AND FORCE TROOPS, ATLANTIC

THURSDAY, JANUARY 22, 1953 NO. 3

Official Greeting Marks Project's Opening Day

Tarawa Terrace II opened Friday to SSgt. and Mrs. George E. Smiles, the first occupants of an estimated 30 per week to follow until completion of the new project.

An official welcome to 2877 Bougainville Ave. was tendered to the sergeant and his wife by Brig. Gen. William S. Fellers, deputy camp commander, and Mr. L. P. Fore, vice-president of the Spangler Realty Co., builder of the new homes.

Set Forth Policies On Housing Here

All enlisted personnel who are promoted to staff NCO or officer grades and who now reside in rental quarters are required to notify the Camp Housing Office and file an application for housing in accordance with their new status.

Sergeants and below are assigned to units at Camp Knox, Trailer Park, Pine Grove Trailer Park, and Midway Park, while Staff NCO's are housed in units at Tarawa Terrace and New River Apartments. Warrant and company grade officers are assigned to designated units at Tarawa Terrace and New River Apartments. Field grade officers are assigned to New River Apartments.

Ineligible personnel now residing in Midway Park who do not accept the units open to them within 48 hours will be required to vacate within 30 days.

Civilians ineligible for Midway Park will move when units are available. Families with children now attending Camp School will be permitted to remain, until completion of the school year.

Speaking for the Marines who will be moving into the new homes, General Fellers expressed his appreciation, mingled with amazement at the wonders of mass production accomplished in the project. He added that "175 top non-commissioned officers and their families, now undergoing the strain of commuting to camp from distant towns, will be moved in as soon as possible."

Speaking informally to representatives of the contracting company, General Fellers summed up the feeling of Marines and their families when he said, "You keep building and we'll keep them filled."

Completion of the Tarawa Terrace II project will add 1054 more units to the expanding housing facilities here. An additional 176 modern housing units at the New River Housing development also are nearing completion. These will bring the total number of units at New River to 862.

New Trailers

Contracts for 1,050 new trailers have been drawn and plans are underway for their installation. Of these, 900 will go to Camp Geiger and 250 to Camp Knox for occupation by men of the lower four pay grades and their families. Addition of the new trailers will make a total of 462 permanently installed at Camp Knox plus space for 300 privately owned trailers.

When the 1952-53 housing projects are completed, a total of 5901 Marine families will have housing in the immediate area. Broken down, the units when completed will be for occupancy as follows—

Midway Park: 1164 units for sergeants and below; Tarawa Terrace I and II: 2108 units for company grade officers and staff NCO's; New River Housing project: 862 units for officers, staff NCO's, and civilians; Pine Grove Trailer Park: 405 units for sergeants and below; Camp Knox Trailer Park: 462 units for sergeants and below; Camp Geiger Trailer Park: 900 units for sergeants and below.

Supply Depot Show On Highway Safety Underway Monday

Starting Monday, a highway safety display, aimed at making all personnel more aware of the importance of highway safety, will be on exhibit in Bldg. 1209. The project, sponsored by Supply Depot Special Services, will include pertinent information received from many of the 48 states.

Hours will be 1-9:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday and 11 a.m.-1 p.m. and 4:30-9:30 p.m. on week days.

At present more than 30 states have contributed, sending photos of accidents and how they might have been avoided, as well as other information connected with making the nation's highways safer.

Various types of reaction machines to test people's driving reflexes will be present. New types of government vehicles will be shown to impress how much cost is involved in accidents.

Also shown will be safety films and government vehicles which have been involved in accidents at Lejeune.

Tomorrow's going to be cloudy and cooler, according to latest intelligence from the meteorology department. Saturday and Sunday will be in the same vein—generally cooler and partly cloudy.

Second Navy Cross To 6th Marines NCO

MSgt. Stanley Wawrzyniak, one of the most decorated Leathernecks in the 2nd Marine Division, continued to live up to his reputation last week as he received his second Navy Cross in as many years.

The beribboned 6th Marines Leatherneck, who has won the Purple Heart with two gold stars, the Silver Star, and the Navy Cross for "daring initiative and gallant determination" in action, received a gold star in lieu of his second Navy Cross at colorful ceremonies last week.

As he stood at attention, 26-year-old Wawrzyniak was decorated by the commanding officer under whom he served when he earned his second Navy Cross, Col. Thomas A. Culhane, former CO of the 5th Marines.

Cut Off

The citation described Wawrzyniak's "outstanding courage and inspiring leadership" when his outpost commander was cut off during a fierce enemy attack.

"Unhesitatingly assuming command of the remaining troops," it said, "and promptly organizing an effective defense, he repeatedly braved the hail of blistering fire to reach the group cut off by the enemy, boldly leading the men into the defensive perimeter, replenishing their supply of ammunition and encouraging them in repelling the close-in enemy attacks."

"Although painfully wounded," the citation related, "he refused immediate treatment for himself, dressed the wounds of other casualties, and assisted the stricken men to the safety of the bunkers."

Present at the decoration ceremonies was Maj. Gen. R. McC. Pate, commanding general of the 2nd Division, who requested that Wawrzyniak be decorated by his former commanding officer.

Gen. Field Harris Reviews Division's Anniversary March

Second Marine Division Leathernecks who will parade February 5 in honor of the division's twelfth anniversary will be reviewed by Maj. Gen. Field Harris, deputy commanding general, FMF, Atlantic, and commanding general, Air FMF, Atlantic.

All division units in the Camp

Lejeune area will participate in the anniversary review. Headquarters Bn. will furnish the parade color guard.

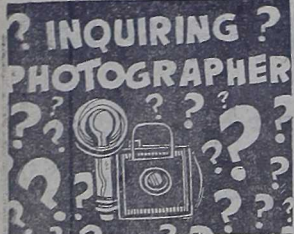

The parade will be held to mark the founding of the division and commemorate those men whose sacrifices and exploits have established the division as a bulwark of strength within the Marine Corps and the Naval establishment.

Integration List For Officers Out

Headquarters Marine Corps has announced the names of officers whose appointments for integration into the regulars have been approved by the President. Integrations in the rank of major amounted to 48; captain, 106; first lieutenant, 168; and second lieutenant, 256.

In the naval aviation field, 26 first lieutenants were integrated and 64 second lieutenants.

Are You In Favor Of Universal Military Training?

MAJ. R. E. McCREERY, DIVISION SUPPLY OFFICE. — I am in favor of it. I feel that every young man should have a basic knowledge of military life and training. Upon completion of high school I would place the youth in UMT for a one-year period. By conscription they would have at least a working knowledge of the military.

PFC. NORMAN NATHANSON, GUARD SECURITY SECTION.

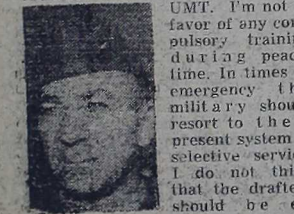

age they usually don't have any definite plans for the future and this military training would help formulate plans for them. I would keep the draftees in until a feasible working UMT system could be had.

CWO RICHARD H. WEAVER, CAMP INFIRMARY. — Yes, I would take high school graduates and place them in UMT for a period of about 18 to 24 months. This would be of great advantage to both the youth and the government. I think it would decrease juvenile delinquency and help the boy get a definite view on life, since he would be more matured after the completion of his training.

MSGT. GUS GROSS, CAMP HOUSING OFFICE. — I'm against

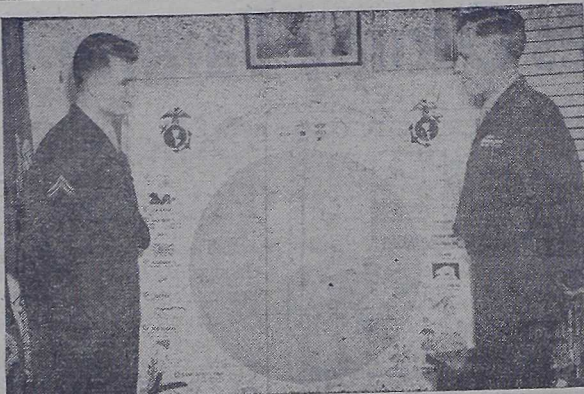

UMT. I'm not in favor of any compulsory training during peacetime. In times of emergency the military should resort to their present system of selective service. I do not think that the draftees should be extended if the present emergency still exists. In stable times the military should depend on enlistments to fill their ranks as the American people and country have grown and expanded on its people's own initiative.

1ST. LT. JAMES CLEARY, H & S BN., ME. — Yes, I am in favor of placing high school graduates between the ages of 17 and 19 in UMT for two years. The young men of this age would have a better spirit and outlook than draftees. This is rightly so because, actually, these young people aren't being taken away from anything, whereas many draftees have to leave their wives and jobs.

Lithuanian Marine Depicts History Of Sixth Regiment

A "Map of War" was completed last week by a 2nd Marine Division Leatherneck who has seen plenty of war himself.

That's the story behind presentation ceremonies in which an historical map featuring the highlights of the history of the 6th Marines was presented to the regiment's commander, Col. Ormond R. Simpson, by Cpl. Algimantas Oslapas.

Designed and drawn by Oslapas, who works in the regiment's intelligence section, the colorful map features rows of campaign ribbons which have been awarded the regiment since its formation in 1917 and sketches of bases and battles where the unit has served.

The long list of engagements in which the infantry regiment has served ranges from the bloody battles in France during World War I to occupation duty in Germany and the score of island campaigns fought during World War II.

1954 Budget Subsidizes Larger Corps

A slightly enlarged Marine Corps was proposed by President Truman's $11.5 billion Naval budget for the fiscal 1954.

The total appropriation recommended by the outgoing President for the Navy and Marine Corps is $1.7 billions less than the $13.2 billions he recommended last year and that Congress appropriated. However, almost a billion more will be spent next year than this year.

The average Marine strength on active duty would be about 25,000 more than the estimated average for the current fiscal year, and Marine Reserve figures would about double the 17,000 estimated average strength for the current year.

It was the Marine and Navy aviation procurement whose 1954 requests were reduced most sharply from the current year's appropriation.

This is the second consecutive year to see a reduction in funds requested for the Navy. The Navy and Marines got $16 billion in fiscal 1952.

GIVING OUT—Members of the 2nd Marine Division Toastmasters Club held their weekly meeting last week at the Staff NCO Club.

Toastmasters Hold Weekly Conclave

The purpose of this meeting, as announced by MSgt. Bruce W. Erhardt, president, was to formulate plans to supplement the club's membership, depleted by members going on maneuvers and transfers.

The Toastmasters International, Erhardt explained, was founded in 1927 and incorporated in 1932. Since that time it has established 1225 active clubs from South Africa to Canada. The club at Camp Lejeune was started in October 1950, by Chief Petty Officer Frank Livengood.

Purpose

The purpose of the Toastmasters Club, the president pointed out, is to aid men in becoming better speakers. Upon completion of the business at hand the club begins speech sessions, called Table Topics. These topics are chosen by a Table Topic Master and for one minute each member speaks extemporaneously on a particular subject.

Following the completion of the one-minute speeches, Erhardt went on, members who have been chosen the previous week give six-minute prepared speeches. The topic is picked by the president the week before, giving the selected a week for preparation.

Table evaluators or critic panels are set up for the purpose of offering constructive criticism to the six-minute speakers. This criticism, says Erhardt, is aimed at helping the men in speech construction, grammar, enjoyment given the listener, and presentation.

After the speeches, he continued, the chairman of the Education Committee talks on the ways and means for all members to improve their speaking. Hints on pronunciation, visual aids, delivery, and fundamentals of speaking are all touched upon.

WM Staff NCO School Commences

With the kick-off ceremony and opening address by Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, camp command- ing general, the Staff NCO Lead- ership School for Women Marines was opened formerly Monday morning.

General Linscott emphasized "leadership by example," in his talk to the 25 members of the new class.

For the first time since 1945, a leadership school for Women Marines has been established. Staff NCO's designated by Head- quarters Marine Corps will at- tend the school from duty stations throughout the country.

All Corps' Staffs

It has been estimated that by the end of the year all Women Marine Staff NCO's in the Corps will have attended the school here. Each class will be four weeks in duration.

Four members of the present class are stationed here. They are: MSgt. Margaret A. Goings, first sergeant, WM Co., TSgt. Eleanor Childers, Joint Landing Force Board, TSgt. Blossom J. McCall, classification chief, Sup- ply Depot, and Sgt. Sonja Green, Camp Photo Laboratory.

The Officer in Charge of the School, 1st Lt. Jane Connell, and one instructor, TSgt. Frances A. Curwen, are from Woman Marine Co. here.

Curriculum

Students will be taught basic leadership concepts, responsibilities of Staff NCO's, technique of in- struction, use and types of train- ing aids, relevant parts of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, and military customs and cour- tesies.

Classes are held in the Navy Medical Field Research Labora- tory auditorium, Bldg. 65.

Col. Katherine Towle, director of the Women Marines, will attend the graduation of the current class of NCO's, scheduled for February 13.

Gen. Jerome New 2nd Air Wing Chief

The Marine Corps has announ- ced a four-way reassignment of its aviation generals.

Maj. Gen. Clayton C. Jerome, succeeded January 8 by Maj. Gen. Vernon E. Megee as commanding general of the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing in Korea, will become commanding general of the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing at Cherry Point, N. C. General Jerome was pre- sented the Distinguished Service Medal by Gen. Otto P. Weyland, USAF, commanding general of the Far East Air Force, at a change of command ceremony in Korea.

Maj. Gen. Thomas J. Cushman, present commander of the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing whom General Jerome will succeed upon his return, will become De- puty Commander, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, at Pearl Harbor.

He will succeed Maj. Gen. Chris- tian F. Schilt, who will become Commanding General, Air Fleet Marine Force, Pacific at the Ma- rine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Calif. Brig. Gen. Frank D. Jacket Reinstated For Optional Wear

Summer and winter service jack- ets, which were to be obsolete in June 1956, have been reinstated as an optional item of uniform. Of- ficers are required to have two winter service coats or one coat and one jacket. The jacket may be manufactured of any cloth of adopted standard.

Jackets are intended for wear as part of the duty uniform when the service uniform is prescribed. However they are not to be worn at social functions or on liberty. The coat is to be worn at forma- tions, inspections, and parades when the service uniform is pre- scribed.

NEW YEAR

The new year will bring the same old problems and the same old solutions. Always seems to pester us is that of leaving without authority. However, here is a little I would like to pass on one:

AWOL doesn't always mean running away from Marine Corps. Any time we should face, to do so, places us in the AWOL status and some along the line we will face the same thing again we run once, it becomes for us to run again and actually every situation fronts us, that is contrary to wants and desires, with weak resistance.

Those who shun the boys who walk out without authority should weigh attitudes when an obstacle presents itself. One who bottle and attempts to woe and brings disgrace country, uniform, and so also absented himself place of duty.

Another habit that we away for the year ahead ing something on else. All too often, we can discuss skillful aches and pains of this and can make everything that we miss the play in all of this. V everything from Co and Joe Stalin to the Code of Military Justice we easily can shrug our and resign ourselves fate.

I know men that have problems but no answers we want is answers! I believe all the answers can be the same place that they have been found. The Commandments are still just as effective—the mon given by Jesus Christ Mount. They work for individual and they will any army of men. Ours a New Year.—By Chaplain Smith, Hq. Co., Force

Methodist Clergy Here Visited By Central Official

Camp Lejeune's Methodist chaplains were visited here last week by Brig. Gen. Fred Reynolds, National Guard chaplain, one of three Associate Secretaries of the Methodist Commission on Chaplains, Washington, D. C.

Highlight of the visit was an informal dinner given for Chaplain Reynolds at the Officers Club. Among those present were Senior Division Chaplain, Cmdr. Eric Arndt; Camp Chaplain, Cmdr. Abbott Peterson; Senior Methodist Chaplain, Cmdr. L. G. Burrus; and Methodist chaplains, Lt. G. A. Oglesby, Lt. B. S. Powera, Lt. (jg) C. W. Crumb, and Lt. (jg) H. C. Duncan.

According to Chaplain Duncan, Chaplain Reynolds' visit was part of a world wide tour. The touring group is comprised of members of the commission, who visit every Methodist chaplain here and overseas at least once every two years.

Meeting with the chaplains informally the members of the commission serve as a good-will mission from the church.

WM Maneuvers

By ELOISE TURNER

If five out of six Women Marines attached to the Motor Transport supply section have sore muscles, it's all for a good cause. Monday noon, six civilian girls played six Women Marines in a basketball game at Bldg. 1502. Tickets for the game sold for 50 cents each. One hundred and twenty-five dollars was collected for the March of Dimes fund.

Due to the hour set for the game, the teams decided to play a half-game and decide the winner from that score. Final tally was 11-5 favor of the WM's. The WM's had one veteran player on their team, Sgt. Barbara Bufington, who scored 10 points. Other players on the WM team were Sgt. Patricia Ingerson, Sgt. Leona Ezell, Cpl. Betty Balch, Pfc Pat Smeltz, and Sgt. Marie Kevensky.

Kevensky says she hasn't played since high school days—"I know how many muscles I have, I feel every one of them."

New Arrival

Former Woman Marine Sgt. Gall Shinnamon and her husband, Sgt. Herbert Wagner, attached to Supply School Bn., Montford Point, are the parents of a seven-pound boy. The youngest Wagner, William Loyd, was born Sunday afternoon. Gall and her husband are living in Midway Park.

Last week 2nd Lieutenants Helen Dunkleberg, officer in charge of students and training, and Mary Wicking, officer in charge of recreation, were integrated into the regulars. The ceremony of "shipping" from the Reserves to the regulars was held in the office of Col. R. J. Straub, commanding officer of Headquarters and Service Bn.

Less than a month after her return from a 30-day leave to her home in Hawaii, Cpl. Leonie "Snookie" Simao, Navy Relief Office, will be packing her bags again. This time she is transferring to Headquarters Marine Corps for duty. Also in the clerk-typist field, Pfc Mary Rita Jones, Battalion Adjutant's office, is being transferred for duty at Headquarters Marine Corps.

General Supply WM Marries Lab Corpsman In Ceremony Saturday

Woman Marine Cpl. Deve K. Ritter, General Supply, and HN Clarence J. Harris, Navy Field Medical Research Laboratory, were united in matrimony Saturday at the Camp Protestant Chapel. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Chaplain L. G. Burrus.

The bride, given away by the groom's father, SSgt. C. J. Harris, USAR, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Ritter, 321 7th St., Cherokee, Iowa.

Prior to her enlistment in the Marine Corps, in January 1951, she attended Wilson H. School in Cherokee, and was employed by the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., also in Cherokee, as an operator.

The bride wore a starlight blue, full-length gown, and a corsage of white orchids, while the maid of honor, Pfc Margaret Foxworth, was attired in an aqua formal adorned with a purple orchid corsage.

Staff Wives' Chapeau Fest To Aid Polio

The Staff NCO Wives Club will hold its bi-monthly meeting today at the Midway Park Community Center. Something unusual is on the agenda as the club is sponsoring a "Hat Contest."

Each member will wear some type of hat to the meeting. The women will voice their approval of the hats by giving a dime to the wearer of the hat which is liked best, the woman receiving the most dimes winning the contest. Prizes will also be given for the funniest and most original hats. All money received by the participants will be donated to the March of Dimes. Members are urged to come prepared with a handful of dimes and wearing some type of headpiece.

As a combination farewell party to husbands going on TAD, and a social get-together, the members of the Staff NCO Wives Club are inviting their husbands to a dinner at the Midway Park Community Center tomorrow at 6:30.

Cordon Concert Charms Members Of O'Wives Club

By PEGGY AIKEN

Wednesday last week, members and guests of the OWC were entertained by the singing of Norman Cordon, former Metropolitan Opera star. He was introduced by Mrs. E. M. Williams, chairman of Group 2.

Before his concert, Mr. Cordon gave an interesting and enlightening talk on the North Carolina Music-Program which he directs. Through his efforts the state agreed, for the first time, to support public school music education.

Mr. Cordon, a bass-baritone, began his program with the aria, "Lacerated Spirit," from Verdi's "Simon Boccanegra." His rich voice showed its versatility when he next sang the joyful spiritual, "My Lord, What a Morning." Continuing with a song by Liza Lehmann and the spiritual, "Go Down, Moses," he concluded with a request number, "Some Enchanted Evening."

Tea followed in the River Room, which was decorated with silver leaves and pink camellias.

Cagers Go 2-1 At Home; Oppose Quantico Tomorrow

Arizin And Company Meet Lejeune Tonight

Tonight at 8 local basketball fans will have a chance to see one of the greatest Marine Corps basketball teams of all time in action here at Goeltge Memorial Field House.

The Quantico hoopsters, led by "Peerless" Paul Arizin, will open their bid for the Marine Corps championship against Camp Lejeune in tonight's contest.

Quantico's mainstay is the unanimous All-American choice from Villanova, and more recently leading professional scorer of the Philadelphia Warriors, Paul Arizin, who has maintained a 25-point average throughout season play for the Marine Corps Schools' quint.

Powers Dumped

The Virginia Marine five has an 18-2 record at latest reports, numbering such powers as Villanova, the Warriors, the Peoria Caterpillars, and St. Francis College among their victims.

Lejeune has a seven-seven record to date, and needs a win tonight to stay in the running for the East Coast Marine Corps championship. The locals have lost once each to Cherry Point and Parris Island, while Quantico will face its first Marine quint of the season this evening.

Quantico's most recent victory came at the expense of Baldwin College, which they drubbed, 80 to 69.

Depth is one of Quantico's strongest points, for when Phelan and Arizin happen to be sidelined, there is always plenty of college experience sitting on the bench waiting to get in.

Among these are Wes Field of Dartmouth, Rip Gish of Western Kentucky, Dave Latimer of Seton Hall, New Jones of LaSalle, and Herb Sondriker of Catholic University.

However, the scorebooks and clippings can always be thrown out the window when two Marine teams meet.

Supply Depot Five Paces Marine Bks.

Supply Depot, by nabbing its first game of the season, forged into the lead in the Marine Barracks intramural league standings, followed by Supply School and MGCS-7 with two and one records.

One of the teams tied for third is the Naval Hospital No. 1 team, which dumped the Supply School five. The H&S Bn. five, the Engineer School quintet, and Headquarters Squadron all have one record.

Naval Hospital's number-two team is in fourth with one win and two losses, and VMO-1 trails with two losses and no wins.

Pugs' Win Streak Snapped By Flying Cherry Point Fists

A packed house rose to its feet at Cherry Point Friday night to acclaim wildly a tremendous three-round brawl between Lejeune's Joe Brown and Flyer Leroy Jones, but when the verdict in favor of Jones blared over the PA system, Lejeune's string of 13 straight dual match victories came to an end. The decision gave the Point mittmen a 4-2 lead, and they capped the final bout for a 5-2 triumph.

Lejeune, needing a victory to keep its hopes for match win number 14 in the two and a half seasons skein alive, sent squat Brown into the ring to even matters.

Brown, as he had in his first round KO against Fort Bragg, tore into his opponent, throwing hooks and uppercuts, while his foe, Jones, jabbed and fought out of the corners. But as the fight wore on, Brown tired badly and Jones completely abandoned any fancy tactics, and the two boxers took turns belting away.

Rough Third

In the third, Brown, almost completely exhausted, stood with his arms low, at times unable even to move his head to avoid Jones' blows. As the bout neared the end, neither fighter could throw a damaging punch, and the bout ended with Brown leaning on the equally bedraggled Jones.

The final bout, between heavyweight Bud House and Cherry Point's Pete Gay ended abruptly at the end of the first round.

House, bleeding from a cut over his left eye sustained in a clinch, wanted to continue, but coach Glenn McComas stopped the bout to prevent a serious injury. Lejeune already had lost the matches, and there was no use risking a serious injury.

Lejeune got off on the wrong foot, dropping the first two bouts.

Boxers Meet MCS Squad Friday Night

Camp Lejeune's ringmen will attempt to resume winning ways here tomorrow night, when they meet Quantico, starting at 7:30. On Saturday night, Lejeune's other team, made up of alternates, will battle Fort Jackson and a return go with Fort Jackson is planned for a week from tonight.

In an attempt to start a new winning streak, Lejeune's coach Glenn McComas will have to field a squad minus his top heavy and light-heavyweights.

Both Joe Brown and heavy Bud House will be sidelined during the week-end matches as a result of last week's Cherry Point fights. Brown left the ring at the air station suffering from physical exhaustion and House was cut above the eye, the wound needing two stitches.

Replacements

Placido Fernandez will replace Brown, and Ed Gustin will get the nod as Lejeune's heavy in both the Quantico and Jackson bouts.

Two other fighters, Norm Williams and Ev Galligan are expected to box both nights. Williams will move up into the bantamweight class and Galligan again will enter the ring in the featherweight match. Both have won one and lost one this season.

In the flyweight class, John Ortiz will fight Friday and Bob Stanback Saturday. Ortiz drew against Fort Bragg and Stanback lost to Cherry Point.

Gil Bradley and Don Davis, will split the 132-pound chores, Bradley going Saturday and Davis on Friday.

Levi Washington gets the lightweight nod Friday, and Willie Jones on Saturday. Against Quantico, Julie Griffith, 150, and Al

'53 Ball Club Chooses 27 In Tryouts

Eleven pitchers, eight infielders, five outfielders and three catchers make up the 1953 Camp Lejeune baseball team.

After two weeks of intensive screening, Managers Lester Viegal and Charley Ziober cut a squad of 225 hopefuls to the present 27-man complement.

The early tryouts were held for the benefit of Division candidates, who otherwise would have missed out on the screening due to the Vieques maneuvers.

The successful candidates will return to their regular duties until February 2, when spring practice will start.

From Last Season

Of the 27, 13 were on the 1952 Lejeune varsity at one time or another. Pitchers Jimmy Waugh, Bob Grim, and Nev Pelleschi, catcher Andy Paynok, and second baseman Dave Krings started and finished the season with Lejeune.

Pitchers Bob Reich and Jesse Leach, shortstop Ed Kababek, third baseman Dick Johnston, and outfielders Tom Faustoryal and Julio "Chico" Rodriguez joined the club during the season. Pitcher Frank Hamlen and third baseman Larry Antonelli started the season but failed to last.

Cherry Point Cagers Here Tuesday Eve

Besides the all-important Quantico game tonight, the Lejeune cagers will face another Marine rival this coming week.

Cherry Point will hit the local floor Tuesday evening at 8 and should provide one of the fastest games of the season for the fans.

The Pointers have a high-scoring quint which took its last defeat at the hands of Parris Island by a stinging 85 to 59 score. The Flyers will be out to make it two in a row over the local lads, and the drubbing by the Boots will be just so much coal on the fire.

Previous Meeting

The last time Lejeune and Cherry Point tangled was at Cherry Point early this season, and the Flyers successfully defended their home court, 91 to 83.

In Tuesday's contest, experience, the addition of Skip Whitaker, and the familiar Goettge Memorial Field House floor might make the difference for the Lejeuners, who are pointing for this Marine tussle.

Starters for Lejeune will either be the Mighty Mites—Carosi, Di-Gilio, McConathy, Mansker, and Chakey—or Whitey Langerud, George Lebby, Bob Jarni, Skip Whitaker and Leroy Smith. Either line-up would provide trouble for the Flyers and it should be a fast, close game.

Femme Five Drop Clash With Camp

Although ailing Hazel Walker had an able substitute in the referee, the Lejeune hoopsters still defeated the Arkansas Travelers here Sunday night by 64 to 52.

Everyone got into the act, even the refs, who attempted several field goals to the delight of a capacity audience of 4300 fans.

Hazel Walker herself wasn't able to play in the regular game because of a severe neck injury, but she took three of Lejeune's best in a free-throw exhibition during the intermission.

All Positions

She first defeated Conrad Gas- kin in the standing position by converting 15 out of 15 tries, while the Lejeune forward was able to make only 12 out of 15. Kneeling, the lady sharp-shooter dumped in ten out of ten to Leroy Smith's five out of the same total.

The climax came when Earl Feltzer failed to sink all but one of his five tries in the sitting position as Hazel easily swished hers.

The girls had the audience laughing with their court antics. They dribbled through the boys' legs, kicked the ball, and played an extra-curricular game of baseball at one point.

Slightly Partisan

The refereeing was decidedly one-sided, although no one on the Marines' bench objected. Fouls were called on the boys for socializing, squeezing and hugging.

The girls even tried to have the game fixed in the last half by sending National Sports Beauty Queen Pat Johnson into the lap and arms of Lejeune coach Frank Frates. However, this too was of no avail, and the game ended with the capture of Miss Johnson by Marine substitute center Dick MacDonald, who gathered the beauty in his arms and carried her off the floor.

at the three-quarter mark. However, the Army managed to keep pressure on Lejeune and tied things up in the last seconds.

In the extra period it was Pick-ett all the way, with a late rally engineered by Smith and Whitaker falling wide of the mark.

BOWLING LEAGUE

Officers interested in bowling in a league scheduled to start the first week in February are requested to contact Captain E. D. Free at 4-159 by Wednesday.

10th Marines Take Third As Division Hoop Action Ends

Division intramural basketball play wound up the 1952-53 season on a wild and wooly note as the 10th Marines Cannoneers blasted a Headquarters Bn. five, 123-61, to nail down third place in the league standing.

The Artillery quintet's total was the high for the year, eclipsing Signal's December victory over 8th Marines, 114-44. Al Graziosa led the bombardment with 30 points on 14 field goals and two shots from the line. Teammate Heimsoth was just one point off the pace with 29, and Dick Wilson caged 23.

Headquarters' best effort came from Glandorf, who netted 11 goals and a free throw for 23. Maddox cut the cords for 15.

Signal Second

Signal Bn. insured second-place honors behind the idle title-winner, 6th Marines, by topping Motor Transport, 86-71. Antonelli hooped 31 and Douglas and Johnson racked up 25 and 17 respectively to give the Signalers the edge over the Vehicle team.

Burnfield's 18 led the losers. In other games: Service, 80, Ordnance, 63; 2d Marines, 99, 8th Marines, 60; Tanks, 62, Engineers, 56; Medical, 51, Short Party, 50.

Final scoring statistics list Bill Miller as the league's high scorer. Miller started out the 12-game schedule with Headquarters Bn. but later was transferred to the 2d Marines. He won the crown with 292 points on 123 goals and 46 free throws.

flyweight, was upset by the less experienced John Fusco. Fusco, a former jockey fighting for the second time in his life, swarmed all over Williams, punching with a quick pair of hands. Williams had trouble working combinations, and couldn't handle Fusco's charging tactics.

Bob Stabback, Lejeune bantam, danced well, but his opponent, Hermange Galvao, hit better, giving Cherry Point its second victory.

Two successive Lejeune victories, by Ev Galligan (feather) and Bill Jones (lightweight), evened the count.

Featherweight Win

Galligan had little trouble downing Cecil Thompson to even his record at one and one for the season. Jones, fighting for the first time this season, thoroughly worked over Romero Acosta, belting the San Juan native for three rounds in a brawl second only to the Brown-Jones match.

With the count evened at two-two, the top-billed bout of the evening followed a short intermission. Lejeune's Julius Griffith, 1948 Olympic alternate, squared off against Rudy Gwinn, 1952 All-Navy champ.

But the feature attraction took second place to the other bouts. Both boxers, good experienced ringmen, were cautious and confined themselves to jabbing and a few combinations. Gwinn, who landed a few more punches, took a very close decision.

2nd 90 AAA Unbeaten At Season's Half

The 1952-53 Force Troops Basketball League entered the climactic stage of its schedule's initial half Tuesday last week when Combat Service Group and 2d 90 AAA, both flourishing undefeated records, met for the first time this season with the Ninetymen coming out on top by a decisive 74-47 score.

The Nineties won three other games during the week against Aggressor Co., 73-34; Reconnaissance Co., 92-56; and Hq. Co., F.T., 72-46, thereby clinching the first-half title.

Against Combat Service, the Ninetymen performed like veterans, in this their biggest test to date, displaying a powerful offense and an alert, rebounding defense that ripped the Trojans apart.

Holding Down

One of the keys to the one-sided 2d 90 victory was the effective cage thrown around Combat's 6-6 center Roy Oliver, the league's leading scorer, who had been averaging 22.8 points per game prior to this tilt. The stratospheric Oliver was held to three points while his coveman, 2d 90's 6-5 J.O. Scherer, secured the game's individual scoring laurels with 22.

When Automatic Weapons, fired by Bill Brooks' 28 points, handed Combat Service Group its second consecutive loss Thursday, 62-57, a deadlock for second place resulted between these two quintets.

Other Scores: Monday: Hq. Co., F. T., 48, 4.5 Rocket, 34; 8th Engineer 58, 8th Motor 37; A/W, 68, Armored Amphib., 51; Tuesday: 8th Engineer, 63, 4.5 Rocket, 47; A/W, 83, Aggressor, 40; Wednesday: 8th Motor, 72, 8th Tank, 53; 155 Gun Bn., 50, Armored Amphib., 43; Am-Truck, 70, 8th Engineer, 64; Thursday: 4.5 Rocket, 34, 8th Tank, 32; 155 Gun Bn., 53, Aggressor, 33; Armored Amphib., 61, 8th Motor, 54; 8th Signal, 69, 8th Engineer, 59.

Thornhill To Generate Tempo For Three Dances

Claude Thornhill, composer-arranger and pianist virtuoso, brings his aggregation to Camp Lejeune for three tune-festivals starting January 31.

Thornhill's swing through Lejeune begins with the Mardi Gras at the Officers Mess. On February 1 his tempos will be heard at a "Stag or Drag" affair at Marston Pavilion and on February 2 at a party for the personnel of Headquarters and Service Bn., Marine Barracks, also to be held at the Pavilion.

The Mardi Gras, a costume affair, will run from 9 to 1 and prizes will be awarded to the best-dressed. Undress blues or black ties may be worn if costumes are unavailable. Personnel wishing information on costume rentals may call 6188.

Reservations

Reservations for the River Room must be made before Wednesday. Tables must be occupied by 9:30 or reservations will be cancelled.

The "Stag or Drag" dance is for all enlisted personnel. There will be no admission charge and uniform of the day or appropriate civilian clothes with tie may be worn.

On the following evening Thornhill will play at the H & S Bn. party. Admission tickets may be picked up from company first sergeants in the battalion.

Thornhill, now recording for RCA Victor, has had such hits as "Autumn Nocturne," "Where or When," "Anthology," "Sunday Kind of Love."

Known from coast to coast, some of his outstanding engagements have been at the Paramount Theatre and Statler Hotel in New York, the Palladium in Hollywood and the Shamrock Hotel in Houston. Featured vocalists with him are Christy Connor and Med Flory.
