feet, and won the Fresno relays this year with a heave of 234.

Art Barnard, the third Olympic figure entered in this year's meets, is an apprentice seaman from San Diego NTC who is the third-best high hurdler in the world according to the form sheet of last year's Finland-hosted games.

Barnard was third behind Harrison Dillard and Jack Davis, who both ran the 110-meter distance in 13.7, but is still trying to break 14-flat.

Other names in the glittering field of track stars include Merle Wackerbarth, Jim Jackson, and Jerome Walters of Camp Pendleton, Merritt Van Sant, Roger Montgomery and Frank Rivera of Camp Lejeune; Robert Morse of NAS, Pensacola, Fla.; and Bob Boyd of the San Diego Naval Training Center.

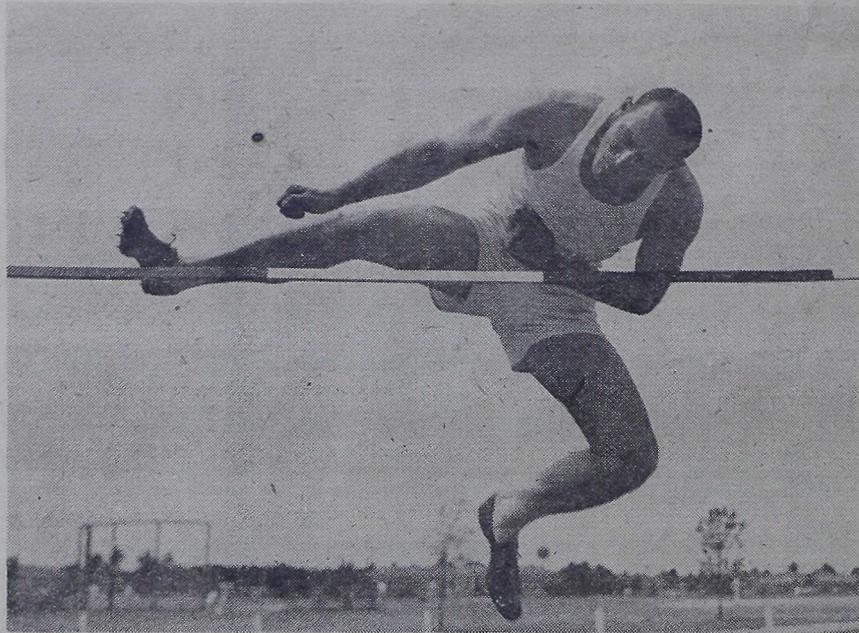

The first three places in each event will make up the All-Marine and All-Navy teams to be entered in the All-Service Track and Field Meet, which will be held at Fort Jackson, S. C., next week-end.

For first prizes, engraved watches will be presented, while-clocks go to second-place winners, and third-place entrants will receive engraved cigarette lighters.

Among visiting military dignitaries at the meets will be Lt. Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Commandant of Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

DEFENDING CHAMPION—Robert Morse, flight student at NAS, Pensacola, Fla., holds the All-Marine record in the discus with a toss of 155 feet, three and a half inches, and will be back to defend his title here at Camp Lejeune (Official USMC Photo).

WORLD'S CHAMPION—Ken Wiesner, Navy dentist from Great Lakes, Ill., is the holder of the world's indoor record in the high jump with a leap of six feet, ten and three-quarters inches. Runner-up to Walter Davis in the 1952 Olympics, he will be entered in the All-Navy Meet this week (Official USMC Photo).

biggest single sports spectacle ever to take place at Camp the All-Marine and All-Navy track meets, starts today amidst ceremonies and will end the same way Saturday. Within those three days, track fans, and others who just like to show, will see a meet to rival any in the country. A star-studded list comprising over 200 athletes, many of them well-known national figures, are bound to make this meet the finest annuals of service track.

This column will serve as a reminder that a track meet of such proportions is a tremendous project. There is no accurate way of how many man-hours were needed to bring the meet to this point, but the preparations are indicative of the work ex-

Laying The Groundwork

February 19, a Marine Corps Memorandum set forth the which the meet would be run. On March 5, Camp Lejeune was selected as the site for the All-Marine Meet, scheduled originally for 12-13. Somewhat later the Navy decided to run its meet at the same time and figured that it could be run at Lejeune as the two were having a meet anyway. The contests would be run separately, yet separately. This put a double load on the Games Committee—in effect, running two meets on the same days on the same track.

The Games Committee on which the administrative burden of the meet has fallen is none other than the Camp Special Services staff with additions. It is composed of the Camp Special Services Officer, Col. J. A. White; his assistant, Lt. Col. Sidney White; the Camp Athletic Officer, Capt. George Knezevich; Lejeune's track coach, Lt. Vern Gale; plus Cmdr. Ralph Colby, the Navy's contribution, and Lt. Joseph C. Bridgers, camp information officer.

Assistant Bridgers and Cpl. Sebastian Sommer, track publicist, responsible for the publicity and the program. The procurement of straggling entries, became a last-minute proposition wasn't delivered from the printers until today. Colonels and Altmann, Commander Colson, and Captain Knezevich are responsible for the organization of the meet. This includes getting the schedule of events, contacting well-known people to officiate, arranging for the billeting and feeding of 200 athletes, and other smaller details.

Officials Top-Flight

Getting top-grade officials the Games Committee has been successful. They have secured Dale Ransom, track coach at Carolina; Paul Derr, head of Physical Education at N. C.; Barclay, head football coach at North Carolina; R. L. Champe's track coach; and Pincus Sober, head of the Olympic Committee, among others.

Job comparable to, if not greater than, that done by the Committee has been turned in by the Lejeune track team at the time of the announcement that Lejeune would host the meet, the Liversedge Memorial Field track left much to be desired. In fact, runners complained of unusually slow times.

To the team went to work. They laid what amounts to a new sifting 45-ton loads of cinders. They re-wetwashed the track, centered and painted 30 new hurdles, set up bleachers, new broad jump, pole vault, and high jump pits, rolled and the track, and generally put the track in the shape it is.

Effort put in to hold such a meet is quickly forgotten the excitement of the meet itself. There is no first, second, or third place prize for conducting a meet, but it's a good idea to remember that the meet could never have taken place without the effort mentioned above and many more.

LOOK AND Lie-mes BY SGT. TED YATES

SEA ISLAND, GA.—Less than 500 miles south of Camp Lejeune lie the Golden Isles of Georgia, among the most historic territories in the South and certainly one of the most scenic. Of these hundreds of islands, perhaps Sea Island is most widely known as it has been fashionable resort, and is recognized as one of America's great vacation spots.

Sea Island, the pirate used the extensive marshes, that sweep across the Georgia mainland like an undulating sea of grass to meld with the Atlantic Ocean some 30 miles from the coast, as a retreat from the sea chicanery. Most of the islands here are privately owned and offer luxurious estates that rest comfortably in the shade of the live oaks, ragged with Spanish moss.

Fine For Sea Trout

Fishing through the vast marshlands and around the many islands and a myriad rivers, recognized as some of the finest sea trout grounds in the world.

On a recent week-end, as the Georgia sun drilled into our system from the sky and the pungent vegetable smell of hundreds of square miles of water seeped into our system from all sides, and the dark waters of the Black River tugged at our boat from the bottom side, we dropped anchor over the side, and whammo, right-away-quick, started plucking fish from the rich waters.

Later, dark clouds began streaming overhead, and suddenly a summer storm was on us. First a light singing rain, then clouds began being flung down. Normally, this ends fishing. But here, it seemed, in fact, that it was raining fish.

Most all the fishing in this area is done with live shrimp. A line is attached to the fishline about a yard above the hook. When the shrimp has been carefully hooked the works is cast out and the angler has only to watch the float. If it is suddenly sucked under water, it indicates that something has taken the bait, and the fisherman strikes. Common catches include trout, channel bass, drum, croaker, and sheephead.

Sea Island is indeed a spot to keep in mind should you consider a vacation complete with all the trimmings, including superb fishing.

TIE SCORE—Frank Napoli slides home safely with Fort Dix's third run to tie the score in the seventh inning of Thursday's game. Waiting for the ball is hurler Jim Waugh, who had just relieved Bob Reich. It was Waugh's errant throw, which had gotten by catcher Andy Payonk, that allowed Napoli to score. Lejeune came back to win, 4-3 (Official USMC Photo).

Lejeune Beats Dix, 4-3, In First Game; Loses Second, 6-2

Camp Lejeune, in the throes of its worst slump of the season, split a double-header with Fort Dix Thursday and Friday, winning the first, 4-3, to snap a two-game losing streak but losing the second, 6-2, to fall back in the losing groove.

An infield hit by Andy Payonk, and a wild throw by the shortstop, scoring "Babe" Daskalakis in the bottom of the ninth with two away, earned Lejeune the 4-3 victory.

The last ditch rally gave the Marines a victory over Andy Porfocarero, former Philadelphia Athletics hurler. Jim Waugh, relieving for the second straight night, earned credit for the victory after coming in for starter Bob Reich.

On Friday Lejeune dropped its sixth game of the season to bonus player John Forizis, who allowed only four hits. "Chuck" Chronopoulos, who went all the way, allowed only six hits but suffered his second defeat of the season due to shoddy fielding.

Dix took a 2-0 lead in the second but Lejeune scored once in the third on a walk to Chronopoulos, a stolen base, the catcher's error, and Dave Krings' single to center. Dix added two runs in the fourth and singletons in the seventh and ninth.

Lejeune managed to dent the plate once in the sixth on "Chico" Rodriguez' bunt single, his steal of second, a ground-out, and Paul Donovan's single.

Grim Pitches 17-3 Win For Lejeune Over Navy Flyers

Camp Lejeune snapped out of its batting doldrums here Saturday, belting four Norfolk Naval Air Station hurlers for 16 hits to resume winning ways with a 17-3 victory over the Flyers.

Bob Grim's twelfth victory of the year was probably the easiest he'll get this season as he coasted through the seven-inning massacre.

He gave up two runs in the fourth on three singles and a passed ball and another in the sixth on an error and two singles. The game was called at the end of seven by mutual agreement.

Big Inning

At the end of the first inning Lejeune was leading, 7-0. "Chico" Rodriguez walked, stole second, and rode home on Brown's single after Dave Krings lined to left. Frank Fahringer, first of four Norfolk hurlers, then walked Paul Donovan, "Babe" Daskalakis, and Bill Hawkins to force in a run.

John Kiehl relieved and walked Ed Kababek to give up another run and Andy Payonk's pop single drove home another. Grim's long fly scored one more and "Chico" Rodriguez singled for another.

Shut out in the third, the Marines had another seven-run spree in the fourth. Six singles—two by Kababek, and one each by Payonk, Rodriguez, Krings, and Ralph Russo—plus two walks accounted for the scoring.

Depot Nine Listed On Top In MB Loop

Supply Depot, with a winning streak of five straight, moved past H&S Bn. into first place in the Marine Barracks intramural baseball league last week. The red-hot Depot team has not been defeated since May 14, and is now sporting a record of six wins against one loss.

Runner-up H&S has won seven while losing two.

WM Sluggers Top Quantico, Fort Bragg

Undeclared and two rungs higher on the ladder for the east coast Woman Marine softball championship, the Camp Lejeune distaff Marines submerged Quantico last Thursday, 21-2, and routed Fort Bragg's WAC's, 22-5, Saturday.

Carol Lau's home run in the first inning Thursday gave Lejeune a 2-0 lead. The Lejeune girls never were headed as they routed Quantico hurler Topsy Trujillo with a six-run outburst in the second and added four markers each in the third and fourth and five in the fifth.

Bev Moose and Anglie Darby shared the pitching chores for Lejeune, with Moose receiving credit for the win.

Lejeune overcame a five-run Bragg lead Saturday by jamming across three tallies in the first and 12 in third. The Marines pushed across seven more in the fourth before the Army visitors conceded and stopped the game at the end of four and one-half innings.

Darby went the route for Lejeune, allowing four hits.

Camp Lejeune puts its undefeated skein on the line Saturday when it plays host to Donaldson AFB, S. C.

No Rest Seen For Lejeune's Baseball Nine

The schedule offers no respite for the Camp Lejeune baseball team, which faces another week filled with competition against top service teams.

After yesterday's and tonight's "crucial" games with Quantico, the Marines face Fort Myer, national semi-pro champions, tomorrow and Saturday, east coast Marine contender Parris Island at the Recruit Depot Monday and Tuesday, and powerful Fort Jackson Wednesday and Thursday in South Carolina. Saturday's game, originally scheduled for 2 p. m., has been switched to 8 p. m.

Fort Myer, paced by major leaguers Sam Calderone, Tom Poholsky, Danny O'Connell, and Johnny Antonelli, swept through the semi-pro tournament at Wichita, Kan. last year and then went to Japan where they continued their successes.

Not Same Team

But Calderone, Antonelli, and O'Connell are back in the majors, Poholsky is at Fort Belvoir, and Fort Myer is not the same team.

Parris Island, like Fort Myer, has suffered during the past winter. Not a man from the 1952 east coast champions remains. The Islanders will have a fair season's record, and will be tough in their own back yard, but only an upset can render the "Boots" winners Monday or Tuesday.

Fort Jackson is probably the best service team in the east at the present. It has ex-Dodger Joe Landrum on the mound, Detroit's Frank House behind the plate, and Faye Throneberry from the Boston Red Sox in center field. The rest of the team is made up of top minor league talent.

Lejeune Men

beaten twice this season, but was suffering from a pulled leg muscle. The leg is getting in top shape for this week's events.

Dick Layne, former Ohio State and Southern Cal footballer, should set a new record and win the All-Marine honors in the shot-put. Layne has improved steadily all season, his best effort being 49 feet, six inches, to take second at Fort Jackson to Army shot-put ace Jim Cooke in a dual meet this season.

Relay Squad

The Lejeune mile relay team, undefeated in its seven dual meets this season, has been steadily whittling away at track and camp records, and has a best time of 3:23.3. The All-Marine record is 3:29.5.

The mile relay foursome will probably consist of Bernard Williams, Leroy Walters or Francis Kreuzberg, Frank Rivera, and Seymour Bibuld.

In the speedy 440 relay event, Lejeune will enter some of their fast 100-yard dash men who have run times of 43.3 and 44.5 in unofficial races.

BOB SMITH, San Diego's outstanding pole vaulter, has cleared over 14 feet, five inches, and holds the All-Marine record with 13 feet, 11 and three-quarters inches.

10th Marines Baseball Play Runs Close

As the 10th Marines intramural baseball play moves into its seventh week of action two teams are locked in the top spot well out in front.

Neck and neck, the 2nd and the 3rd Battalions pace the league with 5-1 season records. They are followed by H&S with 2-4 and the 4th Bn. with a dismal 1-7. Last week the 3rd edged the 2nd, 4-3, then dropped H&S, 10-3. The 2nd Bn. made it a bad week for the H&S squad by blasting them, 10-1.

In 10th Marines softball so far it's a one-team show with the 2nd Bn. in the spotlight, boasting a 6-0 record. A 4-4 record merits second place for the 4th Bn.; H&S is third with 2-5; last place belong to the 3rd Bn. with 1-4.

Two teams of the 8th Marines are involved in a fight for first place in the regimental baseball league. The 1st Bn. has a 7-3 record, while the 3rd Bn., having played two games less, has 6-2. The 4th Bn. has 3-5, and the Composite Bn. has 2-8.

Action in the other intramural leagues was slow; more games are on tap this week. The 6th Regiment's baseball league opened formally yesterday. The 10th Marines have set the regimental swim meet for this afternoon at the 5th Area Pool.

Runners-Up Tumbled In FT Baseball

Undeclared Automatic Weapons, which was idle this week, remained on top of the Force Troops' Baseball League, but both Combat Service Group and 8th Signal, runners-up last week, were sent to defeat to cloud further the outcome of the scrambled championship race.

Eighth Signal Bn. worked its way near the top of the league by beating CSG, 12-9, but it was then knocked off successively by both 2nd 90 AAA and 155 Gun Bn., 9-3 and 17-3, respectively, to dim the brilliance of its previous victory.

The CSG-8th Signal game was one of the most exciting played this year. CSG early in the game piled up nine runs against a lone score for the Signalmen. In 8th Signal's half of the fifth, however, the situation reversed, Signal exploding for ten runs on seven hits. The Signalmen garnered another run in the sixth.

Second 155 Gun Bn., in its first game of the week, was defeated by a much improved 8th Tank nine, 5-2, but bounced back to down 8th Motor, 3-0, and 8th Signal, 17-3, on successive days.

The dark horse of the league, 2nd 90 AAA Gun Bn., added another victory to its record by also defeating 8th Signal, 9-3.

In the other games, Amtrac got back on the victory road with an easy shutout over Aggressor Co., 6-0. ArmAmphib also became victory-minded as it took the measure of the 8th Tank team, 10-3.

Camp Drops Series As Travelers Win

Powerful Fort Lee blasted four Camp Lejeune pitchers for 12 runs as Jack Heinen spun a gaudy four-hitter to give the Travelers a 12-1 victory over the Marines here Wednesday last week.

The game put a number of firsts in the Lejeune record book. It was the first time Lejeune had dropped two games in a row and the first loss of a season's series, the Travelers having taken three of four. Heinen became the first pitcher to defeat Lejeune twice this season, and Ben Johnson suffered his first loss after winning seven straight.

For the second straight night, Lejeune could collect only four hits and all were wasted. The Marines scored in the eighth, when Heinen temporarily lost control and gave up four straight walks to force in a run.
