Division als Visiting am. Fahrion

Admiral F. G. Fahrion, commander, Amphibious Forces, Atlantic Fleet, was honored yesterday with a huge parade review by more than 12,000 "Black Leathernecks" of the division.

Official reviewing officer today, Admiral Fahrion acted as the steel-helmeted Marines put on an impressive and colorful show of arms on the Camp Lejeune ground.

Admiral witnessed the time-honored Marine ceremonies which included the long parade after arrival in the parade field at 2:30 p. m. by Maj. Gen. R. McC. Pate, commanding general of the 2nd Division, and his staff.

Fixed Bayonets
Admiral was honored with a 15-gun salute as thousands of motionless fixed bayonets lined the parade field in the afternoon sunlight. Following the salute, the admiral and General Pate boarded a rail-jet in which they made a tour around the camp, "making a bayonet tour" of the division's units.

The parade which followed was the largest show of the division's units since it celebrated its anniversary last February.

Pass Reviewing Stand
by Brig. Gen. Robert E. Pate, assistant division commander and commander of troops review, it took the parade route more than a half mile past the reviewing stand. The last division unit marching in the reviewing officer's planes and helicopters on the VMO-1 roared over the parade route.

Admiral Fahrion complimented the division on its high state of readiness and the precision of its maneuvers. (Continued on page 2) ever, a list of some 8000 promotions is expected to be announced late this week. Also, authorized to promote 18,000 corporals, sergeants, and promotion will be given soon, says the division.

OPERATION MERCY, Jacksonville's 1953 American Cancer Society Drive, is opened by Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, at the campaign's marathon radio show in front of the Jacksonville Court House.

Reserve Regulations Set By Marine Headquarters

Regulations governing status in the Ready, Standby, and Retired phases of the Marine Corps Reserve have been issued by Headquarters Marine Corps.

Every Marine Reservist on active duty January 1, 1953, is placed in the Ready Reserves as of that date. Reservists not on active duty that date, other than those on the retired list or the Inactive Status List, are also placed in the Ready Reserve unless qualified for assignment to the Standby Reserve by certain factors.

These are: having served on active duty or active duty for training in the Armed Forces for not less than five years; or having served on active duty for not less than 12 months between December 7, 1941, and September 2, 1945, inclusive, in addition to one year of active service since June 25, 1950.

Assigned To Standby
Marines who were on the Inactive Status List January 1 are assigned to the Standby Reserve but are kept on the ISL.

Standby Reservists in active status may, except in time of war or national emergency, ask for transfer to the Ready Reserve provided they agree to stay in that status for one year or ask for assignment to active duty.

Ready Reservists are on call for active duty in time of war, national emergency declared by Congress or proclaimed by the President, or when otherwise authorized by law. Standby Reservists are liable for recall in time of war or if a national emergency is declared by Congress or otherwise authorized by law.

Division Colonels Change Commands At Dress Review

A colorful parade and review here last week marked the change in command of the 6th Marines as Col. Ormond R. Simpson, who has been transferred to Division Headquarters for General Staff duty, was relieved by Col. Charles M. Nees, former assistant chief of staff, Division G-3.

Colonel Simpson has commanded the 2nd Division regiment for 15 months.

Following a brief parting speech by Colonel Simpson, the old and new commanding officers read their orders and watched as the regiment passed in review. Attending the ceremonies were the Commanding General of the 2nd Division, Maj. Gen. R. McC. Pate; and Brig. Gen. Robert E. Hogaboon, assistant commander.

Marines Aid J'ville Citizens In Marathon Cancer Drive

Lejeune Marines helped raise over $3000 during the marathon cancer appeal drive in Jacksonville Saturday. Starting at 9 a. m. on the steps of the Onslow County Courthouse, the marathon in aid of the American Cancer Society finished at midnight in the studios of Radio Station WJNC.

Roads, Waterway, Beach Close Down During Maneuvers

Due to military necessity, the following restrictions on local highway and waterway traffic and Onslow Beach recreational facilities will prevail next week. Hours are given in Eastern Standard Time.

Highway 172 (Snead's Ferry Road—Duck Creek Starling Road); Beach Road; Marines Road; Robinson Road; and Snead's Ferry Road from Robinson Road to Duck Creek Starling Road will be closed to all traffic and personnel not participating in Phase II, LANT TRACEX IV, from Monday at 7 p. m. to midnight Thursday.

All recreational facilities at Onslow Beach will be closed during the same time. The Intra-coastal Waterway will be closed to all navigation between New River Inlet during the above time. No vessels will be permitted to enter the prescribed sections after the specified hour and all must be clear of these sections prior to the beginning of the closed period.

The vehicular restrictions do not apply to emergency vehicles, general and flag officers in official cars with car plates or flags displayed; T. A. Loving Co. vehicles engaged in bridge construction; vehicles transporting perishables; vehicles required to be in the area; private vehicles whose occupants are stationed in Courthouse Bay, Division NCO School, or Onslow Beach areas; and residents of G-5 Range.

In an address to the radio audience, Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, praised the work of the society and voiced the interest felt in the society's work by Lejeune Marines.

Under the supervision of MSgt. Tom DeCastro of the Camp PIO Radio Section, Cpl. Bill Skilling and Sgt. Al Coleman of Camp Radio and Cpl. Garry Kaufman and Pfc Bill Ballentine of Division Radio lent their services during the radio appeal.

Volunteers from the cast of the 2nd Division's new musical revue, "Saddle Up!," entertained most of the day.

Entertaining
They included Capt. Robert Burr, Lt. (jg) Bernard Greenberg, Pfc Louis R. Abiuso, Cpl. Billy E. Barnes, Sgt. Lawrence Cooper, Sgt. Alford Estes, Pfc Philip Goodlove, Pfc Louis Gostel, Cpl. Thomas Hite, Sgt. Henry Johnson, Pvt. Martin Levy, Cpl. Charles E. McAllister, Cpl. Andrew Mecak, Cpl. Charles Ormsby, Cpl. David Palko and Sgt. David Pratt.

The Jacksonville High School Band led a parade of Onslow County Boy and Girl Scout troops and American Legionnaires.

Among prominent North Carolina citizens at the appeal were Mr. Jules Segarman, County Crusade campaign chairman; Mrs. June Katzin, co-commander of the County Crusade; Mr. Lee Booth, president of the Optimists Club of Jacksonville; and Mrs. Lester Gould, program director of WJNC.

Special entertainment for children was provided by two other members of the "Saddle Up!" team. Sgt. Fred Fredericks and Cpl. Martin Rosenthal drew cartoons of popular comic strip characters.

What Is The Best Excuse For Speeding You Have Ever Heard? (Asked of MP Co.)

SGT. J. G. SHOFNER, CAMP DESK

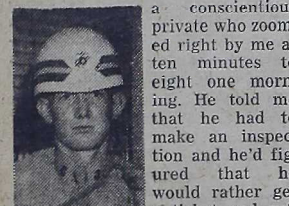

SGT.—When I was out on the road, I really picked up a character one night. He was flying over Holcomb Boulevard at a furious pace and after a merry chase, I cornered him. He had been drinking—to the extent where his breath nearly knocked me over. He staggered out of the car and anxiously told me that a man in his condition shouldn't be driving and he wanted to get his car safely in the parking lot before he wrecked it.

PFC WILLIAM BULLINGTON—

The best one I ever heard was from a conscientious private who zoomed right by me at ten minutes to eight one morning. He told me that he had to make an inspection and he'd figured that he would rather get a ticket and suffer ten days' suspension than get restricted two weeks for failing to appear at inspection.

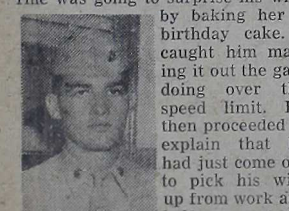

CPL. BART A. ARCESE—

Late one night I spotted a car coming down the 25-mile zone, doing about 60 or 65. When I asked the driver where he was going in such a hurry, he told me some wild story about his 15-day sticker. He said it expired at midnight that night and since it was ten minutes to twelve then, he was rushing to the parking lot before someone caught him with an expired 15-day sticker.

SGT. DANIEL ROBERTI—

This Marine was going to surprise his wife

by baking her a birthday cake. I caught him making it out the gate doing over the speed limit. He then proceeded to explain that he had just come out to pick his wife up from work and half-way out he remembered that he had left the cake in the oven with the gas still on. Usually, it's the women who pull something like that. A man telling me that story almost had me believing him.

PFC M. E. McDONOUGH—

I think the best one I ever heard was from a fellow who was really making tracks out the Main Gate. Capturing him, he told me frantically that he had just bought a gallon of ice cream and wanted to get it home to the kids before it melted.

London Scenery And Marine Tactics Bring Wedding For English Lass

BY PFC MARIANNE BAUER

Strauss waltzes, "dress blues," and the Marine Corps Ball in London supplied the background for a courtship that ended in wedding bells for London-bred Norma Phillips and SSgt. David Gambrell.

Norma, whose family lives at 41 Shirehall Park, Hendon, worked as a secretary for the American Embassy in London. She saw Leathernecks en masse for the first time when David, the guard who stood diligently outside her office day after day, escorted her to the Birthday Ball and the gala Marine Corps celebration.

After the ball, the courtship continued until a military wedding in May 1951 united the English girl and the American Marine.

Wedded life in England was discontinued temporarily, however, when Sergeant Gambrell was notified of his transfer stateside. His tour of duty in Europe was ended and the young sergeant was anxious to introduce his English bride to his people and his country.

Off To The US

The Gambrells, and a bouncing baby boy, David Jr., boarded a plane for the United States. Norma's first experience aboard an aircraft brought air-sickness and uncomfortable fears of the new country she was approaching.

They landed just outside Washington, D. C., and, to Norma's amazement, the city was very much like London. The general atmosphere, however, was new and confusing. The hustle and bustle and shoving and pushing without pardon was completely American.

Upon David's discharge from the Marine Corps, he began working as a custodian at a Washington prison and, for two months, military life crept out of the picture. Then, on the 89th day after his discharge, when he could decide within 90 days whether or not he wanted to stay out of the Marine Corps, David came home in the old but newly-pressed uniform.

He had re-enlisted. Civilian life was not for him.

Down To Carolina

Finally, they journeyed to North Carolina and Camp Lejeune last January. Norma was finding out that American people were easy to get along with and that their natural personalities were more and more becoming.

"It still amazes me how very little is expected of me as hostess in my home," says Norma. "No matter who comes in or where he's from, he maintains a feeling of confidence and contentment and causes me to think I have known him for years."

Norma's wild craving for candy found satisfaction here. She tells of how candy and a few other items, such as eggs, are still rationed in England and how, after arriving in Washington, she made up for all the candy she hadn't eaten in the past years.

"I search through my cookbook day after day to find recipes that call for eggs," she says. "It's a marvel to be able to reach for egg after egg, without having to fear you've used up your ration for the next month."

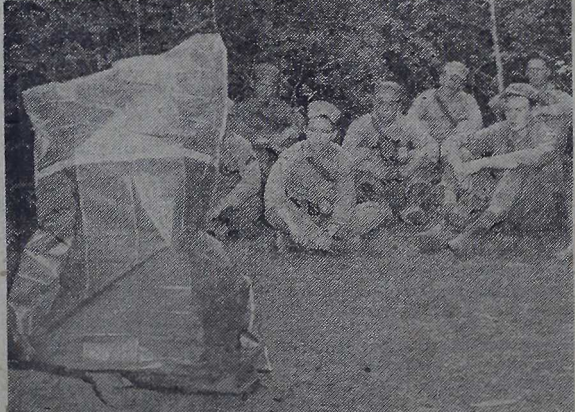

Sergeant Gambrell is presently attached to Supply School and has found a home in Jacksonville for his wife and son.

Mrs. Gambrell is still acquiring furniture for her house and know-how for making the United States her home.

World Checker King Shows His Prowess

Millard Hopper, the "Checker King," checked in at the Jacksonville USO-NCCS Club last week, taking on all comers in an exhibition of the checker prowess which made him checker champ of the world for over 25 years.

He first gave a 20-minute exhibition of trick shots and plays from a huge checker board mounted on the stage, before taking on 26 Leathernecks simultaneously in the club lounge.

Tearful FT Men Learn Gas Use By Experience

During the last five months over 6000 Force Troops Marines have been indoctrinated in chemical warfare at Camp Geiger's special training unit, the Chemical Warfare and Radiological Defense Section.

Headed by Maj. Brown L. Mims, its field operations are directed by MSgt. J. J. McElroy, the section first sergeant. The unit's personnel, chemical warfare experts borrowed from various Force Troops units, all are graduates of the Chemical Warfare School at Fort McClellan, Ala.

The demonstration area includes lecture areas and a sealed gas chamber. The section usually processes a company of Marines a day in this area, giving the men lectures on fitting their new protective masks, recognizing various gases, and surviving the effects of gas.

Troops also watch the detonation of small capsules of mustard, lewisite, phosgene, and chlorpicrin gases, giving them a chance to get acquainted with the smell and color of these deadly poisons.

The men must learn to put on their protective masks in a few seconds. And they'd better know how later on, because they're required to take them off and replace them while they're in the tear gas chamber. In this case ignorance can be irritating.

Georgia Boys Make Peach Of Record

An Empire, Ga., family has provided its own answer to Alexandre Dumas' "Three Musketeers."

Three brothers, William, Wesley, and Milton Gore are from that Georgia family and they're now serving in the Marine Corps here.

William, a staff sergeant, entered the Corps in July 1950. He graduated from Supply School this week and now is being transferred to Camp Pendleton.

Wesley, a master sergeant, is the old-timer of the trio, having joined in 1938. At present he is attached to Issue Commissary.

Milton, a technical sergeant, enlisted in 1942. Just returned from Korea, he now is in "A" Co., 2nd Tanks.

The Gore Marine Corps service doesn't end here. There's also brother Ralph, who was discharged from the Corps in 1940. A fifth brother, Ernest Jr., must have been a black sheep. He was in the Seabees during World War II.

NSLI, GI Insurance Policy Holders Can Get Cash Refund

NSLI and GI permanent-plans policy holders are eligible to receive a refund if they have applied and received a waiver of payment of insurance cost.

Permanent policies include ordinary life, 20 or 30-year life, 20-year endowment, and endowment at 60 and endowment at 65 policies.

Eligible policy holders can now their refunds to remain on deposit and accumulate interest their service years or a request for cash. The formation will be automatic in the sense of a written request for cash.

The Veterans Administration will pay three per cent interest on any NSLI refunds remaining on deposit and 3 1/2 per cent on GI.

Persons wishing to receive should forward their request to Veterans Administration, Building 25, D. C., with the following information: full name of insured, service number, branch of service, policy number if available, date of birth, address to which payment should be made.

Court Limits Bread Water Punishment

The U. S. Court of Military Appeals has decreed that a court-martial may not attach confinement on bread and water or diminished rations where a court has also adjudged a discharge or where the punishment is not attached to confinement in a vessel.

The court also ruled that a court-martial may not attach confinement on bread and water or diminished rations for more than three consecutive days. The rulings were announced by the Judge Advocate General.

Special Demonstrations

The parade climaxed the annual informal visit here. He witnessed a special demonstration staged earlier in the day.

At Onslow Beach he saw the painted Marines of the Division Reconnaissance Co. storm the cold surf in rubber boats in a show of the unit's cloak and dagger tactics.

Montana Extends WW II Bonus Date With W. Virginia

The original deadlines for applying for veterans' bonuses in the states of Montana and West Virginia have been extended.

Montana: Deadline for World War II bonus applications has been extended to December 31, 1953. Veterans with honorable service between December 7, 1941 and September 2, 1945, who were residents of the state at the time of entry into the Service are eligible.

Payments are $10 for each month of stateside service and $15 for each month of overseas service. Maximum payment is $875. Applications may be obtained from the State Board of Examiners in Helena, Montana.

West Va.: Deadline for World War I and II bonus applications has been extended to June 30, 1953. Eligible are veterans with 90 or more days of active service between April 6, 1917 and November 11, 1918, and between December 7, 1941 and September 2, 1945. Applicant must have been a resident of the state for six months prior to entry into the service.

Payments are $10 for each month of stateside duty and $15 for each month of overseas service. Maximum payment is $400. Applications may be obtained from the State Department of Veterans Affairs, P. O. Box 5127, Capital Station, Charleston, West Virginia. (AFPS).

Middies Tour Base To Help Decisions On Entering Corps

Fifty Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps midshipmen from the University of North Carolina toured camp installations last week.

The visit was requested by the midshipmen to observe Marine procedures and operations to help them select a commission in the Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation.

Marine transport planes flew the middies to the Peterfield Point Air Facility from Cherry Point, which they had toured the previous day. They were greeted by Lt. Col. W. R. Williams, camp G-3 officer, and taken by bus to Hadnot Point.

The group was greeted at the Goette Memorial Fieldhouse by Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general. After General Linscott's talk and a briefing on the history and operations of the camp, they toured the area by bus.

The middies saw a demonstration of amphibious vehicles at Courthouse Bay and were taken for a short ride in armored amphibious tractors.

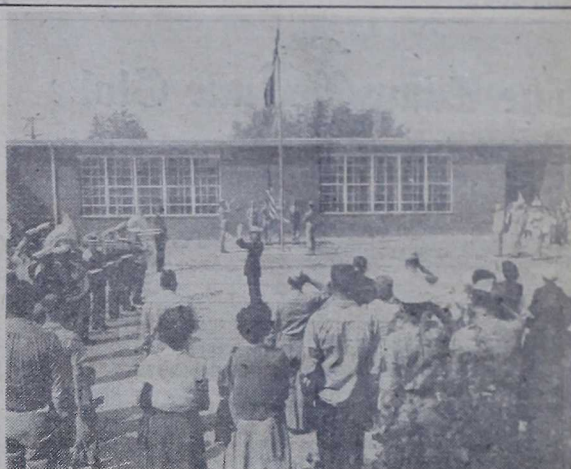

Following a break for lunch, they observed a demonstration of an assault on a fortified position by Leathernecks of the 2nd Division, who used flamethrowers, tanks, demolition charges, and blank ammunition to provide a realistic battle scene.

Penalties Asked For 'Q' Allotment Fraud

The U. S. Attorney General last week asked Congress to insert criminal penalties in the Dependents Assistance Act to cover illegal acceptance of class Q (Quarters) allotments.

The amendments would provide fines up to $2000 or one year in prison, or both, for illegal acceptance of payment by a person formerly, but no longer, entitled to payment.

The Attorney General stated the act itself doesn't contain any penalty provisions and absence of such a section forces the Justice Department to prosecute under various statutes, some presenting difficult questions of proof.

Flag Presented To Infant Of Prague Grammar School

Colors were raised above Jacksonville's Infant of Prague Grammar School for the first time in a flag presentation ceremony Friday.

The 2nd Division Band played the National Anthem as a color guard raised the flag. Marines, past and present, as well as civilians, honored the nation's colors.

Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, was present to witness the flag raising and talk to the children of the school.

The flag was donated to the Infant of Prague School by Capt. C. J. Emma, commanding officer of "D" Co., 2nd Motor Transport Bn. It once covered the body of his brother who was killed in Korea.

Col. K. A. Towle First WM Officer Retired From MC

Col. Katherine A. Towle yesterday became the first regular woman line officer to be retired from the United States military service when she stepped down as Director of the Woman Marines. The colonel was honored with a sunset parade at the Marine Barracks in Washington.

Entering the Marine Corps early in World War II as a captain, Colonel Towle was one of the first six women to be commissioned in the Corps.

Having advanced to the rank of major before her second year of service, Colonel Towle became Assistant Director of WM's in her third year, and in December 1945 advanced to her present rank and title.

The colonel is retiring at the statutory retirement age for women, 55, with the lifetime rank and pay of colonel. Her next position will be Dean of Women at the University of California.

March VA Survey Sees 50,000 Vets Attending College

WASHINGTON — Nearly two-thirds of the 84,000 veterans in training under the new GI Bill have enrolled in colleges and universities across the nation, a Veterans Administration survey disclosed recently.

Korean veterans in college numbered more than 53,000 at the time of the survey, March 1. The total includes most of those who enrolled for spring terms, the VA said.

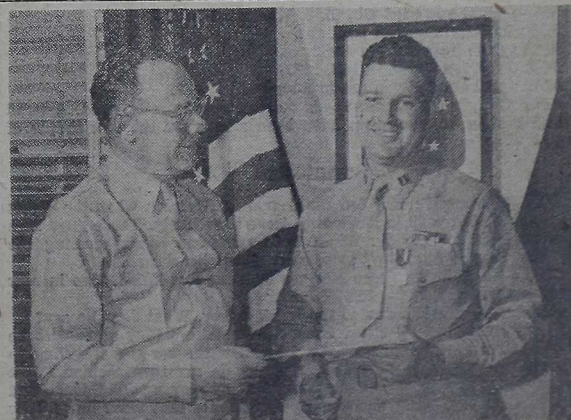

The VA study also showed more than 21,000 veterans in schools below the college level. The greatest proportion of these were in trade and vocational schools.

On-the-job trainees under the bill numbered nearly 9000 at the time of the survey, and those taking institutional on-farm training—a combination of class-room work and actual experience on the farm—totaled close to 500.

Veterans must meet three requirements to be eligible for training under the law. They include (1) a discharge or separation under conditions other than dishonorable; (2) military service after June 27, 1950, and (3) at least 90 days' total service, unless discharged sooner because of an actual service-connected disability.

While in training, a veteran receives a monthly educational allowance check, the size of which depends on the type of training he's taking and the number of dependents he has. He is responsible for meeting all his own training expenses—tuition, fees, books, supplies and the like.

Another step in the alleviation of the housing problem for Marine families at Camp Pendleton was taken recently with the opening of the South Mesa Trailer Housing project, a 250-unit project.

THE HOUSE BUILDER

You are going to build your dream house! After assembling magazines to gather ideas for the various rooms and looking over the several houses that already have been constructed, you are ready for the architect and contractor to get together to draw up a set of blueprints.

You want your house to be laid on a solid foundation, with hardwood floors, solid pillars, stucco walls, a marble fireplace, plate glass, and all the other modern materials to obtain the perfect lines and the exquisite finish that you desire.

192nd Division Men Promoted For Merit

Nineteen Marines of the 2nd Signal Bn. received meritorious service promotions last week as a reward for leadership, initiative, and devotion to duty under adverse conditions. The warrants were presented by the battalion commander, Maj. John Reamy.

Members of the signal unit promoted to their present rank are: Sgt. Driscoll R. Oglesby, Sgt. William A. Lane, Cpl. Harold K. Stauffer, Cpl. Robert F. Samplasty, Cpl. Raymond D. Palmer, Cpl. Joseph J. O'Bray, Cpl. Richard W. Norton, Cpl. Ian C. McLeod, Cpl. Charles L. McGee, Cpl. Howard E. Luker, Cpl. Robert M. Lewis, Cpl. Peter Kuchinsky, Cpl. Sidney A. Kryshka, Cpl. Robert L. Hutchinson, Cpl. Thomas E. Doyle, Cpl. Joseph Diorio, Cpl. John Carter, Cpl. Joseph F. A. Caron, and Cpl. Robert J. Brinson.

Yes, we have planned and a beautiful, spacious, domicile. We have gone to expense to equip it with the money can buy. Here is a of rest.

But wait, what type of house have you built for your? Many psychologists would believe that it is a one-cottage with a mud floor, very few ever attempt to an upstairs. The transcendent, on the other hand, talk the lofty parts of the house out giving appreciation for ground floor.

It is reasonable, therefore assume that a full and whole spiritual life never can consist living upstairs and forgetting consider the ground floor and homely uses and needs. Not we ignore the humbling fact those upper rooms are supplied by it.

Let us inhabit all of the in our spiritual house, and it as carefully as we build earthly, materialistic home. floor, or earthly elements destroy our earthly home, but spiritual house is eternal. Iain H. J. Marsh, Hq. Bn. Division.

How Dead Is A Man In The Right?

It was a lovely week-end. The weather and roads were just right for travel and home is a wonderful place, especially if you haven't been there in quite some time.

Five Marines, high in spirit and tragedy the farthest thing from their thoughts, leave for home. Three of these Marines are destined to meet death. Two are destined for physical injuries. Which ones are which?

Let's look at some of the facts of this trip and try to determine what went wrong.

It's a long trip, 650 miles—weather good, and three or four drivers. They can switch off. The Marines have been on the road for four and a half or five hours. Put yourself in this car and you may hear something like this:

BOB: How do you guys feel, think we should stop for chow?

(All respond): O.K. Bob, good idea!

JIM: Just sandwiches and soft drinks, gang; let's make this trip right. Okay?

MAX: Good idea. Still got a long way to go.

BOB: How about someone giving me a break on driving! About five hours is a long pull. What do you think?

JOE: I'll take over; we've got it made on this trip. Plenty of drivers!

MAX: Watch this pavement. "Wet from rain." Just a suggestion.

JIM: Turn on the radio. This is tight right, isn't it? What's the scoop, Art, aren't you talking?

ART: Talk with you guys when I can be catching a little shuteye for the Big Town?

JIM: The guy's been asleep since we left camp. How's he do it?

BOB: The guy's just numb.

THREE HOURS LATER

JOE: The rain has let up boys. Looks like smooth rolling. "What time you got, Max?"

MAX: What you say? Oh, 0155. Where are we?

JOE: In Maryland. Not bad, eh?

MAX: O.K. How do you feel?

JOE: Fine, it's all down hill, kid.

MAX: Wake me if you get in a strain.

JOE: O.K., but on these roads we can move pretty good. Around 55. And besides, all you guys have been asleep for the last couple of hours.

TIME—0204

JOE (to himself): Not too much traffic. Wonder what the lights are up ahead. Oh, yeah, a truck stop more than likely. Those guys sure got it made. Little cloudy. What! Do I see some lights crossing the road! Yes, I'm too late, can't stop, can't move! No escape.

0205—The Climax: Three Marines in front seat killed. Two in rear injured seriously. Vehicle, "Total Loss."

Stand nearby and listen to the truck driver. What does he say?

"It really looked all clear. I saw the lights, but they seemed to be at least half a mile away. How was I to know the car was traveling so fast? I've been driving for years, and this is my first accident. Just stopped for a bite to eat, then started on my way again. I just don't know what to say. What about the poor Marines that were hurt? How bad are they?"

This story could go much farther. The parents of the Marines killed. What did they think? The buddies, the girl friends, and most of all—"What do you think?" Are you driving with the other man's carelessness or impatience in mind? Slow down at the least provocation. Be alert. Don't get to that point of "No Escape."

The man that's dead may be right, but—he's just as dead right.

Scene Socially

BY MARY HAMILTON STUART

The highlight of the week-end was the April Showers dinner dance, show, held at the Officers Mess Saturday night. There were cocktail parties given prior to dinner at the club. Among the guests were Lt. Col. and Mrs. D. N. Seely, who entertained in their quarters.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. F. J. Karch also entertained at cocktails in their quarters. Maj. and Mrs. W. W. Wander asked friends to join them for cocktails at home. Guests of honor there were Maj. and Mrs. H. Bannison, who were visiting from Quantico.

Gen. and Mrs. W. S. Fellers had friends join them for cocktails in their quarters and later dined and danced at the club. There were dinner groups at the club Saturday evening, one of which was for H&S Bn.

Visiting Here

Lt. Jones, who is Special Assistant to the Secretary of the Navy, was here the week-end here. He had dinner with Maj. Gen. and Mrs. H. Bannison at their quarters Sunday. Vice Admiral F. G. Fahrion, Norfolk, was honored at a small dinner party Monday night at Maj. Gen. and Mrs. R. McC. Pate at their quarters. Tuesday afternoon Pate was host at a stag dinner party at the Paradise Point Hotel.

Friday the 2nd 155 Gun Bn. held a cocktail party in the Parade Room. On the same evening there was a cocktail party in the room held by the 2nd Signal Bn. Brig. Gen. and Mrs. W. S. Fellers entertained at a small dinner party at their quarters Tuesday evening.

Maj. and Mrs. S. D. Low had as their recent house guests Mrs. Thers, Edwin S. and Carlton B. Preble. Lt. Col. and Mrs. D. N. have Cmdr. and Mrs. W. Stafford, of Washington, D. C., as their guests this week-end. Mrs. M. Figgatt has her mother, Mrs. John of Philadelphia, visiting her.

A military wedding took place at the Post Chapel at Quantico, when Miss Eleanor Lee Snedeker, daughter of Brig. Gen. E. W. Snedeker, became the bride of Capt. John A. Wachter, of the 2nd 155 Gun Bn.

Spring Carnival' Features Fashions Spring Wear

BY PEGGY AIKEN

Cotton "Carnival," spring show of the OWC, held last night at the Camp Theater, was a success from beginning to end. W. John, chairman of the show, which sponsored the production of Mrs. D. F. Wermentator, and the curtain was a Southern garden scene. The first in sports clothes, which were Mrs. E. R. Herring, Mrs. H. L. Parsons, Mrs. E. Bancroft, Mrs. M. C. Mrs. C. M. Nees, Mrs. E. E. Mrs. M. J. Cowser, Mrs. C. Matthews, Mrs. A. A. Mrs. H. M. Walters Jr. and Mrs. L. Nelson.

Fashions, which showed the variety of cotton materials, bathing suits to evening wear were presented by a Jack-in-the-shop, as was a shoe and play in the lobby.

During the intermissions, the show was entertained by a violin duo, Mrs. B. N. Wolfe, Mrs. R. H. Trower, and by a Pfc LeRoy Wall, accompanied by Mrs. Thelma Taylor. Door prizes were awarded at this time.

Club To Sing

Last meeting of the Parents Association will be held Friday night at 8 in the Camp auditorium.

Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. James G. Chamberlin, will give its Spring Concert. Included in the program will be the Senior Glee Clubs, Girls' Choir, Boys' Octet. In addition, Irma and Wanda Bass will render solos.

PTA officers will be installed at the meeting.

WM Maneuvers

BY CPL. ELOISE TURNER

According to the calendar, spring arrived March 21. For members of the WM Co. the only outward signs of the season were the practice sessions of the softball team and a few summer cottons hanging on lockers. Then we went into summer and shivered through several cool days.

But Saturday everyone started summer activities on an all-out scale. Red is the predominant color in the WM barracks—not the Russian variety but the over-exposure-to-the-sun color.

The girls could be seen on the tennis courts, pitching horse shoes, playing badminton, golfing, bicycling, and swimming and sunning at the beach.

Beach Opening

Approximately 25 attended the Onslow Beach opening. Hot dogs were garnished with blowing sand, the water was cold, the beach was windy, and the sand stuck to tanning oils and wet torsos. In spite of this, or perhaps because of these conditions, everyone agreed, "Gee it was wonderful."

Bobbie Pellan, Gloria Reinheimer, Marilyn Meyer, and Connie Artman, all Pfc's, were joined at the beach by Billie Bryson and Dottie Hoyt for an informal get-together to celebrate the beach opening. Billie and Dottie took the long way out to the beach. They rode bicycles down to the boat house, stopped off at the tennis courts, and thence to the beach party.

We saw Pfc Jeanne Barelay giving instruction on the tennis courts Monday afternoon. Seems the bathing suit season has caused many Women Marines to become conscious of pounds and bulges, so we are combining recreation and waist-slimming activities—each in her own manner.

Baby Sitters Back In 'Biz' For Officers

The Paradise Point Sitting Service reopens under the sponsorship of the Officers Wives Club tomorrow. All officers' children are eligible.

Mrs. Janet Migdal, supervisor, is a graduate of St. Francis Hospital, Columbus, Ohio, and has a psychiatric nursing background. Her assistant, Miss Martha Ann Padgett, was a Hospital Corps Wavé in 1950 and worked in the Cherry Point Nursery during 1951-1952.

The Supervisor of the Paradise Point Sitting Service has authority to refuse admittance to any child who is sick or suffering from an infectious disease. No more than 15 to 20 children will be tended by one adult. Reservations will be necessary on days of big events, in order to hire additional help.

Hours are: Weekdays, 12:30-11 p. m.; Saturdays, 12:30 p. m.-1 a. m.; Sundays, 12:30-11 p. m. Closed all day Monday. No children will be admitted after 9:30 p. m.

Fees will be 25 cents per hour (or any portion thereof) for one child; and ten cents per hour (or any portion thereof) for each additional child. A penalty fee of $1.00 will be charged for any child left after closing time. Bedding and extra clothing or diapers must be furnished by the parents.

Babies under six months of age may be accepted at the discretion of the Sitting Service, while there's no maximum age limit. For further information, call 6385 during the hours the Sitting Service is open.

Families Mob PTA Carnival Friday Night

More than 200 children and parents attended the annual Children's Carnival at the Camp School Friday night. The carnival was sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association to raise funds to purchase equipment for the Midway Park school cafeteria.

Twenty-four booths formed the midway, spreading out of the auditorium into the classrooms and hallway. There were bean bag games, photo booths, dancing, movies for the kiddies, a hypnotist show, and, of course, hot dog and soda concessions.

The most profitable booth, as it was last year, was the mouse-in-the-hole game. Children and adults eagerly watched the activities of the scurrying white mice to see into which hole the mice crawled.

According to figures released by Cmdr. Robert Erdman, carnival director and chairman of the ways and means committee for the Camp PTA, the carnival cleared approximately $700.00.

Commander Erdman also stated, "The crowd exceeded our expectations and next year we will arrange better to accommodate a greater number of people inside as well as in the parking areas."

NCO Wives Bazaar Set For Thursday

The Staff NCO Wives Club will sponsor a spring bazaar Thursday from noon to 11 p. m. at the Midway Park Community Center. Fancy aprons, homemade cakes and pies, and potted plants will be sold, as well as handiwork to grace the home. There will be games for children included among the various booths.

The highlight of the bazaar will be the baby contest at 7 p. m. The two age groups are from one month to one year and one year to two years. A photographer will be present to take pictures of any child whose parent so desires.

The Navy Relief Society and the Commissary Nursery will benefit from the bazaar.

Supervisor Solicited For Sitting Service

The Paradise Point sitting service is accepting applications for an assistant supervisor with nursing or sitting service background to work about 24 hours a week, and helps to be on call and paid by the hour.

Persons interested may submit applications to Mrs. D. W. Stonecliffe, MOQ 2301, Paradise Point, stating name, address, telephone number, education, experience, and when applicant will be available for an interview.

CLUBS CLOSE

The Hadnot Point, Montford Point, and Camp Geiger Staff NCO Clubs will be closed Monday for inventory.

Women NCO's Graduate From Leadership School

Friday afternoon 22 members of the third class of Women Marines attending the NCO Leadership School received their diplomas in a graduation exercise in the auditorium of Bldg. 65. MSgt. Elsie Cummings, of Camp Pendleton, graduated first.

The guest speaker for the occasion, Col. R. J. Straub, commanding officer of H&S Bn., MB, was introduced by 1st Lt. Joyce M. Hammon, executive officer of WM Co.

The colonel presented a concise history of the establishment of the Marine Corps and its components. Thumbnail sketches of the 19 commandants, from William Ward Burrows to Geh. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., included little known facts about the men who have served in the highest office of the Corps.

Following the address, Colonel Straub presented diplomas to the graduates. Leading the field was Sergeant Cummings' average of 90.28 for the four-week course.

In second and third places in class standing were: SSgt. Areta L. Bain, awaiting reassignment, with an average of 88.69 and TSgt. Margaret L. Kennedy, TAD here from Headquarters Marine Corps, 87.64.

Three Women Marines attended the school from WM Co. here: TSgt. Barbara Maultbetsch and SSgt. Donna Crumpler, both of Supply Depot, and Sgt. Faye L. Jones, Marine Corps Exchange.

Ex-Outfielder Pete Larghey Replaces Veigel As Manager

Manager Maj. Les Veigel turned over the reins of the Camp Lejeune baseball team to 1st Lt. Pete Larghey when the club returned from Norfolk, Va., Wednesday last week.

Actually, Larghey had joined the team in time to watch the two games against Little Creek, but he didn't take over control until Thursday's game against Corning, N. Y.

Manager Larghey is a career Marine. His career as an active player came to a close last season, more by choice than necessity.

He was Lejeune's starting left fielder last year and was second on the club in homers, hitting three of them in one day against Camp Pickett. His playing career included seasons with Quantico, Parris Island, Bainbridge Naval Base, and others, and made Larghey one of the most feared hitters in Marine circles.

Larghey inherits a team which has won 25 of its first 27 games and gives every indication of being one of the best in service competition.

Lejeune Batsmen To Hit Destroyers

Razor-sharp Camp Lejeune hits the baseball trails again Monday and Tuesday night after a six-day break in the schedule, the first in more than three weeks of game-a-day play.

An extra two days of rest came Lejeune's way when Shaw Air Force Base cancelled scheduled Saturday and Sunday games.

Lejeune's only opposition this week comes from Destroyers, Atlantic, already one of Lejeune's 30 victims this season.

DesLant lost to Bob Grim and Lejeune, 6-1, in near-freezing weather at Norfolk, Va., last week. The Shaw cancellations are unfortunate for DesLant because the sailors will have to (Continued on Page 7)

Three Marine Pugs Win Inter-Service Boxing Titles

Three fighters wearing Marine Corps colors swept to titles at the Inter-Service Boxing Championships concluded at Bainbridge, Md., last week.

The bouts pitted together champions in ten classes representing the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps. A crowd estimated at 10,000 witnessed the two day affair which saw the Army take the lion's share of firsts with six crowns.

Former Lejeune fighter Al Hood, now at Cherry Point, made an impressive showing in winning the light-middleweight title. He took a unanimous decision over Nola Davis, All-Navy champ, in the semi-final and won the nod from all three officials over Howie Green of the Air Force in the final.

Gwin Triumphs
Rudy Gwin, also of Cherry Point, won the welterweight title in the same manner as Hood. Rudy Sawyer of the Navy was his victim in the semi-finals, and Henry White, Air Force, was vanquished in the finals.

Harold Conklin, Quantico, proved a pleasant surprise to Marine Corps fans by winning the featherweight title. He had lost in the semi-finals of the All-Marine tournament to Walter Byars of FMF, Pacific. Byars, who went on to win the featherweight crown, injured his hand and Conklin was substituted at the last moment by Capt. Glenn McComas, head coach of the Marine squad, and Lejeune mentor.

The Quantico battler disposed of Navy champ Archie Horton in 2:09 of the second round in the opener and won the crown when Bob Tene-

Pony League Pros Submit To Lejeune Diamonddeers

Maybe they're not quite a major league or Triple A caliber ball club, but the Lejeune Marines certainly proved they're way above class D ball, as they bombarded Corning, N. Y., of the Class D Pony League four straight days.

The scores from Thursday through Sunday were 9-3, 10-2, 11-4, and 9-0.

The victories, and even the lopsided scores, came as no surprise, almost all the Lejeune players being ex-pros, with a couple having gone as high as AAA.

Stingy Foursome
Lejeune's four pitchers, Charlie Chronopoulos (3-1), Bob Grim (7-0), Bob Reich (4-0), and Ben Johnson (4-0), were stingy with the hits and turned in good routing performances.

Nor did location have anything to do with it, as the last two games were played at Kinston, N. C., training site of the Corning, N. Y., ball team.

The Pony Leaguers are managed by Tony Lupien, who played first for the Red Sox and White Sox during his major league stay.

Ben's First
Sunday's 9-0 affair gave Johnson his first shut-out of the season, as he scattered six hits. He twice fanned two batters with the bases loaded, once in the second and again in the fourth.

Lejeune backed him up with two runs in the first, on a walk, a wild pitch, and run-producing (Continued on Page 7)

Lejeune Wins First Place In Skeet Match

The Camp Lejeune trap and skeet team won the Richmond Open meet at Richmond, Va., April 18-19, taking the service championships by 16 points and tying the East Coast champion National Capital Rebels for over-all first. The Marines defeated the Rebels in a shoot-off for team trophy.

Runner-up behind Lejeune in the service competition was Langley AFB with 467 of 500. The Lejeune shooters finished the meet with a mark of 483, only 17 shots missed by the five men, who shot 100 birds each.

WO O. L. Lawson of 2nd Engineer Bn. won individual honors with 99 birds, while 1st Lt. "Hank" Stowers, 2nd Combat Service Group, took the AA flight with a tally of 98.

The Victors
Members of the victorious team and their scores were: Warrant Officer Lawson, 2nd Eng. Bn., 99; Lieutenant Stowers, 2nd CSG, 98; CWO "Goat" Martin, MCSG, 97; MSgt. Frank Heidt, MCSG, 98; 1st Lt. Joe Stoff, 1st Bn., Sixth Marines, 91.

The officer in charge of the team, Capt. Bill Loos of 2nd Signal Bn., fired 98 to tie with Heidt in the singles competition. Dr. James M. Flanagan tied for the lead in the class B singles but lost in the shoot-off. He then teamed with Mr. Bowman of Mt. Airy, N. C., to tie for first in two-man team competition in the 12-gauge shooting.

Captain Loos has announced that there will be a meeting of all persons interested in trap and skeet shooting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in Bldg. 341.

A team probably will go to Fort Belvoir this week-end for the Fort Belvoir Invitational 10-bird all-gauge shoot, and Captain Loos will go to Durham, N. C., for the North Carolina State championship trap shoot.

Marine Gunners' 24-0 Flamingo Brings Down Mitchel Flyer

The Marines showed the Air Force the technique of bombardment here Monday night, unloading their heavy weapons to send Mitchel Air Force Base crashing, 24-0. Lejeune scored 11 times in the first, once in the second, eight times in the third, three times in the fourth, and once in the sixth. The game was merely called at the end of seven innings.

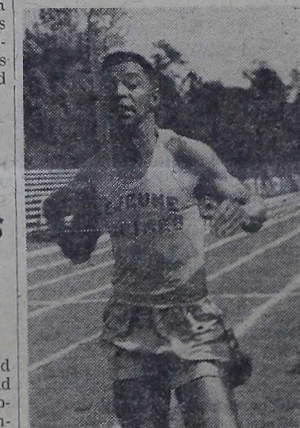

Camp Track Team Faces Greensboro

The Camp Lejeune cindermen will attempt to get back in the win column against Greensboro A&T College here tomorrow, having enjoyed a two-week respite after losing a close one to Duke University, 70½ to 60½, April 17.

Last year, the Leathernecks defeated A&T in a quadrangular meet, with North Carolina College of Durham and Winston-Salem Teachers College coming in third and fourth behind Lejeune and A&T.

The Marines' newest addition to the squad will be "Rap" Savage, a lad who ran a fast mile in high school competition in his native Warsaw, Ill. Another relative newcomer will be Merritt Van Sant, All-Marine broad jumper who joined the Lejeune squad in time to take second place behind Joel Shankle at the Duke meet.

Frank Rivera, who is undefeated in the 440 and has turned in a 49.6 in the event this year, will be out to make it four in a row for the season Friday. He also will be running in his usual third-leg position on the undefeated mile relay team.

Roger Montgomery, the Marines' ace sprinter, will be gunning for A&T's Jones, who handed Roger his only defeat, in the 220, last year.

Strong in hurdles and high jump, the A&T runners will have little to show in the distance department. However, their 440 relay team took second place behind Morgan State at the Penn Relays last week-end, and some of their speedsters could make trouble for Lejeune's crack mile-relay outfit.

Credit for the win went to portside Jimmy Waugh, who won't have an easier time this season. He gave up three of the infield variety, struck out 2, and never worked a sweat.

"Chico" Rodriguez and Bill Collins led the hitting with four blows each. "Chico" collected double, triple, and two singles in three runs. He blasted four straight singles, drove in four runners, while Collins helped himself to two hits, drove four across.

Two-Time Loser
Mitchel used two hurlers in the first one, Dick Eden, trying luck twice. He gave way to Collins in the first and believed Collins in the third. Before hurling stunts he played field.

Six hits, five walks, and errors accounted for the 11 in the first as 15 batters to the plate. A walk and riques' double made it 12 the second.

Eleven men batted in the second to score eight runs and count to 20-0. Hawkins had hits in that inning, a single and a triple.

A double by Waugh and quez' triple, plus two walks, it 23-0 in the fourth, and the run scored on a walk, an and a wild pitch.

say "never matched" because a manager can get the can losing consistently, (2) not being able to get along with his or (3) being a general misfit.

not by the longest stretch of the imagination can any of these pl to Veigel. And certainly not the first. Under Veigel, Lejeune 25, lost 2, including 20 straight at one point.

Back In January

before you jump to conclusions, the whole deal was arranged e season started, way back in January.

at time, Lt. Pete Larghey, who takes over for Veigel, and iober were pretty well set as the managing duo for the season. e Pete had to take off on some military duties and a replace- to be found.

e choice was Veigel. Veigel knows and likes baseball, but as r Marine officer he was more interested in spending time is unit, something he'd been unable to do while teaching ears at a college.

Happy To Get Back

does Veigel feel about leaving, now that the team is sure to d for a winning season? Still the same, and happy to get back tfit. And he'll always know that wherever Lejeune finishes on, he will have had a lot to do with it.

rghey, who took over in time for the Corning series, and d Lejeune in two games at Norfolk, is no stranger to Le- or Marine baseball fans.

Veigel, he is a career Marine and has played service ball. Like e finished his active days last season as a regular for Lejeune.

Little Creek Snaps Leathernecks' Win Streak At Twenty

Neither rain, nor snow, nor freezing weather could stop the rampaging Camp Lejeune baseball team, but the Little Creek Gators did last week to snap the Marines' winning skein at 20.

Lejeune won four in a row at Norfolk, before the law of averages caught up on the last day of the Norfolk sojourn, in the second game against the Gators.

With the score tied, 5-5, going into the top of the ninth, Lejeune's infield fell apart. Shortstop Ed Kababek let a grounder go through his legs, third baseman Don Brown fumbled a bunt that might have been turned into a double play ball, and Jimmy Waugh, the Marines' relief hurler, booted another bunt to load the sacks. A fly to right field scored the winning run.

Twin Killing

Lejeune started its Norfolk play with two victories over the Norfolk Naval Air Station, 6-5 and 8-3.

Ben Johnson notched his third of the season in the second game behind a 13-hit attack, including Don Brown's third homer of the season.

Sunday's game last week against Destroyers Atlantic was postponed due to cold weather, but Monday dawned even colder, yet the teams went at it, Bob Grim winning his sixth, 6-1, a four-hitter.

On Tuesday, Lejeune routed three Little Creek hurlers with 16 hits to give Bob Reich his third win, 11-4, and Lejeune's 20th of the season, before they bowed to Little Creek's Steve Hirkala, 6-5, Wednesday.

Spring Drills Show Mixed Grid Picture

Three transfers from last season's Parris Island team have buoyed up drills as spring football practice hit the midway mark on a somewhat discouraging note.

Already on the base and working out with the Lejeune grid-ders are Rex Boggan, a 235-pound tackle who put in three years at Ole' Miss, 200-pound Dick Steber, who played a year at Auburn, and end Terry Falls from Vanderbilt.

Also Camp Pendleton has shipped three promising players, center Glenn Graham, fullback Don Seardami, and halfback Jerry Fouts, to Lejeune and all are working out.

Of the nine lettermen who reported for spring drills, two have been cut and one, Tony Anton, is laid up. Anton, suffered a tailbone injury similar to the one which knocked him out of the Parris Island game last season.

Other veterans working out are quarterback Owen Scanlon, center Steve Lazarus, tackles Lew Golic and Fred Lippard, ends Mel Yeshnik, and halfback Frank Nastro.

Newcomers to come in for words of praise were quarterback Bill De Chard from Holy Cross, guard Jerry Schropp and John Diet and Dolan, ends.

Dim View

But with all the potential material, head coach John Crawley failed to radiate confidence. Claiming it is "too early to tell" he nevertheless feels that "we will have to have much more depth in order to field a good football team, due to the fact that the one platoon system requires players equally good on offense or defense."

Crawley and his assistants, line coaches W. B. Jones and Harry Henson, backfield coach John Connor, and end coach Bill Samer, will still accept applications from personnel on the base who feel they can play top-flight service football and help the team.

Starting with 116 who signed up for football, and 63 who actually reported, Crawley has whittled the squad to 34 and wants to make certain everyone understands that all positions are still "wide open."

Lejeune football fans will get a sneak preview of next season's team in the spring intra-squad game tentatively scheduled for Saturday morning, May 9.

Three Teams Tie For First Berth In FT Ball League

Three teams were deadlocked for first place in the Force Troops Softball League at the end of its second week of play. ANGLICO, 8th Tank Bn., and 8th Signal Bn. all had 2-0 marks and were slightly in front of Automatic Weapons and 155 Gun Bn., both of which had 1-0 records.

In last week's competition, ANGLICO was sparked to a 12-7 win over 2nd 90 AAA by its pitcher, O'Brien. Besides receiving credit for the victory, the ANGLICO hurler went two-for-two at the plate, including a home run. He also scored three runs and drove across another two.

Eighth Tank won its second straight, but received a scare in doing it. The Tankmen had to come from behind to edge Amtruck, 8-7. Joe Leonard led the winners in hitting with three safeties, one of which went for two bases. Pitcher Helper and left fielder Srialaba of the losers also had three hits apiece.

Combat Service Group, defending Force Troops and Camp Lejeune champ, hit the victory road by blanking Armored Amphibian Bn., 7-0, behind the one-hit, eight-strike-out flinging of newcomer John "Rocco" Kithcart.

OF MICE AND MARINES—Ssgt. Lee B. Carey, attached to the 1st Division in Korea, took time out to develop this fancy mousetrap. The mouse enters the front-door, pulls on a graham cracker attached to a nail, disengaging a string which lets the front door fall. This trips the alarm clock and turns on the flashlight so Carey can inspect his victim. He managed to trap one rat before he left Korea (Official USMC Photo).

Wilmington Links Open To Military

Military personnel will be able to make full use of the Municipal Golf Course in Wilmington from now on, and have only to present an identification card to receive full playing privileges.

In a letter to Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, Wilmington City Manager J. R. Benson stated, "Our City Council . . . unanimously voted to extend playing privileges on our Municipal Golf Course to all military personnel to become effective immediately. It is a pleasure to extend this courtesy to your personnel, and we hope they will find time to make use of our golf course often."

face Grim once more, probably on Monday night.

Either Bob Reich or Chuck Chronopoulos will get the nod Tuesday.

Jim Clingan, who paced DesLant to the Atlantic Fleet championship last season, may start here.

FT Baseball Action Starts Next Monday

The Force Troops baseball league will get out of the practice stage and start playing in earnest when the regular season starts at Camp Geiger Monday.

So far the league's 12 teams have been mainly interested in conditioning their players, but now they will be striving for the Force Troops championship and a crack at the Camp Lejeune title.

Automatic Weapons, last year's Force Troops and Camp Lejeune champ, still looks like the team to beat. The team received a blow to its title aspirations, however, due to some of its top players being tied up in FMF volleyball play.

Efforts to form and organize a Camp Lejeune Sportsmen's Club reached a high pitch this week. Powered by Maj. William R. Hopkins, officer in charge of Salvage, Reclamation, and Redistribution Section, MCSD, TSgt. Eugene A. Myers, SSgt. Ronald L. Lowe, and TSgt. John A. Miller, also of the Supply Depot, have gathered a long list of personnel here interested in forming and participating in the prospective club.

Some of the names appearing on the lists compiled by Sergeant Lowe include Col. J. N. H. Hudnall, CWO H. P. Bishop, Capt. D. J. Dofy, Capt. C. A. Read, Capt. H. L. Parsons, TSgt. L. D. Sloat, TSgt. M. W. Tilton, MSgt. R. O. Loving, SSgt. A. Boros, SSgt. T. B. Lott, MSgt. Brack, TSgt. A. Morris, Sgt. R. Dullen, Sgt. Glen, Pfc L. J. Hallenbach, Pfc R. W. Fagan, and Pfc W. E. Johnson.

A club house site has been found and, if cleared by Camp G-4 will be repaired and activated by members. On Frenchman's Creek, one of the best hunting and fishing locations on the base and at one time the location of the Onslow County Rod and Gun Club, stands an abandoned building which, says Lowe, would make a perfect club site.

Increased Interest

If enough personnel voice interest in the proposed club, and the club is approved by the Commanding General, it will be aimed primarily towards increasing interest and knowledge of outdoor pursuits.

The club will be open to all kinds of sportsmen and their families. Social activities foreseen include fish fries, oyster roasts, fishing trips, crow hunts, conservation lectures, and movies.

Experienced fishermen and hunters already interested in the club have agreed to help instruct novice sportsmen in the ways of the field. Men and women who are interested in seeing such a club formed are urged to contact Sergeant Lowe by phoning 3217.
