Marines Test "Square" Type Infantry Units

Headquarters has launched a 12-month study to determine the possibility of returning to the old quadrangular organization pattern used before WWII.

To conduct the test, an extra battalion of four companies was added to the 4th Regiment at Camp Pendleton and the 8th Regiment here.

In addition, a fourth rifle company was added to a battalion at both Lejeune and Pendleton to try the structure at company level.

If the experiment proves the "square" structure to be more useful in present-day combat than the triangular organization of infantry units now employed by both the Marines and the Army, it could mean an additional battalion would be added to each Marine infantry regiment and an additional rifle company to each battalion.

Marine Gets Corps' First CMH From New President

Marine Corporal Duane E. Dewey of South Haven, Mich., who despite serious wounds and intense pain, rolled over and smothered an exploding enemy grenade to save two companions from possible death, will receive the Medal of Honor.

In a ceremony at the White House on March 12, Dewey becomes the first Marine Corps recipient of the nation's highest honor from the new President.

Corporal Dewey, a machine gunner of "E" Company, 5th Marine Regiment, lay wounded near Panmunjom with his assistant gunner, on April 16, 1952.

A navy medical corpsman was attempting to treat him when the grenade dropped nearby. Dewey pulled the corpsman to the ground, shouted a warning to his assistant, and violently flung himself on the grenade. Then it exploded. He was hospitalized 50 days.

Dewey presently resides in South Haven, Mich. In addition to the Medal of Honor his service entitles him to the Purple Heart for battle wounds, the Korean Service Medal with two bronze battle stars, and the United Nations Service Medal.

No "Stag Dance"

The "Stag Dance" scheduled for 12 March 1953 has been cancelled since the Division Band will be on the Rifle Range this date. The next "Stag Dance" for Colored Personnel will be held on 26 March.

Col. Hamblet To Succeed Retiring WM Director

Lieutenant Colonel Julia E. Hamblet will become Director of Women Marines on May 1, succeeding Col. Katherine A. Towle who is retiring, according to an announcement by Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps.

Col. Towle will become dean of women and associate dean of students at University of California, Berkeley, on July 1.

Lt. Col. Hamblet, presently officer in charge of the Women Officers Training Detachment, Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., will be accorded the grade of colonel. At 36, she will become the youngest director of women in the armed services.

"She has had practically every type of duty a Women Marine officer can have," said Col. Towle. "I have followed her military career since her first assignment as my adjutant at Hunter College in 1943. She has brains, ability, personality and looks."

Lt. Col. Hamblet was born at Winchester, Mass., May 12, 1916, the daughter of Abel and Marcia Coburn Hamblet. She attended the Hartridge School, Plainfield, N. J., and graduated from Vassar in 1937 with a Bachelor of Arts degree. She obtained a Master of Science degree in public administration at Ohio State University in 1951.

She served with the U. S. Information Services at Washington, D. C., from 1937 until 1943 when she entered the Marine Corps. She graduated from the first Marine Corps Women's Reserve Officer Training Class at Mt. Holyoke, Mass., and was commissioned a first lieutenant in the reserves on May 4, 1943.

Atomic Weapons To Be Tested By Marines At Vieques

As part of their training exercises at Vieques, men of the 2nd Marine Division will conduct tests on the use of atomic weapons. High explosive bombs will be used to simulate atomic explosion.

The concept of the operation will include the offensive use of the A-bomb during an amphibious assault and operations ashore. The use of atomic weapons will give added impetus to Marine's air-ground attack in atomic warfare.

399 New Commissions Okayed By Commandant

Restrictions Off Number Of Marine Captains Allowed

The Armed Services committee approved a new bill repealing the Davis Rider which takes restrictions off the number of Navy lieutenants and Marine captains and allows the Navy more lieutenant commanders and commanders.

The Marine Corps limits, except for removing the O-3 ceiling, were not touched by the substitute.

The committee proposal adopted one Marine suggestion, that of allowing any service who is under the ceilings in grade to allot the vacancies to lower grades.

This new bill will expire July 1. By that time, the committee hopes to have completed a more lengthy study of service grade requirements and have prepared permanent legislation.

Cold Weather Gear Now Being Issued To Outgoing Troops

The new nylon cold weather uniform, recently adopted by the Marine Corps will be issued to all Korean bound troops starting this month.

Previously the uniform was not issued until arrival in Korea.

The four piece uniform, developed by the Army, consists of two pairs of pants and two jackets, which create warmth by trapping body heat in the dead air space of the clothing.

The outfit, valued at $125.60 per set, has the weight and appearance of rough toweling. Its millions of hairlike threads have a backing of parachute nylon and create air pockets.

Ex-Marine Colonel Possible FCD Boss

Col. Justice M. Chambers, Congressional Medal of Honor winner, is being mentioned on Capitol Hill as a possible candidate for appointment as Federal Civil Defense Administrator.

The 44-year-old former Marine has the backing of several Senate Armed Services committee members.

The Commandant of the Marine Corps has approved the first selection of applicants to the temporary rank of second lieutenant. The selection board at Headquarters Marine Corps, recommended 34 Master Sergeants, 73 Techs, 136 Staff, and 156 sergeants.

Authorizations and instructions for acceptance of the appointment will be forthcoming from Headquarters by individual letters. The roster which lists the first appointees is not to be considered as authority for effecting appointments.

Selectees in the regular Marine Corps will be appointed temporary second lieutenants in the Regulars. The commissions of reserve selectees will be in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Personnel on the first list can expect change of station orders to the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va. for a 20-week instruction period.

Members Of N.C. Legislature To Visit Lejeune

Members of the House and Senate of North Carolina will make their biennial visit to Camp Lejeune on Thursday, March 12. It was announced this week.

On Thursday, February 24 both houses passed a resolution to visit this Marine training base, accepting the invitation extended by Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp commanding general, to the Governor and General Assembly.

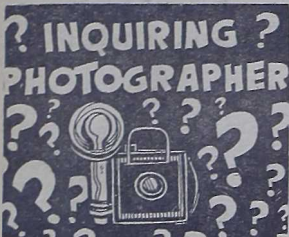

The tentative schedule of events includes a tour of Goettge Memorial Field House, luncheon at Mess Hall 9, and honors to the Governor on the parade ground.

Following the rendering of honors, the group will witness a helicopter assault landing and evacuation of casualties and then take a guided tour of the main Had-not Point area.

During this tour they will see such points of interest as the industrial area, viewing a static display of Ordnance Equipment set up by the Marine Corps Supply Depot, barracks area, Naval Hospital and then to Paradise Point Officers' Mess for tea.

YOUNGEST director of women in the armed forces will be Lt. Col. Julia E. Hamblet, who will become Director of Women Marines on May 1, succeeding Col. Katherine A. Towle who is retiring (Official USMC Photo).

Who, In Your Opinion, Is or Was the Greatest Figure In Your Sports Field?

CPL. GUIDO "DIPPY" CAROSI, GUARD, VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM—George Mikan. Statistics prove that he's about the greatest. I think what makes him so great is that his defensive ball playing is just as great as his offensive playing. I've never had the opportunity to see Mikan but I've read all the reports and stories on him that I could. The greatest player that I've ever seen play is Paul Arizin. I'd like to see Mikan and Arizin play opposite each other.

CAPT. GLENN McCOMAS, VARSITY BOXING COACH—Jack Dempsey. I think he was the greatest fighter that boxing has ever seen. He was strictly a fighter. He had all the things that seem to be lacking in so many of today's fighters. His big asset was that he had a fighting heart. He wasn't afraid of taking a punch and he could end his fight with just one of his punches. I think his greatest fight was the one with Firpo.

PFC. TOM PETIORE, INFILDER, VARSITY BASEBALL TEAM—I think Lou Gehrig was tops in baseball. He had all-round ability and it was a pleasure to watch him play. He was one of the game's greatest hitters and was always a potential threat at bat. You can't help admire him for his record of playing in more than 1000 consecutive games. His name will always live in the hearts of all fans whether they're baseball fans or not.

MAJOR BIFF CRAWLEY, VARSITY FOOTBALL COACH—Slingin' Sammy Baugh. He was an outstanding quarterback. He had a character that every coach looks for in a good quarterback. His passing was something that he really excelled in and was second to none. He wasn't afraid to run with the ball and he knew how to call those tight ones. He was a good example of an old country boy making good.

PFC. BILL FIENEMANN, 2-MILER, VARSITY TRACK TEAM—Gil Dodds. Dodds ran more miles under 1:10 than any other miler and that was without competition so no one could give him a push and shove him on. He was a clean living man, and on and off the track he was a good example for all because of his fine sportsmanship and outstanding moral character.

GOLF LUNCHEON—The Camp Lejeune Women Golfers will hold a luncheon at the Chinese Room of the Camp Cafeteria, Tuesday, 10 March, 1 p. m. Weather permitting, the usual 9 hole competition will be played before the luncheon.

Col. Hamblet

The Group contained some 2600 women, or as many as now are on active duty in the entire Marine Corps. For her service she was awarded a Letter of Commendation.

After her release from active duty in 1946, she spent two months with her family in London, then was called back to Headquarters in Washington to serve as third director of Women Reserves.

When women were accepted into regular components of the armed forces in 1948, she accepted a regular commission. She was promoted to lieutenant colonel Aug. 24, 1949. Her hobbies are tennis and horseback riding.

Col. Towle, who succeeded Col. Ruth Cheney Streeter as director of Women Reserves in World War II, was recalled to active duty in 1948 to become director of the newly established Women Marine regulars.

Upon her retirement Col. Towle will visit her sister, Mrs. Towle Furst, 432 East 58th St., New York City, before motoring to Berkeley where she will arrive in June. On Aug. 7, 1952, President Robert G. Sproul of the University of California, announced that Col. Towle had accepted the position of dean of women, effective July 1, 1953.

Drum & Bugle Corps Forming At Diego For Pacific Tour

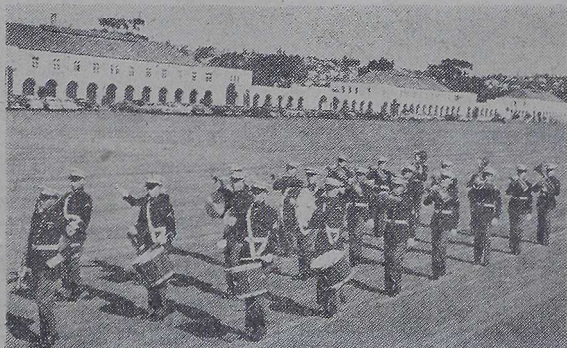

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — A Marine Drum and Bugle Corps is training here at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, and will soon depart for a year's tour of Marine installations in the Pacific.

Representing the Department of Pacific, the Marine administrative unit for the west coast, the 21-piece unit is being organized and trained by TSgt. Chris G. Stergiou, drum major, under the supervision of 1st Lt. Harry Norvell, Depot Band officer. Sgt. Joseph Kelly is assistant drum major.

Sgt. Stergiou formerly organized the Marine Barrack's Drum and Bugle Corps, Washington, D. C., an organization which has made numerous appearances on radio and television. He both arranged and composed the music for the group.

The unit will tour Marine posts throughout the Pacific, entertaining troops in Alaska, the Philippines, the Marshall Islands, Kwajalein, Guam, Pearl Harbor, and Japan.

Scheduled to leave in March, the group will provide entertainment for Marine personnel in the form of concerts and fancy drill exhibitions.

Marine Finds Pen Is Lighter Than Sword

Most people don't like practical jokes—most people, that is, except Pvt. Daniel W. Counterman, Jr., a 2nd Division Leatherneck who has about 1300 good reasons for being indebted to a couple of practical jokers in his outfit.

It all began for Counterman, an ammunition carrier for the division's 2nd Ordnance Bn., when he started griping about the lack of mail coming his way. Patiently listening to his complaints, a couple of Counterman's buddies finally decided it was high time that the flow of epistles should be upped and his griping should stop.

In a burst of inspiration, they secretly entered his name in the "lonely hearts" column of a pulp magazine. The deluge followed.

Amor Galore

From every state in the union, as well as Canada, Alaska, and Hawaii, came hundreds of letters from sympathetic young ladies anxious to soothe the lonely Leatherneck's heart.

Counterman isn't griping anymore. He hasn't got the time. For each day brings a new bundle of letters from his feminine admirers. He now has a special locker where he stores the more than 1300 letters he has received to date.

With the exception of one letter from a married couple, all of Counterman's newly-found correspondents are single women—and good looking, judging from the 50 or more snapshots he has crammed into his bulging wallet.

Salesgirls, secretaries, service women, students, nursing trainees—"you name 'em," challenges

Counterman, "and I've got 'em."

Variety

According to the Ordnance Bn. Marine the youngest to write was a 12-year-old, and the oldest, 39. Most of the letters were written by students from 15 to 18.

"A lot of them are lonely or on the outs with their boyfriends," he says, "and a great number of them are from small towns, where the girls claim, life is dull and men are scarce."

Most of the girls like the one from Portland, Maine, would like to hear from Counterman.

General Cash And A General Mixup Invade Boot Camp

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C.—General Hubert Cash caused some confusion and consternation among members of the Fourth Recruit Training Battalion here at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot when his son, Private Raymond N. Cash was assigned to a recruit platoon.

Raymond, who is just 17 and has a brother in the Marine Corps in the 2nd Marine Division, was confused himself as to the "funny looks" he was getting from all the personnel he came in contact with. When asked what branch of service his father was in, the youthful Leatherneck smiled and said, "None—that's his name."

"It's a little peculiar," said the Alabama enlistee, "to have someone look at you and say that you are the son of a general officer. It happens every time they find out my father's name."

He also stated that checks made out to "General Cash" cause a stir when his father goes to the bank.

The scene is not from the Mounties, a chapter from "Sergeant and his dog, 'King' Royal Mounted Police" page from the life story stable Adrian Barzen, a Mounty who traded his coat for a jacket of Leat green in May, 1952.

Born in White Rock, Columbia, the 21-year-old began 15 months of training with the Mountie, 1949, shortly after uated from high school.

He reported to Ottawa basic indoctrination in police and techniques and instructions in criminal investigation, physical conditioning, law, traffic and land plan drawing, and small a and drill.

In the spring of 1950, was transferred to the Depot Division at Regina, Saskatchewan, where he practically all there is about horsemanship, grooming, riding and to the cavalry drill and the lance and saber.

Upon completion of the Barzen received his first ment with a highway pat serving in Regina. Early in 1951, Regina headquarters ed word that bandits had a 30,000 dollar holdup at the Bank of Montreal above the Montana border a ley.

Returning to their home the Mounties set out the morning toward an Indian vation to the East. The doned getaway car was off the road, together with that the bandits had split loot.

He hopes to attend coll this country following his service, become a U.S. citizen enter the Federal Bureau vestigation Academy.

After nearly a year of s with the Marine Corps, B says he's completely satisfied with his venture.

"I've visited 23 states, and been from coast to coast," says. And the former Mountie believes, "When I've completely service I'll have served with of the finest organizations world."

Wounded Get Free Mail

Men hospitalized as a result of action will get the free mail privileges they have in the war zone if Congress passes a bill introduced by Ed Rees. The bill would extend mail privileges until the end of 1955. As it stands now, the bill would end this June. The bill also would apply to men in any combat zone, as noted by the President.

Local Housing Officials Give Answers To Rent Problems For Marines Here

The questions and answers printed below have been selected from those asked the local Office of Rent Stabilization. Rent officials suggest that personnel here who have questions about the rent stabilization program contact the Area Rent Office, Court Street, Jacksonville, N. C.

QUESTION: I have just discovered that my landlord has been overcharging me but I don't want to bring suit myself. Can I turn the facts over to the rent office for action and, if so, will I be refunded for the overcharge?

ANSWER: You may turn your facts over to the rent office for appropriate court action or settlement. There is no guarantee that you will be refunded all or even a part of the overcharge but it is most likely that you will because it is the policy of the Office of Rent Stabilization to seek refund of overcharges for tenants unless there are extenuating circumstances.

QUESTION: My tenant has asked me to furnish a house that I have been renting as an unfurnished unit and I have agreed to do so. I originally registered the house as an unfurnished unit with your office. Do I now register it as a furnished unit?

ANSWER: No. Once a unit has been correctly registered there is no provision to re-register it because it is changed to a furnished unit after the effective date. You should petition for an increase in the maximum rent as soon as you supply furniture.

QUESTION: I own an old house that has been heavily damaged by fire. I don't think I can repair it at present construction costs and rent it for the maximum you have allowed. Can I get an increase in the maximum rent if I rebuild the house?

ANSWER: Most likely you can. The Federal rent laws recognize the fact that construction costs have risen and maximum rents can be adjusted on this basis if you petition for the increase. I suggest that you get a prior opinion from the rent office as to the increase in maximum rent you will be allowed on the basis of the projected costs of rebuilding.

Reserve Training Plans In Session

Marine Corps Reserve pre-summer training conferences will be held here next Monday through Wednesday in Area 4 theater.

These conferences will determine the type training more than 60 organized reserve ground units will receive during their 1953 summer training period here.

Attending the conferences will be reserve unit commanders, Inspector-Instructors of reserve units, representatives from Headquarters Marine Corps, 2nd Marine Division, Force Troops, Marine Barracks, and the commanding officer, Reserve Training Battalion. Similar conferences will be held at Little Creek, Va., Camp Pendleton, San Diego and Coronado, Calif.

Pirate Lore, Ponies, Solace At Ocracoke

About 100 miles from Camp Lejeune is one of the loneliest spots in the country.

Ocracoke, North Carolina, a 16-mile long island along the Outer Banks, is populated by 600 people, thousands of sea gulls, a few wild horses and cattle, and little else save sand, dune grass, and gnarled live oaks.

It was not until last year that taxes, courts, and licenses came to the island.

The only means of communication are a telephone at the Coast Guard Station and boats. Since the island has only a few paved roads, all within the bounds of Ocracoke village, it is not advisable to bring a car there.

Yet people from all over the United States have been flocking to this tiny speck on the map of the world, seeking respite from the over accelerated hustle of modern civilization.

Here, quartered in a comfortable hotel, a warm-hearted tourist home, or a shack on the beach, visitors can explore the picturesque island, fish, swim, hunt or just relax.

Most of the needs of the islanders and visitors are ministered by the daily mail boat run between Ocracoke village and the town of Atlantic on the mainland.

Atlantic can be reached from Camp Lejeune via route 24 to Morehead City, and following highway 70 north from there.

The mailboat ferries passengers to Ocracoke for a small fee, and the voyage itself is an interesting trip over the waters of Pamlico sound.

Once reaching the village, tourists may use the taxi services of several "beach-cab" companies to get about the island.

The town surrounds Silver Lake, a harbor at the south end of the island. Its most prominent landmark is Ocracoke lighthouse, one of the oldest lights still in use along the Atlantic coast.

Less than a mile east of the light, along the inlet side of the island, is Teach's Hole. Here the colorful life of Blackbeard the Pirate, whose real name was Edward Teach, was ended by Lieutenant Robert Maynard of the Royal Navy.

Teach had been given sanctuary by the Royal Governor of North Carolina, but the British found out where he was and dispatched Maynard to get him "dead or alive."

About half-way up the island, north, the huge capstan of the mystery ship "Carroll A. Derring" sticks above the sands of the beach.

The Deering, a five-masted schooner, was found aground on Diamond Shoals back in 1921 with no one aboard save a house cat. Warm food was on the galley stove and the dinner table set. No signs of disorder or hasty departure were found. To this day the mystery of the crew's disappearance has not been solved.

The schooner was finally lifted off the shoals by a high tide, and driven on the beach at Ocracoke, where a later storm finally buried all but the bow section with its capstan under tons of sand.

Other famous wrecks strew the coastline, while on the inland side, marshes provide refuge for wild fowl until the boom of the hunter's gun stirs the air during the winter hunting season. Guides for this hunting and fishing paradise may be obtained in the village.

The leading sportfish of Ocracoke is the channel bass. Fishermen cast into the heavy breakers from the beach to snag these huge fish. Taxis take anglers out to their fishing grounds, bring meals, and move them to better locations if casting is unsatisfactory where they are.

Other fish taken from the surf are the tasty blues, striped bass, ocean trout and spots.

Roaming either at the water's edge, or near spots of sparse grass, are the semi-wild ponies which once populated North Carolina's outer banks in great numbers. These animals have now been reduced to a few hundred, but still add picturesque life to the sand and wind-blown trees.

The natives of this never-never land are the same people you find everywhere. They are friendly, well-educated, hardworking men and women whose background and life is the sea.

Fishermen all, some work for the government as wildlife protectors, coast guardsmen and laborers. If the proposed National Seashore Park comes into being, Ocracoke may serve as park headquarters.

Many inhabitants of the island stem from shipwrecked seafarers who found refuge at the pilotage, formed in 1715 by the general assembly when Ocracoke inlet was a major entry port of North Carolina shipping.

Armored Vests Backed By Navy After Army Quit

George F. Doriot, president of the National Research and Development Corp., and a key wartime technical advisor in the War Department, has revealed that the Navy secretly financed research on an armored vest after the Army had given up the idea as "crazy." Doriot is a brigadier general, presently on inactive duty, and a professor at the Harvard Business School. The Army stopped experimenting on the projects after steel and aluminum experts told them they were crazy.

The Navy then supplied funds on the side and the experiments continued. The vests are now saving thousands of lives in Korea. However, not enough are available for all combat troops.

New Battle Star O.K.'d For Korea

Vice Adm. James Fife, USN, Deputy Chief of Naval Operations authorized an additional Korean battle star February 5, 1953, for the campaign known as the "Third Korean Winter" which started December 1, 1952.

WM Maneuvers

Cpl. Eloise Turner

On Saint Valentine Day TSgt. Barbara Maulbetsch and TSgt. William H. Archer were united in marriage at Myrtle Beach, S. C. TSgt. Hallie Jones served as maid of honor and TSgt. Duane Lowe was best man.

Following the ceremony the couple honeymooned in South Carolina and visited Sgt. Archer's family in Roanoke, Va. Until recently the bride and groom were attached to Supply Depot. Sgt. Archer has received orders for transfer to El Toro and thence to Korea.

Something new has been added to the WM Company. Two members of the Marine Corps Women Reserve, Philadelphia Navy Yard, requested active duty and were assigned to Camp Lejeune. Both girls, Pvt's., Helen Heater and Geraldine Nottie, took classification tests at the Reserve Center and were assigned to the Camp Disbursing School here.

Geraldine joined the Women Reserve in April 1952. Helen says she is "really a boot" since she did not become a member of the Reserve until December 3. In fact Helen reported in wearing civies. Seeing a Woman Marine in civilian clothes caused many Marines, both sexes, to do a double take at the Mess Hall.

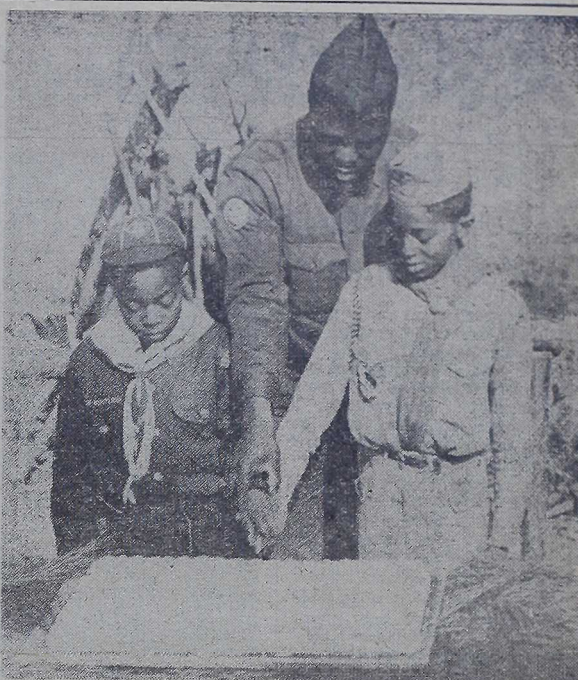

Helen assured this reporter she thinks "anything to do with the Marine Corps is just great".

Pfc. Eleanor E. Smith has received orders for transfer to Headquarters Marine Corps. At present Eleanor is completing a 30 day tour of duty at Mess Hall 54.

Pfc. Ruth M. Stevenson, a former WAC is TAD from the WM Company attending the Stenographic School at Norfolk. Ruth joined the Woman's Army Corps in October 1951 and served to August 1952.

In October 1952 the former WAC enlisted in the Marine Corps and reported to Parris Island, S. C. for basic training. On completion of basic training she was assigned here for duty.

The First Sergeant of the Woman Marine Company is fighting what she hopes is a winning battle with the flu bug. MSgt. Margaret A. Goings is back at her desk in the Company office after being TAD to the NCO Leadership School here. It is nice to see her back and we hope she wins the battle.

Lejeune Nine On 2-Week Exhibition Tour Of Florida

With practice at a complete standstill due to heavy rains and a muddy diamond, Camp Lejeune's baseball team packed their bags and left for a two week southern exhibition tour yesterday in an effort to whip the team into shape before the opener, March 22, against Springfield College.

The Lejeune nine will invade Florida, playing naval and air stations on the fourteen day trek, which should give managers Lester Veigel and Charley Ziober, an indication of the starting nine.

More important it will enable the hurlers to get some much needed work, and sharpen their wares in game competition.

In conjunction with the team's departure, Camp Special Services announced the 1953 baseball slate of 98 games. In addition Lejeune will be the site of five intra-college games, in the early part of the season.

Lejeune will play eight college opponents, with the rest of the opposition being provided by service clubs. Two professional teams, Durham and Charlotte are on the tentative schedule.

Lejeune starts the season with a 17 game home stand, including tentative contests, before taking the road for six games in the Norfolk area.

Two major road trips are scheduled. One will take the Lejeune nine north through Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey, and New York, and the other takes the club south through South Carolina, and Florida. The regular season ends at home with Fort Meade, August 11.

The Atlantic Fleet baseball tournament will be held here for the second year from August 24 through September 2.

ATLANTIC FLEET FAVORITES—FMF Atlantic, composed of 12 Cherry Point, and three Lejeune players, sees tournament action for the first time today. Amtrac Hoopster Wins Player Of Week Award As FT Season Ends

Though he never played the position before this season, 6-1, 180 pound Ed Callahan of Amtrac was one of the League's best centers in the recently completed Force Troops Loop and he has earned the final 1952-53 basketball Player of the Week selection.

A former hoopster at Cardinal Hayes High in New York City, 18 year old Ed totaled 276 points in 22 outings and had a nifty 12.5 per game average.

Pfc. Callahan's home is in the Bronx, N. Y., where he captained the St. Simon Stock CYO quintet in 1951.

Camp Boxers Win 3rd Straight MAISAC Title

Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott presided over presentation ceremonies last week for the Camp Lejeune boxing team, which returned with its third straight Middle Atlantic Inter-Service Athletic Conference championship.

General Linscott read congratulatory messages from the Commandant of the Marine Corps and from the Commandant of the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

One of the two individual champions, Joe Davis, was present at the ceremonies, but Al Hood, the other crown bearer wasn't in attendance.

Lejeune topped the MAISAC entries, piling up 28 points, to 20 for Quantico, 15 for Fort Meade, and 12 for Fort Lee.

In the second phase of the elimination championship, the loser of the first of Wednesday's play will be the loser of the third game p. m.

Pre-tourney speculators the fence as to favorites, Navy and one Marine team, ing most of the common defending titlists, the Am Forces "Gators", this year two highly rated quintets Marine Force, Atlantic, troyers Atlantic, as well as er Atlantic Force teams.

Fleet Marine Force, A is favored in some quarters the potential 1953 champion because of the Leroy "Skip" Whittaker and G Leiby combine. This Cam jeune trio, coupled with Point's "Flyers" who p a 23-9 record for the se play, gives strength to the cast.

The "Gators" coach, Ar Marco, is expected to coun on Paul Plodzinski, f and Jerry Moye, center, to his 1952 championship. H "Gators" fair in the tournament will depend to extent on the play of the men.

One of the three decis rites, Destroyers, Atlantic, Atlantic Fleet Basketball ment competition for the this year. Although posting ore won and lost record son's play, the "Destroyer picked as championship because of their phenom during the latter part of season play.

As with the "Gators", troyers, Atlantic, place chances in the hands of former college stars, G Pemberton, former Siena star, and Armand Westl of Long Island University.

Atlantic Fleet Headquarters highly rated five-man comb is considered the darkhorse can easily upset the tourney cart. Coaches of the eight teams represented in the ment will be watching w as the Headquarters five the floor against Amph Forces, Atlantic, today.

The nine teams will battl rotating trophy, a champ trophy for the winners, and phy for the runner up. Ind awards will be given to m of the first place squad an ners up plus the award given man selected as the most val player.

The tournament is und direction of Lt. Col. M. C. art, Special Services Officer and Marine Division. Radio tion WJNC, Jacksonville, broadcast the important of the tourney.

THE RED CROSS NEEDS YOUR BLOOD. DON'T SPARE THE HIGHWAYS.

Featured in the recently completed MAISAC basketball tournament were two little men who were there, and one not so little man who wasn't.

The one who wasn't there, or not until Fort Belvoir's last game was Duke's former all everything Dick Groat. The fabulous ex-collegian, who spent last summer playing short for the Pittsburgh Pirates, was inducted into the Army a short while ago.

He played one game for Fort Meade, and then Belvoir put in his bid for the talented cager, to help them in their quest for the MAISAC crown. Groat was listed on the Belvoir roster, when the Engineers arrived at Lejeune, but Groat, himself, wasn't present. Due to arrive at six on Tuesday, he finally arrived Wednesday, and the tournament committee had a ticklish problem on its hands.

After numerous phone calls, a coaches meeting, and much speculation, it was decided Groat couldn't play. The reason: Groat was not a member of the Belvoir command at the time the tournament started, and the rules specifically stated he had to be.

No Groat

As a result, the fans that came out to see the game Wednesday night were treated to a sight, that possibly had never been on view before. Dick Groat, in game uniform sitting on the bench, and watching his mates get knocked out of the tournament. Its more than probable that Groat could have been the difference in the losses to Lee and Norfolk NAS, the first by seven points, the latter by five. A 36 hour difference might have given Belvoir the championship. The two who were there and made their presence felt were Lejeune's Dippy Carosi, and Walter Reed's Kenny Novak.

Kenny Novak, recipient of the most valuable player trophy poured 126 points through the hoops in four games for an average of 32. He had nights of 42, 45, 22, and 17 in that order, and it was Lejeune which held the remarkable Novak to his low of 17.

Carosi sank 15 baskets and ten free throws for 40 points, against Norfolk NAS, in a must game for Lejeune, which put them in the finals of the winner's bracket.

Records Set

Playing from the second quarter on, Carosi missed only two attempts at field goals, sinking all his foul shots. Carosi now holds the field house record for a Marine, and Novak for all competitors. Leroy Smith held the old mark with 39.

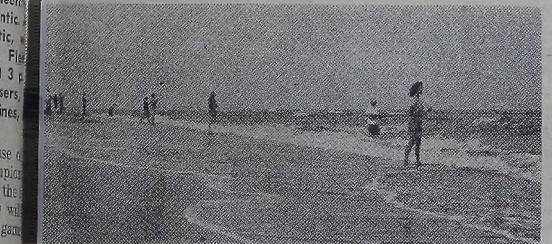

A lot of credit has to go to the Lejeune quint which went further than was expected. Playing without Smith and Whittaker, they turned in their best performances of the year. A win in the opener against Fort Lee, might have changed the course of the tournament, and given Lejeune a tremendous upset.

WM Cagers Climax
Season Swamping
Fort Bragg, 51-19

With only one blot on their service team record; the Lejeune women cagers climaxed the season by crushing the Fort Bragg six here Saturday evening, 51-19. Defeated only by Fort Lee, the WM's have maintained a 13-1 season record against service teams.

The initial periods of play lacked the usual fast ball which put the WM's out front in East Coast
Tournament play.
But the second periods saw more action and fewer wild shots and passes. Dolores "Shortie" String-ham, Bragg forward, started connecting with long set shots and stacked up 13 points before the final whistle.

In the third quarter, the Lejeune team went wild as Coach Al Perlamuter reversed his team's positions. During the final period the converted guards tossed 10 buckets, to go out front by 32 points. Top scorer for Lejeune was Pat Burbage who tallied 15 points.

The same evening, the Lejeuners swamped Walter Reed 89-50, holding Ken Novak to his lowest point-total in the tournament—17 markers on two field goals and 13 free-throws.

Friday night, the Marines, having played five games in four days, held on well until after the half when they succumbed completely to the pressure of a superior, well-rested Fort Lee quintet.

Intramural Hoop Playoff Led By
Sixth Marines

Division Cage Champion Sixth
Marines defeated Supply Depot, winner of MB loop, 80-76 Monday night in the opening battle of the Camp Lejeune Intramural playoffs at Area 2 gym.

Playoffs are between Marine Barracks, 2nd Marine Division, and Force Troops Atlantic hoop champions to determine the Camp Le-jeune intramural titlist.

The Sixth Marines opened fast in the first quarter to hold a 19-10 advantage, only to see their lead dwindle to 3 points at intermission time when the tally stood at 37-34.

In the third frame Supply Depot forged ahead 56-53, but lost the advantage on a 27-point splurge by the Sixth Marines in the last quarter.

The Sixth were in a precarious position in the final minute with a slim margin at 77-76, but a basket by Val Flora, and a free throw by teammate Allen put the game on ice for them.

High man for the contest was Val Flora, Division hook-shot artist, who managed 30 points for the winners, while Wiltraus of Supply Depot hit for 24.

against them, also earned the right to compete in the Camp Lejeune intramural tournament along with the Division and Marine Barracks
kins.

Combat Service Group, with 26 wins and three losses, finished runnerup to 2nd90 in team standing but the Combatmen compiled the finest offensive record, totaling 1976 points, an average of 68.1 a game.

Muscularly - framed Charlie Clark, Amtruck's (5-10) center, established a new Force Troops scoring mark with his League leading total of 711 points in 27 games. His 26.3 per game average also bested his rivals and likewise set a new record.

Second to Clark in digits accumulated was another bucketman, though one of quite opposite proportions, Combat Service Group's elongated (6-6) Roy Oliver. Oliver hooped 562 tallies in 28 games, a per game average of 20.

Aggressor Company's popular pivotman, versatile Orville "Speed" Williams who recently set a single game scoring record of 78 points, came fast towards the end of the season to take third place. He had a 526 total in 22 contests for a 23.9 per game average.

Marine Matmen Pin Camp Pickett For Second Time

Camp Lejeune's undefeated wrestling team made it six in a row here tonight, completely outclassing the Camp Pickett Chargers 29-3. Earlier in the season, Lejeune bested Pickett 30-0.

Four Lejeune grapplers registered pins, three notched decisions, and only 145 pounder John Callaghan failed to win his match.

Tommy Robinson bested Callaghan 9-5, on two take downs, a near fall, a reversal and an escape. Callaghan had a chance until near the very end when Robinson scored his takedown, to put the match out of Callaghan's reach.

Neil Richardson put Lejeune into a fast 5-0 lead, pinning Bob Marciano in 6:20. "Whip" Wilson boosted Lejeune's lead to eight points, outpointing Jimmie Moore 6-2, and Henry Carmichael scored the evening's fastest fall, pinning Johnny Marcuie in 3:11.

After Callaghan dropped his bout Larry Britton started another winning skein, downing Jerry Glasgow in 4:42, and Frank Warcewicz outpointed Johnny Michalski 4-2. Charlie Lindstrom blanked Pickett's Dick Dibble 4-0, and Ed "Tiny" Albers ended the bouts, pinning Eddie Meyer in 4:38.

Brother Mourns Straying Stinker

Have you seen little Stinker lately?

You can't miss him. He is gray and white and has long hair and is all of six months old. Stinker has a coal black nose and was missed Friday morning by Mrs. R. W. Ferrel about 8 a. m. in the vicinity of Marston Pavilion.

Stinker's brother is just heartbroken about the disappearance. Would the finder of Stinker please get in touch with Mrs. Ferrel at MOQ 3303, Phone 6611.

Oh yes, Stinker is a cat.

This Week's Movie Review

(4 Bells: EXCELLENT; 3 Bells: VERY GOOD; 2 Bells: GOOD; 1 Bell: FAIR)

BATTLE CIRCUS (3 Bells)
Humphrey Bogart turns out a vigorous performance in this timely picture. The story of a mobile army surgical unit in Korea. The cast is rounded out by June Allyson and Keenan Wynn.

THE STAR (4 Bells)
Betty Davis is the star of this Hollywood story concerning an actress and her rise and fall in the motion picture world. Supported by Sterling Hayden, Miss Davis portrays the star with an authority nobody else could be expected to master.

IT'S IN THE BAG
A re-issue starring Jack Benny and Fred Allen. No further information available.

FORT APACHE
Starring John Wayne and Henry Fonda. No further information available.

HALF BREED (2 Bells)
A robust outdoor action thriller, with the plot emphasizing the wrong that was often done the Indians when the white man took over the western frontier. Starring Robert Young and Janice Carter.

I LOVE MELVIN (2 Bells)
Donald O'Connor, posing as a big time photographer, makes hundreds of pictures of Debbie Reynolds for his "layout" for "Look" magazine. The expected disaster occurs when Debbie and her family discover the hoax. The whole production is sprinkled with numerous dance numbers in which O'Connor excels.

OFF LIMITS (4 Bells)
Bob Hope, a military policeman and formerly a tight trainer, meets Mickey Rooney in the Army and decides to train him for the championship. The climactic bout is successful as well as Bob's pursuit of Marilyn Maxwell, who plays as Mickey Rooney's aunt.

KANSAS PACIFIC (2 Bells)
Sterling Hayden, an Army officer in 1941, is assigned to aid in the construction of the Kansas-Pacific Railroad, which is continually being sabotaged by unknown sympathizers with the Southern cause. Hayden finally succeeds in weeding out the infiltrating southern saboteurs.

TANGIER INCIDENT
Sorry, no further information available. Starring George Brent and Dorothy Patrick.

LONE HAND
Sorry, no further information available. Starring Joel McCrea and Barbara Hale.

JACK MCCALL DESPERADO
Sorry no further information available. Starring George Montgomery and Steven Ford.

SMALL TOWN GIRL (3 Bells)
Farley Granger, young, handsome, very wealthy, is put in jail for a crime he didn't commit. He meets Jane Powell, a small girl, who helps him escape to be Ann Miller back in New York, who thinks it's to celebrate his mother's day. She goes with him and after soft light and music, they fall in love. Usual complications ensue, course, boy gets girl.

THE GLASS WALL
Vittorio Gassman attempts to get the United States illegally with a group of displaced persons from Europe. Immigration officials attempt to detain him, he escapes. The climax is a desperate flight to atop the United Nations Building.

THE LADY WANTS MINK
Raising your own mink is a lot of getting a mink coat. That's what Ruth Hussey decides to do in a picture which stars Miss Hussey, O'Keefe, William Demarest and den.

SIXTY SADDLES TO GO
Starring Richard Widmark as a cowboy. No further information available.

GUEST WIFE
Starring Claudette Colbert as a woman who is married to a man who is married to another woman. No further information available.

GIRLS OF PLEASURE ISLAND
British administrator of Paradise Island, Lee Genn, is concerned with the welfare of his three daughters. 1,500 Marines come to the island on an air strip. The whole production is a conversational story rolling along nicely.

MACAO
Mayhem, mischief and love. Jack Russell, in Macao, the gambling stronghold of laissez-faire omies on the coast of a China run by the Communists. The picture is a non-political cops and robbers involving Robert Mitchum and Bend Sin.
