Break Ground for Iwo Jima Statue Friday

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the Marine Corps National Memorial will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Arlington cemetery on the 10th anniversary of the island-hopping campaign fought in the Pacific.

A 100-ton bronze statue, depicting the famous photograph of the flag-raising on Mt. Suribachi by Associated Press photographer Joe Rosenthal, will be erected on a tract of land bordering Arlington. The statue is being cast at Astoria, Long Island, under supervision of Major Felix de Weldon.

A host of dignitaries, including Marine Corps command-ranking Marine officers, and representatives who served with the Corps, and military attaches of the United States in the Pacific, will be present.

L. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., 1st Lt. of the Marine Corps, will break the ground with the same shovel used in the raising of the Lincoln Memorial.

The statue, which was authorized in 1947 by Congress and all of the 50,000 raised thus far, has been donated by the Marine Corps. $250,000 is needed to complete the cost of the memorial.

Service Conference Start Tuesday

A three-day conference on the training of Marines here this summer will start Tuesday at 8:45 a.m. in the 4th Division.

The conference will be attended by representatives from the more than 100 units slated for two training periods here beginning Tuesday.

Attending the session will be representatives from Headquarters Marine Corps, Reserve Training Center, Marine Corps Base, 2nd Division, and Force Troops.

GLOBE Completes 10th Year

The 10th anniversary week for the newspaper began today—Feb. 23, 1944, to the 10th anniversary of the first issue of Vol. 1, No. 1 rolled off the press.

The new paper succeeded the River Pioneer which had been published since Sept. 17, 1943, but which was now inadequate for the expanding demands of the camp.

The new paper, published by the Marines, will be a big-time newspaper with 16 pages, published weekly, with a circulation of 16,000.

Noticeable changes evident in the new GLOBE were the lack of commercial advertising which had been a feature of the old paper, and the new layout with a masthead of eight. The Camp recreation then, as now, under-

The statue is expected to be dedicated Nov. 10th, the 10th anniversary of the Corps. Groundbreaking for the 100-ton monument, to be known as the Marine Corps National Memorial, will be held tomorrow at Arlington National cemetery with Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps, turning the first earth (Official USMC Photo).

Shots, Restrictions In Store For Lejeune Canines, Felines

BY SIR ARCHIE

Official Camp Lejeune Mascot
Arf! There's bad news tonight. They say "Every dog has his day," and I guess the same goes for cats. But last Friday wasn't the day for either of us. Not by a long shot. You'll get the point sooner or later.)

That was the day Camp Memorandum No. 33-54 came out. Dog my cats if it didn't specify that:

1. All members of the Lejeune canine and feline population must be vaccinated for rabies before March 20.

2. All owners must register or re-register pets at the Pass and Identification Office, Bldg. 50 between March 21 and April 1.

3. All of us must be restricted for ten days from March 21 to April 1. That means we must be confined tied up, or on a leash.

wrote the cost.

In those days there was big news to print. Marines were moving ever nearer Japan in their island-hopping campaign. Victory was in sight.

Through the years since, the GLOBE has attempted to report the happenings, here and elsewhere, of interest to Lejeune Marines. Sometimes space requirements or regulations have forced us to omit or severely edit copy and consequently some people have felt slighted. Sometimes "typos" which result in a name being misspelled or a rank being downgraded have brought blistering tirades to the hapless staff.

But by and large the people who put out the GLOBE, are striving to bring you the best paper possible and are waging (See BIRTHDAY, Page 4)

British Adm. Here Friday To Tour Base

Camp Lejeune will entertain a distinguished visitor this week, when British Vice-Admiral C. L. Hughes-Hallet, C.B., C.B.A., arrives today for a one-day tour of local facilities.

The Admiral, accompanied by his aide and Col. Mervyn Archdall, Royal Marines, is scheduled to arrive via helicopter at 9 a.m.

Following a rendering of honors by the 2nd Division guard and band, the Admiral, who serves as head of the Naval staff of the British Joint Services Mission in Washington, will fly to Montford Point by helicopter for a tour of Supply School Bn.

A briefing at 2nd Division headquarters will follow at 11 a.m.

Lunch will be served the guests at the Commissioned Officers mess, and a short journey to the Rifle Range, Courthouse Bay, Onslow beach, and Camp Geiger will bring the admiral's tour to a close.

The visitors are scheduled to depart from the Marine Corps Air Facility, Peterfield Point, at 3:20 p.m.

4th Division Plans Reunion For June

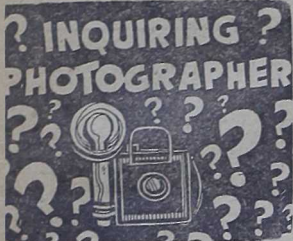

The seventh annual reunion of the 4th Marine Division association will be held this year at Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 25, 26 and 27, according to Judge Carlton Fisher, president of the association.

A colonel in the Marine Corps Reserve, Judge Fisher has asked that all association members send the names of former 4th Division Leathernecks to MSgt. L. J. Floyd, executive secretary, 4th Marine Division association, Headquarters Marine Corps, Washington 25, D. C.

According to Colonel Nees, "the one staff system will not effect the efficiency or lessen the rigid and intensive training program planned." It is an attempt to conserve staff personnel in such operations.

ALL ABOARD—More than 99,000 pounds of steel creeps down the ramp toward the waiting jaws of an LST. Seventeen of the monster M48 Patton tanks were loaded last week. They'll take part in TRAEX 3-54 maneuvers which get underway tomorrow as ships sail from Morehead City (Official USMC Photo).

"IF YOU WERE EDITOR OF THE GLOBE, WHAT CHANGES WOULD YOU MAKE?"

CAPT. H. D. FULLER, USN, JOINT LANDING FORCE BOARD—If I were editor of the GLOBE, I'd have a few more human interest stories and more background material about personnel stationed here on base. There should also be more information on driving regulations. The pictures would be more interesting if people were shown doing something other than shaking hands, and there could be better circulation of the GLOBE, and more pages.

PFC BEVERLY SMITH, WM CO., MCB — There could be more enlisted news material in the newspaper since more enlisted men read it. I would run a feature cartoon every week in the GLOBE, too. One more thing I wouldn't have the Stork Club, or the Traffic violators in the paper and I'd have more copies printed for better circulation.

1ST LT. J. M. JOHANCEN, WM CO., MCB — I would definitely enlarge the WM Maneuvers column, and give more detail on the sports that the women take part in. The most important thing I would do would be to have more copies of the GLOBE printed.

SGT. W. N. DENNIS, STAFF DRIVER, JLF — The first thing I would do if I were editor of the GLOBE is to give more detailed movie review. Then, cover more enlisted news, and keep the whole paper for marines, instead of civilians. "Variety is the spice of life," so I'd put a comic strip in the paper. The last two things I would do are run a gripe column and publish more copies.

LT. COL. V. E. DELNORE, USA, JLF — The movie schedule could have more details about the pictures playing. I would scout around and give more information on the film. Also, the athletic events should be published weekly. Even the intramurals should be listed as to when they are being played and who is playing. Those are the two main changes I would make.

PFC CHARLOTTE MADAR, WM CO., MCB — I would put in more news about the Women Marines. I would also have more pictures, and less writing. The Stork Club could also be taken out. I would have more papers printed for the many people who want GLOBES that don't get them.

Former Sonar Research Engineer Now Camp Geiger Radio Repairman

BY PFC EMIL DANSKER

Pfc Lawrence R. Holland, is repairing radios now, but 14 months ago the Philadelphia Marine was doing basic research into one of the Navy's potent undersea weapons: Sonar.

Now at Camp Geiger with the 2nd Combat Service Group's 8th Signal Field Maintenance Bn., Holland then was working for the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, Woods Hole, Mass., as a research assistant.

His Sonar work took him on a 14,000 mile air-sea safari that included four weeks in Rio de Janeiro, and stops at Trinidad, Recife, and Bermuda.

Sonar (Sound Navigation And Ranging) is the undersea adaptation of the more familiar Radar (Radio Direction and Ranging). Sonar operates by sending out sound waves, Radar operates by sending out radio impulses. Both "track" their targets by measuring the time it takes for an impulse or echo to bounce back to the sender.

Sound waves are used under water, Holland explained, because the high-frequency Radar waves are reflected by the electricity-conducting sea water.

The dual purpose of Sonar: to detect the presence of submarines by surface craft and by other subs and to map the ocean floor to provide navigational aids for new-type subs which stay under water longer and find it impractical to surface to chart their positions.

Holland joined Woods Hole after taking a bachelor of arts in engineering sciences and applied physics from Harvard university. His first project was to build one of the first variable frequency Sonar units.

He worked at the Institution the rest of the summer of 1952 as what he called an "electronic bottle-washer", learning about Sonar. He made several trips in the Atlantic on two of the Institution's three ships testing equipment, then in October joined the sailing vessel "Atlantis" in Rio to test a newly-designed unit for the Navy.

Holland's job was to evaluate the new unit and to assist in mapping the ocean floor and locating the "sea mountains" which are important as submarine landmarks. According to Holland, the sub fleet with the best knowledge of these undersea signposts will be most likely to control the under-surface of the sea.

One sea mountain caused some excitement, Holland recalled, when the Sonar graph suddenly rose sharply until the crew stopped looking at the set and began looking over the side in mid-ocean expecting to see the bottom.

The water did turn greenish, Holland said, but the ship didn't run aground. What the Sonar had discovered was a two-mile high mountain under the ocean—from a depth of more than 10,000 feet to less than 30 feet beneath the surface.

After work on the "Atlantis" he continued working at Woods Hole until he entered the Marine Corps in September, 1953.

18 Special Course Grads Hear Supply Function Explained

"The day when supply's chief function was furnishing beans and bullets is past," Col. John E. Willey, commanding officer, Supply School Bn., said as he addressed 18 officer candidates and an audience of several hundred during graduation ceremonies for the third Special Supply Officers' course Tuesday.

"Supply is part of a well-coordinated whole," the colonel continued, "like a spoke in a wheel. The hub is the Fleet Marine Force, the troops on the field, who depend on supply for thousands of items."

Colonel Willey congratulated the 18 candidates, of whom he stated, "We have chosen them for commissions because they have what it takes, and have displayed their abilities during the 16-weeks course of instruction here."

The oath of acceptance was administered and individual commissions were presented by the colonel.

SSgt. W. J. Bunch Receives Coveted Canal Zone Orders

Coveted orders to Marine Barracks, Rodman, Canal Zone, have been received by SSgt. William J. Bunch after more than two years as chief clerk of Headquarters Co., H&S Bn., MCB.

SSgt. Bunch is well-known to Staff NCO's at Lejeune because of his duties as receptionist at the Hadnot Point Staff NCO club.

Sgt. Bunch joined the Marine Corps in May, 1944, after service with the National Guard in Hot Springs, Ark. During World War II he served under fire with the 3rd Division at Guam. Discharged in Feb. 1946, he joined the 15th Marine Corps Reserve Bn., at Little Rock.

Sergeant Bunch resumed his position in civilian life as Justice of the Peace and Assistant County Judge of Hot Springs township and Garland county. He returned to active duty in August, 1950, with the outbreak of hostilities in Korea. In Korea he served with the 1st Marine Division in the 1st Armored Battalion. Returning to the States in August, 1951, Sergeant Bunch was assigned duty at Camp Lejeune.

DOUBLE TROUBLE—It's confusing but not amusing. The jacket could belong to either of these two men. Both are named Beaulieu. Both come from Nashua, N. H. The Marine Corps, mistaking them for brothers, has kept them together since they enlisted. But they are unrelated. Now both are slated for Far Eastern duty. Whose jacket is it? These two good friends will work it out some day. (Official USMC Photo).

Bound For Korea, 'Gold-Dust Twins' Leave Lejeune In State Of Confusion

BY PFC GEORGE BRAGAW

"Guess these two guys must be brothers," said the recruiting sergeant in the Manchester, N. H., Marine recruiting office. Two boys named Beaulieu never cracked a smile without realizing it took advantage of the Marine Corps policy of trying to keep twins or brothers together as much as possible.

So the two boys of French-Canadian origin journeyed to boot camp. Again at Parris Island the same name and the same hometown placed the two boys in the identical recruit platoon. Though they were not even related, silence had convinced the Corps that the two New Englanders were really brothers.

Things had been just like this for most of their lives. Pfc Robert W. Beaulieu (black hair) and Norman A. Beaulieu (blond hair) went to the same schools, played for the same ball teams, and were together almost constantly around their Nashua, N. H., home-neighborhood.

"People have thought we were brothers all our lives," said Beaulieu (black hair).

The Beaulieus (pronounced Buh-lue) stayed together at Lejeune too.

Both were sent TAD as part of Co., 2nd Shore Party battalion, Shore Party school in Norfolk.

But things looked pretty good a short time later when Norman got orders for Camp Pendleton and further transfer to Korea. The jig seemed to be up. Apparently, the men listed names with Norm's name. It looked though one Beaulieu was en route for Korean duty.

At the last moment a man's original list was unable to cause of a medical defect. He was the next man on the list, man, of course.

When last seen the Beaulieus were hurrying off on leave, going on to the West coast.

For enlistment, boot camp, 2nd Division, Shore Party, Norfolk, and now Korea, they have managed to stay together. They're not double trouble in ordinary sense, but they sure have heartaches for personnel officers when the name's the same but parents are different.

Re-enlistees Given Choice Of U.S. Duty

All sergeants and below, in any MOS field, eligible for release in 1954 may select and be guaranteed transfer to any duty station in the United States, according to Maj. Mitchell Paige, 2nd Division recruiting officer.

Interested personnel may contact the Major at Bldg. 320, phone 3693.

Five Star Rank Slated For GW

More than anything else a long weekend will hammer home to Lejeune Marines that Washington's birthday falls on the 22nd.

Others are remembering our first President's birthday and a bill introduced by Representative John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) proposes a rather belated birthday present for the Father of our Country—his commission as a General of the Army.

The commission would be dated July 3, 1798, the original date of Washington's appointment to the grade of lieutenant general and Commander in Chief of all the armies raised or to be raised in the U. S.

To forestall a possible rush to the disbursing office by persons with the surname of Washington the bill concludes "No individual shall be entitled to receive any bonus, gratuity, pay or allowance by reason of this Act."

Life-Saving Practice Swims Start Feb

Practice sessions for personnel interested in taking the Red Cross life-saving test will begin Feb. 18 at the Fifth area pool.

The test will be given by William G. McDermott, North Carolina water safety first aid advisor.

Qualifications for the test: good physical condition, 18 years of age or older, and ability to swim 440 yards.

Interested persons may contact Sgt. Glen Duff, Harry Shaffer, Cpl. Bill Land, or Pfc James Hadley at racks 53.

OWN OF A NEW DAY—Corby Coutts, 10, and his pet setter, Sirgi, stretch out the kinks after spending Sunday night camping out near the Memorial field house so they could grab first place in line to buy one of those ten-dollar canoes in the background. The young Scout is the son of Lt. Col. Lloyd G. Coutts of the Joint Land-Force Board (Official USMC Photo).

All-Night Vigil Rewarding; Coutts Claims First Canoe

Corby Coutts is one ten-year-old who knows what he's—and sets out to get it!

Complete with coon-skin cap, sleeping bag, rations, and a faithful Irish setter, the young Cub Scout managed to get a place in the waiting line which formed outside the field house for the Special Services' used canoe sale Monday morning.

The tale of this junior Daniel began when Corby, son of Lt. Col. L. G. Coutts of the Joint Land-Force Board, saw the canoe about the sale in last week's GLOBE. He had to have no doubt about it.

Persuading his dad to drive him to the field house late Sunday, the youngster unpacked his gear, which included a flashlight and a knife (never know what a might run into out there in the dark) and set up camp. He coaxed Sirgi, the family's pet setter, to come out the night with him.

At the dawn, Hordes of prospective canoers were waiting outside the field house doors. There was no doubt as to Corby's position, however. He was number one boy. Planking his ten dollars on the table, he claimed his prize—a mighty happy boy.

The rest of the canoes? They were sold within an hour.

Captaincies Due For 681 First Lieutenants

A selection board met at Headquarters, Marine Corps Feb. 4 to recommend 681 first lieutenants for promotion to captain.

Eligible are active duty officers whose date of rank is on or before Mar. 31, 1953.

Another selection board met Jan. 28 to nominate inactive Reserve majors for promotion to lieutenant colonel.

Col. Willey Named Chairman of March Red Cross Drive

Col. John E. Willey, commanding officer, Supply School Bn., has been named chairman of the 1954 Red Cross campaign which begins March 1 and continues throughout the month.

The campaign organization was announced following a meeting Tuesday.

Col. A. A. Vandegrift Jr., was designated chairman for the 2nd Division; Lt. Col. K. C. Ziegler for Marine Corps Base; Lt. Col. Richard Belyea for Force Troops, and James B. Lamm for civilian personnel.

The national goal is $85,000,000 and 30,000,000 members. Officials of Camp Lejeune's drive hope that 100 percent membership will be set here. Annual membership is one dollar.

The campaign will be extended to Vieques by officials of TRAEX II and III.

A major portion of the annual Red Cross budget—40 per cent last year—is devoted to providing essential services to the armed forces and veterans through field directors' offices and home service in the 370 Red Cross chapters throughout the nation.

Naval Hospital Gets Pearl Harbor Vet As New Chief Nurse

Chief Nurse Lt. Cmdr. Ruth A. Erickson, assumed her duties at the United States Naval Hospital Friday, as her predecessor, Lt. Cmdr. Margaret Richards, made preparations to leave for her new duty station at USNH, Bethesda, Md.

It will be the second tour of duty in the Capital area for Commander Richards, who served there in 1938 following graduation from the University of Maryland and enlistment in the Navy Nurse Corps.

She was stationed on Adak in the Aleutian Islands during World War II, and was Chief Nurse at NAS, Patuxent River, Md., before reporting here last May.

Commander Erickson was at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. She served aboard the USS Haven during the war and returning to the states, reported to the Naval Hospital in Seattle, Wash.

In 1947, she was transferred to the District Medical Office in San Francisco, and later to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery in Washington, D. C.

VIEQUES HOOKUP—MSgt. William W. Smith, NCO in charge of the 2nd Division's "ham" radio station, prepares a Camp Lejeune-Vieques telephone-radio hookup at the station control board. Located near the parachute tower near the drive-in theater, the 675-watt station maintains a regular week-day morning schedule of contacts between Lejeune personnel in Vieques and their dependents at home (Official USMC Photo).

Dependents Able To Contact Vieques Via 2nd Division 'Ham' Radio Station

Telephone-radio calls between dependents at home and Camp Lejeune personnel in Vieques became a reality recently when the 2nd Division's amateur radio station moved its operations to the parachute tower near the drive-in theater.

Each week-day between 8 and 11 a.m., conditions permitting, the station contacts Vieques.

Except in cases of emergency, appointments should be made 24 hours in advance by calling MSgt. William W. Smith at 5346, or Capt. R. L. Parker at 5333 (day) or 6353 (night).

All calls should originate from Hadnot Point telephones. Calls should originate from outside the station because personnel other than qualified amateurs are not permitted within the station proper.

In cases of special emergency attempts will be made to reach any point in the world, according to Sergeant Smith. Through a special "pipeline," the sergeant said, the station can reach Japan and receive an answer within 24 hours.

An official 2nd Division function, the station was authorized by the Commandant of the Marine Corps Jan. 19, 1947. Moving operations from the old site in the Camp radio station began in October, 1953.

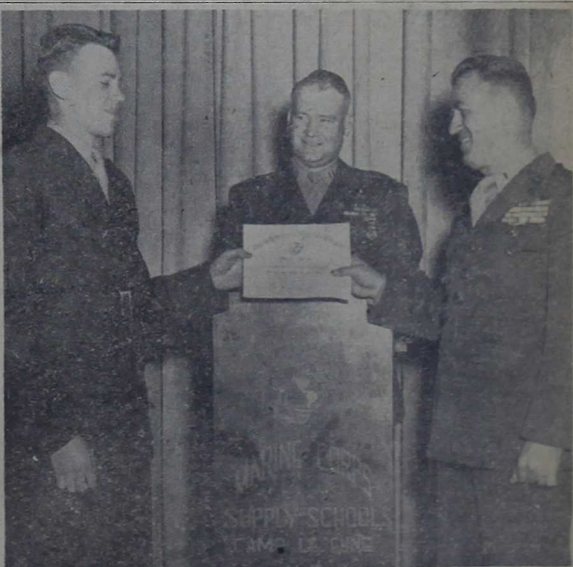

W4LEV now is operating with 675 watts output from a 300-foot "horizontal long wire" aerial strung south, and a 250-foot "vertical long wire" aerial facing west and strung from the top to the bottom of the tower.

Officials said that in the near future a 10 and 20 meter rotary antenna will be installed atop the 250-foot tower. This will considerably augment the station's present range.

The station is open to all Camp Lejeune military personnel who have amateur radio operators' licenses. Personnel who want to become "hams" may contact Sergeant Smith or Captain Parker.

VA MAN HERE

Mr. Ernest Elliott, Veteran's Administration representative from New Bern, N. C., will be available for consultation at the Camp Education office in the Camp theater Feb. 24 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Pfc Lenn has been assigned to supply in the 2nd Motor Transport Bn. (Official USMC Photo).

Chaplain's Corner

The English author Oscar Wilde once remarked that "Experience is the name that we give to our mistakes."

Although this statement was intended as sarcasm, it does contain an element of deep insight. In God's plan for the universe, trials and difficulties have a definite role. We are judged and evaluated by our reaction to what seems to be the negative in life. There is little question that the real shaping of personality comes through the honing of adverse experience. It is axiomatic that a knife is not sharpened by being pressed against a soft and resilient material. The point is only made keen by the pressure of a sharpening stone.

What is the element needed in a person to translate a possible hurt and bewilderment into the personality which characterizes the strong person? It is faith; faith in the goodness of God which transcends those events which we cannot understand or explain. Faith in a good God under whose protection our every act is carried out.

Many years ago Rabbi Hillel said, "He who does not increase his knowledge decreases it." This does not pertain to just knowledge of the book; it means the learning process involved in living. With our faith and the understanding that comes with it, our mistakes and misfortunes truly become valuable experiences. — Chaplain Gerald I. Wolpe.

- Short Rounds -

Clear For Action

The Corps in 1953 began a program designed to cut away fat and tighten its ranks. The move was spurred on by the economy drive of the new administration and by the desire to increase fighting effectiveness.

Last week the reports were in. By ruthless, but carefully considered weeding the Corps had actually managed to increase its combat troops by 30,000 men although total strength was up only 10,000.

Some 12,087 noncombat jobs had been dropped completely from the tables of organization and 10,000 others were closed out because of economy-induced manning level restrictions.

Among the jobs dropped were 3,129 among messmen, special services and communicators in Marine divisions; 2,088 deletions in the depot supply system; 1,843 within personnel, motor transport and other supporting functions within Marine aviation, and 1,436 in security billets at Naval installations.

Navy Secretary Anderson took a good look at the report, praised Marine efforts as "real accomplishment."

The Way Out (And In)

Two reasons why Marine recruits remain optimistic: In Wichita, Kans., last week a college youth pleaded with his draft board for deferment. Members checked into his case, told him it was no use, that he would be drafted right away.

The lad, pondering deeply, left. In half an hour he was back wearing a smug look on his face.

"You can't get me now," he said. "I just joined the Marines."

And in Waltham, Mass., Sgt. Richard F. Rousseau, home on a short leave, met his sister's steady boy friend, had a little chat with him, took him by the recruiting office, watched him sign on the line for three years.

Sis? She waved good-bye to both, promised to keep the home fires burning.

Just A Trifle

Navy non-commissioned officers shouldn't be called petty officers.

That was the opinion last week of Rep. D. R. Matthews, Florida Democrat, who revealed he had written a letter to Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson about the matter.

"When we read in the dictionary we note that the word 'petty' is defined as 'small in nature, trifling, mean or ungenerous, inferior' and so forth," Matthews explained.

The Star

The Corps last week gave stars to Col. Marion L. Dawson, No. 2 Marine airman.

Gen. Dawson, one-time infantry officer who led his troops in skirmishes against Nicaraguan bandits in 1928, is assistant director of the division of aviation.

In pre-World War II days he was a pioneer in the use of parachute troops. When fighting started he served as advisor to the commandant on Paramarines, was commanding officer of the parachute detachment at Lakehurst, N. J., and of the Parachute Training School at San Diego.

He later saw more than two years of air action in the Pacific.

Brig. Gen. Horner Will Receive Cub Scout Pack Charter

Mr. H. "Jag" Quinn, district commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, will present the charter of Camp Lejeune's Cub Scout Pack 90 to Brig. Gen. Matthew C. Horner, acting Camp commanding general, at the Pack's annual Blue and Gold banquet Feb. 25.

General Horner will present individual advancement awards at the banquet, which will be held in the Paradise room of the Commissioned Officers mess at 6 p.m.

Ceremonies at the banquet will honor the more than 3,300,000 cub scouts, boy scouts, explorers, and adult leaders currently associated with scouting in the United States, and the more than 21 million men and boys who have been identified with the movement since its founding Feb. 8, 1910.

Each Den will decorate a table in the blue and gold theme and a prize will be awarded for the best effort.

Camp Chapel Sets Lenten Observance

Episcopal celebrations of the Holy Eucharist will be held at 6 a.m. and 12 p.m. in the Camp Protestant chapel on Ash Wednesday.

To aid personnel in observing the season, evening services of Litany, Penitential Office and Sermon will be held every Friday at 8 p.m. in the chapel by Chaplain A. Neumann Barranger of the Tenth Marines.

New Church Holds First Service Sunday

The Lutheran church will hold its first services in a renovated building on Highway 24 outside Jacksonville Sunday. Rev. T. C. Plexico will conduct the first services with Sunday school at 10 a.m. and worship at 11.

Establishment of the church is under the sponsorship of the North Carolina Synod and the Service commission of the National Lutheran Council and Lutheran church.

Camp Radio Needs Puppeteers For TV

The radio section of the Camp Information Section plans to adapt the radio show "Operation Small Fry" to television by using puppets for the skit portion.

Any person with a working knowledge of puppetry is urged to contact MSgt. Tom DeCastro at 5755.

The Old Corps

Ten years ago this week: The last issue of the New River Pioneer, base newspaper, came out. It carried a note on the front page informing readers to watch for the new, streamlined Camp Lejeune GLOBE which would appear Feb. 23.

A USO show, titled "Hats Off," was showing at base theaters. It featured skits, music, and girls, girls, girls. It was here for a week.

Fred Waring saluted Camp Lejeune on his coast-to-coast radio show. A featured song on the program was "First to Fight." It was written by Waring and Jack Dolph and dedicated to Lejeune Marines.

Films on tap for the week were:

"The Rains Came," with Myrna Loy, Tyrone Power; "Banjo On My Knee," with Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea, and "Son of Dracula" with Lon Chaney, Jr.

An ad (the paper then carried advertisements) for a Jacksonville establishment offered "all kinds of medals, 50 cents; fine sterling silver medals, $1.50."

WM Maneuvers

BY CPL. BECKY CARPER

The WM birthday party held Thursday night was highlighted with the showing of a film entitled "Women and the War." The picture was photographed when Camp Lejeune was still New River, and the charming little Pfc who appeared in the PX scene was none other than TSgt. Plowman, now first sergeant.

Margie Pitts, who reported aboard only a week ago and TSgt. Curwen, who has resided here for over three years, joined forces in cutting the gaily decorated cake with a silver saber.

Col. Hamblet's statement about "shoes brighter than the sun" will be upheld. Proof is the inspection of the little "sunbeams" each morning at 0530.

Jean Baird became the bride of Sgt. Joseph Benako of the Camp bakery, Feb. 6, in Jacksonville. Their attendants were Sgt. James McCann, also of the bakery, and Joyce Stewart of the Camp infirmary.

Four girls announced their engagements to civilians this week. Gloria Davidoff is wearing a gorgeous diamond from Morton Kesten, of the Bronx, N. Y. Pat Collins will wed Monte McCune of Anderson, Ind., Peggy Fox is engaged to Robert Rager of Princeton, Ill., and Lavern Betsil will become the bride of William Wright of Flint, Mich.

The Camp Lejeune Glee club, long in demand, has at last been formed, and lacks only one thing—the support of Women Marine voices in both soprano and alto sections.

The group has a variety of music in its repertoire and a competent director with many years of musical experience. It meets each Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Marston Pavilion.

Shirley Lucas left on TAD to Norfolk, and Frances Genevieve Coccagna and Marilyn A. Meyer received their discharges Friday.

General's inspection is only nine days away. Better get your gear ready for junk-on-the-bunk.

Red Hot Basketball Struggle Nears Climax

Quantico Marines Stop Fight Team's Win Streak At Six

A crowd of 400 fight fans saw the Quantico Marines avenge an early season loss when they stopped the previously undefeated Lejeune Leathernecks five bouts to two Tuesday night at Quantico.

The Lejeune Marines, fresh from winning the Carolina Golden Gloves were fighting without the services of five of their first-stringers, who are in training for the Golden Gloves Regional tourney in New York in March.

In the feature bout, Quantico's Harold Conklin won a split decision over Lejeune's Walt Byars, '53 All-Marine featherweight champ. It was the second decision of the season for Conklin over the man who bested him in the All-Marine finals last year.

The results:

Camp High Quintet Tramples Smyrna

Camp Lejeune high school's Class "A" Seashore conference champs picked up their 13th conference win Friday, whipping a game Smyrna High quintet 61-46, at Smyrna.

Leading scorer for Lejeune was Peele with 18. Charlie Sells, Royster, and Johnny Mugford contributed 16, 14, and 12 points respectively.

On the girls' side of the ledger Lejeune was defeated by Smyrna 37-19.

Dixie Hardick contributed 17 of Lejeune's 19 points. Betty Lou Russell was the outstanding defensive player.

Chicago's Midway airport is the busiest in the nation, averaging more than 800 landings and take-offs per day, or better than one every two minutes.

O'Brien Top Division Player

Pfc Denis O'Brien, Shore Party Bn.'s 5'9" playmaker and take-charge guy, was selected for the "Outstanding Player" trophy in the Division intramural basketball championship tournament which his team won Saturday with a 76-74 victory over Headquarters Bn.

O'Brien, while small in stature, is a big as they come in ball-handling ability and all-around cage know-how. It was he who directed the Shore Party five's attack and kept the games under control when the going was close and hectic.

O'Brien, from Willow Grove, Pa., is a storeroom keeper, H&S Co., 2nd Shore Party Bn. He played one year of basketball at Salisbury (Md.) State Teacher's college and plans to return to school at the conclusion of his three-year hitch.

He joined Shore Party from boot camp late in the season but just in time to make up for discharge losses the team had suffered. He made an auspicious debut, scoring 20 points against 2nd Motor Transport Bn. in his first effort and Shore Party won the contest, 99-59. Then he scored 13 in the playoff game against the 2nd Medical Bn. after the Group II race ended in a stand-off at the end of the regularly scheduled season. O'Brien averaged

DINNERTIME AT THE BOARDING HOUSE—Shore Party and Headquarters cagers are all hands and arms as they scramble for the ball in their Division intramural championship tilt last week, but the elusive pill went out of bounds. Shore Party Edges Hq. Bn. In Overtime To Capture Division Cage Championship

BY CPL. VINCE RAFTI

The 2nd Shore Party Bn. won the Division intramural basketball championship at Goettge Memorial field house Saturday morning, defeating Headquarters Bn., 76-74, in overtime. The score was tied, 69-69, at the end of regulation time, necessitating the five-minute extra period.

Shore Party also took an overtime thriller from Headquarters Friday, 68-64, sending the double-elimination tourney into Saturday's do-or-die finals.

Both Shore Party and Headquarters Bn. are representing the Division in the six-man Camp intramural playoffs with Marine Corps Base and Force Troops quintets.

Shore Party and Headquarters tossed the lead back and forth in Saturday's playoff tilt. The score was tied, 15-15, at the quarter and 30-30 at the intermission. The largest spread in the first half was six points with Shore Party ahead, 23-17; on three successive field goals, two by Jim Russell and one by Denis O'Brien, unknotted a 17-17 count.

Shore Party surged ahead, 52-46, at the end of the third, sparked by Jim Cunningham, who scored eight of his total of 19, and Joe Fortunato, who made six, in this period.

In the fourth quarter Headquarters' Don Meyers took the wheel and drove his club back into contention. Meyers, the game's high man with 26 points, dropped in four field goals and two free throws to whittle down Shore Party's margin. His last basket, a rebound with only four seconds remaining on the clock, tied it.

Cunningham put Shore Party ahead again with a jump shot but Meyers tied it, scoring on a fast break. Cunningham scored again on a pass from Russell and Charlie Bryant dropped in two from the free throw line to put Shore Party ahead, 75-71, and that was it. Headquarters pulled up to a 74-76 on a pair of foul shots by Bob Marshall but a long, desperation shot by Meyers missed as the final buzzer sounded.

Cunningham's 19 points led the Shore Party scoring. Fortunato made 18 and Russell 15.

Shore Party had to win three games in a row to take the title. On Tuesday they lost to Headquarters, 65-51, and went into Thursday's losers' round against the Eighth Marines with a big hill to climb. But Shore Party, with O'Brien scoring 23, handed the infantrymen their second tourney defeat.

At the conclusion of the game, Col. Donald M. Weller, chief of staff, 2nd Marine Division, presented the team and individual trophies.

Strong Second Half Gives WM's 35-27 Cage Win Over PI

The season's biggest WM basketball crowd last Friday night saw the Woman Marines come back strong in the second half to defeat Parris Island, 37-27.

Trailing 15-11 at the half, the Lejeune women traded basket for basket in the final period, then moved ahead with Ruth Decker, Pat Burbage, and Peggy Compton leading the way.

Burbage put the game on ice with three final goals. She was high for the night with 11 points.

Highlighting the game was the fine play of the two opposing Peggy J. Comptons—one from PI, one from Lejeune.

The WM team was slated to play a rematch with Henderson Hall last night, and will meet Langley AFB tomorrow night. The Lejeune cagers return to finish the season with Cherry Point Feb. 26, there, and a home game with Ft. Bragg, Feb. 27.

There are nine captains and 45 majors in the Marine Corps with more than 30 years service.

The race for the Camp Lejeune basketball championship will be decided tonight or tomorrow pending on who wins and today's games.

Capt. Stan Cluggish, the Shore Party's quintet's coach was asked to comment on O'Brien's selection for the trophy.

is an old saying that a person who doesn't take advantage thing when he has every chance to do so is a sucker. Barnum e's a sucker born every minute," and a look at Camp Lejeune would seem to bear him out. We're referring to those who e advantage of the athletic program provided for every one ally there are those few who never were interested in sports ivilian life or in the service and can't be expected to be now, who were and are interested are the ones this is directed to.

ies for practically every type of athletic endeavor are providonnel stationed here—golf, swimming, baseball, softball, basotball, and many more.

of chances offered them.

ANDOM . . . In regards to the Devil-Pups basketball team port a 17-2 record and have the Seashore Class A tournament cked away, SSgt Jim Oggerino, Globe staff writer, thought the Pups to write the following ballad in their honor:

"There is no joy in Mudville
For mighty Casey has struck out!"

Now switch the scene to Camp Lejeune,
Where cheers displace the murky gloom,
And students dance a rigadon
Of joy and sing the victor's tune.

What's that you say, why all the noise,
And all the fuss and lack of poise?
You see no cause for this ado,
And what's it got to do with you?

Say where've you been, why man alive,
The cheers are for the high school five.
The Class "A" Seashore champs they be,
No easy task believe you me.

The game they had with Pamlico
Was fast and hard and tough and go.
Twas fifty-five to fifty-two,
The seconds left were eighty-two.

T'was Bobby Peele who made two more,
To raise the score to fifty-four.
Then Charlie Sells from 'way outside
Did swish one in to turn the tide.

The seconds left were twenty-eight,
For Pamlico 'twas not too late.
They took the ball and came alive,
And down the court they 'gan to drive.

They brought the ball within the slot,
To put the Pups right on the spot.
T'was Johnny Musford stole the sphere,
And started up to bring it clear.

He reached the middle of the court,
With Foreman Avery for escort.
One noble effort did he make,
And ball from Musford tried to take.

But time ran out, the game was done,
Another one the Pups had won.
The rafters echoed to the cheers,
From friend and foe alike sincere.

The Pups deserve this nice bouquet,
For they were always in the fray,
And come what may in future years,
Today they're champs without compare.

Is it spring? No, but the "old fever" is sure catching. Robins are on the wing again. Like a tumbleweed drifting listlessly along our thoughts wander from one pleasant day dream to another. Winter is on the way out. A little fishing or boating is the vogue. Personnel at the Wallace Creek boathouse keep long hours maintaining canoes, row-boats, sailboats, and outboards for our use. Let's check 'em out.

Here's an angle! Some dark night, when the water is still, go floundering! A good light, a gig, waders or a boat and you're in business. A hundred pounds of good eatin' fish is not an unreasonable take if you're in on the know. Flounder lie in three to eighteen inches of water along the shores of these inland tidal waters. At ebb tide or an hour or two either way, commence your stalking.
Bring along that 20-20 vision, lots of patience and a file to sharpen your battered spear. Don't be disappointed on your first outing.
Until you've learned to "eye the eye" of the flounder he'll be hard to distinguish from the bottom's array of similar looking objects.

Try fishing in the waterway at Onslow beach! It can be quite entertaining. You may catch trout, pigfish, flounder, sheephead, croakers, catfish, stingrays, sand sharks, and a variety of smaller fellows, some edible, some not. Bring your bait with you—shrimp or cut mullet. Plugs are best for trout.

Like the bigger fish? Check the remote isolated parts of the barren beaches for the surfcaster. Watch him toss a half-pound of bait out over the breakers—whrr-r-r-r! With that rig he has it should be easy, you say. You're right. It isn't difficult and the buffeting one takes from the wind, surf and shifting sand is quickly forgotten when you strike a big channel bass and drag him up on the beach.

The annual election of the Fish and Wildlife club will be held on the 3rd of March. All members are urged to attend. The meeting place will be announced next week.

Fact: Like a tree, the age of a fish can be told by growth rings, these on the scales of a fish.

WAY UP HIGH—Shore Party Bn.'s Joe Fortunato (dark jersey), and Hq Bn.'s Ed Kababek (7), go up high for the tapoff of their Division inframural game last week. Headquarters won this contest, 65-51, but Shore Party bounced back to defeat Headquarters in overtime thrillers on Friday and Saturday to win the Division championship.

ground, back to camera), and Jim Cunningham in the background

Cagers To Make Last Stand; Face 3 Foes On Home Court

The Lejeune basketballers make their final effort to climb back on the winning side when they tangle with Marine, Army, and Navy teams here this week.

Games with Cherry Point, Norfolk's DesLant, and Camp
Pickett wind up the locals' 1954 season.

Tonight the locals tackle the Flyers from Cherry Point here.
Cherry Point defeated the locals
there, 93-90, in a thrilling contest Jan. 6. The Leathernecks will be out for revenge with high hopes of defeating at least one
Marine team this season.

To stop the Flyers Lejeune must stop their ace scorer and center,

Larry Thompson, who scored 32 points in their first meeting.

Saturday night Lejeune meets a strong DesLant five. Lejeune beat the Navy men in December, 92-76.

Monday the Leathernecks take on Camp Pickett's Chargers, who defeated them last week, 93-86.
Lejeune will have to contend with their two-high-scoring aces,
Gene Neff and Dick Abele. Neff, former Kentucky star, scored 32 points against the Marines, while Abele, an ex-Villanova star, scored 29.

All games will be played at 8 p.m. at Goettge Memorial Field house.
